A RECORD BREAKING STUNT AT THE BRANT

The Sum of $75,000 is Secured on Behalf of the Victory Loan Campaign; Ten Thousand Added by one Citizen to $65,000 Contributed by the Audience

Talk about your theatrical stunts and theatrical results! The greatest thing of the kind ever pulled off in this city or for that matter in Ontario, took place last night at the Brant Theatre under the auspices of the Publicity Committee of the Victory Loan Campaign.

After the inspiring reel, "The Maple Leaf Forever," contributed by Douglas Patbanks, had been run off the curtain was lowered and again raised upon a very prettily arranged scene.

On a screen at the back were the words "They fight; You buy Victory Bonds," and on each side of Mr. A. K. Bunnell and Mr. W. G. Raymond were seated six young ladies attired in the Red Cross military uniform.

BRANTFORD GIRL MEETS SAD END

Passes Away in Kitchener After Taking Tablets

The Evidence Which Was Adduced at the Inquest

(Special to The Courier.) Kitchener, Nov. 13.—Phyllis Irene Thomas, aged 19, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. B. M. Thomas, Brant avenue, Brantford, has died here from poison self-administered, according to the evidence given this morning before a coroner's jury.

Dr. H. G. Lockner stated that he had been summoned to her bedside shortly after the girl became ill and to him she admitted that she had taken three tablets of bichloride of mercury and that did not blame anyone.

W. Grant Merrill, of the Commercial Chambers, Brantford, and also the owner of a farm seven miles south of that city, stated that he was in the commission business, Miss Thomas motored with him to Kitchener on Sunday afternoon with the consent of her parents and they registered at the Waipara House under their own names, he having room 52 and she room 53. It was a business trip as the girl was his stenographer and bookkeeper and they intended to collect a number of accounts in the neighborhood.

Yesterday at noon she called to take her to lunch and found her in a state of collapse. She denied having taken anything, but later admitted it. He at once phoned for a doctor and also got a nurse. The announcement was made at this point that Miss Thomas had later been removed to the hospital, where she died at 8 a.m.

In the meantime Merrill had motored to Brantford and brought back her mother.

The inquest will be resumed this afternoon. Enquiry showed that none of the local druggists had sold Miss Thomas any tablets. The contents of her purse include a Victory Bond.

rose to $30,000, still W. G. held on to that secret. Then it got to $40,000. Still the secret remained intact. Finally to $50,000, when W. G. said that a gentleman whose name he could not give would add another $10,000 to $65,000 was reached. Ultimately $64,000 was reached. Then a man in the rear of the house exclaimed, "I'll go $10,000 if any one will match it."

The following are the complete Victory Loan returns for Brant County to November 11th, inclusive:

HOLLAND TO ALLOW WILLIAM HOHENZOLLERN TO REMAIN THERE

He Has Taken the Title of Count and is Expected to Buy an Estate—Only a Few Aged Generals Were With Him in His Flight Across Dutch Border

By Courier Leased Wire. LONDON, Nov. 12.—Holland will permit William Hohenzollern to remain on Dutch soil on the same terms of internment as other high officers of the German army. He has taken the name of Count William Hohenzollern, and is expected to buy an estate and remain in Holland, according to an Amsterdam dispatch to the Exchange Telegraph company.

AMSTERDAM, Nov. 13.—Count von Bentinck, at whose chateau the former German emperor is staying, told the Handelsblad today that it was only yesterday afternoon that he received a sudden request from the Dutch government, asking him to accommodate William Hohenzollern and his suite, the number in the retinue not being given.

A few aged generals accompanied William Hohenzollern on his flight to Holland. When they reached the frontier they were stopped by Dutch frontier guards, who sent for General Onnen, chief of the internment service, and some local authorities. After being introduced to the former emperor, General Onnen entered the automobile which had crossed the frontier, and drove off. The bystanders hissed the German emperor. One of the generals in the party was in tears when the group drove away.

Turning from war to peace so suddenly that the transition has been almost bewildering to the nations which have been embroiled in the great conflict are hastily taking stock of the situation and planning measures to meet the problems of the future, which appear to be no less serious than those of the past.

MUCH MONEY NEEDED FOR FOOD IN EUROPE

So the British Chancellor Announces on Asking for Another Large Credit; A Reduction in Loan to the Allies

By Courier Leased Wire. LONDON, Nov. 12.—In moving a vote of credit for £700,000,000 in the House of Commons today, Andrew Bonar Law, chancellor of the exchequer, said there would be a reduction in expenditure, due to the change in the military situation. Military authorities, he said, advise, however, against reducing the amount as the allies might have to bring food to Europe. Mr. Bonar Law said that everything available in connection with the manufacture of instrumentalities of war would be turned to the production of merchant ships so that there would probably be an increased expenditure under this head.

The estimated expenditure for the 202 days to October 19, was £1,411,000, but the actual disbursements amounted to £1,851,000,000. There was a reduction in loans to the allies and Dominions of £276,000, as compared with the estimate. The increase in army expenditures was £39,000,000, while the disbursement for the navy decreased £13,500,000 because of the fact that expectations as to the building of merchant ships had not been realized. There was a reduction of £30,000,000 on munitions as compared with the estimate, owing to an over-ambitious program.

LATE DESPATCHES SEEM TO CONFIRM DEATH OF CROWN PRINCE

He Was Shot and Killed by Soldiers; The Story Lacks any Official Confirmation

By Courier Leased Wire. PARIS, Nov. 12.—(Havas).—Bulletin.—The death of the crown prince is confirmed by The Hague correspondent of the German news agency at Munich, according to advices to The Matin.

LONDON, Nov. 12.—The Crown Prince Frederick William of Germany was shot and killed on Monday morning by German soldiers when trying to cross the Dutch frontier, according to Amsterdam dispatches to The Times and The Post.

THE CASE OF THE EMPEROR LONDON, Nov. 12.—Holland's hesitancy in dealing with William Hohenzollern is ascribed to the extremely indefinite state of public opinion in Holland by the Amsterdam correspondent of The Mail. He says that German revolutionary soldiers along the Dutch frontier say that they were strictly ordered to prevent the escape of the former emperor and his family into Holland.

Saturday night and shortly after 6 o'clock on Sunday morning, he said, the sound of cannon could be heard from German territory. It was reported that a fight had taken place between evolutionist and Royalist troops, and that both sides had used artillery.

BRITISH HEADQUARTERS IN FLANDERS, Nov. 13.—Havas.—The German garrison in Brussels has revolted against the non-commissioned officers, according to neutrals reaching the British lines from Brussels. Several of the officers were killed.

BEGUN EVACUATION PARIS, Nov. 13.—The Germans have begun the evacuation of Brussels. A Dunkirk dispatch to the Paris edition of The New York Herald says that King Albert and his family probably will re-enter Brussels next Friday.

IMPRESSION IN SWEDEN By Courier Leased Wire. LONDON, Nov. 12.—The revolution in Germany has made an impression upon the Swedish Socialists, who have held a manifesto which the establishment of Soldiers and Workmen's Councils everywhere as a means to establish a Socialist government, and, according to Copenhagen advices to the Exchange Telegraph Company, General demobilization of the army and an eight-hour working day are also demanded.

MUTINEERS THREATEN By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—The German troops who mutinied at the Beverloo Camp in Belgium and raised the red flag, says the Handelsblad, attacked another force, reporting the force's surrender. The force was defeated and fled to the Dutch frontier, where it was disarmed Monday.

ARRIVED AT CASTLE By Courier Leased Wire. Amsterdam, Nov. 12.—(By the Associated Press).—William Hohenzollern, former German Emperor, arrived Monday afternoon at the Castle of Amerongen, Count von Bentinck's country seat at Maars in the Province of Utrecht.

FEARS EXIST By Courier Leased Wire. Copenhagen, Nov. 12.—The new Bavarian Government has sent a message to President Wilson through Switzerland, expressing its fears that the armistice terms will bring chaos to the disordered young republic and requesting that Great Britain and Italy be asked to punish the German autocracy and military party do not deserve mercy.

RETURNED SOLDIER SANITARY INSPECTOR

Present Standing of the Victory Loan—No Reaction is Feared From War

Simcoe, Nov. 13.—(From Our Own Correspondent.)—At a meeting of the town council held last night, John Pratt, secretary of the local branch G. W. V. A., was appointed sanitary inspector. For some years this work was added to the police duties, but the arrangement proved unsatisfactory, and the conditions which came under observation during the progress of the epidemic proved conclusively that the inspector was a dead letter.

It is expected that the new arrangement will set matters to rights. Mr. Pratt will be under direction of the Board of Health. We have been advised that complaints should be made in writing and addressed to the Town Clerk, as secretary of the Board of Health. The inspector has authority to inspect premises. That will include cellars and living apartments. It is assumed and expected that among the teachers, truant officers, sanitary inspectors and Board of Health should result in a looked for clean-up. For if children must attend school, and must be kept clean in their person and habits, the infection some children endure by being daily seated with filthy seat mates can easily be put down. The sanitary inspector can get a cue to where his services are required by strolling in the vicinity of the school grounds when the children are assembling.

Hospital Equipment.
Alderman Crabb, as chairman of the hospital board, recommending that the materials on hand be stored for the present.

The report was adopted with a counter recommendation that the board submit a detailed statement of operation and finances not later than December 16th.

Reeve Carter was the only member of council present who had tripped the light fantastic on the previous evening. Other members present were Mayor Sillier, Deputy-Reeve Langford and Aldermen Crabb, Jacques and Bailie.

The committee appointed to select a suitable man for the office of sanitary inspector reported that they had no other applicant but one who had withdrawn on learning that a returned soldier had applied.

Fund Grows Slowly.
The Victory Loan advanced $55,000 yesterday. Reports came in rather late indicating that the field force was putting in a full day. The total to date is $773,450. If the total $355,556, it looks like a $200,000 job for the remaining three days.

Not of the Simcoe Type.
The young man who knocked down three silent policemen on Thursday and when reprimanded by a policeman for doing so, said that he was a returned soldier, and could do what he liked, is not of the Simcoe type of returned man, and the local G. W. V. A. do not countenance such conduct. Were the head office of firm advised of his action, he would doubtless be called to the carpet. Such discipline has been heard of. Returned soldiers are getting preference in Simcoe by the Council, the Board of Education and by other employees, when their qualifications approach those of other applicants and up to the present few have not recognized this.

No Reaction Here.
Simcoe has little to fear by way of a slump in employment during the reaction after the war. Those who struck with their job and the town will in the long run win out. We had no industrial expansion to produce war material. Any unemployed will likely be those who left town for big money outside. Some of these will doubtless return. And there is prospect for development of opportunities for these at home. There is agitation for a north school; two or three of our bridges must soon be replaced by permanent structures and some permanent roadway must be laid.

At the present there is well nigh a famine of houses and to-day men out of employment are idle from choice rather than from conditions.

Being Away with the Egg Stage
"I hope to see a new born Germany, a new born Austria-Hungary, and a new born Turkey," said one of the speakers at the armory on Monday.

A Charmed Life
Capt. D. D. Juntion—perhaps he knows, is now the only remaining officer of the staff of the original 6888th C. B. F. Months ago he was mentioned for bravery in dispatches of Sir Douglas Haig.

Sgt. Vincent C. Long, brother of Mrs. J. A. Calder, West street, was some weeks ago recommended for promotion in the services overseas. He enlisted in S. S. U. 567, U.S.A., as a private, and is now a commissioned officer in the motor transport service. The recommendation in part reads as follows: "He is a man of excellent character. He has shown marked ability in the handling of men and is familiar with army work. His experience in dispatching cars and handling convoys, his good judgment and coolness under fire would make him a valuable officer in the motor transport corps."

The young man, in a letter received here, speaks of the many orphan children in France, and relates how American officers and men are adopting them, and indeed confessing that he has adopted a dear little French child.

A well filled box of no small dimensions, containing clothing and comforts for the youngster, is now on its long journey overseas, from Simcoe, and with hands, we have inadvertently learned, assisted in the packing. "All the world's a stage."

Odd Ends of News
Delhi shouted itself hoarse on Monday. At day-break the Walsh brass band was engaged for the day.

"Never mind the price; have your autos at hand to bring the boys over." They had, and they went, and the Walsh boys went home via Simcoe, sitting in the previous few days a little after midnight. Charlotowne Centre followed the band to Delhi before Simcoe's intentions were declared.

The operation of the town by-law, coupled with the holiday proclamation, made it impossible for any one to obtain any fire crackers or other celebration necessities after seven o'clock, and it closed the fruit stores against town and country trade after that hour.

Opinion in favor of, if necessary, a six or six-thirty closing, with a Wednesday exception till 8 or 9 o'clock, is gaining ground.

Young Eagles, a fugitive for almost two years and wanted on a forgery charge, was arrested at the Niagara frontier. County Constable Art Smith was exposed home last night with the youth in charge.

Chief Cannine was considerably improved yesterday.

When S. L. King dictated the copy for his advt. in yesterday's issue, he did not expect to be down town even to-day. He was on the job early yesterday morning apparently normal again.

AMERICA TURNS INTO WAYS OF PEACE

Coming Peace Conference is Subject of Attention at Washington

By Courier Leased Wire.
Washington, Nov. 12.—America to-day turned the ways of peace. With the military strength of the central powers shattered and hostilities ceased under terms of surrender that preclude a renewal of the great struggle, the associated governments to-day took up the problems of reconstruction.

Immediately ahead diplomatic Washington saw the peace conference—the world's court of justice—before which Germany as the chief criminal with Austria, Turkey and Bulgaria will stand as prisoners at the bar. When or where the final peace negotiations will be held officials would not conjecture. Thirty days is the time allowed under the armistice terms for assembling of the peace congress. The armistice, however, includes a provision for its extension. The great interests involved, the many governments and nationalities, concerned and the difficulties to be met in convening such a conference in a short time may cause an extension of the thirty day limit. It was regarded as likely that the peace conference will be similar to the meeting at Versailles where the armistice terms were formulated. The victors meeting separately probably will decide upon terms and then the defeated will be asked to enter pleas of modification.

The United States entering the war last probably will be called upon to do much of the heavy lifting and guard duty in France and Belgium. Future events in Russia are uncertain and the small forces there may have to be augmented.

For the navy also great tasks lie ahead. The newly constructed and rapidly increasing merchant marine must not only bring the men from France but carry to France and Belgium, devastated by the war, to lands of southern Europe long unproductive through the lack of man power and even to the enemy nations food-stuffs, clothing and the means of keeping alive the war weakened population.

Food Administrator Hoover and Chairman Harley of the shipping board soon will leave to survey the situation. The American people from their plenty will be called upon to "feed Europe."

Money will be needed to bring the troops home from France and all completion of the necessary projects under way. Another loan probably will have to be floated. The great revenue bill, placing upon the American people taxes amounting to more than six billion dollars, must be passed by congress.

Industrially the change from war to peace will create as many problems as the change from peace to war.

Havre, Monday, Nov. 12.—The entrance of Belgian troops into Ghent is announced in the official statement from the Belgian war office tonight, which reports that the progress of the armies continued until the armistice came into effect. The statement reads: "Important progress by the group of armies in Flanders was stopped by the armistice. The Belgian army has entered Ghent. The second cavalry corps, going ahead of the infantry, has arrived at the River Dendre at Grammont, and established a bridgehead."

AND NOW-- Our Part!

Canada's army has Splendidly finished its share in saving civilization on the battlefield.

Now let us take up the completion of our share of the task.

Canada must still continue for a time to maintain her soldiers; must provide transportation to bring them home; must arrange for their future so that they may again become self-supporting units in a reconstructed world.

Canada must maintain prosperity at home—must continue for a time to finance the purchases of food and supplies for Great Britain and our Allies.

Canada must press forward her great ship-building programme in order that she may take her rightful place as a great sea-carrying power.

For all these things hundreds of millions of dollars will be required. To demobilize and re-establish our soldiers in civil life alone will take many millions.

Canada's Victory Loan 1918 will provide the necessary working capital.

Therefore, Canada's Victory Loan 1918 must be a great over-subscribed success.

Our part, then, is to buy Bonds and complete our great victory.

Buy Victory Bonds To Day

Getting Back Three Million Dollars

THE PAPER CONTROLLER for Canada a few weeks ago added $12 a ton to the price of news print paper—the kind used in printing the Courier. This addition, following closely upon several previous increases authorized by the Paper Controller, has meant to Canadian newspaper publishers a total increased publishing cost, in the matter of paper alone, in the past eighteen months, of three million dollars. This very considerable sum Canadian publishers must recover from their customers, their readers and advertisers.

In connection with the earlier increases the readers of many daily newspapers have been required to pay $1 or more per year for their newspapers, while the subscription price of very many weekly newspapers has been increased from 50 to 100 per cent. In many cases still further increases will be necessary.

But all the three million dollars increase in paper costs cannot be loaded on readers; some of this sum must come from the advertisers—this in the form of increased advertising rates. Advertising rates in Canada are, generally speaking, much lower per thousand in circulation than in the United States. Speaking on this point the editor of Marketing, a Canadian advertisers' newspaper published in Toronto, says in his last issue: "In meeting the Canadian publishers' calls for higher rates, advertising buyers should not fail to recognize that for years they have benefited by the publisher's undervaluation of his space, and should be the more willing on that account to recognize the present necessities." To all of which The Courier agrees.

Such action as will fulfil your duty as a citizen.

Yes, and help pay the obligation you owe to your country. And when you have answered stand erect in all your manhood—

Proud of the flag under which you live—loyal to the country you call your own—ready to help and protect to the last dollar.

To buy your quota—your equal share—is a simple duty—patriotism suggests that you do more.

If you fail Canada now—you are shifting your just burden on to another man's shoulders. Endangering the Patriotic Spirit of Canada.

Put every dollar you have saved, and can save, and every dollar you can borrow, at work—at work saving lives, and bringing our fighting men, sons, husbands, brothers, friends, home alive and victorious.

If you could not fight it's your bounden duty—your very self-prosperity demands that you lend your money to your country—

If your income is $2,500 and upwards—do not buy a couple of bonds and sit back with a look of self-satisfaction. DOUBLE your first figure. You are not giving, you are lending—at good interest—on the best security in all Canada.

WATCH VICTORY BONDS GROW.
A few years ago anything under six per cent was regarded as pretty good interest to get on money. In fact, lots of good mortgages on property, without any government security behind them, were made at five-and-a-half per cent.

That is just the rate that Victory bonds bear.
What is going to happen, when government money can be got at three per cent to your victory bond? Set aside the fact that it is not taxable for income tax, if money can be got on government security at three per cent, then a hundred-dollar victory bond is worth $183.00.

Is a Victory Bond good buying?
Ask something that is hard to answer!

TO MEET PROBLEMS OF PEACE
During the course of an interview with regard to what the Dominion Government is doing to meet the problems of peace, Sir Thomas White, acting Premier, affirmed his belief that Canada would show that she could handle new conditions just as well as she had shown her effective belligerent power. There would be considerable dislocation with regard to war industries, and the problem would be to employ that labor by an equal, or if possible, a greater output of industries supplying the materials of reconstruction, both overseas and at home.

Then there is the work of reconstruction at home, the work of bringing the railways and their equipment and systems generally up to standard. We must not hesitate to expend money freely, and the total will be very large for these purposes. This means steel rail, car and locomotive production on a vast scale. The Government is ready to proceed at once with this work of reconstruction of its own railway systems, and no doubt the other railway systems will adopt the same policy. Steps are being taken to bring the matter prominently before them.

Then there is ship-building. All the ship-building yards are filled to capacity to-day, and will be kept to full capacity with orders from the Government. For 1918-19 the Government programme of expenditure for ship-building is sixty-five million dollars.

This railway and ship-building programme should keep steel plants, car and locomotive plants, and all subsidiary industries busy for months or even years to come. The several Provincial Governments will doubtless have their own constructive programmes also. Should they require financial assistance from the Federal Government it will be forthcoming.

As to the products of our mines and forests, it would seem that there must be continuous and increasing demand for these products once overseas reconstruction is fully under way.

Apart from any action taken by the Government, Canada's energetic and enterprising business men will of course use their most earnest endeavors to obtain export trade. Too much emphasis cannot be placed upon the necessity for such individual or associated effort. The Canadian Mission in London will co-operate in obtaining overseas business as the Canadian War Mission at Washington has co-operated in obtaining business in the United States for Canadian account.

THE COAL SITUATION.
Just as European nations have found themselves in a critical situation as a result of difficulty in securing food and other necessary materials, so the provinces of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec are faced with a shortage in fuel supply which is almost as essential to them. The general causes of shortage are in both cases similar—a new situation has arisen in political relations involving labor shortage and transportation difficulties. The food crisis has been met by stimulating production, by an alleviation of the causes which were restricting the supply, and by reducing also, as far as possible, the consumption. Similar methods must be more fully applied to the present coal problem.

As regards the utilization of wood, this source is of real assistance in rural communities. We believe, with the exception of certain striking instances where municipalities have acted, that the possibilities of local relief from wood have not been adequately taken advantage of. In the United States, we understand, the Fuel Administration takes cognizance of the efforts made regarding wood when making allotments of coal. Wood, however, is an inadequate means of meeting either the present temporary exigency or the permanent fuel problem with which these provinces are faced.

With regard to stimulation of local coal production we, especially in Ontario and Quebec, can do nothing directly along these lines. We may, however, increase the development of hydro-electric power, making this available for purposes of industry and thereby release large quantities of coal for heating, for which purpose, as has been pointed out in previous articles, electricity is not economically suitable.

For the present at least, it almost appears that the combined effect of the various sources of relief just referred to cannot make up for the twenty per cent reduction that has been made in Canada's coal allotment from the United States. It is necessary, therefore, that the fullest possible efficiency must be obtained through such regulation in the actual consumption of our coal supply as can be exercised by those in charge of the Fuel Administration, whether federal, provincial or local.

There are large numbers of people in the provinces of Manitoba, Ontario and Quebec, who have their usual supply of coal and who are using it in the usual way; there are many also who, through lack of foresight or through unexpected circumstances find themselves unable to obtain any at the eleventh hour. These latter at least are greatly interested in any measures which would secure them a supply. Shall we have to rely, as in the case of the SWEET SLEEP — "Insomnia" wants to know "what cure is there for sleeplessness?" This is a question more for a medical man than for one who only prescribes for the maladies of the soul. I advise you to consult your family physician. If your sleeplessness is caused by worry or anxiety, I can give you a remedy which is a perfect cure. Cultivate the companionship of the Christ, exercise faith in God, and your mental troubles will be things of the past. Christ is a cure for worry, doubt, and anxious care.

TOO SENSITIVE — "A Friend" states, "I appear to be snubbed by the members of my church, what is the best thing for me to do?" It is possible that you are the victim of suspicion and that no person does snub you. If, however, what you say is actually so, it is possible that there are those who think you are not worthy of friendly recognition. I advise you to take stock of yourself and see whether my surmise is founded on fact. If you are living right, and have the approval of your conscience, you may safely disregard the way people treat you.

NOTES AND COMMENTS
Instead of a scepter, all that now remains to William Hohenzollern is a sceptre.
Whether or no the Crown Prince has been shot, his ambitions certainly live, and all to pieces at that.
Seventy-five thousand dollars at one theatre, assemblage is certainly some going.
Only three more days now in which to do your share in the matter of Victory Bonds.
The chances are that the Kaiser's moat will be taken up and used as a drop instead of that force upward twist.

TO THE EDITOR
OF THE COURIER
Dear Sir—If I may, I would like to make a suggestion to the Mayor, through the press. We have just celebrated the glorious results of our four years and half of warfare waged against the cruellest despot that ever lived, and have conquered, whoso we are glad. I am sure a memorial card presented by the city council to everyone of Brantford and Brant county who has lost a relative in the fight with these words: "He fought for a clean principle. He died faithfully fighting with clean hands." I think it would be appreciated by us all, especially by those who fought by their side.

Yours humbly,
W. G. BLAND.
Returned Soldier.
P.S.—Probably some more suitable epitaph could be thought of.

WAR'S COST TO CANADA OVER ONE TRILLION

Official Estimate Places the Total Expenditure at $1,100,000,000

MORE EXPENSE YET Ottawa Now Grappling with Machinery of Military Service Act.

By Courier Leased Wire

Ottawa, Nov. 12.—The cost of the war to Canada in money is expected to be at least $1,100,000,000. Up to the end of last month war accounts, which had actually passed through the Finance Department totaled approximately $1,045,844,000.

Considerable expenditure arising from the war will continue after the conclusion of peace. For the present fiscal year expenditure of the pension branch was estimated at approximately fifteen millions. That of the department of soldiers civil re-employment at twelve millions.

Plans Re. M. S. A. Considerable dealing with the complex organization built up around the military service act are to be taken up during the next few days. For a week or so no additional draftees have been required to report for service and the signing of the armistice precludes the necessity for any further calls under the act, but a complex organization for the administration of the act has been built up in every military district. In addition, there is the headquarters organization of the military service branch in Ottawa, and the large staff of the central appeal court. These come within the jurisdiction of the Department of Justice. There is also the staff of the military service policy under the department of militia engaged in the enforcement of the act.

COUNCIL MEETING. The postponed meeting of the city council, postponed because of the proclaimed public holiday, will be held to-night, when several important matters will be discussed.

AN INVITATION. Because the time is short in which Brantford must reach its objective of $3,600,000 in the Victory Loan, 1918, it is possible that some of our citizens may be missed by the hand of canvassers. To those an invitation is extended to call or communicate with Campaign Headquarters, or to communicate with either Messrs. A. K. Bunnell or A. E. Watts. The committee are anxious that everyone shall have an opportunity of taking part in the loan.

TELEGRAM SENT. Mayor McBride this morning sent the following telegram to the National Council of Women executive, which is in session in Toronto: To Mrs. Santore.

Wilson Sends Reassuring Word

In Reply to the Appeal From the German Chancellor

By Courier Leased Wire.

Burlington, Washington, Nov. 12.—President Wilson has sent a reassuring message to the people of Germany in reply to the appeal from Chancellor Ebert. He promises to aid Germany in the matter of food supplies and in relieving distressing want.

The reply was sent to-day by Secretary Lansing through Minister Sulzer of Switzerland, who delivered yesterday's Ebert's request for intervention by the President to mitigate the "fearful conditions" threatened through enforcement of the armistice terms. It says steps are to be taken at once to organize relief work in the same systematic manner it was carried out in Belgium, but that the President desires to be assured that public order will be maintained in Germany and that an equitable distribution of food can be clearly guaranteed.

FORMER WAR LORD MADE INGLOURIOUS ENTRY TO HOLLAND

Changed General's Uniform for Civilian Attire at Dutch Frontier

HOOTED BY BELGIANS

By Courier Leased Wire
London, Nov. 12.—William Hohenzollern, the former German Emperor, arrived Sunday at Count Bentinck's Chateau of Middeltun at Velp, near Antwerp, according to a despatch to the Daily Express, dated Sunday at Velp.

An Amsterdam despatch to the Daily Express, dated Sunday, says that the former German Emperor is ill at Potsdam, near Berlin, and that the former German Crown Prince is at her bedside.

The despatch from Velp says that an automobile containing two members of the German court arrived first and notified Count Bentinck of the approach of the former Emperor.

The former German Emperor made an inglorious entry into Holland, according to reports from Eindhoven. At 7.30 o'clock Sunday morning ten travel-stained automobiles, driven by Prussian officers, were seen coming slowly through the fog along the Vise-Maastrecht high road. The last Belgian village of Molend, which is almost on the border line, was still asleep. The noise of the motors brought out a crowd of curious villagers.

The former ruler of Germany was dressed in the uniform of a general with an officers' cap and carried a sword. The erstwhile martial figure was huddled and bent on walking stick, while his eyes stared straight ahead.

The Dutch frontier guards stopped the cortege. After some brief formalities the automobiles were conducted to the railway station at Milsden. Dutch cavalry and military cyclists formed a cordon about the station. Crowds of Belgian refugees swarmed around the station crying:

"Ahns gullamme. Assassin!"

An imperial train arrived at the station at four later. It consisted of fourteen cars and William Hohenzollern, who had walked up and down the railway platform entered the train and changed to civilian clothes.

Arrangements for the reception of the Germans were made by General van Heutz, aide de camp to Queen Wilhelmina, who went to German headquarters last week.

TROUBLE IN ST. JOHN.
By Courier Leased Wire
St. John, Nov. 12.—A peace celebration almost came to an untimely end this morning when the Dominion bonded warehouse on Shay street, wherein is stored all the liquor seized under the prohibition act in New Brunswick was broken into. The building was guarded by two liquor inspectors. A crowd of 500 stormed the place, demolishing the plate glass windows with stones and fired revolver shots. The inspectors within were compelled to use their guns and several shots were fired, at first in the air, but later through one boy's hat. When the noise and military pickets arrived the crowd dispersed.

Today there is a public holiday with organized celebration.

He Finished the Bulgars

If the war were to end to-morrow or if it were to continue for years the fame of some few generals is secure. It has been left to only a very few of them to have triumphantly completed the great tasks entrusted to them; and to have done so in a manner plain to the world which cannot be misrepresented by the envious. Others whom future historians may set high in the list of great leaders are for the time being under a cloud. For instance, Sir Ian Hamilton is no longer active, and his conduct of the Gallipoli campaign has been much criticized, although if we are to accept the judgment of John Masefield, Hamilton and the troops under him performed deeds on the Gallipoli peninsula that have never been equalled in the history of warfare. Gen. Gough, too, after three years of brilliant leadership in this war, has been relieved of his command, and it remains for a court to determine whether the partial and temporary collapse of the British fifth army was due to its commander's negligence.

Among the very few who have gloriously completed the task assigned them is Gen. Franchet d'Esperey, who led the Allied army that forced Bulgaria into complete surrender, a triumph that seems to overshadow the withdrawal of Turkey, in which case we shall not hesitate to include in these select band of victorious generals Gen. Sir Edmund Allenby. For almost three years the Allied army based on Salonica remained comparatively inactive. It was commanded by Gen. Sarrail, who has been suspected by being less than lukewarm in the war, and upon whose conduct a court-martial may pronounce. While it is to be admitted that the inactivity of the Allied army at Salonica was partly due to the doubtful and dangerous state of affairs in Greece, yet after the Grecian question was settled, Sarrail's forces remained as though glued to the mud, and many of us had long forgotten that there was a large and well-equipped Allied army facing the Bulgars.

We were reminded of it when, eight weeks after Gen. d'Esperey had landed at Salonica, the army suddenly moved forward and then achieved the victory of Vardar. There was another brief lull, and then after a 15 days' campaign Bulgaria was beaten to her knees, and her armies, threatened with extermination, had no choice but to throw down their arms. The Bulgarians are no such dogged fighters as the Germans, but they had defenses that were considered impregnable, and confident in the natural strength of their positions, they undertook to defend a wider front than the number of their troops warranted, especially when faced by such a strategist as d'Esperey. His achievement is not to be disparaged, and those who are inclined to think that he won a cheap victory ought to look over his career. They will be convinced that if d'Esperey is lucky, he is lucky in the same sense as Sir Douglas Haig is lucky.

The man who has to his credit the most decisive victory in the war had long ago won the first important victory over a German army of any Allied general. This was at Charleroi, where both the French and the British were beaten back by superiority of numbers. D'Esperey was in charge of the First Army Corps, and on August 21 and 22, 1914, when the battle was raging, he was holding the bridges on the Meuse at no great distance from Namur. On the evening of the 23rd his troops charged, but the battle had already been decided and the Allies were retreating. It became his duty to protect the right flank of the Anglo-French armies. Stephen Lausanne, editor of Le Matin, writes in the New York Times: "Attacking the Saxons, who were pressing closely upon him, he threw them into disorder and drove back to the Meuse an enemy division which had succeeded in crossing the river. So furious an attack was not to be withstood by the Saxons, and they stood that night and all the next day as though hypnotized and permitted the French forces to pass unimpeded." One result of this victory was that Gen. von Hansen was struck from the German army list.

It also brought d'Esperey the command of a whole army. At the Marne, when Joffre gave his order that there was to be no retreat, d'Esperey was probably the first of the French generals to attack. He drove a wedge between Kluck and Buslow, took Esternay at the point of the bayonet and, on the 8th, defeated Montmirail over a mountain of German dead. He had made the first breach in the German wall. His name, as M. Lausanne says, is associated with all the great offensives of the war—Somme, Champagne, Aisne, and his final exploit against the Bulgars shows that no better leader of the Salonica army could have been chosen. D'Esperey is said to be of the stur that commands victory. He is a tremendous worker, and knows how to drive his staff to the limit of its powers. With the private soldier he knows how to speak the kindly, jovial word at the proper moment, and in consequence there are few chiefs as popular as he. D'Esperey is still young and seems destined to go forward to more victories as long as there is an enemy to face him.

Big Bertha.
Big Bertha is the name given to a type of large shell first used by the Germans against the British in Flanders. The name is derived from that of Bertha Krupp, the principal owner of the great Krupp iron and steel manufacturing plants in Essen.

FRENCH CHAMBER CHEERED TIDINGS

Rejoicing Over Allied Victory was Virtually Unanimous

By Courier Leased Wire
Paris, Nov. 11.—The Chambers of Deputies has seldom displayed such unanimity as it did to-day in cheering each article of the German armistice terms as it was read by Premier Clemenceau. As soon as the Premier had read a clause the entire chamber jumped to its feet and cheered. Generally, the tumult was so great that the voice of the "Tiger" was lost in uproar. Only once or twice were there purposeful interruptions by the Socialists.

After reading the conditions, the Premier excused himself from making a lengthy address, but said:

"In the name of the people of France and in the name of the government of France let us salute Alsace-Lorraine."

There was prolonged cheering, after which the premier added, feelingly:

"Let us honor the great army who died."

Tears came to the eyes of most of those in the chamber—tears for the memory of the dead and tears for the powerful reaction of the moment. Deputies from Alsace-Lorraine who had been in France since 1914, and some of whom had fought with the French army, were enthusiastically cheered as they presented themselves in the gallery.

The diplomatic gallery was filled and among those present were the Earl of Derby, the British ambassador, United States Ambassador Sharp and the ambassadors from Spain and Italy. There was a full house of deputies and the only empty seats were those marked by the tricolor and crepe which designated the sacrifice of a member who had given his life in the service of his country. While the session was in progress a battery of 75's maintained a steady cannonade in celebration of the victory from its position along the Seine.

REDUCE INSURANCE RATES.

By Courier Leased Wire
Washington, Nov. 12.—Treasury advisers to-day recommended to Secretary McAdoo that war risk insurance rates on hulls, cargoes and sea-men's lives be reduced 75 per cent. This means that rates on hulls and their cargoes through the former war zone will be reduced from two to one half of one per cent, with other rates cut accordingly. Secretary McAdoo is expected to approve the suggestion immediately. Treasury officials explained that although the submarine has been abandoned risk still exists on account of floating mines and the possibility that some submarines may run amuck.

SHIPBUILDING NOT AFFECTED.

By Courier Leased Wire
Philadelphia, Rev. 12.—Signing of the armistice will not affect the government's shipbuilding program, according to Charles M. Schwab, director-general of the emergency fleet corporation.

"The continuation of the program," said Mr. Schwab, "will be the biggest factor in tidying over the period between war reduction and peace conditions. The situation will soon adjust itself, however, but the whole labor problem will straighten out automatically as the readjustment goes on."

More Business More Traffic!

WAR-TIME conditions have given the telephone a larger and more important job.

During the period 1914-1917, the number of telephone calls has increased 85 per cent., the number of telephones increased 28 per cent., and the number of calls per telephone has appreciably increased.

Telephone facilities have been more widely used and used to better advantage, and this required more skilful operation and a larger force of telephone workers. The telephone subscriber has made more intensive use of his telephone, partly because he has more important uses for it, and partly because he has been able to reach a greater number of people.

The rush of traffic has sometimes caused temporary delay, but on the whole the subscriber has been getting more telephone service for his money. Moreover his money has been less valuable to us because it would not buy as much material or labor as in peace time.

We want merely to earn enough so that with strict economy we can pay our bills and properly take care of both workers and shareholders.

How Many Crowns for Your Honor Flag?

Of course every city, town and district will earn its Honor Flag.

But how about the crowns?

For every twenty-five per cent. in excess of its quota, each city, town and district will be entitled to add a crown to its flag.

Can you do fifty per cent. better than your quota—that means two crowns for your Honor Flag.

But double your quota and it means four crowns.

Hang a flag in your hall, that for years to come will show that your city, town or district did better than well—

THE WIFE

BY JANE PHELPS, AUTHOR OF "MARGARET GARRETT'S HUSBAND," AND OTHER NOTABLE STORIES.

Brian suggests that Mollie be his teacher.

CHAPTER LXXIII.

When Mollie had asked Brian to come and see her often, she was not thinking so much of the pleasure his visits would give her, as of the happiness she might perhaps give him. He was lonely, unhappily married. She liked him, why shouldn't she make up to him for all he had missed by marrying a woman who was, to say the least, not congenial? It meant giving him a little of her time, in return for which she spent a pleasant evening, and—had a good dinner. Mollie's income was such that the prospect of a good dinner which cost her nothing, was welcome even when it did not also mean the society of the best looking fellow she knew.

It seemed to Mollie that the fault must be all Ruth's. Who couldn't get along with such a boy as Brian? All he asked for was sympathy and understanding. So she figured. He was so generous, too. Why, if he would let him, he would take her to the most expensive places in town. But, to be truthful, Mollie enjoyed the village environment far more than that to be found North of Washington Square. In the village they knew everyone. It was rather jolly to show them that Brian had not forgotten her entirely, simply because he had married. Up-town she scarcely ever saw anyone whom she knew, and Brian had not explained to her that that was the reason he so often proposed leaving the village purlieu.

Mollie had gradually urged Brian to tell her of his business. She was ambitious. She told him she was ambitious for him. She made him promise to work hard, to study whenever he could. She even went so far, in her attempt to encourage him to greater effort, as to offer to read dry law books out loud with him when he complained he couldn't fix his mind upon what he read after five o'clock.

Temperament, Brian. That is what your wife doesn't understand in you, and I do. It is one reason you like to come down here.

Brian laughed. The thought of temperament in connection with Ruth's conventionality, was amusing.

"Then, too," Mollie went on, "she's had so much, that poverty is a sort of nightmare to her. That's the reason she went to work, I imagine. While you and I have become accustomed to it. We have learned to express in expensive furniture and fashionable clothes—in exotic flowers for the table and expert cooks in the kitchen. The two worlds are as far apart as the poles, Brian."

"I like the old world best," he retorted, neither of them appreciating they were talking insidious propaganda. Propaganda tending to break up a home.

"Frankly, so do I. It seems to me we get more out of life when we are not wrapt up in convention. It doesn't take much to make us happy, and—"

"A loaf of bread and thou," Brian quoted dreamily.

"Half a loaf sometimes," Mollie returned.

"Say, Mollie, I need a stenographer. I use Clark's now, but it looks better to have one of my own. You don't know of someone I could get to come to me for part of the day, do you? Someone who wouldn't want too big a salary?"

"How would I do, Brian? I am a good typist, and can type very fast. My stenography is bum. But if your letters were well written, I should think that might do for now. If you don't talk too fast, I can take them on the machine nearly as fast as you can dictate." Then, "Why haven't you learned to type them yourself, you lazy boy?"

"It would be awfully jolly having you in the office, Mollie, but I'm afraid I shouldn't get any work done. I'd be thinking of you all the time. That isn't a bad idea of yours about learning to use a typewriter myself. It would save me making me independent also. I tell you what I'll do. You teach me to use the machine. I'll come here." He had a feeling that Ruth might object to Mollie in his office.

"You'd be a long time learning that way, Brian. You could only come when you were a grass widow."

"I'd like to know why I could not go to the office, if I wished to."

Ruth will be pleased that I am anxious to do something to push my work—no matter what it is."

Mollie smiled a little, inscrutable smile. She had sensed at once that Brian had no idea of telling Ruth that her apartment was to be the schoolhouse in which he was to learn to use a typewriter.

"Women are naturally very ambitious for those they love. But—"

"Don't you begin to talk that way, too! Business success isn't everything. A good, comfortable home means as much to a man as a successful business. At least it does to some men."

THAT FLU COUGH

You are pretty apt to have a cough that is inclined to linger after the Flu.

The system now needs a remedy for that cough, and a tonic as well. The best preparation for this condition is Nyal's Tasteless Cod Liver Oil with Hypophosphites, Wild Cherry and Cresote. This preparation is not a cure-all like a great many other preparations, but a definite specific for lingering coughs and a tendency towards lung and bronchial trouble. This preparation fortifies the system, increases appetite, and improves the general condition.

To His Majesty, the King:

They desire to join their voices in the great hymn of thanksgiving, which ascends from all quarters of the earth to-day, and which we gratefully receive. They earnestly pray that Divine Providence may guide the deliberations and prosperous labors of your Majesty's counsellors in the great work of reconstruction which they are about to approach with the victory of the President of the United States."

"The Government and people of Canada send greetings to the victors of this great occasion, when we together celebrate the triumph of justice and liberty over the forces of tyranny and oppression which sought to enslave the world. They are filled with admiration at the magnitude of the accomplishments of the people of the United States in the prosecution of the war, and wish to praise at the thought that your soldiers should have so distinguished themselves as to have contributed in no small degree to the great and glorious victory which we mutually celebrate to-day."

A MYSTERY

Mrs. Newedd—Why, yes.

Newedd—Then I can't understand why your father went on so when I took you away from him.

A WORD OF WARNING

"Blinks, I want you to give me a little friendly advice."

"All right, but remember I don't stand ready to back it up with any money."

SUCH AN IDEA

"That's an engine boiler," the foreman told the young lady visiting the locomotive works.

"And why do they boil engines?" she innocently inquired.

"To make the engine tender," said the foreman.

A LARGE ORDER

"So," sobbed Ilma Vladofevitch-skiofky. "Ivan Ninesopoff died in battle. You say he uttered my name as he was dying."

"Part of it," replied the returned soldier, "part of it."

TOO MUCH SO

"A police cop isn't all grim and sordid," remarked Judge White the other day. "Sometimes something really funny happens. Not so very long ago a chauffeur was brought in after having run down a man."

"Didn't you know that man you struck this pedestrian he would be seriously injured? Why didn't you zig-zag?"

"He was zig-zagging himself and outgassed me, your Honor," was the answer.

SENSE RETURNING TO HIM

"I see the papers say now that the Kaiser is almost distracted."

"If that's true, his condition must be improving. He went clean daffy four years ago."

SLIM

"What chance has he to win out?"

"About the same chance a German salesman will have to sell goods in Canada after the war."

THEIR OPINION

A jury met recently to inquire into a case of suicide. After sitting through the evidence the 12 men retired, and after deliberating, returned with the following verdict:

"The jury are all of one mind—temporarily insane!"

CHANGED HIS MIND

"I used to think Dubwette was a man of few words."

"What caused you to change your opinion?"

"I happened to be sitting near him at the baseball park the other day when the umpire made a rank decision in favor of the visiting team."

Famous Old Recipe for Cough Syrup

Early and cheaply made at home, but it beats them all for quick results.

Thousands of housewives have found that they can save four-fifths of the money usually spent for cough preparations, by using this well-known old recipe for making cough syrup at home. It is simple and cheap to make, but it really has no equal for prompt results. It takes right hold of a cough and gives immediate relief, usually stopping an ordinary cough in 24 hours or less.

Get 3/4 ounce of Pinex (50 cents worth) from any drugstore, pour it into a 16-oz. bottle, and add plain granulated sugar syrup to make 16 ounces. If you prefer, use clarified molasses, honey, or corn syrup, instead of sugar syrup. Either way, it tastes good, keeps perfectly, and lasts a family a long time. It's truly astonishing how quickly it acts, penetrating through every air passage of the throat and lungs—loosens and raises the phlegm, soothes and heals the membranes, and gradually but surely the annoying throat tickle and dreaded cough disappear entirely. Nothing better for bronchitis, spasmodic croup, whooping cough or bronchial asthma.

Pinex is a special and highly concentrated compound of genuine Norway pine extract, known the world over for its healing effect on the membranes.

Avoid disappointment by asking your druggist for "3/4 ounce of Pinex" with full directions and don't accept anything else. Guaranteed first absolute satisfaction or money promptly refunded. The Pinex Co., Toronto, Ont.

By Courier Leased Wire.

Paris, Nov. 8.—(Delayed)—A general insurrection has broken out in Montenegro, the Temps says.

The Austrian forces of occupation have withdrawn from Montenegro and it is probable that the reported insurrection may be a conflict between elements of the Montenegrin population to gain control pending the return of the Montenegrin Government, which has been in France since early in 1916.

MEMORIAL SERVICE TO BRANTFORD'S HERO DEAD

Memory of Those Who Have Given Their Lives Honored Last Night—Brantford Must do Her Duty by Dependents Left Behind

"Almighty God, we thank Thee for our splendid men; we thank Thee that they were ready to leave their homes and to go across the sea to fight for the principles of right and justice. Take unto Thee, we pray, all those who have made the supreme sacrifice, and make us worthy of them. We ask it in His name who gave His life to redeem us spiritually as these men have given theirs to redeem us in a civic and political sense."

Overshadowing the fresh glow of triumph and the rejoicing which is in every heart, a note of doleful gravity was sounded in the memories last night, where upwards of five hundred people assembled in a solemn service of commemoration for Brantford's hero dead during the war. Touching tributes to the valor of the departed heroes who have given their all were delivered by all the speakers of the evening, and to every heart in the gathering was brought home a message of anguish at the memory of those who lie beneath a foreign soil.

"In Flanders fields the poppies grow, Between the crosses, row on row, That mark their place."

During the earlier moments of the meeting, the Salvation Army band rendered a number of patriotic and religious selections while the members of the G.W.V.A. led in the singing of a number of popular choruses. After the speakers of the evening had taken their places on the platform, Mayor MacBride introduced Ven. Archdeacon MacKenzie, the dean of the clergymen of Brantford, who then led in prayer.

J. H. Spence, the first speaker, pointed out the fact that he had been Mayor of Brantford when war was declared. He recalled the stirring events connected with the memorable 4th of August, quoting the King's historic message to the fleet: "Search out and destroy the enemy." On that fateful night Brantfordites had cheered themselves hoarse, not realizing the terrible sacrifices of men and money which would be necessary before victory could be attained. Brantford had just reason for pride in her war record. Her men had responded nobly to every call from the very outset; one out of every eleven of the city's white population had volunteered for service. Every patriotic appeal had been met; the local Patriotic Fund had never had to draw on the central fund for support, and had at present on hand sufficient funds to carry on until next July, by which time it could be hoped that all Brantford men might be returned. The officials of the Fund had done their best to administer the fund, declared the speaker; they had made unavoidable mistakes but had always acted to the utmost of their ability.

"I rejoice with the citizens of Brantford that this terrible war has been brought to a successful conclusion," stated Mr. Spence in closing. "I trust the people of this city will not forget in the days to come, that while we have the privilege of cheering and rejoicing, the great burden of the war has been borne by the men overseas. Let us never forget that a great many brave lads will never return but they have left someone behind them, and let us see that those left will never want, but that the deep debt of gratitude we owe our dead may be repaid in some measure to their families and dependents."

Mayor MacBride, "The pledges and promises made on August 4, 1914, will be lived up to by me, and, I trust, by every successor to my office," declared Mayor MacBride, who occupied the chair. The present meeting has been called to bring home to all of us one of the more serious aspects of the war; to commemorate the dead, those men sleeping in distant graves.

"To my mind," declared His Worship "there have been two great events in the history of the world; the day on which our Redeemer died for us on Calvary, and the day on which the armistice was signed on the western front, when the forces of Christianity and civilization triumphed over brute force and kaiserism."

The Mayor went on to recall the manner in which Moses had been hampered in his mission to free the Jews, by the popular worship of the Golden Calf of Mammon. Christ came to earth to give us His religion, to lead a life of self sacrifice. A repetition of the worship of the golden calf stood between Christ and His desire. The allied forces were today victorious after four years and three months of fighting for the greatest moral issue which a nation ever espoused. "Are we going to live up to those issues for which our men fought and died?" demanded His Worship. "Are we going to be true to the principles to which we are committed, or are we to continue to worship the golden calf? We must be true to ourselves and to our boys; let us see that Canada in the future is developed along lines of service to the people, and that she becomes, not a commercialized nation but a great land free and open as a home to all."

Rev. G. C. Oke, pastor of Alexandra Church, who has seen chapel service in France, was the next speaker called upon. "The British lion has again triumphed," declared Mr. Oke in opening. "Britannia has safely ridden the storm. But there is a note of sadness in our rejoicing, when we think of our men who will never come back to us, whose faces we shall never see again, whose poppy-colored graves are distributed over France and Belgium. They saw their duty, they realized what lay before them. Think of Ypres, Vimy, Lens, Hill 70, Arras, Cambrai, Mons! Who can then say that Canadians have not done their duty."

Every Canadian who died had fought bravely and given his life willingly. They had all been anxious to see their homes and loved ones again, but were willing, if it were God's will, to give their lives for the cause of freedom. Canada could never repay those men for their sacrifices, but we could repay their memory and care for those they left behind. Monuments would be built, tablets erected, in honor of the fallen, but Canada could do more by producing a race of men and women who would so live as to carry out the principles for which their forefathers had given their lives, and to make Canada a great free nation founded on the laws of universal brotherhood. In conclusion the Rev. Mr. Oke asked his audience to stand with bowed heads while he offered a prayer for the hero dead.

Rev. G. C. MacKenzie, Ven. Archdeacon MacKenzie recounted revelations made by loyal Americans, of German birth, of the Kaiser's plans for after the war. Canada, Australia, all parts of the British Empire were to be divided into farms for German noblemen. "I and my people have been selected by God to conquer the world and to impose on it the Kultur of Germany," the Kaiser had boasted. The war had been necessary "to teach the world what the German people were really made of. It was hard to believe that any nation could so far lose the instincts of humanity as the enemy had done, could even deny the fundamental truths of Christ. The Kaiser had started out to conquer and enslave the world, and the result was one of the greatest tragedies history had ever known. Through the Allies God had wrought deliverance to the oppressed peoples of Central Europe, and had turned evil into good. The Holy Land had been wrested from the domination of the Turk. Great Britain and the Allies had made themselves witnesses unto the truth and mercy of Almighty God.

Lieut. Hugh M. Bell, a veteran of the 114th Battalion, was next called upon.

"The words which have been spoken here to-night," declared Lieut. Bell, "awaken in my mind a train of memories of those who are gone. Memories both grave and gay, but to-night the grave predominates. He went on to pay a tribute to the men with whom he had served in France, declaring them the truest comrades an officer could have had. He regaled his hearers with several humorous incidents from the firing line, all related with quaint humor and striking delivery. Pasting then to the subject of the Victory Loan, he appealed to the audience to make it a peace loan instead of a war loan. Peace meant a new start in life, when all the rack and wreck of war could be left behind, and unless Canada was in a position to step into effect some practical scheme of industry, she would not only have sent her men forth to fight for the cross, but would be bringing them back to bear it. "Give until you feel the pinch," the speaker urged. He delivered a plea for consideration for the returned men. Their nerves were often shattered, and their viewpoint of life distorted, and they were very happy to get back to the happy little nothings which make up every day life. A good soldier, declared Lieut. Bell, must make a good citizen."

W. G. Raymond, "Most of our men have done the khaki; some have scars to show for it, some have medals," declared W. G. Raymond. "We at home have nothing to show for what we have done except victory bonds." The speaker admitted that he could hardly control his feelings when the first news of peace was flashed over the wires. In the hour of triumph we must not fail to give thanks to God, the giver of all victories. Mr. Raymond quoted the song of Miriam, beginning "Sound the loud timbrel o'er Egypt's dark sea, Jehovah hath triumphed. His people are free. Germany had boastfully raised the slogan of 'Weltmacht oder Niedergang,' world power or destruction, and she had got the latter, and got it properly."

Mr. Raymond paid an eloquent tribute to the memory of the fallen heroes. "All honor and all glory to them" he declared. "We love Tommy Atkins more to-day than ever because of his sacrifice." Every Canadian should show his pride in the only tangible form, by buying a Victory Bond, if it were only to keep as a memento of victory. Mr. Raymond brought cheers from his hearers by announcing that $75,000 had been raised at a rally in the Brant theatre.

"We subscribed the money which sent our men away," he exclaimed, "and by God we'll subscribe the money which will bring them back."

He continued his appeal while several returned soldiers circulated cards through the audience. Mr. A. K. Bunnell joined in exhorting the gathering to buy bonds and before the meeting had come to a close upward of $2,000 had been subscribed.

LONDONERS KEPT UP CELEBRATION

Were Still at it Late Last Night

By Courier Leased Wire
London, Nov. 12.—Yesterday's celebration overflowed into to-day and continued far into to-night. The people of London revelled in the luxury of lighted streets after living four years in a city of dismal gloom. The main thoroughfares were crowded with singing and dancing youths. Motor cars were hefted and packed with soldiers and girls, cheering and blowing horns. Long lines of people stood before theatres and restaurants. The crowds were bustling with good nature and were orderly. There was remarkably little drunkenness.

DISCRIMINATION ALLEGED.
By Courier Leased Wire
Washington, Nov. 13.—Footmaster-General Burleson was asked to-day by the War Labor Board to give early consideration to complaints of employees of the Western Union and Postal Telegraph companies of discrimination by the wire board and wage commission of the Postoffice Department.

Even More Bitter Towards the Huns Than the Soldiers

By Courier Leased Wire
Belgian Headquarters, Nov. 11.—(By the Associated Press)—"The war is over," was the expression heard everywhere in re-occupied Belgium to-day. The abdication and subsequent flight of the German Emperor was received without alacrity or enthusiasm, but the news of the unconditional acceptance of Marshal Foch's conditions was greeted by the people and the soldiers with relief and satisfaction.

The civilian population is more bitter toward the Germans than are the soldiers who fought the enemy and execution are heard among the civilians, while the soldiers grin softly and say: "The war is over."

Columbia Grafonola

Which Columbia Will You Buy?

You have decided to buy a Columbia Grafonola for your home. We are glad.

It is a decision you are not likely to regret, for among musical families the Columbia Grafonola has always proved the most permanently satisfactory of instruments.

There remains the selection of the right Columbia model for your family. Here, we believe, we can give you one comforting assurance. You will get your full money's worth whatever Columbia you choose.

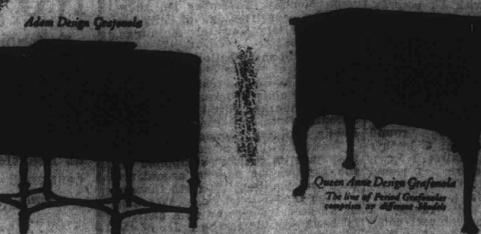

Every Columbia Grafonola gives you the utmost in volume and quality of tone, in grace and beauty of design, in richness of finish, in skill of workmanship, in convenience and dependability of mechanism. This is as true of the handsome, sweet-toned, portable models as it is of the exquisitely carved, velvet-voiced Period designs.

The way to be sure of selecting the right Grafonola is to hear and see and judge them all. Any Columbia dealer will be glad to have you play any record on any Grafonola, whenever you like and as often as you want. That is the surest way to tell.

Tone is a test for the ear, not for the eye. It cannot be argued in type. It must be tested. Go to the nearest Columbia dealer and make this final and conclusive test.

Columbia Grafonolas are priced at $30 up to $3000.

PUT CREAM IN NOSE AND STOP CATARRH

Tells How to Open Clogged Nostrils and End Head-Colds.

You feel fine in a few moments. Your cold in head or catarrh will be gone. Your clogged nostrils will open. The air passages of your head will clear and you can breathe freely. No more dullness, headache, no sneezing, sniffing, mucous discharges or dryness; no struggling for breath at night.

Tell your druggist you want a small bottle of Ely's Cream. Apply a little of this fragrant, antiseptic cream in your nostrils, let it penetrate through every air passage of the head; soothe and heal the swollen, inflamed mucous membrane and relief comes instantly. It is just what every cold and ear-ache sufferer needs. Don't stay snuffed up and miserable.
