WOULD CUT OUT WORD 'HELL' FROM THE PRAYER BOOK

Canadian Paper Says That This Change Will Likely Be Made Soon

TO BE BROUGHT UP AT GENERAL SYNOD Some of the Clergy Are In Favor of the Proposition

Toronto, July 18.—The "World" says: "Hades" is to take the place of the word "hell" in the Church of England Prayer book in Canada if the Synod of the Anglican Church...

Call It Illogical

The Progressives also want the prayer for forgiveness of sins which follows the absolution omitted, as being illogical at such a point in the service.

The Progressives also want the Canadian prayer book brought up to date with the American version by substituting the word "who" for "which" in reference to the Deity.

A Toronto rector said last night that Mr. St. George was voicing the views of many of the laity, who regarded the phrase "he descended into hell" as misleading, as the word was wrongly supposed to mean specifically a place of torment.

Not Inconsistent

The rector said the changes advocated could be made, without vitally affecting any of the doctrines of the Anglican Church. The prayer book Revision Committee dealing with these matters was a most representative one.

Facts About The Atlantic Fisheries

According to the statistics gathered by the Fisheries Department at Ottawa, the number of fishermen engaged on the Atlantic Coast is approximately 47,500, as compared with 8,800 on the Pacific Coast.

Italian Barque Is A Total Loss

Yarmouth, N.S., July 19.—The Italian barque King Malcolm, from Portland, Maine, to Richibucto, in ballast, is a total loss at Beach Point, seven miles from here.

The schr. N. Hansen left Grand Bank Saturday for Oporto with 2800 qts. of codfish from S. Harris.

REMAIN IN AIR FOR 24 HOURS

Achievement of German Aviators a Few Days Ago Seems to Prove that Porte's Contemplated Flight Across the Atlantic is a Possibility

Berlin, July 18.—The fact that two German aviators, Landmann and Boehm, have recently remained in the air for about 24 hours covering between 1,200 and 1,350 miles in that time, has increased the interest in the proposed trans-Atlantic flight of Lieutenant Porte in the Curtiss hydroplane America.

Landmann's record was made on June 28. He made a non-stop flight of 21 hours and 45 minutes and covered in that time about 1,200 miles. Reinhold Boehm, another German aviator, went after this record on Friday. He used a regular army albatross biplane of 75 horse power, carrying 132 gallons of petrol.

HINDUS AGREE TO GIVE UP FIGHT

To Gain Entrance to Canada And Will Return Home To the East

Vancouver, B.C., July 15.—Gurdit Singh and his "committee of safety" on the Komagata Maru have agreed to drop their fight for entry into Canada, and a week is expected to see the Japanese steamer with her 350 East Indian passengers, steam out of Burrard Inlet, never to return.

Awful Condition

Gurdit Singh and his men here are said to be penniless. The vessel is in an awful condition. The decks are littered with rubbish and it is becoming almost a pestilence.

WILL SAFEGUARD THE AVIATORS

Warships Will Patrol the Various Seas and Captains Of Ocean Liners Will Be On the Lookout to Render Any Necessary Assistance

London, July 18.—Announcement has been made by Arnold Kruckman, commissioner of the Panama fair, who has arrived here, that the plans for the great world-flight are to be changed. From Chicago the aviators will enter Canada, touching at Toronto, Montreal and Quebec, before starting for Labrador and Greenland.

Warships Guard

British warships will safeguard the aviators between the Shetlands and the north of Scotland. Captain Charles, of the Mauretania, has promised Kruckman that during the trip here he will try to arrange that all vessels in the West Atlantic shall keep in touch by wireless, so that any straying aviators may be picked up.

The schr. Laura W. arrived today from Franklin Agencies. She has a cargo of gasoline.

DENIES REPORT OF THE LOSS OF 8 MEN NORTH

Ottawa Naval Service Department Says There is No Truth In It

AROSE THROUGH A MISCONCEPTION

And as Far as Known, All Of Bartlett's Men Are Quite Safe

Ottawa, July 18.—The Naval Service Department, under which the Stefansson expedition was organized denied that it had issued any statement purporting to attribute to Captain Bartlett a report that eight men of the Karluk were said to be lost.

The whole matter arises from a misunderstanding. On May 30, a long telegraphic report from Captain Bartlett was received at the Department, giving particulars of the loss of the Karluk, the marooning of the crew on Wrangell Island, the names of those in the party, and the Captain's experiences in reaching St. Michael's.

Different Story

Captain Bartlett, in that message said that when he left Wrangell Island, eight men of the party, who took another route, had not yet arrived. He did not say they were lost, but expressed quite the contrary opinion.

The report from him, dated the day following the telegraphic message, came by mail, and is simply a somewhat fuller account of the case than was conveyed by wire on May 30.

Captain Bartlett has telegraphed the Department, protesting against being represented as saying that eight lives were lost, and the Department denies that it ever gave out such a story.

CANADA GETS A NEW HARBOR

Through the Restlessness of A Big Glacier North In Alaska

Ottawa, July 18.—Canada once more has a harbor opening on the Pacific Ocean through the Alaska Peninsula.

Three years ago it was discovered that by the movement of a giant glacier, a harbor had been opened through that part of United States territory, thus affording the northern part of British Columbia access to the sea.

A year ago, the news reached Ottawa that the glacier had changed its mind, and trundled the harbor back again out of Canadian territory. Now word has reached the Geological survey here that the decision has been reversed and that the harbor is back again.

150 CHILDREN WERE KIDNAPPED

In New York City During the Last Ten Years and Now the Offenders Are to be Tried for the Various Offences in the State Law Courts

New York, July 18.—Investigation by the grand jury of the operations of a band of kidnapers and blackmailers is to be instituted under the guidance of Assistant District Attorney Weller. Mr. Weller says that in the past ten years 150 children have been stolen in New York and held for ransom, varying from $600 to $1,500, according to the resources of the parents.

Two of the defendants in the case are held for participation in the stealing of Frank di Fiori, eight-year-old son of a Harlem grocer. The child was stolen in the Summer of 1912 and held until his parents paid $600.

KEEPS SECRET OF THE TREASURE

Wife of Desperado, Who Was Killed in Fight with Officers Knows Where her Husband Buried $54,000 And She Won't Tell

Savannah, July 18.—Mrs. Charlie Craven, whose husband, a desperado, was killed five months ago, leaving her $54,000 worth of cash and valuables secretly buried, is being watched by Secret Service men. Rather than let them know where the treasure is located, Mrs. Craven says she will suffer poverty.

Before being killed on a robbery expedition in Wellwood, Fla., Craven had been a successful crackman in Georgia, Alabama and Florida. According to his wife, he blew open a safe in the Owensboro Ky. post office and got away with thousands of dollars. After cracking successfully other cribs in Atlanta and Augusta, Craven joined his wife in Savannah.

HOUSE BURNED

The residence of Ed. Power, truckman, near Mount Cashel, Torbay Road, was destroyed by fire yesterday morning. Despite the efforts of volunteer firefighters the building was soon demolished. How it originated is unknown.

DREAM CAUSED AWFUL CRIME

French Officer in His Sleep Thought he Saw Wife and Children Tortured by Arabs and Hallucination Persisting Led Him to Kill Them

Oran, Algeria, July 18.—Under the influence of an overpowering hallucination that Arabs were about to capture them, Captain Gouze, of the Second Regiment, Foreign Legion, shot and killed his wife and three children as they slept, and then committed suicide.

The captain left a letter explaining that he had been suffering for some months from hallucinations of ever-increasing force.

GETS RESPITE

Regina, Sask., July 16.—Austin Drennick, convicted of murder and sentenced to die, was to-day granted a reprieve by Judge Brown in the district court of this city. The execution, which was to have taken place to-morrow morning, was postponed until August 13. Drennick was found guilty of murdering a fellow workman in a construction camp near Prince Albert last March.

CONFERENCES ARE THE ORDER OF THE DAY NOW

Asquith Had an Audience With the King—Cabinet Meeting Held

HELD CONSULTATION WITH UNIONISTS

No Settlement Yet, But An Obvious Desire to Avoid Civil War

London, July 19.—The week has been full of political movements, but negotiations behind the scenes have left the position of the two parties with regard to Ulster, exactly where it was.

The greater part of yesterday was spent in conferences. Premier Asquith had an audience with the King during the day, while the Cabinet spent many hours discussing the situation.

The Ministers, yesterday morning, in the Premier's rooms in the House of Commons, after adjournment for luncheon, resumed the discussions.

LIPTON'S YACHT STARTS FOR U.S.A.

Expected to Arrive at New York About the Middle Of August

Gosport, July 19.—Shamrock IV, sailed for the United States to-day, and all the shipping craft in the harbor whistled farewell. Captain Burton, skipper of the yacht, said he would put in at Falmouth before beating to sea.

BANK CASHIER STOLE $18,000

Had Been in the Employ of The Victimized Company Fifteen Years

Budapest, July 18.—Ceza Dofler, cashier of the Budapest branch of the Mutual Life Insurance Company of New York, has disappeared. He is alleged to have defrauded the company of $18,000. He wrote a letter to his wife in which he said he had lost the money on the Stock Exchange and threatened to commit suicide.

Dofler had been in the employ of the company for fifteen years. He received a salary of $1,000 a year.

Visited Halifax

Charles Miller, of the U. S. Picture Co., now in Newfoundland, is expected to arrive here by the Florizel on Monday and will have a monument erected at the Jewish cemetery here in memory of his wife, who died two years ago, says the Halifax Chronicle. While Mr. Miller is in the city his sister, Elizabeth, will be wedded at Joseph Bernstein's residence, to a St. John's, Nfld., merchant.

HAD TO RESPECT BRITISH LAW

American Captain Resisted a Constable at One Port But Was Nabbed at Another and Haled off to Jail For Committing Indictable Offence

St. Catharines, July 18.—When Chief of Police Taylor of Thorold boarded the steamer Cadillac to serve a summons on Captain Sullivan in connection with a wage case, Sullivan maintained that no British peace officer had a right to go aboard an American vessel.

To enforce his contention the captain called his mates and two of the crew and had the chief thrown from the boat to the canal bank. High Const. Boyle and Chief Howe of Port Dalhousie met the steamer at that place and arrested the captain after considerable bluff and bluster on his part.

He was taken to St. Catharines charged with an indictable offence and held in $4,000 bail.

C. L. B. PARADE YESTERDAY TO DIVINE SERVICE

Avalon Battalion Marched To Quidi Vidi—Rev. A. Clayton Officiate

SERVICES HELD IN THE OPEN AIR

Old Comrades Present In Their New Uniform—Winners of Trophy

The Avalon Battalion C.L.B. held Divine Service at Quidi Vidi yesterday afternoon. There was a large turnout on parade and hundreds thronged the streets to see them as they marched by.

At 3.45, headed by the full brass band and Major Franklin, they proceeded down Long's Hill and Church Hill along Duckworth and Ordinance Street, Forest Road, Quidi Vidi Road to the Church. The service was held in the field behind the Church.

The Rev. A. Clayton officiated and delivered a splendid address to the lads, taking for his text the 8th verse of the 15th chapter of the Second Book of the Chronicles. The address was listened to with interest by every lad present and by a large gathering of friends. The singing sounded very sweet in the open air, the Battalion Band rendering the music for the hymns. After service was ended the Battalion was dismissed for a while. Quite a number of photographers were present and many photos were taken.

Route of Return. The Brigade were again lined up and proceeded back to the armoury by way of the north side of the lake, King's Bridge Road, Circular and Bannerman Road, Military Road and Harvey Road to the Armoury.

Before the Battalion were dismissed Major Franklin addressed the lads; he congratulated the Old Comrades on their excellent turnout and appearance.

The Lieut. Col. Commanding was unable to be present on the occasion of their first turnout, owing to being out of town, so he sent word to Major Franklin to convey to the Old Comrades his best wishes and congratulations and expressed regret that he was not able to be present with them on their first Church Parade.

Creditable Display. Honorary Sergeant Mark Simonsen acted as Drum Major in a highly creditable manner. Possessing a splendid military appearance he looked and acted the part to perfection.

The Old Comrades' made their first public appearance and tickled the fancy of everyone.

There were thirty-six on parade in charge of Captain R. F. Goodridge and Col. Serjts. A. Pittman and A. Hiscock and they made a fine showing.

In every particular they were like regulars. The uniform is neat and serviceable and the helmet 'caps all.'

More than half did not parade yesterday because their uniforms were not ready.

New Band Uniform. The bands new dress is also pretty. The new uniforms were worn for the first time at the parade before the Duke last week.

Speaking of the band uniforms reminds us that in conversation with a member the other day he stated that the cost of uniforms was $200.00, of which $150.00 was raised as the result of a dance, etc.

The result of the Stab Memorial trophy was made known. The winners of the cup are A. Co., with G. Co. second, and B. Co. third. Major Franklin called for three cheers for A. Co.—the winners—which were given heartily by every lad.

Camp Orders. Orders for camp were read. The Brigade will leave for Topsail on Wednesday.

Squads from Bell Island, Heart's Content, Bonavista, and Trinity are going to spend 10 days with the town lads at Topsail. Lieut. W. F. Rendell is in charge and no doubt the camp life will be most enjoyable.

Capt. Anderson, of Heart's Content, was on parade and took command of A. Co. He informed the Brigade that (Concluded at bottom of 6th column)

Yet Another Shipment of Baby Carriages and Go-Carts.

Why? Because our Carriages and Go-Carts can't be beaten in the Island, for Quality, Comfort, Newest Designs and most moderate Prices, and consequently our Sales in this direction are so large as to require its continual replenishing.

Eminent physicians advise open air for Infants, so keep Baby "out-doors" as much as possible these Bonnie Summer days. Let him sleep "out-doors" in his Carriage, or lie and watch the bigger "Kiddies" playing round him. When you go out, take him along in his Carriage, and when the chilly October winds come along and shake the leaves down from the trees you will find "King Baby" in much better health, and well prepared to meet the Wintry blasts that are sure to follow.

Commercial Catechism

What is the price of Flour now? Ans. $5.80, good.
Is Sugar likely to be dearer? Yes.
Under Confederation, will our fishermen get a bounty on fish? Yes.
What do you think of the Muscle as an article of food? Excellent. Only recently a famous professor of one of the American Universities, who had been experimenting with the Muscle for six years, handed down his report, which says that it is just as good as the Oyster. He goes on to say that in view of the high cost of living it would be a grand thing if the nation would realize the value of this excellent shell fish, as ten persons could be fed for 25c. He further states that the opinion widely held in the United States as to Muscles containing a poisonous part is erroneous, simply a superstition introduced by the Indians in early days.

Is there more business done by mail in Newfoundland today than there was twenty years ago?
Yes! twenty times as much.
Name a house that makes a specialty of selling by mail?
Well, there are several mail order houses in St. John's, but one house that figures largely in this line is J.M. Devine, The Right House.
Does he send the goods without the money? Well, the system, if we are correctly informed is cash in advance or cash with order, and money refunded if goods are not satisfactory.
But will he really refund the money if the goods are sent back to him for any reason? Oh, yes, you get a money back guarantee with the goods if you are not satisfied.
What is his correct address?

J.M. DEVINE, The Right House
167 Water Street, St. John's.

You had better write him for all information.
Does he give credit? Oh, certainly, to well-rated people.

JAN'S PRESENTIMENT.

By MARGARET MANNING.

From the first moment of his opening the door Jan Olesen felt a presentiment of disaster. There was something in the atmosphere of the boarding house with its stuffy hall, its gilt mirrors, its glaring plush ornamentation, that sickened him, so that when the little maid came forward and asked whom he wished to see he could hardly utter Mina's name.

Jan Olesen, fresh from the west, where he had established himself as a prosperous farmer within three years after his arrival from Sweden a penniless youth, looked in surprise at the troubled servant's face.

"You are from my country?" he asked in his native tongue, and at the sound of the words the little fair-haired maid-of-all-work broke down and cried.

"I haven't heard the old speech for so long," she said and then began smiling through her tears as the sun smiles out of a blue sky. And the twinkling eyes that she turned upon him were very blue and her smile as sunny as a Swedish girl's smile can be.

Jan Olesen looked at her in grave compassion.

"Do they treat you well here, child?" he asked.

She shrugged her shoulders. "Some of the boarders do," she answered. "Theatrical folks are mostly kind, but Miss Dalrymple—she's a terror. She's leading lady in the 'Red Skipper' chorús, you know—and, says," she added breaking into the easily acquired slang of America, "what do you think? She's Swedish too, for all her American airs and English name."

Olesen clutched at the well to save himself from falling. Before his eyes a mist was swimming. His mind went back to the day when he, renting a cheap hall bedroom almost in the next city block, and met Mina Jensen. She was just such a little maid as this, newly arrived from the old country. He remembered her shy smile, her encouraging frankness. And they had become engaged, and he had gone west to make his fortune. Now after three years he had returned to what?

Through the mist broke a scent of patchouli. Out of it he saw a woman approach with fashionably done hair and gaudy dress; and through the floating clouds he saw a slim hand, much bejeweled, stretched forth to his.

"Why, if it isn't Jan!" exclaimed Mina. "I guess you didn't know me Jan. Well what are you starting at?" she continued to the girl. "Get busy with your work whatever it is! ain't she the impudent thing! Just in, greenhorn, you know! Come right in Jan, and tell me about yourself and if you've brought back a wad to blow in in New York. Aand say, Jan, can that stuff you wrote about getting married and show me a good time in this burg instead. Nix on a Minnesota farm for mine."

He escaped afterward—it might have been hours or minutes, but the last thing of which he was aware was Mina standing at the door of her apartment and gazing after him with a puzzled, quizzical air.

And the little maids eyes were red from tears.

"You have been crying, my dear," said Olesen, using the Swedish word of endearment. "What is the matter? You won't tell me? Yes, you'll tell a fellow-countryman. Come, tell me!"

"I'm to be sent away," she said, her voice quivering.

"Away. Well, but there are better places.

"O, yes. I'm not afraid. But she said—

"She? Who?"

"Miss Dalrymple. She said—I can't tell you—well, that I didn't behave—that I talked to the men here—that I talked to you yesterday. And she says twenty a week, so Mrs. Symonds is afraid to affront her. And she said that if I didn't go she would. She hates me because I'm from the same country, and—and she doesn't want people to know that she was once a working girl like me."

Olesen heard a door open softly above. Down the stairs, horrible in their glaring carpeting, floated the faint odor of patchouli. For an instant he pondered; then, taking the girl by the arm, he led her to the door.

"My dear," he said, "in the State I come from there are broad acres of land—land like we have at home, with forests and lakes. And there are no Miss Dalrymples there, and women are treated differently. Would you like to come with me to see the place I'm speaking of?" He spoke in Swedish now. "There don't let those tears come. No, never mind your hat; there's a department store round the corner where you can get all you need. But hurry, for it closes at five, and we've got to get to the city hall first and take out our marriage license."

NOTES OF NEWS FROM EUROPE

Culled From Many Sources For Readers of The Mail And Advocate

Copenhagen.—An American Society of Denmark has been formed here to encourage and facilitate the exchange of scientific and applied knowledge between Denmark and the United States and particularly to aid Scandinavian students in America and American students in Scandinavia.

Help will be given through the society to citizens of either country desiring to establish trade relations with the other. A special committee has been formed also to work with the Danish government in selecting students under the American-Scandinavian foundation, so the Niels Poulsen fund is called.

Constantinople.—The old Moslem prejudice against portraits is disappearing from Turkey even to the extent of printing the likeness of his sacred majesty, the Sultan. Pictures of the reigning sovereigns have at present an immense vogue in the orthodox Near-East and are very popular in the Turkish regiments.

Copenhagen.—The American steam gang plow has been introduced in Jutland, where it has reclaimed a large area for cultivation which had been covered with heather, and thought worthless.

In twenty minutes as much ground was turned over, the peasants were astonished to find, as would have taken a team of horses twelve hours.

Mr. Winslow, the American consul attended the exhibition and the farmers are arranging to buy more plows.

London.—King George has sent a letter to Mrs. John Hartness, the originator of the scheme, expressing his interest in the proposed American Church to be built in London as a memorial to the century of peace just completed between England and America.

Encouraging words were also received by cable from William H. Taft.

Among the names added to the committee working on the scheme are those of Countess of Suffolk and Lady White Todd.

Berlin.—The Society of German Engineers has just built for itself a new home at a cost of nearly $500,000. It now has more than 25,000 members, and it is claimed that this is the largest organization of its class in the world. It has branch organizations in England, China, Argentina, and other countries.

The society has recently accepted an invitation to visit the San Francisco Exposition, and it is expected that a very large number of members will take part in this excursion.

Copenhagen.—A reindeer farm, stocked with 400 deer from the north of Norway, has been established by a farmer near Viborg in Jutland, to be exploited for meat and hides. The herd seems to be prospering in its new environment.

Coal at $6.80 per ton. Save 80c. by buying from the F.P.U. Orders now booked for 400 tons per S.S. Can't Lose.

THE NEW VOCALIST FOR THE NICKEL.

There is a feast of music and interesting pictures for Nickel patrons this evening.

DeWitt C. Cairns, the baritone, has reached the city and will make his debut.

He comes with a splendid reputation as a Nickel singer. He has gone over the Keith circuit and in all the cities visited he has made a very favorable impression. He has a large selection of attractive ballads which he sings in splendid manner. Much has been heard of him; this evening the public will have the opportunity of hearing him themselves.

Sensational Profits In Fox Farming

In Prince Edward Island, millions of dollars have been added to the wealth of the people, through the fox-breeding industry.

Three years ago there was not one resident of the Island whose entire possessions reached half a million dollars. Now several fox-breeders are in that class, whilst two at least have passed the million dollar mark.

Others have incomes from $10,000 to $20,000 per year from their fox investments, and thousands of small shareholders are receiving from 25 p.c. to 200 p.c. yearly on investments ranging from $100 to $1,000.

Newfoundland Investors' Opportunity

Newfoundland possesses natural facilities for fox-breeding far better than those of Prince Edward Island. The record of profits made there can easily be duplicated, if not exceeded, here.

Whilst very few people can own a fox farm, anyone can own shares in a duly incorporated fox company and thus share in the profits of the most sensational money-making business of the present day.

The Terra Nova Silver Black Fox Co., Ltd.

Offers a very attractive proposition to investors. Its share is selling at par, $50, and may be paid for in four monthly calls of 25 p.c. each. The Directors of this Co. are men of high standing, in whose hands the interests of shareholders will be carefully looked after.

The ranch will be located at the mouth of the River Exploits, in the best wild fox territory in Newfoundland, where suitable food for the foxes can be had at a minimum cost all the year round.

Its initial equipment of 22 foxes (bought for $12,000) alone would be sufficient to earn handsome dividends on the entire issue of $40,000. In addition to these, however, three pairs of first class silver foxes will be purchased, and it is safe to predict that 100 p.c. will be paid to the shareholders in 1915.

Significant Points To Remember

- (1) Dividends as high as 1800 p.c. have been paid by a fox company in a single year.
- (2) The average dividend of P.E.I. Companies in 1913 was over 100 p.c.
- (3) Three ranches established in Newfoundland last year all earned over 100 p.c.
- (4) No record exists of any fox company having failed, since the commencement of the industry over 20 years ago.
- (5) The total supply of good live foxes, and of fox furs, is so inadequate to the demand, that present high prices and dividends will be maintained for many years.
- (6) Eventually the basis of profit must be the selling value of pelts. When this time comes the Terra Nova Co. will still be able to pay dividends of 20 p.c. or 25 p.c.

The company's prospectus will be mailed you for the asking, or you may use the coupon herewith to make application for your shares:

REGIME OF HUERTA WAS A TROUBLED ONE FOR HIS COUNTRY

Waded Through Blood to his Position as Dictator of the Mexican Republic and Has Had to Face All Kinds of Trouble—Place Finally Became Too Hot for Him—Text of His Resignation

Mexico City, July 18.—Victoriano Huerta took oath as Provisional President of Mexico on February 19, 1913, the day after A. L. Madero had been arrested at the National Palace. Three days later Madero and Maria Pina Suarez, Vice-President, were shot to death on their way to the penitentiary. The manner of their death has never been satisfactorily explained.

Bombastic Message

One of Huerta's first acts as Provisional President was to telegraph Wm. H. Taft, then President of the United States, the following message: "I have the honor to inform you that I have overthrown this government. The forces are with me, and from now on peace and prosperity will reign."

The Mexican Republic was at once plunged into civil war again, notwithstanding the issuance by Huerta of a proclamation of general amnesty. The Sonora state congress officially repudiated the provisional government before Huerta had settled himself comfortably in the presidential chair.

Started a Mixup

Zapata the revolutionary leader to the south of the capital, after negotiating a few days with the new regime, went back to his guerilla campaign.

Salazar, one of the highest generals in the army denounced Huerta. Carranza, constitutionalist leader in Chihuahua, assailed him in a bitter statement made public at San Antonio.

Francisco Villa announced himself an adherent of Madero and joined the ranks of the north army.

Pascual Orozco of the clan of northern revolutionaries, was the lone notable figure among the disaffected who declared for the new government.

President Taft, nearing the end of his term, left to his successor the problem of adjusting the diplomatic relations with Mexico.

Huerta's Handicaps

Hampered at the outset of his administration by the refusal of the United States to recognize him, Huerta soon faced growing difficulties in raising funds to run his Government. His uneasy hold upon affairs was weakened by minor constitutionalist victories in the north and by recurring rumors of a break with Felix Diaz, nephew of Porfirio Diaz and Huerta's ally in the overthrow of Madero.

Arranged for Elections

On May 1st, Huerta announced that he would urge congress to call elections in October to jettison his successor. The congress selected October 26 as the date of election, and a decree to that effect was issued by Huerta on June 3rd.

Peliaz Diaz, who had announced himself as a candidate at presidency was sent to Japan on July 17.

Henry Lane Wilson, the American ambassador was recalled to Washington and Nelson O'Shaughnessy Charge D'Affaires was left in charge of United States interests in Mexico.

Huerta Got Saucy

Early in August it became known that President Wilson intended to send John Lind, former Governor of Minnesota to Mexico as his personal representative in an endeavor to arrange a basis for the Republic's peace. Huerta announced that he would not tolerate foreign interference. Nevertheless, Mr. Lind delivered his note from President Wilson. Huerta rejected all proposals made by the American Government, chief of which were the suggestions that he resign and that he be not a candidate on next election day. Relations between Mexico and the United States became acute.

Senator Spoke and—

Huerta was attacked in the Mexican Senate on October 5th by Senator Dominguez who had the hardihood to speak what was in the minds of himself and some of his colleagues.

Dominguez disappeared. The chamber of deputies adopted a resolution calling for an explanation. To this President Huerta's reply was dramatic and swift. He marched a column of troops to the deputies chamber, seized one hundred and ten of them and threw them into prison. Next he dissolved congress and took to himself the legislative authority, calling for the election of new members on October 26th.

In the election campaign certain influences close to the Dictator worked for his return to the Presidency with General Blanquet as his running mate.

Elections Faked

When it became certain that the elections had resulted in no constitutional choice on account of the failure of voters to get to the polls, the United States Government temporarily called on him to resign on November 12th Huerta refused to accede to the American demand for his resignation and John Lind left Mexico City for Vera Cruz. Meantime the United States despatched warships to the Mexican coast and Americans continued to leave Mexico. Definite proposals were made by the United States to Carranza and his adherents. Several of the European Powers, notably Great Britain, Germany and France, gave strong support to the policy of the United States. The constitutionalists waxed stronger and continued their advance to the south. The situation became so critical that Great Britain, Germany, France, Spain and Japan ordered warships to Mexican waters.

Continued Fighting

Fighting continued at Tampico and many other centres, and Torreón was taken by the constitutionalists.

An embargo placed on the exportation of arms from the United States to Mexico was raised early in February of the present year. Then came the departure of John Lind from Vera Cruz and the arrest of a party of American bluejackets at Tampico, for which an apology and salute were demanded by the United States and refused by Huerta.

On April 12 bluejackets and marines were landed and occupied Vera Cruz in consequence of the reported arrival of a large consignment of arms and ammunition for Huerta.

Mediation Proposals

Shortly after a mediation proposed from Argentina, Brazil and Chile, was accepted and a conference ensued at Niagara Falls.

Meantime important cities fell into the constitutionalists hands and the victorious armies continued their march upon Mexico City, where rumors have been in circulation for many weeks of the approaching resignation of Huerta.

Huerta's Resignation

Mexico City, July 16.—The text of General Huerta's resignation follows: "Deputies and Senators—Public necessity admitted by the Chamber of Deputies, by the Senate, and the Supreme Court, called me to the Supreme Magistracy of the public.

Later, when in this same hall I had the honor of addressing you in compliance with the constitutional precept, I promised at all costs to bring about peace. Seventeen months have passed, and in that time I have formed an army with which to carry out that solemn promise.

Immense Difficulties

"You all know the immense difficulties which my Government has encountered owing to a scarcity of funds, as well as to the manifest and decided protection which a Great Power of this Continent has afforded to the rebels, so much so, that when the revolution had been broken up, seeing that its chief leaders were and continue to be divided, the Power in question sought a pretext to intervene directly in the conflict, and the result of this was the outrage committed at Vera Cruz by the American Fleet.

"Success was met as you know, in adjusting honorably through our delegates at Niagara Falls, the petty Tampico incident, but the revolution continued, with the support of whom we all know.

Word For Himself

"Yet, after the highly patriotic work achieved by our delegates at Niagara Falls, there are still some who say that I, come what may, seek my personal interest, and not that of the Republic, and, as I need to rebut this allegation with acts, I tender my formal resignation as president of the Republic.

"The National Congress must know that the Republic through its Government has labored in entire good faith and with the fullest energy, having succeeded in doing away with the party which in the United States calls itself Democratic, and having shown how the right should be defended.

Is More Explicit

"To be more explicit, I will say that the action of the Government of the Republic during its short life has dealt death blows to an unjust power. Later on, stronger workers will come using implements that undoubtedly will end that power which has done so much harm and committed so many outrages on this Continent.

"In conclusion I will say that I abandon the Presidency of the Republic, carrying with me the highest sum of human wealth; for I declare that I have arraigned at the bar of universal conscience the honor of a puritan, whom I, as a gentleman, challenge to wrest from me that possession.

"May God bless you and me."

A SUCCESSFUL BUSINESS MAN

Every successful business man can give reasons for his prosperity. Most essential to any success is a careful and ceaseless attention to details. Every well conducted office or store in the world finds that simple and effectual filing systems are an absolute necessity. No employer will waste his own time or allow waste with his staff by using old fashioned methods. The benefits derived from the time and money-saving system which "Globe-Wernicke" devices encourage are self-evident. Not a paper can go astray when the "Safeguard" method of this Company is used. And no matter how complicated your filing problem, no matter how peculiar, no matter how small or how large, the "Globe-Wernicke" can provide you with the equipment that will place every record at your finger tips. Why not investigate? Mr. Percle Johnson represents the "Globe" in Newfoundland.

ST. JOHN'S, N.F.L.D., JULY 20, 1914.

OUR POINT OF VIEW

TUBERCULOSIS

SIR WILLIAM OSLER, speaking the other day at a medical conference at Leeds, England, told the delegates that probably ninety per cent. of them were infected, to some degree, with tuberculosis.

It was a somewhat startling declaration to make but it is based on actual facts as revealed at autopsies, where a surprisingly large number of subjects are found to have the lesions of tuberculosis in the lung.

We refer now, of course, to cases in which death was caused by other diseases than tuberculosis and the presence of the latter was entirely unsuspected.

The explanation is that after the germs of the white plague obtain a lodgment in the system they are beaten back, overcome and destroyed by the leucocytes, white cells which live in the blood and wage ceaseless war against disease.

Knowledge of the general infection caused by tuberculosis should be sufficient incentive for the adoption and the well-known rules suggested by the medical profession as a precaution against this terrible disease.

RISKS COMPARED

LIEUT. PORTE is preparing to attempt a trans-atlantic flight in an aeroplane and his proposal is regarded as representing the least word in venturesomeness. Yet, considering the fact that aeroplanes have been proved capable of remaining in the air and flying continuously for upwards of twenty-four hours and having regard also to the consideration that his machine will both fly in the air and float in the water, his venture does not seem such a mad affair after all.

Just as venturesome must these old pioneers of trans-atlantic navigation have appeared to the folk of their own time when they essayed their voyages to the west in their corkle-shell vessels. And even to-day, we have had bold seamen make the long trip safely in small motor boats or even in open row boats. Only the other day an elderly man, named Holborow, was reported as starting from England in a small sail-boat to essay the trans-atlantic voyage to the United States.

Porte has a splendid machine to carry him; he will be equipped with up-to-date navigating and telegraphing equipment and he should finish his trip within two days.

Compare his venture with that of Columbus and surely it must be admitted that the latter was the more venturesome of the two.

TIDY STREETS

THERE has been considerable complaint lately about the untidiness of our city streets and the attention of the authorities has been repeatedly called to the paper and other refuse so often seen blowing around.

To remedy this the Civic Commissioners must provide receptacles along the sidewalks and in the parks so that pedestrians and picnic parties will have no excuse for throwing refuse around.

But, in the last resort it is our police officers upon whom we must depend, for there is always a sufficient number of people who are regardless enough of regulations and of decency to continue the very objectionable practice.

Let our civic authorities provide the necessary receptacles and there is not the slightest doubt that our capable police force will see to it that they are utilised.

WEDDING BELLS

Gallishaw-Burmeister

Miss Kitty Gallishaw and Mr. Ludwig Burmeister, were united in matrimony at the residence of the bride's mother, 16 Bannerman Street, by the Rt. Rev. Mr. Roche, yesterday afternoon.

The bride was charmingly attired in cream satin, draped with Spanish shawl with cream hat to match. The bridesmaids, Miss Gertrude Peddrew and Miss Louise Gallishaw, were dressed in white.

Mr. J. C. Pippy ably performed the duties of best man. The groom's present to the bride was a gold pendant set with pearls and diamonds, and to the bridesmaids, gold rings set with garnets and pearls.

The groom is a native of Denmark, but is well known in St. John's, as he studied navigation for two terms at the nautical academy of F. J. Doyle Esq.

After the honeymoon, which is being spent at Holyrood, the happy couple will leave for Guatemala, where the groom holds a goods position as ship superintendent with a large exporting company.

The Mail and Advocate wishes Mr. and Mrs. Burmeister many happy years of wedded life.

BIG BUDGET OF NEWS FROM INLAND TOWNS

Mail and Advocate Correspondent Relates Some Interesting Things About Men and Events at These Live Industrial Centres--The Duke's Visit--Fox Ranching--Fishing and Sport Generally

Your correspondent took a trip along the Reid N.R. Co's line the past week, calling at some of the principal centres.

At Grand Falls the reception to His Royal Highness was one round of pleasure.

The decorations were on a grand scale; the different stores were well dressed and made a very handsome appearance. There were over 250 Orangemen in the procession.

H.R.H. was present at the Dedication of the Episcopal Church and the blessing of the Cemetery.

The Terra Nova fox ranch has two well known parties from the paper city on the board of directors. The farm will probably be located at or near Bishop's Falls. Dr. Smith is president and Mr. W. Petrie, manager.

This company starts off with a good supply of foxes, both young and old.

Has Done Well.

Mr. J. Bathune's fox ranch has done remarkably well and report says he is offering quite a good premium on the stock.

Mrs. (Dr.) Chamberlain returned from St. John's by Thursday's express, looking well after her stay in the city.

A large steamer is hourly expected at Botwood with 5,000 tons of coal. Two steamers leave this week for England.

Among the visitors to Grand Falls was M. Sullivan, Esq., formerly asst. manager of the A. N. D. Co.

Mr. Armstrong, representing Fray Lentos, was here calling on the trade the past week. Judging from his smile he must have booked several large orders.

Flattered.

Mr. J. House, manager of the Ex-slots Valley Royal Stores, must feel highly flattered at the very complimentary remarks made about his window display in honor of H.R.H. the Duke of Cennauht.

Mr. F. W. Lake, of the meat market, had a very fine display in both windows, one of the different kinds of fresh meat he handles, and the other window was devoted with a fine display of magic baking powder.

F. B. Wood's restaurant made a good show, as did Grand Falls' Drug Store, and Messrs. Poole and Clancy in their gent's furnishing.

Fred Was There.

Among the visitors to welcome the Duke was our friend Fred Brazil, who is always assured of a welcome from his many friends in Grand Falls.

The garden party given by the people of Grand Falls in honor of the Duke was largely attended.

The football match between Grand Falls and Botwood was a well fought affair.

Quite a sensation was caused in town the other day, full particulars of which will, no doubt reach you in due time.

Shady Work.

It is reported that parties from P.E.I. and other places are working in the fox business with a view to getting some of the animals out of the country. A private detective is at work and promises some startling revelations in a short time. It has been reported to those interested in the industry in this vicinity that some are working in connection with a prominent party in St. John's who makes frequent trips across the Straits. This St. John's party is being shadowed and if he attempts any funny business will certainly run up against a stone wall in the person of an officer of the law. Some of his trips may not bear the light of day, and his trip also to a nearby town to North Sydney may yet cause him trouble.

So May It Be.

There is a general report that Mr. H. J. Crowe has the option on a large industry. Some people hope he will get it. Newfoundland wants more H. J. Crowe's to run business.

The road board are doing good work. They have started to open a road in front of the stores at the station, not before it is needed. Mr. P. Dwyer, the inspector is the right man in the right place.

Bishop's Falls is still busy shipping pulp. The manager, Mr. Harris, is expected back from England in a few days.

Everything is humming at Botwood. The A. N. D. Co.'s trains are making four and five trips a day and will also run at night as soon as the large steamer arrives.

"T. T." On the Job.

Among recent visitors to Botwood was our old friend T. T. Cartwright, general maritime representative of E. W. Gillett Co., of Toronto. He reports business in magic baking powder the largest yet, although he has been visiting Newfoundland for 19 years.

No more popular travelling man visits this country than the genial T.T.C. He is the friend of every one and everybody has a good word for him. No wonder his business is so large.

The popular coastal steamer S.S. Clyde, leaving Lewisporte, is always well filled by passengers every trip these days. The genial captain is a great favorite with the travelling public. The purser, Mr. Gardner, is without doubt one of the most obliging pursers in the bay service.

Chief Steward Percy is the right man in the right place. His welcome smile greets all and he is never too busy to give every one proper attention.

After Them.

A stranger who it was supposed is a private detective, was making enquiries about the actions of a well known northern Government official and a married woman who visited this place some time ago. The woman has since left the country and it is supposed the husband is looking up evidence against the two.

Some interesting developments are expected.

Mr. R. W. Manuel, Lewisporte Hotel, has been enlarging his store to properly handle his increasing business.

A very busy place these days is Mr. U. Freak's premises. His business is rapidly increasing. He carries a large stock of goods. It would be hard to go to his store and ask for anything he has not got.

The Methodists of Lewisporte will soon begin the erection of a large new church.

Mrs. R. W. Manuel, who for the past month has been visiting friends in St. John's, is expected home in a few days.

Started Up.

The saw mill at Norris' Arm has started up under the superintendence of Mr. W. Baird and has about 100 men employed.

Mr. A. H. Milligan has just received a large stock of seasonable goods and his store is a very busy place. Mr. Milligan carries a fine class of goods. Nothing but the best suits his trade.

Mr. M. Joseph, of Humbermouth, was a visitor here the other day. He is largely interested in the fox business.

Among recent visitors to Norris' Arm was Mr. Arthur Miller, representing Marshall Brothers; also Stan Elliott, representing Harvey & Co.

Up-to-date Ranch.

A few days ago I had the pleasure of seeing the fox ranch of the Glenwood Silver Black Fox Co., of which Mr. C. A. Richards is manager. This is unquestionably the best laid out fox ranch in Newfoundland and probably in any country. It is the only fox ranch I have seen that has running water in every pen. Some of the foxes in this ranch are beauties and they have been very successful the past year in breeding, some of the litters being large. Mr. Richards told your correspondent "that the stock of the company was being put on the market in Montreal and other Canadian cities. The writer saw an application for a big block of stock.

The success that this company has met with the past season would warrant the paying of a 40 per cent. dividend.

Good Equipment.

The company have a large ice house which will be finished in time to put in a large supply of food for the foxes for next summer.

Recently some photographs were taken of the different foxes by Mr. W. Parsons, of Parsons & Sons, St. John's, and some interesting pictures were taken of Mr. and Mrs. Richards holding foxes in different positions.

Mr. Richards has the foxes so tame that some will answer to their names and eat out of his hands.

Mr. W. Noseworthy, who is president of the company, was at the ranch the past two weeks looking after things.

Mr. Thomas Sphire, who sometime ago removed to the United States, and now a resident of Detroit, Mich., returned, and while here sold his property on the east side of the Gander River. Mr. Sphire expects to return at once to Detroit.

A report has been circulated here that a saw mill is likely to be starting again at an early date.

Had Good Fishing.

Mr. J. Moore, of St. John's is visiting his friend Victor Richards and is enjoying some fine salmon fishing. Salmon have begun to come up the river and from now on some good fishing will be in order.

Mrs. C. F. Richards, who has been on a visit to friends in St. John's returned by Sunday's express. She was accompanied by her sister, Miss Churchill, who will remain some time.

Mr. W. Noseworthy, President of the Black and Silver Fox Raising Co., returned to St. John's. Mr. Noseworthy made many friends while here who look forward to his early return.

Prince of Good Fellows.

About two weeks ago we noticed that "prince of good fellows", T. T. Cartwright, drop from the express. Some years ago when Glenwood was in its prime the well-known form of our friends was frequently seen in Glen

AT MT. CARMEL

Yesterday morning, long before the appointed hour for the celebration of the Holy Sacrifice, thousands of citizens had assembled to be present at the anniversary of the Mt. Carmel ceremonies.

Precisely at 10 o'clock the Rev. Dr. Kitchen arrived in a brougham, accompanied by M. J. Malone, Esq., Chairman of the Cemetery Board and 2 assistant acolytes. They were met at the main entrance by the other members of the management and escorted to the beautiful little mortuary chapel where everything was in readiness.

Shortly afterwards mass was begun and a large number received Holy Communion. WHAT AN OFFICIAL REPORTED REGARDING DIRECTOR MUNN OF HR. GRACE MARINE DOCK

Dr. W. A. Strapp has something further to say about the Management of this Conception Bay Outfit and also Encloses the Report Made to the Directors by Secretary P. J. Fitzgerald Regarding the Actions of W. A. Munn

(Editor Mail and Advocate)

Dear Sir,—I have now waited some time thinking that a dividend might be forthcoming from the Harbor Grace Marine Dock but it will soon be posted as "lost" being now some 47 days overdue. I am in perfect accord with W. A. Munn as to having a thorough enquiry, not into his work in connection with the dock, but into the management of the dock affairs by the present directors.

The petition published in your paper on July 4th was signed by a number of the Harbor Grace shareholders and as for the shareholders in St. John's I fully explained in mine of July 4th why they did not sign.

Successful Man

W. A. Munn says: "Some abusive statements were made about me by a Secretary of the Company and having charge of the minute book he entered his foolish imaginations in it." The Secretary of the Dock Co. at the time was P. J. Fitzgerald, originator of the idea of a Marine Dock for Harbor Grace, promoter of the Dock Co. and the man who in spite of the efforts of W. A. Munn brought to a successful completion the Hr. G. M. R.

Dock. Such was his, Mr. Fitzgerald's, success in this affair that he was asked to and did successfully promote a similar dock for Burin.

I am enclosing you the report in full and would ask you to publish the same for the information of the shareholders a number of whom gave W. A. their proxy to act for them at shareholders meetings. This report was read at shareholders meeting in W. A. Munn's presence, was adopted and ordered incorporated in the minutes. No meeting of shareholders has since removed said report from the minutes.

His Last Word

This is the last word relating to W. A. Munn's connection with the dock, a number of other most interesting facts must await the opportunity he is going to give me. In my next I will give you the cost of operation of a similar plant in Lunenburg and endeavoring to show how ours could be made to pay. In the meantime let the Government appoint a commission to enquire or the shareholders sign that requisition of July 4th and present it to the Supreme Court.

—W. A. STRAPP.

THE REPORT

The subjoined Report was made by P. J. Fitzgerald, Esq., Promoter, Director and Secretary of the Marine Railway Docks Co. Ltd., at a meeting of Shareholders held in the Company's office, Hr. Grace, August 15th, 1912, seven of the Company's first Directorate and W. A. Munn were present. This Report was incorporated in the Company's Records by resolution of meeting and although an attempt was made in behalf of W. A. Munn at the next General Meeting of Shareholders in 1913 to have this report expunged from the records it did not succeed.

Harbor Grace, August 15th, 1912.
To the Shareholders and Directorate of the Marine Railway Dock Co. Ltd.

Dear Sirs:—

In accordance with instructions given by me by the Directors at a Meeting held in this office on June the 4th, I proceeded to St. John's on Wednesday morning, June 5th, with the object as herein specified to obtain the endorsement of the President and other Directors there to a promissory note for $5648.58, recommended and made at the Meeting by Mr. E. B. Thompson, Treasurer, in order to secure from the Bank of Nova Scotia upon a three months loan, this amount necessary to assist in meeting our final obligations with the Contractors which were due and payable on that date.

An Intention

I accordingly interviewed Directors

LOOK OUT NOW!

Everybody's doing it now? Doing what? Why, reading The Mail and Advocate of course. It's surely the house paper now! Without doubt the most widely circulated in the country.

Messrs. A. J. Goodridge and A. W. Picoct, and obtained their endorsement as well as that of the President J. J. Murphy, Esq. In reporting to the President I requested him to interview Mr. W. A. Munn with me, which was accordingly complied with, and upon matters being explained in re our obligations under Contract, and the financial statement being placed before him showing him the necessity of this matter being promptly finalized, W. A. Munn positively declined to endorse the note as heretofore, stating that he had resigned his position as a director of this Company, and would have nothing further to do with its affairs until after a meeting of the Shareholders had taken place.

Asked Questions

After this on the request of the President, I called on Mr. Anderson, Manager of the Bank of Nova Scotia, St. John's, presented the promissory note in order to have him recommend its acceptance at the branch Bank at Harbor Grace. Mr. Anderson noted that W. A. Munn who had previously endorsed notes as a Director of the Marine Railway Docks Co. Ltd. had not attached his signature, and asked me why I had not obtained same. I told him that W. A. Munn had acquainted us of his resignation from the position of Director, and on this account he had refused to do so. Mr. Anderson then informed me that it would be necessary for him to see Mr. Munn and have his formal explanation.

The following day W. A. Munn called at the Bank and from Mr. Anderson I learned that Mr. Munn had given him to understand that it was due to some friction with the other Directors that he would not sign the note.

Other Endorsements

The following day I again interviewed Mr. Anderson and it was arranged with him that he would write Bank Manager Hunt, Harbor Grace, in reference to the acceptance of the note by him without W. A. Munn's signature, advising me to place the note with the Treasurer, and have him obtain the endorsement of the other two Directors at Harbor Grace, Messrs. Chafe and McRae before presenting the note at the Bank. I accordingly returned to Harbor Grace by Friday night's train and handed the note over to Mr. Thompson in order to have him obtain the other two signatures referred to. I was afterwards informed by him that Mr. McRae had refused to endorse same, Mr. Chafe also refused to do so, which we realized was placing us in a very unenviable position as Directors of this Company whose duty it was to deal with the financial matters of this kind.

Ordered to Report

On Saturday evening I was again requested by the Vice-President and Treasurer to return to St. John's and report to the President and other Directors in order to determine what else could be done toward obtaining this necessary loan. On the 10th inst., the President again interviewed W. A. Munn (with similar results, after which several of the largest Shareholders were consulted by the President and myself, and eventually we were advised by the Hon. John Harris to present the note as it stood to Manager Anderson with the understanding that if the Bank of Nova Scotia would not recommend its acceptance at Hr. Grace, he might possibly assist us through the Bank of Montreal.

Made Assertion

Manager Anderson was again approached on Friday, noon, by the President J. J. Murphy, and during the interview W. A. Munn was again seen. At this interview Mr. Munn informed Mr. Anderson in the presence of Mr. Murphy, that a certain Minute had been made at a meeting he attended in the Company's office at Hr. Grace on May 15th to the effect that a General Meeting of the Shareholders would be held on June 15th and had not been complied with. The President not having been in attendance at that meeting, could not confirm or deny his assertion, and Manager Anderson asked me if such were the case, I told him that no such Minute had been made or recorded by me, thereupon Mr. A. J. Goodridge, Director, was requested by the President to come to the Bank to confirm my statement, which he did.

Recommend its Acceptance

After this we were instructed by Mr. Anderson to return the note to Hr. Grace, and to have it presented at the Bank there, stating that he would write Mr. Hunt that evening, recommending its acceptance as it stood.

This was accordingly done, and was found by the Treasurer, Mr. E. B. Thompson, to be in order and the loan of $5648.58 was authorized, which together with the balance at our credit in the Bank of $2,000, was used to meet our obligations under the Contract, and for which a Draft was accordingly made out in favor of the Crandell Engineering Company, East Boston, Mass.

On interviewing several of the larger shareholders in St. John's I was informed by Messrs. McNamara, Harris and Henderson that W. A. Munn had called upon them in order to obtain their signature to a proxy form of voting, as their representative at the General Meeting of Shareholders of the Company.

Munn's Activities

The object of this had been made apparent to several of the Directors who have been doing their utmost during the past twelve months, both from a practical and business standpoint to finalize the affairs of the Company under the Construction Contract, in order to be in a position to submit to the next meeting of the Shareholders, the results of their endeavors to show the investors who have entrusted them with the management of the affairs of this Company for the past year, that they were deserving of the confidence reposed in them.

I therefore submit that this action in itself in soliciting and obtaining proxy votes is, to say the least of it, setting a bad precedent, and is a sure indication of ulterior motives on the part of W. A. Munn in the light of his previous conduct.

Business Retarded

And as a Director and Secretary, I further submit that due to the delay occasioned by the undue interference on the part of the ex-director, W. A. Munn, whereby several meetings were necessitated and much unnecessary discussion introduced in matters not strictly tending to the success of this enterprise, the business affairs of this Company were retarded, thereby tending to force this Company's Directorate into the awkward and humiliating position of either having to place the business affairs of the Company before the Shareholders in an unsettled condition, or otherwise delay the calling of said General Meeting until at a later date than was at first anticipated.

The latter course was chosen with the anticipation that by so doing, the Directors entrusted with the affairs of this Company would secure the appreciation of the Shareholders for their services; so gratuitously rendered during the past year.

His Conduct

I furthermore consider it my duty to report to this Directorate and for submission to the Shareholders of the Company, another fact in connection with the actions of W. A. Munn whereby the interests and credit of this Company were affected.

I hereby accuse him of approaching one of our Directors, A. J. Goodridge, Esq., who had previously endorsed the promissory note referred to, in order to obtain the loan for this Company and requesting him to cancel his endorsement of said note, with the evident object of preventing this Company from obtaining the necessary loan to meet our obligations. This attempt was made by him on Wednesday, June the 12th, and the information was given me by Mr. Goodridge in the presence of our President, Mr. J. J. Murphy, the following day.

Expressed Surprise

I made known this matter to other

Directors who expressed their surprise at this endeavor on the part of Mr. Munn which if acceded to would have discredited this Company still further at the Bank and would have placed our financial affairs in a critical position indeed; without, to my knowledge any justifiable cause or excuse for doing so.

I think that in the interests of the Shareholders our Directorate should demand an explanation from Mr. Munn for his extraordinary conduct at such a critical juncture in the financial affairs of this Company.

I can only account for this action on the part of W. A. Munn as being due to the fact that ten of the Directors of this Company at a meeting held on May 15th, in this office, declined to support his amendment to a proposition which asked for the removal of foreman W. S. Warren from the Dock Company's employ and to have him replaced by a man of his own named John Tuck, together with his resentment of a report made by me in reference thereto and read at this meeting of May 15th for the information of the Directors, which accused him of irregular proceedings as a Director in the conduct of affairs of this Company.

"THE COAKER" Kerosene Motor Engine Is The Favorite!

"THE COAKER ENGINE."

A Motor Engine made for The Union Trading Co.

by one of the Largest Motor Engine Manufacturers in America is now available to the Fishermen.

"THE COAKER" is a 6 H.P., 4 Cycle Engine, and can be operated on half the oil consumed by a 6 H.P., 2 Cycle Engine. This Engine's power is equal to the power of some 9 H.P., 2 Cycle Engines. It is made for Fishermen's use and expressly for Trap Skiffs and the large size fishing bullies. It is sold to Union Members at wholesale prices, all commission and middlemen's profits being cut out. We have contracted for the manufacture of 1000 of these engines. These engines are the favorites carried in stock by us. We have a large stock on hand now at our wharf premises. We carry parts and fittings in stock. We will arrange reasonable terms of payment to meet the requirements of men unable to purchase for cash. WE GUARANTEE THE ENGINE. An expert has been engaged to attend to the installation of our engines. Write for particulars and terms, applying to Chairmen of F.P.U. Councils concerning this Engine. We confidently recommend the Engine as being of the very best make and material, of being exactly what is needed for the Fishermen's use and GUARANTEE TO GIVE SATISFACTION. It is above all durable, simple and capable of doing heavy work; it is not a toy engine. The spark plug is attached to the side and not the top. The Engine starts on gasolene, and when started operates on kerosene oil.

We have sold 200 of these engines the past spring and all are giving splendid satisfaction. Our cash price is $200.00. No other firm can sell you a similar engine. We possess the sole rights to sell this engine. The man who buys a Coaker Engine from us saves $50. We can ship this engine one hour after the order is received.

No agents will be employed to sell these engines. We will do our work through the Councils of the F.P.U.

We are now booking orders for a 4 H.P., 4 Cycle Coaker Engine. This 4 h.p. Engine is suitable for small trap skiffs and large size fishing punts, and will fill a long felt want.

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By Leona Dalrymple

The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with interest.

Serving Beets!

THERE is a vegetable called a beet," I suggested merrily one night when Mary was decrying the paucity of edible food.

"Beets!" said Mary, sniffing. "Dear me, Peter, I'd forgotten they grew."

"I thought maybe 'LEONA DALRYMPLE you had," I admitted, "for to my knowledge we haven't had them once since we've been married. And I'm rather fond of them myself."

Mary made a wry face. "I detest them!" she exclaimed, shrugging.

I had a guilty conviction from her tone that a predilection for beets was vulgar, but I let it go at that. Indeed, with the married man's facility for forgetting the ulterior motive where his wife is concerned I began to understand why beets had been barred from the family table. We never have the things Mary dislikes or considers vulgar. On the other hand, we frequently repeat certain dishes I detest. The reason, however, is perhaps not quite so selfish as it sounds. Mary, with a habit of carelessness, forgets what I like and what I don't. She is not so likely to forget her own dislikes.

TEMPER fits do not keep step to dance music. The present dance madness will result in future salubrious balance and better dispositions. It will teach control. Control means increase of power. The time for this mad whirligig of tango and maxixe and hesitation and one-step has a perfectly sane and logical reason back of it. It was needed to relieve the strain of too much seriousness and too long continued nervous tension. It let down the bars of over-rest, and when the first madness has passed and the after-sanity comes the world will be much better for it.

At least, that is the opinion of Mlle. Dazie, who ranks as one of the most famous dancers of the age. It is an opinion worthy attention, for many of the classical dancers have only sneers and words of condemnation for the modern dances, which they declare are neither artistic nor interesting nor provocative of good.

Now Mary is growing somewhat vain about her progress in cooking, though she needs it. An inkling of knowledge, I notice, usually brings with it considerable unfeigned vanity. My wife indubitably patronizes new and inexperienced housekeepers, and it amuses me considerably, for Mary's first pose in bridal days was a very definite and aristocratic pride in her total ignorance of everything domestic. She speaks casually now of an inherent aptitude for the things of the home which she really did not possess.

Our guests upon this ill-fated night we launched the beets were a newly married pair, Carl Harner and his wife.

Mary had been spreading herself in style. I had heard casual references, such as this: "When you make custard, my dear, never make the mistake of overcooking. A good cook never does that!" and similar sage utterances betokening a vast and all-embracing experience on Mary's part. Therefore, the episode of the beets was the more tragic and amusing.

I must confess those beets looked queer from the instant we sat down. I attended to the needs of my guests, and presently helped myself to beets, eyeing them with peculiar apprehension. I furtively harpooned a segment with my fork and hastily desisted, somewhat astonished by its utter immunity to fork prongs. And I was conscious that they were not in color just what they ought to be. I saw Carl make a similar attack and sink back appalled. He was eyeing those beets with fascinated intensity, as I was myself. Mrs. Harner presently tested a beet and looked so baffled that I decided to take the bull by the horns and speak to Mary.

"Mary," I began cautiously, "I know there isn't such a thing as a leather beet or a stone one, and I don't suppose they're fossilized—but just what variety of beets are these anyway?"

"Regular beets," said Mary primly. "How," I ventured humbly, "how long do you cook them?"

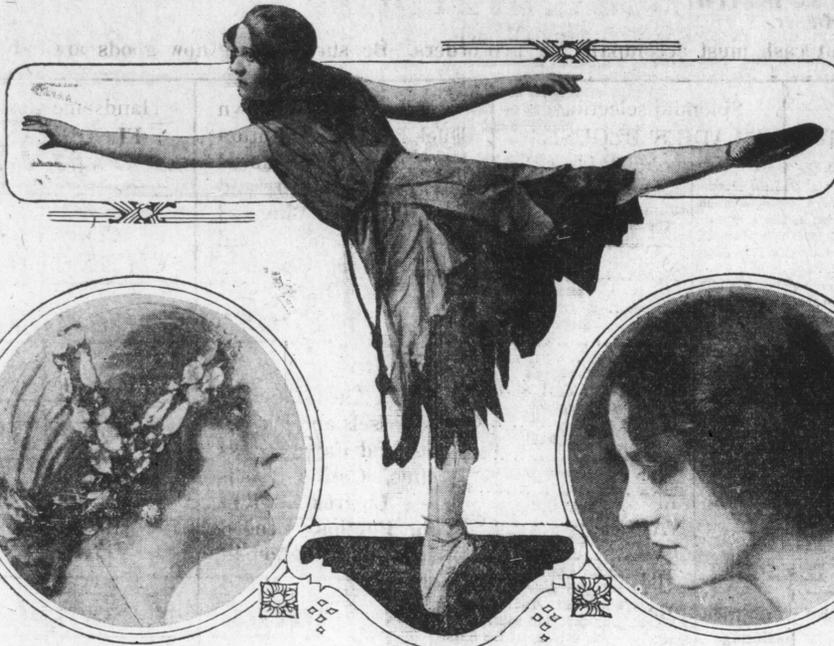

Mary's lovely eyes widened. "Cook them!" she exclaimed. "Why, Peter, I didn't know you had to. I sliced them up in vinegar—raw."

I don't know, but I think there was a glimmer of malice in Mrs. Harner's eyes. I didn't blame her.

It pays to wear a smiling face. And laugh our troubles down. For all our little trials wait Our laughter or our frown. Beneath the magic of a smile Our doubts will fade away. As melts the frost in early spring Beneath the sunny ray.

It pays to make a worthy cause. By helping our own. To give the current of our lives A true and noble tone. To note with all their waywardness Their courage and their truth; To strive with sympathy and love Their confidence to win. It pays to open wide the heart And let the sunshine in.

DANCING TO IMPROVE THE DISPOSITION

Three Interesting Poses of Charming Mlle. Dazie.

Mlle. Dazie Gives Some Interesting Rules for "Keeping in Tune"

By ELEANOR AMES

THE opportunity of gaining control of themselves is to be encouraged," said Mlle. Dazie, whose poise and grace is the perfection of harmony between mind and body.

"I have chosen not to regard the modern dances from an artistic standpoint, but from the effect on the dancers. No one can dance at all unless he or she has control of the body. The dancer must understand the law of balance and bodily control. Otherwise the feet will not obey the mind. The majority of the world has long been in fetters of self-consciousness. The dance is breaking those fetters."

"You know Epictetus says 'No man is free who is not master of himself.' That is a good motto for the dancer, for any one else to put back in the mental storehouse. Freedom is as necessary for success as opportunity. The minute a man or a woman reaches the place where the body works in sub-conscious harmony with the mind there is freedom of action."

"A well balanced head seldom crowns an ill-balanced body."

"Over-suppression has resulted in lack of harmony. We have been afraid of fear of being awkward. The dancer has removed that fear. The result will be an improvement in health, beauty and conduct. We are learning to forget ourselves by dancing. It will soon become a habit, and the balance will become part of the nature."

"Every woman who seeks beauty should begin by learning to dance. When she can pose herself on one foot with the other extended and her whole body in muscular control, she is laying a permanent foundation for the poise which will make her graceful and efficient."

"I know comparatively few dancers who suffer from what is best known under the specification of 'nerves,' but which means nothing in the world but lack of control. They don't fly into fits over this and that, for if they did they would lose the balance which is the foundation of their dancing life."

"A dancer who is successful has to have the muscles of her body in complete subordination. Her mind and body have to work in perfect harmony. If there is discord between the two, then she loses power and grace. In other words, she falls down in her dance."

"It seems to me that the two words we hear most often repeated in these modern days are 'poise' and 'efficiency,' and they are almost inseparable."

"Lack of one means loss of the other. 'The debilitate slouch?' Don't you think it is passing? Just as all foolish things pass when the time comes for them to give way to something better. It is a pleasing sign that women are taking up the question of the proper posture, for that really means an effort to establish harmony. And the more harmony we can get into this wonderful world the better place it will be and the more will be accomplished."

"It seems so foolish for a girl to take so much pains to powder her nose and so little in keeping herself in tune. For when mind and body are working in harmony and the heart is happy one is bound to be beautiful. On with the dance! It is the wise attitude to take. When the first craze has worn off there will come a healthy reaction with an increase of efficiency. Wait and see. Meantime dance and be happy."

Who Are the World's Greatest Women?

By WINIFRED BLACK

Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service, Inc.

Winifred Black

OUT in San Francisco where the weather's fair they're trying to pick out the world's six most distinguished women. No, they aren't going to send them laurel wreaths, or ask them to talk into a phonograph and tell us all just how they came to be so distinguished. They're going to invite them to the Panama exposition—as world honor guests.

The California papers are asking the people of California to help decide who the world's six greatest women are. So far they're a good deal in the dark.

There's a list of names starting with Mme. Curie, the great French scientist, and ending with the Begum of something or other—one of India's great women. Jane Addams seems to be a favorite, and so does Helen Gould Shepard. Mrs. Pankhurst and Annie Besant are running neck and neck. Annie Smith Peck, who climbs mountains, has for her close competitor Mme. Montessori, who is telling us all how to teach our children to button, button into perfectly good button-holes.

Liliuokalani, late of Hawaii, and Carmen Sylva of Roumania are the only royal ladies who seem to be in the running at all.

It's interesting, isn't it? I wish I could invite the six greatest I know to my guests at the great fair in San Francisco in 1915.

One Who Is Truly Great. I'd have to invite them right now and give them at least a year to get ready to come—for most of them are poor—and haven't any particularly fine clothes—and all of them are very, very busy.

One of my six greatest women has clothes enough and to spare. Gorgeous clothes—silk and satin and lace—embroidered and woven and plaited. Clothes from Paris, where they make them specially for America of a sort that no French woman would wear even to the wedding of her dearest enemy. Clothes from that new smart shop in Vienna, where you must get your coats—unless you want to be entirely out of it—swishy things from India, all shimmer and sparkle—embroidered things from China, all gold and silver—oh, all kinds of clothes—this one of my six has—for she's an actress and she needs clothes in her business.

No, I shouldn't call her a great actress, not one of the world's greatest, but she is a very good actress indeed; and everybody in this country knows her and loves her—and I can never even see her picture, whether it is on the dead walls or hanging in the lobby of the theatre, without smiling up at her and saying, "I love you—bless your heart, and I'm proud that you're an American woman."

And ever since my friend the actress has been a little, little girl she has been doing things for other people. Big things and little things, but always kind, always generous, always loving.

She supports a whole raft of relatives. She pays brother Tommy's tailor bill and helps brother Jim's wife take the new baby and go into the country for the summer, and when old Aunt Sally broke down after her husband died, who thought of her but my friend the actress?

She didn't say, "Poor Old Aunt Sally, how she will miss dear old Uncle Joe," and let it go at that. She telegraphed to Aunt Sally to join her at the nearest city, and she took her with her on a wonderful trip from coast to coast, and what Aunt Sally didn't see and hear and know on that trip wasn't worth seeing or hearing or knowing.

No supper parties without Aunt Sally; no little spurs in the automobile with a gay party of friends unless Aunt Sally went, too.

Choice Hard to Make. At the theatre every night—the belle of the box—feted, courted, made much of, dear old Aunt Sally, and sent home at the end of the season with enough to think about to keep her from being lonely the rest of her life.

All because once when my friend the actress was lonely and homesick Aunt Sally took her in her lap and told her stories and gave her some cookies and called her "sweet child."

Is she happy herself? She ought to be, ought she not? Anyway, she's good, as good as gold, and as beautiful as a lily, fair and white, in the green garden, and clever and brilliant and successful—but it is because she is good that I would ask her to be my guest at the great fair as one of the world's six greatest women.

The other five of my six—why, I haven't left room to tell about them, have I? One is a scrub woman, a creeper, they call her, because she creeps over the floors of the great office buildings after every one has gone home and scrubs them and makes them clean for the next day. And the fires go down at night and it sometimes is very cold in the great office building; and my friend the creeper gets very tired. Her hands are red and swollen, and her back aches, and her knees are lame—but always she sings, while she creeps over the cold floors. Singing Mary, they call her in the scrub squad, and it's always a gay song on her lips and a laugh in her eyes and a cheery word to any of the others who are in trouble. And at home there's an invalid husband and there's an old mother and there are four little children, and you ought to see that home.

I'd like to invite her and every woman like her in this great country of ours to the fair as an honor guest.

That's why it's hard to choose, isn't it, the six greatest women in the world, while we all know them by the dozen—noble women, good women, self-sacrificing women, the Real Great of the earth. What a world it would be to live in—without them.

A. B. M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).

YOU go to bed like a lark. You felt "as fine as a fiddle" all day. All is well.

Yet you wake up the next morning with a kink in your neck. Your collar muscles are as stiff as the proverbial poker.

Moreover, the rigidity is only second to the spasms of pain you feel when you try to turn your head. Your conscience, like the wight's in the Merchant of Venice, hangs about your neck.

"Budge not," it says. "Budge," says the fiend. "Budge not," says your conscience. And if you love not pain, you are indeed a yokel if you try to shake your head or budge that stiff-neck.

"What is the rule to prevent these rigid, stiff, strange, torticollis develops?" is the usual cry when acute answer, as in the Winter's Tale, "If I shall be condemned Upon surmises; all proofs sleeping else, I tell you, But what the jealousies awake, I tell you."

"The rigor and not a law." In short, there is no law that will save everybody from suffering the pangs and inconveniences of this affliction.

If the adamantite and concrete clinging of one tissue to another indicates underment and stult, a man with a stiff neck is a most fashionable and much loved fellow, for the petrified and inelastic neck muscles cling as obstinately to his vertebrae as a swarm of bees to the queen.

"Wry-neck," acute "torticollis," or "stiff-neck," is a pretty high price to pay for something you did not buy. Actually, it is often most difficult for even the most searching investigation and cross-questioning to bring to light the source of the horny, cartilaginous neck-resistance.

Most commonly the domestic doctor dismisses the stiff-neck with a wave of her hand as one of the "colds," whatever that may be. Somehow, any affliction once ascribed to a "cold," no matter how painful it may be, has no longer anything exciting about it. These words "colds" and "a cold" have the same soothing and magic influence upon the victim as the Lorelei.

Yet a stiff neck, with its drum-like throb of the upper spinal muscles, may be a much more serious trouble than herb doctors, mental optimists and homeopathic and chirological faculties may think.

There is a woodpecker called the "wry-neck," from its habit of writhing the head and neck around in a wise, but odd, manner.

But it is not the bird of that name which neurologists mean when they say "wry-neck." In the latter instance the

Advice to Girls

By Annie Laurie

Dear Annie Laurie: I have enjoyed your answers to other girls. I would like to know if I could write short stories. Would any newspaper take them? I would like to write on certain kind of paper and would I get pay for them? I have often thought I could write short stories for children.

W. L. T. N. THAT depends entirely upon you and your stories, little girl. If they are good stories, somebody will buy them and pay for them—and you send them to the right sort of people.

What sort of papers and magazines do you read? Why don't you notice the sort of short stories that are published in the paper in your own particular town, and if you have any of that sort, send them to that particular editor, and see what happens?

Pick your editor—and pick him carefully. Don't try to sell a hat to the shoe store man and expect him to be glad to put it in the window for sale. If you have written a love story, send it to the love story man; if you've written a child's story, send it to the place where a child's story seems to belong. First write your story, put it away to cool, then take it out and write it over again; copy it on the typewriter if you can; if you can't, be sure that your writing is good and plain; most editors would throw away a story by Rudyard Kipling and put one by Little Miss Nobody in its place. If Miss Nobody's story was easier to read than the other one—unless the Kipling name was on the first page of the manuscript—write one side of the paper and send out your story.

Children's stories have an excellent market, if you send them to the right place. Don't imitate any one else. Good luck, little sister, and lots of it.

Annie Laurie will welcome letters of inquiry on subjects of feminine interest from young women readers of this paper and will reply to them in these columns. They should be addressed to her, care this office.

Useful Hints for the Housewife

By Ann Marie Lloyd

CHERRIES ripe" hold a delectable place among the early fruits. Hanging yellow, red or black from their own stems, they have inspired the pen of poets as well as the brush of famous artists, and few other fruits have the distinction of being the standard for the beautiful coloring of lovely maidens' lips.

Unhappily, the cherry season is short, although California varieties have made the fruit more familiar in the eastern markets than the smaller, but quite as plump and native varieties ever did, and those who find gastronomic delight in cherries should take full advantage of every opportunity to enjoy them.

There is no preserved fruit which gives surer promise of success in the hands of the amateur housewife than cherries. Here is the simple rule of a woman who has made more than a competence for many years by "putting up" fruit for special orders:

To each four pounds of cherries allow between one and two pounds of sugar. There is danger of getting the fruit too sweet, and that means insipidity, for the fruit itself has so delicate a flavor that it does not require much sugar.

Whether the cherries are to be pitted or not is largely a matter of choice. Some prefer them simply plucked from the stems, with one or two left on the stems added to each jar. Also some cooks add to each jar one or two cracked pits or kernels of walnuts to give the true flavor. Whichever way you choose the procedure is the same.

Put the cherries and the sugar in the preserving kettle and let it stand two hours, then cook over a slow fire till the fruit is tender, fill the jars and seal. If the sugar does not make the required syrup after standing on the fruit, then a little water may be added.

A New England recipe follows the old "pound for pound" rule, and requires that the cherries be pitted. For each pound of fruit add an equal amount of sugar. Let the sugar stand on the fruit two hours and then bring slowly to the boiling point. Fill the jars first with the fruit and then add the syrup and seal.

Many a woman has gone down in the annals of culinary fame as the maker of cherry duff. This is how one of those very women makes it:

CHERRY DUFF. Two quarts of pitted cherries. Two cups of sugar. One teaspoonful vinegar. One tablespoonful butter. Two cups of flour. Four teaspoonfuls baking powder. One teaspoonful salt. Three-fourths cup milk. Mix the flour into which the baking powder and salt have been sifted with the butter until it is mealy, and then add the milk. Put the sugar, cherries and vinegar in the bottom of a well-buttered baking dish, cover with the crust and steam three-quarters of an hour. Serve in the same dish you cook it in and with a foam sauce made of half a cup of butter creamed with a cup of powdered sugar, the yolk of an egg and two tablespoonfuls of wine. Cook this over hot water till it is well heated, and remove from the fire and beat into it the whites of two eggs previously beaten to a froth.

CHERRY JELLY WITH COLD MEATS. To make it, mash the cherries and squeeze them through a jelly bag. To each pint of juice allow one pound of sugar, and add it after the juice has boiled 20 minutes, first heating the sugar in the oven. Stir the sugar into the juice and boil five minutes, or until it will jelly, skimming the surface froth if necessary. Have the jelly glasses standing in hot water, pour the jelly in them, and when they are set cover with melted paraffin.

FOGO FISHERY MORE PROMISING

And as a Result Things Generally Are Now Humming At This Busy Town

Fogo, July 13.—Fish with traps very good. Friend Pierce Piccott is high liner up to date. Hook and line a total fall ure. Caplin in abundance.

All the friends are eagerly waiting the arrival of the President when a hearty welcome is assured him. Many an eye is watching to try and catch the first glimpse of the good little ship F.P.U.

Mr. Robert Scott has a cargo of coal discharging at his premises at $6.80 per ton over ship's side. Ah, Robert, you will have to try again before you will knock out the Union price.

Capt. Stanley Fox is discharging a load of salt at Earle Sons & Co.

Mr. J. W. Hodge is building a large fish store for packing fish. He intends to send the most of his fish away in casks this summer. He has a large number of men employed. Well done uncle!

We don't hear much from the political lawyer nowadays, and I suppose he got his fill last fall over the elections.

The Chairman of the Road Board got an awful surprise when he heard he could not get the grant for the Canal before Mr. Halfyard signed his hand. Well done Halfyard.

Friend George Banks has an F.P. U. engine installed in his boat. It's a hummer, "goes like sixty." He is the first here to have a Trading Co. engine. He had a little trouble at first but it's all right now. Friend Banks is a staunch Unionist. Any member wanting an engine would do well to get it from the Trading Co. For quality and prices they can't be beaten.

The Union Cash Store is in full swing here now under the management of Friend Thomas Oake. A good business is assured if it is a good voyage as the prices can't be beaten.

Friend Edward Farewell and Bros. are getting their boat ready to go to the Islands fishing. Farewell Bros. are loyal Unionists. We wish them every success; may they have a bumper trip.

Mr. Harold Earle of Earle Sons & Co. is gone to England to be joined in holy wedlock to Miss Ethel Meek, when the couple will leave for Newfoundland and reside here. The bride's sister Mrs. J. W. Hodge, accompanied Mr. Earle across the Pond to see the knot well tied.

Schooner Northern Light has arrived from St. John's with a load of salt to J. W. Hodge.

Schooner Bertie Oake, belonging to H. J. Oake & Bros., has been to Twillingate for a load of salt for J. W. Hodge.

Capt. Wm. Miller had thirty quintals of fish in his trap last evening in Shoal Bay.

July 15th.—Earle Sons & Co. had a message from their agent at Barr'd Islands, Mr. Corbet Rendell, yesterday, to send down salt as fish was in abundance. The motor schooner Van-Tromp left this morning salt laden for Barr'd Islands.

Friends H. J. Oake Bros. had to take up their trap on the 10th inst. owing to a gale of wind. A very large iceberg soon occupied the place of the trap and cut up their Moorings. When they went to get them the culprit did not care to move off them and it still occupies the berth as self owner.

BRUCE PASSENGERS

The s.s. Bruce arrived at Port-aux-Basques 5 a.m. yesterday, with the following passengers:—J. Currie, N. W. Smith, T. J. Carter, J. Shorter, F. Hellett, S. Petites, Miss M. Petites, Jacob Petites, Miss W. Stagg, G. Power, A. Power, A. R. Chambers, H. Knight, J. A. Burke, J. Jennings, Miss K. Forward, Mrs. L. J. Cashin, Miss D. Cunningham, Mrs. E. Jones, T. Gaul, Miss M. Gaul, D. Ryan, Miss C. McCarthy, May McCarthy, Mrs. T. Watts, Mary Watts, Mrs. E. Rideout, Sister Brigida, Sister Godfrey.

POOR PROSPECTS AT TWILLINGATE

So Far, the Fishery, Generally, Is a Total Blank—Bait Now Abundant

Twillingate, July 17.—To-day is really the only warm day which we have had so far and I am sure everybody can stand a few more of them.

The fishery to date is almost a blank, not alone the cod but the salmon and lobster as well seems as though they have forsaken our shores. We hope however that these fish will certainly get a move on and come in.

Caplin is still in abundance everywhere around.

The schooner Willie K., Capt. Kennedy, who came here a few days ago with a cargo of coal for Mr. Ashbourne, will finish discharging early to-morrow.

A party of five Americans came here on Thursday to examine the mine owned by Mr. O. Hodder at Sleepy Cove.

Miss Katie Wells, daughter of Mr. Thomas Wells, Back Harbor, will take passage by the S.S. Clyde as far as Campbellton to visit her sister.

Mr. Louis Young, son of Mr. Fredk. Young, arrived home by the S.S. Clyde. Mr. Young has been living in Boston about four years. He will now settle down here as there is no place like home.

Yesterday was the first of the half-holidays with the shop keepers which no doubt was greatly welcomed by all the employees.

We are now looking for a visit from Mr. Coaker any day as he is on the way.

PERSONAL

Dr. Keegan, who has not been well of late, left by last evening's express for a short vacation up country.

Mrs. W. J. Long who has been ill for some time left for Kelligrewes on Friday last to spend the summer. It is hoped that the sea air of that popular little settlement will improve her health.

The engagement is announced at Toronto of Miss Dorothy Strathie and Mr. Leonard Outerbridge, son of Sir Joseph and Lady Outerbridge of this city. Miss Strathie is a charming young lady of the Queen City. Her brother, Dr. Strathie, is one of the lecturers in Toronto University. Mr. Outerbridge is practicing law in Toronto.

Mr. Thomas Mott, Jr., son of Mr. H. Y. Mott, who recently returned from the Twillingate Branch of the Bank of Nova Scotia, where he has been engaged for nearly a year and a half, left by last evening's express for the Halifax office, having been transferred to Halifax.

His many friends congratulate him on his promotion. He is an obliging and courteous young banker, and is certain to advance in his profession.

IMBECILE GIRL BURNT TO DEATH

Mother Found the Young Woman Dead When She Returned to the House After an Absence of a Quarter of an Hour—31 Years Old

Deputy Minister of Justice Hutchings, has received a communication from the Magistrate at Fogo, reporting the death of Elizabeth Bennett, aged 31, daughter of the late John Bennett, Round Harbor.

It appears that on Monday, the 13th inst., at 8 a.m. the mother had occasion to visit a neighbor's house, 30 yards away and when she returned 10 or 15 minutes later she found the girl lying on the floor dead with her clothes burned off.

There was nothing to show how the fire started. As the doors of the stove were closed it is thought that she reached some matches which were on a shelf and set fire to her clothing. The girl was not strong mentally.

FELL OFF TRAIN NOW IN HOSPITAL

Patrick Murphy of Patrick Street Meets Serious Accident

Frank Murphy, a young man of Patrick Street met with an accident at Waterford Bridge Station Saturday evening, and is now at the hospital.

He walked out in the evening to meet a friend, intending to return by train.

Thea commutation was the first train to come along and he attempted to jump on. In doing so he misjudged the distance and fell.

He fell on his head and a deep wound was inflicted. Friends picked him up and carried him to the station where Dr. Duncan of the Insane Asylum attended him.

The doctor bound up the wounds in the head and dressed the bruises on the hand and summoned the Ambulance to take him to the hospital.

It was reported today that the injured man was dying but the report is incorrect, as his is much improved today and will be round again in a few days.

The schr. Vignette entered at Ramea Saturday to load codfish for Halifax from J. Penny & Sons.

OBITUARY

Patrick J. Walsh

Saturday last, Mr. Patrick J. Walsh of the Warehouse Department, H.M. Customs, passed away at the ripe age of 53 years.

Deceased was an old landmark in the city, and was ever an active and industrious citizen.

A widow and one daughter, Mrs. E. M. Jackman, and many grandchildren survive her.

Funeral takes place at 2.30 this afternoon, from the residence of E. M. Jackman, Allendale Road.

Samuel Bowcock

Mr. Samuel Bowcock, a prosperous farmer of Topsail Road, died at his residence Saturday evening, at the age of 67 years.

Mr. Bowcock came from England over thirty years ago and engaged in agriculture, which was attended with success.

A few years ago he left here and went to reside in the homeland, but not content he again came to Newfoundland, and took up farming. He engaged actively in his calling almost up to the day of his death.

Captain Sedgeman

Captain Sedgeman, who for several years sailed the S.S. Othar on the Bell Island route, died at the General Hospital last night.

Captain Sedgeman was over a popular seaman, and his demise will be regretted by a host of people.

James Mills

Mr. James Mills of Old Perlican passed peacefully away on Tuesday, July 14th, at the age of sixty-two years.

Mr. Mills lived for a number of years in the United States. He returned to his native land about four years ago and settled down enjoying good health up to until a year ago. Early in the spring he sought advice at St. John's and finding nothing could be done for him he returned to his home to await the call of His Master.

He leaves a widow and two daughters to mourn their sad loss.—H.M. Old Perlican, July 17, 1914.

LIVE GAME IS EXPECTED

To-night When Shamrocks And Red Lions Slam The Ball

This evening at 6.30 at the St. Bon's practice grounds, the Red Lions will face the Shamrocks in the third game of the Mount Cashel series for the H. D. Reid Cup.

The winners will play at the Garden Party. It is thought by the fans that these two teams are the most evenly matched in the League, and in view of the thrilling play in their last game when the score was tied in the sixth innings the exhibition will no doubt be fast and exciting.

The line-up will be:

SHAMROCKS	RED LIONS
Kesner	catcher
Callahan	pitcher
Harsent	first base
Callahan	second base
Power	third base
Waterfield	short stop
Callahan	left field
Ellis	centre field
McGrath	right field
Chesman	umpires

On Wednesday afternoon at 5 o'clock the B.I.S. will play their protest game with the Wanderers. The winners of this will play the final game at Mt. Cashel with the winners of the Shamrock-Red Lion game.

A small admission will be charged and as the proceeds of all these games are for the benefit of the Orphanage no doubt the fans will give them their full patronage.

JOE BATT'S ARM FISHERY BETTER

Joe Batt's Arm, July 9.—Trap fishery improving somewhat, ranging from one to eight quintals per day. Strong tide prevents traps being hauled twice a day. Fishery worse on record with trawl and hook and line. Plenty of Caplin in shore.

General opinion of the fishermen that fish would trap and trawl much better if we had warm weather and moderate; especially now that the fish seems to be round about here.

Trade is a bit dull all round here now. All our people making themselves extremely busy to secure their harvest from the sea.

Monday, July 13.—Cold and foggy to-day, wind S.E., fresh breeze. Traps in shore to-day had fairly good hauls from 2 to 15 qtls; very little out at the headlands. Very good sign with cod nets to-day; trawls nil.

July 14.—Traps to-day 1 to 6 qtls. Only hauled once to-day as water is rough. Some fish with cod nets to-day; trawls slack indeed.

July 15.—Swithun's Day with rain. Traps at B. Ids. to-day doing extremely well; few traps securing as high as 50 qtls per day, others less, some not much.

July 16.—Traps at B. Ids. doing well again to-day; little at J.B. Arm. Slack with cod nets to-day. Fogota arrives bringing Union freight.

WEDDING BELLS

Crowther-Oakley.

On July 8th at St. Mary's Church by the Rev. Henry Uphill, Mr. Edwin Arthur Crowther, of Cumberland, Eng., to Miss Althea Margaret Oakley (formerly of Twillingate), third daughter of Mr. and Mrs. James Oakley.

The bride was attended by her sister and cousin, the Misses Marion and Georgie Oakley and given away by her father, the bridegroom being supported by Mr. Will Downtown.

After the ceremony the bridal party drove to the bride's home where a reception was held, afterwards accompanied by their many friends they drove to Waterford Bridge en route to Topsail to spend their honeymoon. The bride and groom were the recipients of many valuable presents.

Fishery Reports Still Unpromising

Same Old Story About Poor Catches and Dark Prospects

July 10.—From M. White (Aquaforte to Caplin Bay)—The catch to date is 1485 quintals and for last week 860. Thirteen boats, 39 traps and 76 dories and skiffs are fishing. Prospects are not very good but there is plenty of caplin. The lobster fishery is poor, the catch being 800 to date. Trawls and traps did well on Monday and Tuesday but nothing since and the fish has struck off owing to the high winds.

Lobster Fishery Poor

July 11.—From J. Gosse (Spaniard's Bay to Upper Island Cove)—The catch is about 12 quintals. Five traps are out and 10 dories and skiffs fishing. Prospects are not good but caplin is plentiful. The traps are doing well at Bryant's Cove, and our men are moving their gear down there. Good work has been done here—Spaniard's Bay—by the dredge Priestman. The lobster fishery is poor.

Codfishery Never Worse

July 11.—From H. Batstone (Bett's Cove to Rogue's Hr. West)—Codfishery prospects were never worse and lobsters are scarce. Ten boats and five traps are fishing but no dories or skiffs. The total catch is 100 qtls. with 10 for last week. There is plenty of caplin.

Traps and Trawls Doing Little

July 12.—From F. W. Power (Oderin)—There is no improvement in the lobster fishery. Caplin is plentiful but codfishery prospects are not good and very little is being done with either traps or trawls. It is the general opinion that the trap voyage and lobster fishery is over in this locality for the present season. The total catch is 780 quintals and for last week 150. Twelve traps are out and 20 dories and skiffs with 7 boats fishing.

No Signs of Improvement

July 11.—From J. E. Long (Jean de Bay to Beau Bois)—Ten traps, 10 dories and skiffs, and 43 boats are fishing. The catch to date is 3432 quintals with 685 for last week. One banker arrived but no schooners from the grounds. Prospects show

BISHOP LEAVES FOR ENGLAND

His Lordship Bishop Jones leaves this evening by the Digby for the Old Country and will be absent a couple of months.

While there His Lordship will meet his children, the eldest son Llewellyn being on his vacation from British East Africa. We hope the Bishop will enjoy his trip and return to his people in the fall in good health.

DIGBY HERE FROM HALIFAX

The S.S. Digby, Capt. Trinnick, arrived at noon from Halifax. She was detained off Cape Race by fog. She brought a small cargo.

The Digby sails this evening for Liverpool taking the following passengers: His Lordship Bishop Jones, S. W. Stansby, J. C. Marshall, W. Tucker, Mrs. Tucker (Carbonear), H. E. Cowan, Mr. Bennis, Miss Stick, G. Grimes, W. W. Knowling, H. Hodge, Mrs. Hodge, Miss Pippy, V. Prince, Mr. Wardle, J. Crew and J. Scheldt.

MONGOLIAN HAD QUICK RUN HERE

At 10 last night the Mongolian was 190 miles west Malin Head and is due at Grenock this evening.

As the Mongolian left here at 1 p.m. Tuesday last, she has had a fine run across the Atlantic.

FOG DETAINS POMERANIAN

Messrs. Shea & Co. had a wireless to-day that at 11 last night the Pomoranian was 305 miles E.N.E. of St. John's, stopped in dense fog for last two days; fog still continues.

The following passengers arrived by the Fogota Saturday: Mrs. T. Abbott and child, J. T. Power, Mrs. Morris, Mrs. W. C. Archer and eight steerage.

No signs of improvement. The traps average about 90 quintals and the boats 50. At Rock Hr. the traps have done exceptionally well. Caplin is plentiful but there is no improvement in the lobster fishery.

SHIPPING

Lintrose left Basques at 11 p.m. yesterday.

The Brig. Galatea arrived at Allcante yesterday, 28 days out.

The schr. Louisa A. W. arrived yesterday afternoon, six days from Halifax, with a cargo of gasolene to Franklin & Co.

The s.s. Morwenna left for Sydney and Montreal at noon Saturday taking in saloon, O. W. French, Mr. Hogan, Miss Roli, J. Kavanagh, Miss B. Kavanagh, F. and Mrs. Lumsden, Misses Roper-Tomey, Snelgrove, Dr. and Mrs. Forbes, Rev. E. Bishop, J. McGrath and ten in steerage.

The s.s. Florizel sailed at 3 p.m. Saturday for Halifax and New York, taking as passengers—Mrs. Bugden, Misses Bugden (2), Miss Butt, Messrs. Ruby, Allright, Mitcheley, Mrs. Flynn, Miss J. Reid, M. Hynes, Mrs. Hynes, Mr. Young and 8 in steerage.

PORTIA RETURNS FROM WESTWARD

The S.S. Portia returned from the Westward at 8 p.m. Saturday. Dense fog was met at Pass Island Hermitage Bay, and continued to port, causing considerable delay.

She brought a large freight and the following passengers: Messrs. Curtis (2), Mrs. McDermott and child, Mrs. Kennedy, Miss Kean, Miss Hartery, Miss Curtis and 10 steerage.

GOT SIX MONTHS FOR MAKING AN INDECENT ASSAULT

The foreign sailor, Peter Schorden, 28 years old, arrested on Saturday morning charged with assault on a 9-year-old girl at Bannerman Park, was before Judge Knight this morning and was sentenced to six months in jail. He deserved more.

ASSAULT CASE

The charge against the East End Tailor is being heard in camera before Judge Knight to-day. Up to lunch hour two witnesses had given evidence.
