CANADIANS IN RECORD TRENCH RAID

British Troops Gain 600 Yards of Important Ground

BRITISH GAIN SUCCESS ON FRONT OF 600 YARDS

CANADIANS RAID TRENCHES INFLECTING HEAVY LOSSES

Whole of Objective Gained and Observation Improved Near Beaucourt With Slight Losses, While Enemy's Counter-Attack is Broken Up.

LONDON, Jan. 18.—In heavier fighting than usual at this time of the year the British in France scored an important success north of Beaucourt-sur-Ancres when they occupied some high ground on a front of 600 yards, considerably improving their observation in this area.

Two large and successful raids were carried out by British troops north and south of Cite Calonne, west of Lens, and much damage was inflicted on the enemy. One of these raids was carried out by Canadians in broad daylight, and besides penetrating to the second German line of defence on a front of 700 yards the Canadians made 100 prisoners.

The report from British headquarters in France issued tonight reads:

"After a heavy preliminary bombardment Wednesday morning we occupied a line of enemy posts north of Beaucourt-sur-Ancres. The whole of our objectives were gained on a frontage of some 600 yards, with few casualties. The position gained considerably improved our observation in this area.

"This afternoon an enemy counter-attack was broken up with heavy loss by our artillery barrage. The consolidation of the new position is proceeding. We had complete success yesterday and today in the neighborhood of Lens. Late in the afternoon yesterday the German positions south of Cite Calonne, west of Lens, were entered under cover of a heavy bombardment. Our troops reached the enemy's support lines and bombed and destroyed dugouts and inflicted many casualties. Our losses were small. We successfully blew a mine in connection with this operation.

"This morning another very successful daylight raid was carried out by Canadian troops northeast of Cite Calonne. The attacking parties entered the enemy's trenches on a front of 700 yards, and penetrated to a depth of 300 yards as far as his second line. Here also heavy losses were inflicted on the enemy and all his dugouts were completely wrecked. We captured one officer and 99 other ranks, two machine guns and a trench mortar. Our artillery and machine guns co-operated very effectively with the infantry. Our casualties were again slight."

OPENING GUN IN FRENCH BOMBARDMENT ON THE SOMME

The photograph shows partly concealed positions of a battery of French "120s" on the Somme front. The gun on the right has just started a shell on its journey to the enemy's lines, marking the opening of "a duel" that lasted for over 12 hours without rest. French "120s" figured prominently in the last few months' fighting on the Somme.

Thousand Yards of German Ground Captured With 100 Prisoners and Big Haul of Booty, in Record Raid on Somme, in Swirl of Snow and Under Protection of Curtain of Shell Fire.

WITH THE BRITISH ARMIES IN FRANCE, Jan. 17.—(Via London, Jan. 18).—(From a staff correspondent of the Associated Press).—In the gray light of late midwinter dawn, and in the swirl of a cloudlike snowstorm which had lasted thru the night, a Canadian contingent of the British troops raided nearly a thousand yards of the German trenches north of Arras this morning. Besides inflicting heavy losses they came back with one hundred prisoners, one of them being a company commander and former assistant professor of chemistry at Strassburg.

As a raid, today's attack establishes a record for the proceedings in the Somme sector in the last week, which netted three hundred prisoners, in what have been classed in the official communications as minor operations. In addition to a big haul of prisoners, the booty today included two machine guns, which were found chained to the ground, and one trench mortar. The Germans have been using these mortars in lively fashion against the Canadians recently and, while it required a great effort to drag it back over the snow-covered "No Man's Land," the capture of this particular weather position gave the greatest satisfaction.

SECOND DAYLIGHT RAID

This was the second daylight raid carried out north of Arras by the Canadians, the first resulting in the capture of 60 prisoners. It was marked by many of the same features that characterized all such daring and successful undertakings, except in this instance there was no marked increase in the preliminary bombardment, for the guns, which had been going steadily for eight days in this neighborhood, had cut to ribbons the much vaunted protective barbed wire entanglements. It was just after dawn that the British barrage began to sweep over nearly four hundred yards of No Man's Land that separated the front trenches. As it formed its curtain shield of bursting shells the Canadians went "over the top." On either flank a smoke barrage had been hung out.

Thus sheltered by the artillery the Canadians trudged forward almost gaily thru the snow. It was like a touch of home to them. They encountered comparatively little resistance and very light machine gun fire, and in little more than an hour they had cleaned out two lines of trenches and returned to their own lines with their prisoners and booty. The British losses were exceedingly light and all the casualties were brought home. The prisoners were mostly Silesians and Poles, one of them having been a waiter in a popular London hotel before the war.

EXPECTED THE ATTACK

The Germans may have suspected that an attack was imminent from the heavy arm fire of the past week, for their assembly trenches were well filled, a fact which helped to swell the number of the prisoners taken. The raiding troops were somewhat chagrined when they were told that the German corps commander was in the trenches all day yesterday, leaving last night.

"Some wise old Teuton," said a Canadian captain, "we should like to have pinched him."

BRITISH FIRM GETS U. S. SHELL CONTRACTS

Tender is Much Below That of United States Companies.

Special to The Toronto World.

Washington, Jan. 17.—Secretary Daniels today awarded the navy contract for 15 and 16-inch shells to Hadfield's, Limited, of Sheffield, England. There were 4000 15-inch shells and 3500 16-inch shells involved. The price and time of delivery offered by Hadfield's were far below those offered by any American concern.

Hadfield's price for the 15-inch shells is $513 apiece and for the 16-inch shells $356 each. These prices were $200 or more lower than any prices offered by American bidders.

Recent announcement of the British tender for shells caused a sensation in the United States, as indicating that British munitions plants are now more than able to supply the needs of the army.

FUTURE PEACE DEPENDS ON FULL ALLIED VICTORY

Second Note to President Wilson Tells Why Turkey Must Go—While Germany Stands Uncrushed, Nations of World Can Rely on Binding Force of No International Treaty.

Washington, Jan. 17.—The contents of a note addressed by Arthur Balfour, British foreign minister, to Ambassador Spring-Rice, and delivered to the state department today, summarize their reply to President Wilson's peace note by explaining in detail why they believe it impossible at present to enter a peace which will assure them such guarantees as they consider essential. The note also explains why the allies demand the expulsion of Turkey from Europe; restoration of Alsace-Lorraine to France, of Italian provinces to Italy, and the other territorial changes set forth.

"Those who think the future peace of the world may be insured by international treaties and laws, the note says, have ill-learned the lessons taught by recent history. After charging that German influence in Turkey had resulted in conditions as barbarous and more aggressive than were known under Sultan Abdul Hamid, and that it had been shown Germany cannot be expected to respect treaty obligations, Mr. Balfour says:

"So long as Germany remains the Germany which without a shadow of justification overran and barbarously ill-treated a country it was pledged to defend, no state can regard its rights as secure if they have no better protection than a solemn treaty."

Asserting that Belgium was not Germany's only victim and that "neutrals were intended to note outrages which accompanied its conquest," the note recites the "reign of terror" attendant upon Germany's method of warfare, and in that connection says:

"The war staffs of the central powers are well content to horrify the world if at the same time they can terrorize it."

The people of Great Britain, Mr. Balfour says, share President Wilson's desire for peace, but do not believe it can be durable unless based on the success of the allied cause. Such a peace, it is argued, cannot be expected unless these three conditions are fulfilled. Existing causes of international unrest shall be as far as possible removed or weakened; the aggressive aims and the unscrupulous methods of the central powers should fall into

DRIVE IN RUMANIA SLOWS UP GREATLY

Germano-Bulgar Attacks Are Rarer and Lacking in Intensity.

London, Jan. 17.—A Reuter despatch from Jassy, the temporary Rumanian capital, dated Jan. 16, says that according to latest official communications the Germano-Bulgar offensive has slackened greatly on the whole front, the attacks being rarer and less furious.

On the occasion of the orthodox new year, the King of Rumania issued an army order congratulating the troops on their valor and expressing confidence in the future.

HEAVY LOSS BORNE BY UNDERWRITERS

Victims of Raider Carried About Ten Million Dollars' Insurance.

Rio Janeiro, Jan. 17.—A German raider for the past month has been sinking vessels of the entente allied powers in the South Atlantic. Latest reports fix the number at fifteen. Survivors of the destroyed vessels to the number of 287 have been landed at Pernambuco, and the fate of nearly 450 men is still unknown.

The first official statements given out here regarding the raider were to the effect that seven vessels had been sunk and nine captured. In a communication to the minister of marine the captain of the port of Pernambuco declared that he had learned the raider had also sunk eight of the vessels which were at first reported merely captured. Their crews, the fate of which is not known, numbered 441 men.

Placed on Yarrowdale.

It is reported that the raider placed on board the British steamer Yarrowdale these crews, which then proceeded for port. It is therefore believed that they will be safely landed within a day or two.

Another report has been received to Unconfirmed Rumor of Heavy Loss of Life Reaches London.

Special to The Toronto World.

New York, Jan. 17.—On reports received here of the sinking of a score of merchant ships in the South Atlantic by a German commerce raider, marine rates to all South American countries were advanced from 2 to 20 per cent. The ships reported to have been sunk were, for the most part, insured by local underwriters. It is roughly estimated that the loss of these boats will cost underwriters at least $10,000,000.

An underwriting house accepted insurance on a steamer sailing today for the River Plate at 20 per cent, said to be the highest rate since the outbreak of the war.

Three underwriting houses it was said that several of the ships mentioned as sunk had reached their ports. No direct word, however, has been received by any house from South America.

Rates to the United Kingdom and the Mediterranean are unchanged at 5 to 10 per cent, respectively.

WAR SUMMARY

THE DAY'S EVENTS REVIEWED

AN attack at dawn yesterday the British forces in the Ancre Valley of France captured valuable high ground on a front of 600 yards, north of Beaucourt-sur-Ancres. This brilliant success gives the British valuable positions for artillery observations of the area in the rear of the German lines, and it will assist them in making part of the ravine between Gommecourt and Achiet le Grand junction untenable for the German batteries. The British also can now fire with great accuracy on the new positions which the enemy has been constructing in the rear of his present lines in order to resist the British advance in the spring, if it is resumed on the Ancre.

In the region of Lens the British raiding parties have been active. They scored twice over the Germans yesterday. In this work Canadians daringly and successfully raided the foe north of Cite Calonne, near Ypres, in broad daylight, and penetrated as far as his second line, a depth of 300 yards, on a front of 700 yards, taking 100 prisoners. They also took much war material.

Arthur J. Balfour, British foreign secretary, has written his first diplomatic note since assuming office, and this note is to President Wilson of the United States, supporting the answer of the allies to the peace proposal of the president. Mr. Balfour reviews the facts leading to the war, and he says that as the past experience has shown, while Germany remains as she is, there can be no guarantee of future peace. No stable system of international relations, he says, can be built on foundations essentially and hopelessly defective. Changes will have to be made in the map of Europe as outlined by the allies in their joint note. Turkey, under German subsidy and control, has

FUTURE PEACE DEPENDS ON FULL ALLIED VICTORY (Continued From Page One). It was pointed out, which President Wilson has been urging, and which is expected to cause wider disagreement in American foreign policy than any other question raised in the country's history. Great Britain's answer was interpreted as her official acceptance and endorsement of the president's proposal. The text of Mr. Balfour's note, dated Jan. 12 and addressed to Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, follows: "In sending you a translation of the allied note I desire to make the following observations, which you should bring to the notice of the United States Government. I gather from the general tenor of the president's note that while he is animated by an intense desire that peace should come soon and that when it comes it should be lasting, he does not, for the moment at least, concern himself with the terms on which it should be arranged. His majesty's government entirely share the president's ideas, but they feel strongly that the durability of peace must largely depend on its character, and that no stable system of international relations can be built on foundations which are essentially and hopelessly defective. "This becomes clearly apparent if we consider the main conditions which rendered possible the calamities from which the world is now suffering. These were the existence of great powers consumed with the lust of domination in the midst of a community of nations ill-prepared for defence, peacefully supplied with international laws, but with no machinery for enforcing them, and weakened by the fact that neither the founders of the various states nor their internal constitution harmonized with the aspirations of their constituent races nor secured to them just and equal treatment. "The last evil would be greatly mitigated if the allies secured the changes in the map of Europe outlined in their joint note in manifest and I need not labor on the point. "It has been argued indeed that the expulsion of the Turks from Europe forms no part of a local part of this general scheme. The maintenance of the Turkish Empire was during many generations regarded by statesmen of world-wide authority as essential to the maintenance of European peace. Why, it is asked, should the cause of peace be now associated with a complete reversal of this traditional policy? "The answer is that circumstances have completely changed. It is unnecessary to consider now whether the retention of a reformed Turkey mediating between hostile races in the near east was a scheme which, had the sultan been sincere and the powers united, could ever have been realized. It certainly cannot be realized now. The Turkey of 'union and progress' is far more aggressive than the Turkey of Sultan Abdul Hamid. In the hands of Germany it has ceased even in appearance to be an instrument of peace and is openly used as an instrument of conquest. Under German officers Turkish soldiers are now fighting in lands from which they had long been expelled and a Turkish government controlled, subsidized and supported by Germany, has been guilty of massacres in Armenia and Syria more horrible than any recorded in the history of men of those unhappy countries. Evidently the interests of peace and the claims of nationality alike require that Turkish rule over alien races shall, if possible, be brought to an end; and we may hope that the expulsion of Turkey from Europe will contribute as much to the cause of peace as the restoration of Alsace-Lorraine to France, or Italia Irredenta to Italy, or any of the territorial changes indicated in the allied note. "Evidently, however, such territorial rearrangements, though they may diminish the occasions of war, provide no sufficient security against its recurrence. Germany, or rather those in Germany who would its opinions and control its destinies, again set on foot the work which they may find that by the new order of things the adventure is more difficult, but hardly that it is made impossible. They may still have ready to their hand a policy system organized thru and thru on a military basis; they may still accumulate vast stores of military equipment; they may still perfect their methods of attack, so that their more profits are ever from pillage, and money and in mutual good will that it was war that began, but it was not war that over will be for power in men. "There are those who think that for this disease international treaties and international law may provide a sufficient cure. But such persons have ill learned the lessons so clearly taught by recent history. While other nations, notably the United States and Britain, were striving by treaties of arbitration to make sure that no chance quarrel should mar the peace they desired to make perpetual, Germany stood aloof. Her historians and philosophers preached the splendour of war; power was proclaimed as the true end of the state; and the guns were forged with unintermittent industry the weapons by which at the appointed moment power might be achieved. These facts were so clearly demonstrated that treaty arrangements for maintaining peace were not likely to find much favor at Berlin; they did not prove that such treaties once made would be utterly ineffectual. This became evident only when war had broken out; the first sought demonstration when it came was overwhelming. So long as Germany remains the Germany which, without a shadow of justification, overran and barbarously ill-treated a country it was pledged to defend, no state can regard its rights as secure if they have no better protection than a solemn treaty. "The case is made worse by the reflection that these methods of calculated brutality were designed by the central powers not merely to crush to the dust those with whom they were at war, but to intimidate those with whom they were still at peace. Belgium was not only a victim; it was an example. Neutrals were intended to note the increase of international relations he based on the reign of terror which followed on its occupation; the cruel oppression of the remainder. And lest the nations happily protected either by British fleets or by their own from German armies should suppose themselves safe from German methods, the submarine line (within its limits) assiduously limited the barbarous practices of the central powers are well content to horrify the world if at the same time they can terrorize it. "If then the central powers succeed, it will be to methods like these that they owe their success. How can any reform of international relations be based on a peace thus obtained? Such a peace would represent the triumph of the forces which make war certain and make it brutal. It would advertise the utility of all the methods on which civilization relies to eliminate the occasions of international dispute and to mitigate their ferocity. Germany and Austria had hoped may follow on the cessation of our present calamities."

The Patriotic and Red Cross Fund is Your Chance To Get Behind the Boys at the Front

They're Fighting For You.
They're Enduring All the Hardships.

They're Taking All the Risk.
They're Stopping All the Bullets.

NOW WHAT ARE YOU GOING TO DO ABOUT IT?

The gallant lads in khaki expect you to do your duty by their families. The Patriotic Fund has got to have more money. The demands on it are terrific.

You've got to dig down deeper than ever before—you're prosperous. Why?

It's time to share up with the boys. You're going to do it, and do it magnificently. You're going to do it for the glory of Canada. You're going to do your duty as our boys did it at Ypres, St. Julien, Festubert and the Somme.

It's Everybody's Campaign—Everybody Must Subscribe. Never was there such a chance for Everybody to do something—as big as they can, and as big as they should. Not a factory, not a store, not a man, woman or child will be overlooked.

Somebody Will Call on Everybody

School Children

They will do their bit.

Rotary Club Men

They'll enlist the workers in the factories at so much a month.

Women Workers

They'll call on everyone in every home.

Central Team Members

They'll secure contributions from the banks, financial houses and business men.

Everybody is going to give as they never gave before. With everybody giving, everybody working, everybody boosting, we'll get that paltry two and a half million dollars in four days for the soldiers' wives, the soldiers' kiddies and the Red Cross.

"IT IS NOT WHAT A NATION GAINS BUT WHAT IT GIVES THAT MAKES IT GREAT"

In every corner of the Empire Toronto is praised for its generosity, lauded for its loyal, patriotic and great hearted benevolence. We've made that reputation. We've got to keep it. Next week we'll renew our reputation for another year and everybody will have a share—EVERYBODY.

MARK HARRIS MINES and MINING

Buy the "Peace Babies." By Peace Babies I mean the securities that will directly benefit in the event of peace being declared.

The "War Babies" will have a tremendous slump when peace is finally declared. Just how bad this slump will be can be partially estimated from the effect the recent peace proposals had on the securities of the best known "War Babies."

During the past six months I have repeatedly warned investors against trading in war stocks, especially on margin, but the phenomenal earnings reported month after month by the big companies engaged in supplying war material was too alluring a bait and it caught thousands of investors at a time when they could ill afford to lose their money.

Gold is and always will be our standard of value, and although gold, the metal, will not sell any higher in the event of peace being declared, still it will mean much larger earnings for all the big producing gold mines.

When peace is declared it is only natural to expect lower prices for all material, also for labor, and as lower prices for material and labor mean considerable saving to a big producing company it is safe to say peace will increase net earnings by fully 10 per cent or more.

The silver mines should benefit to even a larger degree than the gold producers, because while they will benefit in the same way from cheaper labor, supplies, etc., they will, on the other hand, reap an additional profit from an increase in the value of the metal.

Stocks like Hollinger, McIntyre, Dome, Newray and Boston Creek are all good investments, and I particularly recommend the immediate purchase of Boston Creek, as it is, without doubt, one of the big bonanza mines that are so rarely found nowadays.

BOSTON CREEK--- A WORD WITH YOU

BUY--That's the word. Buy it--it's the best buy in the entire mining share list.

I know what I am talking about. I am a north country pioneer and I know mines from a physical as well as a financial and stock market, point of view.

Six years ago I was one of the first at Porcupine and picked all the big winners of that wonderful camp.

And I pick Boston Creek to go with the biggest gold mines of the northland.

CUSTOMERS OF MY OFFICE WITHIN THE PAST YEAR HAVE MADE APPROXIMATELY $2,000,000 BY FOLLOWING OUR ADVICE IN THE PURCHASE OF MINING SHARES--A FACT WHICH SPEAKS FOR ITSELF.

NO ISSUE WHICH MY HOUSE HAS SPONSORED HAS EVER LOST A CUSTOMER A SINGLE DOLLAR, NOR HAS THERE EVER BEEN A TIME DURING THE YEAR AT WHICH ANY HOLDER OF THESE STOCKS COULD HAVE SOLD AT A LOSS.

THIS IS A REMARKABLE RECORD--ONE THAT I POINT TO WITH PRIDE--ONE THAT CANNOT BE CHALLENGED--ONE THAT I BELIEVE HAS NEVER BEEN EQUALLED AMONG THE BROKERAGE ELEMENT OF CANADA AND THE UNITED STATES.

I now urge the purchase of Boston Creek stock, as I believe it is the forerunner of another big bonanza and low-grade gold camp--one which bids fair to attain to the importance of Porcupine.

I urge you to buy Boston Creek. I know the mines--I know the country--I know the money that has gone into the properties. I know the men personally, with the money they command and the faith they have in them.

Boston Creek has advanced quickly to $1.27 a share on the Standard Stock Exchange and New York Curb Market, and looks good to me for $5 a share.

Buy it. Buy it now. It's the best recommendation I ever made in my life. It looks good for immense dividends--immense market profits.
