Look, Read, Realize!

We cater to the men's trade, and no other. If you were sick you wouldn't call to see a Tailor, or a Blacksmith, about the condition of your health. Of course not; you would call to see a Doctor

If you wanted a Suit or an Overcoat would you go to see a Doctor, or a Shoemaker? Not at all. You would go to see a First Class Tailor.

WELL, there's where we shine!!!
We study the business. We know what suits a young man

we know what suits a middle-aged man, and we know what suits the old gentleman—both in goods and in style. It does not make any difference whether you want your clothes, Ready-to-Wear, or Made-to-Order. We are equally in a position to suit you. We do not let a suit or overcoat leave our establishment until it suits and fits the man who is buying. Our prices are always right when you take the quality into consideration.

Do not forget that we are sole agents for the famous W H Leishman & Co., Wholesale Custom Tailors. We have an elegant stock of Overcoats to show you at the present time.

Rev. Stanislaus Boudreault

Rev. Stanislaus Boudreault is dead; the parishioners of St. James, Egmont Bay, mourn the demise of their dearly beloved, saintly pastor, and the diocese of Charlottetown laments the loss of a zealous and exemplary priest. Deceased had been ill for several months, and the end came on Thursday, January 27th. His sufferings were borne with that Christian patience and resignation, so characteristic of the sufferer, and he passed away fortified by the last Sacraments and the rites of the Church he so dearly and faithfully served.

During the thirty-eight years that Father Boudreault was pastor of St. James he devoted himself unsparringly to the spiritual advancement and general welfare of the flock committed to his care. Genuine, unostentatious piety, profound humility and boundless charity were the outstanding characteristics of the deceased priest. He was a genuine Christian gentleman and in his home was a prince of hospitality. He entered into the lives of his people and encouraged and promoted every phase of their well-being. He was their guide, philosopher and friend.

He possessed a cheerful disposition and was a charming companion. He was an inspiration to his brother priests, who always looked up to him. Although well advanced in years, he was young in mind and never lost his buoyant spirit. He was a patriot, and strongly encouraged the young men of his parish to enlist and fight for their country's cause, in the late dreadful war. Indeed, one of his last public acts was the erection and unveiling of a beautiful monument to the fifteen young men of his parish who made the supreme sacrifice on Flanders Field.

Rev. Stanislaus Boudreault was a native of the Magdalen Islands, where he was born about 76 years ago. He studied at St. Dunstan's College and at St. Theresa's College, Quebec. He then entered the Grand Seminary, Montreal, where he prosecuted his Theological studies. In the early summer of 1876, nearly forty-five years ago, he was ordained priest, along with the late Rev. Nazaire Boudreault, and the late Rev. S. T. Phelan, by his Lordship the late Bishop McIntyre, in the old St. Dunstan's Cathedral, Charlottetown.

After some years of sacerdotal labor at Alberton and Bloomfield, and subsequently as pastor at Amherst, Magdalen Islands, he was transferred to St. James, Egmont Bay, on the death of the late Father Maville. The funeral obsequies took place at St. James, Egmont Bay, Tuesday, February 1st. R. I. P.

Rev. Dr. F. X. Morrison Promoted

When it was announced at the beginning of this month that Archbishop Edward J. Hanna of San Francisco had appointed Rev. Dr. F. X. Morrison, for fifteen years pastor of St. Joseph's Church, Berkeley, to the important charge of St. Francis de Sales Church, Oakland, there was sorrow among the parishioners and citizens in the University City, and joy among the people of St. Francis de Sales. The Rev. Doctor succeeds the Right Reverend Patrick J. Keane, who was recently appointed Auxiliary Bishop of Sacramento.

Before his departure from Berkeley Dr. Morrison was tendered a farewell reception by the Minard's Liniment will cure Colds parishioners and friends of St. Joseph's. Out of appreciation for his work in Berkeley, Joseph Flinn presented Dr. Morrison with a handsome purse with sufficient funds to purchase a new automobile as a gift from the congregation, and also delivered a farewell address on the occasion.

Dr. Morrison's first appearance as pastor of St. Francis de Sales Church, on Sunday, January 2, was greeted with an immense congregation, many being unable to gain entrance to the church. Solemn High Mass was celebrated at noon by Rev. Dr. Morrison with Rev. Daniel Kelly as deacon, and Rev. James Burgin as sub-deacon. Rev. Thomas Millet was master of ceremonies. Rev. P. J. Quinn and Rev. E. P. Dempsey were deacons of honor to Archbishop Hanna, who duly installed the new pastor and delivered the sermon.

The Rev. Dr. Morrison is a native of Prince Edward Island, and a brother of Right Reverend James Morrison, Bishop of Antigonish, Nova Scotia—Oakland Maple Leaf.

Case of Transmigration

At the Franciscan mission in Chefoo, China, there is a dispensary which treats many patients every year.

Father Guichard, O. F. M., relates that one day a woman belonging to a well-to-do family presented herself and was advised to remain a while for continuous care. This she refused to do, as she said her daughters-in-law would consider such a proceeding beneath her dignity. She consented, however, to make frequent visits.

One day she stated that her daughters had consulted a "diviner" who prophesied that she would die on a certain date not far off. Naturally she was badly alarmed, but the missionary laughed at the prophecy and said it was entirely groundless.

Of course the woman did not die, and relieved of her fears that the diviner would possibly poison her to make his words come true she asked to receive instruction in the religion of the missionary, and was finally baptized.

Some time later she again fell seriously ill, and this time no human means could save her. Aided by prayers and fortified by a profound faith she passed quietly away.

But now the pagan family began their rites, and believing that the soul of the mother-in-law had passed into some creature, the daughters again sought the "diviner," to learn of the abode of the dead woman's spirit.

The "diviner" bade them spread ashes thickly upon the floor of the room wherein she had died; then he sealed it, announcing that when it was opened the tracks or footprints in the ashes would show the animal into which the passing soul had transmigrated.

Finally with much ceremony he declared he would enter the apartment. This he did, bending low over the ashes to see what animal had seized the old lady's spirit as it left the mortal flesh. There was a moment of suspense and then disappointment and chagrin.

"The tracks are those of a turtle," announced the soothsayer; "your relative has become a turtle." Thus was the "diviner" revenged, and to understand his revenge it must be explained that the greatest insult that can be given a family is to say that they are turtles, or related to turtles. So the patient who had become a Christian was condemned to waddle over the earth as a turtle, and the relatives were forever disgraced.

Such tales sound silly to Western ears, but in the East they have a serious meaning.

PILES HEMORRHOIDS ARE CAUSED BY CONSTIPATION.

There are few complaints more common than hemorrhoids, commonly called piles, and scarcely any which cause more trouble and misery.

Piles are divided into three classes, i.e., itching, protruding and bleeding, and consist in a fullness of blood and languid circulation in the portions of the lower bowel or rectum.

The chief causes of piles are constipation, straining at stool, and the using of drastic purgatives. This latter we would very strongly advise against, as these strong purgatives, especially those containing calomel and other mineral drugs are too strong for the average person's bowels.

A mild laxative will do more to correct this trouble than anything else, and the one you will find in Milburn's Laxative is a mild and safe one, and does not irritate and weaken the system.

Milburn's Laxative is a true laxative, and is a vital part of all dealers' or mail order receipts of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

The Transvaal, S. Africa

The Transvaal famous for its gold and diamond mines, is a mission country, in spite of its large white population, and its Vicar Apostolic is Bishop Cox, Oblate. He says of the country:

"Throughout the Transvaal, where there are no churches specially for them, some natives are daily communicants. In this new country much remains yet to be done. Funds and priests are needed for the work of evangelization. Here are our most important posts:

"At a distance of two miles from Pretoria City, and commanding an extensive view of it and of the surrounding hills, is St. Teresa's Native Mission. The Sisters of the Holy Cross have a very busy time there.

"At a distance of six miles, from the same city, is the Leger Asylum. Here there is a very good church, built in 1916. Help towards the building expenses came largely from distant places. Here are our most important posts:

The misery which stomach troubles cause, the sufferer knows only too well, and anyone who suffers knows what it would give to be able to eat three square meals a day, and not be punished or it after.

Before you can eat heartily, and not sick and choose your food, you must get your stomach right so that it will produce its own digestive ferment.

For forty-two years Burdock Blood Bitters has been making weak stomachs strong, and permanently relieving severe cases of indigestion and dyspepsia that defy other remedies were powerless to reach.

Mrs. Alice Beckwith, Fesserton, Ont., writes—"I have been a great sufferer from indigestion and dyspepsia for several years, and could not eat anything without almost dying from the pain in the pit of my stomach. Seeing Burdock Blood Bitters highly recommended I tried a bottle, and can gladly say it relieved me. I can eat anything now, and am in perfectly good health. B.B.B. is manufactured only by The T. Weeping For Germany

Britain, France and Italy, through their respective leaders, have come to a complete agreement regarding the terms of the remaining payment by Germany of war indemnity and reparation. The agreement follows the principles and stipulations of the Treaty of Versailles, and is the result of strenuous and prolonged deliberation on the part of well-informed men. The chief German newspapers jeer at it on the instant as impossible. At less than a day's notice they see how foolish it is. Nor are they alone in their perspicacity. Some of the English newspapers which are not known to have ever noticed that Britain has ever done anything right in a hundred years see as clearly and as promptly as the German papers that the agreement between the Premiers of Britain, France and Italy is foolish, and impossible of execution. The Manchester Guardian says it is absurd. The London Daily News wonders if the allies are sane.

With all due deference to the wisdom of the editorial human wonders of the Manchester Guardian and the London Daily News two newspapers which for a century or so have accompanied the British Empire in a prosperous and successful march in which the Empire has never done a thing they did not disapprove of, we venture to suggest humbly that perhaps a good idea in the German case would be to wait and see.

One is not surprised to observe the German newspapers proclaiming that the allied terms are impossible. Since 1914 the allies have never said or done anything, including licking Germany, that the German newspapers did not declare to be impossible. Since the armistice the allies have never suggested anything that the German newspapers did not within twenty-four hours announce to be crazy. The German newspapers have all along been perfectly certain that Germany did not do anything in the war that Germany ought to suffer for. All their comments upon what the allies do or want to have been and continue to be based upon the conviction that Germany should be treated like the returning Prodigal Son, and fatted calves killed for it. The Prodigal Son however left home without murdering anybody or burglarizing part of the neighborhood, and setting fire to the rest. The Germans ought to expect to pay. The German armies ripped most of the rest of Europe for several years, they destroyed everything they came across that they could not steal, they stopped at no possible villainy. Nevertheless the Germans find it impossible to imagine that they did anything wrong or should pay. This should not be considered important by other people. The fact that the Germans butchered all of Europe they could may not be a reason why Europe should oppress Germany unnecessarily now, but the fact that the Germans did that and claim they were not wrong is a good reason why the allies should not be disturbed when the Germans also declare volubly and angrily that they ought not to be made to pay damages.

The stranger thing is that some English newspapers should protest on the German behalf. Why not wait and see? If the terms the allies outline are so harsh that Germany cannot meet them, Germany will not meet them, and then will come a more excusable time for the Manchester Guardian and the London Daily News to protest should the allies take any drastic measures. But at a moment when the German government is sending millions of dollars over to the Kaiser, maintaining in addition to regular troops a couple hundred thousand armed police in contravention of her agreements after the armistice, and falling short of what she agreed to do in many other respects, the instantaneous sympathy of the Little Englanders whenever Germany sheds tears, and their instantaneous conviction that whatever their own countrymen do—albeit after ever care and deliberation—must be wrong, is a wondrous illustration of the mugwump temperament.

A Glut of Wool

The world has never seen such a glut of wool as exists at the present time. What to do with it is a great economic problem. There is enough on hand to meet all possible needs for two years. Great Britain holds 2,000,000 bales of the volume she accumulated between 1915 and 1918. Australia still has nearly all the clip of two seasons. South Africa has an enormous store; so has Argentina, and American producers have not been able to sell more than a quarter of their output since 1919. Meanwhile, to make matters worse from the standpoint of the wool growers, many mills are shut down because of lack of orders. They are selling their cloth by auction. This will inevitably mean cheaper clothing, but it must be remembered that not more than five pounds of wool enter into a suit of clothes, and therefore other factors in the cost of producing cloth must be reduced before consumers may hope to see a return to pre-war conditions.

Folly and shortsightedness are thus meeting with retribution. The artificial conditions created by the war were capitalized by both wool growers and the manufacturers of woollen fabrics. It is also known now that the Governments of both Great Britain and the United States purchased cloth far in excess of their actual needs, which clearly aggravated market prices. Consumption was quite naturally curtailed. People are now buying as little as they can help, in the expectation of a decline in prices to what they regard a normal basis; but they may in some degree be nursing a false hope. They are also punishing the retailer, who has himself had his worries over the situation while exempt from direct blame for high prices. It will take time to adjust all the factors in the problem.

The Industrial Remedy

"If Canadians united in a resolve to buy Canadian made goods as far as possible instead of imported goods, most of the problems of trade depression and unemployment would be quickly solved." The fact that this quotation is from a bulletin of the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, an organization that has a direct interest in the movement for purchase of Canadian made goods instead of imported goods, does not detract from the strength of it. For it is a statement of fact that concerns every Canadian. The present industrial and commercial depression is not hitting the manufacturers alone. It is causing unemployment and generally operating to the disadvantage of the entire community. The statement that if Canadians would buy Canadian made goods where possible in place of imported goods most of the problems of trade depression and unemployment would be solved needs no supporting argument. The cold figures on Canadian purchase of foreign goods establish the truth of it. For the year ending with November we bought in other countries goods to the value of $1,945,582,300. This was an increase of nearly half a million over the previous year. We bought $927,564,711 worth from the United States also. And in these huge purchases of Canadian goods we paid an exchange rate on our Canadian money as high as 17 1/2 per cent. Would Canadian factories be closed or running on part time schedules, with part of their forces of employees in idleness, if a half of this tremendous amount of money spent for goods made in foreign factories were spent for goods made in Canada?

Canadians are robbing themselves and their neighbors by buying foreign made goods when they can secure goods of as good or better quality made in this country. They are foolish to do it. Will they awake to their folly?

A Change In The Right Direction

Canada is apparently beginning to make a little headway against the tide of trade with the United States, which has been running so unfavorably in this country for such a long time.

The December figures are very encouraging. According to Ottawa, we bought almost ten million dollars worth less in the United States during that month than we did in December a year ago, and sold ten and a half million dollars worth more.

That is good hearing. If we can keep it up it should not be long before there is a favorable turn to the exchange situation. Of course it is not all straight gain. The duty upon this ten million dollars worth of American goods would be just so much ready money in the Government's pocket. But fundamentally the change is certainly for the better. We cannot continue indefinitely to run up bills in a neighboring country, falling at the same time to square the account in kind and maintain national prosperity. It is too soon to crow yet. The December figures may be due to some temporary cause not yet apparent. But the change is assuredly in the right direction. Let us hope it will be maintained.

Foster Warns U. S.

New York, Jan. 30.—An appeal for "practical neighborliness" between the United States and Canada was made by Sir George E. Foster, Canadian Minister of Trade and Commerce, and one of Canada's delegates to the assembly of the League of Nations, speaking last night at a banquet of the superintendents of the Metropolitan Life Insurance Company, at the Hotel Astor.

"We are pretty good neighbors to you," said Sir George. "We came over from Canada in 1920 and bought $921,000,000 worth of stuff from you in the United States. This means that every man, woman and child in Canada spent on an average $115 in purchasing from the United States last year. The United States, by the same statistics, gave into Canada and bought $560,000,000 worth only, exactly $5 for every man, woman and child in the United States. Let us be neighbors, buy as much from us as we do from you, and when we come down here with our goodwill security, Canadian dollars, to show offering us 88 cents."

Disclaiming any desire to meddle "with public affairs in the United States," Sir George referred to the Fordney emergency tariff bill, now before the Senate in Washington, as a measure that would "prevent us from sending down our cattle and sheep and agricultural products in order that we may pay you." "Well, there are two things for us to do," continued the minister. "One is not to buy the extra four hundred million dollars' worth from the people of the United States. That is my appeal to the commercial portion of the United States. It may be a good thing to think of these things before we legislate too far."

Almost Finished

The new Parliament Buildings are for all practical purposes completed, with the exception of the entrance hall, a portion of the Court of Honor and the tower. Hon. F. B. McCurdy, Minister of Public Works, stated in an interview last evening. Construction of the tower, which was stopped when cold weather set in, will be resumed in the spring. The tower contains no offices, and while it has been built up to the height of the first story, its present state will not in any way interfere with the use of the building.

Mr. McCurdy stated that since last session several thousand feet of marble tile had been laid, which completed the floors. The marble wainscoting was finished, and all the plaster work. The staircases were in place with the exception of two. The Tyndall line stone walls in the Court of Honor have been erected ready for the arched ceiling, and the new entrance to the library is finished.

The ornamental plaster ceiling, stone arches and the woodwork of the Senate Chamber have been finished within the past few months, and the ceiling has been elaborately decorated. Permanent furniture is being placed in the Senate Chamber now, and it will be in use this session.

In the Commons Chamber the ceiling and cornice have been decorated and new chairs, upholstered in green leather, have been installed for the members. The new front row of desks, with carved front panels, are now being put in place. The new restaurant has been completed, together with the kitchens and serving pantries, and these are now fully equipped and will be in readiness for the opening on February 14.

The offices throughout the building have been completed and decorated and electric clock installed throughout the rooms. Dealing with the amount of work necessary to complete the building the Minister pointed out that more than 250,000 bags of cement had been used to date; over 20,000 yards of sand; 150,000 square feet of marble, and more than 250,000 feet of conduit for which a like footage of wire had to be provided. The quantity of Wallace sandstone, Ohio Tyndall and Nepean stone would be well over one million cubic feet.

Mr. McCurdy paid tribute to the actual builders, the mechanics who had put their best efforts into the work to give Canada a Parliament Building worthy of the growing nation. Asked when the building would be entirely complete, the minister stated that the main hall and Court of Honor would be finished a few months after the next prorogation, but that the tower would take at least another year to complete. In several places throughout the building there are panels to be decorated with mural paintings, but Mr. McCurdy thought the work on these and the carving of the blocks could be carried out at any time without interfering with the occupation of the building. This work would be better for careful consideration and study, he thought.

The new Speaker's Chair which is being presented by the Mother of Parliaments, is to be a replica of the Chair in the British House of Commons, and is expected to arrive in Canada at some time during the session. It is to be formally presented by an official of the British House, who will probably be Speaker Lowther.

It is stated that the above mentioned diseases are now prevalent in Charlottetown and other parts of the Island. But such diseases need cause no terror to those who make good use of the Farador. MEASLES LEFT BAD COUGH.

The after-effects of measles may be far reaching, as the irritation of the respiratory passages is one of the characteristics of this disease, and very often those who have been robust, become delicate and liable to lung troubles, hence measles should never be regarded with indifference.

Measles are generally followed by an acute attack on the mucous membranes. The sneezing is accompanied with a watery discharge, sometimes bleeding from the nose, a cough of a short, frequent and noisy character, with little or no expectoration, hoarseness of the voice, etc.

Once the cough starts you should procure a bottle of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, take a few doses a day and thus prevent bronchitis, pneumonia, or perhaps consumption getting a foothold on your system.

Mrs. Oliver Kelly, Bellisle Station, N.B., writes:—'Two years ago I had the measles, and they left me with a bad cough. I kept getting worse until at last I could not sleep. My neighbor told me of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup, so I sent and got a bottle, and before I had used it my cough was all better. I find it a great family medicine for colds and coughs, and I now keep it in the house all the time.'

Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup is 35c. a large bottle 60c., at all druggists and dealers. Put up only by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

We cater to the men's trade, and no other. If you were sick you wouldn't call to see a Tailor, or a Blacksmith, about the condition of your health. Of course not; you would call to see a Doctor.

If you wanted a Suit or an Overcoat would you go to see a Doctor, or a Shoemaker? Not at all. You would go to see a First Class Tailor.

WELL, there's where we shine!!! We study the business. We know what suits a young man we know what suits a middle-aged man, and we know what suits the old gentleman—both in goods and in style. It does not make any difference whether you want your clothes Ready-to-Wear, or Made-to-Order. We are equally in a position to suit you. We do not let a suit or overcoat leave our establishment until it suits and fits the man who is buying. Our prices are always right when you take the quality into consideration.
