A Historic Relic.

His Grace the Archbishop of St. Boniface has been presented by Rev. Father Gilles of St. Andrew's, Sask., with the first Ciborium used in the Ecclesiastical Province of St. Boniface, and has written its history in the following document:

To His Grace the Most Rev. L. P. Adellard Langevin, D. D., Archbishop of St. Boniface.

My Lord Archbishop—

This Ciborium was given to me by His Grace Archbishop Tache in August 1885; and he at the same time told me it was the first Ciborium that had been used in the Ecclesiastical Province of St. Boniface; that it had been used in giving Communion to Napoleon Bonaparte on the Island of St. Helena in April 1831. He then turned to the Rev. J. A. Dabandés and spoke to him in French about the Ciborium. I was young at that time, and my heart beat responsive to the animation aroused by the description so well given, but so imperfectly understood by me. When we left the room I invited Rev. Father Dabandés to visit me at my house at St. Andrew's. He did visit me and spent two weeks with me. I got from him the greater part of the history I know relative to the Ciborium. The history is as follows:

Albert, son of M. le Comte de la Ferronnays, was on his deathbed at No. 13, Rue de Madame, Paris, France. His wife, who was a convert, was about to receive her first Communion. Albert desired to receive Communion on the same day that his wife made her first Communion. The Rev. Mons. Lacordaire obtained permission from the Archbishop of Paris to have a midnight Mass celebrated in the room in which Albert was then dangerously ill. Rev. Abbe Dupanloup (later Bishop of Orleans) heard Albert's confession, and Rev. Abbe Gerbert (later Bishop of Ferrigno) celebrated the midnight Mass and gave her the first Communion and his last. (His other were Vicar.) This Ciborium was used in this Mass. Albert died on the 29th June, 1836. The Mass was celebrated June 4, 1836. After the death of Albert, his widow went to live at the Chateau de Bouty in Normandy, where Albert's father, M. le Comte de la Ferronnays and his family were at the time staying. When Eugénie (Albert's sister) married Comte Adrian de Mun, they made their home at Lemigny, and it was there, on her deathbed, that Eugénie, then Countess de Mun, gave the Ciborium to Bishop Provancher.

At the time of the Tercentenary celebration at Quebec in 1908, I read with pleasure that M. le Comte de Lévis was there. I knew that, after the troubles of 1830 in France, the Chateau de Montigny, the home of the de la Ferronnays, was sold to the Duke de Laval-Montmorency. It now belongs to his grandson, M. Comte de Lévis-Mirépoix. I was introduced to him, and I questioned him as follows:

You must know the history of de la Ferronnays?

Yes, I could not help knowing it. How came they so close in touch with Charles X?

Countess de la Ferronnays was sister to the Duchesse de Blacas.

Of course this explained all to me, for I knew that the Duke de Blacas was always the friend of Charles, and remained with him to the last. This and many other things—too numerous to write about—fully corroborated what Rev. Father Dabandés had told me.

Le Comte Andre de Gany, who was visiting at Roulandrie in 1886, and who spent a week at my home at St. Andrew's, gave me valuable information touching this question.

His Grace Archbishop Tache told me that this Ciborium got injured by the fire that burned the old Cathedral at St. Boniface.

Finally—and of great importance to us all here—this was the first Ciborium that was used at St. Andrew's, and the only one from 1883 to 1892, when we secured the one now in use.

I prized this Ciborium so much both as a relic of historic renown and a souvenir of Archbishop Tache's kindness to me and my parishioners, that no money could buy it from me.

When I came to part with it I did so because I followed approvingly your noble efforts at historical research, and that in the midst of your complex and arduous duties, and I with pleasure saw the success that crowned your efforts in the findings on the Isle of Massacre, and as it is part of my nature to admire and love such refined tastes, notwithstanding that mystic gulf that estranged sympathies—created, assure prevailed. You have a French proverb: "Chassez le naturel, il revient au galop."

Believe me, I loved the Ciborium and my love goes with it into your hands. I hope this last accompanment may not make it less precious in your estimation.

In testimony of the above I sign
Your humble servant in Christ,
David Gilles, P. P.,
St. Andrew's, Sask.
St. Andrew's, Sask., Jan. 25, 1912.

P. S.—When I asked Rev. Father Maconniveau how the St. Boniface Cathedral (or Church) could have been without a Ciborium from 1831 to 1836, he told me that a large old-fashioned silver Lunette-Box had been in use. I took it for granted that he received this information from earlier missionaries.—Exchange.

The Poet's Corner.

"The Flowers of The Forest."

Few songs have the romantic story attached to them as is claimed for the world known Scottish ballad of "The Flowers of The Forest." The song itself is sung, not only wherever Scotchmen gather, but wherever the British language is spoken. It is sung at festive gatherings, it is played as a funeral march to meet Scottish regiments. But to hear to the fullest extent its weird melody it must be heard on the bagpipes, say, at the funeral of a Highland chief, and to those thus privileged to listen to "The Flowers of The Forest" its notes are never forgotten.

The composer was the beautiful Miss Alison Ruthenford, who was born in 1712 and died in 1794, and who, in 1731, wrote the song which has made her fame. From the turret window of Fairlie's Castle, about five miles northwest of Selkirk, Scotland, she could see the River Tweed, which she immortalized in her verses.

The subject of the song deals with the disastrous Battle of Flodden, when the flower of the Scottish chivalry fell around the ill-fated James IV.

Among those who fought for the King were the men of Birkbeck Forest, only one of whom returned from the fight, carrying a blood-stained banner.

The following are the words of the pathetic song:

I've seen the smiling of fortune beguiling;
I've tasted her pleasures and felt her decay;
Sweet was her blessing, kind her caressing,
But now they are fled, they are fled far away.
I've seen the forest, adorned the foremost
With flowers of the fairest, bath pleasant and gay;
Sae bonnie was their blooming, their scent the air perfuming,
But now they are withered and a' wede away.
I've seen the morning, with gold the hills adorning,
And loud tempests storming before parting day;
I've seen Tweed's silver streams, glittering in the sunny gleams,
Grow drizzle and dark as he rolled on his way.
O, fickle fortune, why this cruel spoiling?
Oh, why thus perplex us, poor souls of a day?
Thy frown cannot fear me, thy smile cannot cheer me,
Since the flowers of the forest are a' wede away.

New Regulations in Church Music.

Archbishop Ireland of St. Paul, in a recent letter to the clergy of his diocese, lays down strict injunctions as to compliance with the sacred rubrics in the matter of music and chant on the occasion of funerals and of marriages. His Grace's instructions are as follows:

"During the High Mass all chant in other languages than the Latin is forbidden by the rubric of the Church; this rule must be obeyed to the letter."

"Before or after the High Mass, or during the Low Mass, chants in other languages are permitted. Invariably, however, those chants must be such as are given in authorized Catholic hymn books. Chants of all other kind or origin are strictly forbidden."

"The music to be made use of by the organist, in the form of incoming or outgoing marches, must be such as accord in origin and tone with the spirit and intent of the rubrics of the Church."

"The pastor will hold himself personally responsible in all matters concerning music and chant on the occasion of Requiem and Nuptial Masses. Nothing in this regard will be left to the free choice of organist or choistest; and no concessions, not authorized by the spirit or the prescriptions of the rubrics, will be made to requests coming from parties immediately concerned in the Requiem or the Nuptial Mass."

The letter furthermore decrees that during the ceremony of the Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament 'the chanting, in all cases, will be strictly Gregorian—no figured music, no chanting in parts being allowed under any pretext. By continuous hearing of the simple, though most beautiful, Gregorian chant, it is hoped that the congregation will be gradually brought to unite their voices with those of the regular choir—a beginning, in our churches, it is devoutly desired, of more general congregational singing.

Are You Forgetful?

Do you ever forget your engagements? Most men do, and the methods followed to jog the memory are as various as humanity.

Nearly every business man carries a memorandum book of some sort, in which he jots down facts and engagements which he is fearful of forgetting; but many others have original methods of reminding themselves. It is a habit with some men to make notations on their cuffs, but this system can hardly be recommended. Most men change their shirts daily, and if the engagements are for tomorrow, where are the memoranda of yesterday?

Some men in business follow the example of the woman who ties knots in their handkerchiefs to remind them of things. The other day the head of a large concern pulled out the handkerchief while talking with a customer. The customer explained: "I keep memoranda here in the office of business matters," he said, "but every morning at breakfast my wife tells me of things I must attend to for her during my day in the city. I make a knot for each errand. Today I have thirteen matters to attend to, and, as you see, not one has been done. But I will finish them all before I go home; I wouldn't dare face my wife with these knots in my handkerchief."

Many men wear a seal ring on the little finger of the left hand. To remind them of an important engagement they transfer the ring to the right hand. It feels uncomfortable there and there is no chance of their forgetting the appointment.

Other men, who are accustomed to carry their watches in the left hand pocket of the waistcoat, transfer them to the right hand pocket when there is a matter on hand which may be forgotten. Every time they want to know the hour, they are reminded of it, and usually the business is attended to very early in the day.

Distribution of Seed Grain and Potatoes.

By instructions of the Hon. the Minister of Agriculture a distribution of superior sorts of grain and potatoes will be made during the coming winter and spring to Canadian farmers. The samples for general distribution will consist of spring wheat (5 lb.), white oats (4 lb.), barley (5 lb.), and field peas (5 lb.). These will be sent out from Ottawa. A distribution of potatoes in 3 lb. samples will be carried on from several of the experimental farms, the Central Farm at Ottawa supplying only the provinces of Ontario and Quebec. All samples will be sent free, by mail.

Applicants must give particulars in regard to the soil on their farms, and some account of their experience with such kinds of grain (or potatoes) as they have grown, so that a promising sort for their conditions may be selected.

Each application must be separate and must be signed by the applicant. Only one sample of grain and one of potatoes can be sent to each farm. Applications on any kind of printed form cannot be accepted. If two or more samples are asked for in the same letter only one will be sent.

As the supply of seed is limited, farmers are advised to apply early; but the applications will not necessarily be filled in the exact order in which they are received. Preference will be given to the most thoughtful and explicit requests. Applications received after the end of January will probably be too late.

All applications for grain (and potatoes) from the provinces of Ontario and Quebec (or potatoes) should be addressed to the Dominion Cereals, Central Experimental Farm, Ottawa. Seed applications, Catarrh of the Stomach is generally caused from some interference with the action of the liver, and is a malady that affects the whole body.

Some symptoms are burning pain in the stomach, constant vomiting, abnormal thirst, incessant hiccups, etc. On the first signs of any of these symptoms Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills should be taken. They are a specific for all disorders arising from wrong action of the liver.

Mr. Michael Miller, Ellerslie, Alta., writes:—"I take pleasure in writing you concerning the great value I have received by using Milburn's Laxa-Liver Pills for catarrh of the stomach, with which I have been a sufferer for thirty years. I used four vials and they completely cured me!"

Improvements Inaugurated

Hon. John McLean and Hon. Murdock McKinnon of the Provincial Executive were in Ottawa last week conferring with the Federal Government regarding several matters of importance to the people of this Province, which the Local Government are pushing forward. One of the questions under consideration was improvement in the telegraphic and telephone service here. The telegraphic service had for a long time been unsatisfactory, and it seemed somewhat difficult to obtain redress. At last the Provincial and Federal subsidies to these services were withheld until the grievances complained of should be remedied. It is satisfactory to know that Messrs. McLean and McKinnon were quite successful in their efforts with the Public Works Department at Ottawa in this matter. To begin with it has been arranged that messages of fifty words, filed at any station at any hour, will be forwarded from here at night at the ordinary tenword rate. Fifty words for thirty cents and one fifth of thirty cents for each additional ten words. That is certainly a great improvement in our telegraphic service. Moreover, it has been definitely arranged that, in future practical cooperation should exist between the Telegraph and Telephone companies for the delivery of messages. The whole service will, as soon as possible, be placed on an up-to-date and satisfactory basis.

Several matters for improved facilities in connection with the railway were outlined. One of these regards improved methods of securing mussel mud for fertilizing purposes. This is a matter initiated by Premier Mathieson, who, indeed, has started and pressed forward all the reforms under consideration. Arrangements were completed by Messrs. McLean and McKinnon, representing Premier Mathieson, to the effect that a spur line of railway will be provided at Marie siding, in order that the immense beds of this valuable deposit in St. Peter's Bay may be more easily available than heretofore. The spur line is to be submerged and a bridge to be built overhead; so that the mud may be precipitated from the sieghs to the cars below, thus avoiding the labor of shovelling and rendering the procuring of the fertilizer much less expensive. The use of dredges of much greater capacity is also in contemplation. The Government engineer is now engaged in inaugurating the work at Marie, and, if possible, the improved facilities will be available the coming winter. These improvements are of the very greatest importance to the people, and the Government will have the thanks of all for their consideration.

It is interesting to hear the somewhat puzzling term, "Canadian immigrants," as applied to those coming into this country. It is explained by the fact that during the past year nearly 20,000 of those entering Canada from the United States were returning Canadians. This homeward flow is one of the most encouraging features of national development today.—Hamilton Spectator.

There will be little turmoil in Canada over an expenditure of thirty millions for defence. Even those who may think the amount a large one, will remember that we spent nearly ten times that amount building a railway between Moncton and Winnipeg.—Toronto World.

Let each girl be trained as a homemaker, so that she will know how to manage a modern home. Then we will not see so many young girls in industry struggling along on starvation wages. We will also see happy homes and well nourished and well clothed children in the homes of the poor. Let each boy and girl be instructed in their places and duties toward society and the community in which they live. We will then see a great deal of our present municipal corruption and waste disappear.—Halifax Herald.

The consumption of wheat bread has not merely kept pace with the production of wheat but has shown a strong and unmistakable tendency to move ahead of it. We have reached the point, in fact, where each year's crop must be a bumper one to prevent a marked advance in prices. The very fact that the wheat market is firm and prices well maintained shows that this year's production is not largely in excess of the demand. The world's crop may be larger, even by ten per cent, than last year's, but the world's consumption has also increased, perhaps at an even more rapid rate.—Winnipeg Telegram.

A newspaper is to be started for circulation in the English prisons. Prison labor is counted on to produce it. But difficulty is sure to arise in regard to the labor supply. It is a well known fact that there are fewer newspapermen to go to jail than those of any other calling. This is not a joke, but a piece of actual statistical information.—Edmonton Journal.

Miss Wylie, the English Suffragette, who came to Canada to do missionary work and who has failed, expresses her scorn of Canadian women. They are "a poor spirited lot," she says. Coming from the fiery Barbara, this is one of the finest tributes ever paid to the women of Canada.—Hamilton Herald.

Miss Wylie, the militant suffragette, has observed that her comrades in Canada have not so much courage as those who break things in England and set fire to buildings in Ireland. The lady does not understand, Canadian women have plenty of courage, as the pioneer records of this country tell. But they also have political sense.—Vancouver News-Advertiser.

Miss Liberty's portrait on the face of the new nickel coinage will be replaced by the buffalo's head; the obverse will show an unconventional Indian. The case might have been worse. We might have been inflicted with a bull moose and Steel Trust 'nigger' in the woodpile, as perpetual reminders of a popular political aberration.—Philadelphia Record.

In this Province when printed voters' lists are used they are packed against Conservative candidates; the names of hundreds of aliens being included which cannot be removed. When printed lists are not used, and a Conservative candidate triumphs, a despicable returning officer juggles him out of the seat.—Moose Jaw News.

Any murderer, any lyncher, any blackguard, any thief, any law-breaker, can use the suffragette argument with as much propriety and force as the suffragette. All one has got to do is to assume that what one wants is right, and not only so, but that any one who wants it has a right to get it at once by any means in his or her power, right or wrong. This sort of doctrine does not go down in Canada, as Miss Wylie is discovering. We have too much of an object lesson alongside of us in the United States as to the merits of lynch law. In this country we make progress by enforcing respect for law.—Ottawa Journal.

Jose Canalejas Y. Mendes, Prime Minister of Spain, was shot and killed in Madrid by a young anarchist named Pardinias, on Tuesday, 12th. The assassin attempted suicide; but was taken into custody while still alive and carried to a hospital. The Premier had come from an audience with the King and was on his way to the Interior department when he was shot. He stopped to look into the window of a bookstore when the assassin crept up behind him and fired several shots at him. He fell to the ground and died in a few minutes. A member of the Government was appointed Premier pro tem, and after a meeting of the cabinet it was announced that General Weyler, captain general of the Catalonia and once commander in chief of the Spanish forces in Cuba, or Count Romanones, might be appointed permanent premier.

Think of it! The new town of Grouard, in the Peace River and Grand Prairie country, has before it a proposition for electric lights and waterworks. The first thing it knows it will be fully modern and will have a police investigation.—Lethbridge Herald.

Yesterday was election day in Hocholaga, Montreal. Reports to hand indicate that Hon. Louis Coderre, Secretary of State, swept the riding with an immense majority, over 2,000. His opponent probably lost his deposit. The question at issue in the contest was the Government's naval policy.

Makes First Statement of His Policy.

New York, Nov. 15.—Governor Woodrow Wilson announced tonight that immediately after his inauguration as President of the United States he would call an extraordinary session of congress to convene not later than April 15 for the purpose of revising the tariff. The president-elect will sail for Bermuda at 2 o'clock tomorrow afternoon for a vacation, and will return on December 16th. To set at rest in the meantime speculation as to what he would do with regard to tariff revision, he issued the following statement: "I shall call congress together in extraordinary session not later than April 15th. I shall do this not only because I think that the pledges of the party ought to be redeemed as promptly as possible, but also because I know it to be in the interests of business that all uncertainty as to what the particular items of tariff revision are to be should be removed as soon as possible." Beyond this brief announcement the governor said he had nothing further to say.

Messrs. McLean and Nicholson, M.P.s, have left for Ottawa to attend the Parliamentary session which opens tomorrow.

Nine Lives Lost.

Ottawa, Nov. 13.—Nine lives are believed to have been lost on the Madawaska River last night soon after seven o'clock when the old wheel steamer Mayflower, a fifty foot boat, capsized and sank three miles out of Barry's Bay after springing a leak. Of the twelve people aboard, ten of whom were passengers and two members of the crew, three passengers, namely, Gordon Peeverly, J. S. Isinlach and J. M. Harper, all of Ottawa and commercial travelers, are alive to tell the story of the terrible disaster.

They were found late tonight by a search party who rowed out from Barry's Bay on an Island about three miles down the river, in a very exhausted condition. They were immediately taken to a nearby farmhouse and there they are receiving every possible care and attention.

The dead body of Captain E. Parthier, of Cambermere, skipper of the ill fated boat was picked up by the search party near the shore where the steamer is supposed to have sunk. His body had a life preserver on. The body of Patrick O'Brien of Cambermere, a passenger was also found on the Island, where he died of exhaustion and exposure to the cold after being thrown ashore by the surging waters, with little life left in his body.

From the brief story of the disaster that could be obtained at midnight from three survivors they say that the Mayflower sprang a leak soon after she left Barry's Bay. Her hold rapidly filled with water and those on board quickly realized that death was imminent. There was hardly a moment to decide on how their lives could be saved.

A howling wind was sweeping down over the river, which is nearly a mile wide at the point where the boat sprang a leak and the water was lashing the sides of the ill fated boat with a vengeance. All round was black.

Not a light could be seen anywhere. The boat began to lurch a little, a little more and then terribly, then the old coal oil lamps went out by being crushed to the floor and in a few minutes, when all was darkness, the boat keeled over broadside and sank suddenly throwing passengers, crew, freight and all, of which there was a good deal aboard, and machinery into the icy waters.

The wooded shores threw back the echoes of the cries of the drowning souls. The three survivors were able to discern some spars of timber floating near to where they had been hurled into the water. Each tried to cheer the other with words of encouragement, and half perished in water that was clogged with ice, and almost numbed to the point of unconsciousness they drifted ashore, but more dead than alive. Words they say, could not describe those hours of suffering on the Island up to the arrival of the rescue party.

The Hudson Bay Railway.

The Government's policy of expediting the construction of the Hudson Bay Railway is in marked contrast to the course pursued by the late Administration. The contract for the last section from Split Lake to tide water was awarded last September, and it is believed the railway will be a factor in the crop of 1914. It is doubtful whether in the history of railway project in this or any other country the record made by the Borden Government in connection with this enterprise can be duplicated. The Conservative party has been in power a little over a year. When it assumed control the Hudson Bay Railway project was dormant. Nothing had been accomplished by the Laurier Government in the fifteen years of their regime beyond the partial construction of a bridge at Le Pas. The Borden Government had to arrange to secure necessary information, to compile data, make surveys, and choose routes and terminals.

No space work had been done by the late Government; the Borden Administration took up the railway project with no practical knowledge of the country to be traversed; there had been no extensive surveys of which advantage could be taken; the possibilities of navigation, sidewater, necessities—in short every character of information required to successfully prosecute this great undertaking was lacking. These hindrances and wanting... and differences have been overcome. That within a year tenders were awarded for the entire Hudson Bay Railway system from Le Pas to tidewater is a striking illustration of the difference between an Administration which promises and one which does things.—St. John Standard.

To Our Subscribers

As we have stated from time to time, for the last two or three months, we are offering very beautiful Premium Pictures to all who remit their subscriptions. A number have kindly paid and received their premiums; but the great majority have not yet remitted. We earnestly desire that these will not delay any longer. We procured a great number of these beautiful pictures at a very considerable expenditure of money, in order to present them to our friends as a pleasing memento of our relations with us. We have them here in abundance, one for every subscriber, as soon as he sends in his dollar. Will you not remit now and receive one of these beautiful pictures?

This is the time of year when the greater number of the subscriptions are paid, and we should have a rush of remittances from this time forward. We have worked assiduously for our subscribers for a whole year, without making any very urgent requests for money. All this time, expenses have been going on; wages, rent, supplies and a hundred and one things have called for constant outlay, and now a winter's supply of fuel has to be laid in and other extra expenditures have to be incurred. To meet all this we only ask a dollar from each one, and are prepared to make a nice present to every one who sends his dollar. You surely cannot consider these conditions very exacting.

Send your dollar by mail; don't wait to come to Town or for anyone to come to you to collect it. The expense of sending a collector would not leave much of the collections, and it would be very unfair to expect to have the business done that way.

Use the mails to remit; that is what the Postal Service is for. Rural Mail routes and all other improvements in the service are established for the greater accommodation of the people; to enable them to do business without inconvenience or loss of time. We shall be very much pleased if you will, without delay, take advantage of the mails to send in your subscriptions. Your premium pictures await you, and we are anxious to hear from you.

Emergency Contribution

Sydney, N.S.W., Nov. 12.—The Federated Malay States propose to offer a first class cruiser to Great Britain. The keel will be laid as soon as possible. The payment is to be spread over five years.

The Federated Malay States, which have loyally decided to offer a first class battle cruiser to strengthen the British Navy, are situated in the Malay Peninsula, and are under British protection.

The names of the States are Perak, Selangor, Negri, Sembilan and Pahang, and their area is approximately 27,700 square miles, about the same area as New Brunswick.

The Federal Council consists of the High Commissioner, Sir A. H. Young, K. C., M. G., the Chief Secretary, E. L. Brockman, C. M. G., the Sultans of Perak, Selangor and Pahang, the Yam Tuan of Negri Sembilan and four British Residents and four unofficial members. In addition to legislation the council deals with the annual estimates of revenue and expenditure. The population of the States at the last census was 1,035,933 which includes 3,284 Europeans and Americans.

London, Nov. 13.—The talk of England this morning is the patriotic gift of a super-Dreadnought by the little Malay States. Quite unsuspected, it comes as a surprise to the ministry.

The vote of nearly eleven million dollars was carried by acclamation. It is described by the Daily Telegraph as the most remarkable demonstration of attachment of the British Crown on record.

The Telegraph continues: "These States are not even Crown Colonies. They are merely under British protection. Now, when the power which gave him peace is challenged, these states spontaneously come forward with an offer of help which not only redounds to their credit, but which is a unique testimony to British rule.

As such it will probably leave a deeper impression on the record of our times when any act of loyalty in the whole span of British and Colonial history.

The ship it is expected will be a battle-cruiser, representing the very latest word in Dreadnought design.

The Admiralty agree that the ship shall be entirely additional to the British programme. It will be built in British yards to insure its earliest possible addition to the Empire's forces.

The Right Hon. L. V. Harcourt, Secretary of States for the Colonies, has accepted, with deep gratitude on behalf of the United Kingdom, the generous offer of a first class armored ship by the Federated Malay States.

The only criticism here, outside hearty appreciation, consists in an expression of regret that small dependencies should feel themselves drawn into the burden of armament, especially as the "if possible" clause inserted by Malay is taken to imply that there may be some difficulty in raising the money.

Three were Killed in Two Wrecks

Utica, N. Y., Nov. 17.—Two men were killed and two others are dying and a number of persons were more or less severely injured tonight when an electric car on the Utica and Mohawk Valley Electric Railroad, rushing along at 30 miles an hour, crashed into the rear of a stalled car at Frankfort, nine miles east of Utica.

Charles Foss and Stanley Rose, of Frankfort, passengers, died of their injuries, and Daniel Larabee, motorman and Douglas Tubbs, of Utica, cannot survive.

Of the others injured at least three are declared to be in a desperate condition. Rose died within an hour, and Foss succumbed at 11 o'clock. Larabee and Tubbs may survive the night.

Fitchburg, Mass., Nov. 16.—One railroad employe was killed, another probably fatally injured and six passengers slightly hurt when passenger train No. 2 from Rutland, N. Y., for Boston, over the Fitchburg division of the Boston and Maine Railroad ran into a light engine near the station here tonight. Israel Sharkey, aged 50, an employe in the Boston and Maine machine shops, who was riding on the light engine received wounds that caused his death. R. W. Rines, fireman of the light engine, was probably fatally hurt.

The injuries of the passengers were confined to cuts and bruises. Both engines were badly damaged. After a delay of an hour and forty minutes, traffic was resumed.

Two facts of interest to Canadian business men are mentioned by J. E. Roy, trade commissioner at Birmingham England in the current weekly report of the trade and commerce department. Inquiries are reaching the office for hard wheat flour, and Mr. Roy understands that a big demand for the Canadian product is likely, as the quantity and quality of British and continental wheat are not up to the average this year. Mr. Roy further states that firms in a position to export Canadian brooms, whisks and brushes, should be able to do business in Birmingham.

The Charles Dalton Fox Ranch

Has Been Sold to a Syndicate Represented by Mr. A. B. Warburton and W. B. Prowse. It is proposed to capitalize a Joint Stock Company with a Capital of $625,000.

Mr. Chas. Dalton has sold to a syndicate his ranch complete, containing 20 pairs of breeding silver black foxes, and guarantees an increase of not less than 50 pups to be raised to the age of three months, for the year 1913. For every pup under this number he agrees to pay in cash to the above syndicate $5000.00 of the purchase price, thus GUARANTEEING to the syndicate for the first year $250,000 dividends on a basis of $10,000 a pair, which in view of the prices being paid at the present time is a very conservative estimate.

This Amount Represents Over 40 p. c. on the Capital Invested The First Year

This is the minimum estimate of dividends which will, we feel sure, be greatly increased, because instead of 50 pups there should be at least 75 come to maturity, and based on an estimate of $10,000 a pair would net the syndicate the handsome sum of $375,000 or 62 p. c. on the capital invested.

The Terms of Purchase Are:

The Syndicate takes over the entire plant, good will and ranch of Mr. Chas. Dalton, comprising five acres of land with all equipment contained thereon. The syndicate has a sole right of the use of the name "Chas. Dalton" in the Fox Ranching business. Mr. Chas. Dalton to remain with the company as Ranch Manager for the term of one year or longer if required. The syndicate has applied for letters patent to incorporate the Chas. Dalton Silver Black Fox Co., Limited.

The Provisional Directors Are:

President CHAS. DALTON Solicitor A. B. WARBURTON Sec'y-Treas. W. B. PROWSE

The Chas. Dalton breed of foxes needs no puffing as they hold the world's record for the price of a single skin, and also hold the world's record for a group of skins. This Is The Best Proposition Ever Offered to Investors On P. E. Island

Shares will be issued at $100 par value for a short time only, as it is expected that these shares will be worth at least $200 in a short time.

10 p. c. of the subscribed amount must accompany all applications for stock (which in case stock not being allotted will be returned) the balance to be paid Dec. 1, 1912. $225,000 of this stock has already been subscribed; of the balance of stock $200,000 only will be allotted to Island subscribers, the remaining $200,000 will be allotted to foreign investors.

Lucheon For Two.

He was a tall old man, with a slight stoop and thin grey hair. His garments were shiny with wear, the sleeves of the coat being faintly alipery in their threadbare state.

From the clock the man's gaze turned to the door. The desks were deserted. It was luncheon hour. He arose from his creaky swivel chair and crossing the room, pulled down a shade that covered the glass.

He spread them out on the paper and fell to munching them. He was gnawing at the apple when a tap at the dining-room door drew his attention. At first he was inclined to believe that his ears had deceived him.

The child laughed merrily. You're a splendid ogre, she cried, and clapped her hands. Much better'n papa. What's you eatin'?

She smiled as she slowly advanced. It always pays to be polite, she said. That's what mamma tells me. If I had said, 'Can I come in?' without any please, you might have said, 'We don't want no little girls 'round here today' they're such a nuisance.

He shook his head. I can't eat it, she cried. I'm not greedy. It's very nice. Mamma took such pains with it. Let's divide what's yours? He hesitated then, he pushed his apple and biscuit into view. She looked at the display gravely.

All Stuffed Up

That's the condition of many sufferers from catarrh, especially in the morning. Great difficulty is experienced in clearing the head and throat.

No wonder catarrh causes headache, inflames the nose, swells the sinuses, pollutes the breath, loosens the stomach and affects the appetite.

Hood's Sarsaparilla

Cures catarrh, restores and strengthens the whole system, and builds up the whole system.

'My papa had it once,' she said. 'Had what?' 'Desquamy. He couldn't eat hardly anything' neither.

'I eat quite enough,' the old man dryly remarked. The child looked at him curiously. 'You're pretty thin,' she said. 'Maybe I'd be pretty thin, too, if I lived on apple 'n' biscuits. An' now it's my turn. See this. And she whisked the cover off the box and showed the neatly packed contents.

'I believe it's a fact that's generally admitted,' he said. The child looked at him with a quick laugh. 'That's just the way papa talks sometimes,' she said, 'an' I don't understand a word he says. But ain't we havin' a good time, just you an' me?'

'Why, yes,' said the old man. 'I think it must be a good time, although I'm afraid I'm a pretty poor judge.' The child regarded him critically. 'You do look pretty poor,' she said. 'Have another sandwich? Oh, do! An' bear's some good cheese an' a nice pickle. Yes, you must. Papa says isn't polite to refuse a lady.'

He looked at the child with a puzzled expression. 'You're very rich, papa says, an' he lives all alone in a great big house, an' he has a little girl, an' he needs somebody to take care of him, an' all he thinks about is money, money, money! It's too bad to be as rich as that, isn't it?'

You should never neglect a cold, however slight. If you do the treat it in time it will, in all probability, develop into bronchitis, pneumonia, asthma, or some other serious throat or lung trouble.

On the first sign of a cold or cough it is advisable to cure it at once, and not let it run on for an indefinite period. For this purpose there is nothing so equal as Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, a remedy that has been universally used for the past twenty-five years.

'I'm going to give you a kiss, I always give papa a kiss when he's nice. The old man flushed a little. 'Just as you please,' he said. He stooped, and she touched the wrinkled cheek with her lips.

'I'll tell her, sir.' 'And Fenton?' 'Yes, sir.' 'You may leave the child here until the mother comes'—Mount Angel Magazine.
