WINTER.—An ODE.

NO more the morn, with tepid rays,
Unfolds the flow'r of various hue;
Noon spreads no more the genial blaze,
Norgentle eve distils the dew.

The lingering hours prolong the night;
Usurping darkness snatches the day,
Her mists restrain the force of light;
And Phoebus holds a doubtful sway.

BY gloomy twilight half reveal'd
 With sighs we view the hoary hill,
 The leafless wood, the naked field,
 The snow topt cot, the frozen rill.

No music warbles thro' the grove,
 No vivid colours paint the plain;
 No more with devious steps I rove
 Thro' verdant paths now fought in vain.

MARCH hath XXXI Days.

1811.

ALoud the driving tempest roars.
 Congeal'd, impetuous show'rs descend.
 Haste, close the windows, bar the doors,
 Fate leaves me Stella, and a friend.
 In nature's aid let art supply
 With light and heat my little sphere;
 Rouse, rouse the fire, and pile it high;
 Light up a constellation here.
 Let music sound the voice of joy,
 Or mirth repeat the jocund tale;

Let Love his wanton wiles employ,
And o'er the season wine prevail.

YET time life's dreary winter brings,
When mirth's gay tale shall please no more;
Nor music charm, tho' Stella sings;
Nor love, nor wine the spring restore.
Catch then, O catch, the transient hour;
Improve each moment as it flies.
Life's a short summer--man a flow'r;
He dies--alas! how soon he dies!

Come, Cynthia, lovely queen of night,
Refresh me with a cooling breeze,

Lay me where o'er the verdant ground

Where the green bow'r, with roses crown'd,
In show'rs its fragrant foliage sheds.

IMPROVE the peaceful hour with wine,
Let music die along the grove ;
Around the bowl let myrtles twine,
And ev'ry strain be tuned to love.

Come, Stella, queen of all my heart !
Come, born to fill its vast desires !
Thy looks perpetual joys impart,
Thy voice perpetual love inspires.

WHILST, all my wish and time complete,
 By turns we languish and we burn,
 Let fighting gales our sighs repeat.
 Our murmurs--murmuring brooks return.
 Let me, when nature calls to rest,
 And blushing skies the morn foretel.
 Sink on the down of Stella's breast,
 And bid the waking world farewell.

TO TRAVELLERS.

For the information of Travellers between Windsor and Parrborough, &c.
 THE Parrborough packet sails regularly between Windsor and Parrborough every week, from the first of April to Christmas, viz: leaves Parrborough on Monday, wind and weather permitting so as to be at Windsor on Tuesday; and will sail from thence the first high water that happens at or after eight o'clock in the afternoon of that Day: the packet frequently goes twice or three times a week, when business requires it.
 The vessel is upwards of 50 tons burthen, and has very good accommodations for passengers, and likewise for carrying horses, neat cattle and sheep.
