WILL V. R. HEARS RULE NEW YORK?

Today's Battle of Ballots Will Tell the Tale ANTI-GRAFT CAMPAIGN

In Philadelphia Results in Stirring Scenes at Polls--Jerome's Election as District-Attorney is Generally Conceded in New York--In Other Cities.

NEW YORK, Nov. 7.—Election day in this city dawned clear and crisp with every indication of an enormous vote being polled, the greater part of it in the very early hours. The polls opened at six o'clock and at nearly every precinct hundreds of voters were already in line.

The morning papers were filled with minute directions as to voting split tickets and the advice was timely, as the prospect was that an unusually large number of ballots would be unintentionally invalidated by the voters.

The Republicans, members of the Municipal Ownership League and supporters of District-Attorney Jerome's independent candidacy have all directed their efforts against Tammany, but without losing sight of individual interests, until a wholesale "scratching" of ballots became inevitable.

An exposure by Mr. Jerome last night of an alleged plot by which $500,000 worth of Democratic tickets were to be distributed among voters, ostensibly illustrating how to vote for Jerome on a split ticket, but which directions if followed would invalidate the ticket, served to increase the fear of tampering with the ballot.

Today's situation is unique in the possibility of the defeat of the Democratic ticket when opposed by two straight and strong party tickets. Heretofore, only fusion has been able to jeopardize the Democratic success, and should Tammany go down to defeat today the victory for the Municipal Ownership League or the Republican ticket would be unprecedented.

The betting may be summed up as follows: George B. McClellan (Dem.), for mayor, 2 to 1 in his favor. Wm. B. Hearst (M.O.), for mayor, 2 to 1 against. Wm. Ivin (Rep.), for mayor, 5 to 1 against. Wm. T. Jerome (Ind.), for district attorney, 2 to 1 in his favor.

A development of interest this morning was the publication of the opinion of the court by Arthur Brisbane, one of Mr. Hearst's editorial writers, who declared that the employer was looking for greater things even than the mayoralty of this city, and he's going to get them. This country is led up for rich, intelligent and powerful men.

Today's vote, which is expected to reach a total of more than 600,000 in this city, is being cast at 1,048 polling places. The total registration is 646,871. The polls will close at five p. m. and the counting of the ballots will be begun immediately thereafter.

In Massachusetts. BOSTON, Mass., Nov. 7.—The voters in this state today were generally favored with fine weather, and the indications in the early forenoon pointed to a total vote much larger than that usually polled in a year when no national officers are at stake. In Boston and nearby cities and in a large percentage of workmen were out before eight o'clock. In this respect, it was estimated that nearly the whole Democratic strength was favoring Henry W. Whitney, the party candidate for lieutenant-governor.

In Philadelphia. PHILADELPHIA, Pa., Nov. 7.—Bright, crisp weather marked election day in this city and the first hour indicated that the vote will be fully as heavy as that polled at any presidential election. Before the polls were opened, lines of voters, numbering in some cases, more than one hundred, stood waiting to cast their ballots. Never has such intense interest been displayed in municipal elections here and the managers of the city party, the reform body organized to defeat the Republican machine, express the opinion that heavy voting indicates a victory for the reform movement. Much pressure was brought to bear on the six-at-home by the reformers and it is claimed that a large majority of those were induced to vote.

Mayor Weaver distributed his extra force of nearly 1,000 special policemen in the wards where disorder was expected, and many were arrested during the first hours, in the suburban precincts. When the polls opened at 7 o'clock, disorder began in several wards. In the fourth ward, charges of illegal voting at one precinct resulted in a disturbance which the police were unable to subdue. A riot call was sent in. Every precinct at the polls, including election officers, was arrested, but all were discharged by the magistrate.

In the eighth ward fifty men accused of attempting to vote on bogus tax receipts were taken into custody and during the disturbance, consequent upon the arrest, three polling places were temporarily closed. The polls do not close in this city until 7 o'clock.

JUDGE FORBES SCORES MAYOR A CHIEF OF POLICE OVER FAIR ABOUT

Grand Jury, in Response to Judge's Wish, Join in Condemning All Such Exhibitions -- Unhesitatingly Pronounced It a Prize Fight and Said It Should Never Have Taken Place.

In the county court this morning Judge Forbes severely criticized the parts that Mayor White, Chief of Police Clark and the police officers had taken in the fatal exhibition in the Queen's rink on last Monday night week.

Judge Forbes delivered a stinging address on the boxing exhibition. He said that generally speaking he must congratulate the police force on the fine order that they maintain, but he would call attention to the regrettable affair that occurred on last Monday week in the Queen's rink.

It was, in his opinion, unquestionably a prize fight, which was a gross violation of the law, and it was therefore the duty of the police to interfere. The law so lays down that it is not necessary to wait for a blow that is going to knock an individual out or kill a man. His Honor said that it was within the province of the High Sheriff of this city to be known of the arranged fight to go and stop it. As a matter of fact said Judge Forbes said: "It has been called a sparring match, but in the law I can find no definition of a sparring match and to say in law that it was only a sparring match is no excuse. The whole procedure was a gross violation of the law."

"I cannot comprehend how the chief magistrate of our city should issue a license for such brutal exhibitions of what is termed the 'manly art.' I cannot understand by what authority he did issue a license for those two men to come together in a ring with referee and seconds to punch and hammer each other. The most astonishing feature of the whole affair was that the mayor issued a license in the name of a man who did not apply for it himself." Judge Forbes then said that no mayor or any other man has any right to issue a license for such affairs.

Among the visitors to City Hall this morning was Baron De Coriolis, who is the credit trustee of the funds which are to be used for the building of the dock. It is stated that the Credit Foncier is ready to advance the necessary funds for the building of the dock, but as the dry dock company at present has no assets they wish to place the money with the city, which would act as trustee of the funds and pay it over to the company as needed on the presentation of the proper vouchers. This matter is being discussed in the talk stage, but it would be necessary for it to be formally presented to the council for their approval.

Dr. R. G. Thompson, of Woodstock, and Miss May J. Sharkey of St. John. (Woodstock Press) Dr. R. G. Thompson went to St. John this morning on a very important mission. His friends will be pleased to know that on Wednesday he will wed Miss May Josephine Sharkey, in the cathedral of the Immaculate Conception, St. John. Dr. A. W. Meahan officiating. The happy couple will be unattended, and the ceremony will be a quiet nuptial owing to a recent bereavement in the family of the groom. Miss Sharkey has made two visits here the guest of her uncle and aunt, Hon. John I. and Mrs. Carlson, and has many warm friends in this town who learn with pleasure that her future home will be amongst them. Dr. Thompson is one of the best known young professional men in Charlottetown. He was born and brought up in Woodstock, at an early period in his life went to Memorial College, after completing a preliminary course at that institution he attended Philadelphia Dental College, from which he graduated with honors in 1901. Since that time he has practised his profession here.

ENGINEER HUNTER AND HIS POSITION

Says He Resigned from Loch Lomond Work Because He COULD NOT GET ON

With Contractor George McArthur--Mr. McArthur Says There Was No Trouble Between Them, but Alleges That Engineer Changed an Estimate.

The principal topic of conversation at City Hall this morning was the resignation of Engineer Hunter, which was discussed at yesterday's meeting of the council. The aldermen and various civic officials were discussing the situation and making conjectures as to the cause of Engineer Hunter's action.

Geo. McArthur, of McArthur & MacVay, when seen by the Times said he knew of no trouble between his firm and the engineer, and did not see why he should make the statement that there had been trouble with them. He said there had been a few differences of opinion on some points, but this was very natural. One of the things Mr. McArthur had objected to was what he claimed as the unwarranted action of the engineer in changing the estimate of the number of years given for the building of the gate chambers. Mr. McArthur said that Engineer Hunter had agreed on a certain estimate at the last meeting of the water and sewerage board, and subsequently when making out the estimate he had made it considerably less. This he did not consider fair and told the engineer so. He said it was possible also that Mr. Hunter was displeased because they had obtained an order from the board at their last meeting for certain work to be done. However, he said he had no quarrel with the engineer and did not see why he should resign as he was going along all right.

Engineer Hunter, when seen, said that his resignation covered the ground so far as his reasons were concerned, and he had nothing more to say until the board had time to consider it. Asked if he would remain if the board would straighten out the difficulties, he said the board had nothing to do with it. It had simply come to the place where he could not get along with Geo. McArthur. He said he did not have to stay here, as he could get a position elsewhere, and he did not intend to remain under the existing conditions. He had had a consultation with Mr. McArthur & MacVay and he had intended to stand it any longer. Concerning the statement of Mr. McArthur that he had changed the estimate, he said he had done nothing of the kind, but had given the contractors all they were entitled to. He had no interest in the matter other than to protect the city's interests and said that the work was properly carried out.

A consultation was held in the mayor's office this morning between the mayor, Geo. McArthur and Engineer Hunter. Mayor White, when asked for his opinion on the consultation, said he had arranged for a conference between McArthur and Hunter, and an amicable arrangement had been made. At present he did not care to discuss the matter.

A meeting of the water and sewerage board has been called for Thursday afternoon at 4 o'clock and the matter will be fully gone into. It is the general feeling among the members of the board that Engineer Hunter should stay until the completion of the work.

Electric Cars for the Island Proposal to Establish a Line from Summerside to Surrounding Villages.

CHARLOTTETOWN, P. E. I., Nov. 7.—(Special)—It is understood that the business men of Summerside have had a survey for establishing a line of electric cars taking in the surrounding villages to Summerside, such as St. Boniface, Traveller's Rest, New Annan, Kensington, etc. This line, it is proposed should form a circuit with Summerside as a starting point and embracing the above places with extensions to Summerside and other villages. If deemed desirable the above line is to be constructed. There are no electric roads as yet in the province. A bill was introduced into the legislature some years ago asking for power to a company to establish a line in Charlottetown with extensions to boats on the north shore, but owing to strong opposition to a clause which provided for running cars on Sunday the measure was killed.

John Abas McDonald was tried before a charge of stabbing his son, Murdoch during a potato digging frolic on Thanksgiving evening at Fossil Road, and was sent up to the supreme court.

SAD FATALITY Body of Vassar Girl Found in College Lake--She Took An Overdose of Headache Powders.

POUGHKEEPSIE, N. Y., Nov. 7.—The body of Miss Emily Egan, a young member of the freshman class at Vassar College, was found in the college lake early this morning. Subsequent investigation showed that Miss Egan yesterday, not feeling well, took some headache powders. It is believed she unintentionally took an overdose and that while dead by the effects of the medicine, wandered away in the darkness of last night and accidentally walked into the water.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE Harry Turner, U. S. immigration agent, in the city. Conductor A. E. Brown, of the I. C. R., and wife returned today from a trip to Montreal and Boston. John Walsh, who has been ill for the past few days, is able to be out again.

Lizzie McCordick, who escaped from custody after being charged with keeping a disorderly house, has not yet been found. This afternoon the inmates are being tried before Magistrate Ritchie. The house is alleged to have been kept on St. James street, west end.

The estate of the late Wm. H. Murray has passed over to the provincial government, $30,000 succession tax on the estate.

PRIZE WINNERS IN THE R. K. Y. C.

The Sailor Boys Who Were Successful in Last Season's Races Will Receive Their Trophies Tonight.

At the regular quarterly meeting of the R. K. Y. C. this evening the prizes won during the past season will be presented to the winners in the various races. In the quadrennial regatta which was held on July 1st, the Smokes, owned by Ralph Fowler, captured the first prize in a race of 1000 yds. The second prize was won by the Lassie, owned by Norman Trueman, the prize being a silver cup donated by W. H. Thorne. The third prize was won by the Lassie, owned by Norman Trueman, the prize being a silver cup donated by W. H. Thorne. The fourth prize was won by the Lassie, owned by Norman Trueman, the prize being a silver cup donated by W. H. Thorne.

"Judge Carleton," said the chief, "decided that the Lassie's fight was a prize fight. He was wrong wrong wrong," said Judge Forbes.

The Times New Reporter.

Mr. Peter Binks "unwittingly" lit a match this morning, in attempting to start a fire, and we regret to announce that it caused a slight blaze. Mr. Binks will be more careful in future.

THIS WEEK NEXT WEEK. The new reporter desires to make an explanation. It was stated by him last week that the new ferry steamer would be put on the route some more for the first time the first of this week. Such was the intention of the ferry committee, but they had not consulted the Ludlow, but they had not consulted the Ludlow, but they had not consulted the Ludlow. This was an error in judgment, had it been Jwan Lung or the Quangsoy, they might have predicted within a few days of the exact date of some degree of assurance; but the Ludlow is a law unto herself. She is a female of uncertain moods, and liable to astonish her devoted admirers by some new freak of fancy at any moment. It is now stated that she may go on the route the latter part of the week or the first of next, but the new reporter will not go further than to say that he is still confident that she will be on the route before Christmas. The Ludlow is getting to be quite an old maid now, and is quite "set" in her ways. Wilson also won't she won't, and Supi-Glasgow knows it.

JAMESSEY AS A REFORMER. Mr. Jamessey Jones is now nearly recovered from the gripe and is preparing to make an attack upon the Citizens League. Jamessey is an earnest soul who will adopt his prejudices and pull his League and make it do his will; it must be suppressed. Indeed he sees in it a dark and ominous attack upon the liberties of a free people who should all think as he thinks. But if the League will adopt his prejudices and pull his cheneute out of the fire he may stay his destructive hand. He will hold a conference with the other members of the League, and after he has eaten them he will present his ultimatum to the League. Jamessey is a terror when he is roused.

Blazed Trail Stories
AND
Stories of the Wild Life

By Stewart Edward White.

BILLY'S TENDERFOOT.

During one spring of the early seventies Billy Knapp ran a speck of roadhouse and hotel at the crossing of the Deadwood and Big Horn trails through Ouster Valley. Travellers changing from one to the other frequently stopped there over night. He sold accommodations for man and beast, the former comprising plenty of whiskey, the latter plenty of hay. That was the best anyone could say of it. The hotel was of logs, two-storied, with partitions of sheeting to insure a certain privacy of sight if not of sound; had three beds and a number of bunks; and housed a woman cook—one of the first in the Hills. Billy did not run it long. He was too restless. For the time being, however, he was interested and satisfied.

The tenderfoot was seated on a small trunk just outside the door. He held his hat in his hand, Billy could see his dome-like bald head. Beneath the dome was a little pink-and-white face, and below that, narrow, sloping shoulders, a flat chest, and bony legs. He wore a light check suit, and a flannel shirt whose collar was much too large for him. Billy took this all in while passing. As the driver climbed to the seat, the hotel-keeper commented. "Say, Hen," said he, "would you stuff it or put it under a glass case?" "No, I don't want to," replied the tenderfoot. "It's a lay foolhouse," replied the driver, briefly, and brought his long hair bobbed across the four startled looks of the house.

checked girl. The stranger kept his eyes on his hat while she was in the room. He perched on the edge of the bench with his feet tucked under him and resting on the toes. When she approached, the muscles of his shoulders and upper arms grew rigid with embarrassment, causing strange awkward movements of the hands. Billy ate expansively and earnestly. Toward the close of the meal Charley slipped into place beside him. Charley was out of humor, and found the most cold. "Damn your soul, Nell," he cried, "this year ain't taken for a hog to eat!" "I don't wonder you don't like it, then," said he, with a funny little glare of anger. "Meanin' what?" shouted Charley, threateningly. "You sure ain't speak to a lady that way," replied the stranger, firmly, in his little piping voice. Billy caught the point and exploded in a mighty puff. "Billy for you!" he cried, snatching his razor. "I'm sorry, but you've got to be right for a while. Charley—"

THROWING LIGHT On the Subject of Home Dyeing.

Home dyeing is a fascinating and money-saving work when Diamond Dyes are used. Home coloring has an attraction for ladies in all ranks of society, and the wonderful results achieved by the Diamond Dyes for women, have made them the popular home dye in all parts of the world. One ten-cent package of the Diamond Dyes will do the same work that a steam dyeing establishment charges one dollar for. All faded and dingy looking dresses, skirts, suits, blouses, jackets, ribbons, stockings, coats, veils and trousseaus, can be re-colored in the home and made to look as good as new, at a cost of from ten to twenty cents, when the never-fading Diamond Dyes are used. It is well to bear in mind that direct money saving can only be guaranteed when Diamond Dyes are used. Have a care that you do not buy the worthless imitations sold by some dealers. Refuse such deceptive dyes if you would avoid trouble and loss of money and temper. Ask for the DIAMOND DYES; refuse all others that may be offered to you.

MONEY-HUNGER AND GRAFT WRECKED THIS BANK AND MADE CASHIER A SUICIDE

How State Politicians in Pennsylvania Gambled for the Control of a State With Public Funds for Chips—Ambition and Cupidity of Enterprise Bank Cashier Made Their Game Possible—Most Amazing Story of Graft in History of Pennsylvania.

(New York World.) PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 27.—Men have gambled for kingdoms—empire—in books, but rarely in life. Here is the story of a real gamble for a State to be, big enough for a kingdom and rich enough naturally for an empire, and for a Legislature and a United States Senatorship in which the chips were a railroad and the resources of the treasury of Pennsylvania. Here is a story that starts with the lust of one man for power and place, and the hunger of another for wealth, and winds up with suicide, the wrecking of a bank and the distress of three thousand depositors.

More—here is a story that uncovers the financial methods of the most powerful political organization of a great state, that tells of the use of public money for private ends, of the juggling of State funds, of enormous graft in the name of loans, of political bosses—a story that has no parallel, even in this State of Pennsylvania, where the control of the treasury by the gang has time and again brought death as well as dishonor. And with it all, there is the slightest of revenge taken by a former member of the gang, who "sheds no tears" over the plight of his one-time hand-in-glove associates.

Clark slept but little. He tossed about. Just before 8 o'clock his wife arose and went down stairs to see about breakfast for the children. She begged her husband to remain in bed and try to get some rest. He said he must get up. When Mrs. Clark left the bedroom he had on his shirt and trousers. She had hardly reached the foot of the stairs when she heard a heavy fall in the bedroom. She thought her husband had fainted. She ran back to the bedroom and found him lying on the floor with a bullet hole in his temple. He did not regain consciousness and died that afternoon at 2:30 o'clock.

Wreck of Enterprise Bank

Tucked away in lower Allegheny, several miles from the business centre of Pittsburgh, almost out of the country, the Enterprise National Bank did business, apparently for the many small tradesmen and workmen in that vicinity. It had a capital of $200,000 and a surplus of the same amount and compared with some of the great banking institutions of Pittsburgh was most insignificant. The president was Fred. Gwinner, a rich and amiable German, who made his money as a contractor, and was trusted and respected by everybody in the city. The cashier was T. Leo Clark, a native of the North Side, son of a miller, who began as a messenger in the bank and became its cashier. He was an elder in the Presbyterian church and a man of great energy and activity. He, too, was trusted by everybody.

The Enterprise had 3,000 depositors, mostly men and women living on the North Side. The report made to the comptroller of the currency Aug. 25 last showed the deposits to be $1,137,500, the reserve to be $124,000.80, and its loans and discounts to be $2,262,807.74. Its total resources were given as $2,973,189.56, and its liabilities as a like amount, of him to stay at home. He refused, went out and did not return until midnight. When he came in he was even more depressed than he was at the supper table. He had spent five hours with Examiner Cunningham. No one now alive but the Examiner and Comptroller Ridgely knows exactly what happened at that conference. Undoubtedly Cunningham found enough there to stamp Clark as the defaulter he is now known to be and to discover the hopeless condition of the bank, looted it was.

Clark slept but little. He tossed about. Just before 8 o'clock his wife arose and went down stairs to see about breakfast for the children. She begged her husband to remain in bed and try to get some rest. He said he must get up. When Mrs. Clark left the bedroom he had on his shirt and trousers. She had hardly reached the foot of the stairs when she heard a heavy fall in the bedroom. She thought her husband had fainted. She ran back to the bedroom and found him lying on the floor with a bullet hole in his temple. He did not regain consciousness and died that afternoon at 2:30 o'clock. Examiner Cunningham had been at the bank all the morning, but the usual run of business was going on. At 1 o'clock the bank was closed and a notice posted that it was in the hands of the bank examiner, who later was appointed receiver. There was a meeting of the board of directors. After the board meeting, President Gwinner said: "The Republican state ring is responsible for the fall of this man. This is the end of the Republican party in this state. The Republican state ring finally got him. They have been using the bank. 'Ball' Andrews has a loan for $400,000 and other politicians have paper here. The bank has over $600,000 state deposits, but whether it is all out or not no one can tell." Then Gwinner said: "It was the funniest thing I ever saw in my life. All this is the preliminary to the real story of what happened to the Enterprise National Bank, but the president and the cashier outlined the story, one at the supper table to his wife and one after the board meeting. "I was expecting a telegram and it did not come," said Clark. "That telegram was to be one announcing the closing of a deal that would have placed Clark over the bank open and made money for everybody concerned. (Continued on Page Six.)

THE EVENING TIMES.

ST. JOHN, N. B., NOV. 7, 1905.

The St. John Evening Times is published at 27 and 28 Canterbury Street, every evening. (Sunday excepted) by the St. John Times Printing & Publishing Co., a company incorporated under the Joint Stock Companies Act. A. M. BELLING, Editor.

TWO VIEWS COMPARED

The St. John Globe on Saturday evening contained a sentence in its leading editorial which one would rather not think was printed with approval in a St. John newspaper. It was this:—

"In the meantime do not let us lose sight of the fact that the whole British empire exists because it has been called into existence by the enterprise and for the honor and glory and benefit of the United Kingdom, and that this fact imposes upon her the best obligation of defending it at all hazards."

The Times directs the attention of its readers to this statement, and desires to place beside it a statement made by the Rt. Hon. Joseph Chamberlain, in his address to the Canadian Manufacturers' Association in Birmingham last June. Mr. Chamberlain said:—

"We speak of the British Empire—we speak of the British Colonies. Neither the one nor the other term adequately represents the modern situation. The British Empire is not an empire in the sense in which the term has been applied to any empire which has gone before. The British Colonies are no longer colonies in the sense in which that term was originally applied to them. What are we all? We are sister states—in which the mother country by virtue of her age, by virtue of all she has done in the past, may claim to be first, but only first among equals. Now the question is—How are we to bring together these states which have voluntarily accepted one crown and one flag, and which in all else are absolutely independent one of the other?"

A comparison of the two statements does not reflect much credit upon the breadth of view of a gentleman whom the Globe no doubt cordially detests, but who stands for the principle of imperial unity.

TODAY IN NEW YORK

Resolutions, which may be regarded as sufficiently conservative authority on the New York election which is taking place today, offered these observations on Saturday:—

"Recent municipal campaigns have carried with them one very significant lesson, namely, that, speaking generally, the mobility of the electorate has been underestimated by party managers. That has been illustrated more than once within the last dozen years in the city of New York, and it is now recognized that it is far more difficult to forecast the result of an election, or even the actual alignment of the voting citizens, than it was some weeks ago when they seemed to be but some ingenuously candid who had no prospect of success in New York, and it was difficult to secure a man willing to run on the usual opposition ticket. Now, not only has such a candidate been found, but entirely new elements have been injected into the campaign by the candidacy of a man running for the mayoralty on the platform of municipal ownership—a candidacy which has, according to surface indications, eaten largely into the strength of the old parties—and by the surprising success made by the present incumbent in the office of district attorney, who, not being named by any party, is appealing for popular support upon his record in office. What the outcome will be remains to be seen; what is apparent is that the line of party allegiance is more lightly on the average citizen than they did, and that this feeling of independence is being more widely manifested than at any prior time for many years."

WINNIPEG'S EXAMPLE

It will interest the members of the Citizens League and others who desire to see better civic government in St. John to learn that in Winnipeg the initiative has been taken in a similar direction by the mayor and the chairman of the municipal committee of the board of trade. They have sent to representative business men a circular which reads as follows:—

"The matter of the best and most suitable form of municipal government for the management of the affairs of the city of Winnipeg has been discussed in a general way by the citizens for some time past, but no serious attempt has been made to bring representatives of business and other organizations of the city together for the purpose of considering it. It has been suggested that a conference of such representatives might lead to some practical discussion or result, and with that object in view you are personally invited to attend a meeting for an exchange of views to be held on Wednesday, Nov. 8, at 8 o'clock p. m., in the council chamber of the city hall.

"It is proposed, when the meeting assembles, that the representatives present organize as they find most advisable, but it is to be understood that the main idea is to secure an expression of opinion on the subject of the best form of municipal government for the city of Winnipeg, and that representatives individually retain full liberty of action to make any recommendations or suggestions they may see fit to their own association."

The Montreal Witness admits that the street railway of that city gives a pretty good and cheap car service, but points to half a dozen accidents occurring in one day as evidence that there is room for improvement. Regarding the splendid financial showing of the company for the year, the Witness admits that the citizens as well as the directors are pleased, but adds: "They (the citizens) know well enough that the company is making altogether undue profits at their expense. They know the bargain by which the company got its charter was made by aldermen working in the interests of the company, and not of the public. They know that, whenever the company wants anything of the city, or whenever there is danger of substantial competition, the street railway never fails to have active and open advocates in the council, and that the council as a whole stretches the tolerance of the public to the utmost on its behalf."

The coroner's jury expresses the view that the blow which killed Charles O'Regan was "unwittingly" given at a "sparring exhibition." There is perhaps nothing more wonderful than the verdict of coroner's jury, and this one should not, perhaps, occasion any surprise. But the affair referred to was not a sparring exhibition, and the principals were not hitting each other unwittingly. There is no desire to place upon the unhappy young man who struck the blow any undue responsibility, for there was no previous ill-feeling between him and his adversary. They were striving for the mastery. But the people's verdict is that Charles O'Regan came to his death from a blow dealt jointly and unwittingly by all those who were responsible for permitting the brutal affair to go on to the end.

An influential delegation waited upon the Provincial Secretary of Ontario last week and asked him to visit Massachusetts and other states where the probation system for first offenders and for inebriates is in force, or to send his chief inspector of prisons and charities, to enquire into the working and the advantages of the system. This system applies to children and youths, adult first offenders convicted of light offences, and to inebriates. The Times some months ago quoted from a Boston paper statements to show that it works admirably in that city. The Provincial Secretary of Ontario promised the delegation that their views will receive his best consideration.

The city council yesterday referred back to the water board its foolish recommendation to keep news away from the evening papers. That was just as well, in the interests of fair play, for the Globe last evening printed the substance of one of the communications which was placed before the council until long after the Globe went to press. The Times did not attempt to learn the substance of the communications because of the order passed; but the Globe, perhaps with less faith in the power of the aldermen and officials to obey their own rules, went after the item and got it. Who gave it away?

The Rev. A. B. Cohen has received from clergymen and members of other churches assurances of their appreciation of his courage in emphasizing the over-church condition of the city, and in stepping down and out if necessary to bring about a better condition of affairs in regard to the Baptist churches in the east end of the city. The question he has raised will be considered by representatives of the churches affected, and it may be assumed that the result will be a beneficial reorganization with a reduction in the number of church edifices.

The resignation of Engineer Hunter creates a new and interesting situation for the water board. It is obvious that relations are strained between the engineer and one firm of contractors. As his evidence may be of value in any subsequent litigation, it seems unfortunate from the city's standpoint that he should now desire to quit the city's service. But why should an engineer care what contractors say, so long as he does his duty to his employers? Is he not backed up by the board?

The campaign in North York is growing warm. Mr. Aylesworth opposes the pension scheme but otherwise defends the government's policy. Mr. McCallum, the conservative candidate, has declared himself as opposed to the increased indemnities and the pensions, and as favoring public ownership of telegraphs and telephones, the regulation of the rates of express companies, the reduction of passenger rates and general opposition to corporate influence. He is a farmer and a member of the county council of North York.

One New York firm of brokers seem to think that Wall street should have some dread of Mr. Hearst. They say: "In well informed circles there is a growing impression that Mr. Hearst's chances of election on Tuesday next are steadily brightening. Whence the Street derives this belief it is difficult to say, but there is no doubt that among important interests there is a decided feeling of anxiety in regard to the outcome of Tuesday's election."

On Thursday of this week the Toronto Board of Control will discuss three temperance resolutions submitted by Controller Spence. The first is to reduce tavern licenses from 150 to 125, and shop licenses from 20 to 40; the second is to increase the license fee, and the third to exclude drinking places from certain residential areas to be determined by the board.

DR. A. W. MACRAE

Dr. A. W. Macrae, of the law firm of Macrae & Sinclair, was born in St. John's, Newfoundland. He is a son of the Rev. Donald Macrae, D. D. His mother was a daughter of the Hon. Kenneth McLea, a prominent merchant of St. John's and a member of the legislative council of the Island Colony. A. W. Macrae attended the denominational schools in St. John's and on the removal of the family to Hopewell, Pictou Co., N. S., he attended the public schools there. In 1874 he came to St. John, his father taking the pastorate of St. Stephen's Presbyterian church. He attended the public schools in this city, and the grammar school, and then took a five years' course in Dalhousie University, Halifax, in the sciences, art, medical and law departments, graduating B. A. in 1880. He was very successful at Dalhousie, winning $600 in scholarships and leading his class in organic and practical chemistry, ancient and modern history, mental and moral philosophy, Roman law, international law and constitutional history. He was also the senior editor of the college "Gazette." On completion of his studies at Dalhousie he became mathematical teacher in the grammar school here. In 1887 he matriculated to the Univer-city of London, Eng. in the honor division, with marks qualifying him for a prize; in 1889 he passed the intermediate LL. B. on examination there, standing in the first division and leading in jurisprudence and constitutional history. The same year he was admitted to the bar of New Brunswick and entered Harvard Law School from whence he graduated A. M. in law in 1890. While in Harvard, the Harvard Canadian Society was organized of which he was the first secretary. He commenced practice in St. John in 1890 and in 1895 a partnership was formed with John A. Sinclair under the name of Macrae & Sinclair. In 1897 he received the degree of A. M. honoris causa from the University of New Brunswick and later on examination on thesis he received from the same university honoris causa the degree of B. C. L. and D. C. L. It will thus be seen that his college career was a notable one. In the practice of his profession Dr. Macrae has been engaged in many notable cases and acquitted himself with marked ability. In 1898 he was elected alderman from Wellington ward, and has served as representative for that ward ever since. He has held the office of deputy mayor, chairman of the city and county, chairman of the appeals committee and chairman of the bills and by-laws committee. He is one of the organizers of the union of Canadian Municipalities in 1900, and was first vice-president for New Brunswick from 1900 to 1905. He takes an active interest in advocating municipal ownership and reform in the taxation system. Though he has never represented his party in the federal or local parliament, he has always been a staunch conservative, and has been tendered a nomination on several occasions. He is a member of the executive of the Liberal-Conservative Association of the province, and is past president of the Liberal-Conservative Club of this city. He is also a member of the Board of Trade of St. Andrew's Society. In the fraternal orders he has held many high offices and received numerous honors from the various orders of which he is a member. In Masonry he is a past master of St. John's Lodge, P.H.P. of Carleton Royal Arch Chapter, T.T.L. of St. John Council Royal and Select Masters, a member of Rose Croix Chapter, St. John Encampment Knights Templar, A. and A. Scottish Rite, and of the Mystical Shrine. He is also a member of Union Lodge No. 2, Knights of Pythias. In the Independent Order of Foresters he is a past officer of the Supreme Court, past H.C.R. of the High Court of N.B., past chief ranger of Court La Tour, a Royal Forester and a Chevalier of the Legion of Honor. In the Orange order he is past grand chaplain of the Grand Lodge and a life member of the Grand Lodge by a special vote; past master of Havelock Lodge, a member of Queen's Preceptory, Royal Black Knights, and a present Deputy County Master for the St. John County Lodge. He is a Presbyterian and a trustee of St. Stephen's church. Dr. Macrae married Miss Gertrude T. Gregory, daughter of Mr. Justice Gregory of the Supreme Court of New Brunswick, and they have three children, two sons and a daughter. Their home is at 82 Coburg street. The annual meeting of the Time Table Distributing Company of Canada was held here yesterday. Hon. Wm. C. Ogilvy was re-elected president; L. G. Crosby, vice-president, and James D. Seely, manager and treasurer. Chief Justice Tuck and Judges McLeod and Barker went to Fredericton last evening.

—The Graft of the Gang

The State of Pennsylvania has, at the present time, $4,000,000 in its sinking fund and $10,000,000 in its general fund. These sums are given in round numbers. As is customary in all the states, the treasurer deposits this money in certain banks designated as state depositories, and the banks pay two per cent interest.

The sinking fund deposits are usually time deposits, but the deposits from the general fund are open accounts, subject to withdrawal at any time by the treasurer. The State Treasurer has had sole power to designate these depositories. He picked out the banks and sent such sums to them as he desired. There has been no audit of the State Treasury of Pennsylvania for forty years.

Ordinarily, the bankers are glad to get this money. It costs them little and can be turned over with good profit. It is also, a good investment for a bank, and especially one of the smaller banks, to be shown a state depository.

Thousands have been cured in this way. The gang's plan of operation is simple. They have an agent, nominally representing the State Treasurer, who travels over the state looking for banks that shall be suitable depositories.

The agent makes two propositions to the bankers who are about to be honored by the State Treasurer. He is scrupulous about getting the two per cent interest for the state. That makes it legal. Then he asks for one and one-half per cent for himself and the gang, as a recognition for the honor and the use of the money.

He points out that the bankers can easily make from ten per cent by loaning it. It is well worth trying. You can go right ahead with your work and send your name and address to Pittsburgh, Pa., 7022 Pymouth Building, Marshall, Mich., and receive free by return mail the trial package in a plain wrapper.

—Progress of the Game

Andrews went to New Mexico to live. He began operations at once, and soon had a large number of clients in politics. The Santa Fe Central was capitalized for $2,000,000. No stock was issued, but it was bonded for $2,000,000 and $1,000,000 of the bonds were at once made ready for negotiation.

The road was surveyed and is now running. It extends from Santa Fe to Torrance, and is about 110 miles in length. It has, according to the official railway equipment register, ten locomotives, seventy-nine freight cars, four passenger cars and several miscellaneous cars.

One night last April, Andrews was in the billiard room in the hotel at Bisbee, Ariz. Another man, gray headed and old, came in and sat down at the billiard table. Andrews looked at him and said: "What part?" asked the second comer.

W. H. Logan of the Strait Shore will shortly launch a very pretty gasoline launch which he has built for Dr. Deane. The boat is 15 feet long and 5 feet wide and cost about $700. Mr. Logan will, as usual, have a large number of boats in care for during the coming winter, and he already has had a dozen or more belonging to various parties about the city to look after until spring.

Boy Morris, who is employed on the schooner Edmonds, and who on shore resides on Strait Shore, had a cold bath last night. The schooner is lying at Starbuck wharf, and last night while Morris was trying to board her he fell between the wharf and the schooner, the latter being farther from the wharf than he judged. He seized the anchor chain and while holding himself above the water shouted for help. Officers Finley and Sullivan hearing his calls ran down the wharf, and a rope having been thrown to him, Morris was soon aboard the schooner.

SACKVILLE

SACKVILLE, Nov. 6.—The anniversary services of the Epworth League in connection with the Methodist church will be held on Sunday, Nov. 12th. BUSY TIMES IN MONCTON

A Boom in the Cotton Mill —Interesting Scott Act Case —The United Baptists.

MONCTON, Nov. 6.—The Moncton cotton mill is a busy place these days. Manager Jackson states that the mill has the biggest rush of orders known for the past six or seven years.

The orders are being turned out as fast as possible, but if no more orders come in, it will be kept busy for some time working on those now on hand. The mill is employing 225 hands at present and employment could be given to 25 more if they could be secured.

A rather unique Scott Act case engaged the attention of the police court this afternoon. The case was brought by the wife of a well-known resident of the city against the proprietor of a hotel on Duke street. The woman was complaining of the case and appeared in court to prosecute the charge without an attorney. Her main witness was her husband, whom she had taken from the saloon and incidentally destroyed some liquor during her visit to the saloon. The woman also gave evidence herself and the case was stood over until tomorrow. Considerable interest is taken in the case on account of the tactics adopted by the woman to stop saloon keepers selling her husband liquor.

Joe McKean has sold his beautiful stallion Lucky Jack, to W. H. Miller, of Campbellton. The price paid was $300.

It is now understood that the case of Emmons vs. Maddison, which is to be argued before the Privy Council of England will not come up before January or February next.

Mr. Powell, who will argue the case for Maddison has been notified by his London agent that the case will not be reached this month and it will probably go over till along the first of next year.

The United Baptist church of this city, which has been undergoing extensive repairs, and been considerably enlarged, will be reopened on Sunday next. The Moncton church is the first in the province to carry into practical effect the union of the two Baptist denominations and the occasion of the re-dedicating of the church is to be of more than ordinary interest. Three services will be held. The Rev. J. H. McDonald of Fredericton will preach in the morning and the Rev. Dr. McLeod, of Fredericton, will preach in the evening. Rev. D. MacOdrum, pastor of St. John's church, will conduct the afternoon service.

Of the large number of applicants throughout the province for recent seasonships it is said that Moncton has only two. One is said to be a newspaper publisher and the other is a fairly well known dry goods merchant.

The Ladies' Auxiliary of the Y. M. C. A. have elected the following officers for the year: President, Mrs. H. G. Marz; first vice-president, Mrs. D. I. Welch; 2nd vice-president, Mrs. C. E. Taylor; secretary, Mrs. J. E. Macleary; treasurer, Mrs. J. A. Killan.

Mrs. A. E. O'Leary, of Richbrock, has been spending a week or two in the city with her sister, Mrs. W. S. Cannon.

Rev. J. B. Ganong, secretary of the Y. B. S. Association, is in the city today.

Eight new members were admitted to membership by letter in the United Baptist church Sunday night.

CONVANSING THE CITY

There is one school in this city whose students are never heard of in the matter of looking for positions, and the reason is plain: the school's representatives are the business offices just as energetically as they canvass for students. Business men seldom accept the statements of any school with reference to the qualifications of its students; they demand bona fide evidence that the applicant is capable of performing a certain amount of correct work in a day. This evidence can be produced by the Curtis Business University, Limited, hence the reason why this school is able to report so many positions filled at salaries $200 to $300 per year.

No "plums" are being offered by banks in the line of positions. A beginner is generally required to accept two or three dollars per week, and the bank knows that the Curtis Business University, Limited, has turned down all applications for help at these figures.

This school offers one week's trial free, at the end of which time, if the work accomplished by applicant is satisfactory, the school will guarantee a position.

A CHANCE FOR CARPENTERS

Tomorrow morning will see the last of the Fair of Nations when there will be sold by public auction in the St. Andrew's Rink all the lumber used in the construction of the various booths. There is quite a large quantity of good material, which will no doubt be of value to carpenters. The proceeds of the sale will go toward the building fund of the new Y. M. C. A. building.

THOSE CASES OF FEVER AND THE PROBABLE CAUSE

Dr. J. P. McInerney Shows First Case Did Not Come From Moncton—Very Dry Autumn Responsible, but People Should Avoid Water From Wells in Vicinity of City.

St. John, N.B., Nov. 7, 1906. Sir—I have to spoil a nice little story, but noticing under flaming headlines in the daily papers that the supposed original cause of the outbreak of typhoid fever on Douglas avenue was a case said to be imported from Moncton in the person of Mrs. Harry McCullough, I deem it my duty, as attending physician in that case, to correct that statement. Mrs. McCullough was back in her own home in St. John between three and four weeks before she showed any symptoms of the disease.

Both Drs. Burney Yeo and Ouler state in their "Practices of Medicine," and as every reputable physician should know, that the period of incubation of typhoid fever is a week to ten days.

Under these circumstances, it would appear that the statement that the case of McCullough in sanitary science would be required to point out the cause in this so-called original case.

This story, beautiful in theory, goes on to relate how myriads of germs—typhoid in character—poured from the sick room into the sewer leading from the dwelling and exuding from a sewer-rotten front end—found their way into a now famous spring, thus infecting the water and the persons partaking thereof.

I deem it my duty also to take exception to the statement as the physician in attendance. I would consider any physician guilty of serious neglect who would permit anything of this nature while in attendance on a case of typhoid fever.

According to Burney Yeo: "The principal of prophylaxis in dealing with an actual case of typhoid is to destroy the vitality of the germs discharged from the intestine as soon as possible and to prevent the infection of the organism being conveyed into the soil-pipes and drains, or otherwise disseminated. If there be anything in the nature of the spring water, it should be effectively carried out in this case by SHEFFIELD."

LEARNING A LANGUAGE

An Evening Spent With Prof. Dodge, Who Teaches the Natural Method.

It seems hardly credible that in five short weeks one can acquire sufficient grasp of the French language to enable him to transcribe at all of English, or to travel through France without the aid of an interpreter, to read any ordinary French book or write any ordinary French letter, or to be understood by anyone familiar with the language; and yet this is exactly what Prof. Dodge has been doing in his classes at the Curtis Business University, Limited, since he came to St. John.

Eight new members were admitted to membership by letter in the United Baptist church Sunday night.

SHEFFIELD

SHEFFIELD, Nov. 6.—The government has a number of men employed digging telephone post holes along the river between Jernise and Manganville. They are at present working in Sheffield.

Mrs. Annie Barrow who has been visiting relatives in St. John for the last fortnight returned home Saturday by steamer Pokanoket.

Sheffield was visited by the first snow storm of the season on Saturday.

Miss F. H. Tapley of Lakeville Corner returned Saturday from St. John with her winter supply of goods for her store at Lakeville Corner.

Mrs. Camp of Upper Sheffield has returned home from a pleasant visit to relatives in St. John and vicinity.

Mrs. Jack Randall and family have returned to their home at Lakeville Corner, Maine, in a brother of the deceased.

Miss Eliza B. Miles who has spent the last few years in Montana has returned to her home in Sheffield.

Mrs. B. H. Thomas of Dochester spent a few days with friends here last week. She is accompanied by her husband, Fred Thomas, who has returned from a business trip to St. John.

Ben. Laurvigson of the Little River stream one day last week. Mr. Laurvigson took the mosey to St. John on Saturday by steamer Victoria.

J. A. Winslow, S. Dow, Simmons, Norw. Tennant, James Tobin and Charles McLeod of Fredericton are on a week's hunting trip to Little River, Sheffield, in search of big game.

Miss J. V. Bridges, Miss Florence Bass and Mrs. Millard Reid were the guests of the Messrs. Roberts of Fredericton after a visit to her parents, Mr. and Mrs. George Briggs of Lakeville Corner, Maine, in a brother of the deceased at a business college in her native province.

FUNERAL

The funeral of Margaret Allen took place this afternoon from the Charles McLeod funeral home, 230 Rev. E. P. McKim conducted a service at the home and interment was in Fernhill.

The Saint John Business College has been noted for the high grade of its instruction. This is largely because of the reputation the college has for thorough, honest work and more largely perhaps because Messrs. Kerr & Son have never been driven to canvass for students, and do not encourage incompetents to come to them.

Business men, knowing these facts, and that any statement made by the Messrs. Kerr can be absolutely relied upon, do not hesitate to apply to the management when in need of office help. As a consequence, St. John Business College graduates get all the plum jobs and hold the leading positions. This is evidenced by the fact that six have recently been placed in banks, and many others in the best offices in the city.

Evening classes are conducted Monday, Wednesday and Friday evenings, from 7.30 to 9.30.

PERSONAL INTELLIGENCE

Dr. Thompson, of Woodstock, who is to be married here Wednesday, reached the city yesterday.

Miss Florie B. McConnell, of St. John, is the guest of her brother, J. R. McConnell, Kirk street—Yarmouth Times.

Mrs. Henry Mackay and Mrs. Thomas Montgomery, of Fredericton, are visiting Mrs. James Mulhern, Sydney street.

Arthur McCloskey, who has been spending a short vacation at home, left on Saturday evening for Montreal, where he holds a responsible position with the G. T. Railway.

Mrs. C. V. Willet has returned home after a pleasant visit to her brothers, D. V. Connolly, of East Hampton (Mass.), and William, of New York, whom she had not seen for thirty years.

Geo. V. McInerney, K. C. and Rev. Dr. Burney Yeo, of St. John, left last evening for Kingston (Ont.), to attend the quarterly meeting of the C. M. B. A. trustee board.
