THE CASE OF BRITAIN AND GERMANY

The St. John Standard wants to know what the British Empire would say if the Emperor of Germany made remarks derogatory to the Empire.

But here is a question for the St. John Standard: What would an Englishman say if he were told that because he traded on profitable terms with Germany he was therefore disloyal to the Empire?

ALBERT COUNTY RAILWAY MATTER

It was in Ottawa when the reciprocity proposal was made by the United States, and in view of the fact that Canada had been asking for an agreement of this kind with the United States, the foremost thought in the minds of the majority of members on both sides of the house was, it is too good to be true.

TWENTY-THREE KILLED BY FALLING OF CHURCH

Poan, Prussia, Aug. 25.—A newspaper here prints a report that twenty-three persons were crushed to death and fifty-nine injured by the falling of a church at Viniar, near Wroclaw during a service.

MANY OFF TONIGHT TO TORONTO AND THE WEST

With the departure of excursion parties on the C. P. R. and I. C. R. for Toronto and the arrival and departure of harvest excursion trains, the Union Station will be a busy place this evening.

WHAT SIR WILFRID REALLY SAID

Conservatives are still trying to convince the people that Sir Wilfrid Laurier was opposed to reciprocity in 1907. They quote a portion of one paragraph of a speech he delivered in that year, but omit the rest. Here is the whole paragraph: "Between the preferential tariff and the general tariff we have now an intermediate tariff. The object of this intermediate tariff is to enter into negotiations with other communities to have trade arrangements with them. It has been supposed that this was to hit our American neighbors. WITH OUR AMERICAN NEIGHBORS WE SHOULD BE ONLY TOO GLAD TO TRADE ON A BETTER FOOTING THAN AT THE PRESENT TIME. We are next door neighbors, and in many things we can be their best market, as in many things they can be our best market. We should be glad to trade with them; but it never was intended, nor thought at the time, that this intermediate tariff could apply to the United States. There was at one time wanted reciprocity with them, but our efforts and our offers were negatived and put aside, and we have said good-bye to that trade, and we have put all our hopes upon the British trade now."

Only Two Lawyers Have Been Premier of Great Britain—France and Sweden—A Claim to a Scotch Baronetcy

(Copyright, 1911, by the Brentwood Company.)

As a rule the bar exercises a restraining and conservative influence upon the political opinions of its members. This is especially the case with those who have acquired a large and remunerative practice. It is therefore a subject of interest that Herbert Asquith, who enjoys the distinction of being the first king's counsel and lawyer with a big local practice to attain the position of premier, should pass down to history as the responsible authority of what is probably the most revolutionary change in the British constitution since the revolution of 1689, when James II. was removed from the throne, to make way for his son-in-law, William III, of Orange, and for Queen Mary, namely the deprivation of the House of Lords of those parliamentary prerogatives which they had enjoyed, with the brief interval of Oliver Cromwell's republic, for centuries. In the United States the lawyer has always played a leading role in political and official life, and, with the exception of George Washington and President Grant, every president has been a member of the bar. But in England the only lawyers who in all its long history have ever held the office of prime minister, have been Herbert Asquith and Spencer Perceval. Moreover, in the case of the latter, while he had been called to the bar he had never enjoyed any legal practice. It may be remembered that he was assassinated in the lobby of the old House of Commons by Bellingham, in 1812.

When one reflects that the House of Lords has been so largely recruited in the past from famous judges, and from successful members of the legal profession—probably a third if not more of the peers have their origin on the bench—the fact that Herbert Asquith, who in character and manners is one of the most conventional of men, should have been forced into the leadership of the most disastrous attack ever made upon the House of Lords, seems, to say the least, an irony of fate.

The exceptions to the rule have been Marshal MacMahon, who was a soldier, and President Faure, who was a leather merchant. President Fallieres practiced law at Narbonne before going to Paris, and his predecessor, Emile Loubet, was also a lawyer in his native town of Moulins before embarking upon a political career. Nearly all the premiers of France, too, have been lawyers. A notable exception was Georges Clemenceau, who is a physician and who has been able to boast of an excellent practice as such.

France and Sweden

While most students of European history are aware that King Charles XIV. of Sweden was born a Frenchman, as a son of a soldier in a small way at Pau, whose father in turn was a peasant of the district, few people are aware that his son and successor on the throne of Sweden, Oscar I., was likewise born a French citizen, and remained as such.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

There is a girl in our town who stands today with one foot in the grave because of overwork.

She had a widowed mother and younger sister to support, and she had to do it. At least I am not to blame for the condition I am in. I had to do it. And I've done all I could. No one could have possibly done any more.

Much as I honor the girl, deeply as I grieve for her, I differ from her about that.

She could have done more. Others have done more.

Now, please, before you get indignant at my hard-heartedness, listen to what I have to tell you about another girl.

This second girl has been helping to support a large family of younger brothers and sisters ever since her father lost his position several years ago. She, also, is a stenographer, and according to pretty reliable accounts, works as hard as the first girl, if not harder.

And she is not broken down, nor anywhere near it.

Why?

Well, the first girl thought she gave everything to her people.

The second girl really gave everything.

The second girl gave all her strength, and in addition gave her care and self-restraint that kept the source of that strength still good.

The first girl tried to come home from her work tired out and eat her dinner without resting. Sometimes after dinner she would sit down and embroider or read until late at night. Other times she would go to a dance or the theatre. She almost never took any healthy exercise, and seldom got enough sleep. In the morning she would get up with barely time to get to work, boil her breakfast and run for the train. She often went without lunches to save money for some luxury.

The second girl usually walked to and from work for the sake of the exercise. After dinner she usually went for a walk. She tried to be in bed every night except Saturday at half-past ten. If she went to a dance or to the theatre, it always had to be on Saturday night. In the morning she got up at half-past six, which gave her time for a set of exercises, a cold sponge and a good breakfast. Sundays, she often went out into the country, and almost always, winter and summer, spent a good part of the day out of doors.

Of course, I honor the first girl, but I honor the second even more.

There are men and women everywhere who think they are showing the highest possible devotion to their families if they work themselves to death for them. But they are not.

There is a still higher devotion, and that is to so live, so save and husband and care for one's self as to be able to keep on living for them.

Don't you think so?

SOME OF THE MARKED ADVANTAGES OF THE TELEPHONE

business has over other methods of making "money".
It shows the general prosperity and keeps an advantage in the average increase in value, and yet it suffers less than others when hard times come.
It supplies a necessity of life. Its income is stable and non-fluctuating, and the number of its telephone calls increases largely and steadily.
It does not have to move its exchange because of a change in the business center of a city.
It is easy for it to extend its cables to supply increased demand.
A large proportion of its property may be economically shifted to meet varying public needs, and new lines begin to earn money before the bills for labor and material are due.
It does not make things to sell and therefore carries no large stock of goods, nor does it need to hold idle vast quantities of raw material.
An inspection of the business of the New Brunswick Telephone Co. will verify the foregoing statements.
We can furnish you with this information. Why not send for it?

HON. MR. PUGSLEY BRINGS NEWS OF GENERAL GAINS

Hon. Dr. Pugsley returned last night from Ottawa bringing most encouraging reports of the prospects for the Liberal party in the approaching election. Coming to Ottawa from east and west he said there were assurances of victory and it looked like the Liberal majority. He addressed a meeting of Liberal workers in Keith's Assembly room last night. While in the city, Dr. Pugsley was asked concerning the report published in the Standard that Mr. Pottinger had told Mr. Stenwood that he had not been authorized to turn over I. C. R. rails to the Harvey & Salisbury railway and that no rails were available. "This is incorrect on the face of it," said the minister. "Why should Mr. Pottinger, a business man, object to handing over rails because he was not authorized, if he had none on hand. As a matter of fact, however, as proved by the telegram from the minister of railways to his deputy minister, which I read at the meeting at Hillsboro on Thursday evening last, the board of management are authorized to turn over not only the rails now in the possession of the government, but the bridge girders, as well, on the acceptance of the offer of government to take over the road. This telegram ran as follows: 'Ottawa, Aug. 17, 1911. Hon. William Pugsley, Hillsboro, via St. John (N. B.). 'Have sent following telegram to A. W. Campbell, chairman at Moncton: That the offer of the railway ought to agree to the proposition of the government to take over the road if the owners of the road agree to lease or purchase which they have not yet done. Agree to make arrangements to let Salisbury & Alton railway have to be taken over from Montreal to be charged at market price, this price to be accounted for either in the lease or purchase of the road, if the owners of the road agree to accept either proposition of the government to take over the road. I have to arrange matters, while there.'

A. M. E. CONFERENCE

Another session of the conference of the A. M. E. conference was held in St. Philip's church this morning. All the visiting churches were in attendance. During the morning Rev. W. G. Gutz and Rev. W. W. Brewster were in attendance. We are waiting to hear from Mr. Swan, the owner of the road. The government has offered to take over the road if the owners of the road agree to lease or purchase which they have not yet done. Agree to make arrangements to let Salisbury & Alton railway have to be taken over from Montreal to be charged at market price, this price to be accounted for either in the lease or purchase of the road, if the owners of the road agree to accept either proposition of the government to take over the road. This telegram ran as follows: 'Ottawa, Aug. 17, 1911. Hon. William Pugsley, Hillsboro, via St. John (N. B.). 'Have sent following telegram to A. W. Campbell, chairman at Moncton: That the offer of the railway ought to agree to the proposition of the government to take over the road if the owners of the road agree to lease or purchase which they have not yet done. minutes and executive bodies of the Liberal party in this city and vicinity. The candidates, Hon. Wm. Pugsley, Minister of Public Works, and James Lowell, will be seated with the premier and his colleagues in the first automobiles in line. They will be supported by a guard of 200 torchbearers. It is expected there will be nearly 2,000 men in line and close upon 100 conveyances.

The route of procession will be up King street to Charlotte, down Charlotte to Union, down Union to Brunelle, down Brunelle to Haymarket Square and thence up City Road to the rink. Sir Wilfrid will review the procession from a specially erected stand in front of this building. It is expected—if the weather is favourable—that he will address the assured overflowed meeting from this stand after the indoor speaking is over.

Accommodations have been made in the Victoria Rink for the seating of more than 5,000 people, and it is thought fully 2,000 more can be placed inside. The Young Men's Club have furnished a corps of 100 warriors, and police will attend to the doorway arrangements. It is especially requested by those in charge that those holding cards inviting them to the platform present their invitations at the door. The municipal committee will facilitate the placing of the crowd.

THE EVENING TIMES THE DAILY TELEGRAPH

New Brunswick's Independent newspapers. These papers advocate British connection Honesty in public life Measures for the material progress and moral advancement of our great Dominion.

WHAT A TORY PAPER SAID

"The west will welcome a free American market for wheat and oats. Undoubtedly the farmers of Ontario desire the removal of American customs duties on live stock, dairy products, vegetables, eggs and other articles covered by the agreement."

THE LOYALTY FAIRIES

Tory loyalty does not prevent the thrifty Tory from transferring business from a British to an American channel when it pays him to do so. He waves the British flag, but trades with the Yankee. The Simcoe Reformer cites a typical case as follows: "Frank Lalor, Conservative candidate in Haldimand, and David Marshall, ditto in East Elgin, are both canning magistrates. Both occupy high places on the board of directors of the Dominion Canners Limited. Both gentlemen in this campaign pose as exceedingly loyal and greatly concerned as to the future of British connection."

WHAT MR. FOSTER WANTED

It is announced that Hon. Mr. Foster has changed his plans and is not coming to St. John. Fortunately Mr. Foster's views may be presented even if he does not visit us. In an article in the Univers-sult when the electors of Canada gave their verdict. He was fighting for a just cause, a cause that was bound to help his fellow men. The speaker's parting words to the electors of Clifton was to weigh well the subject, and on the 21st to cast their votes, not as Liberals against Conservatives, but for reciprocity. He asked them to judge him on his record and the record of his party. The meeting closed with the singing of the National Anthem.

IN SHANNAGOLDEN

I'm back among the daisies, I'm where the heather blooms, Where every field a maze is Of color and perfume. With treasure sweet and olden The world is filled, it seems, When I'm back in Shannagolden-- In my dreams. When fires at good St. John's eve, On all the hills are seen, In festive flower and fancy weave, I'm dancing on the green, The fire of friendships olden Still warms me with its gleams When I'm back in Shannagolden-- In my dreams. I'm treading through its shadow To a little thatched-roofed home Beside the scented meadow Where grazing cattle roam; The place is quaint and olden, From level ones on the shore, To be back in Shannagolden-- Just in dreams! I hear the "God-be-with-ye's," And for fifty years and more That parting cry still issues From level ones on the shore, Still, as in days of olden, Like incense sweet it streams, When I'm leaving Shannagolden-- In my dreams. --Mary D. Johnston, in Kansas City Journal.

IN LIGHTER VEIN

The Conservatives are much interested in Mr. Sifton. They do not now regard him as a land robber, and a plunderer who got rich by iniquitous land deals. Mr. Ames, who has some skill as a magic lantern artist, had much to say about Mr. Sifton and his land deals a few years ago, but Mr. Sifton is now yoked up with Mr. Ames. The Fredericton Mail says: "A message from Medicine says that Messrs. Crooked and Pinder struck a genuine surprise at Medicine last night. They delivered addresses and afterwards the chairman invited all in favor of reciprocity to stand up. Nearly everybody in the audience immediately arose."

DEFERRED INDULGENCE.

"How do you account for the popularity of some of these best sellers?" asked the average literary lady.

"I think," replied Miss Cayenne "that a lot of us are trying to catch up with the dime novels our parents prevented us from reading when we were young."

WITH FOREIGN LABELS ON IT

"Willie Lowbrow seems to be an exceedingly busy man," said Maude. "Whenever you see him he is going on a journey."

"That's merely an impression," replied Mamie, "due to the fact that he carries his laundry down town in his suit case."

VICTORY FOR THE LIBERALS SURE

Fine Meetings in Counties—Hon. John Morrissey Says Reciprocity Will Win in Northumberland—Observer Gives Tories Three Seats in Maritime Provinces

Dr. Atherton, the popular Liberal candidate in York county, has been addressing meetings in the St. John Valley and has met with a fine reception wherever he has spoken.

Hon. John Morrissey, chief commissioner of public works, in the House government, while in Fredericton yesterday said that he was certain Northumberland was going in favor of reciprocity. It was generally conceded that the trade agreement would benefit the lumber industry there.

Lakeshille corner was the scene of a successful picnic yesterday held by Colonel McLean when he and his friends, Mr. McCall and Dr. J. F. Farrington gave addresses. The speakers were warmly applauded as they told of the merits of reciprocity and how it would benefit Kings county.

That party loyalty is not of such consequence as their bread and butter is the philosophical view taken of reciprocity by Charlotte county Conservatives, many of whom are intending to vote for reciprocity and W. F. Todd, the Liberal candidate. Odds are offered that Todd will be elected by a big majority.

Reciprocity was the subject of discussion yesterday at a largely attended meeting in Sackville at which F. A. Dixon, president, and the speakers were J. L. Ralston, M. P. of Amherst, and Hon. H. R. Emmerson. Sackville parish was well represented, and although for years a Tory stronghold, it is expected to give Mr. Emmerson an overwhelming majority on September 21. The speakers at last night's meeting dealt with the advantages to be gained by the people in Westmorland from reciprocity and were given hearty cheers at the close of the meeting.

Hon. George J. Graham, minister of railways and canals, who arrived in Toronto yesterday spoke most encouragingly of the battle at the polls. As the dayroll by, he said, the chances grow brighter and he had absolutely no doubt that the Liberal government could be returned to power with a greater majority than ever. His own fight in Brockville he said never looked better. So far seventy-one candidates out of the eighty-six Liberals in Ontario have been nominated.

A non-partisan observer traveling in the maritime provinces writes an Ottawa lawyer that he will give the Conservatives one seat in New Brunswick and no more than three in the forty-five in the maritime provinces. He found, he says a regular sweep in favor of the Liberals.

Fredericton Mail—Col. McLean, the Liberal candidate in Queens-Sunbury, has devoted more of his time and means to the militia than any other man in New Brunswick. He sent his son to South Africa to assist in fighting the battle of the empire during the Boer war. Yet Tory spouters like Col. McLean and E. B. Hanson would have us believe that the militia is disloyal because he is trying to secure for the farmers of Sunbury and Queens a larger market for their produce.

SONNET

To Rt. Hon. Sir Wilfrid Laurier.
We flatter thee first, first off this fair land,
In all its breadth, thy name we love to tell.
Love thou thy land!—Could any love more well?
For thou hast given all at her command.
Bare hath the wisdom of thy good right hand
Indexed more truly than it doth today.
Is to thy motto, and to will—the way.
Loyal—again we see thee take the stand.
All thy gray hairs are honors to thy name.
Under thy weight of years thou servest still.
Rich in statecraft, thy thoughtful guiding pen
Indispensable, thy country calls—until,
Ever at work, and still more work to do,
Loyal is work—Canada's son rings true.
EWYN BRUCE MACKINNON.

The best way to build up the Empire is to build up Canada. Larger free markets for Canadian products will bring that result.

Feet Tired—So Tired?
TIZ Make So Tired Well No Matter What Ails Them.

TIZ acts at once and makes tired, aching, swollen feet remarkably fresh and sore proof.

"For years I have been troubled with sore and tender feet; suffered intense pains. Have had the assistance of physicians without relief. I bought a box of TIZ, which worked a perfect cure, as it has with a great many of my friends. I would not be without it. All it requires is to be known to be universally used."—A. F. Dreutz, Chicago.

TIZ is not a powder. Powders and other foot remedies close up the pores. TIZ draws out all poisonous excretions which bring on soreness of the feet, and is the only remedy that does. TIZ cleans out every pore and glorifies the feet—your feet. You'll never limp again or draw up your face in pain, and you'll forget about your corns, bunions and callouses. You'll feel like a new person.

TIZ is made only by Walter Luthers Dodge & Co., Windsor, Ont., and is for sale at all druggists, at 25 cents per box.

What Reciprocity Offers Us

(Montreal Witness.)

Reciprocity offers an immensely enlarged market for the natural products of Canada. It offers the market which proved to be a beneficial one to the farmers of Canada from 1854 to 1866. It offers the market which the great majority of Canadians, Conservative or Liberal, have long believed to be their natural market. It offers an end to hostile tariff legislation, which has frequently worked great injury to the Canadian producer, whatever protectionists may try to say to the contrary. It offers the spirit of good-will between neighbors in the place of ill-will. The responsibility of rejection is the most serious one that faces the voters of Canada. The rapidly increasing wheat production of the west alone is evidence enough that in five or ten years from now the need of larger markets might easily be more pressing than it is even at the present time. Rejection now means the continuance, at least for some time, of the high wall. The question before the farmers—and this is above all the farmers' election and the farmers' opportunity—is whether or not they really believe that a high wall of exclusion against their products is a benefit to them; whether or not they really believe that they should 'let well enough alone,' or should seek for larger markets and produce for them. The responsibility of rejecting reciprocity practically rests with the farmers of the Dominion, and they have now the chance to show that their freedom of commercial intercourse between Canada and the United States which is the true part of moral, social and political wisdom.

Kurling is a member of the Sunday school commission which will meet a day previous to the regular session, and he will leave here on Sept. 1.

Canada's trade with the United States fifteen years ago was $111,022,513. Last year it had increased to over $404,000,000. Are Canadians less loyal because their trade with that country increased almost four-fold in fifteen years?

BOURASSA HAS SHOT HIS BOLT Not Slightest Fear of Outcome of The Elections in Quebec—Borden's Ally Will Be Killed By Ridicule The Quebec correspondent of the Ottawa Free Press writes his paper as follows: The weapon that will kill Henri Bourassa politically in this province is ridicule. That is the only weapon that suits his particular kind of offence against common sense. It is also the weapon that Henri Bourassa—vain and self-glorified, though clever—fears most. They more than a sense of energy in the use of a sledge hammer to swat a fly—the fly, after the blow has been struck, will in all probability make its get away with a "nearly ha ha". Bourassa has been buzzing around this province like a fly, tickling here, tickling there, and leaving behind him a trail of smears on the political mirror. He must be swatted, how? Rodrigue Lemoine, both at St. Hyacinthe and at Three Rivers, made some vigorous swipes at the pest. If anyone of these had landed, Bourassa would surely have been nothing but a grease spot now. But did they land? Or was Bourassa left very much alive and very much pleased at the vigor with which the Lemoine sledge hammer was being wielded? On Wednesday, at the great demonstration at Three Rivers, the youngest minister, Dr. Boland, opened out a little tangled foot of Bourassa. It was covered with a seductive mixture that looked like honey. In a few minutes ten thousand French Canadians were holding their sides with laughter over the funny antics of that Bourassa, as his legs became more and more entangled in the mixture that was ridiculous, but that looked like honey. The Bourassa fly in Jacques Bureau's constituency can be said to have been swatted. On Wednesday, at the great demonstration when the Laurier campaign has progressed, prevent him from following the strategy trail which Bourassa in his conceit has blazed. The Bourassa fly has had a merry life, but it will be a short one. I don't think there need be any fear of the outcome of the election in this province. And must dispose of this matter once again, and I have talked with many of them. He is still reverenced and adored. He is still their great leader, their great hero. They still cheer frantically every mention of his name. Betting men would be well advised to place their money on the "old cock". Bourassa may win an odd seat here and there, but these will be offset by odd seats here and there which the Liberals are confident of retaining. Conservatives who are looking for a landslide in Quebec are doomed to a great disappointment. Bourassa has been having his own way. He has shot his bolt. He has told the French Canadians that reciprocity is of no interest to them; they are now finding out that reciprocity is of great importance to them. He has made a monster of himself out of the Canadian navy; they are now hearing the truth and being impressed with it. BETTER DAYS IN IRELAND Belfast, Aug. 23.—A permanent exhibition of Irish manufactures has been opened in Belfast. Organized by the Irish Industrial Development Association it is building up a fine reputation for itself as the very center of the city. Its aim is to interest the townspeople and visitors in the Irish industrial movement and to aid in giving an impetus to this movement. Lectures will be given during the winter and special exhibitions will be held from time to time. Mr. Gill, the secretary of the department for agriculture, in the course of a most interesting address said that Ireland should no longer be depicted in terms as a figure of sorrow and failure, but as a creature of strength and beauty. The time has come, he said, for the end of such Ireland growth. All downward tendencies had been checked and she is now working upward. The whole frame of the country is stirred in an awakening and she is today a progressive nation and one of the most soundly and rapidly progressive countries in the world. The foreign trade of Ireland has increased by £2,000,000 in the last five years, and her home industries have been prospering in a marvellous way. Linnen mills, flour mills and woollen mills, poultry and bacon farms had all felt the benefit of the movement. There was a strong force at the back of the Irish people which was helping to make and develop Irish industries. INTERCOLONIAL RY.
