VICE IN NEW YORK

Pastors of Fashionable Congregations Appalled. Easter Gifts That Came From the Gaming Tables.

NEW YORK, April 15.—Two much gambling in society and too few children are the twin evils that are attracting the attention of the pastors of fashionable New York congregations, says the Evening World today. Many of these ministers are recent additions to the religious and fashionable life of New York, and they declare that the conditions that they have encountered here appall them. The ministers have been counselling with each other, exchanging confidences and experiences and trying to devise means of correcting the conditions which they say prevail. They have not decided what they will do, but they declared that they will not begin any crusade and they will not refer to the subjects in sermons. When a score of ministers who care for flocks that live up and down Madison, Fifth, West End and Amsterdam avenues began to talk over their troubles in confidence they found that all had the same stories to tell. Gambling among the members of their flocks, they said, was entirely too common, and the play was often for extremely high stakes. Many instances were told showing how young men had lost much larger sums than they could afford and were compelled to borrow small sums for railroad fares or temporary expenses from their hostesses.

One of the ministers who attended the conference says: "It is my personal opinion that a good deal of money put on the plates each Sunday came out of the gambling table, or if it did not, these large gifts were made in many cases as balm to supposed guilty consciences. It is a very easy form of imaginary self-denial, this giving of money by people who have plenty instead of personal service and to atone for dissipation. I am no longer young, and have seen conditions in many cities, but I never imagined conditions existing anywhere so bad as were described at our informal talk, and that by men who are what they know beyond doubt to be true."

PICTURES BY WIRE

An Effort by Famous Scientists to Transmit Them Faits.

CHICAGO, April 12.—Failure tonight greeted a test which drew a number of men of science to the Quadrangle club, university of Chicago. It was an attempt to transmit and receive half-tone pictures by telegraph between Columbia university, N. Y., and the university of Chicago. The instrument, or electrograph, had worked successfully over several hundred miles, but tonight owing to induction of the wires in New York would not record the thousands of the dots of which the pictures are composed. Thomas Mills, inventor of the electrograph, was in charge of the test in this city, while his assistant, H. H. Palmer, directed the operation of the machine in New York. In the latter city were Thomas A. Edison, Nikola Tesla, Signor Marconi and Professor Pupin. The electrograph resembles in a slight degree a large graphophone. The paper on which the picture is reproduced is wrapped around a cylinder, upon which a very sensitive stylus makes in ink dots corresponding in light and shade to the dots composing the half-tone illustration. Messrs. Mills and Palmer, in view of tonight's lack of success, decided to delay further tests of the invention for a few days.

CUBA IS DEFIANT.

HAVANA, April 12.—The Cuban constitutional convention placed itself upon record today against the Platt amendment by a vote of 15 to 10, on a resolution that the convention should declare itself opposed to the amendment on account of the terms of some of the clauses and the way in which they are drawn, and also on account of the contents of others, especially clauses III, VI, and VII. The conservatives assert that this action is embarrassing inasmuch as it practically ties the hands of any commission that might be sent to Washington.

CHINESE AFFAIRS.

LONDON, April 13.—"The viceroy of Nankin has received a letter from the British government," says the Shanghai correspondent of the Times, "congratulating him upon his success in opposing the Manchurian convention." The Times, commenting editorially upon its Shanghai despatch, says: "No doubt a similar letter was sent to the viceroy of Woo Chang. It is a gratifying sign that the British government is alive to the actual facts of the situation and knows to what quarter it can effectively turn for support in combating Russia's designs."

FRUIT CO. BURNED OUT.

HAYWARD, Calif., April 12.—Hunt Bros. company's fruit canning plant was totally destroyed by fire today. The company's boarding house and eighty-five cottages, seventy-five of which were owned by the company, the plant, fruit warehouse and 2,000 cases of fruit were destroyed. Six fruit cars were also consumed. The loss will exceed $125,000.

BLOODY CONFLICTS.

With Murderers and Robbers in Pennsylvania and Kentucky.

PITTSBURGH, April 12.—Thomas D. Kahno, a Mount Washington grocer, was shot and killed in his home today by three burglars, while defending his wife who was being chloroformed. A few hours later the rendezvous of the alleged felons was discovered. In a desperate fight which followed, city detective, Patrick E. Fitzgerald, was instantly killed and one of the alleged robbers, who gave his name as Edward Wright, who fired the shots that killed Fitzgerald, was badly wounded. Two males and two females, alleged members of the robber gang, were arrested and diamonds and other booty, worth from $3,000 to $4,000 recovered. The whole of the gang is believed to be in custody and the detectives have evidence that the men are responsible for the numerous burglaries of the past month or two in and around this city. They are all from Chicago.

WHITESBURG, Ky., April 12.—Two men were killed and two wounded in a fight in the mountains between Sheriff John W. Wright and his deputies on one side, and the desperadoes who, it is alleged, robbed and murdered aged Mrs. Jimma Hall and her son, on the other. The aged widow was cruelly tortured and after securing her money was murdered, and her son also. The bodies were then burned with the little hut in which they lived. Yesterday the gang was located and the fight ensued, John Reynolds, one of the desperadoes, received a serious and probably fatal wound. Of the posse Willie Wright, aged 18, was killed, and Isaac Millard, aged 21, was shot through the heart. A third man, named Osborne, was severely wounded. Morgan, Reynolds, Isaac and Creed Foster and the Newsome, the other members of the gang are still in hiding.

MUST BE A LIVE TOWN.

Butte City, Where Many New Brunswickers Live, is on the Move.

BUTTE, Mont., April 12.—A portion of Butte, believed to embrace the larger part of the big hill upon which some of the Anaconda mines are located, has made a very perceptible movement southwestward during the past few days. At the foot of Anaconda hill the slide pushed the tracks of the street railroad line about six inches for a distance of about 300 feet along the road. Geologists and scientific men claim that the entire range of mountains about Butte is constantly moving, and that the sliding process is still going on. The statement is made by a well known mining man that the entire mountain range of the Anaconda properties, has moved in ten years about 7 feet. The strange phenomenon is regarded with interest by scientific men, but no danger is ever apprehended from it.

BIG STEAMSHIP SCHEME.

SEATTLE, Wash., April 13.—Lynn M. Smith, the millionaire typewriter manufacturer of Syracuse, N. Y., is the head of a syndicate of eastern capitalists, which closed a deal for the purchase of a number of steamships on the Atlantic coast to be used in the inter-oceanic and Pacific coast trade, with Seattle as the home port. The syndicate purposes to build in its own ships, vessels suitable for the lumber trade of the Pacific coast and China, the Hawaiian Islands and Australia. In the enterprise $1,000,000, it is stated, will be immediately invested and enough additional capital placed to insure the success of the syndicate's operations on a large scale. J. W. Ross, president of the chamber of commerce, is the Seattle representative of the syndicate.

SUPREME COURT.

FREDERICTON, N. B., April 13.—In the supreme court this morning Gregory finished argument in York election petition case. Court considers Gillis v. Coulter, Montgomery moved to enter verdict for defendant or for new trial, Wallace same side; Mott contra not called; rule refused. In Jack v. Bonnell, Wallace moved for non-suit or verdict for defendant or for new trial. Still before court.

MRS. EMERSON'S CONDITION.

DORCHESTER, N. B., April 13.—It is now announced that Mrs. Emerson's condition is very critical and symptoms and hopes of recovery are slight. Dr. Holden, of St. John, reached town at 11.45 and is still closeted in consultation with Drs. Mitchell and Doherty, who have been in constant attendance at her bedside since Tuesday evening. He will return to the city by the St. John express.

VITAL STATISTICS.

LONDON, April 13.—Some interesting points are found in the annual report of the registrar general of births, deaths and marriages of the United Kingdom. In 1899 the marriages reached the highest number recorded since 1876, aggregating 282,234, or 14.5 per 1,000 of the population. The deaths numbered 5,819, equal to 18.3 per thousand, and there were 2,544 suicides. This is the first year on record that not a single death from hydrophobia has been reported.

THE BOERS FAIL.

A suit to prevent the shipment of bullets from New Orleans to South Africa was dismissed today.

HAPPY DOGGIE.

His Mistress Left $10,000 in Her Will.

To Keep Him in Luxury for the Rest of His Life.

NEW YORK, April 13.—For the care and maintenance of a little black and tan dog, which lay at her feet when she was dying, Miss Ellen Anne Griffin left $10,000 by her will. The furnished room in which she died in East Eleventh street, was small and plainly furnished, but "Dandy Jim," as the dog is called, wore a jeweled blanket, the only article in the room indicative of the wealth of the woman. Miss Griffin was worth $150,000, and had for years been a recluse. Her costliest gowns were of calico, and she was a familiar figure in Union square, where every policeman knew her and her peculiarities. She was the daughter of Charles Alexander Griffin, a prominent New York lawyer fifty years ago, and the granddaughter of Gen. Griffin, at one time the leading criminal lawyer of New York and a writer of ability. She was born 58 years ago. Her most intimate friend during her school days was Ellen Vanderbilt, grand-daughter of Commodore Vanderbilt. When a young woman Miss Griffin fell in love with a cousin. Her parents would not permit her to marry him. Her grief over this was great, and was intensified by the death of the young man not long after. The death of her mother led her finally to take the room near Union square. She never again saw any of her old friends, her only companions being "Dandy Jim" and a canary bird. Last week it became evident that Miss Griffin's end was approaching. She sent for a lawyer and made her will. She appointed him her executor and left her property to her nieces and nephews. To Mary Magliveny, the housekeeper, Miss Griffin left $10,000 for the maintenance of the dog until the end of his days. The rest of the property, which is said to amount to more than $100,000, goes to eight nieces and nephews at Santa Barbara, California.

CONDENSED DESPATCHES.

There was a $75,000 fire in Kingston, N. Y., today, destroying three stores. The Steamer Empress of China left Yokohama for Vancouver yesterday afternoon. Dr. Nansen and the Duke of Abruzzi will not go together on an Arctic expedition. Russia, it is said, will lay submarine mines at Port Arthur, Vladivostok and other places in eastern waters. The sale is reported of a seat on the New York exchange for $3,000. The previous record price for $5,000. Dr. Wm. F. McClelland, a famous physician and surgeon, died at Denver today, aged 80 years. The first cargo of sugar, 5,000 sacks, ever shipped from Havana, arrived today at New York. At Manila today witnesses testified that American commissary officers had sold flour and other supplies and divided the proceeds. Archbishop Chapelle, the papal delegate to the Philippines, has been summoned to Rome. He will sail soon, and his return is improbable. The London Daily Express this morning says it understands that the government has decided to cease sending missionaries to South Africa. William G. Shaw, appraiser of Fort Lee, N. Y., is dead. He was a son of the late Rev. Dr. James D. Shaw, of Rochester. Mr. Shaw was a prominent man. Rich discoveries of gold are said to have been made in the St. Mary's river district of Kootenay County, Idaho. Miners can take out $40 to $50 per day. The claims are all staked out. The total number of immigrants arriving at the port of Havana during 1900 was 14,578. Of them 12,935 were Spaniards, of whom 12,094 were from Spain, 386 from Mexico, and 346 from the United States. Joseph Walrath, freight agent of the New York Central Railway Company, at Oswego, died suddenly today. He was 43 years old and one of the best known railroad men in northern New York. He was a prominent Mason and Mystic Shriner. Formalism in kindergarten work was condemned at yesterday's session of the International Kindergarten union in Chicago by a number of prominent speakers. Boston was selected as the place of meeting for next year. The Duke and Duchess of Cornwall and York landed at Colombo, Ceylon, yesterday, and were accorded an enthusiastic reception. While the receptions were in progress a wind storm swept over Colombo, and a number of natives were injured near the royal pavilion. "The police of this city," says the Amsterdam correspondent of the Daily Express, "recently got wind of contemplated attempts upon the life of Mr. Kruger. One of the persons arrested is said to have made a confession."

James Handley, of Kingston, N. Y., was today sentenced to life imprisonment. He killed Burton M. Lane on December 6 last, because Lane induced his sister to break her engagement with him. The police authorities of London are vainly struggling to discover a remedy for the congestion of traffic in the streets of the British metropolis. The narrowness of most of the main thoroughfares makes the task almost hopeless. The three gold bars alleged to have been stolen from the spele room of the North German Lloyd steamer Kaiser Wilhelm Der Grosse during that vessel's last trip from New York, to Bremen, were discovered by a steward during the cleaning of the ship, this morning, near the second cabin.

PARLIAMENT.

OTTAWA, April 12.—In the house today Hon. Mr. Butherland introduced a bill to amend the post office act. It provides for branch operators to assist mail clerks in case of necessity, and for the establishment of more dead letter offices, including one at St. John.

After the house adjourned at 1 a. m., Mr. Toot, government, attempted to assault Clarke Wallace in the lobby of the house, and was only restrained from using violence by those present. The incident caused great excitement and will likely be ventilated in the house.

Mr. Kendall caused a sensation by stating that the liberals did not recognize it as a liberal paper. He characterized it as a journal owned by trusts. Ross, Victoria, chimed in and endorsed Mr. Kendall's statement, and Mr. Wallace expressed gratification that the government had at last awakened to the fact that the Chronicle's utterances were not to be relied on.

PROF. MAX INGRES. Well known in St. John, has his Portrait Painted. Our old friend Max Ingres, who introduced the Berlitz method of teaching French in St. John, Fredericton, Woodstock, Moncton and Sussex some years ago, and who afterwards went to Montreal and New York, has been making himself and a portrait painter famous. He is now living in Chicago.

The New York Mail and Express, in a long critique of a gallery of two dozen recent portraits by Alphonse Jongsers, displayed at the Durand-Ruel gallery, New York, says: "The best portrait here, by all odds, is that showing Prof. Max Ingres in his black university gown, with yellow hood, and with white stock. Here was a grateful theme, and the artist made much of it. The subject is a dark, sallow man, young and handsome, with black hair and mustache. He is seated, at half-length, and one hand, admirably modeled, holds his cap, barely discernible against the black gown. In its suggestion of personal dignity, no modern portrait seen here this winter surpasses this one. There is distinction in the figure, the poise of the head, the quiet musculature of the arm, and the markedly successful indication of the hand. The balance of the white stock, the yellow hood, the dark face and the life-like hand is uncommonly just. This portrait is a positive achievement."

In the same list is a portrait of Lord Strathcona, of which the critic says:—"On the long wall of the room is a portrait of Lord Strathcona and Mount Royal, in the red robe of a Cambridge LL. D. The aged Canadian peer is sympathetically presented here, though the character study is more superficial, probably from necessity, than in the other portraits mentioned. It is rather an official than a personal piece of work."

The wooden sidewalk on upper Metcalf street was removed some time ago and ashes were dumped to form a new walk. Since then teams have changed from the street to the sidewalk, and the last stage of the Metcalf street pedestrian is worse than the first.

The ladies who had charge of the New England kitchen at the north end bazaar were this morning photographed in the hall by Wallace, the Douglas avenue photographer. The "Boys in Khaki" had a photo taken this afternoon.

About two o'clock this morning the police discovered that a large pane of glass in the American Dry goods store had been broken. They searched the place, but found nothing to indicate that anyone had entered. The window was secured by Sergeant Kilpatrick, Scott and Collins.

The police department is rather short handed just at present. Officer Greer has gone to the hospital; Finley is incapacitated through sickness; Crawford has a sore hand, the result of the Young-Stanard encounter; and Amos is suspended. This makes the work much harder for the men on duty, and also lessens the already insufficient street patrol.

An enormous quantity of ice floated down into the harbor this morning and on one of her trips the ferry steamer damaged a paddle wheel to a considerable extent. For fear another collision would disable her, altogether she was taken off the route and the tug Neptune was put on her place. This made teams go around by the suspension bridge, as the tug can only carry foot passengers.

POLICE COURT.

Contributions to the Revenue by Bibulous Citizens.

A man from the Land of Evangeline came to grief last night in the usual way. He had just arrived from his home in Nova Scotia, and about one o'clock this morning was found floating down Water street in a great hurry as tangled foot would permit. On being accosted by the police the Flying Blue nose came to a stop, and in answer to the officer's enquiry stated that he was going right on to St. Stephen and was sure he was on the right road. He was much surprised on being told that a few minutes more would take him out to sea. This morning as it was his first offence, the ordinary cost of a spree was cut down to half-price, but he had only a dollar and fifty cents. Bargain day does not come very often at the police court, but the favor was granted in the present case, as the prisoner pleaded very hard for a chance. He promised to sign the pledge—two of them if necessary—and would go to work at once. The judge fined him two dollars or four days, and the sergeant said "sit down."

Another man, who has been there before, was firmly convinced that Officer Totten was astray in stating that he was sitting contentedly on the car track between twelve and one this morning. He said he was only three doors from his home on British street and felt sure that if he had been left alone he could meander his way home.

Richard Gallery failed to notice a pane of glass in John Hopkins' window on Union street, and used force when opposed by a substance which to him was invisible. He offered to pay for the glass, and in addition was fined four dollars or ten days. Another drunk, William Livingstone, was found on Union street in a state somewhat resembling Prof. McEwen's living state this morning. He pleaded guilty and appeared satisfied when he was fined "the usual."

An abusive language case between a Syrian named Richard Jordan, and James Tait of City road was also heard. It arose over the storage of a wagon during the winter, but as Mr. Tait did not expect so much trouble in having the case settled he failed to bring witnesses. On this account the matter was adjourned until Monday.

In the Burke-Donovan affair, subpoenas were issued to witnesses who refused to appear in court when asked by the prisoner.

The number of interested spectators in court today was very small, and those who did attend failed to hear anything new. One of them went out thoroughly disgusted with the remark that the "police court is going down. It is nothing to what it was some years ago."

DIGGING POTATOES IN APRIL.

Thomas Cosgrove, who lives at the corner of Sheffield and Sydney streets, and who is engaged in an object lesson every year to the farmers who go down that way to the exhibition grounds, showed the Star this morning samples of some kidney potatoes of remarkably fine quality which he had dug out of the garden. Some of them were only two or three inches under ground; others a little deeper. They had been overlooked in his digging last year. The potatoes had not been frozen and were perfectly sound, a fact of much better quality than if they had been taken out of the ground last fall and stored. Mr. Cosgrove remarks that there may be a hint in this of some value to farmers. His display of vegetables at the exhibition last fall attracted great attention.

AMHERST SHOOTING AFFRAY.

At the preliminary examination of Camille Fisher, arrested in Amherst yesterday for shooting Murdoch Cutcliffe and Leon Rockwell, he was committed for trial. It was stated in the evidence that the prisoner remarked he was sorry he did not take better aim. The revolver was a .22 calibre, with five chambers, two of which contained exploded cartridges. He was admitted to bail for the sum of sixteen hundred dollars. Counselors Job Seaman of Barronsfield and Ephraim Howard of Middleboro going security.

Fisher is a son of Rev. J. M. Fisher, a Methodist clergyman at Ricey's Cove, Lunenburg county. The father is a native of Wallace River, Cumberland county. He has been a good workman, and has risen to be a sub-farmer in the Robb foundry.

Mr. McCullum has during his stay here become very popular with his fellow employees and with the many patrons of the laundry and he leaves with the best wishes of all. Today he was called into the office, and presented by Charles Wall, on behalf of the proprietors and employees of the concern, with a merriscaum pipe and a handsome gold embossed pipe. Mr. McCullum replied, thanking the donors for their kind wishes and the substantial tokens of the same.

WAR IN SIMONDS.

Robert Moore Out on the Trail of a Family Compact.

Robert Moore of Simonds is on the trail of a family compact. Mr. Moore is a candidate for election to the municipal council.

Twenty-six years ago, said Mr. Moore to the Star this morning, Lee, Horgan and Scovill were elected in Simonds. The next year Scovill dropped out, and it became Lee, Horgan and McLeod. And it has been Lee, Horgan and McLeod ever since. There have been James Lee and Joseph Lee, Cornelius Horgan and Daniel Horgan and John McLeod, Peter McLeod and Robert McLeod. The Lees and Horgans there would have to be more offices.

At first the councillors were going to serve for nothing, but they soon got $100 each allowed them, and the $40 each as revisors too.

"I'll smash that ring," said Mr. Moore, "or I'll bend the boys."

Mr. Moore affirmed that if an opportunity were afforded him on election day he would deliver an oration that would convince the electors of the justice of his claims.

"With I say behind their backs," said Mr. Moore, "I will say to their faces, every one of them."

ONLY A POOR OLD WOMAN.

She was only a poor old woman. Her hat and dress may have been old fashioned and her jacket worn in places, but that was no reason why people should laugh at her. In spite of her ragged she had a mother's look and the large, sad eyes, pathetically appealing for protection. What if her brain was slightly weak? It may have become so through years of trouble and misery. Perchance wayward children had brought her to this state. In her hand she carried a basket, and the boys on the street, who seemed to forget that she might be a mother like their own, were attempting to take it from her. As the car stopped she clambered on board and dropped into a seat—dried out.

"I don't mind—the boys—very much—but it don't seem—just right—for them to tease me so. I never—trouble them. But they think—it is fun—to push me about—and pull my dress."

A tear stole down the poor worn face, but she brushed it away and in a voice that struggled bravely to make itself heard through the sobs that would keep rising in her throat, continued: "I am so lonely—since Tom went away, and it is so hard to get along. People think I am silly, but I will do any kind of work, if they will only let me. God knows what a hard life I've led. And He will make it up to me—afterwards."

The passengers in the car tried to smile, and couldn't. They looked toward the conductor, thinking that he would be hardened to such scenes. But the conductor had turned to look out of the back window and was swallowing something that seemed to stick in his throat.

THE LATE HON. T. R. JONES.

As a tribute of respect to the memory of the late Hon. Thomas R. Jones a large number of friends today accompanied his body to its last resting place in Fernhill cemetery. Service was held at his late residence 53 Pitt Street at half past two o'clock. The body was then taken to St. Paul's church, of which the deceased was for many years an honored and respected member, and a very impressive service was held by the Rev. A. G. H. Dicker. The members of the Board of Trade, Albion Lodge A. F. and A. M., and St. George's Society attended. Among the many beautiful floral offerings with which the casket was literally covered, were a massive wreath of roses and lilies, a magnificent wreath of roses and lilies. Friends in Fredericton sent a beautiful cross and crown formed of Easter and calla lilies and lilies of the valley, intermingled with leaves and maiden-hair fern.

The pall-bearers were Judge Ritchie, Sheriff Burdick, Sidney Smith, Howard McLeod, John H. Parks, and Charles A. Everett. The body was interred in Fernhill cemetery.

AUCTION SALES.

At Chubb's Corner, today, a freehold property on Elliott Row, was withdrawn at $90. The $90 New Brunswick bonds, 4 per cent, due in 1910, sold to J. M. Robinson for 15 premium; eight shares of the schooner Jennie C. 57 tons, were bought by J. W. McAlary for $170. Mining stock was again at a discount; 2,500 shares of Big Five was offered and no bid was received. One thousand two hundred shares of Gold King, upon which there was a standing price of 22 were withdrawn, there being no higher bid.

CONGREGATIONAL REUNION.

A congregational reunion was held in the Douglas Avenue Christian church last night. The pastor, Rev. J. C. B. Appel presided, and reports were received from the different branches of the church. They were all of an encouraging nature. At the close of the business the remainder of the time was spent socially and refreshments were served by the ladies.

WONDERFUL McEWN. His Living But Hypnotised Statuary the Talk of the Town. McEwen, the hypnotist had over a dozen subjects on the Mechanics' Institute platform last evening, and the audience was treated to a wonderful display of hypnotic power. The statuary work, where the subjects are, as it were, turned to stone in an instant, and remain motionless in whatever position, whether standing, sitting, or stooping is simply marvellous. The moment they are called out of that state they go on with whatever they were doing or saying, just as if there had been no interruption. Prof. McEwen's discourse each evening on the science of hypnotism is intensely interesting, and the illustrations very effective. Several times last evening most of the audience in the body of the hall were on their feet, so intense was the eagerness to witness the experiments. McEwen still has difficulty to get as large a class of subjects as he desires. That is not his fault, for he extends his invitation over and over again every evening, and invites the citizens to go up. He has a matinee this afternoon, and should have a large house tonight. Many prominent citizens were present last evening.
