

DRINK WAS AT BOTTOM OF IT

Dying Stabbed by Companion at Amherst.

MURDERER ARRESTED

AMHERST, N. S. June 8.—Drink was at the bottom of it all, was the dying statement made to his physician by George Davis, the young Englishman, who died from the effects of a stab from a butcher knife in the hands of a fellow boarder, member Harry Hanson, in a drunken row last Saturday evening. Davis lingered until noon yesterday, when he passed away, and the coroner's jury, which met at the town hall yesterday afternoon, before Conner C. C. McQueen, Avard.

Mrs. Huley, the proprietress of the boarding house, was the first witness. Her story was the same in substance as appeared in the report of Monday. She told how the men began quarrelling in the afternoon, were separated and how Davis was arrested at the supper table. Davis and Hank back yard was the place to fight, and not in the house. They started for the door, but Hanson struck at Davis before they got to the kitchen and closed the door. Davis did not follow. Hanson and Hanson had quarrelled in Joggins several weeks ago. He said Hanson was a bad devil, but he did not want him to suffer for anything he had done to him. Drink was at the bottom of it.

Ray McAdams, and Chas. Noller were also called. They all admitted they were present at the row but they were drunk and could give no connected story of the tragedy. Noller and Ball say they did not know Davis was stabbed until Sunday.

son caught up a "cher" knife from the table and went into the dining room by another door. Witness called out that Hanson was coming with a knife. The next she saw was Davis lying on the floor with a wound in his breast, from which blood was flowing freely. Both men had been holding with her about a month. They roomed together. Both had been drinking.

DEATH TERMINATES A NOTABLE CAREER

Prof. Goldwin Smith, Passed Away at His Home in Toronto.

DISTINGUISHED SCHOLAR.

At about 3 o'clock the distinguished scholar was still showing slight signs of life. He had been unconscious for some time. Gathered at his bedside were Dr. Grasset, Goldwin Smith's physician; T. Arnold Hamilton, private secretary, and the butler, who had served in the household at the home for many years. The end came peacefully, though suddenly, and the time elapsed between the attack and the death was but a few minutes. The body was taken to the mortuary in the chamber that Toronto had lost its greatest citizen. Goldwin Smith, last mighty survivor in literature of the Victorian era.

His death was indirectly due to an attack of influenza, the polished floor of his home in February last. First reports did not alarm the public. It was understood that while walking in the hall he had slipped and fallen, was badly shaken and confined to his bed. An examination by Dr. P. Lem Grasset revealed the fact that the right hip bone had been fractured. The next day a man named Goldwin Smith's age. Then it was announced that the surgeons attending on Dr. Smith had decided not to try to save his life. The period the body rested thus long.

We intend that the man who comes here for $2.00, $2.50 and $3.00 shoes,

NEW BOOK-KEEPING SYSTEM

The regular meeting of the Dalhousie Town Council was held last night at the Town Hall. Present: Mayor Stewart, Aldermen G. E. Mercer, Scott, Barrie, Bateman, Jameson and D. G. Jones. The meeting was called to order by the Mayor. The minutes of the previous meetings had been read and adopted. A communication was read from Mr. Burpee of the I. C. R., Moncton, N. B., asking for a license for laying water pipes for watering stations at the Public Wharf. This matter is now in order. A letter was also read from the Dalhousie Telephone Co., stating that the complaint of L. D. Jones would be attended to and prompt action on the "offend" line would be removed.

The question was accordingly, Mr. Jones's communication also dealt with the question of the breaker, which he stated will be commenced at an early date.

Communications from the Royal Bank with reference to routine work were also disposed of and the above were placed on file.

Mr. J. H. Beckett, of St. John's, Ingham for a live license was handed over to the License Committee on Thursday.

A Shoe Sale of Unusual Merit.

On SATURDAY, JUNE 11th, we place on sale the balance of Geo. G. McKenzie & Co's stock of Boots and Shoes at 65c on the Dollar.

This is unquestionably the greatest sale of high-class shoes that has ever been attempted in Campbellton. The stock represents such noted manufacturers as The James McCready Co., of Montreal, the Beresford shoe for men, the Art shoe for women, and other manufacturers, each good in their various lines. If we intended continuing in the shoe business we would not for a moment think of sacrificing a stock that is worth today 20 per cent. more than McKenzie & Co. paid for it, but we have no intention of keeping shoes, having decided to direct our energies to the exclusive sale of Dry Goods and Men's Furnishings. This Shoe stock occupies a valuable corner in our store that we want to utilize for purposes more in our line, and the room must be made at any cost. While the stock represents by actual count 1557 pairs of shoes for men, women and children, many sizes in the different lines may be sold out, but it might be worth your while to call and see if YOURS is here. Below we quote a few prices, showing McKenzie's regular price, and the price at which we have marked them. You will find these shoes displayed on the centre tables as you enter the door Saturday morning. Each pair has a round string ticket attached with the regular price on one side and the size and selling price in red figures on the other. Shop in the morning if possible as we expect a bumper crowd in the afternoon and evening.

The government steamer "Prince" was in port the latter part of last week.

We are pleased to see the Steamer "Canada" and "Beniac" again on the route from Campbellton to Gaspe.

The weather has been very unfavorable of late. The people put it down to be on account of the comet.

In spite of the weather it does not prevent Paspebiac boys from cycling to New Carlisle to see friends.

The marriage of Miss Moore to Mr. Albert Bosay took place last Tuesday. Wedding bells will ring in the near future.

If you are not satisfied after using according to directions two thirds of a bottle of Chamberlain's Stomach and Liver Tablets, you can have your money back. The tablets cleanse and invigorate the stomach, improve the digestion, regulate the bowels. Give them a trial and get well. Sold by all druggists.

A COMFORTABLE SLEEPER.

Electric railways have been a blessing to the nation. They have made suburban travel more pleasant and have opened up territory which never would have been reached by stream lines.

And now the electric line is affording a comfortable sleeping car which will certainly bring about a revolution in the sleepers carried by steam lines.

The new car has windows in the upper berth, as well as in the lower. Then the lower berth is so arranged that when the passenger arises the berth may be swung into place on the wall, leaving abundant space for the passenger to dress in. A folding chair beneath the berth even affords a comfortable seat in the improvised dressing room.

Each berth is also provided with a steel locker in which valuables may be kept with safety by the passenger. A key is given each traveller upon entering the car, that there may be no chance for thieves to prey upon the passengers.

This model sleeping car was devised by a Central Illinois electric line, which purposed to compete with steam lines for night traffic, and has made its car so attractive that it will doubtless have little difficulty in winning business away from the old-fashioned Pullman car.

Chamberlain's Cough Remedy is sold on a guarantee that if you are not satisfied after using two-thirds of a bottle, the according to directions, your money will be refunded. It is up to you to try it. Sold by all druggists.

ON THE MAKING OF A NEWSPAPER.

Washington Star—Men who make newspapers sometimes believe that their profession is an exacting one. They are wrong. It is the simplest thing. Making a newspaper is an easy trick. Anybody can do it. A lawyer with only a diploma and a brain alert, who would lose a suit even if the other side was ready, to confess a judgment, will tell you how to run a newspaper. An actor who has never earned a cent, and who would rather be a patient in the morgue before the prescription had been filled will know all the fine points of making a newspaper. An actor who has never earned a cent, and who would rather be a patient in the morgue before the prescription had been filled will know all the fine points of making a newspaper.

It is a fact that a newspaper is a business, and a business is a thing that never paid anything but a call or made anything but a visit or did anything but a thing but a tailor, knows how to do these men are "copy," wrestle with "headlines" that won't fit and get the newspaper out on time.

"It cured me," or "It saved my child," are the expressions you hear every day about Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy. This is true. The cure over where this valuable remedy has been introduced. No other medicine in use for diarrhoea or bowels is so effective. It is a real toilet essential. The secret of the success of Chamberlain's Colic, Cholera and Diarrhoea Remedy is that it uses.

DALHOUSIE, N. B., June 9.—The marriage of Miss Greta Pauline Lambie, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. George Lambie, and Mr. George Holman Lounsbury, of Chatham, was celebrated at the residence of the bride's father by Rev. The bride looked charming in a beautiful gown of ivory duchess satin, with a bodice of crystal and seed pearls, and carried a shower bouquet of brides' roses and lilies of the valley. The drawing room was tastefully decorated for the occasion with palms, ferns and cut flowers. A dainty lunch was served. Mr. and Mrs. Lounsbury left for a trip to Montreal, Boston and New York, the bride wearing a travelling costume of green broad cloth with a flower trimmed hat to match.

3,000 YEARS AGO THE EGYPTIANS CURED DISEASE WITH FRUIT

To-day, Canadians Are Doing It With "Fruit-a-tives"

—The Famous Fruit Medicine

We are apt to consider the age we live in as the most wonderful age that the world has ever known. It is, in many respects, yet the ancients surpassed us in some things. Engineers of our 40-story skyscrapers still marvel at the massive pyramids and the sphinx. So, too, the Egyptian physicians of 3,000 years ago, used fruit juices as a medicine for treating blood trouble, liver and kidney disease, and stomach weakness. Their method of making fruit juice as a medicine, is also one of the lost arts.

A well known Canadian physician, however, perfected a method of utilizing fruit juice, which is one of the greatest discoveries of modern medical research.

"Fruit-a-tives" is the natural cure for Chronic Constipation, Biliousness, Indigestion, Torpid Liver, Kidney Disease, Pain in the Back, Bad Complexion, Rheumatism, Nervousness, Headache and Neuralgia.

See a box, 6 for $2.50, or trial box, 25c. At all dealers, or from Fruit-a-tives Limited, Ottawa.

Could Not Sleep In The Dark.

Doctor Said Heart and Nerves Were Responsible.

There is many a man and woman tossing night after night upon a sleepless bed.
Their eyes do not close in the sweet and refreshing repose that comes to those whose heart and nerves are right. Some constitutional disturbance, worry or disease has so debilitated and irritated the nervous system, that it cannot be quieted.

Mrs. Calvin Stark, Rosemont, Ont., writes: "About two years ago I began to be troubled with a smothering sensation at night, when I would lie down, I got so bad I could not sleep in the dark, and would have to sit up and rub my limbs. My doctor said my heart and nerves were responsible. I saw Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills advertised and got a box to try them. I took three boxes and can now lie down and sleep without the light burning and can rest well. I can recommend them highly to all nervous and rundown women."

Price 50 cents per box or 3 for $1.25
at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price, by the T. Milburn Co., Limited,

BEAUTIFUL STORY
OF THE ROSARY

The custom of using beads to keep count of the number of prayers is said to have had as many birthplaces as Homer. Each country in the Orient claims the proud distinction of having originated the habit. It is of such antiquity and so widely extended that even archaeologists are not prepared to say in what locality and at what precise moment of time the act became custom. This is certain, however,— rosaries are used in nearly all religious systems which attach more importance to the repetitions than to the spirituality of prayers.

The Christian adaptation of beads for this purpose, with the intention that no prayer should be omitted, is said to have been mentioned by St. Augustine, A. D. 394. That the name of the "beads" or prayer should gradually come to indicate the symbol is a very natural.

"Bronchitis."THE SYMPTOMS ARE

Tightness across the Chest, Sharp Pains and a Difficulty in Breathing, a Secretion of Thick Phlegm, at first white, but later of a greenish or yellowish color coming from the bronchial tubes when coughing, especially the first thing in the morning.

Bronchitis is generally the result of a cold caused by exposure to wet and inclement weather and when neglected will become chronic.

Chronic Bronchitis is one of the most general causes of Consumption. Cure the first symptoms of Bronchitis by the use of Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup.

Miss Martha Poirer, Little Pabon, Que. writes: "Last spring I was very poorly, had a bad cough, side headache, could not sleep, and was tired all the time. I consulted two doctors, and both told me I had bronchitis, and advised me to give up teaching. I tried almost everything but none of the medicines gave me any relief. One of my friends advised me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I had scarcely taken the first bottle when I began to get better and when I had taken the fourth bottle I felt as well as ever, my cough had left me and I could sleep well."

Dr. Wood's is the original Pine Syrup. It is put up in a yellow wrapper, these pine trees the trade mark, and the price 25 cents. There are many imitations of "Dr. Wood's" so be sure you receive the genuine when you ask for it.

THE ROSARY.

though he usually carries a simple one of beaded beads—craft of the pupil or boy—tree—and always in his left hand.

In Tibet the rosary is not only an essential part of the Lama's dress but that of nearly all the lamas, male and female. An early writer says as a Buddhist article the rosary is especially peculiar to the Northern school of Buddhists and the outcome of the esoteric teachings of the Mahayana school, instilling belief in the potency of muttering mystic spells and other strange formulas.

There is in the National Museum a rosary in common use among the Lamas which is described by W. W. Rockhill as follows:—It contains 108 discoidal shell beads of uniform size, divided into four groups of twenty-seven each by three red coral beads. Where the two ends of the string come together they are passed through a larger amber bead, a smaller discoidal and a conical one, so that the two look like a long necked vase. Four short leather thongs strung on the rosary by means of silver rings have pearl beads on each of them and at the lower end of one there is a little silver dorje.

There is a growsome rosary in the museum, the beads of which are sections of human skulls, white the dividing beads are pecked of concave shell. The rosary beads, the last two, are a large amber one and a small wooden one. These rosaries are especially used for the worship of Yama, the King of the Dead.

Another is made of narrow disks of rose-wood with four red coral beads. These are called "red sandal-wood rosaries" and are used only in the worship of Tandin, the tutelary god of Lamalun.

The beads of another sort are made of yellow wood and are called the "yellow rosary." It is used for the worship of the goddess, including that of the furies. Rosaries made at the famous Lamalun, in the North-western corner of the province, are made of pieces of poplar wood and stained yellow. A large revenue accrues to the monastery from the sale of these rosaries.

The Mohammedans in China use a rosary made of ninety-nine beads divided by date stones.

The Chinese rosary is made of eighteen olive shaped beads of some hard brown wood. Each bead is carved with an image of one of the eighteen Lohan (Avalokitesvara) and the beads are strung on a cord of the rough brown seeds of a tree which grows in the outer Himalayas.

Besides the material—rosaries mentioned the Tibetans prize two varieties of seeds, which the Chinese "bohi wood with phoenix eyes" and "wood with stars and moons" and these seeds are turned into beads and then polished.

SERMON FROM SHAKESPEARE.

(Copr. 1909 by Bradley-Garretson Co.)

Wise men never sit and wait their loss. But cheerily seek how to redress their harm.

Henry VI. Part III. Act V. Sc. 2.

Loss is common. A man at some time in his life must experience material loss—loss of wealth or loss of position. In the night, fire may destroy his property, and the morning may find the boardings of years a heap of ashes and charred ruins. He may have been raised to some office of trust and emolument, but the changes that occur in society may have driven him forth little better than a pauper.

There are those who have made gold their God. It has sapped their character. Its glitter has diseased their brains. They live and move and have their being in the belief that they are greater than other men because of their fortune has bestowed her goods on them with a lavish hand. When reverse comes, when their wealth is torn from them, they feel that life is not worth living and frequently seek relief in self-destruction. Coward souls are thus brought to a premature end. As though, wealth or position had ought to go with a man's true happiness. There are others who have having sustained loss make matters infinitely worse by plunging into excesses, hoping to find in excitement succor of sorrow. Little higher than the beast of the field they have been building for animal enjoyment, not spiritual life. And in the hour of their distress the grosser side of their nature predominates, and they fall behind hopelessly in the struggle for existence. There are still others of a different type—passive characters who have had wealth or greatness thrust upon them. Before the ruins of their past they sit in helpless despair, waiting for their parts like men, and they "may rise on stepping stones of their dead selves" to higher ground.

The Mohammedans in China use a rosary made of ninety-nine beads divided by date stones. The Chinese rosary is made of eighteen olive shaped beads of some hard brown wood. Each bead is carved with an image of one of the eighteen Lohan (Avalokitesvara) and the beads are strung on a cord of the rough brown seeds of a tree which grows in the outer Himalayas.
