NEW YORK IS SWEEPED BY THE GRIME WAVE

ROBBERIES AND MURDERS MARK POLICE DRIVE

$1,000,000 In Jewelry Stolen Within Last Five Days

BATTLE IN STREET

Police Arrest Four After Wounding Driver Of Gunmen's Auto

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Murders and robberies have accompanied the inauguration of a drive against crime, the authorities doubtless their efforts today to catch crooks and try them speedily. Gangsters, working vengeance for three recent murders, shot and killed two men yesterday and probably fatally wounded another. The police in an automobile hunting the slayers had a pistol battle in which one man was wounded and four were captured.

Robbers held up a jewelry establishment in the night rush hour, tied up the proprietor, four employees and two customers and escaped with $75,000 in gems. In the first five days $1,000,000 in jewelry had been stolen.

850 COURT CASES.

These crimes occurred shortly after nine o'clock courts began to clear the dockets of 850 criminal cases awaiting trial, so that speedy punishment would be dealt out.

Irring Madonia, a taxicab driver, slumped to a Rumanian coffee house and died begging the proprietress to hide him. In the confusion a man peered at the body and said: "I'll get the guy that did this."

The word spread rapidly through the East Side. In less than an hour Ignazio Facio was shot down in the street and killed. Then two men shot and probably mortally wounded Meyer Lewis, a glazier, as his wife and son watched him good-bye from their apartment window. His wife ran to the street screaming the name of the man who had threatened revenge over Madonia's body in the coffee house.

BATTLE IN STREET. Detectives in a police automobile, hailing a speeding automobile, were met with a hail of bullets. Returning the fire, they wounded Michael Purano, driver of the fugitive car, and arrested four companions, all said to have criminal records.

Five robbers hauled off $75,000 in jewelry from the shop of J. A. Linher, on Lower Sixth avenue. Hundreds of persons were passing the shop at the time. The men gathered up even the gems displayed in the shop windows.

OFFICERS ARRESTED.

Patrolmen Francis P. Dugan and John J. Kerrigan, a prohibition officer, were held without bail, charged with the murder of Owen Boyle, an aged bootlegger, in a fight over division of profits from liquor sales. Chasing two men who attempted to snatch a purse from Miss Betty King, her companion, in the Hell's Kitchen district last night, Curtis Sulzer was shot and badly wounded.

Hundreds Pay Last Tribute of Respect To Wm. S. Allison Today

ITALIAN LABOR BODY TAKES DRASTIC STEP

Country Urged to Realize Case for Maritimes and Act

OTTAWA, Oct. 5.—There is one man in Ottawa who fully appreciates the situation in the Maritimes. That is because he hails from Yarmouth, N. S. He is Mr. Holden, of the firm of Grant, Holden & Graham, and he is disposed to regard our prospects in much the same light as they are regarded by Hon. F. B. McCurdy.

"YOU have to buy everything from us," said Mr. Holden, "but what do we buy from you? The business is all one way." Mr. Holden could see no help for the Maritimes unless the county at large recognizes what is due to them and acts on that knowledge. "That," he continued, "is what I am continually telling the people here." His firm does no business through American ports.

Quite another point of view was presented by F. Whyte, of Bullfinch Sales. He never uses American ports, but he wanted to talk about the Maritimes and learn what they had to say for themselves. He had heard their people sharply criticized in a recent conversation, the critics alleging that our people had first tried to help themselves pass by, and had got into the habit of making complaint when they ought to be up and doing. In short the critic was disposed to intimate that our troubles are our own fault. Mr. Whyte did not subscribe to this view, but said it had to be faced. For himself, he knew our situation was undesirable, and believed thoughtful people recognized the fact.

HE was, nevertheless, disposed to lay a lot of blame on our politicians, a number of whom he showed a pretty thorough knowledge. They, he said, deserved to be censured for unwise expenditures, which were seized upon by people up here as reasons for suspecting our bona fides in regard to demands for further spending.

Mr. Whyte showed a keen interest in the coming conference at Charlotte-town, and declared that a plain and definite statement of the Maritime case would be of great benefit. I find this view very generally expressed, and it should stimulate our Board of Trade committees to make their work thorough.

I called upon J. G. White & Coy., J. H. Garland, Son & Co., and A. K. Miller & Son, and found that their imports are all routed through Canadian ports. Mr. Miller, whose father and grandfather were in business before him, told of long-standing business connections with W. S. Fisher and the Enterprize Foundry Co., and he paid a fine personal tribute to Mr. Fisher. Having called on most of the exporting and importing firms in Ottawa I am in a position to say that they are wholly sympathetic toward the policy of Canadian trade through Canadian channels.

A line from F. MacLure Scanders tells me that Commissioner Gordon Philip of the Border Cities Chamber of Commerce would like to arrange to have me address several organizations while in Windsor. I think this is typical of the desire of Ontario business men to know more about the Maritimes and their problems.

I am greatly indebted to C. S. Morse and A. R. Cope of the C. P. R. freight service in Ottawa, for enabling me to see with greater ease those firms I desired to interview.

Thugs Scorn Small Change

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Disdaining to collect "small change," three robbers who raided a crap game in a garage, returned $150 to the 35 participants in the game. "Here, take it back, we're not cheap skates," one of the robbers said after the crowd had been "fritzed."

PRINCIPLES 30 YEARS IN FORCE ARE OVERTURNED

New Deal Made Between Employers And Employees

FASCIST TRIUMPH

Most Radical Move Is Abolition Of Workers' Shop Committees

ROME, Oct. 6.—The most revolutionary step in the treatment of labor problem in Italy in the present generation has been taken with the adoption of an accord with the Confederation of Industry and the Confederation of Fascist Labor Unions.

Under the agreement each of these organizations representing respectively the employers and workers, recognizes the other as the sole body with which it is to deal in all questions affecting wages, general labor and employment.

MUSSOLINI'S PLAN.

Under it also a serious attempt will be made, backed by all the forces of the Fascist government, to overturn the principles that have governed the accord with general labor and labor in Italy for more than 80 years.

The actual negotiations were brought to a fruition by Deputy Farinacci, secretary of the Fascist party, but the principles motivating them have been espoused for many months by such experts as Minister of Justice Rocco in accord with general lines laid down by Premier Mussolini.

The tangible results of the accord will be that workers may belong to whatever organizations they choose, but if they wish to be represented effectively in matters concerning their wages and working conditions they must belong to the Fascist unions, through which all demands to the employers must pass.

SHOP COMMITTEES GO.

Another important point is the abolition of the internal shop committees which hitherto have been elected by secret vote of the workers in each factory. This is the last remnant of the organization created by the workers during Giovanni Giolitti's premiership and grant authorization for the trial factories and dictated terms to the managements.

The new accord substitutes for these organizations committees elected directly by the workers.

4-CORNERED FIGHT IN NORTH WINNIPEG

Liberal, Conservative and Two Labor Candidates Already in Field.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6.—With the nomination of Hon. E. J. McMurray, former Solicitor General in the King Cabinet, to contest North Winnipeg for the Liberal party at the coming election, a four cornered election battle loomed for that constituency.

Four candidates are already in the field, Dr. R. M. Blake, Con.; Alderman A. A. Heape, Independent Labor party, and H. M. Bartholomew, Canadian Labor party, and four other candidates in addition to Mr. McMurray.

Vincent Massey, minister without portfolio in the King cabinet, said that he had sincerely thought that the original proposals would injure the industry, but events had demonstrated otherwise and he was willing to admit himself mistaken.

Driller's Bravery Saves Oil Derrick

SHREVEPORT, La., Oct. 6.—To save a field of oil derricks from destruction a Caddo driller yesterday donned a suit of armor and carried a charge of nitroglycerine into the heart of a towering blaze over a gas well. AGED PHILISTINE TEMPLE UNEARTHED Contains King Saul's Armour as Trophy of Defeat of Israelites.

PHILADELPHIA, Oct. 6.—The temple of Ashtaroth, renowned in the Old Testament as the sanctuary of the Philistines and the edifice in which King Saul's battle armor was hung as a trophy of the Israelites' defeat at the battle of Gilboa, has been found, says a cablegram to the University of Pennsylvania. The temple of Ashtaroth was described as an oblong structure of three columns to each side. Within its cornerstone the excavators found a casket or foundation deposit, containing among other objects, ingots of "electrum," a mixture of gold and silver.

DIPLOMAS ARE ONLY CRAFT FOR ARCTIC QUEST

MacMillan Says Airplane Operation Is Too Uncertain

TELLS OF FINDS

Evidence, He Says, that Vikings Visited Labrador As Well As Greenland

SYDNEY, N. S., Oct. 6.—Diplomas are the only aircraft that will be able to thoroughly and satisfactorily explore the Arctic wastes, according to Commander Donald B. MacMillan, who arrived here at 9 o'clock this morning from his latest expedition to the North.

Alps planes are feasible to a certain extent, the commander said, but their operation is surrounded by great uncertainty on account of the difficulty of landing anywhere away from the home base.

CANNOT ALIGHT. The ice is hummocky and to alight upon it invites great danger and generally means that it will be almost impossible to rise again, even if serious injury is avoided in gliding down. In a word, the planes to be safe must fly a certain distance from the base and return home without alighting.

Expeditious in the North show conclusively that the Vikings not only crossed the ocean in early days but formed a settlement in Labrador similar to those found in Greenland.

LOCATES RUINS. He was successful in locating Viking ruins in Labrador, at Nain, but did not have time to do more than make a hasty survey. Next year he is going back to dig into these settlements and make a thorough study of them.

The Bowdoin is now taking on supplies and will sail for Wisconsin this afternoon.

5 PRISONERS FLEE WINNIPEG PRISON

All Had Saws Concealed—Cut Bars and Gagged Jailer.

WINNIPEG, Man., Oct. 6.—John Stanton, awaiting trial for the murder of John Denny, and four other prisoners, escaped from the provincial jail here early today.

The other men who escaped are: Alex. Shupenski, held in connection with a murder at Inwood, Man.; G. Laboduk, charged with a shooting and attempted hold-up in St. Boniface; Archie McKenna, held for robbery, and A. T. Blake, charged with false pretences.

The men escaping apparently had saws concealed about their person, and had each sawed two bars of each cell. This let them out on the common corridor of the east wing of the ground floor of the jail.

As a jailer was making his rounds, the men rushed from their cells and overpowered him. They bound and gagged him, and secured his keys with which they were able to open the front entrance doors. They escaped in front of the jail, engine running. There was also a strike laboduk is said to have had a revolver.

PUBLIC BODIES REPRESENTED AT FUNERAL TODAY

Allison was still linked to the public life of this city, a new firm of young business men began an historic career in the mercantile life of the community. That firm has become so well known that today the name of Manchester, Robertson, Allison Ltd. holds an established place in the business records of the old and new world.

"The devotional and spiritual life of William Allison was not of the ostentatious type. It showed in his relation to those about him rather than in any audible profession. His life was a manifestation of the love that is patient and kind, that knows neither envy nor jealousy, that is not forward nor self-assertive, nor boastful nor conceited, that does not behave unbecomingly, nor seek to aggrandize itself, nor blaze out in passionate anger, nor broods over wrongs." He found no pleasure in the words of the poet, "I am the Resurrection and the Life!"

"O Lord of Light steep Thou our souls in Thee! That when the daylight trembles into shade, And falls the silence of mortality, And all is done, we shall not be afraid, But pass from light to light; in earth's dim gleam Into the very heart and heaven of our dreams."

PROFUSION OF FLOWERS. Amongst the profusion of floral tributes, which included scores of offerings of a private and personal nature, were the following from public bodies and groups:

A sheaf of snap-dragon and roses—The staff and girls of Netherwood School.

Wealth of roses and lilies—N. B. Publishing Co.

Large wreath—Directorate of Manchester Robertson Allison Ltd.

Large wreath—Employees of Manchester Robertson Allison Ltd.

Wreath of pansies and roses—Manager and staff Bank of Nova Scotia.

Cross of white flowers—Rector, church wardens and vestry of St. Paul's, Rothesay.

Sheaf of gaidheal—James Robertson Co.

Star—From Duke of Rothesay Chapter I. O. D. F.

Canon Daniel's Tribute. Rev. Canon A. W. Daniel in his pulpit reference at Rothesay on last Sunday evening expressed profound sorrow of the Rothesay community at the news brought about by the introduction of the death of Mr. Allison, he said, "in the nature of a disaster. He had been an energetic, happy-hearted citizen, an astute business man, an affectionate father and a Christian character. Canon Daniel expressed the sympathy of his church and its people for the afflicted family and invoked the strength and grace of God in their behalf."

And when we think of William Allison, whether it is in the sphere of his social life, or in that of his business, or in his home life, his spiritual quality stands out. His life was simplicity—free from the arts and affectation so commonly met with in character revealed the atmosphere in which he lived and his genuine appreciation of all the true things of life indicated the receptive power of a man unclouded by the cheap veneer of modern conditions.

"And having said this of our friend may we not also say that to think these qualities shall pass into oblivion is to accuse God of unutterable folly. Did God make all these powers possible only that they might succumb to the hand of time? Do a hole in the earth and the words 'Dust to dust' express the last page of human history? Or shall we catch the vision of the One who said 'I am the Resurrection and the Life!'

"O Lord of Light steep Thou our souls in Thee! That when the daylight trembles into shade, And falls the silence of mortality, And all is done, we shall not be afraid, But pass from light to light; in earth's dim gleam Into the very heart and heaven of our dreams."

HON. MR. COPP WAS HERE. Senator A. B. Copp left for his home in Moncton today after some hours spent here in that it was improbable a running mate for the Secretary of State, Hon. Dr. Foster, would be demanded in Albert County, the other half of the constituency. He felt reasonably certain another Saint John man would be selected. Speaking of electoral matters generally Mr. Copp noted the changed conditions brought about by the introduction of the women vote. Since universal enfranchisement has been in force old-time estimates could not be depended upon and it did not always follow that the womenfolk of a household would vote as the male members do.

GYRO LUNCHEON. The Gyo Club held its weekly luncheon in the Admiral Beatty Hotel at noon today, with Sherman Dearborn in the chair. Routine business was transacted.

STERLING EXCHANGE. NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—Sterling exchange steady. Great Britain 48 3/4; France 46 1/4; Italy 40 1/4; Germany 23.80. Canadian dollar 1-32 of one per cent. premium.

GOOD THINGS COMING TO THEATRES OF SAINT JOHN.

Noted Baritone is Engaged Impromptu

A visitor to the city at the present time is Robert E. Welch of Montreal, one of Canada's most pleasing baritones and known across the country for his appearances in important theatres, on concert platforms and as a church soloist. Yesterday Mr. Welch, who is in town on business as a traveler for a machinery house, called at the Imperial Theatre in a social way but before he left he was induced to take part in the Imperial's programme nightly for the remainder of the week. His opening appearance will be tonight and Mr. Welch will be an unexpected and doubtless much appreciated addition to the Imperial's excellent bills arranged for this week.

SAINT JOHN, N. B., OCTOBER 6, 1923.

THE INCOME TAX AND OTHERS.

So necessary is it that taxation be reduced in Canada, any proposal in that direction commands interest at the present time.

- 1. Customs tariff.
2. Excise taxes on various commodities, such as matches, automobiles, beverages, cigars, wines, etc.
3. Income tax.
4. Tax on sales.
5. Licenses.
6. Tax on corporations and companies.
7. Tax on cables and telegrams.
8. Tax on railway and street tickets.
9. Stamp tax on cheques, drafts, bills, notes, stock transfers, etc.
10. Stamp tax on money orders, letters and post cards.
11. Stamp tax on receipts.

Mr. Trovren argues that the income tax penalizes honesty and puts a premium upon dishonesty. The amount collected in 1921-22 was $101,204,000. In 1922-23 it was $88,956,000. High inference from so great a decrease is that either the tax is killing the business of the country or that people are learning how to dodge it.

STRACHEY AND THE RED MENACE.

J. St. Lee Strachey, the famous editor of the London Spectator, who is visiting Canada, told the McGill Canadian Club last week that those who wish to bring about a revolution in Great Britain are doomed, self-doomed, to utter disappointment and remorse.

This statement recalls, as it resembles, the recent pronouncement of the British Prime Minister that if the revolutionary element should seek to interrupt the processes of orderly government their challenge would be met, and that there would be no doubt as to the result.

An Important Discovery (Hanover Post). Editor Evans of Strathroy has discovered the proper way to eat parsnips. Feed them to the cow and then eat the cow.

If That Was Only All! (Springfield Union). It would be possible to look forward to winter resignedly and even with moderate enthusiasm were it not for the anguishing fear that styles will again demand flapping goshes.

Outrageous Fiction! (From "Parking Space," in Detroit Free Press). Our completely revised notion of an Odd and Unusual Story would be the announcement that Henry Ford was buying a horse on installments.

Not Anxious For Argument. "That's the shape of the earth," asked the teacher, calling suddenly upon Willie. "Round." "How do you know it's round?" "At night," said Willie, "it's square, then, I don't want to start any argument about it."

APPEAL MADE FOR CARE OF ANIMALS

Animal Rescue Officials Anxious For Special Thought as Winter Comes.

The Animal Rescue League sends out a petition to the people of Saint John to ask them to do all in their power to protect domestic animals, now that the cold weather is near.

Dr. D. H. McAlister Chosen
Liberal Party Candidate
In Constituency of Royal

Councillor John E. McAuley, of Studholm, Offers Support
—Only One Name Placed Before the Convention at Sussex

SUSSEX, N. B., Oct. 5.—Dr. D. H. McAlister, of this town, was chosen standard-bearer for the Liberal party in the electoral district of Royal at a largely attended meeting held in the Imperial Theatre this afternoon. The nomination, which was made in open convention, was moved by G. King, of Chipman, and seconded by Lieut.-Col. O. W. Wetmore, of Clifton, and no other name was offered to the convention.

Dr. McAlister in his acceptance of the nomination thoroughly went into the fight. When he ran Independent in the recent provincial election his real support was from the Liberal party, he said. He had fought the election as a Conservative party for 40 years but as a result of happenings in the last election he felt it was high time to help those who helped him. He had supported George B. Jones in 1921 and was in some measure responsible for his victory. In this election he would in some measure help to be responsible for his defeat, he affirmed. Some would say McAuley was bought by the Liberal party but if he had been for sale he could have sold out to some of the gentlemen. He was taken over to Queens county by the late Conservative party, he said. In comparing Premier Mackenzie King's policy with that advocated by Mr. Meighen, he felt that Premier King's was right and that was the reason that he was going to stand up behind and give his hearty support to the election of Dr. McAlister. He would elect Dr. Foster.

HON. DR. FOSTER.
Hon. Dr. Foster wished to assure those present that it afforded him great pleasure to address a Kings county audience. He had been a resident of Kings county for six months in the year for nearly a quarter of a century and his forefathers were buried in Kings county. Dr. Foster said that the question of increased tariff was a very important one. He asked if the people of Canada were burdened by increased tax. Four years of government under Mackenzie King had decreased taxation but the edge of the wedge had only yet been inserted. He pointed to the Meighen Government had made Portland, Me., the winter port of Canada but that the Liberal Government was going to do this by providing better port facilities at Saint John and Halifax and using the C. N. R. He explained that his position in the cabinet, while not one that carried a lot of patronage with it like that of public works and others, would afford him many opportunities to help out as he knew the requirements of New Brunswick and Canada.

THANKS ELECTORS.
Dr. McAlister thanked the convention for the honor it has conferred on him. He said it was not so great an honor now as it used to be as different tactics were now employed to those of a quarter of a century ago. If a man now desired to have his pedigree from A to Z and that of all his relatives, all he had to do was enter politics. If this election had been looked on as an easy victory, there would have been lots of candidates in the field but when the fight seemed a bit hard candidates were not so plentiful.

PROUD OF LEADER.
He said he was proud to fight a campaign under the leadership of the Hon. Dr. W. E. Foster, a man whom he had known for many years and for whom he had the utmost respect and confidence. Dr. McAlister charged the Conservative party with trying to make political capital by harping on the exodus to the United States from Canada. The doctor said that the United States had come into the world two years after Canada and the neighboring republic instead of losing by the war had profited and had occupied in practically all the gold in the world. As a result there was a big boom there after the war and the crafty Canadian was not slow to take advantage of it on account of the business depression in this country caused by the reaction after the Great War activities. Times would gradually get better in Canada and many boys and girls that crossed the line would return again, he said. This applied particularly to the Maritime provinces after all was said and done there was no place like home for our true Canadians.

JOHN E. MAULEY.
John E. McAuley, when called on by the chairman to address the convention, said he wanted to just make a few remarks that the electors might realize.

Dr. McAlister thanked the convention for the honor it has conferred on him. He said it was not so great an honor now as it used to be as different tactics were now employed to those of a quarter of a century ago. If a man now desired to have his pedigree from A to Z and that of all his relatives, all he had to do was enter politics. If this election had been looked on as an easy victory, there would have been lots of candidates in the field but when the fight seemed a bit hard candidates were not so plentiful.

SOCIAL MARKS
82ND BIRTHDAY

Happy Time is Enjoyed at Event of Ludlow Street
Church

Tableaux Prove Very Enjoyable and Whole Programme
Very Interesting.

The Ludlow street United Baptist church celebrated its 82nd birthday with a congregational social in the vestry of the church last night. It was held under the auspices of the social committee assisted by the reception committee of the church and an excellent informal programme was greatly enjoyed. Rev. W. A. Robbins, the pastor, was the chairman and after his opening address every one joined in the singing of "Blessed Be the Tie That Binds" "Father Time" impersonated by T. B. Brown, was then introduced. Mrs. W. A. Robbins recited

Longfellow's "The Psalm of Life." A proverb guessing contest followed. The proverb was "A Wise Son Makes a Glad Father," and it was correctly guessed by Miss Marjorie Roxborough and Pleman Hamm.

Ronald Hamilton gave the story without words, the title of which was another proverb, "It is a Poor Workman That Complains of His Tools."

TABLEAUX SHOWN.
The different stages of life were shown in tableaux which had musical accompaniment. In the first tableau of mother and infant, Mrs. William Burnett was shown with her infant son and the audience sang "Rock-a-bye Baby." Miss Opal Grey and Donald Belyea gave the "School Days" tableau as "School Days" was sung. For the tableau of "Youth" Miss Ada Cartwell, Miss Saddle Durkin, Ronald Cheyne and Prescott MacLean appeared and sang "Juvenilia." In a "Bridal Group" tableau Miss Saddle Durkin was bride and Carl Robbins was groom and Rev. W. A. Robbins was the minister. In the group "Old Age" Mrs. George Price and Deacon John P. Ring, the two oldest members of the congregation appeared. The hymn, "Just As I Am" was sung and after a portion of the 8rd chapter of John had been read, Deacon Ring offered prayer.

At the final tableau of the series those taking part in all of the tableaux formed a "Happy Family" group everyone joined in singing, "Home Sweet Home."

While the ladies served refreshments there was a general sing song of popular airs. Later Miss Read Wayne gave two much enjoyed readings.

The committees in charge were: Social committee, Mrs. T. E. Brown, Mrs. George Belyea, Mrs. F. Roxborough, George Belyea and Rev. W. A. Robbins; reception committee, Mrs. Frank Cheyne, Mrs. John Hamm, Mrs. William Grey, Mrs. J. J. Merryfield and Mrs. R. J. White. The church had been very tastefully decorated by the ladies of the two committees.

Mrs. F. Ayscough
To Lecture Here

Mrs. Francis Ayscough is to visit Saint John this week or next and will give an address under the auspices of the Ladies' Auxiliary of the Natural History Society. In her previous visits to Saint John Mrs. Ayscough has fascinated and delighted large audiences as she has told of the people of China, their traditions and literature. Mrs. Ayscough makes her summer home in St. Andrews, N. B. She has an intimate knowledge of and love for the Chinese people, having lived in China for many years, and been a keenly interested student of their national customs and traits as well as of the art and poetry of China.

Mrs. Ayscough collaborated with the late Miss Amy Lowell in publishing a book of translations of Chinese poetry and has written another book dealing with the symbolism of the purple forbidden city of Peking. Her latest book on Chinese subjects has just been published and is illustrated by Miss Lucille Douglas.

A meeting of the executive of the Ladies' Auxiliary has been called this afternoon by Mrs. Margaret Lawrence, the president, for the purpose of making further arrangements for Mrs. Ayscough's lecture here and for the auxiliary's forthcoming annual meeting.

BRITISH ARMY TO HAVE NEW RIFLE

Considerable Improvement Over Present Type—Higher Muzzle Velocity.

LONDON, Oct. 6.—Though surprisingly little has been heard of the matter in the House of Commons, the work of re-arming the infantry with a new rifle is already well in hand, and it is hoped to start the issue of this to the troops before the end of the year.

It is claimed by those who are responsible for the new weapon that it will be a considerable improvement on the one at present in use in the army, though this was found to be one of the best used by any army during the war.

The system of loading will be practically the same as in the present weapon, but the boring of the barrel has been slightly modified and other improvements introduced.

As a result of these it is hoped that the weapon will have a greater muzzle velocity, and, consequently, a flatter trajectory—the great aim in the production of all new rifles.

Adventures of the Twins

By OLIVE ROBERTS BARTON THE LOST GASOLINE

One day, Old Daddy Cracknuts drove his automobile up the road past the twins' garage.

"Hello Daddy!" called Nick. "Hello!" answered the squirrel gentleman sociably, as he waved his tail at them.

"Hello, Daddy!" called Nancy. And again the squirrel gentleman called "hello!" and waved his tail in greeting.

"Daddy takes good care of his car," said Nick to Nancy. "He always drives slowly, and keeps it oiled and clean and in good order. He has fewer repair bills than any of the forest or meadow folk."

But scarcely had he spoke when Daddy's car, which had just gone a little distance past the garage, came to a sudden stop.

"He must have forgotten something," said Nancy. "He's stopped and coming back."

But Daddy didn't come back. The twins saw him jiggling the gears and brake this way and that and finally get out and look at the engine.

"Something must be wrong," said Nick. "Come on. We'll go and help him."

So both the twins went over to the place where Daddy Cracknuts was working with his car.

"What's wrong, Daddy?" asked Nick. "That's just what I was going to ask you," said Mister Cracknuts. "I can't find out what it is."

"Maybe it's your battery," said Nick. Daddy climbed into the car again and stepped on the starter and turned the lights on and off.

"No—that's all right," he said. "It's not the battery."

"Maybe it's the carburetor," said Nick. "I don't know what that is, but you might be right," said Daddy. "Will you look and see?"

"No, it's not that," he said finally. "Have you enough oil? No! It says half full, so that's all right. It isn't oil. Are you sure you have enough gasoline?"

Just bought two pints this morning," said Daddy, "and I haven't run forty feet since. It can't be gasoline either."

By this time quite a crowd had collected. The Bunnies and the Woodchucks and the Mud Turtle families also Ringtail Coon and his nephews, Corbie and Cobble. Even Phil Frog was there and all the other frogs.

Then Colonel Possum shuffled up and after him came Mrs. Possum with the five little Possums hanging to her tail.

There were a lot of other besides, but I haven't time to tell about everybody.

The thing is that there was quite a crowd, and every person in the crowd was offering some reason for Daddy Cracknuts' car getting stuck.

Some said it was the brakes, and some said it was the gears, and some said it was no water in the radiator and some said this and some said that.

But nobody could find out the trouble. But just by chance Nick looked into the gasoline tank. "Your gasoline is all gone," Daddy's car cried. "No wonder your car won't go."

"The idea!" exclaimed Daddy. "What do you suppose has happened?" (To Be Continued.)

Queue Tax Likely To Inspire Bobbing

SHANGHAI, Oct. 5.—Bobbed hair is due for another wave of popularity in Shantung Province of China.

Chang Chung Chang, Tschum of Shantung and first lieutenant of General Chang Tso Lin, Manchurian warlord, has ordered levied a tax of $1 per month on each Chinaman who insists on wearing the once nearly universal Chinese queue.

The tax is levied "in the interests of modernity and sanitation." So bobbed hair is expected to get new impetus or else the Shantung government will become enriched.

Sober as Judge Term Gives Court Laugh

MONTREAL, Oct. 5.—"Was the accused under the influence of liquor?" Joseph Cohen, counsel for P. Cunningham, taxi-driver, charged with driving while intoxicated, asked a witness in the court of sessions during Cunningham's trial today.

"No," answered the witness. "He was sober as a judge."

"Thank you," broke in Judge Monet. "I suppose you mean as sober as a judge on the bench?"

The witness replied that he did while the court roared.

Prices Are Quoted For Spurious Liquor

NEW YORK, Oct. 5.—The bootlegging trade in New York has now reached such a stage of organization that it quotes prices on "phony" and "good" liquor and frankly admits that the phony stuff never sees Scotland, Kentucky or the wine-clad hills of France.

"Phony" Scotch, admittedly made on the premises from redeemed alcohol, creosote and other ingredients, is quoted at $38 a case as compared with $48 for a liquor which purports to be a genuine importation from Scotland.

"Phony" gin for which even the bootleggers himself is able to find very little praise, is listed at $15 a case and the genuine, if any, at $42.

ST. ANDREWS STREET FIRE

The fire department was called out at 11:25 o'clock last night to a fire that started in the rear of an open garage on the ground floor of a house at 37 St. Andrews street occupied by Murray Stackhouse. Considerable damage was caused by the cutting of floors and partitions on this floor and that on the second floor occupied by Edgar Dean, also by smoke to the furniture on the third story occupied by Mrs. R. Gibson.

The most sensational of many disorders occurred Saturday night when Cavalier Lupercin, a member of the Fascist party directorate, was shot and killed by Giovanni Benicini. Benicini was seized by a mob and beaten to death. Other reprisals led to the killing of Advocate Gustavo Consolo, a member of the staff of the newspaper Avanti, while a former Socialist deputy, Gastano Pilati, was wounded.

When cycling in Cardiganshire a friend got into touch with a farmer, who, in response to a question as to his health, replied that he was getting better slowly. Further conversation revealed the fact that he had been sick since the spring. Asked the nature of his complaint, he replied that he had been cured.

"What did you do, then?" he was asked. "I took the matter to the conjurer at Llan—," he replied, "and he gave me a note. Since then I have been getting better slowly, but it takes a long time."

NEW METHODS FOUND TO DETECT CANCER

Two new methods of diagnosing or detecting internal cancer in its early stages are reported from Europe.

While biologists and bi-chemists are working to discover the fundamental nature and cause of cancer, surgeons and physicians are of necessity concerned chiefly with treating cancer when it occurs.

An external cancer is readily discovered. But an internal one is far more difficult to detect.

Since at present the success with which medical men can combat a cancer is in direct ratio to the earliness with which it is discovered, it can be seen at once why the new European advances are so important.

The first method of diagnosis is the work of Dr. Kottaroff and Weyl of Geneva, Switzerland.

They have discovered that if a dilute solution of serum containing radio-active substances in a colloidal or paste state is injected into a patient suffering from cancer, a peculiar phenomenon takes place. For some unknown reason, all the radio-active substance becomes localized in the cancer growth.

If a sensitive photographic plate is then exposed for some hours over the suspected part of the body, the outline of the cancer is found upon the plate as a result of the action of the radio-active substance.

The second method of diagnosis has been worked out by Dr. Botoleto of the so-called Hotel Dieu, the famous hospital near Notre Dame in Paris.

This method, it seems, does not give the exact location of the cancer growth but merely indicates a cancerous condition in the patient.

In this test some of the blood serum from the patient is mixed with dilute nitric acid and an iodine reagent. If the patient is normal, Dr. Botoleto says that the serum remains clear. If the patient has cancer, the serum becomes cloudy.

Concerning the treatment of cancer, early surgery, according to the statement of Dr. Erwin P. Smith, president of the American Association for Cancer Research, still remains the best treatment.

Dr. Smith adds, however, that the use of radium and X-ray in many cases delays the growth of cancer and in some cases seems to have effected cures. In the case of these cures, Dr. Smith thinks it is too early yet to say whether the patients have been permanently cured.

Dr. Smith also issues a warning about the use of radium and X-ray in the hands of incompetent workers, he says, they are "deadly weapons."

Fascisti and Masons In Italy Have Clash

FLORENCE, Italy, Oct. 5.—The adherents of Fascism and the members of the Freemason order have been at grips in Florence, and Roberto Farinacci, secretary-general of the Fascist party, had to come here to restore order as far as possible.

The most sensational of many disorders occurred Saturday night when Cavalier Lupercin, a member of the Fascist party directorate, was shot and killed by Giovanni Benicini. Benicini was seized by a mob and beaten to death. Other reprisals led to the killing of Advocate Gustavo Consolo, a member of the staff of the newspaper Avanti, while a former Socialist deputy, Gastano Pilati, was wounded.

3 Killed in Pistol Duel at Roadhouse

ST. LOUIS, Oct. 5.—Three men were shot and killed in a terrific pistol fight at a roadhouse near Upper Creve Coeur Lake, St. Louis county, early today. I. S. O. Quinn, one of the proprietors, said he killed the three men single handed. The dead are Vincent Goeddle, 21, Don Jean Hoffman, 24, and James Tuley, all alleged gangsters.

Quinn told the authorities the shooting resulted from an attempted hold-up and he was under fire not only of the men, but of the two others who escaped.

WITCHCRAFT IS COMMON IN WALES

Author of "Taffy" Tells Instance of Farmer Who Was "Cursed."

LONDON, Oct. 6.—"The Welsh are the most superstitious people on earth," says Caradoc Evans, author of the much-discussed play "Taffy."

"They are Orientals, not Westerns, in thought. I am, myself, and I am quite prepared to believe that if I went and saw a gypsy woman doctor, and on the way home she threw loose her would give me, I should have the same of my future wife revealed to me."

Amazing depths of ignorance and superstition regarding the potency of magic spells are revealed by an investigation of practices carried out among the Welsh.

When cycling in Cardiganshire a friend got into touch with a farmer, who, in response to a question as to his health, replied that he was getting better slowly. Further conversation revealed the fact that he had been sick since the spring. Asked the nature of his complaint, he replied that he had been cured.

"What did you do, then?" he was asked. "I took the matter to the conjurer at Llan—," he replied, "and he gave me a note. Since then I have been getting better slowly, but it takes a long time."

Home Nursing Classes Now Total 46 In New Brunswick

Miss S. A. Barrington, Provincial Organizer, Busily Engaged in Forming New Classes of Red Cross Instruction; Has Done Splendid Work

WITH 46 Red Cross home nursing classes in New Brunswick already formed and many of them carried through the entire course of lessons, Miss S. A. Barrington, provincial organizer of the classes, appointed by the Canadian branch, is again busy undertaking the formation of other classes throughout the province.

Miss Barrington has displayed remarkable ability as an organizer and has aroused great enthusiasm for the home nursing instruction. She is a Nova Scotian by birth and comes from a family distinguished in the history of the Maritime Provinces. She is a graduate of the Aberdeen Hospital, Nova Scotia, and has been identified with special work for women and children in Chicago, taking a post-graduate course in one of Chicago's famous institutions. From there she went to Dublin, where she had the privilege of making a study of the public health tuberculosis work carried on by caravans through the interest of Lady Aberdeen. Traveling through the country districts in Ireland, Miss Barrington learned much of the methods employed in combating the dread disease and in educating the people in proper methods of care and of prevention.

FURTHERS CHILD WELFARE
Returning to Canada, Miss Barrington was for five and a half years superintendent of the Infants' Home and Women's Hospital in Halifax, where child welfare work was carried on with conspicuous success. Miss Barrington's work at the Infants' Home, with the assistance of a social service worker, was the means of demonstrating the advantage of supervised boarding homes for destitute children over institutional care, and Nova Scotia was first in the Maritime Provinces to undertake this branch of child welfare work.

YALE STUDENTS EARN $417,193 IN SCHOOL YEAR

Scholarships, Fellowships and Loans Add Another $378,387 to Fund

321 HIRE AS WAITERS; EIGHT TEND FURNACES

Secretary Reveals Some Interesting Facts Regarding Sidelines Taken Up

NEW HAVEN, Conn., Oct. 6.—A record for earning power was established during the academic year of 1924-25, according to an announcement made through the secretary's office at the university. Students earned $417,193.34. Scholarships, fellowships and loans amounted to $378,387, bringing the total of funds earned, or expenses reduced, to $795,580, which creates the record.

Students who "waited on table" to add to their funds head the list. A total of 321 Yale men were waiters at either Yale Commons or at boarding houses, earning $107,603. Twenty men became artists' models and received for this work $105, while 22 became professional blood donors, giving their blood for blood transfusions. For this sacrifice they received $225.

EIGHT TEND FURNACES

The old tradition that many students work their way through college by tending furnaces is somewhat shattered by the report, the figures showed, that eight men in Yale now rose early to start fires and tend furnaces. From this work $889 was earned. Summer work proved a lucrative field, 903 men earning a total of $110,226. Fifty-four worked as salesmen during the summer, 41 were tutors and 54 went into industrial work.

Henry Ford and the directors of his Detroit plant are thanked by Albert Beecher Crawford, director of the bureau of appointments, the student employment agency. In his annual report to President Angell, Mr. Crawford tells of an important experiment made last summer with Mr. Ford's co-operation. He says:

"Several years ago an unsuccessful attempt was made to initiate a 'summer training plan,' intended to develop definite experimental and vocational value for the student. This year, with the co-operation of the Ford plant in Detroit, an important and successful experiment was made along these lines. Fifty students, forty-three of whom were self-supporting registrants of the Ford plant and obtained valuable insight into industrial methods.

THREE GROUPS INCLUDED

"The students comprised three groups—Yale College men interested primarily in industrial management, Sheffield students observing both industrial and engineering problems, and students of sociology attracted by the opportunities afforded them for research in the field."

The recapitulation of the figures announced show that the bureau of appointments secured employment for students, who earned a total of $306,243.70. Earnings independent of the bureau totaled $110,937.14, bringing the grand total of $417,193.34.

L. Sweet; secretary, Arthur J. Pankov; treasurer, Mrs. Lottie Kelly. A social hour with refreshments served by a committee of the young ladies closed a very profitable evening.

OFFICERS ELECTED. The Young People's Society of the Fairville United Church started off with a fine spirit of enthusiasm last evening when the first meeting of the season was held in the school room of the church hall. Rev. John J. Pinkerton, pastor, presided and gave an address of welcome. A devotional and short business session was held after which the following officers were elected: President, Harry C. L. Sweet; secretary, Arthur J. Pankov; treasurer, Mrs. Lottie Kelly. A social hour with refreshments served by a committee of the young ladies closed a very profitable evening.

FEAR FOR LIVES. While Police Commissioner Enright himself the head of the detective bureau, and the best men available to the city and private agencies are striving vigorously to identify and whereabouts of the thief who robbed Mrs. Donahue, another phase of the crime is occupying the serious attention of the police of the United States and abroad. They suspect the thief is the first recent operation of an international band of crooks who works with all the resources in men, money and specialists of a great corporation. More or

JEWELS MAY BE RECOVERED FOR TWENTY YEARS

New York Police Fear Further Operation of International Gang. DONAHUE CASE FELT TO BE WORK OF EXPERTS. Robber Ignored Other Less Valuable Jewelry But Took Some Cash.

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—The robber who took $888,000 in pearls and diamond jewelry from a compartment in the back of a bureau drawer of Mrs. Bessie Woolworth Donahue at the Plaza Hotel Wednesday afternoon ignored other jewelry of considerable value lying exposed in the front compartment in his haste to get away before Mrs. Donahue came out of her bath he did not overlook a handbag containing $200 which was on a stand in the bedroom.

"BIG TIME CROOKS". The city detectives assert that what they call "big time crooks" regard hotels such as the Plaza as grounds to be hunted as a wealthy sportsman uses his choicest preserves. They perpetrate a robbery only when an opportunity for a large haul is reported by their scouts, who are not known as scouts, and may pass as patrons of the hotel. Of the information may come from scouts abroad. Such thieves never endanger their freedom by attempting violence.

Two best pearls in the larger or $450,000 necklace which was stolen from Mrs. Donahue reached this city only Monday from Paris, where they were bought last summer for $40,000. The prompt appearance of a thief in the Plaza apartment of Mr. and Mrs. Donahue immediately thereafter is regarded as significant.

Further indication that the robbery was not the impulse of a chance sneak thief is furnished by the selection of the $450,000 necklace and other more valuable pieces and the complete neglect of remarkably deceptive strings of pearls (which had deceived experts) and several crystal ornaments which, but an experienced appraiser of gems would have believed to be worth many thousands of dollars. The police believe the thief "knew what he wanted," looked for it and found it and wasted no time making a search for chance extra booty.

THE BRITISH GOVERNMENT is said to place the highest hopes in the new heavier than air machine which is said to be capable of remaining stationary in the air and moving in any direction at the will of the pilot. It is explained that when the machine is ultimately perfected it will be able to support big guns at a height of 20,000 feet or more. Since experts believe enemy planes in the next war will be able to bomb England at a height of 20,000 feet, out of sight and beyond the range of anti aircraft guns, the only means of defence will be helicopter fortresses floating around important centres at the same height at which the enemy machines will fly.

NOT DISCOURAGED. Yesterday's accident has not discouraged the officials, it is asserted. Repairs are being rushed and another secret trial will soon be held. An idea of the importance attached to the machine can be gained from the fact that individual draftsmen worked out only a small section of the machine on paper to preclude any one obtaining a complete view of the machine as a whole. The orders for the construction of the various parts were so distributed that none employed in making any one of them could visualize the completed machine.

AGED INVENTOR. Louis Brennan, the Irish inventor, who is 70 years old, also invented the Brennan torpedo, for which in 1880 he received $500,000 from the British government. He also invented the monorail.

CONDITION CRITICAL. "Sinking fast" was the report received this afternoon from Pandemonium in regard to the condition of Charles Hyster, an aged man who was run down Sunday night near his home by an automobile. Practically no hope for his recovery is entertained.

Stock Price Increase Given As Sign of Improved Times; Low Refers To Trade Balance

Canadian Press. OAKVILLE, Oct. 6.—Citing comparative figures to illustrate the condition of the country in the last year of the Conservative administration under Rt. Hon. Arthur Meighen and for the fiscal year ended March 31, 1925, Hon. T. A. Low, Minister of Trade and Commerce, speaking here last night declared the best barometer of Canadian industrial and financial conditions was to be noted in the respective values of stocks during the closing years of both administrations. "Domestic textiles stock," he said, "was worth in 1924, 142. Today it is worth 235. This is the industry our opponents say we have ruined. Pen-

MEADOWS LIKELY TO OPPOSE JOHNSON IN TOMORROW'S GAME

HARRIS IS SURE OF COVELESKI FOR 2ND GAME

Both Harris and Eddie Moore Have Injured Fingers

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Oct. 6.—The hopes of two champion baseball clubs have been placed in the arms of right-hand pitchers. Stanley Harris, youthful manager of the Washington Senators, has announced Walter Johnson as his choice for the opening game of the world series at 2 p. m. Eastern time, tomorrow, while Bill McKeechne, Pirate leader, has nominated Lee Meadows and Vic Aldridge for the opening two tussles. McKeechne has not decided upon the order of his moundmen's appearance. All indications point to a clash between Johnson and Meadows on opening day, to be followed by a Coveleski-Aldridge duel, leaving third-game rivalry to the sturdy left-handers of the clubs, "Dutch" Reuther, of the Senators, and Emil Yde, youthful Pirate.

In case of rain, Ray Kremer, Pacific coast man of might, may go to the firing line tomorrow, or perhaps Aldridge will be the selection. If Meadows appears in the box, it will be the first time in any world's series that a bespectacled pitcher has taken the mound. Injury may play a part in the drama about to be unfolded. The two second basemen, Manager Harris of the Senators and Eddie Moore of the Pirates, will be handicapped by leggy digits. Moore injured the thumb of his throwing hand in the last game of the season against Cincinnati on Sunday and yesterday did not appear at the field practicing with his mates. Harris' middle finger on the right hand is swollen as the result of a spike wound suffered some time ago. He says that the injury will not handicap him. Both Harris and Moore, however, are certain to start the series.

The Washington manager admitted on arrival here that Coveleski had suffered somewhat from a sore back, but declared that the hero of the series of 1920 between Cleveland and Brooklyn would be ready to take his turn.

How They Shared

Table showing winning and losing players and their shares across various teams like Boston, New York, etc.

First game tie, 3-3, 12 innings. Second game tie, 2-2, 10 innings. In 1905 the losers fared better than the winners. In President Dreyfus, of the Pittsburgh club, gave his share of the receipts to the players. No series in 1904.

Mother (anxious)—Now don't let me speak to you again! Tommy—But ma, if pa can't stop you from talking, how can you expect me to?

Ira Hannah Pitches Masterly Ball As Watermen Win Pennant

Along The Sport Trail

By JOHN J. DUNLOP.

TALK of the big world's skating carried over by Hank Gowdy, the veteran catcher. It happened in the 12th and deciding inning. After Miller had filed out, "Muddy" fuel came to bat. He lifted a fly and Gowdy started after it. It looked like No. 2 but Gowdy stepped into his mask that he had torn off and thrown to the ground, tripped, lost his balance and the next ball pitched went for a double. McNeely got a lucky bounce over Freddie Lindstrom's head and the series was won. Will there be another one this year?

WELL, it's all over now but the celebration! The first Maritime baseball pennant flies in Saint John next year, brought here through the prowess of local boys on the Water department team. When they started out early last April to organize a team and put it in the City League, few of them dreamed that six months later they would reach the highest honors in the Maritime baseball world. But it has been done and in such a convincing manner as to leave no room for doubt as to their right to the title. Judging from the brand of ball that has been played here by other teams and comparing it with the local display, one is not far astray in saying that Saint John is always going to be a strong contender for the Maritime title each year. There is a lot of good baseball left in the boys who are now at the top and the way our intermediates are playing is going to make some seniors hesitate to keep their jobs. The big fact is that a Maritime title has been decided and brought to Saint John. Congratulations, Watermen.

Billy Evans' Comparisons

Second base, the keystone of the infield, has varied possibilities for the 1925 world series. Stanley Harris of Washington is one of the greatest players that has ever held down that position in the American League. As age starts to take its toll on Eddie Collins, premier at second base, in not only the American but the majors as well, Harris is all set to wear his crown.

Harris bats and throws right-handed. He is clever, brainy and courageous. While he doesn't loom up as the style of batsman who would some day lead the league, he is always a menace at the plate. A good hitter, Harris is the possessor of an uncanny eye that finds every pitcher to the limit. The members of the New York Giants staff can testify as to his ability to hit in the pinch. While not a fadcock for the speed, Harris gets a great break and is rated a very good base-runner.

It is in the field that Harris is at his best. No chance is too daring. Errors mean nothing to him. In pivoting on double plays he is without a peer in the majors.

In addition to his brilliance as a player, he directs the play of the Washington club with the same excellent judgment. Pittsburgh offers a dual combination at second in the youthful Eddie Moore and the experienced Johnny Rawlings.

SAYS SENATORS WILL WIN TITLE FROM PIRATES

NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—After considering the relative pitching, fielding and batting strength of the principals in the world's series starting tomorrow, and the mental morale of the two champions, it is our guess that the Washington Senators will win the series from the Pittsburgh Pirates. It is only a guess and it is no better than the opinion of any one who thinks and is willing to wager that the flashy Pittsburgh club will defeat the Washington veterans.

Sport Expert Declares Washington Has The Edge

By HENRY L. FARRELL (United Press Sports Editor.) NEW YORK, Oct. 6.—After considering the relative pitching, fielding and batting strength of the principals in the world's series starting tomorrow, and the mental morale of the two champions, it is our guess that the Washington Senators will win the series from the Pittsburgh Pirates.

To Pitch Opening Game

Water Johnson needs no introduction. He's been in the main tent since 1907, ranking as the oldest pitcher in point of service in the majors today. He's had a splendid season and stands out as one of Washington's best bets in the blue ribbon classic. He will pitch the opening game, according to Harris yesterday.

CHARLOTTETOWN NO MATCH FOR LOCAL OUTFIT

Banquet To Be Tendered Team Winning Maritime Title

TWINKLING electric lights were splinting the gathering dusk while here and there white patches of sawdust showed up dimly over a water-soaked East End grounds, slowly drying out under the frosty breath of a raw, bleak October wind that chilled to the marrow the handful of spectators in the grandstands. In such a dreary and undramatic setting, the first Maritime amateur baseball championship over to be decided perched on the banners of the team from the Water Department A. C. of this city late yesterday afternoon when they smothered the Charlottetown Abegweits by an 8 to 1 score in six innings. The only championship part of the scene was the A-1 bad weather that spoiled any chance of a clash worthy of the title at stake for the locals jumped on the offerings of "Lefty" McQuaid in the first stanza and piled up five runs before finally checked. There was nothing to it from then on, the locals carting home in a walk, led by some dazzling pitching by Ira Hannah.

College Boys Are Better Mud-Horses Than Trojans

On a field of mud that resembled at times the bed of a river with the tide out, Trojans and U. N. B. rugby teams opened the season here yesterday, the visitors winning by a touchdown, 6 to 8. It was anything but a fair test for both teams yet the spectators present rather enjoyed it. On a hard, dry field, these two teams would put up a great struggle and fans are hoping that the brand on Thanksgiving Day when they meet here again will be of the best. On Saturday afternoon, Trojans go to U. N. B. for the return game.

"MONEY PLAYING"

The most important factor in a series where there is so much money at stake to the individual players is experience. But players call this experience "money" and their path to it in respect the Senators will have a tremendous advantage over the National League champions.

CHARLOTTETOWN NO MATCH FOR LOCAL OUTFIT

TWINKLING electric lights were splinting the gathering dusk while here and there white patches of sawdust showed up dimly over a water-soaked East End grounds, slowly drying out under the frosty breath of a raw, bleak October wind that chilled to the marrow the handful of spectators in the grandstands. In such a dreary and undramatic setting, the first Maritime amateur baseball championship over to be decided perched on the banners of the team from the Water Department A. C. of this city late yesterday afternoon when they smothered the Charlottetown Abegweits by an 8 to 1 score in six innings. The only championship part of the scene was the A-1 bad weather that spoiled any chance of a clash worthy of the title at stake for the locals jumped on the offerings of "Lefty" McQuaid in the first stanza and piled up five runs before finally checked. There was nothing to it from then on, the locals carting home in a walk, led by some dazzling pitching by Ira Hannah.

"In The Next Room" at Opera House is Packed With Thrills.

Who was the mysterious stranger found dead in the home of Phillip Vantine? What brought him there and by whom was he slain? What was his relation, if any, to the servants of the house and how much did they know about the motive behind the crime? These and a hundred other questions are conjured up in the minds of the audience during the presentation of "In The Next Room," particularly well enacted by the F. James Carroll Players in the Opera House last evening.

As James Godfrey, special writer on the New York Record, who manages to get a step ahead of the police in solving the criminal tangle, Edward Cullen had a part well adapted to his possibilities and he gave a fine presentation. In the solution he shared honors with Helen Louise Lewis, who gave a clever impersonation of the character of Lorna Vantine, Vantine's niece. If the audience at times was inclined to approach the hysterical, it was due in great measure to the spirit of the piece, created through Miss Lewis' enunciation, gestures and facial expression, all of which were excellent.

One "stunt" was as thrilling as anything seen on any screen, and it was not premeditated for it was an accident and after the scene was completed Hoxie was given surgical treatment for three broken ribs and numerous bruises. Riding through timber, Hoxie's horse caught a fore foot and horse and rider were catapulted to the ground, the horse rolling on Hoxie but the rider was up with the horse and the mad ride resumed.

REPLY MADE BY
HON. MR. VENIOT

Answers Statement of Premier Baxter on Letter of Comptroller-General

Says Premier's Remarks Not Consistent—Speaks of Coming Official Audit.

Replying to a statement of Hon. J. B. Baxter, Premier of New Brunswick, and a letter from the Comptroller General, concerning the accounts of the province Hon. P. J. Veniot said last evening that Premier Baxter was certainly very anxious to condemn the late government by anticipating certain conditions which, when thoroughly sifted after an official audit, would be shown to lack the criminal aspect which the Premier now wished to create.

Hon. Mr. Veniot added that he had stated in his reply to Premier Baxter's first statement that he did not desire to start a controversy over accounts which could not be intelligently dealt with until the regular official audit had been submitted to the public, but in view of the change of front now assumed by Hon. Dr. Baxter in regard to certain phases of his first statement he felt called upon to further point out one or two discrepancies between the Comptroller-General's published letter and the Premier's first statement. The Premier had said that he had based his former statement upon a letter from the Comptroller General. Anyone reading the letter in question and comparing it with the Premier's first statement would find to find any reference to that $11,000 which the Premier said apparently belonged to the last fiscal year, said Hon. Mr. Veniot. On that part of the Comptroller-General's letter did he base his former statement for this erroneous information by which he left the impression that the outgoing government carried this amount over from the last fiscal year? Mr. Veniot said he would be pleased if (Baxter) would point it out.

A COMPARISON.
And again, said Mr. Veniot, comparison would show that nothing in the Comptroller General's letter could possibly justify the Premier in charging up $499,755 to main roads, Auto Road Fund. The Comptroller General places that account where it rightly belongs against the authorized bond issue of $1,250,000 for main trunk roads, and still leaves the Auto Fund with its funding capacity of $1,000,000 for future secondary trunk and branch roads improvement.

"As I pointed out before," said Mr. Veniot, "the Premier could not, as he certainly tried to do, charge this amount against both accounts. His remark that he based his former statement on the letter in question is not consistent with facts as revealed by the publication of that letter."

"The Comptroller General does not show that there were capital expenditures in excess of provision made for same amounting to $1,744,928, as the Premier would leave the public to infer. It shows simply that certain obligations incurred by the outgoing government amount to the above figure. But such obligations are not to be all met and paid for in the present fiscal year, because several of the contracts for roads and permanent bridges will not be completed in the present year. Why, therefore, charge to this year more than the sum which will be actually required to meet the obligations due at the present time and falling due between now and October 31."

EDUCATION.
"Further, let me point out that the capital expenditures for vocational education and hydro, amounting to $90,000, were provided for by the legislature last session and cannot therefore be classified as unauthorized expenditures."

"Let me further point out that there would be no bills coming in during September 15 for day's work chargeable either to the Auto Fund or main trunk road accounts."

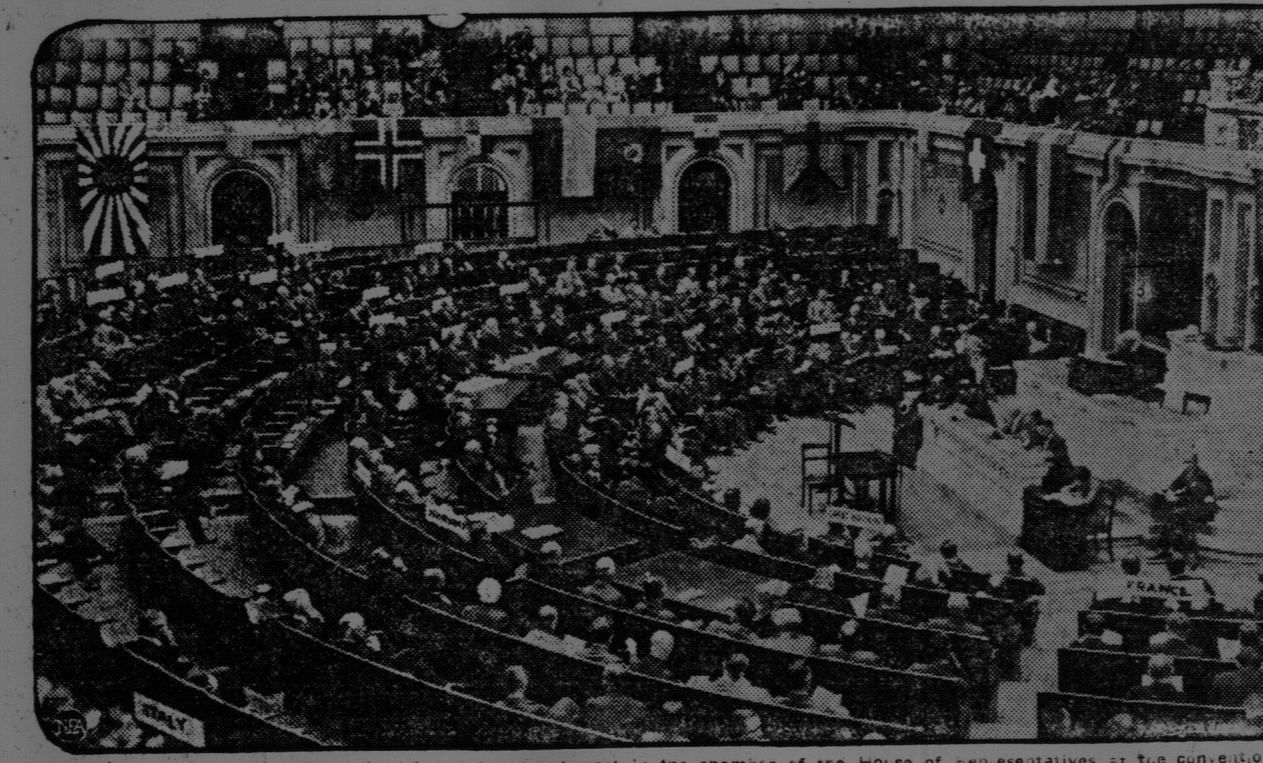

"Had Premier Baxter published the Comptroller's letter in the first instance, instead of publishing his own conclusions, he would not, perhaps, have fallen into the errors pointed out in my reply."

Three New Gifts to Natural History Society Collection

A rare old book of sermons published in 1601, a half-penny token in use as currency in Canada in 1815 and a very fine old photograph of the Market Slip in Saint John taken about 1850 comprise the latest gifts received by the Natural History Society for its museum collections. Each gift of the trio has been received with special gratitude because of its great historic value.

In the foreground the old drays which were formerly used for hauling wood and the old men with saw and buck waiting to be hired to saw wood recall the customs of other days. The picture is the gift of Mrs. Margaret A. Robertson, of Charlotte street, Fredericton, and is one of the most interesting of the society's collection of pictures of old Saint John.

ANTI-RED MOVE IS EXPLAINED

Home Secretary Throws Light on Formation of Volunteer Force.

Published Letter to Member Draws Caustic Comment From MacDonald.

LIVERPOOL, Oct. 5.—Lord Derby, in presiding at a luncheon given in honor of Sir William Joynson-Hicks, Home Secretary, in the Liverpool Conservative Club today, declared that Premier Baldwin, when elected, had a mandate to smash communism, and he asked what had been done in this connection.

The Home Secretary referred to the partial blessing which he had given the organization recently formed for the maintenance of supplies, foodstuffs, etc., in the event of a general strike developing from the present industrial troubles in Great Britain, the "partial blessing" being contained in a letter to a correspondent whom the Home Secretary advised to join the organization as a patriotic duty. The letter alluded to criticisms of the new organization, notably the criticism of Ramsay MacDonald in a letter in the Times today.

LETTER CENSURED.

Mr. MacDonald, in his contribution to the Times declares that Sir William Joynson-Hicks' letter with regard to the organization is likely to have an unfortunate effect, its publication merely being inopportune but provocative. He says the country ought to know whether the letter is a declaration of the government's considered decision or not.

"If the efforts which were approved by the recent Labor party conference to secure and conduct the essential public services when threatened with dislocation are to be thwarted by some ministers who belong to the class of reactionaries who are more revolutionary than the professed revolutionaries," Mr. MacDonald says in the Times letter, "the public should know upon whose shoulders the blame lies."

EFFORT TO DESTROY SEEN.

Sir William Joynson-Hicks, notwithstanding Mr. MacDonald's letter in the Times, says he wanted to convince the whole country that there was quite definitely an attempt being made to destroy constitutional government by the Communist party, which was small but powerful and definitely allied with Russia. The Home Secretary explained that he had told the organization for the maintenance of supplies that it would not be allowed any military status whatever, but if this or any other organization was prepared to hand in to him classified lists of names of men eligible to act as special constables, engineers or transport drivers in case of need, he would be a fool not to accept such lists on behalf of the government.

The greatest values in automobile history

IN THE series of cars just presented, General Motors believes that Cadillac, Chevrolet, McLaughlin-Buick, Oakland, and Oldsmobile are offering the greatest values in the history of the industry.

Important improvements in chassis construction give greater simplicity and afford increased performance. Refinements in body designs add greatly to attractiveness and comfort.

Every change has been made with quality as the prime consideration. Quality is the first law of General Motors. Enormous sums have been invested in more intensive engineering, in labor-saving methods, in reconstruction—wherever a better result might be achieved.

Naturally, great economies are attainable in such an organization as General Motors. It enjoys every advantage of quantity production; it sells in every market of the world. General Motors is passing these economies on to the purchaser. This makes possible the extraordinary values now offered.

The public may depend upon these values. Every car is a car of quality.

Miss F. D. Alward, Provincial Secretary, Writes History of Organization.

On November 1, 1914, the N. B. provincial office of the Retail Merchants' Association was opened in the interest of all retailers, the organization meeting having been held on October 23. It was at this meeting that the first provincial secretary, N. C. Cameron, received his appointment, he having engaged the present secretary as stenographer and bookkeeper, and I. McDonald, Halifax, N. S., as organizer.

A. O. Skinner was the first provincial president, and he has always been considered one of the fathers of the organization, together with Wm. Hawker, the first treasurer, F. W. Daniel, the first vice-president and in that office for the first five years of the organization, and T. F. Drummond, now manager of the Saint John Telegraph-Journal and Times-Star. Mr. Drummond was a most active worker, and his enthusiasm towards the organization accounts in no small measure for its success. M. E. Grass, one of Saint John's leading grocers, was an active worker in the organization, and as were also J. H. Vaughan and the late T. J. McPherson.

SECOND PRESIDENT.

In the spring of 1916 at the second annual convention, held at Fredericton, Mr. Skinner resigned as provincial president, and Alex. Murray was elected to fill the office, which he ably occupied until the third annual convention held in Saint John in March, 1917, when Mr. Skinner was again unanimously elected president. At the second annual convention, N. C. Cameron resigned as provincial secretary, and at a later meeting of the provincial executive held in Saint John on April 22, Robert Reid was appointed to the office of secretary of the New Brunswick Board.

In March, 1917, at the third annual convention, Mr. Reid resigned to accept a position as manager of the Northern Life Insurance Co., and the present secretary was appointed as acting secretary until a man could be found to fill the position. In October, 1918, at the fourth annual convention, held in Saint John, the provincial executive, after a lengthy discussion and deliberation, appointed the writer as provincial secretary, which office she has filled for six years.

In October, 1919, at the fifth annual convention, Mr. Skinner again resigned as provincial president and P. L. Higgins of Moncton was elected at the head of the organization. In October, 1920, the sixth convention was held in St. Stephen, and W. G. DeWife was made president, which office he held for two years, until the eighth convention met in Saint John in October, 1922. At this time A. E. Everett was elected president of the New Brunswick Board. As no convention was held in 1923, on account of the business depression which Eastern Canada had been undergoing, Mr. Everett most ably filled this office until the ninth convention was held in September of this year in Moncton.

Will Be In Chair

C. C. HAYWARD.

Elected president New Brunswick Board, R. M. A., last convention held in Moncton, N. B., Sept. 1924. Manager the Lunenburg Co., Moncton, N. B. Mr. Hayward will be the presiding officer at the Saint John convention.

OF HIGH TYPE.

The type of the six men who have occupied the office of president of the New Brunswick Provincial Board of the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada shows the high ideals of the organization, and in electing men of such calibre for their presidents, the provincial executive have kept New Brunswick second to no province in the Dominion in regard to wise leadership, and we must all agree that without a wise leader, no organization can function properly.

At the time of the second annual convention, William Hawker, the popular treasurer, resigned, and Allen A. McIntyre was elected in his place. It seemed at the time that no treasurer could fill Mr. Hawker's place, but Mr. McIntyre filled the office as ably as any man who could have been elected, and he held the position for nearly eight years. At the ninth annual convention, held in Moncton, it was announced that Mr. McIntyre had gone into the wholesale business and therefore resigned his position as treasurer, and H. Everett Hunt was elected to fill the office.

After a few months as treasurer, Mr. Hunt retired from the retail trade, and at a meeting of the provincial executive held in June, 1925, Mr. McIntyre was elected to fill the office.

After a few months as treasurer, Mr. Hunt retired from the retail trade, and at a meeting of the provincial executive held in June, 1925, Mr. McIntyre was appointed to fill Mr. Hunt's place.

BRANCHES ORGANIZED

The first branch organized was Moncton, the first meeting being held in November of 1914. Then followed Sackville, Newcastle and Chatham. In January, 1915, the following branches were established:—Fredericton, St. Stephen, Woodstock, McAdam, Florenceville, Campbellton, Perth and Andover. In the spring of 1915 the Bathurst branch was organized; also Harcourt and Rogersville. During the last three or four years, St. Quentin, Hartland, Edmundston, Petticoat, St. Leonard's and Grand Falls have been organized. On account of after-the-war conditions, five or six of the branches named have not been able to keep up their active work, but there is not a small village in the province where the Association does not have members. Last year the Memramcook Branch was organized, making 13 active branches in the province and nine that meet only when certain business conditions arise.

COLLECTIONS

During the eleven years we have been organized, we have been able to collect $20,096.37 in old and outlawed accounts for our members. We have also been able to locate many debtors who accidentally or otherwise got lost from their creditors, and we have been able to give many reports on customers. In the cities of Moncton, Fredericton and Saint John we have established credit rating bureaus which have proved invaluable to those who use the service, but we are afraid the merchants are not using to the fullest extent the service we have for their benefit. The association is invaluable to the merchants of the province in many indirect ways, but it is a case similar to buying a watch and not winding it up, if they don't call on us for the service which is open for our members only.

INSURANCE BRANCH

The fire insurance which we have established in connection with our work in every province in the Dominion has proven invaluable to those who use it. We pay back a dividend of at least 25 per cent. of the premium paid on policies. During the present year, dividends amounting to the following have been paid to some of our members:—$617.78, $115.50, $7.50, $6.08, $91.50, $65.63 and $118.13. Our insurance manager is A. H. Milton, who was our valued organizer employed from the spring of 1918 till 1922. He was the only organizer employed under the present secretary, with the exception of an extra man employed for a few months, A. Burley. In 1922, on account of the depression, our executive felt that the provincial secretary should do the organization work, and Mr. Milton soon after was appointed our insurance manager. He has done valuable work in this way for our organization.

In 1920, our organization was instrumental in obtaining the abolition of the luxury tax. Though every branch of The Retail Merchants' Association worked together to accomplish this, Sir Henry Drayton, the Minister of Finance at that time, gave our province the honor of writing up the best objections to this evil of any province in Canada.

Our Ads Worry Us

Sometimes we wonder—"are we right or are we wrong in our advertising?"

Just because we hold ourselves back from praising a piece or suite of furniture for what it really is—and content ourselves instead with playing safe by UNDERSTATING the fact—we have to ask ourselves if the public would have it this way.

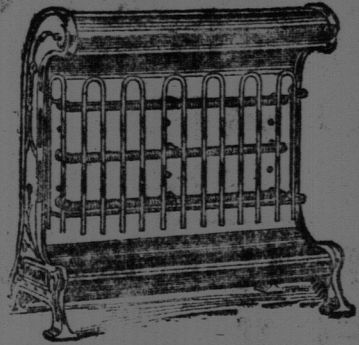

There is no doubt they don't want us to exaggerate—but since the Marcus policy insists on making out an article as not quite so good as it really is, it's a question whether Mr. and Mrs. Public wouldn't prefer us to paint the printed picture as prettily as the reality.

Our only check on the results of our policy of UNDERSTATEMENT as contrasted with OVERSTATEMENT is in the fact that our advertisements, conservative as they are, bring a lot of buyers. And we have yet to hear one say anything advertised did not more than live up to the modest printed claims.

We guess we'll stick to our guns—it is better to have people find more than they expect.

R. M. A. ELEVEN YEARS OLD

This was due to the hard work of A. N. McLean, at that time president of the Saint John Branch, W. G. DeWolfe, the provincial president, who presented the arguments against the tax, and R. A. Macaulay, who spent several hours discussing the matter with Sir Henry Drayton, Geo. Warwick and H. W. Rising also spoke against the advisability of continuing the tax.

OTHER WORK DONE.

In 1922, it was reported that the Provincial Government was considering levying a turnover tax on the merchants of New Brunswick, which pro-

Will Give Address

N. B. DOUGLAS, Secretary and General Manager Dominion Board, R. M. A.

Mr. Douglas will be one of the speakers at the dinner held tomorrow evening in the Admiral Beatty Hotel.

Mr. Douglas is the new secretary who took office following the resignation of E. M. Trowern. He was born in Ontario and graduated in Manitoba University in 1914, becoming a barrister-at-law for the Province of Manitoba. He has also had a wide experience in retail merchandizing and was at one time connected with the hardware business.

vided that all retailers must send a statement of their turnover for each month to the Government, accompanied by a check covering 1 per cent of their turnover. We prevented the bill from being read, thus saving the merchants the expense of fighting same.

We are continually watching legislation in our province for the interest of all retail merchants, and have several times been instrumental in securing legislation, as well as having been successful in obtaining amendments to acts already on the statutes; also in inducing the members of the Government to withhold passing several bills which would have been detrimental to the retailers of our province, had they been allowed to go through.

Our province was equally engaged with the other provinces in the work of obtaining some concession in the stamp tax on receipts, and it was through the Retail Merchants' Association of Canada that stamps only have to be affixed to receipts of $10 and over.

PROTECTING MERCHANTS

We have been successful in several towns in the province, through the different town councils, in amending the Transient Traders' Acts in the way of advancing the license fee for outside merchants or small merchants, all have towns to do business, thus protecting the business of our retailers.

Time or space will not allow me to give further details of our work as a provincial organization, but when we take into consideration the fact that this is a Dominion-wide organization, and that the Province of New Brunswick is only a link in the chain from coast to coast, and that the different branches in our province are little links which form the larger link in the chain, our executive officers consider with pride the fact that New Brunswick is not far behind the other provinces in general standing with the Dominion board, though there are only two or three other provinces as small.

DOMINION BOARD

For twenty-seven years the Dominion board of our organization has been functioning in the interest of all retailers of Canada. Whether large merchants or small merchants, all have been benefited by our victories as a Dominion-wide organization. Our past Dominion secretary, E. M. Trowern, was the first and only secretary, until his resignation in April 1915, having organized the association in the city of Toronto on November 7, 1896. Prior to that time, the Retail Jewellers' Association of Canada had been formed in 1878, but the jewelers recognized they could not secure reforms in their line of business without the support of the other sections of the retail trade and so this single-line association was merged into the organization as it now stands.

Our present Dominion secretary, N. B. Douglas, was appointed secretary and general manager pro tem by the representative committee of the Dominion board on the resignation of Mr. Trowern in April, 1925. In July, he was elected as secretary of the Dominion board at the convention held in Vancouver. Mr. Douglas is well fitted for the office, having had experience in the retail business, as well as having practiced law for a few years. He has already shown his ability during the last few months. The Retail Merchants' Association of Canada is to be congratulated that in Mr. Douglas, they have secured a man to fill this important office whose education and training qualify him to grapple with the many problems which confront the retailers of Canada today.

SOME OF THE WORK DONE BY THE R. M. A.

GRADING OF APPLES AND OTHER FRUITS, AND FRUIT CONTAINERS.

A bill, known as "An Act to Regulate the Sale and Inspection of Fruit and Fruit Containers" was passed this session, which provides for the regulation of apples and other fruits and fruit containers. A joint conference of the Producers, Wholesalers and Retailers was held and our Association suggested several amendments in connection with the retail side of the question, which were acted upon.

GRADING AND MARKING OF EGGS.

During the last year a series of conferences has been held at the instance of the Deputy Minister of Agriculture, and representatives of the wholesalers, retailers and consumers attended the same. Our Association took an active part in the revision of the Egg Regulation.

ALCOHOL IN PROPRIETARY MEDICINES.

We petitioned the Dominion Government to refuse a license for the manufacture of any preparation carrying an excessive proportion of alcohol which might be used for beverage purposes.

IMPORTED PRINTED AND LITHOGRAPHED MATTER.

We secured an Order-in-Council providing that all printed and lithographed matter be marked with the name of the country of origin. This was done at the request of our Printers and Publishers' Section.

SCIENTIFIC AND INDUSTRIAL RESEARCH.

A conference on Scientific and Industrial Research was arranged by the Canadian Manufacturers' Association, and our Association was invited to attend and present the views of the retail trade, which we did.

OFFICERS OF CORPORATIONS RESPONSIBLE.

We secured an amendment to the Criminal Code making the officers of corporations responsible for their acts in the same way as are individuals.

SELLING OF VEGETABLES BY WEIGHT.

We were successful in having legislation passed permitting vegetables to be sold by weight.

GOLD AND SILVER MARKING ACT.

When this Act was first introduced we secured amendments to it which were necessary for the protection of the retail jewelry trade.

WEIGHT OF A BAG OF POTATOES.

We had the Dominion law changed so that a bag of potatoes would weigh 90 lbs. throughout Canada.

FALSE ADVERTISING.

We secured legislation making it a criminal offence to misrepresent goods in advertising, and we have prosecuted a number of firms for falsely advertising their goods. We are seeking amendments to strengthen the Act and have requested the Government to appoint an officer to administer it.

LORD'S DAY ACT.

We prepared an amendment to the Lord's Day Act making the purchaser of goods on the Sabbath Day equally guilty with the seller.

RAILWAY EMPLOYEES' WAGES.

Tells Of Convention

W. G. DeWOLFE,
Mayor of St. Stephen, ex-provincial president New Brunswick Board, R. M. A. Represented New Brunswick at Dominion Convention held in Vancouver last August. Mayor DeWolfe will read report of Dominion Convention before local meeting on Wednesday. Mayor DeWolfe is second vice-president of Dominion Board.

WHY THE R. M. A.? The Answer

- 1.—Retail merchants are organized to promote, protect and raise the standard of the retail trade of Canada.
- 2.—Retail merchants are united to stand by the cause of honest and fair trading.
- 3.—Retail merchants are co-operating to perform in an efficient manner a necessary service in every community.
- 4.—Retail merchants are working together to protect themselves and their customers against unfair municipal, provincial and Dominion legislation.
- 5.—Retail merchants are spending some of their time and some of their money to improve their business methods.
- 6.—Retail merchants are standing together against unfair trade practices. They stand for a square deal for every Canadian citizen. He is entitled to no more and should receive no less.
- 7.—Retail merchants are organized to adopt services which will enable them to reduce their overhead expenses and thus deliver goods to the consumer at the lowest possible price.
- 8.—Retail merchants are organized for an exchange through their credit bureau of credit information so that credit will only be extended to customers who are worthy of receiving it.
- 9.—Retail merchants are organized in an effort to secure an equitable distribution of all forms of taxation.
- 10.—Retail merchants form the largest commercial class in the world. The importance of the retail trade is so great that the Dominion Government should recognize the value of the service performed by the retail merchants and establish as soon as possible a department of the government to study and develop the retail trade of Canada. "A Nation of Shopkeepers" This sneer thrust at Great Britain was the greatest compliment ever paid to merchants. Because they have been honest "Shopkeepers" is the reason why Great Britain holds the high place she does among the greatest nations of the world.
- 11.—Retail merchants are organized to develop retail merchandising so that it will be universally recognized as a profession requiring education, training and study.
- 12.—Retail merchants are organized to encourage commercial education in schools, colleges and universities in order that all business may be conducted efficiently and the maximum of service rendered to the public.

Play Safe The Rule In F & V Advertising

Every vital point of style description, and general construction is clearly set forth in descriptions of Footwear featured by Francis & Vaughan.

We have nothing to hide. Our goods can stand the spotlight. So everything that counts is told in detail throughout our advertising. The public know exactly what they will get.

As the ads. can only cover a part of a large stock, it is easy to keep to the idea of making the actual offerings better than the published promise. We never advertise specials unless we have a fair quantity. A disappointed visitor is the last thing we wish. Conservative advertising is the only kind that pays in the long run.

INTEGRITY--CONFIDENCE--RELIABILITY

THE BASIS OF CREDIT

(By Fred S. Stewart of T. McAvity & Sons, Ltd.)

The business of the world is based on the extension of credit. In fact, business could not be conducted without credit. The right to credit, however, depends upon three things, viz: Character, capital and capability, of which the last mentioned element is probably the most important, for character alone is no assurance against honest inability to meet maturing obligations and loose methods in conducting business.

Capability plus honesty of the individual or firm then is often a sufficient guarantee of the prompt payment of accounts and is a strong element in the extension of credit. On the other hand, strict observance of the terms of a financial transaction and the reputation for the prompt discharge of obligations on the day they are due is an important factor in financial transactions. This observance of the terms is not independent of the price, but a vital element of the price and forms part of the contract between seller and buyer.

The importance of keeping one's obligations on the time agreed upon is apparent when it is remembered that each transaction on credit does not represent a single transaction but a chain of transactions, for when the dealer buys on credit from the manufacturer, he in turn buys his raw material and equipment on a credit basis from many sources, who must meet the obligations at various dates.

The dealer and consumer then should keep this fact clearly in mind and realize the importance of the prompt discharge of obligations at maturity. To the man who promptly discharges his commercial obligations according to the terms agreed upon, there is no difference between an open account and a time draft method of payment, except that a definite date of payment is specified, and having accepted a draft or given his note which matures at a specified time, the bank brings the matter to his attention.

It is therefore no reflection on any firm, whether recently formed or of long standing to be offered terms which include payment by time draft; it is quite the contrary, because in effect the time draft is an acknowledgment of belief in the integrity of the buyer and an expression of confidence in his ability as well as character.

Any house that discharges its own obligations and collects its outstanding accounts promptly is doing a public service, for in this manner money is kept in circulation. It also promotes buying because people always buy where their accounts are clean.

Did You Ever Stop To Think—

THAT it is the get-together, stay-together and boost-together citizens that build a city.

THAT a city that has built a reputation with industry and commerce should be a proud city.

THAT all citizens should boost with real enthusiasm.

THAT their city is worthy of their best endeavors.

THAT the stay-backs and the pull-backs among their citizens often harm themselves more than they do their city.

THAT city builders have enthusiasm.

THAT enthusiasm is what starts things.

THAT the city knocker lacks enthusiasm. His narrow mind never goes beyond his own pocketbook.

THAT making trouble is his great pastime.

THAT trouble of that kind is very timid in the presence of optimism.

THAT there should be an "OPEN SEASON" on city knockers.

THAT city boosters should occasionally give a little of their careful and undivided attention to these pests.

NEW MINISTERS BANNED.

ALL BUT ONE OF N. B. HYDRO BODY QUIT

Premier Baxter Announces no Action Taken Yet on Resignation.

Special to The Times-Star.

FREDERICTON, Oct. 6.—Premier Baxter announced when the Provincial Government rose at 1.20 this afternoon that the resignation of all members of the N. B. Hydro Commission except A. Chase Fawcett had been received. He stated also that the Government had not as yet acted upon them. Hon. E. A. Reilly, M. P. P., was named as chairman of the Hydro Commission some time ago. The Government had not got to schedule this morning, said the Premier. It will sit today and possibly Wednesday.

VOCATIONAL CLASSES.

The registration for night vocational classes Monday night was upwards of 200 and larger than entered last year or the year before. Some classes have to be divided. The new High School is ready for all courses but cooking, which is to be taught in the York Street school.

MORE THAN TWO YARDS FOR ONE DOLLAR

Most of the readers of this can recall how, as boys, there were favorite and repugnant clerks who presided over the candy section of the store. The favorite clerk was the chap who was given to "more than" methods. There was always a delicious uncertainty as to whether he would give an extra one, two, or three pieces. Looking back, the "more than" clerks weren't so unbusinesslike as at first glance they seem. The following of children customers amply compensated the "little extra" they gave.

Growups are just like children in this. The "more than" appeal captures them when put into advertising, just as it did the boys of our town years ago. Of course, it isn't practical to make advertising use of it continuously, but for a special sales event room for it can be found.

LET'S VISIT WITH AMBITION.

Under the above caption, Louis Hebert, in the "100-Ton Booster" says: "Ambition consists of wanting something SO MUCH that you decide to work EXTRA HARD to gain it. It gives you a vision of the bigger, better things in life—and fires up your determination to get busy and inject more skill in your personal effort. Don't confuse ambition with idle dreams.

Dreams keep the mind jollied up—give it solace through mental movies that are enchanting to the heart.

But AMBITION is practical. It says, in substance: "Now what are your honest desires in life? What do you want to make of yourself? What condition do you want to bring about?"

It makes you put your desires in life on a clean cut basis.

It makes you see your goal as if you were looking in a mirror. Then—it keeps you reminded of that goal. It keeps your energies spurred up to attain it. It makes you a student of SELF, and a student of the other fellow. When you feel discouraged, it comes and sits beside you, and says: "Cheer up, old top!—there's a lot of work ahead! let's start to move on!"

Then it lets you take another look into the mirror of your goal.

Then AMBITION tempts you to keep going.

It makes you think more intently. It makes you plan more intelligently. It makes you work more systematically.

AMBITION is success' press agent. It keeps telling you of the wonders of the land of success. It keeps you from becoming tired. It keeps your spirit fresh.

Ambition induces you to make extraordinary efforts; to make the sacrifices that making good demands; to keep plugging away—straight ahead; to do the things that most people usually put off; to climb over or crawl under obstacles, instead of letting them impede your progress.

Work becomes a pleasure when you're ambitious.

In each task, ambition makes you find a new fascination. It puts a crispness in your spirit—a sparkle in your whole manner."

WISPS OF WISDOM.

If you can't take criticism, don't offer it.

If at first you don't succeed, ask yourself why.

Some people grow with responsibility; others swell.

The longer you gaze at an obstacle the bigger it becomes.

The more we possess, the more we are possessed by our possessions.

It is a grander thing to be nobly remembered than to be nobly born.

Some folks make their joys mere incidents and their sorrows great events.

The length of a friendship is often determined by the shortness of a temper.

Keep on just as long as you can—then keep on a little longer. Persistence wins.

The only motto some people seem to have is, "if something isn't wrong, 'tisn't right."

A mule cannot pull while he is kicking, and he cannot kick while he is pulling. Neither can you.

Poverty and hardships have forced, into prominence many a man who otherwise would have remained unknown.

The habit of looking at everything from the bright, hopeful, expectant side, instead of from the doubt side, the uncertainty side, will improve your entire outlook on life.

MEN WHO HAVE RISEN.

There was once a small grocer in a back street in Bontton. If you want to know who he is today—ask Lord Leverhulme.

There was once a shop assistant in Devonshire. If you want to know who he is today—ask Lord Devonport.

There was once a very small grocer in Glasgow, in which the grocer slept under the counter. If you want to know who he is today—ask Sir Thomas Lipton. — Southern News-Letter.

BALDWIN TO DEFEND RECORD THURSDAY

Will Outline Future Policy; Party Anxious About Industry.

LONDON, Oct. 5.—The political campaigning of the last few weeks will reach something of a climax next Thursday when Premier Baldwin will address the Conservative party at Brighton.

He will review the whole work of the Conservative government since it came into power and will outline what he proposes to do in the future. That Baldwin will carry the conference unannounced, there is not the slightest doubt, although today there are many critical voices heard asking how it is that the Conservative government has lost the hold on the country which it enjoyed when it was elected.

The Conservatives, however, are anxious about the industrial situation and how it will affect their fortunes at the next election.

EX-CROWN PRINCE'S BEHAVIOR SHOCKING

Takes Engineer's Daughter to Castle, Puts Her Dad in Asylum.

BERLIN, Oct. 5.—The village of Oels is indignant over former Crown Prince Wilhelm's behavior in connection with his reported attachment to Hilda Rattich, an engineer's daughter, according to a special correspondent of the Montag Morgen, sent to investigate charges recently made in the Prussian Diet by Socialist Deputy Muller.

Muller declared that the former Kaiser's son was keeping the girl in his castle at Oels and that her father was declared insane and committed to an institution the day he attempted to take his daughter from the castle. He became actually insane before released.

According to the newspaper investigators, feeling over the affair is running high, particularly among the women, who say that the former Crown Prince's favorite is wearing silk stockings that Wilhelm bought in Oels for his wife. The girl's father is barred from his family, living with sisters, who are very poor. His wife favored Hilda's attachment to the former Crown Prince.

Wilhelm is "still the buoyant youngster, dressed in the height of style, with his familiarly cocked," the Montag Morgen's correspondent says.

DOMINION PRAISED BY BARONESS ORCZY

Authoress Likely to Write Two Books; Lauds Banff and Quebec City.

TORONTO, Oct. 5.—Following a trip which carried her into all the larger cities West of Quebec, Baroness Orczy, novelist and playwright, returned here today enthusiastic in her praises of the Dominion.

It is expected that the authoress, who came to Canada with her husband, Montague Barstow, in search of local color, will write at least two books. The first will have its setting in the grain lands of the West, while the second will undoubtedly be with French Canadian life. Baroness Orczy described Quebec as one of the three most picturesque cities in the world, the other two being Edinburgh and Budapest. Of Banff and the Rockies she remarked that the district should eventually be the greatest tourist centre in America.

DRUSE REVOLT ENDS

One of Leaders Surrenders Unconditionally to French General.

BEIRUT, Syria, Oct. 6.—The rebellion of the Jebel Druse tribesmen against the French mandate in Syria was practically brought to an end yesterday, it is asserted in official circles here, when Hamad Bey Atrash, one of the leaders of the rising, surrendered unconditionally to General Gamlin, the French commander.

From this time, it is asserted, the French troops in Syria will be engaged no longer in military operations, but will devote their energies to pacifying the tribesmen.

WHY ARGUE?

One of the most futile things in the world is argument. If you want to persuade anybody, suggest, do not argue. When you argue with a man you arouse his antagonism; you rarely secure his co-operation. So, if you want a man to do anything, take any other course than argument. There is a story floating about of a man who went to a clothing store and asked to see a woolen suit. The storekeeper produced a suit; the customer examined it and said: "It looks pretty good, but it doesn't look like wool to me. I do not believe it is wool." "But you like it?" inquired the salesman. "Yes, I like it all right, but I don't think it is wool." "I'll wrap it up for you." "Sure, I guess I'll take it. But, tell me, why didn't you argue with me when I told you it wasn't wool? As a matter of fact, I don't know whether it's wool or not." "Well," said the merchant, taking his money, "you see, if I win the argument I lose the sale, so what's the use?"

UNFAIR TRADING

WRITTEN FOR THIS SECTION BY A MEMBER OF THE R. M. A.

Fraud, false pretences and misrepresentation are offences dealt with by the criminal law. There are, however, practices denounced by all lovers of a straight deal which the law does not touch and which can be followed without fear of prosecution. In this country unfair trading usually spells loss instead of profit, though the law, in the opinion of many people, allows undue latitude for the unscrupulous. It is interesting to note that the Norwegian Government has recently passed an act to combat unfair trading. It deals with misrepresentation of the kind to which we have referred, and a measure on similar lines would, no doubt, find a good many supporters here.

This Norwegian law provides that incorrect or misleading statements shall be put forward calculated to convey the impression that a particularly favorable offer is being made, and forbids any statement likely to produce a wrong impression of the goods. This, obviously, is capable of very wide application. Expressed literally, it would render liable to prosecution the authors of advertisements or circulars in which exaggerated language was employed. It would become dangerous to talk of "astounding bargains" or "exceptional value," and such expressions as "below cost" or "usual price $5," could not be used safely unless the trader was prepared with legal evidence to substantiate their absolute accuracy.

The kind of thing at which the Norwegian law appears to aim is not unknown in Canada, but we doubt the propriety of making it a criminal offence. There are some transgressions against the unwritten commercial code that are better dealt with by moral suasion than by prosecution. The advertiser who habitually employs exaggerated terms will at last defeat his own end. The public cannot be persuaded that any trader sells goods below cost price always. Nor do lucky chances of exceptionally advantageous purchases invariably fall to the lot of particular people. These things being repeated lose their overemphasis.

and the too common use of superlatives that nothing is kept in reserve for use when real occasion occurs. An audience, however faithful and credulous, loses its capacity for astonishment when everything is described as being astounding. The time arrives when the only way to create genuine surprise is to discard adjectives altogether. By a similar process, familiarity brings into contempt all sorts of colorable mis-statements of fact which are assumed to be good selling points by the people employing them. The hotel contract that failed and left huge stocks of goods in the hands of the contractors, the good bishop who died in a foreign land and whose effects have to be realized, the countless people going abroad and who have to sell off before departing, all these and many others are accepted by the public as recognized sources of supply and arouse little interest. After all, a bishop's goods are not increased in value by episcopal ownership, and goods made for a big hotel are not necessarily more desirable. In the end the plain advertiser, whose goods are offered unaccompanied by a romantic history or a tragic past, wins in the end by securing the confidence of his customers, and building up a goodwill that is not dependent upon a constant succession of "stupendous" offers.

MEIGHEN RAISES FRUIT TARIFF ISSUE

Asks W. Kootenay Voters to Query Local Progressive Stand Thereon.

Canadian Press.
REVELSTOKE, B. C., Oct. 6.—"Ask your Protectionist-Progressive candidate what is the attitude of this government to protection on fruit," Right Hon. Arthur Meighen admonished electors of West Kootenay at a meeting here yesterday.

L. W. Humphrey, Independent-Progressive member in the last house, was in favor of a duty on fruit, no doubt. But the other Progressives, who like him, supported the government in the last four years, had been anything but dead against protection on fruit; and Premier King, he said, had come to these Progressives on the prairies and told them that their interests were identical with his.

Mr. Humphrey had consistently supported the King government, "some times under cover, of course," knowing that the government never could give British Columbia protection for its fruit.

Reviewing trade conditions Mr. Meighen accused Premier King of talking vaguely about prosperity in Canada while he dared not quote facts and figures.

Good Will — The Acid Test of Ability to Satisfy

Good will is one of the most valuable assets in business. It represents the sum total of what customers think of a house and its products. It embodies concrete evidence that the customers consider the house a good place to trade—a good place to stick to—and a good place to recommend to their friends.

It is the reward that comes to a house through treating its customers white and abiding by the principle that the customer is king.

It embraces the nearest possible approach to the establishment of an economic control over the customer's purchases, because—on the sole basis of merit—it causes the customer to come back for more, again and again, and keep coming year after year, and bringing a friend with him every now and then, so that the friend, by becoming a customer of the house, may also be the recipient of the merit in product and the pleasure in business relations which have been responsible for the great good will that the house enjoys.

It is human to appreciate. People are eager for good values—and equally as eager to trade with a house which treats them right. Merit does not exist in abundance. It is scarce. There are more people who are actually in search of merit than all the salesmen combined, in all lines, who're out looking for customers.

The customer who a customer locates merit, both in product and in business relations, he considers the circumstances as such an asset—and as important to his welfare—as the house does in having secured the customer.

The customer's satisfaction makes him loyal to the house. It induces him to show a friendly, co-operative, booster spirit.

Good will, therefore, is the most definite sort of proof of the existence of merit in product—good treatment—and fair dealing. It is the foundation upon which progress is built. It furnishes continual inspiration to the house to keep on forging ahead in making improvements in its product and in the efficiency of its service.

The persuasive, silver-lined promises of the maker of cheap, inferior goods do not so readily affect the customer whose good will toward the house with whom he trades is implanted deep in his heart.

Customers who've "been through the mill" with the supposedly just-as-good-for-less-money kind of article, and who've tasted of the bitter disappointment in the result of the article—paying in forfeited results for more than the original theoretical price-saving—cannot be so easily influenced nowadays.

Pretty pictures and convincing arguments are losing their punch. All the choice words in the language, and all the fine pictures in the world, cannot act—and never will act—as a substitute for merit. And any product, or service, without merit cannot deliver satisfaction.

Goods may look alike—claims may sound alike—but there's absolutely no way in the world to forget, and leave behind, our good, old friend merit—and yet make an article deliver satisfaction.

Good will is nothing less than friendship based on merit. It represents an intelligent understanding by the customer just why the article he is using is the very best—figured from every standpoint.

When a house enjoys the great good will of its patrons, you will always find that its product is right—in every particular; that its relations with its customers resemble that of one, big happy family; that the house manifests an intelligent, sincere, helpful interest in the welfare of each customer; that the value of its product stands at the very top; that no stone is ever left unturned in its constant effort only to keep abreast of the times but to keep a few paces ahead of the times.

Good will is an economic sign of a good product and good service—recognized, endorsed, acclaimed by those best capable of judging, viz. the customer of the house.

"Advertising Is a Great Security to the Public Against Fraud"

It was at the London Convention of the Associated Advertising Clubs of the World, in June, 1924, that Winston Churchill made that remark.

Challenge it, if you like, but then stop to consider it. Think of advertising—not the spasmodic flash of the concern which plans to commit fraud, but that of the legitimate business house which uses advertising to keep itself in touch with the public.

After all, that is what you mean, and what everyone else means, when advertising is spoken of.

It is the only advertising that amounts to anything, in actual dollars and cents. For the one case of bogus publicity there are hundreds of honest manufacturers and dealers who year in and year out are continuously telling their story to the public; telling it frankly, squarely, and who are backing up their story with the merchandise and the service they sell.

The very fact that they do keep at it is a security against fraud. For frauds can't keep the game up indefinitely. The better they are known the sooner they exhaust the sucker list.

If you doubt the soundness of Winston Churchill's remark, test yourself in your own buying. How many times do you pay a few cents more for even a common article, just because it was put out by a manufacturer you knew about through his advertising? Maybe his product is no better than some unknown's, but you name it, and the package has come to stand for something in your mind.

If you found that you got stung by following such a course you would change it quickly enough. But you don't get stung. You find that the product of the advertising concern keeps up a pretty reliable standard. It has to, otherwise it couldn't stand publicity.

There are not so many exceptions in this world as you might think. Your business may be one of them, more likely not. It's a good gamble that the same thing which applies to the general run would apply to you, and that advertising to keep your name just a little more widely known—and equally important—to keep it known, might sell more of your goods. The public forgets in a mighty short time.

KEEP YOUR STORE BRIGHT AND ATTRACTIVE

Stores are like women—they attract most attention when they are well dressed.

A store is no more attractive than the personality behind it.

And here is an important advantage in which the independent dealer has it all over his larger competitors. For the independent store keeper is not an absentee landlord; he is ever present in person.

Not only that, but the proprietor's personality is reflected in everything around him.

Personality is contagious, and if it is of the energetic, enthusiastic type it stirs up in his clerks the best that is in them. Clerks should carry with them the atmosphere of thrift and cleanliness.

You are courteous to customers, the trade will just naturally gravitate your way. Cultivate courtesy and inculcate the spirit of it in your clerks.

And don't forget to take good care of the children who are sent by parents to buy. This will pay big returns.

Much of a man's personality shows in his spoken word or his manner, but added to these are his appearance and his environment.

Know how to make your store attractive. Make it the bright spot in town. Like moths, people fly to the light.

Faint, varnished, stain and enamel work wears in this line, and soap and water will maintain these wonders at top notch.

Extend your clean sweep to the store room, the basement, the bins—your whole establishment. Make neat your counters; re-arrange your displays.

And if you are not artistic yourself, give the clerks a chance. It will occupy his spare time, give him a new interest in his work and pay long dividends to you.

It was said that Councillor Murray Campbell was still undecided as to whether or not he will offer for re-election.

Rupert Taylor may be in the field as an independent candidate in Simonds. Mr. Taylor said last night that he would make his decision tonight and would be guided by the decisions of a public meeting to be held in Peck's hall to discuss sewerage matters and other subjects of community interest.

The candidates already in the field to contest the three seats allotted to Simonds are Robert McAllister, East Saint John, Edgar Smith, Black River, George H. Simpson, Glenn Falls, J. C. Daniels, Rex Head, Keith Barber, Torryburn and John Cunningham, Black River.

Councillor Dalsell said last night that he and the other members of his ticket would attend the meeting tonight to answer criticism directed against him at a recent meeting.

I kin see 'em doin' it—an' the way they work a canal boat down from one lock into another—or h'st it up—step by step—is jist as stumpy as A. B. C. The feller that invented the plan done a big thing. A couple o' fellers with cranks kin do the trick as easy as crankin' a Ford. An' speaking' about cars—you kin cross the streets here an' keep your heart out o' your mouth. I haint seen no town where the shoofers was as careful as they be here. They seem to think a feller has a right to live if he wants to. If a Bond offers a good rate of interest, it has no value unless there is a substantial assurance that the interest will be paid year upon year with unbroken regularity. In other words, what are the prospects of the concern making enough money to pay the Bond-Interest steadily? In Public Utilities—with special reference to Water Powers—history shows they all make growing net profits far in excess of Bond-Interest obligations. Their position is unique—certainty of net earnings being well indicated by these factors alone—No competition, no credit risks, no selling cost, no inventory risks, no profit drop due to trade depression—people keep on using electricity. Our present list shows some attractive Water Power Bonds at good incomes.
