Prepare to Renew Fight. since the last heavy stroke of the allies on the Somme, which won for them the village of Le Sars, both the British and the French have been actively strengthening their positions and preparing for a renewal of the offensive on a large scale. In the opinion of military critics here the comparative inactivity of the last few days may indicate that the allied commanders are delaying their next heavy blows in Picardy until Falkenhaynes army in Transylvania, pick their men from all troops, but their reserve troops only with the greatest difficulty. It is believed here that the next great allied move will be concentrated against the western rather than the eastern end of the Somme lines -against the Ger man positions north of Courcelette, instead of those in the region of Transloy. It is pointed out that from the lines now held by the French and British near Sailly and west of Transloy any move along the Bethung road would be uphill, a decided obstacle to quick and effective operations.

Have Good Field Ahead. The terrain north of Courcelette, on he other hand, presents no such difficulties, the ground sloping gradua'ly down toward Bapaume and the region east of that stronghold. Along the Valley of the Ancre a rapid advance could be made to the north that might very easily draw the net tightly around Bapaume before relief could be rought from the east. Another advantage lies with such a movement. The north and east drive of the British forces directly east of the Ancre on a line with Courcel tte and Le sars has created a deep salient in their the the neck of which runs thru Divier on the east bank of the river. The continuance of the British advance between the Ancre and the Albert-Bapaume road would narrow this salient until it would be brought into a position similar to that of Comoles immediately before its capvaried as usual, and the quality and ture. The only hope of escape of the German submarine is lax enforcement of the American neutrality laws, which would enable them to take refuge temporarily within the three mile limit.

The Gallia was a 15,100 ton steamship, 574 feet long and 64 feet of beam. She was built in the Seine in 1913 and owned by the Compagnie de Navigation Sud Atlantique of Bordeaux. She was one of the larger vessels sunk by submarines during the war, having been only 700 tons smaller than the White Star liner Arabic.

The Gallia's recent movements have not been disclosed, as she was in government service. Early this year Serbian troops were taken to Bizerta, Tunis, which is south of Sardiria. The Gallia may have been on her way from Tunis with troops for the Macedonian front.

Admiral Gleaves Disbelieves Report That Flotilla Was Operating.

NO FURTHER ATTACKS

But Shipping Interests Fear Resumption of Warfare Off Coast.

Newport, R. I. Oct. 9.-The wholesale raid on foreign shipping south of Nantucket lightship Sunday was the work of one submarine, according to reports of American naval officers. Rear Admiral Albert Gleaves, commanding the torpedo boat destroyer flotilla which did such remarkably speedy rescue work yesterday, said tonight that the reports of all his officers agreed to the best of their observation one raider only was concerned. This one raider only was concerned. This boat presumably was the German U-53, which called at Newport Sat-urday afternoon to mail a letter to Ambassador Bernstorff and then put to sea without taking on an ounce of supplies, altho she was 17 days from her base, according to the statement of her officers.

About Handling.

Admiral Gieaves said he could easily understand the positive statements of the captain of the Nantucket lightship and of sailors of the torpedoed was very fast, and appeared to have been handled cleverly. It was easy, he pointed out, for her to disappear on one side of a ship and then show up unexpectedly at another spot. Doubt-less, he believed, she had submerged and reappeared often enough to mis-lead any but a keen professional observer, and to create the impression server, and to create the impression that more than one sea terror was operating. This opinion would seem to be borne out by the statements of many of the refugees. Lieut. Commander Mil'er of the destroyer Ericsson, who witnessed the destruction of the Stephano, said he was positive that only one submarsible was in the that only one submersible was in the vicinity at the time.

Lull in Attacks. Today the raiding had ceased, least for the moment.

It was the commandant's opinion that the King-stonian's crew had been picked up by an eastbound steamer which did not care to divulge her position to lurking submarines by reporting the fact by

Notwithstanding the lull in submarine activities today, shipping menwere by no means reassured. If only one raider were concerned she might by waiting only to replenish her supplies, they believed.

This gave rise to a renewal of reports that elaborate methods of supplies, they believed.

against the Germans, and as the films will be preserved for generations, he was also your children's and your children's children's eyes.

The pictures of the Somme battle cause speculation about the man who took them. He was so evidently inviting trouble when he stood turning the handle of his machine in some places. Did he really know what he was doing? Was he aware that he was really the eyes of the unborn, witnessing scent for a world yet to come? The movie man was invited for the sake of his health not to uncover his lons before he heard the shriek of shells passing overhead. But the mavie man was too keen about his job to care for anything about parapets and things; and before the gun was aired—well, some sharp-eyed Germans saw this bold fellow fiddling about opposite, and let fly—quite often.

The movie man was unmoved, because the shots did not quite get him, and proceeded. No military crosses for him, tho. When the shells burst our own stuff fell around him and actually struck his machine. But his jor was to turn the handle while the stunt lasted, and he kept it going round. the handle of his machine in som was to turn the handle while the start lasted, and he kept it going round.

The quality of his courage is a little uncanny. From the way he behaved you would suppose he was unaware he was doing more than recording a royal procession. He proceeds methodically and swiftly, while noises continue round him which would make your heart stop beating, to get his machinery ready. He takes no notice—unless a guide absolutely orders it—of any menace until he had his focus on the particular danger he is there to photograph. Certainly all credit must be given the movie man for risking his life that we might see a reproduction of the initial British offensive. DAVID LLOYD GEORGE 66 CEE that this picture which is in itself an epic of selfsacrifice and gallantry, reaches everyone. Herald the deeds of our brave men to the ends of the earth: This is your duty."

DAVID LLOYD GEORGE, Secretary-for-War, declares that it is the duty of British people to see official photographic records of the Battle of the Somme. These wonderful moving pictures will be shown for the first time in Canada next week, under the auspices of The Toronto Daily World. In England the film received first formal presentation at the Scala Theatre, September 8, before a distinguished gathering, including members of the general staff. Mr. Lloyd George from pressure of business was not there personally, but he was present in spirit. And he sent the following remarkable message, probably the strongest commendation ever accorded a moving picture, a message that applies throughout the British Empire.

"THIS IS YOUR DUTY. "THIS IS YOUR MISSION."

"I am convinced that when you have seen this wonderful picture, every heart will beat higher in sympathy with its cause and purpose, which is no other than that every one of us at home and those abroad shall see what our men at the front are doing and suffering for us, and how their achievements have been made possible by the sacrifices at home.

"Be up and doing also! See that this picture, which is in itself an epic of selfsacrifice and gallantry, reaches everyone. Herald the deeds of our brave men to the ends of the earth. This is your duty.

"Ladies, I feel that no word is necessary to urge upon you the importance of throwing in the whole ardor and strength of your invaluable aid. Mothers, wives, sisters, affianced ones-your hearts will beat, your voices speak, in honor and glory of the living and the dead. You are great and powerful. This is your

There was much speculation as to whether the German commander trusted to chance when he virtually advertised what he was going to do and went about doing it so deliberately, or whether his apparent confidence in his plans was based on an exact knowledge that a vital strip of the

HORSES ARE FEATURE OF WOODBRIDGE FAIR

Unsurpassed by Any Show in Ontario This Fall-Fourteen Thousand Attend.

Woodbridge Fair never before excelled gesterday's exhibit in point of entries and in the merit of the offerfigs, and only in the attendance did this big county show fall away in any respect from some of its best years. Nothing could have been more disheartening than the outlook of yesterday morning, but later in the day weather conditions were deddedly more encouraging and, tho the grounds were swept by strong autumnal winds, the big crowd numbering p robably 14,000 people took the keenest kind of interest in every event. The directors have every reason to be proud of the magnificent show of horses, in the opinion of leading provincial judges, unsurpassed by any in Ontario this fall.

The track was very fast and, tho now records were made, the racing was acceptionally good in the free-for-all James Albert, the Toronto horse, driven by Charley Farrell, winning in three straight heats with apparent ease. All the entries and winners in the several classes were as follows:

At no former fair has the competition in the draft and agricultural classes been in the draft and agricultural classes been so keen, from eight to ten entries, and all high class, for the most part, in the pink of condition and, capably handled, they were a big feature of the show. In the agricultural team class T. H. Hassard won the coveted red ticket; J. A. Cameron, 2, and William Dale, of Toronto township, 3. Three or four other teams of almost equal merit failed to score. There was a good show of Percherons, Arthur Bobson, of Etobicoke, taking first for his brood mare. In the draft colt R. Cheyne was first, with J. A. Cameron, second, and in the sweepstakes J. A. Cameron swept the field with a very fine mare and colt. In the three-year-old draft class R. Thomas, 1; A. Hewson, 2, and J. Gowland, 3, were the winners.

There was a splendid show of roadster and carriage horses and colts, and in the carriage horse in harness T. Rutledge, of Port Credit, carried off the red ticket, A. Rundle, of Maple, being second. In the yearling roadsters J. Tilt, 1; R. Livingstone, 2; W. Steen, 3. In brood mare roadster and in colt W. Steen took the honors. In the road class W. H. Rutledge, 1; E. Following the awards, Mrs. Davison gave a splendid riding exhibition which attracted much attention. The class of lady d rivers was unusually large, Miss Shaw, of Markham, being first; Miss Tilt, Brampton, second, and Miss Manclerk, third. In the roadster pair T. H. This attention does not stop at ordinary treatment, but where injuries are of a nature requiring the advice of speialists or special treatment, the men are rent to places where this is secured, and they are actually trained to develop new faculties to do the work of those that are impaired.

"I was especially pleased with the Ontario Military Hospital at Orpington and the work being done by the staff there. The location of the hospital, its buildings and equipment combine to make it one of the most efficient in England. In fact, it is now regarded as a model for all military hespitals, and recently a party of experts visited all the hospitals in England and France and finally agreed that the Ontario Military Hospital at Orpington was the best of its kind among all those they had visited.

Visit to Battle Line.

"I visited the battle line in France and had special opportunities for seeing our gallant fellows. I must again repeat that I was profoundly impresed with the splendid character of the Canadian croops of all arms." Under all manner of privation and hardship they are cheerful an uncompluting, and one and all at determined to stick to the fight until victory is won for the allied cause. The recent successes on the Somme have satisfied she people beyond all doubt, that complete victory is assured for the allied cause. The munitions so sorely needed at the commencement of the war are now coming forward in abundance. "My visit to the fleet impressed me with the splendid efficiency of the British navy. It was indeed with a iceling of pride that I walked upon the decks of the Tiger, Warspite, Princess Royal and other fine vessels. I heard from Sir David Beatty, himself, and from other officers the story of the Jutland victory. But if there is one class of men more than another to whom I want to pay tribute, it is the crews of the destroyers and submarines. They excited my highest admiration. It is hard for us to understand the difficulties and nardships they endure in their ceaseless, ships they endure in their ceuseless, unerring vigil. But one cannot fail to recognize their training and efficiency, and how well they discharge their duty which makes it safe for us to travel the dangerous waters of the war Ontario Office Work. "When in England I made a close study of the work of the Ontario office in London, with a view of seeing in what way, if any, its efficiency can be increased, and in preparation for the extensive work that I am confident this effice can do after the war. Good work is now being done by the agent general in advertising Ontario. securing contracts for Ontario factories, and generally in making known the quality and character of our pro-ducts. Good work is a so being done in looking after our Ontario soldiers, particularly those who are sick r wounded. This work is specially under the charge of Major Clarke, who is known for his sympathy and kindly mustrations in every hospital in England where Canadians are located.

Maple Leaf Coun.
"Splendid work is being done for Canadian soldiers in London by the Maple Leaf Club, under the direction of Lady Drummond, and the very capable committee associated with her. Thic club supplies accommodation to the large number of Canadian soldlers constantly on leave in London, and insures the men clean beds and wholesome meals and good surroundings in cvery way. I found, however, that the club was totally unable, with the accommodation it had, to meet the demands upon it, and it was compelled to turn away daily scores of men who were anxious to secure admission to this club. I felt that the money of the people of Ontario could be spent in no better way than in providing homes for our men in the great City of London, and so I arranged with the com-mittee that the club should fit up two additional places that would provide extra accommodation for from 350 to Nothing has excited more interest about the war in the United States than the appearance of the German submarine U-53 at Newport, and her subsequetn exploits in torpedoing half a dozen steamers. It was the belief of ing session. one American official that the submarine had already started back across the Atlantic for a home port, not having more fuel that would enable her to make the return trip. She has shown what can be done on an unprotected route, but it would not long remain unprotected.

Ancient Civilizations

Arthur Evans has been writing on early civilizations, and his views indicate the change that is rapidly coming over the world of scholarship regarding the antiquity of man upon earth. There is the widest latitude between the "ultra-orthodox" people who think that the human race began about 5920 years ago, and the oriental statements of eighteen million years as covering the history of man as we know him. Sir Arthur Evans is no extremist, nor does he talk in millions of years, tho perhaps his thousands will be as disturbing in some quarters as millions could be. He is compelled to recognize facts, however, and these chiefly concern the ancient civilizations which have left artistic and domestic traces behind them of a high state of culture, many millenniums beyond the date which used to be accepted for the creation of the world.

One of the most interesting of the old civilizations is the Cretan. From for the purpose of heading off rural Flor de Rey, Tueros and investigations made of remains in credit legislation. Such legislation to Crete, it is stated by Sir Arthur that a modest estimate would place the artistic attainments discovered some likely to demand that parliament go a 10,000 years earlier than the most step-further and establish in Canada ancient monuments of Egypt or an up-to-date banking and currency he existence at remote periods of igh degrees of civilization, and the devotees of Greek art and literature egin to realize that Hellenic civilization was only "a part of a wide economy," and is no longer to be regarded es, an isolated instance. The high early culture, equal and rival of that of Egypt and Babylon, which begar to take its rise in the fourth millennium before the Christian era flourished for 2000 years, dominating the Levant. This, like the Egyptian, the Greek and the older oriental civilizations, does not appear to have had any period of struggle and evolution. It sprang, as the Greeks symbolized Athena springing full-armed from the head of Zeus, into comparative perfection at once, and no developing period is found for the ancient Egyptians and many other peoples.

The only parallel we have is the ettlement of America from Europe and scholars are taking up the idea of the possible colonization of other parts of the world from the hypothetical Atlantean continent or the still older Lemurian continent, which Haeckel has recognized as a biological necessity to account for the development and spread of various flora and fauna. If these old civilizations of Crete and Greece, Egypt and Chaldea, Mexico and Yucatan, Java and Borneo are the work of colonizers from more ancien nations still, the archaeologists have the most interesting task in the world lying ahead of them.

The Rural Credit Situation

A person at all suspicious might asily believe that an organized movement is on foot to head off the passing by parliament of a law similar to the Federal Farm Loan Act recently passed by the congress of the United States. At the last session of parliament Mr. W. F. Maclean, M.P. for South York, seconded by Mr. J. G. Turriff, M.P. for Assiniboia, pressed upon the attention of the minister of finance the neces sity for federal legislation of this kind. The whole subject, Sir Thomas White promised, should receive his careful attention during the parliamentary recess, and he more than intimated that a bill dealing with rural credits might

Since then, the chartered banks have been unusually civil to the farmers and have made some efforts to get in touch with them. Many of the vessels within the German Uboat danger zone carry scores of American and European passengers, including financial, business and social

It seemed doubtful today that the marine raid would result in general tie-up of the shipping of the entente nations in American but one of the most important steamship companies controlling both British and American vessels, the International Mercantile Marine Co., issued orders that no British ships of that line should leave Atlantic ports pending further orders. The order was issued by P. A. S. Franklin, vice-president and general manager, who mmediately upon confirming reports of the sinking of steamers off Nantucket, sent telegrams to agents of the company in Boston, Baitimore, Philadelphia, Portland and Montreal, directing that all vessels flying the or of any of the company's vessels under the American flag. Officials of the Cunard, French and of the Italian lines declared that their passenger and freight vessels would sail as usual despite the submarine menace. At the Cunard line offices it was announced that no changes would be made in the sailing dates of steamers until instructions were received from the main office in Liverpool. All Cunard vessels, it was pointed out, are armed with 4.7-inch guns, and the German submarines thus far have avoided vessels so arm-

NEW GREEK MINISTRY TO BE OF HIGH TYPE

Ministry Will Seek to Compose Serious Differences Existing.

London, Oct. 9 .- Prof. Spyridon P. ambrose will try to form a Greek abinet outside of the politicians, according to a Reuter's Athens despatch . The despatch quotes Prof. ambrose as saying that he wished to form a cabinet "entirely indepenlent of existing political currents." He added that the new ministers of the interior and war, "would furnish guarantees not to create anomalies, but to dispute those now existing."

A "HIGH-BROW" MINISTRY.

Athens, Oct. 8, via London, Oct. 9.—
Prof. Lambrose has agreed to undertake the formation of a cabinet, which probably will include one or two other university professors. He declares the new ministry must be separated wholly from the present political strife. The ministers of war and interior will be required to guarantee that they will do all in their power to compose the differences with the entente nowers, and not to create new points of friction.

In official quarters it is stated that all the demands of the entente have been complied with, except those with regard to the expulsion of Germanborn Greek subjects, which are considered by the Greek Government as in violation of the fundamental laws of this country. The entente powers maintain that as German-born Greeks are not exempt from military service in Germany by Greek naturalization, they are not entitled to any exemptions not granted to other Germans in Greece. Negotiations regarding these demands are at a deadlock.

Views of Entente Powers Evidently Not Accepted by United States.

London, Oct. 9.-The Manchest London, Och 9.—The Manchester Guardian in an editorial article on the exploits of the U-53, declares its conviction of the desire of the United States to observe strict neutrality. The Guardian says that if the British ambassador protested against the entry of the submarine into American waters, and argued that any further suband argued that any further sub-marines arriving there should be in-terned for the rest of the war, he would be expressing the views set out in the recent memorandum sent by the allies to neutral governments.

"The American Government," the paper continues, "apparently does not share these views, at any rate not fully, or it would not have escorted the submarine into port or allowed her to leave. No doubt we will be having some statements before long, and therefore, it is hardly desirable to speculate upon it."

After pointing out the difficulties regarding the interpretation of international law in respect to surface and undersea war vessels. The Guardian says: "The submarine, thanks largely to the United States, now tries to spare life, but never makes itself responsible for its preservation. For these reasons the submarine is a menace to the liberty of commercial navigation in a way no surface boat can be, and these facts are sufficient to create a presumption against the regarding the interpretation of interto create a presumption against the submarine which does not exist against other craft. Since the taking of Eaucourt L'Abbaye, British bombing parties had made many rushes into the tangle and the Germans had met showers of bombs with showers of their own. Representing a sequel to "The Birth of a Nation," Thomas Dixon, its au-thor, has produced another stirring picture in connection with the United States, entitled "The Fall of a Na-tion," which is being shown for the entire week at the Strand Theatre. The initial presentation was made yesterday afternoon before large holiday crowds, which accorded the picture a hearty ovation. Its plot deals with a successful uprising and invasion of the eastern part of the invasion of the eastern part of the U. S. by German troops. American troops, unprepared against the German system and efficiency, see the emperor appoint a governor-general with the rank of prince. Later Americans secretly drill in the far west, and with the aid of a woman's patriotic league, overthrow the kaiser's government and a republic is again established. Besides "The Fall of a Nation," the Strand Topical Review and two reals Strand Topical Review and two reels of comedy pictures are shown.

HAMILTON TIGERS DOUBLE THE SCORE

Foronto Sportsmen's Battalion Beaten in Opening Rugby

Special to The Toronto World.

Hamilton, Oct. 9.—Contesting every yard on the gridiron, the All-Star team of the 180th Sportsmen's Battalion, of Toronto, went down stubbornly to defeat before the overwhelming speed of the Tiger team of the 205th Sportsmen's Battalion at the H. A. A. A. grounds this afternoon. The score was 18 to 9 in favor of the jungle terrors. It was the first time in the history of Canada that teams from two overseas battalions faced each other on the gridiron, and, from the enthusiasm displayed by the four thousand spectators, the soldier games will be popular.

Thruout the game the Tigers were the aggressors, and, with their speed and pep, appeared to have it all over and around the Toronto team. The All-Stars played steady and uncorked some nice combination runs, but there was too much weight to permit them staying with their faster opponents.

Erskine was the star of the game and was given a very rough handling, but he was always there at a pinch, and his booting never falted, Jefferies, Ireland and Max Smith also held up their ends for the Tigers. Dibble and J. Stanfield outshone their mates and played a heady game.

During half time Col. Logie presented the cups to the prize winners of the Herald road race. Col. Logie made a neat little speech to each and complimented them upon the splendid race that each had run. The big cup went to Sergt. Corkery, 180th Battalion, Toronto; Sergt. Arthur Jamieson, 114th Battalion, Haidimand, received second prize. Third and fourth went to Pte. Boulter, 198th Battalion, Toronto, and Pte. Felst, 205th Battalion, Hamilton, respectively.

VIRTUAL BLOCKADE OF CHIEF U.S. PORTS

Great Gravity of Situation is Pointed Out by Newspapers.

CANNOT DODGE ISSUES

Neutrality of U.S. Grossly Violated by German Submarine.

New York, Oct. 9 .- Following are some of the editorial opinions publish ed in New York and elsewhere on the new German submarine warfare on the American side of the Atlantic:

The New York Herald: A virtual blockade of New York and other Ani-U53, and its destruction of shipping as an ice-breaker. in American waters. There can be no avoiding the issue raised by these acts. It is not whether in individual cases there has been treduced adherence to a policy of warning. It is that submarine operations in the lanes of sea travel leading immediately to American parts can ports cannot be, must not be tol-

Practically the neutrality of the United States has been grossly violated by the coming of the U-53 irto American ports to acquire information concerning the whereabouts of vessels at sea and her prompt departure from that port upon her mission of destruction.

The protection of this and other American ports against this Prussian lockage is another and much more vital thing. This cannot wait. It is the highest duty of the government of the United States to go to any length that may be necessary to put an and to this Prussian warfare, in American waters, and without a day's delay.

Dire Possibilities.
The New York Times: The waters where this most unwelcome visitor is prowling and destroying are the highways to our chief ports. Thru them pass ships carrying a great part of our commerce and substantially all the American passes servers when the substantial of the substa American passengers who cross the seas. One rash act, a single mistake, on the part of the U boat commander, causing the less of even one American life, would provoke instant action by the American Government. Thereafter despatches to Ambassador Voa Bernsterff could be handed to his country sterff could be handed to his country and relations between the two govern ments would be at an end. This sub-marine has begun a wholesale, indiscriminate foray against our commerce. It appears to be almost certain that she has already sunk vessels in disregard of law. New York World: The U-53 showed yesterday that she is instructed to pass Government which Germany's note never sufficiently covered. A German View.

The New York Staatz-Zeitung: Al the maintaining in port the silence of a sphinx. Lieut.-Capt. Rose was not a sphinx. Lieut.-Capt. Rose was not many hours out of American territorial waters before he availed himself of the opportunity of answering collectively all questions as to his mission on this side of the Atlantic. They were simple indeed why they be that were simple indeed who thought that the German Government was pay g postage on routine correspondence with submarines of the latest and most extensive type. They know now that it Yesterday morning's bag for the U-53, off Nantucket, was the British ship West Point, 2,412 tons gross, the Strathdene, the steamer Stephano of the Red Cross line, and some other vessels. It was clean work, according to all reports to hand, without loss of life, and unattended by any of those invasions of our neutral rights which have so often attached to the operations of British warships on our coasts. This is a beginning creditable alike to the officers and men of the U-53 and the service which they ornament. Grave Situation.

The Philadelphia Public Ledger: The sudden appearance of an armed Gersubmarine followed by attacks upon inerchantmen not many miles off Nantucket, created a situation the gravity of which can hardly be exaggerated. So far there is nothing to show that these attacks were made without warning.

If the U-53 crossed the Atlantic safely, other submarines may have come with her or may now be on their way. In that case the purpose of the German Government is obvious. It intends to carry on its submarine cam paign on four coasts. Only by the happlest chance could the possibility of coming into conflict with our government be avoided.

Should Warn Waskington. Providence Journal: The European war is on our shores. If there could have been any question of the meaning of the presence on this side of the ocean of a German submarine disclused by the sudden visit of the U-53 to Newport harbor Saturday afternoon, the answer is promptly furnished in the shelling and torpedoing of three British freight steamers and passenger steamer, a Dutch freighter, and a Norwegian in the trans-Atlantic lanes south of Nantucket shoals on Sunday. Has the U-53 a base not 500 miles from Newport?

The spectacular raid should warn the government at Washington of its duty to make sure that the operations are not being sustained from bases or our coast.

The United States would incur heavy liability if anything of that sort has been carried out right under the nose of the administration. A thoro investigation should be instituted promptly. We cannot take any chances of being confronted with the consequences of shutting our eyes to an outrageous invasion of our neutral

A Pacifist View. Washington Post: So long as American vesse's and American citizens are not involved, the United States not concern itself with the ray ages of the U-53 unless operations are conducted within the three-mile limit supplies are sent to the vessel from this country. An act of congress makes It a crime to supply a belligerent vessel off the American coast. The purpose of the German admiralty evi-dently is to intercept and destroy en-emy munition carriers. Possibly the British Government will endeavor to convince the United States that this is a crime against civilization, and perhaps American munifion manufacturers will ask the government to protest against the extension of the war zone to western Atlantic waters. But munitions are contraband of war, subcet to capture or destruction, and the manufacturer and shipper have no recourse. The government cannot protect such traffic.

Controversy Revived.

The Boston Herald says: "The European war has been transferred to our own shores. Germany is, for practical purposes, blockading the ports of the United States. This raises the whole submarine controversy afresh, and in a much more acute form. The administration's presumed purpose to make a grandpresumed purpose to make a grand-stand play against British aggression just before the election thus appears frustrated by events. We protested against Britain's vessels holding up ships outside our ports, and she modified her policy in that regard. What shall we now recommend the shall we now the state of th

After the crew had obeyed orders to take to the ship's boats, the submarine sent a torpedo into the Strathdene and sank her. The raider, patrolling the vicinity of the Transa-Atlantic steamship lane, moved considerably to the southward. Near sunset the British steame Kingston came within view of the lookout on the submersible. The same procedure was followed as with the other vessels, and at 6 p.m. the Kingston went down a short distance south-east of the lightship.

Three Others Sunk.

A little later the Norwegian steamer Christian Knudsen, New York, for London, was similarly halted and went London, was similarly naited and went to the bottom. Three other steamers were reported sunk early today. The Kansan meanwhile had sent broad-cast radiograms telling of the submarine's appearance in the vicinity of the lightship. The West Point also was able to flash off brief messages giving word of her plight before she was abandoned by her crew. These despatches were picked up at Newport and fleet of U. Thruout the day and night the destroyers cruised in the waters for several miles around the Nantucket lightship, receiving word from time to time of the sinking of additional vessels. They located the survivors of all the vessels known to have been destroyed, except the Kingston, and took them aboard. The crew of the Strath-dene had previously been given shelter on the lightship.

The steamer Kingston is not men-

Behavior of Passengers and Crews Under Trying Circumstances Splendid.

Newport, R.I., Oct. 9.-Eye witness stories of the torpedoing of passenger and freight steamers by German sub-marines off Nantucket yesterday were told here today.

According to a report brought by officers of a flotilla of U. S. destroyers, which picked up passengers and crews of several of the vessels destroyed. nine merchant ships were sunk.

One of the submarines is supposed to have been the U53, which visited this harbor Saturday, and another was declared to be the U61. Mrs. Henry R. Wilson of Williamstown, Mass., a passenger on the Stephano, one of the vessels sunk, said that an officer and several of the crew told her that they had distinctly seen the name U61 on the submarine that attacked their ship. Six vessels are known to have been sunk, and the report that the total was nine, was based on a statement of the captain of the Nantucket Shoals the captain of the Nantucket Shoals Lightship, near which the attacks took place. The captain said that three subnarines were engaged.

Survivors Landed.
The United States Jestroyer Ericsson, which picked up some of the boats from the Stephano, brought here 25 women and ten children, while the destroyer Balch brought 69 other from the Stephano, including passen gers and members of the crew. Eighteen of the women were landed at the government pier by permission of the health officers and were taken in automobiles to the homes of Gov. R. Livingston Beeckman, Mrs. French Vandervilt and Arthur Cartiss James, former commodore of the New York Yacht Club.

Dr. Andrews, who is connected with the Grenfell mission, was one of the four Stephano passengers taken to the home of Mrs. Ccrnelius Vanderbilt. Dr. Andrews was on his way to New York. In describing his experiences, Dr. Andrews declared that the Germans gave the boat proper warning and then stood by until all of the passengers had been taken off.

Preliminary Report to President Wilson Designed to Be Reassuring.

Asbury Park, N. J., Oct. 9.—Secretary of the Naty Daniels, in a preliminary report to President Wilson this afterioon, said that advices so far received ndicated that all the rules of international warfare had been complied with by the German submarines operaing off the New England coast.

The secretary said that while complete reports from the American war-ships in the neighborhood of the comnerce destroyers were not yet in, the reports tended to show that all vessels had been warned, and that there had been no violation of the condition imposed on submarines by President Wilson's last note to Germany.

Further reports are to be sent to the president by the navy department as fast as they are received.

Up With West Dome

By a Staff Reporter. Timmins, Oct. 9.—Talk that when Apex reopens development work will be linked up with that of the West Dome persists in this camp, and there seems out undue excitement. We were given to be plenty of probability in the reports. ample warning for safety, fully 15 West Dome management is the contrary of prolix in discussing the matter. It is not plainly to be seen how the work-underground could be coordinated with any degree of ease, but undoubtedly the drilling and other proving and indicat-ing of ore bodies on West Dome could be advantageously taken into account on Apex if managements were similarly policied.

Apex's present plant is small and of old style. Reopening would involve considerable changes and additions to equip-

West Dome Foundation For Mill Retarded

Timmins, Oct. 9.—All hopes that West Dome would have the foundations in for its new mill before winter have had to be abandoned. Material and labor shortages are the causes. Nothing can now be done on the mill until spring, meaning the treatment of ore is set back five or six months. r six months.

In the meanwhile West Dome will keep on opening up and blocking out ore. From drifts at the 200-foot level, on veins numbers one and two, ore that runs as high as $12 is coming up and being dumped. Probably this will average $7, and anyway will be good milling stuff. A great tonnage will be ready for the mill.

Two diamond drill holes are being run now. Neither is deep enough to cut the high-grade system as yet, but one east of the office has cut 17 feet of low grade, averaging $5, at about 500 feet down.

Splendid Deposit in Heart of Nova Scotian Mining District.

Zinc, Lead and Copper in Sight.

What is stated to be the richest zinc ed up by Toronto interests in Cape Breton, about 30 miles northwest of Scotia mining district. Surface showings are phenomenally rich, and it would appear that an extensive zinc and copper producing mine will be developed as a result of the extensive plan of operations now being pre-

The main vein on the property is 60 feet wide and has been opened up for Now Selling at Ten-Twenty- Pit Finds Support From a distance of two miles. The ore is almost solid metal, assay returns showing 34 per cent, zinc, 21/2 to 41/2 per cent. copper, 10 per cent. lead, 1 pen-largest zinc-copper mines in Canada, and add that it appears to have the only zinc of any consequence in the Dominion except the deposits of the Consolidated Mining and Smelting Co., in British Columbia.

H. H. Sutherland of F. C. Sutherland & Co., Toronto, the firm which acquired the property some time ago, has gone east to conclude the arrangements for opening up the holding. Contracts for large quantities of zinc, lead and copper have been offered to the company, and it is with a view to taking advantage of these that an aggressive development policy, which will provide for heavy shipments, has been adopted.

The demand for zinc, lead and copper for war munition manufacture has stimulated the industry to a remarkable extent, but up to this fall British Columbia is the only province which has benefited to any material extent. It would appear now that Nova Scotia will also experience considerable expansion in the same direction.

ments. Increased crop damage in Argentina and higher prices at Liverpool tended thruout the day to exercise a steadying effect on the wheat market here. Some despatches from Argentina pointed to a crop failure in the north and central provinces. Such conditions went far to explain the continued export call in the face of the unprecedented interference with commerce off the New England coast.

A second vein, 15 feet wide, has been traced for 1000 feet, and carries 34 per cent. zinc, 3 per cent. copper and 2 per cent. lead. The location is only four miles from a good harbor and is within 15 miles of coal. There is an abundance of wood and water on the property, and development can be carried on without any difficulty.

Corn was governed by the same influences that affected wheat. At times, however, buying was heavy on the part of one of the largest houses in the trade. Oats paralleled the action of other cereals. Receipts were liberal.

Provisions as well as grain were lowered by the uncertainty resulting from submarine activity. The situation was taken advantage of by shippers who covered freely in lard and ribs. Light Hogs are those that weigh 140 lbs. and under

Purchases of Merit

The metal issues, wherein property conditions and company earnings practically assure a sharp and sustained advance, are dealt with at length in this week's issue of my Market Despatch.

Those in the Cobalt and Porcupine securities I recommend as immediate purchases, bear the stamp of approval by the Department of Mines of the Ontario Government. No hesitation should be felt in buying these at once, as only a curtailment in sure market profits, in my opinion, can be gained in further delay.

P. Crown Production Will Cause Stir

By Special Correspondent.

Timmins, Oct. 9.—Porcupine Crown figures for September, when they come out, are likely to make a stir. They are known to be large. Millheads last month, because of the fact that a lot of ore from the section of the vein lately opened out at depth was treated, were very high ed out at depth was treated, were very high.

All development work at Porcupine Crown is confined to the sinking of the winze, now at the 880 level. It was intended, for a time, to cease sinking and run drifts at the 800 level, but this intention was changed. Dlamond drilling was resumed at the end of last month, and because not enough air could be provided to carry or both operations, development in the various levels was stopped.
