It is the sort of newspaper announcement we have been treated to for the past couple of months, and from which we have all suffered. I have no idea how that announcement found its way into the press. The less talk there is of Bolshevism the sooner it will die out and the better for all. The Farmer-Labor party in Ontario has an admiral (Mr. Drury) of whom they are justly proud. From the tone of the debate, largely on the government side, it would appear that a federal election is near. He favored the publication of all contri-butions whatsoever to political funds. I take it, he said, that a new political party has arisen in the province by whatever name it may be called; and I have yet to see the things that have been associated with party politics in the past will not be associated to as great an extent as before with this new party. Mr. Hay expressed the opinion in view of the shortage of available labor for public work that steps be taken to induce a high type of immigration to Canada and that all such new comers canada and that all such new comers be prepared to become Canadian citizens. If the government devise any means of keeping the young people of the rural sections on the land, an incalculable benefit would come to the province. (Applause). The small Ontario town could not get along without the retired farmer, because merchants in those small times more offen so into in those small times more often go into liquidation than into retirement. In speaking on the resolution brought in by the re-establishment committee, the adoption of which he had moved, Comrade Jeakins pointed out that the committee had tried to express in the resolution what appeared to be the wish of the convention. He showed that the resolution had a connecting link with the original G.W.V.A. plan.

Seconds the Motion.

Comrade Woods of Calgary, in seconding the resolution, declared his endorsation of the measure, and said that he was out for the velfare of the country as much as for the returned soldier, and the last thing he would wish to do would be to embarrass the country in any way. He thought that the basis of $1 per day for a man who served on a belligerent front was a very conservative one.

J. B. Raiston, in moving the amendment to the effect that the G. W. V. A. scheme of the last convention be again adopted, submitted that the latter plan had been submitted by those who were thoroly conversant with conditions thruout the country, and that the plan was formulated only after thoro consideration. The adoption, he said, would represent consistency on the part of the veterans, and submitted that, without being consistent, they could not hope for the sympathy of the people.

Col. A. T. Hunter of Toronto supported the G.W.y.A. plan called for in the amendment He declared that the government had in its possession all the figures showing the immense profits made during the war by the profiteers, but "would not dare give them out. The excuse was it would upset industry and production."

The soldiers of Canada had come back to this country, declared Col. Hunter, to find that the Dominion had passed thru find that the Dominion had passed thru an era of luxury and extravagance never before seen. He had been told that high salaries were paid men who remained in Canada because men claimed they could not live on less. He had replied that if these men had lived as the men in France had lived they would have been able to save.

Capt. W. P. mencing New York.

Toronto house builders are suffering from a severe attack of "cold feet," a World reporter was told yesterday, "and 1920 will be a decidedly quiet year for this industry. The high costs of material and labor have inspired a fear in builders of being caught in a weakening market with high-priced haves on their hands. There is houses on their hands. There is a feeling in the air that prices have almost reached the summit."

The foregoing is the opinion of Wil-

He thought the matter over for a couple of weeks and then went back to the supply houses to went back to the supply houses to confirm prices and see what the out-look for materials in quantities was. He found that materials for a six-roomed house had advanced over $800 in the two weeks. This meant that by giving contracts before the next jump took place he could sell the houses at $5,900 or $6,000, but by selling at $5000 he would not make as much profit as made last year in selling at $4,600.

Mr. White mentioned several other builders who have been operating for many years in Toronto and who have decided not to put up any houses this year. Some weeks ago he made the round of the supply concerns and got prices of material.

Head Office: TORONTO. Big Statement Today.

Before debate on the second reading of the franchise oil is resumed tomorrow, Hon. Arthur Meighen, minister of the interior, will make a statement as to the effect of the disfranchising clause in the bill. Interpretations placed on the clauses during today's debate are, it is understood, not in accordance with the intentions of the government, when the bill was framed. Mr. Meighen, it is proposed, will therefore state the government's position in the matter.

Mr. Fielding, who adjourned the debate, has, it is understood, consented to give place to Mr. Meighen for this purpose.

Dr. Edwarda (Frontanac) precipitated a riot of protest from the opposition by remarking that the support given Mr. Pardee by members of the opposition and especially the member for Kamouraska; proved that his argument was faulty. For some minutes a chorus of "Order!" drowned the speaker's voice, and, when it died down, Mr. Lapointe was heard to say: "Go ahead; spill your bile!"

Speaker Rhodes asked that speakers be not interrupted, and the courtesies of debate must be observed. Mr. Pardee apparently proposed to open the doors of Canada to the Germans and Austrians who had so lately been our enemies.

The minister of agriculture had also, without a fittle of information, coarged him with receiving remuneration for service on a commission.

The trouble with the minister of ctulture is that the almighty dollar is so close to his own eye he cannot conceive of anyone serving on a highway commission gratuitously.

Read Recall Pledge. Mr. Henry read the recall pledge signed by the U.F.O., and wondered how soon the petitions for recall will into circulation. The U.F.O. had established a commission office in the stock yards on exactly the same basis as other commission houses, said Mr.

There has been within the last few months variation after variation in price in the stock yards, but there has not been one variation to the benefit of the consumer. That is the answer to the boast of the minister of agriculture, that they have done more to control the packers than all the govents of the past.

Mr. Henry read agricultural opinion to the effect that when agricultural organizations take up the game of politics their usefulness ends. Mr. Henry rubbed it into the farmers for their right-about-face on Government House. The farmers now are crowding to Government House and to luncheons, only wondering why acthing to do when you find you have Silk was held over. gone astray is to turn around and go the other way. (Laughter.) Mr. Henry also made mirth of Mr. Raney and Mr. Curry as lawyers who recommended themselves to a party that had tabooed the whole legal tribe as enemies of good legislation. Mr. Henry congratulated Hon. R. H.

Grant, minister of education, on the wisdom he had shown in refusing the offer of a survey of the schools by a private foundation. (Applause.)
He also pointed out that the roads built under the Hearst government are the same class of highways the present minister of public works proposes. He rebuked the U.F.O. for exploiting rural decline in population without telling of the increased production by which it has been accompanied. He argued that agricultural industry in Ontario is not on an unsound basis.

AN UNUSUAL CASE.

An unusual case of theft was re-Ported by the detective department at the City Hall last night when it was given out that A. E. Law, 508 Manning avenue, was arrested on a charge of thieving Victory bonds. Some time during the week Law came to the detective offices and reported that his house had been broken into and Victory bonds stolen from his brother in a room adjoining his own. Maturally investigation was made by the department, and as a result Law was himself arrested, evidence being conclusive that the theft had been effected from without and not from effected from without and not from within. CHINISTS FAVOR MACDONALD.

Local 235, International Association of Machinists, on Wednesday night decided to give all possible financial support to the campaign now being waged in Timiskaming on behalf of the Labor candidate, Angus Macdonald. General opinion was strong in favor of Mr. Macdonald's candidature, and odds were ten to one in his favor. The attendance at the meeting was very large, and officials stated yesterday after noon that the members were at last beginning to take a keen interest in those matters of interest to the community. Fourteen new members were initiated. This local, which is one of seven in Toronto, now has a membership of 1500.

SAY THE FIREMEN pression of the north that is being published all over Ontario. That is the reason I am writing this epistle. General Manager Robert J. Fleming of the Toronto Rallway has not implied that his threat to discontinue free rides for Toronto fire fighters is anything in the nature of an April Fool joke, and the fire fighters themselves take him seriously in his mandate, issuel yesterday, canceling all such rides from April 1 of this year. In his communication to Chief Russell, the genial railway manager states that in many cases it has been difficult to prove that a "free rider" was a fire fighter, and many others were not active apparatus men. Also it was the exception rather than the rule for fire fighters to ride to fires. In these circumstances, and as a means of protecting the shareholders of the company, Mr. Fleming, so he says, is reluctantly compelled to cancel the privilege, which it had been a pleasure to confer upon members of the force.

The reason I am writing this epistle.

First of all, let me say that all the settlers here are not of the same mind. Far from it. There are quite a lot of us that realize that the fault lies, not so much in the country, as in the class of men that are in it. Our colony is divided into two sections, the satisfied and the dissatisfied. Among the latter are some few that are not physically fit for the strenuous life of the bush settler. A lot of the remainder are men that may be strong enough but have no liking for life in the back-woods and have not the ambition and patience necessary to make a home in the north. There are others that appear to think that because the government brought them here and assisted them in the first place that they should be spoon fed and their families supported for the remainder of their

Find Out About the North.

One third of the legislative session is over but the development of Northern Ontario has not loomed very largely on the floor. In mid-winter a great north country convention was held at North Bay which was intended, among other things, to bring pressure upon the government and legislature to secure various developments in New Ontario. The conventioneers put forth a program which would cost about $200,000,000 to carry into effect. Nobody expected that the government could be immediately induced to undertake five per cent. of so large an aggregate expenditure. It was probably thought that the way to get

CHAPTER U. Up to the time when the Model Farm was opened, Farmington had been nothing but an ordinary small town. It looked much like any other town or village of its size in the country. It had its business section, mostly old, wooden-front houses, disguised more or less by show windows where front parlors had been. It had its movies and its corpus house for town weekling. and its opera house for town meetings and the occasional road company that came, playing old-fashioned shows, badly acted.

nearby, and further out the more modest dwellings. elt had its foreign section, where poverty was more dull and deadly and more hopeless than it is in a big city. The factory district was near this quarter, but played little part in the life of Farmington. The town grew up because it was in the centre splendid farming and agricultural lands. Hence its name; hence its life. Hence, too, the choosing of this community as a place for the big state-run farm and experimental station. An old place, rather run down, had been purchased from Clara's father, and lone over. That was why David, fresh from an agricultural college in the big city, had come down there. That was how he came to know Clara, and that was how he had met Alice.

Most events run in circles. Alice's Most events run in circles. After sudden happiness and sudden sorrow in her love affair had been due to the Model Farm. Indirectly, it had apparently made, then blasted her life. But of it, too, came the means of rebuilding her life again. Farmington had a Woman's Club, as sleepy an organization as the town itself. But the Model Farm brought in some new people from the city-among them a Mrs. Godfrey, wife of among them a Mrs. Godfrey, wife of the man who had complete charge of the farm. Mrs. Godfrey was only an incident in Alice's life, merely one of the many who helped the girl to her

Among other things, she saw the need of reform in "Shanty-town." So she persuaded the Woman's Club to open a social centre there.

Clara met Mrs. Godfrey as she met everyone connected with the farm. When Mrs. Godfrey wanted social workers, Clara breught in Alice. And so it was that Alice promised four afternoons and three evenings a week to the social work. In the summer, she was to have a little garden behind the house the club had rented, there to teach simple flower and vegetable rais. ing to the children and such of the mothers as might be dragged in. Later they were to take over some vacant lots and make "garden plots" to be farmed by the foreigners and the very

"And I'm glad to know you," Mrs. Godfrey answered, going right on with her work. "This is my assistant, Miss Fairbanks."

Alice shook hands, her frank smile and boyish handclasp giving an instantly pleasing impression. She looked this young chan over She hed ed this young chap over. She had heard of him often. The Marlowes had plenty of money and were looked up to in the town.

Lawrence was small for a man, tho taller than Alice. He had brown eyes and tan-colored, straight hair, a rather thin nose, and the high forehead of the thinker. His face was usually serious. He was slight in build, and his hands were well kept.

How different he was from David! How different he was from David!
Dayid would have been head and shoulders above him. David's har towsied easily, and David's gray eyes were large and tender. David was strong, and, like some strong men, a bit awkward when he used his hands and arms. "Want some help?" Lawrence ask-

"Curtains are up," Mrs. Godfrey said briskly. "You can help Miss Fairbanks carry these bundles upstairs."

An hour later Alice put on her things to leave, and Lawrence, whe had been helping, offered to drive her home in his sleigh. She picked up a heavy book "Curtains are up," Mrs. Godfrey said

ECONOMIC ACCORD TO BE ESTABLISHED

France and Germany Appoint a Commission to Elaborate One.

Paris, March 25.—The French sovernment has just appointed M. Seydoux of the foreign office, M. Serrays of the ministry of commerce, and M. Bollee, director of the customs and duties administration, members of commission charged with the elabora tion of an economic accord with Ger many. Dr. Goeppert, president of th German peace delegation here, will act for Germany.

Continual complaints have been made in French circles that Germany.

was violating the terms of the peace treaty by discriminating against French buyers in the sale of goods for exportation, selling the same ar-ticles to Swiss buyers at half the price charged French customers. This is considered here to be a violation of the provision of the treaty prohibiting discrimination in economic relations.

The resumption of business between France and Germany has been much hampered by such difficulties, to which the demand of Germany that import duties be paid in gold has added an almost absolute prohibition against exportations from France, against exportations from since the loss thru the difference exchange rates would be enormous.

The commission just appointed will endeavor to reconcile the different viewpoints and arrive at an understanding that will permit of a really effective revival of business relations between the two countries.

ACCEPT WARSHIPS: REORGANIZE NAV

After reorganization has been completed, only those officers and other ratings and civilians will be taken on who are absolutely necessary and possess the qualifications desired.

Admiral Kingsmill Retires.

Mr. Ballantyne further announced the retirement from the Canadian naval service of Admiral Kingsmill.

"Admiral Sir Charles Kingsmill has been director of the Canadian naval service since its creation in 1910.

"He has performed good, work in the organization of a new force. During the war very heavy duties were placed upon his shoulders which he discharged with energy and ability, and, as minister of naval service. I extend to him the thanks of the government and my own appreciation of the excellent work he has performed for the Canadian navy.

"It will not be necessary to appoint an officer of such high rank to take charge of the smaller temporary face now proposed and a more junior officer will succeed to his position."

Hon. W. L. Mackenzie King remarked that the opposition would join with the minister in his expression of thanks to Admiral Kingsmill. He wished to know whether the government had, as appeared to be announced in the statement of Mr. Hallantyne, no naval policy.

The minister of marine replied by sending a copy of the statement across the floor of the house to the 'eader of the opposition.

TEN-GOAL MARGIN FOR THE PADDLERS

Friendly Spirit in Second Game for the Dominion Junior Honors.

After Tuesday's game there was never any doubt about Toronto Canoe Club winning the Dominion junior championship and the return game with Selkirks, champions of the west, at the Areia last night, was a dragsy affair. It was just a case of filling in the schedule and the players staged the contest in that spirit. Toronto Canoe Club won the game 5 to 4 and the round by ten goals.

Not a body check was attempted and a friendly feeling prevalled between all hands concerned. Selkirks again showed nice stick-handling and good skating, but are far below the local team in ability. The Paddlers broke three abreast any time they wanted to and swept right in the production of the silverware, total goals to contend the final 5 to 4.

The Government Backs

When the Ontario legislature met yesterday afternoon, Captain J. E. Thompson of Northeast Toronto rose to ask if, in the event of the University of Toronto hockey team winning the Allan Cup and going to Antwerp, would the prime minister and the minister of education use their influence with the senate of the university to see that the team can go to Europe without interference with their college course. The prime minister said that he was very favorable to the proposition, which would be carefully considered.

"The playoff between the first and second teams is the fairest way of determining which is the better team," said Mr. Muldoon yesterday. "For instance one club may get away out in front early in the race and secure a lead long enough to carry it thru to the championship, after which it may weaken. Under our arrangement all the class are in the race, and there is weaken. Under our arrangement all the trams are in the race, and there is greater interest attached to each game.

It is better from the standpoint of the players and the spectators. Many conceded that Vancouver had the better team at the coast this year, but Seattle inished strong and then showed in the playoff that we were the best team to represent the coast in the Stanley Cup games, whereas we could not have overgames, whereas we could not have over-taken Vancouver in the ordinary sche-dule, tho we showed in the playoff that wo were the better team." The coast playoff system was proposed to the National Hockey League last winter, but was turned down. Possibly it will be adopted next winter when the eastern professional circuit gets un-

Mass., vs. Newburgh Shipyard or New York. Robins Dry Dock vs. Bethlehem Steel Co.

Western division: Bricklayers or Olympia of Chicago vs. Ben Millers of St. Louis. Packard or Caledonia or Pontiac City vs. Rochester City Moose of Rochester, N.Y.

A long discussion took place on the importation of players from foreign countries, which, it is charged by some, is done for the sole purpose of padding various teams to enable them to win the many cups and championships as the season nears its end. The committee will make a thoro investigation of every such player and drastic treatment will be meted out to any offender. A special case was the two Scottish players recently signed on by the famous Bethlehem Steel Club—John Corrigan, an amateur, and William Hyslop, a professional, both crack players who hail from junior Scottish clubs and whose registration was held up until the meeting last night. After the correspondence was laid upon the table and evidence of W. Luther Lewis, the Bethlehem manager, was heard, the committee decided to accept the registration of Corrigan, but held up the registration of Hyslop until they are satisfied that his release by the Scottish Football Association is quite in order. The management of the Bethlehem Club cabled to Scotland lest night asking for confirmation of his statements and if favorably reported upon, will be duly registered.

Greatest activity was manifested in the final hour, when further substantial advances in motors and their specialties lifted the entire list, rails excepted, to highest quotations of the day, a strong tone ruling at the close.

Call loans opened and renewed at 9 per cent, a rise of 2 per cent, over the recent initial rate, advancing later to 12 per cent, or 2 per cent under yesterday's maximum. Time money was unaltered, but in scant supply, except for renewals.

Foreign exchange offered some encouragement to the long account, the British rate advancing to $3.86% for demand bills, representing the high mark so far this year. Other allied exchanges were irregular, also rates to northern Europe.

Dealoings in stocks were extremely professional and desultory until the late movement in specialties, General Motors maintained its reputation as an uncertain quality, an early gain of 9 points being followed by a reaction of 15 and rally of 25, the final price of 384 representing a net gain of 18 points.

Stuts Motor continues to move against the shorts, advancing to 282, a new high record and a gain of 34 points, while Stromberg Carburetor, controlled by Stuts interests, shot up 18 points to 94, also a new maximum. Steels, equipments and oils joined in the late advance, variable reactions of the mid-session being replaced by net gains of 1 to 5 points. Sales amounted to 1,275,000 shares.

How many trust companies do you know whose reputations for business efficiency have grown solely through their services in positions of trust? Quite a number in Canada alone.

The reasons are two. Few people act as executors often enough to learn how to manage estates efficiently. The company is managing various estates from day to day. This means that to any new business the company brings a skill and organization developed through years of

LAWSON ARRESTED FOR STOCK DEALS

Charged With Violating State Law Regarding Filing of Information.

Boston, March 25 .- The crusade of Attorney-General Allen against promoters and brokers who have been exploiting silver stocks led to the arrest of Thomas W. Lawson today, He surrendered himself at police head-quarters to answer a warrant charging him with violeting. ing him with violating on four counts a state law regarding the filing of information regarding stock issues. Four other operators and brokers were arrested yesterday, including L. C. Van Riper, of New York, former Lawson and Van Riper in recent months have been active in the pro-motor of silver stocks, which, in the Lawson advertising were featured as "silver, the greatest gamble of the age." Each announced he was developing certain individual silver mine properties as units of general holding companies.

In the campaigns the prices of individual stocks advanced from a few cents to $8 and $9, with subsequent reversals and fluctuations. After news of the arrests yesterday those prices tumbled further. Nearly all the silver stocks which are named in the charges against Lawson, Van Riper and the other men are now selling for so many cents a share.

It was the fact that securities were offered so cheaply, the attorney-general said in a statement yesterday, that attracted to them a class of persons without investing experience, who sacrificed government bonds and savings accounts to obtain funds for stock purchases in hopes of early

LIVE STOCK MARKET

Receipts at the Union Yards yesterday were light—about 700—and prices for all classes of cattle were a trifle stronger. There were no features about the market of moment, and at the close of the week's trading it looks as tho we had a good clean-up at the decline, some of which was regained Wednesday and Thursday.

In the small stuff, there were no changes of note, prices holding about steady. Hogs wound up the week on the basis of from 18½c to 18½c per lb., f.o.b.

SPECIAL MARKET NEWS. Visited the Yards.

A number of prominent western men, Messrs. Wright and Brown of Pilot Mound, Man.; Mr. McKenzie of Brandon, members of the Canadian Council of Agriculture, together with John Marshall of West Middlesex and Arthur Smith of Caledonia, paid a visit to the stock yards yeserday, where they were the guests of the United Farmers' Co-Operative. After a trip thru the yards, the party visited the Harris Abattoir, where they were entertained at lunch, and later visited the Harris Abattoir, where they were entertained at lunch, and later shown thru the plant by Mr. Harris and other members of the firm, and saw the different stages, from the slaughtering to the finished product. They expressed themselves as greatly pleased at all they saw, and stated that their views regarding the handling of live stock by the U. F. O. and the business at the plants had greatly enlarged. The party were under the personal guidance of F. S. Fulthorp of the U.F.O.

An extract from a Morden, Man., paper reported the fifty-second wedding anniversary in that town of Mr. and Mrs. R. versary in that town of Mr. and Mrs. R. J. Collins. It was also the anniversary of Mr. Collins' birthday. For many years Mr. Collins was identified with the old Western Cattle Market, and later at the Union Yards, where he represented Vivian & Co. of Montreal in the capacity of buyer. Elisworth Mabee of the H. P. K. Co. yesterday voiced the wishes of Mr. Collins' colleagues for many returns of the day.

A very firm feeling prevails in the market for all lines of milifeed, owing to the very limited supply available at present. Prices for baled hay rule firm. There is an active demand for supplies in the egg market; no change to note in the potato market. Butter business is quiet and there is steady demand from exporters for cheese.

MORE ABOUT WASAPIKA

To Investors:

Yesterday we drew your attention to the huge body of commercial ore being persistently opened up at the WASAPIKA. This is the way real gold mines are made -by consistent, miner-like development and hard work. The men in charge are not trying to startle the mining world with showy samples, but they are developing a big tonnage of ore that will mean profits.

This is just one of the many strong reasons why we tell you to purchase the stock at present low levels. If insiders are willing to buy stock at present prices, and it is the case, you may know that the stock is worth a good deal more and should work back to much higher levels, WASAPIKA deserves your attention as an outstanding investment.

Yours sincerely,
