Meeting of the City Council London waterworks now are. It may Tonight.

The London City Council will meet tonight

The City Council of Cleveland Intervened determinedly and successfully to bring their street railway strike to a conclusion. The members of the Cleveland City Council repudiated any notion that the matter was the Company's private affair. They held that as the franchise had to do with the people's streets, the representatives of the people had a right to have something positive to say. And they kept saying it, energetically and effectively, until the Company came down from their high perch.

By rights, and according to common sense, the London Street Railway system, like that of Glasgow, should be owned and run by the city-as our not be easy, though perhaps not even yet impossible, to undo the wrong which tied up London's rights and revenues as to street car transportation for half a century, of which time more than a quarter century has yet to run. But the people's representatives, backed by an overwhelming public opinion, are meantime by no means powerless. It is unfortunate the corporation does not own and operate the London Street Railway. It would be still more unfortunate if the London Street Railway Company were allowed to carry away the impression that they own and operate the corporation.

On page four of this issue we discuss the general principles which underlie organization of labor, dealing with the past, present and probable future.

London, June 27 .- Her Majesty Quen Victoria, the Duke of Cambridge, the Prince of Wales, the Duke of York, the Grand Duke Michael of Russia, the Duke of Connaught, Gen. Lord Wolseley, commander-in-chief of the army, and many princes and princesses were present on the famous Plains of Aldershot yesterday to witness a review of over 18,000 of the best troops in the kingdom. It is known now that the Queen returned from Balmoral Castle, Scotland, mostly for the purpose of at-tending this review, and in view of the fact of her Majesty's natural reluctance to attend such gatherings the importance of this review is manifested. Not since the Queen's jubilee has a more imposing corps passed before a European sovereign, and while 6,000 additional troops remained in their barracks, the display afforded the Queen ample evidence of her military re-

READY FOR A HURRY CALL All the regiments which took part in the review were those which would answer the first hurry call to arms for the Transvaal or elsewhere, and as the various battalions swung past the royal carriage, their fitness evoked the heartiest applause. Nearly 15,000 infantry, 50 guns and 600 horses made up this magnificent display. Nearly all the foreign military attaches were present, and a profound impression was made upon them as the Dragoons, the Scots, the famous Royal Regiment, of which Emperor William is the honorary colonel; the Fusiliers, the Camerons, the Scottish Rifles and other heroes of the Zulu campaigns passed. The enthusiasm of the crowd was very manifest, and the Queen smiled approbation as each command came under her eye. Col. Summer and the attaches compared the army of the Queen to a "forest of shimmering steel overhanging a scarlet sea," and characterized it as one of the firest reviews within their experience.

CHAMBERLAIN'S STATEMENT. Mr. Joseph Chamberlain, addressing the Unionists of Birmingham yesterday, reviewed carefully the Transvaal question. He said that, owing to the enormous military preparations of the government of the South African Republic, Great Britain had been compelled to increase the British garrisons in Cape Colony and Natal, entailing additional expenditure of $2,500,000 annually. "If the reforms which Lord Ripon proposed in 1894 had been accepted," said the minister, "there would have been no raid and no crisis at present. But the raid tied the hands of the government, and prevented the application of but all their advances had been received with contempt. He then proceeded to eulogize Sir Alfred Milner, Governor of Cape Colony and British high commissioner of South Africa. The government accepted responsi-bility for the actions of that official. As for the counter proposals of Mr. Kruger, they did not constitute even a fair installment of reform.

BRITISH SUBJECTS MENACED. After denouncing in the strongest terms the attitude and action the Boers, Mr. Chamberlain, with deliberation and emphasis, great Transvaal's secret added: "The has procured fund service and advocates in every country. The way the British subjects there are treated is not only a menace to them, but interferes with our prestige among the natives, who now regard the Boers and not the British as the paramount power. Besides the breaches of London convention, the Transvaal is flagrantly violatequality that convention ing the equality that convention was intended to secure. Its misgovernment is a festering sore, poisoning the whole atmosphere of South Africa. The Dutch in Cape Colony and Natal would be in the happiest condition, but so long as the disease of hatred and suspicion prevails in the Transvaal, it is impossible to stop the contagion. FOUR TIMES ON THE EVE OF WAR is likely to spread to the Michigan Central. Officials at the Union Sta-"Four times since independence was granted we have of a war with the Transvaal. verge It is erroneous to say that the British Government wants war, but it is equally erroneous to say that the government will draw back now that it has put its hand to the plow. We hope efforts that are now being made will lead to an amicable arrangement, for Great Britain only desires justice, but there comes a time when patience can hardly be distinguished from weakness, and when moral pressure becomes a farce, that cannot be continued without loss of self-respect. I trust that time may never come in this instance; but, if it does, Britain will insist upon finding the means to procure a result essential to the peace of South Africa." CRITICAL TURNING POINT. The speech was warmly applauded. In replying to a vote of thanks, Mr. Chamberlain said he felt strengthened and confirmed by their sympathy and support. He had spoken from the heart, because he believed they had reached ac ritical turning point in the history of the empire, and that the whole world was watching to see how they would issue from the difficulty. "It is my belief," he said, in closing, "that the country will show itself not unworthy of its glorious austory and traditions.

SPANISH RIOTS

Madrid, June 27.-At Valencia riots occurred throughout the entire day yesterday. The gendarmes charged the mob, and two of the rioters were wounded. Disturbances also took place at Murcia. At Saragossa, the riots continued after the state of siege had been declared, and Gen. Borbon was wounded. The prefect wired to the minister of the interior, as follows: Describing the riots, he said: "The mob fired revolvers, and they tried to stab me. Several policemen were wounded. I learned the rioters invaded the Jesuite College, and burned its doors, and I then declared a state of Tranquility is now restored. The trouble is growing out of popular discontent with the financial proposals of the government. The rioters stoned the military at Saville.

CABLE NOTES. The damage to the Shamrock at her launching on Monday was very slight. It is reported Lieut.-Col. Paty de Clam, a prisoner in the city prison, charged with forgery in connection with the Dreyfus case, has several times attempted to commit suicide. Dreyfus at last accounts has not landed at Brest. Gen. Lord Kitchener of Khartoum has received £1,640 from the Earl of Minto, on behalf of the Canadians for the endowment fund of the Gordon Memorial College at Khartoum. The czarina has given birth to a daughter. She is named Maria. The British House of Lords defeated the bill legalizing the election of women as councilors and aldermen. The vote stood 182 against the measure and 68 in favor of it.

The new cabinet ministry presented themselves to the chambers Monday Identical statements were read in the Chamber of Deputies and Senate, the former passing, by a vote of 263 to 237, a resolution approving the declar-ation and acts of the government. The Senate also approved of the declaration.

A Paris cable to New York says Archbishop Ireland, when unanimous-ly requested by the young men studying under the direction of the Jesuits, to deliver the annual oration at the closing exercises, graciously said he would comply with their wishes. Tin Plate Mills to Have a Strike on Friday.

Freight Handlers in Detroit Want Better Wages.

50,000 MEN AFFECTED. Pittsburg, June 27.-All the tinplate workers in the country are to be closed at midnight on Friday as a result of the failure to settle the wage scale at a conference with American Tin Plate Company representatives in Chicago. Fully 50,000 persons will thus be made idle by the shut-down. The workers' wage committee, acting under instructions received from the recent annual convention in Detroit, made a demand for an advance of 20 per cent. The present wage scale expires June 30, and members of the Amalgamated Association are not permitted to work after that date unless the new scale is signed. Secretary Williams, of the Amalgamated Association, says the manufacturers offered an advance, but it was not as much as the men wanted. It seems the general impression that there will be no modification of original demands. DETROIT FREIGHT HANDLERS QUIT.

Detroit, June 27.-Freight handlers at the Detroit, Grand Rapids and western depot went on a strike at noon yesterday. About two weeks ago they went out and demanded 12 instead of 10 cents an hour. The truckers got the raise, but the packers did not get theirs, so the truckers joined the packers, and the whole lot, number ing 75, are out. It is rumored that the been on the tion believe that matters will be satisfactorily arranged in a very time.

AT CHICAGO STOCK YARDS. Chicago, June 27.—About 300 men, including shacklers, splitters, and others actually engaged in the killing of hogs, joined the ranks of the strikers, and the whole lot, numbering 75, manding an increase in wages of 25 cents a day. The strikers claim more stock yard employes will go out tomorrow. It is asserted that unless the packers make concessions to their employes, a strike, which will effectually tie up the stock yards industries, will take place July 1.

TWO LIVES LOST

By the Fire at St. Raymond, Que .-Damage $170,000.

Quebec, June 27. - The loss caused by the fire in the village of St. Raymond is estimated at $150,-000 to $170,000, a little over half of which is covered by insurance. It is reported in the village that the fire was caused by a man and a boy from an adjoining parish, who were under the influence of liquor, and had gone to a barn in the rear of Mrs. Edward Plamondon's residence, where they probably smoked, and dropped a spark or lighted match. According to the same reports, both perished in the flames. It is estimated that not less than 250 people were rendered homeless by the fire, as a number of the houses were tenements. The insurance companies interested are the North British and Mercantile, Guardian and the Liverpool and London and Globe.

MRS. SOUTHWORTH VERY ILL. Washington, June 27.-Mrs. E. D. E. N. Southworth, the well-known novelist, is quite ill at her residence in West Washington. Her weakness is due mainly to the infirmities of age, she being now in her 80th year.

FARMER WAITED TOO LONG. Jackson, Mich., June 27.-Byron S. Foote, a wealthy farmer, living west of the city, drew 1,501 bushels of wheat to the mills here in fourteen loads. Mr. Foote, last summer, could have received $1 35 per bushel for this same wheat, but now the current price for June is over 50 cents less.

Mr. Macnish Not Culpable but His Agents Were Mixed Up in Bad Practices-The Sheriff Imposed Upon.

St. Thomas, June 27.-The West Elgin election trial, held here yesterday, ending in the unseating of Mr. D. Macnish, the Reform member. The latter occupied the seat in the Local House during the whole of last session, but during the whole of last session, our recently, on investigating charges made by Mr. John Munn, of St. Thomas, on behalf of the defeated Conservative candidate, Mr. F. G. Macdiarmid, he filed a disclaimer. Local Conservatives, however, determined to proceed with the protest, while at the same time admitting that so far as Mr. Macnish was personally concerned there was not the slightest evidence or suspicion of wrong-doing. This view of the case was amply borne out in the evidence submitted at yesterday's trial. In the case of County Sheriff Brown, who was returning officer for the election, and a respondent with Mr. Macnish, the trial judges, Justices Osler and Meredith, commented strongly upon his conduct, and several times during the hearing of the evidence characterized his actions as showing a grave lack of ordinary

We beg to advise you that Mr. Macnish has discussed at length with his solicitors the charges contained in the petition which has been filed against his return as member of the Legislative Assembly of Ontario for West Elgin, and that they have to a considerable extent investigated the charges contained therein and other matters which come to their knowledge in connection with the election. "(1) That a large number of persons were specially sent into the constitu-ency by men working on behalf of the Liberal party for the express purpose of taking part on Mr. Macnish's behalf in the election held Jan. 12, 1899, and we believe that fraudulent and corcupt means were used by some of such persons to secure his election.

"2. That several of the said persons illegally and without authority acted as deputy returning officers at the said election, and in at least three cases acted in the names of reputable local men, having, under assumed names, been introduced to the returning officer by local agents of Mr. Macnish.

3. That in many of the polling subdivisions of the riding there were grave irregularities connected with the return of the ballot boxes and their con-tents, the voting and the counting of there, purporting to be Montgomery, the ballots thereat.

"4. That there were large numbers of persons brought into the riding 10 the express purpose of personating legitimate voters, and, assisted by some of Mr. Macnish's local supporters, such persons did personate qualified voters in voting for Mr. Macnish.

"5. That the declared number of votes for Mr. Macnish largely exceeded the bona fide votes cast for him.

"6. That a large number of ballots cast for Mr. Macdiarmid were in some nefarious and corrupt manner manipulated, whereby the result of the election was rendered doubtful, and that in this connection the voting at Shedden and Middlemarch and in several divisions at St. Thomas where said strangers so acted as deputy returning officers, merits special mention.

"7. That there are good reasons to believe that there are many specific well-authenticated cases where agents of Mr. Macnish concealed at their homes some of those strangers, who there paid large sums of money to electors to induce them to vote for

THE JUDGES DIFFER.

Mr. Justice Meredith expressed the opinion that if Mr. Macnish admitted irregularities nothing more was needed, and the election should be voided. Mr. Justice Osler did not concur, remarking that so far as he was concerned he could not give his consent to voiding an election in which the majority (over 200) was so large, without first hearing some substantial evidence. If it was not desired to give evidence the petition should be dismissed.

Mr. Wallace Nesbitt answered that he had no evidence to disqualify Mr. Macnish in regard to personal cor-ruption. He could give positive proof of the irregularities mentioned by his learned friend and evidence of corruption by party workers, but did not know if it was wise in view of the admission made to take up the time of the court. Mr. Justice Meredith reiterated his opinion that so far as he was concerned the matter might end at once, and again Mr. Justice Osler remarked that he could not concur, adding that so far as he was concerned ford, Rev. Henry Rockhold; Niagara he would never void an election on mere admission; the petitioner must prove his case.

THE PROCEEDINGS. Messrs. A. B. Aylesworth, Q. C., Toronto and Mr. I. F. Hellmuth, London, appeared for Mr. Macnish; Mr. Wallace Appeared for Mr. Macmsn; Mr. Wallace Nesbitt, for the petitioner and Mr. Mc-Diarmid, and Mr. J. M. Glenn, of St. Thomas, for Sheriff Brown. When the court opened Mr. Ayles-worth, on behalf of Mr. Macnish, said that his client had been returned at the election, and had occupied a seat in the house during the session. On the present charges being made, Mr. Macnish, aided by his solicitor, had investigated them, and on so doing became satisfied that the election had not been properly conducted. There were at least three instances in which men had acted as returning officers, although holding no authority to do so. In each of these cases the parties had assumed names of reputable constituents, and had acted under such names. Not only were there these cases of wrongdoing at the polling subdivisions, but there had been corrupt practices to a certain extent in other directions. In view of these circumstances Mr. Macnish had taken the course of filing a disclaimer of the seat, and notifying his opponents of his action. He (Mr. Aylesworth) had been instructed by his client not to defend the action and thus avoid expense to both sides. If, however, any personal charges were to be made against Mr. Macnish, they were to be defended. EVIDENCE HEARD.

Sheriff Brown, returning officer, was the first witness. Mr. Brown said he had appointed two men for No. 4 and No. 11 subdivisions, who were introduced to him as Albert Montgomery and Christopher Stratford, but after the election he discovered that these were assumed names, and that he had been imposed upon. These impersonators did not bring back their ballot boxes, which were brought in, that of No. 4 subdivision by one Langman, and that of No. 11 by one Casey. Asked if he had administered the oath to the persons, he answered in the negative, his explanation being that he had no forms for that purpose.

Mr. Justice Meredith-Forms were not an absolute necessity; the oath could have been administered without them. Witness said that for No. 6 subdivision. Southwold, a man claiming to be Marshall B. Johnson was appointed, and here again witness found, after the election, that he had been duped. In this subdivision Duncan Bole, poll clerk, acted as deputy and brought in the ballot box the next day. No oath was administered to Bole.

Cross-examined briefly by Mr. Aylesworth, witness said he had been sheriff of the county for fifteen years. He was well acquainted in the rural districts, but not in the city. On being shown three documents asking him to appoint Montgomery, Stratford and Johnson as deputies, he said he recognized Mr. Macnish's signature, but did not know the handwriting in the body of the hue was to have acted in No. 8 sub-his signature, were signed by him unhanded to him by the secretary of the Liberal Club of St. Thomas, and he had not read them, believing that all were of the same nature. So far as he was concerned he emphatically denied any wrong-doing or any knowledge thereof, and on discovering the irregularities mentioned, had acted in the manner described by Mr.

Mr. Justice Osler asked if Mr. Glenn desired to say anything on behalf of the sheriff. Mr. Glenn replied that the sheriff had been imposed upon.

Mr. Justice Meredith-There were many irregularities. The sheriff, as returning officer, does not seem to have acted with care. He seems to have been easily imposed upon.

Mr. Justice Osler said Mr. Macnish had not been guilty of any improprieties. There were, however, gross irregularities, for which, I think, the sheriff is largely responsible, owing to his carelessness, to say the least. Costs the petitioner, and payable by the sheriff as well as the respondent. The court then adjourned.

Mr. Davin Charges the Government With Breaking Faith.

Wants Greater Reductions-Civil Servants' Debts - The Day in Parliament.

Ottawa, June 27 .- Mr. Davin's motion, declaring that the house is of opinion that raith had not been kept with the farmers of the west, since the tariff has not been reduced upon certain articles, and that the preferential tariff is delusive, was the subject of discussion at the afternoon sitting of the house yesterday. The debate was not concluded. Mr. Foster was informed by the premier that up to June 3 the sum of $192,541 had been expended on the prohibition plebiscite, and it was estimated another $1,000 would cover outstanding accounts.

The premier, in reply to a question by Mr. Quinn, said that no person had yet been named to the vacant Montreal postmastership, and no appointment would be made until a report had been received of the investigation into the affairs of the office. Sir Wilfrid Laurier informed Mr. Prior that the government was aware that 14 statutes passed by the Legislature of British Columbia contain a clause prohibiting employment of Chinese and Japanese in various undertakings. As to the government's policy in the matter, the premier said the question was "under considera-

The minister of militia informed Mr. Clarke that 41,078 applications for the Canadian general service medals and clasp had been received, of which 4,291 had been approved by the claims board. In 152 cases decision had been reserved, pending further particulars. All applications, with the exception of 441 received during the last few days, have been investigated, classiand recorded for consideration by the board. The question as to how and when the distribution shall take place has not yet been decided.

THE TARIFF QUESTION. Mr. Davin moved "that in the opinion of the house, faith had not been kept with the farmers of the west since duties have not been reduced on agricultural implements, and have been increased on the cheaper cottons. and that the quarter per cent preference on goods of English manufacture document. He had not been in support of his motion, Mr. Davin while to find Kilroy of the state of the support of his motion, Mr. Davin color of the support of t able to find Kilroy afterwards, and so far as he could ascertain there was no such person in the city.

Mr. A.F. Montrement and his been all support of his motion, Mr. Davin cited the tariff declarations of the Liberal platform, the free trade speeches of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and his Mr. A. E. Montgomery swore he was supporters, and contrasting those with tained by the party in power, showed that the Northwest farmers have been badly deceived. Evidently Sir Richard Cartwright was not pleased with the prospect, as he had left the house about Christopher Stratford testified that the middle of the session. The last he was not in St. Thomas until late in straw which had broken Sir Richard's the afternoon of election day, and so, back was the iron bounties policy, and fice in Detroit some years ago. They were agricultural implements under the remixed up among a lot of such authori- ciprocal tariff had been absurdly small. Sir Wilfrid Laurier claimed that if Mr. Davin was in earnest he would have brought in his motion on the budget. But Mr. Davin, or at least those associated with him, had been complimenting the government that they had turned protectionists, and declaring that nothing further was required. Speaking of Mr. Davin's poetical allusions, the premier presumed he was, when complaining that cotton was not cheap enough, speaking of the subject nearest his heart, like a certain poet who wrote a sonnet to his nightshirt.

The discussion was continued by Messrs. Davis (Liberal, Saskatchewan), and Mr. Davin up to six o'clock. After recess the bill respecting the Northern Commercial Telegraph Compay was read a third time and passed. CIVIL SERVANTS' DEBTS.

I. having secured from the promoter of the bill an agreement to restrict its operations to seizure for debts contracted subsequent to the passage of the bill, gave his support to it, declaring there was no valid reason why the civil servant should be in a position different from other citizens in respect to liability for their debts. Sir Louis Davies said he was not in favor of the bill last year and was not in favor of it yet, therefore he wanted to see its evils minimized and not extended. A simple declaration in the bill that salaries of civil servants should be liable to seizure the same as those of other citizens, be sufficient, leaving it then to the laws of the several provinces to do the rest. Sir Charles Hibbert Tupper pointed out that the bill was giving the creditor a wider right over the salary than the civil servant himself, inasmuch as the former could sue the civil servant for what the civil servant could not sue the government without

Sir Louis Davies again pointed out that with all the machinery proposed to be provided in the bill was an infringement of provincial jurisdiction, be' a matter of civil procedure.

Mr. Richardson agreed to amend the clause under consideration so as to apply only to "salaries and wages." He had it on the authority of the minister of justice that the not unconstitutional and other lawyers in the house possibly not so eminent as the minister of marine, were of the same opinion.

After some further discussion, Sir Louis Davies moved that the committee rise and report progress, in order that the opinion of the minister of justice might be obtained.

Mr. Richardson protested that this meant that the bill would never be heard of again, and insisted upon a The motion carried by 26 to 17. Then the committee rose and the house ad-

IS A MAN OLD AT FORTY? A very touching conference was held yesterday, a conference of men who are growing gray and who cannot get work in consequence. Their experience in the humbler callings of shopman, clerk, and the like, is that employers will hardly look at them when once they have turned forty. They do look once, just long enough to see the first telltale hair, and then they shake their heads. So the Psalmist is thrown out in his calculations and the labor and sorrow of having no labor to perform begins a good thirty years before his allotted term. There is some talk of a demonstration in Hyde Park. Could anything be more mournful than to see them carrying their gray hairs to the reform-er's tree and expounding their grievances, perhaps to a jeering crowd of boys and girls who have taken their places? The association would be best employed in providing them with gratutious hair dye. It is notorious on the recent showing in these columns that the great consumers of this product are not the vain rich, but the prematurely aged poor.

If the pun may be pardoned, these unhappy beings dye to live. They sometimes go without a breakfast before they set out on their weary tramp for a situation, but they never go without their touch of rejuvenation for the outer man. As age increases and the terrible revelation extends to the joints, they must try new expedients in subterfuge in their port and gait—only, of course, they betray their ghastly secret the more effectually.-London Daily Times.

There was a slugging match at Tecumseh Park yesterday afternoon. After the first two innings, however, the locals did most of the slugging, and the visitors were kept on the defensive. Price pitched only two games last week, and it took him a little while to steady down. While the steadying was in progress the Bains got five runs in the second inning, making one better than the locals' tally in the first inning. These five runs were got by means of a single, two men hit by pitched balls, a bad fumble by Mohler, a three-bagger by Dark, and a poor throw by Babbit. But for Franck's phenomenal throw-in from right field to the plate, the visitors would have tallied yet another. A three-bagger by Busse and Pickard's out in right field gave them their final run in the third inning.

The Cockneys got right after Thompson on the start, and kept him going. Everybody but Cope made one hit or more. In the first Mohler, McFadden and Jones made singles. Jones made a three-bagger, Howell sacrificed, and Babbit drew a charity. Net result— four runs, all of which were tallied

The Clevelands had lost thirteen straights before they defeated Pittsburg last week.
The leagues' leading home-run hitter to date is Freeman, with ten to his credit.

Demontreville has been fined and temporary suspended by the Chicago club for disputation. In 26 straight games Patsy Donovan failed to hit safely in but two. The "vet." is still a "colt."

The Chicago players are finding fault at the way the home crowds are treating them when a little hard luck sets them back in the race.

The Boston Globe asserts that the Chicago players are receiving more than the salary limit of $2,400. It must be galling to Nichols to re-flect that he has this season lost games to Washington, Louisville, and even to

Washington and Chicago are the two league teams without a left-handed

The Pirates have taken a winning brace since Donovan took charge of The fact that the attendance in Brooklyn is not what it should be for a club leading in the race is provoking much comment, not flattering to Brooklyn as a league city, in league circles.

Demontreville now leads the batters of the Chicago club. While the other, heavy stickers have been falling off he has been adding to his total.

First Baseman Everett has resigned the Chicago captaincy and no other player on the team wants the onorous and thankless job for love or money.

Syndicate ball is proving a decided frost in Cleveland. Baltimore, however, seems to thrive on it, as the attendance there has been larger this year than when the old Orioles were in their prime and were not owned by syndicate.
The belief that it was necessary to strengthen the Pittsburg pitching staff was held by Manager Donoyan the day he took charge of the team. Donovan will not talk on the subject, but his friends say that Donny's pre-decessor left the club in poor shape. Tom Kinslow, the veteran catcher. who lives in New York, has witnessed all the home games of the "Superbas" this season, and he declares they are playing in wonderful luck and are not wonderful team that they are given credit for. He thinks Boston will beat them out in a walk. FOR THE FANS. Umpire George England will officiate at the games at Tecumseh Park this

By a mail vote of the Eastern League directors the Toronto-Springfield game, played in Toronto on May 23, at which Umpire Gruber's work was so unsatisfactory, has been thrown out.

Patsy Donovan (formerly of the Tecumsehs, of this city) performed a unique play in Cleveland last Thursday. Dowd was out and Harley on first. where his single had placed him. Quinn hit a fly to right that looked safe, and Harley sprinted for second. Donovan got the ball after a hard run directly toward the initial bag. Instead of throwing to first, he kept right on running, and by beating Harley to the Chatham, June 27.—The home team bag accomplished a double play unas-and day out say that McGraw, of the Baltimores, has never played such remarkable ball before. He leads the league in runs scored and bases stolen, and is also close to the top in batting. It is understood that the Philadelphia club stands ready to pay $12,000 for his release whenever Von der Horst and Hanlon see fit to part with him. Manager Tebeau says he prefers married players to bachelors, because the yoked ones are the steadiest and most tractable players. Tebeau admits, however, that the bachelor players for some reason are the best drawing cards, even men preferring them.

President Young has made such a signal failure in handling the umpire staff that the matter will be taken out of his hands next fall. This information comes from a club-owner, who has given much attention to the prob-lem.—Toronto Mail and Empire.

Says a Detroit dispatch: Protected by the players of both teams, President Sheridan was saved from an angry mob of displeased fans at the close of today's game and escorted to a saloon for safety. The mob's anger was caused by Sheridan's refusing to allow Elberfeld to take first when hit by a pitched ball.

Managers in the big league who scan the scores of the minor organizations have not to date located any material that gives promise of graduating at the end of the present season into fast company. Last season such Western League stars as Jimmy Slagle, Pitcher Jack Taylor and Third Basemen Williams and Wolverton were booked for the big league as early as July. But, the provincial teams have developed not even a single plum, and it seems that drafts and purchases will be fewer than ever next fall.-Wash-

Labor Unions and Strikes.

The German Reichstag has practically kicked the Kaiser's anti-strike bill out of doors. The measure aims to prevent strikes by making strikers criminals in the sight of the law. It Is another of the Kaiser's reactionary lunacies which his subjects have tolerated so meekly in the past that Anglo-Saxons wondered whether their Teutonic blood-relations had lost the old spirit of German liberty which left and more under the control of union-Its impress on the world. Lately, however, there are signs of growing aversion to this monocracy. Not long ago the Reichstag forced the government to compromise on a bill for the increase of the army, upon which the Kaiser had set his whole heart. In the present case the overwhelming opposition comes from all parties except one, showing that it is not merely a faction fight, but that the sentiment of the country revolts against the principle of the anti-strike bill, and that the Emperor's wish is a long way short of being divine command. The result is a stinging rebuke to the royal busybody and a triumph for organized labor in Germany. It is a recognition by the highest authority in the land of the right of labor to combine for legitimate purposes, strikes included.

The Kaiser's bill would put trades unions and other labor organizations In Germany almost in the same position as they occupied in England before the repeal of the combination laws in 1824. Prior to that date a legitimate trade society could not be lawfully established, and any combined attempt of workingmen to advance their material interests or undo oppressive legislation was construed as sedition. The modern trade union movement did not begin until 1824, when the right of free asociation was granted, but it was not until 1871 that trade unions were recognized as lawful corporate bodies, capable of holding property in land, and entitled to legal protection for their funds.

Anyone who has impartially studied the industrial history of England must be convinced that labor unions are a logical development of social and industrial conditions. For centuries the whole tenor of the law was hostile to labor, as might be expected from the character of Parliament before Demos had a voice there. The statute books from the time of Edward III. to George IV., are loaded with legislation in the exclusive interests of the employing classes. When it is remembered that for the first quarter of this nineteenth century, workingmen were not even permitted to combine for friendly purposes, it will be seen that labor unions grew naturally out of persecution and oppression, when the liberal ideas, which triumphed in the Reform Bill, began to ferment in the popular mind It would have been contrary to human nature if the working classes, with their awakening sense of power, had not striven by combined effort to throw off their medieval fetters. Unionism accordingly grew in proportion to the enlarging conception of the rights of labor and its ever-widening political

These combinations, in their infancy, incurred a great deal of obloquy, and were sincerely regarded as dangerous and revolutionary by the upper and middle classes. Public opinion now accepts organized labor as an established fact, a normal product of the times, a legitimate factor in the social problem, which is being worked out to some good end.

Trades unionism, like other human institutions, is by no means perfect. Its early career too often justified the fear that liberty might degenerate into license. The strike in many cases was a weapon handled recklessly, without counting the cost. Many societies disintegrated through weakness or impolicy. But labor profited in the long run by these adversities, which served to discover the defects of trades unionism in its original forms. The imperfections were gradually thrown off, and the elements of permanency acquired by experience. Today trades unionism in England covers nearly every branch of labor, skilled or unskilled, and some of the most powerful organizations can show from 50 to 75 years of steady progress and achievement. It is true that trades unionism, even in England, at this late date occasionally earns public censure by its arbitrary conduct. The late strike of amalgamated engineers, for example, seems to have been extremely ill-advised, and undoubtedly worked a national injury; but such cases are the exception. Those who hold that labor has not ameliorated its condition by organization are blind to the facts. Trades unionism has reached its highest development in England, and the period of its most vigorous growth has been coincident with a marvelous advance in the well-being of the working classes, and an unparalleled extension of British commerce and British power. Trades unionism, however deficient in its present stage, will expand with freedom and civilization, and will take its place in the evolution of society.

It is remarkable that labor organizations, which were formerly stigmatized as revolutionary, have, in many cases, become very conservative, and are one of the strongest bulwarks against socialism and other innovating doctrines. In this respect labor has become allied with capitar. The future may see this ideal relationship extending over the whole field of industry. Many large employers of labor, notably the great railway corporations, find a positive advantage in dealing with it was entitled, has been removed. In their employes collectively, as the union has a steadying effect and the corporation can fix responsibility on corporation can fix responsibility on definite scale of wages, without which employers, who might be inclined to liberality, would be under the uneasy apprehension that competitors were cutting under them by cheap labor. The whole tendency of the times goes to show that the principle of the living wage is transcending the mere law of supply and demand, and that organized labor is an efficient instrument in bringing it about. The recent Grand Trunk trackmen's strike is a good illustration of this. If it be true, as everything seems to point out, that the destinies of labor are passing more ism, it behooves capital to recognize the inevitable, just as it behooves labor to learn the limits of its own power, and wield it with an enlightened under-

Principles of the New Redistribution Bill-One Objection Removed.

Ottawa, June 24.-The debate on the motion for the second reading of the Redistribution Bill which was commenced on Friday last, gave the Postmaster-General, who has made the question of representation in the House of Commons a study, an opportunity of presenting for the consideration of the house and the country some interesting data which he has spent much time and care in gathering respecting the various constituencies in Western Ontario, which were affected by the various redistribution bills of 1882 and 1892 and amendments. He pointed out that the dominating and permeating principle of the measure which the government has introduced was that there should be no breaking of county lines and no carving of seats out of fragments of different counties. This was in contrast to the bill of 1882, which in order to provide for four new seats to which Ontario was entitled as a result of census, and to fill the vacancies caused by the merging of two ridings into adjoining constituencies, changed the boundaries of 50 constituencies. The only reason or argument which would justify the general breaking of boundaries which took place would be to make ridings with symmetrical boundaries and equality of population. The census of 1881 an average population for the Ontario constituencies of 20,904. The Post-master-General showed that of the 92 The Postwhich there were at that time seats in the Province of Ontario only 28 were by the provisions of that bill given population between 19,000 and 22,000, while no less than 30 had a population less than 19,000, and 34 had a population of upwards of 22,000, and the population of these constituencies ranged from 12,000, the lowest in Leeds and Grenville, represented by the Conservative whip, to 38,000 in West Toronto. These figures effectu-ally disposed of the cry that the opposition are now raising of "rep. by in so far as it was illustrated them in practice, when they had opportunity of giving force to the principle, as they profess to desire to apply it now. But, as Mr. Mulock pointed out, this principle had never apply been contended for even by the most cherished idols of the opposition in the sense that Sir Charles Tupper had The only sense in which demanded. it had ever been sought to be applied was in reference to the comparative representation of the two provinces in the old Province of Upper Canada. However, the records indicated plainthat equalization of population in the respective constituencies was not a factor in the determination of boundaries when the Conservative party had the opportunity of giving to that principle the force of law.

Since the bill was introduced the government has made a change in the proposed distribution of seats. The member that was formerly given to the constituency of Bothwell, the integral parts of which now revert to the counties to which they properly belong, has been given to the city of Toronto. and by this course the main objection raised by the leader of the opposition to the bill, namely, that it gave an undue representation to Liberal counties, while depriving Toronto of that representation to which, in virtue of its large constituencies. By the amendment the men's executive for the conduct of the whole body of employes. There is a great advantage, too, in having a definite scale of wares without which with Lambton, which has a population of 800 in excess of it.

The government in response to the request of the millers and dealers of Eastern Canada have withdrawn the bill dealing with the inspection of wheat and substituted a modified measure. Sin Happing Telegraphics with the state of the sta ure. Sir Henri Joly voiced the sentiments of the community when he declared that the maintenance of the reputation of Canadian wheat in the markets of the world was of greater value to the material interests of Canada than all the gold of the Vuken to ada than all the gold of the Yukon ten times over. In the amended bill the high standard set in the measure as at first introduced for export wheat is maintained. Provision is made, however, by which the exigencies of the home trade, as presented by the millers and dealers of Eastern Canada, has been met by a provision which en-ables them to secure supplementary inspection in the east of wheat for home consumption. THE INSURANCE BILL There is perhaps no economic measure which the government has intro-duced in this parliament that is of greater importance than the Insurance Bill, and although there was some opposition to the measure on the part of the interested companies, or some of them, the compromise which was ar-rived at in the end was an eminently fair one. The finance minister struck a responsive chord when he asserted as the cardinal principle of the bill, which the government was determined to preserve, that the principal amount of the insurance, the amount which the companies had contracted to pay to the families of policy-holders, should be kept intact. The objection came from those who had taken out sharing or participating policies under which they, every year, received or expected to receive, a share of the profits of the company, and who saw a danger that if the companies were compelled to the larger proportion of the preput a larger proportion of the premiums to rest account than formerly they would not get as large a dividend annually as they have been getting in the past. Mr. Fielding pointed out, however, that the whole question was one of figures, that under the chang-ing circumstances the rate of interest having decreased very materially in recent years, the same amount laid aside each year would not produce as much as was the case formerly, and therefore Searching for them with tears."

Elevating Mankind.—"And by the way," asked the old schoolmate, "what has become of Moseley, who used to talk so much about devoting his life.

in the future, and he was emphatic that, as between the sharing of the profits for the present and the payment of the full amount contracted for by the company, the government would protect the interests of the widows and orphans. His declaration that the pol icy-holders had after all no definite contract under which they shared the profits was at first questioned, but a little discussion developed the fac that the finance minister was absolut-ly correct, and that the only definite and absolute contract contained in the policy is to pay a stated amount on the maturity of the policy. The discussion brought out the fact very clearly that none of the companies can rely upon being able to realize 4½ per cent upon their investments, many of them only being able to make 4 per cent, and even less, and the fact was generally admitted that the contentions of finance minister that insurance iness must be done on 3½ per cent basis were correct, and that the government had acted wisely in the matter. By the compromise all new business will be done after the first of January next upon the basis of 31/2 per cent, and the time of applying the new rates to the business now in force has been extended for three years be-youd the time at first proposed. The companies by accepting the compromise confirms the soundnes of the government's policy in insisting upon the insurance business being placed on a sound basis STEAMERS COLLIDE. New York, June 26 .- A collision is reported to have taken place this morn-

Sarnia Observer: The Sarnia cricket club went to Strathroy yesterday and achieved a most creditable victory over the celebrated team of that town The day was an ideal one for play, and the outing was thoroughly enjoyed by the local players. The hospitable treatment accorded them by the Strathroy cricketers added greatly to the day' pleasure. The game was a good exhibition of cricket, some splendid batting, bowling and fielding being done. For Sarnia, J. J. Madden, Dr. Hayes and T. Pardee distinguished themselves by the masterly manner in which they wielded the bat for Sarnia, while Rawlingson was Strathroy's star. F. F. Pardee for Sarnia and H. CHICAGO, June 26 .- Wheat at one time today showed a decline of nearly 2c from Saturday, but ultimately re-covered all but %c to ½c of this break. Enormous receipts at prim-ary profits controlled the market. Corn and oats were fairly strong, closing 1/3c higher each. Provisions declined slightly all round. Minneapolis and Duluth reported 891 cars, against 846 last week and 89 a year ago. Chicago operators were somewhat accustomed to heavy receipts at those points, but when Kansas City reported 300 cars, compared with 26 a year ago, prices went down with a rush. The decline was so fast, in fact, that selling became enthusiastic, and when about 11:30 o'clock the liquidation of long wheat let up temporarily, the market recovered with a suddenness that indicated that shorts had considerably oversold. A scramble to cover followed, September advancing to 74%c and 74% c before noon, and the tendency thereafter was downward. The visible supply increase was 920,000 bu. Total supply receipts, 1.218,000 bu, compared with 160,000 a year ago. The cash demand here was slow. July li-quidation was especially prominent during the morning, and a good deal of buying was done later, on the theory that this factor had been enlisted.

Good and Poor Linings

Some people think what isn't seen doesn't matter much but that's where you make a mistake, as your minister will testify and your dressmaker also. What's inside either sets off or mars the outside-a bad heart or a bad lining, for instance. You can spoil a good dress with a poor lining, or enhance the appearance of a poor dress with a good lining. Therefore, a good dress wants a good lining and a poor dress wants a good lining.

The New York Tribune says: "The report that the New York Central had come to an agreement with the Boston and Albany Railroad, by which the Central would lease the Boston and Albany for the term of 999 years and guarantee eight per cent on the stock, was not a surprise either in railroad circles in Wall street. That the lease is practically closed was confirmed from a trustworthy source yesterday.

The New York Times says that the New York Central is about to acquire under lease the Boston and Albany Railroad system. Under the terms of the deal, Boston and Albany shareholders will be guaranteed 8 per cent dividends for 99 years. Eight per cent is the dividend they now receive regularly, though earnings running beyond such rate have provided extra cash disbursements more than once. The deal is the personal accomplishment of Wm. K. Vanderbilt. It is not unlikely that the absorption of the Boston and Albany will be followed by that of the New York, New Haven and Hartford

CONDITION OF FILIPINOS

Gen. Otis' Outline of the Situation at the Seat of War.

Washington, June 27 .- Gen. Otis, in reply to a cablegram from the war department asking for information regarding the situation and conditions in the Philippines, cabled as follows:

Manila, June 26.—Adjutant-general, Washington: Rainy season. Little inland campaigning posible in Luzon. We occupy large portion of Tagalog country, lines stretching from Imus to San Fernandino, north, nearly 60 miles, and eastward into Laguna Province. surgent armies have suffered great losses, and are scattered; only large force held together, about 4,000, in Tarlac Province, and northern Pampanaga. Their scattered forces in bands of 50 to 500 in other portion of Luzon. In Cavite and Batangas Provinces could assemble possibly 2,000, though demoralized from recent defeats.

Masses of people terrorized by insur-gent soldiers desire peace and American protection, no longer flee on approach of our troops, unless forced by insurgents, but gladly welcome them. No recent burning of towns. Population within our lines becoming dense; taking up land cultivation extensively. Kept out of Manila as much as possible, as the city population is becoming too great to be cared for. Natives southeast of Luzon combining to drive out insurgents; only hope of insurgent leaders is United States aid. They proclaim the near overthrow of the pres ent administration, to be followed by their independence under recognition by the United States. This is the influence which enables them to hold out; much contention prevails among them, and no civil government remains; trade with ports not in our possession, the former sources of insurgent revenue, now interdicted; not certain of wisdom of this policy, as people in those ports are without supply of food, and merchants are suffering losses; meditate restoring trade privileges, although insurgents reap the benefits. Courts here in successful operation under direction of able Filipinos. Affairs in other islands comparative ly quiet, awaiting results in Luzon. All anxious for trade, and repeated calls for American troops received. Am giving attention to Jolo Archipelago and Palawan Islands. Our troops have worked to the limit of endurance. Volunteer organizations have been called in and replaced by regulars, who now occupy salient positions. Sickness among troops has increased lately, due mostly to arduous service and climatic influences. Nothing alarming. Of the whom 3 per cent have typhoid and 17 malarial fevers; 25 per cent have in-testinal troubles; remaining 55 per cent have various aliments, 14 of which are due to wound injuries. Many officers and men who served in Cuba break under recurrence of Cubar fever, and regular regiments lately received are regular regiments lately inadequately officered. (Signed) OTIS.

Adjutant-General Corbin says that all officers belonging to regiments in the Philippines who are not absent on account of a surgeon's certificate are under orders to join their regiments at once. Forty-four have sailed on the recent transports going to Manila. Secretary Alger said yesterday that no action will be taken for the enlarge-It removed ten corns from one pair of ment of the army or of sending troops feet without any pain. SAVED THE GIRL

At the Cost of His Life-John Kowot ski's Brave Deed.

Chicago, June 27 .- While walking on the tracks of the Chicago Terminal Railroad, John Kotowski was fatally injured in a remarkable effort to save the life of Agnes Cross.

The two were crossing a trestle, the girl a few steps in front, when a switch engine rounded a curve at high speed. Kotowski sprang forward, and, grasping the girl about the waist, swung himself on one of the iron braces, but the pilot of the locomotive struck him, and, with the girl, he was hurled 30 feet below. Kotowski struck the ground first, breaking the girl's fall, but frac-turing his skull. The girl escaped with slight injuries.

The only excursion to Detroit on Dominion Day is the Woodmen's, by Michigan Central. Fast train, fine coaches, and the fare only $1 75; good for three days.

A Cheap Excursion. Beresford Lodge, Sons of England, have completed all arrangements for their excursion to Cleveland on Saturday evening. The train, which is a special one, will leave London at 11 p.m. Saturday, and the boat will leave as soon as the train arrives at Port Stanley. The entire Sunday will be spent in Cleveland by excursionists, the boat leaving on the return Sunday evening. This is one of the cheapest trips ever offered the public. The fare from London and return is only $1. The steamer Urania is an excellent boat, being very speedy and quiet in running. Over 150 electric lights are distributed throughout the boat, while ample berths will give time for sleep on board. The boat will arrive at Port on the return in time for the morning train for London. Thus two holidays can be enjoyed, one away from home, and one home. The committee expect a good crowd, and the rate will certainly bring a large patronage.

The bishop-elect feels the responsibility of this high office, and he recommends himself to the prayers of both clergy and laity.

JOSEPH BAYARD,

Administrator of the Diocese.

Right Rev. Fergus P. McEvay was born at Lindsay, Ont., on the 8th of December, 1852. He received his edu-cation at Lindsay separate school, St. Michael's College, Toronto; St. Francis' Michael's College, Toronto; St. Francis Seminary, Milwaukee, and the Grand Seminary, Montreal. He took the Dow-ling medal for literature at St. Michael's Hartford 23 Providence 21 in the class of 1877, and stood high in all his classes and captured several prizes. He was ordained priest on the 9th of July, 1882, and was then appointed parish priest for Fenelon Falls, where he remained five years. While in this parish he had charge of several churches, scattered over a wide area, and did much traveling on horseback, administering the comforts of religion to the people and accomplishing a heroic work. After this he was appointed rector to St. Peter's Cathedral, Peterboro, and chancellor of the diocese. On May 1, 1889, on the occasion of the translation of Bishop Dowling to Hamilton, it was arranged between to Hamilton, it was arranged between the Bishop of Peterboro and the Bishop of Hamilton that he should be transferred to the diocese of the latter, which arrangement was subsequently ratified at Rome, and he obtained a new titulus for the Diocese of Hamil-

Soon after this he was appointed rector of St. Mary's Cathedral, which position he has held with great acceptability. Bishop McEvay has been very successful, not only in the spiritual work of the church, but also in church building and repairing. While in Peterboro he ably carried out the bishop's idea in erecting St. Joseph's Hospital and several other important improvements in connection with the church there. Since his arrival at Hamilton, he has been in labors abundant, supervising the erection of the magnificent new presbytery, St. Lawrence Church, and a beautiful mortuary chapel and vault at Rock Bay Cemetery, as well as extensive repairs to the cathedral. His busy life contains the fullest evidence of his untiring efforts to promote the interests of the church. The appointment of Father McEvay to fill the vacant see of London will be hailed with the utmost satisfaction by priests and people of the diocese. He tol, Conn. has been known for many years, both Presid ecclesiastic destined to occupy a high and responsible position in the church. CITY FATHERS AND THE STRIKE

Bricklayers' Union Passes a Hot Reso lution and Gives $50.

Citizens generally are looking forward hopefully to an early settlement of the street car strike. The public patience is about exhausted, and further inaction on the part of the city council will not be tolerated. The members of the council realize this, and it is probable that decisive steps will be taken at tonight's meeting. The men continue to receive substantial encouragement and support. At a meeting of the Balmoral Club the following resolution was unani-mously adopted: "Whereas the members of the Amalgamated Association of Street Railway Employes of this city, have seen fit to strike against the unjust demands of the London Street Railway Company and management; be it resolved that we, the members of the Balmoral Club pledge our hearty support, both morally and financially to the striking men, and be it further resolved that we will not ride on the cars, and will do all in our power to induce others not to ride a satisfactory settlement is Judging from their action towards their men. we are led to believe that their souls are withered and that their bowels of compassion are dried up. We do hereby pledge ourselves to help the striking employes, both morally and financially, by a grant of $50. pledge ourselves and our families not to ride on the cars so long as the strike lasts."

The Toronto Street Railway Employes' Benefit Society has affiliated with the Amalgamated Association and is now known as Division No. 113. At the mayor's request the men's committee will meet Mr. Thomas Smallman at 5 p.m. today, at the mayor's office.

After the last strike settlement, it is now thought there was a little too much gush. After the next settlement, the gush business will no doubt be postponed.

It is not likely that any purposed pretext of the strike being now under discussion elsewhere, will be allowed to prevent a free expression at tonight's City Council.

Michigan Central Freight House at Toledo Burned-Loss over $300,000.

Toledo, O., June 27.—At noon yester-day fire entirely destroyed the Michigan Central freight house, partially destroy the Cincinnati, Hamilton and Dayton freight warehouse, burned 100 loaded cars, the aggregate loss amounting to over $300,000, a very small part of which is covered by insurance. The blaze started near the office of the Michigan Central and it spread quickly to every part of the freight building, enveloping the place in a mass of flames before the fire department could be reached. A heavy wind swept the burning embers across the canal, and by the time the fire apparatus reached the scene a solid wall of flame was rising on each side of the water. After it was evident the warehouse would be destroyed a hundred men began to get the loaded freight cars out of the way, but the heat was so intense it was per-ilous work. More than a hundred cars were saved, but as many more, filled with every kind of goods, were burned. The freight was nearly all coming to this city. The steamer Valentia, which was at port waiting to be loaded, was saved from the flames, but a steam dredge, valued at $15,000, was destroyed. A large number of small buildings near the freight houses were burned. The Michigan Central freight house was a new building and filled with outgoing goods, as was the warehouse of the C. H. and D. A train load of cedar posts was entirely destroyed on the C. H. and D. tracks. Two men were seriously injured, Thos. Hennessey and James McGowan. The dock for several hundred feet is ruined and will cost thousands of dollars to replace.

DYEA THE DESERTED

Interesting Letter From a Londoner

in Alaska. These extracts are from letters received from Mr. F. W. Herring, a Londoner, who, with a party of nine, reached Lake Bennett, Alaska, April 28, via Dyea and the Chilcoot Pass:

Dyea is completely deserted, owing to Skaguay getting all the freight rush, there being no railway at Dyea. One hotel stand, for which last year at this time the manager was offered $25,000, is now used as a stable for horses. One can look into many houses and see them filled with goods, but the doors and windows are all boarded up, and they are deserted. Skaguay is a muchalive town. It being next to impossible to get even half-way accommodation, one does not tarry there long. We walked over the Chilcoot Pass on our way to Bennett, April 26, and found everything looking about as it did last year, with one exception-no rush, and very little excitement. At the time of writing, May 8, crowds are rushing to Atlin, which place is 70 miles from here. We may take a run over in a day or two if the weather should clear. There is still lots of snow order for their execution was given to settled, as it snows, sleets or rains an engraver by two Chinese. visible sign of the lakes breaking up. Mr. Herring's latest letter was dated Bennett, May 26, and just received a day or two ago. He writes: The ice in the lakes is getting very thin, and we expect to sail on the 29th. We have our scows built, and everything in readiness to start the moment we consider it safe after the ice breaks up. The crowd is small, and consists mostly of business men, either returning with goods, or making their first trip to Alaska with all sorts of merchandise. We celebrated the 24th right royally, and I very much doubt whether you had prettier or more profuse decora-tions at home. We had the usual games and sports, and had it not been for the snow and ice, which is yet to be seen, one could almost imagine oneself back in Ontario. JESSAMINE.

She stopped midway across the bridge: leaned over the parapet with locked hands and rigid features; stared down upon the shining black ice-still not feeling the cold-and tried to answer the question thrust upon her. Why had she made no fight to save the character of him for whom she had once declared herself willing to die? "How dared they?" she had mutter-ed between her teeth, in leaving Judge Provost's portico. On the bridge she spoke again—a hoarse whisper it hurt her throat to sibillate.

"If this be true!" she said, letting her clasped hands fall upon the stone wall. There was a livid bruise on both, when she removed her gloves that evening, but she had not felt is when it was

Had then her belief in her lover's integrity succumbed to the weight of the first doubt cast upon it in her presence? Were her faith and her love made of such filmsy stuff as to be torn into wretched rags by a single gale? If these were ever well-founded, must not the inroads of distrust have been gradual in order to be effectual? Had suspicion and forebodings visited her before today? been harbored, but not recognized? If so, what were the grounds for doubts and fears?

"If it be true," she repeated, with a desolate moan, "there is no help for me in earth or in heaven! I can never trust or love again!" Someone was coming on behind her with quick steps, which echoed loudly on the icy planks, as she walked on hastily. Her first unwise impulse was to increase her speed in the hope of getting away from the intruder, whoever he might be. But finding, on reaching the opposite shore, that he gained on her, she slackened her pace to let him pass. She would be the sooner alone and unobserved if she allowed him to go on. It was only a chance wayfarer, of course, but she would shun all eyes, idle or searching, while her brain was in such a whirl, her heart rent and quaking. She detested nothing in the footfall, but she did remark, with a sense of irritation, that it was more deliberate in nearing her. Did the unseen pursuer mean to Annoyance was exchanged momentarily for active alarm; the angry blood welled to her face and head in one mighty throb, as a hand touched her elbow, before her persecutor had breath to accost her.

It was Orrin Wyllys' voice that said, laughingly, "Is it Atlanta, or swift Camilla scouring the plain, whom I have chased for the last ten minutes? What are you running away from? "The Furies!"

"It suits me better, then." He waited a minute more, and with gentle force, undid her hand from its hold upon its fellow, and drew it within his arm.

"I see that my society is unwelcome, Jessie, but it is not right for you to be so far from home at this time of day without a protector. I shall not com-pel your confidence. When you are ready to give it my sympathies or my services are at your command, as they have always been since I became your guardian in the absence and with the sanction of my cousin."

The hot sparkle was ablaze as she looked un.

'Yes, and you, too, must have known it. You, who pretend to be my friend. My trust has been blind and foolish throughout. You were ready enough to counsel and warn me about other things; why did you never tell me of Roy Fordham's former engagement? of the love affair (save the mark!) that clashed with mine? You have said again and again that you respected me -that my happiness was of value in your estimation; did not respect or humanity urge you to spare me this bitter Unaffectedly amazed though he was at the onslaught and the information she imparted, Orrin yet refrained from explicit denial.

"Who has been talking to you?" he asked, instead. She dashed through the story in the same impetuous strain, ending it with, "He ought to have told me this, and so ought you. I can forgive anything but deliberate deception.' Orrin mused.

'You are excited," he began slowly. She interrupted him: "Who would not be? I am not a stone."

man with a heart would experience in the circumstances. But let us investigate before we condemn. What is your ground of complaint against my friend and your betrothed? Did he ever tell you that you were his first and only love?"

"I do not know that he asserted it in so many words," she replied, with a vivid blush; "but I certainly inferred as much from what he had said."

"Every woman's inference is the same when she listens to a declaration of affection. Who but a fool would preface such a confession of how many times he had rehearsed it to other ears? Few men reach the age of 25 without having had two or three grandes passions. I do not maintain, as a gentleman did once in my hearing, when taxed with being engaged in his fortieth love suit, that in this, as in most other things, practice makes perfect; but I hold that you cannot accuse Roy of deceiving you, unless he has declared expressly that he never loved or wooed until he met you. Happy are those who are not visited by the ghost of bygone—and, as they deemed, buried—affections upon their bridal eves! Ghosts that are hard enough to lay, as many a miserable

If Roy Fordham once loved -if he still regrets this girl-has one pang of compunction in the review of her fidelity and her sorrow; if he repents, never so slightly, his relinquishment of her upon insufficient cause-he shall go back to her. I will have a whole heart, or I will quit him, a pauper in in love. Divided allegiance is worse than desertion."

"Be assured of one thing," returned Orrin, emphatically. "Roy Fordham regrets' no past action of his own. His judgment is as calm as his measures are decided. But should he, nevertheless, discover from subsequent developments, that he was mistaken, he would recall affections and troth without weak hesitation. And, if so, did he cast her off upon the barbarous pretext Hester Sanford named? I have tried to think it all out," she continued, putting her hand to her head, like one dazed or stunned, "but nothing is fixed or clear. He was at the seashore two summers ago after he visited Dundee. He did go to B— the following winter—twice—both times to attend the weddings of friends, he told me. These things he made no secret of. Paine's Celery Compound.

IT RESTORED HIM TO NEW HEALTH WHEN ALL OTHER MEDICINES

It is everywhere admitted that the people who testify to the health-giving and restoring virtues of Paine's Celery Compound are men and women who are respected and well-known in the towns and cities where they reside. The high standing of Paine's Celery Compound with the most prominent medical men, and its world-wide popularity, is due to the fact that the great medicine accomplishes just what it promises. It saves life after all other medicines fail; it cures when doctors ronounce the patient incurable. Mr. John H. Brown, Trure, N. S., writes as follows:

"I am truly thankful for the good results I have obtained from your Paine's Celery Compound. For a long time I have been a sufferer from general debility and indigestion, and have made use of many medicines, but none have given me the grand results, as far as improved health is concerned, as has your wonderful Paine's Celery Compound. It has done wonders for me, and though I am 65 years old I have been able to do light work for the past six months, and have not lost a day. I give your medicine all the I give your medicine all the credit for my restoration."

Hop Ale, or Beer?-An Expert Will De cide-Police Court Notes.

There was a large grist at the police court mill this morning. A big, gentlelooking greyhound was responsible for one of the most interesting cases. Robert E. Clisdell, president of the People's Coal Company, claimed a dog in the possession of Mr. Pearce, of Montreal, as his property. Mr. Clisdell said he bought the dog from Joseph Mitcheltree, butcher, some years ago, and about a year ago it was lost or stolen from him. Mr. Pearce, who is a well-known and wealthy Montreal horseman, was stopping at the Boswell House here, and had the dog with him. Mr. Clisdell happened to pass the hotel and saw the animal, which he claims to have recognized as his at once. He went and got Mr. Mitcheltree, who also recognized the dog as the one he had sold Mr. Clisdell. Mr. Pearce aid he had purchased the dog from a Montreal hotel-keeper. He was taken completely by surprise when told that Mr. Clisdell claimed the animal. The dog is a handsome, well-bred greyhound, and is very valuable. The case was sent to the civil court. In the meantime the dog will stop at the

DETERMINED TO HAVE A WHEEL

Angus Bradt Forged His Emyleyer's Name to a Note.

Angus Bradt, who was charged with fraud, was up before Judge William Elliot this morning. Bradt pleaded guilty to having signed the name of his employer to a note in order to secure a bicycle. Some time ago Bradt went to the store of A. G. Wright & Co., Strathroy, and asked them to accept his note for a $45 bicycle. This the firm refused to do, but informed him if he would get the signature of the man he was working for, Mr. S. B. Jones, to the note, they would accept the same. Bradt went away, and returned later with Mr. Jones' name signed to the note, and secured the wheel, which he afterwards tried to dispose of in Sarnia. Mr. Jones never saw the note nor knew what had transpired until the note was presented for pay-ment. Bradt is about 18 years of age. Both his parents are in the Strathroy House of Refuge. The youth always bore a good reputation previous to this offense. Bradt was remanded till Friday morning for sentence.

COST OF THE CAMP

$38,000 for the Soldiers at Camp Niagara.

It will take $38,000 to pay the different corps for Niagara camp, not including the money the government will have to supply for transportation, says the Mail and Empire. As soon as the bank men arrive at the wharf they are met by the district paymaster and escorted to a carriage by two or three armed sergeants, the money and the men are driven then to the paymaster's office, where the cash is deposited in the old-fashioned vault. It is certainly an antiquated safe, having to be opened with two large keys to the locks, which are placed, one in the upper part of the iron door and one below. These keys look like those which might be used in London tower, and look more wonderful than most of those supplied to the turnkey of the county jails of Ontario. Col. Graveley, the good raconteur that he is, laughingly tells visitors that these keys were made by Louis XV., who was a great locksmith before he had the missourtune to have his head chopped off, at which time he quit the locksmith business. When the money is again taken out of the vault it takes about $1,100 of it to settle with a single battalion, and something like $1,400 to satisfy the desire for filthy lucre which each battery has.

San Francisco, June 27 .- A special to the Call from Nevada City, Cal., says: Mrs. Norval Douglas, of San Francisco, has received a letter saying that her son -Harry Douglas-with 25 picked miners from California, who left on June 2 of last year for Siberia, have perished from privation and cold. It is stated the party went to Siberia under the contract of a New York company, intending to be gone three years.

FULL OF IDLE MEN. San Francisco, Cal. June 27.-Eight miners have just reached here from Alaska with $250,000, the result of two years' digging within 20 miles of Dawson. One of them, W. H. There will be a fairly good clean-up this year around Daw-son, but it will belong to ten times as many men as last year's output." TERRIBLE COUNTRY TO GET INTO

Seattle, Wash., June 27.—Charles Osborne, of San Francisco, who arrived here yesterday from Dawson, claims to have found a rich placer ground at the headwaters of McMillan River. The Countess of Aberdeen, president of the council, in her address, after cordial words of welcome, sketched the auties of the council. She said international arbitration should ever be placed foremost in its programme, advocated the establishment of an international bureau of information regarding what affects women, and warned women against arrogating to themselves alone the duties of curing all evils, saying:

"It may be well to have unions of mothers, but do the fathers count so little in the home that their counsel is not needed? The redemption can only be compassed by men and women joining hands and making common cause in every department of life."

In conclusion, the Countess of Aberdeen deprecated the idea usually formed about women's congresses, that they were bent upon devising plans whereby women might be emancipated from home duties, saying: "This congress holds fast to the belief that woman's first mission must be her home."

Lady Aberdeen afterward introduced Mrs. Mary Wright Sewall, of the United States, vice-president of the council, who was enthusiastically received as a possible successor to the presidency. A delegation of Chinese women was next introduced, and afterwards Lady Aberdeen presented rep-resentatives of the twenty-six nations, among them Miss Susan B. CHALMERS GARDEN PARTY.

A successful garden party was given by the Christian Endeavor Society of Chalmers Church last evening, on the church grounds, at the corner of Waterloo and Grey streets. The grounds, beautifully illuminated for the occasion, were crowded, and in the arrangements for the pleasure and comfort of the guests nothing was lacking. Dainty refreshments were served, and an excellent programme carried out. Solos were given by members of the church choir and outside talent. Several clergymen and others gave short addresses. The gramaphone was in evidence, and contributed largely to the evening's enjoyment. The flower girls did a thriving business.

STRIKES FARMERS

In Order to Steal From Them-A Young Man to Beware Of.

Wm. Beckitt, a farmer, residing at lot 4, con. 2, London township, had a revolver and $5 in cash stolen from his house yesterday morning by a young man whom he had employed to work for him. The young man called at Beckitt's on Sunday, and asked for something to eat, saying that he was anxious to get a job, when Beckitt fed him and gave him employment.

About 7 o'clock yesterday morning, while Mr. and Mrs. Beckitt were milking the cows, the newly-hired man was seen running across the fields. Beck-itt suspected that something was wrong, and on examining the house found a 38-calibre revolver and $5 cash missing. Beckitt gave chase, but the thief had too good a start, and got away.

He is described as an Englishman, 19 or 20 years of age, clean shaven, b feet seven inches in height, and of stout build. He wore a soft felt hat. Detectives Ward and Northgraves were notified, but have failed to locate their man as yet.

Detective Ward, while returning to the city, met Riley Souls, a farmer, who lives near the Meadow Lily Mills. Soules told him that a man answering to the description of the man at Beck-itt's, had called at his place and asked for something to eat on Saturday evening, and stolen $2 50. Ward thinks the same man committed both thefts. The stranger was given a lunch at Soules', and when he (Soules) went outside for a few minutes the strange er had decamped, taking the $2 50 from a table in another room. The stranger told Mr. Beckitt his name was William, and that he had a brother in the Barnardo Home at Stratford.

"Charley" Davis, special agent of the famous Forepaugh-Sells Bros.' Circus Federation, which scored such a sensational triumph at Madison Square Garden, New York, in April, is as full of reminiscences as a union 'bus is of pasengers. Last night, at the Tecumseh House, he regaled a party of congenial spirits with a variegated collection of circus stories. Among them was the tale of the fierce struggle between the old Forepaugh show and the aggregation of Phineas T. Barnum and James A. Bailey, during the season of 1884. This campaign has been dubbed the "White Elephant War," by the circus people. To quote the veteran Da-

"It will be remembered each show possessed a 'Sacred White Elephant of Siam.' Not content with its possession each endeavored with tigerlike ferocity to discredit the genuineness of the elephant of the other. All the other attractions were lost sight of in the advertisements calling attention to the 'Sacred elephant,' attended by a retinue of Siamese priests.' Each management expended thousands of dollars in efforts to establish the genuineness of his animal and to disprove the claims of the other. It was without doubt the hottest circus fight that ever came off in this country. No agent who participated in it will ever forget it. It was a case of work night and day for six months. At the close of the season of '84, the public had become fatigned with the fight, and the up-to-date managers immediately suppressed their more or less sacred pachyderms, and a number of prayer-chanting Siamese priests were minus their jobs. "Notwithstanding the fact that the story of the death, by the pneumonia route, of the Forepaugh white elephant in November, '84, was telegraphed all over the country, and generally believed, that very volatile and versatile animal is still with the troupe. The winter following his extinguishment as a sacred elephantine deity, he was taught to do a boxing act with his trainer, big, black 'Eph' Thompson-a very remarkable negro, by the way, who is now running a circus of his own in Germany. Thompson renamed the elephant John L. Sullivan in honor of the Boston bay, and by that name he known for several years, until the novelty of the thing wore off with him, and he began landing knock-out blows in place of the gentle taps he was sup-

CREDITABLE APPEARANCE

Made by the Seventh Battalion in the Route March Last Night-Ready for the Inspection.

Thousands of citizens turned out last night to see the Seventh Battalion on the occasion of its last route march of the season, and all along the route compliments were flying. The common verdict was that the regiment was improving rapidly. It had never before made such a creditable appearance. The men all had new uniforms and the Oliver equipment. In view of their short training, their marching revealed aptness and military enthusiasm. It was remarkably good, and there is every promise of the Seventh soon being one of the finest regiments of the Dominion. At the head of the battalion was the bicycle signal corps; the brass and bugle bands followed. It is impossible to say too much in praise of the Seventh Band. Their playing last night won loud salvos of applause all along the line. The time, harmony and volume were admirable. Following the band marched the medical corps and the companies. Lieut.-Col. Smith, the commanding officer, Major Little, Major Cronyn and Adjutant McCrimmon were mounted.

The High School Cadets, a detached corps of the Seventh, brought up the rear, and won the admiration of the spectators by their soldierly bearing. They are a finely-built and well-trained lot of boys. First Lieut. W. Somerville was in command.

On returning to the drill shed Lieut .-Col. Smith addressed the men and expressed his gratification at the way they had turned out. The battalion had done remarkably well all things considered. Col. Otter will inspect the battalion early next month.
