HAMILTON IN AIRSHIP, FLIES FROM NEW YORK TO PHILADELPHIA

Follows Course of a Special Train at Will

A FAST FLIGHT

Spans The Distance Between Cities, 86 Miles, in 113 Minutes and Bears Messages—Plans Return Trip After Rest of an Hour

Philadelphia, June 13—With a dull leaden sky overhead, Charles K. Hamilton, the young aviator who has achieved world-wide fame in less than a year, today made the most daring flight of his career, traveling in his airplane from Governor's Island, New York, to a point on the outskirts of Philadelphia, a distance of 86 miles, in 113 minutes, unofficial time.

The wonderful achievement of the modest young operator of the machine was the ease with which he picked up and followed a train on the Pennsylvania Railroad, traveling at top speed. According to his programme he flew from Governor's Island to South Elizabeth, N. J., where the train was waiting his approach. From that point, town after town along the line represented the amazing fact that the train had passed "with Hamilton flying directly over it." Occasionally with the probable desire to give variety to the journey he diverged a little. At Pennington, for instance, he went near the old college town so that the students and graduates gathered there for commencement week, might have a chance to see him.

At the aviation field, four miles northeast from the centre of the city, as the crowd flew, a tremendous crowd awaited the arrival of the daring aviator. The most ideal landing cushion, composed of tall grass growing out of the soft ground, had been selected. The field lies to the north of the Pennsylvania tracks, near North Penn Junction, and it was surrounded by 200 policemen who kept the crowd from approaching the aviator's progress.

It was a misty morning and the range of vision was not extended very far but the crowd patiently waited. Hamilton landed at Front and Erie Avenues, this city, at 9:28 a. m. As he reached the field he circled about several times, rose to about 200 feet, then shot easily to earth. A tremendous crowd, which had gathered about the field, was in the young aviator carried letters from Governor Stuart and Mayor Bayburn, of Philadelphia, and a special message from the New York Times and the Philadelphia Public Ledger.

Hamilton was early on the ground and busied himself with preparations for his flight. He dressed himself in a big leather jacket inside of which were five inflated automobile tires intended to act as life preservers should the aviator fall into the water.

Accident At Outset

Just before 7:10 o'clock, Hamilton seated himself in his machine and, with a preliminary whirl of the propeller the airplane was set loose. It traveled rapidly along the ground, but before it had gone 100 yards and while yet in contact with the earth, one of the propeller blades struck a stake which projected six inches above the surface. The blade was smashed and the aviator immediately stopped the machine. It was seen that a new propeller would have to be substituted. There was a cry and bustle and the aviation sup-

HAMILTON'S FLIGHT AS TOLD IN BULLETINS

Metuchen, N. J., June 13—Hamilton passed this place, twenty-five miles from Jersey City, at 8:00 o'clock. He was flying directly over the special train of the Pennsylvania Railroad which was acting as a guide.

New Brunswick, N. J., June 13—Hamilton passed over Millstone Junction about one mile west of here at 8:10 o'clock. He was still flying directly over the special train and, according to the figures, he travelled five miles in ten minutes.

Nonmouth Junction, N. J., June 13—Hamilton passed here at 8:20 a. m. This is thirty miles from Jersey City.

Philadelphia, June 13—Hamilton landed in Philadelphia at 9:38.

THREE NORMAL SCHOOL STUDENTS GET INTO THE POLICE COURT PROCEEDINGS

Result of Friday Night's Depredations—Reports From the Lumber Drives—Body of Soldier, Drowned Last Month, Recovered Today

Fredericton, June 13—(Special)—Three normal students were summoned to appear in the police court this morning to answer to a charge of overturning cannons and committing other depredations about the city on Friday night. At the request of P. A. Guthrie who appeared for them the case has been postponed until Friday morning. In the meantime if the students make good all damages and pay the costs it is likely that the proceedings against them will be allowed to drop. It is said that a threat on the part of the education authorities to withhold the granting of licenses was the means of putting the students in repentant mood.

The body of Private Method, of the Royal Regiment, drowned in the river on Victoria day by the swamping of a boat, was found at noon today opposite Indian village at St. Mary's. Corporal Miller, who probably held an inquest.

The funeral of Miss Emma Hatt took place this afternoon with services by Rev. J. W. McConnell. The list of mourners included Post Office Inspector Colter of St. John, a brother-in-law.

FORMER M. P. P. OF NOVA SCOTIA DEAD

Halifax, June 13—(Special)—Forman Hatfield, ex-M. P. P., died at his residence in Tusket, Yarmouth county, this morning aged eighty-three years. He leaves his wife and six children.

Hamilton set the new propeller whirling at 7:30 o'clock, and after three minutes of testing, everything being found to work well, released the machine at 7:35 o'clock, and it rose rapidly from the island aerodrome.

Hamilton did not head at once towards Philadelphia, but made a circuit of a mile and a half around Governor's Island, gradually ascending until, as he finally headed off over the Kill Von Kull, he was flying at a height of about 225 feet.

Conditions Good

The weather conditions were not far from ideal. The air was practically dead, a light breeze blowing at the rate of six or eight miles an hour from the southeast. Hamilton's brother aviator, Glenn H. Currier, and C. P. Baldwin, were of material assistance to him in his preparations for his flight, and in repairing the damage. Currier and Baldwin were material assistance to him in his preparations for his flight, and in repairing the damage.

VIOLENT CLASHES OF CATHOLICS AND ANTI-CLERICALS

Berlin, June 12—Several thousand Protestants took part in demonstrations in Berlin today and mass meetings were held at Essen, Magdeburg and many other cities in denunciation of the papal encyclical recently issued condemning religious reforms and making special reference to Martin Luther.

Resolutions were adopted calling for the strongest action by the government. These have been forwarded to the Imperial chancery in manuscript form, illustrating the Luther memorials with wreaths.

JOHNSON SAYS HE WILL WIN IN EIGHTEEN

Negro Will Fight at 210 Pounds—Both Men Reported in Good Form

San Francisco, June 13—Al Kaufman is giving Johnson the hardest workout that he has had since he began training. Johnson is devoting most of his attention to development in his left hand. He has instructed his sparring partner, who continues for the stomach to strengthen the muscles covering the ribs, to permit them to thump him there occasionally.

According to a remark dropped by Johnson last evening he dares Ben Leonard to fight for the title of champion. He says he is confident that he will win.

Ben Leonard, Cal., June 13—After an interview with Jeffries, Tex. Rickard said: "Jeffries surely thinks he is going to win. He told me he was fully satisfied with his condition, and is sure he can do himself in a fight. There has been some criticism because I, since my appointment as referee, have visited the camps of the fighters, but I do not because I want to be friendly with both of them."

Jeffries has asked me how the colored fighters and Johnson are getting on. I have the same thing about Jeffries. I always give the same answer—that the other man is the keener interest.

Rickard said that he has not discussed the fight with either of the principals. "I don't care," he said, "I am a plain fighter. I am sure it will be an easy fight for me. Both Johnson and Jeffries are well matched to clear up any point I might be hazy about, but so far I have not asked either for any advice yet."

During their stay they were driven to several parts of the town with a view to looking over the proposed line of an extension of Intercolonial sidings.

Rev. T. D. FEARFUL LOSS OF LIFE IN MONTREAL HERALD BUILDING

Water Tank Crashes From Top of The Structure 15 to 40 DEAD

Montreal, June 13—(Special)—Two hundred thousand dollars damages and between fifteen and twenty lives lost, with about fifteen injured, is the toll of a fire which broke out today in the Herald Publishing Company's building, which is situated on the south side of Victoria square, right in the heart of the business district. Without a moment's warning the huge water tower, holding about 10,000 gallons of water, which was on top of the Herald building, suddenly collapsed and fell right through the building from the fifth story to the second, carrying death and destruction in its path. Immediately afterward, the fire broke out and many of those who were in the building at the time did not have a chance to escape, so quickly did the flames spread.

At the present time it is hard to accurately state the number of deaths, as many who were working are missing and it is not known whether they have escaped or not. A conservative estimate places the number at twenty, with about fifteen wounded.

J. M. Robinson & Sons have a special despatch machine which has been used at the Herald composing room and caused the roof to fall through the roof. Five firemen and between thirty and forty girls were reported killed and injured.

ASQUITH SAYS BILL TO AMEND KING'S OATH IS TO BE INTRODUCED

London, June 13—In the house of commons today Premier Asquith announced that a bill would be introduced for modification of the king's declaration. He confirmed the report that communications had passed between him and Mr. Balfour on the veto question and he hoped they would lead to an early meeting.

Hon. Mr. Haldane said that Lord Kitchener did not wish to take up the Mediterranean command.

Times' Special Cable.

London, June 13—A part of a man's coat, declared by some of his fishermen neighbors to have belonged to Portier Charlton, was found today in Lake Como, from the waters of which the body of his murdered bride, Mary Scott Castle Charlton, was recovered last Friday.

The torn garment was fished up from the bottom of the lake near the spot where the trunk containing the body of the woman was found.

Today's discovery strengthens the theory of many that a double murder was committed. This is the view of Charles M. Caughey, the American Consul at Milan, who believes that Charlton met the same fate as did his wife. Mr. Caughey is actively engaged in furthering the investigation.

Several persons, however, say that they saw Charlton, after the date of the crime, at Moltrasio and later at Como. These statements are controverted by the investigations of the police, who have found that the alleged witnesses have been unable to fix dates definitely.

The police have in their possession a letter written by Mrs. Charlton to her former husband, Neville Castle, which had not been mailed, asking him to return her letters and photographs because she wished to show them to Charlton to relieve his mind concerning that distant love episode. They have construed this letter as evidence that Charlton was jealous, and indeed there are not wanting those who say that on various occasions he showed great jealousy of his wife.

Earlier evidence that both of the Charltons were killed presumably for their valuations was found in the blood spattered bed at the villa which they occupied. It is declared that the seven wounds on the woman's coat, which were not released by the police, were left as left by the Charltons from whom they leased the villa, remains in custody and is frequently questioned as developments for inquiry. The Russian maintains his self-possession of the coat, as compared with those which were found on the bodies of the victims.

London, June 13.—Winston Churchill, who, since his elevation to the house of peers, has become more personally overbearing than ever, has just received a rebuke from the king. His Majesty held a reception of the cabinet ministers at Marlborough House this week and discussed with them individually the future of the political situation. After hearing Mr. Churchill's views the king proceeded to tell him exactly his opinion about the outstanding controversy. It is etiquette for ministers to make statements of fact when appealed to by the sovereign and then listen without interruption to the king's answer. Churchill was the first to break this rule. "I do not agree with Your Majesty," he said, "when the king was replying to a point made by Churchill.

PASSENGERS IN FEAR IN STORM DEMAND TO BE PUT ASHORE

(Boston Herald.)
Seasick and frightened by great waves that tossed the steamship Harvard about like a chip as soon as the vessel poked its nose past Point Alton and out into the open sea on Friday afternoon, a committee of passengers went to Capt. Thompson and demanded to be put ashore.

THE MAN BEHIND THE HAT

To the Editor of The Times-Star:
Sir: There were doubtless many who enjoyed the privilege of hearing Ralph Connor in St. Andrew's church yesterday. The writer did, and as one of Ralph Connor's books has influenced his life to a great extent he did not wish to lose a glimpse of the speaker during the service.

ROTHESAY CLOSING

The closing exercises of the Rothestay Educational Institutions were begun yesterday, when the boys, and the girls from Netherwood, attended service at St. Paul's church. Rev. W. B. Swan, of Moncton, preached an interesting sermon, taking as his text, "Speak, Lord, for Thy Servant Heareth."

G. P. R. TRAIN CREWS TO LEARN "FIRST AID"

Considerable attention is being paid by the C. P. R. management to the work of the St. John Ambulance "first aid" movement within the company, and it is the intention of the company to support this by giving every facility and inducement to the men on their passenger trains to learn what they should do in case of accident. The co-operation of the company with the St. John Ambulance people is a good deed more than passive, and orders have been issued advising train employes that they are expected to take lectures on this subject and make themselves efficient in "first aid" work not only for the benefit of passengers, but for their own good. In following up this movement, it is announced that emergency medical outfits will be supplied as fast as conductors show themselves possessed of the necessary knowledge to handle them.

PAUPER IMMIGRANTS

The Canadian Immigration Department is meeting some disaster in England because of two regulations which are deemed necessary to prevent an influx of pauper immigrants into Canada. The Canadian people, however, regardless of politics, endorse the position taken by the department. It is stipulated that immigrants coming to other employment than farm work, or to domestic service, already assured, must have in their possession at time of landing the sum of $25 in addition to railway transportation to whatever point in Canada they are going. This is a sure, reasonable proposition. It does not apply to persons going to assured employment, and it is not too much to ask that an immigrant entering the country without work or the prospects of work should have at least $25 in cash. It is also provided that where it is proposed to send charity-aided emigrants from the old country to Canada, these must secure consent of the Assistant Superintendent of Emigration for Canada in London; and that to such persons this consent shall be given only when they are sent for, willing to accept, and have assured employment at farm-work. It is obvious that without some such regulations charity organizations could flood this country with pauper emigrants. These could simply be landed at a Canadian port without a cent in their pockets, to become a burden upon communities where they were not wanted. There is ample room in Canada for persons who are ready and willing to engage in agricultural work; and for any persons of the right sort, who are able and willing to work, to make their way provided they have enough money on hand to enable them to look about and find a place; but if there were not such restrictions as those imposed by the Immigration Department, the country would be flooded with persons neither able nor willing to work, and altogether undesirable as new citizens.

MR. BORDEN'S TOUR

Mr. R. L. Borden set out today on his tour of rural Ontario. He will deliver a series of addresses to the Ontario farmers and will, no doubt, be heard with pleasure; for Mr. Borden is a pleasing speaker. In his efforts, however, to discredit the present government and convince the people that they should return the Conservative party to power in Canada, he has essayed an impossible task. His listeners will not be unmindful of the fact that Canada was never so prosperous as at the present time; that its trade is increasing at an enormous rate; that new settlers are coming into the country in thousands upon thousands, bringing millions of dollars of new capital for investment. From whatever standpoint the industrial and commercial situation is viewed, Canada is prosperous beyond precedent, and the outlook brighter than at any time in the history of the country. This condition exists under Liberal rule. Mr. Borden cannot deny it. Naturally, also, when it is suggested that a change of government would be desirable, his listeners will ask questions. They will want to know who there are on the Conservative side to take the place of the members of the present government, and give the country a better administration. When the roll of Mr. Borden's active followers is called, there is nothing sufficiently inspiring about it to awaken a wild desire to have these men at the head of Canadian affairs.

PINCHOT AND ROOSEVELT

The Pinchot controversy in the United States has entered upon a new phase. The deposed United States forester, who not long ago held a conference with Roosevelt, while the latter was still in Europe, has delivered a speech in St. Paul which will create no small stir throughout the country. He attacks the trusts, declares that the country is now controlled by special interests at the expense of the people at large, and that this sort of thing must stop. He charges that the tariff has been made too high to increase the cost of living, and that the steel trust stole from the government like a petty thief, and yet is protected by Congress. Mr. Pinchot asserts that the country had lost faith in Congress and there is profound dissatisfaction

But when in after life they longed To make proud fortune bow, He let them find that fate near amies On work done anyhow.

PINCHOT DECLARES WAR ON THE TRUSTS

Special Interests Must be Put Out of Politics—Ringing Speech by Roosevelt's Lieutenant

St. Paul, Minn., June 13.—Before Roosevelt club tonight, Gifford Pinchot, former chief United States forester, just back after a conference with Roosevelt, made a ringing speech in which he declared war on the trusts. Conservation, he said, had captured the nation. He added, in part: "The conservation issue is a moral issue, and the heart of it is this: Who shall our natural resources be conserved for the benefit of us all, or for the use and profit of the few? This truth is so obvious and the question itself so simple that the attitude toward conservation of any man in public or private life indicates his stand in the fight for public rights. Because the special interests are in politics, we as a Nation have lost confidence in congress. This is a serious statement to make, but it is true. It is the duty, of course, to the men who really represent their constituents and who are making so fine a fight for the conservation of self-government. As soon as these men have won their battle and consolidated their victory, confidence in congress will return. But in the meantime the people of the United States believe that, as a whole, the senate and the house no longer represent the voters by whom they were elected, but in special interests by whom they are controlled. They believe so because they have so often seen congress reject what the people desire, and do instead what the interests demand. And of this there could be no better illustration than the tariff. A new life is stirring among the dry bones of formal platforms and artificial issues. Morally has broken into politics. Political leaders, Trust-bred and Trust-fed, find it harder and harder to conceal their actual character. The brass-bound collar of privilege has become plain upon their necks for all men to see. They are known for what they are, and their time is short. But when they come to be re-elected it will be of little use to replace an unfaithful public servant who wears the collar by another public servant with the same collar around his neck. Above all, what we need in every office is free men representing a free people. The motto in every primary—in every election—should be this: No watch dogs of the interests need apply. The overshadowing question before the American people today is this: Shall the nation govern itself or shall the interests run this country? The one great political demand, underlying all others, giving meaning to all others, is this: The special interests must get out of politics. The old-style leaders, seeking to switch public attention away from this one absorbing and overwhelming issue are pitifully ridiculous and out of date. To try to divert the march of an awakened public conscience from this righteous inevitable conflict by means of obsolete political catchwords is like trying to dam the Mississippi with dead leaves. What is the conclusion of the whole matter? The special interests must be put out of politics. I believe the young men who are trying to do this are the men of the future. When a man is at home and the telephone bell rings his wife makes a dash for it to see if it is some woman who wants to talk to him.

UNDOUBTEDLY THE BABY WAS MURDERED

Coroner Berryman to Empanel Jury Tonight—Same Men May Sit in Carberry Inquest—Inquiry Into Mrs. Hooper's Death

Coroner D. E. Berryman will tonight empanel a jury to investigate the death of the baby whose wounded dead body was found on Courtenay Bay flats on Saturday morning.

It is feared that there was a large hole at the end of the breast bone, and there were marks on the neck where violence had been done to the child, presumably to bring about its death.

There has been about a story to the effect that a woman was seen in the vicinity a short time before the baby was found. It was said today that it was possible that this woman had been passing, and had seen the little one and hurried away in fear.

It is possible that the same jury will sit in the inquiry into the death of Frank Carberry, who was crushed to death on Saturday in the accident in King street east. The jury being empanelled tonight will probably view the bodies at once and adjourn to a date to be agreed upon.

ALEXANDER PAYS DEARLY FOR HIS FUN

$40 Fine or Six Months in Jail, Major Portion for Fighting a Policeman—Other Cases

Murray Alexander paid dearly this morning in the police court for a little fuss which he had on Saturday evening in Brussels street with policeman Hughes, for it cost him $40 or six months jail, $22 or four months for resisting the police and $8 or two months for feigning drunk or being drunk.

Hughes said that Alexander and Joseph O'Brien with two others named Mackin and McCauland, were acting disorderly in Brussels street a little after six o'clock. O'Brien, he said, was drunk but Alexander, while perhaps only feigning to be so, was acting in a manner which warranted his arrest.

O'Brien admitted having been drunk and was fined $8 or two months jail. Similar penalties were imposed on William Chittick, Archibald Smith and John Speight on the charge of drunkenness.

George Martin and Frank Hopper, each charged with drunkenness, were remanded. This was stated to be Hopper's fifth appearance before court since January.

SELLING LIQUOR TO AN INTERDICT IS CHARGE MADE

Complaint Against Richard Caples—The Case is Being Defended

In the police court this morning Richard Caples pleaded not guilty to a charge of selling liquor to Arthur Belyea an interdict, in his licensed premises in Brussels street on May 23. He said that all Belyea had got was ginger beer, and while Inspector Jones, who made the report, said that he had served Caples with two notices telling him of the placing of Belyea on the list they differed from each other, the witness said, in that the first read 'tanner', while the second described him as 'seaman'.

In order to get another witness the case was postponed until 10.30 a. m. tomorrow. Inspector Jones said that he served Caples on May 9 and also on May 30, with notice that Belyea's name had been placed on the interdict list.

Frank L. Peters, of the firm of C. H. Peters Co. Ltd., gave evidence that Belyea had for nearly twenty-five years been employed with the company. He had drunk liquor to such an excess that the witness had to dismiss him, although he regretted it, as Belyea was a good workman, and had often expressed a desire to stop drinking, knowing what bad effects it would do.

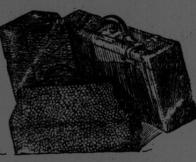

Mr. Peters lately reinstated him in his employ after having him placed on the interdict list. Mr. Peters said he had seen the notice of May 9, referred to by the inspector, and it had read: 'Arthur Belyea, tanner.'

Belyea said he got liquor in Caples' saloon on May 23, the bartender serving it to him. The defendant was present at the time. On May 27 he was served with liquor by Caples himself. The witness said he did not know for sure that he had been on the list. Later the bartender told him.
