Beautiful Cynthia;

Victory After Many Defeats.

CHAPTER XXXVI.
IMPORTANT DOINGS.

"Of course I'm surprised and rather taken aback, sir," he stammered.

"Yes," drawled Mr. Drayle. "Extraordinary young man! Most men would have been pleased at learning that they were going to marry an heiress."

"As if Darrel could possibly care, father!" said Cynthia indignantly.

"Of course not, of course not!" Mr. Drayle hastened to assent. "But there it is. And now what are your plans?—though it's scarcely fair to put the question without due notice."

"Our plans? What are they dear?" asked Cynthia, nestling up to Darrel.

"Why, of course, we shall all go somewhere and live together; let it be somewhere in the country, gentlemen; this little girl has had enough of London for a long, long time."

"A month or two in the season, perhaps," murmured Mr. Drayle.

"With such a beautiful place as yours you will not care to leave it for long, I dare say."

"What place are you talking of?" demanded Cynthia, opening her eyes.

"Do you mean that you have already bought a house for us, father?"

"Not I. Certainly not. I should as soon think of buying a bonnet for you, my dear Cynthia. I allude, of course, to Darrel's estate, Summerleigh Court."

Darrel colored and bit his lip.

"I'm—I'm afraid you have not heard the news, are not aware that the Court is no longer mine, sir," he said, rather huskily. "It was sold to-day—by the mortgagee, Mr. Burridge, who, no doubt, bought it and intends to live in it."

"I think you are misinformed, my dear boy," said Drayle meekly, and somewhat nervously. "I was present at the sale, and I distinctly heard the auctioneer announce that Sir Darrel Frayne was the purchaser."

They stared at him speechlessly for a moment. Then Cynthia sprang up and threw herself upon him and hugged him.

"Oh, you dear, good, clever father!" she cried, with a choking break in her voice. "You really are clever, and I'm p-proud of you!"

"Thank you very much for this spontaneous and overwhelming testimonial to my intelligence, Cynthia," said Drayle, with his whimsical smile. "But would you—mind transferring your embraces to a person who is sitting near us, and who, apparently, is indifferent to the crushing of his collar? Yes," he went on, as he took the hand Darrel extended to him. "Yes, I was very fortunate. I reached the Court just in time to thwart Messrs. Burridge & Son, and earn the approval and applause which has been so lavishly bestowed upon me." He tried to straighten his collar.

"What can I say, sir?" said Darrel, almost inaudibly.

"Well, you could say a great deal," replied Mr. Drayle. "You could remark that I have saved your ancestral home."

"Which would be true?" said Darrel.

"Admitted. But then I, might report that you had saved my life—which would also be true—and that one good turn deserves another."

"Saved your life! Oh, father! Oh, Darrel! Father, tell me—instantly!" he said nothing about it!

"Ashamed of it, no doubt," remarked Mr. Drayle dryly. "Yes, at the risk of lowering your young man to the level of a melodramatic hero, I must tell you the story."

He proceeded to do so, still with a touch of whimsicality—put on for Darrel's sake—and Cynthia sat and listened, holding her breath and with her eyes fixed on Darrel's face, which was as downcast and embarrassed as if he were listening to the recital of a crime. Then she took his hand and raised it to her lips, from which not a word passed.

"And now," said Mr. Drayle plaintively, "if you'll excuse me for mentioning so commonplace a matter, I happen to be on the verge of starvation."

This announcement cleared the air and relieved the tension of the situation. Cynthia, with a "Oh, you poor, dear father!" sprang up and made for the door, calling on Parsons, and on persons appearing, threw her arms round her and gave her a good hug.

"Parsons, I'm the happiest woman in the United Kingdom of Great Britain and Ireland; and you, poor dear, I can't spare the time to tell you what it all means, for my father—father, this is Parsons, my friend and protector!—is starving. I'll come and help you get in the tea, and tell you everything while we are doing it! But watch me closely, Parsons, for I'm so—so confused that I shall probably put the butter in the teapot."

She broke off, for Lord Northam appeared in the passage.

"Hope I don't intrude—" he began; but she took both his hands, looked into his eyes—were there tears in her own?—and drew him toward the sitting room, and without a word closed the door upon the three men.

And, indeed, Northam needed no words. For those wonderful eyes of hers had spoken eloquently enough of the gratitude, the sisterly affection, which her heart held for him.

On the shady side of 140 Pounds

If your weight exceeds 140 lbs. the tell-tale scale urges the wearing of the La Diva No. 809 corset known as the "NU MODE" sustaining.

This corset not only improves the appearance by reducing the abdomen by as much as six inches, while helping a graceful and erect figure, but it gives great comfort either sitting or standing—freedom from pressures which soon turn to pain—freedom from breaking over the hips;—these qualities being assured by their patented construction. Its price is only $4.00.

La Diva
NON-PURSET
CORSET

Many imported so-called reducing corsets, which on account of customs duties are sold at from $1.00 to $3.00 more than the NU MODE are neither as comfortable nor as stylish.

There is a D. & A. or a La Diva model for every figure. Our catalogue, sent free on request, will help you to choose the best for yours.

CHAPTER XXXVII. REPENTANCE.

Darrel and Cynthia had returned from their honeymoon, and had for some weeks been settled down at the newly decorated and partly refurbished Court—partly, for the old "study" had been held as sacred, and had not been touched—when, one afternoon, as Darrel and Cynthia were seated on the terrace listening to Mr. Drayle's story of one of the incidents in his wanderings, Cynthia saw a carriage coming up the drive.

"Visitors," remarked Darrel, stifling a sigh; for there had been a long succession of callers since the return of the happy pair. "I think I'd better go and write these letters."

"And I must go and look at—er—the new pigsties," said Mr. Drayle, quickly.

"No, you don't escape, either of you," said Cynthia, laughingly. "Yes, you shall! Poor dears, you have suffered enough! But you must make haste, or they'll see you. Why, it's Lord Spencer!" she broke off.

Her "two men," as she called them, stopped in their flight, and Lord Spencer, seeing the group, came up the step toward them. He walked slowly, and Cynthia at once saw that he was, in some way or other difficult to describe, much changed; his face had lost its florid color; his clothes, though still trim and fashionable, hung loosely upon him; he had become bowed, and his eyes, once so bold and confident, were grave and downcast.

Cynthia went forward to greet him.

"How do you do, Lord Spencer?" she said. "I am glad to see you." And she spoke the truth. For, notwithstanding his raffishness, she liked Lord Spencer. "This is my father, Darrel you know."

Lord Spencer nodded to the other men, and held her hand for a moment or two before he responded, his eyes fixed on her face gravely.

"Fraid you'll think it rather cool of me to drop in on you like this," he said, in a voice from which the old devil-may-care tone had gone. "But—but Percy's come home."

"Oh, I'm glad! We were sorry that he was not well enough to be at the wedding. I hope he is all the better for the change," said Cynthia, gravely; for she saw that some serious business had brought Lord Spencer down so unexpectedly.

"No," he replied. "He's worse. I'm afraid—He wants to see you, Lady Frayne; wants to see you badly. I don't know whether I've any right

"No," he replied. "He's worse. I'm afraid—He wants to see you, Lady Frayne; wants to see you badly. I don't know whether I've any right

Cynthia looked at Darrel quickly, and he nodded.

"Of course, I will come!" she said, simply.

"I thank you." He hesitated. "I'm afraid you will have to come at once."

Again Cynthia looked at Darrel. He took out his watch, and with another nod went into the house.

"I will come at once," she said. "Darrel has gone to order a carriage, and I will get ready now. Father, see that Lord Spencer has something to eat."

But Lord Spencer shook his head. "Get something on the train, thanks," he said. "A whisky and soda will do me."

Mr. Drayle took him into the house and got him a drink and a cigar, and Lord Spencer sat looking before him in an absent, preoccupied way.

"Nice place," he said, with a sigh. "Cynthia's come through it all very chippily, thanks to you, Mr. Drayle; and no one is more glad than I am; for she's a straight un all through. I saw that the first moment I set eyes on her; I know a good woman—and by George! I've paid pretty dearly for my knowledge. Frayne's a clipper, too; and they're a good pair. Looked as if they were going to be jockeyed out of the stakes; but you were one too many for the wrong us. I wish me a clear course and all the prizes."

"It's very kind of you to express yourself in this way, and I appreciate it," said Mr. Drayle. "I'm sorry to hear of your son's illness."

Lord Spencer's face, which had lightened somewhat, fell again, and he bit hard at his cigar.

"Yes; he's fell on the ropes," he said moodily; "and I'm afraid he's a dead un. He's my only son, only kid— He took a long drink, and coughed as if some of the liquor had gone the wrong way. "A clever chap, Percy; too clever, p'raps. Ah, well, it doesn't matter. Clever as you may be, you can't run against the Dark Horse, and that's entered against him. Shootin' good here? Looks as if Frayne kept it up."

Drayle made some kind of reply, and the conversation dragged—for what could be said between two men of such opposite natures?—and presently, doubtless to the relief of both, Darrel and Cynthia appeared; the carriage came up, and the three were driven to the station.

For some reason or other, Lord Spencer would not talk of Percy during the night journey, and when they reached Waterloo they were driven, to Cynthia's surprise, to Lord Spencer's, and not to the big house in Belgrave Square.

"I brought him to my place," explained Lord Spencer. "Fact is, though he had his own—the other house—done up to the nines, he never lived there; seemed to have taken a dislike to it. Here we are. 'Fraid the place smells of 'bacca; I'm given to smoking occasionally. I'll go up and see if he's well enough to see you. You'll have something to eat before you go up?"

"BEAVER" FLOUR

Is both a Bread Flour and a Pastry Flour

The perfect flour is the one that combines the good qualities of Ontario and Western wheat. This is exactly what "Beaver" Flour does. It is a blend of best Ontario fall wheat with a little Western wheat to add strength. "Beaver" Flour is equally good for Bread and Pastry—it has the real home made flavor that western flours lack. Fishery Reports.

The accompanying fishery reports were received by the Board of Trade yesterday:—

FROM FORTUNE BAY.

"The total catch to date is 1,100 qtls. Prospects are not bright for the shore fishery, and the lobster outlook is not nearly so good as last year, the catch being little better than half to the corresponding date. No salmon have been taken yet, and the weather recently has been raw and cold with rain."

FROM THE SUB-COLLECTOR AT BOXAVISTA.

"The catch to date is only 200 qtls, 100 of which were taken last week. Only six traps are out, and prospects for the voyage are not very good."

FROM MR. J. CUNNINGHAM, OF BURGO.

"About 10,000 lbs. of halibut were shipped this week. A few salmon have been caught but codfish prospects are poor. The catch to date is 2,821 qtls., and for the last week, 240."

The Racing Act.

Rossley's Theatre last night was filled at each show, and everybody enjoyed the Lorraine Buchanan Co. Their horse racing act is the very funniest act ever presented and a laugh all through. A lady who owns race horses, engages a trainer also a young gentleman as a teacher who gets into the wrong house. The lady was told the new trainer was rather eccentric in his ways, and all the while she is talking of her horses and their various good points, he thinks she is talking of the children he has come to train. There is a great deal of fun and the large audience simply roared. However all is cleared up in the end. The signing of Billy Devan fairly brought down the house. Miss Beall gave some wonderful impersonations of a little girl, and showed some fine dancing. Harry Ingram

Exciting Adventure.

In March past a very exciting adventure befell a wedding party at Burin. Mr. Bugden and Miss Reid were married and several guests attended the subsequent festivities, which concluded shortly before midnight. Five persons, including four owners left in a boat to go to their homes at a small place a few miles away, and when they had proceeded a few miles from Burin, they were suddenly enveloped in a thick fog and surrounded by ice. While later the rain descended in torrents and it was piercing cold. The ladies were clad in very light apparel, and all spent the night in the boat. The cries for help were heard in Whale Cove and men came out in boats and were long while searching before they found them. The ladies had to remain two days in Whale Cove, where they were brought to dry their saturated apparel, and some of them became very ill as a result of their trying ordeal.

Immature Laborers.

Mr. James McGrath, the President of the L.S.P.U., since the formation of the boys' union, took a run over the various mercantile premises where boys are employed, and was surprised at the number of lads of tender years who were at work. On some premises where steamboats discharged goods, they were performing duties in the way of work which he considers too much for them. Some of these boys had only just turned ten years and it is an outrage to have them at work at all. Few of these boys could read or write and most of them had parents who valued the pittance the boys earned. It is the intention of the L.S.P.U. to ask the owners of mercantile premises to prohibit the employment of lads under 14 years of age.

Sunday's Collection.

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—As the Annual collection in aid of Mount Carmel and Belvedere Cemeteries will be taken up at all masses at R. C. Churches on Sunday, permit me space to remind you thousands of readers interested, not to forget their obligations, for is it not our duty to generously assist in keeping the last resting places of our "dearly beloved ones" in a respectable condition? Never in the history of those hallowed grounds since their consecration has such improvements been noticeable as can be seen during the past few years. The credit for this most satisfactory state of affairs belongs to His Grace the Archbishop, so ably assisted by two committees of gentlemen working so harmoniously. The committees devote the most of their leisure time to the good work entrusted by His Grace to their care. There is a labor of love for which all interested should feel thankful. The committees' ambition is to see both cemeteries second to none in the city, and is only fair in justice to His Grace and the management that the collection on Sunday will be a record one, giving power to the gentlemen in charge to continue the work. I wish in conclusion to thank all contributors in the past for their generous donations for without such true and loyal supporters both places would be in the same wretched state as they were previous to the appointment of His Grace as head of our church. All is asked for on Sunday, is to let every person give according to their means.
—A. F. S.

Feeling of Indignation

Editor Evening Telegram.
Dear Sir—Fifty-five years ago our fathers fought for and won Responsible Government. How is it now that a few irresponsible individuals are still permitted to control public affairs. There is a suppressed feeling of indignation against the late Morris Government, particularly on account of reckless expenditure of public money, so much so that we deem it expedient to ask His Excellency, our esteemed Governor, to put a stop at once to any further expenditure by irresponsible parties, until the people get an opportunity to choose their representatives.
Yours truly,

Minard's Liniment Co., Limited.

Gentlemen,—In January last, Francis Leclaire, one of the men employed by me, working in the lumber woods had a tree fall on him, crushing him fearfully. He was, when found, placed on a sled and taken home, where grave fears were entertained for his recovery, his hips being badly bruised and his body turned black from his ribs to his feet. We used MINARD'S LINIMENT on him freely to deaden the pain and with the use of three bottles he was completely cured and able to return to his work.

END OF TRIDUUM.

Large congregations were present at the Triduum in St. Patrick's Church and the St. C. Cathedral each evening since it commenced. To-day in both churches there is Exposition of the Blessed Sacrament and the religious exercises will close with Benediction of the Blessed Sacrament at 7:30 this evening.

MAD VANDALISM.

Yesterday afternoon, a gentleman who resides on the upper Southside, and who is a large property holder there, found a new boat which he had hauled up there badly damaged. There was a deal of brass work about it and this was all prized off while other parts of the boat were smashed. He reported the matter to the police who are looking into it.

Taft at Yale.

Beneath the ancient roof of Yale he meets the students raw, and for a small amount of talk expound the common law. No symptoms does he show of bile, no sore spots on his hide; he wears the old familiar smile, all wool and three feet wide. He talks of Blackstone and repeat of old man Coke talks he, and looms up greater in defeat than in some victory. To do good service is his wish, in high estate or low; a better aim than that, odds fish, no citizen could know. And so he'll send from storied Yale good lawyers forth, effusions, and draw his modest bunch of kale, and spend the same for prunes. And when the study hours are gone, he doesn't brood at all, but mosey's forth upon the lawn to see the boys play ball. No secret sorrow in his chest, no sackcloth in his hand; he only hopes to do his best wherever he may land. And some there are who walk in gloom when they have felt the ax; they talk of traitors, fret and fume, until they strain their backs. But old Bill Taft does none of this, nor does he whine or scold; he wears a smile that speaks of bliss—the smile that won't come off. And so, exclaiming Wells on Liens, and Littleton on Hay, he eats his modest meal of greens, and saves ten cents a day.

Notes and Comments.

The movement to put a stop to the employment of young boys on the wharves, appears to us a commendable one. If it is true that boys of ten or eleven put in a whole day's work on the wharves, then it is high time some step was taken to prohibit the exploitation of the labor of young boys. Indeed, the movement should go further and insist that these boys should attend school. We do not know of any sufficient reason why the attendance of the boys and girls of the city, who are under the age of fifteen, should not be made compulsory. We are not greatly in love with the stocking of the statute book with laws infringing on personal liberty, but we think that the compulsory attendance of children at school, where it is feasible, as in the city, should form an exception, and such an enactment would serve a double purpose, for it would entail a cessation in the employment of them on the wharves.

In view of the "boost" that the Government press, and the Government members in the House of Assembly, gave to the project of Tre-

this company and purchase the fertilizer, or import it? In other words is he forbidden to manufacture for his own farm? This thing is a patent right, an exclusive right to make a product. Supposing this company had a patent for the manufacture of fertilizer. No person could make fertilizer either for commercial or private use. I think there ought to be something provided to make it clear that this exclusive right is to make fertilizer as a commercial product only. Then again, I think the grant of a monopoly for the entire manufacture of glue from all kinds of materials is too broad. It ought to be limited to some specific product, or material. But here you say glue from dogfish, and then "other commodities." That covers everything, without exception. It means that you have given a complete and entire monopoly for glue and fertilizer of all kinds except as against those who are already making it. This company with its franchises and export privileges from duty and the monopoly which it is given will enter into unfair competition with them, and it is worth while considering whether the grant of five years which the monopoly will last it does not do injury to those factories which are in existence."

Death of Mrs. Capt. Bartlett.

Word was received in the city this morning that Mrs. S. Bartlett, of Brigus, passed away last evening. The deceased lady had been ailing for some time past, but the end came rather suddenly. Rev. J. W. Bartlett, Pastor of George St. Church, received word yesterday morning of the critical condition of his mother and left immediately by automobile for Brigus. In addition to the Rev. gentleman she leaves another son, Harold, who has done good work in Hudson Bay exploration, and one daughter, Edith. Her husband, Capt. Samuel Bartlett, was the Liberal candidate for Port de Grave District, in the election of 1909, and has had much experience in navigation of Arctic waters, like many of the Bartletts. To her husband, children and other relatives, the Evening Telegram tenders sympathy in their bereavement.

If you want to preserve your teeth and keep them white, one of the best things to use regularly for that purpose is Sanident Tooth Paste. It will do that admirably. Sanident Tooth Paste has been in competition with all the best dentifrices on the market, and though it has not been extensively advertised has made a name for itself until it is now the most popular tooth paste on our shelves. Sanident is a tooth paste that never disappoints. Pleasant to use it is yet most effective in cleansing the teeth and gums, and its regular use renders tartar impossible. The best brush to use it with is the Sanident Brush, which is of improved shape and whose hairs do not come out. Price (Paste) 25c., Brush 35c. each.

Tried To-Day.

The prisoner Kennedy, who stole a "wall" of notes, amounting to $140, belonging to Alexander Lewis, a fisherman, was before court today charged with the theft. The accused pleaded guilty to taking $175. This year was not believed by the judge and the prisoner was sentenced to six months imprisonment. It will be remembered Kennedy caused a sensation in the city a fortnight ago. After making the haul the accused passed over some of the "dough" to his girl who was arrested. In attempting to leave the country the accomplice was caught. Meanwhile Kennedy, who was previously arrested, managed to get clear of police custody. After taking a health trip over the railroad and as far as Sydney, he returned, being recaptured at his home on Friday last. The same day the accomplice in the theft was released.

After the Money.

To-day the prisoner Kennedy who stole $140 from one Lewis was today in the West End with two of the police looking for the money. The party drove up Hamilton Street, and the belief was expressed by those who saw him that the man went with the officers to try another dash for liberty.

The Police Court.

One drunk was discharged on payment of cab-hire.
A fireman of Pilot's Hill, drunk and breaking glass in prison cell, was fined $1.
Patrick Gray, for the larceny of a coat, got six months.
James Kennedy, who was charged with stealing over $100, but admitted taking $17.50, was also sent down for six months.
A cabman, drunk and disorderly in charge of a horse, had to pay $2 for his release.
A fireman of Battery Road and another of Pennington Road, was each fined $2 or 7 days for being drunk and disorderly.
A laborer of Stephen Street, for kicking up a row in his home, was discharged.
A laborer of George St., drunk for the third time this year, was fined $4 or 14 days.

Got Six Months.

Paddy Gray, who, according to police statistics, has spent the greater period of the last five years in the Lakeside Inn, went on another prolonged sojourn to that institution today. Recently Paddy went on board a schooner to meet an outboard friend as he called it and before leaving "lifted" all the wearing apparel he could lay hands on. He appeared before Judge Knight today, charged with the larceny and got six months to do in the Penitentiary.

Postmaster General Samuels, when cross-examined at the trial of Cecil Chesterton, on the charges of publishing defamatory libels in the Eye Witness and New Witness, regarding Godfrey Isaacs, Managing Director of the Marconi Co., asked whether Mr. Isaacs wanted to be kept secret, the clause by which the Government could end its agreement with the Marconi Company at the end of eight years. "No, I do not think it was that," The clause, replied Mr. Samuels, "he wanted kept secret was one by which we could terminate the agreement at any time and cease to pay royalties by ceasing to use Marconi patent. I never assented to this being kept secret and he withdrew his request."

OTTAWA, To-day.
At one o'clock this morning, the Senate killed the Naval Bill by the Ross amendment to the motion for a second reading, which was carried by 51 to 27. The Speaker of the Senate then put the main motion of Senator Lougheed for the second reading, coupled with the Ross amendment. This was declared carried, on the same division and the Senate adjourned. This ends the Bill so far as this session is concerned, unless the Government decides to make provision for building the Dreadnoughts some other way.

Service and Sureness in Dunlop Traction Tread.

If ALL the cars in a certain Garage were fitted with a certain tire the fact does not help you in deciding which is the best and which is the one you want. It may have been to that garage owner's profit to boost that certain tire.

When you equip your car with tires you want to be assured you are going to get the maximum of service with the minimum possibility of skidding.

DUNLOP TRACTION TREAD assures you the longest service, because it is made of live rubber gum, moulded as a unit. The TRACTION TREAD assures you and yours against the dangers of skidding with its possibilities of disaster.

It's of truth the "Non-Skid." The official mileage tests tell the whole story. Let us show you.

Fred V. Chesman, Agent.

Ladies and Gentlemen!

PHILLIPS was RIGHT when he said, "With eyes and books the knowledge of the world is at your command."

If your sight is failing, consult us at once. Properly fitted glasses overcome that trouble quickly and at small cost.

Can you afford to miss the good books, magazines, etc., on account of not having a pair of glasses?

It is false economy to deprive yourself of that pleasure when it is so easily procured.

Consult us to-day about your eyes. We manufacture every kind of an eyeglass made.

R. H. TRAPNELL, Eyesight Specialist, St. John's.

ARE YOU COMING TO OUR ANNIVERSARY SALE?

Mrs. Bartlett Dead at Brigus.

Special to Evening Telegram. BRIGUS, To-day. Mrs. (Capt.) S. W. Bartlett died last night at Brigus. The funeral will take place to-morrow Saturday, at 3 p.m.

A Narrow Escape.

Yesterday morning Mr. Herbert Ebsary, brother of Mr. S. Ebsary, was coming down off the South Side from their camp with two companions when he had a narrow escape from death by a bullet from a Winchester rifle he carried. It was wet and he placed the gun, which was loaded, under his coat when it suddenly dropped and exploded. The bullet plowed through his clothes and grazed the stomach being deflected by a button and lodged in the padding of the coat. Had it gone an eighth of an inch nearer the boy would have been killed. He received a great fright and thought the bullet had lodged in the abdomen when he felt the pain.

L.A. 'At Home.'

The "At Home" held by the Ladies' Aid of Wesley Church in the Sunday School Room last night, was quite a success, both as to attendance and the cordial friendliness manifested on every hand. Many from other churches attended and a choice programme was rendered in which the following contributed: Mrs. E. Lindsay, Mrs. F. Pike and Mrs. Gooby; Misses Diamond, Joyce, Hanlon, Russell, Adey, Cummins, Abbott, Driscoll and Thompson, and Mr. B. Chafe. The President Mr. (Rev.) Matthews presided and was surrounded by a band of indefatigable workers whose taste was displayed in the decoration of the room; beautiful flowers on many fancy tables exhaling their fragrance, and beautiful refreshments delightfully served by the ladies themselves, made it most enjoyable to all present.

Coastal Boats.

BOWRING'S BOATS. The s.s. Prospero left Bale Verde at 6.30 a.m. to-day.

The s.s. Fortia left St. Lawrence this forenoon, going west.

REID'S SHIPS. The Argyle arrived at Placentia at 10.15 a.m. yesterday from the west and sails again to-day.

The Bruce leaves Port aux Basques on arrival of Wednesday's express.

The Clyde left Lewisporte at 10.25 a.m. yesterday.

The Dundee leaves Port Blandford to-day.

The Ethie leaves Clarendville to-day.

The Glenoe left Grand Bank at 2 p.m. yesterday.

The Home leaves Lewisporte to-day.

The Invermore arrived at Port aux Basques at 7.20 a.m. to-day. Owing to an interruption by the storm up west, the Reid Co. did not get a list of her passengers.

The Megie left Lark Harbor at 8.30 a.m. yesterday for the north.

No Sprinkler.

Though columns of dust all the forenoon enveloped the unfortunate pedestrians along New Gower and other streets, except Water Street not a sprinkler is to be seen. Needless to say the half choked or wholly blind citizens are disgusted. One would think that there was as much difficulty about hitching up an old sprinkler as in despatching a ship or train. If it were a day with occasional showers no doubt the sprinklers would be working overtime.

CAUTION.—To avoid fraudulent imitations of Stafford's Liniment, be sure you obtain the bottle with the RED label. may 30, 13.

GREECE HELD OUT.

Special Evening Telegram. LONDON, To-day.

Greece held out for addition to protocol until last moment when she was assured by Turkey that all conventions prevailing before war could resume their effectiveness until opportunity was given to discuss the points of issue in protocol which Greece wanted appended to treaty and embodied in the reservations by allies of points yet to be discussed with the Powers, such as financial post bellum settlement, fate of Aegean Islands, frontiers of Albania and Bulgaria. Turkey refused absolutely to have anything to do with protocol, regarding it as too likely to open up fresh undesirable discussion. The latter displays lack of deference to Powers. While peace of London may end war with Turkey, it may be a signal for strife among allies. The speech of the Serbian Premier in Parliament at Belgrade, when he explained that Serbia desired modification of Treaty with Bulgaria regarding division of territory, instead of allying excitement it increased it to such an extent it is not likely now that his meeting with Premier Guehoff, of Bulgaria on frontier will take place. All efforts of Russia to bring about peace between Bulgaria and Serbia have apparently failed. The worst is feared. Meanwhile the Allies are throwing enormous bodies of troops into Macedonia for the purpose of occupying disputed territory. The relations between Turkey and Greece are still extremely strained. The Bulgarians thus far have refused to create a neutral zone at Salonki where the Greek Premier is waiting to meet the Bulgarian General Ivanoff.

Wreck of Laverford.

QUEENSTOWN, To-day.

The wrecked American Line steamer Laverford, which sailed from Liverpool for Philadelphia with 134 cabin and 850 steerage passengers aboard, was sighted by the s.s. Fortia at 11.30 p.m. ago, accidentally drove a nail through his left hand. He did not mind it, blood poisoning set in and to-day the hand and arm are greatly swollen. He was advised to-day by friends to go to Hospital, and will do so.

WEEK-END BARGAINS. 18 lb. wide Star Canvas, Job, 15c. yard. Nice assortment Hats for young children, price 35c. to $1.20. THE WEST END BAZAAR, may 29, 21. 51 Water St. West.

BIG CATCH.—The "banker Gordon M. Hollett, master, has arrived at Burin from the Grand Banks with 1,400 qts. of fish, an exceptionally good catch for a couple of weeks fishing. The vessel is owned by Hollett and is successful bankers, and promises to rank amongst the high liners this season.

Every bottle of the Queen of Liniments is stamped with the words "Stafford's Liniment." Ask for this and take no other. may 30, 13.

MORE POULTRY KILLED.—Again last night the fierce dogs which roam the South Side Hills made a descent on the poultry pens and destroyed 15 hens and 4 fine ducks. The brutes are so fierce that they will attack people passing there. They sleep in the woods all day and prowl about at night. The people should wipe them out.

DIED. Yesterday morning, after a short illness, Chesley Ralph, aged 3 months, darling child of Wm. and Jessie Bellows. "Gone to be with Jesus."

At Brigus, last evening, Mrs. (Capt.) Bartlett's funeral will take place to-morrow (Saturday) at 3 p.m.

Here and There.

DIPHTHERIA.—Two cases of diphtheria were reported in the city to-day.

ICEBERGS NEAR.—Nine icebergs, drifting south, were sighted off Cape Spear to-day.

Fresh Milk to deliver daily. Orders taken for a limited quantity. Apply to STEEER BROS. Grocery.—may 21, 13.

BALIENE SIGHTED.—The S. S. Balfour laden with dynamite from Spret, passed the Cape this morning on her way to Bell Island. She landed some of the explosive at Port aux Basques.

On Saturday, trot your pony up to Laracy's and get your share of the money-saving Bargains. Laracy's are going out of business and selling off.—may 21, 13.

London, May 26.—Father Bernard Vaughan, addressing the Catholic Women's League on the subject of "Freak Dances," said: "There is not much need of my expressing any view about these dances which recently have been imported from the Zoological gardens into London drawing rooms.

Their very animal names imply their animal nature. Not even the negro and the negroes think of breaking into such performances except when they are drunk."

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir—The Daily News to-day publishes a report of what took place in the House of Assembly on April 4th. But it reads more like a concoction of the fair-haired cutie who is paid $450 to currycomb the utterances of the Premier and others.

I remember reading in the Evening Telegram of the following day an account of the vicious and insulting attack made by Sir Edward Morris on Mr. Clapp, the member for St. Barbe. Mr. Clapp's plucky fight for justice to his constituents in that isolated part of our Island Home was much appreciated at the time. Wholesome food for the St. Barbe fisherman and his family is infinitely more important to us than the preservation of a few straggling deer which may or may not sometime prove a cock shot for Morris's sports. But while the deer in St. Barbe must be protected for the "sport" that is the cause of the poor man at Port Saunders and his family can sicken and die of scurvy, or go to goal if some numb skull of a J. F. thinks he has broken or forgot the law.

Sir Edward Morris showed neither fair play, common sense nor pity for the poor when that evening under the lash of the party whip, with the aid of his other nineteen pawns, for senseless reasons he killed the proposed amendment to the Deer law. This change in the law was intended solely for the purpose of enabling the poor fisher-folk of St. Barbe District to get a supply of fresh meat for their hungry families during the rigorous winter months. Did anybody ever read a more nonsensical excuse than the Premier sets forth, and aided by the brute majority at his command he says to the 15th of February exterminate the deer and every kind of game. What rubbish! Are we likely to find any one of the 19 stall-fed People's Party members who on the occasion in question voted to deprive the poor man of St. Barbe District of this only chance to get a supply of fresh meat, going off on a deer stalking expedition in northern Newfoundland between January 31st and Feb. 15th? Morris must be looking ahead some; probably to the year A. D. 2200, when some sportsman in the country would go to St. Barbe via the railway through Labrador for the February shooting.

The storm of indignation that this pitiless act on the part of the Morris Government has aroused has not ceased to blow—the waves roll on and the murmurs will not be hushed.

Read the following extract from an item in this day's Telegram ya 19 Tory placard—this is the way the roll on the country that Morris wants protected in midwinter from the city "sports."

"Mr. John Way and his three sons arrived here from Flower's Cove a couple of days ago to get their schr. which was moored here all the winter. They travelled 60 miles to Port Saunders to connect with the Meigie, and they say before they left snow storms were frequent, that it was very cold, that the harbours and ponds were still frozen over and that people were crossing the lakes with loads of wood."

Read and say upon what ground of principle as so-called representatives of the people can justify your vote against Mr. Clapp's amendment; upon what pretense do these men expect to escape the odium of their conduct in this connection. I know not. It was perhaps the most inhuman act they could do against those fellow creatures who reside on that lonely and desolate coast. Their names are on record. Remember them, boys, when polling days dawn.

Yours truly,
 WESTERN SHOREMAN.
 St. John's, May 29th.

Tells How it Cured His Wife's Bad Sore

When Everything Else Had Failed, Rev. Henry J. Munton, of Black-falls, Alta., writes: "My wife had a very bad sore foot, which it seemed impossible to get anything to heal. The sore would heal to a certain point and then fester again, and so on. I procured a box of Zam-Buk, and after persevering with this herb-balm for some time the sore was completely healed."

"We were so grateful for this cure, and Zam-Buk acted so differently to any other of the numerous remedies we had tried that I thought you ought to know of this case. I have since recommended Zam-Buk to several of my parishioners, and it always gives satisfaction."

Another instance in which Zam-Buk proved of unexcelled value is told by Mr. N. L. Gerry, of Brandon, Man. He says: "I had my left foot run over by a wagon loaded with wheat. The foot was very badly crushed, and my little toe and the next toe were laid open. I applied Zam-Buk, and only had to miss work for two days. Zam-Buk healed the wound so quickly that on the third day I was able to put on my boot and walk to my work. In a very short time my toes were quite healed, and the foot is now as good as ever, thanks to Zam-Buk."

Just as good for chronic sores, ulcers, piles, blood poison, burns, scalds, eruptions, eczema, and all skin injuries and diseases. 50c. box at all druggists and stores, or Zam-Buk Co., St. John's, Nfld. Try Zam-Buk Soap, too, 30c.

Lonesome for Silence of the Frozen North.

Captain Bartlett Joins Stefansson Expedition as Commander of the Karluk.

New York, May 20.—Mr. Stefansson announces that he has engaged Capt. Robert Bartlett, Peary's captain of the North Pole ship "Roosevelt," to command his ship, "Karluk," with which he is to make the most elaborately equipped Arctic expedition that has yet put forth for scientific research and the quest of a vast possible Arctic continent of 1,000,000 square miles in the existence of which Arctic explorers have time and again declared their belief, and which Admiral Peary thought he had at one time seen.

Captain Bartlett left New York last evening immediately after the announcement of his command was made. He said that he had grown lonesome and homesick for the silence of the frozen north, weary of civilization, and eager to be off again and guiding his ship through the ice of the Arctic seas. So he hurried away to Ottawa, thence to go west to Esquimaut, British Columbia, where the 247 ton barkentine Karluk is now in dry dock, preparatory to the start of the expedition from Esquimaut about June.

With Capt. Bartlett went also two other members of the expedition. Henry Bencht, of Paris, anthropologist, and Fritz Johansen, the Norwegian zoologist of Stefansson's expedition. Two other members of the company are already at Esquimaut. Stefansson himself will remain here for two days more completing his arrangements. So large has his expedition grown, he said, that original arrangements have been quite outgrown, and instead of taking one party on one ship he will have to take two parties and two vessels. The second ship, he said to-day, would be selected from three now in northern waters.

Stefansson explained that while he would make every effort to find the vast hypothetical Arctic continent which he believes to lie north of Western Canada, north of Alaska and northeast of Siberia, his chief object would be to gather comprehensive scientific data about the vast unexplored area thereabout. Whether he finds land or not he expects to be gone until the fall of 1914 at the very least.

Captain Bartlett is a native of Newfoundland. Although he was Peary's second in command, the latter refused to take him to the North Pole.

Causing Annoyance.

Residents of Boncloddy Street ask us to state that nightly they are subject to great annoyance from boys and young men who congregate there. They kick in doors, break in windows, yell and blaspheme on the street which is turned into a bedlam. Sick people, especially, who reside in the neighborhood suffer and something should be done to put a stop to such conduct. The question of the adequate policing of the higher levels must soon be grappled with. Citizens are paying for the protection of Water Street, New Gower Street and one or two other streets but the taxpayers of the higher levels are utterly neglected in this respect. 'Tis time that such neglect were stopped.

THE FISHERIES BEING RUINED BY MONSIEUR POLICE

Big Results From Little Causes.

BY RUTH CAMERON.

The one will find all doors quick to open to her because she is that exquisite thing we all enjoy—a pretty girl. The other will have to open her own doors because she is that commonplace thing we are all inclined to ignore—a homely girl.

Almost every one of the people who were passing on their way to work threw interested glances at one of the girls; the other was scarcely noticed.

Why was it? Because of several of the tiniest reasons possible to imagine; namely, the first girl's eyelashes were perhaps an eighth of an inch longer than the second girl's; her nose was about a quarter of an inch shorter; her lips a trifle fuller; her cheeks a wee bit pinker; her hair curly instead of straight.

In short, one girl was very pretty, the other was homely.

It didn't take an instant to realize that. And yet when I stopped to think about the matter and analyze it there were only the infinitesimal differences which I have named to separate the two faces so widely.

What tiny, tiny differences and yet what a very different world these two girls will live in because of them! Everywhere people will look at one of these two girls and ignore the other. The one will always be admired, courted and praised without any effort on her part, whenever she shows her face. The other will have to laboriously earn whatever admiration and praise she receives by her character or brains.

And what a queer thing this quality we call beauty is anyhow. Why should a certain length of nose and a certain color of cheek please us all so much? If you had to tell why in a court of law you never could. And yet you know it is so.

After all beauty is a very queer, senseless, unreasoning thing, isn't it? And yet, queer and senseless, unreasonable as it is, I think Diogenes would have a harder time than he did if he were to hunt for a plain woman who wouldn't give almost anything on earth to be beautiful.

And what a queer thing this quality we call beauty is anyhow. Why should a certain length of nose and a certain color of cheek please us all so much? If you had to tell why in a court of law you never could. And yet you know it is so.

HAPPY THO' MARRIED?

There are unhappy married lives, but a large percentage of these unhappy homes are due to the illness of the wife, mother or daughter. The feelings of nervousness, the befogged mind, the ill-temper, the pale face, hollow and circled eyes, result most often from those disorders peculiar to women. For the woman to be happy and good-looking she must naturally have good health. Dragging-down feelings, hysteria, hot-flashes or constantly returning pains and aches—no great drain upon a woman's vitality and strength. Dr. Pierce's Favorite Prescription restores weak and sick women to sound health by regulating and correcting the local disorders which are generally responsible for the above distressing symptoms.

"I suffered greatly for a number of years and for the past three years of them, Ohio, Route 4. The doctors told me I would have to go to a hospital before I would ever be better. I was so bad in winter and spring I was worse than ever before. At each period I suffered like one in torment of six children. I was so bad for five months that I knew something must be done, so I wrote to Dr. R. V. Pierce, telling him my case as best as I could. He outlined a course of treatment which I followed to the letter. I took two bottles of 'Favorite Prescription' and one of 'Golden Medical Discovery' and a 'Strychnine' bottle of 'Great-Weed,' and have never suffered much since. I wish I could tell every suffering woman the world over what a boon Dr. R. V. Pierce's medicine is. There is no use wasting time and money doctoring with anything else or any one else."

The Medical Adviser by R. V. Pierce, M. D., Buffalo, N. Y., answers hosts of delicate questions about which every woman, single or married ought to know. Sent free on receipt of 50 stamps to pay for wrapping and mailing only.

Fashions and Fads.

The long-sleeved conventional shirtwaist is best for the woman who plays tennis, but does not enjoy having her arms sunburned. Tiny turbans of dark blue taffeta have a single large flaring loop in the left side and a small nosegay of roses buds on the right.

With flowered silk and crepe de chine gowns with bolero bodices there is nothing prettier than full bishop sleeves of transparent tulle.

Some of the new restaurant dresses seen in Paris are cut square in the neck, with frills of white tulle turning away from the neck.

A sort of "echo train" is seen on some evening gowns. A long marquisette panel hung from the shoulders in the back, above the little satin train.

Very cool and pretty afternoon frocks are made delicately colored, lined in white, trimmed with the same material in white. Usually they have white sashes.

No matter how fashionable or practical crepe and satin garments may be, women will buy the filmy blouses and lingerie frocks because they are irresistible.

Black and white laces used together make an extremely becoming gown, and one which has chic and snap, without harshness, attached to the sharper black and white.

Montreal's Loan Not Half Taken.

London, May 21.—Sixty-six per cent of the Montreal loan has been left with the underwriters. The result under all the circumstances is regarded as satisfactory considering the like warm welcome recently accorded to all new loans, and the fact that this is Montreal's second application to London within three months.

It is perhaps not untimely to direct the attention of Montreal and other similar Canadian borrowers to the fact that the creation of big floating indebtedness is certain to invariably penalize them in the money market.

Noted Comedian Makes Fifth Matrimonial Venture.
New York, May 24.—DeWolf Hopper, who was divorced a month ago by Maria Bergen, his fourth wife, was married secretly last Friday to Ella Curry. The announcement was made at the Lamb Club last night. Hopper's former wives, besides Nella Bergen, were, in order, Ella Gardner, Ida Moscher and Edna Wallace. Mr. Hopper is the noted comic opera comedian, who has starred in El Capitán and other operas.

Unable to Work for 14 Months

Mr. Henry Black.

What a helpless mass of flesh and bone the human body is, once the nerves become exhausted. Extreme weakness comes over you, and you lose control of the limbs. The next step is paralysis.

You will be fortunate if, like Mr. Black, you get the building-up process in action before the nerves are too late by forming new, rich blood Dr. Chase's Nerve Food carries new vigor and energy to every organ and every member of the human body.

Mr. Henry Black, 81 St. Catherine Street East, Montreal, Que., writes: "The wonderful results I obtained from the use of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food constrain me to write this letter in order that others who suffer from nervous exhaustion and weakness may use this medicine with equally satisfactory results. As the result of overwork I became completely exhausted, and was unable to work for fourteen months. As I am the father of a family, these were sad days for me but after I had used six boxes of Dr. Chase's Nerve Food I had improved so greatly that I continued the treatment until I was completely restored to health and strength. I now work twelve to fifteen hours a day, and keep in excellent health."

You can't make clean bread unless you have clean flour

"ISN'T all flour clean?" you ask. No, not all, because not all wheat is clean, nor all flour mills.

Wheat is dusty when the flour mills receive it. There are particles of sand in it, and also foreign seed matter. Not until all these impurities are completely removed is the wheat ready for milling.

Even then the most delicate task of the miller still remains—to remove the crease dirt. Embedded in each grain of wheat is a tiny deposit of dark mineral matter. It is called "crease dirt" and must be removed before the miller can make clean flour.

You can always depend on Rainbow Flour for extreme cleanliness. The care taken in its manufacture is almost mysterious. This carefulness begins with the farmer who raises the wheat and ends with the chemist who analyzes every lot of flour as it comes through to be sure of its purity.

SAI, ONIKI, May 29. A despatch from a trustworthy source, says that Bulgarian troops destroyed the village of Hodji, and that scores of Musclemen have been massacred.

LONDON, May 29. The principal Serbian peace delegate, at noon, to-day, received a despatch from his Government authorizing him to sign the primary treaty of peace with Turkey.

BOSTON, May 29. Twelve hundred employees of the B. F. Sturtevant Company and the Becker Milling Co., Hyde Park, struck to-day. Both companies are controlled by Governor Eugene Foss. The strike is to enforce a 20 per cent. increase and improved working conditions.

TORONTO, May 29. The long-threatened disruption of the entire building trade of the city will become a reality Monday next, when 3,000 carpenters will go out on strike. Employers absolutely refuse to pay more than 42 cents an hour this season. The men's minimum is 45 cents an hour.

LONDON, May 29. The Jewish Express says that Sir Rufus Isaacs, Attorney General, tendered his resignation on account of the controversy over the transactions of himself and Lloyd George in the Marconi shares case, but that Asquith declined to accept it. The report is denied by the Liberals.

PORT VENDES, France, May 29. An explosion of dynamite in a factory just outside this port, to-day, killed five men and injured many others. The report was heard a distance of twenty miles. The men killed were blown to pieces, portions of their bodies being picked up 100 yards out in the Mediterranean.

WASHINGTON, May 29. Senator Simon, Chairman of the Finance Committee, definitely announced after a conference with President Wilson, to-day, that the five per cent. differential protection on imports in American owned or controlled vessels would be dropped from the Tariff Bill in the Senate, on account of a protest from other nations.

ALTRINCHAM, Eng., May 29. G. C. Hamilton, Unionist, defeated Hon. Lawrence W. Shuttleworth, Liberal, in yesterday's bye-election, by a majority of 1,262. The Unionist majority in the previous election was 119. The former member, John R. Kilby Fletcher, who challenged Lloyd George to explain his Marconi transactions, resigned his seat on account of ill health.

WINNIPEG, May 29. During a quarrel with his wife, Steve Zasarink, a Galician, grabbed a can of coal oil and deliberately poured the contents over the woman, and then touched a match to her clothing. Every stitch of apparel and the woman's hair were burned off before assistance came. She is now in hospital and likely to die, while the husband is locked up in jail.

LONDON, May 29. A news agency states that the Duke of Connaught will likely return to Canada in July, and probably accept another 12 months' term as Governor General. The report, however, is received here with doubt. The Duchess certainly may recover, but it is extremely unlikely that the Duke will be able to spare another year for Canada.

LOUSING, Mich., May 29. Masonic precedents extending back to the day of formation of the Order, were broken yesterday, when Mrs. Minnie E. Keys, Grand Worthy Matron of the Order of the Eastern Star of Michigan, was permitted to address the Grand Lodge of Free and Accepted Masons, at the annual convention. Mrs. Keys is the first woman in the history of Masonry, it is said, to be admitted to a meeting of the Grand Lodge. Mrs. Keys made an appeal for friends to establish an orphanage for children of the Order.

LONDON, May 29. The King and Queen returned from Berlin to-day, and were received with an enthusiastic welcome by large throngs. They were met at Victoria Station by the Duke of Connaught, Prince Arthur of Connaught and Sir Edward Grey. A picturesque feature of the return was the welcome to their Majesties by a naval waterplane and biplane, which flew from East Church to meet the royal yacht at the Nore. The machines soared several hundred feet in the air, and made a graceful curve around the royal yacht.

QUEENSTOWN, May 29. The White Star liner Haverford, was reported to-day as having struck Daunt's Rock, near the mouth of Cork Harbor, where she remains fast. She sailed yesterday from Liverpool for Philadelphia. Several tugs have been sent to her assistance. The Haverford, which is said to have struck the rock during a dense fog, is commanded by Capt. Evans. She suffered from a severe explosion on board, at Liverpool, July 1906, when twelve men were killed and forty injured. The Haverford was built in 1901, is 531 feet long, 50 feet beam, 11,635 tons gross, 7,493 net. Two tugs which left the steamer with 700 passengers on board, are now coming in to Queenstown. Other tugs are alongside the liner, and there is little doubt but all will be saved. Daunt's Rock is pinnacle shaped, submerged, and about five and a half miles south of the entrance to Cork Harbor. It lies under water three feet, and is usually carefully avoided by vessels bound for Cork. May 24th, 1911, the Cunard liner Ivernia struck there in dense fog tearing a hole in her forward compartment. It is believed the Haverford has 1,000 passengers on board, 150 second class, and the remainder steerage.

Ladies of Culture and Refinement Use Salvia Hair Tonic It Makes the Hair Beautiful.

At last a remedy has been discovered that will positively destroy the pest Dandruff.

Dandruff is caused by germs accepted by every sensible person. Dandruff is the root of all hair evils. SALVIA will kill the dandruff germs and remove dandruff in ten days, or money back.

The manufacturer guarantees it. It will grow hair, stop itching scalp, falling hair, and make the hair thick and abundant. It prevents hair from turning gray, and adds life and lustre.

SALVIA is a hair dressing that has become the favorite with women of taste and culture, who know the social value of beautiful hair. A large, generous bottle costs only 50c. at leading druggists everywhere. The word "SALVIA," is on every bottle. McMURDO & CO., Wholesale Agts.

LONDON, May 29. The Cunard Company made a new port of call yesterday. The Fraconia left Liverpool for Boston, but will first call at Portland, Maine, where she will land 1,000 passengers for Canada. The White Star recently adopted a similar policy with regard to their Boston service, making Halifax the first port.

The Chin.

By H. L. RANN.

The chin is a small, dimpled bump which is used in conversation more than any other agent except the tongue. A person who is equipped with a rotary chin and a swivel tongue doesn't need anything else in order to become a star conversationalist.

The chin is hung immediately below the tongue, which uses it to gesture with. When the tongue becomes excited it is sure of a sympathetic response from the chin, which wobbles vivaciously up and down and imparts vivacity to the human countenance. A person is said to be "chinning" when he talks entirely with that member, rather than go higher up and bring down an original remark or two.

Most people are provided with only one chin, which does not seem to interfere with their conversation, however. Others are more generously favored by nature and have a bas relief edition yelet the double chin. The double chin is a sure sign of a joyous disposition and an unimpeded appetite.

It is getting so that women who want to engage household servants always give the preference to a double-chinned cook, as the family can sleep until nine o'clock in the morning without starting any fireworks in the kitchen. If more people would cultivate double chins, there would be fewer grouches served along with the breakfast food.

A popular type of chin is the receding variety, which is supposed to indicate indecision of character. Sometimes it does, and sometimes it is backed by an iron will and a right arm like a pile driver.

The sharp, razor-edge chin, which runs out to a peak is often sung by the poet, who declares that it is invariably worn by the pessimist and the dyspeptic. It all depends. We have seen some angular, three-cornered chins whose owners bought more pancake flour and knickerbocker pants for the poor in one year than a dozen chubby-faced professors of religion. You can no more judge the disposition of a man by his chin than you can tell the age of a hen by her teeth.

Cadet Anniversary.

On Sunday, June 8th, the Catholic Cadet Corps will celebrate their anniversary and the occasion will be marked by a parade in which the Reserve Corps will participate. The entire battalion will attend Holy Communion at 8 o'clock Mass and Benediction at the R. C. Cathedral at 3 o'clock in the afternoon, after which the Chaplain, Rev. Fr. Pippy, will deliver a sermon. Afterwards the Corps, headed by their brass band, will tour the city. In view of the Reserve Squad accompanying the regular Corps in the parade it is anticipated that the turnout will be one of the largest on record.

DELAYED SAILING.—The S. S. City of Sydney which was scheduled to leave for Sydney and Montreal at 6 a.m. yesterday did not get away until last midnight.
