EASTERN UKRAINE IN CONTROL OF BOLSHEVIK FORCES

800 WINNIPEG RETURNED SOLDIERS PRESENT DEMANDS TO PREMIER NORRIS

SUPREME COUNCIL REFERS THE GREEK PROBLEM TO A SPECIAL COMMISSION

WINNIPEG RETURNED SOLDIERS 800 STRONG PARADE TO GOVT. BUILDINGS TO PRESENT DEMANDS

Premier Norris in Reply to Men Declares He Is in Accord With Their Attitude and Will Discharge Any Enemy Aliens If Found in Employ of Provincial Government.

Winnipeg, Feb. 4.—Eight hundred returned soldiers paraded to the Legislative Buildings last night and demanded that Premier Norris and his Government state their position clearly on the question of the deportation of aliens. The one engrossing theme was the enemy alien and the demand that he be denied employment here and be deported back home to his own country.

At the conclusion of the addresses outlining the soldiers' demands, Premier Norris told them that he agreed heartily with them and fully sympathized with them in their attitude. It was probable, he said, that the question of the deportation of aliens would have to be settled by the peace conference. The premier added that there were no enemy aliens in the employ of the Manitoba Government, so far as he knows, but if there were any, he would see that they were immediately routed out.

WILSON EULOGIZES FRANCE IN SPEECH ON WORLD SOCIETY

U.S. President Tells Why That Country So Warmly Welcomes Idea.

RECEIVES APPLAUSE

Address in Chamber of Deputies Heard by Noted Personages.

Paris, Feb. 4.—President Wilson last evening delivered an address in the Chamber of Deputies, having as auditors President Poincare, the presidents of the Chamber and the Senate and large numbers of members of both houses of Parliament and the personnel of the French cabinet.

The president was accompanied to the Palais Bourbon by President Poincare, who called for him at the Murat Mansion. Premier Clemenceau and M. Dubost, speaker of the Senate, also were in the party.

Mrs. Wilson, Mme. Poincare and Mme. Deschanel had seats in the presidential gallery, while the diplomatic section was filled with many distinguished personages, including members of the peace conference, among them David Lloyd George, the British prime minister; Arthur J. Balfour, the British foreign secretary, and Secretary of State Lansing.

Received With Applause.

In his address, which was received with tremendous applause, President Wilson said: "France still stands at the frontier. France still stands in the presence of those threatening and unanswered questions, threatening because unanswered, stands waiting for the solution of matters which touch her directly and intimately and constantly, and if she must stand alone which must she do, she must put upon her people a constant burden of taxation. She must undergo sacrifices that may become intolerable.

"And not only she, but the other nations of the world must do the like. They must be ready for any terrible incident of injustice. The thing is not inconceivable.

France's Prophetic Vision.

"The rulers of the world have been thinking of the relations of governments and forgetting the relations of peoples. They know that the only way to do this is to make it certain that the same thing will not always happen that has happened this time, that there never shall be any doubt or waiting or surmise, but that whenever France or any free people is threatened the whole world will be ready to vindicate its liberty.

"It is for that reason I take it, that I find such a warm and intelligent enthusiasm in France for the society of nations—France with her keen vision, France with her prophetic vision.

"It is for that reason I take it, that I find such a warm and intelligent enthusiasm in France for the society of nations—France with her keen vision, France with her prophetic vision.

"It seems to be not only the need of France, but the need of mankind, and France sees the sacrifices which are necessary for the establishment of the society of nations are not to be compared with the constant dread of another catastrophe, falling on the fair cities and areas of France."

President Wilson was given an unusual reception by Socialist members of the Chamber. They tried to drown the applause from the centre and the right in an apparent attempt to show Mr. Wilson that his ideas were their own. When Capt. Mantoux, the official interpreter, who translated President Wilson's address, reached that part of the speech in which Mr. Wilson spoke of the society of nations, the Socialists arose, shouting: "Long live the society of nations," someone adding: "Down with war."

Sees Light of Future.

Paul Deschanel who opened the sitting, said of the plan for the society of nations: Across the chasm of blood and darkness, we see the light of the future. We believe that if the Entente, instead of being formed slowly under the pressure of peril and under the necessities of the moment in the shock of battles, could have been instituted long before at The Hague, Germany would never have dared to declare war upon us. We believe that the thirty states which broke relations with Germany must be the nucleus of a society of nations. We shall continue with all our strength and all our heart to prevent a return to barbarism and to maintain our dear and illustrious friendship which shall be no less fruitful in peace than it has been war.

SINN FEIN LEADER IS REPORTED TO HAVE MADE HIS ESCAPE

London, Feb. 4.—A report was current this morning that Professor Edward De Valera, the Sinn Fein leader, had escaped from his place of internment in England. No confirmation of the report was obtainable up to noon.

REGISTERED MAIL BURNS WHEN FAST TRAIN TAKES FIRE

Pittsburg, Pa., Feb. 4.—Fire, starting in a fast mail train speeding toward Pittsburg, from Philadelphia, destroyed a car loaded with mail for Chicago and badly damaged another bound for Indianapolis at Pitcairn, 20 miles east of here this morning. The cars are said to have carried registered mail valued at many thousands of dollars.

RUSSIAN GRAND DUKE SAYS RUSSIA MUST BE SAVED BY ALLIES

Warns Entente Nations That Germany Will Step In If Given Chance.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The former Grand Duke Alexander Michaelovitch, brother-in-law of the former Russian emperor, who has arrived in Paris, as he declares, "not for political purposes, but to make known the truth about Russia," says in an interview in the Matin that the Allies must beware of Germany in Russia.

"France has every reason to save Russia," he declared. "If you do not intervene now, be sure that Germany will intervene in her own time. Beware of Germany! That people which is now at your mercy hides within itself a hate which will find its first revenge in Russia. A league of nations or a society of peoples is much talked of. It remains to be seen if the nations will not have dealt themselves a mortal blow by hesitating too long to cleanse the Russian sore, which threatens to contaminate the whole world."

POLES AND CZECHS MUST NOT OCCUPY DISPUTED LANDS

Peace Conference Issues a Pointed Warning to Leaders of Both Parties.

Paris, Monday, Feb. 3.—Polish and Czech leaders have been given a pointed warning by the peace conference not to occupy disputed territory in the province of Teschen, Austrian Silesia, according to an official bulletin issued tonight. The bulletin reads: "Owing to the conflict between the Poles and Czechs at Teschen resulting in the occupation of the Ostrau-Karwin mining district and the railroad from Oderburg to Teschen and Jablunkau by the Czechs the great powers have declared it necessary to remind the nationalities who have agreed to submit territorial questions to the peace conference that they must refrain from occupying contested territory."

AT FUNERAL OF ZEPPELIN CONQUEROR

Advertiser Illustrations —London Daily Mirror Service.

At the funeral of Capt. Leefe Robinson, V. C., the airman who brought down the first zeppelin on British soil. A squadron of aeroplanes flew over Harrow Weald as the body of the dead hero was conveyed to the cemetery, and a large number of people gathered to pay a last tribute to the first conqueror of the invading zeppelins. Photo shows the funeral procession on its way to the cemetery at Harrow Weald, where the late Capt. Robinson was borne to rest.

ENGLAND SUFFERED MOST FROM U-BOAT AUTROCITIES; WOULD WELCOME ABOLITION OF SUBS

Fifteen Thousand British Men, Women and Children Were Assassinated at Sea, While 9,000,000 Tons of Shipping Were Sunk by Undersea Craft.

London, Feb. 4.—Referring to a report received from Paris by the way of New York that the American plan for assuring freedom of the seas includes the restricted use or abolition of the submarine, the Daily Telegraph says: "The submarine campaign was aimed at this country, we suffered worse than all the other nations combined. There is danger that this fact may be overlooked. Besides ships, we lost cargoes valued at hundreds of millions of pounds sterling, while 15,000 British men, women and children were assassinated at sea.

England's Losses.

"As we made no special representations on this subject there has been a tendency to suggest that we emerged from this piracy rather well off. Let it be remarked once more that 9,000,000 tons of our shipping lie at the bottom of the sea. We are more interested than any community in the proposal for the abolition of the submarine. It would be misleading to claim that naval opinion is unanimous in this matter, but a large body of naval opinion, and even a larger proportion of statesmen on both sides of the Atlantic favor the abolition of the U-boat.

Abolish Them Completely.

"It is not sufficient that the peace conference shall mark by a resolution its abhorrence of the enemy's acts, if the world is to be safe for democracy something more than a declaration as to the limits within which submarines may be employed must be made, for as long as submarines exist they may be misused. It must be stigmatized as a crime to build submarines and power must be secured to punish any nation which again embarks on this kind of naval construction.

Belmore Woman Dies Aged 104 and Is Buried Beside Husband Under Tree She Planted in 1876

Mrs. Katherine Baker, One of Oldest Women in Canada, Retained All Her Faculties Until the End—Had Seen Six Wars and Lived in Reigns of Six Sovereigns.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Belmore, Feb. 4.—One of the oldest inhabitants of Canada passed away in Belmore recently in the person of Mrs. Katharine Baker. At the time of her death, Mrs. Baker was 104 years of age, having been born on August 15, 1815, in the reign of George III. She made it her proud boast that she had lived under six sovereigns—George III, George IV, William IV, Victoria, Edward VII and George V.

She is survived immediately by three daughters—Mrs. J. Irwin of Saskatoon, Mrs. L. Johnston and Mrs. T. McGlynn of Drayton, North Dakota, and three sons—J. Baker and Con. Baker of Belmore, and P. H. Baker of Wingham. She is also survived by a great many grandchildren and great-grandchildren.

She Planted Shade.

The funeral, which took place recently to MacIntosh Cemetery, Belmore, was largely attended. It is interesting to note that she was laid to rest alongside her husband, beneath an old elm tree, the last surviving one of seven, planted there by her own hand in 1876. The pallbearers were W. A. Finlater, J. Lane, W. Ferguson, J. Fleming, T. Ingles and P. Heckney, the Rev. N. R. D. Sinclair conducting the service. Mrs. Baker has always been a staunch Presbyterian.

The deceased spent her early life in the County of Waterloo, where she was born. At that time oxen were used for driving, and it was not until many years later that Mrs. Baker rode in a horse carriage. Only five weeks before her death she had her last ride in the modern automobile. All the clothing used in her girlhood was manufactured in her home.

Married at Sixteen.

At the age of sixteen she married the late Jacob Baker, although this did not necessitate a change of name, as her maiden name was Baker. After living for some years in Waterloo, the young couple moved into Huron County and settled in the Township of Howick, taking up the business of farming and tilling the soil with oxen. Whenever they wanted flour, Mr. Baker was compelled to carry a bag of his own wheat on his back to the mill at Seaforth, a distance of 26 miles, crossing the Maitland River by means o. logs which had fallen over it. In those days there were no bridges.

Later Mr. and Mrs. Baker migrated to the village of Belmore, where she remained for over 50 years. Mr. Baker died in the year 1875.

Outlived Three Children.

After his death, she continued living with her family of ten children—seven girls and three boys, all of whom grew to manhood and womanhood. Three of her children, who died before her, had attained the great ages of 65, 75 and 80 years.

Mrs. Baker was keenly interested in everything up to the time of her death. It was her special boast that she had lived through several great wars—the Crimean war, Soudan war, Boer war, Spanish-American war, Northwest Rebellion and Fenian Raid—and for this reason took special interest in the last great war, which was ended before her death.

Her Hobbies.

Her chief hobbies were sewing and gardening. Up to the time of her death she had made over 100 log cabin quilts from patches, and only last summer, in spite of her advanced age, she was seen working about the garden. Her hearing was excellent until the end, but for the last few months her eyesight had failed considerably. Up to the last few days, she continued to make her bed, help prepare the meals and wash the dishes. Only once during her lifetime had she ever found it necessary to call in a doctor, so excellent was her health. She remained conscious until the very last, calling her relatives about her bedside.

SPARTACANS SEIZE GOVT. BUILDINGS IN KOENIGSBERG

Governor of East Prussia Declares State of Siege in Thorn District.

Copenhagen, Feb. 4.—A majority of the Government buildings in Koenigsberg, East Prussia, have been seized by Spartacans from Berlin. The governor of East Prussia has declared a state of siege in the Thorn district and instituted court-martial.

WALKING TO WORK IN EARLY HOURS IS POPULAR IN LONDON

Strike of Tube Employees Continues To Cause Inconvenience.

London, Feb. 4.—Profiting by its experience on Monday when the city awoke to find transportation hampered by the strike in the tubes, London started early to work today. By daybreak the streets were well filled with men and women walking from the suburbs and the 'buses, when they started at 7 o'clock were crowded. Almost everyone carried a tube striker, who was urging the girl conductress to strike, but up to the present these efforts have been without success.

The Mansion House station, the most important in the business section of the city was not open at 7:50 o'clock this morning. It is usually a height of activity at that hour, discharging early workers from the outlying parts of London.

The strike of the waiters in the West End hotels has been only partially successful. While some waiters remained at their tasks, many failed to appear this morning. Breakfasts were served after a fashion, however, and hoteliers declare they will fight the strike, and that they are organizing new forces.

The London District Railway was completely shut down this morning, for, although all the drivers did not join the strike, the staff at the power plant which supplies the current for the lines went out at an early hour, without giving any reason for its action. As this line, which has a circular route, as well as many radial lines, carries thousands of passengers to all parts of the metropolis, the traffic situation became more serious than ever. Many motor lorries and virtually every other class of vehicle were requisitioned for the emergency, but despite this there were not nearly enough accommodations for those who desired to move about the city. As another result of the shutting down of the power station, some of the street cars on the Surrey side of the Thames, which get their current from the station, were compelled to stop running.

LIGHT BREAKFASTS WERE RULE IN LONDON DUE TO HOTEL HELP STRIKE

London, Feb. 4.—Thousands of Londoners, who, because of the shortage of domestic help during the war had become hotel dwellers, either went without breakfast this morning or were compelled to be satisfied with a cup of tea or coffee and a slice of bread. This situation was the result of the strike of hotel workers which has partially broken up the kitchen staffs and the table service in the largest hotels of the west end of this city. The kitchen staffs, which are largely made up of foreigners, demand an eight-hour day and a 25 per cent increase in wages. The waiters demand the abolition of the system under which their tips are pooled and dividing, with a commission on the takings deducted. They also demand a minimum wage of £2 weekly for women and £3 for men.

It is declared by the hotelmen that they will not submit to the strikers' demands, and that new forces for their establishments are being recruited.

BOLSHEVIK FORCES ARE IN CONTROL OF EASTERN UKRAINE

London, Feb. 4.—Bolshevist forces are now masters of almost the whole of Eastern Ukraine, including the important centres of Kharkov, Poltava, Ekaterinoslav and the Konetz mining region, according to a Helsingfors dispatch to the Mail. It is reported that a Soviet Government has been established at Kharkov, the president being M. Rakovsky, one of the signatories to the Brest-Litovsk treaty with Germany.

GREECE'S CLAIMS TO BE REFERRED TO COMMISSION

Experts Will Make Recommendations For a Just Settlement.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The supreme council at its meeting today agreed that questions in the statement of Premier Venizelos concerning Greek territorial interests in the peace settlement should be referred to a commission of experts whose duty it would be to make recommendations for a just settlement.

The commission will be composed of two representatives each from the United States, the British Empire, France and Italy. At the session at which agreement on Greek territorial claims was reached and which was held at the foreign office as usual, the commission about to start for Poland was received for a final discussion of the situation. Afterward Premier Venizelos continued his presentation of the Greek case, particularly concerning the zone along western Asia Minor.

BRITISH GOVT. FACES COMPLEX PROBLEMS OF RECONSTRUCTION

Heavy Program of Work in Sight for New Parliament.

SPEAKER IS RE-ELECTED.

London, Feb. 4.—The new British Parliament elected last December held its first session today. James W. Lowther was re-elected speaker. None of the Sinn Feiners elected to Parliament from Ireland appeared at the opening session. Apparently the much-discussed question of whether the Independent Liberals or the Laborites were to be the official Opposition has been settled by a compromise, as both William Adamson, the Labor leader, and Donald McLean, the newly-elected chairman of the Asquithian Liberals sat on the front Opposition bench with their chief lieutenants.

London, Feb. 4.—A heavy program of work faced the new Parliament at its opening session today. After the formality of swearing in the members of the new House of Commons, Speaker Lowther was to be re-elected.

Financial problems and measures concerning social and industrial reconstructions were expected to be among the first things buckled by the House. The budget, which will be a subject of great importance, probably will be taken up after the Easter recess. The Government, it is understood, will propose the establishment of several new Government departments. Four new ministries have been planned British armies of occupation. Measures are being prepared by the Government to prevent dumping and to restrict immigration.

FRENCH AND GERMAN SOCIALISTS ENGAGE IN WORDY BATTLE

Teuton Delegate at Berne Declares Britain's "Hunger Blockade" Killed 700,000 Persons.

Berne, Feb. 4.—A violent rehtorical duel between the French and German Socialists with many reciprocal reproaches and accusations marked the second sitting last night of the international Labor and Socialist conferences. The French side of the debate was in the hands of Pierre Renaudel, Albert Thomas and M. Mistral.

Otto Wels, the former military commander of Berlin, defended the German position, and said that the German Socialists already had settled the question of responsibility for the war in having taken all power from the princes and kings. Wels accused Great Britain of having killed 700,000 German women, children and old men by the "hunger blockade." He said the exclusion of the German Socialists would impede the reconstruction of the Internationale. Kurt Eisner, the Bavarian premier, was the first speaker on the program for today.

GLASGOW STRIKERS RETURNING TO WORK

London, Monday, Feb. 3.—The situation at Glasgow showed further improvement today. Though none of the strikers at the Fairfield shipbuilding yards resumed work, fully sixty per cent of the strikers at the Cathcart engineering works and a number at the Linthouse shipyard returned to work. This afternoon the shipwrights at Govan notified the authoritites they would resume work tomorrow morning if protection for them could be provided.

It is understood that the impression prevails among the authorities that a small minority brought about the strike at Glasgow.

PEACE TREATY MAY BE SIGNED AT AN EARLY DATE NOW THAT LEAGUE IS AN ASSURED FACT

A. J. Balfour Busy Upon Proposition To Fix the Territorial Boundaries of the Defeated Nations — Some Subjects Must Be Given Immediate Action While Others Can Be Dealt With by World Society.

Paris, Feb. 4.—There is a growing feeling that the treaty of peace should be speedily perfected now that the principle of the society of nations and many of the details of its construction have been agreed upon. Arthur J. Balfour, the British foreign secretary, is engaged upon a proposition to fix the territorial boundaries of the defeated nations at once, and promptly conclude peace with the enemy as so constituted. The program would then be to go on with the settlement of the other questions remaining to be solved under the rules of the society of nations. Even if the effort to secure final action on the society of nations by the peace conference before President Wilson's departure should fail, it is considered by active sponsors of the plan that the ultimate succes of the undertaking has in reality already been assured through the adoption by the full conference, at its second session, of the declaration which solemnly binds the delegations to the creation of such an organization, with the primary object of averting further warfare. They consider that delay in perfecting the form of the covenant would in no wise jeopardize its final adoption.

Include Vital Points Only.

For the present the main effort of the promoters is to keep out all matter from the plan which is not absolutely vital. With an agreement on general principles as has been reached it is held in some quarters that there may be no need to treat specifically such subjects as the use of submarines in warfare, the freedom of the seas the creation of buffer states or even the delimitation of national boundaries with reference to their defensive possibilities.

Some subjects, however, do require immediate consideration, it seems generally agreed. These are subjects such as the assessment of the damages caused by the war, the responsibility for the war, the regulation of the use of international waterways and railways, the difficulties presented by the present state of chaos in the treaty relations between the nations as one result of the war, and treatment of the labor question by international accord. One way of solving these problems which may be adopted would be through the creation of various commissions to work after the final adjournment of the peace conference with full powers to enforce the execution of their decrees.

ERZBERGER HOWLS AT IDEA OF TAKING GERMAN COLONIES

Allied Proposal to Retain Possessions Meets With Loud Protest.

RIGHTS ARE DEMANDED

German Armistice Commissioner Also Objects to the Internationalization Plan.

Basle, Monday, Feb. 3.—Speaking before the Colonial Society at Berlin today, Mathias Erzberger, one of the German armistice commissioners, protested against Germany being deprived of her colonies, according to a dispatch received here from the German capital. He is reported to have said: "If we no longer have troops or arms we have our rights. Depriving Germany of all her colonies would contain a deadly germ for the league of nations, even before that league is born. We understand it has been proposed to internationalize German colonies under the administration of the league of nations. We ought to categorically repel such a proposition, or claim the same treatment for the colonies of all other powers. President Wilson's program gives Germany an inviolable right to her colonial territories."

ARTHUR HENDERSON OPENS SOCIALIST MEETING AT BERNE

Addresses at Conference Are Translated Into Three Different Languages.

Berne, Monday, Feb. 3.—Arthur Henderson, the British Labor leader, opened the Socialist conference here yesterday with a brief address, showing the difficulties he, Samuel Gompers, the president of the American Federation of Labor; Albert Thomas, the French labor leader, and Emil Vandervelde, the Belgian Socialist chief, experienced in arranging the conference at all. He proposed the name of Hjalmar Branting, the Swedish Socialist leader for president. He was elected unanimously.

Branting Elected President.

Hjalmar Branting delivered the presidential address, sometimes in French, and sometimes in German, setting forth the whole situation confronting Socialism in Europe and America before and during the war, and its duties and future prospects. There was applause when the speaker remarked that if the peace conference at Paris "represented the ruling classes he hoped Berne would represent the working class."

The proceedings were monotonous, as all the speeches had to be translated into three official languages.

The absence of a German representative among the Socialist leaders—numbering a dozen—on the official platform was noticeable. No German was appointed on any committee named so far in the conference.

RAILWAY BOARD WILL HEAR MORE EVIDENCE

Ottawa, Feb. 4.—A further hearing by the railway board of the application of the Express Traffic Association of Canada for increased rates will take place at Toronto tomorrow. The board will also consider the proposed increase by the railways in local switching tariffs in regard to which there have been conferences between the representatives of the railways and the business interests affected since the matter was before the commission at Ottawa a fortnight ago.

BOLSHEVIKI FORCE OFFICERS OF OLD RUSSIAN ARMY TO SERVE WITH THEM

Methods Adopted by Reds Accounts for Their Successes.

CAMPAIGN OF TERROR

Families of Military Experts Held as Guarantee of Good Faith.

Archangel, Feb. 3.—Advices to the allied intelligence department reveal some of the methods by which the Bolshevists have been able to organize their army in such a way as to make possible the carrying on of a strong campaign in Northern Russia. The principle of these methods, according to information received from the interior, lies in compelling the generals and staff officers in the old Russian army to serve the Bolshevists by holding their families as hostages for the officers' conduct. Cases have occurred of officers' families being placed under close arrest, the women being treated as badly as the men. The position of former Russian officers in the ranks of the soviet army is extremely difficult. They occupy posts as commanding officers, and are trusted in all technical matters, but in regard to everything else are under constant suspicion, and are controlled by Bolshevist commissioners who are permanently attached to the army, and even control the carrying out of operations.

To Punish Deserters.

Leon Trotzky, the Bolshevist minister of war and maritime affairs, has issued an order that families of officers who desert to the Allies are to be held responsible, and will be prosecuted in some cases. Military experts who have been forced to serve the Bolshevists include some of the best men in field tactics, engineering and ordnance to be found in Central Russia.

General mobilization of soldiers in all districts is being vigorously carried out, and all attempts to avoid service are being severely dealt with. The training of the Bolshevist army is being assisted by special schools of instruction at Petrograd and Moscow for all non-commissioned officers and men belonging to the Bolshevist party. Generally, the army is growing stronger and, although the new troops are far from being reliable, they nevertheless owing to the severe methods which have been adopted form the main strength of Bolshevist power. It is said that this important increase in military strength has been taken by many to indicate that Bolshevist ideas are gaining in favor with the population, but this is by no means true. The majority of the people are anti-Bolshevist, but are afraid to express their opinions. The entire strength of the Bolshevists, it is averred, rests on their institution of Red Terror.

BERNE CONFERENCE IS SCHEME OF HUNS TO RETRIEVE FORTUNES

Representatives of the United States Socialist League Give Out Statement.

Paris, Monday, Feb. 3.—The Berne Socialist conference to which many Socialist bodies in Europe have failed to send representatives is the outcome of a German plan to help Germany retrieve her military defeat and escape the payment of just indemnities, in the belief of Charles Edward Russell and William English Walling, speaking in behalf of the Social Democrat League of the United States. Messrs. Russell and Walling tonight gave out a statement in the name of the league.

QUERIES REGARDING MILITARY SERVICE

Address Your Problems to the Military Editor of The Advertiser and They Will Be Answered From Official Information.

BYRON: Q.—I enlisted in the 133rd Battalion on April 8, 1916, and proceeded with this unit to England, where I was taken sick, and was eventually returned to Canada. I have been taking hospital treatment since my return, and was transferred to the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Commission. I had nearly two years and five months service to my credit, but became medically [illegible] before proceeding to France. Will I receive any of the war service [illegible] as I am now receiving treatment at Byron Sanatorium?

A.—Depends entirely upon the date of your discharge from the service prior to being taken over by the Soldiers' Civil Re-establishment Commission. If you were in the Canadian army on November 11, 1918, you are entitled to 153 days' pay and allowances of rank under the new scale. However, if you were discharged prior to that date you are merely entitled to three months post-discharge pay under the old scale.

A. A.: Q.—1. A soldier enlisted September, 1914, and after serving for some time at the front was returned to Canada recently unfit for further service, having been wounded and gassed. While in Canada under the influence of cocaine, he committed a military offence, and as a result of a court-martial was sentenced to six months at hard labor. Will he forfeit his six months pay on discharge through this act?

2. Is the Government doing anything for the soldiers who have become victims of the drug habit during their service in the war?

A.—1. Regulations under the war service gratuity state no soldier shall be paid any gratuity if he has been charged with ignominy, or has been sentenced to penal servitude by court-martial for two years or more, or discharged with misconduct. Since your query reached this office the soldier in question has been discharged from the service, and if he was not discharged for misconduct or with ignominy, he is entitled to the gratuity according to period of service. Since his sentence was for six months only, it would not come under the two year limit regarding gratuity as above.

2. With regard to the drug habit the following statement has been given to The London Advertiser from military headquarters here: "Possibly the soldier concerned committed his offence while under the influence of cocaine. No such fact, if it was proven to the court-martial, and if it had been proven would not have excused the man. A man cannot lessen his judgment by intoxication, whether with spirituous liquors or drugs, and make that an excuse for crime. The military authorities have no knowledge as to when or where the soldier concerned acquired the drug habit, if he have it, but the method of the military in dealing with dope fiends is the same as that of the civil authorities, namely, they are allowed to carry on their ordinary duties so long as they do so, and if they commit crime they are punished. There is no law, either civil or military, for dealing with them otherwise. This man was released before the expiration of his sentence, and recently discharged from the service."

S. C.: Q.—On March 9, 1916, I enlisted in the 135th Battalion, but on June 22 of the same year was granted by discharge, being unfit for overseas service. The next day I re-enlisted for home service, and was taken on the strength of the 7th Fusiliers Details, from which I was discharged on May 18, 1918, receiving fifteen days' gratuity, being told at the same time that both periods of enlistment did not count as continuous service. I think I ought to have received some money for clothing, as I served at Wolseley Barracks for fourteen months, and my service was over two years.

A.—Since you did not place your letter in the form of a query, it is presumed that you wish to know if your services entitle you to any war service gratuity. Owing to the fact that you were discharged from the service prior to November 11, 1918, and did not serve in "an actual theatre of the war," you are not entitled to any funds from the war service gratuity. On the other hand, it is merely a regulation under the new scale that re-enlistment is counted as continuous service, and this does not apply to soldiers not entitled to the war service gratuity. With regard to clothing allowance, this is a comparatively recent regulation, and was not in effect at date of your discharge, therefore you are not eligible to receive same.

PARKHILL: Q.—If one son of a family has been killed in action, another son in training in England, the father at home having died during the boys' absence, and the mother now left alone, who would I write to to bring him home as soon as possible?

A.—Write to the district intelligence officer, Wolseley Barracks, London, Ont., with full facts of the case, such as regimental numbers, units, etc., of both sons, and the case will receive consideration from the military authorities.

Y. C.: Q.—My husband enlisted in the Canadian army on January 20, 1916, and his battalion left for England August, 1916, and he is still in France. What war service gratuity is he entitled to?

A. His service up to the present counts as two years and less than three years, rendering him eligible to receive on discharge 153 days' pay and allowances of rank held at discharge. He must serve another year (which is unlikely) before this amount will be increased.

SUBSCRIBER: Q.—1. I was ordered to report for service on February 25, 1915, and after two medical boards, was transferred to the Canadian Garrison Regiment. On April 8, 1918, I was granted farm leave, which was extended to August 28, 1918, when I was transferred to the records of the deputy registrar, until men in my category were to be called for service. Am I entitled to a discharge from the service?

2. Am I entitled to the $35 civilian clothing allowance?

3. Am I entitled to my uniform, which was turned in?

4. To whom should I apply for my discharge?

A.—1. Yes.

2. Cases such as the above are dealt with on their individual merits, period of service, date of reporting, etc., being taken into consideration before the civilian clothing allowance is granted. All men reporting for discharge as above are not considered eligible for the allowance, and it rests with the decision reached by the military authorities whether you receive the amount or not. This information was received from military headquarters here recently by The London Advertiser regarding such cases. Further than this no information is available, each case being dealt with as an individual one.

3. No. However, the $10 held back from your account for uniform will be paid you, together with all other money due you on final discharge.

4. Write to your former commanding officer, applying for your release from the service, and instructions for completing discharge will likely be sent to you immediately.

Spendthrift Days of Gas Are Past

THE WEATHER.
Lower Lakes and Georgian Bay—Southeast winds; mild, with occasional light rain; turning colder at night, with strong westerly winds.

Doctor J. B. Garner, a noted chemical engineer, says: "The public are not responsible for the waste of natural gas. They have only been interested in securing clean, efficient fuel at a low figure.

"Producers likewise have been so interested in getting rid of their gas that they have sold it for any and all purposes, even in competition with the cheapest soft coal. Their efforts have been devoted to the sale of gas as a fuel and not to its utilization for processes. It is only in the last few years that the more enterprising producers have interested themselves in the situation and engaged scientific and technical men to undertake a study of these problems."

COUNCIL DECIDES TO INCLUDE COMMISSION GOVT. PROPOSAL IN LONDON'S BILL TO LEGISLATURE

Opposition To Measure Appeared at Meeting—Building Inspector Will Prepare Plans For City Hall on the Spencer Site.

What the city council included in the city of London bill:

Commission form of government.

Debenture issue:

$100,000 for storm sewers.

$36,000 for the waterworks department.

$25,000 for the electrical department.

Repeal of debentures:

$25,000 for laying natural gas main.

$100,000 for soldiers' insurance.

What the council did:

Approved the expenditure of the following moneys:

Pavements, $123,000.

Curbs and gutters, $23,000.

Sidewalks, $10,265.

Surveying West London, $2,000.

Approved the preparation of tentative plans for the erection of a seven-story city hall on the Spencer site.

Deferred action respecting the election of the L. and P. S. R. commissioners by the citizens.

Oppose Commission Government.

Commission form of government and the site of the proposed new city hall called for most of the discussion at the meeting of the city council last night. Ald. C. C. Moorhead, seconded by Ald. C. B. Drake, made a motion to have the commission form of government laid over for further consideration. Ald. Moorhead thought that the importance of the measure demanded this.

He asserted that a form of government approved by all the boards of the city should be submitted to the electors at the next municipal elections.

Referring to the meeting of all the boards last week when there was considerable opposition to the measure he asked if the various boards had been consulted before the present form of commission government had been submitted. He thought that they should have been. He also expressed the opinion that the citizens did not know what they were voting on when they approved the commission form of government as submitted in January. The scheme should not be rushed through. Another objection taken by him was that the ordinary citizen would have little chance of election to any of the several commissions.

Alderman Not Consistent.

Alderman W. A. Wilson thought Alderman Moorhead was not consistent in opposing the expressed will of the people when he had at other times counselled carrying out the wish of the electors. "I am opposed to the scheme, but I will vote for it to be sent to the Legislature," said Ald. Wilson.

Ald. O. I. Cunningham, referring to the meeting of last week, thought the criticism of the measure was all destructive.

Two members of one commission who expressed themselves as against accepting the form of government sanctioned by the people were the same two who not more than two weeks ago appeared before the council to request that they be elected by the people rather than appointed by the council," said Ald. Cunningham. He thought that the two commissioners should be consistent as far as trusting the people is concerned.

Thoroughly Disgusted.

Ald. J. Colbert was thoroughly disgusted with the discussion at the meeting of the boards last week.

"It was most ridiculous," he said. "The two gentlemen referred to by Ald. Cunningham were regular kaisers, and they came to the meeting to knock the proposition out. J. M. Moore has given the subject much thought, and I am willing to back the proposition."

Ald. O. G. Keene thought that as the citizens had voted in favor of the proposition it should be passed on to the Legislature for approval. He was not sure that the scheme would be approved by that body, but it might municipalities demanded a change in the form of government.

Ald. L. S. Holmes did not see why the Legislature should throw the measure out.

On a vote of 6 to 3 the amendment was lost, and the commission form of government was approved for inclusion in the city of London bill.

New City Hall Plans.

Ald. Moorhead also opposed taking any action towards building a new city hall until the federal square should be disposed of in some way. He was backed by Ald. Drake. Ald. Moorhead thought the people should be consulted before changing the site from the federal square for the hall.

Ald. Wilson favored the Spencer site, "even if the mayor is also in favor of it."

Ald. Holmes thought that the citizens did not vote specifically for the federal square as a site for the city hall.

Ald. Cunningham expressed the opinion that the citizens had voted for the Federal square, but conditions had changed. He thought they would vote down the Federal Square scheme today. It was necessary for the work on a new city hall to be commenced this year to provide work.

The amendment was lost, and it was decided to have Inspector A. M. Piper proceed with the plans.

Consider Federal Square.

Regarding the traffic bylaw, Ald. S. R. Manness wanted a clause inserted to protect the doctors from being summoned for exceeding the speed limits when on emergency calls. The bylaw was referred to No. 2 committee.

Mayor C. R. Somerville, with Ald. E. S. Little and Ald. L. S. Holmes, were appointed a committee to confer with Major Hume Cronyn regarding the Federal Square in relation to the Federal Government.

Ald. Wilson asked if the committee would go to Ottawa. He was told that it would not, and that Major Cronyn would be consulted in London.

"I think that it is an insult to Union Government for these three men to be asked to interview one of the members," said Ald. Wilson. "All three opposed the Union Government and supported Laurier at the last election, and they should not be appointed." He suggested that some other names be added to the committee.

Ald. Drake wanted to add that of Ald. Wilson, and suggested that the committee go to Ottawa.

Wouldn't Ride With Mayor.

Ald. Wilson had said that he had business there soon.

"I would not ride in the same train with the mayor and other members of the committee," said Ald. Wilson. He was the only alderman to oppose the appointment when it was put to a vote.

On motion of Ald. Manness and Ald. Keene the council placed itself on record as appreciating the hospitality of the hospital trust in extending an invitation to the aldermen to attend the reception last Friday night. City Clerk S. Baker was instructed to send a copy of the resolution to the hospital trust.

Overhead Bridge.

Ald. Moorhead's motion suggesting a conference with the C. P. R. regarding an overhead bridge at Quebec street crossing, was carried.

On motion of Ald. Holmes and Ald. Cunningham it was decided to place parking signs in the business section of the city for the convenience of auto tourists.

Aldermen Wilson and Drake wanted the account of Constable Northgraves of $1 for taking E. Patton to the hospital, paid. On motion of Alderman Manness it was referred to No. 1 committee.

The report of the municipal coal yard was received and the question of closing it was referred to No. 1 committee. The report showed that the yard would not provide a surplus, but there will be no deficit.

Major C. M. R. Graham asked that the council request the return of W. C. Dodd, who is with the Imperial Army. This was referred to No. 2 committee.

FOREIGNERS SEEK TO GET HOME, BUT FIND IT DIFFICULT

Sailings For Most Countries Are Off.

JEWS FOR PALESTINE

Several Applicants Locally Must Wait Till Boats Start Running.

Foreigners of several nationalities are seeking to leave Canada and return to their native lands at the earliest opportunity. Ever since the armistice was signed there have been a number of aliens applying daily at local ocean steamship ticket offices, but owing to the fact that there are no steamship lines in operation at present between Canada and many of the homelands of these people, and for various other causes, passage has not been obtained by them.

No Asia for Them.

A large percentage of those wishing to get home to Europe and Asia are Russians. At present, according to F. B. Clarke, local steamship ticket agent, they can secure passage on the boats operating between Vancouver and Vladivostok, but as the majority of those applying for passage apparently live in European Russia, they do not wish to land at an Asiatic port, because of the long and somewhat dangerous journey across the thousands of miles of country inhabited by guerilla bands. The European route by way of the Baltic has not been reorganized yet.

Belgian Would Return.

This morning a Belgian who has served four years in the Canadian Expeditionary Force and been discharged, made application for passage to his native land to where he wants to return for business reasons. The Belgian consul at Toronto has said that it was extremely difficult to obtain a passport for Belgium because of the shortage of food in that country, but he has promised to take up the matter. Since the beginning of the war, there has been no steamship connection with Antwerp so that in order to get to Belgium, it is necessary to disembark at Bordeaux, France or Amsterdam, Holland and proceed from there.

Jews For Palestine.

Jews have been applying for passage to Palestine, but as there are no steamships running to that country, they will have to wait for a while.

Turks and Austrians are also endeavoring to get home, but even if there were boats operating between this continent and the fatherlands of these men, they would be unable to return, because alien enemies are not permitted to leave the country. Greeks and other foreigners belonging to those countries bordering on the Mediterranean Sea cannot get back because there are no ships, except one White Star liner, sailing on that body of water.

Several Canadians of this district will leave for France shortly to attend, as delegates from the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, the fair at Lyons.

FORGERY CHARGE IS NOW LAID AGAINST FREDERICK LASHER

In Addition, He Is Accused of Housebreaking.

Troubles have been multiplying with painful regularity for Frederick H. Lasher, the young soldier charged with fraud by a Dundas street merchant, on whom he is alleged to have passed a forged check two weeks ago.

This morning in police court the charge of fraud was changed to one of forgery, and on top of that along comes another charge, housebreaking, preferred by Mrs. Cynthia J. Lince of 314 Piccadilly street. Mrs. Lince alleges in the information laid that on the evening of December 31 last the accused broke into her home and stole some silver valued at $13, a fatal amount.

Client Remanded.

Gordon Munnoch appeared in court for Lasher this morning, and asked to have his client remanded till Thursday, in order that he might go over the case with him. Crown Attorney J. B. McKillop agreed to this, and the two cases will be heard on Thursday.

Peter Fadewick, who runs a poolroom on Ottaway avenue, was saved from paying a $5 fine by the evidence of Mrs. R. Schuyler, an Indian damsel, who declared that she always sent her young son down to the poolroom to bring his brothers home to supper.

Goes With Warning.

Magistrate Graydon let Fadewick go with a warning, despite the fact that Constable Roy Monteith had caught Young Schuyler handling a cue in a most professional way.

George C. Gunn proved an alibi under the M. S. A., and got away with it. His case did not come up in court. James Buchanan was fined $1, and F. C. Dart and Henry Ginsburg each paid $2 for breaches of city bylaws.

A Single Application Banishes Every Hair

(The Modern Beauty.)

Here is how any woman can easily and quickly remove objectionable, hairy growths without possible injury to the skin: Make a paste with some powdered delatone and water, apply to hairy surface and after 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and the hairs are gone. This is a painless, inexpensive method and, excepting where the growth is unusually thick, a single application is enough. You should, however, be careful to get genuine delatone.—Advt.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

A SLANDER ON THE JEWISH PEOPLE.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Would you permit me to express my protest against a malicious, slanderous, untruthful and mischievous statement made and printed in your paper on the evening of February 3.

It is most deplorable that this statement has been made in a house of worship, where brotherly love is supposed to be proclaimed. Instead it has been utilized for purposes of slandering, where actually praise should be given.

I refer to the statement of a supposed Hebrew of Toronto, Mr. Singer, when he said: "Jews are stiff-necked. All they want is money, luxuries, fame, and Palestine," and in the heading in your paper in big print, you specify "Jews Stiff-Necked. All They Want Is Money, Says Toronto Hebrew."

Changed His Religion.

In ordinary times I would have overlooked this, but at a time when the slightest misrepresentation against any nationality is liable to create a disturbance of the worst kind, and when in case of such disturbance many innocent will be caused to suffer, I ask you to contradict these base statements and to show how false they are. They were not made by a Hebrew, as printed, but by an outcast of the Hebrews—by a man who wished to make a living without manly work. He has changed his religion as he would change his shirt, and now gets his pay as a soul hunter. Since he is looked upon by his previous co-religionists as a turncoat, as a disease, or as a "cootie" to irritate the Jewish body, he on his part does his best to defame and bring trouble to his former brothers.

Does He Love Money?

Now let us see how much truth is in his statement that the Jew wants and lives only for money! And when I give you as an example the Jews in London, I would state that they are the same all over the world. First, the Jew (as does the Gentile) strives and works for an honest living. And what do the Jews do with their money?—especially in London. Have they accumulated any fortunes? No. They are merely trying to save what they can so that they may lighten their burdens—just as do their sensible Christian neighbors. And do they live up to the standards of their Christian neighbors? I say that they do. The fact is, that while the Jew follows, obeys, and contributes to everything that the nation requires, he has also obligations that his Christian neighbor has not—that is, the special care of his co-religionists, not only here, but all over the world.

No Burden on Community.

The Jew never permits one of his co-religionists to be a burden to the community at large. Then take statistics and you will find that his criminal record in this city is limited to a minimum, as compared with others. Further, as compared with their Gentile neighbors, as far as charity is concerned, the Jews, as man for man, are far above the Gentiles, because you will not find one male or female, above 18 years of age, here in London, that is not voluntarily taxed to the utmost for all kinds of charitable institutions—no matter whether they make $6 a week or more. Even the school children are organized as "Young Judea," and when they hear from the parents of any appeal for help, they insist upon bringing their pennies for the relief of the suffering. Does all this sound as if the Jews live only for money?

I therefore ask you in the name of justice and in the name of our sons that have fought shoulder to shoulder with their Christian brothers, and shed their blood for freedom and for all that the Union Jack stands for, that such insinuating, mischievous and slanderous reports against the Jewish population of this city should in the future not be spread abroad by the local press.

Thanking you for your valuable space, I remain, yours truly,

B. LASTAR.
300 Dundas street.
London, Ont., February 4, 1919.

A PROTEST FROM BISHOP FALLON.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

Your issue of yesterday carries a paragraph under prominent headlines in which Rev. Canon L. N. Tucker, rector of St. Paul's Cathedral, is reported to have characterized the doctrine of the Immaculate Conception of the Blessed Virgin Mary as the "greatest aberration in the history of Christendom."

I have no intention of questioning Canon Tucker's qualifications as an expert on aberrations. Nor, at the present moment shall I discuss his palpable and inexcusable ignorance of the subject upon which he undertakes to enlighten his congregation.

But I do protest against the columns of The Advertiser being made a vehicle for false witness as regards the teaching of the Catholic Church. Canon Tucker is credited by you with having used the following words: "In recent years this doctrine of the Immaculate Conception had been carried so far that the name of the virgin was substituted for the name of Jesus Christ in the te deum and other services of the Catholic Church." That statement is absolutely false and without any foundation, in fact. As the official head of the Catholic Church in this city, I respectfully request The Advertiser and Canon Tucker to make public their justification for giving currency to an untruth so glaring that even the slightest investigation would have furnished its utter disproof. Yours faithfully,

M. F. FALLON,
Bishop of London.
London, Ontario, February 4, 1919.

Canon Tucker declares that he did not say that the name of the Virgin Mary had been substituted in the official services of the church, but that he did say that the whole Catholic doctrine of the Virgin Mary,—Immaculate Conception, Assumption, etc., was directly contrary to the teachings of the Bible, and the early church was the "greatest aberration in the history of Christianity." Leaders of the Catholic Church, he says, have been promoting the glories of Mary and ascribing to her the attributes of Christ himself, calling her "The Queen of Heaven," "The Refuge of Sinners," etc. In societies interested in promoting beliefs in her glories, her name has been substituted in Psalms and in the te deum, but Canon Tucker does not think that this has been done in St. Peter's Cathedral or with the official sanction of the Catholic Church.

Ed. Note.—The Advertiser believes there is no substantial difference between what was reported to have been said by Canon Tucker and his own version of his sermon.

As to The Advertiser's being made the "vehicle for false witness as regards the teaching of the Catholic Church," we feel sure that Bishop Fallon will agree that a newspaper's function is to make public those statements which are made by responsible men and ministers. Apart from the seeking of news, the seeking of truth is the newspaper's duty, and in this very instance, should not the truth become known? Would his lordship have heard that such a charge had been made had he not read it in The Advertiser? Would he ever have had the chance to dispute a statement publicly circulated through the medium of the pulpit and transmitted from lip to lip by several hundred persons?

In the same issue a statement attacking the Jewish people was printed, as uttered by a minister in a Protestant Church? The Advertiser holds that the statement should not have been suppressed, but printed, in the interests of the Jewish people. Today the Jewish people reply to the statement made.

LONDON DELEGATES AT JEWISH CONGRESS

A Jewish conference was held in Toronto on Sunday to arrange for the Dominion Jewish Congress to be held in Montreal on March 16. Max Lerner, M. Fishbein and B. Laster were the delegates from this city.

It has been planned to take up the following matters at the Jewish congress, "How to get equal rights for all Jews in the Dominion," "The return of the Jews to Palestine, "The immigration problem," and "The interests of the Jewish people in Canada." This will be the largest congress ever held by the Jews in Canada.

FOUR RECRUITS

Volunteers for Mobile Company Get Full Pay.

Four recruits signed up for service in the mobile company and were sent to Wolseley Barracks to get medical examination. There are 250 men needed for the mobile company, stated Sergt. J. R. Rawling to The Advertiser. He said that for a young man this military training is the finest that could be had. The mobile company will be used in cases of riots or trouble in Canada, and also will be used for escort duty when royalty visits this city or other places in Canada. The pay for the men will be just the same as in wartime, and if a man is married his wife will receive a separation allowance of the same amount as was received in war times. The men who volunteered today are: C. Shorts, W. J. Flower, W. Harrison and Fred Lowman. W. Harrison was sent to the C. G. R. Band.

FASHIONS FOR WOMEN TO BE STANDARDIZED; DECISION OF DEBATERS

A very amusing debate was held by the young people of New St. James' Presbyterian Church in the schoolroom on Monday evening. The subject was a very heart-burning one, viz.: "Shall the Fashions for Women Be Standardized by the Government?"

The affirmative was taken by Mesdames Mountjoy, Reynold and Brown. The negative was upheld by Messrs. Gorwell, Gilmour and Miller.

After the subject had been thoroughly debated and enjoyed by all present, the decision was given to the affirmative.

The musical program, which added much to the enjoyment of the evening, was arranged by Miss Weston and Mr. Seely gave some very acceptable selections on the violin.

JUVENILE PIPE BAND GAVE CONCERT AT HUT

An enjoyable concert was given on Monday evening in the Y. M. C. A. hut, Wolseley Barracks, under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A., by Sergt.-Major J. McDonald and his Juvenile Pipe Band.

Those taking part were the Misses Isobel Graham, Ruth Fitzgerald, Violet Gilmour, Gladys Tullett, Marion Stark, Violet Hunt, Anna Turner, Irene Anderson, and Earl McAllister, Ross McPherson and Donald Ellis. Miss Iva Mowat was the soloist of the evening.

This afternoon the Canadian Garrison Band will give a concert at the Byron Sanatorium and tomorrow evening Sergt.-Major McDonald's pipe band will give a concert in that institution. Both of these concerts are being given under the auspices of the Y. M. C. A.

POLICE COURT AIR SO BAD WITNESSES CANNOT EVEN THINK

Bitter Complaints Against the Prevailing Thick Atmosphere.

The terrible and wonderful system of ventilation of the London police court was working in its best form Monday, when the court session lasted over four hours with an hour off for lunch. Airships may be heavier than air, but they weren't any heavier than the atmosphere in the old court room yesterday.

"How can I give my evidence properly with my head going round in circles from breathing that foul air?" said one witness indignantly after imbibing the ozone for two hours before being called to the stand. "I felt all kind of sick, and with lawyers shooting questions at me one after the other trying to get me twisted, it was hardly fair. A person can't think properly or quickly in that place. Why isn't something done about it?"

This is the question that has oft been asked by police reporters who, of necessity, have to sit and hearken unto the words of wisdom that flow from lawyers and bench, as well as imbibe the air that has been inhaled and exhaled from a large "pinch" from the Russian colony and the crowd of spectators that is to be found every morning occupying the police court benches. A violent headache can be acquired in an hour or more in police court almost any dany.

INSPECTOR REPORTS ON THE CONGESTION IN PUBLIC SCHOOLS

Board To Hear Several Suggestions Today.

Inspector C. B. Edwards will present a report on the congestion of the public schools this afternoon at the meeting of the board of education. Several suggestions are embodied in the report, but what they are he refused to divulge. He says they are all vital to the education of the youth of the city, and, therefore, interesting. The increase in salaries for the janitors will also be taken up by the board at this meeting. It is generally conceded that the increases as recommended by the committee will be approved.

A. A. Langford, chairman of the committee advisory committee, said that his committee had nothing of importance to report.

It is probable that the question of the appointment of an assistant inspector will come before the board.

UTILITIES TO SAVE MONEY THIS WINTER

Mild Weather Means Thousands of Dollars.

The exceptionally mild weather of this winter has saved the public utilities commission thousands of dollars, according to Manager E. V. Buchanan. Last year about $10,000 was expended by the commission in excess of normal years, and much of this was caused by the damage done by frost to the water mains and equipment. This year the expense account promises to be below normal on account of the mild weather.

Another item on which money is being saved is the pumping of water. Last winter there was a shortage, caused, it is said, by the citizens allowing the taps to run in order to save them from freezing. Naturally this has not been necessary this year as yet.

Mr. Buchanan also points out that the men in the electrical department are able to do more work in mild weather than when the mercury is lower. He would not estimate what amount would be saved altogther.

DEALING WITH MORTGAGE POSTPONED FOR A WHILE

A meeting of the Presbyterian Council was held on Monday evening in St. Andrew's Church for the purpose of authorizing the placing of a mortgage on the new Presbyterian Church at Knollwood Park. It was decided, however, to call a special meeting of the Presbytery of London in the immediate future to deal with the matter. The council appointed the following trustees: C. Jones, J. C. Fletcher, David Ross, R. Turnbull and Mr. Ryan.

The building is rapidly nearing completion, and the board expressed its appreciation of the way, those constructing the building were doing their work.

CHEVROLET "BUS" MISSING.—A Chevrolet car, with license number 47995, was stolen while standing on Talbot street last night. It is the property of Harry Ross, Hamilton road and William street.

DIED AGED 96 YEARS

Advertiser Illustrations

LONDON TOWNSHIP PIONEER.

Mrs. Margaret MacLachlan, relict of John MacLachlan, died on Sunday morning at the residence of her daughter, Mrs. A. F. M. Mills, 173 Central avenue. Mrs. MacLachlan, though 96 years of age, took a keen interest in current events up until the time of her death. At the age of 90 she was able to do netting, crochet work and knitting. She was of Scotch parentage, and born in Nova Scotia, coming to London Township when a child of 6.

Mrs. MacLachlan could relate many interesting stories of the early settlers of this vicinity, when "bears were more numerous than people." Her family consists of Mrs. A. Mills, Mrs. Campbell, Mrs. Logan and Mrs. Cron, all of London; Mrs. Anderson of Seattle, Wash., and one son, Jas. F. MacLachlan of Victoria, B. C. Two stepsisters, Mrs. C. Johnston of Stratford, and Mrs. Mary O'Neil of West Williams also survive her, as well as nine grandchildren and ten great grandchildren. Her husband predeceased her in 1887.

The funeral will take place on Wednesday afternoon, to be conducted by Rev. James McKay of New St. James' Church, of which she was a member. Interment will be at Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

LOCAL NEWS

GOES TO WABASH.—R. E. Newcomer, former trainmaster of the London division of the Grand Trunk Railway System, has resigned his position as trainmaster of the Brantford division and will leave in about a week. He has acepted a position as a trainmaster of the Wabash Railway. His office will be at St. Louis, Mo. Mr. Newcomer was only recently appointed trainmaster at Brantford.

ASSISTED AT CONCERT.—Among those members of the C. E. F. Returned Chapter, I. O. D. E., who assisted at the concert given recently at the Central Military Convalescent Hospital, and whose names were omitted in the previously published list, were Mesdames Hurrell, Cunliffe, McCloud, Summers, Garlick, Taylor, Bradford, Foster and Legg.

DIRECTOR GOES HOME.—Dr. H. A. Knowles, campaign director for the Salvation Army, has finished his work with the campaign here and has left for his home in Chicago. Col. J. Rawling will now be in charge of the work. The rooms which have been used for the campaign since its organization here have been vacated and the Salvation Army Citadel will now be used. The campaign dates for the London campaign are February 11, 12 and 13.

WRIT FOR DAMAGES.—James W. Graham, barrister ,of St. Marys, has issued, through his solicitor, J. M. McEvoy, a writ against the Canadian Universal Film Company for unstated damages because of an alleged breach of contract. The plaintiff, who is the proprietor of a motion picture theatre in St. Marys, claims that the defendants refused to send him any films that they had, under contract, promised to send him. They claim that he made a contract with another company, and that it was for that reason that they failed to forward the films.

DEATHS AND FUNERALS

DIED IN ENGLAND.

News of the death of Mrs. Harrison at her home, Clevelands, in Reading, England, has been received in the city. Mrs. Harrison was the widow of Col. Harrison, and a daughter of the late Peter Schram, and a sister-in-law of Mrs. Henry Schram of this city. She is survived by one sister, Mrs. Agassiz, of Agassiz, B. C.

Mrs. Harrison was 88 years of age. At the age of 17 she married Capt. Puleston, son of Sir Richard Pulestin, Bart; of Emeal Hall, Worthenbury, England. She had one son, Richard Puleston, who predeceased her. She later married Col. Harrison.

BURIED AT WOODLAND.

The funeral of Samuel Clark, who died in the Victoria Home on Saturday, was held Monday afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Interment was made in Woodland Cemetery. He was aged 79 years.

BURIED IN CHATHAM.

All the pallbearers at the funeral of John Stack, former representative of the Ontario Agricultural Department in Middlesex County, which will be held from his home in Chatham tomorrow, will be Ontario Agricultural Department representatives. Mr. Stack was the representative here a few years ago, and was well known throughout the district. Later he went to Peel County to take a similar position. His death occurred there on Saturday from Spanish influenza. R. A. Finn, local agricultural representative, will be one of the pallbearers.

DEATH OF JAMES MULLIGAN.

The death of James Mulligan, husband of Helen Mulligan occurred at his home, 735 Princess avenue, on Monday night, after being ill for some months, in his 71st year. He was a carpenter by trade.

Mr. Mulligan is survived by his widow, one daughter, Mrs. Thomas A. Green of this city, three sisters, Mrs. S. Dale of Appin, Mrs. James Beattie and Mrs. William Jones, both of Florence. The funeral will be held on Thursday from the family residence to Woodland Cemetery at 2:30 o'clock. Rev. H. T. Ferguson of the Centennial Methodist Church will conduct the services.

TO BE BURIED HERE.

Stanley Small, son of Mrs. Amelia Small, 315 Egerton street, died suddenly at the Spadina Hotel in Toronto on Saturday. He was a returned soldier and was in Toronto in connection with obtaining an artificial limb, he having lost his leg during the war. His death was due to heart failure. The body will be brought to this city for interment in Mount Pleasant Cemetery on Wednesday. The funeral will be held under military auspices.

He is survived by his mother, two sisters, Misses Margaret and Lillian, at home, and one brother of St. Catharines.

DEATH OF MISS HARRISON.

Miss Alice Wilmot Harrison died in St. Joseph's Hospital on Saturday from heart trouble. She had been in poor health for some time. Miss Harrison, who was the youngest daughter of the late Mr. and Mr. Thomas Harrison, was a graduate of St. Joseph's Hospital a few years ago, and was the gold medalist of her class.

She was possessed of a bright, sunny disposition, and her death is a loss to her profession. She is survived by two brothers, T. W. Harrison of this city and S. Harrison of Akron, Ohio, and one sister, Mrs. McCugan of Custer, Michigan.

The funeral will be held this afternoon from the residence of her brother, T. W. Harrison, 510 Piccadilly street, at 2:30 o'clock. Interment will be made in Mount Pleasant Cemetery.

CADETS ARRIVE IN CITY; VANGUARD OF MEN OFF GRAMPIAN

Diesch Had Four Years of Fighting.

ONE WEARS DECORATIONS

Others Are Expected To Get Here Some Time Tonight.

Eighteen cadets, forming the advance party of the main body of returned veterans belonging to this district who reached Canada on Sunday on board the Grampian, reached the city at noon today. They stated that the rest of the men would probably be here some time tonight. The cadets were met at the station by representatives of the local headquarters staff and taken in A. S. C. automobiles to Wolseley Barracks, where they were instructed to report at the armories at 2 p.m., after which they would be free to proceed to their homes on leave.

An Original 1st.

Among the party was an Original 1st Battalion veteran, Cadet F. Diesch of Woodstock, who served with that unit at the front from February, 1915, until October 21 of last year, with an interval of several weeks when he was in Blighty as a result of a wound sustained at Ypres in April, 1915. He enlisted immediately on the outbreak of war, and thus has had nearly four and a half years of soldiering during the war and close to four years of actual fighting experience. He is a native of London, England.

Two Decorations.

Cadet William Morgan, who was also in the party, went overseas from London with the first draft of the 33rd Battalion in 1915 and served at the front with the 1st Battalion for three years. He won not only promotion, but two decorations, the D. C. M. and the Order of Leopold Chevalier, given by the Belgian authorities for gallantry. His reply to a query as to how he earned the medals was: "Oh, for stealing the troops' rum, I guess." His home is in Clinton.

Other Members.

Cadets William Ash of Stratford, formerly of the 33rd Battalion, and for two years a member of the Cyclist Battalion in France; Sid Wain of Chatham, formerly of the 91st Battalion, and S. W. Laird of Detroit, who enlisted in Edmonton with the P. P. C. L. I., with which he served at the front for nearly three years, were other members of the party.

STERLING SILVER TEA SERVICE PRESENTED TO MR. THOMAS TRELEAVEN

Fellow Employees at G. T. R. Car Shops Honor Retiring Superintendent.

Thomas Treleaven, former master car builder for Ontario Lines of the G.T.R., in recognition of his 40 years' service with the railway, and as a token of their esteem, was presented, by his fellow-employees at a banquet tendered him at the Tecumseh House on Thursday evening, with a sterling silver tea service of five pieces. Mr. Treleaven was superannuated recently. H. A. White, chief clerk of the car department at Montreal, one of the oldest employees of the G.T.R. car department, who has been Mr. Treleaven's associate for the past 30 years, made the presentation.

The speakers included Superintendent C. Forrester of the London division; I. Clark, who succeeded Mr. Treleaven; D. McHarg, local car distributor; T. J. O'Donnell, Buffalo; J. Hendry, Montreal; Fred Charlton, Montreal; A. Tory, local storekeeper; Trainmaster White, Palmerston; J. Brooks, assistant master car builder, London.

Out-of-town associates of Mr. Treleaven, included J. Charlton, general foreman, D., L. and W. Buffalo; Edgar W. Lansdery, car foreman; Windsor; G. Fisher, car foreman, St. Thomas; J. H. Hosking, Palmerston; J. Clemens, Allendale, and W. J. Hallett, Hamilton; D. C. Messeull, traveling car inspector. About forty guests were present.

The music was provided by C. J. Pink, P. King and G. Lethbridge.

WOMAN CANDIDATE FOR CHICAGO MAYOR

Chicago, Feb. 4. — Mrs. Leona Z. Meder, lawyer, clubwoman and former city commissioner of public welfare, today announced her candidacy for mayor.

BURNING THE GRASS.—Sectionmen on the Grand Trunk are burning the grass along the sides of the track. In previous years the grass not dry enough for this purpose until June, but the unusual weather conditions this winter have made this work possible at such an early date. The annual spring clean-up of the yards has already begun, an laborers are busy picking up the loose iron and other scrap along the tracks.

HOSPITAL TAKES HIM. — Edward Patten, the invalid prisoner at the jail who was recently refused admission to Victoria Hospital because his ailment was a chronic and not an urgent one, now has been admitted. He began to take epileptic fits and by order of the jail physician, Dr. James D. Wilson, he was sent there. After he is discharged from the hospital, it is expected that he will be removed to the Home For Incurables.

WRITS AGAINST CITY.—Ross Collins, 642 Hamilton road, and Fred G. Overy, 174 Price street, have issued writs for damages, through their solicitor, J. M. McEvoy, against C. W. Summers, William Summers, Herbert C. Barnes and the city of London jointly and severally, for the flooding of their lands. They claim that the plaintiffs were to blame for the damming back of water in a drain, and thus causing it to flow upon their property.

Seen and Heard Day-by-Day In The Down-Town District

THE DECENT THIEF.

There is a good story going round the city about a jolly, fat, ex-alderman of a few years ago, whose home is in South London. It seems that this gentleman had six quart bottles of his favorite brand of whiskey hidden away carefully in the cellar. One night they disappeared. They were not found in the brick yards on Adelaide street by three lawyers. However, it is a fact that three of them were returned to the back doorstep two days later. Either the thief had seen the anguished countenance of the ex-city daddy as he wended his way disconsolately down the street or had had a twinge of conscience. However, three bottles are better than none.

YES, GREAT.

A theatrical man who was visiting in London Monday was talking about Nat Goodwin and his numerous matrimonial adventures. "As a husband, Nat was one of the best of comedians," said the showman.

A WARNING.

"Any man who pulls that 'dear heart' thing with me is going to get flung over my left shoulder," said a maiden who indulged in a clever line of going-home chatter while the strap-hangers smiled.

THE FIRST COMPLIMENT.

A man who was in Hamilton recently had this to say about street cars: "You can knock London's system all you like, but if our cars do not look like fashion plates when compared with Hamilton's down-at-the-heels ash wagons with trolley poles attached, I'll eat my hat." (Record this as the first good thing ever said about a street railway.)

THE WISE ONE.

The local manager was sitting in his office talking to a friend. "Listen to that applause," he said. "The act's great!" "Sounds like two ushers and the man who sweeps out," said the listener.

THE ONE ECONOMY.

"I don't see why anyone should oppose daylight saving," said the old Tory. "It's the only sign of economy that has come out of Ottawa since this Union Government started cashing Victory Bonds."

WHICH?

"What I want to know," said a local theatrical man, "is whether this is a real revolution in Portugal, or is Gaby de Lys' press agent putting on a new publicity stunt?"

SERVES NOTICE OF LIBEL ACTION ON THE FREE PRESS

W. A. Martin Has Instructed His Solicitors.

Commissioner William A. Martin of the London and Port Stanley Railway Commission this morning, through his solicitors, Messrs. Meredith & Meredith, served notice on the London Free Press Printing Company, Limited, under the libel act. Mr. Martin complains of several articles in regard to his appointment as a commissioner, alleging that untrue statements were published regarding his business connections and their bearing upon his relation to the commission.

Mr. Martin, being asked for particulars, stated that the matter was in charge of his solicitors with instructions to proceed as far as was required to have the matter adjusted to Mr. Martin's complete satisfaction.

QUEBEC COMPANY TO CONSTRUCT RAILWAY

Application Is Made for Incorporation at the Quebec Assembly.

Quebec, Feb. 4.—In a bill now awaiting appearance before the railway committee of the Legislative Assembly and distributed today, incorporation of the Quebec and Ungava Railway Company is asked. The company proposes to build a railway line from a point at or near Seven Islands, in the County of Saguenay, and thence in a northerly direction to a point at or near Lake Menibek, and thence in a westerly or northwesterly direction to the most suitable harbor between the mouth of Big River and Nastaponta Sound on Hudson Bay. The incorporators and provisional directors are the Right Hon. Viscount Templeton, London, Eng.; Sir Westby Percival, K.C., M.G., London, Eng.; Bernard Spring-Rice, Sussex, and Harry Craufuird Thomson, London, Eng. The capital stock of the company is placed at one million, and the head office at Quebec. Privileges of dealing in timber and fishing rights are also asked.

SOVIET GOVT. WILL MAKE EVERY EFFORT TO MEET ENTENTE

Bolshevik Authorities Complain They Received No Formal Invitation.

Paris, Feb. 4.—The Russian Soviet Government will take "all measures" to bring about an agreement with the Entente, according to a wireless message sent out from Moscow on Sunday. It complains that the Bolshevik authorities had received no "formal invitation" to the Princes Islands conference, the only word regarding it being a wireless message "containing press news." The text of the message, which was addressed "to Berlin, Paris and everywhere," reads:

"M. Tchitcherin, the people's commissary for foreign affairs, has made it known to the college of people's commissaries that he had received a wireless message containing press news, according to which the Entente at Paris had proposed to the different governments of Russia a conference at the Princes Islands. The people's commissary added that no formal invitation to the conference had arrived from the Entente. All measures will be taken to bring about an agreement with the Entente."

LET LEAGUE FIX NUMBER OF MEN TO BE ENROLLED

Leon Bourgeois Submits Recommendations to Society of Nations Commission.

Paris, Feb. 4.—Leon Bourgeois, the French proponent of a league of nations, transmitted today to the society of nations commission recommendations as to principles which had been submitted to him by the Inter-Allied Association for the Promotion of a League of Nations. One of the recommendations urged the establishment by the society of nations of an international commission on education. Other recommendations were of a military nature. One of these would bind the associated states to prohibit the sales of arms and munitions now possessed or which may be ultimately manufactured to states outside the league, while another would prohibit the trade and manufacture of all arms and munitions of war by private establishments. It was also recommended that the society of nations shall fix the number of men to be enrolled in the military and naval forces of each member.

NEXT BRITISH MAIL

Newspaper To Be For Benefit of Patients.

"The Byron Breeze," a paper for soldiers, is to be the latest London venture in journalism.

The officers and staff are made up from among the men under treatment at the Queen Alexandra Sanatorium, and the paper will be published for the first time about February 20 " in the interests of the soldier patients." It will be an eight page, forty column newspaper, and a circulation of 5,000 will be guaranteed.

The executive committee is composed of Major E. N. Chesham, president; Capt. A. J. Judd, vice-president; Sergt. E. A. Pocock, managing editor; Sergt. L. S. Hopwood, local editor; Lieut. H. Westby, advertising manager, and Sergt. H. Collins, circulation manager.

All the net profits of the paper are to be devoted to comforts, amusements, games, etc., for the patients at the above named institution.

ANGLICAN CLERICS NOT "UNION" ENTHUSIASTS

HAMILTON, Feb. 3.—Referring to Rev. Canon Plumtre's statement yesterday that the attitude of the Anglican ecclesiastical authorities was one of the chief obstacles of union, Bishop Clark expressed the opinion that such statement did not tend to bring about union. The bishop had written to several clerymen, asking their opinion as to church union, but had received few replies.

NOTES OF INTEREST FROM CITY HALL

TRAVEL OR SPEAK.

In the event of E. V. Buchanan not being able to start on his trip before next Monday, he will address the Rotary Club on the subject of electricity in connection with the home.

JUST PIFFLE.

"Piffle," said Mayor Somerville, regarding the suggestion of one of London's citizens that the fire department should be placed under the control of the utilities commission.

AHEM!

Alderman W. A. Wilson said in the council meeting last night that there is only one city in Canada that has commission form of government, referring to St. John. "There the mayor and four commissioners run the whole city at a cost of $15,000 a year for salaries," said Alderman Wilson.

"They have a good mayor there," suggested Mayor C. R. Somerville.

"Yes, he is a gentleman," retorted Alderman Wilson.

It was some minutes before the aldermen could get down to business again.

DISCRIMINATION.

This morning Alderman Wilson emphatically states that he is not averse to riding to Ottawa with Aldermen L. S. Holmes and E. S. Little, and if he stated last night that he was he made a mistake. He still positively refuses to agree to accompany Mayor C. R. Somerville on such a trip.

FROWN ON SURRENDERS.

It was decided to notify the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company that the corporation was not in favor of any cash settlements being made to the returned soldiers on the policies which were taken out by the city, without the consent of the council, except the insured desired to use the money in taking over other forms of insurance in the company. The city will continue to pay premiums on the policies of the men who are still overseas. Of course, the men who desire to take the cash surrender value have that right.

WOULD DEPORT ALIENS.

The council expressed its approval of the deportation of all interned alien enemies by the Dominion Government as soon as peace is declared.

BYLAW PASSED.

A bylaw was passed authorizing the mayor and the city clerk to sign the agreement with the county respecting the maintenance of county patients in Victoria Hospital.

INSURANCE PAYMENT.

On the recommendation of the soldiers' grants committee the payment of $500 insurance from the civic insurance fund to the dependents of each of the following soldiers was authorized: Clarence Roy Wilson, who died of wounds in France; George Oliver, who died of wounds; Ira Ralph Weeks, who was killed in action; Frederick Charles Sillitoe, who died of pneumonia in England; Lloyd Robert Orr, who died of wounds received in France; Frederick Charles Hamlin, who was killed in action; Nelson Harris, who was killed in action September 27, 1918; William Carroll Bayley, who was killed in action; Harold Dickins McCann, who died on his way to Siberia, a grant of $250; Benjamin Askey, who died in Victoria Hospital in December, 1916.

BUY CALCULATING MACHINE.

City Engineer H. A. Brazier was authorized to purchase a calculating machine at a cost of $375.

AGAIN THEY MEET.

In connection with the proposed repairs to Richmond street pavement, the city engineer will confer with the Street Railway Company regarding the reconstruction of the street railway track allowance on this street.

ALL DAY LABOR.

It was decided to construct all pavements, curbs and gutters, sidewalks and storm sewers by day labor.

REFERRED TO S. A. C.

The communication of Harry Bragg of the repatriation committee urging a hearty welcome to the returned soldiers was referred to the Soldiers' Aid Commission.

LIGHTS ORDERED.

Two street lights were ordered placed on Emery street between Edward and Cathcart streets.

TO ATTEND CONVENTION.

City Engineer H. A. Brazier was authorized to attend the good roads convention in New York on February 25.

QUESTION LAID OVER.

Pending the question of street railway extension on Quebec street, the paving of this street was laid over. The curbs and gutters on this street were also left for further consideration.

INTERRED AT LAST.

After having been discussed and amended until its own sponsors refused to recognize it, the executive committee which was proposed to act in conjunction with the two standing committees of the council was buried last night.

GO TO NO. 1.

The appointments to the assessment department were referred to No. 1 committee.

CLEAR TITLE WANTED.

City Solicitor T. G. Meredith was instructed to demand a clear title for the bridge which it is proposed to purchase from the traction company.

AMATEUR FIREMEN.

The request of the department of militia and defence for permission to attach some of the men from the military hospitals to the city fire department for short periods in order to acquire experience was granted. Lieut.-Col. O. A. Cannon will confer with Chief John Aitken to arrange the details.

NO FEDERAL SQUARE RINK.

There will be no skating rink on the Federal Square this winter. The petition of W. Beamish and others urging a rink there was finally sheived by the council last night.

WILL PAY $3,000.

Victoria Hospital will pay the city council $3,000 for heat supplied from the incinerator this year instead of $2,000 as formerly. This was approved by the council, and the hospital trust will be billed accordingly.

LIGHT AT LAST.

The McCormick boulevard was taken over as a city street, and lights will be placed on the street at once. The residents of this street have been asking for this for many moons.

CAN PLACE POLES.

The Bell Telephone Company was authorized to place 44 poles on the city streets without prejudice.

PETITION FILED.

The application of J. C. Fletcher for a sanitary sewer on Connaught street was filed, and he was advised to bring in a regular petition.

BURIED AT ARKONA.

ARKONA, Feb. 3.—The death took place in East Williams on Friday, of Myrtle L., a daughter of the late Mr. and Mrs. Robert Dunham, of this place. The cause of death was pneumonia, following influenza. She leaves three sisters and five brothers. The funeral took place today from the residence of her sister, Mrs. P. Austin, Arkona, to the local cemetery.

HYSLOP Bicycles

Manufactured by Hyslop Brothers, Toronto.

THE BETTER BICYCLE

For there is a reason.

It's an easy thing to build an article and call it a bicycle, but a real bicycle must be built to give 100 per cent efficiency. That is why we believe we have the Better Bicycle, because we have always kept our product under a very close inspection, and when a part failed to be efficient we immediately remedied the trouble, and in our opinion we have today the only real serviceable bicycle on the Canadian market. We have done away with the two and three-piece cranks, because they gave trouble, and we now use the famous one-piece crank. We discontinued using the small compact coaster brake because we became satisfied a good serviceable brake could not be constructed in so small a space. We now use a brake that is trouble-proof. We have discontinued the old style mudguard, and now use the drop side guards, which does away with side splashing of mud on the rider's shoes. We found we couldn't satisfy the puble with just one color, so we now make a variety of colors. Our bicycles include many more smaller perfections which are too numerous to put in advertising space, but if you are interested in a bicycle let us show you piece by piece what our bicycle is made of, as we have all the vital parts of our bicycle, so we can demonstrate to you the quality. Prices, $45.00 to $65.00. Terms arranged. Also all bicycle sundries and repairs, auto supplies and sporting goods.

CANADIAN BOYS IN SIBERIA HAD REAL CHRISTMAS FEAST

Plum Puddings, Candy and Cigarettes Provided by British League.

MAILS ARE FAR APART

Members of Dominion Force in Far North Enjoyed Festive Season.

Vladivostok, Dec. 15.—(By W. E. Playfair, official correspondent with the Canadian Forces in Siberia).—Although Christmas will be long past when this letter reaches Canada, there will be many interested to hear that every Canadian and British soldier in this base enjoyed a real Christmas dinner, although many thousands of miles from the plum pudding that mother used to make. It was nip and tuck at that. Up to the past day or two it looked as if Christmas dinner for the troops in Siberia would consist of rations and memories.

The Canadian war contingent association, which provides comforts of various kinds for Canadian soldiers abroad, including foods to vary dietary monotony, had arranged a Christmas spread for the C. E. F., Siberia. This consisted of a special Christmas issue of 2,500 tins of plum pudding (one for two men), 2,500 pounds of candy, tobacco, pipes, Christmas packets, gramophones, records, books and so on. But there was no vessel arriving before Christmas, and the prospect was that the men would be compelled to celebrate the Russian festival, falling some weeks after ours.

League Provided Entertainment.

Then the British Patriotic League of Vladivostok, an organization of British residents, took the matter up, and at their instigation a meeting of officers was called and Christmas plans laid. The league guaranteed to provide all British troops here, naval and military, with Christmas puddings, tobacco, cigarettes and fruit, and also to furnish entertainment for the troops in outlying barracks on Christmas Day. The Canadian Y. M. C. A. and the Canadian Red Cross Society are working in conjunction with the league to make Canadians feel at home on Christmas.

The Patriotic League has ordered from Japan the ingredients for the Christmas puddings, and these will be cooked by our own cooks at one of the larger barracks and distributed among the units. A special issue of game is being made to the men in addition. The Y. M. C. A. has undertaken to furnish the dishes necessary, and these, too, have been ordered from Japan. The Canadian Red Cross is supplying a Christmas gift to every man.

Had Christmas Trees.

For the men quartered in the city proper, an elaborate Christmas entertainment has been planned. A large hall has been engaged, and this is to be decorated by the Patriotic League, which will also supply Christmas trees. Each unit will have a Christmas tree in addition. In the afternoon there will be a reception to the men, at which the Czecho orchestra will furnish music. In the evening there will be a concert, with a band of a British man of war and the Russian orchestra as well.

Unfortunately, owing to transportation difficulties, the men will have no Christmas mail or Christmas boxes from home until some time after the holiday.

GIRLS! BEAUTIFY YOUR HAIR AND STOP DANDRUFF

Hair becomes charming, wavy, lustrous and thick in few moments.

Every bit of dandruff disappears and hair stops coming out.

For a few cents you can save your hair in less than ten minutes you can double its beauty. Your hair becomes light, wavy, fluffy, abundant and appears as soft, lustrous and charming as a young girl's after applying some Danderine. Also try this—moisten a cloth with a little Danderine and carefully draw it through your hair, taking one small strand at a time. This will cleanse the hair of dust, dirt or excessive oil, and in just a few moments you have doubled the beauty of your hair. A delightful surprise awaits those whose hair has been neglected or is scraggy, faded, dry, brittle or thin. Besides beautifying the hair, Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; cleanses, purifies and invigorates the scalp, forever stopping itching and falling hair, but what will please you most will be after a few weeks' use, when you see new hair—fine and downy at first—yes—but really new hair growing all over the scalp. If you care for pretty, soft hair, and lots of it, surely get a small bottle of Knowlton's Danderine from any drug store or toilet counter and just try it.

SAYS HOT WATER WASHES POISONS FROM THE LIVER

Everyone should drink hot water with phosphate in it, before breakfast.

To feel as fine as the proverbial fiddle, we must keep the liver washed clean, almost every morning, to prevent its spongelike pores from clogging with indigestible material, sour bile and poisonous toxins, says a noted physician.

If you get headaches, it's your liver. If you catch cold easily, it's your liver. If you wake up with a bad taste, furred tongue, nasty breath or stomach becomes rancid, it's your liver. Sallow skin, muddy complexion, watery eyes, all denote liver uncleanliness. Your liver is the most important, also the most abused and neglected organ of the body. Few know its function or how to release the dammed-up body waste, bile and toxins.

Every man and woman, sick or well, should drink each morning before breakfast, a glass of hot water with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it, to wash from the liver and bowels the previous day's indigestible material, the poisons, sour bile and toxins; thus cleansing, sweetening and freshening the entire alimentary canal before putting more food into the stomach.

Limestone phosphate is inexpensive; any pharmacist will sell you a quarter pound, which is sufficient for a demonstration of how hot water and limestone phosphate cleans, stimulates and freshens the liver, keeping you feeling fit day in and day out.

THIS WOMAN SAVED FROM AN OPERATION

By Taking Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, One of Thousands of Such Cases.

Black River Falls, Wis.—"As Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound saved me from an operation, I cannot say enough in praise of it. I suffered from organic troubles and my side hurt me so I could hardly be up from my bed, and I was unable to do my housework. I had the best doctors in Eau Claire, and they wanted me to have an operation, but Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound cured me so I did not need the operation, and I am telling all my friends about it."—Mrs. A. W. Binzer, Black River Falls, Wis.

It is just such experiences as that of Mrs. Binzer that has made this famous root and herb remedy a household word from ocean to ocean. Any woman who suffers from inflammation, ulcerations, displacements, backache, nervousness, irregularities or "the blues" should not rest until she has given it a trial, and for special advice write Lydia E. DAYLIGHT INTO ALLIES' TREATY WITH RUMANIA

Was To Have Had Nice Slice of Austria-Hungary For Co-operation.

NO "SEPARATE PEACE"

Russia Was To Have Aided Materially From North and Black Sea.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—Associated Press.—The text of a treaty signed on August 17, 1916, between Rumania and the Quadruple Entente, is published today by the Temps. It embodies the conditions under which Rumania entered the war.

Article 1—France, Great Britain, Italy and Russia guarantee the territorial integrity of the kingdom of Rumania in the whole extent of its present frontiers.

Article 2—Rumania engages to declare war on and attack Austria-Hungary under the conditions stipulated in the accompanying military convention, and also engages on the declaration of war to cease economic relations and commercial exchanges with the enemies of all the Allies.

Right of Annexation.

Article 3—France, Great Britain, Italy and Russia recognize Rumania's right to annex the territories in the Austro-Hungarian monarchy stipulated by Article 4.

Article 4—This delimits these territories, and adds:

Rumania engages not to raise fortifications in front of Belgrade in a zone to be determined later, and only to keep a necessary force in this zone for police purposes. The royal Rumanian Government agrees to indemnify the Serbians at Banat, who, in abandoning their property, wish to emigrate within two years from the conclusion of peace.

No Separate Peace.

Article 5—Engages Rumania and the Quadruple Entente not to make a separate peace. The Quadruple Entente engages that the aforesaid territories in the Austro-Hungarian monarchy shall be annexed by the treaty of peace.

Article 6—Rumania to enjoy the same rights as the Allies in the peace preliminaries, and in the discussion of questions submitted to the peace congress.

Article 7—The present treaty to be kept secret until the conclusion of a general peace.

The military convention follows:

The principal of the seventeen articles are:

Article 1—Rumania engages to attack Austria-Hungary on August 28, 1916 (eight days after the Saloniki offensive).

Russians to Assist.

Article 2—The Russian army will aid by vigorous action, notably in Bukowina, and the Russian fleet will watch the Rumanian coasts, having there right of the use of the port of Constaniza (Kustendje).

Article 3.—Russia engages to send into Dobrudja two divisions of infantry and one division of cavalry to co-operate with the Rumanian army against the Bulgarians, the Allies to make an offensive at Saloniki at least eight days before Rumania enters the war.

Article 4—Rumania to receive from the Allies, by way of Russia, munitions and war materials.

Article 5—The necessities of war comradship in arms being safeguarded, no contracting party is subordinated to any other.

Strike for Budapest.

Article 9—The principal object of Rumanian action will be in the direction of Budapest through Transylvania. The Russian troops, co-operating with the Rumanian army, will be under control of the chief of the Rumanian army.

The delimitation by article four of the territories in the Austro-Hungarian monarchy which it was proposed Rumania should annex is as follows:

"The line will begin on the Pruth River at a point on the present frontier near Novoselitza; it will mount the Pruth to the frontier of Galicia at the confluence of the Pruth and the Czeremosz. It will then follow the frontier of Galicia-Bukowina and Galicia-Hungary to the point Stog. It thence follows the line separating the waters of the Tisza and Vizo, reaching the Tisza at the village of Trebusa, above which it joins the Vizo.

"Thence it descends the Thalweg-Tisza to four kilometres below its junction with the Szamos River, leaving the village of Vasares-Nameny to Rumania. It continues in a direction south-southwest to a point six kilometres east of the town of Liebrecenz. From this point it reaches the Crisch, a few kilometres below, meeting its two affluents, the White Crisch and the rapid Crisch. It then joins the Tisza at the village of Algye, north of Szegeeden, passing west of the villages of Croshaza and Bekessamson, making a small curve.

"From the Algye line it descends the Thalweg Tisza to its confluence with the Danube, and thence the Thalweg-Danube to the present frontier of Rumania."

MAKES ESCAPE FROM PRISONERS' DOCKET; SLICK JAIL-BREAKER

MONTREAL, Feb. 3.—Phillipe Martin, 30 years old, who gave his address as Toronto, accused of stealing from the Y.M.C.A., escaped from the police court this afternoon while his case was being heard. He dropped down on his hands and knees in the dock, where he was seated with four strong men, and crawled out of the court. The local police say Martin is alleged to have escaped from a Toronto jail six times.

14,032 "FLU" CASES AND 1,138 DEATHS IN WINNIPEG

WINNIPEG, Feb. 3.—The records of the department of public health show that 1,138 persons died of influenza in Winnipeg during the epidemic and up to the end of January, 1919. Of this total, 179 died of pneumonia, 14,032 cases of the malady were reported to the health department during the same period.

TWO MORE STUDENTSHIPS IN SCIENTIFIC RESEARCH

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—The council for scientific and industrial research has awarded two more studentships of $750 each. This brings the total number of fellowships and student ships thus far awarded for research work this year bearing on practical industrial problems up to ten.

One of the new studentships goes to William W. E. Ross, a graduate of the University of Toronto in 1915, with first-class honors in chemistry and mineralogy.

The other goes to Miss Clara W. Fritz, a gold medalist of McGill University in 1914 in the department of biology.

Thousands of Aliens Would Get Out, But Can Govt. Manage It?

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—It is learned that many thousands of aliens at present resident in Canada are desirous of leaving the Dominion, and are willing to pay their own expenses to Europe. Two questions arise, first, as to whether permits can be obtained from their several countries before the war is officially declared at an end, and secondly, the availability of shipping for the purpose. Both questions have been taken up with the Canadian ministers overseas.

TWO MORE TRANSPORTS ARE SAILING THIS WAY WITH 3,471 CANADIANS

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—The militia department has received word that the transports Carmania and Tunisian, carrying a total of 3,471 Canadian troops, are now on their way across the Atlantic.

The Carmania, which left Liverpool for Halifax on February 1, will probably dock about the 10th. She has on board 95 officers, 3,074 other ranks and 28 cadets.

The Tunisian left England on January 31 and should arrive at St. John at about the same time the Carmania reaches Halifax, or a few days later. She has 24 officers and 253 other ranks on board.

The classification of Ontario men on the two ships by military districts is as follows:

Carmania—London District, 5 officers, 204 other ranks; Toronto District, 37 officers, 1,031 other ranks; Kingston District, 120 officers and 205 other ranks.

Tunisian—London District, no officers, 19 other ranks; Toronto, 10 officers, 63 other ranks; Kingston, no officers, 16 other ranks.

Govt. Better Lose on Wheat Than Maintain an Artificial Price

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Grain dealers appearing today before the House Agricultural Committee proposed that the Government to maintain an artificial price of $2.26 a bushel for the 1919 wheat crop, and sell it to the consumer at the world market price, which they estimated would be about $1.25.

The witnesses generally believed this plan would cost the Government probably a billion and a quarter dollars, but said this loss was preferable to any attempt on the part of the Government to maintai an artificial price.

NOW FRENCH CHIEFS ARE IN ARGUMENT OVER 1914 ACTION

One Says Withdrawal Was Not Premeditated.

ANOTHER INSISTS IT WAS

Joffre Refuses To Make Statement, Saying He Will Make Disclosures in a Book.

PARIS, Feb. 4.—"That is all politics, and I am not a politician," Marshal Joffre declared to Paris newspaper correspondents concerning his views on the statement made in the chamber Friday night by former Premier Viviani that the French army, then under the command of Marshal Joffre, had been withdrawn on July 30, 1914, eight to ten kilometres from the frontier in order that the French Government might demonstrate that its attitude was not hostile. The Matin calls the discussion concerning the withdrawal, which affected the iron basin of the Briey, "The Briey Enigma."

Joffre Writing a Book.

Marshal Joffre said he had carried out his duties fully under all circumstances, and that he is drawing up a plain historical statement of what had been done under his direction, which would contain the truth as established by documents.

Gen. Lanrezac, who commanded the French fifth army at the outbreak of the war, told the Petit Journal that the evacuation of the Briey region had never been decided upon in advance, and that want of material means alone prevented the French staff from making the basin untenable for the Germans.

Former War Minister Speaks.

In an article in the Matin Gen. Messimy, who was minister of war at the outbreak of the war, contributes an article corroborating the statement made in the Chamber by M. Viviani.

Adolphe Messemy says the Government on July 30, 1914, was obliged to solve the problem of protecting the frontiers, while avoiding all possibility of aggression, so as to give proof of the love of France for peace and to throw the blame for hostilities on Germany.

Joffre Protested Not.

It was only for this reason, and not to obey the injunction of the Socialists, that the Government decided to establish a safety zone of ten kilometres in order to keep French patrols from entering German territory, and thus give Germany no excuse for aggression, Gen. Messemy says he took full responsibility for the order to withdraw. Marshal Joffre, the article says, was convinced of the diplomatic importance of the measure, and raised no objection to it. The results, he concluded, were as expected, and the German Government was forced to send out false reports to neutralize the effect on German opinion.

FIRE ENDANGERS BIG BOTHWELL OIL TANK

BOTHWELL, Feb. 3.—The town was given a scare yesterday by the outbreak of a fire in the immediate vicinity of the oil tank, which contains 4,500 barrels of oil, of the Imperial Oil Company. After a stiff fight the firemen were able to extinguish it before it reached the tank, and this prevented serious consequences. The fire only burned the oily grass around the tank. It is thought to have been started by a spark from a passing train.

Bothwell had the pleasure recently of welcoming Pte. Russel Willicks from overseas. Although word only arrived a short time before the train, a large crowd gathered at the station and gave him a hearty ovation. One brother, Pte. Irwin Willicks, arrived home a month ago, and one brother, Alan, is still overseas.

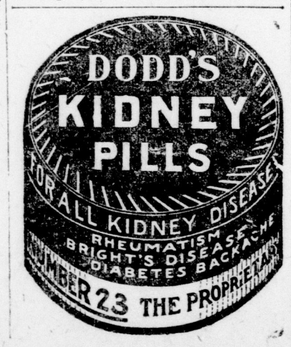

WOULD REDUCE TERM OF EMBARGOED IMMIGRATION

WASHINGTON, Feb. 3.—Representatives Powers of Kentucky and Knutson of Minnesota, in a minority report filed today on the Burnett bill prohibiting for four years immigration from all countries except Canada, Newfoundland, Cuba and Mexico, recommended that the period of restriction be reduced to two years.

"We regard the fixing of such a long period at this time," said the report, "as extreme, unreasonable and unwise, for the reason that no one can ever anticipate what the social, industrial and economic conditions will be four years hence."

WOMAN IS ACCUSED OF MURDERING HUNGARIAN

REGINA, Feb. 3.—Mrs. Anne Boldis of Wakaw, Sask., is now in the toils of the provincial police, held on a charge of murdering Baila Magi, a Hungarian farmer, residing near Wakaw, and who, it is explained, was murdered in his shack on Sunday evening by the accused woman.

260 RUSSIANS SHOT FOR NOT HOLDING REDS

Insubordination Breaks Admiral Kolchak's Defense.

OMSK, Jan. 20.—(By the Associated Press).—For refusing to obey an order to protect the front of the Siberian army against the Bolsheviki in the region of Kunder, southeast of Perm, 250 soldiers and ten officers have been tried by court-martial and shot for insubordination, according to a report received here from Kunder. Eight officers and fifty soldiers were taken to Ekaterinburg for trial.

The insubordination of the soldiers weakens the defence of Perm against the Bolsheviki, who continue to advance toward it from the southeast.

BERLIN IS BRISTLING WITH ARMED FORCES TO GUARD ASSEMBLY

Extremists Show Clear Intention To Oppose Meeting.

BERLIN, Sunday, Feb. 2.—(By the Associated Press).—In the face of the clear intention of the extremists to oppose the meeting of the national assembly, the Government is taking strong military measures, both in Berlin and Weimar.

Troops have been reinforced in the newspaper quarter of Berlin, and heavily manned, armored cars stand day and night before the Reichstag building in readiness to proceed to any threatened point.

Ex-Crown Prince of Germany and Carl Seeking Divorces

ZURICH, Feb. 3.—Frederick William Hohenzollern, eldest son of the former German emperor, according to a Berlin dispatch to the Munich Zeitung, has instituted proceedings for divorce.

CARL IN SAME GAME.

Zurich, Feb. 3.—The Prague Tageblatt is authority for the statement that Former Emperor Charles of Austria-Hungary intends to apply for a divorce.

Charles was married in 1911 to Princess Zita of Bourbon and Parma, an Italian. From the union have been born five children, four boys and a girl.

A PIMPLY FACE OR POOR COMPLEXION QUICKLY RESTORED

Thousands of young men and women would be handsome and attractive were it not for unsightly pimples, blackheads and rough, uneven skin. Custom seems to recommend lotions and salves, but unfortunately their effect is but temporary. These disfiguring blemishes do not originate in the skin—their birth in every case goes further back, to the blood, which must be cleansed of humors before the pimples depart for good.

A physician who has made a careful study of such cases says that the quickest cure comes from a blood-building medicine like Ferrozone. The minute Ferrozone strikes the blood its good work begins. Poisons and foul matter are expelled. Every trace of humor is driven out, and the whole life current is supplied with nutriment and health giving qualities. You can always tell a Ferrozone complexion when you see it—the cheeks are clear and rosy, no signs of sallowness—the eyes are bright and expressive because rich, red blood is circulating through the whole system, carrying health, energy and strength with it. Not only will all skin eruptions disappear, but an increase in vital strength, an all-round improvement will be apparent. No rebuilding tonic could be more efficient. Get Ferrozone today—good for young and old, for well folks and sick ones, too. 50c per box, or six boxes for $2.50, at all dealers, or direct by mail from The Catarrhozone Co., Kingston, Ont.

E. HURON ARGICULTURAL SOCIETY PROSPERING

BRUSSELS, Feb. 3.—Miss Margaret Stewart died in Fergus hospital, in which she had been a patient for some months. She was a daughter of the late Alex Stewart, Brussels. The funeral took place Monday afternoon from the home of her brother, Turnbury street.

The old officers were reappointed for East Huron Agricultural Society at the annual meeting. A good cash balance was reported. Oats will be the field crop grown next season. Fall fair dates are September 16 and 17.

A union memorial service will be held in the Presbyterian Church next Sunday evening, having reference to the brave lads belonging to the Presbyterian and Methodist congregations, who fell in the great conflict overseas.

Auction sale of farm stock and implements are on the program now, owing to the sales of several farms and other changes. Prices range high.

By falling at his doorstep John Rea of Walton suffered a broken leg near the hip.

Tuesday of next week the annual meeting of Brussels, Grey and Morris Telephone Company will be held in the town hall, Brussels. There are about 1,000 subscribers on this system which has been running for the past ten years.

Last week Wm. Henderson, who has been living in the west, and Miss Margaret, daughter of Robert and Mrs. Shedden of Morris Township were united in marriage. They will leave shortly for the groom's home in Saskatchewan.

Miss Laura Leatherdale underwent a slight operation in Toronto, and is getting along fine.

Land and Loans—to Help Soldiers Become Farmers

IT is anticipated that a great many soldiers who have served with the Canadian, British or Allied forces may want to become farmers in Canada. The vital need to-day is to increase production and the acreage under cultivation. It is thus in Canada's best interests to give these soldiers every assistance. The Government has therefore been developing a programme that includes the providing of land, the granting of loans and the training and supervision of those inexperienced in farming.

The Present Plan.

Under the Soldier Settlement Act, 1917, an eligible returned soldier is entitled, in addition to his ordinary homestead right, to a free grant of one quarter-section of Dominion Lands on homestead conditions.

For this purpose the Government has suspended homestead entry by others than soldiers on all remaining homestead lands in the Western provinces within fifteen miles of railway transportation, pending enquiry into their suitability.

As soon as a soldier goes on the land, the Board has power to grant him a loan up to the maximum of $2,500.

This loan is granted to settlers to help them acquire land for farming, discharge incumbrances, undertake improvements, erect buildings and secure necessary live-stock, machinery and equipment.

It is not given as an actual advance of cash, but in the form of payment for expenditures. In this way the settlers' transactions are carefully supervised.

The loan is made at the low interest rate of five per cent. It is to be repaid in twenty annual instalments. The first two payments may be deferred by the Board when desirable.

The New Proposal.

The Government have found it necessary to broaden these original plans for the following reasons:

(a) It has been found that only a limited amount of suitable homestead land is available for soldier settlement.

(b) Some Crown lands are held by the Provinces.

(c) Homesteading may not suit all the returned soldiers.

It is now proposed that the Provincial Governments co-operate with the Soldier Settlement Board in acquiring suitable lands at present held uncultivated by private owners. The Dominion Government has announced its intention of introducing necessary legislation along these lines at the opening of the next Session.

The lands so bought will be re-sold to the soldier at cost price. It is suggested that the purchaser be required to make a cash payment of one-tenth of the purchase price. The balance will be payable in equal annual instalments extended over twenty years or longer.

The amount of the land purchased by this plan, if it is approved by Parliament, will be limited in value to $5,000. Interest will be charged at a low rate of five per cent.

When these new proposals for land purchase become effective the Board will be able to loan the soldier settler up to a total of $1,500 for the purchase of live-stock and equipment in addition to the loan for the purchase of his land. It will be granted on practically the same terms as the loans now allowed.

As the soldier improves his farm the Board may advance him a further $1,000.

Who May Apply

The Act applies to any one who has served with an honourable record in the Canadian or Imperial forces in the present war, or to any Canadian who was on active service with the Allied forces, or the widow of any such person who died on active service.

The Board will loan money only to those who have had sufficient experience or training in farming. Each applicant may be required to appear in person before the Qualification Committee in his district.

Training

Those soldiers who have had insufficient experience in farming will be helped by the Board to secure the necessary training to qualify them for the loans.

Special instructional courses are being arranged with the agricultural schools and experimental farms.

Farmers will be asked to co-operate in giving the soldier practical training and knowledge.

Expert Assistance

The work of the Soldier Settlement Board is carried out by Supervisors in each of the provinces.

These supervisors have under them a staff of land appraisers to valuate the land, and, farming advisors or practical farmers in the community to advise the soldier after he has definitely settled on his farm.

Qualification Committees are being appointed in each Province to advise the Board as to the qualifications of each applicant.

Results

Loans, amounting to over 1¼ million dollars, have already been granted to over one thousand returned soldiers.

Since the regulations were completed last July, over eight hundred soldiers have made entries on Dominion Crown Lands under the Soldier Settlement Act.

Offices of the Soldier Settlement Board are located as follows: Post Office Bldg; EDMONTON, Alta.; Post Office Bldg., WINNIPEG, Man.; Pemberton Bldg., VICTORIA, B.C.; McCallum Hill Bldg., REGINA, Sask.; 32 Adelaide St. E., TORONTO, Ont.; Drummond Bldg., MONTREAL, Que. In New Brunswick the Board is temporarily represented by the Secretary of the Provincial Farm Settlement Board, St. John; in Nova Scotia, by the Secretary of the Soldiers' Aid Commission, Halifax, N.S.; and in Prince Edward Island by the Minister of Agriculture, Charlottetown.

67 PARTIES ARE PETITIONING TO GAIN DIVORCES

Applications For Severance of Marriage Ties Constitute Record For Canada.

56 ARE FROM ONTARIO

More Dissatisfied Husbands Make Plea To Parliament Than Wives—5 Soldiers.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—Applicants to parliament for severance of the marriage ties during the coming session constitute a record. The greatest number of applicants before parliament on any previous session was 33. This year there are no less than 67 applications to be dealt with, though 15 of these are holdovers from last session.

Ontario supplies no less than 56 of the applications, and from "Toronto the Good," come 32 of these. There are six from Quebec, two from Manitoba, two from Saskatchewan, and two from Alberta. Of the cities, Montreal and Ottawa each supply six. Winnipeg has only one.

Only Five Soldiers.

Of the total, 59 applications come from the male member of the family, and 25 from the female. Five only of the applicants give their profession as "Soldier."

That Ontario should provide the bulk of the applications is perhaps natural. The Maritime Provinces have their own courts, as has also British Columbia; Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta are now testing before judicial committee of the Imperial Privy Council, their jurisdiction to grant divorces, and many cases in these provinces are no doubt pending the decision. Quebec does not generally believe in divorces, though marriage separations are awarded by the courts from time to time.

While this session's applications constitute a record, Canada is far behind the United States in the matter of granting divorces. It has been estimated that for the ten years from 1896 to 1906 no less a number than 585,000 divorces were granted in the United States, or one in every twelve marriages. In Canada for the same period the number granted did not exceed 200.

IMPOSSIBLE TO PUT RUSSIA UPON FEET WITHOUT RAILWAYS

Lines To the Interior Must First Be Restored To Normal.

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—Practical impossibility of the economic situation in Siberia being improved until the restoration of normal railway facilities with the interior is emphasized in a report received by the Government from L. D. Wilgress, a member of Canada's economic commission to Siberia.

Mr. Wilgress, who writes in his capacity as Canadian trade commissioner to Siberia, states that when the Czecho-Slovaks re-established communications with Western Siberia in September last, it was anticipated that a large quantity of supplies urgently required by the civil population would be transported from Vladivostok. Import business in foreign goods became brisk, but these expectations were never realized, the transport conditions becoming steadily worse. The transport situation, Mr. Wilgress says, has "paralyzed the economic and business life of the country."

CHANGES IN RULES OF LOBO SCHOOLS FAIR AT ILDERTON

ILDERTON, Feb. 3.—The organization meeting of the supporters of the "Lobo Schools' Fair" was held in the town hall, Coldstream, on Saturday. S. P. Brown was in the chair, and Miss Jean Gray was secretary. The treasurer's report was read, showing a balance on hand of $78.

R. A. Finn, district representative of London, gave an outline of prospects for 1919. Eight schools had taken part in 1918. Some changes were made in the conduct of the fair for 1919.

Each school will pay $10 for prize money. It was decided to appoint one man from each school to assist the junior committee in their work.

The livestock must be raised on the farm where the pupil exhibitor resides.

An increase all round in the prize lists will be made. Three special prizes will be given: For the best mechanical exhibit, for best exhibit of trained animals, or for best exhibit in domestic science.

Mr. Finn will distribute seeds, eggs and other supplies to each school desiring to take part. He is to be notified before March 1, so that he can prepare in time for spring planting.

A largely attended union meeting of the Young People's Societies of the district was held in the Christian Church, Poplar Hill, on Friday evening. Delegations from five Y. P. S. were present and a lengthy program was given. A pleasing feature of the evening was the presentation to Rev. Mr. Clark, pastor of the church, who is leaving for Kansas City, of a handsome leather club bag. The presentation was made by Jennie Fonger, and the address by A. Williams, on behalf of the Y. P. S. of Lobo. Rev. Mr. Clark replied in a feeling farewell address to the young people. A large union choir of members from each Y. P. S. furnished the music for the evening. Refreshments were served at the close of the program, and an enjoyable social hour was spent afterwards.

GEE, I'M HAPPY MY CATARRH ALL GONE

Suffered Like a Boob for Years—Got Relief in Ten Minutes.

CATARRHOZONE DID CURE

That's the way hundreds of the boys around town are talking since Catarrhozone got into the drug stores. Nothing on earth like Catarrhozone to really cure Catarrh, Colds or Bronchitis.

"Catarrhozone"—it isn't a drug—it's a healing vapor full of pine essences and healing balsams. It spreads over the surfaces that are weak and sore from coughing. Every spot that is congested is healed—irritation is soothed away, phlegm and secretions are cleaned out, and all symptoms of cold and Catarrh are cured. Nothing so quick, so sure, so pleasant as Catarrhozone. Beware of dangerous substitutes meant to deceive you for genuine Catarrhozone. All dealers sell Catarrhozone, large size, which lasts two months, price $1.00; small size, 50c; sample size, 25c.

Winnipeg Proposes To Make Own Paper If People Approve

CanTurn Out Product For Less Than Half Present Price.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 3.—The legislation committee of the city council today unanimously agreed to recommend that the city council seek power by reference to the ratepayers to erect a pulp and paper plant to cost three million dollars, as a means of establishing permanent industries in Winnipeg. It was urged that employees of the mill be made part owners and have an interest in the actual earnings of the mill. In championing the project Ald. F. O. Fowler pointed out that there are unlimited stretches of timber area in the northern part of Manitoba; and that while paper in Winnipeg today costs $88 per ton, including $19 freight, it would be produced at $26 per ton in a 500-ton plant, and at $40 per ton in a 100-ton plant.

DOMINIONS SURE TO CLASSIFY AS WORLD NATIONS

With Britain Favorable, There Should Be No Obstacle in Conference.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—The much-discussed question whether the British dominions shall have separate representation as national units in a society of nations is understood to have been settled favorably as far as Great Britain is concerned.

Numerous conferences have been held between representatives of the dominions and the British Government, and, it is said, a complete agreement has been reached that the self-governing dominions are entitled to places in the society as entities, having the same status as any other nation.

The final decision rests with the peace conference, but the representatives of the dominions anticipate no objections there inasmuch as Great Britain is supporting them.

PRAIRIES WILL GET NATURAL RESOURCES, IS WINNIPEG REPORT

No Attention Is Paid To Claim of East.

WINNIPEG, Feb. 3.—The natural resources of the three prairie provinces will be transferred from federal to provincial control at the forthcoming session of the federal parliament on the basis of a slightly reduced annual indemnity and without regard to the claims of Eastern Canada for additional indemnification, according to the Tribune.

"This is forecast in a message received from Ottawa today," adds the Tribune, "and semi-officially confirmed at the Manitoba parliament buildings."

ENGINEER AND FIREMAN BOTH BADLY INJURED IN PECULIAR MANNER

SYDNEY, N.S., Feb. 3.—Engineer F. M. Fraser was seriously injured, and his fireman scalded yesterday morning at Avondale, near New Glasgow, in an unusual accident to No. 7 express from Halifax for Sydney.

While the train was running at a fair rate of speed a side rod of the locomotive broke, smashing the driver's side of the cab and breaking steampipe connections. Both engineer and fireman are in hospital at New Glasgow.

THEDFORD LAD DIES IN ENGLAND

THEDFORD, Feb. 3.—Jos. Zavitz, of concession 4, Bosanquet, received a wire from Ottawa informing him of the death in England of his son, Pte. James E. Zavitz. The young man went overseas last summer, and last fall contracted pneumonia in a training camp in England, from which he never fully recovered. His father has made application for the body, which will be sent here for burial.

All doubts as to the species of the animal shot near here by George Martelle a few weeks ago have been cleared up. At first it was pronounced a timber wolf. A fur dealer said it was not. A person from the north country says it is without a doubt a timber wolf, and an old one.

C. W. Hall has sold his residential property opposite St. Paul's Church to Wm. McDonald of Jericho.

A large four-ton safe has been placed in position in the new Molsons Bank building. The bank will be open for business in a few days, with Mr. Montgomery, late of Meaford, as manager.

TWO FUNERALS AT AILSA CRAIG

AILSA CRAIG, Feb. 3.—The funeral of Donald McDonald, son of Mrs. B. McDonald, will be held on Tuesday from his home on William street. The deceased passed away on Sunday evening after two weeks' illness, and his death is deeply regretted here. Besides his mother, who is in poor health, he leaves two sisters, Mrs. Abbott in the west, and Margaret at home; also two brothers, Neil out west, and Alex at home. Services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Geddes, with interment at Nairn Cemetery.

Steve Robinson's farm in McGillivray was sold by Auctioneer H. Stanley of Lucan at the Munro House on Saturday. The purchaser was A. Stewart, seventh concession, McGillivray, the price being $5,975, and will be used for grazing purposes.

The funeral of Mrs. T. Scafe, who died in Victoria Hospital, London, Thursday evening, January 30, took place from the residence of Mrs. Menzies, Main street, on Saturday. The body arrived on the morning express and the funeral was held at 2 o'clock to Nairn Cemetery, where her late husband was buried a few months ago after a very short illness. The deceased had been in poor health ever since her husband's death, and made her home here. She leaves one son, Arthur of London. The services were conducted by Rev. W. H. Geddes.

The death occurred suddenly of James W. McGeary at his home in Strathroy on Friday, January 31. The deceased resided in McGillivray for a number of years, and was in good health until his only son, Pte. James McGeary, was killed in action in 1918. His death was due to heart-failure. Besides his wife he leaves two daughters. Mrs. Alex. McLean of this place is a daughter. Two sisters also survive, Mrs. John Dorman and Mrs. Zavitz, both living here. The funeral was held on Monday to Nairn Cemetery.

PEACE CONFERENCE PLANS TO PREVENT CONFLICT BETWEEN POLES AND CZECHS

Commission Is Being Dispatched to Austrian Siberia for That Purpose.

TO DECIDE FRONTIER

Congress Delegates To Take Up Detailed Discussion of League of Nations.

PARIS, Feb. 3.—A commission of control will be sent immediately to Teschen, Austrian Silesia, to prevent a conflict between the Czechs and the Poles in the region of Teschen, and also to inquire into the basis for a frontier decision at the peace conference.

At the meeting of the commission on a society of nations this afternoon there was a general agreement to push the deliberations as rapidly as possible.

An official statement says that a definite program was formulated and that an agreement was reached to begin detailed discussions on Tuesday.

The statement follows:

"The commission on a society of nations today compared views as to the best method of procedure. There was a general agreement on the desirability of pushing on the deliberations as rapidly as possible. A definite program of work was formulated, and it was agreed that the commission should commence detailed discussions on Tuesday."

The Claims of Greece.

Another official communique reads:

"The president of the United States, the premiers and the ministers for foreign affairs of the Allied and associated powers and the Japanese representatives, met today from 11 a.m. to 1 p.m. They heard M. Venizelos' statement of the claims of Greece, which will be continued tomorrow at 11 a.m., after which the Czecho-Slovak delegates will again be heard."

The Greek claims, as presented by Premier Venizelos, who was accompanied by Nicholas Politis, the Greek foreign minister, embrace Northern Epirus thence down the Dardanelles, including Constantinople and the seafront along Western Asia-Minor, with Smyrna as its commercial and geographical centre.

Greeks Predominate.

M. Venizelos maintained that the Greek race largely predominated in these regions. This was so manifest, M. Venizelos contended, particularly in Northern Epirus, that he intimated his willingness to leave the question to a plebiscite of the inhabitants of the various regions as the means of determining the racial predominance.

Concerning Constantinople, the Greek premier maintained that if Ottoman sovereignty were suppressed the natural solution would be to allow Constantinople and its vilayet to Greece, with international guarantee for the free navigation of the Dardanelles. If the society of nations became a reality, however, the premier suggested that the international importance of Constantinople might make advisable the internationalization of the city under the protection of the society, which should select the governor.

Americans Hesitate.

No answer has been returned by the American delegates to the peace conference to what is said to be an almost unanimous desire of the other powers that the United States undertake to act as mandatory for Armenia, and the other severed provinces of Turkey. Such of the American delegates as will discuss the situation say they are disposed to resist this development of the plan for mandatories, holding that it is the business of Europe to look after the Europeans and the people of the Near East.

The argument used by the other powers in support of their desire that the United States assume some of the obligations to care for the welfare of backward peoples affected by the peace settlement and assist in their advancement to a higher state of civilization is based upon the unlimited confidences of other governments, and because it is known that the United States has no territorial aspirations.

Reason in Proposal.

Furthermore, it is argued that the confidence of the Armenians and other peoples of the provinces affected, through the long-exerted influence of Robert College, at Constantinople, is a strong reason for the participation of America as the mandatory power.

The American delegates feel that they should await the development of sentiment in Armenia as to what duties may devolve upon the United States in connection with its interest in the welfare of dependent people. It seems to be the view in American circles that the powers granted the mandatory nations will have a considerable influence in shaping the attitude of the American delegation on this question.

Would Escape Patrolling.

If the mandatory is limited to the employment of native constabulary to enforce its mandates, there might, it appears, be less objection to accepting such a responsibility than if it were contemplated that the mandatories use similar forces of their own, this latter idea being obnoxious to the Americans.

In any event, before the American attitude can be determined, it is held to be necessary to await the development of the project to its completion by the peace conference, which is endeavoring to merge the various plans for the creation of the society of nations.

Suggestion of Labor.

A project for the establishment of a representative body elected by the people of the nations of the world to sit in connection with the proposed international labor bureau, is being quietly discussed among some of the labor leaders in Paris. According to the ideas thus far advanced, such a body would carry out investigations and make suggestions to the labor bureau. It would also have certain legislative functions, although it would not interfere with the workings of the projected international bureau.

The idea has not reached a stage of development for submission to the peace conference, however, and is understood to be still in a somewhat nebulous shape.

Smooth Sailing For League.

The question of a society of nations will be the first presented to the plenary conference as soon as the report of the commission is ready. As this commission includes representatives of all the great powers and many of the smaller ones it is assumed that approval by the peace conference will be assured in advance.

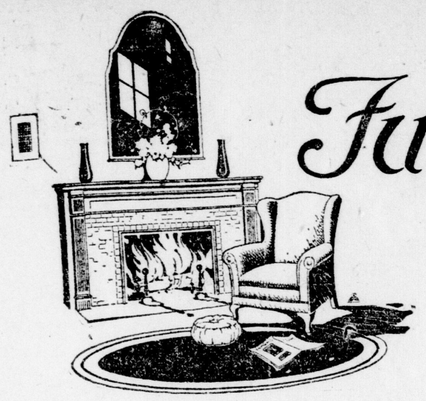

Today's meeting of this commission afforded the members an opportunity to express individual views on the general principles which should govern the society. It is said that little divergence in views developed, except as to the measure of force to be employed, and it is believed this fact made apparent the virtual unanimous agreement by the commission.

While the plan presented today has not been disclosed, it is said to have a combination of the British, American and French ideas, and that it does not go into such detail as prohibiting the use of the submarine in warfare, freedom of the seas, and like subjects, though it does touch upon the limitation of armament, naval as well as military.

Trade Routes Committee.

The commission on ports, waterways and railways held its first meeting today. The meeting was called by M. Clavelle, French minister of public works, who welcomed the delegates. The minister said he had for four years managed the transportation of the French army and also its supplies during the war. On his motion Signor Crispi, the Italian minister of supplies, was named chairman, and M. Sifton of Belgium vice-chairman.

The supreme council transmitted a request for the admission of members of the smaller nationalities to this committee, which accordingly added a Czech, a Portuguese and a Pole to membership.

Govt. Must Face Problem to Secure Work For All

Prompt measures will have to be taken by the Dominion Government, either on its own initiative or in conjunction with provincial and municipal authorities, to cope with the unemployment problem which appears to have become quite serious in some of the larger centres.

It is reported that between twenty and twenty-five thousand are out of work at Montreal alone. For this unfortunate condition a number of things are to blame. Munition plants, which formerly employed thousands, are closed for lack of orders, other concerns are unable, through the lack of marine tonnage to secure raw material and are obliged to stop operations temporarily, while still others cannot continue to manufacture at a profit and meet the demand for higher wages.

The exceptionally mild and open winter, too, has robbed thousands in Montreal and Quebec of means of living, in that there has been no snow to keep off the streets. Few people are without coal, but there is not a superabundance of food in some quarters. It will not do to have widespread idleness. That leads to hunger, and physical distress is too excellent a breeding-ground for lawlessness. Work must be found for all on the ground of ordinary humanity and for purposes of public stability and safety.

Give the Old Countryman a Certificate of Citizenship

When an old-countryman comes to Canada his allegiance to the British crown is a passport to Canadian citizenship. When he has complied with certain regulations as to residence in country and community, he is given the franchise and entitled to all privileges accorded to the native-born.

This is as it should be, but it is not enough. The old-countryman should be given a document upon entering and remaining in the country for a certain period which would make his citizenship a matter of record. It should be set down in a paper which he may carry, showing that on a certain date he became a Canadian. It would be a certificate of Canadianism with a large value in sentiment, and that is what we wish to do, to enlist the old-country settler's interest in the country, to make him feel that he is as much a Canadian as any of us, and to provide him with the proof of his citizenship in case it may be disputed when at the border of other lands he tells that he was born in England, Wales, Scotland or Ireland.

His very coming to the country makes him a Canadian, and perhaps a better Canadian than many of those who were born in Canada. They had no choice in the matter, and many of them live through school and university at public expense in the hope of leaving for the United States when the time comes to take advantage of opportunity. The man who comes from the old country, and who sticks to Canada, has done so from choice. He has left the place of his birth and cast his lot, not in a foreign land, but in the land of the younger sons. He brings with him a wife, or marries in Canada, and his children are numbered with the native-born. He, with the French, is the stock that has built up Canada, and provided men for herculean tasks achieved in this country of small population.

Let the country greet the newcomer with a hearty welcome and a certificate of his citizenship. He requires no naturalization, but his active interest in the country should have a sign to mark it, and to make it count for Canada.

We are going to search the world for the right men to come to this northern land. Whether or not the statesmen of the day have the vision to build well and strongly, the time is not distant when the story of Canada must be told to all men. The British stock is what we first desire. It should be given its proper rating and full recognition as being filled with the corpuscles that make for 100 per cent Canadianism.

Britain's Claims Before the Peace Congress Are Moderate

Great Britain's delegation believes that a Society of Nations is desirable and obtainable and that it must be established by the present peace conference. She advances no continental purposes other than those of a permanent and just peace under the principle of self-determination, and that there shall be international freedom of transit by railroads and waterways, which is Great Britain's general definition of freedom of commerce in times of peace.

Great Britain will take mandatory power over the German islands south of the Equator for Australia and over German Southwest Africa for the Union of South Africa.

She will also have the mandate over German East Africa and some parts of Arabia, and she has particular claims in this respect over Mesopotamia. Great Britain will enter a pool with the other allies in the matter of indemnities, especially reparation for air raid damages and shipping losses.

The above are given, semi-officially, as Great Britain's claims laid before the peace conference. In view of the empire's contributions to the war they are by no means immoderate. In fact it would not be difficult to make out a case for Great Britain which would, in justice, secure for her a much more extensive return than is requested in the above list. As has been pointed out many times, Britain's command of the sea was the great basic fact of the Allies' success. Without the splendid invincibility of Albion's fleets the peace table would be a bargain counter. Yet instead of demanding "spoils" in cash or land, to which by all the rules she is entitled, Great Britain modestly asks for perfect commercial freedom, a wardship over such of the enemy's colonies whose geographical situation directly affects sections of the empire, and a share in an indemnity pool.

The league of nations, for its own security and stability, as well as progress for Mesopotamia and Arabia, should grant Britain's desire for mandatory rights in these parts. It has been decided that Turkey must be policed for a time, and the powerful military organization which Great Britain has built up in Mesopotamia is the natural base from which to do this policing. Furthermore British occupation of the great valleys of the Tigris and Euphrates is rapidly transforming a vast desolation and waste into a livable land, a land that will bear some resemblance to its earlier appearance as the reputed Garden of Eden.

Control of German Southwest Africa, East Africa and German islands south of the equator, too, cannot in justice be refused Great Britain. Until these colonies are rid of the last minute degree of kultur and the native populations educated to a place in the society of nations, they would constitute a peril to the empire. Furthermore the tremendous social and industrial expansion which is ahead for all sections of the African continent will be hampered unless the league takes for a time the most rigid control of such districts as have come under German influence. For bearing this share of the white man's burden where are to be found shoulders more capable than John Bull's?

Great Britain asks for no rewards in land and gold for her titanic services. On the contrary she is willing to make great sacrifices, as will be the case should the indemnities be pooled, while if granted mandatory powers she will add immensely to the prosperity and happiness of her wards. That seems very moderate coming from the big partner in the late triumph.

New Playhouses Will Show How Industrial Winds Blow

Trade follows the flag, we have been told, and the axiom might be revised to suit local conditions. It appears that in London new places of amusement are to come as a forerunner of industrial development. Announcement has been made within the last few days of the securing of valuable property on Dundas street for the construction of two theatres, and there is every reason to believe that these are not the castles in the air which have been erected from time to time, on paper. The new playhouses are likely to be standing within a few months.

While the launching of these ventures in itself is important from the viewpoint of intrinsic value, the conditions indicated are much more important. The showman's instinct for choosing places that are sure of development is seldom at fault. He is among the first to be found in the big boom town, and he is, by the same token, among the first to shake from his feet the dust of mining or oil towns that have "petered out." It is a good sign for London's development when two of the foremost theatrical firms in the country decide that London is the city where growth is certain, and demonstrate their belief by deciding to spend large amounts on property and construction.

This shrewdness is often exhibited by the outsider, while the native son sits back and asks questions about the safety of the venture. As a matter of fact the success of any business deals that may be undertaken in London or any other city, to a large extent depends upon the faith the community shows in itself.

For instance, at the present time a large American motor truck corporation with a Canadian organization, but no branch factory, is seeking a location in Ontario. The decision lies between London and Toronto, so that no secret is divulged when the fact is made known. London has a splendid chance to secure the industry and several citizens have willingly put their shoulders to the wheel in order to show that local capital can be interested. The coming of the branch factory to London is dependent upon the amount of capital that can be secured, and the record of the company is such as to make reasonably certain that a vast industry would be created. The firm has an enormous output of trucks, and a large Canadian business.

Is London to let the chance pass when a spirit such as that shown during Patriotic or Victory Bond campaigns would run up the capital required to secure such an industry for the city?

Outside capital which sees a clear opportunity is investing its money in London, but if the city is to reach the 100,000 mark within a reasonable period, citizens must do their share in providing the dollars that bring the factories.

Turkey may consider herself lucky that she is to be policed instead of sliced.

We note with fear and trembling that the Bolshevik forces are rapidly nearing Monastyrstychinza.

Germany claims the right to expand her culture. That's all right, providing she doesn't spell it with a "k."

Pomp was a feature of the congress of Vienna. "Pep" and "punch" are distinguishing the present peace conference.

So that he won't feel out in the cold we suggest that Willie Hohenzollern be given mandatory powers over the Sinn Feiners.

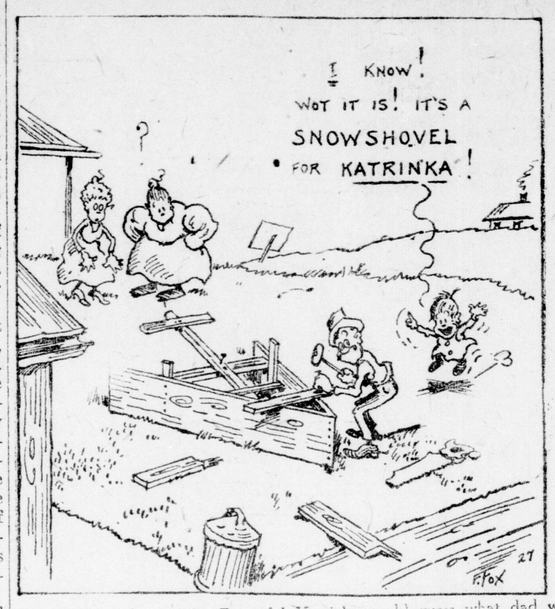

When Lloyd George gets through helping make a new garment for the world, he will find some bad rents at home that will require skilful patching.

In these piping times of republicanism Manuel should consider himself honored in being recalled to the Portuguese throne. He will be about the last who will be pestered to accept a crown.

By the time it is all beribboned and besealed and everything and already to hang above the parlor mantel that peace pact will look a good deal like the lowly life insurance policy. And let us hope it will be as effective.

CHARLEY ZEPP'S FEET.
By Archie Cameron New.

His chair propped up comfortably against the door jamb, in the narrow hallway leading from the stage of the Olympia Theatre to the back alley, with a dim red light casting its feeble rays on his white hair, Baker, the doorman, kept watch, snoozily, against the trespass of unhallowed feet. And then an unhallowed foot brought him upstanding, and an unhallowed hand on his stooped shoulder brought a frown, which quickly changed to a grizzled smile as a bill shot under his nose.

"I say," piped a voice, "my good man, will you give this card to Miss Dolly Hart?"

"Um-m," came the answering grunt, as Baker scanned the card. "I'll see. I think her act's on now, Jes' wait."

Baker shambled off, but hadn't got ten feet when a retaining arm shot out of the darkness and stopped him.

"Pss-t," hissed Charley Zepp, reaching for the card. "Who's Dolly's lonny?" Then as he read the card he turned a surprised face to Andy Scobell, the property man. "Shades of Morgan, Andy, it's Piper."

"Piper!" echoed Andy, quizzically. "Where does he fend har?"

"Can it, Andy," growled Charley Zepp. "He's no bartender. His daddy's name on most o' yer weekly pay."

"Forrest's angel!" quizzed Andy, puzzled.

"Forrest's nothing," was the retort. "He ain't got nothin' t' do with th' manager o' this house. He's president o' the Consolidated National Bank—worth about fifty million—oh, boy, what a write-up for Dolly!"

"Soft pedal!" admonished Andy, in a hoarse whisper. "You press agents are reglar nuts. Dolly's partner Bill Hemsley'll give you all that's comin' t' you if you go to framin' up Dolly with a money-masher. Besides, this don't look real—a bank president Johnnying around stage——"

"It's his son, not him," and Zepp gave Andy a scornful look. "Besides, y'gotta be a fair property man before y' can get ten jobs below press agent. So keep yer mind on yer own business. This is my meat. Oh, boy!"

Charlie Zepp started for Dolly's dressing room, and accosted the dainty little dancer just as she returned, panting, from the stage. Greeting him with a winsome smile, she invited him in. Cautiously he held his breath until the door was closed.

"Well, what's up, Charley?" she demanded, dabbing cold cream on her slightly tinted cheeks—Dolly didn't need much make-up—nature had saved her some expense on that score.

"Biggest thing in years," answered Charlie, hoarsely. "You've got him sittin' up an' barkin' for yeh."

Dolly blushed prettily, and a soft glow suffused her face and neck.

"Who—Billy?" she asked, smilingly. "Good old kid—he's some boy."

"Billy be dinged!" shot Charlie, scornfully. "A real one—a gilded gusher—a dough-dripper—he just oozes money—millions of it."

"That's not Billy, then," admitted Dolly, still smiling; "but he's a——"

"Course it ain't," snapped Charley. "This is Piper—son o' th' big Wall streeter—he's waitin' for yeh outside—here's his card."

"For me?" asked Dolly, with a puzzled frown, scanning the card Charley gave her.

"Sure," insisted Charley, impatiently. "Wants t' date y' up for tonight. Baker's waitin' for an answer. Biggest up an' hug it t' yer bosom'. Shall I tell 'im yes, an' when?"

"Wait, Charley." Dolly's smiled turned to a deep frown. "This is by business. I don't want to see him. Tell him no."

"Why?" demanded the perspiring press agent. "Think of it, Dolly. Just go out with 'im once. Jes' once—and look at th' big headlines in th' pa vers. Leave it t' me. 'James Piper's Son Courting Dolly Hart, the Irrepressible Ingenue.' Why, it means millions t' yeh, kid."

"But I can't marry him, I——" Dolly broke off abruptly.

"Y' don't have t'," assured Charlie, eagerly, "though I don't see why not. He's a gold mine. But all y' gotta do is string 'im along for a coupla dinners, an' I'll do th' rest. Look where it'll get yeh. I can see yer name now on th' 'lectric sign out front, 'Hemsley and Hart—Dances Divine.' Or even 'Dolly Hart—the Irrepressible Ingenue.' Y' can drop Bill Hemsley."

"Cut that!" said Dolly, sharply. "Whatever comes off, Bill's in on it, too. He's a good kid, an'——"

"All right, all right," soothed Charley, then returned to the attack. "Come on, take it while th' takin's good. Shall I tell 'im yes?"

"Er—no," faltered Dolly, thinking of the big electric sign. "Er—tell him to call—tomorrow night—and I'll let him know."

"But——"

"Tell him just that," snapped Dolly, decisively. "I'll think it over."

"Better had then," surrendered Charley, content with a partial victory. "Think of the big pay, th' big headlines —th'——"

The door closed behind him with a slam, and he returned to the hopeful Johnny, bidding him graciously to return "tomorrow night," and then he went about scattering the glad tidings.

The news reached Hemsley in due time, as it did also their fellow-players on the bill. The latter took it as a triumph.

"Fine, Dolly," the congratulated her. "Invite us up on Fifth avenue when y' get settled, will ye?" And Dolly, jokingly, assured them that she would even send her limousine after them.

But Billy Hemsley took it as a shock. Dolly Hart—his Dolly, as he had recently come to think of her—angling for a millionaire? Impossible! But, then, Pearl Popp, of the Juggling Popps, assured him it was so.

"Told him to come back tomorrow night," she told Billy. "Looks like a sure-fire hit. Old man Forrest says he's been hangin' aroun' th' theatre for th' last seven nights. Looks like weddin' bells, don't it?"

Hemsley grunted, and left the theatre for his midnight lunch—alone. He didn't want to see Dolly—he wanted to figure this awful blow out alone. Dolly leaving him?—it was terrible. But, then what chance had he against a man who could buy her a pet elephant, and after that, besides, a diamond necklace for the beast. It ruined his appetite, and afterward his sleep. And this, in turn, followed by a spoiled breakfast, nearly caused him to spoil their act at the matinee. To only one did he express himself, and that was Andy Scobell.

"Better keep th' tin god out of my sight," growled Billy, "or th' Piper family'll be minus one."

"Y've stuck yer feet in it, Charley," Andy told Zepp a few minutes later. "Hemsley's sore as th' devil."

"Never y' mind about my stickin' my feet in anything," retorted Charley, "They'll get me out of it, too. Hemsley's a nut."

And then, later, ten minutes before their act, the news spread that Piper was back for his answer. Hemsley heard it as he stood in the wings, and then, across the stage, under a pieces of suspended scenery that hung a foot from the floor, he recognized Dolly's feet. Those slippers—he could tell them anywhere. But that wasn't all!

Facing hers were two big feet—a man's shiny patent leathers!

And then, with a sickening feeling, he saw Baker shambling toward the back door. In a trice he was at his side.

"What did Dolly tell tha—rat?" he demanded.

"I—I don't know, sir," faltered the aged doorman. "Here's th' note she gave me."

Billy seized it, read the single line, "Nothing doing," and then gripped shoulders eagerly.

"Is that for—Piper?" he demanded, hoarsely, Baker nodded. "Then who?" demanded Billy, breathless with joy, "who is that guy talkin' to her?" And he pointed to the feet showing under the curtain.

"G'wan," growled Baker. "Can't y' tell 'im by 'is pigeon feet? They're big enough. That's Charley Zepp. He's been arguin' with her, but it's no go. It'll cost me a big tip, too. She's a stubborn young woman."

"Thank God she is," snapped Billy, as he hurried away in Dolly's direction.

Later, as Scobell saw Dolly, with her head resting happily against Hemsley's shouldered, having heard from the doorman, he mused contemptuously.

"He ain't got no business mixin' in love, Charley ain't," and he stole another glance at the enraptured couple. "An' now he'll be hangin' around, like th' rest of th' news-hounds, sayin' I tol' yeh so. But his feet did get Charley out of a mess, th' lucky stiff."

NEW DRY LITERATURE.
[Indianapolis News.]
The old poets sang of ale, grog, wine and beer. The modern writers have introduced whiskey and soda, highballs, cocktails, and the like into literature. The dramatist frequently makes a tipsy man or woman his chief character. Byron pleaded for "wine and women and mirth and laughter, sermons and soda water the day after," thereby illustrating his sorry experience. Goldsmith loved old books, old friends, old wine. Pope spoke of inflaming wine as pernicious to mankind. Douglas Jerrold thought smaller beer was a questionable superfluity. Lady Montagu sang to the effect that "we meet, with champagne and a chicken, at last."

The old friends, old wine, and such, are passing. There has been the dawning of a new day and the nation is dry. Another generation will know comparatively little of intoxicating liquor. The saloon will be a memory, and the "blind tiger" will be a slang phrase of a past age. The dramatists will not portray intoxicated individuals, because they will have no counterpart in real life. The new poets will not sing of nut brown ale and ruddy wine. Something else besides whiskey and soda will have to be introduced by the novelists and short story writers to break the monotony of dialogue. Perhaps, after all, we shall reach that era of which Jonson sang—a wet thought expressed in a dry manner:

Drink to me only with thine eyes,
And I will pledge with mine;
Or leave a kiss but in the cup,
And I'll not look for wine.

BORDEN'S MASTERPIECE.
[Regina Leader (Unionist.)]
From Halifax to Prince Rupert, Canada surely thrilled with pride on Saturday when it became known that the author of the brilliant suggestion that the Bolsheviki should be invited to a sort of subsidiary peace conference was none other than Canada's representative at Versailles, Rt. Hon. Robert Laird Borden, P.C., G.C.M.G., etc., etc.

That the wonderful news was authentic was vouched for by the fact that it was announced in a special cable dispatch from J. W. Dafoe, the news representative of Union Government and Sir Clifford Sifton at the peace conference.

But the question naturally arises—why stop half-way in the good work? Why stop at issuing invitations to the gentlemen responsible for the horrors of Khasan, where 250 men, women and children were walled up in a cellar and left to starve? Surely there are other deserving butchers to whom invitations to Sir Robert Borden's suggested conference should be issued, including such distinguished personages as William Hohenzollern; the murderers of Edith Cavell and Capt. Fryatt; Foxy Ferdinand, the Bulgarian butcher; those benign Turkish gentlemen responsible for the Armenian massacres, and many others who have shown themselves as being thoroughly imbued with the beautiful spirit of Bolshevism.

Very properly, Premier Borden suggests that his proposed butchers' conference should be held in Turkey. Only one place possibly more appropriate for such a gathering could be named and that place, most unfortunately, is not immediately available for the reception of the delegates.

Roll 4 Barrels of 'Skey Out of Car; Get But One Away

Liquor For London Vendor Stolen Outside of Walkerville.

WINDSOR, Feb. 3.—Twenty barrels of whiskey loaded into a boxcar at Walkerville late Saturday afternoon, and consigned to E. B. Smith, Government vendor, at London, Ont., proved too great a temptation for several men whose identity is yet undetermined, and by keeping close tab on the car they were able to force open the door while the train in which it was moved slowly past a deserted locality on the Louzon road, a short distance outside of Walkerville.

Four barrels were rolled out into the deep ditch, but the theft was not discovered until some time afterwards, when a member of the train crew found the car door open. Officers today located three of the barrels where they had been thrown out, and wagon wheel marks showed where the fourth barrel had been carted away. Evidently the job was a bigger one than the thugs figured on, and they were content with the 41 gallons they hauled away.

VOICE OF THE PEOPLE

BOLSHEVISM AND CHRISTIANITY.

To the Editor of The Advertiser:

I desire to make some statements, not because I am in love with my own verbosity, but have had opportunities not available to the average man in this country.

I am well acquainted with Leon Trotsky, who was one of the principals in the Church of the Revolution when I was in New York. I attended that place, as I did the Radical Club here, to discuss matters wherein we disagreed as well as agreed; and had the pleasure of telling Trotsky that a man who advocates the methods he did, would, in my opinion, sell his mother's grave, which he has practically done.

I am less acquainted with "Big Bill" Haywood, having argued matters with him on Grant avenue, San Francisco, many times, and told him that I would expect a man advocating his methods would also steal the pennies from a church poor-box if he had the chance.

I know Charlie Stelzle of the Labor Temple, corner Second avenue and Fourteenth street, New York City, and believe that he is honestly attempting what seems to me to be the impossible task of reconciling Christianity and churchianity.

I know Har Dyal, the Hindu agitator, and believe that he is honestly attempting the equally impossible task of trying to reconcile the Asiatic and European methods of thinking things out.

The statement "that Bolshevism resembles Christianity" has been condemned, I think properly so, because the assertion was made far too sweeping in its meaning; and commended, I think properly so, because the real intent of the speaker was probably correct.

The real intent of the speaker probably referred to the ethics of real philosophy of the two, which seems to me to be identical; if so, the statement appears worthy of consideration; but is also open to the interpretation that the corrupted methods prevalent under the name of Bolshevism are identical with the ethics of Christianity, which surely is incorrect; if compared with the corrupted practices of churches that call themselves Christian, the comparison may be justified to some kind of reasonable parallel, though not indentical by any means.

"Call no man on earth your master," is in the ethics of both and in the practices of neither.

"Among the gentiles they set men in authority, having dominion over them, but among you it shall not be so, for ye are all brethren," is in the ethics of both and the practices of neither.

"Sell all that you have and give it to the poor," is in the ethics of both and the practices of neither.

"They that believed had all things in common, neither was there any that lacked," is in the ethics of both and the practices of neither.

"If any man will not work, neither let him eat," is in the ethics of both and the practices of neither.

If we condemn one because Trotsky sold his friends to the Germans, we must also condemn the other because Judas sold his best friend.

If we condemn one because "Big Bill" advocates treachery, we must condemn the other because Peter denied with curses that he knew the man who was his best friend.

Probably the deaths of Liebknecht and Rosa Luxembourg were as fully justified as the deaths of Ananias and Sapphira, being for kindred, though not identical, reasons.

Come, let us reason together. If these statements are correct, own up and correct the practices; if incorrect, will those who can do so please demonstrate that they, and not myself, are not numbered with those who "find it easy to believe what they hope may be true"; as this kink in the human mind is to me the proper explanation of why so many divergent and contradictory doctrines are derived from one authority.

Yours for facts, not fancies,
J. W. EASTON.

Daily Bible Question Club

UNIFORM LESSON FOR SUNDAY, FEBRUARY 9, 1919.

ONE GOLDEN TEXT SUGGESTION. By Rev. T. S. Linscott, D. D.

Jethro's counsel.—Exodus xviii: 1-27.

QUESTIONS FOR TODAY.

1. Verses 5-6.—Where was Moses at this time, and what was the "mount of God"?

5. Why is it desirable that a family, husband, wife and children should live together in one home?

6. Verses 7-8.—Why is it in these days that frequently fathers-in-law and mothers-in-law are not congenial with their sons and daughters-in-law?

Golden Text.—Bear ye one another's burdens, and so fulfil the law of Christ.—Gal. vi., 2.

A PART OF OUR BURDEN IS TO BEAR THE BURDENS OF OTHERS.

The folly of one man is the attempt to carry everybody's burden, and the sin of another is to carry no burden other than his own. Between these two evils it seems we should choose neither. Selfishness defeats its own purpose, as it but decreases our blessings and increases our troubles, while altruism, loving others and helping bear their burdens unloads us from many of our burdens and adds to the joys of our fellow-men. The attempt to bear the burdens of others is generally a labor of love. It adds only to our burden of love and lightens the load which others have to bear in their journey through life. Jesus went about doing good; he did not seek his own comfort, but the comfort of others, and he taught his followers that they were to follow in his footsteps.

RESOLUTION FAVORING MOTHERS' PENSIONS IS PASSED BY "Y" CLUB

Child Welfare, Public Health Work and Welfare Work Discussed.

The meeting of the Y. W. C. A. Citizenship Club which took place at "Lenmore" last evening was most practical in its nature. On the program were short addresses by Miss Malloch, of the McClary welfare department; Miss Blanche Friend, public health nurse, and Miss Isabel Armstrong, an enthusiastic worker of the Child's Welfare Association. All three speakers gave excellent accounts of the work in which they were particularly interested.

Miss Malloch, who was the first speaker, told a most interesting story of the work in connection with the McClary Company. Here, in addition to the regular work of the welfare nurse, who cares for the ill employees and looks after accident cases, there is a splendid recreational system, including games, concerts, dances, picnics, etc. Gardening is one of the big features of the McClary welfare work. In fact, everything is done for the health and happiness of the employees. A bright and sanitary dining-room is supplied for both men and women, and the employees may start a savings account in the factory with 5 per cent interest, the only condition being, that it may be drawn but once a year, in December."

Public Health Work.

"The foundation of public health work is prevention," declared Miss Friend, public health nurse. "At the same time, it is curative, for the nurse goes into homes where the family is too poor to have a nurse, but she in no way interferes with family physicians. Rather, she advises her patients to call in their doctor. If they are found to be without a doctor and too poor to have one, the outdoor clinics at Victoria Hospital are advised. After the patient has been examined by a doctor, the nurse then follows up his orders.

"Public health work is very closely associated with social service work. A public health nurse may never give relief in a financial way, but it is her duty to link up her patient in need, with some relief organization, so that assistance may be given by them. It is also the duty of the public health nurse to be aware of sub-normal children, and I hope that very soon a census will be taken of the feeble-minded in the city. You never can tell at what moment these individuals will become dangerous and a menace to the community," said the speaker.

Government Should Pay Doctors.

The opinion was also expressed at the meeting that doctors should be subsidized by the Government, so that poor as well as rich might have the full benefit of their care.

Miss Armstrong opened up the subject of child welfare, contrasting the low infant mortality in New Zealand, with that in the city of London, which is greater in percentage than that of the soldiers overseas. Tracing the history of the Child Welfare Association from its beginning before the child welfare exhibit, and later establishment of sick baby clinics in Victoria Hospital, and appointment of a child welfare nurse, to the present well baby clinics in the schools, Miss Armstrong pointed out how this association was entirely dependent for its funds on the charity of certain individuals and a tag day collection. "Isn't it the city's business to look after the children within it? Should that be a matter of charity?" asked the speaker.

Miss Armstrong also made strong mention of the fact that all the health bodies in the city should co-operate under one executive head, the board of health.

Mothers' Pensions.

Mothers' pensions was another subject dealt with by the speaker. She contrasted the situation today, where the mother who has lost all means of support, must be deprived of her children, which are put in an institution because she is unable to support them, with the ideal state of affairs where the Government grants a pension to the mother, who is permitted to care for her own children. "A day nursery," now being advocated for London," she declared, "is only temporary, to tide over the time until mothers' pensions are the order of the day."

This was followed up with a resolution in favor of mothers' pension, submitted by Miss Armstrong, to the effect that the Local Council of Women be petitioned to pass on such a resolution to the Provincial Government. Miss Blanche Friend moved this resolution, and Mrs. R. M. Graham seconded it. Mrs. F. W. Hughes was in the chair.

QUEEN MARY SENDS A MESSAGE TO THE WOMEN OF INDIA

Hopes That Education and Knowledge Will Soon Be Within Their Reach.

LONDON, Feb. 2.—Associated Press.—Deep sympathy for the women of India and interest in steps taken for their advancement are voiced by Queen Mary in a message she has sent to all women of the Indian Empire. The Queen also paid tribute to the Indian women for the part they played in urging their husbands, sons and brothers to render faithful service in the war. Queen Mary wrote:

"A short time ago I sent a message of thankfulness and hope to the women of the empire. I wish now to add to it a special message to the women of India. If my words are brief and simple, they are from the heart.

"I know that by the custom of their country and the time-honored traditions by which they are reverently bound, the women of India are for the most part prevented from undertaking those public and industrial tasks which their sisters in other parts of the empire, when the man-power of the country went forth in its defence, were able to discharge. In the seclusion and solitude of their homes the women of India have had to bear the bitterness of partings, to suffer bereavement and privation, to live through days and months of doubt and anxiety, in ignorance of the fortunes of the war, and without tiding of their absent ones.

"Reports have reached me from many sources of their fortitude and endurance during the strain of the war, which have filled me with admiration and gratitude. Many have done more than this. I have heard of letters from Indian women to husbands, sons, and brothers with the forces abroad, exhorting them to be brave in battle, stout-hearted in adversity, faithful to their country and the throne to the point of death. The history of India is full of the heroism and courage of its women in the past. The war has shown that their spirit is unabated.

"The women of India are equally noted for their charity and compassion. I know how deeply they have been moved by the desolation which the war has brought into many households and how ready they have been to provide relief for the sick and wounded, and to lighten the privations of their poorer neighbors.

"I rejoice to think that many influences are at work which make for the greater well-being and advancement of the women of India. I watch with the deepest interest and sympathy every step that is taken to bring the means of education and knowledge more within their reach, to provide greater facilities for their obtaining proper medical relief through the agency of their own sex in women's hospitals or in the privacy of their own homes, to widen their interests and activities, and to secure to them the adequate protection of the law.

"I wish with all my heart, that every success may crown these efforts."

CYNTHIA GREY'S MAIL-BOX

Will Rosie Write?

Dear Miss Grey,—If "Rosie Golden" will write first, I will answer her with pleasure. Thanking you, I remain,

CANADIAN LASSIE.

Music For Trio.

Dear Miss Grey,—I am inclosing the music of "The Gypsy's Warning" for "Troublesome Trio." I just tore it out of an old book, but I think it is all right. I am also inclosing thirty-five sweetheart coupons for the little boy who asked for them.

AWFULLY POOR BUT HONEST.

Ans.—"Troublesome Trio." I haven't your address; please send it (with a stamp) for the music so kindly forwarded. A. D. H., I'm sorry to be obliged to cancel your request, but the advertising department does not approve of such inquiries appearing in the Mail-Box. A small "want ad" would doubtless bring you what you wish.

Gloves and Mitts.

Dear Miss Grey,—I noticed that "Gloveless" wanted directions for knitting gloves and mitts. I inclose directions for two pairs of gloves and one pair of mitts. The gloves are long ones, but she can start knitting at the wrist part. I am afraid the mitts are not the kind she wants, but she may be able to make a pair from them by continuing the hand and thumb and shaping at top of each. Dear Miss Grey, I have been wanting to send for that stocking-foot pattern for a long time, but have been waiting to see if I could send anything in exchange for it. So would you please send me one if you have one left, and I will be very much obliged. Yours truly,

THISTLE.

Ans.—Your help for "Gloveless" is very kind, I think, and I am very pleased to send a foot pattern in return.

Would Pay for Music.

Dear Miss Grey,—As a reader of The Advertiser I am going to ask some of your correspondents to give the words of an old song entitled, "Flanagan's Irish Jubilee." Would gladly pay for words and music if possible to get them, with thanks. I remains, yours,

A. E. L.

"Peace" Finishes It.

Dear Miss Grey,—Here I am again, just like the bad penny, but my motto is "Never start anything you can't finish," and as I believe I did start some of the women voters on the warpath, just thought I had better step in again and say a word. Of course I did not mean to wound "A Mother's" feelings, especially a soldier's mother. They are held in almost holy reverence by me, but were not held so by the Tory Government (I don't call it Union, only a new body with the same old head), and they certainly knew where to find the weak spot in a woman's armor. They struck at her heart, when they said, "Send the boys help, through electing us." We all know that the Government did not win the war, but every boy behind the gun. He is the one to whom all praise and honor should go.

In my last letter to your Mail-Box I said I had been doing a man's work (not a farmerette, either), and so "Yankee Farmerette" thinks I have a "soft" job. Well, my dear little Yankee, just let me tell you I am not only taking a man's place at times, but the place of a machine—a typesetting machine at that, some times—adman, office boy, press feeder, even the "devil" himself! (Now don't be shocked, only a printer's devil, I assure you). If "Yankee Farmerette" will just take my place this summer for the haying season, I will gladly exchange for the farm. She says also that she being a Yankee, can't help blowing a little about the success of the American army. Well, they did get into the war, at last, they were there for the shouting. But after all, what's the use! We will soon have to have a "Peace Table" in the Mail-Box if we keep on, and there are so many other things we can do to help our country besides arguing. For instance, let us not forget to be kind and thoughtful to the boys who are coming back to us; let us be hands to those who have lost their hands, feet for the ones who have lost their feet, and eyes for the sightless ones. While to the dear, patient mothers whose dear boys sleep "where poppies grow," let us bring comfort to them.

Now, Miss Grey, I just know how I feel when I get a long string of copy to set, so I will have mercy on the poor printer man, even though he sets it with a machine, not by hand. I am sending in a separate letter, "The Face on the Barroom Floor" for "English Ginger," and very glad was I to have it for her. I copied it the day I read her request, for though I am a Canadian, I have a very warm spot in my heart for the brave English.

PEACE OR VICTORY.

She Is Broken-Hearted.

Broken-Hearted Kid,—I am sorry for you, my dear, for I know these things seem so real and unbearable when we're just—kids. No, I don't say "wait till he comes back," I say go on your way serenely and smilingly (outwardly at least), and if he does try to be friends again, make him understand that he's got to show himself worthy. I'm afraid you didn't make him eat enough "humble pie" the last time, and his lordship fancies he can come and go as he pleases. Let him go, it will mean fearful heartaches at first and life won't seem worth living for a while, but you will be really happier than with a sweetheart who is so selfish. You won't like this advice, I know, but believe me, it is the common-sense way. Your pride should prevent your letting him see that you feel badly.

Directions For Gloveless.

Kate Dal very kindly has copied directions for knitted gloves and mittens, desired by Gloveless. I have forwarded these to the latter, who will be pleased, I'm sure.

An Economical Paint.

Dear Cynthia Grey,—Might I, too, have the much-sought-after stocking foot pattern? I do not remember to whom we are indebted for the first appearance, but I feel sure it must make her happy to feel that her effort to help us to economize has been so fully appreciated.

As one good turn deserves another, I shall send along a paint recipe, which I have found very economical and satisfactory, as well. During the past summer we moved to a new home, which has a very large kitchen, the floor of which is laid with some kind of wood which had become very rough and slivery, and I could just feel my fingers full of slivers every time it had to be cleaned, when a friend suggested that I paint it with "Poor Man's Paint," which she said would fill in a great deal of the roughness. As she kindly supplied the formula which follows, I used it and found it very satisfactory, indeed, as it not only smoothed it up, but makes it look very much better as well, and I hope may be useful to someone else.

Boiled Paint—One gallon soft water with ¼-pound glue (good measure) dissolved in it; then add 5 pounds yellow ochre and let come to the boil. As soon as boiling apply to floor with whitewash brush, and when dry apply a good coat of boiled linseed oil. I heated that also in a pan of water, and applied while hot with a large paint brush.

BAREFOOT BESS.

A 1919 Wedding.

Anxious Inquirer.—(1) Yes, they enter together in such a case. (2) Considered better form to wear gloves at a church ceremony; white kid of course. (3) Really no formal order, the "nearest and dearest" first, but usually too much excited confusion and merriment to have stilted regulations about it. (4) Yes, the way you mention for cutting the cake is very customary. (5) I think the menu you suggest could not be improved upon.

A Horoscope Wanted.

Dear Miss Grey,—May I ask a favor? Can you tell me where I can get a copy of The Advertiser, January 23, 1919? Or has any reader the horoscope of that date, that is, the prophecy for January 23. And one more favor, might I have the address of Bonnie Annie Laurie? I am just 17, too. Perhaps she would write first? Is it too late to wish you a happy new year? I hope not. SCRIBBLER.

Ans.—Not a bit too late, although one month of it is gone. You do not inclose stamp or envelope (that I could find) for Bonnie Annie's address. The horoscope for January 23 was omitted from the Advertiser on the twenty-second, owing to lack of space, and as the copy has since been destroyed, it is not available.

Last Year's Blizzard.

Dear Miss Grey,—I have got into an argument, and would like to know if you could tell me what date and month the very cold snowstorm came on last winter. I think it was near January, but I am not sure. Hoping you can help me out, LAURA.

Ans.—The blizzard of last year to which you refer raged on Saturday and Sunday, January 12 and 13.

Read These Notes.

English Ginger,—Please send stamped envelope for copy of "Face Upon the Floor," kindly supplied for you by Peace or Victory.

Mrs. L. (Scotland), is thanked for sending the page from an old copy of the Advocate for Mother of Three.

Three Old Maids,—(1) July 15, 1901, Monday; October 13, 1901, Sunday; April 15, 1903, Wednesday. (2) Boy friends, yes; beaux, no. (3) See formulas for hair tonics recently given on this page. (4) Not many.

Letters from B. V. to Scotch Lassie and Country Lass have been forwarded.

Strawberry.—Sorry to "squeeze" you like this, but its unavoidable. Hope you hear soon from Grace Darling; it was odd about the names being similar. Hilliard means cheerful or merry, Albert means all bright, Reita may be a contraction of Margarita.

THE GREY SLEEP.
[Norah Richardson.]

(R.I.P.—Midshipman, H.M.S. Hawke.)

Shuddering lift of a steel-grey sea,
Bite of the northern gale,
Shriek of the gulls that wheel and flee
From the long dark smoke-wreaths' trail,
Where the lean grey watch-dogs pant as they glide
On the lonely waste of the great grey tide.

Loneller depths that the grey sands fill
In the deep beneath the deep,
Shadowy pools where the tides are still
And some of the watch-dogs sleep—
There's a sting today in the Cotswold air;
Isn't it cold, lad, under there?

You, with a hand on your watch-dog's chain,
Ah, but so short a while;
Gallant body and eager brain,
And the lure of youth in your smile—
(Dear small laddies I held from harm Safe and warm in the crook of my arm.)

* * * *

Lone lie the watch-dogs, lone and far,
Sundered the sands they press—
But under the waves where the watch-dogs are
There is no loneliness.
Proud do we sleep in that vasty bed
Companied still by the glorious dead.

Silent and proud we dream and wait
Till the long last watch is through—
Stoker and admiral, middy and mate,
And a marshal of England, too—
More than content with such to be Under the waves of the grey North Sea.

More than content, though our rest be stark;
For ever about our dreams,
Radiant-warm, like a rose in the dark,
The honor of England gleams—
And neither waters nor death can chill
The warmth of the love that holds us still.

Dear hearts that love us, we gave our gift,
But the greatest gifts we hold—
Till the last white fog from the waves shall lift,
And the last grey dawn turn gold,
And the last red sun in far west dip,
Honor and love and comradeship.

STRATFORD DEFEATED BY NEW HAMBURG SIX

New Hamburg Gets Six-Goal Lead For Intermediate Group Honors.

NEW HAMBURG, Feb. 3.—The most interesting and exciting game of hockey ever played here drew about a thousand fans, about half from the city of Stratford, in the intermediate O.H.A. game between Stratford and New Hamburg to break up the group tie game off hockey tonight, resulting in New Hamburg obtaining a lead of six goals. First period, with Tuer of Stratford, began scoring, New Hamburg evened up in two minutes. Stratford took the lead again, both teams working strenuously, and the locals evened up again. The players were fast, and honors were even now. The balance of this period was a repitition, closing four each. The second period Stratford started scoring again, and New Hamburg ended this period by adding six more goals, while Stratford stood still; the score now was New Hamburg 10, Stratford 5. It appeared certain now that New Hamburg would win the group as they should do, as they appeared the best all round team playing a beautiful fast game. The third period and game ended the score 14 to 8. Berger, Shirk, Ottos and Tuer all played a grand game. The line-up:

ST. THOMAS TRIMS INGERSOLL BY 13 TO 3

After Losing Four Straight Games, Railway City Boys Spring a Surprise.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—After losing four straight games the local puck-chasers suddenly asserted themselves tonight by defeating the visitors from Ingersoll in a three-period game by the unusual score of 13—3. The visitors were apparently not able to put up as good a game on the local ice, and this, together with a lack of practice is believed to have been responsible for their overwhelming defeat. The locals, on the other hand, have been training steadily, and tonight with all their players back in line, they showed some excellent work. Where there was a glaring lack of combination in the games they have participated in so far they showed tonight that they were prepared to meet almost anything.

The game was without doubt a thriller from the opening of the first period until the gong clanged the finish, and while the crowd of spectators was not as large as in the openin, game here some weeks ago, the rooters were present in large numbers, and at times the shouts were almost sufficient to lift the roof.

There were a couple of rather unpleasant features in the work of the visitors, and as a result both Fred Baldwin and Hamilton in goal were badly injured. Hamilton was given a knockout at the close of the last period, and as a result had to be taken to a physician to stitch up a nasty wound on the side of the face. Baldwin got his in the early part of the game when the puck struck him square on the top of his head.

The game opened with a rush, and McLean scored the first goal of the locals off Baker. McLean later went to the penalty box. Blackall and Baker followed with a combination play, Blackall scoring a second goal for the locals after only a few minutes' playing. The game continued a blank as far as the visitors were concerned until the end of the period, the score standing 2—0 in favor of the locals.

The second period opened just as lively as the first, the visitors were prepared to make a score of two, while the locals were apparently assured that it would be a clean sweep. It was not many minutes, however, before McLean scored another for the locals on a combination from Baker to Baldwin. Ingersoll showed a little improvement, but Baker suddenly made a clean sweep from centre and landed the wily puck behind the nets and brought the score of the locals up to 4—0. Gregory followed for the visitors by scoring a sensational goal. By this time the visitors were almost played out. McLean for the locals managed to score another goal, and he was followed by Baldwin. Blackall made another score without any apparent difficulty and gregory for the visitors finally chased the puck into the nets and at the end of the period the score stood 7—2.

The third and final period opened with the puck at the St. Thomas end of the rink. Baker made another sensational play, taking the puck right through the centre and finally landing it safely behind the nets, registering another for the locals. Gregory followed closely for the visitors with another one. Affleck, for the locals, made two goals in succession. The visitors made another futile attempt, but Spence McLean managed to score another couple of goals for the locals which was followed by a period of rough playing in which there were several penalties. Spence McLean finally managed to score the final goal, piling the result up to 13—3 at the end of the final period.

The lineup:

St. Thomas.	Position.	Ingersoll.
R. Hamilton	Goal	Holland
S. McLean	R. Defence	Barrow
E. Affleck	L. Defence	Brady
Baker	Centre	Gregory
C. E. McLean	R. Wing	Mason
R. Affleck	L. Wing	Petrie
Blackhall	Sub.

Referee—McDougall, of Ingersoll.

Summary: First Period—St. Thomas, McLean and Blackhall. Second Period—St. Thomas, McLean 2, Baker, Spence McLean and Baldwin; Ingersoll, Gregory 2. Third Period — St. Thomas, Baker, E. Affleck 2, Spence McLean 3; Ingersoll, Gregory 1.

JOE LYNCH, BANTAMWEIGHT, OUTPOINTS TOMMY NOBLE

LONDON, Feb. 3.—Joe Lynch, bantamweight, of New York, beat Tommy Noble, the British bantamweight, on points in twenty fast rounds.

Lynch does not win the championship, as the fight was not held at the National Sporting Club, and as the Lonsdale belt was not at stake.

REVIVAL OF SPORTS IN ST. THOMAS SOON

Hockey, Rugby, Football and Baseball Leagues Expected To Be Formed.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—With the cessation of hostilities and the advent of the 8-hour day in all local railway shops this city will, in all probability, during the next few months see a great revival of sport in all its phases. The 8-hour day gives the employees more time in which to enjoy various forms of recreation, and the ending of the war and demobilization of troops which follows as a natural consequence provides extra men, and men who are in the best of condition, and consequently quite fit to participate in such national games as baseball, football and hockey. In view of this fact the Federated Trades of the M. C. R., which comprises all skilled and unskilled workmen in the service of the local road, have formed a committee, it is announced tonight, will meet within the next few days to organize and in all probability will have their men picked by the time spring approaches, bringing with it suitable weather for outdoor games.

The newly-appointed committee consists of Messrs. William Cox, R. Simpson, J. Gibbs, H. Worley and H. Worsley. Most of these men have in the past been associated with football and rugby in some form or other, and some of them are today proud owners of medals won in some of the famous English matches, where they played in their early days.

This, however, is not all that the 8-hour day has done, for there is every prospect of a hockey team being formed in time for next winter, and there is no doubt but what a baseball match or two will be enjoyed this summer, in which the pick of the shopmen will be the players.

INGERSOLL JUNIORS LOSE TO WOODSTOCK

Woodstock Youngsters Trim Ingersoll by Score of 12 to 2 at Mason Arena.

INGERSOLL, Feb. 3.—Woodstock's heavy, well groomed Juniors, on soft ice tonight, disposed of the local midgets by a score of 12 to 2, weakened by the absence of Richardson, the star player. The locals conceded a victory to the visitors before they went on the ice. However, they battled bravely through each period until the final gong sounded. Woodstock was strong in all departments of the game, having speed and strong combination, coupled with wicked shooting. The Carson brothers and Shea were the pick of the visitors, who have had greater experience than the locals. Woodstock took the game very seriously, and there was much rejoicing as the score mounted up. The first period ended 6—0. The visitors added three more in the second period, and Ingersoll one, making the score 9 to 1. Ingersoll showed better combination in the final period and checked with determination. HARRISTON BONSPIEL TO BE HELD ON WEDNESDAY

HARRISTON, Feb. 3.—The big annual bonspiel scheduled here for tomorrow, has been postponed until Wednesday, February 5, as the club anticipates that the cold wave which is coming this way will greatly help the prevailing poor ice conditions.

The draw will be made at 1 p.m. on Wednesday and there is every indication that a big entry will attend in quest of the Micklejohn trophy, in the first event.

LONDON AND WOODSTOCK JUNIORS PLAY AT JUBILEE RINK TONIGHT

Forest City Lads Will Appear on the Ice Against the Fast Woodstock Sextet—London Has a Strong Line-Up—Cline Expected Back in Game.

The Woodstock Junior O. H. A. team will meet the local youngsters at the Jubilee Rink tonight. This promises to be one of the fastest junior games staged in this city this year. The London boys were defeated badly at Woodstock on Friday night, but they should make a good showing on their own rink tonight.

Woodstock has a strong team, and every man on the lineup is a real hockey player. The Carson brothers, who made a good showing on Friday, are two of the fastest boys in the district. "Doc" Johnson, the star centre man, will be here with the visitors. King is a regular speed artist and can handle a stick neatly.

The London Juniors play at Ingersoll tomorrow night, and the Intermediates will journey to St. Thomas.

"Doc" Cline is expected to be back on the job. McIntyre and Gillies will likely play defence for the locals, while Logan and Burgess will be on the wings. Hynd will guard the nets.

The probable lineup for tonight:

ST. PATRICKS LEADING SENIOR O. H. A. GROUP

Newman Hall Loses To St. Pats — Final Score 3 to 2.

TORONTO, Feb. 3.—In one of the most bitterly contested games of the season St. Patrick's tonight defeated Newman Hall in a senior O. H. A. fixture by the score of 3 to 2. The winners showed up well, and for the first time got in some telling team-play. They experienced much ill-luck in their shooting and it was only in the final period that they forged to the front.

The game proved one of the most exciting ever seen here and the spectators were given much opportunity to enthuse. Newman Hall went into the contest as hot favorites and started out at such a terrific pace that they appeared to be almost assured of the victory. However, St. Patrick's soon struck their stride, and for the balance of the period had the edge on the play.

The line-up:

St. Patricks—Goal, Crooks; defence, Hefferman and Cain; left wing, Etherington; centre, Farr; right wing, Muston; substitutes, Paterson and Dye.

Newman Hall—Goal, Collett; defence, Woodcock and LaFlamme; centre, Kilpatrick; left wing, Dapp; right wing, Ingoldsky; substitutes, Quinn and Dunne.

Referee—L. Whitehead.

NEW ST. JAMES LOSES TO PRINCESS PATS

Last Year's Champions Outplayed by Collegiate Girls in Western "U" League.

The Princess Pats won from New St. James by the score of 14 to 12 in the Western University Girls' Basketball League last evening. This was without a doubt the fastest game staged in the girls' league this season.

At the end of the second period the score was 13 to 9 in favor of the winners.

WOODSTOCK GIRLS WIN FROM STRATFORD FIVE

WOODSTOCK, Feb. 3.—Owing to a misunderstanding the report of the girls' basket ball game played here on Friday night between the local collegiate girls and those from Stratford stated that the final score was 12 to 10 in favor of Woodstock, whereas it really was 13 to 12 in favor of the home team. Nevertheless, either score would give an indication of the closeness of the game.

WINNIPEG, Man., Feb. 3.—The Monarchs beat the Argonauts, leaders of the senior amateur league to night, 5 to 4.

INTERMEDIATE SERIES OPENS ON THURSDAY

Y. M. C. A. and Western "U" Meet in First O. A. B. A. Game.

The Intermediate Ontario Amateur Basketball Association series will open at the Y. M. C. A. Thursday evening when the local Y. M. C. A. team will meet the Western University boys.

This will be a fast contest as the Y. M. C. A. has a strong team this season. The following players are on the "Y" line-up: A. Jackson, S. David, H. Gillies, T. Thomas, J. Lightfoot and C. Sutherland.

The Swastikas and New St. James' girls will play Thursday night at 8:15 o'clock. The Intermediate contest will begin at 8:45 o'clock.

GROUP HONORS WON BY SEAFORTH TEAM

Seaforth Defeated Clinton by Score of 11 to 3 Monday Night.

CLINTON, Feb. 3.—Seaforth won the honors of the Intermediate O. H. A. No. 8 Group here tonight by defeating Clinton by the score of 11 to 3.

The winners were fast and outplayed the home team. Reid and Hoffman were fast for the winners, while Elliott and Kilty were the stars for the losers. The teams lined up as follows:

BRANTFORD FANS HEAR WITH REGRET OF COOPER'S DEATH

"Tom" Nelson Says Muskegon May Enter Instead of Lansing, Mich.

BRANTFORD, Feb. 3.—While in the city of Lansing, Mich., on Sunday T. J. Nelson picked up the sad intelligence that Johnny Cooper, one of the most popular idols who ever played on the Brantford team, had made the supreme sacrifice while fighting with the United States army in October last.

Cooper was the catcher of the Brantford team in 1915, and he was probably the best man on the team. He was sure to have gone up higher in the baseball profession, and he was generally liked here for good sportsmanship.

KNOTTY STILL THERE.

The announcement was made that Knotty Lee would remain on the ground for a few days. Mr. Nelson stated that it looked at first hand that Flint, Muskegon and Grand Rapids would likely round out the new circuit for the Canadian League. It was desired to get Lansing, but lack of grounds there was the handicap. Lee will report back here on his trip home.

GEORGE KENNEDY TO CLEAR CANADIEN HOCKEY TEAM

MONTREAL, Feb. 3.—Machinery was set in motion by George Kennedy, owner of the Canadian hockey club, to clear his skirts from the accusation made by a Toronto paper to the effect this his team "laid down" in Toronto to the Toronto Arena team, upon the last occasion when the two teams met in that city.

Peter Berkovitch, K.C., M.L.A., today notified the paper in question that unless a full retraction and apology are made at once, admitting the untruth of the accusation published, a libel suit for $5,000 damages will be immediately taken, and the editor of the paper, as well as the writer of the article, whose name is known, will be arrested upon a criminal charge.

WELLAND LOSES TO NIAGARA FALLS INTERMEDIATE TEAM

NIAGARA FALLS, Feb. 3.—The second O. H. A. intermediate game played here this season took place this evening in the arena between the Welland and home team. The ice was soft and pools of water almost covered the skating surface. The home team seemed to have it on the visitors' individual plays, as it was impossible to get in any team plays in the first period. The home team scored three goals to the visitors one during the second period. The winners added five more goals to the visitors two. The last period was more stubbornly contested, the home team scoring only one goal, and blanked the visitors. Total 9 to 3, favor Niagara Falls. Following was the lineup:

Niagara Fall		Welland.

BIG CROWD ATTENDED PACIFIC LEAGUE GAME

Vancouver Defeats Seattle for First Time by Score of 5 to 2.

Vancouver, Feb. 4.—Before another record crowd of wildly cheering spectators estimated at more than 7,000 Vancouver hung their first defeat of the season on Seattle last night, 5 to 2. Through this loss the Mets, who held the league leadership from the first of the season till last Friday, when they were sent into second place by Victoria are in the cellar, and here is another of the rapid-fire changes which have characterized the Pacific Coast Hockey Association race this season, the greatest race so far ever staged in the history of the national winter sport.

C.P.R. HAS ADVANCED HUNDRED MILLIONS TO WINNING OF WAR

TEN STEAMERS ARE LOST

Part Taken by Two Steamers as Cruisers Makes Thrilling Reading.

THOROLD, Feb. 3.—The romantic war calls of two well-known Canadian steamers, the Empress of Russia and the Empress of Asia, were related by President Beatty of the Canadian Pacific Railway at a banquet given in his honor by the local board of trade tonight.

In giving a sketch of the war work of the C. P. R. Mr. Beatty said the Empress of Russia was turned into an auxiliary cruiser for patrol work in the Indian Ocean. Her first work was to pick up the cruiser Sydney after that ship had made a mass of tangled wreckage of the roving Emden, had taken off the Emden's crew, including the captain, the redoubtable von Mueller, and carried them to Colombo, Ceylon. She captured the Turkish post and fort of Kamaran in the Red Sea. For twenty-three days she and her sister ship, the Empress of Asia, guarded the British port at Aden, one of the "keys to the east."

Plays Havoc With Turks.

She destroyed the town and fort of Salif on the Red Sea, and by threats of destruction of the Turks at Hodeidah, she rescued the British and French consuls at the port who had been kidnapped by the Turks and taken into the interior of Arabia. She bombarded other ports of the Arabian Red Sea, and at one point was shelled from behind the hills. Information was secured that there were large oil tanks at that point, and the Russia, to show she had good gunners, steamed off the coast about three miles, fired three shells over the hill, the third of which took effect, and the tanks were afire for three days and nights thereafter. The Russia performed many acts of value in the sea in rescuing women and children slaves from Turkish dhows.

Blockade of Manila.

With the Asia and Empress of Japan she helped maintain a blockade of the port of Manila, where fifteen German ships were lurking during the early days of the war.

During the latter stages of the war she was engaged on the Atlantic, and is now finishing her honorable career transporting coolies, and will be later turned back to the company to spend the balance of her days in ordinary commercial pursuits.

The number of ships of the company's fleet lost by enemy action was thirteen, the most of them during the last months of the war. The company carried over 1,000,000 troops and passengers during the war, and four million tons of freight, said Mr. Beatty.

Activities on Land.

The company's activities on land were varied, including the construction and equipment of the first commissary cars made in Canada for the transporting of troops, the construction of the first hydraulic hay press in Canada, in order to compress hay for transportation to Great Britain, and the initiation of the employment of woman labor on a large scale.

Through the instrumentality of the company the first Canadian railway construction corps was raised under command of Lieut.-Col. Ramsey. Other battalions were later sent across under command of the company's engineers.

Over ten thousand of the company's employees have gone overseas; over three-fourths of that number by voluntary enlistment. In a financial way the company's resources have been placed entirely at the disposal of the British and Canadian governments, and in contribution to patriotic funds, loans to the British Government of securities and subscriptions to Victory loans the company has directly and indirectly advanced in the neighborhood of a hundred millions of dollars to the cause Canadians had so much at heart.

Dealing with the returned soldier and the problem of reconstruction, Mr. Beatty said:

Community Settlement.

"We are now considering plans for the establishment of a large number of farms on the community settlement idea, if it is feasible to do so, in the provinces of Alberta and Saskatchewan. A start has been already made, and several farms of 160 acres each, grouped in communities, have been prepared, so that the returned soldiers who take up farming may commence work under expert supervision. Under the plan a settler will be given a house of four or five rooms, a barn large enough to house eight or ten head of stock, a well with a pump installed, wire fence erected and the land ready for cultivation. The plan represents an expenditure of three million and a half dollars, building of a thousand houses and a thousand barns, thirteen hundred miles of fence, digging a thousand wells, and getting some fifty thousand acres of land under cultivation. It is estimated that twenty million feet of lumber will be required for the buildings."

COAL DROPS TO $12 AT LISTOWEL

LISTOWEL, Feb. 3.—The Livingstone Mission Band has elected the following officers for 1919:

President, Mrs. James Cleland; vice-presidents, Mrs. James Reid, Mrs. Thomas Johnson, Miss Mary Cleland, and Mrs. Thomas Cleland; secretary, Miss Marjorie Sproule; treasurer, Miss Belle Cleland.

Conveners of committees—Program, Inez Johnston; secial, Agnes Johnson; missionary, Dorothy Sproule; work, Mary Shearer.

Last year the Mission Band raised $130 for missions, all by voluntary gifts.

The hockey club has been given the use of the Princess Theatre for tonight and Tuesday evening. The proceeds will go towards club expenses, which are rather heavy, as all practicing and games have to be held on Palmerston rink. Besides the movies, Miss L. Scott, Dr. W. G. E. Spence, Messrs. Bainford, Gowdy, Spence and Bamford are providing the musical part of the program.

Rev. W. D. McDonald of Atwood has received a call to Lashburn and Battleford, Sask. The matter will be dealt with at the Stratford Presbytery on the 25th of the month.

Coal has taken a drop of $1 per ton, but even at $12 it seems high. Mayor Watson has resigned his position as fuel controller, as there is no scarcity of coal owing to mild weather, and the dealers having large supplies.

Pte. Roy Geach, youngest son of Rev. John Geach, has returned from overseas. Lieut. Will Ament has gone to Calgary with some men, but is expected home in about ten days. Frank Rowe and Robert Tremain and Lance-Corp. Morley Hamilton are also back. Lieut. George Harrison has reached Toronto, and will arrive here in the course of a few days.

B. D. Hay, son of Mr. and Mrs. J. C. Hay, has been transferred from the local branch of the Imperial Bank to the Thorold office.

ST. THOMAS ORDERED TO PAY FINE FOR ITS IMPURE GAS

Superintendent of Department Thinks Error Was Made.

THEIR TESTS DISAGREE

Ottawa Will Be Asked To Examine Machines and Find Which Is Correct.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—For the fourth time the Dominion Government inspector has found that the gas of the city department does not come up to the standard requirements. An investigation has been ordered, as Government Inspector O. Heigman has informed the city that because of its repeated offences the city must pay a fine.

The reports have shown that gas of an inferior quality, also gas containing sulphuretted hydrogen, has been contained in the city's mains.

Supt. McDonald of the gas plant was present at the meeting of the special gas committee tonight and was asked to explain. He produced a letter which he had written to the department at Ottawa as a reply to the fourth complaint. In it he said that he could not understand why the inspector should be able to find these mistakes when his own calorimeter showed the gas to be well over the Government standard and twenty-five degrees above Mr. Nash, the Government man's test of 509 B.T.U. He would like to know how this difference could be found when both are supposed to be tested machines.

Difference in Tests.

To the committee Mr. McDonald declared that he knew what he was saying when he stated that the Government man could not make such a test and have a difference of twenty-five degrees. On one occasion he said: "I made a test, and five minutes afterwards the Government man's test was several degrees lower than mine. This cannot be, it could not be in an hour's time, so that there must be something wrong."

He did admit, however, that both machines had registered the same on one occasion and several times there had only been a few degrees between them. Chairman Handford wanted to know why Mr. McDonald had never informed the committee of the difference in the testing of the two machines. He said that the Government man tested in the west section of the town, while Mr. McDonald made his investigations at the works which would make a difference. There had also been some cold weather this month, and that would account for sulphur hydrogen.

The city now awaits the outcome of an investigation which the local superintendent has asked for. He demands that a Government man be sent here from Ottawa to examine and test both the Government meter and his own, and if they are found the same, and in good condition, the city will then pay its fine. Otherwise a protest will be made. It now rests with the Government inspector, Nash, who also tests the London gas and Stratford to prove that his machine and tests are correct.

Awarded Contract.

The gas company also decided to award a contract for refilling a bench in the local gas works to the Parker Russell Company at an outlay of $2,170. Complaint was made of the meter reading of the city. Ald. M. Brinkman and Taylor claimed that they had been overcharged. Ald. Taylor had an account of $31 months, and later he was only charged $17 for the same amount of gas and the same period of time. This was blamed by the superintendent to a mistake on the part of the meter readers. They had a new man on the job, he said, and he knew nothing about work. He was dismissed after two week's service. Chairman Handford ordered the department to be more careful in future.

All employees of the gas and hydro office asked for an increase in wages. It was referred to a special committee of Aldermen Walker, Lane and Sloggett.

A committe consisting of Aldermen Brinkman, Walker and Taylor will investigate and report on an unloading device which Supt. McDonald suggested to cost $2,000. They will also advise as to question of covering purifiers at local gas works.

GLORIOUS WEEK WITH IVORY BALLS FOLLOWS FORGERY OF CHECK

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—Suspended sentence until March 15, with the provision that he get a permanent position and go to work at once, and then pay up the amount he owes and court costs, amounting in all to about $40, was the punishment meted out to Arthur Spendlove, the Pere Marquette man, who forged a check the other day in the name of Detective Hare of the P. M. The accused pleaded guilty, and had been in jail on remand for one week. He was in a repentant mood this morning when he appeared in court, and confessed that he had quit work and indulged in a glorious week of pool playing, after he had cashed the check that was not legally his. He is only 17 years of age, and he gave the names of a couple of local poolrooms where he had played. "And these same proprietors claim that they keep such well-managed poolrooms," commented the magistrate. An investigation will follow.

VETERAN ON COUNTY FORCE.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—Frederick Blackburn, a well-known local returned soldier, who went overseas with the 91st Battalion as a sergeant, and on his return spent some time in the service of the Dominion police, was today duly sworn in as a county constable. Constable Blackburn will assume his duties at once.

CANADIAN MINISTER'S PROPOSAL ATTRACTS UNUSUAL ATTENTION

Doherty Wants International House of Representatives.

WORK WITH LEAGUE

Duties of Members of the New Body Would Be Mainly Legislative.

Paris, Feb. 3.—Considerable attention has been attracted by the proposal of Hon C. J. Doherty, Canadian minister of justice, for an international peoples' house of representatives in connection with the League of Nations.

The plans thus far suggested provide for the constitution of judicial tribunals and for the exercise of executive powers by the governments, especially of the great powers. Mr. Doherty declares there would be greater assurance of a general determination of the peoples of all countries to maintain peaceful relations if a body, mainly legislative in function and composed of representatives directly elected by the nations, great and small, were added to supplement the work of these judicial and executive bodies.

In such an assembly the principal powers would be those of inquiry and legislation, taking the form of recommendations of sovereign states. The necessity so far insisted upon of equal representation would disappear, the members arraigned to each country conforming rather to such considerations as influence the distribution of seats in any legislative assembly.

The main point in Mr. Doherty's argument is that though the enormous casualties in this war have been borne by peoples without organized governments, having proven themselves able to prevent each disaster, the democracies of the world have a right to full consideration in any plan that may now be agreed upon for the future, and that moreover, if the league of nations fails to provide such recourse the failure will strengthen the hand of those agencies now internationally organized which declare themselves opposed in the interests of humanity itself to all organized governments.

DEMOCRATIC NATURE OF HIS PROPOSAL IS OUTLINED BY DOHERTY

Paris, Feb. 2—(Associated Press).—Charles J. Doherty, Canadian minister of justice, who has proposed to the peace conference that an international people's house of representatives be established, said today in discussing the subject:

"Prevention of war is not the concern of governmental power alone. It is in the interest of humanity itself. A sovereign state is not organized with a view to exerting any restraining influence over its own action toward other states. If war is to be prevented, or its likelihood diminished success can be attained only by the existence somewhere, if not power that will control, at least influence which will restrain the adequate sovereignty of organized states in dealings with each other.

"Whence is that power or influence to be derived if not from the peoples inhabiting the different states, whose every interest demands the suppression of war? The weak point in all plans so far discussed is that the action of states is to be controlled, restrained or influenced in conference of those states themselves, to the exclusion of other peoples who are to be effected by the decisions reached. It must be remembered that it is not merely the peoples of states immediately concerned who are affected by war, but all mankind."

Mr. Doherty emphasizes the democratic nature of his proposition, and says in conclusion:

"The most important function of the suggested representative body would be to exercise in time of peace constant influence upon states in their relations with each other. Tending to keep them from those differences which give rise to conflict and make war imminent. It would perform that work of investigation, discussion, deliberation and legislation which would take the form of the adoption of recommendations addressed to the individual states."

DIRECTORS OF WEST KENT FAIR PLANNING FOR NEW BUILDINGS

Changes and Improvements To Be Made on Grounds.

CHATHAM, Feb. 3.—The West Kent Fair directors are planning for a number of changes and improvements in the local grounds. Some new buildings are to be put up and the directors are already planning for the fair of this year, which they promise will be the best in the history of the organization. They met on Saturday to discuss work and authorize expenditures for fences and buildings.

BEET PRICE SET?

There are persistent reports in informed circles that the price of sugar beets for this year has been set at the price fixed for the crop of last year, a basis of $9.00 with an advance based on the price of sugar.

ELGIN'S MAGISTRATE TO LIVE ON "HARDTACK"

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—County Magistrate Hunt made a verbal application to the county council the other day for an increase in salary. He did not make any formal application, neither did he present a written one, but he expressed an earnest desire that he receive some additional salary. His $600 per annum, he says, is not sufficient. "Of course if you can't afford to pay me any more, I suppose I can go on living on hard tack for another year," he stated. No action was taken by the county fathers.

FINANCIAL AND COMMERCIAL

THE LOCAL MARKET

A live hog shipment is to be made tomorrow and as the price is firmer in other parts of the country it is expected that a slight jump in price will take place here. Live hogs are now quoted at $15.50 per cwt.. and dressed hogs at $20 to $22 per cwt. Hay is in good demand, but the price remains the same. Straw is slow, owing to so much being sold on the market last week. Butter is in good demand, and it is not likely the price will come any lower till the spring. No other changes in prices are reported.

LIVE STOCK.

Toronto, Feb. 4.—Receipts at the Union stockyards this morning were 790 cattle, 149 calves, 774 hogs and 532 sheep. Cattle trade was active and prices generally ruled steady. Lambs were firmer, calves sold unchanged, while hogs sold at higher prices. Quotations:

Cattle—Exporters, choice, per cwt, $14 50@15 50; do, medium, $12 50@14 50; do, bulls, $9@10; butchers, choice, $10 50@11 50; do, medium, $9@10; do, common, $6 50@7 50; do, cows, choice, $9@10; do, medium, $7 50@8; do, canners, $5@5 50; do, bulls, $8@9; feeding steers, $9@10 25; stockers, choice, $8 25@9; do, light, $6 50@7 50; milkers, choice, each, $85@135; springers, choice, each, $95@145; calves, $16@16 50.

Sheep—Ewes, cwt, $9@10; bucks and culls, $5@9; lambs, $15 25@15 75.

Hogs—Fed and watered, $16@16 50; f. o. b., $15 25@15 75.

East Buffalo, N.Y., Feb. 4.—Cattle—Receipts, 100; steady.

Calves—Receipts, 150; 15c higher, at $5@19.

Hogs—Receipts, 3,200; pigs 65c higher, others 15c to 25c higher; heavy, mixed, yorkers, light yorkers and pigs, $18 15@18 20; one deck light hogs, $18 25; throwcuts, $12@16; stags, $10@13.

Sheep and Lambs—Receipts, 4,000; lambs 15c lower; lambs, $11 17 25; a few fancy, $17 35@17 40; others unchanged.

GRAIN.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—Opening: Corn—February, $1 28¾; May, $1 20⅞.

Oats—February, 58⅛c; May, 58¾c.

Chicago, Feb. 4.—Weakness developed in the corn market today largely owing to the announcement that Great Britain and Argentina would sign a cereal convention at once, without any specifications as to minimum prices. As quotations here had advanced on account of reports that Argentine corn exports below a stated minimum would be forbidden, the effect of the new arrangement was bearish. Better weather in this country tended also to depress values. Opening prices, which ranged from ⅜c off to ¼c advance, with May at $1 20½@1 21⅛, and July at $1 16⅞@1 16¾, were followed by a material setback all around.

Oats declined with corn. After opening ⅛c to ¾c higher, the market receded to well below yesterday's finish. Higher quotations on hogs gave firmness to provisions. Trade was more active than has been the case of late.

FLOUR

Toronto, Feb. 3.—Flour—Manitoba, war quality, $10.85@11.35, Toronto; Ontario, war quality, $10; Toronto-Montreal, $10, new bags.

Millfeed—In carlots: Shorts, $42.25; bran, $37.25.

Montreal, Feb. 3.—The only important change in the millfeed market was a further decline of $2 per ton in prices for pure barley feed, which is attributed to the very low prices ruling of late for the grain.

Another feature of the market was the steadily increasing scarcity of bran and shorts.

The market for rolled oats was small.

Rolled Oats—Bags, 90 lbs., $4@4.25.

Bran—$37.25.

Shorts—$42.25.

Moullie—$68.

New York, Feb. 3.—Flour—Steady; spring patents, $10.50@10.80; spring clears, $9@9.50; winter straights, $10@10.50; Kansas straights, $10.60@11.

Rye Flour—Dull; fair to good, $8.25@8.75; choice to fancy, $8.80@9.25.

White Corn Flour—Dull; $3.85@4.25 per cwt.

Barley Flour—Dull;$7.50@8.

Cornmeal—Dull; yellow and white granulated, $3.50.

Minneapolis, Feb. 3.—Flour closed unchanged.

WALL STREET.

New York, Feb. 4—Wall Street, 10:30 a.m.—Firmer tendencies ruled in all sections of the list at the opening of today's stock market. United States Steel, motors, leathers and numerous specialties made gains ranging from large fractions to a point. Further recovery was observed in stocks recently under bear pressure, especially high-grade oils and investment rates. Conspicuous among the latter were Canadian Pacific and Chesapeake and Ohio, each gaining a point. Early quotations for Liberty Bonds were irregular.

WABASH MAN RUNS BUZZER WITH AUTO

WABASH, Feb. 3.—During the past week Cecil Ross of the Wabash road has sawed a quantity of wood by using his automobile to produce power. A patent device was placed beneath the rear wheels of his car, and by means of a belt was attached to a buzz-saw. The engine of the car was set in motion and thus the saw was operated.

In this way the work is done very successfully, he states. Quantities of grain have also been chopped by the same method.

Another bad outbreak of influenza has taken place at Thorncliffe, and as a result the school is closed. This is the second time the school has been closed for the same reason this winter.

MT. BRYDGES MAN LOST THUMB AT ST. THOMAS

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—A. J. McLachlin, a well-known employee of the bridge department of the M. C. R., while working near the local yards had the thumb of his left hand pulled out today. He was working with a drill, boring holes in a steel plate, and was in the act of removing a bit when his glove caught in the machinery and his thumb caught. He was rushed to the Amasa Wood Hospital, where he is now being cared for. His home is in Mount Brydges.

BOILERMAKERS TO GET 80 CENTS PER HOUR; THEY ASKED A DOLLAR

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—The members of the Boilermakers' Union working at the local Pere Marquette shops are asking a wage increase to $1 per hour. The men have for some time complained that their work is such that 68 cents per hour (the present rate of pay) is not sufficient when compared with that of a machinist.

The officials handling the McAdoo award have evidently agreed with them, but not to the extent of $1 per hour, for the men have been granted an increase to 80 cents per hour, effective February 1.

BARNARDO BOY AND FARMER'S SHOTGUN REPORTED MISSING

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—Where is John Shore, Barnardo boy, 17 years of age, and his former employer's shotgun?

The police have been asked to look out for him. Shore reached the farmer's home last Thursday from the Barnardo Home. Saturday the farmer decided to visit St. Thomas, and invited his youthful helper to join him. He declined. When the farmer got home he found the lad and his shotgun missing. No trace of him has yet been found. High Constable Hopkins is on the case.

FISHERMEN TO MEET.

ST. THOMAS, Feb. 3.—The annual meeting of the Lake Erie Fishermen's Association will be held in the city hall, commencing February 18. An interesting and extensive program has been arranged, and the event promises to equal, if not excel, anything yet held.

Your Attention to Money Matters is decidedly needed now

More so now than ever before, hoarding money is unprofitable and unsafe, investing at low interest is unprofitable—"Get rich Quick" schemes are decidedly risky and dangerous ones. There are also investments that are as good as gold but the money may be tied up for years and not obtainable.

Unlike any of these investments Ontario Loan Debentures are good steady producers and can be purchased in denominations of $100 and up, yielding 5½% interest per annum payable half yearly.

They yield large returns, are absolutely safe and are as good as gold.

BLISS—In loving memory of Margaret Bliss, who departed this life one year ago today, Feb. 4, 1918.

It is one sad year since that sad day
When one we loved was called away;
Her weary hours and days of pain,
And her troubled nights are past;
Her ever-patient, worn-out frame
Has found sweet rest at last.
—Husband and Daughter.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Adaptability to Changes One Real Test of the Truly Sane

By DR. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG, A. B., M. A., M. D., (Johns Hopkins University.)

DR. HIRSHBERG

The frontiers of madness and sanity are not easily perceived by an expert. Of course, "twelve men tried and true," those who compose the average jury, know more than experts. If cunning maniacs camouflage their dementia, as they often do, they may be pronounced sane.

If you visit a hospital for the insane and talk to the patients, you will frequently conclude, as novelists, romancers and dramatists used to do, that some greedy, rapacious relative has bribed some unscrupulous persons to incarcerate the healthy-minded victim, to "get him out of the way."

Many crazy persons can convince you easily that they are sane; paranoics, particularly. Yet these victims of dethroned reason may conceal and nurse murderous delusions, which often result in crime of violence. Indeed, without the elaborate series of tests known to the psychologist, an ordinary, inexperienced, illogical person with a healthy mind, but erroneous judgment, may be mistaken for an insane one.

One of the differences between a sane person and an insane one is the ability to recognize existence, physical reality and facts from sentiments, sympathies, wishes, hopes, hates and fancied ideas.

"Sticking to" Mistakes.

Another distinction is this. A sane man adjusts himself to unpleasant facts and changing circumstances. An insane one is not adaptable and usually lives in a make-believe world of his own beliefs and hopes.

The degree of sanity and good judgment of any individual is about equal to his swiftness and success in altering his thoughts and actions to meet the changes always at work around and about him.

Mistaken judgments differ from real lunacy in that they are not permanent or wholly unadjustable. The insane persist in their maladjustment and in their inability to fit into their environment. A crazy person thinks and does something in a wrong way and does not appreciate it. The mistake is a lack of adaptation to the real existence.

A sane person may make a mistake and persist obstinately at it for various lengths of time. In the end or at however great the cost, he will finally understand it was an error.

A Delicate Task.

There are brooding, quiet, inactive melancholic dements who perform no acts that can be interpreted as absurd. Paranoics, paretics, alcholic dements and other types of insanity may have such representations.

It becomes the delicate task then to fathom their unsound thoughts in order to know their true status and to be prepared against the day such a false mind bursts forth into action that may do much harm to others.

Until every person knows the difference between a fact and a circumstance; between themselves and the real existence outside of the self; between an actual event and a supposition, a wish, a suspected deed or a fanciful idea, the border lines of sanity will remain a mystery.

Answers to Health Questions

G. M. J. Q.—Kindly advise me what to do for moles.

A.—The lance, radium, X-rays will remove moles. The knife is most certain, less painful, not dangerous and most quickly over.

J. T. S. A.—If you will send a self-addressed, stamped envelope with your query repeated I shall be glad to answer your question.

A CONSTANT READER. Q.—Kindly advise me how to fumigate a private home.

A.—Notify the health department and they will fumigate your house for you.

H. H. Q.—Kindly advise me what to do for high blood pressure.

A.—Perhaps you need more sleep and rest. Try not to overexert yourself. Keep the skin and intestines active. Taboo hot dishes, salt, pepper, condiments, seasoning, rich foods, nuts, peas and beans. Be massaged daily. Drink much more water daily, lots of fresh milk, cream and take a Bulgarian tablet with your meals. Take one-half grain nitrate of soda in water every four hours. Do not try to treat yourself until a thorough diagnosis has been made.

DIARY OF A FASHION MODEL

BY GRACE THORNCLIFFE.

She Discusses the New Beaded Fabrics.

A delightful variation of Georgette crepe has been introduced. It is our lovely old friend in a new guise of bead embroidery, which runs sometimes in pendant or in flat patterns throughout the length of the goods.

Self-colored beads are employed in the lighter tones of pink, blue, canary yellow and white, though contrasting colors, such as rose on white, pink or blue on white, are frequently seen.

This beadwork is also employed to embellish net for evening dresses. Ripples of sea green net are run with tiny tassels of sea green beads. These little tassels shimmer with every motion of the wearer. Silver gauze is combined with this Georgette and gives the effect of a fairy costume in a "Midsummer Night's Dream."

An interesting street dress embroidered with beads is made of black silk jersey. Three bias lines run at intervals all over the fabric. These lines are colored beads, in red, blue and tan. A belt done in solid beadwork gives a further opportunity for this embroidery.

Paris is bead mad and America has harkened back to the days of Pocahontas to find motifs for beadwork in the perfect specimens of Indian embroidery done in this glass medium.

Steel and bronze beads appear on many of the mid-season hats of satin. Beaded satin crowns will be applied to straw brims on spring millinery.

A charming shade of blue jet has been introduced which looks particularly well on the street hats of blue and black.

Of course, the fabrics embroidered in beads are expensive. It is therefore well to adapt a bit of this lovely material in combination with something less expensive. Tricolette and sports silks in pale or brilliant tones combine beautifully with this beaded material.

An example of utilizing beaded Georgette crepe in combination with tricolette is illustrated in this charming afternoon model of flesh pink.

The heavy quality of tricolette contrasts exquisitely with the thinner weave of Georgette. Any of the heavier silks, such as taffeta, lajerz, and light-colored pongees, combine perfectly with vests or borders of beaded Georgette.

In this model pink Georgette crepe embroidered with pink beads is used for a panel front, but extends below a very new belt into a peplum.

The back of this gown is plain and is fastened by a row of pink bead buttons. The peplum line of this blouse gives a very youthful line to the figure. A band of beaded Georgette is set in the long, tight sleeve in a bias line.

The skirt of this dress is long and tight. In the lower part of the skirt is set a border of beaded Georgette. The hem of this gown is faced with pink Georgette in a plain weave. A double thickness of tricolette would be rather heavy to weight the thinner of beaded Georgette.

This gown may be worn for restaurant wear with a big black picture hat or with a hat of pink Georgette in a plain weave. Indeed, hats of pink ribbon, grosgrain and satin promise to be very popular. Pink hats are lovely and so essentially feminine.

Flesh pink stockings and white or black pumps are the correct accessories of footwear to be worn with this gown.

MY SOLDIER HUSBAND
ADELE GARRISON'S CONTINUATION OF REVELATIONS OF A WIFE

What Madge Read in Miss Holcombe's Eyes.

I shall not soon forget the scene in the assembly hall of the Bayview High School which followed the news of the signing of the armistice. My classroom was nearest to the hall, so that when my pupils had marched in and had taken seats I was free to watch the coming of the others, to assist in their assignment to places.

It was a tribute to the discipline of Mr. Stockbridge that there was little disorder, although the spirits of every pupil, from the tiny first graders to the high school seniors, were keyed to the highest pitch. Grade after grade filed in under the watchful eyes of the teachers, the leaders of each class waving the flags which had been hastily taken from the wall. The music teacher at the piano was sounding the chords of that most stirring of all marches, "The Battle Hymn of the Republic," and the children's feet fell into the rhythmic step as they reached the door.

When they had all been seated, Mr. Stockbridge stepped to the rostrum, and I caught my breath sharply as I saw his face, for it was like that of one transformed. Everything petty seemed to have fallen away from him, and his whole countenance was luminous with the flame of patriotic fervor.

"Boys and girls," he began huskily, "never forget that this is the most momentous hour you have ever known, that the world has ever known. The armistice has been signed, but that is only the symbol. Liberty has triumphed in the world, and, please God, it never shall be trampled on again. And let me say just one word to those of you whose dear ones have made the last great sacrifice for this hour. Don't mourn for them. Rather, all your lives, envy the chance they had as you honor them. For theirs is the highest, noblest part of all, to have been able to give their lives."

"Now Cheer It All Out."

He stopped abruptly, almost as if choking, and there leaped into his eyes for a moment a look of anguished regret. The next moment he had bent toward the school again.

"Now cheer it all out," he called. "Come on, now! Hurrah!"

For the next five minutes the room was a frenzy of shrill cheers, which Mr. Stockbridge led, his face covered with smiles. When from very exhaustion the cheers began to grow fainter the principal held up his hand for silence.

"We are now going to parade through the principal streets of the village," he said. "The school orchestra will lead, then will come the classes in the inverse order of their size, the smaller children marching first, the high school pupils bringing up in the rear. You will follow your teachers' instructions implicitly, and, when we have finished, return quietly to your classrooms, where you will be dismissed. There will be no more school work today; no home work tonight."

A final cheer greeted this most welcome announcement, and then Mr. Stockbridge marshaled his forces into an impromptu parade, which marched in really creditable fashion around the village. At almost every house the parents and friends of the children ran out in hastily donned wraps and attached themselves to the parade, so that when we reached the school building again it seemed that the whole population of the little village was crowding around us, some of them with tear-stained faces, all clamorous for a speech from the principal, who, I realized, was a well-beloved man in the little village.

Tortured Comprehension.

I knew that he was far from being a diffident man, and so was surprised at the look of embarrassment and reluctance which crossed his face.

"I'm sorry, but it's impossible," he said hurriedly to those nearest him. "I—I—simply can't." Then raising his voice he called to the crowd:

"Friends, please go home and spread the word that we will have a rousing celebration in front of the firehouse this evening at 8 o'clock. Bring all the noise-making things you can get with you, and we'll have a real parade, winding up in some hall, where I promise to have a real soldier to talk to you, a man who has been over there in the thick of it."

He turned and fairly bolted up the steps of the school building, signalling the teachers to bring their pupils in. But I had seen in his eyes the same anguished expression that had come into them in the assembly hall when he was speaking to the children, knew that to Kenneth Stockbridge, maimed athlete, had come the culminating moment of his Golgotha in the realization that the war for world liberty was over, with him outside of it all.

It was only a casual sympathy for the man which came to me, but as I turned toward the group of pupils whom I was shepherding I saw a face which held something far more vital.

It was the face of Alice Holcombe, and its pallor, in striking contrast to the glory of her flame-colored hair, arrested my eyes at first. She was standing motionless, regardless of any one around her, and her eyes were fixed upon the retreating figure of the principal. And in those eyes there was such tortured comprehension of and sympathy for the soul she and I had just seen bared that I moved swiftly toward her, fearful lest someone else should see and misinterpret what I was witnessing.

DICKY AND MRS. WATER-BEETLE.

Dicky sat on the bank of the brooklet watching a funny little bug sailing around in the water, when a tiny hand was laid on his shoulder.

"Oh, hello, there, Squeedee!" he laughed, "I was just watching that funny bug struggling out there in the water."

"Struggling!" exclaimed Squeedee, with a merry twinkle in his eyes. "Why, that's Mrs. Water-Beetle!"

The circling bug stopped at the sound of her name, and seeing Squeedee on the bank, waved at him.

"Oh, Mrs. Beetle!" cried Squeedee. "Have you a minute to spare? If so, Dicky and I will visit you."

"I certainly have several minutes if you'd like them," laughed Mrs. Water-Beetle, and she crawled upon a floating leaf and guided it to the shore. "Jump on to my raft."

"Raft!" exclaimed Dicky, then he began to laugh, for as the leaf neared the shore Dicky began to grow very tiny, and when Mrs. Beetle caught hold of a blade of grass to steady the leaf, to his surprise Dicky saw it wasn't a leaf after all, but a tiny fairy raft.

Dicky and Squeedee jumped aboard and away from shore they sailed.

"It's been a long time since I've entertained a little boy," laughed Mrs. Water-Beetle.

"Isn't it dreadful lonesome living in the water all the time?" asked Dicky.

"I should say not!" exclaimed Mrs. Water-Beetle. "We can fly any time we want to, which is generally at night.

Oh, Mrs. Beetle!"

I like to fly, but I much prefer to swim. That's why our hind legs are made so broad and have bristles on them. We use them for paddles or oars."

"What are those knobs on the side of your body?" asked Dicky.

"Oh, Mrs. Water-Beetle uses them to spin her silk with," replied Squeedee.

"They're almost like Mrs. Spider's," laughed Mrs. Water-Beetle. "You see, when I lay my eggs I spin little silk bags to keep them air-tight and warm. They're so light they float right on top of the water, where the sun can warm them. If I didn't put them in the bags the fish and frogs would eat the eggs. There's a bag I just finished," and Mrs. Water-Beetle pointed to a tiny bag floating on the water, sparkling like a ball of gold in the sunlight.

"Some of my relatives glue their egg bags to leaves and grass of water plants, but I like the floating ones the best," and Mrs. Water-Beetle brushed out her little bronze-colored gown with a proud air.

"And I guess the babies do, too," laughed Dicky. "I'd like floating like that."

"What in the world are you talking about?" laughed a soft voice, and Dicky opened his eyes to see his mamma smiling at him. "Let's gather up the lunch basket and go home."

"On the way home Dicky told his mamma about his lovely dream, and the funniest part of it all to Dicky was the fact that what Mrs. Water-Beetle had told him in his dream mamma said was absolutely true.

Jimmy Coon and His Friends

The Adventures of the Little People of the Great Forest.

COUSIN BRUIN HAS TWO GUESTS.

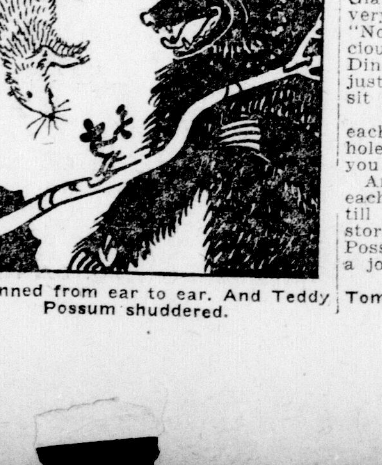

Now, Giant Bear heard the laughter of all the Little People of the Great Forest, who called him a coward. And Giant Bear is very clever, and he just dotes on playing jokes on all jokers. So Giant Bear gave a Dinner Party, and invited two of the greatest jokers—Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum—and these two scamps were delighted to go, for Giant Bear said they would have lots of honey and other lovely things to eat.

And Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum "put on lots of airs," because they were the only people invited. They swelled out their vests so that the buttons burst off, because they were the only people so honored. I know you must have seen such people act in this way before you, when you were not invited to some party which they were to attend.

Well, Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum, after a long trip through the dense woods, reached the house of Giant Bear, who received them very cordially. In fact, Giant Bear honored his two guests by standing up on his hind legs and grinning the broadest smile you ever saw. Why, he grinned from ear to ear, and Teddy Possum shuddered when he saw what an immense mouth Giant Bear had—when he showed his 42 big teeth!

Walking on his hind legs, like a man, Giant Bear led the way, saying in his deep bass voice, "My dear little friends, will you please come this way to my Summer Dining-Room? I always eat out of doors in the summer." And Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum were delighted with the beautiful Summer Dining-Room. It had a lovely brown carpet of Pine needles, and the walls were hung with charming green tapestries of ferns and orchids. Giant Bear always lived amid the most beautiful scenes in all the world. And Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum just loved to walk over that lovely brown carpet, it was soft to their feet—like a velvet carpet—and it was as fragrant as a perfumery shop. And Giant Bear, the charming host, said very kindly in his deep, deep bass voice, "Now, I have prepared some very delicious honey for the first course for our Dinner Party! You will find the honey just under this brown carpet. Let's all sit down on the soft carpet, and by each plate you will see a little round hole. Now, each of you do as I do; and you will find lots and lots of Honey!"

And those three eaters sat down, each of them very hungry. But wait till you hear about the surprise in store for Jimmy Coon and Teddy Possum! For, Cousin Bruin had planned a joke on them.

He grinned from ear to ear. And Teddy Possum shuddered.

Tomorrow: The Big Surprise at the Dinner Party.

To-morrow's HOROSCOPE

By Genevieve Kemble

WEDNESDAY, FEBRUARY 5.

According to stellar testimonies this may be an active if not an exciting day, the energetic Mars being strongly operative, though in a peculiarly contradictory manner. While he incites to rashness and impetuosity under a Lunar transit, under a trine to the most benignant Jupiter he brings good fortune and a train of propitious circumstances and incidents favoring bold ventures and large enterprises. Those in employment must seek advancement and increase of salary—others, under the same favorable juxtaposition of the luminaries, may seek honors, favors and preferment. It is not advisable to travel or move, and domestic, social and affectional matters had best remain in statu quo.

Those whose birthday it is may expect an active, interesting and prosperous year. A child born on this day may be generous, popular, active and successful.

A rather interesting side light on the question of gun barrel life is a determination of the actual length of time to which a good shotgun barrel is subjected to the force and burning effect of the powder charge during its lifetime. If 100,000 shots are fired from a shotgun the inside of the barrel is actually exposed to the flame of the powder charge for about four minutes.

TORTURED FOR NEARLY TWO YEARS

Mrs. Plante Found Relief in Dodd's Kidney Pills.

She Tells How They Helped Her Kidney Disease and Made a New Woman of Her.

Ste. Florence, Que., Feb. 3.—(Special).—"Two boxes of Dodd's Kidney Pills made a new person of me." The speaker is Madame M. L. Plante of this place, and her numerous friends here fully verify her statement.

"For nearly two years," Mrs. Plante continues, "kidney disease tortured me. I heard of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and made up my mind to try them, and to my surprise they did me good almost at once. Two boxes cured me completely. I recommend them to all my friends."

Mrs. Plante is only one of many who have had a similar experience. They were weak and rundown, and sick all over. Dodd's Kidney Pills helped them. How? Simply by curing the kidneys. The diseased kidneys were the cause of all the trouble. They were failing to strain the impurities out of the blood, and the result was disease all over the body. Dodd's Kidney Pills helped the kidneys, the impurities were strained out of the blood. The result was pure blood and good health all over the body. The cause of the disease had been removed.

STOMACH TROUBLES ARE DUE TO ACIDITY

Tells Safe, Certain, Speedy Relief For Acid Indigestion.

So-called stomach troubles, such as indigestion, gas, sourness, stomach-ache and inability to retain food, are in probably nine cases out of ten simply evidence that excessive secretion of acid is taking place in the stomach, causing the formation of gas and acid indigestion.

Gas distends the stomach and causes that full, oppressive, burning feeling sometimes known as heartburn, while the acid irritates and inflames the delicate lining of the stomach. The trouble lies entirely in the excess development or secretion of acid.

To stop or prevent this souring of the food contents of the stomach, and to neutralize the acid, and make it bland and harmless, a teaspoonful of bisurated magnesia, a good and effective corrector of acid stomach, should be taken in a quarter of a glass of hot or cold water after eating, or whenever gas, sourness or acidity is felt. This sweetens the stomach and neutralizes the acidity in a few moments, and is a perfectly harmless and inexpensive remedy to use.

An antiacid, such as bisurated magnesia, which can be obtained from any druggist, in either powder or tablet form, enables the stomach to do its work properly without the aid of artificial digestants. Magnesia comes in several forms, so ber certain to ask for and take only Bisurated Magnesia, which is especially prepared for the above purpose.—Advt.

THIN PEOPLE SHOULD TAKE PHOSPHATE

Nothing Like Plain Bitro-Phosphate To Put on Firm, Healthy Flesh and To Increase Strength, Vigor and Nerve Force.

Judging from the countless preparations and treatments which are continually being advertised for the purpose of making thin people fleshy, developing arms, neck and bust, and replacing ugly hollows and angles by the soft curved lines of health and beauty, there are evidently thousands of men and women who keenly feel their excessive thinness.

Thinness and weakness are usually due to starved nerves, our bodies need more phosphate than is contained in modern foods. Physicians claim there is nothing that will supply this deficiency so well as the organic phosphate known among druggists as bitro-phosphate, which is inexpensive and is sold by most all druggists under a guarantee of satisfaction or money back. By feeding the nerves directly and by supplying the body cells with the necessary phosphoric food elements, bitro-phosphate quickly produces a welcome transformation in the appearance; the increase in weight frequently being astonishing.

This increase in weight also carries with it a general improvement in the health. Nervousness, sleeplessness and lack of energy, which nearly always accompany excessive thinness, soon disappear, dull eyes become bright, and pale cheeks glow with the bloom of perfect health.

CAUTION: Although bitro-phosphate is unsurpassed for relieving nervousness, sleeplessness and general weakness, it should not, owing to its remarkable flesh-growing properties, be used by anyone who does not desire to put on flesh.—Advt.

Colored Dining Car Chef Proves First Victim.

Charles Songer, the colored chef of the G. T. R. diner, where a suitcase full of whiskey was discovered by License Inspector J. E. Keenleyside and Inspector Birrell of the police force last Wednesday morning, was found guilty in police court Monday afternoon of having liquor in a place other than a private dwelling, and had the fine boosted $100 on him, Magistrate Graydon shoving it to $300 and costs, or four months in jail. Songer paid the fine.

"I intimated some time ago that I would increase the penalty," stated the magistrate in passing sentence.

"Does that mean that everyone will be fined $300 in future?" asked W. R. Meredith, one of the counsel for Songer.

"It will when I think necessary," replied the court.

The officers of the law told of hopping aboard the diner and finding the suitcase with the liquid refreshment in the kitchen, also a partly-empty bottle in a cubby-hole.

Henry Childs, a steamfitter, who had stopped Richard Gray earlier in the morning with a bag of whisky bottles, stated that he had seen Songer on the back of the car just about the time the bags appeared on the scene.

The defendant declared that he had never seen the suitcase before, and didn't know anything about any whiskey. The magistrate stated he was not prepared to accept Songer's story and fined him the above amount.

"Couldn't you make it $300 straight?" petitioned W. R. Meredith, of the court.

"No. If I did anything I would make it more," replied Mr. Graydon. A revolver, fully loaded, was found in a black bag belonging to Songer, but no charge was laid against him for having it in his possession.

NAZIMOVA'S ACTING IS MAGNIFICENT IN HER NEWEST PLAY

Distinguished Russian Actress Is Appearing at the Grand in "Eye For Eye."

Nazimova, the distinguished Russian actress, was seen in her greatest role in "Eye for Eye," a thrilling photoplay presented at the Grand Opera House yesterday. In the role of Hassouna, a young and beautiful Arab girl, she portrays a character that abounds in excellent acting. The production and acting were both of superlative quality, and the audience was on the qui vive of excitement and enthusiasm during the entire period of the performance.

Hassouna, a young and very beautiful Arabian girl, lives in the tented city of her tribe in the desert. Here comes Capt. Cadiere, an officer of the French navy, in pursuit of his duty. In a religious frenzy the tribe capture and make him prisoner, intending to kill him at dawn. Hassouna has seen the handsome young Frenchman, and falls in love with him. By strategy she effects his release and escape, and then confesses her deed to her father. The tribe is enraged at her act, and condemns her to death—choosing to abandon her in the desert, where she will perish from thirst. She is rescued by another tribe, who take her to the city of Tangiers and sell her as a dancing girl to a traveling circus.

A Child of the Desert.

After many hardships and much illusage at the hands of the brutal manager of the circus she is rescued and taken to the home of the man she aided in the desert. In scenes which occur during this period of the thrilling drama Nazimova is superb in the utter abandon of her art—she becomes the passionate, fiery young child of the desert, who does not know the meaning of the work restraint.

In the scenes in which she does the dance of the Veils she holds the audience in the palm of her hand—not a sound to break the rapt attention with which her work is received. It is a picture which arrests the attention and expands the imagination—transporting the beholder to the heart of things Oriental and mysterious, and telling a story of intrigue and passion, which is not to be surpassed.

Additional Features.

A British-Canadian Pathe News Weekly, a Keystone comedy, "Haunted by Himself," and special musical selections by the Grand Opera House orchestra, complete a thoroughly excellent program that will be repeated today, Wednesday and Thursday.

AT THE STAR

"SWAT THE SPY!"
NOW SHOWN AT THE STAR THEATRE

Today is the day that all lovers of clean, wholesome comedy have been looking forward to for some time. Jane and Kathleen Lee, the 'Baby Grands" of the motion pictures, are to be presented in an uproarious, side-splitting farce, called "Swat the Spy!" The Lees' surpassing ability as fun-makers has been so thoroughly established that it has only become necessary to announce their appearance at a motion picture house to bring the crowds.

This newest feature by the Lee children is described as a merry melange of mischievous pranks and mirth-provoking situations, placed in a setting of exquisite pathos and practical patriotism. The comical kids not only prick the inflated bubble of a montrous alien plot, but they perform the operation in such an exquisitely humorous fashion that it becomes a constant source of delight and a joy forever. Clumsy Karl and lumbering Lena are as much a match for the keen-witted kids as a hungry fly would be for a sheet of tanglefoot.

MILD WINTER HARD ON COUNTY'S ROADS, SAYS THE ENGINEER

Autos Have Been Used Continuously For First Time.

Owing to the weather conditions this winter, many of the roads of Western Ontario, according to County Engineer Charles Talbot, are in need of more repair than at the close of other winters, when the snow was deep. This winter, on account of the light snowfall, was practically the first that autos were used on country roads, and these, aided by the wet weather of last autumn, have played havoc with the highways.

The difference in the conditions of various sections of the roads in this end of the province is due to the various degrees of snowfall in various districts. In Essex and Lambton counties there is scarcely any snow during the winter. In Elgin County there is only a light snowfall. The average depth in the winter is greater in Middlesex than the county to the south, while north of this county the "beautiful" is more plentiful still.

SUGGESTS ORDINATION OF ALL MINISTERS IN THE EPISCOPAL MANNER

A paper on the subject of "Church Reunion," presented Monday by Rev. Dr. L. N. Tucker at the monthly meeting of the Anglican Clerical Association, furnished material for an interesting discussion at the close. So great, indeed, was the interest manifested that it was decided to continue the discussion at the next meeting, Rev. Canon Gunne to give the leading paper.

In the course of his paper, Dr. Tucker dwelt upon the historic episcopate, pointing out that to his mind, this was one of the great barriers separating the Church of England from the dissenting bodies of the present age. The speaker said that this difficulty might be overcome if nonconformist ministers would receive episcopal ordination and at the same time they would not be called upon to renounce the former system of ordination.

Dr. Tucker further stated that more co-operation and sympathy would be necessary to promote the spirit of reunion and that without this spirit, little could be accomplished.

Considerable discussion took place in regard to the "Father and Son" banquet to be held in Cronyn Hall next Monday evening, February 10, at which fathers and sons of all the Anglican churches in the city will be represented. Following the banquet, a meeting at 8 o'clock will be addressed by Rt. Rev. Dr. Roper, Bishop of Ottawa, the Bishop of Huron to perform the duties of chairman.

DOROTHY GISH IN FASCINATING PLAY AT THE MAJESTIC

Famous Little Comedienne Makes Great Hit in Her Latest Photoplay.

Majestic patrons were delighted at all performances yesterday with "The Hope Chest," Dorothy Gish's latest screen success. In the role of Sheila Moore, the popular little comedienne made good use of many of the characteristic actions that gained her fame as the "Little Disturber" in "Hearts of the World."

The story tells a fascinating tale that holds the attention of the audience every minute. In many scenes Dorothy Gish uses almost the same costume, the chic and teasing expressions, and the same disdainful tossing of her head that made her love well liked in "Hearts of the World."

Story of the Play.

Sheila Moore, the daughter of a vaudeville actor who finds it difficult to earn a livelihood, determines to go upon the stage, but it told by the manager to whom she applies for an engagement that her work was the poorest he had seen in many years. Thus, without employment, and little to eat, Sheila becomes a clerk in the fashionable Ballantyne chocolate shop, where she meets Tom, the son of her employer. He becomes infatuated with Sheila, and without realizing that she is marrying a mere boy, she finally becomes his wife. Her father, as well as the Ballantynes, are shocked at the news, and the young bridegroom is obliged by his father to go to work for a living. The bride becomes in effect a ward of Ballantyne, Sen., and when a friend of her husband, who knows nothing of the marriage, makes violent love to her, she resents his course vigorously. She faints in his arms just as her husband appears on the scene, the result being a family suarrel which ends in Sheila quitting the Ballantyne home in anger. Tom then realizes that he has lost something, and his chase of his vanished bride, the reconstruction of ideas on the part of some of the family and the repentance of certain sinners, concludes an interesting story.

The portrayal of the role of Sheila by Miss Gish was thoroughly delightful. George Fawcett, the veteran player, was artistic as the old vaudeville actor, while Richard Barthelmless, as the young husband, was all that the most exacting taste could demand. The support given by Sam de Grasse, Kate V. Toncray, Carol Dempster and Bertram Grassby, was adequate.

The photoplay is in every respect a charming production which may safely be recommended to all who love the best the cinema art provides.

TECHNICAL SCHOOL CLASSES CROWDED

Waiting Lists Formed Even On First Night.

Nearly every class overcrowded; the largest attendance by far that has ever been recorded; waiting lists formed for several classes.

This is the report from the Technical School which opened the winter term Monday night. Principal H. B. Beal is almost at his wits' end to find places for the numbers of applicants for tuition, and says it will be necessary to form additional classes, with assistant teachers, at once. Only in home nursing, architectural drafting, building and afternoon art classes is there any room for more pupils, and these vacancies are likely to be filled immediately.

Husband Devoured All Food; Wife and Baby Went Without

Young Woman Likely Will Go To Her Parents To Live.

Scantily clad, her feet covered with rubbers, tied on with pieces of string, and carrying a babe, mother and babe clearly showing the lack of nourishing food, a woman, who looked much older than the 26 years which she stated as her age, walked into Inspector J. W. McCallum's office the other day. She had no food or fuel in the house and her husband was sick; in fact, he had been to see the doctor that morning. Mr. McCallum was out, but Miss V. Reid promised that her case would be taken up immediately.

Upon investigation, Mr. McCallum found that the couple had recently moved into the city, and while he gave immediate assistance, decided that it was not a case for the city to undertake alone.

A few days later the wife again came into the office of J. W. McCallum, and stated that her husband had eaten the last bit of food in the house. It appears that with her last nickel she bought a half loaf of bread and took it home. Hubby, who had promised to love and protect her, saw the tempting morsel, and he devoured it forthwith. This was more than the wife could stand, and she appealed to Mr. McCallum. As the parents of the wife live near Kitchener, and are willing to keep her, the city will likely provide transportation for her. She is said to be willing to leave hubby, who, according to Mr. McCallum, is apparently able to work, to his own devices hereafter.

CHILDREN AT P. O. H. ALL ESCAPED "FLU"

The regular monthly meeting of the board of the Protestant Orphans' Home was held on Monday afternoon. The board expressed its appreciation of the long and faithful services of Miss Auld, who has been matron of the institution for the past 29 years.

It was reported that not one of the children throughout the period of the epidemic of Spanish influenza suffered from the disease.

DORCHESTER LAD GETS WELCOME

DORCHESTER, Feb. 3.—Gordon Hayes, son of Tom Hayes of Pottersville, has arrived home from the front. Some time ago he was badly wounded in the left arm. He recovered and went back again, and was in the last big drive when 700 of his company went out and only 70 were able to come back.

John Bell has bought the property of Mr. Hambly in this village. It is the intention of Mr. and Mrs. Hambly to go to Chicago.

OTTAWA CITIZEN BACKS ADVERTISER IN ITS CRITICISMS

Capital Newspaper Supports Arguments Advanced by London Journal.

STATEMENTS ANALYZED

Federal Government Spared Wealth by Omitting Taxation of It During War.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

OTTAWA, Feb. 3.—The Ottawa Citizen takes issue with the editorial comment of its contemporary, the Journal, upon the figures published in the London Advertiser, designed to show that the Dominion Government had during the war spared wealth, and had thereby gone into debt practically to the extent of the cost of the war. The Citizen says:

"The London Advertiser's statement that the Dominion Government has refused to tax wealth, and that as a consequence we have gone into debt to the extent of the cost of the war, is controverted in some quarters. The fact is, however, that the London journal is nearer right than wrong in its statement. We have taxed wealth, it is true, but the taxation has been mild, indeed, compared to similar taxation imposed by such other democratic countries as Britain and the United States.

Analysis Is Startling.

"There has been some disposition to dwell on the fact that last year, to quote a local journal, 'we paid off almost 20 per cent of war costs with current revenue.' That sounds very well, but on analysis it does not look the same.

"Our net public debt at the end of March, 1914, amounted to $336,000,000 in round figures. In the first year of the war the revenue not only did not provide enough to pay for the war, but it failed to secure enough to cover the civil budget. A SUM DOUBLE THE AMOUNT SPENT ON THE WAR WAS, HOWEVER, ADDED TO THE NATIONAL DEBT. In the second year the revenue and the expenditures practically balanced, leaving the whole war outlay to be met by borrowing. In the third year there was a surplus of $41,000,000 applicable to the principal of the war outlay, and in the fourth year a similar sum of $26,000,000.

"DURING THE FOUR YEARS OF THE WAR WE SPENT ALL WE RECEIVED IN THE WAY OF REVENUE ON CIVIL EXPENDITURES, EXCEPT $12,000,000. Up to April of last year (1918) we had met less than 2 per cent of the total principal of the war outlay from current revenue. In the past year the surplus available for application on war outlay was $26,000,000, or 8 per cent.

"During the present year the surplus is likely to reach forty millions, which will be about 9 per cent. But it must be stated in all fairness that war interest and pensions have been paid out of this year's revenue. As against this there is the item of ordinary military and naval expenditure to be deducted, the civic budget being relieved of that sum, which, in peace time, totalled about $15,000,000.

Wealth Has It Easy.

"As for the incidence of taxation claim that we have not taxed wealth during the four years of the war the sufficiently has certainly strong support in the figures. In Britain in 1914-15 the tax on property and income was 48 per cent of the whole revenue. In 1917-18 it provided 61 per cent of the total revenue from taxes. In the United States in 1916-17 the tax on property and income provided only 17 per cent of the revenue. Within two years that proportion had changed to the remarkable figure of 69 per cent of the total.

"In Canada there was no tax on property and income at all during the period 1914-15. In 1915-16 it was the pitiful source of 1 per cent of our total revenue from taxation. In 1916-17 it provided 8 per cent of the revenue; in the last year 11 per cent. In other words taxes on consumption which bore 100 per cent of the burden in the years before the war, and during its first year, were carrying 89 per cent of the load at the end of the war.

"These figures are of interest at this time, too, for another reason. The Canadian Manufacturers' Association, is anxious to know what the advocates of abolition of the tariff have to offer as a revenue-producer in the event of their demands being granted."

TWO HAD ARMS BROKEN

While cranking an auto Monday Jos. Donnelly, 24 Argyle street, had his arm broken and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. He is a chauffeur of the Marley & Hexter Garage.

John MacAlpine, 889 Queen's avenue, also had his arm broken Monday, and was taken to St. Joseph's Hospital. He was setting a belt at the London and Petrolea Barrel Works when the accident occurred.

PEERLESS HOSIERY CO. HAS CHANGED HANDS

Ownership of the Peerless Hosiery Company, Limited, has changed hands. Richard L. Baker of Toronto has purchased the business from Douglas R. Teasdall, Waterloo street, this city, who organized the firm and who, through his careful management, was instrumental in bringing it to its present size. In 1917 the plant was small, but now more than 150 persons are employed, and a large factory on Adelaide street, near the C. P. R. tracks, which, with the equipment, is worth more than $100,000, has been built.

Physicians Explain Who Should Take Nuxated Iron

man and woman who wants to possess perfect health, great physical endurance and a strong, keen mentality, Dr. Sullivan tells how to increase the iron in our blood and thereby gain greater physical and mental power, brighter intellects and better health.

Commenting on the use of Nuxated Iron as a tonic, strength and blood builder by over three million people annually, Dr. James Francis Sullivan, formerly physician of Bellevue Hospital (Outdoor Dept.) New York, and The Westchester County Hospital, said: "Lack of iron in the blood not only makes a man a physical and mental weakling, nervous, irritable, easily fatigued, but it utterly robs him of that virile force, that stamina and strength of will which are so necessary to success and power in every walk of life.

It may also transform a beautiful, sweet-tempered woman into one who is cross, nervous and irritable. I have strongly emphasized the great necessity of physicians making blood examinations of their weak, anaemic, rundown patients. Thousands of persons go on year after year suffering from physical weakness and a highly-nervous condition due to lack of sufficient iron in their red blood corpuscles without ever realizing the real and true cause of their trouble. Without iron in your blood your food merely passes through the body something like corn through an old mill with rollers so wide apart that the mill can't grind.

For want of iron you may be an old man at thirty, dull of intellect, poor in memory, nervous, irritable and all "run down," while at 50 or 60 with plenty of iron in your blood you may still be young in feeling, full of life, your whole being brimming over with vim and energy."

But in my opinion you can't make strong, vigorous, successful, sturdy iron men, and healthy, rosy-cheeked women by feeding them on metallic iron. The old forms of metallic iron must go through a digestive process to transform them into organic iron—Nuxated Iron—before they are ready to be taken up and assimilated by the human system. Notwithstanding all that has been said and written on this subject by well-known physicians, thousands of people still insist on dosing themselves with metallic iron, simply, I suppose, because it costs a few cents less. I strongly advise readers in all cases to get a physician's prescription for organic iron—Nuxated Iron—or if you don't want to go to this trouble then purchase Nuxated Iron in its original packages and see that this particular name Nuxated Iron) appears on the package. If you have taken preparations such as Nux and Iron and other similar iron products and failed to get results, remember that such products are an entirely different thing from Nuxated Iron.

Manufacturers' Note.—Nuxated Iron, which is used by Dr. Sullivan and others with such surprising results, and which is prescribed and recommended above by physicians, is not a secret remedy, but one which is well known to druggists everywhere. Unlike the older inorganic iron products it is easily assimilated and does not injure the teeth, make them black nor upset the stomach. The manufacturers guarantee successful and entirely satisfactory results to every purchaser or they will refund your money. It is dispensed in this city by Standard Drug, Limited, and all other druggists.

Ever Eat Bacon on Bread?

THREE things, for most people, cook with an irresistible, fragrant smell. They are—toasting bread, brewing coffee and frying bacon.

Can you think of any one of them without getting hungry?

What a perfect breakfast they make when combined!

Use NEAL'S ALOAFA BREAD for your toast, of course. No bread toasts like it—you'll see why.

But particularly, we want to speak today of NEAL'S ALOAFA BREAD when eaten with bacon. Have your bacon fried just to suit, then placed between two medium-thin slices of NEAL'S ALOAFA BREAD and—

C-r-u-n-c-h! My, but that's good. The sweet, nutty flavor of the bacon blends perfectly with the cereal goodness and toothsome flavor of NEAL'S ALOAFA BREAD, and you have found a new palate delight, and one that is beneficial to your body, too.

One thing, please—no other bread but NEAL'S will do. See that it comes to your table three times a day. Sold for cash only to the best homes in London and district.
