medy for Bad Legs, Old Wounds, Sores, and Ulcers, of however long standing.
For Bronchitis, Diphtheria, Coughs, Colds, Gout, Rheumatism, and all Skin Diseases it is no equal.

BEWARE OF AMERICAN COUNTERFEITS

I most respectfully take leave to call the attention of the Public generally to the fact, that certain Houses in New York are sending to many parts of the globe SPURIOUS IMITATIONS of my Pills and Ointment. These frauds bear on their labels some address in New York.

I do not allow my medicines to be sold in any part of the United States, I have no Agents there. My Medicines are only made by me, at 533 Oxford Street London.

In the books of directions affixed to the spurious make is a caution, warning the Public against being deceived by counterfeits. Do not be misled by this audacious trick, as they are the counterfeits they pretend to denounce.

These counterfeits are purchased by unprincipled Vendors at one half the price of my Pills and Ointment, and are sold to you as my genuine medicines.

I most earnestly appeal to that sense of justice which I feel sure I may venture upon asking from all honorable persons, to assist me, and the Public, as far as may lie in their power, in denouncing this shameful fraud.

Each Pot and Box of the Genuine Medicines, bears the British Government Stamp, with the words "HOLLO-WAY'S PILLS AND OINTMENT, LONDON" enraved thereon. On the label is the address, 533, OXFORD STREET, LONDON.
Where alone they are manufactured.
Holloway's Pills and Ointment bearing any other address are counterfeits.

The Trade Marks of these Medicines are registered in Ottawa. Hence, any one throughout the British Possessions, who may keep the American Counterfeits for sale, will be prosecuted.

Signed THOS HOLLOWAY

NEWS PER MAIL.

The Chilean Admiral, Riveros, it is said, has announced his intention to bombard Lima, and has notified the diplomatic body in that capital to that effect. The notification also conveyed to the foreign Ministers the intimation that the Pacific Steam Navigation Company's steamers would be permitted to enter Callao harbor up to the 8th inst. and receive all foreign families or women and children, who desired to fly from the doomed city.
From certain portions of the adjacent coast no doubt Lima can be reached by the artillery of the Chilean fleet, the distance in a straight line not being more than four to four and a half miles from the centre of the city to the depth of ten fathoms of water. Its destruction is therefore a mere question of time, even without the assistance of a land force.

The number of long-range guns which the Chileans have at command is small, however, and the work of seriously injuring the city at the distance stated will be exceedingly tedious. The Chilean admiral has a ready threatened that Lima, when taken, will be given up to destruction and the savages of the Chilean troops, as were Moledo and Arica, because, as he states, the Chilean officers cannot restrain their men. The Peruvians are preparing to give their women and children refuge in the city, and a beautiful little town situated beyond the immediate vicinity of the city, and great activity is shown in its preparation for the large increase of population which it will accommodate.

In view of the critical state of affairs existing in Lima, the Dictator, Pichon has decreed that every man between sixteen and sixty years of age, excepting the clergy and the metals of the profession and a few employers of the Government offices, has to present himself in uniform and to drill every day.
All places of business are to be closed from 10 a.m. until 2 p.m. Those who do not comply with this order will immediately be sent to join the active army.
All foreigners are invited to form themselves into corps to maintain order and protect property in the event of the city being left at any time without the usual guardians of the peace. No inhabitant of the province of Lima is allowed to go beyond its limits without a passport.

An official telegram dated Lima, July 4, received via Pata, states that the Chilian transport Amazonas was on the day previous blown up by a torpedo in Callao Bay and sunk immediately. In the absence of any particulars there seems to be a reasonable doubt as to the ill-fated vessel being the Amazonas, as the latter had already been reported as having left for Valparaiso.

The Chilean Government is said to have agreed upon the following propositions, looking to the prosecution of the war.
First to emit $6,000,000 for the continuance of the war; second, to organize the army with new divisions, and third to raise the price of wheat.

A serious debate was occasioned in Congress in consequence of one of the deputies saying that it was now time to offer peace to Peru, to the meditation of another power, and that the bombardments of Callao were barbarous and useless proceedings.

The cable has been restored from Arica to Callao and is now working for Chilean account.

MADRID, July 21.—Seismic disturbances in the Island of Luzon commenced on the 13th inst., and up to the 20th there had been repeated shocks of earthquake the first and last being the most violent. The cathedral and barracks at Manila have fallen, and the troops are encamped outside the city. Two shocks occurred on the 16th inst., one of which lasted seventy seconds and the other forty seconds. Eleven natives have been killed, and sixty-one injured. No Europeans have been hurt. The inhabitants of Manila have fled to the fields.
The earth has opened in several places, the jets of boiling water and showers of ashes are rejected. Some of the public buildings of Tagana and Rabacan have been demolished. All the volcanoes of Luzon are in full activity.

LONDON, July 26.—The Daily News despatch from Madrid says that the total loss of life by the earthquakes at Manila is estimated at 320, including 210 Chinese. Almost every family is houseless.

PARIS, Mich., July 24.—The professional souler's race between Riley of Saratoga, N. Y., Lee of Newark, N. J., and Paisted of Boston, took place on the Saginaw River, at Bay City, this afternoon, and was witnessed by 10,000 people. The weather fine and the course as smooth as the most exacting could ask for. The distance was a mile and a half and return. Riley took the lead at the start and kept from two to four lengths ahead of Lee. And the first mile turned the stake ahead of him with Pai tied about four lengths behind him.

The last mile Riley led Lee by three lengths, and Plasted thirty-two. The race was a very fine one, and Riley crossed the line only two lengths ahead of Lee and Plasted about fifteen lengths behind Lee. Time—Riley, 22m. 22s.; Lee 22m. 28s.

MONTREAL, July 24.—Great exertions are making here to get up a boat race during the Dominion Exhibition. Courney, Warren, Smith, do as in other celebrated rowers have promised to compete.

OCEAN BEACH, N. J., July 25.—A pleasure boat containing six ladies and two men accidentally capsized this afternoon in the Shark River cove. The men struck out for the shore, which they reached in safety, leaving the ladies clinging to the boat. The accident was seen from the west shore by Elias Throckmorton, of Freehold, and Wm. J. Crittenden of Brooklyn, who with a boatman named John Flood went to assistance of the ladies and rescued them. The rescue was timely, as the ladies were much exhausted.

HAVANA, July 25.—In a recent engagement on the River Mabuy the insurgent officers, Brigadier General Pospillo Melina and Colonel Johnson, the latter a native of the United States, were killed the Spanish troops, and one prisoner was taken. The insurgent chief Juan Fleites and three of his followers have surrendered with their arms at Cayamo.

HALIFAX, N. S., July 27.—Captain Williams, of the brigantine Sarah Carney, at this port from Turk's Island, reports that shortly before he sailed a Cuban insurgent general with forty followers was landed at Park's Island by the mail steamer from Halifax bound to New York.
Shortly after their landing there a Spanish war vessel arrived and demanded the surrender of the Cubans, which the Government of Turk's Island refused. The affair caused quite a little excitement and Captain Williams brought despatches to the naval authorities here giving details of the event.

THE CANDI HAR DISASTER.

The saying that it is the unexpected which always happens, applies to the late disaster to the British arms in Afghanistan. It was only last week the English newspapers were congratulating themselves and the country on the prospects of peace and a treaty with the people they had raised to the throne, by which all they had sought for had been attained, including British supremacy in Afghanistan, a scientific frontier for India, and the acquisition of the fine Province of Candahar. They grumbled, it is true over the expenditure of a hundred million dollars, or so, never thinking of the gallant lives they had lost, for on the whole it was a capital investment. Russia was checked and peace with honour was obtained. But it seems they reckoned without their host, who on this occasion was Ayoub Khan, fourth son of Shere Ali, brother of Yakoub Khan, and grandson of the renowned Dost Mahommed. Ayoub Khan was counted the too, of the family, while his brother, the deposed Yakoub was considered its military genius. Yakoub it was who, by a decisive victory won over his uncle, the father of Abdurrahman the Puppet, on the spot where Ayoub annihilated General Burroughs on the 17th of July last, established Suere Ali, his own father, on the throne, and great were the hopes entertained in him by the patriotic Afghans, hopes which we need not say were disappointed by the indecisive and vacillating policy which threw him into the hands of the British. In proportion as the star of Yakoub waned did that of the fool of the family rise above the horizon, and when the former was taken prisoner by the British invader the latter stepped from his obscurity and advanced claims to the vacant throne. He flew to Herat and took command of a disunited, disorganized army of Cavalese and Herat-ese, who were so continually flying at the throats of one another as to give the British no real cause for alarm. Nevertheless, the young Ayoub wrought something like order out of this chaos. He was still organizing and putting things into shape for the future when Mahommed Jan drove the invader from Cabul in December last. It was at that time that the British commander wrote him an impertinent letter, directing that Herat be held for the British under pain of his displeasure. How much Ayoub thought of this displeasure must be gathered from his swoop down upon the unfortunate Burrows and his brigade on the Hel-mund River on the 17th day of July.
That bold stroke has made him an enemy from a non-entity, and has brought him into prominence as the central figure in Afghan politics. It now remains to be seen if his bloody stroke of vengeance of his was well planned and forethought.

or merely one of those fortunate accidents which throw a halo of glory around the head of a commander and then leaves him in obscurity forever. If the blow he devised with such dire disaster to the British was the result of military sagacity its echoes will reverberate all over the Indian Empire, and millions of other majesty's disloyal Indian subjects will look to him as their deliverer from bondage, as they looked to Dost Mahommed fifty years ago. It will be seen before long that whether this new aspirant has anything in him whether he will follow his victory and take Candahar by a coup de main before his defenders regain heart of grace, or, as Carlyle says, "Wander about in a most unmeaning manner" until he is devoured with a stronger foe.
But no matter how writers turn out in the future, Ayoub Khan has made England understand for the third or fourth time, that in dealing with Afghanistan she is not dealing with the ebullient missionaries of the plains of Madras and Bengal, whom a British Brigade can strike terror into at any moment. England has already spent fifteen million pounds sterling trying to conquer Afghanistan, and has lost thousands of gallant lives, and yet to-day she owns no more and within the country than lies within the range of her guns. There are sixty thousand British troops and native auxiliaries in Afghanistan; they have failed to conquer, and so the number will be doubled, if necessary, in order to preserve British prestige. But why not the intelligent atives of the peninsula reason thus (they are not all effete Bengalees). May they not put to themselves this sum in simple proportion:—If it takes 100,000 soldiers to keep down the Afghans, who are only five millions of a population, how many should it take to keep down the two hundred millions.

THE EMPRESS EUGENIE.

The Empress Eugenie landed on Tuesday at Southampton from which port she took her departure on the 25th of March last on her melancholy mission to Zulu-land, and is now on her way to her quiet home at Chislehurst. Her Majesty made her return voyage from Natal in the Union Company's mail steamship Trojan, Captain R. D. Travers, which arrived at Plymouth late on Monday night. The vessel passed Hurst Castle shortly after 10 o'clock yesterday morning, and the first welcome of the Empress on her return to the land of her adoption was the arrival alongside the Trojan, when off Yarmouth, of the Royal yacht Albion, with the Princess Beatrice, who went on board and accompanied the Empress in to the Southampton waters, when her Royal Highness took leave and returned to the Alberta to Osborne.

About half-past 10 the small steamer Alexandra docks with a distinguished party with a distinguished party who had arrived from London to meet the Empress, including the Duke and the Duchess of Bassano, the Duke and Duchess of As-turias, Prince Murat, the Marquis de Aros, the Duke of Huescar, M. Pietri, the Marquis de Javalquinte, Earl Cawlor, Lord Dorchester, Lady Evelyn Campbell, and Sir Lintorn Simmons. The Duke and Duchess de Mouchy remained on shore to welcome the Empress on landing.
There were also present Sir Benjamin Phillips, chairman of the Union Company, Mr. Mercer (one of the directors), Mr.
Mercer and Captain Dixon (marine superintendent) and the landing arrangements were superintended by Mr. P. Holger, secretary of the Dock Company, and Mr. Wiltshire, the South-Western Railway Company's manager at Southampton.
Off Netley the Alexandra met the Trojan, and at her own special desire the Empress at once exchanged steamers, accompanied by her suite, which consisted of Brigadier-General Sir five von Wood, V. C., K. O. B., Lady Wood, Lady Ronald Campbell, the Marquis de Bassano, son of the Duke), Captain Briggs, R. A., and Lieutenant Slade, R. F. A. The Empress was received on board the Alexandra by Sir Benjamin Phillips, who presented her with a magnificent bouquet of Cape jessamine and other flowers. The Empress, thanking Sir Benjamin, expressed her thorough appreciation of all that had been done for her comfort by the captain and officers of the Trojan, and her appreciation of the arrangements for the voyage. Her Majesty embraced the ladies who had come to meet her, and cordially thanked the gentlemen speaking to all in turn. Before the Alexandra started for the shore, the Empress expressed to the chairman of the company her desire that all the Trojan's passengers should accompany her on the tender and travel with her by the special train to London, but this desire was relinquished on Sir Benjamin explaining that such an arrangement would necessarily occasion under Majesty considerable inconvenience and detention while it would not enhance the comfort or expedite the movements of the passengers. As the Alexandra steamed away from the Trojan, the passengers all gathered together to bid adieu to the Empress.

About 2 1/2 minutes past 12 the Alexandra arrived in the docks, where many hundreds of persons had assembled, and was speedily berthed at the selected landing-place...

DEATH OF PRINCE IMPERIAL

Sr Evelyn Wood presents his compliments to the Editor of The Times, and offers the accompanying statement for his acceptance.

Steamship Trojan July 26. Summary of the Zulu account of the death of the Prince Imperial, as related to Sir Evelyn Wood by 18 Zulus who took part in the attack on the reconnoitring party on the 1st of June, 1879.

The attacking party numbered about 40, of whom 12 followed the Prince, and either seven or eight were concerned immediately in his death. The Zulus, having nearly surrounded the party, fired and rushed on them as they were in the act of mounting.

"N.B.—The above facts were elicited from the Zulus, who were examined separately on the scene of the attack, and out of sight of one another."

THE CARBONAR HERALD

Honest Labor—our noblest heritage.

CARBONAR, AUG. 19TH.

At a time when the friends of religion and order are making the most strenuous efforts to resist the tide of infidelity and insubordination that at the present time threatens to undermine society...

watched the recent course of events in France in connexion with the expulsion of those bodies of holy men who have been engaged in the great work of education. Foremost amongst them is the Society of Jesus which has been singled out as the peculiar object of the hate of the men now placed at the head of affairs in France.

This is the society of Jesus which has been marked out as an object of hatred by the enemies of religion, because it has confounded calumny by the splendour of its virtues, its intellectual power and its work. It is to those great qualities we may attribute the persecution to which it is now subjected by the enemies of religion in France...

Whilst returning sincere thanks to our friends for their kind contributions to the HERALD, we regret on the other hand, having to express a no small degree of disapprobation of those not our friends who descend to the practice of communicating to us, for publication, items and other matter wanting veracity.

plain' one of the causes which led us to the foregoing remarks, and will show that a St. John's correspondent had been made the dupe, also, of some ludicrous fellow.

St. John's, August 14.

Dear Sir,— In reply to yours of yesterday's date, I have to request that you will excuse my having wrongly informed you of the list of passengers per Hibernian; having done so, I consider it only due that I should give an explanation, which, I sincerely trust, will have the effect of removing from your mind any doubt as regards my being under the impression, at the time I was imparting the information to you, that I was stating the truth.

And remain, Yours, &c., &c.

Correspondence.

To the Editor of the Carbonar Herald. VICTORIA VILLAGE, August 16.

Dear Sir,— In the absence of the Viceroy, Sir Jasper Bright, we the inhabitants of Victoria Village, better known as Tilt Down, do hereby request that you will have goodness to permit us through your journal to emphatically protest against the vile conduct of the inhabitants of our sister colony "Tilton" towards the gentlemen of the Railway Survey during their visit to that locality a few weeks ago...

To the Editor of the Carbonar Herald.

Dear Sir,— Allow me through the columns of your journal to ask the Sergeant of Police to publish, for the information of the public, a detailed statement of all the swine that have been impounded in Carbonar since the pound has been built; the said statement to show the number of each gender, the owner of each animal, and the amount of fines received, and by whom paid; also to furnish in print, for general information, an "account sales" showing the net proceeds of the lot sold, giving the name, in full, of each purchaser, and to state how the proceeds have been appropriated? Ne sutor ultra crepidam.

Yours &c., QUERY.

Dear Sir,— I hardly know anything about police as far as their duties are concerned, nor is it my business to know, as long as I take care of myself. This I now can see—and I'm sure the reasonable public will agree with me when I say that the police must feel very uncomfortable while wearing such heavy clothing and hats in this very warm season. Would not their duty be as well done, and would not they look as respectable if they wore a more light material for clothing, and something for the head such as a straw hat.

Thanking you, Sir, for the space. I remain yours truly. A TRAVELLING IGNORAMUS.

(By request)

LINES in memory of William J. March, who died on the ice near Cape St. Francis, March 27th, 1830, aged 21 years.

The home of his childhood, in North-ero Bay, He quitted for pleasure much more than for pay; On ice fields he ventured, both youthful and brave, Whereon he fought death, but his life could not save. On that cold night in March he lay miles from the shore. From friends who were watching to see him once more; But no sound from the ocean would bid them rejoice, Or ead them to think he was safe on the ice. At dawn Easter Saturday, happy he'd be. If in Bay of Conception sail he could see; But the least human aid may be looked for in vain; Yet life was too sweet on that ice to remain. With courage undaunted he set off anew. To reach Cape St. Francis his object in view; When three of his comrades, whose number was four, Fell on that cold bed to walk with him no more. Now he and the other walked on for the Cape,— Ah! how oft they must dwell on those poor fellow's fate!— He felt himself weak when he reached near the shore; And said to the other, "I cannot walk more." He further did say "Oh go on to the light, Tell them at the house to come for me to-night." This man reached the Light-house, it being quite nigh; Ah! little he thought he left Willie to die. Though rough Cape St. Francis resounded the voice Of him who for aid called aloud from the ice; Near expected assistance he none could receive. And he died near that shore—who the loss can retrieve? But may we not hope that a voice from above, Said "Call thou upon me for both mercy and love; Come, come to your Saviour in whom you did trust, And enter that kingdom prepared for the Just."

Yours respectfully, DIANA. B. C. S.

OVER THE BEACH.

When sol's last rays have disappeared Behind the neighbouring hill, And Luna bright comes into view, Her contract to fulfil.

What pleasure then to stroll at ease, With some one for your guide, Along the beach and at the tide-bridge To view the flowing tide.

Avoca's plains—brought to mind— Did never seem more grand Than in this place where waters meet To raise the pebbly sand.

Now view the ponds—trout! How sportingly they play? They take advantage of the night, They avoid the heat of day,

But silence reigns all round about Where are the people gone? Back to town they've gathered all, But I'm not left alone.

My guide and I will follow them,— For, now it seems but right— And thank fond nature for the scene That we have viewed to-night. REYNARD.

The Brigantine 'Hector,' 198 tons, Captain Murchison, of Charlottetown, arrived here Tuesday last from St. John's to load ice for New York; she will take, we understand, all the ice, the enterprising purchaser, Mr. Foley, of Charlottetown, can obtain here, which will be about 250 tons. We wish every success to the new adventure.

Information was received here last evening to the effect that a large steamship called the Flavia had grounded on the northeast corner of Great Island (off Trout's Cove) and that her fore compartment was full of water. It appears that this ship was bound from Liverpool to Montreal with a cargo of salt and pig iron. She had a good run out; but unfortunately, during a dense fog on Friday night she met with this accident. The S. S. Kite and one of the tug-boats were sent to her assistance last night, and we understand that efforts are being made to get the ship off.—Telegram.
