BOWMAN CHARGES THAT SYSTEM IS POOR

Liberal Whip in Legislature Claimed That Finances Were Not Being Handled Honestly or Fairly, But His Motion Was Defeated by Forty-Three.

A clash of personalities again stirred the legislature into excitement yesterday afternoon, and spirits were keyed up to a high pitch for a few moments in the expectation of a hard-fought duel across the floor. A charge coming from C. M. Bowman, the Liberal whip, to the effect that the provincial finances were not being honestly or fairly handled by the provincial treasurer laid the fuse. In a carefully laid out address he made the allegation that the government of Ontario was not following the rules of administration which any business management demanded. The statements laid before the members in character resembled those which would render the holder of a public trust liable for criminal action. To this the provincial treasurer responded in vehement fashion. With outstretched finger and ringing tones he called the attention of the house to the character of the man who had criticized. Who was this man with such a record behind him, both in and out of the house, and with notorious relations with parties at Ottawa, who would come out to castigate a government on a matter of honesty? The minister would challenge any man to hint that money had ever come into his own pocket illegitimately thru his connection with the government.

The debate was then taken up, and after vigorous speeches by Mr. Rowell and Hon. W. H. Hearst, dragged his weary length along into the evening session. On the calling of the yeas and nays Mr. Bowman's motion was lost with the figures standing at 59 to 19.

TORPEDO BOAT SUNK STEAMER FIFTY PERSONS WERE DROWNED

Many Women and Children Perished in Disaster in Lagoon of Venice—Passenger Boat Sank Almost Immediately When Stern Was Ripped.

Canadian Press Despatch.
 VENICE, March 19.—A torpedo boat today cut down a small passenger steamer which plies between Venice and Lido, a chain of sandy islands separating the Lagoon of Venice from the Adriatic, and 50 persons were drowned. The sharp nose of the torpedo boat went thru the stern of the steamer, which sank almost immediately. The victims included many women and children.

Fifteen persons who were on deck at the time were saved by the crew of the torpedo boat. The others were caught in the cabin and were carried down with the wreck. The Italian sailors dived many times in an effort to rescue those who sank with the steamer, but without avail.

Intense excitement prevails here, not only because of the extent of the disaster, but because the names of the victims are not yet known.

PETERBORO MAN WAS AMONG THREE DETROIT FIRE VICTIMS

Canadian Press Despatch.
 DETROIT, Mich., March 18.—Two bodies have been recovered, and a third body is believed to be in the ruins of a five-story brick building at 55-57 Woodbridge street, which was swept by fire this afternoon. Two men were injured and two score of employees, including a number of young women, escaped from the burning building. The property loss was estimated at $100,000.

The known dead are:
 Walter Libbey, Peterboro, Ont.
 John Law, Newark, N.J.
 Both men were employed by Wilson and Sharp, who operated a machine shop on the fifth floor. Both bodies were badly burned. A man named Todd, who worked for the same company, is missing.

The cause of the fire has not been determined.

ULSTER UPRIISING IS REPORTED IMMINENT

British Government Said to Be Preparing for Military Occupation—Carson Hurried to Belfast Last Night in Effort to Hold Followers in Check.

Canadian Press Despatch.
 LONDON, March 19.—Grave events are impending in Ulster, according to the Unionist newspapers, and a rumor is current that the government is preparing for the military occupation of the province. There are various indications that a crisis has been reached.

The vote of censure on the British Government, which was moved in the House of Commons yesterday by Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the opposition, was rejected by 245 to 233. Arthur J. Balfour, summoned by Mr. Bonar Law, made a hurried return from the Riviera, and arrived in time to participate in the division.

There were reports also of the threatened arrest of Sir Edward Carson and other leaders of the Ulster Unionists, but it was officially declared that there was no truth in the statement that warrants had been signed for such arrests.

WOODBINE HOTEL NOT FIREPROOF AND HAD ONLY TWO FIRE ESCAPES NO ROPES IN ANY OF THE ROOMS

OPENING HIGH PARK GATES

City Architect's Department Knew of No Certificate Being Issued by License Commission, Altho Inspector Burrows Went Over the Building Permit Issued Two Months After New Bylaw Was Passed by City Council

PATENTED FIREPROOFING MATERIAL BURNED WHEN MATCH WAS APPLIED

At the re-opened city architect's investigation last night it was very plain that fire protection at the Woodbine Hotel was not as it should have been. There were not the proper facilities for guests to escape from the fire, and the building was far from fireproof.

Here are some of the disclosures given in evidence:

Five escapes.—There were only two fire escapes in the hotel, one on King street and one above the lane to the west of the annex. Only two rooms on each floor opened onto the latter. There were no fire ropes in the other rooms as regulations demand in hotels.

WILSON WOULD AID RAILROADS

President Willing to Extend Legitimate Assistance—Rate Increase is Big Factor.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—President Wilson today manifested his deep interest in the financial condition of the railroads of the country, expressing a desire to help in every legitimate way to bring them relief. The president had been asked by callers if he had heard any particular complaints from the railroads about their financial condition, and remarked that he had heard what everybody was discussing—the uncertainty of their position. He let it be known that the government was giving consideration to the general facts of the continued increase in operating expenses with the decrease in net revenues.

The president made it clear that the question of proposed increase in freight rates was "the big thing" in the situation, but did not express any opinion on the merits of the increase. No legislative action to afford relief to the railroads had been suggested to the president, according to his talks with callers.

MARTIN'S SLAYER TOLD OF CRIME

Toronto Man Strangled Accidentally, Said Schaeffer, Who Prefers Electrocution to Jail.

NEW YORK, March 19.—"I would rather go to the electric chair than spend twenty years in prison," said 19-year-old Harry Schaeffer to his parents in the supreme court today when they urged him to plead guilty in the second degree at his trial on the charge of first degree murder for the killing of William G. Martin, a Toronto, Ont., milliner, last August. Schaeffer told how he and another man wrapped a towel around Martin's neck so tightly that death resulted after Martin had been lured to a west side flat.

Schaeffer said he and his companion, who is a fugitive, had not intended to kill Martin, but merely to quiet him until they could rob him.

The case will go to the jury tomorrow.

Building was NOT FIREPROOF.
 The present city bylaw requires all such buildings above 35 feet in height to be fireproof. This came into force on April 1, 1913. Application for construction of the Woodbine annex was made on June 5, and a permit granted Oct. 16, 1913. The building was at least 42 feet in height. Still further, it was admitted the building was not fireproof, and it was not intended to be.

Neither the builders, Messrs. Horne and Herbt, or Mr. Eric, city architect, could swear that when the application went before the board of control more confirmation with the health department's regulations was mentioned and ordered. They could not remember if fire regulations were mentioned.

The Ontario act governing such buildings demands an inspection of the hotels by the license commission and issuance of a certificate. Nothing was known of such a certificate being given the Woodbine. Inspector Burrows had gone over the hotel, but there was no evidence that he had given a certificate.

HUERTA INVITED TO NEGOTIATE FOR TERMS

United States Will Welcome Overtures from Either Faction in Mexico, is Intimation Given Out Informally by President Wilson in the Cause of Peace.

WASHINGTON, March 19.—The United States Government will welcome a reopening of negotiations with the Huerta Government or the constitutionalists and will be glad to consider any proposal that will tend to draw the various factions together into a plan for the restoration of peace in Mexico.

This is the attitude of President Wilson, it was revealed today after reports reached here, saying Senator Porthus Rojas, minister for foreign affairs in the Huerta cabinet, had gone to meet John Lind, Mr. Wilson's personal representative, to seek a resumption of the peace parleys. Senator Rojas has been mentioned as the man who would succeed Huerta if he retired, and the object of the visit to Mr. Lind, it has been reported, was to acquaint the president's envoy with his personality. Incidentally, the president in talking with callers today, while remarking that he had no official report of any new parleys, spoke in complimentary terms of the Mexican minister of foreign affairs as a man of high character.

CANADA'S TRADE FORGING AHEAD

Well Over Billion Mark for Eleven Months Despite "Hard Times" Talk.

(By a Staff Reporter.)
 OTTAWA, March 18.—Despite the cry of hard times, the returns of Canadian trade for the 11 months of the fiscal year ending Feb. 28 last, show that Canada is in a very prosperous condition. The total Canadian trade for that period topped the billion mark, the exact figure being $1,019,583,000. For the corresponding period of the last fiscal year the total Canadian trade was $908,111,000, or $211,472,000 less.

This was the principal feature of the statement issued by the Hon. J. D. Ross, minister of customs. Exports of domestic goods for the 11 months of the present fiscal year were $494,887,000, and the imports for the corresponding period were $523,696,000. For the month of February, just closed, Canadian exports totaled $20,554,000, while imports were $21,529,000. This $4,974,000 was manufactured goods, compared with $2,950,000 for February of last year.

The exports of agricultural products were $1,083,000, compared with $1,155,000 for the month of February, 1913. Animals and their produce exports for February last were $3,427,500, compared with $2,961,000 for February, 1913. Domestic exports for the 11 months of 1913 were $229,879,000, compared with $249,887,000 for that term of the present fiscal year, which is a very substantial increase.

Sir Edmund Walker Points to Great Extent of Work Planned

AT MUSEUM OPENING

Duke of Connaught Refers to New Building as Toronto's Pride.

In the presence of a brilliant assembly of Toronto society, the Royal Ontario Museum was officially opened yesterday afternoon by his royal highness the Duke of Connaught. Representatives of sixty-five societies, the faculty of Toronto University, and many distinguished personages were present in a mass to witness the opening ceremony and to view the treasures of science which have been collected in the fine new museum.

The governor-general in his speech congratulated the board of trustees on their achievement. Sir Edmund Walker, chairman of the board of trustees, explained to the World that on the third floor and Avenue road, there are ten square feet by a number of citizens, notably Sir Edmund Walker.

THE HOUSES GROW SLOWLY

Long before 3 o'clock the hall on the second floor was filled to overflowing and crowds assembled outside to catch a glimpse of the buildings. Sir Edmund Walker in his address touched on the function of a museum to deliver the message of the industry, the industrial arts, paintings and sculptures. In the newer parts of the museums were created slowly, and were not the product of a single day.

CREDIT TO SIR EDMUND

President Falconer, in his address, declared that if any one individual was responsible for the existence of the museum as it stands today that person was Sir Edmund Walker. For many years he had labored and not a word of credit had been pointed out to the value of a collection of objects illustrating the science of geology, and in many ways had been successful in his efforts.

THE INVITED GUESTS

In addition to the members of the legislature, there were present: Sir Edmund Walker, president of the board of trustees, President Falconer of Toronto University, Mr. H. D. Warren, Mr. Z. A. BOWMAN WANTED TO HOLD SUPPLY

Liberal Whip Did Not Like System in Public Accounts.

HON. I. B. LUCAS' REPLY

Provincial Treasurer Says Every Dollar Spent is Shown in Statement.

When the house met in the afternoon and prepared to go into supply, the Liberal whip, G. M. Bowman of South Bruce, moved an amendment of want of confidence in the financial administration of the government. He began by explaining that the country was entitled to the very same care and clearness in the management of its finances as any private individual could demand of his banker.

Mr. Bowman stated that if at any time a merchant gave an incorrect statement to his banker he came immediately under the suspicion of the bank, and would be asked to account for it. He then called attention to the excellent form of the financial statement of the government, and said that the government used and had used from the beginning. There in clear columns were the accounts and every cent of expenditure could be seen. It was an absolutely sound position in which occurred no attempts to juggle figures.

"If the statement of expenditure for the next year is on the same increase, I want to say that the statement which has been received is false, to the extent of four millions," he declared.

He went on to say that the provincial treasurer's department was not up to the standard that was expected of it. What he wanted was a fair, honest statement which any man could understand. That of the present was misleading and not a word of credit had been pointed out to the value of a collection of objects illustrating the science of geology, and in many ways had been successful in his efforts.

Appraised as They Heard Government Educational Policy Denounced.

Quoting the measure put thru the legislature in August, 1911, that French should not be taught in any form beyond the first, except on the advice of the chief inspector in the case of pupils who were unable to speak English, James A. Macdonald, K.C., last night criticized the provisions on the books of the Ontario Legislature which allow the teaching of any language than English in the schools of this province. The address was given in the Odette Hall on Broadway avenue before over 300 members of the Ward One Conservative Association, who received his remarks with hearty applause. R. G. Norman, M.L.A. for Picton, was present and also voiced his feelings against bilingualism.

Denial of the Statement. Resuming after adjournment, Mr. Hall called attention to the fact that what Mr. Bowman had said was not the provincial treasurer's schedule of estimated revenue and expenditure, but the public accounts, about which Hon. Mr. Lucas had talked when he made his statement to the North Bruce member. He denied Mr. Lucas' statement that the province had never had a statement of assets and liabilities, and declared that four such statements submitted by the late Sir George Ross had the assets and liabilities in detail. He characterized the provincial treasurer's presentation as hopelessly inaccurate, particularly in regard to his assertion that the statutory expenditures involved covered legislation enacted by the former government. Hon. Mr. Lucas interrupted to point out that many of the acts he had referred to had since been repealed.

Clarence Acton Has Defence in House-Breaking Case—Two Are Implicated.

Charged with house-breaking, Clarence Acton and Lawrence J. Glynn, both residing at 873 Jarvis street, were arrested in a house at 118 Howard avenue last night, and confined in No. 11 station. According to Acton's story, he once occupied the house and was breaking in to secure some things he had left when he vacated it. The owner, he said, had refused him admission. Acton claimed to have left the house several weeks ago, when his wife and mother left for a trip to the old country. Both will appear in police court today.

Pay Him A Visit. When approaching Professor Mulveney's office, at 167 Dundas street, Toronto, it is almost impossible to pass without stopping at his window, as it is attractive beyond conception. The curiosities there to be seen are startling and wonderful. His portrait, in the first place, catches the eye. It is a life-sized one of the professor sitting intently examining the head of a tape worm, and one has to take a second look to make sure that it is really a picture, it is so life-like. Other statues and curiosities are also to be seen: The most interesting of all are the large five-gallon jars containing over 20 gallons of tape worms which have been expelled by his wonderful remedy, to say nothing about the wall cases, containing hundreds of others, which are to be seen. A look around will soon convince anyone they have found the right place to be relieved of tape worm. The wall cases and furniture are of quarter-cut oak. The "silent salesmen" are well laden with medicine on the inside, while on top are fringed glass jars, containing the most gruesome and horrid tape worms. Some bottles contain six and seven, and one thirteen of these horrid monsters expelled from a man who had been as dead as a shadow, and who to all appearances was dying with consumption, but by the use of Prof. Mulveney's most wonderful remedy he had the good fortune to be relieved, and his life saved.

There is also a jar containing seven from a lady, who had been operated on for internal troubles. She weighed only about 90 lbs. Now she is hearty and well, about 140 lbs. in weight, enjoying life, and in perfect health. There are to be seen tape worms from many babies from 18 months of age, and children and even of all ages, whose lives were a state of misery and pain. Some of them were afflicted with convulsions and fits, caused by these internal monsters eating their lives away. The next thing that catches the eye is the professor's library of scientific works, conspicuous among which are to be seen ancient and well-bound Bibles, of which the professor is proud, and claims his success in life is due to following the good advice to be learned in them. All about as to the professor's success is dispelled, especially when one sees the hundreds of certificates, letters and testimonials from people in all stages of life, from all parts of the world, also letters from medical doctors who do not hesitate to recommend his wonderful tape worm cure, having used it in their practice with most gratifying results on babies as young as two years and three months old, as well as on adults. He has invitations from the International Health Exhibitions of Vienna, Austria; Paris, France; Rome, Italy, all offering him gold medals and diplomas as a reward should he feel disposed to pay them a visit with his exhibit. Shall I say it is wonderful? The World wonderful does not express it. If you call at 167 Dundas street I am sure you will say so. All information is free. If you write for further information, send a stamped envelope with your address to Prof. R. L. Mulveney, 167 Dundas street, Toronto, Ont. Phone Park 4830.

Light the Beacon Fires for Friends Who Drift

By WINIFRED BLACK
Copyright, 1914, by Newspaper Feature Service.

There was a shipwreck out on the Pacific coast lately; a shipwreck in the wild storm and the beating waves.

The whole city knew that the ship was in danger, and no one could do a thing to help. Before the sun went down the hews was aboard—there's a ship on the rocks—and the beach was black with people, watching.

But with nightfall the storm grew wilder and most of those who watched were driven home to warm suppers and snug fireplaces and pleasant company.

But a few there were who waited, and watched.

And some of these gathered driftwood—a sodden tree which had come in with the tide from who knows what far forest, a plank from some ship that sailed proudly in some forgotten day, a piece of an old wheelbarrow (there was, too, they say, and all sorts and conditions of floating timber).

And they built a fire—the little handful of those who waited on the beach—a struggling fire fit to be, at first, and hard to keep burning. But finally it blazed. And all night long it flamed upon the beach, a bonfire and a beacon.

And in the nearby cottages the housewives kept vigil, too, and made coffee and had the tables set, and watched. It was all that they could do, and they did it.

And in the gray dawn the ship broke in two and went down; and the sailors came ashore somehow—out of the wild waters.

Beacon Gave Them Hope.

Alive—all but one of them—bruised, beaten, spent, half-frozen, benumbed with their night of terror, but alive.

"It was the beacon fire that did it," said the captain, when they had pulled him up out of the waves and he was able to speak.

"That fire kept us alive all night. Once I thought it had gone out. They've given us up," I said to the man in the rigging with me.

"No, no," he answered, and he spoke so loud that I heard him plain above the roar of the water and the pounding of the ship on the rocks.

"No, no, they're putting on fresh wood—and sure enough the flame leaped up again—the friendly flame that kept us all alive. I would have lost courage a dozen times and let go and dropped into the sea, but the flame kept telling me to hold on and wait—until daylight. So I did—and so did we all—and here we are alive, out of the cold sea—and it was the beacon fire there on the beach that did it."

The women who had watched all night hurried and found dry clothes, and the coffee was hot and strong and the bread and meat were ready, and there were a dozen anxious people to wait upon every worn and buffeted sailor, and, when the sun was fairly up, the storm was over, and all was well with those who had been so little time before in desperate need and terror.

"It was the beacon fire that did it," said the captain. How true he spoke—how true.

It is the beacon fire of friendship and of love and of faith and of hope that keeps us all alive.

If it were not for that friendly fire, how many of us would last out the night of life—how many?

Oh, may I always have the courage and the kindness and the thought to keep the beacon fire burning on the beach, when the wind is high and some poor ship is beating on the rocks!

A Word Will Hearten.

The old friend of mine, how gay she used to be, how light of heart. I met her the other day. The color was gone from her face and somehow it looked gray and worn—on the rocks, the good ship youth, pounding hard on the cruel rocks. And I didn't say a word that was in my heart. I spoke to her carelessly and nattered her by. How cruel of me, how bitterly cruel.

I'm going to write her a letter this very day. Not a sad letter, not one that shows her that I saw the agony she was trying so hard to keep hidden—just a friendly letter telling her how glad I was to see her the other day, though I didn't have time to say it then—and how much she has meant to me all my life and will always mean. I'm going to light the beacon fire.

I hope my friend will see it and take courage.

There is a man who has done something wrong, something weak and cruel and wicked, and he knows it and is ashamed of it, and no one will give him a chance to try again; oh, no, that would never do; people might think that we were weak and cruel and wicked, too, if we did that. So we must laugh at the man who has made a fool of himself and push him further into the cold sea of misery and disgrace. Look how white his face is; see the despair and loneliness in his eyes! Come, let's light the beacon fire upon the beach.

Let's go to the man and make a point of showing him by a look, by a word, by a warm clasp of the hand, that there's a chance for him yet.

Let's light the beacon fire.

Even with a Crutch

By Tom Jackson

THE tango now is all the rage—they dance it everywhere. 'Tis full of steps, some on the floor, and others in the air. It hardly is the proper thing for persons who are fat. To tango, one should be quite thin—like-wise an acrobat.

In tango one must glide, and slide, and run, and dip, and twist, indulge in every circus stunt that is upon the list. Woe to the maid with garments tight, who tries the tango dance, for soon indeed she'll quit the floor, or call an ambulance. The tango craze is spreading fast; all hands are jumping in from headless youth, to Grandpa with white whiskers on his chin.

They sitau-jitau with the girls, declaring it is grand, and turn flip-flops and semibreves, to music of the band. They dislocate their ankles, but they do not worry much. A tango fiend will tango if he has to use a crutch. In ballrooms that are up to date soon signs like this will see:

"GET THE DAILY SAVING HABIT"

Blanche Sweet

Movie Star Advises Girls Who Work

By Cecile Manning

HERE are Blanche Sweet's 10 rules for saving money:

"Think twice before you open your purse.

"Have a specific reason for buying a thing. To be worth spending money for it must be useful or ornamental; otherwise it must give pleasure or service. When you can find no earthly reason for buying something which catches the eye, grab your purse tight and hurry along.

"Keep an expense account. When you read the entries you can judge of your business sense.

"Start a bank account. There is fascination in seeing the figure grow. There is also pleasure and sense in paying with a check. It makes you feel important, and where the change would slip through your fingers, you think twice before you write a check.

"Keep out of debt. Paying for dead horses is like having a skeleton for a chum.

"Learn to differentiate between what is necessary and what is superfluous.

"Cultivate financial prudence and learn the difference between it and stinginess.

"Don't borrow trouble, but remember that the rainy day is a cold, wet reality and that umbrellas cost money.

"Compare the time and energy required to earn a dollar with that which is necessary to carelessly expend it.

"Get the saving habit."

Blanche Sweet has been a Mutual Film star for nearly three years. And she has yet to reach her 19th birthday. But she has saved money since the first day she went to work—and she says the average "movie" girl is a good business woman.

"Do you know what the foremost requisite for a 'movie' girl?" she asked. "It is youth. Beauty and health are of minor importance. Health is next to youth and beauty is the third in importance. But the 'movie' star must be young. She must have a face free from lines, for make-up can't hide wrinkles on the screen. And her figure must be slim and girlish.

"First she has to be active. She has to run and jump and climb and be carried up and down stairs and rescued from 19th story windows, and she simply cannot have any extra weight."

"Then she is the object of some one's heart devotion. There seems to be an unwritten law that romance and fat do not go together.

"Then to get the sympathy of her audience, the heroine must have the face of a very young girl.

"Of course, after one's youth passes there is character work and minor parts to play, but the 'big money' goes to the young girls. They all know this and there seems to be a concerted effort on the part of all 'movie' stars to make 'hay while the sun shines.

"They pay us salaries which seem tremendous. It is not at all unusual for girls of my age to earn from one to three or four hundred dollars a week. But we all know it will only last a few years, for when we begin to lose the freshness of youth some one younger will get the plums.

"I believe all business women ought to learn how to save. Every one who earns her living has to work hard for her money. How foolish she is not to appreciate that fact and save all she can.

"I think a good way to begin to save is to have a little bank account. She should have a maid. Look at the child's beautiful, tapering fingers."

"Mary," flashed Mrs. Penfield, "was not my girl for a household servant. She should have a maid. Look at the child's beautiful, tapering fingers."

"Mary," I replied, "was made to be a wife and a mother. Every woman has. It's nature's reason for the woman's existence."

"Then," bridled Mrs. Penfield, "you consider a woman merely a beast of burden?"

I side-tracked the subject. Mary's relations this way before.

Thanks to Mary's inexperience, my mother-in-law runs my house, but, though Mary wishes jealousy to keep her own home ties, she tries to force me to break mine. Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and E. S. McClure as judges.

The truth about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

The Mother-in-Law Problem.

XLV.

I HAVE always read the newspaper accounts of mother-in-laws with a sense of impatience. For the life of me I cannot understand why the people who ought to be closest to unfledged home-makers, should turn suddenly into bothersome problems. Yet I am learning that there is a real mother-in-law problem, and as yet I have been unable to understand its tantalizing subtleties.

Nothing comes into my house that has not been previously O. K.-ed by Mrs. Penfield, Mary's mother. Now, I do not object to Mary's consulting her mother about household problems—surely it is human and natural that she should—but here is the singular element in my mother-in-law problem that I can't understand. If I wish to consult my mother, whose good sense and kindly instinct never fails, Mary is jealous. "Peter," she said, "I don't see why you must run to your mother with everything."

"I don't," I said mildly.

"You stop in there most every night on the phone," complained Mary. "And it makes you late for dinner."

"How many times, Mary," I flared, "are you with your mother? And if I don't stop in to see mother nights on the way home, when am I to see her? I notice when we plan to go visiting, you always want to go to your mother's. You don't often want to go to mine."

Now this was brutally true. And there is more which I could have said and didn't. Though mother is unfailingly kind and affectionate to Mary, I regret to say, holds herself aloof. To be sure she listens with patient civility to whatever mother may say, but I know she is inwardly championing. Mother, I think, knows it, too, but she never loses her poise. I know instinctively now that Mary is not the sort of girl mother wanted me to marry, but never by word or look has she even so much as hinted it.

On the other hand, I have had some uncomfortable sessions with Mary's mother, for Mrs. Penfield's attitude toward me is not always just or kindly. Tales of Mary's marvellous beauty and the match she should have made have taxed my patience severely.

"There's not a ghost of a doubt," Peter," Mrs. Penfield assures me with gracious inconsiderateness, "that, given the proper opportunity, Mary with her beauty could have married a duke. Beauty runs in my family."

"Opportunity," I retorted, a little nettled on one occasion, "is usually a blessing. In this instance it would have been a curse."

"Mary," flashed Mrs. Penfield, "was not my girl for a household servant. She should have a maid. Look at the child's beautiful, tapering fingers."

"Mary," I replied, "was made to be a wife and a mother. Every woman has. It's nature's reason for the woman's existence."

"Then," bridled Mrs. Penfield, "you consider a woman merely a beast of burden?"

I side-tracked the subject. Mary's relations this way before.

Maggie Teyte's Advice to Young Pianists

MAGGIE TEYTE, prima donna soprano of the Chicago-Philadelphia opera company, was asked by a well known piano teacher to write a few hints for pupils who are specializing on the playing of accompaniments.

Miss Teyte hesitated, because at various times in her career as a concert singer she has suffered at the hands of inexperienced young musicians who attempted to play her accompaniment, but finally she wrote more in kindness than in anger, as follows:

"Piano playing is done with the fingers, but that is no reason for one refusing to use his brains in conjunction.

"While a piano has no conscience, the player should have one when performing very late at night or very early in the morning.

"Don't play with a hard touch just because the piano keys are hard.

"The piano bench may be made of wood, but does that give you a right to wring times in the same material?"

"Prizefighting and piano playing both require muscle, but please do not fight your innocent piano.

"Time flies. It can't help that. But keep your 'time' perfect.

"The piano has many keys, but try always to hit the right one.

"While a quick passage is called a 'run,' I think slow practice will improve your playing of it.

"Suppose the poor old composer is dead; does that give you the right to murder his music?"

"It is true that the Bible says: 'Let not your left hand know what your right hand doeth,' but when the Bible was written, there wasn't a piano in the whole wide world."

"Avoid sudden and violent changes in temperature, for the transition from a frost to a roast is exceedingly undesirable.

"Advice is the only thing in the world that is more blessed to give than to receive."

Fingers Are Guide-Posts to Traits of Character

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).
Copyright, 1914, by L. K. Hirschberg.

WHAT would a fish do without fins? What would a whale do without a tail? What would a diamond merchant or a lecturer do without hands? Really, it is more serious than humorous to say that many men would be speechless if their hands were cut off. For it is a fact, only of late disputed, that the dexterity of your right hand is symmetrically correspondent with the power of speech.

In fine, the precise area in the brain which controls your skillful muscular hand also directs your vocal ingenuity. To say that a man is making money hand over fist is synonymous with the phrase which says that money talks.

The hands are looked upon superstitiously by palmists; with a definite purpose by criminologists; and with a view to the knowledge of efficiency by psychologists and shop managers.

The idealistic hand with its delicate, long, tapering fingers is, in addition to the others so mentioned, tested by savants with new psychological instruments.

The realistic hand has short, square fingers. The energetic hand is flat, firm and all-quick. Rough fingers with knotted joints indicate a philosophical temperament.

A Sign of Strength.

Hypocrites, frauds, overestimated experts and common scoundrels often have highly polished, long, elegant looking hands.

In the pseudo-science of chironomy the character is supposed to be read from the lines, hollows and hills in the palm of the hand. The ball of the thumb is called the mouth of Venus, the hollow of the palm is the plain of Mars.

Shaking hands to bind a bargain, as well as a cheerful greeting, comes down to us as a sign of strength and health. The hand signifies strength and is accompanied by some healthful salutation—

"Let my hand be in your own—my own true friend!

Hand in hand with you."

"Does its beauty refine, as its pulses grow calm,
Or has sorrow now crossed the life-line in the palm?"

The well equipped, perfect hand must be to sure, have four fingers and a thumb which curves gracefully like the new moon. The middle finger must be as much longer than the ring finger and fore finger as the length of its whole nail.

Some Abnormal Hands.

The thumb in the open hand must not reach the first knuckle of the forefinger. The little finger should just barely reach to the second, outer, knuckle of the ring finger.

Dr. Forster gives a sketch of a hand with nine fingers. There are several recorded instances of thirteen and a dozen fingers upon one hand. Two thumbs are not rare.

The influence of heredity upon such anomalies has given a serious impetus to the study of eugenics. Eugenics is an important branch of human knowledge on the side of suspending, checking or negativing the wicked out-

Answers to Health Questions

MRS. MARY A., Philadelphia, Pa.—I live with a family where there is a cancer. Is it dangerous?

Cancers of certain animals have been found by Dr. Murphy and Peyton Ross of the Rockefeller Institute to be due to ultra-microscopic parasites. It is therefore advisable to err on the safe side and assume that human cancers are also induced by germs.

If you obtain individual china, linens, glassware and the like I believe you, with your youth and outdoor life, will be safe.

Dr. Hirschberg will answer questions for readers of this paper on medical, hygienic and sanitation subjects that are of general interest. He will not undertake to prescribe or offer advice for individual cases. Where the subject is not of general interest, letters will be answered personally if a stamped and addressed envelope is enclosed. Address all inquiries to Dr. L. K. Hirschberg, care of this office.

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

"WELL upon my word!" exclaimed Erer Rabbit one evening, as he turned the page of The Woodland News. "Here is a story by my good son Jack."

"Read it to me," said Mrs. Rabbit, as she sat down to darn Billy's stockings.

Erer Rabbit put his pipe on the table and read:

THE GOOD FAIRY.

JACK RABBIT.

"In the long ago there lived a Little Rabbit, and he wasn't a bit like other rabbits, 'cause his ears were short.

"Every day he used to go off in the woods all by himself, away from the other rabbits, and cry and cry so that it was strange he had any tears left.

"He was sitting on a mossy bank as the sun was going down one day, when his tears fell on a little violet.

"The Little Rabbit thought it was the violet, for he knew the voice of all the flowers in Woodland.

"Why do you thank me?" asked the Little Rabbit.

"Because your tears sprinkled me like the rain, and it hasn't rained here in a long time," said the violet.

"That pleased the Little Rabbit so much that he lay back on the moss and went fast asleep.

"He dreamed that a Good Fairy came out of the violet and said to him: "Why do you always cry, my little friend?"

"Because my ears are so short," answered the Little Rabbit.

"Would you stop crying if I made them longer?" asked the Good Fairy.

"Indeed I would," replied the Little Rabbit.

"Well," said the Good Fairy, "you must get up and turn around three times. Then I will touch your ears with my magic wand and you can then feel of your ears."

"Up jumped the Little Rabbit and hurriedly turned around three times. The Good Fairy smiled as she touched his ears with her wand.

"The Little Rabbit then felt of them and they were long again.

"Just then he woke up and it was quite dark.

"He scampered home as fast as he could, but when he got home his mother didn't know him.

"The Good Fairy appeared suddenly and told his mother how she had changed his ears.

"The Little Rabbit stopped crying so much and they lived happily ever after."

Change of Propositions.

"Did I understand you to say that he was broken in spirits?"

"No. I said he was broken by spirits."

Decision Readymade.

"He said he could not decide whether to propose to the widow or her daughter."

"What did he do about it?"

"Oh, the widow decided for him."

Realistio.

"Was Mrs. Peck's portrait a success?"

"It is a talking likeness."

A Hard Campaign.

"He looks like a battle-scarred veteran. Where did he receive all those wounds?"

"He was a delegate to a peace conference."

OTAWA'S WATER PROBLEM AGAIN

Considerable Hubbub When Two Schemes Were Explained to Committee.

TO PREPARE A BALLOT

People Will Vote Short Time to Settle Water Matter.

The extreme agitation which prevails in Ottawa over the water situation has been advanced towards its relief was echoed in the private bills committee yesterday when the Ellis bill appeared for discussion.

To this Napoleon Champagne, the member for the other city constituency presented a bold front. The people should have the right to vote and if they wanted the cheapest scheme let them have it.

Brandy to Cure Catarrh

Recent experiments have proved conclusively that catarrh is a constitutional disease, and that saline, astringent, etc., merely temporarily relieve the disease, and, if ever, effect permanent cure.

SOCIETY

CONDUCTED BY MRS. EDMUND PHILLIPS

The large room at the Ontario Museum was entirely filled yesterday afternoon with the most distinguished people in Toronto when H.H.H. the Duke of Connaught performed the opening ceremonies of this magnificent museum, the wonderful contents being almost entirely due to the untiring efforts of Dr. Curry, who has devoted his life time and vast knowledge of his things towards accumulating the enormously interesting and beautiful collections under the roof of this building.

Toronto and Victorias Staged in Last Contest of World's Bumps Throut and in a Boxing Bout as a Side Issue—Evenly Matched.

Toronto pros are undisputed hockey champions of the world. The blue shirts earned this title last night by dawning Victorias Pacific Coast champions, in the third and deciding game of the series, at the Arena last night by 2 to 1. Toronto will hold the Stanley Cup for one year at least, as it is hardly likely that Sydney, the Maritime League winners, will be given dates at this late season. Last night's contest was easily the best of the series played thus far, and was a real battle from end to end. Victorias started out with hard checking and before the contest was over they had given a little more than they had been given. It was a brilliant game of the six-man variety with the players paying more attention to individual rushes than the passing game. This was no doubt due to the heavy checking that they were getting.

The nineteenth annual congress of the Canadian Whist League will be held in the banquet hall of the King Edward Hotel on April 8, 10 and 12. That the interest in whist is undiminished is shown by the large attendance at these meetings.

The competition for the Goodall, Hay and Amson Trophies will attract pairs from all over Canada, and many crack exponents of the game are expected from the United States to take part in the International Trophy contest.

BROCKVILLE HOCKEY PLAY OFF.

BROCKVILLE, Ont., March 19.—An exciting hockey series has just been completed for the championship of the Brockville City League, in which five teams competed, the trophy being a magnificent silver cup donated by A. E. Donevan, M.P.A. The regular season finished with a three-cornered tie between the Bankers, Shamrocks and Rowing Club. The Irishmen were eliminated, leaving the final contest between the money handlers and the scullers. The clash between these two organizations, who had previously met three times on account of a tie game, furnished one of the most strenuous matches of the series. Ten minutes overtime was required to settle the question of supremacy, the victory going to the Rowing Club by 3 to 1. The league developed many good players, who will be eligible for senior company next season.

City Dairy Annual Meeting

INTERESTS, APPARENTLY CONFLICTING, ARE IN HARMONY.

The following extract from the Managing Director's address to the shareholders at the annual meeting, Tuesday, March 17, is of more than passing interest to the general public. He said, in part, as follows:

"We are here today to consider the results of another year's operations. Whether it will be called a satisfactory year or not depends somewhat on the temperament of the person considering it. It is a characteristic of the people living in this climate never to be satisfied with present attainments, and I am no exception to the rule. It is a delicate matter, however, for me to say publicly that the company should get more profit on the business it is doing, for the reason that the producer may get the impression that the extra profit desired is to come out of him, and the consumer, likewise, may jump to the conclusion that his pocket is to furnish it.

"I venture to say that there is not in the City of Toronto an industry that has to harmonize more conflicting interests than the city milk dealer. The nature of the product is such that he has to depend on the same farmers from year to year for his stock in trade, which is sold to the same customers from day to day year in and year out. The product is delivered with so little apparent change that the producer and the consumer who are so slightly separated, get the mistaken idea that the difference between what one receives and the other pays, is all profit.

"The one is interested in getting all the money he can for his product, and the other is interested in getting all the product he can for his money. Then there is a third class that furnishes the capital to conduct the enterprise, they also must have fair treatment.

"That the City Dairy Company has been able to harmonize all of the apparent conflicting interests, and to gain and keep the confidence of each, is apparent to everyone who gives heed to the large amount of money invested in plant and equipment, and is acquainted with the tremendous amount of dairy product that is sent in by the farmers to be distributed to its customers.

"While the interests of these three classes appear to be at variance they are really interlocked—each requires the co-operation of the other two. If either of the three fails in its relation to the others not only does their interest suffer, but also the interests of the other two. In fact the City Dairy has become so intimately related to the daily comfort and well-being in the homes of so many thousand customers, farmers and investors that the effect of any interruption of its function would be seriously felt, not only in Toronto, but over the country contained in a hundred-mile radius. I am not saying this to create any feeling of responsibility outside of the company, but simply to indicate that we appreciate the delicate relation we hold to the people, and to point out how necessary it is that the company be kept strong and capable.

"The officers of the company have frequently expressed themselves as not being in favor of large profits, and have given evidence of their good faith in the statements of operation from year to year. In fact several seasons ago the company trimmed its sails a little too closely and actually delivered product at a loss. This necessitated an unreasonable advance in the price, which, however, was accepted with every evidence of loyalty.

"This indicates to us that we possess to a marked degree the confidence and goodwill of our customers, which we hope to merit still further by keeping their interests and desires first in our mind in the future the same as in the past.

"With regard to the year 1914, we are entering it with no untoward conditions in sight.

"The physical condition of our plant was never better.

"Our equipment is up to date, and capable of reaching and maintaining the highest standards.

"Our business is increasing in volume and number of customers steadily and regularly.

"The product that we are delivering is of the highest quality and safe, and I believe your company is today held in higher esteem than ever before in its history."

DEMOCRACY HAS MANY PROBLEMS

Needs Leadership, Not to Be at Mercy of Designing Knaves.

NOT AN IDOL, AN IDEAL

Danger of Majority Seeking Advantages to Loss of Minority.

"No form of government needs leadership more than democracy, otherwise it is at the mercy of every designing knave," said Ven. Archbishop Cody in addressing the Empire Club on "Safeguarding an Imperial Democracy," at McConkey's yesterday. "Statesmanship in the long run," said he, "always pays better than mere politics." He said that the leader who put character and good of country to the front first, last and all the time was the man who would win and hold the votes of the country.

"In itself," said Canon Cody, "democracy does not carry its own vindication." He said democracy does not rule by right divine; it is not a great idol, but is an ideal. He quoted Bryce who said that a great gulf existed between the theory and the practice of democracy. In theory, democracy presupposes that every citizen was intelligent, honest and working for his country's good, but in the reality this worked out differently. Democracy had its problems in Canada, and the water between the east and the west, the great problem of keeping the east and west together, another problem to come was that democracy in Canada was going to set itself to another distribution of wealth. Elements of Democracy.

Some of the elements that make up and safeguard an imperial democracy, he said, were a deepened sense of individual civic responsibility, for a weak point of the present system could be expressed by the proverb, "What is everybody's business is nobody's business"; education, for an ignorant democracy was the greatest of evils, and millions could be spent to teach people to think but it was hard to teach people to think; loyalty to leadership for democracy meant equality only in the sense of equality of opportunity and not that one man was as good as another, not that every man could do as he likes. Another essential was discipline. It was absurd to neglect the impulses of great masses of men, it was foolish to try to stop them, but it was wise to try to guide them. The last requisite was distinctness. There was danger that the majority might seek its advantages to the serious loss of the minority.

Women will find more news of interest to them in The World's magazine page every morning than in any other paper.

DRUNKARD MUST SUPPORT FAMILY

Juvenile Court Interests Itself in Case of Neglected Children.

REGENERATION SOUGHT

Boys Who Pilfer From Store Counters Are Shown Error of Ways.

Rev. J. W. Magwood appeared as witness yesterday morning in an important case in the juvenile court. For almost the length of time the court has been in existence this particular case has been interesting to the authorities, and it was with full knowledge of the existing conditions that Acting Commissioner Graham reached what is hoped to prove a profitable arrangement. Court officials said it was difficult to help an inveterate drunkard who has lost all self-respect and affection for his wife and children, but it is held when he is taken hold of by a man who has his interest at heart, great things can be done. Mr. Hart offered to assist the acting commissioner in his task and it is now hoped that the hard-working woman who has for years labored to support her family will receive help before her energies are gone. The children of this family are victims of neglect and not only has one of the little boys been sent to the hospital and is still there, but the 4-year-old baby had its feet frozen this winter thru walking barefooted on the cold floors of the home, while its mother scrubbed for living. "This is the most pitiable case that has been brought to my notice," said Mr. Graham, "but when drink gets the better of a man there is no did worker and earns good wages, so it was decided to give him one more chance to make what restitution he can for his neglected family. There is an alternative of a long term on the jail farm if he deserts them again.

The counters of large stores have proved great temptations to boys weak enough to yield. Two children about 11 years of age were brought before the court for having stolen a number of miscellaneous articles including purses, leather goods and handkerchiefs. These lads, who were first offenders, were given a warning and put on probation, while two older delinquents were remanded to the Shelter for one week, for having taken possession of two pairs of boots and one pair of trousers.

Another tragedy as the result of immoral conduct upon the part of a young husband, was studied in court, and in spite of his obstinacy and a few unconvincing remarks from his "lawyer," the young wife won the case. The husband has been supporting another woman while his wife remained dependent upon her father. The husband will now pay $6 a week into court towards the support of his two children.

CANADIAN PRESS INCORPORATED.

OTTAWA, March 19.—The private bills committee this morning passed the bill incorporating the Canadian Press Association. The bill authorizes the issue of certain debentures and making other financial arrangements which have been standing on the order paper for some weeks, passed with certain amendments.

CHEQUE FOR FIREMEN.

Chief Thompson of the fire brigade received a cheque for $100 for the firemen's benefit fund from Alfred Langdon, president of the Canadian Carbon Co. Limited, for the efficiency of the brigade in confining the Woodbine Hotel fire to one building, and consequent saving of the premises of the company.

TOBACCO MEN ORGANIZE.

KINGSVILLE, March 19.—Large delegations from two counties met at Kingsville and a new organization was formed, to be known as the Western Ontario Tobacco Growers' Co-operative Association. The original plan of organization was fully discussed and various rules adopted. Final arrangements were left in the hands of a 25-man committee, representing various municipalities in Essex and Kent. Delegations from Blenheim numbered 18 or 20 of the leading farmers of Kent. A large warehouse of Darling Wigle, at Kingsville, will be either rented or purchased for the purpose of the association.

Don't Outgrow the Bread and Milk Habit

John Dough—raised on Fleischmann's Yeast

WHEN we were kids Mother fed us on that good old-fashioned dish—bread and milk. She knew it would make us healthy and lusty, because it gives all nourishment the body needs in a form most easily digested. As we grow older, we are apt to think of bread and milk as only for children and not as the nourishing and strengthening dish that it really is for all of us of all ages. Eat it tonight—it will prove as tasty as ever and a palatable change from heavier foods.

EAT MORE BREAD
at every meal—and between. It is the best and most nourishing food—also the most digestible when made right. To be sure of perfect bread, properly raised and containing all the food value of the wheat,

CHANGE LAW FOR TRUST COMPANIES

Parliamentary Committee Reduce Limit of Liability for Wages.

OTTAWA, March 19.—An amendment that trust company directors shall number not less than five and not more than 21, was submitted by Hon. W. T. White when the trust bill was before the banking committee today.

As originally drafted, the bill provided that no shareholder be eligible for election as a director unless he holds 30 paid-up shares. Mr. Nesbitt said that this should be reduced, as small shareholders, often made the best directors. Finally an amendment was passed that every shareholder shall, until the whole amount of his stock is paid up, be individually liable to the company to the amount equal to that paid on his stock.

Another proposal is that the directors who pay a dividend when a company is insolvent shall not be liable unless they know of the insolvency at the time of paying the dividend. The liability of directors for a year's salary of employes was reduced to three months.

IMMIGRATION INCREASE IS ONLY TWO PER CENT.

OTTAWA, March 19.—The total immigration to Canada during the 11 months, April to February, of the current year, was 363,088, made up of 136,899 British, 97,406 American, and 129,823 from all other countries. During the corresponding 11 months of last year the total number was 353,221, composed of 133,711 British, 124,338 American, and 95,222 from all other countries. The increase is two per cent.

SCORES OF TRAITORS LINED UP AND SHOT

MEXICO CITY, March 19.—Details of the bloodiest execution in recent history were brought here this afternoon by Capt. Adan Toledano, who was an eye-witness to the shooting of 140 prisoners and the hanging of their corpse leaders, following a mutiny at the Jofutis Barracks in the State of Morelos. "It was on the morning of Friday, the 13th, that the men were lined up and executed," said Capt. Toledano to the United Press. "It was horrible, but it was the only thing to do. The line leaders were hanged to trees nearby the spot where their followers were shot."

NEW YORK STOCKS MERELY DRIFTED

Standard Issues Were Almost Neglected, But Undertone Was Good.

MARKET SOLD OUT

Resistance of List to Unfavorable Influences Was Encouraging Sign.

NEW YORK, March 19.—Speculation approached a deadlock today among the stocks, whose movement usually determine the character of the market. The leading shares showed no important variations through the session, and the most that could be said was that there was a consistently good undertone. Operations were wider, the tobacco stocks were so limited that interest was directed to the specialties, among which fluctuations were wider.

C. P. R. WAS HIGHER

Brazilian Weak Richelieu Only Other Stock to Show Activity at Montreal.

MONTREAL, March 19.—C.P.R. was on the up grade, but Brazilian was on the down grade; between the contrary pull of two stocks whose fairly uniform movements have controlled the market here for some weeks back the market chose to take its inspirations from the weaker, and a weak rally prevailed throughout the day.

Random Notes on the Mining Stocks.

The mining market was easier, due to realizing, and it looks as if somewhat lower prices will be seen before another upward turn takes place.

Jupiter was weaker, selling down to 1 1/2, but closing around 1 1/4. Montreal was a heavy seller, and reports from that source indicate a restriction with the deal made with the McKinley-Darragh Company.

Dome Lake was steady from 4 1/2 to 5, but strengthening later in the day. There is considerable liquidation among holders, but the stock may sell at lower prices, as if the traders are advising buying for another advance.

A pool is in process of organization in Detroit for the purpose of securing control of one of the Porcupine companies whose shares are selling at a big discount. The pool is being organized on option, but attempts will be made to secure it by quiet accumulation to the company. The broker responsible for the information refused to name the company, as he said it would interfere or stop the proposed deal.

The Canadian Mining Journal in its March 15 number, says: The discovery at Peterson Lake holds out quite well prospects. The discovery of high grade was first struck, the two veins have run apart and will have to be followed in separate drifts. This is now being done. The veins were always drifting. The one in both drifts is still looking good. It contains silver and copper in such quantities that there will be good milling value in the wall rock. Several tons of high grade have already been installed at the old Berry shaft.

Brevity marked the proceedings of the annual meeting of the Canadian Mining and Exploration Company, in which our men of prominence in mining and finance on this continent are interested. The corporation was formed in 1908, and has since that time been engaged in the search for and the development of mineral resources in the north-western part of the continent. The report for the year, as presented, was adopted, and the directors were re-elected without change.

The address of President Worrell states that in all 60 properties were examined during the year, of which 25 were more or less developed mines, and 75 were prospects. The same statement has been made. The president expresses the hope that the company's investments in the past year will result in some of these propositions may yet bear fruit.

The field covered by the company's engineers in their examinations has ranged from Newfoundland on the east to British Columbia on the west, and from Alaska on the north to lower California and Sonora on the south. "By providing of elimination," says President Worrell, "our work is gradually being directed more eventually toward the more promising developments."

It is understood the company has at present in the west coast, which would propose to test thoroughly. The company's profit and loss statement for the year shows a gross income of $12,798, of which something like $7,000 was expended, leaving a balance to carry forward of $5,798.

Our balance sheet at December 31 appears less favorable than it does to date, owing to a small depreciation of our bond investments at the end of the year. Since then our surplus has been directed more exclusively toward an improvement in the security market.

Market Undertone Good

With a rising market it is always well to expect reactionary periods. Profit-taking, and such conditions should be set to follow or make fresh purchases. Mining markets have been strong for several weeks and the undertone is now better than that of a month ago. It is not surprising that mining shares are strong, and other markets and they can do better. Ask those who have traded in New York many new operations will commence in Cobalt and Porcupine and this will be a further stimulant to business. Gold Reef, Apex, Preston East Dome, the Porcupines, and Peterson Lake, in the Cobalt, are what we regard as the best present purchases.
