Charlo, Restigouche, 22nd Oct. 1885. To the Editors of the Union Advocate, New Brunswick, Canada.

In your issue of yesterday, 21st inst., in your writing about Charlo, you were made to say that "the school house in district No. 2, is situated in a swampy and otherwise unsuitable spot, not at all conducive to either the teacher or pupils, the rate payers are fully aware of this fact—the question of a new site is just now one of more than ordinary interest to the rate payers, all of whom, or nearly all, are in favor of the school house being situated eastward of the school house and site now are unanimous in keeping the old site and building the new house on the same ground, nor will any one of them tamely submit to have it removed from the site without to please your informant, and though the Inspector is yet a stranger to them they have confidence in his personal upright character that the above reporter will not be able to bias his judgment.

Trusting you will give this publicity. We beg to remain, Sir, your obedient servant. A FEW RATEPAYERS.

THE NEWS CONDENSED. Seven farmers have been sentenced in Limerick to one month's imprisonment for rioting and boycotting.

Lord Clermont has remitted 15 per cent of the rents of his tenants in Newry, owing to the low prices which they obtain for their produce.

The trial of James Robinson, for forgery, will take place in the County Court, which opens in St. John on Tuesday next. The prisoner is now in good health.

Henry Harvey, one of the oldest settlers in Forest, Ont., was literally roasted to death on Sunday morning. His house caught fire while the inmates were asleep but all escaped except Harvey who died towards evening after most intense suffering.

A circular issued by the Grand Trunk Railway announces an increase in rates for flour, grain and mill feed, in car loads destined for points on the Intercolonial Railway and the Lower Provinces generally, of about 5 cents per barrel, taking effect from Monday, the 13th inst.

LOSNOX Oct. 19.—The recorder, in charging the jury, to-day, in relation to the Armstrong abduction case, urged them to return "true bills" against the prisoners for abduction, conspiracy and indecent assault, stating that the motives alleged by the accused were not a legal defence.

A white man from away down South in the Okechose Lake region came up to Gainesville, Florida, last week on business. While there he saw the first ice he had ever seen. He manifested great interest in the thing, and put a half pound lump in his pants pocket to take home to his family.

At the Arraigh sessions, John Parnell, of New York, brother of Chas. S. Parnell, sued several of his tenants for non-payment of rents for seven years. The magistrate remarked that the defendants had evidently obeyed Charles Stuart Parnell's instructions instead of the plaintiff's. A verdict in favor of the plaintiff was rendered in each case.

Mr. Rochford has published an article in the Independent, defending the action of Louis Riel, leader of the half-breed insurrection in the Northwest Territory, and attacking in a scurrilous manner Queen Victoria and the Prince of Wales. The latter part of the article has greatly angered the English colony in Paris and the best circles in French society.

The British steamer Greyhound, trading locally in Chinese waters, has arrived at Hong Kong, and her second officer reports that a daring attempt was made by Chinese pirates to capture the vessel. The captain of the Greyhound was inveigled on board a pirate ship and, after being plundered, was killed. The pirates then attempted to seize the Greyhound, and a desperate fight ensued, in which the other officers and engineers of the latter vessel were badly wounded. The Greyhound put to sea and returned to Hong Kong, returning to New York.

RIVER-DE-L'OUVE, Oct. 19.—Some four or five days ago the large "Venice," Capt. Hill, cleared from Montreal for La Plata with lumber. When about leaving Capt. Hill engaged a seaman, who took sick shortly after leaving port, and his sickness appeared to be more severe the captain put into port here on Saturday morning to get medical aid. The doctor pronounced it a bad case of small-pox. The captain was told to get the man ashore here and proceed on his voyage, but the health authorities refused his request. He accordingly telegraphed for a tug, and it is stated to-night the vessel will be sent to Montreal to be treated. It is also reported there is another case of small-pox on the same vessel.

TORONTO Oct. 18.—Last evening while the wife of Jean Baptiste Romilly, a farmer residing near the village of St. Vincent de Paul, 10 miles from here, accompanied by her 2-year-old child, was feeding her fowls, a large bald-headed eagle swooped down and bore the little one off in its talons. The child screamed and held out its hands to its mother, but she was powerless to rescue it. The neighbors turned out with shot-guns, but the only effect of their firing was to accede to the eagle's flight. The bird alighted on the top of a barn a mile away, and was seen to make several strokes at the child's head with its beak. The neighbors had got pretty close by this time, and succeeded in frightening the bird away. The child's body was recovered, but life was extinct, a hole having been made in its skull and a portion of the brain devoured by the bird.

LOSNOX Oct. 24.—It is now evident that the Parliamentary campaign will not pass off without a great deal of potting in many quarters as party feeling—which already runs high—daily grows more bitter. The Marquis of Lorne, Liberal candidate for Hanstead, went down to Banstead, a town seven miles west of London, to deliver a campaign speech. While addressing the electors a mob assailed him with rotten eggs and some of them gaining the platform smothered his hat over his head. Supporters of the Marquis rushed to his rescue, and a fight ensued. The noble Lord now became so thoroughly frightened that he hastily departed from the scene, ran through the streets in a drenching rain to the railway station, and immediately departed for London. Meanwhile the mob continued. The supporters of the Marquis being severely handled and becoming discouraged at their desertion by their champion they finally retreated, leaving their constituents masters of the field. The latter then seized the platform and passed a

When you visit or leave New York City, save 10 cents by using the Grand Central Depot. The reason given is that they cannot pay the present prices for wheat and sell their flour in the East on the basis of advanced rates. They must either get cheaper freight rates or buy cheaper wheat. The miller cannot be running at a loss now, and unless the relative prices of wheat and flour come nearer together, the only course left will be to stop making flour.

Quitting Parties are very social and enjoyable, and many a choice lot of goods finds its way to the pleasant table, but the best way you can give to old friends is to purchase some of the goods of the party. The goods are of the best quality and are sold at a low price. The goods are of the best quality and are sold at a low price. The goods are of the best quality and are sold at a low price.

All, or nearly all, of the mills in Woonsocket are provided with auxiliary power, the owners having loaned money, particularly by the experience of the past three years, that even rivers can run very nearly dry in the course of time. At frequent intervals the bed of the Blackstone River is raised in some places, in fact it is sometimes exposed to view. It has been gradually growing lower for ten years last past, and the meadows that in the old times were at this season of the year entirely covered with water to a greater or less depth, are as dry as pasture land to-day, and quite suitable for house lots.

No water-power machinery, whatever, has been put in the new Nourse mill, although the factory buildings are built contiguous to the stream. Old settlers contemplate the rocks lying in the river bed, over which scarcely a drop of water is running, for "many a moon," and recall the days when the noble Blackstone thundered along the valley with a force sufficient to supply power to all the mills in Rhode Island.

One of Woonsocket's prominent mill-owners said lately that somewhere back in the "forties" he predicted that the Blackstone River would, sooner or later, become useless as a water power agent. He does not attribute the primary cause of this gradual subsidence to continual dry seasons, but to a combination of conditions, the principal one being the running out, or diversions, of the river's numerous tributaries.—Providence, (R. I.) Journal.

How Carolina Became a Rice State. Dr. Eggleston's illustrated paper in the January Century, on "Husbandry in Colony Times," is one of the most important and interesting of his series of historical sketches.

Of rice culture, he says: The destiny of South Carolina was changed by a single lucky experiment. In 1690, when the colony was more than thirty years old, the pioneers were all engaged in buying furs from the Indians, extracting rosin, tar, and turpentine from the pines, cutting timber for shipment, and growing slender harvests of grain on the light soil along the coast.

Attempts had already been made to grow indigo, ginger, and cotton; but these had not answered expectation. A small and unprofitable kind of rice had also been tried in 1693. But one Thomas Smith thought that a patch of wet land at the back of his garden in Charleston resembled the soil he had seen bearing rice in Madagascar. It chanced in 1694, that a brigantine from that island anchored in district near Sullivan's Island, and the captain, an old friend of this enterprising Thomas Smith, was able to furnish him a bag of rice seed.

It grew luxuriantly in the wet corner of the garden, and the seed from this little harvest was widely distributed. In three or four years the art of husking rice was learned of African negroes easily procured in the West Indies, and the face of society in the young State was presently changed: South Carolina became a land of great plantations and of a multitude of negroes. Smith was raised to the rank of landgrave, and made governor of the colony three years after the success of his rice-patch. The new grain was at first grown on the uplands, but the planters afterward discovered that the neglected swamps were more congenial and less exhaustible.

The cruelly hard labor of separating the grains from the adhering husks crippled hundreds and even checked the increase of the negroes; but in the years just preceding the Revolution this task came to be performed with mills driven by the force of the incoming and outgoing tides, or turned by horses or oxen. A hundred and forty thousand barrels of Carolina rice, of four or five hundred weight apiece, were annually exported before the war of independence. Through the example of a governor of Georgia, the culture of rice spread into that colony, and completed the ruin of the silk business.

He Wanted an Excuse. One day three or four weeks ago a retail grocery man in Jersey sat down with his clerk one evening, and said: "James, I owe New York houses over $3,000."

"Yes, sir."

"We have $2,000 in cash in the safe, the stock is all run down, and this would be the time to fall in business."

"It certainly would."

"But I want reasonable apology to give my creditors when they come down upon us for explanations. See if you can't think of something to-night, and let me know in the morning."

The clerk crossed and the grocery wheeled a chest of tea and a bag of coffee home as a beginning. Next morning when he appeared at the store the safe was open, the cash gone, and on the desk was a note from the clerk reading: "I have taken the $2,000 and am prepared to skip. It will be the best excuse in the world for your falling so flat that creditors can't realize two cents on the dollar."—Wall Street News.

"Grandpa, does hens make their own eggs?" "Yes, indeed, they do, Johnny." "An' do they always put the yolk in the middle?" "Guess they do, Johnny." "An' do they put the starch around it to keep the yaller from rubbing off?" "Quite likely, my boy." "An' who sews the cover on?" This stumped the old gentleman.

Farm and Household. FARM NOTES.

Pork out of young, rapidly grown pigs, pays the best.

Sleep enrich land very materially when feeding over it.

A tree derives about as much nourishment from manure spread close around its stem, as a horse would from a bag of grain fastened to its back.

This is a harvest month for weeds. The perennial kinds run up to flower, and will ripen seeds to make future trouble. Cut and burn, if they cannot be grubbed up by the roots.

Various horticulturists and periodicals are recommending a solution of alum as an insecticide. It is said to be an excellent wash for the trunks of fruit trees. It is especially recommended for the cabbage worm.

Hens that steal their nests usually hatch every egg. One reason is that the eggs are commonly on the ground or where they will be occasionally moistened by rains and thus some water is supplied to preserve life in the embryo chick.

No common offence about the farm is more intolerable than the needless teasing and abusing of the animals. Some youngsters, and even grown up men, cannot get near a horse but to pick or prick him, while a cow or dog is apt to receive the roughest treatment of a kick or a blow. Besides the direct cruelty, animals by such abuse may be led into unsafe habits, that will greatly impair their value. Some persons will be very kind to one class of animals, and then very abusive to the others. Every living thing has certain rights which we are bound to respect; but doubly so those faithful animals which serve us, for no other recompense than the care they receive at our hands. Be kind to all animals.

FISH FOR THE FARM. Fish affords a healthful and nutritious food, and every person owning a stream which can be gathered into a pond should by all means add fish culture to his other pursuits. In Germany and the adjacent countries the culture of carp affords a large quantity of valuable human food, produced at an exceedingly small cost. It is estimated that 100 pounds of carp can be produced at a cost of not more than 25 cents. The only expenses are the interest on the cost of the pond, and the value of the land and the labor of gathering the yearly crop. One acre of suitable ground will produce 1,000 pounds of fish yearly. The ponds are arranged in succession down the course of the stream, and are divided so that each one can be drained into another for the purpose of gathering the fish annually from one pond. The largest fish are then as many years old as the pond has remained since it was last drawn. The fish are scooped up from the shallow water with hand nets, the small ones being left. The pond is then filled again. Several drawings may be made from each pond in the course of a year as a supply may be required for sale or use. But, in a small way, a farmer may do very well with the pond, if it is arranged so that the water may be drawn off, or the pond may be dragged with a net to gather the fish for selection. Carp are the best fish for this purpose, as they are vegetable feeders, will thrive in any water which has a soft bottom, and will either feed themselves if the pond has a grassy bottom and sides, or on more hard bottom, on cabbage, or boiled potatoes. They will live in water warmed up to eighty degrees, and thrive best in a warm climate. -New York Times.

TO KILL CANADA THISTLES. "I had a field in grain last year which grew thick with Canada thistles. It was well seeded with clover and timothy, and I expect thistles will be about as thick as young grass, and that they will come up and grow much more vigorously. Should be glad to know how to get rid of them."

We have had to deal with similar cases, and have found out one successful plan, and it was by two cuttings. The first was by cutting them off at the root, and the second was by cutting them off at the top, and leaving them to rot. The first cutting was done in the spring, and the second in the fall. The result was that the thistles were completely exterminated.

As our correspondent says; the thistles will start in the spring more vigorously than the grass. When the grass comes up, cut them off at the first blossom, put the mowing machine at work and cut them all down. There may be more thistles than grass, but do not mind that. When partly cured, rake them up with the grass, haul at once and put in mow. This will all be eaten. Cattle and horses are fond of such thistles. Some of the thistles will grow again, and when they come in to blossom cut them again, and be careful that every one is cut, partially cured and put in the barn as before. - Correspondent Live Stock Journal.

PARSON'S PURGATIVE PILLS. MAKE NEW RICH BLOOD.

Thirty years study and experiment have been given to perfecting the formula for Parson's Pills, and the universal judgment of the highest medical authorities, accords, not only of teaching, is that our formula is the best yet devised by the brain of man, and should reach the wonderful discoverer of the world. No family should be without them, for there is no other remedy in the world capable of conferring so much benefit, excepting, possibly, Johnson's Anodyne Liniment. The information contained in the wrapper around each box is wonderful. It is the cost of a box of pills, it shows how to avoid and how to cure all manner of diseases, and how to correctly interpret the symptoms thereof. Sold everywhere, or sent by mail for 25 cents in stamps. A valuable illustrated medical book sent free with all who send their address. DR. R. B. PHILLIPS & CO., 25 CONNOR HOUSE ST., BOSTON.

may be taught to be a fast walker by a little continued care in handling. A fast walk in a horse is the most valuable gait that training can acquire. It is valuable in a plow horse, in a team horse, and particularly in a driving horse. Some horses will trot along very well until they come to ascending ground, when you wish to relieve him by letting him walk up grade. He then falls into a slow, lazy walk, that is very trying to the driver's patience, but a well trained walker will step off briskly at the rate of four miles an hour, and the driver feels that he has been detained but very little by letting his horse walk up the hill as he starts off at his usual trotting speed, being relieved by the change of walking up the hill. Colts should be trained to walk fast before there is any attempt made to improve them in any other gait. This can be accomplished by commencing very young and leading at a walk by your side, urging an additional speed little by little without letting it break into a trot; but this must not be continued long at a time, so as to weary or tire. One or two short lessons a day will soon show a wonder in improvement, but after lessons will be required to prevent a relapse.

THE KING'S EVIL. Was the name formerly given to Scrofula because of a superstition that it could be cured by a king's touch. The world is wiser now, and knows that SCROFULA can only be cured by a thorough purification of the blood. If this is neglected, the disease perpetuates its taint through generation after generation. Among its evil, characteristic eruptions are Eczema, Cutaneous Eruptions, Tubercles, Carbuncles, Erysipelas, Furunculæ, Ulcers, Nervous and Physical Diseases, etc. It is also known as Rheumatism, Scrofulous Catarrh, Kidney and Liver Diseases, Tubercular Consumption, and various other dangerous or fatal maladies, are produced by it.

Ayer's Sarsaparilla. It is the only powerful and always reliable blood-purifying medicine. It is an effective alternative that eradicates the disease Rheumatism, Scrofula, and the kindred poison of contagious diseases and restores the system to its normal condition. It is a powerful and reliable medicine, and restores the system to its normal condition. It is a powerful and reliable medicine, and restores the system to its normal condition.

Regenerative Medicine. It is composed of the genuine Honduras Sarsaparilla, Yellow Dock, Sulfur, Iodine, the Iodides of Potassium and Iron, and other ingredients of great potency, carefully and scientifically compounded. Its formula is generally known to the medical profession, and the best Physicians constantly prescribe AYER'S SARSAPARILLA as a Absolute Cure. For all diseases caused by the vitiation of the blood. It is concentrated to the highest practicable degree, far beyond any other preparation for which like effects are claimable, and is therefore the cheapest, as well as the best blood purifying medicine, in the world.
