USING "REGAL"
In New Brunswick today many of the noble army of bread-makers are now using a white flour that has never been surpassed in quality anywhere or at any time. This flour is named "Regal" and it can be said that this one, among the different brands of high-grade flour, stands out pre-eminent. Particular bakers and fastidious cooks are always pleased to use it, as they are sure of its uniform high quality and its ability to secure results. 10-3

In one of the advertisements appearing the other day in opposition to the prohibition movement advice was given to men to be men and vote right. Dr. A. T. Abernethy, of Dayton, Ohio, in speaking of that, says: "You make an appeal to me to be a man and it is because you are not a man you so speak to me. It is because your infernal business unman men that we are fighting it and expect to fight it to the bitter end. Would you come out in the open and insult men with a proposition to partake of that which unman their nerves, muddles their brains, demoralizes their morals and clouds their consciences with the use of the liquors you wish to sell? You urge me to be a man and it is because I want to be a man that I am eternally the sworn enemy of your nefarious business."
The opponents of prohibition have not yet been able to state who they are nor conform to this requirement of the act.

The afternoon connections for Prince Edward Island will be made by changing to the Ocean Limited at Moncton, and from Sackville by taking train No. 40 leaving for Tormentine at 6.25 p. m. The morning train connection for Prince Edward Island will be by No. 18 as usual. There will be no change in the P. E. NO TARIFF WAR.

The Washington correspondent of the Montreal Gazette, the leading government and high tariff organ in Quebec province, informs that paper that President Harding and his advisers do not expect any general tariff revision by the American Congress at this session.

From all appearances there does not seem to be any warmth of feeling in the administration circle in favor of tariff legislation. In the absence of any authoritative information, all surface indications go to show that the administration is of the opinion that tariff legislation at this time would be a detriment instead of a help to the nation.

The second stage of such a policy it is held, would be that Europe would have little money wherewith to purchase American products, and by the same token Allied nations would be without means of paying back any of the money they borrowed from the United States during the world war.

Premier Meighen and the advocates of a high protective tariff in Canada have been banking on the hope that the United States would enact a high tariff law and give them a campaign cry.

The last bulletin of the Employment Service of Canada makes a comparison between the two week period ending Aug. 27 and that of the preceding fortnight, showing that conditions remained about the same, with a fraction of one per cent. less persons employed in the latter period.

Fredericton Mail: The Chatham World says that Mr. George M. McDade, barrister, of Chatham, will be the government candidate in Northumberland at the next election and that victory for him is certain.

ECHO OF SUMMER.

The woods are lyrical with echoes of summer's music. Soft and far away a nightingale, bidding farewell to Day, sings and notes and forgotten things. The woods are lyrical. About them clings remembered words they heard young lovers say.

LIGHTER VEIN.

Sarcasm. Dad (sternly)—Where were you last night? Oh, just riding around with some of the boys.

Gave Him Away.

Wife—How many fish was it you caught on Saturday, George? Husband—Six, darling. All beautiful.

Satisfied With Little.

Have you anything to say, prisoner, before sentence is passed upon you, asked the judge.

Saving Money.

Husband—Why do your clothes cost such a lot more this year than they did last? Arnt' things cheaper?

Wanted The Lighthouse.

A woman advertised for a servant to do light house work. She received a letter from a girl who said she would like the position.

She was attended by Miss Grace Kuhring, of Toronto, the groom's sister. Henry Morrissey of St. John, N. B., was best man, and the ushers were the groom's two brothers, Paul Kuhring of Ottawa and Malcolm Kuhring. Immediately after the ceremony Mr. and Mrs. Gustave Kuhring left for their future home at Dauphin, Man. Other out of town guests at the wedding were the groom's mother, Mrs. G. A. PLANS FOR AIDING UNEMPLOYED

The Harding Committee Announces Unanimous Agreement on Recommendations—Four Suggestions Made.

Washington, September 30—As one means of solving the unemployment problem, the special committee of President Harding's conference which is investigating emergency measures on the part of manufacturers, will recommend that industry in general adopt "staggered" hours for labor wherever possible. Through this plan workmen now without jobs will be taken on for periods of varying length, from a half day to two or three days each week.

The manufacturers' committee made a brief formal announcement tonight that it had agreed unanimously upon the relief measures it will recommend. These measures were not disclosed officially, but it was learned that the committee decided to follow the suggestions made by the Advisory Committee of Economists in the agenda they laid before the conference, not yet made public.

Four definite suggestions were made. In the first place, a "split week" was recommended, whereby in some cases one workman would be employed for the first three days of the week and another man for the last three. "Rotation" was another scheme urged. This meaning that two workmen would work on alternate days. In addition it was proposed that manufacturers should make up extra stock in anticipation of a coming business revival. A fourth proposal was that manufacturers should take advantage of a dull producing period to make repairs and improvements in their factories.

Some Using Methods.

All of these plans would, it is held, give opportunity for more employment. Already some factories and plants in the country are using these methods. In other cases it has been found impossible. The committee will ask, however, that these devices be used if conditions warrant.

Much interest was aroused by the use of the word "unanimously" in connection with the statement that the committee had reached an agreement. There have been various rumors that the labor faction in the committee, headed chiefly by Samuel Gompers and Mrs. Sarah Combs, had clashed with some manufacturers on the special committee over the suggestion of a wage reduction. An "unanimous" agreement would imply that the wage question had not been fought over, or had been carefully sidetracked. It was said by a committee member tonight that, up to this time, there had been harmony and that any friction was not of sufficient character to mention.

Several chief committees were in session all the afternoon, following a public hearing in the forenoon. All the sessions were held behind closed doors, and nothing was given out except the formal notice alluding to the work of the manufacturers' group. Most of the groups busied themselves with statistics obtained from the Department of Commerce, Labor and Agriculture, using these as bases upon which to frame their conclusions.

Cause of Unemployment.

Aversion of labor to accepting work at reduced wages was assigned as a cause of some unemployment by Roswell E. Phelps, director of labor statistics of the Massachusetts Labor Department, the first witness heard by the National Employment Conference's committee on unemployment statistics, which set to work today to determine the extent and volume of the nation's idle.

"Unemployment is due in some measure," Mr. Phelps told the committee "to the fact that labor will not accept reduced wages."

Harry D. Jacobs, president of the executive men's employment bureau of New York, the next witness, estimated that there were 75,000 unemployed former soldiers in New York City.

B. R. Lutz, of the National Industrial Conference Board, presented a report, made by the board, of a survey of the 14,000,000 manufacturing and building trade workers in the country. On June 1, he said, one-quarter of these wages

DRINK AND DANCE TILL MIDNIGHT

The London Idea of Meeting a National Crisis and Solving Problems.

London, Sept. 30—For the first time in six years Londoners are able to have alcoholic drinks served to them with meals at hotels, clubs and restaurants until midnight, and they are given until 12:30 a. m. to consume them. It was six years ago that theatre and dance suppers were banned by "Dora" (Defence of the Realm Act), and there is much rejoicing tonight over the deliverance from the restrictions.

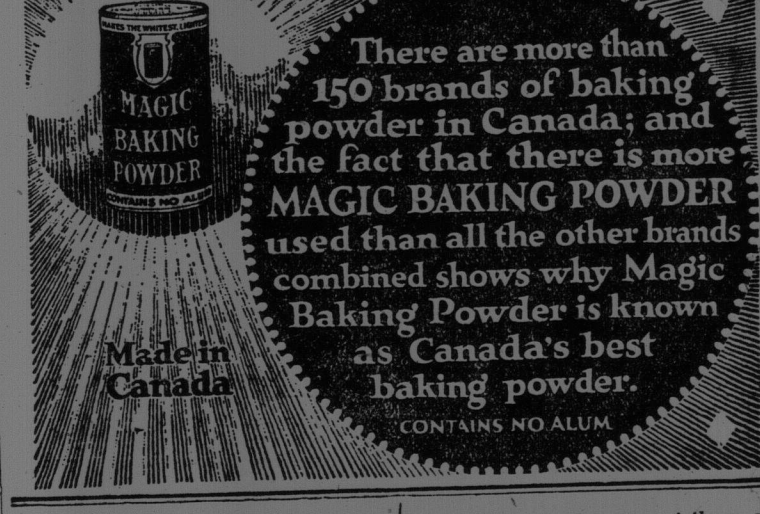

Not all hotels, clubs and restaurants have yet been granted pre-war supper privileges. Applications for same must be made to the licensing justices, who so far have only given certificates for an extension of hours to a certain number of establishments, and have adjourned the other applications. Some of the big hotels have already arranged for nightly dances and suppers until 12:30 a. m.

FALLING BICYCLE SCARES BURGLAR

(Montreal Herald.)
The home of A. Jobin, 47 Esplanade avenue, was visited by burglars early this morning for the second attempt at robbery in a week. The nocturnal visitor got as far as the head of the cellar stairway, when he encountered a wash boiler in the darkness. Tumbling down the flight of stairs with a sound that resembled a cannonade the boiler proved a first-class burglar alarm and aroused the household. No one was in sight in the

LIBERAL LEADER AT WINDSOR, N. S.

Given Rousing Reception by Large Audience—Criticism of War Time Election Act.

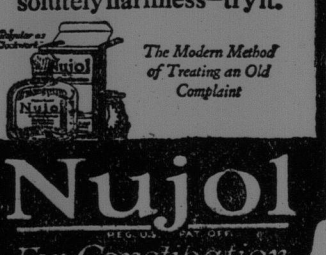

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King, Liberal leader, was accorded a rousing welcome at Windsor, N. S., yesterday. At a mass meeting in Drill Hall, the liberal leader, Hon. H. S. Beland, M. P., William Duff, M. P., and D. D. MacKenzie, M. P., were the speakers, and addressing a capacity audience gave their views of Liberalism and national affairs. Dr. J. S. Black, ex-M. P., who presided at the meeting, declared that the seat had been taken from the Liberal candidate, L. H. Martell, undoubtedly was time election act in an unduly short time. Mr. Martell had been elected by the civic vote in 1917 but by unfair manipulation of the overseas vote he was declared defeated. Mr. King declared that people had been deprived of their representation through the war time election act. He said that Premier Meighen's speeches of late showed clearly that he and his followers were getting back more each day to the old time Tory tactics. The presence of "log-rolling groups" added Mr. King, was brought out by the hurrying for senatorships and judgeships by the supporters of Premier Meighen. Dr. Beland compared the conditions of the country in 1896 with now, saying that the same stagnation and poverty was existing now as then. He also dealt at some length with the tariff. On Saturday afternoon Mr. King will address a meeting at Bridgewater.

MORNING NEWS
OVER THE WIRES

The W. C. T. U. convention now underway in Fredericton heard an address last evening by Rev. W. D. Wilson, provincial organizer of the New Brunswick Temperance Alliance. The speaker made an appeal for as large a vote on October 10 as possible against the importation of liquor into the province for personal use. By a vote of 869 to 826 Moncton yesterday decided not to take over the electric light plant and street railways from the Moncton Tramways, Electricity and Gas Company. The plea of insanity set up by counsel for Newman Clark, charged with the murder of Phoebe Bell, was held by the jury yesterday at Andover. The jury was out one hour and a half and returned with their verdict. The judge ordered the prisoner to be taken to jail there to await the pleasure of the lieutenant-governor. Dr. J. V. Anglin, of St. John, could not swear positively that Clark was insane.

IS WELL OPENED

The Carleton Curling Club opened a ten-day fair in its rink on the West Side last night at 8 o'clock. A fairly large crowd was in attendance. The booths on both sides of the long building were well patronized and the building was gayly decorated with flags and bunting. First on the right hand side was the refreshment booth, where Miss L. Adams was the convener and where coffee, cake and ice cream were dispensed. A grocery store booth was in charge of Roy Sealey. This booth proved a great success and the whole line of stock was sold out completely. At the next booth there was the new game of Jiggs and Maggie, which was highly popular with the gentlemen and which was handled by Harry Lingley, Percy Brown and Samuel Irons. The grocery wheel next to it was in charge of J. Frith Brittain. Another fortune wheel with blankets and five-pound boxes of chocolates as prizes was run by Charles Emerson. A bowling alley was in charge of Fred Dejardins. The shooting gallery was in charge of Harry Sheffield and J. Medley Belyea looked after the air gun gallery. Drinks were dispensed by Joe Nichols and C. W. Wetmore was in the Devil Among the Tailors' booth. The candy booth was in charge of the Misses McLeod. A $10 door prize was won by W. Smith and a $5 prize by George Olive. The prize winner at the air gun gallery was Bert Fullerton. A nine-pin prize was won by Roy Campbell. Harry A. Belyea is the general convener for the fair and is assisted by P. F. Brown and Sutton Roxborough. The games committee is composed of Harry Lingley, Samuel Irons and J. Frith Brittain. This evening the door prizes will be $10 for the first, $10 for the second and $5 for the third. Arrangements for being made to have St. Mary's Band in attendance tonight.

BUSINESS BRISK AT THE BAND FAIR

Everything was "going great" at the City Cornet Band's big fair in St. Andrews rink last night and the attendance figures jumped up 200 and more above the high mark made on the opening night. The band itself was in fine form and played some excellent selections. All the booths and wheels had good patronage but the most popular booth was undoubtedly the "bootery" where it was possible to put down a dime and become the possessor of whatever pair of boots or shoes most pleased the fancy out of an amazingly large array. Some of the presiding geniuses at the stalls flashed out bright sallies of wit that kept the crowd in high good humor and there was no doubt about the good humor of those who had secured one of the excellent prizes. The tickets for the around the world tour with the ninety-four cash prizes from $500, $250 downwards, had a record. News before had they gone so quickly was the opinion of the organizers of the fair. James Connolly, the chief convener, was busy directing the ticket sale and W. A. Bridgeau in the store room had enough to keep him working all evening in replenishing the stalls as the prizes were won.

BARNESVILLE MEETING.

The Upham and Simonds Bible Society met at Barnesville last night in the Presbyterian church, and so large was the attendance that the church was completely filled. About 200 were present. Thomas Keyes, the president, was in the chair, and the report of the society's work for the year, which was very successful and that the Upham and Simonds society stood second in the whole province in the proportion of the amount raised. Mr. Keyes feeling referred to the many faithful members who had died during the year. Addresses were given by Rev. P. S. Porter, secretary of the New Brunswick Bible Society, and Rev. H. E. Thomas.

A novelty shower was given last evening at the residence of Mrs. E. S. Townsend, 145 Queen street, in honor of Miss Anna Goodspeed, who is to be married shortly. Miss Goodspeed received a number of gifts which were displayed on a most quaintly arranged table, in the centre of which stood a miniature bride holding streamers of ribbons.

JUDGE RULES PICKET MENACE

New York, Sept. 29.—Pickets were held to be "unnecessary appendages to any law-abiding association" when Selah B. Strong of Brooklyn granted a temporary injunction to the A. L. Reed Company, leather goods manufacturers, of Richmond Hill, restraining the leather goods workers' union from interfering with the plaintiffs' business. In his decision Judge Strong said: "It is not the labor organization in the shops which is objected to, but the paid agent, the walking delegate, and the picket of labor, who so often becomes a menace to society and a danger to liberty. It is because that great American principle of the greatest good for the greatest number is violated by the labor delegates and agents that the acts of these men and women must be so often restrained. No contract of any kind can permit the defendants or anyone to interfere with law and order. "Neither capital nor labor must be permitted to stifle competition. Neither must be allowed to operate as a trust. These defendants are under the employ of a labor organization. What are they employed to do? Who pays their wages and salaries and how do they earn them? They describe themselves as 'pickets' and 'labor agents.' What do pickets and labor agents do? For what good purpose? Defendants come into court after having created trouble and disorder in and around the plant of the plaintiff, and they claim the right to direct the management of the plaintiff's plant as to the work and hours of employment, and also to the control of those employed, demanding among other things that all employees shall be members of their labor union as a condition of employment. As a matter of fact, were and are the defendants, self-described as pickets and labor agents, not paid their salaries by some labor union for the sole purpose of creating trouble? "Today (since the war) we find that in Germany, where delegates of labor organizations have little hold, that the country is progressing industriously with renewed vigor; the people are working and getting ahead; the factories are doing overtime in night work. In England, on the other hand, where delegates of labor organizations have a greater hold, we find the long line of unemployed, with strikes in factories and confusion in all industries—capital and labor suffering alike because of the action of labor delegates. "During the war did not the labor delegates in this country hold the gov-

Did they not intimidate legislators and executive officers with their threats and sold at the courts and the judge who in the administration of justice did his duty in maintaining law and order? "The defendants allege in their answer that they are peacefully picketing. Why picket at all? Picketing and the posting of sentinels are done as war measures. Our laws and institutions will not permit of the waging of private war in such a manner."
FURTHER PLANS FOR ORPHANS' FAIR
Committees from the various ladies' organizations which will take part in a fair in October for the Protestant orphanages of the city, met in the Orange Hall, Germain street, yesterday afternoon and made definite plans. TESTIFIES WIFE THREW DINNER SET AT HIM Teacher, in Separation Suit, Says He Was Kept Busy Dodging Missiles. White Plains, N. Y., Sept. 30.—In the trial of the separation suit brought by Mrs. Elizabeth J. McLuckie against her husband, John McLuckie, a New York school teacher, on the charge of cruelty and abandonment, McLuckie, appearing before Supreme Court Justice J. Addison Young, told how he had to dodge home-hardiments of chinaware aimed by his wife.

"I think it was on March 27 last," said McLuckie, "that my wife threw an entire set of chinaware that was on the dining room table at my head. It kept me busy dodging the plates and cups and other pieces of crockery."

On another occasion he said his wife asked him for some money and when he gave her $2, all he had in his pocket, she started to hurl all the decorations on her bureau at him. He said they had many quarrels. "She started so quickly I can't tell you, judge, what happened, everything moved so fast. After all the testimony was in, Justice Young said that he believed the best thing to do was to withhold his decision for six months and that the defendant pay his wife $20 weekly in the meantime to see if they could reach some agreement. McLuckie admitted he had placed a bureau against his bedroom door to prevent his wife from entering. "Were you in fear of her?" he was asked. "Not when I was awake. She has a kind of brain storm and flies off the handle when I am not watching," he replied. Mr. and Mrs. McLuckie were married Dec. 30, 1910, and have no children. They formerly lived at 2,804 Bainbridge avenue, the Bronx.

WOOL PRICES HIGHER.

Ottawa, Sept. 30.—A tendency on the part of sellers to advance prices on wool is reported by the Department of Agriculture in a bulletin covering the wool market for the week ended September 27. This has come as a result of general buying activity in several countries and the United States. Buyers, however, although apparently willing to deal on the old level of values, have been slow to meet the new prices asked, and sales have been slow at the higher quotations. The evident shortage of this year's cotton crop, continues the bulletin, and the already appreciable advance in prices for British tops and yarns is creating a stronger undertone to wool prices, and it would appear only a matter of time until buyers will have to meet the prices demanded by sellers.

KNITTED WEAR MILLS HUM.

Flow of Orders Puts Philadelphia Plants on Double Shifts.

Philadelphia, Sept. 30.—Textile industries in Kensington and affiliated trades throughout the city are beginning to hum with activity as a result of increased business, giving employment to thousands of persons and making necessary double shifts in several plants. A survey of conditions, particularly in the sweater and hosiery trades, indicates these are fast recovering and are beginning to enjoy prosperous days. Virtually every one of the scores of knitted outerwear mills in the city is busy, many of them night and day, working on orders that are pouring in. The demand for women's sweaters has caught manufacturers four months behind in production, and every effort is being made to catch up. Despite a strike since the first of the year, hosiery mills report improved business conditions and increased production compared with early this year. Most of them are working on an open shop basis. The unusual and growing demand for full fashioned silk hosiery has led several of the mills to maintain double shifts. All signs point to great activity in the forty or more knitted wear mills in this city, at least until Christmas, according to Frederick Mayer, president of the Philadelphia Knitted Underwear Manufacturers' Association. He said the present activity is greater than it has been in the last ten years.

Testify That Paris Was in Truro During Early Part of August

Prisoner on Stand Accounts for His Whereabouts—His Statement Corroborated by Several Witnesses.

Evidence that John Paris, charged with the murder of Sadie McAuley was in Truro from July 24 to August 4, was brought in by the defence in the trial before Judge J. H. Barry in the circuit court yesterday. The prisoner went on the stand and told of his doings between those dates.

Address for Defence.

This closed the case for the crown and J. H. Vernon, counsel for the defence, then addressed the jury, outlining what he said he would lay before them to prove the accused's innocence.

He opened by saying he would waste little time but would tell briefly as he could the grounds on which he could establish an alibi. He said he could prove that this crime was not committed by John Paris. He would not take time to show up the defects of the crown's case but he would show that the accused left St. John for a short visit to Truro on July 23, caught No. 10 express, arriving in Truro on the morning of July 24 at about half-past six o'clock.

But the matter most material to the defence, he said, was not that Paris was in Truro the first few days of August, but that he was there on August 2, the day on which this crime was committed. On Monday night between 10 and 11 o'clock, he said, he was down on the beach with several of the inhabitants playing cards. This date was fixed in his mind as on that night there was a regular meeting of the Manchester Union of Oddfellows. He would show by other facts and circumstances that he was there on August 2.

Paris, he said, was taken to Truro because he was charged with the theft of some gasoline. He was found not guilty and the evidence at his trial was that on August 2 he said Chief of Police Fraser of Truro, along with an official of the Brookfield Creamery Company, went to the Island looking for a can that had been stolen.

The chief had first gone to the magistrate and had a warrant sworn out on August 2. He said they saw Paris and conversed with him, and that evening Paris went to the store of Wesley Jordan and bought two cans of sardines on credit and the entry was made in a book. That book would be produced. They did not rely on faulty human memory, said counsel, the evidence was backed up by book entries. Paris, he said, left Truro for here on the night of the third, was not in St. John on the 1st, 2nd and 3rd of August. The speaker was confident that the jury will arrive at but one conclusion, and that was that the accused was innocent, beyond shadow of doubt. He then called Paris on the stand.

Paris Tells Boat Story.

"I turned back," he said, "and as I got out of the boat I saw Walter Humphrey coming down the hill. I asked him if he would row me across. He said, 'Yes.' He came down and got in. I says, 'better look around and see if Billie Sweet is not around, because if he catches you with the punt there he'll lock you up.' We looked around and didn't see Sweet, so took a chance, and Humphrey rowed me over. On my way over, shortly after the punt was sent to me, 'Are you going to do that job for $125?' I says, 'What job?' He says, 'You fairly promised me to take a bottle or more and put Cook (Walter) on the roof and we'd get the insurance and you'd be sure of $125.'

Paris here digressed from the thread of his story and said that one day the two had come up to Cook's house to look at the insurance policy. He said Humphrey had sent Cook's little girl inside and didn't see Sweet, so took a chance, and Humphrey rowed me over. On my way over, shortly after the punt was sent to me, 'Are you going to do that job for $125?' I says, 'What job?' He says, 'You fairly promised me to take a bottle or more and put Cook (Walter) on the roof and we'd get the insurance and you'd be sure of $125.'

"I was brought up in Truro," he said, "although I have lived in St. John for quite a while. I went home in the latter part of July, leaving here between ten and eleven o'clock on a Saturday night, arriving in Truro on the morning of July 24." He said he stayed on the Island while there. He recalled a game on the night of August 1 and a supper in the Oddfellows Hall. He played cards with Stewart Fraser, Gordon Johnson and two others. He stayed with his own people. He remembered August 2.

"I got up and went up to town, meeting the Byard boy, who was collecting for a horse and wagon. I got in with him and we came down to the square, where a lot of children were having a party. I think, called, 'Chataqua.' In the afternoon I was in town again with the Byard boy and took a can of gasoline to a man in a place called Nichols garage. I was paid $2 for the gas." Paris said he saw the man make the entry in the book. That night he said he went to the Island and went to Leslie Jordan's store where he bought two cans of sardines on credit. He said he saw Jordan make the entry in his book. He went to the Byard boy and opened the cans. That was between nine and ten o'clock. Later, he went across the road and made a bonfire for a crowd of children to keep the mosquitoes away and "we had a grand time." He said he saw Chief of Police Fraser and a creamery company official. Fraser said he was looking for a stolen can.

"You ain't got that can of cream, have you, Jack," said the chief. "No, sir, I wish I did," I says. Asked regarding his actions on the following day, Paris thought awhile, drumming the desk with his fingers. On the third, he said, he was picking mushrooms, and took them to Moxen's drug store in Ingalls street. Mr. Moxen was not there and he took them to Mrs. Moxen who took them to her store. Mr. Moxen was not there and Paris said he was strolled around. He said he was on the bicycle and drove around a while, went to the park to see Chataqua and then back to the station, saw the harvest train, the Borden boy.

"I'm going west," Paris said, "but it connects at St. John." He said he decided to come here. He said he returned the wheel and saw Moxen's where he was paid for the mushrooms. At the station he said he met Archie Paris, Archie's wife and mother, Maxwell also. Archie was a porter on the Valley R.R.

The prisoner said he remembered seeing many people in Truro. There was only standing room on the train. He saw Stanley Gay, D. Gay, Johnny Cook, Maxwell, Roy Cummings, Roy Halfpenny. They were going west. The train left between ten and eleven o'clock arriving in St. John between six and eight the next morning. He lay in the seat with Archie Paris and Maxwell. There was a lady in the seat by the gate. At the station here, he said, he met a Frenchman who used to work for John Glyn, Coachman. The Frenchman asked him to go on the harvest train, but as he had no money, he could not go. They agreed to go to work at once and leave for the west on the next day. He fell in with the Gay boys and Cook, who wanted to go to Paris' home on the West Side. He said he directed them to it and took Halfpenny and the other boys where Halfpenny got the train and left him. Went down to the Strait Shore road to near old Maxwell's shanty and whistled across to the other side. He could not remember whether it was Cook or Willie Sweet who rowed him across. On the way to his house, he said he noticed the remains of the fish store. He had a wash and something to eat. He told his housekeeper about the boys he had told to come over. They had not arrived and he decided to go to the wharf and get in Sweet's punt and started to row across but the tide was too strong for him.

Paris on the stand. As counsel finished the tension relaxed and the crowd settled back in their seats. Interest quickened as Paris made his way to the front and was sworn. He faced his lawyer, with his head inclined slightly to one side, waiting for the first question. The smile had disappeared.

"I turned back," he said, "and as I got out of the boat I saw Walter Humphrey coming down the hill. I asked him if he would row me across. He said, 'Yes.' He came down and got in. I says, 'better look around and see if Billie Sweet is not around, because if he catches you with the punt there he'll lock you up.' We looked around and didn't see Sweet, so took a chance, and Humphrey rowed me over. On my way over, shortly after the punt was sent to me, 'Are you going to do that job for $125?' I says, 'What job?' He says, 'You fairly promised me to take a bottle or more and put Cook (Walter) on the roof and we'd get the insurance and you'd be sure of $125.'

Paris here digressed from the thread of his story and said that one day the two had come up to Cook's house to look at the insurance policy. He said Humphrey had sent Cook's little girl inside and didn't see Sweet, so took a chance, and Humphrey rowed me over. On my way over, shortly after the punt was sent to me, 'Are you going to do that job for $125?' I says, 'What job?' He says, 'You fairly promised me to take a bottle or more and put Cook (Walter) on the roof and we'd get the insurance and you'd be sure of $125.'

she saw you in Riverview Park?" Mr. Vernon asked. "She was seeing things," was Paris' reply.

He denied being in the park on Tuesday afternoon with Hattie Levine and Sadie McAuley, said he never was in the park at all, did not know where it was, never asked Humphrey to bury any remains. "I wouldn't ask him to bury the remains of a dog," he recounted being brought before Hattie Levine and the time she had said "No." He was taken before the girls three times.

"And they didn't then persuade the girls that you were the man?" asked Mr. Vernon. "Yes," Paris said.

Cross-examination. Cross-examination took up the greater part of an hour but Paris' story was unchanged when the prosecutor sat down. "Why is it this morning," he was asked, "when Mrs. Calvin went to her seat that you made a face at her? I was watching you." Paris paused a long while before answering. "Do you deny it?" asked the crown. "No, your honor, I do not deny it."

"No, your honor, I do not deny it." He did not say he saw John Glyn. It was a Frenchman who had worked for Glyn. Paris said he fixed July 23 in his memory as it was a Sunday. He recalled again the happenings in Truro between July 23 and Aug. 4 as near as he could; said he took an insurance policy out for his grandmother and two others in April in London Life Insurance Company, through Mr. Clark. He was taking them to Truro on the 23rd. He did not know the brand of sardines he could not read. He admitted selling the gasoline. He admitted that his nickname was "the witch." He denied all that Sweet said about taking him over on Aug. 3. He said Sweet was lying. He denied being near his home in West St. John on the night of the third, who he said was at home were not telling the truth.

Evening Session. At the evening session Paris denied making faces at any of the witnesses. Stanley Nichols, proprietor of a garage, said he saw Paris on August 2. He purchased gasoline from Paris and produced a book showing the entry. Corroboration was given by George Murray, John Bayard and his wife, Mrs. James Mentis and Norman Green told of seeing Paris in Truro during the first three days of August.

Mrs. Margaret Manchie, 13 Lancaster street, West, Chesley Ford, Mrs. Druella Hodges and Mrs. John Hodges. Dr. Wallace testified that he had not seen Paris in West St. John on August 1, 2 or 3. Mrs. Hodges, who said she was a nurse, said that Paris went away on July 23 and came back on August 4.

Truro Police Chief. John W. Fraser, chief of police at Truro, said he knew Paris. He told of going to Magistrate L. G. Crow with H. B. McLean, of a Truro diary, to lay an information. He produced a search warrant which was the one that he had seen the magistrate sign. He identified the writing and the signature as his. It was placed in evidence. The warrant was read, which showed it located a can of cream that had been stolen from a truck and gave permission to search the premises of William Byard, the witness, in company with Mr. McLellan, went down to the "island" and searched Byard's house, but did not find the milk. He saw the accused there at that time in the yard. Witness talked with him. Paris had a card can in his hand. The chaquetaqua opened on August 2. There were signs all over the town announcing this.

On cross examination he said he had known Paris for some time. When Detective Biddiscombe was in Truro he had inquired about Paris' movements on August 2. He told of taking Paris to a police officer, that he had seen him on August 2 or 21. He identified a signature on a letter that he had written to the St. John police department on September 1 in reply to a telegram of September 5. The letter was to the effect that the gasoline had been stolen on July 31. He had asked Paris about his movements on August 1 and 2 and Paris had told him that he could not recall those dates. He had also questioned Paris about the matter. Dr. Wallace said that he had written the witness said that he had written the letter and that he had said what was contained in it.

Dr. Wallace asked him if in spite of what he had said in the letter and had told Biddiscombe the matter. Dr. Wallace asked why he had not told Biddiscombe when he was in Truro that he had seen Paris on August 2 and if he would still say, "Mama, Walter said he had seen him on that date. The witness said he would answer any questions and wanted to explain.

At the request of Mr. Vernon the witness testified that he had looked up the documents in his office and had so fixed the date and knew that he saw Paris that day.

When asked by Dr. Wallace why he had not sent word to St. John when he had found out, he replied that the next morning he had left to come to St. John.

Very early yesterday morning Patrolman Lynch found an infant alive in a garbage can in front of 177 Church street and took it to Bellevue Hospital, where it was placed in the foundling ward. A woman who said she was Mrs. Catherine Stillman, went to the hospital last night, said the child was her twenty-four-day-old baby, Dorothy, and departed with it.

ALLEGED MURDERER OF ELEVEN WOMEN

Believes in Fortune Telling by Cards and is Very Cheerful.

Paris, Sept. 30.—Landru, the famous Bluebeard of Gambais, who is accused of the murder of eleven women, will appear before the Versailles assizes on November 7. When the news was announced by a warder, Landru laconically replied: "I knew it already. The cards told me." The Bluebeard is a great believer in fortune telling by means of cards. When sent to prison he immediately asked to be supplied with a deck. When informed that only those condemned to death were allowed to have cards, Landru argued that as, owing to the fullness of the prison, he was occupying number three cell, he ought to have the privilege attached thereto. "Besides," he facetiously added, "I am a candidate for the guillotine anyhow." Despite this excellent argument, Landru himself has made a very good substitute deck with postcards supplied by his counsel. He spends much time reading the future both for himself and the superstitious warders who are keenly interested in his powers. Landru says he thanks the cards for the great distress and the escape capital punishment, but will, however, get several years' penal servitude.

CURRENT POLITICS

An Outside Opinion. Moncton Transcript: Mr. Baxter's chances of winning an election in St. John and Albert are not worth considering. When Hon. Mr. Wigmore entered the Meighen government specious promises were made as to what would be done for the harbor of St. John, and the citizens of that port have no use for a government which does not take a proper interest in the development of their harbor. They also know very well that a Liberal government will be in office after the next elections, and they will take good care that they are in a position to press the claims of their port for consideration upon the powers that be.

A Record Convention. (Halifax Recorder.) The largest political convention ever held in Halifax was that of last night at St. Patrick's Hall. They are now in session. The convention was unanimously elected as one of the standard bearers for Halifax city and county without opposition, chosen over Mr. Henry G. Bauld, M. P., as the other Liberal candidate by a vote of 206 to 146.

The place of meeting was almost too small for the delegates, as there were 353 present out of a possible 369. Every polling district was represented in the development of their convention, and especially so during the addresses made by the movers and seconders of the candidates.

One charge was presented at the convention, and that was the resignation of Mrs. E. J. MacMichael of a day's River, and she, with her husband, sat throughout the convention, which lasted until 1:30 o'clock this morning.

The Real Issue. (Halifax Recorder.) The existence of government of the people by the people and for the people is at stake, and if ever Liberalism had a just and sacred cause to vindicate—it is this province that is at stake. The country from arbitrary rule and restore our institutions which have been mauled, dragged in the gutter and covered with shame before the eyes of the world. Liberals must not for a moment allow themselves to be side-tracked by any of the name of the free trade and protectionist and Bolshevism. It is not a struggle of creed and race; it is a battle for honest and economy in the ruling of the nation; a battle of the masses against the wealthy and selfish interests; a battle for lower cost of living; a battle for the betterment, yes, the very salvation of the nation against a hostile creed, race against race, province against province, and class against class.

No Enthusiasm. Fredericton Mail.—The local Tory vote does not appear able to find any cause for enthusiasm in the retirement of Hon. R. W. Wigmore, and the appointment of Hon. J. B. M. Baxter as his successor.

Sympathy for Meighen. Moncton Transcript.—Possibly Premier Meighen is not entitled to some sympathy. He has not been wholly his fault that the Conservative party has fallen to such a state that his choice of a lieutenant in this province is limited to the writer of a famous letter and an actor in the tragedy of "errors" known as the "patriotic potato" transaction.

B. Frank's Strategy. Fredericton Mail.—Our old friend, B. Frank Smith, ex-M. P., has been heard from again. He turned up at a convention of the United Farmers of Carleton-Victoria at Andover on Monday and made a speech in defence of the Meighen Government. A party sympathizer had previously proposed his name as a candidate and Mr. Smith appeared at the psychological moment and declined the honor. He gave as a reason for having the name withdrawn, that he had no sympathy with the objects of the Farmers party. It looks like a clever ruse to get the name of the ex-minister of Public Works, who is out for the government nomination in Carleton-Victoria.

Tanlac Accomplishes Remarkable Results in Geo. H. Nickels Case

Prominent Wisconsin Man Says Tanlac Promptly Relieved Him of Bad Case of Stomach Trouble of Six Months' Standing—Gains 27 Pounds and Feels Fine as a Fiddle.

GEORGE H. NICKELS.

It is an unquestionable fact that Tanlac is now being more widely endorsed by well-known men and women than any other medicine on the American market. One of the latest to testify is George H. Nickels, well known lecturer, residing at 227 Wells St., Milwaukee, Wisconsin.

"Tanlac has not only completely restored my health, but I have actually gained 27 pounds in weight," said Mr. Nickels in referring to the remarkable benefits he had derived from the medicine.

"For something over six months my stomach was very badly disordered. I suffered terribly from indigestion and dyspepsia. At times I would be in great distress and I would invariably experience an uncomfortable bloated feeling for hours after eating. I had no appetite and the little I ate would often make me deathly sick. My head ached until I felt like it would burst and I was so nervous I trembled like a leaf. When I got up in the mornings, I was so weak and dizzy, I couldn't trust myself to walk around and I just hurt all over.

"Tanlac has brought about a wonderful change in my condition for I am now enjoying the very best of health. My appetite is splendid. I relish my meals. Everything agrees with me perfectly. The nervousness, headaches and dizzy spells are all gone and I never have an ache or pain. I am only too glad to tell others about the wonderful good Tanlac has done. It has no equal." Tanlac is sold in St. John by F. W. Munro and leading druggists everywhere. (Advt.)

SAYS HER OVER KILLED HER BABY

Mrs. Beisel, on Trial for Murder at Guelph, Tells Story—Asserts Innocence

Guelph, Ont., Sept. 30.—Fight her life, Mrs. Nellie Beisel of the ship of Marborough spent two in the witness box and told to a jury the story that Colonel Lauran, a neighboring sweetheart of had betrayed her, sent her to Toronto and when she came back to him wit baby, forced it from her and placed in an old unused well on the rear of Laughran farm, in a milk can. She said she did not know what Lauran was going to do with it when he it away from her.

Laughran, who is serving a two-term at Kingston penitentiary on a charge of concealment of birth, the jury finding him not guilty of murder last spring, was the chief witness against the woman. He told practically the same story that he told at his own trial, with the important exception that he would not say positively whether the child was alive or dead when he took it from its mother and put it in the well.

Rheumatism

A Remarkable Home Treatment Given by One Who Had It. In the year of 1893 I was attacked by Muscular and Sub-Acute Rheumatism. I suffered as only those who are thus afflicted can know, for over three years. I tried relief after remedy, but such relief as I obtained was only temporary. Finally I found a treatment that cured me completely and such a pitiful condition has never returned. I have given it to a number who were terribly afflicted, even bedridden, and if I then seventy to eighty years old, and the results were the same as in my own case.

"I had sharp Pains Like Lightning Flashes Shooting Through My Joints." I want every sufferer from any form of muscular and sub-acute rheumatism to try the great value of my proved "Home Treatment" of remarkable healing power. Don't send a cent simply mail your name and address, and I will send it, and it has proven itself to be that long looked for means of getting rid of such forms of rheumatism. You may send the price of it, One Dollar, but understand I do not want your money unless you are perfectly satisfied to send it. Isn't that fair? Why suffer any longer, when relief is thus offered you free. Don't delay. Write today.

Rev. H. A. Goodwin, social service secretary of the Methodist denomination, was the chief speaker at an enthusiastic meeting in the interests of the referendum campaign held last night in the St. John Falls Methodist church. Harry Shillington was in the chair. It was decided that organization should be effected for canvassing the community, and an organization meeting followed the general meeting. Mr. Shillington was appointed chairman of a strong committee chosen to undertake the canvass and to look after the arrangements for getting the voters to the polls on October 10.

Colonel Joseph Pugnare of Toronto has succeeded to the post of A. D. C. to General Branwell Booth, a position left vacant by the retirement of Commissioner John Lawley, who for twenty years was A. D. C. to the late General Booth. This appointment will create much interest all over Canada. He was field secretary and social secretary here for sixteen years. Since 1913 he has been chief secretary of the International Training Garrison, London, from which position he is now appointed.

J. Shreve Danham, international superintendent of Home Visitation, Greensboro, Conn., addressed the Canadian Club last evening, taking as his subject, "St. John a Greater and Better City." He said the city must grow better to grow greater. The youth of the city should be reached, taught and saved more cheaply than those who might otherwise become criminals could be prosecuted. The speaker told of the plans regarding the campaign to be put on here on October 7, during which an invitation will be extended to all citizens to visit the church of their choice.

 ELECTRIC VACUUM CLEANER
 BIG BRUSH—POWERFUL SUCTION
 How you can save the money for a vacuum cleaner
 If in addition to your regular housework, you have a "cleaning woman" come in once a week to help you, a Torrington Electric Vacuum Cleaner would actually pay for itself by saving this added expense.
 The Torrington, with its carpet-sweeper brush and powerful suction, will cut in half your need for outside help, and the money you would pay a maid for these one or two days each month would easily take care of the payments on a Torrington.
 Let us demonstrate to you that a Torrington Cleaner means cleaner cleaning and less fatigue.

ALL UNITE FOR VISITATION
 One of Biggest Things St. John Has Known.
 Every Home to be Called Upon Friday Afternoon—Protestants, Catholics and Jews Co-operate for Great Effort.

The organization for the St. John home visitation is complete. Protestants, Catholics and Jews are co-operating in this great general betterment movement, and the educational, social, commercial, industrial and civic organizations have united with the religious bodies to further this work, as has been true in all the cities of Canada, the United States and England, where the work has been done. L. W. Simms, president of the T. S. Simms Company, Ltd., is general chairman, Dr. W. P. Broderick and Max Marcus are the vice-chairmen. A meeting of the entire committee is being held this afternoon in the home visitation headquarters in the St. John Board of Trade rooms. The plan has the hearty support of all faiths. Protestant pastors of all denominations have given the work their hearty co-operation. When the plan was presented to local Catholic pastors and the Knights of Columbus, they were much interested in it, and got in touch with Rt. Rev. Bishop LeBlanc by telegram, as he is out of the city in his work, and from Toronto he wired his hearty approval. The Jewish leaders have given the work their endorsement also, and the co-operation of all faiths is complete.

The purpose of the movement is to visit every home, give printed invitations to all the people, inviting them to attend the Sunday school, church or synagogue of their choice, and to secure records of the church connection or preference of every individual, which will be given to the pastor, priest, rabbi or organization preferred. It is promoted by the St. John County and Maritime Religious Education Council and International Sunday School Association, under the auspices of the Protestant, Catholic and Jewish Sunday schools, churches and synagogues, ministers, Evangelical Alliance, Catholic clergy, Jewish rabbis, Young Men's Christian Association, Knights of Columbus, Young Men's Hebrew Association, Young Women's Christian Association, Catholic Women's Societies, Jewish Women's Societies, Young People's Societies, Salvation Army, Missions, the Rotary Club, educational, social, commercial, industrial, civic organization, etc., etc.

The visitation day is Friday afternoon, October 7, 1921. Hours, two to four o'clock. Headquarters home visitation, St. John Board of Trade, second floor, 162 Prince William street. Telephone Main 875.
