The day after leaving El Paso he saw a man on the train who re sembled the picture and answered the description as given in Pinkerton's circular, even t the scar under the right jaw. To make sure that he was the man, he formed his acquaint-ance and learned from him that he was from Canada and that his wife was in Montreal, where he claimed to be well acquainted. On arriving at the City of Mexico he telegraphed to Robert Pinkerton that Robinson was in that city. A watch was immediately placed on Bobinson and steps were taken to obtain, if possibly, his surrender by the Mexican government. Mr. Wooster, a conductor of the Mexican Central Bailroad, and a friend of the theatrical manager, was enlisted in the case by the latter on the way to the City of Mexico, and rendered valuable service in or mexico, and rendered valuable sevents in accertaining what Robinson proposed to do. He made his acquaintance and learned that Robinson intended to leave the city for the Pacific cost. It was then deemed advisable The thestrical manager also discovered that the train boy was selling an illustrated police paper containing a picture of Robinson and that he had a copy of Pinkerton's circular describing him. convention of the holiness advocates was called to meet here. Mr. Turner, as the local and Captain Streatfield, of the Governor General's staff, sailed for England from Que pastor, was concerned about its success. Yes-terday morning when he discovered that just thirteen preachers were to be present he be-came greatly agitated at the unlucky number. When the evening train brought in the un-fortunate number of preachers, headed by Rev. Mr. Parks, presiding elder, Mr. Turner-was missing. Four hundred men searched the woods for him. One party got on his trail on the road to Stone Mountain. He was walking with a brisk step. The pursuit in that direction was kept up. At 10 o'clock

Mr. Alman, one of the couriers, returned from Stone Mountain with the news of the tragedy. Mr. Turner arrived there last night and secured a room in the Pritchett Hotel.
At 1 o'clock this morning groaning was heard and the preacher was found dying. "I want to die," he pleaded. "I have taken strychnine. Life is not worth living. Tell my wife that I have no time to give details." Falling back, he was dead in a few minutes.

In a letter which he left his wife Mr. Turner said: "I have lest faith and hope for this world and the world to come. I have taken strychinine. Life is a worthless failure for me. There is but one road for me now—suicide." In a postscript he asks his brother remarks to make on an important matter.

At the January session of the Council a committee had been appointed to examine his books, which he had always thought were kept in a strictly correct manner. But, to his great surprise and annoyance, he had to acknowledge some deficiency existed in his accounts. He had bonded all his property to raise a sufficient amount to cover the defiraise a sufficient amount to cover the deficiency. He was greatly annoyed to see that his confidence had been misplaced, and could not yet believe what led his clerks to the abuse of it. He had taken steps against one of them, but the other had escaped, and he thought he was now safe in San Francisco.
He did not feel warranted in making any further statement till the trial, which would take place on the 21st inst. He had held the position of Secretary-Treasurer for 25 years, position of Secretary-Treasurer for 25 years, and for the last 7 or 8 years had been very

Since then Mr. LELAND has recommended Since then Mr. Leland has recommended ATER'S SARBAPARILLA in many similar cases, and he has never yet heard of its failure to effect a radical cure.

Some years ago one of Mr. Leland's farm laborers bruised his leg. Owing to the bad state of his blood, an ugly scrofulous swelling seleme prepared on the injured limb. Soror lump appeared on the injured limb. Hor-rible itching of the skin, with burning and darting pains through the lump, made life almost intolerable. The leg became enormously enlarged, and running ulcers formed, discharging great quantities of extremely offensive matter. No treatment was of any avail until the man, by Mr. LELAND's direction, was supplied with ATER'S SARSAPA-RILLA, which allayed the pain and irritation, healed the sores, removed the swelling, and completely restored the limb to use. Mr. LELAND has personally used
