

TERRIFIC BATTLE IS IMMINENT ON THE EASTERN FRONT British Continue Advance on Somme Front, Making Further Progress

GREATEST BATTLE IN HISTORY OF WORLD IS ABOUT TO BE STAGED

Eastern Front Will Soon be Scene of Terrific Encounter Between Teuton Forces and Russian Army, Which Has Already Gained Considerable Ground in That Region

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Oct. 21.—The London correspondent of the Tribune cables as follows:

The greatest battle in the world's history is about to be staged on the eastern front, in the opinion of high military officials here. After months of manoeuvring, nearly seven millions of men have come to grips along the almost unbroken front from Riga to the Danube. Hand to hand fighting of the most violent character is going on on the whole length of the 900 mile line. The next three weeks will probably see the climax of this struggle.

So far there is no inclination of a definite result, though the Russians unquestionably are slowly gaining ground. The chief Russian movement seems to aim at the envelopment of Hallez from the north, and the cutting of Teuton lines of communications between that stronghold and Lemberg. That the attack of the Czar's troops are succeeding in slashing the enemy's defenses at some points is indicated in no uncertain manner by the sudden and hurried transfer of the German third guards division to the Hallez sector from Lemberg; where they have hitherto been held in reserve. In Volhynia the Russians have made a dent in the enemy's line near Czerny, fifteen miles southeast of Kovel. The German guards were hurled at the Russians to-day and succeeded in wresting away an important height on the west bank of the Narochka. More than 2,000 Russians were taken prisoner. Observers here lay emphasis on the value of the severe Russian winter to the Czar's troops. This period will prove, as it has proved in the past, of immense value to the Russians and of little value to the Teutons. For the Russians it means the accumulation of great shells supplies and the training of new armies of reserves. It means that when warm weather returns the Czar's troops will be ready for another supreme effort that will tax the enemy to the uttermost.

Serbs Continue Their Advance

By Courier Leased Wire.
Paris, Oct. 21.—Noon.—The official account of operations on the Macedonian front issued here to-day say that the Serbian forces which crossed the Cerna River, thrusting back the Bulgarians and capturing several villages, are continuing the offensive movement and have made further progress.

County Council Closes Session

Reports Submitted, Contracts Awarded; Other Business Transacted.

The final session of the County Council was held yesterday afternoon in their chambers at the Court House. The reports of the different committees were read and a gist of accounts passed.

The committee of education advised that the accounts of the Brantford Collegiate Institute and the Par's High School be held over for further investigation.

Owing to the fluctuating prices of staples, tenders for coal supplies were not plentiful, but the following contracts for fall supplies were awarded:

Another Hun War Credit

By Courier Leased Wire.
Amsterdam, Oct. 20, via London, Oct. 21.—Advices received here from Berlin are to the effect that a bill will be presented in the Reichstag to-day, Saturday, asking for a new war credit of 12,000,000,000 marks.

Falkenhayn's Terrific Offensive Carried on Against Roumanian Forces in Transylvania—Repulse There Means Thorough Defeat of Germany

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Oct. 21.—(New York Sun cable)—Von Falkenhayn's offensive against the Roumanians in Transylvania, is believed to be Germany's last card, says the Times correspondent at Bucharest, under Tuesday's date. If after being checked on all other fronts, they are repulsed here, their whole game can be considered lost, he writes.

"Near Rucaru, where the Teutons were six miles within Roumania, the Roumanians have taken a strong defensive and now are holding their own. At some points they have taken the offensive, as at the Ottoz pass, where the enemy has been repulsed over the frontier. Also in the Buzex valley, the Roumanians are again attacking.

"Elsewhere the Roumanians are resisting strong attacks and are counter-attacking steadily. At many points positions are changing hands several times daily."

German Honor and Liberty

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Oct. 21.—A Central News despatch from Amsterdam to-day says:

Emperor William in a speech to the troops on the western front, after commemorating the dead, said: "But we who are living will fight further until nobody will ever again to assault the honor and liberty of the German people."

The Emperor, adds the despatch, said he hoped God would be with the Germans in the fighting.

PTE. F. E. SMITH DEAD OF WOUNDS

Was Reported Wounded Yesterday—G. Raymond Is Wounded.

Pte. F. E. Smith
A telegram received last night by Corpl. Jos. W. Smith of the 215th battalion, conveyed the sad news that his brother, Pte. Francis Edward Smith, of the 19th battalion, had died of the wounds from which he was previously reported suffering. Pte. Smith, whose home is at 23 Brighton Row, was formerly employed as a builder, being unmarried and 23 years of age. He served for a month in the 32nd battery, and enlisted in November, 1914, leaving the city with the active service quota of the Dufferin Rifles which became attached to the 19th battalion.

Pte. G. Evans
One of the city's best known young athletes and sportsman is today reported in the person of Pte. George (Bike) Evans of the 19th battalion. He is wounded for the second time, having also sustained injuries last January. At the time of his enlistment in November of 1914, he was 30 years of age, unmarried, and had to his credit eight years' service in the Dufferin Rifles.

Pte. G. Raymond
Word was received this week by Postmaster W. G. Raymond that his eldest son Gladstone, of the 58th battalion had been slightly wounded in the recent fighting. His many friends will be pleased to hear that his injuries are only slight. A brother, Sergt. Jack Raymond, is with the 125th battalion.

Sergt. F. Hetherington.
Mrs. Hetherington, who resides at 9 Maple Avenue, received word to-day that her son, Sergt. Fred Hetherington, had been wounded and is now in hospital. He was drafted to the 4th Battalion, Fred, who was employed as a machinist at the Wat-

SIR WILFRED DECLINES

To Accept Invitation of Premier Borden.

Will Not Participate in a Joint National Committee, as Suggested.

Ottawa, Oct. 21.—Sir Wilfrid Laurier has refused to participate in the work of the National Service. His action means that the proposal of the conference of Directors of National Service for the formation of a joint Parliamentary Committee to issue a call to the manhood of Canada in support of the war cannot be carried out.

Sir Wilfrid's Reply.
Sir Wilfrid Laurier's letter to the Prime Minister, dated October 19, reads: "Dear Sir Robert Borden—On receiving Monday last, the 16th inst. your letter of the previous Saturday, transmitting the report of the directors of national service for the formation of a Parliamentary National Service Committee to assist in the co-ordinated to them, you ask me to co-operate with you in the formation of such a committee, and you add that during last session you made me a suggestion on similar lines. As to the letter observation I must say at once that your suggestion must have been a very casual one, in the course of conversation on other matters, for I have no recollection whatever of it. As to your present proposal, it seemed to me indispensable that I should acquaint myself of the exact powers and duties assigned to the directors of national service as defined in the order-in-Council creating the service, and I at once caused a search to be made for it in the file of the Canada Gazette. The search satisfied me that it had not been published and on Tuesday I asked you for a copy which I received the same day, and I think I ought to reproduce it here in its entirety."

"The letter here contains the text of the order-in-Council as published some days ago, and proceeds. "It is obvious that under the provisions of national service is to find out the number of men who can be removed from the various industries, agricultural, manufacturing, mining, lumbering, fishing and others which are carried out in any locality within each district, and to provide that no person be allowed to enlist whose services would be of more value to the State in the employment in which he is now engaged."

"In that view it seemed to me that (Continued on Page 12)

Allies Thwarted Ambition of Greece by Their Action

Greece Planned Extension of Territory Along Asia Minor Coast Line, to the Ultimate Seizure of Constantinople—Action of Entente Forestalled Such a Project.

By Courier Leased Wire.
New York, Oct. 21.—A special to The Herald, from Paris says: "The secret back of the machinery in the Greek capital, which led to the taking of vigorous measures by the French commanders for the ultimate safety of the allied forces under General Sarrail, is for the moment the absorbing topic in diplomatic circles."

It is now known that on the day that the Italian contingent joined the expeditionary forces at Saloniki a new period of activity began among the pro-Russian cliques in Athens. Only prompt action recently prevented the plotting from coming to a head to the serious danger of the cause of the allies. The great aim and ambition of Greece was to gain territorial footing on the coast line of Asia Minor and the assertion of eventual rights to Constantinople itself was put forth as the high demand from which a compromise could later could be made profitably for a minor concession of great value. The knowledge in Athens that because of the king all this ambition is now vain and likely to be forever sterile is the chief cause of the desperate effort to thwart the operations of allies in every possible way with the risk even of disrupting the kingdom of Greece, and seeing the nation torn again into factions.

The allies have agreed that Smyrna is to be awarded to Italy in the settlement after the war, is now accepted in Athens as an established fact. The point has been the subject of rumors in well informed circles, but a cautious censorship in the allied countries kept it from public knowledge. Now allusions of a

Huns Confer on Food Problem

By Courier Leased Wire.
Berlin, Oct. 21, via London.—A conference in which all the leading ministers of the German federal states will participate, will be held in Berlin to-day. Invitations for the meeting will be issued by the Imperial Chancellor, Dr. Van Bethmann-Hollweg. The conference will deal with the food problems, mainly the question of providing the empire with potatoes for the winter.

CANDIDATES WHO FIGHT TO THE END WILL BE THE WINNERS OF PRIZES IN COURIER CONTEST

Candidates Must Remember That if They Fail and Do Not Win, They Have No One to Blame but Themselves

Things are beginning to wake up in the campaign department and candidates who up to this week have done very little are bringing in subscriptions in large numbers. This goes to show that there are still subscriptions to be procured. The candidates who are successful up until the end are the ones who will be the winners of the larger prizes.

There is not a candidate in the entire campaign who could not be the winner of the grand prize if he will make the best of his time. Why is it? Are the prizes not worth your effort? Can you make as much money in a few weeks in any other way? Some candidates at the beginning started in with a big rush, but the last few weeks they have seemed to fall by the wayside. What will the outcome be? This question is very simple to answer. They will lose and not win a big prize, if they win any. Who will be to blame? The candidate.

It is up to You Candidates. Candidates must remember that if they fail and do not win, that it is not the fault of anybody but themselves. They are the ones that will reap the benefits of their effort; if it is success, it is for you; if it is failure you will have to stand it.

The club offer is without a doubt the best opportunity that you will have to put yourself in the lead. Take good advice and get in your best looks to-night. ARE YOU GOING TO BE A WINNER OR A LOSER?

British Forces Make Gain in Their Drive on Bapaume

By Courier Leased Wire.
London, Oct. 21, 12.28 p.m.—The British on the Somme front have made additional headway in their push toward Bapaume along the main road from Albert, according to to-day's announcement by the War Office, which records a gain of ground near Butte de Warlencourt. The statement reads:

"During the night further progress was made in the neighborhood of Butte de Warlencourt. There was intermittent shelling by the enemy on our front north and south of the Ancre.

"We successfully raided enemy trenches south of Neuve Chapelle."

MORMONS, OR LATTER DAY SAINTS?
Editor Courier:
Dear Sir,—My letter on the above subject was written for the purpose of putting people on their guard concerning their teaching. It was and is no intention of mine to drift into controversy. People that know me, pretty generally concede that I would be willing to correct any mistake made. In the Expositor of Oct. 16th, the Mormon elder states in reference to Joseph Smith, who has such an unenviable reputation as to polygamy at Salt Lake City, that he holds him "as a prophet of God." That should be a sufficient warning as to the tenor of Mormon teaching. I am opening up nothing new in this letter.
Yours truly,
R. F. HOLTERMAN.

GIRLS! MOISTEN A CLOTH AND DRAW IT THROUGH HAIR

Surely try a "Danderine Hair Cleanse." If you wish to immediately double the beauty of your hair, just moisten a cloth with Danderine and draw it carefully through your hair, taking one small strand at a time; this will cleanse the hair of dirt, dust or any excessive oil—in a few minutes you will be amazed.
Your hair will be wavy, fluffy and abundant and possess an incomparable softness, lustre and luxuriance.
Besides beautifying the hair, one application of Danderine dissolves every particle of dandruff; invigorates the scalp, stopping itching and falling scales.
Danderine is to the hair what fresh showers of rain and sunshine are to vegetation. It goes right to the roots, invigorates and strengthens them. Its exhilarating, stimulating and life-producing properties cause the hair to grow long, strong and beautiful.
You can surely have pretty, soft, lustrous hair, and lots of it, if you will just get a 25 cent bottle of "Danderine" from any drug store or toilet counter and try it as directed.
Save your hair. Keep it looking charming and beautiful. You will say this was the best 25 cents you ever spent.

If You Knit, You Will Want to Buy This $2 Wool for $1.63 lb.

The first breath of cold air sets us all shivering. What will the winter be like? We ask one another, and then, perforce, we mentally compare the cold months to come, when we shall be enjoying every comfort in our well-heated houses, with what we tersely call, "Winter in the trenches." Who can resist the impulse to knit warm socks for the brave fellows overseas? And what knitter will want to miss a SALE OF WOOL, whereby she virtually gets wool enough for at least one sock for nothing? Such a sale will be featured in our Wool Section, Monday.
Four-ply Knitting Wool of soft warm quality, that will give splendid wear, may be had in grey, white, khaki; regular $2, on sale at $1.63 per pound.

Corby's Special Offers

PREPAID EXPRESS SHIPMENTS

To give our Ontario patrons an opportunity to order by mail, we make them the following Special Offers;

Offer No. 1
In order to give you an opportunity of examining our famous "Special Selected" Rye Whisky free of charge, we will send on all introductory orders, express charges prepaid, a large bottle as well as a trial bottle. The latter is 2 ounce capacity, the same size as shown in this advertisement, containing exactly the same quality of whisky.
When you get these two bottles, try the smaller one first. If you don't find it the smoothest, mellowest and finest whisky you ever drank, or if for any reason you are not satisfied with it, send the large bottle back, charges collect, and we will ask no questions whatever. We will send these bottles to you upon receipt of $1.50 and return the money if you return the large bottle. This is the fairest way we know of giving you a chance to try this—the Quality Whisky of Canada—free of charge.

Offer No. 2
For $5.00 we will send you four large bottles of our "Special Selected" Rye Whisky, express charges prepaid. This whisky which we call "Special Selected" is seven years old and is distilled from the choicest grains selected by our experts and distilled in our distillery at Corbyville, Ontario, recognized as the most modern and up-to-date distillery in Canada. The whisky is matured in the old-fashioned way in charred oak casks in warehouses warmed during the cold weather so as to carry on the ageing at all seasons. We guarantee this and all our whiskies pure and conforming with all the requirements of the law.

Offer No. 3 For $1.25 we will send you a large bottle of our "Majestic" Rye Whisky, express charges prepaid, a pure mellow whisky of excellent quality.

Offer No. 4 For $1.00 we will send you four large bottles of our Majestic Rye Whisky, express charges prepaid. This whisky is our most popular brand on account of its popular price and high quality.
It is five years old, distilled, aged and bottled in bond
under government supervision.

These whiskies have been examined by Dr. Milton Hersey, consulting chemist to the Quebec Government, and found to be pure and of excellent flavor. They are highly recommended for MEDICINAL PURPOSES.

THE SITUATION

Matters with regard to Roumania have now taken on a new phase. Falkenhayn having been blocked in the matter of getting through the Transylvania Alps, von Mackensen has taken up the job in the Dobruja. At this other end of the battle line the foe has inaugurated a tremendous offensive in the effort to get to the Roumanian capital of Bucharest. The battle is reported to be raging fiercely, with great losses to the Huns thus far. A gratifying feature is that Russian reinforcements have apparently reached the scene in good time.

On the Macedonian front, the Serbians continue their gallant advance. They are putting the Bulgarians to rout, and are making rapid headway toward Moastir. On the Struma, the British are bringing up heavy guns against the Bulgarian positions.

A tremendous artillery duel of big guns has taken place on the Somme front for over twenty-four hours, but the weather conditions are such that the infantry have not been very active. A German effort to win back ground around the Schwaben redoubt, failed.

BRITISH RED CROSS WORK

Brant County Council has responded nobly to the second appeal on behalf of the British Red Cross with a vote of $7,000. It should be remembered that other Municipalities of the County also do their part in addition to this sum. Paris for example whose residents come under the County rates, recently through the Council, gave the sum of $6,000—$3,000 to the British Red Cross, $2,000 to British sailors and dependents, $500 for the Canadian Red Cross, and $500 for the Patriotic fund. Brantford and other Townships are also expected to take action.

It will thus be seen that the residents of the county have set a first-class example for the citizens of Brantford to follow, in connection with the approaching campaign in this country.

The Mother Country makes very little call on the Overseas Dominions with regard to her war activities, but in this instance the work is so distributed as to fully warrant the appeal. Under the Red Cross banner eleven hundred motor ambulances are at work behind the British lines in France, 60 with the French army, 25 with the Belgian, 50 in Mesopotamia, and 51 in Italy. The last mentioned, between the time of arrival in Italy and last May, had carried 46,000 patients through rough mountain tracks. The work of transporting wounded through London, England, has been done by the Red Cross through volunteers who have lent or given a fleet of motor ambulances and motor cars. By August, 1916, 111,000 men had been moved in this way, and while trains arrived at all hours of the day and night, not a single wounded man has ever been kept waiting. The hospital trains provided in France by the French Government and the hospital boats provided by the society itself for the transportation of wounded on the Mesopotamia front have also to be kept up. The hospital work is an immense proposition. In France 13 British Red Cross hospitals are maintained, 10 in Egypt, and 1,050 in Great Britain, besides numerous officers' and nurses' convalescent homes. Supply depots are maintained near every army hospital which draws its supplies from the Red Cross. Besides these, the Red Cross Society has many other smaller institutions and departments, all of which cost money to keep up.

The objective which it is sought to reach in this city is $20,000, but as the Courier has before said, the worthiness of this grand cause should lead to an even greater response than the figure quoted. Surely the very least that those at home can do is to go deep down in their pockets on behalf of the brave lads who are fighting our battle and that of human liberty, at the front.

Mrs. Marie M. Harkness, wife of Harry S. Harkness, son of the late L. V. Harkness, a director of the Standard Oil Company, was awarded a final decree of divorce yesterday.

CANADA'S SECOND WAR LOAN.

The phenomenal success of Sir Thomas White's second domestic war loan has drawn the eyes of the world upon Canada. Bonds aggregating one hundred million dollars have been offered and applications aggregating two hundred millions have been received. The first domestic loan issue of fifty millions was over-subscribed by one hundred per cent. The second issue of one hundred millions has been over-subscribed by one hundred per cent. That means that in one year the Canadian people have offered the Government for war purposes three hundred millions of dollars—double the amount asked for.

This was done in a country which prior to the outbreak of the war was a borrower. To-day the people of Canada are lending, not to the Canadian Government alone, but to the Imperial Government as well by means of the credits established here. Out of these credits payments are made for the enormous quantities of munitions and other war supplies purchased by Great Britain in Canada. The last credit of fifty millions announced a few days ago brings the total up to $150,000,000.

All this constitutes a very fine financial achievement, one that has aroused the admiration and gratitude of Great Britain and the wonder of the United States. Sir Thomas White is richly deserving of the many congratulatory messages which have been sent to him from abroad, as well as of those given to him so freely at home. The conduct of Canada's finances during the war period has been as great a surprise to Canadians as it has been a source of pride. It has been as far-seeing and as skillful as it has been courageous. The Minister of Finance has not hesitated even in the face of pessimistic counsel, to go into new fields and tap new sources in providing the money necessary for carrying on the war. And in every single instance he has succeeded. And not only has he succeeded but he has accomplished results exceeding his own estimates. In the case of the war loans he has been offered two dollars for every one that he asked.

Sir Thomas White has displayed a profound confidence in the patriotism of the Canadian people, and he has been disappointed.

The Canadian people have displayed as great a confidence in the ability of the Finance Minister to make the most of the country's war resources, and to spend wisely, and they have not been disappointed.

In making allotments the Minister has, in the case of this loan as in the case of the former, given first consideration to the small subscriber. In other words, these are in the truest sense, the people's loans. Fifty millions of dollars were offered by the great banking institutions of the country, but so great has been the response of the smaller subscribers that none of the bonds will go to the banks. Instead a new Imperial credit has been established equal to the amount which the banks offered for the loan.

It is a proud chapter in the history of the war. Great things are being done by Canada's sons on the battlefield; great things also are being done by Canadians at home.

NOTES AND COMMENTS

One million women will be eligible to vote for President in Illinois this year. Pretty soon the hand that rocks the cradle will also be able to rock the undesirable politician.

A few Grit sheets have been shrieking that Sir Wilfrid Laurier should have been taken into the Dominion Cabinet during war time. Now he has refused to be a member even of a parliamentary committee. What's the matter? Quebec?

Essex and Kent weekly papers have increased their subscription rates from $1 to $1.50 on account of the greatly increased cost of publication.

Captain Gordon, of Colorado Springs, aged 94, has just been married for the fifth time. Collecting wives is evidently a hobby with him.

The Methodists of a place called Pinch Run in Oregon, tore down a bell which had been placed in rear of their new church. They don't propose to be summoned to salvation by any back way.

King Constantine makes the claim that he has been divinely appointed to direct the foreign policy of Greece. It is evident that central has given him the wrong connection, and jerked him up with the nethermost party.

Despondent over the death of her husband, Mrs. Alice C. Foulds, of White Plains, N.Y., a wealthy widow aged 56, committed suicide early yesterday morning by inhaling gas.

Royal Endorsation, Too

King George, General Haig and David Lloyd George Praise "Somme" Battle Pictures.

ON THE EVENING OF SATURDAY, SEPTEMBER 2nd, the official War Office film, "The Battle of the Somme," was by royal command exhibited at Windsor Castle. There were present besides His Majesty, Her Majesty the Queen, the party from the royal household and others. Captain J. O. Fairhope, of the General Headquarters and Lieutenant E. Distin Maddick, representing the War Office, were in charge of the film. The King expressed to them his unqualified approval of the "Battle of the Somme" pictures, and advised the British public and that of the Empire at large, to see them. Both officers in charge of the film had the honor of being presented to their majesties and receiving royal congratulations.

The King's Advice:

"The public should see these pictures that they may have some idea of what the army is doing and what war means."

—THE KING

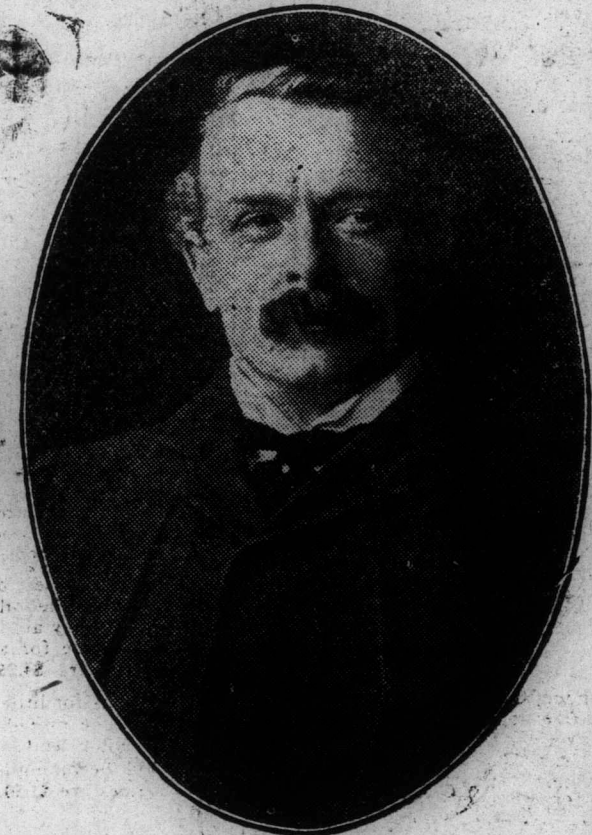

SIR DOUGLAS HAIG, Commander-in-Chief of the British Forces at the Front.

Edited by General Haig

These wonderful pictures comprise the first war film to be allowed out of England without coming before the British censor. They were released for public exhibition as a tribute to the heroism of the British army, including the expeditionary forces of the British Dominions beyond the seas. And the sub-titles and explanatory notes were edited by Sir Douglas Haig himself. As the film stands it is official, and must not be tampered with. If it shows something of the horror of war, it shows more of British heroism.

HON. DAVID LLOYD-GEORGE.

"THIS IS YOUR DUTY. THIS IS YOUR MISSION."

"I am convinced that when you have seen this wonderful picture, every heart will beat higher in sympathy with its cause and purpose, which is no other than that every one of us at home and those abroad shall see what our men at the front are doing and suffering for us, and how their achievements have been made possible by the sacrifices at home. "Be up and doing also! See that this picture, which is in itself an epic of self-sacrifice and gallantry, reaches everyone. Herald the deeds of our brave men to the ends of the earth. This is your duty. "Ladies, I feel that no word is necessary to urge upon you the importance of throwing in the whole ardor and strength of your invaluable aid. Mothers, wives, sisters affianced ones—your hearts will beat, your voices speak, in honor and glory of the living and the dead. You are great and powerful. This is your mission."—David Lloyd-George.

Copies of this film have reached Canada and will be presented for public exhibition in the best theatres, under the auspices of the leading Canadian newspapers in the chief cities from coast to coast. In Brantford this wonderful record of British heroism and of British victory will be shown under the auspices of The Brantford Courier, at the Colonial Theatre, November 2, 3, 4. In order that as many people as possible may see this wonderful picture, a popular price will be charged for every seat in the house, 25c. Matinees daily.

LOCAL NEWS ITEMS

BAD WEATHER. Owing to the wet weather, the Alexandra School League had a very poor attendance, and was postponed till Thursday night.

SOLDIERS' WIVES. The regular meeting of the Soldiers' Wives will take place on Tuesday afternoon in the Commercial Chambers.

POLICE COURT. The police court this morning was unusually brief, a county case of seduction, against Frank Walter, being adjourned until next Thursday.

LOCAL CASES. The following local case was heard before Justice Meredith in the Appellate Court at Osgoode Hall, yesterday—Brantford Oven Co. vs. Brandon Shell Co.—W. B. Milliken, for defendant, J. H. Harley, K. C., for plaintiff. Appeal by defendant from judgment of County Court of Brant of July 18, 1916. To be argued before full court of five Judges.

GES TO BRIDGEBURG. One of the best known young men in the city, Mr. Will Inglis, is leaving Brantford in the early part of the week to assume a position with the Bridgeburg branch of the Royal Bank. "Bill" has had previous experience in that line, having formerly been connected with the local branch of the Bank of Montreal.

CAME QUIETLY. Four invalided soldiers returned quietly to the city yesterday afternoon, via C. T. R. in the persons of Pte. Fred Jeffries and Pte. E. Harrington, 4th battalion, Pte. Wm. Clawson of the 4th C.M.R. and Pte. Edward Wrecks, of 22d Park Ave. As no word of their coming was received in the city, it was impossible to hold a reception upon their arrival.

215th NEWS. The appearance of the George St. branch of the 215th Battalion, which has been used as a recruiting office throughout the summer new season, is quite a different aspect, as the pioneers, who are to have their quarters here, have settled all their equipment here and are expected to take charge in the near future.

HER GREAT GRAND-MOTHER'S CAP. The Fairy Godmother in the big coming event "The Metaphysical White Cat," by Mary Morgan Deane, will wear her great-grandmother's cap in her role. This is the initial performance of this play in its present elaborate form, and Brantford is looking forward with keen anticipation to the production.

ARTIST DEAD. Paris, Oct. 21.—Raphael Collin, artist, is dead. He was 66 years old, an officer of the Legion of Honor, and a member of the Academie Des Beaux Arts.

BETHEL HALL. Sunday, 11 a.m., Breaking of Bread. 3 p.m., Sunday School and Ethical Class, conducted by Mr. A. Lundy. 7 p.m., Gospel Service, addressed by Dr. Bier. Come and enjoy these services.

AT OPERA HOUSE. At the Grand Opera House tonight, the Alexandra Players will present a comedy-melo-drama entitled "Struck Gold."

GOT THEIR GOAT. The high winds prevailing throughout the night played havoc with the city fire alarm system, the siren in the central station being sounded repeatedly all night. This would indicate that the proposed re-wiring of the system can take place none too soon.

THE MARKET. The amount of produce in evidence on the market to-day was considerably less than that offered for sale a week ago. Peaches seem to be about through, wild grapes are also getting scarce.

Should You Give the British Red Cross?

Your gift may save some gallant life. Without Red Cross work thousands of our sailors would die. Wounded men are vitally necessary to the safety, and their lives must be saved. Your own friend, son, brother, husband are next to call for Red Cross aid. You may not be able to fight, but you can help with your gift. The British Red Cross is the greatest agency for good in the world, and the more money does more good in the hands of the British Red Cross than spent in any other way.

Motherland's only direct appeal to Canadians is for assistance in the great work.

Mr. L. J. Shining gift of $1,514,000 last year is an inspiration to us now. The number of sick and wounded is ever increasing as the price of victory.

SOME GOOD RECIPES

Honey Tea Cake
One cup honey, one-half cup sour cream, two eggs, one-half cup butter, two cups flour, scant one-half teaspoonful soda, one tablespoonful of cream of tartar. Bake 30 minutes in a moderate oven.

Caramels
One pint honey, one teaspoonful cinnamon or vanilla, one-half pound cocoa, three-quarter pound pecan nuts, two pounds sweet almonds. Cut the nuts fine and boil them with the other ingredients until thick. Cool and roll out. Cut in squares and dry in oven.

Candy
Granulated sugar one cup, strained honey one tablespoonful, butter size of walnut, sweet cream enough to dissolve the mixture. It does not need much cooking. When taken from the fire beat with a spoon until smooth.

Blueberry Pudding
One-half cup sugar, 1 egg, 1 tablespoon butter, 1 1/4 cups flour, 1 cup milk, 2 teaspoons baking powder.

Mix in the order given. Spread over one cup of blueberries in the bottom of a well buttered baking dish. Bake about 20 minutes in a moderate oven. Serve with cream, whipped or plain.

Steamed Berry Pudding
Two cups flour, 1 cup milk, 1 cup berries (raspberries or huckleberries), 1 teaspoon baking powder, 1 tablespoon butter.

Steam and serve with sauce made of 1 cup sugar, 1 teaspoonful flour, butter the size of a hickory nut, vanilla flavoring and enough boiling water to thin.

A Delicious Cookie
Here are some little cookies that any one can make and they taste delicious. Cream a quarter cupful of butter with a cupful of brown sugar. Dissolve an eighth of a tablespoonful of soda in a teaspoonful of water and add a cupful of flour and a half-teaspoonful of vanilla. Make into small balls, place on a buttered pan and bake in a hot oven.

Hickory Nut Fruit Cake
One cup butter, one and one-half cups sugar, yolks of five eggs, one cup milk, two and one-half to three cups flour, two teaspoons baking powder, vanilla, three egg whites, beaten stiff, one cup hickory nut meat, one half-cup chopped dates, one-half cup chopped figs, one-half cup coconut, one and one half dozen maraschino cherries, cut in halves, one eighth-pound citron, cut fine, one half cup raisins, the white ones. Mix in the order given, adding the fruits and nuts last. Sprinkle them well with flour as this prevents them from falling to the bottom of your cake. Also flour your tins well. Bake in a moderate oven one to one and one-half hours. Be sure you put enough flour in or your cake will fall as the fruit makes it very heavy. Put a never fail frosting on after it is cold.

Dependable Recipe.
Here is an old Creole recipe for fried chicken and cream sauce. Clean and cut the chicken at the joints, dredge well with salt, pepper and a little flour. Put three tablepoons of lard into a frying pan, and when hot add the chicken, allowing it to fry Tuberculosis Rapidly Increasing Among Children of Belgium and Northern France.

More Food Urgently Needed to Keep up Their Strength

An interview with Mr. W. L. Homold, American Director of the Belgian Relief Commission, brings to light a new danger threatening the population of the territory occupied by Germany.

Mr. Homold reports that about 5,000,000 wholly or partially destitute people, who have been dependent on the Commission, generally show diminished vitality. The effects are most apparent among the older children, particularly those in the adolescent stage. Among these there is an alarming increase of tuberculosis, due to the lower power of resistance consequent on an inadequate diet.

To overcome this serious danger, the Commission appeals for extra contributions so that a special meal can be served every day in the schools. Efforts are also being made to provide as far as possible for children outside the schools.

This can only be done—Belgium's children can only be saved—if every one of us who can possibly do so will give something toward the Fund. Whatever local or Provincial Committees, or

Pauline Frederick in One of Her Greatest Screen Triumphs, in "The Woman of the Case"

Review. — Although universally conceded to be the screen's foremost emotional artiste, Pauline Frederick reaches dramatic heights in the Famous Players Film Company's picturization of Clyde Fitch's immortal play. The woman in the Case that qualify her as one of the greatest actresses of all time. It is a glowing tribute to the genius of this artiste that she makes of the central character of the tense play, Margaret one of the most appealing and lovable women that have ever appeared on the screen. In the role of the self-sacrificing wife who puts herself against the woman in the struggle to save her husband from the charge of murder, Miss Frederick wins not only the sympathy, but the real love and admiration of the spectators. The Famous Players have reproduced Clyde Fitch's great play with amazing fidelity and dramatic strength.

At Brant first half of week. Blanche Sweet in "Public Opinion." Synopsis — "Public Opinion," Blanche Sweet's newest photoplay for the Jesse L. Lasky Feature Play Company, opens for the screen an entirely new theme. In this melodrama of social conflict, Miss Sweet appears as a young woman nurse wrongfully accused of murder. The hand of justice, unseen in the every day world but visible in film, stalks through the drama to the climax, finally pointing the way for the freedom of the accused and the conviction of the guilty. In characters of this sort Miss Sweet already occupies in the memories of modern picture enthusiasts a unique place. Her remarkable performance in the dual personality in "The Secret Sin" and again in the Lasky-Belasco production "The Case of Becky" mark her as one especially suited for the portrayal of the occult. Not the least distinguished feature about "Public Opinion" is the manner in which the story keeps entirely away from the sordid.

At Brant last half of week. Ask Herbert Standing, the veteran Pallas-Paramount actor, to me his favorite make of machine and then quietly remove the cotton from your left ear while he speaks: "My idea of a perfect machine is one that runs on paved streets and gasoline, a car that is at least eight inches above ground and able to turn on a Mexican lead dollar; a car that favors not a brier patch but is content to go whether thou may wish without a public demonstrator; a car—"

You leave him here in the middle of his conversation and a kind friend explains the reason. Mr. Standing was preparing to go on location in a company car when he was prevailed upon by a friend to make the trip in his (the friend's) "mechanical sky rocket," one of those small affairs that is just the right size to run under an ice wagon. Mr. Standing went. When they were about two miles from San Pedro the bobbin slipped in the apparatus and one well known actor proceeded to plough a furrow through the weeds of the byway. The Pallas car following picked them up and Mr. Standing spent the rest of the day picking burs out of his necktie.

Grover Jones, of the Morisco-Pallas organization, has been placed in charge of the department that straightens out the tangles and crossed wires which might interfere with the smooth running machinery of picture producing. The studio is now humming along at top speed and all adjustments and changes required by the producers pass through this novel clearing house.

Lenore Ulrich's latest Pallas Picture, "The Intrigue," displays a new kind of gun that has the Krupp invention backed off the boards. The gun around which the story is woven in "The Intrigue," is the invention of an American, and is known as the "The Gun." Its powers of destruction are vividly displayed in Miss Ulrich's photoplay.

Owing to its huge success, Richard Walton Tully's sensational drama about Mexico, "The Flame," has returned to the 44th Street Theatre, one of the largest theatres in New York and has settled down for an extended run.

Richard Walton Tully is engaging a cast to support Guy Bates Post in the new drama of English life by John Hunter Booth in which the recent star of Tully's "Omar, the Tent Maker" will shortly appear in New York.

Edward J. Le Saint, having just completed the Lasky production of "The Soul of Kura-San" for the Paramount Program in which Sessue Hayakawa will be seen supported by Myrtle Stedman, and an all star cast, will at once take up the direction of the next Hayakawa production in which the popular Japanese actor will play the stellar role, with his wife, Tsuru Aoki in the feminine lead.

Eddie Chapman, the talented Lasky actress, who is appearing with Mae Murray in her forthcoming Paramount Picture, "The Plover Girl," used, in an introduction scene the other day, the baby gown in which she herself was christened. It is a beautiful silk hand-embroidered affair that has been cherished by the Chapman family ever since it was first used.

SOME USES OF SALT

- Salt will revive a dying fire.
- Salt will remove stains on marble.
- Salt—coarse—is a good cleaner of floors.
- Salt in water or other fluids retards the boiling.
- Salt mixed with soda is a remedy for bee stings.
- Salt and hot water will thaw a frozen drain pipe.
- Salt will remove tea stains from delicate china cups.
- Salt sprinkled in a range will absorb all grease splutterings.
- Salt warmed and rubbed on a soiled light coat, will clean it.
- Salt added to the rinsing water prevents clothes from freezing.
- Salt placed under baking tins in an oven prevents their burning.
- Salt will quickly clean a discolored bath or enameled utensils.
- Salt—a lump—placed in the sink will keep the drain wholesome.
- Salt and water cleans all crockery more easily and better than plain water.
- Salt thrown on the fire once a day prevents the accumulation of soot in the flues.
- Salt added to potatoes when nearly done insures firmness and prevents them going to pieces.

MISS' AND SMALL WOMAN'S DRESS.

By Anabel Worthington.

Thoroughly up to date is this design on smart, simple and very youthful lines. It is a back buttoned model; the blouse is fitted at the waist line, finished at the neck with a point collar developed in contrasting goods and has full length sleeves neatly cuffed. The banding used to ornament below the bust is a style feature that is being widely accepted.

The skirt with a straight gathered flounce is joined to the waist under a belt of material and the banding is used to advantage at about knee depth. In view of the predominance of braided this season, suitable banding to simulate the banding will be both stylish and attractive on this model. Wool embroidery is also a new and novel decoration, so that one has ample choice.

There are a number of desirable fabrics to be considered for a dress of this design: Georgette crepe and silk and fine crepe or serge are well broadcloth for the collar and sleeves; of course velvet is well in the lead, too. The dress pattern, No. S.404, is cut in sizes 14 to 20 years. To make in size 16 will require 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch silk and 1/2 yard of 20 inch crepe, with 3 1/2 yards of banding. Or, in all one material, 5 1/2 yards. To obtain the pattern send 10 cents to the office of this publication.

In having versatile stars in one's shows. Jack Pickford is in a quandry. In the role of William Sylvanus Baxter, in the Famous Players Paramount adaptation of Booth Tarkington's celebrated novel "Seventeen," Jack must have the leg of his trousers torn beyond redemption. The question which is agitating the young man is the selection of the sacrificial raiment. After examining his 27 suits, he is still unable to decide, and every one of his friends to whom he confides his troubles insists that he destroy a different suit. Now the young man suspects that there is a conspiracy being hatched in favor of his tailor.

AT THE BRANT. Claire and Flo. Gould, a classy dancing and singing offering of exceptional merit. Broadcloth for the collar and sleeves; of course velvet is well in the lead, too. The dress pattern, No. S.404, is cut in sizes 14 to 20 years. To make in size 16 will require 4 1/2 yards of 36 inch silk and 1/2 yard of 20 inch crepe, with 3 1/2 yards of banding. BOXING MEET TO BE STAGED VERY SHORTLY IN BRANTFORD

Pete Scott, Well Known Fighter Will Engage Jimmy Conway of Buffalo, and Other Bouts Will be Staged Also.

Gladdened will be the hearts of all local boxing fans to learn of the mission which yesterday afternoon brought to Brantford Dave Goldberg, sports promoter of Hamilton, accompanied by Pte. Scott, the well known 140 pound class boxer, born in Brant County.

The project in view is nothing less than the staging of a 20-round boxing meet in Brantford within some two weeks' time, when Pte. Scott will hook up with Jimmy Conway of Buffalo, in a 10 round bout, 140 pound class. Conway has long been desirous of meeting the Canadian in the ring, and after completing his engagement in Buffalo as sparring partner to Johnny O'Leary, he is now prepared to come to Brantford for the purpose of staging the encounter, which will be assuredly of the fastest variety, as both men are in the pink of condition and ready for the fray. Scott's reputation is too wide-spread throughout Ontario to require further introduction to local fight fans, while Conway bears no less prestige across the border. The very fact of his being at present engaged as sparring partner for Johnny O'Leary in Buffalo, is sufficient to vouch for his abilities. O'Leary last night fought the Indian Kid.

Confidence is felt by Mr. Goldberg, promoter of the enterprise, that success will crown his efforts in the city. The meet will consist of the principal bout, 10-rounds between Scott and Conway, preceded by preliminaries of 4 and 6 rounds. It will be staged in the Grand Opera House, tentatively on the evening of Nov. 2, and will probably be under the auspices of some local patriotic organization. Further details of the affair will be divulged as progress is made.

NEW BOYS' WORK SECRETARY

Mr. Ross Beckett, Local Boy, Receives Appointment to Y. M. C. A.

The position of boys' work secretary at the local Y. M. C. A., filled only temporarily since the resignation of Mr. Frank Wood, now signalling officer of the 215th battalion, has at last been capably filled by the directorate of the institution, who have engaged for the purpose a Brantford young man, born and bred in the city, Mr. Ross Beckett, son of Mr. H. B. Beckett, of Dalhousie street.

For the past several years, Mr. Beckett has been prominent in the city playground work in Toronto, being a supervisor of that work there. He was previously a valued member of the local Y. M. C. A., having held other posts of importance. He was for a time a member of the Courier's editorial staff, and will be welcomed back to his home city by a very wide circle of friends and acquaintances, while congratulations are due the directorate of the Y. M. C. A. in securing a secretary so thoroughly capable of filling his duties in the most acceptable manner.

SIR WILFRED DECLINES

(Continued from page one.) the first thing to be done would have been at once to enter into communication with employers of labor, agricultural and industrial, in every locality as the persons best qualified to supply the desired information, and I would have deemed it my duty to communicate it once with Sir Thomas Tait and discuss with him this aspect of the subject in connection with the resolution of the Directors of National Service for a Parliamentary committee. Unfortunately Sir Thomas Tait has resigned from the position of Director of National Service, and his resignation, and especially the reasons for his resignation, put a new complexion upon your proposal. Sir Thomas Tait resigned not only on account of what occurred in the case of Mr. G. M. Murray, who had been offered the position of secretary of National Service, but chiefly, as I understand it, on account of that incident as indicative of what may be anticipated in connection with the future organization and work of National Service. "I feel that under the circumstances in acceding to your suggestion my assistance to the cause, which I have endeavored to serve since the first day of the war, would not be untrammelled and, consequently, as effective as if I continued to serve it according to my own ways, as heretofore."

County Council Closes Session

(Continued from page one.) Livingstone and Wilkinson; bread, John Johnston. The buildings and grounds committee were also instructed to have the registry office temporarily heated properly, pending the erection of a new building. The committee of roads and bridges submitted a report showing that in all six bridges throughout the country had been inspected. The financial report showed that a debt balance, in all, of $21,719.92 existed against the county. They advised the sale of 5,000 debentures issued by the county for the General Hospital, to be sold to the city at par, the purchaser to receive the benefit of accrued interest. Applications of caretaker Belyea and Turnkey Cook for an advance in wages, were laid over until next meeting.

Every Function in the Human Body is Controlled by the Nerves

By properly adjusting your Backbone, the Chiropractor corrects the cause of Sickness. Your Nerves then do their work, and health is restored.

Chiropractors, by correctly adjusting the Spine, are successfully removing the cause of Stomach, Bowel, Kidney and Liver Troubles, Rheumatism, troubles of the Head Throat or Lungs, and other Organs. Acute and Chronic Cases yield readily to Chiropractic Adjustments.

Your Spine Is An Index To Your Health

The Nervous System A vast net-work of nerves reaches every portion of the human body, and governs the operations of every organ and every function of the body. The main line—the trunk line of every great nerve system—is the spinal cord, which, beginning in the brain, draws its nerves together like a great telephone cable, carries the cable down through the centre of the spinal column, from which the nerves radiate, and send their local wires to every part of the body. There are openings in and between each of the segments or vertebrae of the spinal column through which the branch nerves pass as they leave the main stem—the spinal cord. Disease is caused by a pressure on the nerve as it leaves the spinal column—thus shutting off the proper amount of Mental Impulses or Nerve Force from the brain to the organ involved. One or more of the vertebrae have become misplaced (called subluxated), the opening has become narrowed; the bones press against the nerves; the supply of nerve force is cut off or reduced, and until this condition is removed, the trouble will continue.

Hunger Stalks Through Belgium NOW!

While we in Canada are bringing in the harvests, filling our store-rooms and stocking our pantries with an abundance of good food—our Allies in overrun Belgium are facing another winter of near-starvation.

Women and children there by millions have gone for two years on short rations, for the Belgian Relief Fund has never been sufficient to provide full fare. Consequently they are in no condition to stand the still greater privation threatened on account of the growing number dependent on the Fund. Anything less than the present meagre allowance of bread and soup would, in thousands of cases, fail to hold bodies and souls together.

Shall we—can we—go on eating our three square meals a day—living well if not luxuriously—while Belgian children, pinched and cold, sobbingly beg their mothers for bread enough to stop the gnawing hunger?

$2.50 a month in the hands of the Belgian Relief Commission, will feed a Belgian family. A cigar less a day—a night missed from the theatre—simpler refreshments after an evening's cards—the price of any one of a dozen such habitual luxuries would provide the food that means life for a Belgian mother and her children till the end of the war.

Won't your own meals taste better when you know some little Belgians also are enjoying the food which you provide? Whatever you feel that you can spare, send your subscription weekly, monthly or in one lump sum to Local or Provincial Committees, or send Cheques payable to Treasurer

When the Buffalo and Railway was built around 1850, construction around was ushered in at a conservative rate, and that was the beginning of the manufacturing of Brantford. It was the first work which accompanied Brantford's foundation. The structure which has since been added to, year by year, the city is one of the industrial centers in Canada. Miscellaneous factories of small capital and early existence and the population became divided into most important elements can have; the worker at the head of the line.

The manufacturing of VanBroeklin, Buck and the manufacturing of the Waterous Engine Works, the largest industries in the city since that time, country commenced to Brantford for its industry. We all can recall John the Waterous Engine Works, all over the world, tending the putting up of our saw mills. He went abroad a year and two stretch. Mr. Lyle had several boys, the majority learned their trade at the Engine Works. Among them Thomas Lyle, foreman of and Nott Co., and several other aldermen from the city.

We all can recall to mind the boys, George Winters, George Winters, was many years Superintendent of Learning and Paterson Candy Co.; Thomas Winters, foreman of the Candy Dave Winters was a man of cigars.

One of the most interesting characters that visited Brantford was the Thompson of Ontario was at this time 50 years old.

What is Chiropractic?

It is the Philosophy Science, and Art of Things Natural, a system of adjusting the articulations of the spine, by hand, for the elimination of the cause of disease. Remember that the CAUSE is a lack of proper supply of nerve force. Thus, when the pressure is removed from the nerve, the disease, and all its attending symptoms, disappear, and health is the result.

The science was discovered by Dr. D. D. Palmer, and developed by his son, Dr. B. J. Palmer, President of the Palmer School of Chiropractic, Davenport, Iowa.

BRANTFORD AS IT WAS IN DAYS NOW LONG GONE BY

Old Time Resident of the City Continues Series of Most Interesting Reminiscences; Building Activities of Brantford Followed Construction of Buffalo and Goderich Line in 1850

(By O. Bingham)

When the Buffalo and Goderich Railway was built around about 1850, construction around Brantford was ushered in at a comparatively active rate, and that was the beginning of the manufacturing era of Brantford. It was then that the first work was accomplished on the structure which has steadily been added to, year by year, until now the city is one of the greatest industrial centers in Canada.

Miscellaneous factories necessarily of small capital and output came into existence and the population of the city became divided into the two most important elements that a city can have; the worker and the business leader.

The manufacturing of stoves by VanBroeklin, Buck and Tisdale and the manufacturing of saw mills by the Waterous Engine Works, became the largest industries in Brantford, and have since remained as such. Many other lines of industry entered the city since that time and the country commenced to recognize Brantford for its industrial activity.

We all can recall John Lyle, Supt. of the Waterous Engine Works, who travelled all over the world superintending the putting up of the Waterous saw mills. He would be gone abroad a year and two years at a stretch. Mr. Lyle had a family of several boys, the majority of whom learned their trade at the Waterous Engine Works. Among the boys were Thomas Lyle, foreman of the Ham and Nott Co., and several times elected alderman from the East Ward. At the Tisdale Stove works was Doc Peatman, who was Supt. of this plant a great number of years.

Somewhere between 35 and 40 years ago a Brantford physician was often seen riding in the carriage of Dr. J. Y. Bown when visiting patients, and almost invariably he had in his hands a volume of Medical Science which he was interestedly, even abstractedly, reading. The physician was Doc Cole, since risen to be one of the leading doctors of the city.

We all can recall to mind the Winters boys. George Winters, the Colborne street grocer, was for a great many years Superintendent of the Leeming and Peterson Slicers, and Candy Co.; Thomas Winters was the foreman of the Candy Dept. and Dave Winters was a manufacturer of cigars.

One of the most interesting characters that visited Brantford was Squire Thompson of Oakland. He was at this time 50 years of age or more, about the average height, with an open, honest face, and a head that indicated brain power. He was comparatively well read, with good command of language and a fund of clean anecdote and a splendid supply of good humor, and in the time of which I am writing, it is no exaggeration to say that he held first place in the hearts of Brantford's intelligent public. Mr. Dion C. Sullivan and Wm. Moore, principals of the Central School, all old timers remember.

We all remember Mr. J. Y. Morton, Cleghorn Bros. and Parr and Bishop's hardware stores, when Bob Morton and Charley Buchanan were salesmen, with Morton. Then there was Charley Champion, bookkeeper with Cleghorn's.

We cannot forget Fred Wait, son of Charles Wait, wholesale grocer, who owned and operated a farm back of Strawberry Hill, out on Shollar's Lane, and Johnny Doyle, who was a well-known Irish character of those days, whose speech, dress and habits will be long remembered.

We all can remember when we had occasion to visit Toronto and Hamilton, that we had to go to Paris to catch the train going east. Wellington Smith, Dan Holmes or Alf Plerby were the conductors between Brantford and Paris, and we would most likely meet Bob Gilkinson, conductor between Hamilton and Toronto, an old Brantford boy. At this time Leonard's and Martindale's coal yards were located on the bank of the canal, the coal barges coming up the canal from Buffalo.

We remember when the water-works power house was built on Colborne street, near the G. W. Railway tracks, and Dave Webster of the Waterous Engine Works was installed as engineer of the plant.

These were the days when Stratford and Sons, Brendons, Masons, Jewetts and Tapscott's drug stores were in existence. At Stratford's, Joseph and Charley Stratford were clerks, at Brandon's we met Billy Blackadder, at Mason's we met Charley Doc Mason's son—and Dolf Bennett looked after the welfare of his customers.

Joe Craig, Ben. Whitham, Pierce, and Knox's bakeries catered to the public with their cakes and pies, while George Hardy, the Market St. fruit dealer, was the only place of his kind in town.

Charley Festner had a hat store, and J. B. King was clerk in the hat store. Mr. Festner was a relative of Barney Heyd, the Market St. grocer. Who can forget Wm. Hayward, the landscape and sign painter, and

SOME LEADERS OF NEW COVENANTS.

Rev. J. D. Cunningham, Rev. D. E. Scott and Rev. Dr. Andrew Robertson, prominent among the Presbyterian anti-Unionists, who in convocation in Toronto recently solemnly vowed and covenanted to resist by all means in their power the union of the Presbyterian Church of Canada with other denominations.

Charley Lincoln, his assistant, Hayward's office was up stairs over Hardy's fruit store on Market St.

We remember when the Penlan raid occurred at Fort Erie, and witnessed the departure of the Fusiliers from Brantford. George Humburch was then a good sized kid, and was trap drummer in the band at the time.

We all remember Harry Callahan, salesman at Cocksutt's dry goods store. George Skinner, who kept the gent's furnishing store on Market street; Doc Holmes, bookkeeper with Ots; George Lauterbach, John Jenkins and many others of the long ago.

FALKENHAYN LEAVES COMMAND

Severely Wounded, German General Is Compelled to Retire.

By Courier Leased Wire

New York, Oct. 20.—A news agency despatch from Rome published here says:

Field Marshal Von Falkenhayn, former chief of the general staff of the German army has been wounded in the leg and compelled to relinquish command of the Austro-German armies in Transylvania, said a Zurich despatch to the Corriere d'Italia to-day.

General Erich Von Falkenhayn was military tutor to the German crown prince before the outbreak of the war. On October 13, 1914, he was named chief of the general staff succeeding Von Moltke. On August 29, 1916, he was displaced by Von Hindenburg as chief of staff and three days later took command of the Transylvania operations against the Roumanians. He is 53 years old.

Children Cry FOR FLETCHER'S CASTORIA

215th are Now Settling Down

The arduous work of organizing the 215th Batt., is still continuing, baggage for the teams and arranging for its distribution, consuming the heavy work of unloading the most of the time.

Comfortable quarters inside were available for a part of the morning, some of the men utilizing the Y. M. C. A., while others drilled in different places.

The recruiting depot on George St. is at the present time still open, but will be used as the headquarters of the pioneers throughout the winter. Sergt. Bowden was busily engaged with his squad of men this morning in their equipment, while Pte. Tutt has packed up all the magazines, and other matter which has been there for some time, preparatory to assuming new quarters in the armories where it is expected a reading and recreation room will be fitted up for the use of the men.

Capt. Duncan received official notification this morning that he had been unable to pass the medical board, and will be forced to sever his connection with the battalion on account of physical disability.

Orders were issued at the armories yesterday to the effect that married men living in the city, would be allowed one night at home each week.

Every four weeks a week-end pass extending from Saturday noon to Monday morning at half past seven, in the case of those residing in the city, and until the arrival of the first available train for men who live outside the city, will be issued to the men, but warning is given that this privilege may be cancelled at the discretion of the officer commanding.

Notification has also been given that all sections of the city beyond the mess rooms to the east at the armories to the west, will be considered out of bounds until after the last parade at 4.30 o'clock.

AN ATTACK ON WILSON

Maniac Attempted Life of the President of United States Yesterday.

Pittsburg, Pa., Oct. 21.—During the President's ride about Pittsburg yesterday, a man carrying a black satchel made determined efforts to jump upon the running board of the President's car. He was finally overpowered and hustled off to a station house by policemen.

At the station house the man gave the name of Richard Cullen. He is a Pittsburg, 22 years old. When questioned, he said that he was dissatisfied with the President's handling of European affairs, but did not admit that he intended to attack the President.

In the satchel, the police say, was found a long-bladed knife and several chisels. The clasp of the satchel was unfastened. After examining the prisoner, the police expressed the belief that Cullen is insane and decided to hold him for examination.

IN THE WORLD OF LABOR

The metal polisher had a good month during September, signing up many new agreements for shorter hours and higher wages and straight union conditions.

One of the shortest strikes on record occurred in Pittsburg, Pa., recently, when the broommakers in seven factories after being out less than 15 minutes, secured an increase of wages amounting to 3 per cent.

The Amalgamated Association of Street and Electric Railway Employees of America now has considerably over 400 contracts signed up with street railway magnates in the United States and Canada all of which provide for arbitration in case of trouble.

Recently 150 grave diggers in New York City went on strike for an increase of 25 cents a day in wages, and, what is more, they won out and the minimum rate is now $2.50 for a nine-hour day. People can now afford to die again in the American metropolises.

The six separate organizations in Great Britain that have hitherto divided the clothing industry between them have after long-drawn-out negotiations succeeded in reaching an agreement under which there will be only one organization in the future to be known as the United Garment Workers' Union of Great Britain.

The metal polishers buffers and platers organized a new local in Lowell, Mass., on May 27 last, and enrolled every member of the craft employed by the U. S. Cartridge Co. in its ranks; they have now succeeded in securing an agreement under which only union men are to be employed and the eight-hour day has been established, with a general advance in wages.

Peterboro council passed a resolution moved by Ald. Edgar, secretary of the Conservative Association, asking the government to remove the customs duty from foodstuffs that are of high cost and prohibit the exportation of raw material for products scarce in Canada.

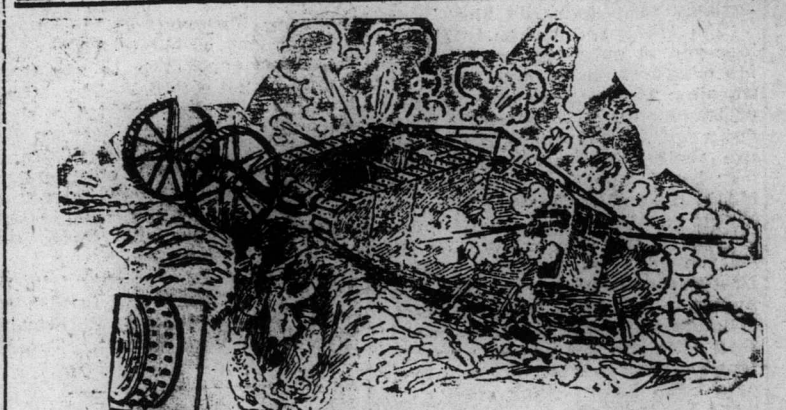

In addition to the administration of the poor relief law and the public health acts, the local government board of Ireland has administered oversight of the so-called laborer's acts, the purpose of which is to put Irish laborers into possession of agricultural holdings assist them by means of money grants for the purchase of holdings, provide them with cottages, assist them in agricultural operations etc.

The Metal Polishers have won their fight with the Toledo, Ohio, Cooker Company, after a determined struggle of eight months duration. The firm has agreed to run a straight union shop and fire all its imported strike-breakers; wages have been materially advanced in all departments; five minutes is allowed at noon and night to wash up; time and a half for overtime and double time for holidays. This is the first big victory ever won in the alumina industry.

Railwaymen in South Wales are demanding an increase in wages, and it was only the intervention of Jas. Thomas, Labor member of the House of Commons and assistant general secretary of the Amalgamated Society of Railway Servants that prevented the declaring of a strike. Action was taken depending further negotiations. The employees affirm, however, that unless their demands are conceded a strike will certainly be inaugurated.

The Womens National Trades Union League is planning a great 24-hour campaign in the United States in the interests of women workers, in which the local branches in New York City, Springfield, Ill., and St. Louis and Kansas City, Mo., will take an active part. A call has been sent out to every central labor body in Michigan, Minnesota, Wisconsin, Indiana, Ohio, Tennessee, Kentucky, Missouri, Kansas, Iowa, Colorado and Illinois, to send two trades union women delegates to a great international conference, which has been called to meet in Chicago during the present month.

There are vast tracts of territory in Australia where cotton could be easily grown, but the industry has not been encouraged, because wages are too high to compete with the cheap labor employed in its production in the cotton-growing countries in the Orient, as well as the United States. The Australian Labor Government is now considering the possibility of devising mechanical methods for picking it, which, if successful, will enable the commonwealth to nationalize the industry with all the profits going to the state. Unless the industry can be carried on and living wages paid it will not be encouraged, as the Labor Government claims that industries that cannot give the workers a fair remuneration for their services should be frowned down upon.

"Well, I'd advise you to choose that one. His pedigree name is Brutus, but you can give him any other that you like for his home use. He'll turn out well, and he's learnt to follow at heel and to wait outside a place if you have him with you. You like him? All right; then I'll have him well groomed and sent up in a day or so. I'll give him a few more runs with a horse to make sure you'll have no trouble with him in jumping about or backing. Sometimes they try it on for a bit when they're quite young, but seldom have any real trouble. That colt of yours wouldn't stand much nonsense. You are breaking him yourself. I think."

"Yes! he's almost broken now for all saddle work. I'm not sure whether I shall use him in harness or not. Do you think it spoils them at all for the saddle?"

"Not as a rule, if you ask my opinion. One perhaps would not try breaking a hunter to shafts, but for ordinary purposes I think one works in very well with the other. If you do begin to try that, I wish you'd let me help you. Your old servant is a bit too stiff in the joints, and the lad hasn't had experience enough. I'm used to that sort of thing."

Gipsy felt her cheeks glow once more.

"You're very kind; but you have so much to do."

"I've lots of spare time, though, and that's a job I love. Will you think about it? And now as we've settled about Brutus I'll take you to my mother."

"I haven't half thanked you yet. He is a perfect darling!"

"Oh, that's all right!" said Gaston hastily. "I hope he'll turn out well. If I know anything of dogs he will."

Chapter XXVI

Madame Lebreton listened with the greatest attention to Gipsy's tale. Her eyes slowly dimmed and her face grew tense and almost stern.

When the girl ceased speaking, having told everything concerning the early morning adventure, the lady sat silent for a short time and then spoke suddenly to herself.

"Morwenna Gull, Morwenna Gull! Daughter of the woman who spoils many strange things before she died, Morwenna Gull!"

"I think she is rather mad," said Gipsy. "At first I found her very interesting. I thought that I should like her, but now I am afraid of the things she wishes to do. I have seen the look on her face. I do not think I know before what hatred meant. Oh, Madame Lebreton, let your son be careful of that girl! She will do him a mischief if she can!"

"And she knows of that secret way from the caves? We thought that was a secret that had been lost. Gipsy, could you show us that way again?"

"Indeed I could! And if I were you I would have it stopped up! It would be quite easy. If great stones were rolled behind those broom-brushes, or a piece of wall built up, that would stop any one from coming up that way. I believe that the White Lady has been just a dressed-up figure coming up from the caves and disappearing into the broom-brushes. I am sure it was Morwenna whom Mr. Lebreton saw—you remember you told me. Don't you see it all? She had given him herb medicine which he should not have taken except in bed—probably it was made very strong on purpose—then she lured him out to the rains on a chill moonlight night, and then she appeared as the White Lady and froze him with the glare of her wild eyes. Oh, I see it all—I see it all! She compassed the death of your husband, and now, growing more wild and more reckless—for I think her mind is unbalanced—she wants to do the same by your son!"

Mrs. Lebreton looked at her cousin earnestly and thoughtfully:

then she quietly rose and rang the bell.

"Turning to the girl, she said—

"Will you go into the inner room? I am going to send for Gennifer, the kitchen-maid. Look at her and see if she is Morwenna's friend, and you can listen to what we say. But your presence would alarm her, so I will ask you to keep out of sight. I must get to the bottom of this matter if possible."

Gipsy watched through the curtains the arrival of the girl, whom she recognized instantly as the one who had met Morwenna in the old banqueting-hall. Madame began questioning the girl about her acquaintance with Morwenna, and at once a look of fear came into her face.

"Gennifer, tell me the truth, and I will forgive your folly and cowardice. Do not think you wish to do us harm, but you are afraid of Morwenna and let her coerce you."

Then out it all came—one of those tales of the strange and almost hypnotic influence of a strong nature over a weak one. Gennifer had had a love affair, in which Morwenna had played a part, and had given her a "love-potion" to give to the hesitating swain. This had appeared to act, and for a time the pair had been "tokened"; but Gennifer herself had tired of her bargain, and again Morwenna had helped her out of a rather discreditable village intrigue which had left Gennifer much in her power. Then, two years back, when Mr. Lebreton had seemed ill, Morwenna had persuaded her to give her master some of her mother's valuable herb remedies to make him stronger. Gennifer, believing she would be doing a good action, put them in the beef-tea she generally made or poured off into a basin. When the master died so suddenly the girl was thoroughly frightened and would have nothing to do with Morwenna for a long time; but latterly the fisher-girl had begun to visit her again and wanted her to give some of her concoctions to Mr. Lebreton. Gennifer sobbed aloud, her apron to her eyes, declaring that if she defied Morwenna the White Lady would overlook her, while if she obeyed her—

"You may take the bottles she gives you, Gennifer," said Madame. "If you will bring them straight to me. Morwenna may have exaggerated ideas of her own powers. Her mind is certainly not normal. She probably thinks herself much more powerful than she is, and she scares you with silly threats. You need not be afraid of any White Lady. We will take care that she does not appear again. Be a sensible girl. I do not think that you mean harm in what you did before, and at this distance of time it would be impossible to tell whether Morwenna's potions were harmful or not. Your master had many things wrong with him, your actions may not have affected the matter, but it must not happen again, Gennifer. I am sure you wish no harm to Mr. Gaston. Anything Morwenna gives, you bring at once to me. If you do this I will overlook your ignorance in the past, for I think you have been sufficiently punished for it."

The girl went away vowing she would not hurt a fly if she knew it, far less Mr. Gaston, who was such a good master to them all.

When she was gone Gipsy came forward to find Madame Lebreton sunk very deep in thought.

"What are you going to do? Do you think Morwenna is dangerous? Do you think that she will make danger for your son?"

"I am debating that matter seriously. Those half-crazy creatures are frequently ended with a very exaggerated idea of their own powers and their own importance. They dabble in small mysteries, and get the trick of imposing upon the credulous. It may be little more than this with the girl Morwenna, but I must consider the matter. For some reasons I wish that Gaston would go away."

"You don't mean for good?" There was such unconscious dismay in Gipsy's tones, that Madame with difficulty repressed a smile. She looked kindly at the girl as she replied—

"I was not thinking of anything so drastic just then. I was wishing that he had friends to visit as other young men have."

"Why has he not?"

"Gaston's youth was not quite normal, though he went to school and college. His father did not let him accept invitations or ask his friends here. He wanted the boy to himself. And when he went abroad he travelled alone and went after game, not into places where men congregate. So he has not made the easy friendships which most young men live. Well, we must see."

"Shall you tell him?"

"Gaston has a wonderful trick of finding out without telling if something is troubling his mother."

"If he knows he will not go."

Gipsy spoke with such an air of finality that the mother smiled.

"Where did you get such a knowledge of my obstinate boy?"

"I don't know that it is knowledge. I think it is just a feeling I have. If he thought there was any trick about her he would stay and face it out."

Before Gipsy left she took Madame Lebreton into the ruins and showed her how, behind the thick growing broom-brushes that filled a niche of masonry and then extended far into the grassy enclosure, there was the orifice leading to that dusky stairway which wound down and down to the floor of the cave below.

Mrs. Lebreton did not try to force her way through, but she was keenly satisfied that the secret entrance had now been rediscovered.

"My husband did not know it but believed his father did, and that he would have told it to him had his death not been sudden. He did not trust his son in youth, as there were legends of abuse having been made of this secret way. At one time an old man knew that smugglers had used the caves and hidden goods in the ruins, but smuggling having almost died out now, my husband did not think that the ancient way of approach was of any use. Gaston will be much interested, and I think he will take means to stop nocturnal prowlings. Perhaps that will lay the spectre."

"You will be glad to think that," said Gipsy with a sudden sense of nature sympathy, and the mother made a sign of assent. "Let him block up the door," the girl went on; "let him keep Morwenna out. I distrust that girl. I almost fear her."

Gipsy stopped short with one of her vivid blushes, and Madame Lebreton took and gently pressed her hands.

"You do not want my boy to come to harm through her machinations, I see. Thank you, my dear child, thank you."

A few days later as Gipsy was lightly running through the plantation path she met Gaston coming up. At his heels were three big dogs. Generally he limited his following to two.

"I have brought up your pup, Miss Gipsy; he is a bit big for that name. He won't grow much taller but will widen out and put on weight. Brutus this is your mistress. You've got to be a good dog and take care of her."

Gipsy was on her knees with her arms round the neck of the beautiful young dog, which wore a brand new wide leather collar studded with large brass bosses, and a plate with her own name and address.

"You darling! I just love you at sight! Oh, how awfully glad I do to give him to me!" said Gipsy to the girl, to whom she raised her sparkling golden-brown eyes. "and I'm going to call him Keeper, because he comes from Gaston's keep. I'm afraid that Brutus would be shortened into Brutie and I wouldn't have anybody seem to revile him."

"I'm glad you like him. He will love you at once—they are affectionate creatures; but I give you one warning. The pups all have a trick of leaping up and bearing people down with their weight. They don't use their teeth—we've bred that out; but I suppose it remains of the old instinct of flying upon the prey. Would you like to see what I mean? If you'll stand over yonder on that soft bed of pine-needles, I'll let Brutie—Keeper come for you. He won't hurt you, but you'll fall before him."

Laughing, the girl moved away; then after she had paused where the pine-needles lay thick, she was aware of a large body moving swiftly toward her, and the next moment the dog leaped full against her and bore her, laughing merrily, to the ground.

"You darling," she cried, her arms around the dog's neck, then rising, and shaking herself, she looked at Gaston.

"Did you set him on to do that?"

"I waved my hand in your direction. That was quite enough. But they are so eager these pups, that they will do it without any signal. I thrash them for that, or it may become a nuisance and might be dangerous. It's all play, but play with a young bloodhound may become more than a joke, so I warn you, you have to keep your eye on them."

NOTED MUSICIAN OF MONTREAL

Advices The Use Of "FRUIT-A-LIVES", The Famous Fruit Medicine.

MR. ROSENBERG
589 Casgrain St., Montreal.
April 20th, 1915.

"In my opinion, no other medicine in the world is so curative for Constipation and Indigestion as 'Fruit-a-lives'. I was a sufferer from these complaints for five years, and my sedentary occupation, Music, brought about a kind of Intestinal Paralysis—with nasty Headaches, belching gas, drowsiness after eating, and Pain in the Back. I tried pills and medicines of physicians, but nothing helped me. Then I was induced to try 'Fruit-a-lives', and now for six months I have been entirely well. I advise any one who suffers from this horrible trouble—Chronic Constipation with the resultant indigestion, to try 'Fruit-a-lives', and you will be agreeably surprised at the great benefit you will receive." A. ROSENBERG.

50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

"Thanks ever so much. But won't you come into 'Fruit-a-lives'—for I'm glad you will keep her out of the ruins, anyhow; but she will be very angry, I expect."

"I'm used to that," said Gaston with a tightening of the jaw not lost upon Gipsy. Then raising his cap and turning back down the path, and the girl led home her puppy in triumph. Keeper, after a few ineffectual and half-hearted struggles to follow his master, seeming to realize that in this soft-voiced and admiring girl he had found a mistress upon whom he might lavish all the wealth of his young affection.

"You are a darling!" she informed him for at least the twentieth time as she led him triumphantly into the house.

MUNICIPAL SKATING RINKS

Are Favored as Healthful Attractions by Leading Physicians.

A writer in "Conservation," gives food for thought in the following article:

"Open air possesses a fascination for the Canadian youth unsurpassed by any other attraction. One result of this yearning has been the organization of the playground movement in many of our cities and towns. Wherever established, playgrounds have met with immediate success. Regulated play inculcates lessons of discipline intermixed with pleasure, and creates a lasting impression upon the young."

In the majority of cases the playgrounds were originally established by public spirited citizens who had the welfare of the children at heart. The success of the movement has led to its adoption by municipalities who are now making appropriations for maintenance.

Our winter, however, militates against a long season for the playground, and in the cold weather, a substitute attraction, viz. the skating rink, should be provided. Municipal outdoor skating rinks have many advantages, not the least being the counter-attraction to the pleasures of hanging on sleighs or coasting on public streets, both dangerous practices.

Open-air rinks can be provided at very small cost. School grounds vacant lots or other open spaces may be used. The area should be enclosed with boards eight inches wide, set vertically, and supported by wooden pegs driven into the ground on the outside. The fire department can flood the rinks and a few of the street employees can keep the ice clear of snow and preserve order.

The municipal skating rink is a wholly commendable investment of public funds; it supplies pleasure and recreation to the masses, as an offset to the provision of good roads for the owners of automobiles or other conveyances for pleasure. If, however, it serves no other purpose than taking children off the street, it well repays the expenditure as a measure of public safety.

SLIGHTLY GREUSOME, BUT AMAZINGLY VIVID AND REALISTIC

WONDERFUL MOVING PICTURE OF THE BATTLE OF THE SOMME IS ENDORSED BY THE COMMANDERS

With regard to the famous war pictures "The Battle of the Somme" now drawing tremendous crowds in that city, the Toronto World says:— Praise only for the Somme pictures besides slight criticism against the showing of the wounded and dead soldiers, is heard from the spectators. The film has already registered itself a stupendous success in Toronto. The sight of the soldiers being killed in action and the scenes at the dressing stations are distressing pictures, but the people for the most part understand that in no other way can real warfare be wholly and accurately photographed. Among the most interested spectators are khaki-clad men, including convalescent soldiers invalided home because of wounds or sickness. The spectators last night included Capt. Joe Lawson and a corps of 15 recruiting sergeants of the 294th Battalion, who marched in single file down an aisle of the theatre to seats reserved for them. The orchestra played "God Save the King" as the men filed in, and applause was given the soldiers by the crowd. Among those present at Monday night's presentation were Sir Henry Pellatt and Lady Pellatt, Mrs. Frank Smith, Mrs. George Dickson, Mrs. and Miss Huestis, Mayor T. L. Church, Mr. and Mrs. Maurice Langmuir, Mr. and Mrs. George Dixon, Dr. and Mrs. Charles O'Reilly, Dr. and Mrs. Breaffley O'Reilly, Miss Phyllis Northheimer, Dr. and Mrs. Charles Sheard, Jr., Mrs. Charles Sheard and Dr. and Mrs. Hubert Watt. Among those who attended last night were Sir Adam Beck, Mayor Church, Lieut. Horace Beck, R.C.I.F., A.; Lieut.-Col. and Mrs. Granet, Col. and Mrs. Briscoe and Miss Briscoe, the Misses Ince, Harry Paterson, Mrs. Doolittle, Mr. and Mrs. Nathans, Miss Beatrice Sullivan, Mrs. Boone and Mrs. D. L. McCarthy. Sir Adam Beck who occupied a box with Mayor T. L. Church and Lieut. Horace Beck, R.C.I.F.A., saw the pictures last night and declared the film to be the most remarkable and complete of its kind he ever saw. Sir Adam visited Ypres and other places in the vicinity of the ground which is pictured in the film during his visit to the front about a year ago. He said the camera had made an accurate portrayal of warfare as it is conducted overseas. "It is most vivid and realistic," declared Sir Adam. "It is wonderful to me how such a film could be secured. While I was in France I saw seven train loads of German prisoners. These pictures also show many German prisoners." When asked if he thought the film was too painful in certain parts to be seen, Sir Adam declared that he thought that they should be seen by everyone. "I think it is good that we should see the pictures," he said. Intermittent applause broke from audiences yesterday when scenes of a character to evoke enthusiasm were displayed. The pictures, however, are of such a character, showing war as it really is, that applause is seldom encouraged and never becomes vociferous. Instead, the emotions of an audience become too deeply stirred with the sense of the pathos so accurately portrayed to seek an outlet through the clapping of hands. Spectators for the most part sit silent and motionless, keenly, intently watching every scene flashed upon the screen. Eyes glisten with tears at times, and even a sob now and then is heard. It is probably true that no motion picture has ever had so great an effect upon the feelings of an audience in a local theatre.

NOTES OF INTEREST IN THE AUTOMOBILE WORLD

Pointers for the Owners of Cars—The Automobile in Western Canada

The first automobile was introduced into Western Canada in 1903, when R. J. McKenzie, son of the President of the Canadian Northern Railroad, brought in a Stanley steamer. This car was followed by a Knox bath chair model, tiller steer, and the single cylinder Cadillac and Oldsmobile. In 1904 the business began to be recognized as one of the great possibilities of the future, and some of the leading carriage manufacturers and dealers took tentative steps to prepare the way for the gradual discarding of the horse-drawn vehicle and its replacement with the new mechanical horse. For some years the automobile met with a somewhat hostile reception from the farmers who regarded it as a possible menace to their business of breeding horses; but with the aid of an educational campaign instituted by the Winnipeg Automobile Club, which was organized in 1904, they became alive to the fact that instead of working to their detriment, the automobile would improve their working conditions, bring about the construction of better roads and a general increase in property values so that today the farmers of Western Canada own practically fifty per cent. of the 39,630 cars licensed in the four western provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta and British Columbia. During the early years of the business a great deal of the agency representation was in the hands of curstone dealers, whose responsibility to the purchaser ended the moment the sale was closed, and such a thing as service was an unreamed-of luxury. This naturally resulted in a few of the better makes of cars that were handled by responsible dealers, securing a foothold in the territory that has never been lost; so that at the present time the entire volume of business is controlled by such cars as the Ford, Buick, Studebaker, Maxwell, Hupmobile, Case, Paterson, Chalmers, Paige, Gray Dort, Mitchell, Cadillac, Chevrolet, Dodge with other makes represented by a scattering few cars. Until 1910 the car business, as far as Manitoba was concerned, was confined almost entirely to Winnipeg.

where a man contemplating the purchase of a car, would come and make his selection. At the present time this has been entirely changed, and there is now a dealer or sub-agent in practically every town, city and village throughout the province. In Saskatchewan, which is mostly farming interests, the number of cars in use is greater than in any of the other provinces, and whilst the actual figures are not available for 1916, there were over 12,000 in use in 1915.

The number of furiously steaming gladiators to be noticed even on the coldest days, calls attention to the fact that the average driver of a motor vehicle has very vague ideas about operating his engine—and this is only one point in which he is lacking. The prevailing error seems to be in running with full throttle and retarded spark, a sure method of overheating the engine, and one which would soon result in disaster if the cooling apparatus was not extremely efficient. Even as it is, such practice does the engine no good. When the speed is to be reduced the first operation is to check the throttle until there are signs of knocking, when the spark may be gradually retarded; and when increasing speed the operation is reversed the spark being first advanced, followed by opening the throttle. Many a lowly motor-cyclist, with his air-cooled motor, could give points to the superior automobilist on economical driving.

Complaints are often heard that the action of the piston in an automobile cylinder tends to pump the lubricating oil up into the combustion space—a simple remedy for this condition, which is said to be satisfactory, is to round off very slightly the upper outside cover of the upper piston ring, and the lower corner of the lower ring. This does not affect the compression in the least, and the action is to permit the upper ring to pass the oil on the cylinder walls on the up stroke, instead of scraping it up to the top of the cylinder, while on the down stroke the surplus oil is scraped back. On the other hand, the up stroke of the lower ring tends to carry the necessary oil for lubrication up the cylinder wall, while on the down stroke the lower corner of the ring would pass over the oil thus distributed and leave it behind. The intermediate rings should have both upper and lower corners eased so as to disturb the oil as little as possible, allowing it to remain and perform its function as a lubricant.

According to the best statistics, the number of automobiles in the United States increased from 200,000 in 1909 to 1,750,000 at the end of 1914. The number of deaths attributable to automobiles rose in the same period from 632 to 2,625, or an increase of 775 per cent. However, statistics indicate that the proportion of fatal accidents to the number of automobiles is decreasing, indicating that the drivers of automobiles are becoming more skillful and more careful. Of these fatalities

Who Killed Cock Robin? Aftermath of World's Series

Inquest Into Untimely Demise of Promising young Aggregation Has Difficult Problem in Placing the Responsibility.

Boston, Oct. 21.—The jury sitting on the inquest as to "Who killed Cock Robin of Brooklyn, N.Y." is still out.

Ring Lardner, a baseball writer, was the first witness called.

"Were you present at the alleged games between the Brooklyn Nationals and the Boston Americans, during which the deceased Cock Robin, came to his death?" enquired the district attorney.

"I was," replied the witness.

"Tell the jury what occurred," snapped the district attorney.

"I don't know what happened," said Mr. Lardner.

"You were present at these games, yet you cannot tell what happened? Will you kindly explain to the jury how that can be?" thundered the district attorney.

"I am a baseball writer," explained Mr. Lardner.

"Oh!" said the district attorney. "The witness is excused."

Wilbert Robinson of Brooklyn was the next witness. Mr. Robinson wore a band of crepe on his hat and a large mourning band upon his arm. There were traces of recent grief in his face, and he could hardly restrain his tears as he gave his testimony.

"Have you any idea as to how Cock Robin came to his death?" asked the district attorney.

"None," replied Mr. Robinson. "Of course he was not very healthy when he started out from Brooklyn, but he wouldn't have bumped off as quick as this unless somebody gave him the works. The first thing I know is seeing him turn up his little pink toes."

At this point Mr. Robinson was overcome and was forced to leave the stand. The district attorney then asked that Ruth and Leonard, Boston pitchers, be called.

Coroner Johnson interrupted impatiently: "Of course you know that the testimony of these men cannot be accepted as evidence," said the coroner.

"Why not your honor?" asked the district attorney.

"They are both left-handers," said the coroner. "You should know that no jury can lie to southpaws." William Carrigan, manager of the Red Sox, was next called. When asked to tell what he knew about who killed Cock Robin, he said:

"Nobody killed him. He was dead from the neck up in the first place, and he just kicked off from natural causes."

"Go as far as you like," said the district attorney. "Anything you say may be used against you, as you are suspected of being an accessory to the killing of the late Cock Robin."

"Go as far as you like," said the witness, defiantly. "Before you can prove that I killed Cock Robin you have first got to prove that he was ever alive."

The witness was cautioned against strong language by Coroner Johnson. He was told that he was in danger of contempt of the National commission.

"If contempt of the National commission is a crime, I ought to be electrocuted," said Carrigan. "Anyhow, I am quitting baseball so anything I say about the commission goes as it lies."

Charles Ebbets, owner of Cock Robin, was next called to testify as to the material loss sustained by the death of the well-known Flatbush bird.

"What value did you place upon the late Cock Robin before the recent world's series and the consequent demise of the bird?" asked the district attorney.

"About two million bucks," said the squire.

"And what would you call a fair valuation of the remains of the said Cock Robin?" asked the district attorney.

"About thirty cents now," said Mr. Ebbets. He collapsed and had to be carried from court.

Ivan Olson, the Swedish-Flatbush ball player, was called. Mr. Charles E. Van Loan acted as interpreter.

"Do you think that the fact that you got two errors on one play had anything to do with the death of Cock Robin?" asked the D. A.

"Ay don't tank so," said Olson. "If it ban You Yonson or Mr. Van Loanson, maybe he got three. Two no jury can lie to southpaws."

Great Marvel of Nature Is Revealed As Though By Day.

Five great electric batteries now flood the American Falls and Rapids with the light of 50,000,000 candles.

When the switch was turned which shot the light of 50,000,000 candles through the present head spray of the American Falls and Rapids of Niagara on August 16, and with the night for a few days, the scene of the darkness and the sublime spectacle of the rushing, foaming waters, a dream of many decades came true.

Science had triumphed, and made Niagara, if anything, more beautiful by night than by day.

The lighting system that accomplished this wonder and that will hereafter be maintained permanently shrouded in darkness or a wide area and not concentrated as in searchlight. The glare of the searchlight is done away with and the light is distributed by nitrogen incandescent lamps, imbedded in reflecting hoods of ingenious construction. The light is diffused through the water, spray and mists of the Falls and not reflected by them in a glare. It is the nearest known approach to sunlight and puts the Falls and Rapids under the light of day.

While all the surroundings are shrouded in darkness of night, the batteries are placed, two on the main land above Prospect Point, two below Prospect Point, almost at the foot of the Falls, and the fifth on Luna Point, directly overlooking the Falls from the extreme end of Great Island. The distribution lights on the whole of the American Falls and Rapids, and the islands in the river above the Falls present a picture no pen can fittingly describe. The batteries are housed in shelters of natural rock that blend with the surroundings so there is nothing to offend the eye. The system used is the Davis System of Flood Lighting, the invention of Will J. Davis, Jr., of Chicago, son of the theatrical manager of the same name, and the late Jesse Bartlett Davis, famous as the prima donna of the old "Bostonians."

This nightly illumination of the Falls will be continued through the month of November, when it will be discontinued for the winter and resumed on May 1st. On account of the ice formation at the foot of the Falls, it is not practicable to operate the batteries during the winter.

Match hats by wearers' eyes is latest craze of fashion in children's headgear.

Mothers this season are adopting the rather pretty notion of matching the hats worn by their little girls with the wearers' eyes. The brown-eyed youngsters have hats of Tuscan straw and blue-eyed youngsters wear white Milan with blue ribbon trimming exactly matching the gray blue shade of the iris. Black hats are for children with gray or hazel eyes. Children's hats like the hats worn by women this year, have rather high crowns, but the head size is always large, so that the hats slip down well over the hair. Nothing is uglier than a small high-perched crown on a childish head. The smaller the hat itself the lower it must descend to be smart. Very soft Milans are worn by children who can afford the best in millinery, and there are new plaid Milans made of strands of colored straw, that are very distinctive. Some of these are in the Glenarry or Scotch shape. A red and white plaid Glenarry is trimmed with a band and streamers of red velvet ribbon and a cluster of bright red cherries near the front. Sailor hats of colored Milan with crown top and trimming band of colored glazed kid are also very smart. Children's sailor hats this year are saucy and dashing in shape, especially those of the jack tar or coast guard type. Picture hats for special wear are of leghorn, or very fine white Milan, henned with wide, supple brims and rather low crowns. A band of black velvet ribbon tied in a small bow with long streamer ends and a single rose, handmade of silk, constitutes a modish trimming for such a hat.

From our own correspondent it seemed good to see the boys in uniform, march through our village once more.

Miss Grace Smith spent the week-end with her friend, Miss Leta Pool Elgin Street.

Mr. Wm. Meyer, Hamilton Road, has disposed of his house and intends moving to the city. Mr. Meyer and family will be greatly missed, both in the neighborhood and Sunday School and church, where they have always taken a very prominent part.

Miss Neva Smith, city, was the guest of Miss Helen Smith, Sunday last.

Miss Neelds journeyed to Hamilton Tuesday evening to visit a friend.

Elm Avenue Epworth League, journeyed in full force to Wesley church last Monday evening, where assisted by the Sunday School orchestra, they gave a good programme and were hospitably entertained by the Wesley Epworth League.

Elm Ave. orchestra furnished music for a social evening for the Adult Bible Class of Wesley church last week. Though five of their members are overseas, it is still greatly in demand.

Mr. Geo. Campbell had a visit from relatives from the West last week.

Ladies' Institute regular meeting was Oct. 19th.

Mr. Tulloch is improving his place by the addition of a sun-parlor.

Halton county Liberals nominated Duncan Campbell, former county warden, as candidate for parliament over W. D. Gregory of Oakville and Toronto. Walter Harland Smith declined to contest Hon. G. P. Granham was the orator of the day.

Jump from Bed in Morning and Drink Hot Water

Tells why everyone should drink hot water each morning before breakfast.

If you wake up with a bad taste, bad breath and tongue is coated; if your head is dull or aching; if what you eat sour and forms gas and acid in the stomach, or you are bilious, constipated, nervous, shallow and can't get feeling just right, begin inside bathing. Drink before breakfast, a glass of real hot water, with a teaspoonful of limestone phosphate in it. This will flush the poison and toxins from stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels and cleanse, sweeten and purify the entire alimentary tract. Do your inside bathing immediately upon arising in the morning to wash out of the system all the previous day's poisonous waste, gases and sour bile before putting more food into the stomach.

To feel like young folks feel: like you felt before your blood, nerves and muscles became loaded with body impurities, get from your pharmacist a quarter pound of limestone phosphate which is inexpensive and almost tasteless, except for a sourish twinge which is not unpleasant.

Just as soap and hot water act on the skin, cleansing, sweetening and freshening, so hot water and limestone phosphate act on the stomach, liver, kidneys and bowels. Men and women who are usually constipated, bilious, headachy or have any stomach disorder should begin this inside bathing before breakfast. They are assured they will become real cranks on the subject shortly.

RESUMED WORK.
By Courier Leased Wire

Bayonne, N. J., Oct. 20.—The Standard Oil and other industrial plants affected by the strike, which was attended by rioting and the loss of three lives, resumed their accustomed activity to-day when all except a few of the 12,000 men who were idle, returned to their places. Better working conditions are promised them and their demand for increased wages will be granted in part it was indicated by the federal conciliators who came here from Washington to volunteer their services.

EVANGELINE BOOTH IS ILL

Head of Salvation Army Is Suffering from Neuritis.

New York, Oct. 20.—Evangeline Booth, head of Salvation Army in this country, has been stricken with a severe attack of neuritis and is under a physician's care at White Plains, N.Y. It was announced here to-day by the organization.

Her lecture trips have been cancelled, but it was hoped she might recover sufficiently to preside at the national congress of the Salvation Army at Philadelphia, commencing November 1.

Complaints of Non-Delivery

Under ordinary circumstances the distribution of a Daily Newspaper is a big task, even with an organization trained for the purpose. When great numbers of new subscribers come all together, the difficulties become greater. The rush during the Great Prize Contest now on is an illustration.

At this time it will probably be impossible to avoid all mishaps and mistakes, although every precaution will be taken by the publishers to ensure the delivery of each number of the paper.

The publishers are determined not only to remedy any such mishaps and mistakes, and to reduce them to the lowest degree, but to spare no trouble or expense to prevent them in future.

With this end in view the publishers request subscribers to communicate every complaint regarding late or non-deliveries by letter, card or Phone 139.

THE BRANTFORD COURIER.

Are you an Anæmic Girl?

Vitality is what You Need.

That is the real remedy, want of it the real cause behind all your trouble. You have only white blood in circulation because the batteries of vitality are running down, and the organs they control cannot properly draw nourishment from what you eat.

Re-charge these batteries, get life-force, vital strength, and all that will be changed. In your case a specialist would prescribe just such vital restoratives as are contained in Dr. Cassell's Tablets. Take those Tablets (the most popular remedy in the world) and your food will yield its nourishment, red corpuscles will crowd your circulation, and keen, bright health again glow on your cheek and sparkle in your eye.

Madame Clara Novello-Davies, the well-known singer and conductor of the Welsh Ladies' Choir, writes: "I have great pleasure in recommending Dr. Cassell's Tablets as a safe and effective remedy. Having obtained almost immediate relief and final restoration to normal health from their use, I have no hesitation in speaking most highly of them."

Dr. Cassell's Tablets are Nutritive, Restorative, Alterative, and Anti-sporadic, and of proved therapeutic value in ailments of the nerve or functional systems of old or young. They are the recognized remedy for:

Nervousness	Sleeplessness	Indigestion
Nervous Breakdown	Anæmia	Palpitation
Neurasthenia	Malnutrition	Kidney Trouble

Specialty valuable to Nursing Mothers and Women of Middle Life.

Sold by Druggists and Storekeepers throughout Canada. Prices: one tube, 50 cents; six tubes for the price of five. War Tax 2 cents per tube extra.

Sole Proprietors: Dr. Cassell's Co., Ltd., Manchester, England.

Eye Error Not a Question of Age and so generally abused as the Eye.

No part of the body is so delicate, so easily injured, The need of glasses to help the eyes is not a question of age lots of children wear them, and there are many more who should. "Bad marks" at school can often be traced to poor eye sight, and very often the eyes should have the constant aid of glasses.

We have facilities here for testing your eyes, and finding out exactly what they need. We sell only such glasses as we can thoroughly recommend and surround the selling with every possible courtesy.

ST. VITUS DANCE CAN BE EASILY CURED

A Tonic for the Blood and Nerves With Rest All That Is Needed.

A Tonic for the Blood and the Nerves With Rest All That Is Needed.

Many a child has been called away from school for not keeping still or for drooping things, when the trouble was really St. Vitus dance. This trouble may appear at any age but is most often met between the ages of six and fourteen. The most frequent cause of the disease is poor blood, aggravated by indoor confinement or mental strain at school. Under these conditions the blood fails to carry nourishment to the nerves and the child begins to show listlessness and inattention. Then it becomes restless and twitching of the muscles and jerking of the limbs and body follow. A remedy that cures St. Vitus dance and cures it so thoroughly that no trace of the disease remains, is Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, which renew the blood, thus feeding and strengthening the starved nerves. This is the only way to cure the trouble, and parents should lose no time in giving this treatment if their child seems nervous or irritable. Mrs. Wm. A. Squires, Cambridge, Ont., says: "My only daughter, now fourteen years of age, was troubled for several years with St. Vitus dance. She was so bad that at times she would lose control of her limbs and her face and eyes would be contorted. We had medical advice and medicine, but it did not help her. In fact we saw the trouble growing worse, and finally we had to take her from school. About a year ago we began giving her Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and by the time she had taken five boxes she was completely cured, and is now a fine healthy girl. I firmly believe we owe this to Dr. Williams' Pink Pills and are very grateful for her restoration to perfect health."

You can get these pills from any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $1.50 from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

THE FALL WEATHER HARD ON LITTLE ONES

Canadian fall weather is extremely hard on little ones. One day it is warm and bright and the next wet and cold. These sudden changes bring on colds, cramps and colic, and unless baby's little stomach is kept right the result may be serious. There is nothing to equal Baby's Own Tablets in keeping the little ones well. They sweeten the stomach, regulate the bowels, break up colds, and make baby thrive. The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from the Dr. Williams' Medicine Co. Brockville, Ont.
