SUBSTANTIAL PROGRESS AGAIN BY BRITISH ON FRONT OF 1,000 YARDS

Advance North of Ovillers But Rain and Mist Interfere Elsewhere—Germans Make Gain on the French Front—German Trench on Belgian Front Raided

London, July 18.—Substantial progress by the British on a front of 1,000 yards north of Ovillers was announced today by the war office.

The statement follows:—"Thick mist and incessant rains still are interfering with our operations in the neighborhood of the Somme, but to the north of Ovillers we made substantial progress last night on a front of 1,000 yards. The enemy were driven out of several strongly defended points."

RAID IN BELGIUM. "Near Wytchaete, Belgium, we made a successful raid into German trenches. Opposite Guinchy, northern France, a similar attempt by the enemy was frustrated by our fire."

Paris, July 18.—The Germans made an attack last night on the French line south of the Somme, and gained ground in the vicinity of Blaches. The war office announces this.

The German attack was delivered against the French positions from Blaches to La Maisonette. Several attempts to take La Maisonette failed with heavy loss to the Germans, but groups of the attacking forces spread along the canal on the east side of the Blaches where the fighting continues. A German raid on Hill 304, on the Verdun front west of the Meuse, was broken up by French infantry fire. East of the river there was fighting with grenades in which the advantage rested with the French. The artillery was active about La Laufee and Chenols.

PRESIDENT AT THE FRONT

Paris, July 18.—President Poincaré, accompanied by Gen. Pierre Rogues, minister of war, has spent the last two days in visits to the Meuse and Somme fronts. The trip included a brief stop at Verdun and a meeting on the Somme front with Generals Joffre, Foch and Fayolle.

The president inspected the former German lines and sections of the ground scarred by the traces of recent battles and bombardment. Before leaving he heartily congratulated the troops and their commander.

FURTHER GAINS BY ITALIANS

Rome, July 18.—In the face of vigorous opposition, the Italians are making further advances, the war office announces today.

Berlin, July 18.—The official Austrian statement of July 17 on the Italian campaign follows:

"There were artillery engagements along our Barcola positions and in the adjoining sector as far as the Asteval Valley, also in the Dolomites, north of the Feltre Grino Valley in the Marolinka district and on the Carinthian front, in the Sebach and Rabler areas. An attack by Italian infantry on our positions in the Sebach valley was repulsed."

BRITAIN'S HEAVY MONEY BURDEN IN FINANCING THE WAR

London Paper Says if War Goes to End of Year More Than $5,000,000,000 Must be Raised

New York, July 18.—A cable to the World from London says: Commenting upon Chancellor of the Exchequer McKenna's statement in parliament yesterday that the daily cost of the war to Great Britain has increased from $25,000,000 to $50,000,000, the financial editor of the Morning Post predicts that if the war continues to the end of the year at the new estimate Great Britain will have to raise in loans the enormous sum of $5,150,000,000. It adds: "These are stupendous figures, but—and while no means overlooking the serious position they represent—they must not be regarded as so much capital entirely lost, because, quite apart from the extent to which the figures are affected by advances of some hundreds of millions to our allies, much of the expenditure may be said simply to represent the circulation and distribution of capital throughout the country. It is, in fact, to the possibilities of inflation created by this rapidly accumulating debt, to say nothing of the more difficult problem represented by payments to neutral countries, that we should give special heed.

"So vast are the ramifications of all the problems incidental to financing this greatest war in history that only by the appointment of a war finance council composed of the best financial and business experts in the country can our resources be mobilized and organized to the fullest possible advantage, both during and after the war."

THE COLORED BATTALION

Halifax Mail.—It is reported that recruiting for the colored battalion will commence in Halifax about the end of the present week. Many colored men are anxiously waiting for the opportunity to enlist.

COUNTY COUNCIL

Among the matters to be dealt with at the quarterly meeting of the Municipal Council this afternoon is the recommendation that a power house be erected for the general public utility. Several matters arising from the council, having been submitted to the council, have been dealt with finally at a meeting of the appeals committee this morning. It is expected that the meeting will be as lengthy as sometimes.

OBJECT TO USE OF SOFT COAL FUEL

CONTRARY TO AGREEMENT

Say Owner Promised to Use Only Anthracite—Union Foundry Would Extend Business—Paving Contract Awarded

The weekly meeting of the common council, which was held on noon today, was unusually brief, and business-like. Matters before the council were mostly of a minor or routine nature, and they were disposed of promptly.

One of the most interesting features of the meeting was the presentation of a petition from neighbors objecting to the use of soft coal by a laundry, and drawing attention to the fact that the laundry was licensed solely on condition that only hard coal should be used. The council came to order at twelve o'clock, with Commissioner McLellan presiding, and Commissioners Fisher, Russell and Wigmore and the Common Clerk present.

The commissioner of public works reported that the contract for the re-paving of the adjacent streets, regarding reconstruction and paving of the lots in North and South Market streets with solid concrete had been awarded to Corey and Stevens.

A communication from Francis Kern on behalf of W. H. Dunham, asking compensation for damages caused by water backing into his building on the corner of Main and Albert streets from a broken sewer, was referred to the commissioner of water and sewerage.

An application from the Union Foundry and Machine Works, West-Street-Jobbers for a lease of lots in rear of their premises, in order to extend their business, was referred to the commissioner of public lands.

A petition was presented from residents of the adjacent districts of the city to compel a wet wash laundry, corner Union and Pitt streets, to use hard instead of soft coal, according to their promise when the permit was issued. It was referred to the commissioner of public safety.

A communication asking the city to advertise its tourist attractions in the Montreal street cars, was referred to the mayor.

Commissioner Russell invited the other members of the council to be present at the opening of the High Court, I. O. F., this afternoon.

THE CASEMENT APPEAL LOST

London, July 18.—The appeal of Sir Roger Casement against his sentence of execution for high treason for his activities in the Dublin revolt was dismissed today by the Court of Criminal Appeal.

The court was thronged at the resumption of proceedings. Alexander Sullivan of Dublin, counsel for Sir Roger, renewed his legal arguments, quoting frequently from ancient law.

Without hearing the attorneys for the crown, the court dismissed the appeal. For a day and a half Alexander Sullivan had argued quoting many authorities in favor of his contention that who the offence was treason depended upon whether the accused dwelt under the protection of the king and that the crime could not be committed without the realm. He abandoned his other points in regard to the lord chief justice's definition of the offence.

As soon as Mr. Sullivan had concluded his argument, the court retired to consider whether the attorney-general was a certificate that the decision of the court of criminal appeal involves a point of law so exceptionally important that it is desirable in the public interest that a still higher court should deal with it. This has been done only twice since the court of criminal appeal was established eight years ago.

SPANISH CATHOLICS ON GERMAN RULE IN BELGIUM

Paris, July 18.—An address criticizing methods of German military authorities in Belgium, signed by 600 Spanish Catholics, has been sent to Monsignor Desplaigne, governor of the Philippien Institute at Louvain, with the request that it be placed in the archives of the reconstructed library of the Catholic University of Louvain. The document, which is entitled "An Address to Belgium," approves of the formation of an international commission of enquiry to examine into charges against the Germans, which will offer a complete guarantee of impartiality.

EVIDENCE ALL IN

In the police court this morning hearing was resumed in the automobile case against Charles Ryder, of the city. Discussion marked the proceedings as to whether John Walsh, the man who was injured by the auto in May, and who was allowed to leave the hospital only a few days ago, was physically capable of giving evidence and submitting to a cross-examination. A brother of Mr. Walsh laid the objection before the court, but it was overruled by the magistrate.

Public Feeling Giving German Government The Gravest Concern

Capture of Second Line by British Brings Realization of Falsehoods Preached to the People—They Now Begin to Grasp the Truth

Rotterdam, July 18.—(By Leonard Spry in Toronto Globe and Mail and Empire.)—To say there is a panic in Germany would be an exaggeration, but it is well within the truth to describe the present feeling as one of deep gloom. "I am assured that a few days ago there was hardly a man in Berlin who believed that a serious military effort was to be made by British. The present attitude of the German people is as if a new enemy had entered the field against them. Their most trusted commentators talked for months about Britain's paper army. Events have now shown the German public that the paper army has materialized into a great host of trained soldiers, who are driving their own best troops from positions they believed impregnable.

The result is that there is manifestation of public dismay that is giving the government the gravest concern. In Berlin they are talking for the first time of the possibility of their iron wall in the west being broken.

The vast majority of the German people long ago gave up any hope of conquest and any desire for anything further than a speedy peace. They believed in the termination of the war on the ground that the allies would exert their maximum strength in an attempt to break their lines, that the attempt would fail and that they then would be prepared to negotiate a compromise peace. The possibility of the allies effecting success had never been contemplated until last week, when the British captured the second line positions.

During the twenty-four hours preceding 10 o'clock this morning the plague killed twenty-six children and there were 121 new cases reported. Despite War, Britain Leads as Ship-builder

Washington, July 18.—Great Britain, although hampered by the drain of war and a big naval construction programme, still leads the world in building merchantmen, according to a statement issued today by the United States Bureau of Navigation. Her shipyards have under actual construction now 628 steel merchant ships of 1,428,385 tonnage, and would have more but for the fact that private yards are engaged in building war vessels. The entire world in 1915 launched 748 merchant ships of 1,301,688 tonnage. Of these eighty-four of 177,460 tons were launched in the United States.

How Huns Got New British Aeroplane

Airman Left England and Flew into German Hands; Some One Had Blundered (London Daily Mail)

The story of a blunder which made the Germans a present of a brand-new aeroplane of our latest and best type was revealed in the House of Lords on June 27. "The incident," said Lord Montagu, "is a serious one, and I hope the House will take as far as possible to prevent any such incident recurring again. On the morning of May 31 an aeroplane, fitted with an engine of 250-h. p., left Farnborough Aerodrome for France. It flew across the Channel, passed over our lines and the German lines, and descended unhurt with its pilot and observer in the Possibility of a mistake being made in distinguishing between St. Omer and Lille, for pilots are very often guided by two canals which are to a certain extent similar, but in this case there is no question of a mistake in the two canals, because, I am sorry to tell your lordships, the pilot who flew this machine had never flown to France before and had no knowledge whatever of the geography of France. "That is what makes it a very serious incident. The pilot's name is Lieut. Littlewood, originally of the North Lincolnshire Regiment, and the observer was Lieut. Grant, who was gazetted as a flying officer in the R.F.C. nine days after he was in the hands of the enemy. Proceeding, Lord Montagu read the following extracts from a letter from one who was at the aerodrome at Farnborough at the time the start to France was made: Pilot's Protest "The War Office sent down and asked for two F. E. pilots, the machines being F. E. in which the engines were placed to fly them over-seas. Owing to an error in the delivery of the message it was understood that the pilots were to fly ordinary F. E. machines, with the result that in one case an inexperienced pilot was sent. I saw the pilot, who complained that he was not an experienced F. E. pilot, also that he had never been over-seas and was not sure of the way. "The authorities, who heard all this, took no notice of his complaints and told him to take the machine. Later a report came through that F. E. had crossed the lines at Arras and disappeared in the direction of Lille. That evening a German wireless communique stated that the F. E. had landed intact southwest of Lille, the pilot having lost his way. (In the sarcastic terms of the communique, said Lord Montagu, the Germans said the machine would be most useful.) Thus it will be seen that within three hours of its having been taken out of the factory our newest and latest machine was handed over intact to the Huns. "I should think if you wrote and told about this he would have somebody's blood, as it is the second time our beauties at the War Office have lost a brand-new machine in the same way. When the V. E. machine was just out, the fourth or fifth we sent over to France was also sent over in charge of a chap who had only just got his wings (flying certificate), and who also didn't know the way, and he landed right on the Lille aerodrome and handed his machine to the Huns. Concluding, Lord Montagu put three questions to the government: "Who was responsible for sending this pilot, who was obviously an inexperienced man, with one of our most valuable and latest machines? "Is it a fact that other pilots inexperienced in the geography of the western front have been sent on similar missions? "Will the government take steps to ensure that such serious mistakes will not take place in the future?" Lord Curzon's Excuse Lord Curzon, in reply, complained that no notice of these questions had been given him, and said Lord Montagu, who had asked for information concerning the incident, seemed already to be very well informed. "He really does know more about it than I do," protested Lord Curzon. "It is true that the aeroplane left England on June 1 and was not heard of again. The German wireless of June 2 stated that a British biplane had landed near Lille, but no date was mentioned. We know now, however, that it was the missing machine and that the pilot and his observer, from whom communications have been received, are prisoners in the hands of the Germans. The pilot, after crossing the Channel, appears to have lost his way and landed in the German lines. "Such incidents have happened before and will happen again, but they are not confined to one side or the other, having happened to the Germans just in the same way as to our own pilots." He believed it to be true, as stated, that the pilot had not flown across the Channel before, but he doubted if it would be wise to lay down a hard-and-fast rule that no machine should be taken across the Channel, even by a competent flyer, unless he had had experience of the route. Experienced pilots would be doing better service at the front, probably. Lord Montagu—There were two other pilots available on that particular morning, both very competent, and nobody has explained why this inexperienced man was chosen to fly the very latest machine we had. I think it is a very serious incident indeed, and that it should be taken serious notice of.

MORNING NEWS OVER THE WIRES

Count Michael Karolyi has formed a new party in Hungary, which will demand an immediate peace between Hungary and its enemies. He resigned from the presidency of the Independent party.

Between sixty and seventy teachers are attending the summer science school at Woodstock.

The British official statement, issued yesterday, says that the British have taken more than ten thousand wounded Germans. The German losses in the artillery are now very heavy and even more than was at first thought. A number of big field guns have also been taken by the British.

The British government will issue a list of business concerns domiciled in the United States with which British subjects will not be permitted to trade. Hon. Robert Rogers is said to be

TWO LONG YEARS HE SUFFERED

"Fruit-a-lives" Made Him Feel As If Walking On Air

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 28th, 1914

"For over two years I was troubled with Constipation, Drowsiness, Lack of Appetite and Headaches. One day I saw your sign which read 'Fruit-a-lives make you feel like walking on air.' This appealed to me, so I decided to try a box. In a very short time I began to feel better, and now I feel fine. I have a good appetite, relish everything I eat, and the Headaches are gone entirely. I recommend this pleasant fruit medicine to all my friends."

HOME RULE SITUATION

London, July 17.—Premier Asquith announced today that the new Irish bill would be introduced into parliament before the adjournment for the autumn recess, and repeated that the whole Irish question would be submitted to an imperial conference after the war.

It is understood that the bill will not be presented until next week, and in the meantime the delay is allowing opposition to crystallize which threatens trouble, and indicates that the measure is to have anything but a smooth passage. An important meeting of a new party, representing the Lansdowne views of thinking about leaving the Borden ship before the wreck comes. He is seeking the appointment as Canadian High Commissioner in London or as Lieutenant-Governor of Manitoba.

A sailing ship built at Dumbarton in 1883 was disposed of for £2200 in 1906, and has just found a new owner at £28,750.

CONCERNING PROHIBITION

To the Editor of the Times:

Sir,—Last week, for the first time in its history, the jail at Goderich, Ontario, had not a solitary prisoner. The temperance men think that the dryness of Huron county is responsible for the serious falling off in this branch of business. We fear that we must admit that prohibition does ruin business, i. e., certain kinds of business. Even the undertaker seems to be hard hit by it, and the policeman does not get enough to do to keep him awake.

The American Brewers' Review takes the following slap at prohibitionists in Canada. It says:

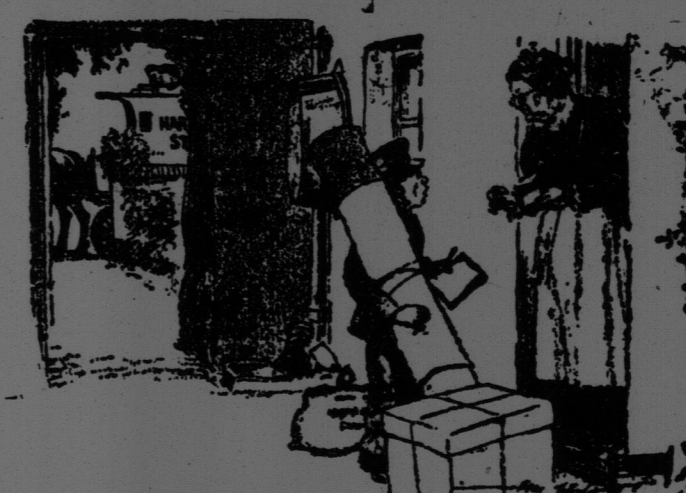

"Recent prohibition successes in Canada prove one thing, viz., that the prohibitionists are not the kind that fight for their country, rather against it. It was the absence of a considerable share of the best manhood of the country serving in the army that enabled the prohibitionists to force their measure on the people."

Well, if this is so, then we suppose when the war is over and the soldiers are back from the front, the brewers and distillers should welcome a plebiscite to show how the majority of Canadians love the traffic. But the trade knows as well as we know that the country is against the traffic, and will vote against it at every opportunity. And our own Canadian brewers and distillers are discreetly silent in regard to the number of men they have sent to the war. Beer and prohibition are not usually very closely allied.

Yours,
PROHIBITIONIST.

"The Physic Garden"

The Chelsea Physic Garden, the latest privately owned beauty spot in London to open its gates to the wounded soldiers, was founded by a celebrated physician, Sir Hans Sloane, and by him presented to the Apothecaries' Company in 1721, on condition that it "should at all times be continued as a physic garden, for the manifestation of the power and wisdom and goodness of God in creation, and that the apprentice might learn to distinguish good and useful plants from hurtful ones." Many additions have been made to the Physic Garden since those days, and a statue of Sir Hans by Michael Frybrack now adorns the principal walk.

The 115th battalion has made great strides in its drill since going to Valcartier camp and it is at present considered the best battalion in camp. The battalion will leave for Halifax this week.

Lieutenant E. A. March of the 115th battalion dislocated his shoulder yesterday while participating in a wrestling bout. He is not seriously injured.

Commandant Colonel H. F. McLeod, late O. C. of the 12th Battalion, has been appointed commandant of the Shorncliffe Camp. Now Lieutenant

Nervous Periodical Headaches

This trouble commonly called "stick headache," is said to be due to the retention of urea in the system. Often it is stated that a nervous condition of the blood is a cause of these headaches, or that it is a nervous condition and in certain cases, no doubt, this is true.

When treatment is demanded, it is more for the pain than anything else, and Dr. A. F. Schleichardt of Louisville, has found anti-kennin tablets to give prompt and satisfactory relief. "These should be insisted upon," he says, "and the patient should go to bed, darken the room, and all the attendants and family should be as quiet as possible. An elastic will sometimes shorten the attack. The bowels should be kept open. A hot bath and a thorough run-down with a coarse towel, often give grateful relief. During an attack, one tablet every hour or two will shorten the attack and relieve the usual nausea and vomiting. These tablets may be obtained at all druggists. Ask for A-K Tablets. They are also unexcelled for nervous headaches, neuritis and all nervous tempers."

RECENT DEATHS

Mrs. David E. Hamm. The death of Mrs. David E. Hamm, which occurred in New York at St. Vincent's hospital, July 8, has cast a gloom over the community. She had been in poor health for several years, and had gone to New York for treatment. Mrs. Hamm was forty-three years of age and was formerly Miss Amelia Huestis, of Lower Jemseg, a daughter of Samuel R. and the late Annie E. Huestis, and leaves besides her father, a husband and two children, Norman R. and Ellen; two sisters, Mrs. Chas. E. Jones, Pettodiac, and Mrs. J. H. DeWitt, Lower Jemseg.

The funeral service was held in the Methodist church, Lower Jemseg, July 18, and was largely attended. She was a member of the Methodist church, where she had been organist for several years. She had taught schools in Kings and Queens counties, and was highly esteemed by all who came under her inspiring influence. She was a woman of high ideals and Christian character, and executive ability, and was one of those whose place cannot be filled. Deep sympathy is felt for the sorrowing husband and family in their great loss.

The death of Miss Jennie G. Sowerby of Moncton occurred on Sunday. She was twenty-four years of age and is survived by her father, Robert Sowerby; also two brothers, Robert at home and Jack now at the front.

M. G. Cole died in the General Hospital in Sydney on last Friday. He was 74 years of age and had been in the hospital for half a month. He leaves one brother, Charles Cole of Moncton.

Ray Peterson, aged 19 years, of Temple, York county, was drowned while bathing in the St. John river on Saturday afternoon, within a few hundred yards of his own home.

ROGERS TO GET OUT?

Ottawa, July 17--Hon. Robert Rogers is said to be thinking of leaving the Borden ship of state before the impending wreck comes. Mr. Rogers is spending advertised: "Youth wanted." One of most of his summer taking things away at his Winnipeg and Kenora homes. He has several times expressed the opinion privately here that he is growing tired of Ottawa and the burden of a heavy administrative department and of managing an increasingly difficult political situation. His advice on political strategy has been turned down too frequently.

A lady of fashion of advanced age required the services of a page-boy, and advertised: "Youth wanted." One of her dearest friends sent her by the next post a bottle of Blank's celebrated wrinkle filler and skin tightener, a pot of fairy bloom, a set of false teeth, a flaxen wig and a cake of iodine soap.

A maid of honor in England is entitled to a dowry of £1,000 on her marriage.

THE BEST THING FOR DYSPEPSIA

WHY PEPSIN, PANCREATIN, ETC. SO FREQUENTLY FAIL.

An International specialist whose articles on stomach trouble have been printed in nearly every language, recently stated that to treat the average case of stomach trouble, indigestion, dyspepsia, etc., by doctoring the stomach, killing the pain with opiates, or by the use of artificial aids to digestion, such as pepsin and pancreatin, was just as foolish and useless as to attempt to put out a fire by throwing water on the smoke, instead of the fire. He claims, and facts seem to justify his claim, that nearly nine-tenths of all stomach trouble is due to acidity and food fermentation; and that the only way in which to secure permanent relief is to get rid of the cause i. e. to neutralize the acid and stop the fermentation. For this purpose he strongly recommends the plan now generally adopted throughout Europe of taking a teaspoonful of ordinary bi-carbonate of soda in a little water immediately after eating or whenever pain is felt. This immediately neutralizes the acid, stops the fermentation and permits the stomach to do its work in a normal manner and thus by removing the cause, enables nature to quickly restore the inflamed stomach lining to a perfectly healthy natural condition. For the convenience of travellers it may be noted that most druggists are now able to supply bicarbonate of soda in 5 grain tablets, 2 or 3 of which will almost instantly relieve the most violent attacks of indigestion.

Don't Spoil Your Hair By Washing It

When you wash your hair, be careful what you use. Don't use prepared shampoos or anything else, that contains too much alkali, for this is very injurious, as it dries the scalp and makes the hair brittle.

The best thing to use is just plain milled coconut oil, for this is pure and entirely greaseless. It's very cheap, and beats anything else all to pieces. You can get this at any drug store, and a few ounces will last the whole family for months. Simply moisten the hair with water and rub it in, about a teaspoonful is all that is required. It makes an abundance of rich, creamy lather, cleanses thoroughly, and rinses out easily. The hair dries quickly and evenly, and is soft, fresh looking, bright, fluffy, wavy and easy to handle. Besides, it loosens and takes out every particle of dust, dirt and dandruff.

To Make Hairs Vanish From Face, Neck or Arms

Keep a little powdered delatone handy and when hair growths appear make a paste with some of the powder and a little water, then spread over hairy surface. After 2 or 3 minutes rub off, wash the skin and it will be entirely free from hair or blenish. This simple treatment is unailing, but care should be exercised to be sure and get genuine delatone, otherwise you may be disappointed.

WHAT'S NEW AT THE MOVIES

Mabel Taliaferro Made Fine Impression in Novelty Story "Her Great Price" — Travel Series Begins

Pretty, pretty and as active as a bee, Mabel Taliaferro romped into the affections of Imperial Theatre's patrons yesterday afternoon and evening in a novelty story entitled Her Great Price, produced under the Metro banner. Considerable had been said in advance of the little lady's charms, both of the acting kind and of a personal character and truly the promises were not over-stated. Film followers have already exhibited some popular players in the inner recesses of their affections, but that was before Miss Taliaferro made her bow. Today a great many people are waving and some are already claiming for her a first place.

Her Great Price is one of those surprise stories with a highly dramatic ante-climax followed by a soul-searing and charmingly compelling final climax. It is a play that works the water-tight seams of mind, then by a magic fading out releases one's throbbing nerves and pumping heart into a perfectly normal state of quietude and happiness. A child of the slums runs away from home and is found sleeping in the doorway of a tenement occupied by three struggling artists. The artists take the child in, keep her, feed her and teach her until she becomes a clever fiction writer. One day she is absolutely supplanted for the proper "punch" to get her story into print. Agnes needs a stirring climax, but the muse is obstinate. Then the real life of that happy tenement is interwoven into the unfinished story and the climax that results is the point of the whole story and the picture as well. The idea is splendid. It was a great novelty and people did not fail to say so.

Imperial yesterday commenced what promises to be a very interesting series of travel stories entitled Siberia, the Vast Unknown. The opening chapter merely dealt with preparatory labors of the Siberian trip performed in Nome, Alaska, and the camera man caught some splendid pictures thereabouts. In Montreal and through the United States these Siberian patrons have proved of great value to patrons and exhibitors as well. The Pacific British Gazette contained much of Allied war news that inspired.

The same programme is being shown this afternoon and tonight and this afternoon the Peg of the Ring serial will be shown to the children in addition. On Wednesday the brilliant dramatic actress, Marguerite Snow, is to appear in a romantic and thrilling story of Wall Street, society circles and the plantation of the sunny south entitled A Corner in Cotton. There is plenty of dash and automobile excitement in this story, hundreds of sweet kiddies and some delightful scenery.

"HALF A ROGUE"

Red Feature With King Baggot at the Empress, West Side

This five-reel Red Feather production was adapted by Henry Otto, who also directed the picture, from the well known best seller by Harold MacGrath. It provides an excellent medium for King Baggot, a long time favorite whose work as Richard Warrington is one of the best things he has done in a long while. He is assisted by Clara Beyers as Katherine. The producer has provided a unique opening, picturing Warrington as a playwright fond of dining in a certain Broadway restaurant. Some extremely novel night scenes of the Great White Way are shown, also an exciting fight between a bull dog and a bull terrier.

Katherine Chaloner, an aspiring actress, contrives to meet Dick Warrington, a successful dramatist, by a ruse. Dick takes a fancy to her and gives her a part in his latest play which "makes" her. Katherine later becomes engaged to John Bennington, a boyhood chum of Dick. Katherine calls upon Dick late one night a few minutes before Bennington drops in. Caught in a compromising position, she hides in Dick's room. After Bennington has gone, the suspicions thoroughly aroused, Katherine becomes hysterical and falls in a faint. Dick calls in a physician and nurse to treat her. She remains overnight in Dick's apartment and is seen leaving the next morning.

Later Dick returns to his home town, where he is nominated for mayor. Dick has all along been in love with Patty Pennington, John Bennington's sister, and she with him. Dick's political opponents take up and publish the supposed scandal concerning Katherine's all-night stay in his apartment. Katherine has since married Bennington, who trusts her implicitly. The complications which ensue upon the publication of the scandal in the newspaper in Dick's home town divide the townfolk into two factions and Dick's election is bitterly contested. Just how Katherine's all-night stay in Dick's apartment was explained to the voters, to John Bennington and to Patty, Dick's fiance, makes the most interesting feature of the photograph.

DOUGLAS FAIRBANKS IN GEM PROGRAMME

"Habits of Happiness" a Five Reel Feature—"A Bath-House Blunder," Quick-Action Comedy

The Gem began the week with two excellent pictures in a programme of seven reels of superb photographic work telling an alluring story, "Habits of Happiness" and furnishing unbounded laughter and fun in a tickling comedy "A Bath-House Blunder." Patrons were delighted with both features.

"Habits of Happiness" is a five reel picture by such noted stars of the screen as Douglas Fairbanks, an idol of Broadway; George Backus, who was here with John Forsythe; Dorothy West and Grace Rankin. The theme is given novel treatment. It strongly contrasts the wasteful follies of social aspirants with the expenditure of a few dollars in alleviating the wants of the very poor. "Sunny Wiggins," son of a wealthy family, has just returned from Europe, where he has not even a meagre share of the world's goods has been conferred. The picture carries you down to the slums where the scenes are intense. How he brings comfort and cheer and laughter into lives out of which all these had long ago departed, is a most lumpy incident which the screen unfolds with artistic treatment. The influence of his sunny ways also is brought to bear upon the life of a crusty old millionaire dependent on the charity of his wife and her reward in the love of the girl he loves. A stock market battle, always interesting, has a share of the attention in this picture.

In the comedy, "A Bath-House Blunder," Mae Busch plays the part of the changing belle of the beach with whom the hero and his dad, as well, carry on flirtations. There is a sweetheart of the Junior and there is a wife of the senior and the flirtatious escapades of the men and the jealousy of the women bring about the most amusing complications. The fun is fast and furious, culminating in a veritable riot of quick action comedy. Some novel ideas are introduced, and there are excellent diving scenes and some wonder-work in the water. This programme will be repeated twice tonight. On Wednesday and Thursday come Mary Page and a five-reel feature, "The Flying Torpedo," which rivals "The Battle of Britain," coming for Friday and Saturday.

pleased large gatherings at the Opera House yesterday. Blanche Sweet is the star of the production, surrounded by a cast of special merit even down to those who play the very minor parts. The drama is semi-military in character and there is good display of bright uniforms, court costumes and pretty gowns.

The programme showed novel happenings in far away Australia, crocodile hunting, close views of opponents and other strange animals—sheep shearing time on a ranch where fine Australian wool comes from, and other interesting scenes. The programme will be repeated tonight and for the usual performances tomorrow. Cleo Ridgely and Wallace Reid in a western romantic drama, "The Love Mask," will be seen on Thursday.

High buildings, sir," remarked an English, contemptuously, "Why, in England you don't know what height is. Last time I was in New York it was a blazing hot day and I saw a man coming out of a lift wrapped from top to toe in blankets and I said to him: "Why are you muffled up on a broiling hot day like this?"

"The Sowers," a photo drama of sensation, thriller and political intrigue, is a gripping story of unusual interest.

AT THE STAR

A Brace of Features—"Who Bears Malice" and "The Social Pirate"

Two most pleasing photoplays, that were shown at the Star Theatre last night, will be presented again tonight in the ninth instalment of the "Social Pirate," a pair of unscrupulous stock manipulators find it expedient to have a certain millionaire confined in a lunatic asylum, while the two execute a "bear" raid on one of his railroad holdings. The millionaire has directed his efforts to assist the two ladies in their self-imposed task of squaring accounts with evil-doers, and when they learn of his predicament they at once set about to effect his release. The way in which they solve the mysterious situation in both unique and clever, and the last scenes show a pleasant picture of Mona, Mary and the millionaire celebrating their success.

"Who Bears Malice" is a story of the Alaskan gold fields, in which one of the most spectacular fights takes place. Two gold-seekers of the snow-capped district have their eyes on the same girl and while the men are away the other marries her. After this the two become bitter enemies, and one thing leads to another, until they finally engage in a fierce fight, in which axes and knives come into play. This feature is of the exciting class and is a most interesting production throughout.

"Done Up in Wax," a Selig comedy, contains this exceptional bill of pictures.

"PROVINCE M. D'S"

It has been the custom, on occasion such as the present, to give some brief review of the chief medical efforts of the year, but today, in our own country, at least the abnormal conditions brought about by the great war, have displaced the usual medical progress. The progress of the human mind and intelligence are being largely directed by the chief nations of Europe, toward the birth of a new era in human civilization. Plow-shares are being beaten into swords, and education means learning to fight. The chief nations are engaged in a struggle for the mastery of the world, and the peace treaties have culminated in the pitiable spectacle of the birth of a nation, the normal conditions of another's throats.

At such a time we contemplate with pride and admiration, the work accomplished by our confederates on the field of battle and in the military hospitals. The matter of medicine anything before experienced, and older methods have often failed to give the results expected of them.

The war in South Africa, where the last British experience in military surgery was conducted in its most perfect form, is practically free in the open country from pathogenic organisms. The most desperate wounds heal readily and extensive injuries to vital organs were often followed by complete and rapid recovery. Under these circumstances the treatment was largely expectant. How different the conditions in the present conflict. The western front, where the British lines are placed runs through a country, the most densely populated in Europe, and which has a long history of human civilization. The soil is greatly contaminated, and produces a varied and particularly dangerous flora. To this are added the various modern methods of warfare, rendered necessary by improved offensive, with a result that our military hospitals are infected and extensive mutilations and deaths are common. The problem of the infected wound, the surgical problem of the present war, that this will be solved in such a manner, as to be of the greatest benefit to the human race, is the greatest of the future, there is no doubt, despite the great divergence of views among military surgeons at present.

The large experience in fractures will also be useful, and in this and other lines as well, the knowledge gained at the front will in the end mitigate human suffering. Let us hope that one outcome of the war will be a greater development of medicine, and I mean British in its widest sense, facilities for post-graduate study, along general and special lines. There have been in the past, too many pilgrimages to Vienna and Berlin as the "Mecca" of the medical men. To this end, the German language and literature in our studies. "Distant hills are always green" and the summer exodus to the clinics of the Huns has become popular and fashionable. All this must be changed, London, Edinburgh, Dublin, to say nothing of the larger cities of the empire, possess a wealth of clinical material, which properly used, could satisfy the most exacting, and as the trade relations and general economic conditions will ultimately be arranged for imperial benefits, so, in matters of medical education, we should raise up among ourselves, a standard, than which there can be nothing higher. We may forgive but this generation can never forget.

And now a few words about our society. It was founded in 1881, with the double purpose of creating an electorate for the members of the council of physicians and surgeons of New Brunswick, first established by law, and also to provide the means by which members of the profession in the province might meet together as a scientific body and discuss questions of mutual interest. Previous to the passage of the Medical Act, there was no protection for the public against the quack and the impostor, but by that enactment the subjects of matriculation, professional education, examinations and registration were placed in the hands of the council, together with other important duties.

There is I regret to say, in some quarters an entire misunderstanding as to the purposes of the Medical Act. It is claimed that it constitutes a close co-operation and that the examinations are used to discourage aspirants, and so

WILLIAM FARNUM AS HERO OF WAR-DRAMA

Spectacular and Realistic Production at the Unique Gives Vivid Glimpse of War Conditions

Few of the so-called war dramas of the present day possess so wide an appeal as "A Soldier's Oath," William Farnum, a production in which the celebrated romantic actor and world matinee idol, William Farnum, is starred. This remarkable war drama was shown at the Unique Theatre yesterday. It certainly has been invested with unusual realism and it is said that French and German soldiers were used in the battle scenes. The subject graphically depicts the hellish horrors of war and one wonders to know just how such realistic effects could be produced as are presented in the scenes showing the butchery of war. It is a spectacular sight, and at this particular time a most impressive one.

The continuity of the story itself, however, is not marred in any way by a too liberal use of such scenes, a fact which very commendably is a record of the play. The theme itself deals with domestic life ruined by the intrigue and false pretense of a so-called friend of the families and showing in a remarkably clear and very vivid manner the results of war.

"A Soldier's Oath" represents the blending of the spectacular, the thrilling and the beautiful. Mr. Farnum as Pierre, a private in the French army, is, as he always is, good, but this part suits the wonderfully strong personality of the star perhaps better than any role in which he has appeared in St. John. His capture of the thief on the battlefield and the denunciation are very well done indeed.

Mr. Farnum is supported by Miss Dorothy Bernard and other artists of the Unique. A Soldier's Oath is, to say the least, a mighty good picture and, as before intimated, at this particular time has an appeal that cannot be too highly estimated.

A comedy from the Cub studios offered diversion from the serious nature of the feature, and pleased immensely. The next Fox feature listed for presentation at the Unique is Princess Romanoff with Nance O'Neil in the title role.

lessen competition. Nothing could be farther from the truth. The aim and object of this important piece of legislation is to guarantee that each public undertakes the responsible duties of a healer of the sick, brings to their discharge a reasonable amount of skill and knowledge. I think an examination of the records will show that few candidates are rejected, and have shown themselves to be insufficiently trained for the practice of their profession.

It is the duty of the medical council, as well, to submit an annual report to the medical society, and once in every three years to make a report on the progress of our medical-political importance, if I may so express it, to the public.

On looking over the programme placed in your hands today, you will observe that the contribution of the profession is without exception, registered practitioners in New Brunswick. This should be, in my opinion, the normal condition. Doubtless exceptions to the rule may often be made with advantage, but I am thoroughly convinced that in this matter the society should be self-supporting. It is a great pleasure to meet at our gatherings, members of other places, but that we should sit in the gallery while they occupy the stage is scarcely fair to our own hand of a good director and producer. For more than a quarter of a century, I have actively practiced in this institution and I may on that account, if for no other, be given credit for knowledge whereof I speak. For many years I have been a "voice crying in the wilderness" for hospital improvement, awake from their lethargy in hospital affairs. I shall not have spoken and written in vain. A well equipped hospital means an active, progressive staff and the standard set there elevates the standard of the profession at large.

Who are the gainers by this? The public. A man may sleep more securely

"THE MADCAP" FIRST OF NEW FEATURE SERIES

Charming Story, Artistically Produced, Delights Patrons of Lyric; Singing and Dancing Act Also

Possibly the first impression one would gather from the Red Feather production of The Madcap, the Lyric's feature for the first three days of this week would be that it is certainly artistic. The masterpiece of a good director and producer is very apparent, for the scenes have been laid from some of nature's most exquisite spots. The interior scenes are brilliant, and the costumes excellent. The story itself is a light one, and the first two acts may be a little slow in action but this is made up for in the final three reels of the drama.

ly in his bed at night knowing that if he or a member of his family should be seized with a sudden and dangerous ailment, the medical or surgical treatment at home is the best that can be procured. Surely the people of St. John will be satisfied with nothing less. The increased tax constitutes a life insurance premium, and a cheap one at that. We spend the public monies freely to encourage trade and the accumulation of wealth, why not spend a little to safeguard better than they are now safeguarded, the health and lives of the people, which are the greatest assets of a nation. I believe the building and equipping of a modern hospital will do much to accomplish this. While the strengthening of armies and navies is necessary at present the largest question is not to forget the lines so often quoted and so familiar to all of you: "A wise physician should not wound to heal it more than armies to the public weal."

Rapid Succession of Victories For Allies

London, July 17.—The successes of the Entente Allies are, following each other with great rapidity. Today brought news of further important gains for them on both the western and eastern fronts, arousing enthusiasm among the British public hardly less than that caused by the reception of the first news of the Allied offensive.

The dispatch of General Sir Douglas Haig today shows that the steady pressure of the British arms is forcing an ever-deepening salient into the German lines, and the commander-in-chief, for the first time, produces evidence in the shape of documents captured from the Germans giving testimony as to the high price the Germans are paying in casualties.

The British have improved their position along almost the whole of their line of the battle front, capturing by assault 1,500 yards of German second line positions north of the Baren-Le-Petit Wood, a strong German position at the Waterloo Farm, between Longueval and Guillemont, besides completing the capture of the whole of the village of Ouliers La Boisselle. These gains bring the British almost to the crest of the Albert plateau, where stretches the German third line.

FINE NEWS ALSO FROM THE EASTERN FRONT.

The news from the eastern front today was equally important. The Russian commander, General Kuropatkin, has launched an offensive against Field Marshal Von Hindenburg on the Drvina river, and General Von Linsingen's troops southwest of Lutsk, have been compelled to retire behind the Lipsa river, while in the course of Sunday's fighting in Volhynia the Russians captured an additional 17,000 prisoners and thirty guns. General Von Linsingen's retirement, according to the Petrograd military critics, represents a great Russian tactical success. It was preceded by heavy fighting, in which the Russians smashed the Teuton front on a width of a mile and penetrated several miles into their positions.

Berlin, July 17.—An artillery bombardment of intense violence is in progress at many points from the Somme district north to the sea on the western front, the war office announced today, the German lines being heavily pounded by the British guns.

Local attacks in the Somme region, as a result of which the British penetrated Ouliers Wood, are reported.

The official statement on operations along the western front follows:

"Between the sea and the Ancre the British at many points increased their fire to great violence.

"In the Somme district, artillery activity has been very considerable to both sides. Local enemy attacks followed, during which the British penetrated into Ouliers Wood. These attacks led to lively fighting.

"There was lively fighting south of Biaches but this otherwise failed before our certain fire or did not develop on account of our fire. The number of prisoners taken during the fighting for the possession of Biaches increased to four officers and 366 men.

"The more extensive attacks by the French, begun on July 15 to the east of the Meuse (Verdun front) were continued up to this morning. The enemy did not achieve any success in this sanguinary struggle but lost ground at a few points.

"On the remainder of the front there have been no incidents of special importance. A French advance following upon an explosion north of Dulches was repulsed. We carried out some expeditions with good results on Combrès Hill. A German patrol brought back a few prisoners near Lanfroicourt, Lorraine.

"On July 15 two enemy aeroplanes, in addition to those reported yesterday were put out of action, one in an aerial battle behind the enemy lines south of the Somme, and the other shot down from earth near Dreuilcourt-Oise, with its crew.

"Today's statement on operations along the eastern front says:

"Army group of Field Marshal Von Hindenburg. Increased fire west and south of Riga and on the Drvina front repulsed Russian enterprises. Near Katartsehof, south of Riga, considerable enemy forces attacked. Lively fighting developed here.

"Army group of Prince Leopold of Bavaria. No important events have occurred.

"Army group of General Von Linsingen. Southwest of Lutsk a Russian attack was arrested by a German counter-attack. Thereupon, in order to strengthen the defence line, the troops were withdrawn behind the Lipsa without being molested by the enemy. At other places the Russians were completely repulsed.

"Army group of General Von Bothmer. The situation is unchanged.

"Balkans: Nothing new has developed.

"Home, July 17, via London, 8:32 p. m.—The repulse of a heavy attack by the Austrians in the Upper Posna Valley in the Trentino as a result of an Italian counter-attack was announced today by the war office. The announcement follows:

"In the Upper Posna area the enemy attempted to stop our advance, delivering a heavy attack, supported by concentrated artillery fire, but was repulsed.

"In the Tovo Valley an attempt was made to surround our positions north-west of Monte Selaggio, but the effort was frustrated by our fire."

PROVINCE M. D'S (Continued from page 8). The Welcome Commissioner McLellan, in welcoming the doctors, said: Mr. President and members of the New Brunswick Medical Society: On behalf of His Worship Mayor Hayes, I welcome you in this your thirty-sixth convention to the city of St. John. It is a pleasure and a privilege to meet you here today. While every vocation has its claim to general recognition the profession which this society represents is entitled to more than ordinary consideration. The history of medicine is the story of civilization. The standard of the profession is the barometer of the cultured intelligence of the country. The marvelous advances in the healing art, by which suffering has been alleviated, life prolonged, and human happiness immeasurably increased, have been due to the conscientious devotion of physicians to that nobler side of their work by which the brethren and the world receive at once and without hindrance or cost the benefit of their discoveries. The profession of medicine is peculiarly rich in inspiring examples and courageous charity. The fury of the fighting upon the battle field makes cowards brave and brave men heroes. But amid flying shot and bursting shells, in the calm and cool possession of every faculty, the surgeon faces death in the presence of horrors which appal the stoutest hearts. No soldier leading a forlorn hope is entitled to more credit for sustained daring than the doctors who have repeatedly left homes and dear ones to meet the deadly pestilence in the plague stricken cities of our land. Their deeds were unheralded. No trumpets inspired the charge. The only sounds which greeted them were the cries of the sick and the groans of the dying. Fame had for them no promise, their only reward being the consciousness of having done their duty nobly. Gentlemen, we of St. John bid you and Godspeed, and we trust that you will ever be true to the best interests, to the purity and progress of your noble profession. While you are in our city I trust that the treatment accorded you

POLLOCK-HALL. The wedding of Harry Pollock to Miss Annie Catherine Hall, both of St. Andrews, took place on July 15. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Gideon Swin at his home, Adelaide street. BURIED TODAY The funeral of Mrs. Catherine Wark took place this afternoon from the residence of her son-in-law, A. G. Blackie, 822 Union street. Services were conducted by the Rev. R. T. McKim and interment was made in Fernhill. EVENING SAIL A delightful outing was held last evening on the steamer Hampton under the auspices of the girls' branch, Soldiers' Comforts Association. The party left Indian town at 7.30, going as far as Chapel Grove and returning about ten. This gave an opportunity to many pleasure seekers to view the sunset over the beautiful Kennebecasis hills—a scene unrivalled in the world. The success of the outing is due to large measure to Captain and Mrs. Beyses and the captain's staff, whose efforts were untiring to make the evening as pleasant as possible and to purchase comforts for the boys overseas. KEEPING UP SEARCH. Efforts to find the body of Miss Constance McGivern, who was drowned in the Kennebecasis river on Saturday, are being prosecuted vigorously. Commissioner Russell announced today that tug boat had been chartered and will proceed to the spot to assist in the work. The craft will be used as a home and headquarters for the men who are conducting grappling operations. They will live on the tug and get their meals there while the work is conducted and this will be until the search has been successful or until they are satisfied that every possible effort has been made.

SERVICE FOR MEMBERS WHO HAVE GONE TO WAR An interesting service for members who have gone over seas will be held by the R. K. Y. C. and St. John Power Boat Club at Crystal Beach on next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. Capt. the Rev. G. M. Campbell will conduct the service. It is hoped to have a fitting event, taking the place of the service which marks the close of the usual summer cruise.

REV. MR. KUHRING WRITES OF MEETING VINCENT JOYCE; TRIBUTE TO CAPT. ROSCOE

Capt. the Rev. G. A. Kuhring in a letter from No. 8 Canadian Stationary Hospital, France, dated June 29, speaks of meeting Vincent Joyce on next Sunday morning at eleven o'clock. Capt. the Rev. G. M. ALONG THE RIVER The lovely shores of the St. John river are largely given over to women and children this summer. There is a large camping party of girls at Craig's Point this week. Another party are tenting at Crystal Beach. A large group of Freerickton girls have rented a cottage at Sand Point. When Queen's stopped at Public Landing last night, a number of young girls in bloomers were on the wharf, evidently enjoying the freedom from engaging skirts. At all the boat stops there are few men, but many women and children.

MELROSE-MCGOWAN A very pretty wedding was solemnized this morning in St. David's Presbyterian church by Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, when Miss Margaret Lillian, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. H. L. McGowan, became the bride of Robert Melrose of the crown land survey, son of Mr. and Mrs. A. R. Melrose. The church was prettily decorated with daisies and ferns and the choir, of which the bride was a valued member, was in full attendance. Mrs. Archibald presided at the organ and rendered music appropriate to the occasion. The bride entered the church with her father and looked charming in a costume of navy blue taffeta with small white hat any carrying a sheaf of Killarney roses and maiden hair fern. Owing to the absence of the bride's youngest brother Jack, who is now at the front, the wedding was a quiet one. Only immediate relatives being present. Out of town guests were Lieut. Lyle S. McGowan of the 110th Battalion, at present in Valcartier, Mr. and Mrs. W. H. McGowan of Amherst; Miss Stewart of Moncton; Miss Collins of Newport and Mr. Lyall of Melrose, Mass. Mr. and Mrs. Melrose left on the Boston express with the best wishes of a host of friends for their future happiness.

FAIRVILLE SCHOOLS Yesterday afternoon the trustees of the Fairville schools met with Inspector McLellan in the school building. Stephen H. Shaw, the new appointee, was present with the other trustees. The matter of opening another room in the new building was discussed for some time. It was decided to introduce appearance registers as used in the city to keep record of the punctuality of the teaching staff. In regard to the installation of a better heating system in the old building, the general opinion seemed to be that something should be done, as the stoves had proved ineffective in cold mid-winter weather. Finally it was decided to write the largest city firms for quotations on hot water heating, and if the prices make the work seem feasible, the contract may be given this year. Suggestions were made to the meeting by Inspector McLellan as business progressed. The board received sometime ago a very complimentary letter from Dr. Carter, chief superintendent of education, in reference to the improvements made to the school buildings last year.
