

ORANGEMEN WILL ASSIST WORK OF RECONSTRUCTION

Plans to Be Submitted for Delegates, Grand Master Hocken States.

Ottawa, July 30.—Plans calling for the extension of Orangemen throughout British America that will have for their object the assistance of the general work of reconstruction now that peace has come will be considered and acted upon by the 90th annual convention of the Grand Lodge of the Loyal Orange Order of British America, which opened here today.

The announcement that such plans would be submitted for consideration of the delegates was made by Grand Master H. C. Hocken, M.P., in his opening address. He said that the Orange order has built for the bigger things than had been the case in the past so that better service to the country and the cause of Protestantism can be rendered.

For Ulster Assistance.

"Whatever the future may hold for Ireland," said Mr. Hocken, in referring to the Irish question, "the people of Ulster may have to be helped in their struggle with the power. Sinn Fein rebels shall not rule Ulster. The war has torn the mask from the face of nationalism and revealed the Nationalists as the implacable foes of the British Empire and as the allies of the most ruthless despotism that ever threatened to subjugate the world and as dangerous opponents of human freedom."

The sessions are being held in St. George's parish hall and will continue until Friday. About six hundred delegates are in attendance from all parts of Canada, New England and neighboring British possessions. Grand Master Hocken is presiding, assisted by Deputy Grand Master, C. D. Wright of Charlottetown, P.E.I.

Part Played in War.

Following the opening ceremonies and addresses of welcome the "scarlet desire" was carried out. The grand master addressed the lodge. He referred to the noble part played by Orangemen in the war, to their loyalty to the King and patriotism to country.

"A duty that comes to us out of the struggle," Mr. Hocken said, "is that of succoring, so far as circumstances shall require, the widows and fatherless children of the men who died for us. Whatever we can do, individually or collectively, to render assistance will be done in memory of those whom they lost in this great cause. All Forces.

"That part that was played by the papacy, as an institution, shall not be forgotten. It is no less our duty to make that plain to the world than it is for us to render due praise to all the forces which co-operated in the war. We are four years in the history of Ireland, Quebec and the Commonwealth of Australia, that will be a warning to keep our armor shining for the possibilities of the future.

"As the Canadian corps displayed unparalleled steadiness in the critical days of the war so members of our lodges in all parts of Canada will give ability to our fraternal institutions in the period of reconstruction. Orangemen have always exerted a powerful influence for the maintenance of law and order and respect for constituted authority. Upon them the government can rely with absolute confidence in the days of unrest. The history of the order of Canada for more than four score years is the assurance we offer for the future.

Link East and West.

"Some well-devised plan should be adopted to secure more intimate intercourse between east and west. We are one body with different members in various provinces. Only here do we meet to act for all the members. We must not allow misunderstandings to arise thru lack of intercourse, and we must in every part of our wide-stretched Dominion be loyal to this parent body and the fraternal council.

"As we enter upon our duties as a grand lodge, let us have but one mind and one purpose, so strengthened in order as to make it an efficient instrument to carry on the great cause to which we have set our hands."

SYRIAN CHARGED UNDER M.S.A.

Charged with a breach of the military service act, Farris Saleman, a Syrian living at 42 Spadina avenue, was arrested by the Dominion police.

On a warrant charging him with assaulting Violet Ashley, John Ashley was arrested at 19 St. Patrick place last night by Detective-Sergt. Croome.

B. O. T. A. CHARGE.

Annie Manchuck, 22 Centre avenue has been summoned to appear in police court charged with violating the B. O. T. A. act on her premises. Plainclothesman Johns seized two bottles containing whiskey and alcohol.

YORK COUNTY AND SUBURBS

COULD BUILD ROAD IN TWO MONTHS

Prompt Action Re Mount Pleasant Line Needed From Commissioner.

WILL KNOW WHY

Controller Maguire Already Has Facts to Combat Delay.

After Mayor Church had read the views expressed on Tuesday evening at the Mount Pleasant ratepayers' meeting that there was unnecessary delay in getting out plans of the proposed Mount Pleasant civic car line and calling for tenders, he sent for one of the city engineers, Mr. McCarthy, to find out what progress had been made in a few minutes later by The World, Mayor Church said he was anxious to avoid any delay and had instructed the engineers to hurry matters along. "Go and see McCarthy," said the Mayor to The World man.

Mr. McCarthy absolutely declined to make any prediction as to when the plans would be ready for approval. "I am making a road way with my end of the job," he declared, "but I cannot tell you when the specifications will be ready."

George Powell, deputy city engineer, who has the general scheme in hand, was equally non-committal. He thought it was natural that the people living in the district would be a little impatient, but his department was hurrying the work thru as quickly as possible.

"Plans of the work, in order to be of any use to contractors as a basis of estimates, must be accurate and complete as to measurements and materials and work cannot be produced in a few days," he declared.

"It was true," he said, "that with the exception of the section on St. Clair between Yonge and Mount Pleasant, the line was to be of a temporary nature, but even for temporary work, exact measurements must be provided for the contractor."

"The North Toronto people are sending a committee down to the city hall to enquire into the delay," The World man said. "The committee had not yet read the report of what transpired at the Tuesday evening meeting up north. 'Well, if they come to the city hall, they will find out that we are speeding up the job as fast as possible and I will not be able to do any more for them as when tenders will be called for," he concluded.

Works Commissioner Harris later advised Mayor Church that the plans and specifications for the Mount Pleasant civic car line would not be ready for several weeks. Mr. Harris said that he was not sure as to the preparation of the specifications will proceed during his absence.

More Than Surprised.

The people of the Mount Pleasant district will be more than surprised to learn of this statement of Commissioner Harris, that it will still take him several weeks to complete his plans, but The World man said that there is some activity shown at the city hall. Mr. Harris will find a way of getting the plans speeded up a lot, unless it be true, as some people believe, that he is most bent on getting the Yonge street deal with the Metropolitan put thru without giving a service to the people in the district.

A World reporter took a trip over the proposed line in the afternoon and saw no reason why the plans could not be finished in a very short time, not a temporary road and one temporary bridge built within the next two months, if there was the proper attitude toward the people concerned in the city. He will find a way of having the road built almost immediately and that he will get substantial support in the district. He was instructed to report to the city council as well as from the aldermen who represent the second ward.

What Maguire Says.

Commenting on Commissioner Harris' statement that the plans for the Mount Pleasant line would not be ready for several weeks, Controller Maguire said to The World last night: "Mr. Harris should be seized with the importance of hurrying that matter along quite as much as the council. He was instructed to prepare plans and specifications at once and when the plans are submitted we will find out whether there has been any delay. I will have something pretty plain to say."

When asked whether he had any estimate of the time required to prepare such plans Controller Maguire replied: "I have had an engineer on the proposed line for a week and he has told me I will be in a position to know whether Commissioner Harris and his staff have given the Mount Pleasant car line proposition the proper attention that was expected of them."

RICHMOND HILL

Monday, August 4, Toronto's Civic Holiday will be observed in Richmond Hill. The citizens have arranged for a field day in aid of a soldiers' memorial, and the returned boys of the district will be banqueted in the evening. A parade, headed by the town band, will form at 10 a.m. and the program of sports will include horse racing, football, baseball, foot racing, etc., also pony show.

RUNNING TRADES DREW ULTIMATUM

Told Railway Companies Winnipeg Workers Would All Walk Out.

STRIKE TRIAL FEATURE

Wanted Sympathetic Strike Settled, Believing Collective Bargaining at Stake.

Winnipeg, July 30.—The leading feature of this afternoon's session of the Robson commission was the production by H. C. Stevenson, a witness, of an ultimatum that had been drawn up by the running trades to be sent to the railway companies to the effect that the railway workers would walk out in order to bring about a speedy settlement of the sympathetic strike because it was believed that the principle of collective bargaining was at stake. The committee also demanded the reinstatement of all strikers.

T. J. Murray, labor counsel, stated that labor was prepared to present its case and that Messrs. Winning, Robinson and Russell were prepared to take the stand.

Fight Vital to Labor.

Upon the advice of C. P. Wilson, it was decided to complete evidence of the railway brotherhoods, and H. R. Maybank, C. P. R. yardman, gave a history of the attitude of the running trades toward the organizing of the strike. After listening to addresses by members of the strike committee, it was decided to attempt a settlement of the strike. It was felt that the fight was a vital one for labor and railway workers voted to strike, but at the same time formed a mediation committee to attempt at settlement. In the meantime unsuccessful efforts were made to win the sympathy of the grand lodge. In view of this fact it was decided to attempt a settlement of the strike. It was felt that the fight was a vital one for labor and railway workers voted to strike, but at the same time formed a mediation committee to attempt at settlement.

"Owing to the activity of international officials in spreading anti-strike propaganda thru the west, the witness declared, the idea of a general western strike was finally abandoned. Nevertheless, the vote was completed and resulted in a 86 per cent majority in favor of a strike of all running trades," he said. Shortly afterwards the strike was called off.

Mr. Stevenson asserted that international officials were responsible for discrimination against men who had served on the strike committee when they applied for reinstatement. He stated that the running trades workers to strike. He said there had been no meeting about it, that the workers were nearly unanimously in favor of strike.

Government Blamed.

James Winning, president of the Trades and Labor Council, testified that labor was very much dissatisfied with conditions existing, largely owing to unemployment, high cost of living and the refusal of some employers to recognize collective bargaining, as well as inaction on the part of the government. Reports of large profits being made by industrial concerns had made laborers dissatisfied and it was felt that the greater portion of such war profits should go into wages. He stated that the unionists were disappointed because the government did not take over railways, packing plants and other industries of that kind.

Referring to the long hours and small wages paid in some local factories, Mr. Winning stated that another reason for the unrest was the growing intelligence of the workers, and he believed prohibition played its part in this progress. Labor felt that it should participate in industry as a partner and that their whole life is invested while the employer invests capital.

Essence of Strike Vote.

He spoke of the amazing ease with which the strike vote was taken, and said every worker seemed to have a grievance. Countless numbers of workers had come to the long hours and organization that better wages and conditions could be obtained. So great was the demand for organization that it was impossible to cope with it. "We could easily have kept four or five organizers on the road," Mr. Winning went on. "But we could not afford that." The council, he said, had never issued invitations or started any campaign for increased organization.

Judge Robson admitted the information that Mr. Winning had never made a statement of this kind before: "I think that you should have made such a statement before this, and I think you ought to attend the coming conference at Ottawa," commented Judge Robson.

Derek Robinson, secretary of the Trades Council, stated that during the past fifteen months five thousand members had been added to the organizations. "Not only was the strike a sympathetic affair," he said, "to supply metal and building trades workers, but also to protect against refusal of employers to co-operate for mutual benefit."

RESIDENTS TAKE HOLIDAYS.

A large number of Earlscourt residents are leaving this section for their vacation. The points of interest seen to be Montreal, Quebec, Niagara Falls and Cleveland, O. Those who cannot get away are taking daily trips to the island. A recreation ground for the little ones in this district is badly needed.

Empty Envelopes Changed for Good Money—Alleged Crooks Arrested.

The leaving of a vest in a downtown hotel, containing the telephone number of an apartment house, led to the arrest last night of two Americans, alleged by the police to be members of the ring of "flim-flam" artists operating in Toronto. Detective Sergeant Taylor was informed that confidence experts wanted by the police were occupying rooms in the hotel and when Taylor went there they had picked up what clothes they could and hurriedly left the room. Taylor searched around and found the vest with the number in it. He telephoned the number and found it was an apartment house in the residential section. He went out and inquiring found the apartment; he wanted, and walking in, arrested George Wallace, John Higgins and a woman who gave her name as Mrs. George Wallace.

The men are charged with theft of $200 from a man whose name is being withheld from publication by the police. Mrs. Wallace is being kept in custody as a vagrant.

The arrest followed complaints of a number of persons of having been done out of sums of money by the old confidence game of matching coins. The three prisoners, all well dressed, were occupying an expensive furnished apartment in the residential section of the city.

Wallace had $15 in bills on him when searched by the police. Inspector of Detectives Wallace stated last night that he had evidence that the accused are members of the gang traveling thru Canada and the United States. Wallace has been placed so high that he will be unable to furnish sufficient money to gain their release pending the trial.

In the meantime finer prints and Bertillon cards will be taken and forwarded to leading American cities in an effort to have the prisoners identified. Seen Experienced.

GERMAN LABOR IS REPENTANT

International Trades Union Congress Accepts Attitude Without Debate.

Amsterdam, July 30.—The work of the International Trades Union Congress yesterday was hindered by a protracted discussion in committee of the old international organization over the German declaration of the stand of German trades unionists during the war. The Germans maintained an unrepentant attitude until Samuel Gompers, president of the American Federation of Labor, told them plainly that if it were continued it would be impossible for workers of other countries to retain relations with them in the future. The Germans thereupon somewhat relaxed.

The position of the various nations in the voting places the British and Americans in an unfair situation. They represent together more than 8,000,000 workers among the 17,000,000 represented at the congress, but have only nine votes of the total 27, which may be cast on motions.

The committee, on its return, reported as follows: That the statement of Herr Sassenbach, (German Socialist) be incorporated in full; that the regrets expressed therein be registered; that the German delegation confirm frankly and openly the spirit of Sassenbach's declaration; that if the avowal be frank, open and satisfactory, the conference will proceed to the order of the day; and that if unsatisfactory, freedom of action be reserved.

Against all expectations, the conference adopted the report without debate after Sassenbach in a few words confirmed the German declaration. Sassenbach, who was a member of the committee, refrained from voting. The other members included W. A. Appleton of England; Samuel Gompers of America and Leon Jouhaux of France.

The congress then proceeded with the business of forming a new international. After the appointment of committees to discuss the subject on the program for future sessions, the congress adjourned until Thursday.

BERGS AND FIELD ICE IN BELLE ISLE STRAITS

St. John's, Nfld., July 30.—The continued presence of icebergs and field ice in the Strait of Belle Isle, and along the southern Labrador and northeastern Newfoundland coast, has hampered fishing operations seriously. Fishing in the strait has been prevented as far west as Blanc Sablon. The steamer Diana arriving here after her first trip of the season to Labrador, reported she had penetrated the ice as far north as Turnavic. Large fields of ice were encountered, but the steamer was undamaged. Only a few fishing vessels at that time had been able to run the ice blockade, but the Diana passed more than 500 craft off Belle Isle trying to work their way north.

BOLSHEVISM SPREADING THROUGHOUT BULGARIA

London, July 30.—Reports from Bulgaria by way of Berlin declare that Bolshevism is spreading in that country, says an Exchange Telegraph despatch from Copenhagen today. Several demonstrations have occurred in the larger towns, accompanied by disorders and considerable bloodshed, the message declares.

Germany Must Not Sell Properties in Schleswig

Paris, July 30.—Premier Clemenceau, as president of the peace conference, sent a letter today to the German peace delegation, protesting against the action of Germany in selling national properties in Schleswig, in which plebiscites are to be taken for decision by the population as to union with Denmark.

The note gave warning to the Germans that all the properties in question were considered as possible security for the payment of Germany's indemnity and that the peace conference would hold Germany responsible for the proceeds of such sales.

LABOR CHALLENGED STATE AS WHOLE

Reason for Using Troops in Yorkshire, States Winston Churchill.

London, July 30.—Replying in the commons to a Labor speech in which reference was made to the use of troops for strike-breaking, Rt. Hon. Winston Churchill, after pointing out that there was no strike-breaking anywhere, said that he would think it odd that the forces of the state should be used to interfere in a dispute between capital and labor in order to advance the interests of the employers or any particular group of workmen. The whole idea of a free country was that they should have the right to fight it out within reasonable limits.

BRITISH VICTORY LOAN OVER QUARTER OF BILLION

LOOKING FOR REAL LIBERAL PROGRAM

Forward Men for Convention From East to West, Says Hon. A. B. Hudson.

Winnipeg, July 30.—Stating that he would be unable to attend the Liberal convention owing to pressure of private business, Hon. A. B. Hudson said this forenoon: "There are quite a number of forward looking men going from both the east and west, and their views prevail a real Liberal program will be adopted. They will also see that the men put in control are men who believe in the policy adopted and can be trusted to carry it out."

In regard to the tariff, Mr. Hudson said: "Our western men are bound to stick out for something very like the former's platform. Legislatures of the three prairie provinces have passed resolutions very similar to it. For that matter, resolutions proposed by the opposition in parliament did not fall very far short of it, and one can hardly expect the convention to do less."

Mr. Hudson concluded by stating that Canada cannot afford to lag behind other countries in meeting legitimate demands of labor.

REFUSE TO CHANGE HISTORIC MONUMENT

France Will Retain Belgian Lion Erected on Waterloo Battlefield.

Brussels, July 30.—A proposal made in the chamber of deputies by a Socialist deputy that the huge Belgian lion on the battlefield of Waterloo, marking the victory of the British and Prussians under the Duke of Wellington and Blucher, over the French, commanded by Napoleon, in 1815, be turned about so that the head of the lion would face the north and away from France, had met with opposition by the finance minister.

The minister of finance said this monument recalled one of the greatest events in history, and that it held no hostile significance towards France, whose army, in which there were many Belgians, covered itself with glory in the fight in which Waterloo was the centre of the battle. He added that it formed as much a part of British history as of France, and that other monuments in Belgium would be raised to commemorate the great war in which France, Great Britain and Belgium as allies fought the common enemy.

JUDGMENT GIVEN ON EXPRESS ISSUE

Board at Ottawa Decides on Free Collection Through Toronto.

WITHOUT DELAY Express Free Collection and Delivery Plan to Be Posted at Once.

A formal judgment has been issued by the board of Ottawa on the application of the citizens' express and freight campaign committee in co-operation with the city of Toronto.

The question of freight delivery is the one topic which has engaged the minds of the citizens during the past three years of its existence and is of special interest to the citizens of Toronto.

The whole matter of delivery limits of all points at which the express companies make free collections is in a very unsatisfactory condition, and is covered by no statute or proper principle.

The opening words of the judgment only tend to confirm the statements made by the committee from time to time.

The judgment is an endeavor to adjust conditions as they are in Toronto. Under the order as issued, the board orders as follows:

Free Delivery. 1. The corporate area shall be mapped into four parts by lines intersecting at right angles at a centrally located point, and based on these lines each part shall be divided into squares measuring one-quarter mile each way.

2. The minimum qualifications for free cartage shall be four adjoining blocks, each containing at least 100 families in places with a population of 5,000 or over, and 50 families in places with a population of less than 5,000, except that in places with a population less than 1,000, free cartage may be provided in the discretion of the company.

3. From said four primary blocks such successive blocks conforming to the requirements of rule 2 shall be included in the free cartage area.

4. Any block not conforming to the minimum requirements of rule 2, but which is bounded on three sides by cartage blocks, or thru which the express vehicles necessarily pass, shall be included in the free cartage area.

5. Four or more contiguous blocks conforming to the requirements of rule 2, but separated from the free cartage area heretofore defined by not more than one-quarter mile (air mileage) shall receive the free cartage service.

6. Industries or business or public institutions, in non-cartage blocks shall receive the free cartage service, provided they are not more than one-quarter mile from the free cartage block, and the intervening area shall also be so served.

7. A detour of more than one-quarter mile outside of the cartage area, in order to use an intervening bridge or vehicular ferry, is not hereby required.

8. Free cartage is not required by these rules beyond the corporate limits, nor within such limits where or when the roads are not reasonably passable by express vehicles.

9. The boundaries of the free cartage area shall be defined by thoroughfares or topographical features nearest or most convenient to the farthest lines produced by these rules.

10. Free cartage shall also be extended to a thoroughfare beyond, but not beyond the cartage limit, provided that at least 75 per cent. of its lots within a block are occupied by residential or conventional connections exist; such thoroughfares to become the provisional limit with respect to the next thoroughfare beyond but adjacent to it that complies with the said minimum requirement; and so on until a complete block is formed under rules 1 and 2.

11. A description of the local free cartage limits shall be posted in the express office at each cartage point and filed with the board.

12. Should the tariff at any cartage point be so limited as in the judgment of the company to warrant the expense of furnishing its own vehicles, an independent agency shall be employed by the company at its own expense and shall be used until and unless the company is able to show to the satisfaction of the board of railway commissioners that the price demanded for such service is unreasonable.

Satisfies Demands. The judgment as issued and commented in is probably better explained by reference to the streets of the city. Suppose that Bloor and Yonge streets, as it would be considered, is a centrally located point, and that such is divided into four parts, beginning from Bay to North Toronto, say one part from the bay to College street, part two from College to Bloor, and part three from Bloor to St. Clair, and part four from St. Clair to the northerly limits of North Toronto and running at right angles to Yonge street. Each of such parts is then divided into squares measuring east or west of Yonge street, as the case might be, one-quarter mile each way.

The minimum qualification is free cartage for the four adjoining blocks that would be two miles east and west of Yonge street or four of such blocks, provided the population is as the requirements referred to in section 2 above referred to, and then as each successive block east or west of the four blocks already served acquires a population of at least 100 families the free collection service and delivery shall be extended.

"Then let them appeal before a county judge," said his worship, "and we will be properly represented by counsel. These profits are assessable under the assessment act and we have to have some additional revenue. No full report on the matter and the case will be taken up again."

"He originally enlisted before the military service act came into force," declared his worship, "and it is a case for the general rule of council. The father should be paid. I am getting a full report on the matter and the case will be taken up again."

The judgment not only provides for the present corporate limits, but it will extend to any extension thereof in that the population would of necessity follow any annexation and if the annexation did not have 100 families to a quarter mile, it is not likely that it would be brought in.

The order issued on the last application of the citizens' express and freight campaign, established in the toll zone for areas not given free collection and delivery service, is under the new order of the board abolished.

Without Delay. And it is further ordered that the express free collection and delivery plan, outlined above be given effect to and a chart of the boundaries thereunder be posted for the information of the public with the least possible delay consistent with the acquisition of the necessary data and the procurement of any necessary additional equipment.

It now rests with the districts sparsely populated and who want free express and collection service to organize and ascertain for themselves whether they have 100 families living in their quarter-mile section within the meaning of the judgment, and if so to advise the express companies to have their district shown in the chart, which will be prepared, and if the express companies do not give effect to their request, to bring the matter to the attention of the committee, who in turn will apply to the railway board for this service as required by the act.

Harry A. Newman, solicitor and secretary, takes this opportunity to thank on behalf of the committee the corporation of the city of Toronto for its consistent attitude in supporting the endeavors of the committee to get this service as required by the act, and that the city of Toronto now enjoys free collection and delivery service in practically every portion of its corporate limits.

CITY SHOULD PAY SOLDIER'S INSURANCE

In the case of Pte. J. Wilkinson, who was insured by the city, and who was killed in action, the city refusing to pay the father the insurance, Mayor Selby, who had purchased the lease, declared his worship, "and it is a case for the general rule of council. The father should be paid. I am getting a full report on the matter and the case will be taken up again."

WILL MAKE PROFITEERS PAY UP FULL SHARE

To make profiteers pay their full share, Mayor Church has instructed Assessment Commissioner Forman to assess them according to what, in the opinion of the department, their profits were last year.

"Then let them appeal before a county judge," said his worship, "and we will be properly represented by counsel. These profits are assessable under the assessment act and we have to have some additional revenue. No full report on the matter and the case will be taken up again."

Authorized Capital $2,500,000. Par Value $1.00.
No Preferred Shares—Stock All Common—Non-Assessable.

The Canada Petroleum & Refining Corporation is an All-Canadian organization, incorporated under the Ontario Companies Act, to engage in the producing and refining of crude petroleum, to build, operate, Refineries, Pipe-Lines, Tank Cars, Marketing and Filling Stations, and to buy, sell and transport petroleum and constituent products. A strong progressive enterprise, formed in accordance with recognized business principles, managed and directed by experienced operators, and sponsored by Toronto business men well known in banking, commercial and oil circles.

PROPERTIES OF THE COMPANY.
While the Canada Petroleum & Refining Corporation is strictly a Canadian company, Canadian owned, and partial to Canadian development, the operating policy of the company takes into consideration the quick profits to be made in other countries for substantial investment in Canadian development. Thus the holdings of the company include several valuable Texas properties, one of which adjoins the holdings of the Texas Company, lease acreage in the famous Mid-Continent Oil Belt of Oklahoma, more than 2,000 acres of selected leases in the Western Ontario fields, and exclusive rights on approximately 16,000 acres in New Brunswick, Canada, and in the United States, and on the company's own latest well flowed 70 feet over the derrick. In addition to its lease-holds the company owns a number of oil wells, power plants and equipment. One well is now drilling. Complete description of properties contained in company's literature.

PROTECTION FOR STOCKHOLDERS.
No enterprise is sounder than its foundation. No foundation can be sound unless it is built on frankness and truth. The prominent business men of Toronto who have organized this company and who personally own many thousands of shares of its stock, are serious-minded men, who are deeply sensible of their moral obligation to the investing public. It is their aim and ambition to create from this beginning a giant producing, refining and transporting oil corporation whose tankers will sail to the ports of the world and whose tank cars will be every railroad siding on the North American Continent. Such an enterprise can only materialize through the whole-hearted support and co-operation of the investing public. To insure this we have placed the interests of the stockholders first. Consider carefully the following arrangement for your protection.

- 1—No officer or director shall receive one penny dividend, bonus or other profit on his holdings until other stockholders have received 25 per cent. on every dollar invested.
- 2—No officer or director shall receive any salary or wages, nor shall any promotion stock be issued to any officer or director in lieu of such salary or wages; provided, however, that where an officer or director is Field Manager or any other position of constant service to the company, to the exclusion of his personal affairs, a reasonable remuneration may be fixed by the Board of Directors.
- 3—All stock owned by officers or directors shall be held in escrow subject to the fulfillment of their contracts or obligations and the placing of the company on a paying basis.

Could any arrangement be fairer? Could any management more substantially evidence their unflinching determination to achieve notable success? We think not! Canada Petroleum is starting right, and the unusual safeguards established to protect the stockholder, and as well the initial operating capital, marks only another step in the company's policy of Sound Growth Based on Public Confidence. This particular kind of growth is an achievement, rather than a mere success—the kind of growth that insures steady, unflinching dividends and adds real marketing value year in and year out. Solid worth is indeed present in mushroom growth.

While a great many small companies have come into being, drilled a well or two, paid thousands in dividends and disappeared from the Oil World, it is the large companies that in the financial analysis have created the notable oil fortunes. Consider the Humble Oil & Refining Co.—its record is a romance of truth. Incorporated in 1911 with $150,000 capital, its stock is to-day worth $35,000,000 and increasing in value by leaps and bounds. The same policy may be said of practically all of the large companies. And other companies will be added regularly to the already long list. A few years hence will see many of the companies now organizing listed among the Giants of the Industry.

We believe strongly in the unusual possibilities offered in Canada Petroleum shares and we advise you to buy this stock for safety, for immediate profit, and as well for the large increases in value which may be expected in connection with its progress in oil operations.

REV. BEN SPENCE WINS APPEAL

Judge Morson Quashes Conviction of "The Parasite" Publisher.

Rev. Ben Spence, who was convicted and fined $500 or a term in jail for alleged publication of "The Parasite," a book banned under order-in-council, had his appeal heard yesterday by Judge Morson, who quashed the conviction.

The grounds of appeal were that there was no proof of publication, that the book did not come under the order-in-council, and that the charge had been disposed of when a "nolle prosequi" was entered at the assizes.

His honor quoted legal authorities and dictionaries to show that publication of a book implied the circulation by sale or free distribution in addition to the printing.

Never Offered for Sale. "From the evidence," says the judge in a written judgment, "there appears nothing to show that the books ever reached the public or ever were offered for sale. Indeed, the first issue was never completed and never got beyond the printers, and the second issue beyond its author. The fact that three copies were sent to the authorities at Ottawa at their request was, in my opinion, of no consequence. There never was any offer to the public generally or any sale to anyone, not even a circulation among friends.

COULD NOT HELP CROWDING CORSICAN

Immigration Department Explains to Mayor Church Cause of Complaints.

In regard to complaints about the steamships Corsican and Tunisian, F. C. Blair, secretary of the department of immigration and colonization, has written Mayor Church on the subject.

In the course of his report, he says: "It is impossible, owing to the shortage of ships, to bring dependents home without some crowding unless we delay the return and bring only those who can be accommodated in the better cabins where the facilities for passengers are not objectionable.

Doing Its Best. "I assure you that the department is doing everything it possibly can to make the return of soldiers' dependents as congenial as the circumstances will allow, and I think the most of the difficulties arise in connection with conditions over which we have absolutely no control. Some of the ships we have to use are not modern and the accommodation is admittedly out of date, and in some cases inadequate. If we had our choice we would carry soldiers' dependents only in the best class of ships.

In conclusion the report states that when the movement first started objection was taken to the use of such ships as the Tunisian, but with the return of the troops it became evident that there were more soldiers' dependents left on the other side than could be brought home within a reasonable time with the better class of ships.

VOKES ADMIRES BLAND'S SERMONS

Likes the Morning Ones at Least, if Not the Others.

Dollars and cents do not in any way enter into the calling of a minister. This is the dictum given out yesterday afternoon by Rev. Dr. Chown, general superintendent of the Methodist church in Canada, in response to a query as to the powers of a church board management over the minister of the church.

Dr. Bland's statement that we are hostile to labor or that we have any objection to him doing all he can for his cause is entirely erroneous, said Miles Vokes, yesterday afternoon. Mr. Vokes stated that he objected to the "disloyal" utterances of the professor and minister. He averred that dissatisfaction was felt against Dr. Bland's references to the Winnipeg strike.

Charles Baker, secretary of the trustees board, stated that Dr. Bland called the special board meeting himself, and that this being the case, the responsibility for the resulting unpleasantness was his.

At the moment of going to press, there is nothing to indicate that Rev. Dr. Bland will be removed from his pastorate. He stated himself that quite often pastors desire to be relieved of onerous pastorates, but that the rigid rule that stationing committees themselves had alone the right to remove or appoint pastors, has caused dissatisfaction among the laity.

WINIFREDIAN TROOPS SAFE HOME AGAIN

A couple of trains with troops from the Winifredian arrived at the Exhibition camp depot last night, the first contingent of 845 and the second about 10 o'clock. There were approximately 600 officers and men on the "specials" from Halifax, and a large crowd of relatives and friends assembled to meet the returned heroes.

GRAND ARMY LOTTERY DRAWN LAST NIGHT

The drawing for the winners of the Grand Army of Canada contest were picked last night in Loew's Theater. All the tickets were put in a washing machine and it was turned several times. A lady artist then picked out the following numbers: 37913, 10923, 45059, 5121, 34846, 24753, 32438, 48917, 32787, 2176.

Will Confer With Premier Concerning Live Stock Arena

Mayor Church has arranged a conference with the prime minister and the minister of agriculture, at Ottawa next Thursday to discuss the matter of the live stock arena at the Exhibition.

SEVENTY-FIFTH MEET.

Strong support was given to the general aims of the Citizens' Liberty League, especially in relation to rumored attempts to stop smoking, the cream sales and Sunday amusements, at a meeting of the 75th Battalion Association at the Armories last night.

BREAD DRIVERS DISAPPOINTED.

Bread drivers who held a meeting last night to discuss the award of the board of conciliation were disappointed because there was no award to discuss, tonight or tomorrow night for this purpose, it being expected that the award will be handed out to the men this afternoon.

LABOR NEWS FACE-UP VIRTUES OF THE O. B. U.

Moderate Likens the Cult to Gorse in Meadow Pastures.

That moderates are not opposed so much to the principle involved in the O. B. U. as to the personnel of those behind this movement was the gist of interviews held yesterday afternoon. One prominent member of the international movement stated yesterday that if it could be proved that grievances committees would thoroughly thrash out grievances before they were finally referred to the central labor council executive, and thence to a referendum vote of the members, there would be much to admire in the organization.

I honestly do believe that there is altogether too much deadwood lying around labor temples generally today because too many men are employed in occupations which overlap each other. The centralization of effort which the champions of the O. B. U. claim would result from the inauguration of the movement would undoubtedly clear up much of the confusion now hindering the wheels of progressive internationalism in the trades union movement. It is quite true that there is too much decentralization in our unions; in fact, the unions themselves are proofs positive that too many offices open the same window in organization work.

Let us get the idea clearly in mind, continued this man. "I understand the champions of the O. B. U. to say that grievances would travel thru, first the channel of local grievance committees, falling this would travel further afield into the central labor council itself, which would refer the grievance to its own grievance committee, which would make every endeavor to have the grievance rectified, and an amicable settlement reached. Finally, the matter would reach the executive of the central council, and this executive in its wisdom would call a referendum vote of the whole membership comprising the central labor council (as, for instance, the entire body of Toronto's organized men and women) on a strike vote, and that the result of this referendum vote of the entire membership would be as it were the last resort of the workers.

Sufficient Autonomy. "So far, well and good. But, in the first place, I believe in the international movement if I do not believe in the craft union movement, I believe that the Canadian bodies sufficient autonomy to let them decide as to whether or not they should call a strike. However, in the face of the facts to hand it might be well to refrain for ourselves the restraining influence of the international chiefs, because, believe me, if we leave our destinies in the hands of the fomenters of the O. B. U. we are likely to get left.

MAIL CARRIERS ARE DISAPPOINTED

Executive officials of the Letter Carriers' Association have received a reply to the demand of the men for a $600 bonus in place of the present $420 per annum. The reply from Ottawa includes two orders-in-council passed on Wednesday. The first order-in-council divulges the exact nature of the orders-in-council, they stated that the civil service commission had failed to carry out the proposed schedule recently itemized at about $1550 a year, and that the replies to the demands of the men showed that powers detrimental to the interests of the worker were undoubtedly behind the orders-in-council of Wednesday.

MAILED CARRIERS NOT STRIKING

James Miller, business manager for the Freight Handlers' Union, refuted the statement appearing in the morning press that a strike of freight handlers would be called very shortly unless the teamsters' strike was settled. The facts are these, said Mr. Miller: "We have written our international chiefs placing the situation in Toronto clearly before them, asking them to lend their assistance toward a settlement of the strike. Any other information upon the situation would be unauthorized."

NO TALKING ALLOWED.

That strikers may picket shops but may not stop strikes-breakers or engaged letter-carriers.

FIRST PERIOD OF SALES CLUB RACE NOW HISTORY

Extra Credit and Extra Cash Prize Offer Closed With a Rush Last Night—Four Weeks Until Finish.

The race for the two $500 extra cash awards and 60,000 extra credit vouchers, which were offered to members in The Toronto World's "Salesmanship Club," ended one hour before midnight last night. It was a whirlwind finish, as the enthusiastic boosters kept up a determined drive for new subscriptions up to the last minute of the extra offer.

The winners of the two $500 prizes will be announced by the judges after the close of the campaign, August 29, at the same time the winners of the other prizes are announced. This does not make it possible for such information to be used to the detriment of such winners in the main race, and it eliminates any unfairness that might otherwise result.

EXTEND THEIR CONDOLENCES.

Arthur O'Leary, president of the Toronto Trades Council, and W. J. Hevey, secretary, have telegraphed their condolences to the family of the late Allan Studholme, M.L.A., on behalf of the Trades Council.

FEW HAVE RETURNED.

Fifteen patternmakers only have returned to work, according to a member of the international union, who states that 135 are still out on strike.

RETAIL CLERKS PROGRESSING.

Retail clerks at a reorganization meeting held last night at S.O.E. Hall, indicated 20 new members; the union now has 300 members. Altogether there are about 20,000 retail clerks in Toronto. E. W. Hoops, J. W. Conner and Herbert Lewis addressed the meeting.

RESUME TOMORROW.

Carpenters will work on the 75 cents an hour schedule beginning tomorrow morning. This was ratified at last night's mass meeting held at the Labor Temple, which ratified the report of the committee to the effect that members of the builders' exchange were practically unanimous in favor of the schedule. Last night's meeting was addressed by Joseph Knight on behalf of the O. B. U., and it was stated that he had gained a hundred converts.

GRIMSBY RESIDENTS WELCOME VETERANS

Heroes and Their Families Entertained Right Royally by District.

For a number of years Grimsby has been known as the haven of safety for those who go down to the sea to fish. Grimsby, Ont., is likely to go down into history as a port of rest and contentment for men who have returned from the battlefront in Europe. In the very early days of the war North Grimsby and Grimsby proper enlisted quite six hundred men, which was about one-sixth of the entire population. The district holds the enviable record of having enlisted more men per capita than any other district in Ontario and of having the lowest number per capita conscripted.

PENSIONS ARE INADEQUATE

That the present total disability pension is totally inadequate for the needs of some Canadian veterans is evidenced in the case of Curly Christian, a comrade who has lost both legs and both arms. He receives $92 a month, but his expenses amount to well over a hundred dollars a month, including the services of an attendant. Mayor Church has been communicated with to mediate on Curly's behalf for an increase.

ARTHUR MEIGHEN WILL SPEAK

Hon. Arthur Meighen will be present on the occasion of Post Credit's executive welcome to her returned men which is to be given on Monday next. On this occasion General Gunn will present every returned man with a sash and ribbon. The reception to the men will take place on the grounds of the A. M. Hoerber estate.

CENSURE COMRADE JARVIS.

Comrade H. A. Jarvis, an opponent of the Calgary resolution for a $2000 gratuity, is now the latest victim of the wrath of the returned veterans who strongly champion the resolution. He was asked to resign from his position of field secretary by Brockville G.W.V.A. recently, and Central G.W.V.A. has added to the number of those seeking his resignation. He was formerly a member of central.

CRITICISM WELCOMED.

Major G. L. Drew, D.S.O., vocational officer for Ontario, whose department has been subjected to criticism from District Secretary J. V. Conroy of the G.W.V.A. stated yesterday that it had been his unalterable rule to appoint either returned men or officers to posts in his department. Major Drew goes on to point out that the department welcomes criticism and suggestions as to the better treatment of body's race it will indeed be an interesting competition from now on. It is easy to foresee a keen rivalry among the workers in every district, and friends and supporters will be greatly interested in the final outcome. With a $5,000 home, four big automobiles and many other awards totaling over $18,000 in value, there is certainly plenty of incentive for members making a hard fight to gain leading positions and to hold positions already attained during these last four weeks of the campaign.

Liberal Offer. The prizes at stake are worth a small fortune and when people consider that they have an opportunity to win something that they otherwise might have to go ten years of saving to have, and at the same time cannot fail to be repaid for his or her effort, the real liberality of The World's big offer is fully understood. Under the rules of the campaign every member who remains active but who fails to win on the 31st of August will be paid a cash commission of ten per cent. of all the subscription money he or she has turned in. An active member is defined as one who turns in at least one subscription each week of the last two weeks of the campaign. The revised list of standings will be prepared just as soon as possible and will be printed within the next few days.

There were cases of unbecomely ailments among the employes which of fully realized by the public would raise such a storm of protest that such an experiment would follow in short order. CLEANED UP TWO IN RWIN'S TOWN

Timely Hitting and Hustlers' Errors Did the Good Work.

Rochester, N.Y., July 30.—The Maple Leafs cleaned up the Bronchos in the first two games this afternoon, largely due to timely hitting, abetted by errors in the home outfit.

Holden broke the ice in the second inning, when he patted a hit to right and it rolled out of sight behind the backstop. It was caught by a home run by the umpire. The Bronchos erased the score in their half when Lacy muffed a single and went to second on Blake's sacrifice, and to third on Nagle's hit. Nagle scored on O'Neill's scratch single past first. Again in the fourth both teams scored.

For the Leafs, Onslow singled and went around to third on See's error of the hit. On the same play Nagle scored and relayed and tossed wild to the plate, Onslow scoring. In fact he never stopped from the time he hit the ball until he scored. Holden singled to centre and scored on singles by Melnick and Anderson. That was all the scoring for the Maple Leafs.

The Bronchos got their second run in the same round. Blake's fly was muffed by Whitman and Blake went to second on Nagle's single. A wild pitch put him on third and he scored while Nagle was being thrown out between second and third.

The second game was a pitchers' battle between Clifford and Peterson up to the seventh inning, neither team scoring. In the seventh Whitman singled to centre, Onslow laid down a sacrifice bunt which Clifford fumbled and both were safe. Melnick patted a hit to left, scoring Whitman. Anderson singled to right filling the bases. Sandberg walked a double to the left fence, scoring Onslow and Melnick. Peterson struck out Nagle, who looked wild to third, Anderson and Sandberg scoring. That was enough to win the game, but in the ninth they added another. Anderson walked and after Sandberg fouled out, Hubbell singled. Peterson pitched to Clifford to third. He scored on Gonzalez's sacrifice fly to centre.

The Bronchos made a game effort to even up in the seventh. After Schweitzer patted to left, Raymond placed a single to centre. Helman snapped a safe on short. Nagle tripled to right, scoring both runners. On Carle's infield out, Peterson pitched to the third in the ninth they added another. Anderson walked and after Sandberg fouled out, Hubbell singled. Peterson pitched to Clifford to third. He scored on Gonzalez's sacrifice fly to centre.

REDS GAIN ON GIANTS; NOSED OUT THE BRAVES

New York Could Only Break Even With the Pirates.

At Pittsburg (National)—Pittsburg and New York split a double-header here yesterday, the visitors winning the initial contest, 3 to 0, while the home team took the second game, 6 to 1. Ponder and Mayer were both hit hard during the first game, while Barnes held Pittsburg to three hits.

DEMISE FARMERS TO JOIN WITH BERALS

body men. We want a united Canada and we will never have it until we have more of the brotherhood of man such as we have in the U. F. O. Organized and Roman Catholics sit down together in our clubs.

J. Morrison, secretary of the U. F. O. for Ontario, warned against party affiliation, referring to the fate of the grange. Partisan was the rock on which all agricultural organizations had split, he said. He continued by pointing out that farmers and workmen alike were sick of party government. He characterized the union government as a union of the high mucky-mucks who controlled this country, with no person to watch them, and they had done as they liked.

The decline of the rural population in Bruce and the increase of the urban population was proof, Mr. Morrison said, of bad government. He criticized the fixing of prices during the war by the government to the disadvantage of shell manufacturers and to the disadvantage of the food-producing farmers. He dwelt on the conscription of farmers' sons who fought for a dollar ten a day, while the unit ones were working in shell factories for $10 or $15 a day and then put their earnings where location could not touch it, in war bonds. The U. F. O. would be classed as Bolshevik when it came to election time, but that was just because the reason for the election was and they must have some such talk.

Complete Organization.

Chairman Fred W. Fisher, director for the U. F. O. in Bruce, told the convention how the country organization had been completed. He referred to the convention at Formosa, where Frank Renzie was chosen as Liberal candidate, and where Mr. Dewar had suggested the farmers were falling in line with the Liberal party. "But as you know," said Mr. Fisher, "we are not affiliated with any party and we are out to hoe our own row." (Applause.) Mr. Fisher asked for the voice of the convention as to whether candidates should be named or not.

For the Federal House.

Chairman Fisher, however, had cast his eye over the audience before calling for the vote, and there was not the slightest danger.

Those nominated for the federal house were: P. W. Zund, J. W. Findlay, Alex. Rae, Joe. Zettler, Thos. Purdy and Archie Weir.

Was not Mr. Purdy willing to accept the Liberal nomination at Formosa? inquired a delegate. If so, the should not be allowed to stand for nomination here.

Let the delegates decide by their votes, said the chairman.

Mr. Kuntz, whose name had been mentioned prominently as a prospective candidate, withdrew in spite of several requests from delegates to stand.

Mr. Findlay said that at Formosa the man who got the nomination approached him after the meeting and upbraided him for refusing office in the Liberal organization.

That was a member of the U. F. O. The chairman of the South Bruce Liberals, on the other hand, had congratulated him.

Wins on First Ballot.

Thos. Purdy, who was defeated for the Formosa Liberal nomination, said he would confess that he had allowed his name to go to the Liberal convention, but added: "I am here today as a U. F. O. man. I have been a member ever since it was organized and I am in your hands. Party is not so strong with me as it used to be."

Mr. Findlay got the nomination on the first ballot. "I do not know now," he said, "whether to be glad or sorry, but if I am elected we will have no truck nor trade with party. I have been somewhat of a Grit, but the Liberal party has not been true to the principles it preached. They went back on reciprocity as soon as it was defeated. Reciprocity is just as much alive as it ever was, notwithstanding. Only two men stood for the Ontario nomination, J. J. Zettler and T. H. Purdy.

How Canadian Graves Were Honored at Hythe

With Fitting Ceremony, as if by Magic, Children Transformed the Bare Mounds Into a Blaze of Color and Sweetness.

—FROM THE HYTHE (ENGLAND) REPORTER.

With the passing of the years and the rising of a generation which knows nothing of the horrors of war, it may be that the loving enthusiasm of the children to take the part of laying floral tributes on the graves of the Canadians in Shorncliffe Cemetery will gradually diminish, but so far as the picturesque and moving ceremony on Wednesday afternoon was concerned there was no noticeable difference. The day was perfect, and a prettier or more touching picture has seldom been presented than the one of the serious ranks of the little ones, each carrying their posy and surrounded by a guard of honor from the Machine Gun Corps, Royal Irish Regiment, 8th (K.R.L.) Hussars and Canadian forces, whilst away on the overlooking hill were grouped the mothers and fathers, sisters and brothers and also including many in hospital blue. Among those who attracted attention were the Canadian nurses. In the centre of the square was a distinguished party, which included Sir Stephen Penfold, mayor of Folkestone, in his robes and chain of office, with his attendant, a young sergeant. There were also many staff officers and a considerable number of Canadian officers.

The band of the 8th Hussars played the following selections while the children were assembling: "Symphonie Marche" of the London Scottish, "O Canada" and the incidental music from "The Merchant of Venice."

The Maple Leaf.

The ceremony followed the general lines of previous years. Led by the band of the 8th (K.R.L.) Hussars and Bandmaster Cheeseman, it began with the singing of "The Maple Leaf." Then came a short address from Sir Stephen Penfold, who said that this was the third time he had had the privilege of addressing to them a few words on the object for which they had assembled that afternoon. The first year, as they knew, they were fully engaged in one of the most terrible wars the world had ever seen. They were all very thankful that this terrible bloodshed had ceased, but they were met here today to pay tribute of respect to the memory of those brave men who left their home and country to help the empire in its great battle for justice and righteousness. It was rather interesting to know that the first celebration they had there was a lady from British Columbia sent him some seeds for the children to plant in their gardens, and that they might see the flowers on those graves. Some of the seeds had been planted there and some of the flowers had been brought. He thought it was fitting that it must be a solace to the men of Canada who had now gone back to their own country, to know that the memory of their dear ones left here was being respected.

France Would Remember.

Rev. H. D. Dale said they might be sure their French friends did not forget the brave soldiers who were buried over there. They did not forget that they shed their blood for France as well as for England, and their dear brethren from Canada had done the same for the old country and for the cause of justice. He was sure it would be known thousands of miles away and would bring comfort and joy to many over in Canada to know what they were doing there that day, showing them that they had not forgotten what they had done for them. He had read of some of their deeds, he had read about the Victoria Crosses gained by those Canadian soldiers. What would they say such things as they had done. But they honored them and they loved them for it. The men who were lying in the graves on which they were placing their flowers were just as brave and had given their lives for the same great cause. Let them not forget to think of them and pray for them. They never knew the power of their prayers or what good they would do, but some day they might know. God help them to do right, to ever live to stand up for the right, and to ever honor the brave men who had given their lives for them.

The hymn, "Thru the Night of Doubt and Sorrow," was then sung.

Present Out of Love.

Major-General H. M. Perceval said he should like them to know he had come in to participate that day, but officials, n.c.o.'s and men had come there of their own accord, and he believed they were representative of every unit with reach. He believed he was speaking for them when he said that what had brought them there that day was the impressive and beautiful ceremony which they had just witnessed, and the admiration for the Canadians as brothers-in-arms, and those who had been at the front fighting for the great cause knew the none but those who with greater gallantry and who had laid down their lives more willingly than the Canadians.

Col. Scott said they had come there today to decorate the graves of the Canadians who were laid in that place. This meant that they were taking part in a special ceremony in a striking manner—the feelings they had toward

STRONG OPPOSITION TO FRENCH TREATY

U. S. Senators Claim It Violates Tradition of No Entangling Alliances.

Washington, July 30.—Both the senate and his committee had recessed over today and many senators went over for the first time the official text of the special defensive treaty with France, submitted for ratification yesterday, by President Wilson. All members of the reservationist provision that congress alone can declare war. Those who base their opposition on the latter ground declare that by the promise to go to the aid of the United States in case of an unprovoked attack on her from Germany, all future congresses would be deprived of their power to decide for or against war whenever the treaty terms were invoked.

Two objections about which debate is expected to centre are that the treaty departs from the tradition of no entangling alliances and that it violates the constitutional provision that congress alone can declare war.

Precedents Are Cited.

To this administration leaders reply that the United States has made similar promises to go to war under certain circumstances in the past, citing the treaty by which the United States guaranteed Panama's independence and the Monroe Doctrine, which they argue, gave notice that the free republics of this hemisphere would be defended against old world aggression at any cost. They also declare congress often has been bound by treaty to appropriate money, make tariff laws and exercise other powers vested in it by the constitution.

Interest in the subject was increased by today's despatches from Paris, saying that leaders in the chamber of deputies were disposed to delay ratification of the Versailles treaty until the American ratification had acted on the defensive treaty. Opposition senators declared the development gave color to their charge that the promise to France would result in return for French support of the league of nations.

MADE NEW AMERICAN ALTITUDE RECORD

Minneapolis, N. Y., July 30.—Altho falling to establish a world's altitude record, Roland Rohls, civilian aviator, flying a Curtiss-Wheep biplane, set a new record yesterday when, in an official flight from Roosevelt field, he reached a height of 30,700 feet, according to figures on his barograph. The world's record is 33,136 feet, made by Adjutant Casale, of the French army, in a flight from the Vosges mountains.

Rohls found a temperature of 25 degrees below zero at an altitude of 30,000 feet and a hundred mile wind. He said he was compelled to leave the water in the pipe leading to his radiator to prevent his engine from freezing. Descending from a height of 25,000 feet, he found his gasoline and oxygen exhausted and volplaned the entire distance to the ground.

TURKS AND TARTARS MENACE ARMENIANS

Unless Military Protection Afforded, the Nation Will Be Crushed.

Paris, July 30.—Turks and Tartars are moving upon the Armenians from three sides. They have cut off the American relief supplies and all the remaining Armenians are threatened with extermination unless additional military protection is afforded, according to despatches from Major J. C. Green, of Cincinnati, who is directing the American relief administration work from Tiflis.

Herbert Hoover, director general of relief, immediately submitted Major Green's message to the peace conference, which already had similar reports from other American and British observers.

Major Green, under date of July 23, sends the following from Tiflis: "Had a long conference with the Armenian president today. The situation is worse. The Turkish army is well prepared, and Tartars are advancing from three sides. If military protection is not afforded to Armenia immediately the disaster will be more terrible than the massacres in 1915, and the Armenian nation will be crushed, to the everlasting shame of the world."

"Relief work is impossible in the present situation unless order is restored. Cannot something be done to have the British forces in the Caucasus intervene to save Armenia?"

Under date of July 24, Major Green telegraphs: "The Turks and Tartars are advancing in the districts of Karabagh and Aghabek. They now occupy approximately the reopened territory of Russian Armenia. Khalil Bey, a Turkish colonel, is commanding the Azerbaijan Tartars."

RAIN DESCENDS, LIKEWISE CORN
Condition of Crop is Materially Improved by Widespread Moisture.

Chicago, July 30.—Many showers and a prospect of numerous others, did much today to bring about lower prices in the corn market. Except for July, which showed a net gain of 1/2¢, the market finished weak at 1 1/2¢ to 2 1/2¢ net decline, with September at $1.95 to $1.95, and December at $1.85 to $1.85. Oats lost a quarter to a half. In provisions, the outcome ranges from a setback of 45c to a 5c advance. Fresh moisture supplied to parts of Illinois, Iowa, Missouri, Kansas, and the northwest, tended materially to relieve the condition of the corn crop. The condition of corn was thus far the most favorable since the outbreak of the war, which was again added to by a generally beneficial weather, scattered over a wide territory. Later the government crop report received a generally beneficial construction. Houses with country connections did most of the selling. The only rally was announced by the Chicago office of July delivery, and was due to month-end covering by shorts. A. A. McKinnin had bushel apples at $3.50 to $4; Alberta peaches at $5.50 per bushel hamper; No. 1 potatoes at $9, and No. 2 at $6.50 per bushel. The Union Fruit & Produce, Limited, had eggplant at $1.50 to $1.65 a basket; red currants at 20c a box; a car of cantaloupes at $2.50 to $3 a case; lawton berries at 50c to 60c per 11-quart basket; and 80c to $1 per 11-quart basket; corn at 20c to 25c a dozen; Red Star potatoes at $9 per bushel; tomatoes at 90c to $1 a basket; lawton berries at 25c a box.

ON CHICAGO MARKET
Hughes, Starourt & Co., 307 Royal Bank Building, received the following wire at the close of the Chicago market yesterday: Corn ranged lower on account of strength in the east market and northwest, and some sections of Iowa and Illinois. The trade was not large, on account of the weather. The weather, and bulls, as well as bears, are inclined to go slow. Undoubtedly corn has suffered to some extent in some sections, and unless copious rains are received in the near future, some deterioration is imminent. Trade in oats was rather light, and the market opened lower in sympathy with corn. The car shortage is still in evidence, and its effect is being felt in the movement of European requirements are known to be large, and this, combined with the domestic country works against any sustained decline.

TRY TO REBUILD ECONOMIC SYSTEM
Dr. Renner Says German-Austria Will Pursue League of Nations Policy.
Copenhagen, July 30.—A despatch from Vienna says that Dr. Karl Renner, in a letter to President Seitz, of German Austria, outlining his policy on acceptance of the foreign ministry, says that German Austria's struggle for future existence is proving more difficult than even pessimists expected. Austria, he asserts, can hardly live in its present position and can only surrender itself trustfully to the league of nations. German Austria will not mix in the politics of the great powers nor share in the rivalries of its neighbors, Dr. Renner continues, but will pursue exclusively a league of nations policy, and try to rebuild its national economic system and create a new social order. "Its hopes will not be vain," Dr. Renner declares, "unless the league of nations falls to be true to itself, or refuses recognition of German Austria's right to existence."

FRICTION IN UNIVERSITY.
Halifax, July 30.—It has been known for some time here that there was friction in the University of Saskatchewan and that certain of the professors had been involved in an agitation regarding policy management. President Murray is at Mahone Bay, N. S., some forty miles from Halifax, and could not be reached last night. Professor Ira MacKay, whose name is mentioned in the despatch from Saskatoon, is a Nova Scotian and a graduate of Dalhousie University.

TREATY WILL BRING HAPPINESS TO POLAND
London, July 30.—Premier Paderewski of Poland presented the peace treaty to the ratification committee of Sejm and recommended its ratification. He said that the treaty should bring happiness to Poland. The Poles had protested against providing for German educational rights in Poland when the Poles were not similarly provided for in Germany. The allies, however, assured the Poles that when Germany applied for admission into the league of nations, these rights would be conditions of Germany's admission.

TO PROTECT INTERESTS OF LOYAL RUSSIANS
Berlin, July 30.—Representatives of Admiral Kolchak, head of the all-Russian government at Omak, have arrived in Berlin to protect the interests of non-Bolshevik Russians. The so-called Russian committee is not to be regarded as an exactly diplomatic mission, but the German minister of the interior is co-operating with the committee with regard to passports for Russian citizens.

FAVOR RATIFICATION
Brussels, Tuesday, July 29.—The foreign affairs committee of the Belgian chamber of deputies today passed favorably upon the question of the ratification of the peace treaty with Germany.

ONTARIO BUREAU OF MINES ERRS OFTEN AND SERIOUSLY
Pessimism or Carelessness on Part of Officials Has Resulted in Injustice to Fields Which Have Had Merits Well Demonstrated by Other Means.

The average value of gold and silver recovered from 10,631,777 tons of ore treated in the United States in 1913 was $7.40. The 27,000,000 tons sent to the mills in the Rand every year run about $6.40 per ton. The New Modderfontein, which a few years ago was pronounced by T. A. Rickard the greatest gold mine in the world, yields $2.20 per ton. When handling 100,000 tons of ore per month it is estimated that tenors at the Hollinger Consolidated, Porcupine, will be $7.75 per ton. In view of the low mining and treatment costs, the ore at Porcupine must be considered of much higher grade than that of the Rand, certainly by far the greatest gold field in the world in point of actual production. In August, 1911, the Ontario Bureau of Mines gave out the statement that the annual output of Porcupine would yield only a trifling profit. Nothing was said of the tenor of the ore, except that it was "average." The statement was never formally withdrawn, though it was dropped from the third report, ready for distribution in the fourth. It is a fact that the statement was made without any revaluation or qualification. It was grossly in error, and entirely erroneous. The best excuse that can be offered for the bureau is that it did not understand the scope of the deep bodies. The large regular tubular bodies which predominate in deposits near the surface are not numerous at Porcupine. Some of the deposits are irregular in shape. Lenax are never over 1000 feet long, but they overlap succeeding ore bodies, while sheeted zones and stock works occur. They, in fact, represent a type which when mined, it seems, in fact, to be sent any serious mining problem. The important feature of the Porcupine deposit is that it is certain that the bulk of the ore is not in the surface, while it is placed stress on irregularity, the this becomes practically negligible if the ore body is large. Small Veins Implied. The bureau's version implied that the ore bodies were small; in fact, not up even to a deep vein, because in their view much country rock had to be mined. All this is perfectly bald. The mystery how it ever obtained currency in an official report. One of the authors, who has adopted it was formerly geologist for the section of metalliferous deposits, United States Geological Survey. He is now professor and head of the department of geology and mineralogy, University of Minnesota. While on the geological survey of the United States he prepared bulletin 626, on the "Enrichment of Ore Deposits." He is, in fact, one of the highest authorities in the United States. The pessimism or carelessness of the bureau of mines has now been a serious matter in several cases. Grounds has been taken on the basis of the statement, just as such as Porcupine and the report on Matichewag, Ontario, and the report on the department of mines, Ottawa. The latter deals very fully with the nature of the deposits and their modes of occurrence, and will be of great service to mining men. Even if the deposits at Porcupine had been barely payable, the figures had been given with all other important details, and the low-grade ore had been practically a warning to capitalists to keep out of the camp, and it has been treated as such in many parts of the world. It is unfortunate that Dr. Willet G. Miller has taken no active part in the affairs of the bureau of mines for several years. His work at Cobalt was of great value, and his geological observations, Messrs. Burrows and Hopkins, have apparently no control over the affairs of the bureau. It seems, in fact, to be without any directing head and is just dawdling along without any real objective, and with no definite plan. The bulk of the mining interests of the province. S. R. Clarke.

MISS CHANCE FOR MORAL STIMULUS
Robert Bickerdike Disappointed Over Prisoners Not Being Set at Liberty.
Montreal, July 30.—At the time of the armistice being proclaimed, Robert Bickerdike, honorary president of the Canadian Prisoners' Welfare Association, addressed a communication to the minister of justice on behalf of that organization, suggesting that the advent of peace might well be marked by a general amnesty for prisoners who, at the time were undergoing sentences of not more than thirty days. The reply of the department of justice at that time was that the recommendation had better be made in some peace treaty, and that the small volume of further communication was sent forward by Mr. Bickerdike, "suggesting that the prisoners who were coming back to be observed as official peace day, would be a fitting occasion on which to give effect to his proposal. Mr. Bickerdike has now received a reply from the acting deputy minister of justice, Stewart Edwards, stating that the council to whom the minister has submitted the proposal, did not consider it would be practicable or desirable to proclaim a general amnesty for prisoners of war. In this connection, in expressing his disappointment at this negative result, Mr. Bickerdike stated that in his opinion the government should be urged to consider giving a moral stimulus to hundreds of minor offenders, which would have been a good start for the new era of peace.

CONFIDENCE IN FUTURE OF MINING INDUSTRY HAS UNDERGONE LITTLE IMPAIRMENT.
Mining stocks remained yesterday in the groove to which patient traders have become accustomed, minor losses here and there being offset by small gains. The point to be emphasized, however, is that the market is giving an excellent account of itself in the face of prolonged adverse conditions, and that the small volume of liquidation in recent weeks, despite labor troubles at Kirkland Lake and Cobalt, is solid evidence of the confidence generally felt that better things are in store for the northern mining industry, and for mining in general. NEW YORK STOCKS

Widely - Conflicting Influences Cause Irregularity, With Recoveries Toward Close.

New York, July 30.—Stocks were subjected to widely conflicting influences today, creating heaviness and occasional weakness in many of the shares which usually govern the course of the market.

Prices were one to two points higher at the outset, the steel divisors leading at the excellent quarterly statement issued by the United States Steel Corporation after the close of yesterday's session.

Heavy selling, which immediately followed and had its basis mainly in widely circulated rumors that the federal reserve board at Washington would hold another conference to consider certain phases of the local speculative situation gave the market a setback of 2 to 3 points before noon.

Substantial gains, but only in a few important instances was the reversal of the morning retracing development was the evident purpose of the banks and other financial institutions to effect a greater discrimination in the making of loans on all industrial collateral and the increasing scarcity of time money.

Settlement in exchange on Paris, which approximated its minimum quotation, caused variable reactions in sterling, lira and the Swiss franc. The Canadian remittances were comparatively steady.

Weakness of local fractions and a slight setback in international, featured the irregular bond market. Total sales, par value, aggregated $1,500,000.

WALL STREET'S SCARE WITHOUT FOUNDATION

Washington, July 30.—Reports in New York financial circles concerning possible action of the federal reserve board to curtail speculation, which resulted in a material break in stock prices, evoked the following official statement today:

The board feels that it has already made clear its position regarding the call loan market, and has nothing further to say on the subject at the present time.

Today was the regular meeting day of the board and was made the basis for unfounded stories, to the detriment of prices on the New York exchange that were in season for the purpose of taking some drastic step. It was learned adversely, however, that the board situation was not discussed, except in connection with the unreliable reports circulated for reasons not disclosed.

CHEESE MARKETS

Woodstock, Ont., July 30.—On the local cheese board today four factories boarded 430 boxes of colored cheese. The highest bid on the board was 24 1/2 cents with no sales. On the curb the buyers and sellers were again more or less steady and the bulk of the cheese was returned by the factories.

TOUR REACTIONARY IN LOCAL MARKET

Dominion Iron Ore Nearly Two Points on News of Impending Shut-Down.

The tone of the Toronto market yesterday might be described as mildly reactionary, but offerings were as on previous days of the limited order. With the New York market evincing rather a pronounced disposition to waver, it is a matter for congratulation that there has been little of a speculative movement locally of late and that basic conditions are sound. It is true that in the case of certain specialties, particularly those in which Montreal prices have been active, gains have been disproportionately large, but stocks in general have not had any precipitate advance.

Most interest yesterday centred in Dominion Iron Ore, the plant which will close down shortly for a period of several weeks in order that extensive repairs may be carried out. Iron responded to the news by opening 1/2 cent lower at 58 1/2 and subsequently falling back to 57, the final bid firming up to 57 1/2. Spanish River was under 1/2 cent pressure and paying off dividend arrears on the preferred stock improves the position of the common dividends on the latter are in rather remote prospect. The traction weeks in order that extensive repairs may be carried out about half a point to 1/2, while Brazilian was easier at 57 1/2. Tuckets showed some tendency to firm up after the London market was a recession to 4 1/2, leaving the net gain at 1/2. The war loans were featureless.

BLACK LAKE ASBESTOS DOING GREAT BUSINESS

Company's Chrome Iron Mines Extensively Opened Up—Keen Demand for Products.

Montreal, July 30.—The Black Lake Asbestos & Chrome Company is evidently coming into its own, following the example of the Asbestos Corporation of Canada, which is now paying dividends at the rate of 5 per cent on its common stock and piling up a big surplus.

During the absence of Major R. F. Massey, D.S.O., the very energetic and aggressive president of the company, overseas, while the company did a fair business, some of the shareholders were of the opinion that full advantage was not taken of the rapidly increasing market for asbestos and chrome, but since his return and recovery from his severe wounds there has been a remarkable improvement in the output of both asbestos and chrome, and the company is unable to fill the demand for its products.

One of its large chrome iron mines has been extensively developed to a depth of over 200 feet and opened by about 1400 feet of underground workings. Two thousand tons are now being shipped from this mine and the company has orders for several thousand tons additional.

This ore is very high grade and, being low in silica and high in magnesia, is the most desirable in the continent for steel companies. The demand is becoming so great that steps are being taken to increase the present capacity of the chrome plant. Extensive improvements have been made in the asbestos mill and it is understood that the production will be greatly increased this year. The quality of the asbestos is steadily improving, considerably more crude being found than in former years.

As the company has been able to earn considerably more than its bond interest and make very liberal provision for depreciation from a comparatively small output of asbestos for the past few years, it begins to look as if the preferred shareholders are within sight of dividends, and that the common shareholders, the mill probably a long distance away, may look forward with some degree of confidence to a return upon their investment.

It has been officially announced that the company's chrome iron mines are under option until the 22nd of August, but with the favorable development alluded to some of the shareholders are beginning to hope that the option may not be exercised.

FRENCH BONDS TO BE SOLD IN NEW YORK

J. P. Morgan and Co. Will Handle Fifty Million Dollar Issue.

Paris, July 30.—Louis L. Klotz, the minister of finance, has just concluded an arrangement with a group of American bankers, headed by J. P. Morgan & Co., for the sale in the New York market of French treasury bonds at present and ninety days, similar to the British bonds now on the market.

The amount of the issue in view at present totals $50,000,000. The American Treasury Department has been consulted regarding the arrangement and gave its assent to it.

MORGAN & CO. CONFIRM.

New York, July 30.—J. P. Morgan & Co. today confirmed the report from Paris that a syndicate of American bankers, headed by them, had made an arrangement with the French Ministry of Finance for the sale here of French treasury bonds at sixty and ninety days, which the bills will be sold would depend on a money market condition at present the French treasury contemplates issuance of its bills not to exceed $50,000,000, with a weekly maturity rate of not over $5,000,000. The French treasury, according to the Morgan statement, fully intended to return to the United States and Washington with its plans, and received its assent to them.

KIRKLAND LAKE DISPUTE LIKELY TO END SOON

President F. L. Culver Says Aliens Are Not to Blame for Trouble.

At the annual meeting of the Kirkland Lake Asbestos & Chrome Co. held last night, the company's president, F. L. Culver, after the annual report, vigorously published, has been quoted as saying that the dispute between the company and the United States Treasury would not be of great duration. He said that the great majority of the strikers were showing a desire to return to work, but were held back by their leaders. The agitation was in the air and must run its course, and there was nothing to do but to wait for it to end. The men were beginning to raise their heads, while agitators could lead them out of a job; they never led them into one.

Mr. Culver said that when it had become evident that a strike would take place, preparations were made to get a great deal of ore in readiness so that he would be lost in resuming mining. There were 1,000 tons ready apart from ore underground and on the dump, and no watering would be necessary. He contended fully the right of the mill to organize, but when they asked impose the strike the mine owners had to take a firm stand. In opposition, the trouble was not with any foreign workers, and it was unjust to blame the strike on this particular mine was concerned.

The board of directors was re-elected as follows: President, F. L. Culver; Toronto, W. T. Mason; Montreal, F. D. Mercer; Toronto, H. E. Tremblay; Toronto, and R. Graham. Toronto.

MONTEAL PRODUCE.

Montreal, July 30.—A firm feeling prevailed in the local market today for cash grain and prices generally were maintained. There was some demand for oats from local buyers and sales of a few round lots of No. 3 Canadian Western. There was a small amount of feed wheat made ex-water and a few odd cars of export, but the volume of business on the whole was small and the market is quiet with No. 3 Canadian western and extra No. 1 feed quoted at $1.02 1/2 per bushel.

MONTEAL PRODUCE.

There was no important change in the condition of the local flour situation.
