THE CABINET RESIGNS AMID THE WILDEST EXCITEMENT

Ministers of the Crown Hooted at and Missed—A Motion to Impeach Premier Crispi... The Government is Blamed for the Reverse in Abyssinia—Bloodshed in Milan.

Rome, March 5.—Long before the hour of opening of the Chamber of Deputies to-day enormous crowds of people thronged the vicinity and practically surrounded the buildings. As time went on the crowds increased, and the excitement of the populace grew more intense.

The Cabinet has Resigned. The sitting of the Chamber was of the wildest character, the uproar beginning as soon as the Chamber was called to order upon the resignation of the Cabinet.

On Saturday these experiments were being explained to M. Alexandre Hepp, when he exclaimed: "Why, then, you will be able to photograph letters through their envelopes?"

John Armand Flanod was by a Lead of Legs All Night—Badly Frozen. Arrived, Ont., March 5.—Mr. John Armand Flanod, a French Canadian, was killed in a terrible accident.

Why Mr. Greenway's Rumor? Is the Premier going to Ottawa or is he to help Mr. Laurier? Winnipeg, March 5.—(Special).—The politicians here are inclined to believe that there may be something in the reported statements emanating from Ottawa that the Premier is going to the Capital to confer with the Government.

Prof. Saunders, director of the Central Experimental Farm, continued before the Agricultural Committee to-day his address before the committee.

THE TORONTO SUNDAY WORLD. The amalgamation of the two electric light companies having been consummated, the supply of electric energy in Toronto will hereafter be in the hands of a monopoly.

THE REMEDIAL WELL. The anti-convulsants are growing in strength at Ottawa, are holding their own in the debate, and The World again repeats its prediction that the Remedial Well stands a poor chance of getting second reading and certainly no chance of passing.

Mr. Craig of East Durham made the speech of yesterday afternoon, a speech that every fair-minded citizen of Ontario will endorse as the best expression of the views of this province on the vexed question.

BAKERS AND LUNG TROUBLES. We are pleased to see The Globe under its influence improve the condition of the working people of Toronto, and of the men who are employed in the city bakeries, especially.

Don't Put All Eggs in One Basket. To succeed in farming, the prospective farmer until low prices are a thing of the past, feed all you raise and only keep the best grades of stock or poultry.

Sowing Orchards to Grass. Some people believe that a grass pasture keeps in the moisture. Experiments made in Nebraska have proven this to be a fallacy.

Carrots as Feed for Horses. A few carrots, fed raw after being cut up into small pieces, will do much to improve the appetite and keep the animals in good condition when other foods may be scarce.

Imperial Naval Preparations. Although eight battleships, twenty-three cruisers and forty torpedo-boat destroyers are now under construction for the British navy, the naval program for 1896, submitted to Parliament by the First Lord of the Admiralty, contemplates the immediate laying of the keels of five additional battleships, thirteen cruisers and twenty-eight destroyers.

One of our most promising new potatoes is Maule's Thoroughbred. This variety belongs to the Rose class. A test of it at the Ontario Agricultural Experiment Station, held in 1895, showed a yield of 377 bushels to the acre, while several private growers report nearly equal good returns with only average care.

Preserving Fence Posts. Posts put into the ground as soon as possible after being cut will last longer than if they have been seasoned several years. I have not green and dry locust posts in the same fence and the green ones lasted five or ten years after the seasoned ones had rotted.

Grow More Small Fruit. It has been stated, and with truth, that the farmer does not produce a sufficient quantity of small fruits for his own use. Some of them have large crops for market, but there are thousands of acres upon which the strawberry, currant, raspberry, grape and gooseberry is never seen unless purchased.

Dyspepsia or Indigestion is occasioned by the want of action in the alimentary canal of vitality in the stomach to secrete gastric juice, and the principal cause is not so much the quantity of food taken but the quality of the food.

A Necessary Precaution. In setting out a tree the bruised or mangled roots should be cut off smoothly with a sharp knife, and fine moist soil packed about them.

RATHER WARM FOR GIBSON. HIS OBSESSIONS WILL GIVE HIM A CHANCE. To Aid Them in Their Fight Against the Hamilton Gaslight Company—How the Company's Limited Charter Was Quietly Amended a Few Years Ago—General Remarks.

Hamilton, March 5.—(Special.)—Citizens' all quarters are anxiously looking forward as to what action the Private Bills Committee of the Legislature will take in reference to the gas bill. It is not known what day it will come up, but a close eye is being kept on the matter, and if the bill is not passed by the end of the session, the indignation of the community will be aroused, and Hon. J. M. Gibson will have some chances for re-election, as the people look to him, as chairman of the committee, to remedy the wrong done to the city by the gas company.

It is now in everybody's mouth, as everyone realizes the meaning of it, that the gas company has for years complained that the rates charged in this city are excessive and more than they are in London and smaller cities, but no amount of reasoning has been of avail in having the price of gas reduced.

Don't Put All Eggs in One Basket. To succeed in farming, the prospective farmer until low prices are a thing of the past, feed all you raise and only keep the best grades of stock or poultry and take the crop to market.

BRITISH EMPIRE LEAGUE

WAS ABSORBED THE IMPERIAL FEDERATIONISTS.

The Fusion Was Performed at the Meeting in Ottawa Yesterday—Many Prominent Public Men Were in Attendance—Col. Denison and Sir Charles Tupper Explained the Position.

Ottawa, March 4.—The Imperial Federation League in Canada was today merged into the recently formed British Empire League, which has its headquarters in England.

Lieut.-Col. George T. Denison presided and there were present: Sir Charles Tupper, Lieut.-Col. F. W. B. Miles, Col. Scott, M.P., Dr. Sprague, Messrs. Sandford Fleming, C.M.G., Major J. A. McMillan, W. Smith, J. Stevenson, Mr. MacFarlane, Senator Almon, J. Nelson, London, Eng. Messrs. Cookburn, Craig, Stubs, Wood, Senator Farley, Major Sam. Hughes, Major Sherwood, Mrs. Carr, Casey, Lieut.-Col. Masson, Baird, W. W. White, Major Campbell, J. Johnson, Mills (Annapolis), D. Alton McCurthy, Dyar, Fairbairn, Major Clarke, W. Hodgins, Senator Macdonald (E. I.), Dr. Cameron, Sir Donald Smith, Marshall, Chesley, Lieut.-Col. O'Brien, F. J. Pope, (Reginald), Comdr. J. R. Worth, the Hon. A. R. Dickey, George E. Evans, secretary; J. R. McNeill, Henderson, Whitton, Corbould, Col. Tisdale, Senator Boulton.

Col. Denison, in moving the annual report, referred to the English side of the delegates to London with a view to founding new headquarters for the league. He referred to the meeting at Sir John Lubbock's house, when Sir Charles Tupper and Sir Donald Smith were present and gave material assistance. He read the constitution of the British Empire League, and thought that from periodic conferences there would arise a species of Imperial Federation that would suit the circumstances of the whole Empire for the colonies to unite together and say to the Mother Country "we are one," now is the time for the "glorious isolation" of England had been referred to. He wanted to see affairs in such a position that the British Empire of the Empire could be built on any threatened point. Canada was the outpost of the Empire on the most exposed outpost of the Empire, but let it be known she was part of the Empire, and she was made. He read a letter from a member of the British House of Commons, speaking of Canadian loyalty and of England and Canada as the two great divisions of the Empire.

Mr. A. R. McNeill seconded the motion, which was carried.

The motion was moved a resolution, the object of which was to merge the Canadian Imperial Federation League into a branch of the British Empire League. He referred to length to the meeting at the Westminster Palace Hotel, when both sides of the British House joined in the resolution of the league, referring incidentally to the great work of Mr. G. R. Parkyn, who had given a feeling that the Imperial Federation was a misnomer, for complete federation of the Empire was impossible. There was a feeling known that was not a parliamentary consideration, and the objections entertained were met by the change of name to the British Empire League.

The Imperial Federation League turned their attention chiefly to the navy to the abandonment of the work of which was now carried on by the Imperial Federation League. In a paper in The Canadian Magazine, he had given his views on the subject, and he had been endorsed by The London Times. He then addressed himself to the origin of the British Empire League, which had the support of the leading British politicians and merchants, proceeding to explain the objects of the league, one of which was to obtain such modifications of existing treaties as to enable the colonies to make preferential trade arrangements with the Mother Country. From the fact that the Mother Country had decided to stand on the third of the cost of the Atlantic service, he showed how the British Empire spirit had grown.

The question of defence was immediately followed. The Lords of the Admiralty had decided on the benefits of fast mail steamers, built for speed, inspection, and readily convertible into royal naval reserve cruisers. Every dollar spent in defence was a dollar spent in the defence of the British Empire. In conclusion, he read an abstract from a letter from Mr. James Lovell, M.P., an out-and-out protectionist in England, in which he referred to Sir C. Tupper's speech on the Monday night, and in which Mr. Lovell highly complimented Sir Charles Tupper.

He resumed his seat amidst loud applause.

Mr. D'Alton McCarthy, in seconding the motion, referred to his personal connection with the league. The league had to admit a partial failure, but it had not failed.

Sir Donald Smith said that at the meeting at Sir John Lubbock's the Canadian delegates had urged most strenuously the retention of the old name. They were finally persuaded, however, and he felt that in giving up the old name they retained everything they valued.

The motion carried.

Col. Denison was elected president and Mr. Evans secretary. Branches of the league are to be organized throughout the country.

THE ENTERPRISING BURGLAR.

A Number of Business Establishments Visited by After-Dark Workers With Means Success.

The busy burglar who working King-street west got into H. A. Wilson & Co.'s premises early yesterday morning and rifled both tills in the front store, securing about $25. The thief was evidently doing a strictly cash business, as he passed over any amount of valuable articles that could easily have been carried away.

Entrances were secured from the sky light at the rear of the roof, the thief having let himself down by a rope.

By raising the grating on the street and breaking the collar window thieves gained entrance to the drug store occupied by H. W. Burgess, 278 Yonge-street, early yesterday morning. The till was robbed of about $2, which had been left over from the previous day's sales. Nothing but money was taken.

Hargreaves' drug store, 174 Queen west, was also visited, evidently by the parties who entered Burgess'. In this case the burglars secured admittance by prying open a window at the rear of the premises. The till was rifled and a dollar in stamps and about the same amount of loose change was taken.

SHOT HIS BROTHER.

Got His Gun Ready for Burglars and It Was Accidentally Discharged.

Astoria, L.L., March 5.—A fatal shooting occurred Tuesday night at the home of Theodore Haight, No. 64 Remsen-avenue, when Fletcher Haight, aged 8 years, was accidentally shot by his brother Theodore, a boy of about 14.

The mother of the dead boy is a granddaughter of Fletcher Haight, one of the original members of the Harper Publishing Co.

An attempt was made by burglars on Sunday night to break into the Haight home. The thieves were frightened away, however.

Mr. Haight owns a shotgun, and he got it down, cleaned it up and loaded it in anticipation of another visit from the thieves.

About 9 o'clock Theodore started to go to his room upstairs. His brother Fletcher had already retired. He was in bed when Theodore came into the room. The elder brother thought it would be a good plan to have the gun by the head of the bed, and went to the corner and got it.

In the darkness he stumbled, and the trigger of the gun struck against the end of the bureau. The gun was discharged. There was a shriek from the bed, and investigation showed that Fletcher had been shot. The charge from the gun had entered his left groin and had nearly come out of his back. Word was hastily sent Dr. James Traak and he hurried to the house, but Fletcher died in about 15 minutes.

Theodore, when he realized what he had done, was overcome with grief. He endeavored to comfort his brother and could not be consoled.

When the police were informed of the accident they were arrested, but allowed to return home in charge of a patrolman.

THE TWINS WERE EXPENSIVE.

What It Cost Chapman Hyams to Clear His Disreputable Brother.

There has been some difficulty about the collection of the fees of the lawyers connected with the defence of the Hyams case. The twins probably owed their lives to the labor of their counsel, but as soon as they were gotten out of the country Chapman Hyams, the millionaire brother of the pair, who put up the funds for their defence, commenced to display great indifference as to whether Messrs. Lount, Johnston and Horn got paid or not.

He was not satisfied with the settlement of his bill and the other day Mr. Horn went to New York press for three years since Chapman Hyams "gave up." He threatened to sue the account and Mr. Wellman at last succeeded in forcing Chapman Hyams to "give up."

Mr. Johnston's bill, which is large, is yet unpaid, but he does not anticipate a fight for the cost of the trial. The draft that he raised from $12 to $22,000 was an extremely clever piece of work.

Qualification of Military Officers.

Editor World: There has been considerable discussion as to the qualifications of military officers and I have read with great pleasure in your paper an excellent scheme for the amendment of the Royal Regiment of Canadian Infantry with our old friends of the 100th Royal Canadian Infantry, which would be carried out to the mutual benefit of both regiments. But we should look to it that the officers of our permanent corps are as capable and in every way equal to those of the Imperial service of similar branches. I quite admit that this country was exceedingly fortunate in being able to secure the services of the senior officers of the permanent corps who have drawn up themselves to be equal to the best, and have passed the high military examination of the British army.

The Canadian Peach Belt.

The County of Essex, with its adjacent Island of Pelee, is the most southern part of the Dominion of Canada. On the west is the Detroit River, on the east it is but 16 miles from lake to lake, so that it is nearly surrounded by water, and a narrow canal is surveyed across the narrow isthmus which connects the north side of the waterway between Chicago and Buffalo, will make our county an island, and the benefit to the water, our water boundaries and the quality of the soil, especially on the west and north sides, are such that we have one of the finest fruit sections in Canada. Soil which a few years ago was general farming, is now being used for peach orchards here when in full fruit the Thyhurst orchard of 75 acres, bending to the ground beneath its load of luscious peaches, and the Hilborn orchard of 20,000 trees, only part of which are peaches, but all the regular large and small trees equally well here, while in the centre and on the north sides of the county the soil is adapted for all lines of general farming.

It is the exception and not the rule here to have sleighing. Owing to an isothermal line which crosses north of us through Lake St. Clair, our snow falls are usually light. In January, when 100 miles east and north they had splendid sleighing, here the grass was growing. But now (Feb. 25) we have good sleighing of which every one is taking advantage, and it is not expected it will last long. Peace and prosperity reign among us, and we have too much faith in the sound common sense of the American people to fear war.

IN HER SUPREME COURT.

The Appeal of Eastman v. the Canada Accident Insurance Co. Dismissed.

Ottawa, March 4.—(Special).—In the Supreme Court to-day the argument in the case of Eastman v. Canada Accident Insurance Co. was proceeded with and after the appellant's counsel had concluded the court gave judgment in favor of the respondent, holding that as the agents of the insurance company having against the will of their principal, exceeded their authority and entered into a contract, they were rightly dismissed from their position.

Taylor v. Foy was next argued. The respondent in this case sued for the price of goods sold and credit given to a third party. The court below held that under the evidence, the defendant was the real debtor. After hearing counsel on both sides the court dismissed the appeal with costs, holding that they would not reverse on questions of fact against the concurrent findings of two courts. Smythe for appellant; Moss, Q.C., and Day for respondent.

The argument in Peterboro v. Mason was proceeded with. The action was brought by Mason for damages in consequence of having fallen on a footpath sidewalk, breaking his wrist. There were two trials, in which the jury awarded a non-suit and a verdict for each time was refused. On the third trial the jury was dispensed with and the case was referred to the plaintiff, which the Court of Appeal affirmed. The basis of the action was the directors of the Ontario and also plaintiff fell. It was an old plank sidewalk on a hill, and in time the planks had become so rotten that the plaintiff had been walking outside of the planks, but to avoid a sheet of ice stopped on one which he slipped, whereby he fell.

The appellants claimed that there was no evidence of want of repair, and if there was, a trial should be granted for improper admission of evidence and rejection of evidence. The court dismissed the appeal with costs. Moss, Q.C., and Edwards for appellants; Dunlop for respondent.

Carroll v. Natural Gas & Fuel Co. was next taken up. The appellants in this case claim the right to take from respondents' wells gas enough to supply their own plant. The appellants were formerly lessees of a large tract of land in the County of Welland, and had the right to use the gas from the wells on that tract. The respondents transferred the same to another company, who took the gas from the wells on that tract. The appellants claimed that they were entitled to the gas from the wells on that tract. The court dismissed the appeal with costs. Moss, Q.C., and Edwards for appellants; Dunlop for respondent.

Another Batch of Suggestions for the New Boat to Take the Hill-Fatco.

The name competition in connection with the Niagara Navigation Company's new boat, now being constructed to replace the Ontario and Niagara, destroyed by fire at Lewiston last summer, is drawing to a close. The management of the company will, doubtless, make its selection shortly. Yesterday's mail brought a goodly number of suggestions, though hardly as many as on previous days, a circumstance which may be accepted as evidence that the good people are running out of ideas in the connection.

"C.B." Toronto, becomes considerably patriotic in his views and writes as follows: "It quite agrees with a good many that 'Ontario' is very pretty and suitable, but why should the honor go to another city?
