Charles Robertson Reaches Height of Pitcher's Ambition—Waite Hoyt and Manager in Scrap Following Saturday Game.

(Canadian Press)

New York, May 1—Kenneth Williams, left fielder of the St. Louis Browns, has been named as the leading contender for the position of Babe Ruth's successor in the 1922 pennant race.

Williams started his professional career in 1918 with the Regina, Sask., club, in the Western Canada League, developing a mediocre first sacker into a first outfielder.

New York, May 1—The scene of the game was a hit, no run game with the Yankees leading by a score of 10 to 0.

Cobb's Detroit Tigers were the victims. Sensational fielding by Collins and McInnis, aided in keeping the pitcher's clean.

Yankee pitcher, Walter Johnson, pitched a perfect game, allowing only one run in the fourth inning.

Johnson's performance was a masterpiece of pitching, holding the Yankees to a total of one run.

Oshting, N. Y., May 1—Protesting that daylight saving movements had robbed them of an hour of life, William Bell and Jacob Rosenwasser, who are doomed to die in the electric chair at Westport next Thursday night, begged Warden Laves today to return the death house clock to standard time.

All the prisoners in Sing Sing who are serving terms to expire within the next four months welcomed the advance of the prison clocks, a gift they were one hour less to serve.

WILLIAMS ADDS MORE HOMERS

New York Times Chief Rivals for Pennant Honors Seem to be Western Clubs—The Week in Review.

(Canadian Press)

New York, May 1—New York's champion baseball club, the Giants and Yankees are likely to meet their strongest opposition in the 1922 pennant contest from western contenders on the basis of early season indications.

The first inter-sectional test is scheduled in another week when the western clubs of the American league will come east and the eastern outfits of the National travel west.

The Yankees had undisputed right to the lead until yesterday when St. Louis and Cleveland dropped their second straight game to Boston.

St. Louis swept aside its western rivals with an avalanche of home run hitting, plus some excellent pitching.

Williams, who looms up as a dangerous contender for Ruth's honors, led the assault with circuit clouts, bringing his total to nine, four more than Babe had hit this time a year ago.

Chicago did little better than break even, Detroit failed to show much improvement while Boston and Philadelphia lost four out of five starts, while Washington, showing a strong attack, led the league.

The Dodgers slumped after outplaying the Braves early in the week. The Reds displayed increasing strength, both at bat and in the field.

The Pirates, Philadelphia and Boston were unable to strike a winning blow.

A feature of the week's play was a triple play pulled by the Boston Red Sox in Friday's game with the Yankees.

THE ATHLETIC SITUATION

Thomas K. Sweeney, who was on Saturday elected president of the newly formed association for the control of hockey and baseball in the maritime provinces, denied today that the organization was an outlaw body.

He said that it was purely amateur and that the intention was to have the same standing as the present amateur skating association.

According to the constitution of the A. A. U. of C., he said, four or more clubs could join together and apply for the regulation of any particular brand of sport.

The new body proposed asking for authority to regulate hockey in the winter and baseball in the summer.

He said that one possibility was that membership would be granted to all athletes who were amateurs who were in good standing at the beginning of 1922, and if there was any objection to any one of them, his case could be taken up and he would be given an opportunity to defend himself.

William J. Mahon, Joseph Dever and J. G. Doherty, who went to the Amherst meeting returned home this morning.

The bully beef 97 years old recovered from the stores left in the Arctic by the Farry expedition in 1825, which has just been sampled at Hull and declared "sweet and good" is fresh meat as compared with the steaks on which some heroic Russian rescuers feasted a few years ago. These latter were cut from the body of a prehistoric mammoth discovered in the great Arctic refrigerator which must have ended his career on the most conservative estimate 100,000 years before it provided the banquet.

Another remarkable menu was served up at a dinner given by a Belgian antiquary about the same time which contained apples recovered from the ruins of Pompeii wine found in a vault in the city of Corinth, and bread made from wheat which had been preserved in an Egyptian pyramid for over 2,000 years.

EARTH CRUST MOVES IN CALIFORNIA

Strains That May Produce Earthquake Disclosed by Dr. A. L. Day.

Washington, May 1.—Recent indications from astronomical sources of a "northward crustal movement of small magnitude" in northern California has led to a co-operative study by the scientific bureau of the government and the Carnegie Institution of Washington to gather precise data on the subject. This was revealed in a paper read before the meeting of the National Academy of Sciences by Dr. Arthur L. Day, director of the geophysical bureau of the institution.

"The suggestion has been made," Dr. Day said, "that the accumulated strains produced by such movement eventually produce rupture and an elastic recoil or earthquake."

It is a part of the programme of investigation, he said, not only to "locate the surface of placements, either gradual or disruptive, but also to develop in-velop instruments and establish stations for the location of sub-surface zones of movement."

Another paper read today by Prof. John P. Hayford of Northwestern University, dealt with investigations which he said had shown that the "surface of the water of any one of the Great Lakes is never level except by accident" and had resulted in certain definite knowledge of the cause and circumstances of the phenomenon, the eventual application of which would be worth millions to the country.

"The surface of any one of the lakes always has a slope in some direction, produced by the wind, by barometric pressure, or by the waters of the lake oscillating as if it were in a great wash basin," Prof. Hayford said.

While it has long been known, he said, that a wind over a lake tends to pile up the water on the lee shore, the investigations have shown the actual extent of the movement and also its exceptions. For example, while a fifty-mile wind from the southwest piles up the water for a foot at Buffalo, he said, the "strongest winds that blow have almost no effect in changing the water level at other points, such as Milwaukee on Lake Michigan, and Meadway on Lake Huron."

In addition to the effect of the wind, the lake surface also is continually tilting up, he said, in response to barometric pressures tending to go towards the region of low pressure.

ADVERTISING OURSELVES IN NEW ENGLAND

Maritime Merchant Makes a Suggestion to Provincial Governments and People.

(Maritime Merchant)

Since we are on the subject of the American visitor, we may as well say a few words in elaboration or amplification of an idea which was presented in this article in our last issue entitled "Browsing Around Boston," in these words:

"We have wonderfully attractive interests to put before the New England people and they have the money to invest whether it is merely a holiday trip or an industrial venture of one kind and another that we offer. We might begin our effort by advertising our summer climate and our scenery, and then move on from that to an educational campaign regarding our natural resources. Surely we can make a wonderful story about a lot of things."

The Maritime Provinces might be considered in the same light as a merchandising store, which has something to dispose of, and the question squarely facing it is: "When am I going to find customers?" The provinces have a beautiful summer climate and beautiful scenery for the tourist to enjoy. Where are we going to find the customers for such merchandise? They are a section of the country rich in a variety of natural resources, some of which are developed, some half developed and some undeveloped. The point is to get the attention of the people of New England, with Boston at its centre, and despite tariff walls, despite national prejudices, and despite the fact that we might say in opposition to the idea, we contend that these provinces should be doing more than they are doing at the present time to tell their story to the people of New England. Our provincial governments are apparently slow to grasp this fact; they have not yet realized what publicity would do for them in this connection, for they have a most interesting story to tell—one that would surely impress the people of New England—not only those who have no money to spend either in travel or investment, particularly foreign investment, but also those who have.

When one starts to advertise, one can always proceed with more assurance if he is satisfied with the character of the people to whom he submits his story. It would not be considered an exaggerated statement by those who are in the trade, if we were to say that New England people made the mistake. It was the New England people who brought on the war for independence, who created the great manufacturing industry of the country, who incidentally shaped the country's national economic policy. Think of the advantage of securing the interest of a people with a record like that. We hear some one say, "What nonsense!" The answer is that you never can tell what a man can be interested in until you try him out with printer's ink. All of us have habits today and preferences for certain things, which we would have scoffed at ten years ago; we have acquired these habits and adopted these preferences because of the influence of advertising. We should like to see a paper like the Boston Transcript carrying an advertisement calculated to make its readers think well of the Maritime Provinces, for the result, we believe, would be that many of them would come to the provinces, as visitors and also as investors. Surely it ought to be worth

THE CITY COUNCIL

The new city council has entered upon its duties today. Reviewing the two years of retiring Mayor Schofield's incumbency of office, every citizen will cheerfully pay tribute to his devotion to his duties, and to his excellent manner in which he represented the city on all occasions as its chief magistrate. He was always in most hearty sympathy with those in need, and labored to make his position better. He was himself a generous giver, and a supporter of every worthy cause. All who at any time appealed to him will testify to the kindly reception given them, and to the mayor's desire to be helpful. Visitors from abroad found him a genial host, and an official always eager to leave on their minds a good impression of St. John and its advantages and its people. The Times did not agree with Mayor Schofield in regard to several matters of policy, but has never questioned his sincerity. His defeat was not personal. The electors were voting on the question of civic distribution of hydro, and could not agree with his policy in that regard. Any other candidate, on that same platform, would have met the same fate. Commissioner Jones also retires from the council. In a three cornered fight in the final (the election of Mr. Wigmore being assured by the result of the primaries) Mr. Jones was defeated. It was not because he had not been acceptable as the administrator of his department, but because he lacked as good an organization as those of his opponents. He retires with a good record and the respect of his fellow citizens. Of the new men, both Mayor McLellan and Commissioner Wigmore are returning to duties with which they are from former experience familiar. It is Mr. McLellan's first term as mayor, but six years in the council gave to his alert mind a good grasp of civic affairs. He and his colleagues have of course a new problem in hydro, and one which will tax their energies at the very outset. They will be the better able to give attention because of their familiarity with the general routine of city business, and they ought to be made to feel from the beginning that they have the good-will of their fellow citizens, including those who would have preferred a different result from the civic elections. The lively interest aroused in the campaign will be taken as an evidence that the citizens generally are more thoroughly aroused than for very many years to a sense of responsibility for the conduct of civic affairs, and this should be helpful to the city council.

THE MAYOR'S INAUGURAL

The inaugural address of Mayor McLellan will create a most favorable impression. He thrashes no old straw, but deals with matters which in his view should receive the earnest consideration of the city council. His views regarding hydro are in line with those of the citizens who elected him by a great majority. He rightly calls for prompt action in this matter, and the suggestion that a commission should be created to deal with hydro control and distribution will commend itself to all. One of the objections to civic distribution was based on the fear that this work would be left in the hands of the city commissioners in addition to the other duties which should really require all their time. Mayor McLellan shows that he intends to enter upon negotiations with the hydro-electric commission at once, and proceed to carry out with all reasonable dispatch the wishes of the electors. This is the first great task before the council.

THE FOREIGNER IN CANADA

(Edmonton Bulletin.) Dr. Chown, head of the Methodist church, says he "shudders" at the conditions existing in some western communities which are composed of people born in foreign countries. He would have been far more shocked had he seen the conditions prevailing in some of these settlements twenty years ago, for however backward some of them may be, the foreign-born settler in western Canada has made long strides toward the Canadian standard of citizenship and in the vast majority of cases is continuing to make steady and rapid progress in that direction. If the doctor wants to find where the foreign-born resident is really falling to get into line with Canadian standards he will have to look, not at the time of No. 9 and 10 between St. John and Halifax, but at the court records of the cities of Toronto and Montreal. The criminal annals of those and other eastern cities do not support the theory that the foreign-born people who are living in "colonies" on the prairie compare unfavorably with those who have had the benefit of residence in the cities of light and leading. And while the doctor is in the mood to shudder he might also note that about three-fourths of the applications for divorce to present session of parliament, from the City of Toronto, and names do not indicate that it is the foreign-born section of the community which is providing that particular menace to the morals of the nation.

THE RETIRING MAYOR

It is necessary to make a few remarks on one paragraph of the address of retiring Mayor Schofield. He charges the Times and Telegraph with saying that he was "tied up with the power company." These journals never questioned his statement that he had no financial interest in the power company. They simply took his own statement of policy and declared that the citizens could not take him without taking also the power company, as specifically set forth repeatedly in his own programme. The Times and Telegraph insisted that to give the power company the Mustang grant current for two years would be fatal to the policy of power at cost, and wholly in the interests of the company and not of the people. The only way Mayor Schofield could have separated himself from the power company was to declare for civic distribution. This he did not do. The ex-mayor also finds fault with the statement of the Times that the power company attached itself to him. Does he suggest that the power company by any chance attached itself to Mr. McLellan? The company certainly was not a disinterested spectator, and the Times still believes it attached itself to Mr. Schofield and lost him a goodly number of votes.

ADVERTISING RESOURCES

The Times prints today an article from the Maritime Merchant on the subject of advertising ourselves in New England. Discussing this subject as a business proposition, the Merchant points out what it is these provinces have to offer and why it should appeal to the prospective tourist. There are not only scenery, climate, game and fish, but natural resources which would appeal to men with capital to invest. Cases might be cited where tourists became investors, and the effort to get them on the ground is well worth while because of that possibility as well as for the sake of money they would spend as mere visitors. Mr. E. B. Knight told St. John audience recently about the $400,000,000 annually spent by visitors in the state of Maine, and we have all that Maine can offer with the exception of hotel accommodation. The Merchant is right in his contention that the general interest in these provinces should be interested in this matter. Now that the development of hydro-electric energy has begun, the development of natural resources and the expansion of small industries should be much more attractive to the investor, and we are richer because of a lack of capital for that purpose. We should capitalize our scenery and climate and get more American money. Canada imports almost twice as much from the United States as she sells to that country. Why not sell them our scenery and climate, our good roads and all we have that gives pleasure to a tourist; and at the same time interest them in our undeveloped resources, our advantages for export trade to all parts of the Empire, and other features which should appeal to an alert business man with money to invest. "Surely," says the Merchant, "it ought to be worth the expenditure of a few thousand dollars a year on the part of each of our maritime province governments to at least experiment with a proposition of this sort." We may say that it would be worth while for the cities and towns to make a contribution for the same purpose. The two countries are getting back by degrees to normal conditions. In these provinces a great need is more capital. There is an abundance of it over the border. As a plain business proposition a vigorous advertising policy is most desirable. There are so many provincialists, or sons and daughters of provincialists, in the New England states that the appeal would not be entirely to strangers.

SEES LEVY ON CAPITAL COMING

J. R. Clynes, Labor Leader, Speaks of Policy Should His Party Win Power. London, May 1 — (Canadian Press Cable) — The Labor leader, J. R. Clynes, says that he would like to see the event of election of that party to power. "But briefly, his policy calls for nationalization of mines, land and railways, such nationalization to be accomplished by purchase or by expropriation; cancellation of inter-alleied debts; thirdly, by reduction of the interest on public debt; and fourthly, by a levy on capital. "He prefaces his programme with an admission that the pace and direction of labor must be determined by public opinion, and he seems to acknowledge that his programme, even under favorable circumstances will take a long time to accomplish. "Labor, he said, would respect 'any real legal title' where private ownership is established, and he would fix a limit to continuance. Mr. Clynes declares the country will inevitably be driven to levy on capital, but small possessions, say below £5,000 would not be touched. C. N. R. TIME CHANGES. EFFECTIVE APRIL 30. Affect Some of the Trains in and Out of Union Station — Suburban Changes Not in Effect Until May 22. "Time table changes on Canadian National lines, effective April 30, will affect some of the trains on the main line, and also the trains on the Valley Railway. "No. 18 train for Truro will leave at usual at 7:10 a. m. "No. 14 for Halifax will leave at 1 p. m., forty minutes earlier than at present. "No. 20 will depart at 6:10 p. m. as usual. "No. 19 from Moncton—Maritime Express connection will arrive at 1:30 p. m. instead of 1:20 p. m. "No. 17 from Truro will arrive at 9:30 p. m. as usual. "Changes on suburban service are not to be effective until May 22, when the time of No. 9 and 10 between St. John and Halifax will also be changed. "There is a change on the through service between St. John, Edmundston and Quebec via Valley Railway and the national continental. This train will leave St. John on Monday, Wednesday and Friday at 4:40 p. m. (Atlantic time) and will arrive at St. John at 12:45 p. m. the same days. This train will run daily except Sundays, as usual between St. John and Fredericton. "The double daily (except Sunday) service between Prince Edward Island and the mainland will go into effect on May 1. Trains leave Sackville for Toronto at 1 p. m. and 5:35 p. m. Connections from St. John will be by No. 18 and No. 14 trains.

JOYFUL BIRDS

The robin twitters in the tree,
The bluebird on the fence,
The wren is chattering of the house,
She'll own a fortnight hence.
The scarlet crest woodpecker
Is tapping to his mate.
A telegram about a nest
Upon an early date.
The catbird, too, is full of jazz
And chuckling of a new
And charming residence he's found
That has a garden view,
And having chosen his abode
The trill in song relaxes—
No wonder all the birds sing.
They have to pay no taxes.

LIGHTER VEIN

Mal Apropos.
It was at the close of the wedding breakfast. One of the guests, an anxious in hand, said:
"I drink to the health of the bridegroom. May he see many days like this."
The intention was good; but the bride looked up as if something had displeased her.

Tantalizing

A very stout man mounted the scales of a weighing machine and dropped a penny in the slot.
There was a rattling and rattling, and finally the pointer came to a standstill somewhere not far from the 250-pound mark.
There was an unseen witness to the ceremony, and as the big man woefully contemplated the result, the voice of a "small boy piped up from behind him:
"Say, mister, how many times did it go round?"

An Extremist

"Mrs. Eze is a great stickler for form and ceremony," she said.
"I should say so. Why, that woman would insist on dressing up to entertain an idea." —Boston Transcript.

Stop! Look! Listen!

"Is this a fast train?" the salesman asked the conductor.
"Of course it is," was the reply.
"I thought it was. Would you mind my getting out to see what it is fast to?" —Evanville Crescent.

The Dignity of Waters

"When I was in London just after the armistice," said Richard Conwell, who went across with a New York regiment, "I saw three of General O'Ryan's soldiers march up to a policeman. 'Say, officer,' said one of them 'tell us how to get the sweetest hash-house in this burg.' The 'hashy' said the waiter. He bowed. The Clafudge is a fashionable hotel and restaurant. The three got into a taxi at once and left the waiter. He followed. The restaurant was crowded when the three entered. In a loud voice one of them waved an arm at the head waiter.
"Hi, gassong! Toot sweet!"
The waiter came.
"Hi, gassong! Toot sweet!"
"We want the sweetest feed in this joint," said another. He bowed. He bowed and showed them to a table. People were looking round everywhere.
"Pat," said the third, "bring a couple of quarts of champagne with the east—see—and the tooter the sweetest."
The waiter, rubbing his hands politely together, bowed again.
"Yes, sir," he said. "I'll warn the other guests." —Everybody's Magazine for May.

STATE-AIDED IMMIGRATION

(Montreal Gazette.) The favorable reception given by the British House of Commons to the Empire Settlement Bill brings the scheme of Empire migration measurably nearer realization. The scheme itself is sound in principle, its object being to relieve the congestion brought about by over-population in one part of the Empire by distributing the surplus among those British countries which are richer in lands than in people. Assuming that the families migrating are of the class of classes desired by the dominions, the results should be satisfactory. Everything depends upon the observance of conditions which will make that assumption good. The dominions, and certainly the Dominion of Canada, are not simply because they are the parent stock, unless they are able and willing to swell the ranks of producers and consumers in their part in building up the country. The objection to state-aided immigration and sponging on the urban centers of the parent stock is that the beneficiary under the system acquires an appetite for assistance and does not develop the stamina and self-reliance which are the true capital of the successful colonist. The pressing need in Canada is for men who will bring the idle lands of the west under cultivation, but it is a question whether public opinion in this country will sanction a policy which will mean a heavy exodus of agriculturalists while leaving virtually unpopulated the congested urban centers. As stated by Lieut. Col. Amery, the keynote of the present plan is "direct settlement." The object of the plan is that as this country is concerned the conditions of immigration under the proposed plan must be made to serve the purpose indicated. The Empire Settlement Bill is intended to give effect to resolutions adopted at the last Imperial Conference. These resolutions were endorsed by the Dominions, with the exception of South Africa, and were as follows: "The Conference having satisfied itself that the proposals embodied in the report of the committee on state-aided immigration are sound in principle, and that the several dominions are prepared, subject to parliamentary sanction and to the necessary financial arrangements being made, to co-operate effectively with the United Kingdom in the development of schemes based on these proposals, but adapted to the particular circumstances and conditions of each dominion, approves of the aforesaid report. The conference expresses the hope that the government of the United Kingdom will, at the earliest possible moment, secure the necessary powers to enable it to carry out its part of any scheme of co-operation which may subsequently be agreed on, preferably in the form of an act which will make clear that the policy of co-operation now adopted is intended to be permanent. The conference recommends to the governments of the several dominions that they should consider how far their existing legislation on the subject of immigration may require any modification or expansion in order to secure the essential stipulation that the practical scheme or schemes must be 'adapted to the particular circumstances and conditions of each dominion.' This is the point upon which the whole plan turns. If presently unoccupied lands in Canada can be made productive by immigration from Great Britain upon a financial plan which does not impose too heavy a burden upon the state, well and good. The qualification of the intending settler must be established, and it ought to be established before the prospective colonist leaves Great Britain. It ought, moreover, to be established to the satisfaction of Canadian government agents in Great Britain and in accordance with the conditions prescribed by the Canadian immigration department.

SLAYS CRIPPLED WIFE WITH AXE

Ontario Farmer Also Attacks Two Daughters. Both Frightfully Hurt and Likely to Die—Murderer Flees to Woods but is Traced and Captured. Sunnyside, Ont., May 1.—One of the most gruesome tragedies which the northern part of York county has known for many years occurred late yesterday afternoon, when Robert Stevenson, who lives on a farm several miles south of here, killed his wife by battering her over the head with an axe and inflicted such frightful injuries on his step-daughters, eleven and thirteen years of age, that the condition of both is doubtful. The tragedy came as a result of domestic troubles. Mrs. Stevenson, who was partially crippled and unable to defend herself, evidently was killed almost instantly. The wounds inflicted upon the two children were most severe, Chief Kirk said, their heads being cut open by blows from the axe. The older girl, Nora, ran out of the house and started across the fields. Procuring a shotgun, Stevenson gave chase, and when he caught up, shot her. The condition of the girl indicates that when the man caught her, she faced about and threw up her arms for protection, as both her arms and breast were lacerated with shot. After committing the crime, Stevenson took to the woods, whether a posse of farmers pursued him. As darkness came on, however, they were unable to track him and the next heard of the man was when he boarded a metropolitan car south of Toronto. The conductor notified the police, who boarded the car at Schoenberg and made the arrest.

THE DISCIPLE OF THE DEVIL

Many years ago a peasant of the community Z, near Lemberg, emigrated to America. Recently he returned to his village, his pockets stuffed with dollars. He drove to Lemberg to have his dollars changed. His departure became known to the village, and the very same night there was a knock at the door of his house. His wife opened the door and recoiled in terror. On the threshold stood what appeared to be the devil himself, covered with a shaggy hide, with glowing eyes and spreading a penetrating sulphurous odor. He with the peasant woman into the room, locked the door, and after rattling his chains and giving forth infernal sounds began to tell her what he wanted. He threatened the woman with all the torments of hell if she did not hand him immediately all the money brought home by her husband from America. The woman swore solemnly that her husband had taken all the money to Lemberg to have it exchanged for Polish marks. Thereupon the "devil" searched all the chests and shrines and not finding anything declared that he would come again tomorrow, when he hoped that the man would be back. She had to swear not to tell anybody of the occurrence or he would take her with him to hell. The morning a gendarme chanced to come to the house. He found the woman in a state of terror and after long urging got from her the story. The gendarme promised to help her. She hid him in the room. At midnight there was a knock at the door. This time the gendarme opened and tore the mask from the devil's face. He started back horrified, for before him stood the village judge, who in this way tried to get quick and easy possession of the dollars. The gendarme delivered his superior to the district court.

FUNERALS

The funeral services for little Dorothy Jean Sharp, who was killed by a fall from a wagon, were conducted at Young's Cove by Rev. T. Spencer Crisp, assisted by Rev. David Patterson. The widespread regret at the death of Patrick H. Nugent, of St. Martins, and the sympathy for those bereaved was shown by the large number who attended his funeral which was held on Saturday morning from his late home. All walks of life were represented in the concourse including clergymen of various denominations. Friends from St. John were among those attending to show their respect for his memory and their sorrow in his death. Many spiritual bouquets and beautiful floral pieces rested on the casket, among them, a wreath from the Wood Lake Fishing Club, while from Boston, Mon- ton, and elsewhere came letters of con- dolence to the family. The funeral was to the Catholic church where Rev. H. L. Coughlan sang requiem high mass in the presence of a congregation that fill-

BISHOP OF CORK CONDEMNNS MURDER

John Bradfield, a protestant, was shot and killed yesterday in the Bannon district of Cork. The bishop of Cork, in his sermon yesterday, condemned the murder of members of the protestant community and offered his sympathy to the families of those killed. He said Ireland stood disgraced before the world by the murders in Belfast. A statement signed by Griffith and Collins and issued by the publicity de- partment of the Dail Eireann in ex- plaining the breakdown of the confer- ence says the Irish government submitted three proposals all of which the oppo- sition rejected. The first was that an election be held in June on the issues of the Anglo-Irish treaty and the new constitution, oppo- nents of the treaty to guarantee there would be no obstruction of voters. In the event of a result favorable to the government the constitution to be en- acted, subject to amendments in the house, the Irish parliament to be dis- solved and a general election to be held. Dublin, April 30—After sitting through- out Sunday to consider the breakdown of the Irish peace conference, the executive of the Irish Labor party issued a statement tonight setting forth the proposals submitted by the party, which were not accepted by either side.

The former political leader spent the better part of the last ten or twelve years in Ireland, where he owned ex- tensive estates, making occasional visits to the United States.

THE ENGLISHMAN'S HOME.

Some enterprising people have in- vented, or, at any rate, perfected a room into which no sound can enter. They are our benefactors. In modern con- ditions we are increasingly driven to live in flats or large houses converted into flats. Were it not for sound-proof rooms such abodes would be intolerable—and where should we all be then? The average man simply cannot afford to live in the average London house, with its endless stairs and its equally endless de- mands on domestic service. Neverthe- less, the Englishman does not really take kindly to the flat idea. To him his home is still his castle, and no one can view as a castle a dwelling of which the front door is only one of two, even three on a landing. The very lift, shared with utter strangers, outrages his cas- tle-like instincts. The Englishman is the least gregarious of men. He loves to be alone—even in a railway carriage. Ex- cept in times of crisis, when he is won- derfully helpful, he shows little neigh- borly spirit. He is in his very essence a dweller in houses—properly isolated places where a man can "keep himself to himself."—London Daily Express.

THE EMPRESS OF SCOTLAND ARRIVES

Quebec, April 30—The largest steamer in the trans-Atlantic trade between Can- ada and Britain—the Canadian Pacific liner Empress of Scotland, 25,000 tons—arrived here this evening from South- ampton on her maiden trip.

AIRPLANES AND THE FORESTS.

Airplanes were used with great ad- vantage in forest protection work in five provinces of the dominion last year, and the work is likely to be extended in the coming season. The advantage of an airplane patrol over that by canoe is illustrated by the following extract from a report of one of the airmen engaged in protecting the forests in northern Man- itoba last year: "We could always see from thirty to fifty miles on either side of the plane, and it would be no difficulty to locate smoke at this distance. When you compare this with a canoe travel- ing up a river with high banks, where it is impossible to see more than a hun- dred yards in either direction, and where the patrol would be unable to notice smoke unless it was driven down over him, the advantage is entirely on the side of the plane."

Thirty-five young friends of Miss Audrey Belyea, daughter of Hilton Bel- yea, Canadian sculling champion, gath- ered at her home in Middle street, w. c. on Friday evening of last week to cele- brate her thirtieth birthday and to pre- sent to her a gold wrist watch as a pres- ent from them. Games and dancing passed the evening pleasantly and after duty refreshments had been served, the party broke up.

J. D. Palmer of Fredericton, has accepted the invitation of Hon. Bowser K. C., Conservative leader in British Columbia, to attend the Conservative convention to be held at Vancouver soon.

In the Paris trial Saturday afternoon evidence on behalf of the defense was given by Dr. D. S. McCurdy, a physician of Truro; Gordon J. Hayman, a carpenter of Truro, and James W. McCaig of Truro.

The firemen were called out yesterday afternoon about 1.40 o'clock by a still alarm, for a small fire in the roof of a house at the corner of Sydney and Union streets. The blaze was quickly extinguished and practically no damage was done.

At a mass meeting of the citizens of Sydney, N. S., held yesterday it was unanimously resolved that an attempt should be made to have the government appoint a commission for the thorough investigation of the Cape Breton steel industry in order to deal with the prevailing unemployment.

Peter Ferguson, the oldest person in the vicinity of Moncton, and probably the oldest in New Brunswick, died yesterday morning at the home of his daughter, Mrs. Genner Price, at Sunny Brae. Mr. Ferguson was 109 years old, having been born at Summerville, P. E. I., in 1813. Five children, of a family of eleven, survive.

It was said last evening by N. P. Me-Leod, inspector of taxation, that the amount paid in up to the end of April this year was considerably less than that paid in last year. A good many, he said, were taking advantage of the installment payment privilege according to which the tax may be paid in from one to four instalments.

A great crowd of people and the fire department responded to an alarm from Box 8 yesterday afternoon about 4 o'clock. The fire, which was out of all proportion to the crowd and to the amount of apparatus present, was just a bit of a blaze that did some damage to the top floor of a house at 44 Pond street, occupied by Herman Bell.

The car, belonging to Donaldson Hunt, which was stolen from in front of the Imperial Theatre on Thursday evening during the Rotary Club's Musical Show has been recovered. It was discovered at Little New River, near Lepreau, by Daniel Bernard, a farmer, who notified the local detective department. Mr. house asking for gasoline.

Increase the action of the intestines

Hundreds of men and women have already found freedom from laxatives by eating Fleischmann's fresh yeast.

Doctors are now agreed that proper elimination of waste matter should be brought about by food. One doctor writes right out and states plainly that the indication for use of cathartics is one of the causes of constipation.

Physicians all over the country are recommending Fleischmann's fresh yeast because it is a fresh food, rich in those elements which keep the intestines healthy. In one series of tested cases, normal functions were restored in from 3 days to 5 weeks.

Try it out for yourself. Begin today by adding 2 or 3 cakes of Fleischmann's Yeast to your everyday diet. Keep it up and see how normally and regularly your intestines act. Be sure it's Fleischmann's Yeast—the familiar tin-foil package with the yellow label. Write for a mailing order with your grocery bill.

DINNER AND PRESENTATION AT LOCH LOMOND

A pleasant function took place on Saturday evening at the Johnston Hotel, Loch Lomond, when about fifty film men and friends gathered to say farewell to A. E. Smith of the Famous Players staff, who has been promoted to the Montreal office. After the dinner, served in excellent style a programme was carried out, Messrs. Melody, Cross and M. Begg taking part.

The guest of the evening was made recipient of a very fine wardrobe trunk, and thanked them for the gift and good wishes extended. M. Bernstein was master of ceremonies and Jack Kraker acted as toastmaster.

The stalls and private dining rooms must be removed today from all the restaurants as the act prohibiting them comes into force in all but the hotels. One well known place escapes through this loophole excepting the hotels but it is not known whether advantage will be taken of this difference or whether it will fall in line with the other places.

CLOAK OVER HEAD, CREEPS TO TRACK, IS CUT IN TWO

Seventeen Cars Pass Over Body of Kitchener, Ont., Woman.

Kitchener, Ont., May 1.—Mrs. William Puhelberg of this city was instantly killed by a westbound freight train a mile and a half east of here on Saturday evening. Members of the train crew said that on approaching the spot a woman was seen to come out toward the track from behind a mile post, on hands and knees, with a dark coat or cloak over her head. Before the train could be brought to a stop seventeen cars had passed over the body, severing it just above the waist.

Identification was made by the clothing and by a farewell letter found in the coat.

DUNLOP BICYCLE TIRES

"BEST" FOR TWENTY-EIGHT YEARS

THIS year's "Dunlop" is undoubtedly our best effort. We ought to know what "Best" means in Bicycle Tires because riders have styled our tires "Best" for twenty-eight years.

Originally we said: "These Are The Only Tools (Hands) You Need."

To-Day dealers are saying: "These Are The Only Tires (Dunlop) We Need."

"Fitted with Dunlop Tires" is a certificate of character for a bicycle.

And "Traction" and "Ribbed" in Cord construction, "Studded" in Fabric construction, represent all the features that can be thought out—all the quality that can be put in bicycle tires.

PARKER E. HUMPHREY

Many friends of Parker E. Humphrey, eighteen-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. George W. Humphrey, 10 Queen street, West End, will regret to learn of his death, which occurred yesterday in St. John County Hospital. He is survived by his parents, two brothers, George and Edward, and one sister, Rhoda, all at home. He was a member of the Ship Liners' Union, No. 1,039, and was well known on the west side. The funeral will be held on Tuesday afternoon at two o'clock from his late residence.

POLICE COURT

Eight men pleaded guilty to charges of drunkenness before the magistrate this morning in the police court. Two others who were out on deposits of $50 each failed to put an appearance. The eight who appeared were remanded. The magistrate again wanted to know why the big men in the bootlegging business were not brought before him and said he could show the inspectors where one of them, who owned four cars, did business at three o'clock in the morning.

NEW POLICEMAN

Douglas D. Laird was this morning sworn in as a member of the local police force to take the place of Policeman John Linton, who resigned. He is a native of Wallace, Cumberland county, N. S., and has lived in the city for some years. He is thirty-four years of age, five feet, eleven and one half inches tall and weighs 175 pounds. One of his brothers was killed overseas, another was seriously wounded and he himself maimed but was turned down on account of a technical physical disability.

MRS. A. M. SAUNDERS

The death of Mrs. Melissa Saunders, widow of Albert M. Saunders, of Gondola Point, occurred yesterday morning at her home there, after an illness of about six weeks. She was sixty-six years of age and leaves three daughters, Mrs. Frank Jackson, Mrs. Allan D. Harrison and Mrs. Walter S. Saunders, all at Gondola Point. She was well-known and highly respected resident of the community and had a host of friends who will regret to hear of her death. She was a member of the Rothery Baptist church. The funeral will take place from her late residence at 2.30 o'clock on Tuesday.

NOW MARTELLO ROAD

That portion of Tower street extension which lies in Beauséjour has been renamed Martello road. The residents petitioned the highway board of Lancaster asking for the change, and the board at its meeting last week granted the request. Formerly this street was called Tower street, as it was a continuation of Tower street, Carleton. The renamed street commences at City Line, where the city street terminates, and runs southwest to Lancaster avenue, or parallel with Dufferin row. Arthur W. Carton, secretary-treasurer of the highway board, has advised the post office inspector of the change in the name of this street.

ATHLETICS

The national athletic meet for Trail Rangers was held for the local boys at the Y. M. C. A. on Saturday afternoon. Forty boys took part from four groups, and the results are as follows:—

Points.	Ave.
Portland .....	3,405 425 5-8
Ludlow street 660666 ..	4,932 392 2-7
Esmond street .....	2,554 244

St. David's also entered, but their team has not all competed yet. This gives the marston trophy for the city championship to Portland for this year. It was won by Ludlow street last year with an average of 977. It is quite likely that the Portland boys will hold the Trail Rangers' shield for New Brunswick, and it is hoped that their average is high enough to put them in the running for the dominion championship as well.

METHODIST MINISTERS

A meeting of the Methodist Ministerial Association of the city was held at the Y. M. C. A. this morning, with Rev. G. A. Ross of Hampton, in the chair. Others present were Rev. Messrs J. K. King, E. E. Styles, Nell McLaughlan, R. G. Fulton, H. E. Thomas, W. Lawson and H. B. Clarke. The principle business was the completion of the programme for the annual conference at Sackville in June. At letter was read from J. K. Kelley, referring to the Protestant Orphans Home. Arrangements were also made for the annual district meeting in June. The ministers will meet on the morning of June 8, and the general meeting will begin in the afternoon of that day and continue until the business is completed.

NEW WITNESS IN THE PARIS CASE

Defence Calls George Scarborough, Drug Traveler—Cross-examination of J. W. McNaught Concluded.

One new witness was brought forward by the defense this morning in the case of the King vs. John Paris, in the circuit court, in the person of George Scarborough, of St. John. His evidence was taken, and he was being cross-examined by Mr. Byrne when the court adjourned at one o'clock. J. W. McNaught, of Truro, was on the stand most of the morning session, and was cross-examined.

J. W. McNaught was recalled to the stand and the attorney general continued cross-examination. The witness gave details of his connection with the Eastern Cap Company of Truro. He had said on Saturday that Thorne was head bookkeeper; he was mistaken to a certain extent, he was head bookkeeper. Miss Mackenzie was a bookkeeper. The witness worked on the books in his spare time. He said that he lived at 28 Union street, and that Mr. Maxwell, a colored man, lived near him. He said that he never knew F. McCurdy until he came here.

The witness was asked by Mr. Byrne to write out another copy of the receipt which he gave to Paris. The receipt was not dated. He said that he knew Paris on August 2, only because he (Paris) said so. Regarding the fixing of the date, the witness said that the Chatsquis parade did not altogether fix the date in his mind.

When Mr. Byrne read over his evidence in this regard at the last trial, the witness said that he gave the evidence from memory. He had not read over his evidence taken at the last trial, as he had said the fourth and so he did not have to.

When the accused entered the office he said, "I want to see Mr. Paris." At this time Miss Mackenzie was at a desk in the office. The witness asked "What the name, please," and Miss Mackenzie replied "Paris." Later he said "John Paris." The accused handed the witness a paper bearing his name, and he said he was about the same as at the last trial. "There was no possibility of the man he saw there not being Paris, in that he could not be mistaken."

The witness swore that he got ninety cents for payment of the bill from Miss Mackenzie, who took it from the cash box. The evidence at the last trial was that he took it out himself. When asked which statement was correct he said the statement of the last trial must have been a mistake. The man had on a dark suit and a cloth cap. He was pretty sure that the man had no mustache. In view of the fact that Paris swore that he had a mustache on August 1, 2 and 3, the witness was asked if he might be mistaken. He replied that he did not think he could be mistaken.

The witness was not sure that most of the people living on the island were named "Paris" or "Clyke's." He said that the other girl in the office was Miss Anna McIntosh. He had not been able to tell her name at the last trial, but had made inquiries since.

The witness showed a photograph of Paris. He would not swear that it was Paris, although he believed it might himself have been some one on Paris' face, which did not show in the photograph.

A New Witness.

George Scarborough, of St. John, was next witness for the defense. He said he was a drug traveler for Stearns Co., of Detroit. He went to Truro on five times a year. He was there on August 8, 1921. He went to Maxon's drug store between 9.30 and 10 o'clock that night. He said that he saw Moxon open the cash register. He remembered Moxon paying somebody for mushrooms. The man went out afterwards.

Cross-examined by Mr. Byrne, he said that some time after the first of the year he went to Mr. Vennart, being asked to do so by Mr. Moxon. He said that he fixed the date of his being in Truro in the register. On August 3, he was in St. John all day. On Wednesday, he went to Truro. He sent a telegram to Mr. Moxon from Moncton on August 3; saw Moxon that night and booked an order. He would swear that Paris was the man who was in the store.

TWO GOVERNMENT OFFICES REMOVED

Immigration Department and Farm Settlement Board to Fredericton—No Change in Liquor Inspectors' Office.

The equipment of the offices of the provincial immigration department and the farm settlement board, in Prince William street, was moved this morning and will be taken to Fredericton tonight. Both these departments will be operated directly from the provincial capital.

The offices vacated by these departments will be occupied for the present by the McAlpine Publishing Co.

No change will be made in the location of the office of the chief inspector and his staff which is in the same building, so J. B. Hawthorne, who arrived today from Fredericton said this morning. The chief inspector is here on business in connection with his department. He said that he was in Edmundston last week where it was reported particularly quiet in connection with the illicit traffic in liquor. The chief will return to Fredericton this evening.

The Canadian National Express Company has moved its office from King street to 87 Prince William street, where the claims department was formerly housed, and the claims department, with P. Mitchell and two stenographers will soon be transferred to Montreal. Some other changes in staff have also been decided on. W. G. Everett, at present general agent, will be transferred to the road from Truro to the general superintendent's office. The old quarters on King street will be occupied by McNaught and Everett, who are moving from the Bank of Montreal building.

GLENWOOD

The actual facts about Glenwood Ranges are clear and unmistakable. They cook and bake better with less work and less fuel—and they last longer than other ranges.

These facts have been proven time after time, and over and over again. They are being proved right now in the more than 5,000 St. John homes and in the many boarding houses and restaurants in the city where the Glenwood is used.

Specific and exclusive structural features make the Glenwood so much better in every way that every housewife should know about them. We will be pleased to have you call and examine our line now on display. Our new low prices will be a pleasant surprise.

MORAL CONTROL OF THE CHILD

Is Fostered in Early Years. Modern Authorities Say—Therefore Large Responsibilities Lie with Kindergarten.

What are the most important years of a child's life? is a question frequently asked. Whatever bias we may as individuals show because of our own personal experiences, observations and professional work should give way to a consideration of facts which come to us from various laboratories and clinics.

These constitute the sources where investigations of two types are under way. One type works from beginning, controls treatment and environment, then watches for results. Attention and environment are counted good or bad in accordance with character of results.

newborn children to find out what fear, rage and love responses could be made because of the children's inheritance as human beings.

It is a surprise to many people to learn that very few fears are actually inherited; that almost all of them are acquired through experience after birth.

Another Source. The other source of our knowledge concerning the early years comes from the clinics and courts to which the defective, the handicapped, the broken, the lawless are brought for help.

The view of an impartial educator, Dr. Wm. C. Gagley, affirms that position. He says: "The secret of character development lies in the earlier years, and, since parents are not trained for this work, the kindergarten teachers must assume the responsibility for laying the foundations for the basic moral controls and for the inculcation of the virtues of good manners, both so essential in our democracy."

ANNUAL MEETING TOMORROW OF CANADIAN PRESS

Toronto, April 30—Daily newspaper publishers and editors are gathering here from all over the Dominion for the annual meeting of the Canadian Press Limited, the co-operative news gathering and distributing association including within its membership practically every daily newspaper in Canada. Indications are that the annual general meeting on Tuesday next will be fully represented, members attending from as far east as Cape Breton and as far west as Victoria.

Founded on its present basis in 1917, largely by the urge of war necessity which rendered it imperative that there be a free flow of news from one end of Canada to the other, the Canadian Press has since then made considerable strides forward and is now an organization of which its members are proud. Modelled on lines a good deal similar to that of the Associated Press of America, it depends for its success primarily on the good-will and hearty co-operation of its members in the prompt production of the news of their district for benefit of the membership at large. This exchange of news is rendered possible by the leasing of about 12,000 miles of telegraph wires, both day and night, from coast to coast, operated by the telegraphers of the association.

It is of its very essence that the Canadian Press be strictly impartial and unbiased in its presentation of the news of the day, for its members include newspapers of every political stripe, and these critics of its news services, numbering over 100, are vigilant to see that their association maintains its reputation for scrupulous fairness. A striking illustration of this was afforded by the recent Dominion election campaign, when staff reporters of the Canadian Press accompanied each of the three leaders, with the result that for perhaps the first time there was presented to the people of Canada day by day in just perspective a full picture of the progress of the campaign.

The Canadian Press also undertook, in collaboration with the telegraph companies, the collection and distribution of the election results, and in this a new record for speed and accuracy was set up. The association works in close cooperation with the Associated Press and has access through the editorial staff in New York to the world-wide news reports of that great agency. At the recent annual meeting of the Associated Press its general manager, Roy Martin, congratulated the Canadian Press on its very excellent news service covering Canada and said that as a result more Canadian news is being printed in the United States than ever before.

The English Service.
A feature of the last year has been the building up in London by an arrangement with Reuters of a Canadian Press service, which aims in particular to cover the news of the British Empire in more complete fashion than is done by the Associated Press, whose cable service is of course primarily designed for American consumption. While still in its infancy this special service has already achieved a considerable success, with the result that more and more news of Great Britain, Australia, New Zealand, India and the empire generally is made available to the Canadian public. A valuable feature is that through Reuters of the Canadian Press has access to the very full reports of the British Press Association, the co-operative organization of British daily newspapers, which covers very thoroughly news of the British Isles, including a full report of the proceedings of the imperial parliament.

PASTORAL LETTER ON MISSION WORK

A pastoral letter of his lordship Bishop LeBlanc was read in all the Catholic churches of the city Sunday. The letter urged support of the Canadian missionary colleges for the education of missionary priests for heathen countries; it appealed for the support of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith and, in general, for the support of the work of sending Catholic missionaries to heathen people, of whom there were 800,000,000 in the world.

The heathen was in extreme spiritual danger, said the letter, and had a strict claim on the charity of Catholics. The letter pointed out that already many young Canadian priests had gone forth in the work of converting the heathen, and it expressed his lordship's fervent desire to see his own diocese represented by missionary priests. If Canada was to take her proper share in the conversion of China and other pagan countries, hundreds of students would have to be trained for this apostolic work, the letter said.

The occasion of the letter is the tercentenary celebration of the founding in 1622 of the Sacred Congregation of the Propaganda, the department of the papal administration which is charged with the spread of the Catholic religion by means of missionaries sent to non-Catholic and heathen countries. The year 1922 also marks the one hundredth anniversary of the organization of the Society for the Propagation of the Faith.

The letter pointed out that, in order to commemorate the founding of the Congregation of the Propaganda the late holy father, Pope Benedict XV, ordered a triduum of public prayers in thanksgiving for the blessings accorded to the foreign missions in the past, and to invoke God's assistance for them in the future.

The letter directs, therefore, that this triduum be observed on Thursday, Friday and Saturday preceding Pentecost Sunday. It further directs that on Pentecost Sunday a collection be taken up in all the churches of the diocese where the priest will officiate. The proceeds are to be divided equally between the China Mission College at Almonte (Ont.), and the college for Foreign Missions now being established in Montreal.

After pointing out the nature of the work done by the Sacred Congregation of the Propaganda and by the Society for the Propagation of the Faith and by its kindred societies, the Association of the Holy Childhood, the letter went on to quote Pope Pius X, as declaring that "If messengers of the Catholic Faith are able to reach out to the most distant lands, and the most barbarous nations, it is to the Society for the Propagation of the Faith that credit must be given. Through that society salvation began for numberless peoples, and by its instrumentality there has been gathered a harvest of souls."

After pointing out the extreme spiritual danger of the 800,000,000 heathen living in spiritual darkness, worshipping idols and enslaved by abominable heathen practices, the letter said that the heathen had a strict claim on the charity of Catholics. The letter said, offered the widest and most promising field for missionary work. The letter speaks of the work being done by the China Mission College at Almonte (Ont.), and of another college for foreign missions now being established in Montreal for the same purpose.

Both missionary vocations and funds for the training of missionary priests for foreign fields were required, the letter said. After appointing the date for the missionary collection the letter said: "The situation is grave and critical. It is a question of gaining or losing millions of souls, and God seems to have determined that the present is the acceptable time for us to make a supreme effort to save those abandoned souls by sending forth a constant stream of missionaries to every part of the pagan world."

BISHOP ADDRESSES
WOMEN'S LEAGUE
His Lordship, Bishop LeBlanc, addressed the St. John sub-division of the Catholic Women's League in the Cliff street auditorium last night, on the invitation of the educational committee, of which Mrs. Richard O'Brien is convenor. His Lordship spoke of matters which especially interested women and was listened to with great attention. He complimented the branch on the work and activities of the season and referred in particular to the manner in which the League was managing Rosary Hall and caring for the welfare of those in residence. A special feature of the meeting was the singing of the high school girls, thirty-four in number, who appeared on the stage when the curtain rose and sang two sacred selections most acceptably. With Bishop LeBlanc on the platform was Mrs. D. P. Clifton, president of the branch, who was the chairman of the evening. A hearty vote of thanks was extended to the bishop on the motion of Mrs. D. C.

Cuticura Talcum
Always Healthful
Dearden, seconded by Miss Annie Carlin. The stage was prettily decorated with flowers. During the season the educational committee has arranged an interesting series of addresses and each has been much appreciated.

Stands up to time and test.

"ENDURANCE" is not merely a trade name—it is a description of the character of the paint that bears it. For GLIDDEN ENDURANCE PAINT endures.

The eating, corroding effect of rain and wind, the heat of summer, the frosts of winter or the acid laden smoke of the cities has little effect upon it. It spreads easily and evenly, filling cracks and crevices with an all-protecting coat. It is more than just a paint—it is an insurance against depreciation.

Buildings painted regularly with ENDURANCE PAINT are proof against rot and rust. They retain their fresh appearance and the passage of time does not lessen their value. Upkeep, the bugbear of property owners, is reduced to a minimum through the regular use of this sturdy, weather-resisting paint.

— Start Painting Now —

Add to the beauty as well as the life of your home. The spring winds have dried out the woodwork and will help the paint to dry quickly. Better repaint today than repair tomorrow.

Glidden Paints, Varnish Colors and Insecticides and Ripolin Enamel are sold by all high class Hardware, General, and Departmental Stores.

VIRTUES OF THE HABITANT

Premier Taschereau Champions Cause of French-Canadians.

Compares Provinces—Ontario
Loses Out in Statistical Proof — "Priest-Ridden"
People Showed Better
School Attendance.

Speaking before the Empire Club in Toronto last week on the subject of "One of Canada's Assets—The Habitant," the Hon. L. A. Taschereau, premier of Quebec, remarked that the habitant was a Canadian as good as any, Canada was his home and he was the friend of Ontario. The premier announced the habitant admired Ontario's wealth, enterprise and its spirit of true Canadianism.
He asked his Toronto audience to be his (the habitant's) friends, and to give him good British fair play. Mr. Taschereau said that over the imaginary line which divided the two provinces the native of Quebec would grasp the hand of friendship extended to him by Ontario, for he knew that British institutions meant freedom, liberty, peace and respect for minority. "People of Ontario," said the premier, "this is the great English province of Canada. You claim to be on this continent the depositories of true British institutions. We must, therefore, look to you to be their ex-ponents and the apostles by whom they will be taught and practised in this new world. Your duty is to have them cherished here as they are in every land under the British flag."

At the outset Premier Taschereau said he proposed to speak of the habitant's marvellous development, of his honest, frugal and laborious life, of his respect for law, religion and authority, and of his love for his country. He would attempt to dispel in the minds of Ontario people some false ideas that might have found lodgment there.

Premier Taschereau confessed that in no place did he feel more at ease in dealing with the life of Quebec farmers than in Ontario, blessed as it was with the farmers' government. Having quoted what he said was the best description of the French-Canadian people, and Torontonian, which referred to the people of Quebec as "chiefly engaged in minding their own business which made them very complacent," the speaker detailed the growth of the French-Canadians.
He said in 1763 when Canada was ceded to England, 60,000 former French people passed under British rule. Whereas the population of France itself had only doubled since that time, the French population on this continent had increased fifty-fold and was now over three millions. Although he was not a Mormon, the habitant's family was second to none in respect to numbers to those which were the pride of Utah. According to the 1911 census, Ontario, with a population of half a million more than Quebec, had thirty-two thousand children under the years of age. Some years ago Premier Mercer gave a grant of a hundred acres of public lands to each family of twelve living children. After a short while the legislature had to repeal the act, as the whole pile of hands of those who passed into the hands of those

42 GUILTY, 20 SENT TO PRISON IN A DAY

Court Clean-up of Crimes of Violence Calendars Gains Speed—Two Face 40-Year Terms.

(N. Y. Times.)
Two more second offenders were convicted of robberies in the criminal courts yesterday in the continuation of the clean-up of District Attorney Banton's calendar of crimes of violence. Two players got long terms on their pleas of guilty to indictments charging manslaughter in the first degree. The robbers had served terms in prison. The maximum punishment under the law is forty years' imprisonment.
The eight parts of general sessions and the three terms of the criminal branch of the Supreme Court engaged in cutting down the calendar disposed of forty-two cases during the day. Thirty-five men pleaded guilty to various crimes, seven men were convicted before juries and twenty others were sentenced on convictions returned against them last week or on pleas of guilty.
Harry Testa, 14 years old, of 380 East 100th street, was the first of the criminals convicted of robbery in the first degree. He was tried before Judge Mulqueen in general sessions for participating with two others in the hold-up of Herman Abrahams, a delicatessen dealer, on the night of Feb. 8 last. Testa was arrested a week after the robbery through Abrahams' identification of his organ's gallery picture. The robbers got a diamond watch and $54.50 from their victim, but he saved an $800 diamond ring he wore by placing it in his mouth as the bandits were showing him into the rear of his store.

Prisoner Five Times Convicted
Assistant District Attorney McQuaid produced Testa's police record during the trial, which revealed that in the ten years he had been sentenced to eight years in prison on five convictions.
Harry B. Morganstein was convicted by a jury before Justice Finch, in the criminal branch of the Supreme Court, a few minutes later for his part in the hold-up of Nathan Oster, a taxicab chauffeur, on the night of Jan. 9 last. He also had been indicted as a second offender.
The victim of the hold-up told the jurors, Morganstein and three other men hailed him as he was driving down First avenue, and after getting into his taxicab ordered him to take them to an address in East Eleventh street, near Avenue A. When they got half way down the block, he said, the men drew pistols and ordered him to stop. One of the robbers forced him inside and another took his seat. Morganstein and the other two robbers then robbed the chauffeur of $22, after which the fourth robber drove the taxicab half a block, when the chauffeur was thrown out.
As the robbers were fleeing in the taxicab they were blocked by a milk wagon, and a policeman captured one of them, who said he was Harry Feldman. He revealed the names of the other three robbers, and Morganstein and Benjamin Goldstein later were arrested. Feldman pleaded guilty to the hold-up, and Goldstein was convicted before Judge Mulqueen in general sessions last week. Morganstein will be arraigned for sentence on Friday. He had a previous conviction and may receive the maximum sentence of forty years.

Found Guilty in Five Minutes
A third hold-up man convicted was Harry Greene, 20, who said he lived in Brooklyn. He was tried before Judge Rosalsky in general sessions and the jury returned the verdict in less than five minutes.
Harry Kovas, a taxicab chauffeur, under questioning of Assistant District Attorney Sabadino, told the jury that on the night of March 18 last, as he was passing Second avenue and Tenth street, Greene and two other men hired him to take them to Avenue A and Twentieth street. When they reached their destination, Kovas said, the three men covered him with pistols, robbed him of $40 and drove off with his taxicab, which they abandoned four hours later. Greene was captured through a description furnished by Kovas. Judge Rosalsky remanded him for sentence.
The first man arraigned for sentence was Raymond Lyons, 22, who pleaded guilty last week before Judge McIntyre in general sessions to manslaughter in the first degree for shooting and killing Michael Renner, 23. Lyons had been indicted for murder in the first degree, but the police were unable to find satisfactory witnesses to the slaying, which took place on the night of March 15 last in front of a store in Avenue B. The shooting was the result of a quarrel. Judge McIntyre sentenced Lyons to 20 years in Sing Sing.
Twenty Years for Slayer.
A sentence of from seven to twenty years was imposed by the same judge on George Washington Hobbs, a negro, twenty-four, of 205 East 127th street, who pleaded guilty last week to manslaughter in the first degree. He shot and killed George Dolles while the latter was seated in a window of his home at 281 East 127th street on the night of July 19, 1918.
When Judge McIntyre sentenced Peter Marcolliano, twenty-seven, of 2564 Eighth avenue, to an indeterminate term in the penitentiary for running over and killing a man with his automobile on Jan. 24, 1920, he declared the man was entitled to no clemency because he had served a term for manslaughter in Massachusetts and had a pistol in his possession when arrested. Marcolliano pleaded guilty last week to violating the highway law in running down and killing Thomas Meehan, 38 St. Mark's Place.
Judge Rosalsky sentenced James Williams, twenty-seven, of 12 West 183rd street, to five years in Sing Sing for plundering the house of Mrs. Ruby Sobel at 65 East 100th street of $175 on March 10 last. He had been convicted of four previous felonies, and pleaded guilty when arraigned on the burglary charge.
Sentences Pistol Carrier.
Judge Rosalsky also sentenced Angelo Conti, twenty-five, of 85 Baxter street, to an indeterminate term in the penitentiary for carrying a pistol at Mott and Broome streets on the night of March 27. Detectives who arrested Conti told the court they recognized him as a man who previously had been convicted.
John Moran, twenty-two, of 317 East

FOR BETTER WALLS & CEILINGS

Thirty-eighth street, and Stephen O'Hagan, twenty-six, of 715 Second avenue, received sentences of from five to ten years in Sing Sing when they pleaded guilty before Judge Mulqueen to the hold-up of a restaurant at 420 Third avenue on Feb. 5 last. Five men entered the restaurant with pistols, and after firing several shots at John J. Kennedy, the proprietor, emptied the cash register, getting $75. Moran and O'Hagan were caught after a chase, but the other robbers escaped.
John J. Strang, thirty, a veteran of the 165th infantry, who was gassed and wounded in France, was sentenced to a maximum term of three years in the penitentiary when he pleaded guilty before Judge Talley in general sessions to attempted robbery, the charge growing out of the hold-up of Frank Roehr in his grocery store at 390 Ninth avenue on Sept. 26 last. Roehr said that Strang pretended he had a pistol in his pocket when he emptied the cash register of $2 and fled. When he was captured a few minutes later by a policeman he was unarmed. The court was informed that the prisoner was intoxicated at the time. Strang said he was a student at the city college under the government's educational plan for soldiers.
Penitentiary for Boy of Sixteen.
In imposing sentence on Frank Bradbury, sixteen, of 68 West 143rd street, on his plea of guilty of the larceny of a package from a truck on March 23, Justice Finch, in the criminal branch of the supreme court, said the suspended sentence system was being abused and that it was of more service to the community to sentence youthful thieves to the penitentiary than to release them on suspended sentences. He then sentenced Bradbury to an indeterminate term.
Justice Finch also remarked that the probation system was being abused as he sentenced Bradbury's confederate in the theft, Joseph Gregario, 247 East 114th street, to the penitentiary for a like term.

PULPIT EXCHANGES.
Some of the city clergymen exchanged pulpits yesterday morning. Rev. Neil MacLachlan, of the Queen square church, exchanged with Rev. R. G. Fulton, of Centenary church, and Rev. E. E. Styles, of Garthman street church, exchanged with Rev. J. Heaney, of the Carlton Methodist church. Rev. F. H. Bone, of the Central Baptist church, and Rev. Dr. David Hutchinson, of the Main street Baptist church, exchanged pulpits in the morning, and the reason for this exchange was a very reasonable one. Both pastors moved to new homes on Saturday and both found that under those trying circumstances one sermon was all that could be produced. They each preached the same sermon both

POPE ADDRESSES LETTER IN FAVOR OF PEACE TO WORLD
Genoa, April 30.—Pope Pius, through Cardinal Gaspari, has addressed to the governments and peoples of the world a letter, which is described as a new spur to universal brotherhood and a new admonition of disasters likely to befall mankind if efforts for true pacification should fail. This act by the Holy See has created great interest and has seemed already to inspire all to renewed efforts to make the Genoa conference of lasting good to the world. Commenting today, Premier Lloyd George said:

"I cannot say how pleased I am at this remarkable document, nor could I exaggerate the terms in which it is couched. The Pope speaks with first hand knowledge of conditions in Eastern Europe and I feel that so clear and definite a pronouncement by the Holy See in favor of peace with Russia is a great encouragement to the Christian powers assembled at Genoa."

A few rows of trees on the side of the ravelling winter winds will make a world of difference in the comfort of the farmstead.
