

YOUNG LAD A VICTIM TO MOST HORRIBLE MURDER

Body of a Boy Hacked and Torn to Pieces Found Near Cainsville At 7.45 This Morning Lying in Ditch With Face Turned Toward the Sky Was Evidence of Frightful Tragedy Which Ray Misener Discovered--Foul Murder and Nothing Else is Opinion of Authorities

A horrible murder was discovered this morning at 7.45, one mile southeast of Cainsville near the farm of William Tottle.

The body of a fourteen year old boy, hacked and torn to pieces, butchered, in fact with head almost severed from the body was the startling find of Ray Misener, a well-known farmer, who was on his way to Brantford with a load of hay.

The identity of the boy, the identity of the slayer, the motive for the crime and the place where the crime was committed remain a mystery to the authorities.

How human nature could have turned itself and flung itself into such a fiendish deed is beyond the ken of those who have viewed the remains of the young lad who was found in the ditch of the roadside with his face upturned to the sky above. The murder was a horrible one. It is not believed that it was committed on the spot in question. The boy's body was cut and hacked but his clothes were not bloodstained nor torn.

The murder may have taken place miles from the scene of the finding of the body. Some house in Brantford may have actually been the scene of this terrible taking of youthful life. Then with the cunning instincts of a maniac, the slayer of the boy dressed the body and carted it to the place where it was found.

If this is the true theory of how the dreadful act was carried out, identification of the body may be delayed. If his body was dressed, were the clothes his own, or those of some other boy? The clothes may have been brought to the city from some distant place for just the purpose they were used. If so where did they come from? If not, then the identity of the murdered lad should be established before nightfall.

In all their experience Brant County authorities never faced a more terrible crime than that which they were this morning called upon to unravel. A boy with the face of innocence, a boy in robust health, a sturdy boy with a kindly face was cut from the world in such a barbarous fashion as to make one shudder for the civilization of which one boasts of. Nothing but a fiend could have accomplished such a deed.

The agency which carried the boy out of the world was a human agency. No mechanical device or machinery ever invented could have left the traces of horrible life destruction such as the hand which murdered the unknown lad whose remains now lie at Reid and Brown's undertaking establishment.

A throat gashed as if by an axe; knife wounds in the temple, in the bridge of the nose and in the body and an abdomen opened into a ghastly testify in nauseating fashion to the work of the fiend.

What was the motive of the crime? Coroner Ashton, and High Constable Kerr believe that the boy was done to death to cover up some other crime. If their view is correct, what was the crime committed of which the boy knew and on which his despatch from this world would forever close the seal.

The boy was too young, too tender in years to have committed a crime for which he had to atone himself. About only one other motive can be held and that is that the crime was committed by a maniac.

One local doctor, Dr. Secord, who viewed the remains at Reid and Brown's declared that it looked like an accident to him. This view is not entertained by the authorities who point to the fact that the boy has not one broken bone in his body.

County Constable Kerr has not yet appealed to the provincial police, but will likely do so. He notified every point on the Hamilton road this morning and the Hamilton police are on the alert for strangers. All kinds of people have said that the boy answers a description of a boy they knew, David Stewart of Langford likening him to a boy he knew by the name of Reeves at Echo Place.

However, it was not until 2 o'clock this afternoon that real hope was entertained of establishing the boy's identity. John Dawson of Echo Place called at the undertakers and expressed the belief that it was his son. He cut off a piece of the belt and immediately left to inform his wife.

A Ghastrly Find A Courier reporter went to the scene of the murder, and a ghastly sight met his view. In the ditch on Blossom Road, 1 mile from Cainsville, on the side of the road in front of the farm house of William Tottle, was lying a mere boy of 12 or 13 years of age, murdered.

The young lad's throat was cut from ear to ear, and almost severed from his body, in fact his head was just hanging by a thread to his body. The murderer had gone to work and disembowelled the boy. On the child's breast were distinctly seen 12 wounds, each wound penetrating into his lungs. There were also a couple of wounds in the little boy's head. His body was covered with blood, and his clothes were also saturated with blood.

The murdered boy was dressed in a dark grey suit of clothes with black striped coat and nickerbockers. He wore no shoes or stockings and no hat or cap. He had on a blue blouse with white dots. Around his neck was found a maroon colored knitted necktie. He had on a fleecy line undershirt, which bore the name of the maker, "Sanitary" "Wool Fleece."

On His Person His clothes were searched for the purpose of ascertaining if there was anything by which the murdered boy could be identified, but all that was found was part of a package of player's cigarettes and a piece of paper, on which was written in a school boy hand, the poem "The Call of the Klondyke," by Robert Service.

The Constables High Constable Constable Fred Kerr and Constable G. Mirrell were both on the scene and at the request of the coroner summoned a jury, which was composed of the following gentlemen: R. McLeod (Foreman) Frank Cole, Alex. Fair, Roy Pearson, L. Smith, John Hoffman, David Stuart, D. Campbell, H. Cole, C. J. Mitchell, W. Black and E. Ludlow.

The members of the jury were duly sworn and then viewed the remains of the murdered boy. The jury was then cautioned and ordered to meet in the court room of the police station here on Monday afternoon next at 3 o'clock.

A telephone message was then sent to the Crown Attorney in the city advising him of the murder. A phone message was also sent to Messrs Reid and Brown the undertakers, to come and secure the body and take the same to their premises. Here the body will remain for a reasonable amount of time. The authorities here hope that the remains will be soon identified.

SAD INDEED WAS THE SIGHT WHICH GREETED RAY MISENER It was a sad sight, indeed, which greeted the eyes of Roy Misener, the discoverer of the murder on the Hamilton road at 7.45 this morning. Misener is a farmer at Martijn's Bend Farm. He was coming into the city with a load of hay when he discovered the remains. He immediately notified Herb Clark, a near-by farmer, and the two went to Dr. Raphael, Cainsville.

They were the remains of a good-looking, blue-eyed boy of 14 years of age. His body was horribly mangled; his head almost severed from his body. Twelve ugly stab wounds, anyone sufficient to cause death, stood out dismally from a hacked and torn blue blouse, matted with blood. Below the body was almost disembowelled. The spectacle was a ghastly one.

CHARLIE DAWSON IS BOY'S NAME

Second Son of John Dawson of Echo Place.

Mother of Boy is Critically Ill at Home—A Sad Affair.

John Dawson, a resident of Echo Place, called at Reid & Brown's undertaking establishment at 2 o'clock to-day and almost certainly identified the remains as those of his son. The father was not sure at first and in order to confirm the identity absolutely, he was hastened in a car to his home, where he showed his wife a piece of the boy's belt. It was all too true and the mother collapsed when the husband told her of the frightful nature of the case. The boy's name was Charlie and he was a great favorite in the home.

AT SCHOOL YESTERDAY The young lad, a pupil of the Mohawk Public School, near Echo Place, was at school yesterday afternoon. After the school was dismissed he went to his home and did some chores around the place.

The boy had supper at home at the usual hour, his father being absent from the meal.

The father of the murdered boy when interviewed by a Courier reporter in Reid and Brown's undertaking establishment stated that the last seen or heard of his son was about 7 o'clock when he was playing in the yard.

The father of the boy stated that he was in the city on business and did not arrive home until late in the evening and did not have supper with the family.

Mr. Dawson said when he arrived home the little lad was not present and on enquiring from his mother where he was, stated that he was probably playing with some of his playmates.

BECAME UNEASY. As the hours passed by and the boy did not return to his home the parents became uneasy and a search was made in the neighborhood for the boy but no trace of the lad could be found.

The boy's parents made another search for him this morning, but his whereabouts could not be ascertained and none of the neighbors had seen or heard tell of him.

Attempt To Settle The Dublin Strike Conference of Several Hours Held, but Without Definite Result.

DUBLIN, Sept. 9.—There was a conference of several hours to-day between representatives of various employers and of the trade unions. It was afterwards announced that the conference was adjourned for a week, but there is reason to believe that the meeting was barren of anything that would lead to a definite result.

Mr. Connolly, one of the leaders of the Transport Workers' Union, who on September 6 was sentenced to 3 months' imprisonment on a charge of having made a speech inciting to violence, has gone on a hunger strike. Connolly refused to give recognizance for his good behavior when he was arraigned in court, and therefore got a jail sentence.

Identity of Murdered Boy Mystery For Hours--What Could Have Been Motive For Killing a Bright Young Lad 14 Years Old?--One of Most Dreadful Tragedies Ever Recorded in Annals of Brant County--Provincial Detectives Will be Summoned to Investigate Case

Examined by Coroner Coroners Dr. Ashton and Dr. Raphael were both summoned, and were soon on the scene. The Coroners viewed the remains and examined the body thoroughly. They measured the body, turned his pockets and clothing inside out to see if there was any mark by which he could be identified. They made close observation of the wounds and measured the depth and length of same, and searched his clothing to see if there was not some clue which would lead to the identification of the murdered boy. Their search was in vain, for all that was found on the boy's person has been described.

Provincial Police Notified The provincial police in Toronto were notified this morning by High Constable Fred Kerr, and it is expected that a provincial detective will arrive here from Toronto on the first train and view the body and proceed to the scene of the murder.

The Coroner's Opinion Both the Coroners, Dr. Ashton and Dr. Raphael, were of the opinion that the cruel murder was the deed of some fiend for revenge. One peculiar incident about the murder is the fact that there were no holes in the murdered boy's clothing. That it was a cold-blooded murder is brought out by the fact that who ever did the dastardly deed stripped the lad of his clothing and then cut him to pieces with a knife.

The coroners are of the opinion that the injuries were dealt with a dagger or stiletto, the blade of which must have been lengthy as the wounds in the boy's breast penetrated through his lungs.

"It is the most dastardly crime I have ever seen," said Dr. Ashton.

Their Opinion Dr. Ashton, Dr. Raphael and others who viewed the remains were of the opinion that the boy was brought to the spot and murdered in cold blood, and the murderer or murderers then made tracks for somewhere they were unknown. "The deed," said Dr. Ashton, "was evidently the work of a fiend who after cutting the boy's throat and almost severing his head became frenzied and then went to work and stabbed the boy 12 times in the chest, and to make his fiendish act complete, he disembowelled him."

"What motive could he or they have," said the doctor, "except revenge on some person? He is only a mere lad."

It is supposed that the lad was grabbed at some point, hustled into a conveyance of some kind and brought to the spot and murdered in cold blood. Why did he or they murder the boy? What could he have done? He was only a mere child," exclaimed the coroner. "The murder is certainly a mystery and the work of some frenzied fiend."

Courier Interviews A Courier man was on the spot and had an interview with Mr. Ray Misner, a farmer who resides near Marten's Bend, who stated that he was on his way to Cainsville with a load of hay, and when passing the Tottle farm noticed the form of a boy lying in the ditch. Mr. Misner stated that he got off the load and looked at the corpse and then drove on until he met Mr. Herb Clark, short one in particular, is an automobile distance up the road, and told him track, which has the appearance of a car with one smooth tire and one corrugated tire. There were several foot prints and wagon tracks. The footprints track walking to and from rigs to view the remains.

Finger Prints There were three bloody finger prints on the murdered boy's left leg above the knee. The coroner gave strict instructions that these marks were not, under any circumstances, to be touched. He ordered that the boy's legs should not even be washed as upon these finger prints the coroner may lay great stress. The finger print system will, no doubt, be taken up by the local and Provincial authorities. Upon these finger prints may cling some clue to the party or parties who committed the deed.

WHAT BOY LOOKED LIKE.

The boy found murdered near Cainsville this morning may be a stranger or he may not be. He was about 14 years old, and stood 4 feet 4 inches in height. His eyes were blue and his hair of a dark brown hue. He was of plump stature. He had been used to going bare-footed, his feet showing the effects of the practice. His arms were tanned, showing him to have been used to outdoor work, probably on a farm. His complexion was fair. There was something distinctive about the boy.

Marten's Bend, who stated that he was on his way to Cainsville with a load of hay, and when passing the Tottle farm noticed the form of a boy lying in the ditch. Mr. Misner stated that he got off the load and looked at the corpse and then drove on until he met Mr. Herb Clark, short one in particular, is an automobile distance up the road, and told him track, which has the appearance of a car with one smooth tire and one corrugated tire. Residents in the vicinity along the roads leading to it report having heard nothing out of the usual during the night or early morning. Rigs and automobiles were heard passing early in the evening, which is not an everyday occurrence, but not during the night or early morning.

As far as can be learned, no one saw or heard anything that would give a clue to the person or persons who murdered or murderers evidently had their plans well laid, for he or they took the boy to the spot, cut his throat, which stifled him, and then mutilated his body.

There were several tracks along the road where the murder occurred, and one in particular, is an automobile track, which has the appearance of a car with one smooth tire and one corrugated tire. There were several foot prints and wagon tracks. The footprints track walking to and from rigs to view the remains.

SOCIETY LEADER IS FOUND DEAD

Taken From River With Knotted Rope About Her Neck.

CHICAGO, Sept. 9.—The body of Mrs. Walter B. Smith, society leader, daughter of Hiram R. McCullough, vice-president of the traffic department of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, and daughter-in-law of Byron L. Smith, millionaire president of the Northern Trust Company and granddaughter of Marvin Hughitt, former president of the Chicago & Northwestern Railroad, was found in Lake Michigan near the city park, Lake Forest, this afternoon. A rope was knotted tightly about the woman's neck. On the beach was a small mound of sand painstakingly decorated with flowers.

Suicide was credited by the police as the only theory for the mysterious death. The body was discovered floating close to the shore about 2.30 o'clock by A. J. Henningsen of Lake Forest. He called a policeman, who rescued it from the water.

For nearly three hours profound mystery shrouded the identity of Mrs. Smith. She was richly dressed, but could disclose her identity. After 5 o'clock, when the police were mad with excitement over the baffling case, Miss Mary Wehban identified the woman as Mrs. Smith.

Aside from the evidence found on the shore of the lake, absolutely no clue was left to substantiate any theory for the strange death.

Mrs. Smith, formerly Florence McCullough, was married to Walter B. Smith, June 6, 1905. The wedding was one of the most fashionable events of the season.

Walter B. Smith, husband of the dead woman, scents the suicide story. He said:

"I believe it is murder, pure and simple. She was the happiest woman in the world, and well poised. A woman of her mental calibre could not be so easily misled. I intend to have the best detectives in the world to solve the mystery."

Social and Personal

Sheriff Snider of Simcoe is in the city.

Mr. and Mrs. Wm. Wilson, of Ingersol, formerly of Brantford, announce the engagement of their elder daughter, Annie, to Mr. Chester Nelson, of Ingersol. The marriage will take place quietly the middle of the month.

A very enjoyable corn roast was held at Mohawk Park last evening by the girls of Caldwell & Beckett's and their friends. The first thing was the setting of the wood for the fire, which was soon done and in very short order had a fire blazing. The corn was then roasted and all sat down at one of the tables and did ample justice to it and also to the other eatables, which comprised watermelons and fruits of all kinds. The evening was then spent in dancing and riding the "bumps." All returned home at a late hour a very tired but pleased crowd.

OPENING OF THE GRAND.

May Robson will come to the Grand for the opening on Saturday, Sept. 13 in a new comedy, "Mrs. Mat Plummer," by James Forbes, author of "The Chorus Lady," "The Travelling Salesman," etc. It is said to be one of the big hits of the season—an absolute surprise. Its newest of theme, its airy comedy has a freshness about it that is delightfully exhilarating. The production is carried complete in every detail.

At the Apollo

One of the best programmes that has been offered at the Grand Theatre goes in some time is being presented at the Apollo for the first three days of this week, and was well rewarded by attendance and applause last night. Everybody was of the same opinion at the close of the show, that they had seen something well worth while. McKie and MacRae, the two Scotch Mac's present the greatest Scotch comedy act ever seen here, and were forced to respond to repeated applause. This act alone is well worth double the admission prices. The pictures shown show unmistakable signs of an excellent and careful selection; the Feature "Home Sweet Home," being the most beautiful photo play. The writer has had the privilege of seeing the balance of the program, fitting in perfectly. Six reels of educational, comedy and story pictures are shown, and the two machines do away with all unpleasant waits between reels.

UNCLAIMED LETTERS AT THE POST OFFICE

The following are the unclaimed letters at the post office: D. Miller, L. Courtnage, C. B. Arnold, Edwin P. Pratt, Geo. McNeil, Miss M. Hutchinson, Mrs. Dan O'Connor, G. W. Tacey, Miss B. CHILD LIKELY BURNED IN HOTEL AT TIMMINS

The Conflagration Threatened Whole Centre of Town.

TIMMINS, Ont., Sept. 9.—Fire yesterday cost the life of a child, and gutted several frame buildings, which comprise the first business section opened in Timmins in the early days. The loss is estimated at about $20,000. The town insurance rate is so high that it is believed very few of the losers had a cent on either their property or belongings.

The fire broke out in the upper storey of the Ottawa House, a frame hotel, and got a good start before it was discovered. A stiff wind was blowing, and the entire centre of the town appeared at one time to be in danger. The fire swept through the frame shells of buildings with great rapidity, and in a twinkling the entire block on Railway Street, which faces the T. & N. O. sheds, was in danger. The town was fortunate in having a good water supply, and with three streams the volunteer brigade fought bravely and managed to confine the fire to the section in which it broke out.

The child, which is believed to be buried in the debris of the Ottawa House, could not be found after the fire broke out, and was no doubt trapped in some portion of the burning building. It has not been seen since.

Considerable Looting Done

Sam Bucovitsky, whose jewellery store was in the fire zone, managed to get out a considerable of his stock, but he lost heavily from looting.

A complete list of the buildings lost is not obtainable. The Goldfields Hotel, the finest building in the town, was saved.

Military Notes

There was considerable activity at the armories last night. The recruit class was held, arrangements were being made for a signalling class, company meetings were held and other military matters were receiving attention.

An excellent recruit class was held twenty being in attendance. The class was put through squad, arm, and company drill.

Capt. Ford, District Signalling Officer, was at the armories last night arranging for a signalling class. The course will be of six weeks' duration and open to members of the regiment and B.C.I. cadets.

F and G company will shoot at the Ranges on Saturday. Any other men wishing to shoot Saturday may do so as there is plenty of accommodation.

F company is offering prizes to the amount of $50 and they will be on exhibition in Pequegnat's window by Thursday. Fighting F will provide lunch at the ranges.

D company held a meeting last evening at the armories last night arrangements for fall drill were made. The company is forty strong. Several new recruits have been added to the strength of the company. Several more will join its ranks.

E company will shoot at the ranges on the 20th.

Tuesday night Sergt. Instructor Coleman will commence classes for lieutenants and Captains.

Tuesday and Thursday night the class for subalterns will be held and Wednesday night the class for captains.

Girl Jumped Into River, Rescued by Young Men

She Had Been Acting Strangely of Late and May Be Deported.

GUELPH, Sept. 9.—Miss Kennedy, a maid employed at the Homewood Sanitarium, narrowly escaped a watery grave in the River Speed this morning.

Darley Naggs and Harold Cass, two young men noticed a woman wading out into the river from the opposite side. There was an old boat near at hand, and the boys jumped into it and started to the rescue. When they got to her she was beyond her depth and floundering in the water. Young Naggs caught hold of her clothes, and Cass paddled the boat. When near the shore, Naggs jumped out of the boat and dragged her ashore.

Miss Kennedy is one of a number of English girls who are employed as maids at the Homewood Sanitarium. Dr. Hobbs stated that she had been acting strangely for some time past. She may be deported, having only been here since last January.

MARKET REPORTS

CHICAGO, Sept. 8.—Corn today rose to a new high price for the season in the December option and narrowly missed a new high level in other futures. Inadequacy of yield from drought and heat was largely responsible. The close, the year, showed an advance of 3/8c to 1 1/2c net. Other leading cereals, too, made gains—wheat, 1/4c to 1/2c, and oats, 1/4c to 1/2c. In provisions, the outcome varied from 1/2c decline to 17 1/2c advance. The Liverpool market closed 1/4c to 1/2c lower on wheat, and 1/4c lower on corn.

HELPLESS CRIPPLE FROM RHEUMATISM

Toronto Lady Took "Fruit-a-lives" And Cured Herself.

A HOME PLACE, TORONTO, Ont., Dec. 15th, 1909. "I was a helpless cripple from Rheumatism for nearly a year. All down the right side, the pain was dreadful and I could not move for the agony. I was treated by two physicians without benefit. I saw 'Fruit-a-lives' advertised and decided to try them. After taking one box, I was much better. When I had taken three boxes, I could use my arm and the pain was almost gone. After taking five boxes, I was entirely well again. The cure of my case by 'Fruit-a-lives' was indeed splendid because all the doctors failed to even relieve me. Mrs. LIZZIE BAXTER. See a box, 6 for $2.50—trial size, 25c. IS WORKING WELL

There was a time not so many years ago in Ontario when families were prone to regard it somewhat of a disgrace if one of their members happened to be unfortunate enough to be taken to one of the provincial asylums for the insane. The modern idea is that insanity is not a disgrace but simply a disease, and, as such, requires expert treatment which can be secured at a government institution. In this regard modern thought has undergone a sensible change.

So it is in another way, namely in the treatment of the disease known as drunkenness. Men who have seen themselves falling rapidly from the respect of even their closest friends have consented to sign themselves over to the care of some recognized institution. There have been many cases of such nature with striking results for the good.

Another new way is coming into effect, although slowly. The "billed" list of many of our cities is becoming swelled by voluntary applicants, and in nearly every case the inspectors say it works out admirably. Formerly men who have been put on the prohibited list against their will have resented it with spirit and the results have not been of the best. The world is growing wiser, however, even among those who have a weakness. When the man who voluntarily puts himself on the prohibited list in a city like Brantford where the enforcement is so good, he can pretty nearly make up his mind that he is going on the "water wagon" for the entire year for which he has been "billed". The idea that there should be any stigma attached to the new and voluntary status he has taken upon himself is all wrong. The man deserves credit. He has only done what thousands of men make up their minds to do and carry out without the necessity of surrounding themselves with the additional safeguard of the law.

TRANSPORTATION IMPROVED

According to present indications the wheat crop of 1913 will be one of the greatest ever harvested in Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta and the government is performing its duty in seeing that this crop will be properly handled at the head of the lakes. What the government has done towards that work has been told by Professor Magill, chairman of the Dominion Grain Commission, while in Ottawa. He said:

"As far as the Government is concerned, conditions were never so good for handling the grain crop at the head of the lakes as this year. By the close of navigation there will be no less than 40,000,000 bushels storage capacity at Fort William and Port Arthur, which is no less than 12,000,000 bushels more than last year.

"The new Government-owned elevator is now completed and the machinery is being installed at the present time, so that it will likely be opened by October 1, and will be ready to handle its share of this year's crop. It has a capacity for three-quarters of a million in the work house and two and a half millions in the storage bins. This capacity can easily be doubled or trebled by adding more bins, and in fact, we have room for elevator space of some 30,000,000 bushels. We have splendid concrete docks for loading which are also ready, so that the government will this year be able to handle its fair share of the West's yield.

"We have strengthened our inspection department and have generally increased what might be called our technical force so that as far as the Government facilities for handling the crop are concerned they have never been in better shape."

Prof. Magill pointed out that the elevator companies were for a number of years uncertain as to the future of the business and there was little increase in the storage capacity. There has been a restoration of confidence and, in addition to the Government elevator, the C. P. R., G. T. P., C. N. R., Fort William Elevator Company, and other concerns were erecting this year new buildings so that the total increase in storage facilities will be around 12,000,000 bushels.

The tenders for the new interior elevators at Saskatoon and Moosejaw will be in on September 8. The grain commission will be in Ottawa at that time to pass on the tenders before the contract is let. It is expected that there will be probably ten tenders.

Work will be started on them this fall and it is expected to have them ready to help assist in handling the crop of 1914.

GOOD ROADS PAY

It pays to have good roads. The office of public roads in the United States Department of Agriculture, states that the expenditure of $250,000 on 24 per cent. of the roads in one county of Alabama was double the value of all the farm land in the county in ten years. In Virginia the value of a farm of 100 acres increased from $1,800 to $3,000 after the road bordering it had been improved.

These facts are more significant than many abstract arguments and should weigh with those responsible for the roads of this province. We gladly acknowledge that more attention is being paid in Brant to the road problem, but there is still plenty of room for improvement. Perhaps the saddest feature of this question is the neglect to finish roads properly. There has been an amount of good work done which lacks but a little of being excellent. Roads have been made which are well drained but which have no binder. As a result, they will begin to go to pieces much sooner than if a proper binder had been used. The latter easily repays what it costs. It saves a considerable expenditure on repairs and makes travelling more comfortable.

Apart from the great loss in tourist traffic this year, bad roads have cost the farmers much money even though the exceptionally dry season has made the loss less than it must otherwise have been.

THE PROSPEROUS WEST.

The Canadian West is "out of the woods." This popular metaphorical expression may not apply literally to our occidental fellow citizens, but it fits, nevertheless. Practically, the harvest is reaped, and it is a good harvest. The past few weeks have been a trying time to the farmers; what with peril of rains, peril of hail, and peril of frost, the anxiety has been great. But all these dangers, except in isolated instances, are fortunately overpast, and a splendid harvest that will probably total 200 million bushels, is now in process of threshing. This is a big crop and, judging by past experience, only the forerunner of greater yields. New areas will be continuously placed under crop and the opening of new fields of wheat and grain growing show that the grain-producing capacity of the Canadian West is infinite. The growth of wheat production has been rapid and the rate of increase is growing. In 1892 the whole yield of the West was only 14 1/2 million bushels. During the next ten years it increased at the rate of 4 1/2 millions a year, till, in 1902, it reached 53 millions. During the next ten years the increase was 14 1/2 millions a year till 1913, when the yield is estimated at 200 million bushels. If the same rate of increase is maintained—and it is likely to become greater—at the end of the next decade, 1922-3, the total yield of wheat in the Canadian West will be 350 million bushels. A crop like this year's will put the West on its feet, tend to relax the financial stringency, and to sweeten the somewhat bad odour the West has got through speculative wild-catting. Legitimate real estate is still sound, but there will be largely an end of the real estate shark, but not quite, for as the crop of fools and dupes is a permanent one there will be a field, if a comparatively limited one, for the operation of the conscienceless real estate agent. The West is sound yet. The pessimist who borrowed his gloom from "tight money" will discover the silver lining of the cloud; will find the banks that denied money for merely speculative schemes, will unloosen for every form of legitimate enterprise.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

Has any body here seen James Ray?

For a "boy wonder" Mackenzie King seems to be wonderfully quiet just now. Can he really be growing up?

North Grey, then East York, and soon a walking ticket for N. W. Rowell, the Opposition leader who doesn't lead.

It is some consolation to know that if ever the British Empire is in danger, Sir Wilfrid Laurier will rush to her defence with a speech.

The Laurier campaign for Canadian independence seems to have been laid aside till a more convenient season.

The Liberals are going about the country crying "blue ruin" and "hard times." The customs revenue returns are a good criterion of the prosperity of the country, and for the five months of the present fiscal year ended August 31 last, the revenue from customs alone was close upon fifty million dollars. This is an increase of close upon three and a half millions over the corresponding period last year. The half hearted politicians who are prating about hardships shut their eyes to the real condition of affairs.

The easy victory of the Conservative candidate in East York yesterday is a pretty good indication that the masses are satisfied with the honest and progressive government of Sir James Whitney at Queen's Park.

What the Other Fellow Thinks.

Better Than Wallingford

Amherst Daily News: In one of our large cities the other day a certain gentleman did quite a stroke in 24 hours which beats anything Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford has attempted. This is the list of what he accomplished: Bought a ranch for $20,000; raised the salary of the ranch foreman; purchased implements and stock; consulted local physicians for ailments; rode about the country at the expense of a local garage; took an option on a radium mine; gave contracts to carpenters to erect a $6000 house; contributed $100 to the W. C. T. U. and consulted one of the local clergy about improving the parsonage. Having done all these things he proceeded to cash cheques for large amounts in a drug store and placed a draft drawn on a Buffalo bank. Later he received the freedom of the town which included the right to spit tobacco juice all over the sidewalk. Then he departed. Business men grew suspicious and made inquiries. A telegram to the Buffalo bank brought the answer that he was unknown. He has not been heard of since.

Credit to the Jew

Toronto News: The Jewish Times complains that the Canadian press does not always give Jews credit where credit is due. For instance, the central figure at the recent International Medical Congress in England was Prof. Paul Ehrlich. He was termed by the press "the greatest benefactor to mankind of the age." Yet few papers, it is claimed, refer to the fact that the great medical savant is a Hebrew.

Universities and Politics

Regina Leader: A census of students leaving our Canadian colleges in any one year would probably show comparatively few of them with definite political views which they had established for themselves. They might scoff at the suggestion but it would in all likelihood be true, nevertheless, that their political views were inherited from their homes or their environment and records of our two parties. Yet, if the standard of Canadian politics is to be raised, it is essential that the men who have had the benefits of so-called higher education should be men of sound convictions, reached through their own thought and study. No one supposes that the petty squabbles, frothy charges and counter charges of politicians can be discussed in the class room, but at least, under professors of judgment, there could be consideration of party principles without opportunity being given for the charge that doctrines of either party were being preached in the colleges. If nothing more were done than to discuss the proper relations of the individual to the party, a considerable measure of good would be accomplished.

POLICE EXONERATED BY BERLIN JURY

Death Found Due to Rupture ---No Evidence of Abuse.

BERLIN, Ont., Sept. 9.—The inquest into the death of Joseph Griffin whose death occurred in the Berlin Waterloo Hospital last Thursday, which it was alleged was caused by being kicked in the abdomen by P. C. Meehan who arrested him on a charge of drunkenness was concluded here yesterday afternoon.

After hearing considerable evidence the jury decided that "Joseph Griffin came to his death from rupture of the bladder, cause of which is unknown; that no blame for said death can be attached to P. C. Meehan or P. C. Farrell."

A sworn statement of the deceased made a few days before his death was produced, in which Griffin alleged that he was kicked by P. C. Meehan as he was about to enter the cell.

Mrs. Griffin in her evidence deposed that the constable kicked her husband while taking him from the house. Chief O'Neill stated that deceased when in the police cells formed him that he had been kicked on the street while being escorted by the P. C.'s. Meehan and Farrell in their evidence emphatically denied that Griffin had been kicked or abused while being arrested.

A post-mortem examination showed that there was rupture of the bladder, but no evidence of his having been kicked or abused.

Coroner H. G. Lackner presided, D. S. Bowlby acted for the Crown, H. J. Sims for the police, and W. P. Clement for Mrs. Griffin.

REG. LLOYD-JONES; BRANTFORD BOY FIGURES IN PRETTY ROMANCE

(Los Angeles Examiner)

Still they come—those romantic surprises that are keeping local society in a continual flutter of pleasant excitement this summer.

And here is the crowning surprise of all: Miss Emma Conroy, daughter of Mrs. J. F. Conroy, who is now on her way down from Portland, is to be a bride within the next fortnight.

News of her engagement to Reginald Lloyd-Jones of Montreal has preceded her on the homeward journey the announcement being contained in a dispatch to her sister, Mrs. Bri Conroy Kelley. Mrs. Conroy is with her daughter and they are accompanied also by the prospective bridegroom, who is coming here for the marriage.

As yet friends and relatives in Los Angeles have not been apprised of any definite plans regarding the coming event and the date will be set after the travelers' arrival, but the general understanding is that two weeks will not elapse before Miss Conroy becomes a bride and in all probability the marriage will take place at the beautiful country home of the Conroys, near Lankershim, where the family has for some time been residing.

The story of the engagement, which is one of the season's most interesting, was circulated first, it seems, at the dinner which Miss Florence Wood fiancée of Joy Clark, gave Wednesday evening in honor of her own bridal party. That, indeed, was a memorable event, for not only was the engagement of Miss Barbara Stephens to Lieutenant Randolph Talcott Zane announced formerly, but Dame Rumor became very busy, so I hear, with the story that Miss Conroy was also soon to become a bride, while all the time Dan Cupid sat perched high upon the massive stair railing in that handsome reception hall of the Modini Wood home.

in St. James Park, and blinked his sparkling, sightless (?) eyes in a manner that suggested several more secrets which he could tell if he chose.

However, I am not intending to imply that any formal announcement of the Lloyd-Jones-Conroy engagement was made Wednesday night. That remained for this morning, when, it seems the story has quite passed beyond the jurisdiction of Dame Rumor.

Miss Conroy, who is a beautiful and charming young woman, with many admirers, has known no other home than Los Angeles, and so far as I can recall the family has lived since her earliest childhood in that same homey house at 500 West Thirtieth Street—that is, they were living there up to the time, less than a year ago, when they went to the Lankershim country place.

Mrs. Conroy, her daughter and the latter's fiancé are expected to reach Los Angeles Sunday and friends here are eagerly awaiting their arrival.

Mr. Lloyd-Jones, I believe, is a Canadian, prominent in the life of Montreal, and it is to that place that he will take his bride.

Mr. Lloyd-Jones is well known here and is a former B. C. I. boy. He is a son of the late Major Lloyd-Jones, of "The Oaks," Burford. His mother resides at 267 Park Ave., this city.

The marriage is taking place to-day in Los Angeles.

Local News

Board of Works Meet.
The board of works will meet in the Mayor Hartman's office in the City Hall this afternoon to prepare for the City Council meeting to-night.

Slight Damage.
While the buildings of Dr. Baugh, situated east of St. George were burning Saturday afternoon, the barn of Mr. George Patton, situated across the road, caught fire, the origin being a spark. Slight damage was done.

Colborne Street Epworth.
There was an exceptionally good attendance at the meeting of the Colborne St. Epworth League last night. Conservation service was observed. "The Ideal Christian—His Courage" was the subject of a paper given by Mr. Chas. Turnbull. Mr. George Humphries recited a solo in a very pleasing manner. Mr. Alex. Lockington occupied the chair.

City Council To-night.
Reports from the Buildings and Grounds committee and the Board of Works will be heard at the meeting of the City Council to-night. The most important portion of the board of works report is that dealing with the Brant Avenue pavement. The buildings and grounds committee will report on the Manselium scheme and several other matters.

S. A. Notes.
The flowers taken by the young people from their flower service on a recent Sunday afternoon at the S. A. Citadel and distributed amongst the sick ones throughout the city, were much appreciated by the patients. The several army handmen are improving nicely and a big welcome will be given them by their comrade handmen when they recover.

A Merry Time.
The B. Y. P. U. of Calvary Baptist Church opened last night by holding a corn roast on the banks of the canal, just below Mohawk Park, what promises to be a successful season. Fully 60 were in attendance and a real pleasant time was spent around the fire. The merry bunch certainly enjoyed themselves and the evening proved one that will be remembered.

Building Permits.
Building permits have been issued at the City Engineer's office to Jerry Wallace, Lawrence street, for the erection of a new building, brick and concrete addition to his residence and to the A. J. Reach Co., for the erection of a plant in Eagle Place. The Wallace permit was $200 out at $700 and the Reach permit at $5,000.

Oxford St. League.
The Epworth League of the St. Methodist church met last evening and the following members were elected: Honorary President, the pastor, Rev. Mr. Marshall; President, Mr. Dave McMillan; 1st Vice-President, Guy Grummett; Missionary, Miss Olive Robinson; Literary and Social, Miss B. Steele; Citizenship, Mr. Lewis Feely; Intermediate, Miss Glass; Junior, Mrs. A. Goodwin; Secretary, Miss Eva Grummett; Corresponding Secretary, Mr. A. Goodwin; Treasurer, Mr. James Wallace; Organist, Miss Olive Robinson.

Will Rebuild Right Away

Secretary Isaacs of the Marlborough Methodist church, which collapsed Thursday, said to-day that the work of rebuilding would commence within two weeks. "The wreck" has been cleared away.

Plans of the roof, showing its construction, will be prepared, and submitted to Building Inspector Bennett for his approval before the work is proceeded with. The approval of the Inspector must be secured before the work can go ahead.

Inspector Bennett visited the scene yesterday, and recommended that a plate 5 by 12 inches be used in the new building, and that the truss rods be put through the plate and secured by a washer and nut; and also that the plate be secured to the brick by means of iron rods running through the plate into the brick. The suggestion will likely be carried out.

Result is Uncertain.
PRINCE ALBERT, Sask., Sept. 9.—The bye-election in Cumberland, rendered necessary by the annulled deferred election took place yesterday. William Charles McKay again contested the riding in the Conservative interests and Deacon, the work is son of a former Hudson Bay Commissioner, contested the seat on behalf of the Liberals. The district is large and inaccessible and up to midnight no news had been received from the polls. Definite results will not be known for several days.

Aviator Killed.
BERLIN, Sept. 9.—Dr. Ringer, a German aviator, was killed to-day while competing for a distance prize to be awarded out of the national aviation fund, which is being raised through popular subscription.

The airman ascended from the aviation field at Johannisthal early this morning and after flying a few miles the machine fell to the ground from a height of 600 feet. The pilot was instantly killed.

Millinery Opening.
The Millinery Department will be open for business, Thursday, Sept. 11th. E. B. Crompton & Co.

Jerome Let Go With Apology

Quebec Magistrate Expressed Regret for Lawyer's Arrest.

COATICOOK, Que., Sept. 9.—William Travers Jerome was acquitted last night of the charge of having gambled on Thursday last on the station property of the Grand Trunk Railway here while waiting for the immigration authorities to pass on the case of Harry K. Thaw. In discharging him the court apologized for the humiliation to which he had been subjected.

The hearing before Magistrate Henry Mulvena of Sherbrooke, lasted less than an hour. It began at 7:35 o'clock and at 8:20 the court said: "Sir, you are honorably discharged." The townspeople packed the courtroom like sardines when the hearing was opened. Every bench was taken, every inch of standing room was occupied, the throng of looks, grins, and subdued remarks was plainly hostile.

A. C. Hanson, joint Crown prosecutor, opened the case with the reading of a complaint of Milford Aldrich, a mill hand, who swore that he had seen the defendant playing at cards for money at the railway station. Statutes were quoted to show that this was an indictable offence punishable with a year's imprisonment.

Samuel Jacobs of Montreal, who had been retained by the State of New York in its effort to "retire" Thaw to Vancouver, contended that the statute applied only to gambling on a public conveyance proper. The court took this question under advisement and called for witnesses.

An Inexcusable Act.
After two witnesses had testified to seeing Jerome playing poker in an automobile in the railway yards, Magistrate Mulvena leaned back and pondered for not more than 30 seconds. "In rendering judgment," he said, "I shall be very brief. I believe every right-minded man in Canada regrets and feels the humiliation at the indignity which has been placed upon you. It is excusable neither in law nor in fact. The evidence adduced at this hearing gives no reasons for the charge which was laid against you nor for the indignities which you have suffered."

"I believe, sir in all the circumstances, you will not attribute the apparent offence offered you while in a friendly country in the discharge of your duty as a public officer to the real thinking people of this community. You are, sir, honorably discharged."

Mr. Jerome Understands.
Dead silence greeted the conclusion of the court's remarks. Then Mr. Jerome stood up.

"You may feel assured, your Lordship," he said, "that I understand thoroughly the circumstances of this case. Since I have been in Canada I have been received with uniform courtesy in Sherbrooke, in Montreal, and, I may say, in Coaticook—by the thinking people. I am sure those who have been intemperate have been misled rather by ignorance of the facts than by any real malice."

"I shall always remember my visit to Canada with great pleasure. This case has been something of a humiliation for me, but I do not feel I have been humiliated before the thoughtful people here."

There was a subdued outburst of cheering when Jerome sat down, but the cheers were drowned by hisses and cat calls. Magistrate Mulvena called for order, and the crowd filed out of the room. Jerome went to the station and bought a ticket for Island Pond, Vt., where he will pick up his automobile and motor to New York by way of Albany.

Franklin Kenney, Deputy Attorney General, accompanied him.

Harry Thaw, in the detention room near the railway station, heard the news of his old opponent's acquittal almost immediately.

"That's good," he said. "It saves me $250." This remark referred to the fact that Thaw had magnanimously offered to make 2000 any loss sustained by Andrew Rousseau, a local hotel keeper, and one of the two sureties in Jerome's $500 bond. It has not been decided when Thaw would be removed to Montreal.

The Prelude.
Lawyer Joseph Beaulne and 80-year-old Justice of the Peace James McKee so mixed up the hearing in the case against Jerome that District Magistrate Henry Mulvena, who had come here from Sherbrooke in his automobile, 23 miles, for the purpose, refused to preside, and adjournment was taken until last night. For 45 minutes counsel wrangled and hurled suggestions of crooked work. Jerome smiled, the crowd in the court room slightly decreased and hissed, and Magistrate Mulvena declared he had been brought here under false pretences.

Jerome had come to Coaticook from Montreal on an understanding that his case, set for hearing on Thursday, September 11, had been advanced to to-day, and that Justice of the Peace McKee, who signed the original complaint, had agreed that Magistrate Mulvena should preside, accompanying Jerome was Samuel Jacobs, of Montreal, who has been retained by New York State in the Thaw case. When the crowd jammed its way into the little court room about 4:30 o'clock neither side was able to produce any formal statement from Justice McKee that he had authorized Magistrate Mulvena to sit; the complainant, Milford Aldrich, a mill hand, could not be found, and John Andrews, the constable, who arrested Jerome, was missing.

"This is a most extraordinary state of affairs," said the court icily. "I was led to believe that this case had been formally handed over to me. I made a long automobile trip to get here. I have apparently been brought here under false pretences."

The spectators, of whom there were probably 200, stamped in approval. "Silence," roared the court. "If there is the slightest demonstration hereafter, I shall order the court cleared and hold these proceedings in camera. Now I demand to know, has or has not Justice of the Peace McKee finally authorized me to preside?" "No, not formally," said A. C. Hanson, joint prosecutor appearing against Jerome. "Last night he said he would, to-day he said he would not."

He Wouldn't Budge.
The court turned to Jacob Nichol and Hector Verret, of counsel for Jerome. "What have you to say, gentlemen?" he asked.

"I was assured," said Verret. "So was I, your Honor," said Nichol.

"Bring the Justice here," interrupted Mr. Jacobs.

"We won't budge," said Hanson.

Here M. Beaulne arose.

"This case cannot proceed," he said emphatically. "I represent the complainant, Aldrich, and he is not here. I also represent Justice and the Criminal Code."

Disgrace to Province

Who is this man who represents Justice and the Criminal Code?

"Who is this man who represents Justice and the Criminal Code?" demanded Jacobs. "We insist that this case go on. It is of great importance to us. Mr. Jerome has just made a special trip from Montreal to answer to a baseless charge made by a mill hand, and the mill hand can't be found. Neither can the constable who arrested him. This is a disgrace to the Province and to the Dominion, and the Attorney General should interfere. My client is charged with being a common gambler, and this has been flashed over the wires to the four corners of the earth. We demand that this complainant and this constable be held in contempt of court."

"That cannot be done," said Magistrate Mulvena, "for the court is not sitting."

M. Beaulne arose again, tapping an open page of the code with his forefinger. "The code," he began, "is French."

"Sit down," said the court. "I know the code."

"Your Honor," pleaded Mr. Jacobs, "this is making Coaticook the laughing stock of the Dominion. As members of the Bar we should sift this matter to the bottom at once."

He turned to Mr. Hanson. "Will you have a copy of the complaint here at 7 o'clock?" he asked.

"M. Meaulne seems to be running the case," said Hanson.

"We must have an understanding now as to whether he is in charge or I am," he continued. "I suggest you settle that between yourselves and come back at 7 o'clock," said the court.

Jerome sat through the proceedings looking straight at the magistrate without a word. At times he bit his lips to hold back the laughter.

MURDER MYSTERY IN NEW YORK

NEW YORK, Sept. 9.—The police and the newspapers continued to-day to bend every effort towards establishing the identity of the murdered girl, parts of whose body were found on Friday and Saturday on the New Jersey shore of the Hudson River.

The strongest clue yet turned up is the discovery that the pillow ticking in which one portion of the girl's torso was found, was sold by George Sachs, who runs a second-hand furniture store at the corner of Eighth avenue and 147th street. From the factory in Newark, where the pillow was made it was further learned that the only sale of this particular style of pillow thus far have been made to Sachs and the latter's record showed that he had disposed of only two of the pillow. One he remembers distinctly of having sold to a hatless woman as far back as last April and from his books he verified that the sale was made on April 22. The woman was poorly dressed and it is believed she was living in the neighborhood. Sachs could not recall the sale of another of these pillows, but his stock showed that two were missing. The fact that the pillow was bought in New York further confirms the theory that the murder was committed in this city rather than in New Jersey.

Although yesterday's autopsy seemed to show that the young woman had been cut to pieces while yet alive, it could not be determined whether she was conscious at the time she was assaulted. It seemed certain, however, that no drugs had been used.

THE FIFTH RACE WAS A FLUKEY CONTEST

Cima is Now Tied With the Ellen for the Wilson Cup.

MARBLEHEAD, Mass., Sept. 9.—The fifth sander yacht race in the German-American series from which the Germans have been eliminated, failed yesterday to settle the awards of the principal trophies for the Cima, owned by Guy Lowell, of Boston captured another fluky, drifting contest, and tied the Ellen, owned by C. P. Curtis, in the struggle for the President Wilson Cup.

The two yachts with two wins each for this big cup will sail the sixth and last race to-day and the loser will receive the second prize, the Governor Foss Trophy.

Although it was said yesterday that international sander yachting would cease with the present series, there are still a number of American yachtsmen who believe that this type of boat is productive of much good sport and there is talk of sending another American sander trio to Germany in 1916.

NEW YORK WON FROM BROOKLYN

Marquard Pitched a Winning Game for M'Graw's Giants.

LITTLE ENGLAND IDEAS DISCARDED

Says British Liberalism Now Has Distinctly Imperialistic Tinge.

WINNIPEG, Sept. 9.—If you are proud to be members of the British Empire, as I believe you are, we in the mother country are no less proud to count you as such.

Pointing out that the English Liberal party had discarded "Little Englandism," and that "Colden" had never determined the policy of that party, he emphasized the fact that the age when the dominions or the colonies used to be regarded with indifference in the old country had passed absolutely.

The people of Great Britain were cordially in sympathy with the vigorous and active democracies in the new countries, and he was convinced that when Ireland got home rule we might see the people of that country as proud of the empire, as sympathetic to the great dominions, and rendering as useful service as any other portion of the United Kingdom.

East York Government Candidate Had an Easy Time of it.

TORONTO, Sept. 9.—East York electors again endorsed the administration of the Whitney Government yesterday by electing George S. Henry, former warden of York, to the Legislature, succeeding Alex. McGowan, the new sheriff of York.

The vote was light, about 1,000 fewer votes being recorded than in the general election of 1911. Henry, having a majority of 616 over Albert Chamberlain with a few scattered polling places to hear from.

ARE WORTH THEIR WEIGHT IN GOLD

What Jas. Ferguson Says of Dodd's Kidney Pills Quebec Man Cured of Backache, Rheumatism and Headache, Voices General Sentiment in Regard to Greatest of Canadian Remedies.

SELLARVILLE, Bonaventure Co., Que., Sept. 8.—(Special)—"I can say Dodd's Kidney Pills are worth their weight in gold."

"I have taken Dodd's Kidney Pills," Mr. Ferguson continues, "for backache, stiffness of the joints, rheumatism and headache, and found them as represented."

"I cannot say too much in praise of Dodd's Kidney Pills, and give my full permission to have my name published in regard to them."

People who have been sick and cured, want to tell of it. They are grateful to the remedy that gave them back their health. They want their friends to know just how their ills can be cured.

That is why, from one end of Canada to the other, people are talking of Dodd's Kidney Pills. They cure kidney disease, and kidney disease is the root of the great majority of diseases to which the Canadian people are heir.

Dodd's Kidney Pills cure backache, lumbago, rheumatism, gravel, diabetes, heart disease and Bright's disease, because any and all of these spring from diseased kidneys.

Hospital Probe On at Hamilton

HAMILTON, Ont., Sept. 8.—Before Judge Snider to-day at the hospital inquiry, Mrs. Robinson, a resident of Mount Hamilton, told the circumstances in connection with the death of her child, which was being treated for diphtheria.

Her doctor told her the child was making good progress and should be home in a short time. Then one night the boiler in the steam tent bubbled over and the child was scalded. Three days later it was dead.

At this moment the servant brought in coffee, saying in his master's ear that Miss Jocelyn had gone to bed with a slight headache.

With Edged Tools

By Henry Seton Merriman, Copyright, 1894, by Harper & Bros.

At dinner Victor Durново was quite charmed with the interest that Jocelyn took in the exposition, of which, as we have said to be understood, he was the chief.

"Well," said Maurice, when Jocelyn had left them, "I suppose you'll be a millionaire in about six months?"

"He gently pushed the wine toward him at the same time. Durново had not slept for forty hours. The excitement of his escape from the plague ridden camp had scarcely subsided.

"Not so soon as that," he said, "but in time—in time."

"Lucky beggar!" muttered Maurice Gordon, with a little sigh.

"I don't mind telling you," said Durново, with a sudden change of countenance, "that I can't tell you more."

"Simiacine," repeated Gordon, frowning at the stem of his wineglass and looking at him keenly between the candle shades.

"By Jove, I wish I had a hand in it!" Maurice Gordon pushed the decanter again—gently, almost surreptitiously, and so you may, some day, You help me and I'll help you—that is my ticket. Reciprocity—reciprocity, my dear Maurice."

"Can't tell you now, but I will in good time—in my own time. Come, let's join and put it in his hand."

WOMAN TOOK FRIEND'S ADVICE

And Found Health in Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Windom, Kansas.—"I had a displacement which caused bladder trouble and I was so miserable I didn't know what to do. I suffered from bearing down pains, my eyes hurt me, I was nervous, dizzy and irregular and had female weakness. I spent money on doctors but got worse all the time."

"A friend told me about the Pinkham remedies and I took Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and was cured. I cannot praise your remedies enough for I know I never would have been well if I had not taken it."

Consider Well This Advice. No woman suffering from any form of female troubles should lose hope until she has given Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound a fair trial.

This famous remedy, the medicinal ingredients of which are derived from native roots and herbs, has for nearly forty years proved to be a most valuable tonic and invigorator of the female organism.

If you want special advice write to Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential) Lynn, Mass. Your letter will be opened, read and answered by a woman and held in strict confidence.

NO DRINKING MAN NEED DESPAIR

The Neal Cure—Greatest of All Modern Discoveries—Offers a Means of Escape from the Curse of Drink. A cure of the Drink Habit is Guaranteed in Three Days no Matter Whether the Patient is a Hard and Constant Drinker, Social Tippler or Goes on Occasional Sprees.

There was wandering in the streets of Toronto lately a homeless man, who at one time held a splendid position, but drink was his downfall.

Here is an opportunity for REFORMATION SOCIETIES for INEBRIATES or any institution for the reformation of the drunkard, to test our ability to change the hard drinker into a new man, physically and mentally, in THREE DAYS' treatment.

We invite these Societies or any institution interested in the poor drunkard and the problem of dealing with him, to send us for treatment any victim of the drink habit, it makes no difference how much enslaved, and we guarantee to effect a cure in each and every case.

But this home which was made a hell on earth through strong drink—as every drunkard's is—may be made into a heaven upon earth, as many have been made, as a result of the Neal Treatment.

We undertake to guarantee to effect a cure of the Drink Habit in Three Days, no matter whether the patient is a hard and constant drinker, social tippler, or goes on occasional sprees.

With the City Police

A wage case, a number of drunks and one or two other cases of more or less importance occupied the attention of Magistrate Livingston in the police court this morning and the session was a decidedly brief one when compared with that of yesterday, which lasted until late in the afternoon.

A charge of non-payment of wages preferred by Ada Teeple, a domestic, against Adam Prouse, was the foundation of the most lengthy case on this morning's docket. The amount of the claim was $11.25, but Prouse declared that the girl had not earned that amount, being off duty on account of sickness for one week, and at other times refusing to do work which she had been asked to do. She also left before her time was up. Prouse was willing to pay her $6.70. A lengthy argument took place between counsel for defendant and Magistrate Livingston, regarding the present-day wages for domestic help. His Worship expressing the opinion that it was only fair to pay a girl her wages for the time she had been on the sick list.

His decision was that Prouse should pay the girl $9.25.
A Gentleman Drunk. "I was brought up a gentleman sir," said Wm. McLoud, a Hamiltonian, when charged with being drunk and disorderly. "This is my first appearance in the police court."

McLoud sported a beautiful black eye as a reminder of his spree and help which he had been asked to do. She also left before her time was up. Prouse was willing to pay her $6.70. A lengthy argument took place between counsel for defendant and Magistrate Livingston, regarding the present-day wages for domestic help. His Worship expressing the opinion that it was only fair to pay a girl her wages for the time she had been on the sick list.

Two other drunks were disposed of in a similar manner. On condition that he would either take the horse to pasture or down to the glue works as Magistrate Livingston advised, the charge of cruelty to animals, preferred against Adam Aird was dismissed. The claim of the police was that Aird was driving a horse over the sidewalk.

He Helped Himself. "I didn't give him no liquor, he just helped himself," said Mrs. Edith Phippe when charged with giving liquor to a "billed" man, although she admitted that the person in question had secured a quantity of the "O be Joyful" in her house. Magistrate Livingston expressed the opinion that all was not right down at the Phippe home and before suspending sentence he warned the accused that she had better be more careful regarding who did and did not get booze while guests at her home.

The case against Thornton's Limited, charged with a breach of the health by-law, was once more adjourned.

One Theory For the Murder

One theory is being advanced for the murder of Charlie Dawson. A lively boy, full of sport, and prank, did he engage some friends in some boish way and thereby have the awful visitation of death come upon him from foreign hands? The theory is strongly held by the police at work on the case.

A Western Suicide. MacLeod, Alta., Sept. 9.—With a bullet from a revolver through his head the body of James Patterson, one of the most widely known cattle men in Canada, was found on I. Franklin's ranch, eighteen miles south of MacLeod. The authorities consider it a case of suicide. Patterson was 62 years of age, and was born in Texas he is said to have brought the first big herd of cattle in Alberta thirty years ago. For six years he was inspector of brands at the west-end stockyards in Winnipeg, and was judge of the fancy and trick roping at the recent stampede in Winnipeg.

Agnes—"Where did you get the new shirt dress?"
Charlie—"It is my old hobby; I got the shirt in it stepping from a street car this morning"—Youngstown Telegram.

NOTICE

Miss Squire will resume her classes in Elocution, Oratory and Dramatic Art. Monday, October 6th, Studio 12 Peel street.

CLOSING OF THE STORES TOMORROW

The grocers and butchers will close at 1 o'clock on Wednesday, Sept. 10th for their annual picnic. This will be the last half holiday this season.

PHILOSOPHICAL PHOENIX AND THE WEATHER

PROBS. TORONTO, Sept. 9.—A marked cool wave covers Ontario and Quebec while an energetic depression is situated in the western provinces. Showers and thunderstorms are occurring from Alberta to Manitoba and rain has fallen heavily in the Maritime Provinces.

Forecasts. Fresh northeast to east winds, fine and cool. Wednesday fresh east to south winds, fall followed by showers in some localities at night.

Horrible Murder

(Continued from Page 1) HEARD A RUMOR. Mr. Dawson heard rumors this morning of a boy being murdered and became very uneasy and began to make enquiries.

He was given a description of the boy who was murdered and the clothing he wore.

THE DESCRIPTIONS. The descriptions of the boy which were given to Mr. Dawson, and of the clothing he wore were very much like his son and he became very much alarmed and immediately proceeded to the undertaking establishment.

The father viewed the bloody remains and was so excited and under such a mental strain and the he was not quite sure whether it was his son or not.

TOOK BELT HOME. The father took the belt off the boy's coat and took it home and showed it to his wife who identified it as the one belonging to their son's suit.

The blood in the meantime was washed off the murdered boy's face and when Mr. Dawson returned he identified the child as his son, Charles.

TO POLICE HEADQUARTERS. After again viewing the remains the father, accompanied by High Constable Kerr and Constable Merrell, proceeded to the police headquarters.

THE MOTHER PROSTRATED. When the sad news was conveyed to the child's mother, she was prostrated, and is now bordering on a state of collapse.

Everybody liked Charlie Dawson in Echo Place. He was as genial and well-liked as any boy in the district. He was a great favorite with all who knew him.

Echo Place residents were shocked to-day when they heard the murdered boy was Charlie. They could not believe it. The boy didn't have an enemy on earth. The fact that it was he who was murdered gave stronger effect to the belief that the deed was one of a maniacal fiend.

Thaw Case Development

COATCOOK, Que., Sept. 9.—William Travers Jerome, acquitted last night on a charge of gambling, was the chief topic of discussion to-day among the 3,000 odd residents of Coatcook, though opinion was divided as to the verdict. However, the scathing remarks of Magistrate Mulvena, who apologized to Jerome for the indignity offered him, and declared that the charge had been justified by neither law nor fact, had a sobering effect, and even those who had been most bitterly opposed to Jerome in his efforts to get Harry K. Thaw back to Mattawan, were inclined to admit that the court action had cleared the air and straightened out a situation which might have grown embarrassing.

Accompanied by Deputy Attorney-General Kennedy, Jerome was on his way to Albany, N.Y., by motor today. He will drop Kennedy at Albany on his way down to New York, returning to Montreal by rail on Sunday next preparatory to Thaw's production Monday before the King's Bench on a writ of habeas corpus.

The arguments on the writ mark the beginning of a legal battle of many weeks, and even months duration.

Thaw is biding his time patiently in the immigration penitentiary here, apparently contented in the thought that his lawyers are doing all in their power to block his return to the asylum. His stenographer sees him every day, but Thaw seems to have dropped his publicity campaign. The need of spreading sentiment in Vermont, for one thing, is not so immediate as it was a few days ago, and it is understood that Thaw's lawyers told him he must desist.

It was cold and raw in Coatcook to-day and few gathered at the station in the hope of getting a glimpse of the prisoner through his windows. He will have been here a week to-morrow and the curiosity of the townspeople have been more or less satisfied. Few flowers have been sent to him here, although the pro-Thaw feeling was much more in evidence than in Sherbrooke, where his cell was banked with flowers daily.

F. E. Williams, the immigration officer left in charge of the fugitive said to-day that if he had his way, he would take Thaw to Montreal at night on a regular train. A special train would attract too much attention, he said, and on a regular train at night we could place him in a berth at once without any fuss or feathers. I have received no word from Ottawa as to when we are to move on. But if the Thaw lawyers want him in Montreal a few days before the writ is to be argued, I must, the department would grant its permission.

Mrs. Thaw Arrives. MONTREAL, Sept. 9.—The arrival of Mrs. M. Copeley Thaw, mother of the slayer of Stanford White, was the only new development in the Thaw case to-day. Mrs. Thaw came through from Cresson, Pa., last night and was met here on arrival at the station by her daughter, Mrs. George Lauder Carnegie, and taken at once to the Ritz-Carlton Hotel, in a limousine.

Mrs. Thaw declined to see representatives of the press. N. K. Leflamme, K.C., and I. N. Greenhalgh, K.C., of the Thaw counsel, held a conference this morning, and it was announced that a conference between these lawyers, and the members of the Thaw family here will be held some time to-day.

HALDANE IS DELIGHTED WITH WESTERN TRIP. Canadians and Americans Vied With Each Other In Hospitality, He Said.

FISHGUARD, Sept. 9.—Viscount Haldane and Miss Haldane arrived on the Lusitania yesterday afternoon. The Chancellor gave an account of his general impression of his brief visit to the United States and Canada. "Our reception," Viscount Haldane said, "was of the most cordial nature. We met nothing but almost overwhelming kindness and attentions. The Americans and Canadians seemed to vie with each other in this respect, but the most impressive feature of the visit was the remarkable unanimity at the great meeting in Montreal. After it was over a very distinguished American made the remark that we seem to be the people of to-day, and the statement was no exaggeration of the obvious sentiment of the thousands who were assembled. The enthusiasm with which the King's message was received by Canadians and Americans alike was very striking. Viscount Haldane had not seen any English expressions of opinion of his remarkable address on higher nationality delivered in Montreal. He learned with pleasure of the cordial welcome it received on this side of the Atlantic. The Chancellor was asked whether he did not think that there was an unwritten code which was traditional to the Teutonic no less than to the English-speaking nations, and sufficiently strong to bind them together, but he laughingly declined to commit himself, replying: "We escaped the tail of a great storm on leaving New York, fortunately only coming in for the backwash of it."

If you would save money never bet on a sure thing.

False Evidence Given In Liquor Prosecutions

Three Are Held for Perjury and Subordination of Perjury. CLINTON, Sept. 9.—As a result of a preliminary hearing here before Police Magistrate Andrews, George Burns, formerly of Bayfield, and two minors belonging to Clinton families, are out on bail on charges of perjury and subordination of perjury. It is the outcome of a case laid by Inspector G. Johnson against James Reynolds, proprietor of the British Exchange Hotel, Goderich, for selling to minors, which was tried on August 25 at Goderich, when the boys swore that they were not served with any liquor on the day mentioned. Since then to Inspector Johnson and Provincial Constable Whitesides the boys have made a signed statement to the effect that their evidence given before the magistrate in Goderich was false, and that they procured liquor in three other Goderich hotels the same day. Burns was arrested by Constable Whitesides on the charge of subordination of perjury and lodged in the Clinton lock-up. At his request an adjournment was made till next Monday. The boys are committed for trial. Bail was furnished by W. Elliott, W. R. Counter, Dan Giddon and Jas. Leves. Crown Attorney Hayes of Goderich, conducted the prosecution.
