from the works around Rome supported by artillery were marched to Garibaldi's headquarters, a position situated between Tivoli and Monte Rotondo. An engagement took place immediately. The fight was long and obstinately contested many men being killed and wounded on both sides. Garibaldi's force was defeated. The General retreated from the scene of action in good order, taking his wounded with him, his line of retreat was towards Italian territory. It is reported Garibaldi has been arrested by Italian troops. Some officers of Garibaldi's force, however, have withdrawn from his post at Frosinone and gone towards the center of the Neapolitan territory. Signor Ascani of the Italian legislature, a volunteer revolutionary officer, has departed from Frosinone, which place he held for Garibaldi after leaving a force of 8,000 Roman crows from the inhabitants. An Italian volunteer who crossed the frontier is returning daily from all points of the Papal States.

Paris, Nov. 4, evening.—The Paris Le Presse of this evening says the French Charge D'Affaires at Florence was ordered to present, on Sunday, to the government an imperial ultimatum to the effect that the Italian troops which had been marched into the Papal territory should evacuate the States of the Church before Thursday evening, Nov. 7th. The Temps says that during the engagement near Monte Rotondo, on Sunday last, Gen. Garibaldi was beaten by the Papal troops and retreated to Corchiano. Here, it is said, he surrendered to the Italian authorities. Exeter, England, Nov. 4, midnight.—The bread riot which commenced here has extended to Axminster, 20 miles east of Exeter, where the premises of the corn dealers have been burned. Axminster contains the well known carpet factories, also buildings for the manufacture of woollen cloth and gloves, and has a very determined population of working men. The local militia has been called out and placed under arms in Exeter, and reinforcements of the regular troops have arrived in the city from the naval station at Plymouth. Several arrests have been made. Special constables have been sworn in both in Exeter and Axminster. The Mayor of Exeter has made a speech to the people, but the mob is still in force, and great excitement prevails in the streets at this hour.

WEDNESDAY EVEN'G, NOVEMBER 5.

GARIBALDI A PRISONER.

The telegraph news which we publish to-day gives an entire change to the current of events in Italy. Garibaldi has been defeated by the Papal troops, aided by a portion of the French force, and he and his sons are prisoners in the hands of the Italians. Thus, for the present, the desire of the patriot soldier to secure Rome as the capital of Italy is destined not to be realized. French intervention, as in former times, has thwarted what would certainly have been accomplished had the Italians been left to themselves. But the end is not yet. Garibaldi's defeat and the dispersion of his men may for a time retard the great purpose which he has laboured so heroically to bring about. France cannot for ever occupy the Eternal City with her troops. Her intervention was distasteful before—it will be doubly so now—and there is little doubt the current of events will solve the problem in spite of all the opposition of Napoleon or the faint-hearted policy of Victor Emmanuel. Rome for Italy is the cherished dream of every Italian, and every obstacle though it may retard, by no means destroys the hope of its being realized.

Why Hon. Mr. Galt Resigned.

Private reasons are given out by the Ottawa organ—the Times—as the cause of Mr. Galt's resignation; but other Ministerial papers throughout the country will hardly accept this as gospel, and hint in a mild way that the bank difficulty is the cause of his retirement, which does not at all surprise those who have been aware of the serious disagreements existing among the members of the Cabinet. Other resignations are expected unless differences are patched up. The fact is that the policy of the Government on the bank scheme has turned out to be a miserable failure, and the country demands its abrogation, or such a change as will deprive it of all objectionable features. Mr. Galt had therefore to be sacrificed, but even this will not get the Government out of the difficulty, as will be seen before many days. Mr. Howland, it is said, will take Mr. Galt's position for the present.

LATEST FROM OTTAWA.

A Gazette extra of Tuesday evening contains the following appointments:—His Excellency the Governor General by and with the advice of the Privy Council, has been pleased to summon to the Senate of Canada the Hon. J. Cauchon, of the Province of Quebec, and appoint him for the Stadacona Electoral Division, in room of the Hon. Sir N. P. Boulton, who has resigned his place as Senator and member of the Senate of Canada. Mr. Cauchon has also been appointed Speaker, and Mr. J. F. Taylor, senr., Clerk of the Senate of Canada; Rene Kimber to be Gentleman Usher of the Black Rod; J. F. Taylor, senr., Robert Lemoine, and Fenning Taylor, to be Masters in Chancery; and J. F. Taylor, senr., R. Kimber, R. Lemoine, and Fenning Taylor, to be Commissioners to administer oaths to members of the Senate of Canada; W. B. Lindsay to be Sergeant-at-Arms of the House of Commons; W. B. Lindsay, D. McDonnell, and G. W. Wickstead to be Commissioners to administer oaths to members of the House of Commons. Mr. Augustine, Lt.-Gov. of New Brunswick arrived on Tuesday, and is at Lord Monk's. Sir Charles Lady Windham arrived the same day and Gen. Stisted was expected

This great tournament commenced on Tuesday. The weather was chilly and rather unfavourable to good shooting. But one match was shot, and even that was not decided. It was open to regulars and volunteers, Snider-Engfields: 200 and 400 yards; 5 shots at each range. There were seven prizes ranging in value from $15 to $2, and more than 200 entries; the 60th Rifles contributing 90, and the 53rd about half that number. The best shooting was made by Capt. M. D. Davidson of the 7th Battalion, and Sergt. McManus of the 60th Rifles, each scoring 32 points. The ties to be decided to-day the 6th. The following is the score made by the representatives of the Wellington Battalion, and it will be observed that some of them have made good work, although not successful in taking the first prize.

THE GALE ON THE LAKES.—The gale on Sunday night and Monday morning has done much damage to the shipping. The storm was exceedingly severe, in fact the severest that has been experienced in this section for some years. Fortunately its fury did not reach its height before some premonitory symptoms indicate the approaching hurricane, and by this means a further damage to shipping was averted. At Toronto, Kingston, Picton, Port Colborne, and other places, we hear of vessels having been driven ashore. The schooner Admiral, laden with wheat, was driven ashore near the light house, Toronto, and went to pieces. One of the hands, a man named Kelly, was drowned in the attempt to get ashore. The rest of the crew were saved.

DISASTROUS FIRE IN LUCKNOW.—On Saturday morning last, at about half-past two o'clock, a fire broke out in the village of Lucknow, in the stable attached to Campbell's Hotel, and did not cease until thirteen buildings were consumed at a loss it is estimated of about $25,000. Two gentlemen from London were staying at the Hotel, and had a narrow escape, not being aroused until the walls were on fire. Their horse and buggy were destroyed. The village now presents a very gloomy appearance, but the well known enterprise of the inhabitants will soon set things astir again.—Free Press.

SEVERE ACCIDENT.—Joseph Gould, Esq., ex-M.P. P., met with a very serious accident on Thursday last. While assisting in raising an addition to his woolen mill, he fell from the building breaking three ribs, and receiving other severe injuries. Fears are entertained that the injuries may prove fatal.

BAY OF QUINTE WHEAT.—Mr. B. Culvert of London Township, brought into the market, on Saturday, 260 bushels of Brad's midge-proof seed spring wheat, from the Bay of Quinte. It was sold in quantities from one to ten bushels, at $2.60 per bushel. The Middlesex Agricultural Association employed Mr. Culvert for the purpose of procuring the grain for these parts. The sample is a very fine one, and will yield forty bushels to the acre.—Prototype.

SOLICITOR GENERAL RICHARDS. The St. Catharines Constitutional says that a constituency has been secured for Mr. Stephen Richards, where his return by acclamation is almost certain. We would like to hear its name. Poor Richards has been looking for a constituency north, south, east and west, and yet not a single one has had compassion on him.

NAPOLEON AND ITALY.—Louis Napoleon is willing to leave the solution of the Roman question to a popular vote in the Papal Territory, but the Italian Government refuses to entertain a French proposition for a question which is purely Italian.

MEETING OF PARLIAMENT.—The first session of the Parliament of the Dominion of Canada opens to-day at three o'clock, with more than ordinary ceremony and splendour. The Commons have to elect their Speaker, after which (to-morrow) His Excellency will deliver the Speech from the Throne.

ELECTIONS IN THE STATES.—The Republicans have again triumphed in Massachusetts as everybody knew they would, but in New York there seems reason to believe that the result has been otherwise.

MAXIMILIAN'S REMAINS.—Admiral Tegethoff has become tired of dancing attendance upon the President and his amiable Minister Lord, and has retired to the Carnveca Valley, where Maximilian had an estate, and used to spend a portion of his time.—Here he will await instructions from Austria. Each day the change in the remains of the late Archduke is visible and shortly it will be found necessary to adopt other means than those taken to preserve them. It is rumored upon the street that they will be placed in the cathedral where the public will be admitted to see them.

THE NEW GOVERNOR OF NOVA SCOTIA. General Williams has at last closed his career as Lieutenant-Governor of Nova Scotia. As he had managed to incur the ill-will of the Anti-Unionists, through his leanings towards the Unionists, the latter felt bound to stand by him, and to mark his departure from the Province by highly complimentary addresses, with as many influential signatures as possible. The City Council of Halifax refused, by a majority, to present an address; but the Unionists of the city and county of Halifax obtained three thousand signatures to an address to His Excellency. Among the three thousand were clergymen of various churches, judges, senators, legislative councillors, mayor, aldermen, magistrates, lawyers, and merchants. General Doyle, who is to succeed General Williams, had reached Halifax some days before the departure of the retiring Governor, and would at once assume the position to which he

LARGE SHIPMENT OF CHEESE.—The shipments of cheese from this section are steadily increasing. Up to this fall, Ingersoll has been the point of exportation of the manufacturers of Oxford, but the impetus given to the business has had the effect of giving existence to a host of factories in the rich pasture section of which Woodstock is the centre. We have repeated evidence of the demand for the cheese of Oxford in the shipments from Woodstock. Last Monday there were 23 tons sent from the Strathlain factory, and a splendid lot they were; and what is more consequence to the proprietors was that, in consequence of the Strathlain cheese having taken prizes at the late shows, a very considerable advance over the market rates was realized for it. Malcolm McKinnon, Esq., was the exporter who sends this lot, with several others, forwarded on Liverpool account.—The cheese market is still low, we regret to say, but men of experience affirm that even at 8c. per lb. cheese is attended with more profit, directly and indirectly, than grain growing. If that is so, 10c and 11c must be a good figure. What we want most are markets independent of those of England.—Woodstock Times.

CHAPTER XXIX.—WORKING FOR LIBERTY.
"Poor sacrificed one," thought Hargrave to himself, as he lay tossing on the couch and thought of the scene he had just witnessed and the words he had heard spoken. "A hapless fate is thine; to be first self-sacrificed on the altar of filial duty, and now to be given up a brutal sacrifice on the altar of Mammon. And this is the perjured, frowsy woman of whom Captain Jack speaks. This is the whose treachery and inconsistency extinguished his faith in man and made him the deadly foe of society. It is, as I have suspected, he has acted hastily and under a frightful mistake. Had he but condescended to make inquiry, he might have got to the truth, and learned that it was to save her father from dishonour that she gave her hand to that old miser with the shrivelled heart. Ah me! Ah me! What blind creatures we oftentimes are; how passion misgoverns us, and leads us into error and injustice."

Musing thus he fell asleep, and when he awoke again, Andrew and Terry were both up, and breakfast had been brought in by the fellow who officiated as their jailer. He glanced between his couch and the wall to see if the marks of operations during the night were visible. The rubbish was not so carefully replaced as it might have been, but in the dim lamplight the change could scarcely be noticed. The spot was, moreover, in the darkest corner, and no one thought of going near it.

After breakfast, however, he took his two companions into his confidence, and told them in whispering tones of the discovery he had made of a communication between their chamber and that adjoining.

"But this will do us no good," he added, in a dejected tone. "for the aperture is secured by a grating and could we even remove that, we would but obtain access to another prison."

"By jabsers! and there would not be much gained by that," said Terry.

Andrew, however, with the usual caution of his countrymen, did not give the matter up thus summarily. He crossed over to the corner, and carefully examined the aperture, drawing away for this purpose some of the rubbish, and putting it under the couch. He was not long in reaching the grating which formed the barrier between the two chambers, and having done this he paused to engage in silent examination by the eye, and to cogitate what he noticed.

"It's gey funny," he said to himself, "that there should be a grating there, if it's for no other purpose than to keep up a noise out o' one cave into another."

Andrew's thoughts being thus sent in a particular direction, he proceeded to examine the side of the aperture towards the back wall of the chamber, and removed the rubbish, which consisted of earth and stones, in such proportions as to suggest the idea that it had once been built up, and that time and damp had caused it to lose its adhesiveness.

In a few minutes he came upon another grating, which seemed an aperture at right angles towards the other, and which Andrew at once conjectured led into a passage, which in its turn might probably lead to the open air.

"That's just what I thought," he said to himself, while his heart leapt with a thrill of excitement. "This has been the solid road into the place, and it has been shut up many a long year since, and an axe and a single creature kens o't."

"Misher Donaldson, sur, is it there countin' yer beads ye are down in the corner?" asked Terry, as Andrew sat silent and motionless, being absorbed in his interesting conjectures.

He rose slowly up, and crossing to where the others were, while a winking eye and a flushed cheek were the only signs of his inward excitement, he said:

"If we could get such a thing as a file, we wadna be lang in makin' our way out."

"What do ye mane?" cried Terry, bounding to his feet.

"Whisht—for ony sake, whisht!" cautioned Andrew.

"But what do ye mane?" asked Hargrave, in much lower tones. "I tell you that grating leads to the next chamber where the lady is confined."

Andrew went noiselessly behind the screen which had been placed at the entrance, and satisfying himself that none of the robbers were listening, he returned, and stepping close up to Hargrave, whispered:

"There's twa gratin's."

"Two?" echoed his master with a start.

"And ane o' them leads into a dark passage," added Andrew.

"Thunder and ouns!" ejaculated Terry, opening his eyes and mouth to the utmost.

"Are you certain?" asked Hargrave eagerly.

"Weel," returned Andrew, "I couldna just swear tae it; but come and judge for yersel."

This course was too natural to admit of hesitation. They all three went to the corner, and found Andrew's discovery verified. The grating he had come upon was further laid, and beyond it was total darkness, while a draught of cold air came streaming through. It was chill and damp, as if it came through an underground passage, but there was also a freshness in it, testifying that it came from without.

"You are right," said Hargrave. "This is indeed an important discovery."

He laid his hands on the iron bars one by one, and tried to shake them, but they proved immovable.

"Aha!" he observed, "if this hope is only destined to mock us, how shall we be able to remove those bars?"

TO BE CONTINUED.

The receipts of a single hotel at Saratoga, during the past season, amounted to $780,000. About $4,000,000, it is estimated, has been spent this summer upon lodging, stabling, eating and drinking in that small village. Probably as much more was spent on dress by the devotees of fashion who made it com-

The Report of the Grand Trunk Railway Directors, for the half year ended June 30, has been published, from which we gather the following facts: (The gross earnings of the road, including those of the Buffalo and Lake Huron and Montreal and Champlain connections, amounting to $2,969,228, against $3,097,886 in the corresponding half year of 1866. The ordinary working expenses had increased from about fifty-nine per cent. of the gross earnings at about seventy per cent. or from $1,960,616 to $2,088,789. Besides this charge against revenue there are other charges; namely, renewals of the permanent way and works, $267,168; amounts paid for loss by fire at Sarnia and Toronto, $49,931. These charges having been met, there remained a balance of $554,438, against a balance in the corresponding half year of 1866 of $1,009,519. There is another charge, namely, $1,4752, for loss on American currency, which reduced the cash balance to $451,265. Against this balance there were the following claims, namely, for amount of postal and military revenue due to the holders of the postal and military bonds; for interest, &c., on lands; for interest on mortgage to Bank of Upper Canada; for interest on loans, banker's balances, promissory notes, European exchange, &c.; for interest on British American Land Company's debentures; for interest on Montreal Serravallo debentures; for interest on Island Pond debentures; for half yearly instalment on Portland Sinking Fund; for proportion due to Buffalo and Lake Huron; for Atlantic and St. Lawrence lease (in full); for Detroit line lease (in full); and for equipment bond interest; amounting in all to $537,170. The debt against the half year's revenue was therefore, $85,905. The Directors, in comparing the results of the half year's working with the corresponding period of 1866, say that there has been a falling off in the through freight traffic to the amount of about £16,000; that the working expenses are more by about £26,000; that 55 1/2 miles have been relaid, in addition to the ordinary repairs of the way, and that the losses paid in connection with the fires at Toronto and Sarnia have absorbed no less a sum than £10,000. The Directors also pointed out the fact that the Grand Trunk was not the only line which showed a falling off in its gross receipts, but "that nearly the whole of the American lines, show heavy decreases for the half year ended June last as compared with the same period for 1866; ten of the trunk lines including the Erie, the Michigan Central and Southern, the Ohio and Mississippi, the Illinois Central and the Chicago and Fort Wayne, showing in the aggregate a decrease in their gross revenue of £214,369." With respect to the loss on American currency the Directors said: "The amount of loss is again very heavy, being £21,554 against £14,264 in the corresponding half of last year. The total loss sustained by the Company from June 1862, to 30th of June last, in American currency amounts to no less a sum than £311,938, and the Directors cannot refrain from again referring to this most serious but inevitable and unforeseen loss, as the real origin of most of the recent difficulties of the Company." The average receipts from passengers in the half year was $1.60 per head against $1.68 in 1866; and the average receipts per ton for freight was $3.76 against $3.80 in 1866.

The Alliance Between Prussia and Italy.
From the New York Tribune.
During the last few days we have had several Cable despatches announcing a serious change in the diplomatic relations between France and Italy. The Paris Messenger has officially declared that Louis Napoleon regards the marching of Italian troops into the Papal territory as a violation of the September Convention, and has on that account demanded an explanation from the Italian government. The new Prime Minister of Italy, Menabrea, charges, in turn, France with violating the Convention, and, if the cable dispatch in our issue this morning correctly represents his views, expressly admits that the movement of the Italian troops has taken place in consequence of the violation of the treaty by France. Finally, a semi-official paper of Paris makes the important declaration that Prussia will interfere in the Roman question, should such action on her part be necessary for preserving the peace of Europe. Thus, supposing the cable not to have misrepresented the meaning of these official and semi-official utterances, we have declarations of a very warlike character from each of the three courts of Paris, Florence and Berlin.

If, contrary to the indications we have been receiving during the past two weeks, the Italian Government has made up its mind to put itself at the head of the nation and resist the demands of France, it has undoubtedly received the strongest assurances of help from Prussia. It was natural that both Prussia and Italy, and especially the latter, should proceed with the utmost caution and reserve in the formation of an alliance against France. An alliance against France is a much more serious matter than an alliance against Austria. Against Austria, the allied governments in 1866 felt no doubt as to the issue of the war. The weak points of their enemy were too well known, and neither Prussia nor Italy stood in fear of future revenge on the part of Austria.

France is a much more formidable opponent, and is recognized as such by both Prussia and Italy. In a single-handed war against France Italy had reason to fear that she would be crushed. Prussia, though aided by the forces of South Germany, would at least have a difficult stand. Both governments would have been grateful to Louis Napoleon had he allowed them to finish the work of national unification without hindrance. But Napoleon clings to the determination to prevent if possible the annexation of Rome and the entry of the South German States into the North German Parliament. His opposition to Italian unity he has just again officially declared; his opposition to German unity he has late on several occasions seemed to disown, in order to prevent, if possible, a Prusso-Italian alliance. But Bismarck, by his foreign policy, clearly shows that he never doubted that he can complete the work of German unity only at the risk of a French war. He has long urged Italy to strengthen her old alliance with Prussia, and to concert with Prussia the simultaneous consummation of the national unity of both countries. The history of the past few months, though as yet but very imperfectly known, contains many indications of the efforts of Prussia on behalf of a renewal of the Prusso-Italian alliance. Italy has shown a natural fear to openly commit itself. A few days more will reveal to what extent the Italian government is willing to cooperate with Bismarck.

The Bishop of Iowa, before leaving the old country, thought it his duty to warn the ritualists of the errors of their ways. In a letter to the Bishop of London he expresses the great pleasure his visit to England had given him, and his appreciation of the kindness and hospitality received on all sides, but declares he is deeply grieved at the wide spread of ritualism. In touching and earnest words he urgently advises English Churchmen "to cling to the simple doctrines of the primitive Church and of the English Reformation."

COMMERCIAL.

Guelph Markets.
MERCURY OFFICE, GUELPH, November 6, 1867.

The market has been very slack during the past week, and there has been a slight decline in some of the produce. There have been but very light receipts of fall wheat—some days there was not a load brought in. Spring wheat is in good supply, and is generally as fat as at this time of the year. There is not much, if any, advance in the market for corn, or for other markets, although business seems to be about to grow a little brisker. There has been a slight decline, say 3c. per bushel, in the price of spring wheat since last week. Oats are well supplied, no doubt owing to the fact that a number of people are selling their live hogs. The grain continues steadily in price for a long time. There is no more than sufficient for local use, and for such the grain is at once put up at 45c. It seems to be unable to get above or below this figure. There is very firm, and there is evidence of an upward tendency—some loads were bought last week at $14, but these were exceptions, and the general price is according to our quotations $11 or $12. Potatoes slightly declined; no other kind of produce materially changed.

PROOFS OF THE SUPERIOR QUALITY OF THE AMERICAN WATCH
MADE AT WALTHAM, MASS.
Referring to their advertisement in a previous issue of this paper, the American Watch Company, of Waltham Mass., respectfully submit that their Watches are cheaper, more accurate, less complex, more durable, better adapted for general use, and more easily kept in order and repaired than any other watches in the market.
They are simpler in structure, and therefore stronger, and less likely to be injured than the majority of foreign watches. They are composed of from 125 to 300 pieces, while in an old English watch there are more than 700 parts.
How they run under the hardest trial watches can be seen, is shown by the following letters:

PENN. RAILROAD COMPANY.
Office of the General Superintendent, Altoona, Pa., 16th Dec, 1866.
GENTLEMEN—The watches manufactured by you have been in use on this railroad for several years by our engineers, to whom we furnish watches as part of our equipment. There are now some 300 of them carried on our line, and we consider them good and reliable time-keepers. Indeed, I have great satisfaction in saying your watches give us less trouble, and have worn an odd wear much longer without repairs than any watches we have ever had in use on this road. As you are aware, we formerly trusted to those of English manufacture, of acknowledged good reputation; but as a class they never kept time accurately, nor have they done as good service as your watches. These statements I am sustained by my predecessor, Mr. Lewis, whose experience extended over a series of years.
Respectfully,
EDWARD H. WILLIAMS,
General Superintendent,
American Watch Co., Waltham.

NEW YORK CENTRAL RAILROAD.
Locomotive Department, West Division, Rochester, Dec. 24, 1866.
GENTLEMEN—I have no hesitation in saying that I believe in the great majority of Locomotive Engineers have found by experience that Waltham Watches are the most satisfactory of any for their use. They run with the greatest accuracy and steadiness, notwithstanding the rough riding of an engine, and as I have never known one to wear out, they must be durable. I hope to see some time when Railway Companies will generally adopt your watches, and furnish them to all engineers and conductors. In my opinion you are greatly to be promoted for regularity and safety.
Yours respectfully,
CHAS. WILSON, G. Chief Engineer,
Brotherhood of Locomotive Engineers,
American Watch Co., Waltham, Mass.

We now make five different grades of watches, named respectively as follows:
Appleton, Tracy & Co., Waltham, Mass.
Waltham Watch Co., Waltham, Mass.
S. Bartlett, Waltham, Mass.
Wm. Eldery, Boston, Mass.
Home Watch Company, Boston, Mass.
All of these, with the exception of the Home Watch Company, are warranted by the American Watch Company to be of the best material, on the most approved improved principle, and to possess every requisite for a reliable time-keeper. Every dealer selling these watches is provided with the Company's printed card of guarantee, which entitles every purchaser to a full and complete return of the watch, so that buyers may feel sure that they are purchasing the genuine article. There are numerous counterfeiters and imitations of our watches sold throughout the country, and we would caution purchasers to be on their guard against imposition.
Any grades of Waltham Watches may be purchased of retail dealers.
Testimonials can be obtained on application from many persons in Canada who have worn the watches with the greatest satisfaction.

Also, a Frame Barn 60 x 30, with 18 feet post-and-rail stabling, and a never-failing spring in the barn yard for the supply of water to cattle. This is a very eligible property, and well worthy the attention of those who wish to obtain a good farm.
Also—Lot 42, in the 3rd Concession of Bentinck, West of the Ganaraska Road, 100 acres, about 12 acres cleared, with a Frame House on the Lot—The Rocky Sauger River crosses one corner of this Lot, and has a valuable water power on it, capable of driving any machinery.

Great Cure of Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia in Canada.
Consecon, Prince Edward Co., C. W. G. March, 1867.
Meers, Young & Chamberlain—Sirs—Having proved within my own person that there is at least a medicine that will indeed cure Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia, I am induced to make this statement, under oath, which is to certify that I have been sorely afflicted for the last three years, according to the Doctors' statements, with Liver Complaint and Dyspepsia. I had a feeling of sinking and vague uneasiness about the stomach, with then pain, eructations of wind, a nasal pain, drowsiness, constipation, an uneasy sea in the right side, head ache, a poor appetite, &c. and was greatly reduced in strength. Hearing your new Indian medicine, the Great Shoshonee Remedy, spoken of so highly, I tried a bottle with your Pills, first and then I found but little change, but I took another and then found my health improving. I continued it until I have taken about ten bottles, using the Pills, and I find that I have quite recovered. I eat heartily without pain or uneasiness. I am well and have pleasure in attending to my business. The doctor remarked to me I was looking much better. I told him that the Great Shoshonee Remedy was doing it. I have recommended the Remedy in several cases, and it has invariably given good satisfaction, and I would strongly recommend it to all afflicted as I was.

INDIA & CHINA TEA COY.
Home Depot at London and Liverpool, Canada Depot, 23 Hospital Street, Montreal.
THE India and China Tea Company beg to call the attention of the Canadian community to their directly imported Teas, which for purity and excellence will be found unequalled.
The Company have made arrangements whereby they have secured the entire produce of the tea plantations in Assam and on the slopes of the Himalayas, and in a judicious blending of these magnificent Teas with the best varieties of China produce, they are enabled to offer to the public Teas of quality and favour hitherto unknown to the general consumer. These Teas are in high favour in England and France, and a single trial will prove their superiority.
The Company supply two qualities only, either Black, Green or Mixed. Their Black Teas will be found to possess great briskness and flavour, combined with colour and strength, and to be entirely different to the flat and rapid articles usually sold as Black Tea; while their Green Teas are altogether free from the deleterious mineral powder so commonly used for coloring the leaf.
PRICES: Rich, full-flavoured Teas, for family use a first genuine and faceriable, one dollar per lb.
Green or Mixed.
To be had in packets of Quarter Pound, Half Pound, One Pound, and upwards, or in tin canisters of lbs. and upwards, from the Company's Agents in all the chief towns of Canada—N.B. All the packages are lined with tin foil paper, and the Teas will consequently retain their flavour any length of time.
Observance—All packages have the Company's trade-mark, without which none are genuine.
