LOOKS OMINOUS.

The latest news from Ulster bears a very disquieting look. The men of that northern province of the Emerald Isle have once more demonstrated themselves to be in deadly earnest by placing customs officers and police under arrest in order to land arms. It is stated that military law may be the result, and if so there cannot fail to be bloodshed, not only there, but in other parts of the disturbed island. "Gradually slipping into civil war," is the apparently correct diagnosis of one London paper.

During this new crisis Premier Asquith is in personal control of the War Office, and there cannot be any second excuse of orders misunderstood which served as the first explanation of an armed demonstration against the Ulsterites. Mr. Asquith is at this juncture face to face with a terrible responsibility largely of his own creation.

THE YEAR 1896 AND NOW.

The Liberals came into power by a large majority in the year 1896, yet it is worthy of note that in the present House there is only one of the old guard prior to that year who now holds a seat. He is Sir Wilfrid Laurier, who first entered Parliament in 1874.

On the other hand there is a long array of Conservatives who have been allowed by their constituents to stay in the fight: Hon. Dr. Sproule, who was elected in 1878; David Henderson, 1891; Hon. J. D. Hazen, 1891; Hon. George E. Foster, 1882; Wm. Smith, 1887; Col. the Hon. Sam Hughes, 1892; W. H. Bennett, 1892; and W. F. McLean, 1892. In addition, the proportion of Conservatives still remaining who were first elected in 1896 is most notable.

The reasons are not far to seek. The Laurier Government in many respects lost the respect of the people, and the proposal to rush this country blindfolded into Reciprocity proved the finishing blow. To-day that side is still further discredited by the refusal to vote for Canada helping to share in the Empire navy burden, free implement fads, free food ditto, and other things.

Meanwhile the Borden Administration, by already keeping the great bulk of its pre-election promises—some of which were knifed by the Grit majority in the Senate—and by clean methods, are each day becoming more and more strongly entrenched in the public confidence.

A MEDIATION OFFER.

Argentina, Brazil and Chile, the three other South American Republics, have offered, through their Presidents, to mediate between the United States and Huerta. President Wilson has accepted on the basis that no settlement will be acceptable which does not eliminate Huerta. At this writing the latter is also said to have accepted to intervention, but it is not clear whether he has heard of his own decapitation as one of the provisos, or how he will act when he does.

It was the refusal of President Wilson to recognize this man in the first place which has largely led to the present embroglio. Great Britain—and Sir Edward Grey is admittedly the shrewdest of Foreign Secretaries now living—wanted to do so, as did Germany and the other powers. Uncle Sam alone dissented, thus balking Huerta in securing outside financial assistance, and incidentally helping Villa. Later the order came from Washington which allowed the rebel leader to secure arms from the States. Well-informed critics in other countries seem to think that these things were mistakes, but said steps were taken, and there is no use now in speculating upon the results of any other course.

The proposed mediation is, at any rate, a pleasant feature. It should serve to create a better feeling between the South American peoples than has hitherto existed, with them and our neighbors. The outcome is problematical, and in any event will evidently only affect the relations between Uncle Sam and Huerta, and not clean up the present mess, as between Mexicans.

One pleasing feature of the whole deplorable business has been the incidents calculated to still further accentuate good feeling between the States and the Old Land. Through Sir Cecil Spring-Rice, British ambassador at Washington, arrangements have been made with Huerta for the release of Americans held as hostages, and in other directions there has been an entente cordiale which is most gratifying.

A BLOODLESS VICTORY.

Under the heading, "Ontario's Coming Premier," the Toronto Globe already has the Whitney Government hors de combat, defuncted, lambasted, and a few other little incidents too numerous to mention.

We are informed by the far-visionsed organ—proof of this quality shown by the sweeping victory which it prophesied for Reciprocity—that the result of the next election will "be the establishing of Mr. Rowell's place among the foremost political leaders of Canada." Further, that the people of Ontario, with feelings of ingrowing joy, will, at the first opportunity, "have no hesitation in placing their public affairs in his hands," and thenceforth and thenceforth.

What a dear old soul the leading Grit organ is, to be sure. Of late years it brings to mind the anecdote which Sydney Smith related in a speech, delivered by him in England in 1831, concerning a certain Mrs. Partington of Sidmouth, who, at the time of the great storm and high tide of 1824, tried to push back the Atlantic Ocean with a mop. In like manner the Globe attempts to push back the tide of public approval for the Conservative Governments at Ottawa and Toronto, with about the same brilliant results as those which attended the valiant efforts of Mrs. P.

Rowell has no more present chance of becoming Premier of this province than Sir Wilfrid Laurier has of resuming a like position for the Dominion at large. In each case the probabilities can be signified by a large and emphatic cipher.

NOTES AND COMMENTS.

New York Sun: "Incidentally, let us thank God for the neighbors to the North of us."

The charge has been made in Hamilton that dead men have been kept on the civic pay roll. There are more of them in the Ambitious City than that.

It is stated that cribbing has been discovered and will be stopped at the Ontario Agricultural College. On the other hand, France and some other countries complain that there is not enough of this kind of thing.

British sailors, at the request of the United States Admiral, escorted United States, British and German refugees from Vera Cruz. He made the request because he believed the excited people would be too hostile to his own rats, who, by the way, were quite ready for the job. Some of the U. S. extremists who were recently attempting to twist the tail of the British lion over the Panama Canal matter should make a note of this and other incidents.

Birthdays of Note

MONDAY, APRIL TWENTY-SEVENTH

HON. H. L. DRAYTON, chairman of the Dominion Board of Railway Commissioners, was born in Kingston forty-five years ago to-day.

Before accepting his present office he spent most of his professional life in the City Hall, Toronto, where he rose from assistant city solicitor to corporation council. He is a man characterized by a very kindly disposition, which may be well illustrated by an anecdote told of his more recent days in Toronto. In going to his office, he used to alight from the street car at a corner of Yonge street. On this corner a blind man was stationed, who offered small articles for sale. The corporation counsel was touched by the man's appearance and came at last to wish him regularly a good morning and drop a piece of money in his cup. At length, when he removed to Ottawa, he asked the blind man for his address and sent him as a farewell gift a fur-lined overcoat.

PEACE DOVE

While diplomats and the President and his advisers labored in Washington over new developments in the situation, Brigadier-General Funston with his reinforced phalanx of infantry and artillery was nearing Vera Cruz and Rear Admirals Badger and Fletcher were toiling in preparation for any eventualities. They had quieted the town, placed it under martial law and were preparing for the reception of General Funston who immediately will take charge of all the American forces about the seaport. He will have at his disposal about 10,000 fighting men, infantry, artillery, marines and blue jackets. No ill-effects of the torrid temperatures of Vera Cruz had been reported among the American forces. Under martial law the business of government in the city was resuming, with municipal authorities at their posts. The Federal officials decided they could not work under American supervision and that was one of the reasons for the proclamation, according to Rear Admiral Fletcher's report to the navy department. The refusal of the Huerta authorities to act resulted in confusion, and it was held imperative to supply adequate machinery.

Martial law was considered impracticable. Admiral Fletcher reported that proposed provisions for regulation of the new establishment at Vera Cruz contemplated that officials to be appointed might be Americans, Mexicans, or any other nationality, "it being the intent and purpose to extend to the inhabitants of the territory a large participation in the government as may be practical with due consideration for the ends to be hereafter accomplished." Federal and local taxes, it is proposed, will be levied under present arrangements. There will be no additional imposts "except when required by unusual exigencies," and if any surplus remains after the city's expenses have been paid, it will be entrusted to a treasurer. Rules for the ultimate disposition of any surplus will be made later. It is proposed in the administration of the city that local and government laws Mexico be followed as closely as possible.

Many in Distress As transports bearing army reinforcements ploughed swiftly through gulf waters for Mexican ports to-day steamers bringing distressed refugees hurried toward northern ports. At New Orleans and Galveston the railroads had agreed to move victims of menacing conditions in the southern republic to any point in the United States at half fare, this to apply whether the fares were paid by the government or the individual. Two thousand refugees are reported en route from Tampico where no Americans now remain, while it is believed at least 1000 Americans who were in Huerta's capital Wednesday have safely reached Vera Cruz.

THE GIVERS

The great, fine men are oft obscure; they have no wide, resounding fame, that experts warrant to endure until the finish of the game. Old Clinkbeard is such a man, and though he has no store of yen, he's always doing what he can to help along his fellowmen. He has no millions to disburse, but when he meets a hungry guy, he digs a quarter from his purse, which buys the sinkers and the jig. The gifts of bloated millionaires mean nothing of a sacrifice; they sit around in easy chairs and count the scads they have on ice; if Croesus gives ten thousand bucks to help some college off the rocks, he still can have his wine and ducks—he has ten millions in his box. The widow's mite, I do not doubt, in heaven made a bigger splash than shekels Pharisees shelled out from their large wads of ill-gained cash. And so the poor man, when he breaks the only William in his pants, to buy some widow tea and cakes, is making angels sing and dance. In fertile soil he's sowing seeds, and he shall reap a rich reward; for he who gives the coin he needs, is surely lending to the Lord. WALT MASON.

CHAPTER XXI.

Out of the Fire.

SUDDENLY out of the northeast a great black car came careening down the road. With a jolt it stopped before the cottage, and a black haired giant leaped out and ran up on to the porch. Without a pause he rushed into the house. On the couch lay Clayton. The man started in surprise, but with a bound was at the side of the sleeping man.

Shaking him roughly by the shoulder, he cried: "Are you all mad here? Don't you know you are nearly surrounded by fire? Where is Miss Porter?" Clayton sprang to his feet. He did not recognize the man, but he understood the words and was upon the veranda in a bound.

He cried out in consternation, then, dashing back into the house, called: "Jane! Jane! Where are you?" In an instant Esmeralda, Professor Porter and Mr. Philander had joined the two men.

"Where is Miss Jane?" demanded Clayton, seizing Esmeralda by the shoulders and shaking her roughly. "Oh, Marsie Clayton, she done gone for a walk."

"Hasn't she come back yet?" "And without waiting for a reply Clayton dashed out into the yard, followed by the others.

"Which way did she go?" cried the black haired giant to Esmeralda. "Down that road," cried the frightened black, pointing toward the south, where a mighty wall of roaring flames shut out the view.

"Put these people in the other car!" shouted the stranger to Clayton. "I don't know," replied Clayton. "He called me by name, and he knew Jane, for he asked for her, and he called Esmeralda by name."

"There was something most startlingly familiar about him," exclaimed Mr. Philander. "Yet, bless me, I know I never saw him before."

"Who was that?" asked Professor Porter. "I don't know," replied Clayton. "He called me by name, and he knew Jane, for he asked for her, and he called Esmeralda by name."

"There was something most startlingly familiar about him," exclaimed Mr. Philander. "Yet, bless me, I know I never saw him before."

There's nothing like a delicious cup of Tea as a delightfully refreshing stimulant and brain soother.

"Tut, tut!" cried Professor Porter. "Most remarkable! Who could it have been, and why do I feel that Jane is safe now that he has set out in search of her?" "I can't tell you, professor," said Clayton soberly, "but I know I have the same uneasy feeling."

"But come," he cried, "we must get out of here ourselves or we shall be shut off." And the party hastened toward Clayton's machine.

When Jane Porter turned to retrace her steps homeward she was alarmed to note how near the smoke of the forest fire seemed, and as she hastened onward her alarm became almost a panic when she perceived that the rushing flames were rapidly forcing their way between herself and the cottage.

At length she was compelled to turn into the dense thicket and attempt to force her way to the west in an effort to escape around the flames and regain her home.

In a short time the futility of her attempt became apparent, and then her one hope lay in retracing her steps to the road and flying for her life to the south toward the town.

The twenty minutes that it took her to regain the road was all that had been needed to cut off her retreat as effectually as her advance had been cut off before. Jane Porter knew that it was useless to attempt to force her way again through the undergrowth.

She had tried it once and failed. Now she realized that it would be but a matter of minutes ere the wide space between the enemy on the one side and the enemy on the south would be a seething mass of flames.

Calmly the girl knelt down in dust of the roadway and prayed strength to meet her fate bravely, to deliver her father and her brother from death. She did not think to pray for deliverance for herself; she knew there was no hope.

Suddenly she heard her name being called aloud through the forest: "Jane! Jane Porter!" It rang strong and clear, but in a strange voice.

understood that all monies collected be returned.

W. Russ, whom Webb had stated had taken the money and left the district, was present and he and his partner, Webb, were then charged with a breach of Clause 66 of the Immigration Act, order 1028, sub-section 5. They pleaded not guilty. The defendants had exceeded the law inasmuch they had taken money from immigrants, an immigrant being a person who has not been in the country three years, without having work actually ready for the applicants to receive.

Lewis Shalet, giving evidence, said he took eighteen Russians to the intelligence office and there he paid $18 for the men, who were to receive work from the office. He had not particularly stated that all the men were resident of Canada for three, but had said that generalising, they had all been in this country three years. Some of them, however, were, he knew, not that long in the land.

Jacob Lachinski, a Russian, said he came to Canada a year ago. He was not asked how long he had been in the country.

Travelling Immigration Inspector D. H. Reynolds said the defendants had obtained a license to run the intelligence office under the name of the Ontario Intelligence Bureau. The Hamilton office was run by a man named Stewart, who was in partnership with Russ and Webb. Witness had found that the Hamilton office was run in a very unsatisfactory manner. When Stewart was asked for his license it showed that it was not up to date, and no attempt had been made to keep it so. When asked for his order book which would have shown how much work he had given out to applicants, Stewart had not been able to produce it. Webb's license had been cancelled and never regained.

The Brantford office had been opened as the Ontario Employment Agency. There was no government permission to use this name, it was just the title under which they had obtained a license.

Joseph Stewart said, in the witness box, that neither Webb or Russ had his permission to open an agency in the immigrant business in Brantford. He was not satisfied at the way things were going and retained the license, which had been obtained from Ottawa. He did not know at the time he went into partnership with Webb that his Hamilton license had been cancelled. He accounted for the Brantford books being found in his possession by saying that Webb had deposited them there without his knowledge. As far as he knew, there was no order for labour at the Brantford branch.

Webb, testifying, said he knew that he had committed a breach of the Act. It was customary to run intelligence as this one had been run. He was second partner in the venture and Russ and Stewart caused the close-inquiry of the local office. He had not obtained the city license, but it was got by Stewart.

Mr. Nesbitt, acting for Russ and Stewart, admitted that there was a breach of the Act. There was no question about that. Mr. Russ was a very young man and he was no doubt a man without experience in this line and probably was the tool of older men.

"I know," said the Magistrate, "but Webb now takes a very different attitude to that which he adopted the other day. He was then very defiant and inadvertently let the cat out of the bag. It appeared that his scheme was to collect a dollar and without work or effort pay back 50 cents at the end of a week, as was provided by law, where work was not procured."

The defence contended the office had been carried on somewhat carelessly and really only a technical offence, in not having orders for labour, filed, was committed.

Crown Attorney Wilkes said that the whole thing was a fraud right through and Brantford was lucky to have got it eradicated so soon.

The Magistrate thought that this was a flagrant case and a fine of $50 and costs against defendant would perhaps meet the case. His decision was against defendants individually, as members of the company.

Webb, Russ and Stewart will thus be out of pocket on the Brantford end of the business to a considerable extent for in addition to the cheque for $116, there was the payment of $57, which was taxed against them for expenses, of different men who had deposited their dollars and not obtained employment.

VERA CRUZ

Fletcher has already been advised that the general is to have supreme command ashore.

There was great activity to-day, however, about the aviators camp near the bathing beach, where the smooth water of the inner harbor afforded every facility for arising and landing. Should the machines be required later, the aviators are ready for service and are busy studying maps of the surrounding territory.

The American authorities here are unable to predict just what disposition will be made of the first troops to land, but it is supposed that the infantrymen will be used in patrolling the streets, and the cavalry on the picket lines beyond the city limits.

About the central plaza of the city where the small park-brilliant with tropical growths is surrounded on two sides by sidewalk cafes of Parisian appearance, the scene is an animated one from early morning until late at night. The tables are thronged with refugees and women of all nationalities from interior points, and the discussion of the probable fate of friends and acquaintances still unheeded from occupy every group.

The gathering represents every activity in the interior of Mexico in which Europeans have had a part and many of the British subjects still wear a little Union Jack pinned to coats or dress fronts, which were put on when they made their way to the coast.

Anxiety knows no nationality. The British and Germans fear the wrath of the Mexican mob, who will make no distinction between those of white skin, and that all will share the common fate as Americans if an uprising should occur. As the days pass and the exodus of refugees from coast points continues with no reports of violence, hope among those gathered here is growing that loss of life will be averted and damage inflicted only in a financial sense.

Vera Cruz stores are doing a thriving business supplying those who fled leaving everything behind. Ice is at a premium and restaurants are striving to reopen trade with truck gardeners and dairies to the southward. Poultry are flocking to the city daily, their arms laden with live chickens and eggs carried for miles, to get the unusual prices which prevail here.

City hotel accommodations are strained to the limit to care for the influx of refugees, and the American officials continue to-day their efforts to induce the women able to leave to go to the United States. The steamers for Mexico carried over 500 when it sailed for Galveston last night, and when enough desirous of making the trip are gathered another ship will follow.

Captain Stickney of the Prairie, now captain of this port, is making good progress in straightening out the customs house tangle. He found desks rifled of many papers, presumably by departing Federal officials, but believes they were taken in order that the officials might clear their own accounts rather than to embarrass the Americans. Among the port captain's duties is the overseeing of the affairs of the ancient fortress, San Juan de Uloa. There the Mexican flag is still waving and the Mexican commandant is still in control of eighty armed soldiers and 500 prisoners, many of the latter most desperate criminals. A narrow causeway connects the fortress with the shore, and this is constantly guarded, being covered by a field piece and a machine gun making a guard in the fortress unnecessary.

That the Brantford Board of License Commissioners proposes to deal strictly with bartenders who are careless in the matter of obscuring the letter of the law was the announcement Saturday evening following a meeting of the board to consider applications from bartenders for licenses. It is rumored that in some cases the board will refuse to grant applications, reports of an unfavorable nature having been received.

KING SEES BURNLEY CLUB CAPTURE ENGLISH FINAL

Liverpool Beaten by 1-0—Over 100,000 Witness Big Game at Crystal Palace—Blackburn Rovers Capture First Division Championship.

As predicted, Burnley defeated Liverpool by 1 goal to 0, in the English Cup final at the Crystal Palace, London. The King was present at the game for the first time in the history of the cup. Over 100,000 spectators were on hand from all parts of the country, when Referee Bamlett, of Gateshead-on-Tyne called the two captians together.

King's First Game.

This was the first time that a British Sovereign had witnessed a cup final, and, according to cables received, the weather was exceptionally favorable for the happy event. The crowds of country cousins, who are generally so obnoxiously conspicuous in London on Cup Day did not, perhaps, overrule the metropolis to quite the same degree as in previous years. This was due to the fact that both contesting teams came from the same district. Nevertheless, Lancashire without its clogs, invaded London in mighty numbers Saturday. The King arrived at the Palace in good time, and both teams lined up in front of the royal stand before the game opened. When the whistle blew there were at least 100,000 spectators present. The Liverpool captain was unable to participate owing to injuries received in a league game, and Ferguson took his place, McKinley going to left half. Swell was in goal for Burnley in place of Dawson. Play was very fast from the beginning, and Lacey missed a splendid chance of putting Liverpool ahead when an open goal lay before him. He came along finally shortly after, but Sewell was again too quick for him, saving the situation in splendid fashion. These players were undoubtedly the most prominent of their respective teams, until half-time was reached, with the score sheet still a blank.

Freeman Scores Goal. Ten minutes after the interval, Freeman scored the one and winning goal for Burnley. Burnley's victory was due to the magnificent sport they made directly the second half opened. Liverpool played their game, but Burnley probably had more of the play. The victors' goalkeeper was only once called on to clear. The winning goal came by Boyle putting to Nesbitt, who handed to Freeman. The latter adding the finishing touch perfectly easily. Burnley's goal was never seriously threatened throughout the whole of the second half. His Majesty the King presented the trophy to the winner immediately after the game.

Blackburn Lead League. Blackburn Rovers could only tie with Manchester United in their last league game of the season at Old Trafford Saturday. The Rovers have won the First Division championship by a clear seven points, with Aston Villa as the runner-up. The Villa were badly beaten on their own ground by the Middlesboro aggregation Saturday. Preston North End and Derby County are the two teams to be relegated to the Second Division and it is curious that both elevens tied in Saturday's games. Preston held the Hyde Rounders to a 2 to 2, while the 'Rams' kept Newcastle down to 1 to 1 score.

Bradford Top Scorers. Bradford piled up a 4 to 1 against Blackpool Saturday, and Woolwich whitewashed Glossop 2 to 0. This puts two teams tied for second place, and according to goal average, Bradford have a slight advantage. The 'Peacocks' of Leeds got a nice victory over Birmingham at Elland road, but...

RAIN STOPPED ALL FOOTBALL

Paris Team Came Down Saturday But Conditions Prevented Play.

The elements forbade and football history was not made on Saturday when a fine programme of matches had been arranged. The Paris team came down in torrents so soaked the ground that it is doubtful if the teams could have taken the field even if it had ceased in time for them to commence the game. As they arrived in the city before the rain fell they were followed by a large crowd of fans, all expecting, who were disappointed at the trend of events. In the other games all the teams being local, they did not turn out. The grounds were so soft that to have played on them would have torn them up rather badly, and with darkness following closely upon the finish of the storm, it was not possible to put a ball into motion. The replays rendered necessary will be considered at the next meeting of the football committee, which meets on Wednesday first at the Y. M. C. A. when dates suitable to the competing teams will be arranged.

S. O. E. to Meet. S. O. E. Football Club will hold a general meeting on Tuesday evening, at 8 o'clock, in the Roberts & Van-Lane shoe store. All members and signed-up players are requested to attend.

Dufferin to Practice. All signed players of the Dufferin Rifles Football Club are requested to turn out for practice at Agricultural Park on Tuesday night, 6.45 p.m.

St. George's Club Will Organize Runners-Up in Cricket League to Meet Next Wednesday. The St. George's Cricket Club, runners-up in the City League last season, will hold an organization meeting at the Borden Club rooms on Wednesday evening next, the 29th, at 8 o'clock. All members are particularly requested to be present at this meeting, as officers will be elected. Several members of last year's team having left the city, there are several vacancies on the playing eleven, and all cricketers who have not yet joined the club and are desirous of playing the game this year, are cordially invited to be present at the meeting on Wednesday night and enroll themselves under the St. George's banner. Chairman West of the grounds committee is busy getting the ground into condition, and hopes to be able to have it in such shape that practice can be commenced on Saturday next, and from then on every Monday, Wednesday and Friday evening and afternoon. On Saturday, May 9th, the opening game of the season will be played, last season's men against new players. The latter form a likely group and are confident of being able to give the old-timers a good game.

The cook at the hotel is crazy on baseball, last night he had a dream that Rube Deaneau came and said I want you to sign this contract and you should make a good batter. At this everything around the house seemed to go baseball mad shouting what they could do. The carpet said it could make the stove look sick when it came to covering ground, and it had seen the chimney throw so much smoke that the stove could not hold it. At this the stove got hot and commenced to shoot hot air about the carpet always laying down to escape a beating and even if it could not hold smoke it could cover a base with the best of them. The door said people might knock but it knew it had a good handle and it would be a pretty strong bunch that it could not shut out. It was thankful it was not light like the window for it was painful to see what few hits it took to make it crack. The window then opened up and took this slam at the door. You may have a pretty fair swing and be good on the catch, but the way you get rattled anyone can see your knob is solid bone. The wall paper stuck up for the ice, saying it was the coolest thing that ever entered the box. At this everything around the house seemed to go baseball mad shouting what they could do. The carpet said it could make the stove look sick when it came to covering ground, and it had seen the chimney throw so much smoke that the stove could not hold it. At this the stove got hot and commenced to shoot hot air about the carpet always laying down to escape a beating and even if it could not hold smoke it could cover a base with the best of them. The door said people might knock but it knew it had a good handle and it would be a pretty strong bunch that it could not shut out. It was thankful it was not light like the window for it was painful to see what few hits it took to make it crack. The window then opened up and took this slam at the door. You may have a pretty fair swing and be good on the catch, but the way you get rattled anyone can see your knob is solid bone. The wall paper stuck up for the ice, saying it was the coolest thing that ever entered the box. The ice returned the compliment by saying Wallpaper could paste the ball better and would go higher than the sewing machine, whose only good point was running. Sad Spectacle

A foreign woman, carrying a small boy and having two small boys with her, created a sad spectacle at the city hall this morning. The woman is the wife of the foreigner living at 100 Palace street, who last week was fined $100 or 3 months in jail for being liquor at his home without a license.

The family is exceptionally poor, the woman and children are fast starving, having no means of support. For three days she has been in the office of Mr. Louis Stander in efforts, pleading for him to do something to release her husband.

Stander has fed her and tried to pay the balance of the fine. When she made her appearance, she broke into another fit of crying, and Mr. Stander had to be called to make known her request. As the Mayor was not in, the woman was told to sit down until he came, which she did crying all the while.

Building Permits Issued.

Building permits were issued this morning to Samuel Porter, 201 Brant Avenue, for a 2-story brick house to cost $2,000. To Joseph Reff, 169 Grey street for a frame kitchen to cost $400. To M. and I. Kew, 15 Mohawk street for brick addition to meat shop to cost $50 and to Jesse Sage, 46 Eagle Avenue, for a frame porch to cost $80.

Three Barns Were Destroyed

Lightning Causes Much Damage on Saturday Evening.

The first electrical storm of the year which occurred last Saturday afternoon played havoc with three barns owned by Mr. John Lloyd-Jones on the Town Line about a mile south of the Stone Road at Brantford. About 3:30 when the storm was at its worst, lightning struck the three barns completely destroying them. Only a small quantity of hay, a binder and a wagon were destroyed, and the total loss is covered by insurance.

Mr. Lloyd-Jones does not occupy this farm, but keeps his stock and most of his implements on the farm adjoining which also belong to him, and therefore no stock was injured.

APPRECIATION IS DULY EXPRESSED

Brantford Firemen Acted Very Courageously During a Time of Trial in Mr. Mann's Family.

The following letter was received today by Fire Chief Lewis: Brantford, April 25th, 1914. D. J. Lewis, Esq., Chief, Fire Department: City.

Dear Sir,—On behalf of my father and mother and members of their family, I desire to express to you, and through you, to Captain Kingswood and Fireman W. C. Bolton, how deeply we appreciate your promptness in responding to our call for the lungmotor on Sunday night last.

As stated to you in conversation, the efficient and sympathetic manner of Captain Kingswood and Fireman Bolton won our most sincere gratitude. They could not have been more faithful had they been working for the life of one of their own family, and that you are congratulated on being able to secure such men who so successfully carry into their work your own ideas of service.

We also desire to sincerely thank the fireman who so patiently waited outside and went to the hospital for oxygen.

Gratefully yours,
FRED MANN.

Military Notes

A Reply to a Friend in the 38th
You talk about my poetry,
My singing and my drill,
You say I'd fear the enemy,
And that I wouldn't kill.
Just bring the Mexicans over here,
I'd show you what I'd do,
I'd give their general just one look,
He'd sure turn black and blue.
And as for swinging on the rings,
I'm the glory of the troop,
But to such trivial arguments,
I wouldn't deign to stoop.
The Dufferin Rifles are the boys,
To show you how to fight,
And as regards D Coy,
They are the shining light.
The stretcher bearers are alright,
The best that's in the town,
But what do they do in the war?
Bear your eye when you're shot down.
JOHN UNSWORTH,
"B" Coy.

Just Dope

If a boy fails to make the Red Sox he can fall back to the W. B. C. and if he doesn't make good there he still has a chance if he calls on Ed Slattery, scout for the clerk's soft ball team.

By appearances, Connie Mack is gradually working his team into shape for the big contest in August. The Saginaw manager is sorry that Chubby Coose is not good enough for his team, as Chubby has gone back. A lot of the Canadian League pitchers are sorry that Chubby has gone back to Brantford.

By the attendance figures in Baltimore the people there prefer a christening to a funeral.

It is going to be tough on the minor league owners this fall when instead of getting a good price from the majors for their stars, the Federals step up and take who they like.

It is announced that the name of the Brantford baseball team is officially changed from Red Sox to Brants. But it will take more than an official announcement to make the fans change. They have stuck with the Red Sox when they have been at the bottom, and the Red Sox will be good enough for them when the team is at the top. The world admires a man who starts at the bottom and works his way to the top, and the Brantford people have the same feeling in regard to the baseball team. A name cannot make a successful team and a winning Red Sox team will look just as good as a winning Brant team.

If Gabby Ivers could cover more ground on foul flies than any other first baseman in the league, how is it that some think he cannot catch a fly that is not a foul?

Watching The Score Board

Jack Dunn may have to move his team out of Baltimore.

Jack Dunn may have to move his team out of Baltimore. He has been outdrawn by the Federals 100-1, and can't stand up against this competition. In three games last week the Orioles played to less than 400 people—135 a game.

Reubach pitching for Brooklyn shut Boston out 4-0.

Cincinnati made the Chicago Cubs look like a bunch of minors, handing Hank O'Day's team a 13-1 wallop. Davenport, a recruit pitcher did it all too.

Only one game was played in the International Saturday. Buffalo beat Providence 12-9.

Ottawa beat Adrian on Saturday 4-2. Shocker for the Senators pitched a fine game.

Shaughnessy has turned Pitcher Harry Donovan loose, also Teach both former Red Sox. The Senators will carry five pitchers.

St. Thomas won and lost in exhibition games with Kalamazoo.

Cavalecki pitching for Detroit held St. Louis safe, the Tigers winning 4-0. Crawford smashed out a homer with Cobb in front of him. St. Louis evened up on Sunday hitting Daus hard. The Tigers could do little with Weiman.

Schalk bade a bad error for Chicago and gave Cleveland the third victory of the season, 4-2. Blanding, Federal jumper pitched fine ball. The Naps won Saturday's game 1-0. Hagerman and Benz having a great deal.

Team's Nicknames

London—Tecuamschs.
St. Thomas—Saints.
Brantford—Red Sox.
Erie—Yankies.
Toronto—Beavers.
Peterboro—Pets.

Ottawa—Senators.
Brantford's Intermediate Lacrosse team has been grouped with Paris, Galt, Drumbo, Dundas and Woodstock.

It is a nice thing to be manager of a team when you are a pitcher and not have to go in the box until you see how the other fellows are hitting.

When one of the recruits dropped on his knees to stop a hot one, Rube yelled, Hey, there, get on your feet, we don't play Sunday ball in this league.

Big Musical Event

Mr. W. H. Webbing, who is looking after Brantford reservations for the concert by Mme. Clare Butt at Hamilton on Thursday night, reports much local interest in the big musical event.

Mr. Geo Yapp, 48 Terrace Hill St., spent Sunday in Port Dover.

GOOD SUGGESTION TO BRANTFORD PEOPLE

It is surprising the amount of old, foul matter the simple mixture of buckthorn bark, glycerine, etc., known as Adler-ika, draws from the system. This remedy became famous by curing appendicitis and acts on BOTH the upper and lower bowel so thoroughly that ONE DOSE relieves sour stomach, gas on the stomach and constipation almost IMMEDIATELY. We are mighty glad we are Brantford agents for Adler-ika. Robertson, druggist.

Sporting Comment

So they are going to change the "official" name of our ball players from the Red Sox to the Brants. We have always been under the impression that they constituted the Brantford team but as far as official nicknames are concerned we will stick to the old Red Sox, representing some of the highest traditions in the baseball world, and recalling the memory of Dineen, Giger, Herman, Long, Jimmy Collins, Young and others of the past, while for the present the Red Sox are famous for Speaker, Joe Wood, Garrigan, et al. As long as President Nelson buys the Brantford gang red hosiery we will call them Red Sox. If he changes the color of the hose it will be the President's misfortune if we are forced to call his hired men the "Dubs" or any other monicker we might select. What's gone wrong with the new order of things anyway?

One feature about Rube Deneau's work is that he is most inquisitive about the conduct of his players off the ball field. In fact it would do a Philadelphia-lawyer goods to hear Deneau cross question his talent as to what they have been doing when they were beyond the range of this sight. It is surprising how the Rube can guess at things and deliver a timely warning to those who he thinks needs it.

Rev. C. E. Jenkins of St. Jude's church in declaring that true sport consisted of playing the game and not watching it, probably overlooked the fact that thousands of men to-day are either too old or too worn out to what they have been doing when they were beyond the range of this sight. It is surprising how the Rube can guess at things and deliver a timely warning to those who he thinks needs it.

Fans this week will be able to get a better line on the team, owing largely to the departure of several who merely obstructed the landscape.

With Burns, Eddie Taylor, Deneau, Ivers and Lamond, the Red Sox should show some experience this year. That's to say nothing of the pitchers.

Buster Burrell is with Knotty Lee's team at Toronto. The only thing Bearer ever needed was more life and fighting spirit.

If President Fitzgerald gets the same calibre of umpires this year as last, there will be no danger of the Federal League grabbing any off.

If you are a subscriber to The Courier get in on that Canadian league opening guessing competition and win some real cash.

With the methods of management of one Rube Deneau, it is unlikely this year we will be getting reports about three Brantford ball players falling downstairs at 2 a.m., in a Peterboro hotel. We hope not.

If the ball team is not named the Red Sox, why not Nelsonites?

Our dear old friend Joe Brant would feel highly honored to know that a county, a city and a ball team of Yanks were all named after him.

If the ball team is nick named the Brants, why not call the Y.M.C.A. Deneau's wigwag, and President Nelson's office the Council House.

We are still waiting for that 100 yard dash between Deneau and Ivers. It ought to be a three-cornered affair with the new city road roller as an added starter.

Mayor Spence who will take part in the opening games both at Brantford and Hamilton is practicing the "sulphur" ball. He got the idea piped to him from Tilbury, and says when the ball floats up to the batsman, the latter has to forsake his hold on the bat and grab his nasal organ until it gets by. The sulphur ball ought to prove very effective.

Practically every garment worn by man and woman can be thoroughly cleaned by our Dry Cleaning Process.

IN MEMORIAM

SALISBURY—In loving memory of Marquis Lorne Salisbury, who died April 27, 1909.

I often sit and think of him. When I am all alone, For memory is the only friend That grief can call its own. More and more each day I miss him; Friends may think the wound is healed, But they little know the sorrow That lies within my heart concealed. —Father and Mother.

POLICE MADE RAID ON EAST, ARREST FOUR

Edward Gains and Wife Had Ride in Police Patrol.

Also Four Others Found in House, 257 Marlboro Street.

Sergt. Wallace, P. C. Blanchard and P. C. Cox, on Saturday night made a raid down in the east section of the city and visited several houses which were suspected of being disorderly. As a result of their investigations, two colored people, Edward Gains and his wife Lucy, were charged with keeping a disorderly house and four men were charged with being frequenters.

From observations he had made P. C. Blanchard found that the proceedings going on at 257 Marlborough St. were suspicious and he accordingly on Saturday night made complaint and the raid was then organized under Sergt. Wallace. The officers visited several houses and then proceeded to 257 Marlborough street. Here they found the two defendants and four men. The men were downstairs and were two white men and two Armenians, and Ed. Gains and his wife were upstairs. Arrests were then made and the patrol wagon conveyed the six people to the police station.

This morning at the police court the charge was gone into. Gains asked for a remand until Wednesday in order that he might bring witnesses to swear to the sanctity of his house. He and his wife both pleaded not guilty. A remand until Wednesday was granted and the wife with tears in her eyes asked for bail.

Another charge of theft was preferred against Lucy Gains. The story of this theft is that she was under an arch in the east end of the town and enticed Joseph Nicholls there and robbed him of $35 and a cheque for $30. She pleaded not guilty and said she had never seen the man. No evidence was taken on this charge which was adjourned until Wednesday.

In connection with the charge against Gains and his wife, Thomas Gardner, Robert Donaldson, Bogos Klovian and Thomas Adamian were charged with frequenting a disorderly house at 237 Marlborough St. Gardner and Donaldson pleaded guilty, while Adamian and Klovian denied the charge. They were found by P. C. Blanchard and Cox at the house in question at 1 o'clock a.m. on the morning of April 26th. As the case was not proceeded with this morning they were allowed bail of $50. Gordon Burnham, obtained liquor and as he is a billed man, he came under the notice of the authorities and this morning was ordered to pay ten dollars.
