ACADIA LOSES AT HALIFAX

Wanderers Defeated Local Collegians on Thanksgiving Day

Halifax, Nov. 7th.—Wanderers defeated Acadia 13 to 3, in an exhibition game yesterday at the local gridiron before 800 shivering spectators. Despite the one-sided score, Acadia forced Wanderers to the limit and gave a good account of themselves although they had a comparatively light team on the field. More accurate passing near their opponents' line won for the Wanderers. The locals appeared to lack their usual punch, and this was probably due to the fact that they had played a hard game on Saturday and were suffering from the effects.

Acadia presented a strong backfield and at times the passing of the halves and quarters was brilliant, but their one big fault was the running into the opposition instead of taking the open field in front of them. Wanderers worked a passing game that was every bit as good as they used in Saturday's game.

Play in the first half was fairly even, with Wanderers having a little more territory. Clarke, the Acadia backfield star, did some splendid kicking, but the tackling of Hunter spoiled chances for touches.

Hattie made a brilliant run around the end and passed to Holmes who lost the pigskin when Kitchen brought him down with a pretty flying tackle. The ball was shot along the half line and Jack Edwards barely had to move to make the try which Richie MacCoy converted. A minute later Holmes went over from a scrum in the corner. This try was also converted by Richie MacCoy.

Hunter, Hattie and Don Campbell broke up plays with lightning tackles at the opening of the second session. Clarke booted the ball for long gains several times, but blind passing by forwards spoiled the plays.

Clarke made a long punt at Harry Edwards who allowed the ball to roll out of his hands and Lewis beat him to the touchline for a try. It was good follow up work on the part of the Acadians who showed a fine burst of speed. The Wanderers' halfline started to work and the pig skin travelled Arthur to Edwards to Hunter to Rich MacCoy who ducked and dodged for thirty yards and the final try of the game. This was the outstanding individual effort of the game.

In a mix-up in the centre of the field George Hattie was struck on the head and was carried off the field unconscious. Acadia worked the ball to the Wanderers' ten yard line, but a fumbled pass spoiled a splendid opportunity for a try. The game ended, Wanderers, 13; Acadia, 3. P. O. Finch refereed. The line-up:

Acadia: Kitchen, full back; Morrison, Anthony, Clarke, Murray, half-backs; Robinson, Davidson, Grimmer, quarter-backs; Lewis, Elderkin, Thompson, McCready, Rhodenizer, Wigmore, Marshall, forwards.

Wanderers: H. Edwards, full back; J. Edwards, Arthur, Hunter, Holmes, half-backs; R. MacCoy, L. MacCoy, R. Campbell, quarter-backs; Studd, Young, Dr. D. Campbell, Schwartz, Armistage, Craig, Hattie, forwards.

THANKSGIVING SERVICE

Union Service at St. Andrews Church Largely Attended

The union Thanksgiving service held at 11 o'clock on Monday morning at St. Andrew's church was largely attended and of an interesting character. Rev. R. F. Dixon, who presided, briefly referred to the service as the fourth of the kind that had been held in Wolfville, and expressed the hope that the good spirit which at present exists between the various churches of the town might continue.

After offering a brief prayer and calling upon the congregation to accompany him in the Lord's Prayer, he called upon Rev. Dr. MacDonald, who read the sixty-seventh psalm as the scripture lesson. Fitting prayer was offered by Rev. Mr. Hemmson, after which a collection was taken for the work of the Children's Aid Society.

The preacher was Rev. G. W. Miller, who gave an address which was most appropriate and interesting. He began by saying that the address was the least important item on the program of a Thanksgiving service. The thankfulness of those present had been expressed in the prayer and praise already offered and if their minds could be in any way directed in keeping with the proper spirit of the occasion through his remarks he would be well satisfied. Think and thank are kindred terms and it is only when we think on the mercies and blessings that we enjoy that we are truly thankful to the Giver of all good. The material things of life which sustain and clothe our bodies and make life enjoyable stimulate in us thankful hearts to Him from whom cometh every perfect gift, but most of all we should be thankful for the "unspeakable gift" bestowed upon us, whose spirit abides and controls the things of this world and makes possible the coming of the time when perfect peace shall prevail throughout the earth.

After a few closing remarks by the chairman the service closed with the benediction pronounced by Rev. Dr. MacDonald.

THE AFTERMATH

By John Oliver Lewis

We're back from the turmoil of battle,
Back from the filth and the mud,
Back from the stern call of duty,
Which ended in "rivers of blood".
We've finished with cold and discomfort,
Long nights on the watch for the foe,
Forced marches without any shelter,
To end in a trench full of snow.

The infamy of the invader,
Who broke every law of the land,
Hardened our hearts for the onslaught,
Giving us courage to stand—
Against fearful odds—how we battled,
How we made the whole world hold its breath,
For we knew we were fighting for freedom—
Though freedom, to thousands, meant death.

We're worn and grey with the struggle,
For its horrors were always so near,
The form of a poor mangled brother
Bred hatred—but never a fear.
We've won, but we've paid for it dearly,
For we left in that land bleak and lone
Our comrades, "the fallen", true heroes,
The best men that ever were known.

They sleep where they fell, at their duty,
And as there's a just God above,
He'll open His arms to receive them,
And bless them with Infinite Love;
And we who remain—MUST REMEMBER
We're pledged for the rest of our lives,
To care for the widows and orphans,
Of these men who gave up their lives.

The sum of ten dollars per month was added to the salary of the janitor and certain items of work were added to his regular duties so as to give him an opportunity of earning the increase with little added expense to the town.

CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY

Annual Meeting Held at Parish Hall on Tuesday—Good Attendance and Interesting Program

The tenth annual meeting of the Children's Aid Society of Kings County was held at the Parish Hall, Wolfville, on Tuesday afternoon. It was decided to hold this important gathering this year in the afternoon so as to enable those interested in the work of the organization in different parts of the county to be present. The change was apparently appreciated and when the meeting opened at 3 o'clock the hall was pretty well filled, those present representing Wolfville, Canning, Canard, Port Williams, Grand Pre and other sections of the county.

After the reading and confirming of the minutes of the last annual meeting, the president, Rev. G. W. Miller, gave an interesting outline of the work done by the association during the past year and made a number of helpful suggestions regarding future activities in aid of child welfare.

The annual report of Mr. H. Stairs, who during the ten years of the society's existence has faithfully and efficiently filled the position of agent and unstintingly given himself to the work of improving conditions surrounding child life in the county, was read by the president, and on motion unanimously adopted. A number of those present, including Rev. Mr. Prosser, Rev. Mr. Logan and Mr. W. H. Eaton, of Canard, referred in most appreciative terms to the splendid work being done by the Society and its agent.

Mr. C. A. Patriquin secretary-treasurer, presented the financial report for the year, showing a slight deficit which had been more than made up by recent generous contributions from members. While generally speaking the work of the Society is financed by the Province and Municipality there are many expenses that must be met by private contributions. Most sections of the county have generously supported the Society in its work in the past, and still further contributions are solicited in order that the work may go on without interruption.

A helpful discussion of the work of the Society took place and it was urged by those taking part that still greater endeavor be made in the interests of the neglected children of the county. It was pointed out that the lack of any provision for the care of the mentally defective presented the great problem in connection with the Society's work, and a strong resolution was unanimously passed urging that the Provincial Legislature take immediate steps to provide an institution for the segregation and training of this unfortunate and increasing element in our population.

A committee comprised of Rev. A. J. Prosser, Rev. G. A. Logan, Miss White, dean for women at Acadia University, Miss Harry, V. O. N., and Judge Webster was appointed as a propaganda committee to make a survey of the needs of the county and report regarding future work. The committee was also instructed to bring to the attention of the legislature the need of an institution for the care of the feeble-minded.

The following officers were elected for the coming year:

President—Rev. G. W. Miller
Vice President—B. O. Davidson
Vice President for Kentville—Judge Webster
Vice President for Canning—R. W.

SPLENDID ENTERTAINMENT

Given by Wolfville Girl Guides at the Opera House

Before the largest house which has greeted a performance for many months, the Wolfville Girl Guides presented their second annual entertainment at the Opera House on Thursday evening of last week. Long before the hour of 7.30 the building was filled and when the curtain went up these juvenile amateurs had the pleasure of seeing the back portion of the house filled with people who were unable to find seats.

The first number on the program was the "Welcome Song" given by the entire Troop. This was followed by the regular opening and business exercises, carried on as if it were a regular Troop meeting.

The Troop was fortunate in having with them Mrs. Tibbs, the Provincial Secretary of the Girl Guide movement, and after a short address in which she outlined the scope and work of the movement to the audience, she presented the badges to the different Guides. To Miss Annie Fitch fell the honor of having won the largest number, her record being exceeded by any other Guide in the whole province. Mrs. Tibbs also presented Miss Parry with her commission as a lieutenant and Thanks Badges were presented to Mr. and Mrs. E. P. Brown for the help and assistance which they had given to the organization ever since its inception. The bearing of the girls during their parade was especially commented on by the audience and their military training would have won the heart of even a hardened old Sergeant Major.

All the numbers on the program were of a high order of merit, and it would be unfair to make any comparison either between the different numbers or between the individual participants. The Flag Drill was especially well presented, while in the Indian Song the girls in their multicolored costumes aroused the admiration of the house, and the actors executed the various movements of the Minuet with a grace and courtliness that would have excited the envy of their grandmothers; while in "When Polly put the Pepper in the Tea" Nita Tretheway showed what a hostess should not be to perfection.

The program finished with a two act farce, "Carrotty Nell". The girls played their parts admirably, and although they may have been nervous, yet they certainly failed to show it. Although no comparison should be made yet perhaps the work of Nita Tretheway and Lydia Miller was especially deserving of praise.

Undoubtedly the evening was a great success and the people of Wolfville are under a great obligation to the ones who first started the organization here, and especially to Miss Parry and Miss Haley, to whose tireless energy and boundless patience the success of the entertainment is due.

All returned men are requested to meet at the G. W. V. A. club rooms on Sunday evening at 6.40 to attend service at the Baptist church. No uniforms. Wear a poppy.

THE ACADIAN was in error last week when it stated that Mrs. L. H. Curry, of Hortonville, was an adopted daughter of the late Rev. J. B. Merrill. Mrs. Curry is an intimate friend of the family and for a time was a member of the home, but in no way related.

WOLFVILLE BOY SCOUT ASSOCIATION

ITS HISTORY

The Boy Scout Association of Canada was incorporated in 1911, and the Wolfville Association was formed during the same year.

Wolfville Troop of Boy Scouts is registered at Halifax as No. 1 of the Nova Scotia Troop.

The present Scoutmaster, Mr. E. P. Brown, obtained his warrant, signed by H. R. H. the Duke of Connaught, in 1911.

The first Wolfville Troop consisted of only 8 boys. Now nearly every boy in town of scout age is a member. Meetings have been held almost every week since organization, and camps every summer except one, during the war.

First camp was held without equipment of any kind at Davison Lake in 1911.

In 1912 tents were borrowed and a larger camp located at Black River. Original patrol was given a trip to Chester.

PRESENT EQUIPMENT

The Wolfville Troop owns three acres of land on the north shore of Sunken Lake, and thanks to the late Capt. J. Pratt, a commodious building 50 by 12 feet with kitchen in rear.

This building is fully equipped with tables, benches, stove and cooking utensils for 100 boys.

In this building are stored three canoes, two boats, two punts, six large bell tents and four smaller tents, all belonging to the Association.

The Association also owns the building in Wolfville which is exactly suited to the needs of the work. This building is now being used in the afternoons and evenings by groups of boys and girls from the Sunday School for their weekly meetings.

All this equipment is used by the Girl Guides and organized S. S. Classes as well as the Scouts.

FUTURE NEEDS

The friends of the Boy Scout movement in Wolfville believe that the time has now come when the citizens generally should assume responsibility for the financial support of the work which has been demonstrated of such vital importance to the community. In order to ensure its permanence under competent leadership a sum of not more than Two Thousand Dollars is required each year. The provision for this amount in the town budget would relieve the necessity for private solicitation and leave those in charge free to give the best possible effort for the promotion of the welfare of our young people.

The undertaking has the approval of the Town Council, and citizens will have an opportunity to give their assent at the public meeting on November 22nd. Will you consider the proposition carefully and in the interests of our boys and girls.

The Boy Scout Association Solicits Your Support. Be on Hand Promptly at the Meeting on Nov. 22nd, and Vote for the Two Thousand Dollars Required.

ARMISTICE DAY

THE ACADIAN is pleased to be able to report that so far as Wolfville is concerned there has been no attempt made to combine Armistice Day with Thanksgiving Day. At the public service on Monday morning no reference was made to the former anniversary, greatly to the satisfaction of a number at least of those present. Just what our town will do to commemorate the end of the war and the coming of peace on that memorable morning four years ago to-morrow we are unable to say at the present writing, but there will be no attempt to side track the anniversary as the government suggests. If Thanksgiving Day was made primarily a time for thanks and praise in consideration of mercies received there might be some justification for an attempt to embrace within its scope the return to peace at the end of the great struggle for world freedom. But Thanksgiving Day has become a time for jollification and feasting and many hearts and homes throughout our land are yet too sore to appreciate such a commemoration of a time which means sacrifice and sorrow. Armistice Day should be a holy-day and observed in such a manner as to perpetuate in the life of our people the high principles for which Canadians fought and died in the Great War.

ARE YOU DOING YOUR PART?

Newspaper advertising is the propelling force that keeps a community afloat. Stop the propelling force in a flying machine and the flying machine drops. Stop the propelling force in your community and the community drops. There is a cumulative effect in every business house, advertising, however small the advertisement carried. One then helps the other to carry the load of winning business to the town and making it the centre to which thought is directed. When only a few advertise, they have to do the work that all should join them in doing, and it is the more difficult for them to create that magnetic influence which attracts and centres trade. What are you doing Mr. Businessman to keep the propelling force going?

CANADIAN DOLLAR HAS ITS TURN

It is most gratifying to note the change that has taken place with regard to the value of the Canadian dollar since the war ended four years ago. Adverse trade conditions reached such a point at one time that our dollar in the United States was worth little more than eighty cents and the U. S. dollar was eagerly sought in this country. Those who came here from over the border found their money had increased wonderfully in purchasing power. Now all is changed again. The other day a resident of Wolfville found that the bank charged him fifteen cents for cashing a twenty dollar U. S. note, which indicates that the tables are turned. Canadian money is good enough for Canadians and apparently good enough again for foreign nations as well.

The new gravel road where completed is now in excellent condition, and might remain so for a considerable time if properly patrolled and kept under careful supervision. That such treatment is most necessary must be apparent to any observant person. Already the process of disintegration is proceeding and every little pocket will soon become a rut if neglected. It will be good economy to place every section under the care of a competent man who would be held responsible for its maintenance and receive a fair remuneration. Otherwise in a comparatively short time the road will be in the same condition as formerly and the money gone.

The necessity for the utmost care on the part of automobile drivers in turning street corners was demonstrated in Wolfville a few days ago. The incident occurred at the corner of Main street and Linden avenue. A car was turning off Main street when a small boy was crossing the avenue. The boy seeing the auto upon him was apparently dazed and stopped abruptly in front of the car. Had it not been that the vehicle was moving slowly and under absolute control on the part of the driver a serious accident could not have been averted. Some day when a swiftly moving car is taking this corner under similar conditions there will be a tragedy.

SOMETHING FOR EVERYBODY

The Family Herald and Weekly Star of Montreal, seems to have a genius for collecting, or at least for giving us the best of everything. It is because all needs are catered to, and all minds receive what they need, and all households are given from the experience of the past and the wisdom of the present what is necessary for today and to-morrow also, that none can afford to be without the Family Herald and Weekly Star, particularly as the subscription price of $2.00 a year is within the means of all.

BACK TO THE FIRST LINE

Backward, turn backward, O Time in your flight—I am as blue as they make 'em tonight. . . I have been blessed with an appetite rare, equal to that of a cinnamon bear. Now, I'm lopsided, dyspeptic, and lank, fling on stuff that has made me a crank.—O, for some gravey like Ma used to make.—Pass me the steak, brother pass me the steak!

When I hark back to the smoke-house of yore, loaded with goodies from exit to door. . . Think of the pantry, and spring-house, and cave, bursting with viands an angel might crave.—Now I front up to some vulcanized meat, doped and embalmed till it ain't fit to eat. O, for some corn-bread, and hog-jowl and greens—Pass me the beans, brother, pass me the beans.

Once we ate hominy, finer than silk. Now, it's ground corn-stalks with racket-store milk.—stuff that was never inside of a cow—made out of whitewash, the devil knows how! I have grown weary of "crispiess" and "flakees"—copyright wafers and patented cakes,—factory-made fodder that ain't worth a damn! Pass me the ham, brother, pass me the ham.

FIGURED HIM

Seth Hemway had a reputation far and wide as a person who would not pay his debts.

Grocer Bilkens one day sent his new clerk to collect a bill long over-due. "And don't come back unless you get it!" was the grocer's parting instructions. A half hour later the clerk walked in and handed over the full amount.

"How in Heaven's name did you get all that money out of that old dead-beat?" asked the grocer.

"Huh, I told him I would tell everybody he owed that he had paid me, if he didn't."

WOMEN IN COUNCIL

By Lady Frances Balfour, LL.D.,
D. Litt. (President of the National Council of Women).

CAMBRIDGE, ENGLAND—Over 600 delegates have met at Cambridge for the annual conference of the National Council of Women, which opened there on Tuesday. The National Council claims to be the largest women's organisation in the country, and also the most comprehensive in its scope. Its object is to promote sympathy of thought and purpose among women for the removal of all disabilities of the sex, whether legal, economic or social, and also for the good of the social, civil, moral and religious welfare of the general community. Affiliated with it are as many as 145 women's societies and institutions, which have a combined membership that far exceeds one million. The president this year is Lady Frances Balfour. It is more than thirty years ago that the Council of Women Workers were gathered together and organised. The work grew out of that of a single individual. Sheffield claimed last year that the work of Elicée Hopkins was begun in Sheffield, Cambridge claimed to have been her birthplace. (The raising of the status of women, to create an ideal that women were to be held in no sort of slavery of body or of mind—these were early thoughts of the women workers of the country.

If we study the earlier agendas of these conferences and compare them with the subjects passed by resolution or debated by the best brains of both sexes before audiences keenly and intensely interested, we can see the progress made by the citizens of our country.

The delegates came from all parts of Great Britain and our dominions beyond the sea.

We are undenominational, Christian in spirit, and though Bishops have blessed us and Nonconformity has welcomed us, and the Church of Scotland stands timidly afar off, the Council calls no church organisation their own. This year Maude Royden was chosen to address the Council of Women. She is among the first six orators of the United Kingdom, and has clearly a vocation and calling in the spiritual kingdom. The church in which she preached, by permission of the Bishop of the diocese, was crammed from an early hour, and no one who looked up at that pulpit went away uned.

The message, which told us of the Spirit of Peace, and how it might brood over the troubled waters and spread from "sea to sea", was an inspiration for the work that lay before us.

No party politics ever have been allowed to intrude on the deliberations. At one time the Anti and the Suffrage Leagues were both affiliated to the Council. Some of us did not belong in those days, but logic does rule in women's councils, and in course of time the principle of woman suffrage was adopted. On all lines of thoughtful progress women are trying to strengthen the hands of our legislators. They bring their special knowledge to bear on the home, the child, housing, temperance, age of marriage, guardianship; the child of the unmarried mother, and the mother and father of such, all passed under review. All were debated by women who had worked at the problem and knew the wounds created by unequal laws, and who were resolved to work on for the poor and the oppressed.

The Council did its work well and quickly. The meetings were well organized, so was Cambridge; no fuss or turmoil—but then women are born administrators and organisers, so good at this class of work it is said, that men fear to let them in.

The scale of expense run by a man's organisation and that of a woman's does not stand comparison. Women have always had less money and have had to make what they have "do".

The promotion of peace, the teaching of interdependence of nations, stood first among the resolutions, and they were passed with a serious sense of the times in which we live.

So we parted, encouraged, strengthened and stabilised by intercourse with those whose aim and object is the same, to meet again in Edinburgh, which the Council was told was second to none among the University towns in the world. This was said by a Scotswoman. "God be with you till we meet again."—British Weekly.

THE COOK ROOM

Maple Nut Dropped Cookies

Two cups dark-brown sugar, 1 cup butter, 1 1/2 cups milk, 5 cups flour, 1 cup chopped nuts, 4 tea-spoons baking powder, 2 tea-spoons maple flavoring. Drop from spoon, do not roll out. If desired, put half a nut meat in center of each cookie.

Pineapple Tapioca

Cook 4 tea-spoons tapioca in 2 cups water with 1/2 cup sugar and 1 teaspoon butter until clear. Stir in one pint grated pineapple. Serve cold in sherbet glasses. Decorate with whipped cream and a cherry.

Apple Pudding

Slice stale bread, butter on both sides and line baking dish. Fill with apples, sliced thin. Sprinkle with brown sugar and cinnamon and cover with more bread. Bake in a covered dish one hour and serve hard sauce.

Pineapple Pudding

Line a baking dish with slices of stale plain cake and cover with pieces of canned pineapple. Pour in a little of the juice and bake about 1 1/2 hours. Cover with meringue and brown.

Chocolate Rice Pudding

Beat 2 eggs; add 1/2 cup sugar, 2 cups milk, pinch of salt, 1/2 teaspoon vanilla, 1 1/2 cups boiled rice and 4 tablespoons grated chocolate. Bake in a pudding dish until firm, but not hard. Serve with whipped cream if desired.

Ham and Rice Croquettes

Mix 1 cup ground, cold boiled ham with 1 1/2 cups boiled rice and 1 beaten egg. Season with pepper and let stand until cool. Form into croquettes and roll in cracker crumbs. Fry and decorate with parsley.

Imitation Maple Syrup

Boil 1 dozen clean corn cobs (red are best), from 1 to 2 hours in enough water to leave nearly 1 pint liquid when done. Strain; add 2 pounds brown sugar and boil until as thick as desired. This syrup has a fine flavor, very much like maple syrup.

A DEEP SHAFT

"You say that you haven't had any gold filling in your teeth; well, there were some gold flakes on my drill," then," said the dentist working on Ed Purdy. "How do you account for that?"
"It must be you went clear through my neck into my back collar button," garbled Ed.

BOOK REVIEW

McClelland and Stewart, Toronto, have some fascinating new books on the market ready for the Christmas season. Perhaps the most attractive of these is Katherine Hale's "Canadian Cities of Romance", illustrated with pen and ink drawings by Dorothy Stevens. The author, whose real name is Mrs. John Garvin, has evidently travelled with a poet's delight through Canada, letting the nation's soul speak to her in the voice of its various cities. She sketches the romantic background of sixteen of these, three of them cities of the Maritime Provinces. I am sorry she omitted Charlottetown, but Nova Scotians will delight in her chapter on Halifax. Buy the Book and give yourself the pleasure of travelling through your country in imagination with the author and the artist. Thus the former speaks of Quebec: "If I could paint my Quebec in sound it would be to the ringing of bells, the laughter of French children, and the almost inaudible, incessant whisper of prayers." The cover is most attractive, and notably enhances the value as a gift book.

"Our Prairie Trails", by Frederick Philip Grove, is a book that should appeal to us hard working, but indomitably cheerful Canadians. The author was teaching school in a town in one of our prairie provinces; at the same time his wife was teaching a rural school—sixty-eight miles away. The man found his work uncongenial that winter. He disliked the town and the town disliked him, the school board was unprogressive and the staff of teachers in his school quarrelsome. So, to make life endurable Mr. Grove bought a horse and buggy, and every Friday night he drove to his wife and little daughter, returning on Sunday evening to the town where he taught school. The book records the author's impressions during these drives and they are well worth recording. He is a true son of nature, and loves her most exultantly when she pets him least. The illustrations, pen drawings by C. M. Manly, A. R. C. A., are original, weird and grand.

"Enchore!" is a selection of readings, recitations and platform sketches, compiled by Jessie Alexander. They are from various well known authors, and many of them are Miss Alexander's own. Now, in houses where there are children and young people one cannot have too many books of dramatic selections. So give your son or your gifted young daughter a copy of Miss Alexander's book. There will be no trouble then when an evening's impromptu entertainment is required.

"The Wood Carver's Wife" by Marjorie Pichhall, has been so extensively and so ably reviewed recently that more words concerning that lovely and subtle work would be superfluous. This volume, published after the death of gifted authoress, has many short poems besides the drama that gave the book its title. Canada has loved to honor the memory of this charming poetess; it would seem as though reviewers and literary critics had vied with one another in commending her to lasting fame. That her delicate though strong imagination has so captivated the national consciousness is a certain indication that as a people we are developing in literary insight.

Three new novels are also on our table, but we must defer the discussion of these until next week.

WOLFVILLE VISITED BY FIRE

At five o'clock on Tuesday morning citizens were aroused by the tones of the new fire alarm which certainly demonstrated its efficiency when properly operated. The firemen were promptly on the scene and located the fire in the interior of the garage at the rear of E. J. Wescott's automobile store. Mrs. Howard Rogers, who occupies a small tenement a few feet away was awakened by the flare of the burning building and aroused her husband, who finding his own efforts to extinguish the flames futile rang in an alarm and in company with Aubrey Dakin, the caretaker of the fire station, started to get out the equipment.

Had the fire been discovered fifteen minutes later a serious conflagration would have been inevitable as the building is located in a congested part of the town and in close proximity to large wooden buildings such as the Opera House. As it was, the well directed efforts of the firemen soon had the situation under control but not before the building had been badly gutted on the north side and much of the contents destroyed. G. K. Coldwell, who carries on battery work and acetylene welding in that portion of the building, lost practically all his tools amounting in value to in the vicinity of $500. The fire is supposed to have started from an electric stove which was accidentally left connected the previous evening.

When the garage was erected there was considerable objection made by citizens in the vicinity on account of its location, and it is only by extreme good fortune that it was not the means of destroying the business section of the town on Tuesday morning. Had a strong wind prevailed and the fire occurred earlier in the night or been discovered a few minutes later, consequences would in all likelihood have been most serious.

HELEN DAVIS AND VICTOR YOUNG

Music lovers in this vicinity will rejoice in the announcement that Helen Davis, the eminent mezzo-soprano, and Victor Young, the popular composer-pianist, will appear in a joint recital at The Opera House, Wolfville on Wednesday evening November fifteenth. Admission to the Concert will be a Card of Introduction only, and N. H. Phinney, Limited, who are bringing these celebrated artists to Wolfville has a few tickets left which will be issued in order of application.

The appearance of Miss Davis and Mr. Young, of course, would be sufficient to arouse the enthusiasm of music lovers here, but the fact that they will lend their superb art to the laudable work of revealing concisely that the marvelous achievement of the RE-CREATION of musical sound has been attained, adds immeasurable interest to the occasion.

In the coming recital, Miss Davis will sing in comparison with her voice as RE-CREATED by the New Edison, to enable those in the audience to judge whether or not the living voice can be made to live forever. A super program has been arranged—a program that will reveal all of the fascinating qualities of the glorious voice of the young mezzo-soprano. At times her living voice will be heard alone, at times she will sing in unison with her RE-CREATED voice, and at other times she will sing duets with herself. Similar tests will be made by Victor Young with his piano RE-CREATIONS. The audience will try to pick the two golden threads of tone apart—to say which one lives for the moment and which one has been made immortal.

A pleasing incident of the meeting was the presentation to the Society by Mr. Stairs of two bonds of fifty dollars each towards the establishment of a trust fund, the interest of which is to be devoted to carrying on the work. During an intermission dainty refreshments were served by a number of the ladies under the direction of Mrs. Stairs, who received a hearty vote of thanks.

Mrs. Black, on behalf of the committee in charge of Parish Hall, intimated that the use of the hall was given gratis, and the Society passed a hearty vote of thanks.

Sutton sang the solo and also took part in a duet with Mr. Fred Ibsen. The Rector preached in the morning from Psalm CVII, 22: "Let them sacrifice the sacrifice of thanksgiving and declare his works with singing"; and in the evening from Isaiah IX, 3: "They joy before thee according to the joy in harvest". At the morning service Mrs. Walter Rand presided at the organ in her usual able manner.

Wesley Barry in "SCHOOL DAYS"

"School Days" carries every quality for success.

Juvenile interest is its predominating virtue, and the fact that Wesley Barry is the youthful guide who invites spectators on a sentimental journey to the days when "readin' and writin' and rithmatic were taught to the rule of the hickory stick", and so overwhelming is the appeal that one is sure to be transported.

"School Days" belongs to the class of better pictures. It not only tells its human little story, but there is much of spiritual uplift in its message for the young of the land. The tugs at the heart are finely balanced with the twinkles for the eye.

And those who urge clean, wholesome, amusing entertainment films for the young and impressionable can at last say, "Here is a picture we can use without changes in the classroom." Quite apart from being rare good fun, "School Days" carries a good citizenship moral that any child can grasp.

A Twin Brother to Cinderella and a great picture for young and old alike.

"O Canada" God Save the King. All are requested to wear a Poppy.

"SCHOOL DAYS"

"School Days" is everything that the title suggests: clean, wholesome, refreshing, human, entertaining, humorous at one time and pathetic at another time—but it's a wonderful picture. Its appeal is to everybody, regardless of age, creed or color. If we had our way about it we would invite every school child in America to see this picture. And we would expect the grownups to come, for it makes them years younger.

A picture like School Days is a gift in such depressive times as these. It tends to relieve the burdens and worries of unfortunate and unhappy folks and brings them back to other days—care-free, happy days of yesteryear. There is Wesley Barry, just an American boy. You actually feel as though you've known the character he portrays for years, so real is it. There is that "kid" romance of other days that makes one feel happy to be among the living. Here is one of the things that truly make life worth living.

SILENCE!

November 11, 1922

For just two minutes bow your head, And so will I,

So will a mighty nation bow its chastened head,

While you, my brother, bow your head, And all the stricken peoples mourn their dead,

Never with voice or cry, But in a silence hallowed.

This is the King's decree, Lest from us fail the memory

Of those who passed into the silence fleet, Guarded, we trust, by One,

Who, their two minutes or two centuries done, Perchance two cycles done,

Will call them from that respite sad and sweet

With voice all blithe, benignant, gay: "The silence over, lads! Rise and press on, I say!"

THE CHILDREN'S AID SOCIETY AND ITS TASK

It must be a source of great satisfaction to all interested in the welfare of little children, to know that there are legally established, in the various counties of the Province, branches of a society with such aims as these:—"To protect children from cruelty; to protect and care for friendless, and destitute children; to endeavor to prevent children from becoming incorrigible or criminal; to endeavor to prevent children from becoming destitute or dependent on public charity; to teach neglectful or cruel parents their duties toward their children; to endeavor to provide suitable foster-homes for such children as may require them." The quotation is an extract from the by-laws of the Children's Aid Society, established under the provisions of the Children's Protection Act 1921. It is desired once more to invite the reader's attention to work of this society. The act mentioned, in its present form, provides for the establishment of juvenile courts; for the appointment of a person "who shall be known as the Superintendent of Neglected and Delinquent Children"; to encourage and assist in the establishment of Children's Aid Societies, visit and inspect reformatories, etc., act as chief probation officer for juvenile delinquents, etc., etc.; also that "Any number of persons, not less than ten, may form themselves into a Children's Aid Society for the purpose of this Act." The function of the membership is to promote an enlightened public opinion concerning child welfare, and by payment of dues or other contributions, to meet the expenses of investigating cases reported to the society. Action in any case is through an agent, legally appointed, and with "the power and authority of a constable for the purpose of enforcing any of the provisions of this Act."

A full statement of the conditions which it is the duty of a children's aid society to correct, is given in the section authorizing action to remove children from improper surroundings:—"22. Any such agent, or any policeman of an incorporated city or town, or any provincial or municipal constable, may apprehend without warrant and bring before the judge, as neglected, any child who—

(a) is found begging or receiving alms, or thieving in any place whatsoever, or sleeping at night in the open air; or

(b) is found wandering about and not having any home or settled place of abode or proper guardianship; or

(c) is found associating or dwelling with a thief, habitual drunkard or vagrant, or who by reason of the neglect or drunkenness or other vices of its parent or guardian is growing up without salutary parental control and education, or in circumstances exposing such child to lead an idle or dissolute life; or

(d) is found in any house of ill fame or in the company of a reputed prostitute; or

(e) is found destitute, or deserted by its parents; or

(f) patronizes or habitually visits any saloon, shop or other place where intoxicating liquors are sold, or who patronizes or habitually visits any public pool room or gambling house; or

(g) is found after the hour of eight o'clock at night in or loitering about any moving picture theatre, vaudeville entertainment or theatre of any kind, not accompanied by his parent or guardian or by some person with the consent of such parent or guardian; or

(h) is an habitual truant and whose parent or teacher represents that he is beyond contro; or

(i) is employed in any brewery or any shop, saloon, tavern or other place where intoxicating liquors are made, bottled, or sold; or

(j) habitually uses obscene, profane or indecent language, or is guilty of immoral conduct in any place whatsoever; or

(k) has been unlawfully assaulted or beaten by its parent, or is it used or treated with cruelty and neglect by its parent or the person with whom it resides; or

(l) is kept in a home which by reason of neglect, immorality, depravity, disease or unsanitary conditions, is an unfit place for such child to live in."

It is also worth noting that (Section 37) "any person who knowingly or wilfully is guilty of any act or omission which causes, produces, promotes or contributes to a child becoming a neglected child within the meaning of this Part of this Act, shall be liable, on summary conviction before a judge, to a penalty not exceeding one hundred dollars, or to imprisonment for a period not exceeding one year, or to both penalty and imprisonment."

Further, (Section 38) "the judge, on information on oath laid before him, by the agent of a children's aid society, the superintendent or any person who in the opinion of the judge is acting in the interests of the child, that there is reasonable cause to suspect that a child has been or is being ill-treated or neglected in any place, may issue a warrant authorizing any person named therein to search for such child and to take him and detain him in a place of safety until he can be brought before the judge."

When it has been proved to the satisfaction of a court that the welfare of a child demands his removal to a new environment, he is delivered to the care of the Superintendent, or the Children's Aid Society, or, if necessary, may be sent to a reformatory. As soon as possible, such children are placed in suitable foster-homes, either remaining under the guardianship of the Superintendent of the Children's Aid Society, or actually adopted by the persons furnishing the new home. While a child remains under the guardianship of the authorities, he may be placed in a home under contract for the period of his minority, the contract providing "for his education, for teaching him some useful occupation, for kind and proper treatment where placed and for payment, for the use of the child, of any sum of money or wages that may be provided for in the contract." The right to withdraw the child is reserved, as a safeguard against any improper treatment. When such arrangements cannot be made, the children are cared for in temporary homes, and their board paid for by the province and the municipality. At present the province contributes two dollars per week, the municipality three dollars per week, toward the support of each child. The expenses of apprehension and detention, and court fees, are paid by the municipality. "Any municipality, city or town which pays any amount under the foregoing sections for the apprehension and maintenance of such child, may maintain an action therefor against any person liable under the law for the maintenance and support of such child." (Section 28)

By the amended act of 1917, it was made legal for the municipalities to assess for and pay salaries of agents of

GERMANY LOST ONLY THE WAR

Truly America is nothing if not magnificent. Germany can attest to that. While no country in the world is carrying more than 5,000,000,000 of worthless paper marks, the United States is the proud possessor of German paper currency to the extent of 80,000,000,000 marks, bought at an average price of $12 per thousand. Today German marks are selling at 70 cents a thousand.

Translated into American currency America has invested $960,000,000 in German money since the armistice and the investment today is worth only $56,000,000. The loss therefore rests at $904,000,000, with a strong possibility that it will increase.

Disclosures show that America has given to Germany since the end of the war more than twice the amount of gold the German government has paid in war indemnities to the entire combination of the allies up to date.

Surely greed, and the desire to get something for nothing, has led the United States into dangerous paths. The best America gets out of the situation is a laugh, because indirectly the whole nation will suffer from the Saturnalia of speculation that has led down the lane of folly.

However those big city fellows undoubtedly will hesitate before smiling again when the simple unsuspecting countryman falls a victim to the astute gold brick swindler of the city. Germany has unloaded on the city slickers the most gigantic financial in ignis fatuus in the history of the ages. The Mississippi Bubble is a piker's game compared with it. Such national idiocy, like the wisdom of the Lord, passeth all understanding. Truly can it be said that Germany has lost nothing but the war.

Facts at hand show that the absorption of this printing phantom currency has been brought about chiefly by American citizens of German origin, which serves only to show that "sympathetic interest" in the fatherland did not end with the laying down of arms. But to this has been added greed for gold on the part of city leeches of undoubted American origin and it has created a situation that is deplorable both from a moral and financial standpoint.

ADVERTISING HAS COME TO STAY—CAN'T GET AWAY FROM IT

Let us ruminate for a little on advertising, an art which is perhaps the most important cog in the wheel of industry. What the poet meant to say was "Sweet are the uses of advertisement," but he got balled up and put "Adversity" instead.

Longfellow, who also wielded a poetic pen, might well have supported this opinion by the judicious rearrangement of the lines:—

History backs up the poets, as witness the old Roman who, after he had cleaned up his enemies put the following "ad" in the Roman Eagle, "Veni, Vidi, Vici," (I came, I saw, I conquered), so that anyone needing a good "general" would know where to apply.

Imagine, if you can, what life would be without advertising. Your morning paper would probably consist of a column and a half, your favorite weekly would be trimmed down to its covers and little else; your life would be ignorant of the fact that electric washers were now $199.50 instead of an even $200, or that "Pale Pills for pink people" had cured a Hamilton woman (photo attached) of sitting up for her husband on lodge nights.

Gone would be the poor man's picture gallery which adorns our waste spaces, the street cars would cease to carry pictured passengers, in every stage of undress, on which the mere male fixes his eye so that he may ignore the young lady, somewhat similarly attired, who hangs onto a strap; the army of artists in word and picture, who make advertising a means of keeping body and soul together, would be deprived of their livelihood and swell the ranks of the unemployed, who cut off from their only source of amusement, the reading of advertisements for "help wanted", would rise in bloody revolution and bring the world in ruins about our ears.

You can't get away from it! Advertising has come to stay and it behooves us to bend and fashion it to our own uses, for, like fire, it is a good servant but a bad master.

This last statement is beyond controversy. We have known occasions on which a perfectly healthy subject sat down to digest the facts set forth in a patent medicine "ad" and before finishing the job was rushed to the hospital and operated on for gall stones, appendicitis, fracture of the skull and housemaid's-knee. We have seen otherwise sane and loving womenfolk, rave, scratch and bite to gain the counter where, according to the "ad" silk hose down to unprecedented figures were assured of sylph-like beauty at bargain rates. Otherwise practical men have, at the lure of real estate agents, purchased "town lots" in the centre of a howling wilderness and words fail to describe a tithe of the hair-brained, lost-to-reason escapades that have grown out of the word-pictures of that modern Ananias who specializes in Oil Prospectus' fiction.

So much for advertising as a bad master, but as a servant let us hasten to realize its worth. Think of that weighty volume emanating from one of our departmental stores, which has become justly famous as "The Homesteaders' Bible"; consider how your bodily, household, spiritual and mental needs are made the object of column upon column of solicitation for the privilege of ministering to them. If there is anything you crave, from a railroad engine to a wife, you can see the merits thereof set forth in detail, with the price, dimensions and specifications, in the all-powerful, all-engrossing and ever-present advertising pages of any paper, magazine, book or similar object you care to lift, whilst the blank walls, roofs, boardings and electric signs strive with each other to shriek aloud your needs and point you to the desirable haven where they may be attended to.

WILL ESTABLISH ART GALLERY IN THE GRAND PRE MEMORIAL CHURCH

Moncton, Nov. 2.—Rev. A. D. Cormier, of Shediac, chairman of the Grand Pre Memorial Fund, reached Moncton today from St. John after visiting Grand Pre in company with R. A. Frechette, local architect. The Grand Pre Memorial Church is completed, Father Cormier reported, and the key has been handed over.

While in Grand Pre, Father Cormier and Mr. Frechette met General Manager Graham, of the Dominion Atlantic Railway, and Mr. Comeau, Travelling Passenger Agent, and matters respecting the completion of the interior of the Memorial Church were discussed. It is proposed to establish an art gallery in the Memorial Church as repository for historical paintings and Acadian antiquities, and work is to be begun next spring.

The D. A. R. has secured the services of an English landscape gardener and he will supervise work on the Grand Pre National Park, which when completed will be one of the best in Eastern Canada.

Already the D. A. R. has expended from ten to fifteen thousand dollars on the property, and it is reported to be the intention of the company to expend a further sum of from $35,000 to $40,000.

A FEW RULES FOR PERFECT PASTRY

Use pastry flour if possible.
Have your shortening very cold. Any kind of fat may be used.
Cut the fat into the flour with a knife. Do not rub together with the fingers unless you have very cold hands.
Add only enough water to make the pastry stick together, as it will not be tender when extra flour must be added to make it dry enough to roll.
Chill the pastry before rolling. Pastry may be made up and kept in the icebox ready for use.
Roll lightly on a smooth surface.
Bake lightly in a hot oven. For pastry shell and for pies such as mince, use a hot oven during the whole process. For fruit and custard pies, which require a longer cooking, use a hot oven for ten minutes, then lower the temperature.

CHESS REDISCOVERED

Those who worry over the ways of present day youth may find comfort in the growing popularity of chess among the younger generation. The ancient game spreads among all sorts of people but especially among high school students. Former National Champion Hodges has noticed the spread of chess playing and it is apparent in the chess clubs. Even girls, it is said, are taking up the game at last.

Dance halls and cabarets do not complain of any serious competition from chess. But though jazz palaces probably serve in one way to cheer modern existence, they do not monopolize all the leisure young people have. The new interest in chess clearly suggests that boys and girls are learning to play with their brains as well as physically. Enthusiasts believe that the present fancy for chess may contribute measurably to an increase in effective thinking. Unless one happens to be a chess marvel the game provides strenuous mental exercise. He who plays it must have foresight, give attention to detail and think accurately. That will give him habits useful for handling problems on the checkerboard of real life.

GAINED 65 POUNDS!

"Five years ago when I was first married, I had wonderful energy. I could be on the go all day long without feeling the least bit fatigued. I had a great appetite and could eat anything. I weighed 147 pounds. I used to be busy every minute of the day and, when the day was over, I could go to bed and never waken once during the night. Thirteen months ago my first baby was born. After that my energy seemed to leave me. I was tired all the time. I had to force myself to do my household duties. Instead of being a pleasure as formerly, these duties became a real task. I lost all desire for food and nothing would tempt me. I had to make myself eat. I would go to bed at night and toss from side to side for hours at a time. After a while I would doze off only to find that I had been sleeping for ten or fifteen minutes. Naturally when morning came, not having slept, I started the day completely tired out. I was shaky and nervous. The least noise would startle me and make my heart race along. I could see that my husband was worried. I was losing weight every week and had already lost 54 pounds. I tried all kinds of tonics, but they didn't help me. One night, a night I shall never forget because it started me on the way to health and happiness again, my husband brought in a bottle of Carnol. A friend told him that Carnol had saved his wife's life, so he insisted upon my trying it. Six weeks after I began taking Carnol, my weight increased from 93 pounds to 158, an increase of 65 pounds. And, am I well these days? Every morning I fairly jump out of bed ready to tackle anything and every minute of the day is a joy to me now!"

Carnol is sold by your druggist, and if you can conscientiously say, after you have tried it, that it hasn't done you any good, return the empty bottle to him and he will refund your money. 8-622

CANNING LITERARY SOCIETY

The first meeting of the season of the Canning Literary Society, an organization that has done very much to improve and develop its members, was held on Saturday evening last at the home of Mr. and Mrs. A. D. Payzant, the President in the chair. The Society, which this year arrived at the 13th mile stone, has a record of which it may justly be proud and has a membership of more than fifty. The broadening effect, which comes through giving more to life and therefore getting more out of life, has, through this Society, been felt not only by the members, but in the life of the community at large.

The speaker of the evening was Professor W. A. Coit, of Wolfville, his subject, "Astronomy." Professor Coit, who is a granary of information at all times, by his magnificent and instructive lecture, explained various things in regard to the Universe. A man of quick and keen perception, as well as retentive memory, he carried his hearers through space and time, in search of knowledge, making us realize more than ever that back of all this is some great Power (that we call God), guiding and moulding our lives. The Heavens do indeed "Declare the Glory of God, and the firmament showeth His handiwork."

Violin solos by Mrs. Minnie Miller Chute, accompanied by Mrs. Charles Sinnett, and vocal solos by Mrs. (Dr.) Eugen Eaton, Wolfville, were greatly enjoyed. Delightful readings by Miss McLean of the graduating class of Expression, Acadia Seminary, who by her interpretation, charmed the audience, brought to a close an evening of rare pleasure.

At the conclusion the artists were entertained at supper by Mr. and Mrs. Payzant.

The next meeting will be held on Monday evening, Jan. 8, 1923, it being the voice of the majority to postpone the meetings. The following are the officers:

President—A. D. Payzant.
Vice-President—Rev. T. Hodgson.
Secretary—Miss Dora Schafheitlin.
Treasurer—Mrs. H. Barber.
Auditor—Mgr. Bank of Nova Scotia.
Literary Com.—Mrs. C. Norris, Mrs. Arthur Ward, William Rand, Colonel Northup, Rev. H. Barber, John Ross.
Musical Com.—Mrs. A. D. Payzant, Mrs. Sinnett, Mrs. Walter Dickie, Miss Schafheitlin, Mrs. Alfred Ellis. Extra executive member, Otto Schafheitlin.
Much regret was felt over the resignation of Miss Ethel Payzant who has been the faithful and efficient secretary.

Most people eat too much soft food. Hard foods, like crusts, toasts, hard fruits and nuts, that make us chew are good for us. They make us use our teeth. Hard foods also keep your teeth from decaying. Chew your food until you can swallow it very easily. If you have to force the food down, you have not chewed it enough.

If you swallow your food half chewed it will make your stomach work too hard.

To get this, he had to get more knowledge—practical knowledge bearing on the work he was doing and the advanced work he wanted to do. Knowledge that would keep him in step with the rapid changes taking place in the world of telephony.
And then he learned that he could study by mail, in his spare time, any one of a series of new courses on telephony issued by the N. S. Technical College. He found that these were simple, scientific, clearly illustrated—prepared by telephone experts, endorsed by practical men. And that they were offered at less than cost. Master Lloyd George: "Well, here I am again. Any complaints?"
From the Sunday Chronicle (Manchester)

GREENWICH NEWS

Mrs. Maurice Williams—nee Miss Mary Harvey—of Halifax, accompanied by Miss Muriel Williams, visited the former's mother, Mrs. Emma Harvey, between trains last Wednesday.

Mrs. Edgar Forsythe, who has been a patient at Westwood Hospital, Wolfville for three weeks, returned home last Thursday, but we understand will be confined to her room for some time.

Mrs. Leslie Dakin left for Halifax last Thursday, to enter the Victoria General Hospital for treatment.

Miss Esther Pearson went to Halifax on Friday to visit her friend Mrs. Maurice Williams for the week-end and the holiday. She was accompanied by the latter's niece, Miss Joyce Harvey. Both girls returned on Monday's midnight express.

Mr. Robert Bishop accompanied Dr. Roach and Mr. Russell of Wolfville on a short hunting trip last week.

Miss Ruby Sherman is now at home and we understand has resigned her position at Westwood Hospital, Wolfville, which she held the past two years.

Mrs. John Fenwick and Miss Betty Fenwick, of Habitant, spent the week-end with Mr. and Mrs. Andrew Fenwick. We are glad to hear Mr. Fenwick is slowly improving.

The many friends of Mrs. George Bishop regret to learn of her illness and hope for her a speedy return to her usual health.

Miss Woodward, of Wolfville, has been visiting Mrs. T. A. Pearson the past week.

The young people have been asked to meet Rev. D. B. Hemmon in the vestry of the church on Friday evening to discuss plans for an evening of profit and entertainment, once a week during the winter.

The friends in this place of Mr. and Mrs. Ross Chipman, of Chipman Corner, and son "Lev", or Dr. L. DeV. Chipman, who is practising in St. John and a graduate of McGill, with four years practice in Montana are much interested in the following article in a very recent St. John paper:

Three St. John doctors will be made Fellows of the American College of Surgeons at the clinical congress of that body which opens in Boston today. They are Dr. A. E. MacAulay, Dr. L. DeV. Chipman and Dr. J. H. Allingham. The honor being conferred upon these gentlemen is a high one, as the Fellows of the organization are recognized as having attained the first rank among the surgeons of the continent.

Queen Victoria's first command after her ascension to the throne, was: "Bring me a cup of tea and 'The Times'." If her Majesty were alive to-day and in Nova Scotia she would probably say: "Bring me a cup of MORSE'S ORANGE PEKOE and 'The Chronicle'."
