TAGGART ACCUSED OF ATTEMPT TO WRECK TWO EXPRESS TRAINS

The Hamilton Murderer Is Alleged to Have Placed Ties on the Rails.

FIENDISH ACTS ON THE L. & P. S. R.

Police of City and County Are Now Working on Case—Story of the Crime.

A fiendish attempt was made on Saturday night to wreck Pere Marquette express No. 4, en route from Walkerville to London, and Michigan Central express, No. 136, southbound, from London to St. Thomas.

Taggart, the insane murderer who escaped from Hamilton Asylum for the Criminally Insane with Private W. A. Moir, the slayer of Col. Sgt. Lloyd at Wolseley Barracks, and who has not yet been recaptured, is blamed for the crime, as he is thought to be in hiding in this vicinity.

The Attempts.

Both trains crashed into obstructions which had been placed on the tracks near Westminster station, about four miles south of the city.

The Michigan Central express, which leaves London at 10:11 p.m., struck a heavy oak tie and carried it along about a mile and a half before the engineer was aware of the trouble. The roadbed was torn up and had any heavy obstruction interfered with the tie a serious wreck would have been the result. As it was the tie shot along before the train and passed between the heavy planks on the roadway. At the next crossing south, however, it struck the planks square, tearing them out of the road and hurling them a considerable distance. This is said to be the first intimation the engineer had of any trouble.

Another Attempt.

When the train reached Westminster station, where it crosses the northbound P. M. train. Conductor Shoebottom reported the matter to the crew of the Pere Marquette train.

The latter had only gone a short distance north of Westminster, when it crashed into two ties which had been set across the rails.

Laid in Wait.

The police state that both the rail and the ties were undoubtedly placed on the track by the same party, who had evidently remained in the neighborhood for the purpose.

The Pere Marquette crew reported the matter to the authorities here on their arrival and subsequently the attempt on the Michigan Central train was reported.

Chief Williams and High Constable Hughes investigated the matter Sunday, and this morning the matter was placed in the hands of Pere Marquette Detective Skirving, who is now in this city.

Special railway detectives who are in the city in connection with the sensational attempts to wreck Pere Marquette Express No. 4 near Pond Mills on Saturday night, are working on the theory that Taggart, the criminal who escaped from Hamilton Asylum with Murderer Moir, is the man who is responsible.

Pere Marquette Detective Skirving stated to The Advertiser this afternoon that the attempt was made to wreck the express was a most deliberate one and was apparently the work of a crazy man.

"Taking into consideration that Taggart was reported at Port Stanley a few days ago, it does not look unlikely that he is the man who tried to wreck the express. It is just such a trick as I would expect him to do."

A Close Call.

Detective Skirving stated that he was working along these lines, and

POLICE ISSUE A WARNING.

Chief Williams wishes to warn citizens and visitors to the Fair to be on their guard against pickpockets and sneak thieves of all kinds. A number of pickpockets have operated most successfully between Hamilton and Toronto during the Fair, and it is expected that they will move this way. At the Grand Trunk station signs have been posted in conspicuous places: "Beware of Pickpockets."

COUNCIL TONIGHT WILL NAME MR. M'MAHEN'S SUCCESSOR

Aldermen Are Not a Unit in Regard to Mr. F. E. Leonard But It Looks As Though He Will Be Appointed

A special meeting of the council will be held this evening to appoint a water commissioner to succeed the late A. T. McMahon, and also ratify the appointment of a head engineer.

It was the first intention to allow the matter to go another week until the regular meeting, but today it was announced that there was urgency, and it was decided to make the appointments at once.

From what can be learned, there is no doubt that Mr. Van Cleve will be named head engineer for London.

There is not so much certainty that Mr. F. E. Leonard will be chosen to succeed Mr. McMahon.

Some of the council have taken exception to him, it is claimed, and he may not receive the unanimous support of the whole council.

Some of the governing body thought that Mr. Geo. W. Rowntree would be the man for the place, and there was a considerable number of the aldermen in favor of him. Next the name of Mr. John White was suggested, but he has intimated that he does not care to have the position.

Mayor For Mr. Leonard. "I hope Mr. Leonard's appointment goes through," said Mayor Beattie. "It is certainly my wish that he be appointed."

There was some talk that ex-Ald. R. P. Matthews and ex-Mayor S. Steady would claim the seat, but so far this could not be confirmed. The act creating the water commissioners states emphatically that the vacancies occurring in the board shall be filled by the council, consequently, what claim these gentlemen may have had as defeated candidates would not be valid.

As for the council neither gentleman is persona grata with them, so there is little chance that they will be named.

PHILIP ST. MAN IS CHARGED WITH STEALING FROM A CAR

William Hays Pleaded Not Guilty But Admitted He Took Goods Which He Knew Had Been Stolen—Sergeant Bolton's Good Work.

Just because he was from Missouri, he had got the valise from him. "Sergeant," said Hays, "I took it from his hand just as he got out of the car."

"I want to see what's in it," said P. C. Bolton.

Hays Arrested.

Hays said he was sorry, but he did not have the key, and couldn't open it.

P. C. Bolton said Hays would have to come to the police station, and then Hays broke down, and said he was in the wrong, that the grip did not belong to him, and he did not know who the other fellow was.

At the police station, the suitcase was opened, and found to contain undervalued and other articles of wearing apparel, all done up in parcels, just as it had been sent by the shipper.

Yesterday Detective Down had an interview with Hays, and the latter told him that he saw he had made a mistake in telling the other story.

"I stood on the sidewalk," said Hays, "and two other fellows broke into the car and took the stuff out. They all kept some."

The police have the names of the other two alleged to be implicated, but are unable to locate them, and it is thought they have left the city.

In court this morning Mr. R. J. Tait, the Pere Marquette agent, produced some scraps of paper which had been found in the car which was broken open. They corresponded exactly with those wrapped around the undervalued and other articles.

The suitcase exactly corresponded with a shipment that had been broken into. It was consigned to West Lorne, and was from a Toronto firm.

Hays said it was his cousin, and the officer asked him if he was sure

QUEEN'S OWN OFFICERS ILL WITH TYPHOID

Capt. Pellatt and Surgeon Winnett Amongst Those Laid Low.

Toronto, Sept. 12.—Captain Reginald Pellatt, only son of Col. Sir Henry and Lady Pellatt, of the Q. O. R., is critically ill in London with typhoid fever. The Canadian Associated Press cable received this morning adds that six other officers, including the medical health officer, presumably Dr. Winnett, are down with the disease. The other surgeon with the regiment is Dr. Goldsmith. Further, the cable says that Col. Pellatt's secretary is also typhoid-stricken. Mr. George I. Riddell, who looked after the Queen's Own reunion, went with the regiment as secretary to Sir Henry. One of the officers ill is Captain Arthur Hargreaves, but in all the cases it is said there are no complications. Captain Kirkpatrick's relatives here were notified of his illness by cable a couple of days ago.

Col. Sir Henry Pellatt, interviewed in London this morning, said that a week after the officers had dined with the Eighth Canadian Regiment at Quebec, some of the officers were taken slightly ill.

The Canadian Associated Press cable adds: Later serious symptoms developed, and before Liverpool was reached typhoid appeared. None of the men were sick.

Col. Pellatt added that the British militia suited the regiment thoroughly, and he put all the blame on Quebec.

Two views of Taggart, the murderer who escaped from the Hamilton insane asylum, and who is blamed for the placing of obstructions before express trains on the line of the London and Port Stanley Railway.

WAR IF KING EDWARD HAD LIVED SAID GERMANS TO LONDONER

Rev. Mr. Malott Gives Interesting Story of His Sojourn in Europe—A Lamentable State of Affairs in Regard to the Student Life of Berlin.

Rev. F. E. Malott, pastor of the Colborne Street Methodist Church, who has just returned from a trip covering some months in Europe, gave the Advertiser a very interesting interview today.

He spent some time in Germany, and was there when ex-President Roosevelt, of the United States, was a guest of the Emperor.

It amused Mr. Malott to see Emperor William walk alone, as he always does, when in a procession. He will not even admit that his wife is his equal, and if she happens to be in the party she trails behind like the old gray goose in the gander's walks.

Summing up what he saw while away, Mr. Malott is most impressed with the fact that rationalism has a lamentable hold upon the younger generation in Germany, as it has in France.

A Bad Sign.

"I was told that 65 per cent of the students at the University of Berlin had embraced rationalism," said Mr. Malott. "The Advertiser," said Mr. Malott, "is a bad sign, as it is cut and out materialists. But,

I believe, that the worst stage has been reached, and that the German empire is on the mend."

The free love theory has an appalling hold on the students of Germany, with the result that the morals of the country are at a low ebb, and the fate of the working girl is a sad one.

In Berlin, with its three million inhabitants," Mr. Malott said, "I found that they had no more churches than we have in the city of London, Canada."

Britain and Germany. The German attitude, as Mr. Malott found it, is most peculiar in regard to Great Britain.

"Every man will tell you," the reverend gentleman stated to The Advertiser, "that he is friendly toward Britain, but that Britain has been unfriendly toward Germany."

King Edward had lived, we would have had war, one man told me. They all look to George V. to be more friendly to the country."

But jealousy of Great Britain is at the bottom of the whole trouble. Mr. Malott declares. Even the fact that we are cut and out materialists, but,

BATHURST ST. LADY INJURED TRYING TO SAVE HER BOY

Mrs. M. O'Hagan Rushed to Lad's Assistance When Horse Under Mass of Wires Attempted to Run Away This Morning.

Mrs. M. O'Hagan, of 10 Bathurst street, was painfully injured this morning at the corner of Ridout and York streets, when she was knocked down by her horse.

She had gone into Fitzgibbons' grocery store to get some things, and left her little boy outside to mind the horse.

A car came around the corner, and the jarring caused the wires to break and part of them fell across the horse, which immediately began to kick and

The boy held on as best he could, and Mrs. O'Hagan ran from the store to his assistance. She grabbed the horse and was trying to hold it when it knocked her over and struck her in the chest, inflicting painful but not serious injuries.

She was attended by Dr. Wishart, and will be all right again shortly.

THOUGHT MOTHER ASLEEP

Husband and Children Sat Long by Bedside of Dead Woman.

Windsor, Ont., Sept. 12.—So quietly did death come to Mrs. Philip Labadie, at her home on Howarth street, yesterday, that her husband and children, who sat by the bedside, were unconscious of the end, and believed her to be sleeping quietly after a severe attack of heart failure earlier in the day.

Not until the arrival of the attending physician some time afterwards did they learn the truth.

CAINE GETS A REBUFF

Feels Hurt that King George Did Not Accept Services.

London, Sept. 12.—It is reported here that immediately after King George has ascended the throne, Hall Caine, the novelist and playwright, volunteered to stage manage him, and he is evidently somewhat hurt that his services were not availed of.

Within a couple of days after the death of King Edward a terrible mine accident happened at White Haven. Speaking about this Mr. Caine says: "I took the liberty of going to call upon Queen Alexandra, even in her hour of affliction. I said to her: 'King Edward is dead. George, as a devoted son, can do something for his people. Therefore please ask him to go up to White Haven at once. Though he will have to leave his father unburied, he will comfort by his presence the poor wives and the poor children of the men who are buried in the burning pit.'"

"It would not become me," said the playwright, "to give any detailed account of what was done in response to that suggestion, but if it were humanly possible King George would have gone."

PLANTER MURDERED.

Birmingham, Ala., Sept. 12.—Captain John Terry, a well-known planter of Springville, was shot through the heart and instantly killed while walking over his plantation yesterday, by Isaac Glover, a negro. The negro is being pursued by a large posse. The negro was wanted for wounding a deputy sheriff. It is thought he mis-

LONDON OLD BOY

REVISITS THE CITY

Mr. T. P. Hall, of Rochester, Minn., Notes Many Improvements Here.

Mr. T. P. Hall, of Rochester, Minn., an old London boy, is visiting the city after an absence of six years. Mr. Hall, who is a son of the late John Hall, served with the Seventh Fusiliers during the Fenian Raid. He has lived in Minnesota for 32 years, and has prospered.

"I have never lost my interest in my native city," said Mr. Hall today. "I have revisited it three times since and am glad to note its progress and its beauty." Mr. Hall recently proved his interest in London affairs by subscribing handsomely to the Fresh Air Fund, but he requested at the time that nothing be said about it. Rochester, Minn., is the home of the celebrated surgeons, the Doctors Mayo, to whom patients flock from all over the world. He speaks highly of their kindness to the poor, and their public spirit. They have just presented a $75,000 park to the city.

DOG SHOW IS A GREAT SUCCESS

Despite the Muzzling Laws the Canines Are Here in Hundreds and Are Making Rome Howl.

The Western Fair is in full swing today, and already a number of visitors have gone to London's great exhibition.

From an agricultural standpoint it is surpassed by few shows in America, and is much ahead of former attempts in this city.

The Poultry Building is crowded to suffocation. There is not an empty cage in the place, although the superintendent made provision for hundreds of extra birds. The quality, of course, is excellent, all the Toronto winners, or nearly all, being represented.

With such a galaxy of exhibitors as William McNeil, R. Oke, John Pringle, Doidge and McNeil, J. H. Saunders, S. Stapleton (Watford), A. H. Trebilcock, Huguley and Taylor, and a score of others, no show could be a failure.

The Cattle.

As for the cattle, they are stronger than ever. While the beef breeds make a grand showing, the dairy breeds are close behind, and Mr. C. E. Trebilcock has every reason to be pleased with the exhibition.

Sheep and hogs are well above the average, and make a fine exhibit. They are better than ever.

Horses are a great class. With such exhibitors as Miss Wilks, Galt, Graham Bros., Claremont, R. Thayer, Aymer, A. St. Clair, Aymer, Cox, of Guelph, and many others, it is bound to be an attractive exhibit.

Mr. W. J. Reid, the president, is well pleased with the attractions, and declares that the show will be a good one, the best in years. They have all reported, and are ready for work.

Fire Chief Aitken will look after the safety of the buildings, and firemen will be stationed in every portion of the structures to assist in case of fire.

A hospital has been established on the grounds, and all the ill and indisposed will be looked after in the very best style.

The Main Building is the best in twenty years.

The Dog Show.

The dogs have commenced to come, and in spite of muzzling laws, are making things howl. This show will be more than up to the standard. The cat show will be good also.

"We are well satisfied," said President Reid. "Everything is in good shape. The exhibits have been placed early, and by noon there will be nothing wanting whatever. It is going to be a great fair."

THREATENED ROBBLIN

Manitoba's Premier Receives a Black Hand Epistle.

Winnipeg, Sept. 11.—The release on their own recognizances of six Italians committed for trial from the city police court, charged with Black Hand extortion, brings to light the fact that about the 11th of their arrest Premier Roblin received in his morning mail a badly written letter threatening his life. The letter was traced to an Italian named Paloni, at Lac du Bonnet, where the alleged Black Hand Society is supposed to have been organized. Paloni was traced to Winnipeg, but when arrested was found to be insane. He is now in Selkirk asylum.

EX-ALD. HEAMAN RETURNS FROM WEST

Londoner Tells of His Impressions—Vancouver Will Be Great City.

Mr. Wm. Heaman, with a party of Londoners, has just returned home from a trip to Victoria, having visited many cities en route, Winnipeg being the first stop, which is undoubtedly one of the finest cities of the west. Mr. Heaman told The Advertiser the story of his trip as follows: "As we journeyed across the prairie we found the crops to be very poor, with the exception of the country from Regina to Moosejaw, where the wheat was good, but farther west everything was burnt up, resulting in a partial failure. Our next stop was Medicine Hat, which is a town of about 7,000 population, and is an ideal place, having a great flow of natural gas, together with many other advantages. From this point we took the Crow's Nest Pass, touching Lethbridge and Fernie, where we saw the coal mines and coke ovens.

"The other western cities we visited were Vancouver, Victoria, Seattle, Tacoma and Calgary. Vancouver is destined to be the greatest city in the west, but I would not advise anyone to invest in real estate at the present time, everything being very high. Building lots have been sold as far out in the country as ten miles, and at very high prices, but my opinion is that these people will never get their money back, and eventually a slump will come.

"Victoria has a beautiful climate, and is quite a residential city, some very wealthy people residing there. It is a very quiet place, and the citizens are willing that it should be.

"Seattle surpassed all our expectations. The lighting of the streets is one of the things which could not escape anyone's attention, and is something that our city could imitate with good grace.

"Calgary, though affected by the crop failure, is a growing city, and is bound to be the central city of Alberta in the future. One thing I noticed in particular was that everybody boasted his own city or town, making no complaints whatever, which example we in our beautiful Victoria could also imitate in the east, might follow to our advantage.

"While the west may have many opportunities, still I did not see any place as good as our own city. I am more contented to stay in London than ever before, and I do not hesitate in saying that there are just as many of the golden opportunities here as in the west."

WESTERN FAIR PUTS CITY BUSINESS IN REAR

Civil Bodies Will Not Bother Themselves Much This Week.

The present week will be rather quiet in civic matters. Tomorrow is the regular time for the board of health to meet, but the session will not be held until Tuesday, Sept. 20, owing to the Western Fair.

The committees will hold their regular meetings this week, but there is nothing much to be settled.

The matter of the purchase of a new fire engine will not be dealt with, as tenders have just been called, and it will take some time to receive prices from big dealers in these machines.

The board of works has a head engineer settled so far as they are concerned, and there is nothing else of a startling nature to be discussed.

The Assessment Rolls.
The finance committee have rounded out their work for some time. The question of the publication of the assessment rolls will be dealt with on Monday evening next at the council meeting. The lateness of the season may have something to do with the desire of some to publish the rolls, but it is possible that the council will order the publication.

So far no great opposition has developed against the appointment of Mr. A. H. Van Cleave, of Niagara Falls, as head engineer. From what can be learned he will undoubtedly be named.

The session next week will be an interesting one, but the council will enjoy an easy time this week.

YOUNG MEN'S SLATE FOR CITY COUNCIL

A Move On Foot to Put Young Blood Up For the Next Election.

There is some talk of a young man's slate for the city council next year. At the present time it is understood that negotiations are under way to induce eight or ten young men, equally divided as to politics, to enter the municipal field.

Some have already consented, and if the matter can be carried through to the successful conclusion it is more than likely that a council composed of young business and professional men, as well as a representative or two of the Trades and Labor Council will enter the lists.

NO SPECIAL MEETING OF THE CITY COUNCIL

Appointment of Mr. Van Cleave Will Not Be Rushed.

There will probably be no special meeting of the council to name Mr. A. H. Van Cleave, of Niagara Falls, as head engineer. The appointment will not likely be ratified until Monday night next. Mr. Van Cleave is in the hospital suffering from a slight indisposition that necessitated a minor operation, but he is recovering and will be about shortly. The aldermen are busy with the Fair and will have little or no time for city business.

KICKED BY A COLT

J. W. Nichol, of Westminster, Badly Hurt.

Mr. J. W. Nichol, of Westminster Township, was seriously injured last week by a kick from a colt, and his condition is still considered critical. He was milking the cows, and one of his colts, running loose, was annoying him. He got up to drive it away, when it turned suddenly and kicked him in the left leg of the stomach with both feet. He was found in an unconscious condition, and removed to the house.

Several physicians were summoned, and they considered the case hopeless. However, he rallied on Saturday, and although he is still in a dangerous condition, there are hopes for his recovery.

ALL CROSS-OVERS HAVE BEEN REMOVED

London Street Railway Has Improved the Down-Town Streets.

The downtown streets do not present as bad an appearance for the Fair as it was at first thought they would.

The London Street Railway Company have removed their cross-overs, and have cleaned their track allowance, so that it presents quite a respectable appearance, if not more so, than before the work was commenced. The underground work has been hustled along, and has been finished on Dundas street north from Ridout to Richmond street.

There is some work being done elsewhere, but, on the whole, the streets do not look bad.

TIPLESS HOTEL SUCCEEDS

Tried in London For a Year and Found to Work Well.

London, Sept. 12.—The experiment of a non-tip hotel in the Strand in London has proved a success. Since the establishment was opened a year ago there has not been a vacant bedroom, a record which could not be equalled by any other London hotel. Every day the management has had to refuse visitors. Altogether nearly a quarter of a million guests have stayed at the hotel in the 344 days it has been open.

The success of the hotel, the directors believe, is mainly due to the non-tip rule. Guests are forbidden to offer any servant of the hotel a gratuity and servants found accepting them are instantly dismissed. People know exactly what it is going to cost them before they set foot in the hotel and when they pay their bill there is no need for them to put their hands into their pockets to tip anybody.

Although the rule against tipping is rigidly enforced by the management, there have been visitors who have insisted upon offering gratuities. In order to protect the management has had to request these visitors either to

WOULD TAKE AWAY THE NEGRO'S VOTE

Texas Legislature Inaugurates Measure to Disfranchise Colored Race.

Austin, Texas, Sept. 10.—The opening gun in the campaign for the disfranchisement of the negro was fired here yesterday, when the House of Representatives of the Texas Legislature adopted a resolution calling on the Texas delegations in both houses of congress to do all in their power to secure the modification of the fourteenth and the repeal of the fifteenth amendments to the national constitution.

The resolution was adopted by a vote of 51 to 34 after a vigorous appeal in its behalf by its author, Dr. C. R. Yantis, of Athens, Texas. The resolution goes to the Senate for action, and there is little doubt that the Upper House will also endorse the movement.

The resolution recites the necessity of for perpetuating the supremacy of the Caucasian race politically as well as socially and declares strongly in favor of denuding the negro of his election franchise.

In appealing for the adoption of the resolution Representative Yantis said he could remember when he had to walk between rows of bayonets in the hands of kinky-headed negroes to get to the ballot box at a time when Texas was in the grasp of the carpet-bagger.

Deep down in the heart of every negro, he declared, is a hope of social equality either for himself or his posterity, and undercurrents of these sentiments, he asserted, run through the writings of Booker T. Washington and other leading negroes.

He urged prompt action to restrain the negro. It is believed the adoption of the resolution will cause a serious agitation of the question not only in the House but throughout the north.

A TORONTO SUICIDE.

Toronto, Sept. 11.—The body of Mrs. Cole, about 45 years old, wife of William S. Cole, 108 Denison avenue, was recovered from the bay at the foot of Spadina avenue shortly after 1 o'clock this morning. The woman either jumped or fell into the water about 12:30 a.m. A G. T. R. watchman saw her go down to the wharf, and later heard a splash. He summoned assistance, but the woman was dead when her body was found. Mrs. Cole is said to have been worrying about the recent death of her mother, and the ill health of her father.

LONDON, MONDAY, SEPT. 12.
THE GOVERNMENT AND THE TARIFF.

The Ottawa Free Press thinks it would be good politics, good Imperialism, and good business, to increase the British preference. It would meet, in part at least, the demand for a reduction of the tariff; and it would explode the libel, fostered in Great Britain for party purposes, and sanctioned even by Canadians like Sir James Whitney, which represents Canada as likely to be lost to the Empire unless her favor is purchased by a preference in the British market.

Such a policy has an attractive ed. Like the first instalment of the British preference, it would discomfit the politicians who are prone to raise the loyalty cry against the present Government. Powerful influences in the Conservative party were hostile to the British preference as a curi-atment of protection, but the party dared not openly oppose it. Of late Conservative leaders have adopted a fresh tactic. They seek to identify themselves with the tariff reform movement in Great Britain, and pose as the colonial champions of a bargain-counter Imperialism. Reciprocity negotiations with the United States will probably be a signal for new flag-waving manoeuvres on their part. We shall be told again that the Government is turning its back upon the imperial idea for the fleshpots of the republic; and the calumny will be used by the Chamberlainites to bamboozle
the British electors.

The Canadian Government will not be frightened from its duty to the Canadian farmers, who, both as producers and consumers, would profit by freer intercourse with the United States, but the British preference will remain the fundamental policy of Canada—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has said so in plain words—and no arrangement with the United States will restrict the liberty of this country to widen that preference if it chooses. We may expect to see the Government's tariff policy take the two directions—reciprocity with the United States with respect to a limited list of products, and a greater margin of preference to the mother country.

CANADA'S PROGRESS.

The monthly report of the department of trade and commerce for June, 1910, just issued, contains a statistical record of the progress of Canada since confederation, which shows expansion in every department of activity.

In 1896—to go back no farther—the Canadian tonnage that passed through the canals amounted to 4,039,113 tons; in 1908 the tonnage had increased to 6,780,789. It is in the steam railway department of traffic, however, that by far the greatest increase is shown.
In 1896 Canada had 16,270 miles of railway in operation, the total gross earnings of which amounted to $50,- 645,569, and the net earnings $15,502,- 815. The amount of freight carried was 24,266,825 tons, and the number of passengers carried 14,810,467. In 1908 the mileage had increased to 22,- 958 miles, the total gross and net earnings to $149,918,314 and $39,614,- 171 respectively, the amount of freight to 62,071,167 tons, and the number of passengers to 34,444,922. When the returns for 1909 and 1910 are available it will be found that these figures have been exceeded.

The total tonnage of vessels entering and leaving Canadian ports in 1896 was 49,302,226, of which 11,458,824 tons were sea-going. In 1909, the total tonnage was 93,371,801, 13,491,277 being sea-going.

The figures as to trade and commerce show tremendous expansion.
The total value of imports in 1896 was $118,011,508; the total for the fiscal year 1909-10, was $391,803,336—an increase of more than threefold. In the year the Liberals entered office the exports totalled $121,013,852; for the last fiscal year the total was $301,358,- 629. Notwithstanding the lowering of the tariff and the British preference, there has been more than a threefold increase in the amount of customs duties collected, the figures for 1896 and 1910 being $20,219,027 and $61,010,- 487, respectively.

In 1896 Canada had 9,103 postoffices, with a revenue of $4,005,891; in 1909,
the number had increased to 12,479, and the revenue to $9,927,914. At the same time the department has been able to show substantial annual surpluses, in place of the deficits of other years.

Tables are also given in the report showing the expansion of the banking and insurance business, mineral production, etc., the whole telling a story of progress such as Canada has never experienced in any other period in her history.

THE PACIFIC CABLE.

While the Pacific cable is not what might be termed a money-making enterprise, it continues to serve a good purpose, Canada getting a fair share of the benefit. Formerly the revenue from press business was a negligible quantity; now it amounts to some £250 a month. This is due to the cutting in two of rates on press messages, the cable board having taken to heart the unanimous expression of opinion at the imperial press conference last year, and offered to reduce by one-half the charge on press messages between Australasia and Vancouver provided the Australian and New Zealand Governments would do the same—a proposition to which those Governments readily assented.

The report of the chairman of the Pacific Cable Board, Sir H. W. Primrose, for the year ended 31st of March last, which has been published as a white paper, states that the traffic receipts, deducting Atlantic companies' charges (£4,270), were £111,465, and the total receipts £111,724. The expenditure was £93,768, including £30,- 000 placed to renewal account, leaving £17,956 available for reduction of the amount (£77,544), contributed annually for interest and sinking fund on the capital advanced by the national debt commissioners. The amount payable by the governments associated in the enterprise is thus £59,588, as against the sum of £60,888, payable by them for the previous year.

The traffic receipts as brought to account for the year show an increase of but £403. The real increase, however, was considerably larger, as owing to accidental delay in transfers to the board's account by the Governments of Australia and New Zealand a sum of £2,211, which should have been credited to the revenue for 1909-10 was not brought to account until after March 31. But for this the revenue would have exceeded that of the previous year by £2,614. Increase of business from the continent was obtained through the employment of a canvassing agent in Germany, and good results have also followed from increased activity in canvassing in Great Britain.

The difficulties connected with the land lines in Canada have been the subject of frequent remark in previous reports. To some extent they are inseparable from the geographical and climatic conditions of the country traversed. But the board, after full consideration of the subject, came to the conclusion that much could be done to minimize the difficulties if it could take into its own hands the working of the lines between Montreal and Bamfield. Accordingly, after obtaining the sanction of all the governments interested in the cable, the board entered into an agreement with the Canadian Pacific Railway, under which the company is to lease to the board, for a period of five years, the exclusive use of a copper wire between Montreal and Bamfield, and is to maintain it in good condition, while the board is to provide the staff necessary to work the line, and is to retain for itself such portion of the tolls as have hitherto been paid over to the railway company. It is claimed that this arrangement, which is on the point of being brought into operation, will have several advantages.

THE BIG STEAL.

Seattle, Wash., Sept. 12.—A score of detectives have been set to work in Alaska to trace the $57,500 in gold ingots stolen in transit on the steamship Humboldt from the Washington Alaska Bank of Fairbanks, Alaska, to the Dexter-Horton National Bank, of Seattle.
The Humboldt is due to arrive at Skagway today. The ship makes several stops en route to Seattle, and the steamboat officials say that the robbers may have left the boat at one of the intermediate points. The looted box had not been roughly broken open.

Apparently, the thieves had removed one side by the use of a nail puller.

Two Minute Talks About
PANDORA RANGE
for Coal or Wood

THE Pandora Range is for those who desire to make a permanent investment. The high quality of the materials and the superior method of construction assure long life.

The Body of the Pandora is very heavy. The Rods and Bolts are on the outside where they cannot burn or rust out. The Expansion Rings of the cooking section provide ample allowance for extreme expansion and contraction and eliminate the possibility of the metal cracking.

The Cooking Top is Burnished which toughens the surface of the metal and increases its strength.
McClary Oil Cement is used between the joints. Unlike cheap, ordinary cement, it will not dry out and need replacing. The Nickelling will not tarnish and is many times more durable than the single coat of nickel on ordinary ranges.

The Semi-Steel Fire Box Linings are twenty per cent. heavier than cast or gray iron linings. Sulphur fumes, so destructive to cast iron, cannot penetrate the hard, smooth as glass surface of Semi-Steel. The Grates have Three Faces, which allows the wear to be distributed on three sides, insuring triple durability.
If you want a range of guaranteed quality get the Pandora. It's built to give you lasting service.

Took a Double-Header From St.
Louis—The Scores of Two Days.

Chicago, Sept. 11.—With Ty Cobb missing from the lineup, the Tigers took Comiskey's rapidly slumping White Sox into town this afternoon, 2 to 0. Usually when Cobb is among the present, about 5,000 fans turn out on Sundays to see the Green Sox perform. Today there were not more than 12,000 of the faithful on hand.

Mullin, who worked for the Tigers, had the Indian sign on the South Side, two widely-scattered hits being the best they could collect during the afternoon. While Mullin was going along at top speed, Oimstead, for Comiskey's crew, wasn't doing so badly himself. The Tigers never did manage to bunt more than one hit in any one inning, their runs coming in the first round on a base on balls, a collision of outfielders, and a triple by Crawford, which sent one of the runs across.

Felix Chouinard, a young outfielder, from Green Bay, Wisconsin, who reported to Comiskey yesterday, was given a try-out in today's encounter with the Tigers. Deleahanty was left in a Cleveland hospital as a result of an accident which occurred on Saturday. Charley O'Leary filling in at second. The score:

BASEBALL NOTES

Ford is indeed the twirling terror of the American League. He is not exploding as the seasons wanes, but, if anything, growing better.

Manager Charlie Doolin was handed a three-days' suspension for his little clash with the umpires in Cincinnati. During his absence from the game, the Phillies did not have their usual amount of ginger.

More balls were used in a game last week than in any other in the history of baseball at Pittsburgh. Eleven were thrown out to the umpire. The previous record was nine. At old Exposition Park the average per game never went beyond five.

Wilbur Corey, the young Toronto pitcher who has been laid up in a Baltimore hospital with typhoid, is getting along very well. President McCaffery has received a note from the doctor in attendance, saying that he is improving steadily and will soon be out of the hospital.

St. Louis, Sept. 10.—St. Louis and Chicago broke even in a double-header here this afternoon. Chicago won the first game 7 to 6, and lost the second, called at the end of the seventh inning because of darkness, by 7 to 2. The score:

DOOMSDAY IS A MYTH, THEY STATE

University of Chicago Savants Scorn the Bible Story of World's End.

Chicago, Ill., Sept. 10. — Old mother earth is here to stay. The final earthquake, the lake of fire, and the other Biblical terrors, anent the end of the world are feeble myths, discredited and scorned by the professors of the University of Chicago Divinity School.

The universal experts come forth with assurances of this old world's permanency in an editorial entitled "The Passing of Apocalypticism," in the current issue of the Bible World, published Thursday by the university press. The "last day" is all a fairy tale, says the theological experts, and the timorous may cheer up.

The Angel Gabriel will have no chance to blow his horn, nor will the tumults and processions of the judgment day take place as advertised according to the view taken by the divinity experts. For, say the professors, the cosmic cataclysm which has been the cause of nervous tension for centuries, positively will not occur. Historical criticism has quashed the Biblical bugaboo.

As for the annihilation of the sinners and reorganization of society on a different basis, the Bible World dismisses them without honorable mention. The horrors of the Revelations and the fiery prophecies of the gospels are declared to be misinterpreted when applied to a conclusion such as has been predicted.

The author of the article, who shields his identity under the authority of the thirteen editors of the Bible World, intimates that the writers of the New Testament were not above inserting scary passages in the Scriptures simply to boost their own misguided opinion. Christ's sayings are distorted and falsely attributed, it is alleged.

"Our hope is set not on a kingdom of God to be ushered in by a personal visible coming of the King in the clouds, overthrowing of all human institutions, and the establishing of new heavens and a new earth, but on the even larger and fuller development of the kingdom of God that is now on earth," says the editorial writer. "We are preaching the gospel not till the witness having been borne, the nations shall be destroyed and the handful of the redeemed shall become the nucleus of a new era, but in the confident hope that little by little the heaven may leave the whole lump and the nations of the earth may become the kingdom of God and of his Christ."

FREDDIE GEBHARD'S ERRATIC CAREER

Was Friend of the "Jersey Lily" and Noted "Man About Town."

Garden City, L. I., Sept. 10.—Frederick Gebhard, who died on Thursday at the Garden City Hotel, where he had been staying for about two months under the care of a physician, was 50 years old.

For 30 years "Freddie" Gebhard had been one of New York's most widely known men-about-town. He was an indefatigable first-nighter. He knew everybody on the stage and liked to associate with actors and actresses. He was interested in racing and owned at one time a celebrated stable of runners and horses.

When his father, Frederick Gebhard, died, young Gebhard got, as did his sister, Mrs. Frederick Nelson, an income which amounted to $80,000 a year from a trust fund.

In 1882 he became famous on two continents as the admirer of Mrs. Langtry. The Jersey Lily, landed in this country for the first time on Oct. 23, 1882. In her second week, Mr. Gebhard met her, being introduced by Oscar Wilde. He was seen driving with Mrs. Langtry nearly every day. His equipages were always at her command. At Philadelphia Mrs. Langtry and the New Yorker were guests of the same hotel. He followed her to St. Louis and to Chicago.

Gebhard was challenged to a duel by Col. A. B. Cunningham, editor of a St. Louis paper, which published a story of his relations with the actress. He declined.

In 1894 Gebhard married Louise

Hollingsworth Morris in Baltimore. She was a famous beauty of the Maryland city. She divorced him and later married Henry Clews, Jun., Gebhard married in 1906, a show-girl named Marie L. Gamble. After this marriage Gebhard was seen less and less around town. His fortune was much decreased and occasionally he was annoyed by creditors. Once or twice his sister, Mrs. Nelson, whose daughter was married to Reginald Vanderbilt, assisted him out of his difficulties.

CORRESPONDENCE

Hamilton Road Sewer.

To the Editor of The Advertiser: Reading in last night's Advertiser that there was no opposition when the Hamilton road sewer was initiated through, we wish to state a large number of the ratepayers knew nothing about any petition being circulated. They were never asked to sign and never received registered notice, or were notified through the daily papers. We have always understood we were notified through the two leading papers of any bylaw being passed by the city council. Evidently they knew a large majority took The Advertiser, as the notice only appeared in the Free Press. Was that fair play to the workmen? We understand they got up the petition, but it was not sufficiently signed, and so was thrown out. Then they said: "We will initiate or railroad it through. Let the workmen sell or get out if he cannot pay for sewers. We must have sewer connections in our houses." We don't blame you for wanting them, but think you could wait a little and give the workmen a chance. We all know property is at a discount at present time, and taxes getting higher. The workmen have all he can do to provide for his family. Then they say: "We must have sewer connections in our houses. We don't attend to property." Why are they not? We pay an inspector to go around every year. We ask how the sewer will benefit those people? Most of them live in cottages, with no room or money for such conveniences. They are right—he must sell his little home and make room for the moneyed man. When the people understood they were trying to get a sewer through on the Hamilton road they got up a petition signed by a large majority of the ratepayers. Some who had signed the petition through misrepresentation legally withdrew their names. They were told they did not count, as they were fickle-minded. No doubt those gentlemen were taken in on the swamp land deal in New York would be called fickle-minded too for wishing to withdraw from such a swindle. We would also like to ask the city council how a sewer can go through from Anderson avenue to Egerton street, when there is 174 feet before you get to Egerton street, the south side assessed in the county, the north side assessed on Trafalgar street, and not in the city assessment? We would say to the city council of 1910, you all get a share of the workmen's money. We have to get our horses shod, our families clothed and shod, gardens planted, the doctor called in, insurance man calls around, and now we kindly ask the city council to remember the workmen, and not force him out, but give him a little time.

WORKINGMAN.

London, Sept. 10.

THE SOUL OF A PIANO

Clear spruce, selected by an expert, culled and reculled by a man who knows lumber when he sees it, is used for the sounding boards of the "Gourlay" Pianos. That is why the tone is so delicious, for the sounding board is the soul of the instrument and the test of good workmanship. Too often, even in pianos of standard make, the wood is taken in the wrong part of the wood, and therefore all the finer vibrations are lost. The method adopted by the firm of Gourlay, Winter & Leeming is an expensive one, but its worth has been proven in every instrument they have turned out.

Be sure and see the exhibit of Gourlay Pianos in the Main Building at the Fair Grounds.

Uncle Sam Believes He Really Won in Fisheries Case.

Washington, Sept. 10.—The general result of the fisheries arbitration by The Hague tribunal "is regarded as a substantial victory for the contentions of the United States," according to an unofficial, tentative analysis of the decision given out by the department of state tonight, based upon a cable summary from its representative. As to question one, wherein the British claims of inherent sovereignty power to make the fishery regulations without the United States' consent was sustained, the department says that while the United States thus lost its extreme contention that the 1813 treaty established international servitude exempting American fishermen absolutely from British fishing regulations, the decision in practical effect appears to secure the same measure of protection against unfair exemption which this contention was designed to secure.

"Thus," says the department, "the British sovereign rights over fishing

"THE MAPLE CITY" WOULD RETAIN NAME

Beautiful Trees Dying—Board of Trade Will Inquire Into Cause.

[Special to The Advertiser.]

Chatham, Sept. 9.—A campaign is being waged here by the scenic committee of the board of trade to retain for Chatham the name of "The Maple City." During the past few months many of the beautiful maples have been dying, apparently from some peculiar disease. Specimens of the diseased trees will be sent to Guelph or Ottawa for analysis, with a view to ascertaining the nature of the ailment. In cases where the trees have already died, new trees, not subject to the ailment, will be planted.

Mrs. Corey Purser, who lives at 47-1-2 St. Clair street, is suffering from a badly lacerated hand, as the result of falling down a flight of stairs at her home. She was endeavoring to take a baby buggy down the stairs, when she stumbled and landing on her head, the carriage fell over her.

The machinery for the new plant of the Canada Grain Elevator Company has arrived in the city, and is being stored in the Riddell premises on King street east until the factory is built. The site for the factory has been selected. It comprises three acres of the Jordan property, south of the Grand Trunk tracks. The buildings will be two story, and built of brick. Wilson & Son, architects, are preparing the plans. Representatives of the company arrived in the city this morning, and on Monday they will commence a canvass to raise $1-

RUSH TO AMERICA.

London, Sept. 10.—The several steamers which left British ports for the United States today carried over 6,000 and 7,000 passengers. The rush was so great that many well-to-do Americans were obliged to content themselves with third-class or even steerage berths and gladly paid emigrants' hand-money to surrender their accommodations.

The Mauretania had quite a number of such unusual occupants of the steerage among her 2,015 passengers. Sir Evelyn John Ruggles Brise and other delegates to the International Prison Congress to be held at Washington Oct. 2-8, are on the Cunarder.

NEW THEORY ON CAUSE OF WRECK

CAPT. KNEW OF PERIL

Great Loss of Life Due to Overestimation of Time Ferry Could Keep Afloat.

Ludington, Mich., Sept. 11.—Many conflicting theories are being circulated as to the cause for the sinking of the big car ferry, Pere Marquette No. 18, in which 28 lost their lives.

The official cause of the disaster will be given out by the board which started an investigation in this city. At the present time mere conjecture is placing the blame on the captain of the ill-fated vessel, the unseaworthiness of the ferry, the alleged failure of local inspectors to make a thorough inspection and lack of judgment on the part of Capt. Russell, commander of No. 17, who took aboard the survivors of the disaster.

The survivors are offering among others, the following stories:
Captain Killy, the first mate, and chief engineer knew of the peril to their vessel even before they left Ludington for Milwaukee. All three expressed premonitions of impending danger.

A New Theory.

The theory that the after compartment was flooded by water coming through a broken headlight is exploded by the testimony of experts, who say the vessel's pumps could have taken care of twice the amount of water brought in in this manner.

In place of this, some survivors declare some of the vessel's bottom plates were loosened when it left port and that the vibrations due to the shoving of the loaded freight cars overboard caused them to break off, allowing a great rush of water into the hold.

The pumps, according to survivors, were working for hours before the sinking.

Some of the survivors declare the Government inspectors, in making their investigation, which resulted in finding the vessel "O. K.," used only two hours.

It was declared, most if not all, of the loss of life was due to the fact that the officers estimated the time the ferry could remain afloat. There were enough lifeboats and rafts aboard to have carried double the number of persons who were on the vessel.

At no time, between 4:30 o'clock, when the danger first became known, and 7:15, when the big ferry sank, was the sea so heavy that the lifeboats would not have had a fair chance of remaining afloat, as was afterwards brought out when the boats of No. 17 were used for rescue purposes.

Several minutes before No. 18 sank No. 17 arrived within speaking distance and was manoeuvring for a favorable position for launching its boats. It is said that Capt. Russell, of No. 17, was merely asked by Capt. Killy to "stand by." It was plainly evident that Capt. Killy did not believe his ship was in danger of foundering. Capt. Russell, however, saw the ship was settling and lowered his small boats just before it plunged to the bottom.

The survivors of the disaster who are in this city have been notified to remain, pending a further investigation. Representatives of the Lloyds Insurance Company of England are in the city looking up their claims. The homes saddened by the death of members of the families are still optimistically expecting tidings that the bodies have been found and each incoming ferry is met by eager crowds.

All of the bodies brought to this city are terribly bruised and battered.

METHODISTS ARE MOVING ONWARD

Rev. J. G. Inkster's Opinion of Removal of the Footnote
From Wesley's Rules.

DANCING, CARD PLAYING

Are Sinful When Carried to Excess—
A Pointed Sermon by Well-Known Local Pastor.

"The Methodist Church has done right in removing the footnote rules in regard to card playing, dancing and theatregoing," said Rev. J. Gibson Inkster at the First Presbyterian Church Sunday night. "In my opinion the church has recognized individual rights, and at the same time imposed responsibility. She has also kept pace with the forward movement in simplifying the rules of discipline just as the Presbyterian Church is seeking to simplify her doctrine in the confession of faith. The Methodist Church has recognized by this act that the spirit is far more important than the letter, and that the footnote was a temptation to hypocrisy."

Church and Individual.
"Today the world recognizes that the church cannot control the individual. No church can set itself up as an authority as in the days when the church owned men's souls, and as in the day when the church could preach with authority on the facts or actions of the individual. Those days are passing away, and the Methodist Church has recognized this in doing away with the footnote rules, and is seeking to direct them."

"The question might be asked what is to be the attitude in future of members of the Methodist Church in regard to dancing, card playing, theatregoing and such like, or to make the question wider, what is to be the attitude of all Christians toward these amusements?"

If Carried to Excess.
"In answer to that, I would say that I have no hesitation in denouncing card playing, theatregoing or dancing carried to excess. For example, if it is true, as is stated, that there are women in this city who pull down the blinds and turn on the lights and spend not only afternoons but mornings as well, playing cards, it is wrong. When we find people are not happy unless they are attending theatres or dances five or six nights a week, I would say that is wrong. The question, however, for most of us is what is to be our attitude toward the social dance, with a few intimate friends, or a game of cards with a neighbor, or attendance at one of Shakespeare's plays? I do not believe that these things are wrong, or that it is right to forbid our young people these harmless amusements. But as we grow older we begin to feel that we have neither the time nor the energy to attend these harmless amusements because the demands are becoming so insistent that we build up the walls of righteousness, peace and holiness in our own lives and in the social and industrial world in which we live."

Next Sunday evening Rev. Mr. Inkster will reply to some of the spicy remarks made by Father Vaughan during his speeches at the Eucharistic Congress.

dress. "The window which has just been dedicated is an object lesson of what everyone is intended to be, not to shine themselves, but to let the light of the Lord Jesus Christ shine through them. The window is a memorial to one who shone in her circle in the congregation. Everyone has a certain light, and her light was that of a loving mother whose greatest crown is that her children rise up and call her blessed. It would be well if all women would remember that the crown of womanhood is not playing cards or globe trotting, but motherhood. Other forms of goodness strike the imagination more, but none are so potent, as all characters are formed at the mother's knee, and that which is learned earliest in life is remembered after many other things have faded from the memory."

At the evening service Very Rev. Dean Davis gave a beautiful eulogy of the late Mrs. Hunt and Miss Jessie Hunt, outlining the splendid work they had done in the church. "None," he said, "were ever more faithful or more loyal in all branches of church work."

GAS PLANT EXPLODES

Brantford, Sept. 11.—An acetylene gas plant, located in a small brick building in the village of Scotland, this county, blew up Friday night.

The plant was wrecked at a loss of $1,200, the walls being demolished, the roof blown onto the top of the three-story main building, and a hundred lamps broken. The cause is unknown.

Mr. VanDusen, the owner, and others were near by, but escaped injury, as flying bricks were stopped by intervening implements in the yard.

There was great excitement in the village owing to the loud explosion.

Pastor Stricken When in the Pulpit

Leamington, Sept. 11.—Rev. Jasper Wilson, of Hespeler, was struck down with paralysis while occupying the pulpit of the Methodist Church here this morning, and is now lying in a dangerous condition.

Rev. Mr. Wilson is a former pastor of the local church, and had been invited to conduct the harvest home service, which were to have taken place today. He had just finished the opening prayer when he sank unconscious into the pulpit chair.

He was carried to the home of a member of the congregation, where his condition was found to be so critical that his family was summoned to his bedside.

pointment when it was learned that the sickness of John D.'s wife had prevented his attendance. Next year's meeting will be at Poughkeepsie.

DREAMED OF THIEF
"SHOT HIMSELF"

New York Man Found Wounded—Still Sleeping.

Asbury Park, N. J., Sept. 10.—The police will try to ascertain if A. W. Von Zuker, a musician, and formerly in the wholesale piano business in New York, shot himself in a dream.

Mrs. Von Zuker found her husband asleep in their apartment in a hotel and bleeding from a wound in his forehead. She asked him what he had done.

"Why there are thieves in the house," said he, "and I have just shot a burglar."

This was at 1 o'clock this morning. Mrs. Von Zuker called for help and then collapsed.

Von Zuker was conscious and told the physicians who were summoned that he shot himself while dreaming of burglars. The wound is not serious. The man was taken to the Spring Lake Hospital, where the bullet was extracted.

At the hospital it was stated last night the dreamer would recover.

Von Zuker is said to be a member of a Hungarian family of high standing. He has recently met with reverses and is now in reduced circumstances.

Anti-Tuberculosis Exhibit.

The Metropolitan Life Insurance Company has an exhibit at the Bazaar as a part of its general health crusade in the nation-wide fight against tuberculosis. It is arranged in a booth of spotless white, and contains, in addition to the literature of the company which relates to business, a number of pamphlets full of suggestions which will be useful to those who seek practical methods of preventing the spread of the white plague.

One is a pamphlet prepared by Dr. Thomas S. Carrington, assistant secretary of the National Association for the Study and Prevention of Tuberculosis, which the company has distributed among its policyholders.

Another leaflet tells how to build a small open-air sleeping shack on a city roof or in a country yard, and gives diagrams of the plan, with estimated cost of materials, while other pamphlets discuss the nature and growth of the disease and give the tuberculosis sanatoria, hospitals, dispensaries, etc., in fifteen states of the middle west.

Along with these are sanitary drinking cups designed to put into active practice, in this particular, the company's advice to use all possible precautions to avoid the disease germs.

NINE LABORERS KILLED IN TUNNEL'S COLLAPSE

Accident in Erie Railway Tube at Jersey City.

New York, Sept. 11.—At least nine laborers were killed outright today, and ten others injured, one critically and all seriously, in the collapse of an overhanging shoulder of rock from above the western mouth of the old Erie Tunnel under Bergen Hill, connecting the Erie terminal in Jersey City, with its westward divisions.

The collapse was directly beneath the edge of the Hudson boulevard, which at that point runs along the inner line of Bergen Hill, and though the actual slip was out of sight of the holiday crowds, thousands lined the boulevard all afternoon, peering down at the work of removal.

Of the known dead, four were Americans, three were unidentified, and two were foreigners. Of the known injured, the only one in immediate danger is an American.

WILL TRY AGAIN TO FREE HARRY K. THAW

New Set of Lawyers Will Endeavor to Liberate White's Murderer.

New York, Sept. 12.—Newly engaged counsel for Harry K. Thaw are quoted in the New York World for tomorrow as predicting that Thaw will shortly renew his battle to gain freedom from the State Hospital for the Insane at Matteawan, where he has been confined for killing Stanford White.

"Thaw is sane. It will be a matter of only a few months until he is free," Henry J. Rise, an associate of Clarence J. Shearn, the well-known lawyer, is quoted as asserting.

"If Thaw had recovered his sanity we should make a report to the state, and he would be allowed his freedom," retorted Dr. Amos T. Baker, assistant superintendent of Matteawan. "He is under constant surveillance."

Other hospital attendants are quoted as saying that Thaw gets worse instead of better.

BITTEN BY TWO SNAKES

Man Digging in Garden Had Frightful Experience.

Wilkesbarre, Sept. 10.—Adam Voight, a young man living at Falls, near here, was bitten last night by two large copperhead snakes at the same time. After being for many hours in danger of death, he is believed to have passed the crisis and to be recovering.

He was picking weeds in his garden when the snakes sprang at him at the same moment and sunk their fangs in his right hand. He could not shake them off, and he had to tear them loose from his hand.

Neighbors gave him whiskey in large and frequent doses until physicians arrived, who managed to stop the spread of the poison.

SUIT FOR $10,000

Promoter Brings Action Against Motor Company at Walkerville.

Windsor, Sept. 10.—Claiming he is entitled to $10,000 in stock in the Dominion Motor Company, of Walkerville, Armit L. Wilkinson has started suit against officials of the company. The case will be tried at the fall assizes at Sandwich.

Mr. Wilkinson claims that he was instrumental in organizing the company, and that he was to have received $10,000 of stock for his services.

The other promoters contest the claim, maintaining that the plaintiff was ill when the company was being promoted, and did not carry out his part of the agreement.

HE "GOT HIM FIRST"

Black Hander Shoots One of His Own Society Who Was Dogging Him.

Philadelphia, Sept. 12.—Declaring that his victim was a member of the Black Hand, who had been dogging him around this country for two years, Francesco Scaglie, aged 21 years, today shot and fatally wounded Giuseppe Ceracolo. The shooting occurred in the heart of the Italian section and was witnessed by many persons.

Scaglie was captured by the police after a chase of several squares. Ceracolo died in a few minutes.

Scaglie, in his statement to the police, said that Ceracolo and he had been members of the same secret society in Italy. He failed to obey the command of the order and came to this country to escape punishment.

He was followed by Ceracolo, who, he says, dogged him through several towns in the mining regions of this state and followed him to this city.

Determined to end the suspense Scaglie today sought Ceracolo, and saying, "I'll get you first," shot him.

RICH PAGEANT CLOSES CONGRESS

100,000 Follow Sacred Host Through the Streets of Montreal.

AN IMPOSING PROCESSION

Took Four Hours and Half to Pass From Notre Dame to Open Air Altar.

Montreal, Sept. 11.—A religious pageant as rich in devotion and emotion as in sacred imagery and as orderly in behavior as it was diverse in nationality and huge in size closed today the twenty-first International Eucharistic Congress, held this year for the first time in the Dominion of Canada.

Visitors from the United States were especially impressed with the magnitude, splendor and reverence of the procession, which marched four miles through the city streets, the host at its head, to Mount Royal above the city. A modest estimate is that there were 100,000 in line, and that 600,000 viewed it from where best they could. The city is so crowded tonight that 200,000 are sleeping on the steps of Mount Royal, in Dominion Square and in other places.

Legate Leads Procession.
It took the long and brilliant file four and a half hours to pass city hall, and though it began to move at noon from Notre Dame, it was not until 7 o'clock that the host, Cardinal Vincenzo Vannutelli, placed the host, housed in a golden monstrance, on the altar of the repository built for it at the foot of the mountain.

The cardinal legate marched at the head of the procession himself, carrying the host the entire distance. Slowly and majestically, hymning its progress, like pilgrims of the crusades, the great pageant followed after. Organized choirs sang in Latin, French and English. Bands scattered here and there rendered devotional music. When the crowd knew the air it joined in, swelling tones and mingling languages.

The procession had been arranged to determine the unity and universality of the Catholic Church. It started from Notre Dame with a preliminary detachment of mount officers, friars and papal zouaves, followed by a choir of 200 male voices.

Government Is Represented.

The state, the church and the army were represented and there were envoys from the various missionary activities in foreign fields.

The government was represented by Justice Girouard. With him were other members of the federal and provincial cabinets, including Mr. Laurier, Premier of the Dominion, Sir Charles Murphy, Secretary of State, and the Hon. L. M. Bédard, Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

A profound silence over the spectators when the 65th Regiment, recruited from French-Canadians of Quebec Province, was seen approaching in full dress uniform. The government had the honor to give the regiment an opportunity to act as guard of honor to the host, which it does at each recurrence of the fête dieu, but a technical difficulty had arisen by reason of the late arrival of the regiment from the papal see. The city was surprised that the tangle had been smoothed over at the last moment.

The official order of the colonial secretary was for the regiment to attend "a church celebration."

Knights of Columbus in Van.
Preceding the regiment marched the Knights of Columbus, 1,500 strong, headed by Bishop Fallon of London, Ont.; the Catholic Club of New York, with its chaplain, Father Taylor, who was heartily cheered; and then sounds of Greeks, Poles, Hungarians, Lithuanians, Slovaks, Czechs, Chinese, men, Indians from an Indian reservation and then the long file of religious congregations. Two priests marched among the Chinamen clad in native costume. They were greeted with special acclaim.

After this gathering of the nations followed Dominicans and Carmelites, Jesuits and Benedictines, Redemptorists and Sulpicians, Passionists, Fathers of the Blessed Sacrament, Paulists, Eudists, members of the Holy Ghost, and the Holy Ghost, and a group of fifty Trappist monks. Behind the order strode 1,000 parish priests and missionaries, in white surplices, and behind them another 1,000 vested as if for mass.

Many Prelates in Line.
Then came the prelates. They walked in single file, seventy bishops in cope and mitre, and fifty archbishops after them, their chaplains at their sides in black cassocks, each holding a corner of a golden cope.

As they neared the multitude grew suddenly hushed for they knew that the Sacrament was not far behind. A moment later the ponderous bell on the East Tower of Notre Dame, known for its voice as "the great Bourbon," began to thunder out its message that the papal legate was leaving the cathedral bearing the monstrance.

Companies of the Sixty-fifth Regiment marched to the front and to the rear of a huge canopy which moved slowly on rollers. Holding the monstrance in both hands, which were hidden in a velvet hulk, walked Cardinal Vannutelli under the canopy. His head was bare, and as the host passed the crowds fell upon their knees.

Behind him, in scarlet robes, walked Cardinal Gibbons and Cardinal Lévesque, the Archbishop of Montreal, the monsignori, the papal chamberlains, and lay members of the Catholic Church, who wore pontifical decorations. Conspicuous among them were Governor Poitrel of Rhode Island and his staff, as well as a numerous train of Canadian dignitaries and officials.

200,000 Sleeping Streets.
So long had it taken the procession to unfold its length that it was dusk when the legate reached Fletcher's Field at the foot of Mount Royal. As he approached the repository, suddenly myriad lights broke out upon the face of the mountain and over the repository itself a great cross, visible for miles around, flashed into brilliancy. It had been requested that no attempt should be made by the procession to kneel when the benediction of the eucharist was to be given, but with one motion the immense assemblage fell to its knees as the bearer of the host, standing on the mountain sanctuary, held aloft the golden monstrance.

At the termination of the blessing the multitude sang the Te Deum and the twenty-first International Eucharistic Congress was terminated. Tonight 200,000 people are sleeping under the stars. The rush out of the city started at 7 o'clock and by 9 the railroad stations were jammed. The companies had not foreseen such a crush and they had not cars enough.

Straw is offered occasionally, and sells for $6.50 and $7 per ton.

Live hogs are slightly higher, shipments being made at $8.65 or $8.75 per cwt.

NOT AT THE FAIR

In common with some other piano firms, the Bell Piano and Organ Company are not making a display at the Western Fair this year. However, a special showing of Bell Pianos, Organs and Player Pianos is being made by Mr. J. E. Keenleyside at his warehouse, 247 Dundas street, near Wellington street. The Bell is recognized as a Piano of high merit, and is the only Piano with the inimitable repeating action and patent sustaining frame. Intending purchasers are invited to call and investigate, as special low prices will prevail during Fair week.

FLORENCE NIGHTINGALE
Lesson From Her Life the Subject of a Sermon.

Sunday night in the Colborne Street Methodist Church, Rev. F. E. Malott preached on "Lessons From the Life of Florence Nightingale." Rev. Mr. Malott was in London at the time of her funeral, and saw a greater evidence of feeling called forth by her death, than was shown for any other of the prominent personages who died during the last year, with the exception of the late King Edward.

Florence Nightingale showed the value of having a purpose in life. At the age of 18, when girls usually look for a gay life and beautiful clothes, she chose nursing as her calling, and consecrated her life to the amelioration of human suffering. Her work resulted in the organization of the Red Cross Society, and she saved so much for sick and wounded soldiers. "Nowadays," said Mr. Malott, "men are eager to leap at one bound into the millionaire class. They forget that the noble and sudden flight requires preparation. Nine years spent in investigating hospital conditions prepared Florence Nightingale for her work in the Crimean war."

WESTERN FAIR

The first meeting of the directors of the Western Fair was held at noon today in the Administration Building in Queen's Park, and everything was found to be in first-class shape. There were no complaints, and the exhibits were found to be in good condition, and practically all placed.

"It is with the greatest pleasure that I announce to you the opening of another exhibition," said President W. J. Reid, "I can say in all truthfulness that we have the best Fair we have ever had. The entry list is much ahead of last year, and when everything is running smoothly, I am sure that you will agree with me when I say that it is undoubtedly the best yet held."

General Improvements.
"There is not a department that does not show improvement. The Main Building is particularly worthy of mention, and it cannot help but satisfy the visitors. The 'Made in London' feature is a credit to the city. In the live stock we are well in advance of all other years, and I am well satisfied."

The Canadian Farm donated a fine silver tea service for the best standard bred fry, two years old, and it was acknowledged. The exhibits of the British Columbia Government and the Canadian Pacific Railway were also acknowledged.

Those Present.
Those present were Mr. W. J. Reid, president; A. M. Hunt, secretary; W. McNeil, Aid. P. Fitzgerald, Wm. Moore, C. E. Trebilcock, Dr. Geo. A. Rutledge, Richard Oak, Col. R. McEwen, John Pringle, W. W. Gammon, Aid. J. A. Tancock, R. A. Carrothers, Col. Garthorne and others.

A number of visitors were entertained at the first luncheon given by the directors.

IF KING EDWARD LIVED

English is being taught in the universities of China is giving the Germans trouble.
"I attended a meeting in Berlin," Mr. Malott continued, "when a German delegate who had attended the world's missionary congress in Edinburgh made his report. He stated that German students were not seized with the spirit to spread the gospel as were the students of Britain and America, and immediately a great hubbub was occasioned. When a professor took the delegate to task for the statement, it was openly stated at this meeting that the teaching of English in Chinese universities was a mere political move of England, but a Chinese student who was present, spoke in German and denied that such was the case. English was being taught because the Chinese wanted to learn English, he told the meeting."Mr. Malott's Tour.
He left this city on April 19, arriving in Bremen on the 30th. Thence he went to Berlin, where he spent three months, attending the University of Berlin, where he took a course of lectures.Later he visited Halle, Dresden, Leipzig and Weimar, the home of Goethe and Schiller.
From the latter place he went to Wittenburg, Erfurt, Eisenach and Eisenach—places associated with the life and work of Martin Luther.

Next Rev. Mr. Malott spent a week in Bavaria, visiting Nuremberg, Munich and Oberammergau, where he saw the world-famous Passion Play, which he describes as very beautiful and impressive.

After a week in Switzerland, he went to Paris, hurrying through France to the capital city. Later he spent some time in Amiens and Boulogne, and then went across the channel to Folkestone, and thence to London, England, and on to York, where he took a course of Cambridge lectures, which were given for two weeks.

He also visited Scarborough, Whitby and Peterborough, then going back to London. After a short stay there Mr. Malott visited Oxford and the Shakespearean country, sailing from Liverpool for home on Aug. 27.

will conduct a close investigation into the matter.
"All that saved the express from derailment was the fact that the Michigan Central express left London and struck the ties on the track before our train came along," said Mr. Taggart, Pere Marquette agent here. The Advertiser stated this afternoon: "The ties were placed cross ways on the track, and blocked with another tie so that they could not possibly be knocked off. They were set with the evident intention of catching the train coming from Walkerville, and had it struck them the whole train would have been wrecked. It was a most deliberate attempt, and was about done by a man. No boy could possibly have lifted the heavy oak ties and placed them

Mrs. Margaret Ward Dead.
Mrs. Margaret Ward, for the past 88 years a continuous resident of London Township, died this morning at her home, lot 23, concession 1, London Township. She was in her 90th year, and came to Canada with her parents from Liverpool, England. They settled in London Township, and resided there for many years. The funeral will be held on Monday morning to St. Peter's Cathedral, and interment will be made at St. Peter's Cemetery.

Offered a Position.
The following is clipped from a recent issue of The Nassau Guardian (Bahamas, W. I.). Mr. Ashplant, recently spent several weeks' vacation in London, and has many friends in this city. We understand that his excellency the governor received a cable this week from the secretary of state for the colonies offering to Mr. W. Norman Ashplant, assistant civil engineer, a district engineering on the staff of the Uganda Public Works Department, East Africa. Mr. Ashplant has had considerable experience, having spent about eleven years in South Africa, where he was engaged mainly upon municipal engineering works in Cape Town, Pretoria, and Johannesburg, and he is also acquainted with conditions in Egypt and East Africa. Since his arrival in this colony his work has been of such a nature as to extort the unqualified praise of members of the House of Assembly during a debate last session. As we learn that Mr. Ashplant has declined the appointment we shall not, for the present at any rate, be deprived of his services.

BONHAG SETS RECORDS
Runner Clips Three Marks in Five-Mile Race of A. A. U. Championships.

[By Associated Press.]
New York, Sept. 10.—At Travers Island today the annual senior championship contests of the Metropolitan Association of the A. A. U. were marked by the breaking of three American records in the five-mile run by George V. Bonhag, of the Irish-American A. C., and the failure of Melvin V. Sheppard to get away at the start of the first trial heat of the 440-yard race. Bonhag practically led all the way in the five-mile run, which he won easily by a fifth of a mile in 23:09 1-5, a new American record. The former record was made by E. C. Carter, of the New York A. C., in 25:23 3-5 on Sept. 17, 1887. Bonhag today made two other American records in the same race, the first being 20:11 for four miles, beating 20:15 4-5 made by the late William Day twenty-one years ago, and the four and one-half-mile record of E. C. Carter, made twenty-three years ago. Carter's time was 22:53 4-5, but Bonhag today just romped past the mark in 22:43 1-5.

The archdeacon will deliver his address on the first day and the Bishop of Huron will preach on the first evening.
At the concluding session on Wednesday evening, Oct. 12, Miss T. A. THE TONG WAR.
San Francisco, Sept. 12.—The war in Chinatown between Hop Sing Tong and the Suey Sing Tong resulted in the shooting of two more Chinese last night. One of the victims, Lee Jim, may die from a wound in the neck. The other, Sue Wha, was struck in the wrist and leg. Both men are Suey Sing members. They were coming from a meeting of the Chinese six companies, at which an effort to make a peace pact was made, when they were attacked by members of the Hop Sing Tong. The Suey Sing men returned the fire, but their assailants were not hit, and escaped before the arrival of the police.
