Early Morning Session Characterized by Some Active Work On Part of Premier and Government Whip - Acting Speaker Diplomatically Refrains From Count Until Quorum Is Assured.

Toronto, April 21.-The Toronto Star says: "A joyous and rollicking session of the Legislature turned from comedy into near burlesque, when, at about a quarter past one this morning, M. M. MacBride of Brantford observed that there were only seven teen members on the floor of the House, and insisted that, since there was not a quorum, the assembly was automatically adjourned. The premier hastily awakened Andrew Hicks, the Government whip, and frantically waved in R. L. Brackin and other members who were peacefully dozing on the luxuriously uphelstered chairs behind the speaker's throne.

"A. T. Walker of South Oxford, who was acting as chairman, diplomatically refrained from making a count until three members had slipped into their seats and thus re-established a quorum.

"Frenzied S. O. S. calls soon raised the attendance to nearly two score members, but Mr. MacBride held the floor and for nearly threequarters of an hour vainly endeavored to force the adjournment and incidentally to get revenge for some old scores against the prime minister, R. L. Brackin, R. R. Hall, Charles 3 wayze and other opponents. Eventually, however, the members got back to business and proceeded to wade through the further supplementary estimates."

Any attempt on the part of the city to turn from day labor to the contract system of carrying on civic work will be strenuously opposed by the local trades and labor council. After considerable hot discussion on the subject the meeting of the trades and labor council on Wednesday night No. 1 committee of the council was instructed to lay the objections of the council before No. 2 committee of the city council at its meeting on Tuesday night next.

The day labor system was declared superior in every way by the several delegates who spoke on the matter. It assured better prices and a saving of money to the city. It guaranteed better wages and good working condi-tions to the workmen. Besides these advantages the quality of the work was sure to be better under the day labor system. To bear out their arguments the delegates clied many cases. In conclusion one of the delegates claimed that civic day labor was the sheet anchor to the workingmen in their fight

FINE COLLECTION OF WATER COLOR PAINTINGS

Rarely has London the opportunity of seeing such a fine collection of water-color paintings as that now being shown at Graves' Art Gallery, by the artist himself, George Chavignaud, one of the finest water-color artists working in Canada. Although born in Brittany, France, and a great student and exhibitor there, this color artist has made ome near Toronto, Canada, and calls nimself a Canadian artist.

His work, shown at the local art

callery is mostly confined to out-of-door scenes, although among the collection is a very fine study from life of a Brittany peasant girl. His work is char-acterized by its depth of color and conception, almost reminiscent of oils. These, he stated, were in payment for motion pictures made under the direction of the Government, showing the resources and scenery of Ontario. Such pictures were distributed through-out Canada, the United States and Europe. Films were supplied on request to district agricultural representatives throughout the province, together with projecting machines. Mr. Elliott stated that he had been in the employ of the treasury department since 1911; first, as a member of the board of censors then as assistant inspector of theatres then as inspector, and, since January of 1920, as director of the motion picture branches.

Chairman J. W. Currie objected to several of Col. W. H. Price's questions dealing with matters in the department prior to the election of the present Government.

"If the old Government were entitled to any credit, they've got it," he ruled. "If there were any sin on their part,

they've been punished."

Mr. Elliott stated that the Canadian Aero Film Company has made an over-charge of $1,650, but the matter was being rectified. He accounted for the overcharge through lack of system. He had signed the account without looking at it, he supposed, but could not re-member the incident. He denied being a shareholder in the Canadian Aere Film Company, and denied that he held any stock in it or that anybody also held stock for him in the company.

The Riordon Pulp and Paper Company has an authorized capital of $40,000,000 common stock, of which $27,-000,000 has been issued; $30,000,000 first preference, $10,000,000 issued, and $10,-000.000 second preference, all issues. The company owns large timber limits and paper plants.

e difficulties of the company date from its reorganization last year, when the old company was turned virtually into a holding company. At that time a reorganization was brought about, and the Riordon Company, Limited, formed to act as an operating company, the old company retaining as it assets certain securities of the new company.

This year the annual financial report of the Riordon Pulp and Paper Com-pany did not go to shareholders, but figures recently made available cover the company's earning to June 30, and the Riordon Company's earnings from then until December 31, 1920, completing a 12-month period. Earnings were $4,642,630, and after write-offs of $956,042, net income available for terest and other charges was $3,684,588. Deduction of interest of $614,213 left net earnings applicable to dividends of $3,070,375. Deductions of $480,000 for preferred dividends, and $525,000 for common dividends left net surplus of $1,965,285. These profits do not take into account profits accuring from the Gatineau Company, whose net earnings were in excess of $400,000.

Edwards accepted the statement. Not In Accord With Democracy. He referred to the debate in the House in the fall of 1919, when the bill limiting the time for vacancies to six months was adopted and when the question of double election was also under consideration. At that time, said Dr. Edwards, Mr. Lemieux had stated that he would not have held his two seats unless there had been a protest; that he stood ready to obey rule as soon as the protest against him was disposed of; and that he did not regard the holding of two seats one member as in accord with the principles of democracy.

Mr. Lemieux should have avoided the appearance of a breach of democratic Dr. Edwards spoke of the possibility of Mr. Lemieux "projecting his compelling personality" into five or six constituencies at the one time. He might not even confine himself to his own province of Quebec.

If there had been delay or negligence on the part of a clerk or the other party in the election contest of Mr. Lemieux's constituency, then the member himself would have seen that the requirements of the act were carried out if he was "a democrat to the hilt" as he had so frequently stated.

Contrary To Rules.

The course which Hon. Mr. Lemleux owed was contrary to the rules of the House, said Dr. Edwards. few weeks ago. At that time Dr. Edwards was not so eager to see all constituencies represented. Dr. Clark agreed with the arguments advanced by Mr. Lapointe, and added that the custom of representing two ridings existed not only in Canada, but in Great Britain. Mr. Doherty closed by stating that he did not want to pre-judge the legal issue—he did not even wish to prejudge the question whether the petition had lapsed because no action had been divide on the motion, but that the com-taken upon it for two years—he thought mittee on privileges and elections would that the question for the House to consider was whether a prima facie case had been made out that Parliament was being played with and whether the matter ought not, therefore, to be referred o the committee on privileges and

Right Hon. Arthur Meighen thought made at the opening of the House of Commons this afternoon against two seats being held by the Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux. It was made by Dr. J. W. Edwards (Frontenac) who said he felt bound to describe the action of Mr. Lemieux, who sits for both Maisonneuve and Gaspe, as "a serious breach of the privileges of Parliament."

Dr. Edwards stated that he was bound so to describe Mr. Lemieux's action, because he was holding two seats in violation of rule 79 of the rules of the House of Commons, which provide that any member who was returned for two constituencies at an returned for two constituencies at

DRURY DOES NOT LIKE PRINCIPLE VOTING BONUSES

Legislature Passed Supplementary Estimates For $67,000 To Pay Bonuses.

TORONTO, April 20 .- Shortly before midnight members of the Legislature indorsed an item of $67,000 in the further supplementary estimates providing for a special bonus to themselves. J. A. Pinard (Ottawa) protested. The Government should bring down legislation increasing the sessional indemnities. Dr. H. A. Stevenson, London, wanted the matter held up until there were more members in the House. Premier Drury said he did not like the principle of members voting bonuses t themselves immediately after an election. He thought the proper time was immediately before an election. Last year, and this year, however, circumtances had been unusual. The sessions had been prolonged and the cost of living high.

H. H. Dewart said members had done much of their time to their duties. The Government in granting a bonus was doing the fair and decent thing.

The item was passed without one

KONOWAL NOT GUILTY OWING TO INSANITY, IS JURY'S VERDICT

Murder Trial Concluded Today After Lasting Full Week.

OTTAWA, April 20 .- The unanimity of the medical experts called for both the prosecution and defence as to the mental derangement of Filip Konowal, VC., when he stabbed and killed Will Artick at Hull in the summer of 1919 resulted in the jury at the Hull criminal assizes bringing in a verdict of "not gullty owing to insanity" after but a short deliberation tonight, after a trial which lasted a week.

Judge Cousineau, in a brief address to the jury, pointed out that Konowal had spent three or four years in the war, in which all his attention had been devoted to the killing of men. He had received injuries in France which had caused organic disease of the brain, so that on his return to Canada when the occasion had arisen he had reverted to Mentally Deranged. The crown had established, the judge continued, without a chadow of a doubt that Konowal had killed Artick, but he had done so while mentally deranged. He told the jury that justice would be served if they brought in a verdict of not guilty on the grounds of the insanity

Following the rendering of the verdict, Jurge Cousineau ordered that Konowal be kept in strictest custody in the district prison, pending the pleasure of the lieutenant-governor, and the prisoner

OUTLOOK IS BRIGHTENING. There appears to be reasonable ground for hoping that tomorrow's conference between the mine owners district, promise to be the points bears to a thoroughbred horse.

If this is accomplished, industry, not only in Britain, but the world over, will be nearer to normal than it has been for some time. The British coal strike marks one of the greatest industrial upheavals in history. It also marks what is probably the high-water mark in the wave of industrial strife which has surged around the world. There is little doubt that the public generally, including millions of workers, are getting tired of strikes and labor troubles. The result, without exception, has been to disrupt business and inlions, while the gains for those who have quit work are comparatively negligible. In spite of higher wages it is generally conceded that most people are worse off than before, and millions would welcome a return of pre-war conditions, when a dollar would go a good deal further than it goes now.

The settlement of the big British strike will point the way for development of export trade and the resumption of business at home on e scale nearer to normal than has been possible for some time. British trade conditions are usually the barometer for the world, and with business going smoothly in England again, the worst would be over in the reconstruction period.

Then there was Michael Angelo. He was painter, poet, architect and sculptor; but this did not prevent him from being a brilliant engineer and inventor of machines of war. There may be instances where men in all walks of life are suscep tible to influences such as these but the modern man is as a rule dead to such things. OTHERS' VIEWS aking to the Business Women's Club of Toronto, Mrs. Adam Short advised against any movement for the creation of a women's party in politics. It was not in the interests of causes with which women are concerned, or with the general welfare of the community, that there should be a distinct vomen's party, she urged. Of course the is right. Women may be able to contribute much of value to the public life of the country, but the place fo eir political effort is with the estabished parties.

There is no reason why women should seek to follow a political path of their own. Toward social causes with which women are specially identified men are not entagonistic. On public is women will not be of one mind nore than men. There must be diviof opinions among them. They will find themselves naturally giving thei support to one or other of the estab lished parties on issues of policy and principle, and by so doing they can est exercise their increasing influence

GRASS BURNING IN SPRINGTIME. [Ottawa Citizen.] It is customary at this season of the year to burn over fields and large areas s beneficial to the soil and tends to a better growth of sward afterwards. In practice is common. Ricker secretary of the American Wild Flower Preservation Society, unhesitatingly condemns the practice. "Millions of flowers that would develop food for insect-killing birds' are destroyed by the custom of burning over fields and woodlands in the spring," asserts this authority. The general impression that grass fires and slow ground fires ded areas are beneficial on account of the fertilizing value or conten of the resultant ash is erroneous, and large economic loss results from this practice. Necessary organic matter, or the humus of the soil, which would be increased by decay of the ground cover, is destroyed. Because of this destruction of the wealth of the soil, the same authority maintains that the soil reaction would be changed. Instead of the normal growth of flowers and grasses of the ground cover, rank weeds will spring up, flourish and scatter their seeds. This replacement by weeds is characteristic of poor soil. Says Mr. Ricker: "Frequent burning will cause the ground cover to disappear entirely, and leave the roots of trees exposed. Thus the first stage of deforestatio begins. Fire after fire has been the history of the deforestation and ero-sion of many wooded areas in this country." The advice comes at a particularly appropriate time. It is undoubted that grass fires clean up lawns and other grassed spaces quickly and effectively, and with no expenditure of But if conditions are as this expert says.

The latest announcements in regard to the personnel of the commission that is inquire into the western grain trade confirms the impression, all along enter-tained in Western Canada, that this ommission is not being created by the Government at Ottawa for any useful economic purpose, but solely to attempt to "get" the organized farmers' political movement through "getting" the Hon. T. A. Crerar, who happens to be president of the United Grain Growers

There is nothing going on in the grain trade of Western Canada which is not perfectly well known to the board of grain commissioners of Canada. There is nothing that the new commission can remedy which the board of grain commissioners could not have reme lied. There is nothing that it can de that the grain commissioners cannot do except to afford the Government the nachinery for wider political propaganda against the organized farmers.

He states that up to a certain point in the miners' strike "there was every hope of display of working class solidarity, but circum-stances destroyed the firm ground upon which the general strike call was

One of these circumstances was the nability of the leaders to meet the position taken by Mr. Lloyd George, who said to them that if the working men of the country, constituting two-thirds of the electorate, wanted nationalization they could get it by vote.

THE AGRICULTURAL SCHOOLS.

[Farm and Ranch Review.] There was some criticism in the Alberta Legislature the other day over the provincial expenditure for agricultural schools. The debate arose on the agricultural estimates. We merely rise remark, that in establishing the agricultural schools system in Alberta, the Hon. Duncan Marshall brought into being the only sound, comprehensive and practical scheme for general agricultural education that Canada can boast of between the Atlantic and the Pacific. This may be a strong statement, but we are prepared to defend it against all-comers. Canada is wasting millions on turning out agricultural professorial material, and on the preparation and distribution of educational matter that farmers sel-dom read. Mr. Marshall and his able assistant in this work, Mr. A. E. Meyer, have planted their feet on solid ground. There is sound, common sense behind

[By G. H. Townsley.]

DELAWARE, Onio, April 21.—The feature of today's program was a 7 to 5 win of the Yannigans over the London regulars. Delotelle and Hall hurled for the regulars, and Quinn and Wetzel delivered for the Yannigans. It was during the morning session that Wetzel gave his aggregation this entertainment. Briger was the boy with the big stick today. He sent two horsehides out of the park for circuit drives. One was gleaned off each pitcher, and the first was smashed out when the sacks were full. He drew the big applause from his regular mates, but it sent the Yannigans to their knees pleading for mercy. Aside from this slaughter, no other great injuries were registered.

Shaughnessy and Lee, Ball League Brokers.
You furnish the franchises and the parks, we furnish the league. Every small town should have a pro. team. See our colored maps of good compact circuits. We invite correspondence, with stamps inclosed for reply.

Fans all over the Mint circuit are looking for it to produce still better ball this year than last. The fact that most of the players who went up this year have stayed under the shelter of the big tent, is the best indication the fans can have that they have been seeing a high-class brand of the pastime from the Mint League teams. It takes such occurrences to bring the real value of things to light and the showing of the Mint rookies in this spring's training camps in the southland has established the circuit on a much firmer basis.

The new National agreement is not bringing any real joy to either the parties that subscribe to it, or to those leagues which isolated themselves at the time it was drawn up.

First the majors find a restricted number of Class A or AA clubs to which to send their young players for development. The development facilities in B leagues are not rated very high by the majors, as they figure the player in need of more polish and good experience won't get it under the majority of pilots in this classification.

The Class A and AA leagues are going to have difficulty in getting new talent because the player who is thinking of his future won't care to place his services at the disposal of these leagues, where the draft rule was not operative. He might stay there for years if not protected by the draft, especially in the hands of some owner who through prejudice or business reasons refused to sell him.

The minors are not satisfied with the new agreement, in which, it is said, are too many opportunities for squabbles. It is freely predicted that it will not last as at present constituted.

FRENCH CLAIM INVENTION OF PILOTLESS AEROPLANE

Resent American Contention-Possibilities in War and Peace Said To Be Graat With a Machine Directed by Radio.

Paris, April 20.—French aviation ex-perts are flatly denying the assertion that the invention of a pilotless aeroplane, or rather a plane guided entirely by wireless, is of American origin, and insist that the French have been experimenting successfully along these lines since September, 1918, when a plane was launched against a strong wind and manoeuvred for more than fifty min-utes without accident. Since then machines adapted to various weather conditions have been entirely approved by specialists at the Villa Coublay aerodrome, near Paris, and have even cir-cled over the capital at a great height when guided by aerial vibrations from Chicago, April 20.-Carl Wanderer slayer of his wife and "the ragged stranger," has been sentenced to be stranger," has been sentenced to be hanged on June 17 for the latter crime. Sentence was pronounced by Judge Joseph David. It was the first time the judge had sentenced a man to die. The motion for a new trial entered by Attorney W. D. Batholomew was denied as soon as the attorney finished his argument. Assistant State Attorney Lloyd Heth, who prosecuted Wanderer for the murder of "the ragged stranger," was not given an opportunity to present his side of the case.

"My mind is made up," said Judge David. "I have no quarrel with the decision of the jury which ordered him to be hanged on the gallows. It is unfortunate that so much conflicting evidence was introduced on the question of Wanderer's sanity. That, however, was a matter for the jury to decide. I have great confidence in the American jury system. The motion for a new trial is overruled."

Will Appeal To Supreme Court.

Attorney Batholomew announced he would appeal to the supreme court. Wanderer was then called. His face was bleached out by confinement in murderers' row, but he appeared the picture of health.

"You have been found guilty of murder by a jury," said Judge David. "Have you anything to say before I pronounce sentence?"

"No, sir; I have nothing," said the defendant.

"Then I sentence you to be hanged until dead on June 17, between the hours of 6 a.m. and 6 p.m. That's all I have to say to you."

many articles that today have been discarded, as you will readily admit. Do you recall anything that has more modestly appealed to the public than has Fletcher's Castoria: modest in all its claims, pleading at all times—and truthfully—for our babies? The big splurg, the misleading claims may win for a time, but the honest truth-telling advertiser is like the old story of the tortoise

Mothers everywhere, and their daughters, now mothers, speak frankly, glowingly, enthusiastically in praise of Fletcher's Castoria. Speak of it lovingly as a friend that has brought comfort, cheer and smiles to their little-one.

To them: to these true mothers no argument can induce them to set aside their bottle of Castoria, their old friend, that they might try even another and unknown remedy for babies. Then, would YOU think of going to YOUR OWN medicine chest to find relief for Baby's troubles? Can you not separate the false from the true? # New Hair Crowth After BALDNESS

On logal affidavit, John Hart Brittain, business man, certified to this: "My head at the top and back was absolutely bald. An expert said that he thought the hair roots were extinct, and there was no hope of my ever having a new hair growth.

"Yet now, at an age over 66, I have a luxuriant growth of soft, strong, lustrous hair! No trace of baldness. The pictures shown here are from my photographs."

INDIANS' SECRET OF HAIR GROWTH

Mr. Brittain certified further: "At a time when I had become diacouraged at trying to grow my hair again, I came across, in my travels, a Cherokee Indian 'medicine man' who had an elixir that he asseverated would grow my hair. Although I had but little faith I gave it a trial. To my amazement a light fuzz soon appeared. It developed, day by day, into a healthy growth, and ere long my hair was as prolific as in my youthful days."

True Hair Grower at Last

"That I was astonished and happy is expressing my state of mind Photo phen beld, mildly. Obviously, the hair roots had not been dead, but were dormant in the scalp, awaiting the fertilizing potency of the then mysterious pomade. I negotiated for and came into possession of the principle for preparing this, now called KOTALKO, and later had the recipe put into practical form by a chemist. That my own hair growth was permanent has been amply proved."

FAMOUS CLIPPERS MADE FAST TRIPS

Voyages of Old Time Sailing Ships in Sporting Days Recalled.

JACKET

Built in the 50's She Made Run to Liverpool in 13 Days, 1 Hour 25 Minutes.

Bangor, Me., April 20 .- Much testimony has been offered of late to show that the New York clipper ship Dread-nought never made the run credited to her by some writers-nine days and seventeen hours from Sandy Hook lightship to Daunt's Rock, Queenstown, and there is little need of evidence or argument on that question, for few who know much of ships and the sea have believed that the famous clipper sailed that fast. While they are at it, however, th sea sharps might as well tell who did make the transatlantic, or New York-Liverpool, record, if Capt. Samue attested record of 13 days 1 hour and 25 minutes from Sandy Hook lightship to Liverpool pierhead, and it is not re-called that anything faster has been claimed for a sailing vessel.

Liverpudlians Excited.

It is related that the Collins Line steamer, which left New York a day or two after the Red Jacket arrived in Liverpool one Sunday afternoon, and brought the news that the Yankee clipper was just astern. Those were sportdays in the clipper service, and there was as much interest in the per-formances of fast ships as there now is in any other time records, big money often being wagered on sailing contests. When the news spread along the Liverpool harbor front the people rushed in thousands to the docks, and every pier was black with spectators awaiting the advent of the new sea racer. Outside the port tugs had offered to tow the clipper, but the ship was going so fast that they couldn't keep the hawser taut, and so had to give it up. The Red Jacket swept into the Mersey with everything drawing, presenting a spec-tacle that brought cheers from the as-58-inch size will require 6½ yards of 44-inch material.

Serge, gabardine, satin, velveteen, gave all hands a thrill they had least a celerity that seemed like magic to the spectators.

The Red Jacket was a ship of about 2,500 tons old measurement; had a very long floor, like a Penobscot River lumberman's batteau, and could carry a tremendous spread and also point high. She carried as figurehead the the Indian chief, Red Jacket, artistically carved from a log of pumpkin pine. She prospered finely in the clipper service, was later sold to English account, and sailed in the Australian trade, and at last accounts, after some years of carrying lumber from the St. Lawrence to the United Kingdom, was dismantied and used as a coal hulk at

WORLD'S MOST WAN TED MAN IS COLLINS, SINN FEINER

LONDON, April 20 .- Michael Collins, M. P., chief of the "Irish Republican Army" and Minister of Finance to the "Republic," is the most sinister figure connected with the Irish Republican movement. He is the most "wanted" man in the world. No character in fic-tion has surpassed his record for audacity and there is no man living about whom so many tales of narrow escapes can be told.

It is probable that when history comes to be written his name will sink into insignificance, for he is not a states-man and does not believe in a peace-
