The Model TOWN

the paint protected town

THE finest town buildings soon get to look "dingy" if they are not kept painted. Worse still, the omission of the Spring painting leaves them open to weather-attack and time's decay. And—with materials so high as to make every building worth double today what it was worth in 1913—you are making a mistake if you let a building "go to seed."

Have your town a "model" town—have it fresh with paint—have it protected with a paint that affords real protection.

B-H PAINT

70% Pure White Lead
20% Pure Zinc
10% Pure White Zinc
100% Pure Paint

If this paint were sold at a price half as high again as any other (which it isn't) it would still be the economical paint to use on your house. In every covering capacity it has no equal. A gallon of B goes so far that you'll buy less of it and get more with it. Paint with B-H "ENGLISH" PAINT this Spring—and your house is protected for years, where a coat of ordinary paint will last but a few months.

The difference lies in the above formulae. What other paint is so correct in this respect that its modern pigment is 12? What paint can a dealer furnish you that has anything like the quantity of white lead in this B-H "English"?

This was the formula when lead was lower in price: this is the formula still; even though lead is extremely high in price. It is the B-H formula because the guarantee that calls for it, is printed right on the B-H can. We could not let you buy a cheap paint as to covering capacity, your dependable paint as to durability. Find the B-H dealer in your town. He's the man to buy from.

The Day of Judgment.
(By Dr. Frank Crane)

Soon or late comes the Day of Judgment.

Whether there is to be a great court room scene after the moon has fallen like a ripe fig and the earth turned ashes, let the theologians and their opponents discuss.

But that the Day of Judgment comes at its set time here below with its great bell of doom, its irrevocable verdict and its pitiless punishment, let no man dispute, unless he would dispute the Himalayas or the Niagara at any.

Before the eye are men's activities, their plans, ambitions, wars and governments, and institutions. Considered, deep hidden, where only the eye of wisdom can see them, are the immutable laws of God, the sluggish yet irresistible movements of destiny whose path is progress, whose direction is righteousness, whose end is justice.

When by and by the machinations of men have reached the sum of their iniquity, and mark of hell has been decreed for them, and are met and judged by the stern decrees of all mighty right—that is their Day of Judgment.

Rome brought senuous luxury with her triumph, her day came, and the barbarians extinguished her.

Spain, with her insane vanity colored by fanaticism, murdered the Jews, oppressed the Dutch, exterminated the Incas and the Aztecs, but at her Eternal Tribunal reversed her decisions, scattered her galleons, and repaid her of her territories and relegated her to the shame of impotency.

And how comes the latest monster trying the famous task of overcoming by the might and craft of man the everlasting equities of a silent Deity? For forty years Prussia had developed her military machine. Then at that mad moment fixed by the stars she launched the terrific act long foretold in her fevered thought. Her dark battle line moved out upon an arched, paralyzed world. That she had subsided of military efficiency was conceivable; that she could rise to such heights of moral insanity, to such depths of bestial inhumanity was inconceivable.

The world shuddered, heaved, and strength of the human race gathered head against the dead menace, and the glow of the Day of Judgment red-dened the horizon.

For the vast machine of German egotism could devastate Serbia, Poland and Roumania, could roll juggernaut car over Italy, but it could not reverse the laws of eternal justice, change the unalterable instincts of humanity, nor pull down the pillars of right and wrong which, since the first appearance of conscience among humans, have supported the edifice, organized society.

Out of insane pride emerged the German army; out of the wounds of outraged humanity emerged her opponents. The bloody gods of the Kaiser, the Austrian Emperor and the Turk, at last stood against themselves the God of All the Earth.

This is the Day of Judgment.

Of the verdict there can be no doubt. He who sent proud Lucifer to hell, who drowned the Bourbon in blood, and wrecked the ambitions of vain glories Spain, will know what to do with this modern criminal, whose methods are characterized by the newest prodigies of frightfulness, but the quality of whose crime and sin is as old, as foul, as familiar as the heart of Cain.

At Sheep-Dog Story.

Some twenty years ago, on a large farm near Wren, in Shropshire, was employed a Welsh shepherd, who possessed a remarkably clever sheep dog. At the same time we had a most purely and dangerous bull, who gave a good deal of trouble in getting him back into his fence when he was let out of it. On one of these occasions the sheep-dog came into the yard, and was asked if he thought the bull in the pen. The man sheep-dog pointed to the dog and said, "The bull can't get at the dog."

The dog was washed at the bull, not at his heels but at his nose. Immediately the bull lowered his head to attack the dog, who rapidly retreated into the loose box, followed by the bull, and as he went in, the dog slipped out, and the man in charge who had half a dog's design, shut the door before the bull could turn around.

In all this the dog showed reasonable powers of the highest order. It was a pity he had never been called upon to perform before. All his previous training had been to drive sheep; but he instantly realized that he could not do with a bull, so he adopted the only possible way of inducing the bull to follow him into the loose box by barking and biting at the bull's nose.

Don't Be Dyspeptic.

The dyspeptic has thought only of the stomach when the real source of trouble is in the Liver, Kidneys and Bowels. Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills thoroughly cleanse and purify the digestive and excretory system and in this way put the organs of digestion into splendid working condition. A little patient urging on of these organs when sluggish will restore the habit of healthful digestion.

Controlling Potato Disease From the Start.

(EXPERIMENTAL FACTS)

Potatoes are plentiful this spring. Preserve your seed from a field which produced a good heavy crop the previous year. The anooth appearance of the seed alone is no guarantee of the best of them just at the start.

Soak the seed. Soak them in three hours in a barrel containing either of the following solutions: Corrosive sublimate, 2 oz. in 25 gallons of water. (Note: fatal poison to man and beast.) Formalin: 1 pint in 25 gallons of water.

Cutting for sets throw out all potatoes showing rot or brown spots, or signs of the stem end and in the flesh.

Cut the seed immediately before planting. The longer you keep them out, the smaller the yield. Be prepared to meet the ravages of the potato bug. Spray your potatoes. Spraying pays! Use poisoned Bordeaux mixture for Late Blight. This is the solution: 6 lbs. bluestone, 4 lbs. lime, 20 gallons water. Dissolve bluestone first in 15 gallons of water. Shake the lime in another vessel, strain it off, pour both solutions together and make up to 40 gallons by adding water. Add arsenate of lead paste, 2-3 lbs. per 40 gallons of solution; or use 8 oz. Paris Green and 1 1/2 lbs. of arsenate of lead for 40 gallons solution. Stir well and fill pump through fine meshed sieve. Particles will clog nozzles and are most annoying. Spray thoroughly and cover all leaves well with spray. Don't drench. Commence as soon as the plants are a few inches high and continue every two weeks throughout the season.

For a large field use a high pressure horse-power outfit. For smaller areas there are many good hand-sprayers on the market.

Buy your spray chemicals tight and arrange for the purchase of a sprayer; sometimes it is a good practice for several farmers to club together and buy a good power sprayer.

Watch the field and throw out any sickly looking or dying individual plants. Mark the one hundred best hills for future seed supply. From these select 50 which yield the largest number of uniform potatoes and plant these separately next year, and in every case this practice until your strain yields highest in the neighborhood.

WOMAN'S NERVES MADE STRONG

By Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

Winona, Minn.—"I suffered for more than a year from nervousness, and was unable to get any sleep. I was so nervous that I would have to get up and walk around the room in the middle of the night. I would be all tired out, and I read about Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and thought I would try it. My nervousness is all gone, and I sleep well and feel fine in the morning and am able to do my work. I gladly recommend Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound to make weak nerves strong."—Mrs. ALABY BIRDA, 608 Olmsted St., Winona, Minn.

How often do we hear the expression "nervous woman," "I am so nervous, I can't sleep," or "It seems as though I should fly." Such women should profit by Mrs. Pinkham's experience and give this famous root and herb remedy, Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound, a trial.

For forty years it has been overcoming such serious conditions as displacements, inflammation, ulceration, irregularities, periodic pains, backache, dizziness, and nervous prostration of women, and is now considered the standard remedy for such ailments.

Important Points In Hatching Chickens.

During the hatching season the poultry house and particularly the nest should be kept clean. Clean water and a supply of whole grain should be accessible to the sitters and a dust bath should be provided also if more than one hatch is being taken off, clean out and disinfect the nest after each hatch and put in new food and fresh litter. Dust the hen with insect powder before putting her in the nest, again a day or two before hatching the eggs with the chicken. It is a good plan to put into the dust bath a little dry sulphur or grain tobacco.

Be sure also that the house is free from mice. These little pests get into the cracks and corners of the building and at night, as the hens are sitting, they come out of their hiding place, get on the hen's body and they do not take very many of them to make a hen so uneasy that she cannot sit. In some cases the mice become so troublesome that they actually worry the hens to death.

How to Get Rid of Mites.

Clean out the house and thoroughly sweep, not forgetting the windows wells and ceiling. When this is done sweep out clean, use a garden hose or a still brush and hot water. See that everything in the cracks and crevices is washed out. After this is done allow the house to dry for a while and everything then appears to be clean, use a good disinfectant and be sure that the disinfection is forced by the spray or brush right into the cracks and crevices. If the mites are bad use boiling hot water followed by coal oil and a liquid lice killer or lice paint. Be sure that this goes into the cracks and crevices and when you have gone over your house thoroughly according to the above treatment, in all probability the mites will be exterminated, but it is advisable if the course of three or four days again to inspect for the mites and perhaps to repeat the dose once more.

Mr. Smith—"I see that Mrs. McQueen has just passed without speaking. I thought you were great friends."

Mr. Brown—"No, We are not of the best of terms just at the start."

Smith—"How is that?"

Brown—"Well, you see, it's like this. You remember the fire that took place at their house about a fortnight ago. Well, I ran for a long plank to put up at the window so that she might slide down before the fire broke arrived. But how was I to know there was a nail in the plank?"

When Horses Are Poisoned

When a horse, out at pasture or in the stall, is found staggering in a lumpy condition with the pupils of the eyes dilated, it is usually apparent that he has eaten something that does not agree with him. The cause, of course, is not always the same. Bulletin No. 26 Scientific Series, of the Health of Animals Branch, Department of Agriculture, Ottawa, has been had free on application to the Publications Branch of the department, explains at least one cause of this state of things. The authors, Messrs. S. H. Town, D. V. Sc. Pathologist, and E. A. Bruce, V. S. Assistant Pathologist, tell of experiments by which it was found that stracken was frequently at fault. They say a disease known as "tagginess" has been prevalent on the Pacific slope for many years, and then proceeded to detail the results of their research to show the serious nature of the complaint. They quote an instance in which 24 horses, owned by 11 farmers, died. Not only are the symptoms fully set forth but the treatment that should be followed is given and the steps that should be taken for the eradication of the germ from the horse's feed, whether gathered in the field or supplied from the stable. The title of the bulletin is "The Poisoning of Horses by the Common Bracken."

That Missing Hour.

When a fortnight of daylight saving, people in the United States appear to have completely forgotten that they are one hour ahead of the old conventional time. What they do know is that a turning of the minute hand once round their clocks and watches has endowed them with an hour more of glorious sunlight. Merchants in New York state report that artificial light is no longer necessary in their stores at the closing period of the day. Not only is there a saving of the electric light bills, but consumers have the advantage of an extra hour in which to select their fabrics in natural light. We know also have already experienced and we expect the benefit and their experience will be doubtless that of Britain, where more and better work resulted from daylight-saving. The only kink in Canada is coming from the farmers, who are finding all kinds of grievances, some perhaps with a grain of reason, but mostly from what, it may be hoped, is only temporary cussedness. But really there is no call whatever for a farmer to change his working hours. He can still be in with daylight and end with darkness and arrange his time to suit himself. What benefits the public generally will in the long run also benefit him if he has any at all. Exchange.

A Builder of Health.

Nothing can be of greater assistance in building up the system than Dr. Chase's Nerve Food, for this food, sure to be new, rich blood, and nourishes and restores the feeble, wasted nerve cells. Gradually the body and mind regain vigor and energy, and you feel again the joy of living which comes only to people in good health.

Excessive politeness is seldom on speaking terms with truth.

Sciatic Pains from Exhausted Nerves

SCIATICA or sciatic rheumatism is attended with pain and tenderness along the sciatic nerve in the hips and thighs, and indicates an exhausted condition of the nervous system.

Relief is sometimes obtained by external applications or the use of heat, but at the slightest provocation the distressing pains return and from time to time become more severe as the nervous system becomes more exhausted.

The only way to obtain actual cure is by a reconstruction of the wasted nerve cells, and this is best accomplished by Dr. Chase's Nerve Food. It need not cost you much to restore vigor to the nervous system, but it will take a little patience, particularly at first. After you have used a few boxes and got the building-up process established you will find improvements from day to day which will encourage you to keep up this treatment until the nervous system is completely restored.

Nervous disorders do not right themselves, but naturally, become more acute as the system becomes further exhausted. It is only wise to be warned by sleeplessness, headaches, neuralgic and sciatic pains and to take immediate action to restore the depleted nerves before paralysis, locomotor ataxia or some form of helplessness is developed.

Sawdust for Fuel.

In some portions of France where coal is so scarce and consequently so expensive that it is altogether unobtainable by the poorer class of people sawdust is being used as a substitute, according to the Popular Science Monthly. The sawdust is rammed down tightly in cylindrical metal boxes and a few drops of petroleum are poured over it. The fire thus made can be used for cooking and all domestic purposes and will burn for several hours.

Publisher's Notice

While practically all the weekly newspapers in the province have found it necessary to increase their price on account of the greater cost of publication, THE ACADIAN has so far made no change. We trust we may not be forced to do so although present indications do not offer much encouragement for the hope. In order to assist us in meeting expenses we have decided to make a small charge for any kind of a business notice inserted in our paper, and in future there will be no free notices. Our space is so living and we cannot afford to give it away. News items will be gladly received as formerly and given a place in THE ACADIAN but when our space is used to advance financial or personal interests we expect remuneration. If we are to "carry on" we must have it.

Nothing to be Proud Of.

Canada's distinction of destroying the most property by fire is nothing to be proud of. From $20,000,000 to $25,000,000 worth of property is destroyed by fire in Canada every year. The loss per head of population is $5.58; the next in proportion is the U. S. with $2.32 per head. Such fire loss is a tax on the whole community; and it is still a loss even when it is insured. Fire insurance has to be paid by the community in general. It is added to the price of goods and service, and consequently is part of the high cost of living. Canada is no longer so rolling in wealth that the nation can afford to go on making $20,000,000 bonfires annually.

Waste Not-Want Not.

The Toronto newspapers state that between April 12 and 18, 7,910 tons of onions, turnips, apples, potatoes and fish had to be destroyed in Toronto incinerators, having been kept in cold storage in various warehouses until they were found to be unfit for any other kind of consumption, even for the proposed municipal pigery in Toronto. A report has been prepared by city officials for the Canada Food Board, and for the Local Food Controller, giving the names of the firms from whose places the stuff was sent to be destroyed so that they may take action if it is deemed essential.

Mr. W. F. O'Connor's appeal to Canadians in his address to the Toronto Press Club to substitute 'Christianized commerce' for 'commercialized Christianity' in individual and national business effort strikes the right note. In the time of testing real things count.—Toronto Globe.

Within a year the number of automobiles in use in Canada has doubled and now total more than two hundred thousand, convincing evidence of general prosperity. It would be interesting to know what relation the war-giving of the average Canadian bears to his personal pleasure expenditures.

The Food Board warns that the recent order restricting the quantity of flour and sugar which may be held to fifteen days' supply, must be strictly observed, and excess holdings returned at once to the dealers from whom bought. The dealers must purchase at the price paid or at that quoted on April 20th, whichever is the lower.

The Canadian Food Controller says the advantage of interesting city people in hog-raising is two-fold: the labor necessary would not otherwise be engaged in the production of food, and is therefore a net gain; and the pigs will be fed on household waste which would otherwise be wasted. If that is not an argument for the establishment of a municipal pigery and the use of garbage as food, it is an argument for every household-keeper keeping a pig if conditions permit.

The Sugar Situation.

Some surprise has been expressed by the general public at the new sugar regulations put in force the first day of May by the Canada Food Board. People wondered at the sudden scarcity of sugar, having understood since the first of the year that the Cuban crop was sufficient to supply the wants of this country and the United States, whatever might have been the situation in Europe, where Java sugar was cut off owing to war conditions.

The situation in this country, however, has been materially changed since the first of the year. At the time the International Sugar Commission of New York, which handles the raw sugar of this continent, allocating and distributing the amounts in Canada and the United States, as well as other countries, considered that there was sufficient sugar in Cuba to allow Canada 300,000 tons as against 100,000 imported last year. As Canada last year exported 55,000 tons of refined sugar, her consumption was then 345,000 tons and this year at 320,000 tons her supply would be reduced merely by 25,000 tons of 5 per cent, which would not have been a severe hardship upon anybody or made much disturbance in the trade. In addition to this outlook the Commission expected to have a surplus of 700,000 tons to work on later, of which Canada's share would be 70,000 tons or 10 per cent, so that before the year was out this country would have been supplied, under former arrangements, with 45,000 tons more sugar this year than last. Consequently there was no necessity for the Food Board placing any restrictions upon the consumption of sugar in this country, in view of the fact that Trans-Atlantic shipping was so taken up with other more vital cargoes that space could not be spared for sugar. Wheat, meat, munitions and men for the army are more imperatively needed in Europe than raw sugar, and these are not ships enough to carry everything.

It was expected, however, that there would be shipping enough in the coastwise trade of the United States to bring raw sugar from Cuba and the West Indies to New York and other American points, owing, however, to the congestion at the wharves of the Atlantic coast, the breakdown in railway transportation and the general and totally unexpected demand upon the American transportation system generally, it has become a difficult matter to move the freight necessary for this country and the difficulty has not been overcome as yet. It was hoped that some arrangement for bringing sugar direct from Cuba to Canadian ports could have been effected but this attempt has had to be dropped. Shipping is not available, consequently the new sugar regulations.

Childhood Constipation.

Constipation is one of the most common ailments of little ones and unless relieved may become chronic and baby's health for all time become impaired. Nothing can equal Baby's Own Tablets in regulating the bowels. They are a mild, safe laxative and are administered and ever feel to be effective. Concerning Mrs. Emile LaChapelle, Terrebonne, Que., writes:—'I have used Baby's Own Tablets for my baby who was badly constipated and they quickly relieved him. All mothers should keep a box of these Tablets in the house.' The Tablets are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

A Daughter of the Gods, Coming.

What the Herald says:—Halifax, April 11.—No doubt curiosity to see Annette Kellerman sporting in the water and doing some fancy high diving, and probably the possibility of beholding the human form scantily draped, were the principal causes that caused the S. R. O. sign to be visible yesterday afternoon and evening at the matinee and evening productions of 'A Daughter of the Gods.' So far as Miss Kellerman and her mermaids were concerned, the throngs of spectators got what they expected. Those who went to see anything that might satisfy prurient glances at what was under-estimated were disappointed. 'A Daughter of the Gods' is a 'beauty show' if one wants to use that phrase, but it is a beauty show of an innocent and most gorgeous kind, containing nothing that would offend the most puritanical taste in matters theatrical.

'A Daughter of the Gods' is a spectacle in the sense that it is a series of highly colored oriental scenes, not only from nature, but also from life. We see nature in idyllic phrases, land, sea and sky, contributing their most radiant qualities. We have people at life in a harbor, but quite devoid of anything sensual or suggestive. Besides, there is a lot of movement in the spectacle, the bustle of life on the streets and the excitement of battle, as well as the destruction by fire of a large city.

But all this forms only one aspect of this spectacle of oriental beauty. In addition to being a spectacle, 'A Daughter of the Gods' is just the kind of fairy picture that will delight children. There are two children whose story is the picture, and they really can act. Then there is a series of magic changes of birds into a girl child, and a boy prince who comes later to rules country and to kill his sweetest in battle. All this is a story by itself and has the usual happy ending of a fairy story.

In this fairy story or fairy-back-

A MESSAGE FOR YOU

The need of the country to save wheat at the present time is so urgent that His Honour the Lieutenant Governor of Nova Scotia has requested the clergy of the Province to preach a sermon especially devoted to wheat conservation, on (May 19th), Sunday next.

Q Will you be sure to be on hand to hear what your clergyman says.

Mr. King in Nova Scotia and hopes to substantially advance the growing of W. C. Archibald, this branch of the fruit enterprise of Wolfville. He is setting this year. He regards this outlook as most promising in Fruit Growing, Mr. Archibald is now 75 years of age, but 3 years old on a new orchard of plans. He has selected varieties known to him in his long experience.

Why you should look for this Trade-mark on your Shoes

A TRADE-MARK is a manufacturer's signature. If a firm makes an article they are prepared to stand behind—they stamp it with their trade-mark. It is put on their goods so you may identify them. It stands to reason, therefore, that it is safer for the public to always buy "known" and "trade-marked" shoes rather than "anonymous" shoes.

Each working day of the year, the A. H. M. trade-mark is stamped on the soles of thousands of pairs of shoes for men, women and children, because we want you to know our shoes when you see them—because we are making a sincere effort to produce good values in footwear—because we believe you will find our shoes satisfactory—and buy them again and again.

The management of Willow Bank Cemetery has recently made a decided improvement in the appearance and condition of the entrance on Willow avenue. The cement paths, which had become decidedly out of line, have been replaced. The stone steps have been repaired, and a good job generally has been accomplished. We hope to see other and much needed improvement made during the coming season.

We noticed one day last week that our friend Dr. Spilke was applying a coat of paint to the nest guard he has placed around an ornamental tree in front of his residence on Summer street—the fourth he has planted in one place since purchasing the property. The doctor evidently expects a new offensive on this front from the delivery teams, which have been successful in getting through on former occasions.

The Opera 'Yokohama Maid'

In light opera at least good amateurs are infinitely more attractive to the writer than any but the best professionals. and Mrs. Cora Pierce Richmond's pupils, to the advantage of both teacher and pupils, must be classed among the former. The opera at Wolfville on Thursday evening was really high-class and delightful and fully enjoyed by a large audience of many of the best people of the town and county. Mrs. Richmond is not only a voice cultivator of high quality but seems to be able to develop a remarkable dramatic excellence in many of her pupils, and to avoid noticeable weak spots in the opera she presents, which so often mar otherwise good amateur work. To particularize fully in a review of this excellent opera would occupy too much space. To those who had heard and seen Miss Evelyn Neily in similar work her excellence in the character of 'Olog-a-Song,' was not a great surprise, but in the writer's opinion in the second act her dramatic ability and the possibilities of her splendid soprano were shown as never before, and apparently left nothing to be desired on the part of the principal male actors and some of the audience, except their possessor, Miss Marie Wilson's rich contralto is always satisfactory and as 'Tung-Waga,' an elderly nurse, her make-up, acting and singing were beyond criticism and her dramatic ability a surprise to most of her friends. Miss Mildred Harvey as 'Kinsmees' sang and acted well and her duet with 'Keogudi,' Mr. Mason, was excellent. Miss Marjorie Chute and Miss Gwen Rowe, as American tourists, looked, acted and sang their parts most pleasingly. Mr. Hopgood, as 'Fattedo,' made a most imposing Mayor and acted the part well. Mr. Pick, in a capacity as 'T-kas' and 'Harry Cortese,' sang his solo parts well and acted the characters. Mr. McNeil, as 'Ah No,' was a typical Chinaman, and sang and acted well, receiving a well merited encore in his dance with Miss F. Stockhouse. Mr. Gertrude as 'Muvoo Yu,' was also good. The special numbers were all good. Miss O. Conner, in artistic dances, Miss E. M. M. in her interesting piano solos, and the Misses Strack in their Japanese dancing added variety and charm to the entertainment. The important work of accompanist was well done by Miss Viola Bishop and Mr. McNeil. The stage settings and effects were appropriate and reflected credit upon the stage manager, W. A. Cott. Of course an opera requires an orchestra and the Kentville Amateurs, under the direction of Mr. Burgess, are entitled to a fair share of the honors for their excellent work. Also an opera demands to much without a good chorus and Mrs. Richmond was fortunate in obtaining so many good voices while continuing so materially to the success of the opera. The costumes were also excellent. It is to be repeated in Kentville on Monday, May 20, and also in Windsor, and is better worth seeing and seeing than most of the imported shows. MUSIC LOVER.
