HOUSE FRONT FELL OUT FIRE DESTROYED DEBRIS

20 Lives Lost in New York Holocaust—Tenants Cremated With No Chance to Escape.

NEW YORK, July 29.—After an all-night search of the ruins of the six-story tenement at No. 222 Christie-street, which was burned shortly after midnight, the police announced that there were twenty victims of the fire.

The bodies of the dead were found in all sorts of unexpected places, to which persons had fled when the fire broke out. Almost all of the bodies were burned beyond recognition, many to such an extent that it was impossible to distinguish the sex. A majority of the victims, the police believed, were women and children.

The burned building was one of those old-fashioned tenements common to the east side, with a store on the ground floor and the apartments upstairs crowded with tenants, mainly Italians.

The fire started in the store and swept thru the building with such rapidity that a fifth of the 100 tenants in the place met a horrible death.

Another score, they escaped with their lives, were more or less burned or otherwise injured.

A passer-by was attracted by the explosion, which apparently occurred on the basement floor. As he turned toward the building, the whole front with its flimsy fire-escapes, fell into the street and from the sagging floors a score of half-awakened persons dropped into the street.

Many of these were badly hurt, but they proved to be the more fortunate of the tenants, for in another moment the building was wrapped in flames and the cries of the persons burning to death rent the air.

In the wild panic that followed many suffered mortal injury. The police and firemen, who soon reached the scene, attempted to take the imperiled tenants from the side and rear windows, but few who were free to act did not wait for assistance, but jumped into the street.

Several who sought escape by a rear stairway were driven back by choking smoke. Some of these made their way through the fire to other exits, but more fell, overcome in the hallways, to be dragged out insensible.

Of the dead and dying the larger part were women and children. In the mad scramble for exit and safety, the stronger in mind and character were stronger in the flames, while the weaker were practically in ashes, when the search for the bodies began.

NERVES IN ORDER.

NERVES UNSTRUNG.

This is a nerve-racking age—not a man in an office or behind the counter, striving hard to get on in the world, that does not feel the strain. His nerves are in order, a man is strong, eats and sleeps well. Unstrung nerves mean weakness, worry, sleeplessness and a general decay of bodily strength, inability to do good work or to do it long.

Most men are careless of their health, trust to luck and that kind of thing, instead of taking Ferrozone for a few weeks when they feel dull in the morning, sleep poorly or lose appetite.

Ferrozone quickly brightens up the mind. It creates an appetite and improves digestion. Ferrozone makes the nerves quiet, the nerves, makes muscle like steel and induces refreshing sleep.

Ferrozone is a body builder, thousands have proved it. If you are sick or only out of sorts, use Ferrozone and enjoy the splendid reward it affords.

SOCIETY'S BAD STATE REVEALED IN TRIAL

British Comment on Haywood Verdict—Roosevelt Comes in for Criticism.

LONDON, July 29.—Commenting on the result of the trial of William D. Haywood, at Boise, The Chronicle today says:

"The state of society revealed by this trial is more terrible than any civil war, because it is more treacherous and is likely to be more lasting. From beginning to end it reveals a condition of brutal rapacity, confronted with savage, despairing violence, a condition that gives America a boasted civilization a new and dubious look."

The Daily News says: "From the outset the question has been complicated by the mere prejudices of a kind of smoldering class war. The whole movement, both in the revelations of the trial and its accompaniments in public statement, was illustrated the insecurity of authority in America and the profound scepticism concerning the ideal of law and justice."

Both editorials refer to President Roosevelt's "undesirable citizens" statement.

The News calls it one of his greatest public indiscretions, and The Chronicle predicts that it will cost him dear.

Bryan's Glad.

PEORIA, Ill., July 29.—W. J. Bryan is quoted as follows on the Haywood verdict:

"I am glad to learn of the verdict and that it is his himself suggested, and it was shown he was in communication with the mine owners and attempted to induce the defendants to engage in a most dubious trial."

"The manner in which the prisoners were taken from Colorado was hardly in keeping with a fair prosecution."

The Balletzan Sisters, five in number, are a decided feature of this week's entertainment at Scarborough Beach. The young ladies are comely of appearance and most attractively costumed, present an act in aerial acrobatics that has a distinct savor of novelty. The feats performed are carried through with a swing and dash that thrill the spectators. The quintet, while as active as squirrels, are capable of exhibiting some remarkable performances that call for the exercise of no mean muscular development. The evolutions on trapeze and rings fall little short of the marvelous, and the spectators last night did not stint applause.

Oscar Babcock had not recovered sufficiently from his experiences of last week to attempt his sensational bicycle act in its entirety, but he "looped the loop" yesterday and promised an essay also "tying the flame" to-night.

The Piece of String

In all the roads around Goderville the peasants and their wives were travelling towards town. It was market-day. The men tramped along in worn, heavy boots, their bodies bent forward, with long knotted limbs twisted to take flight at the least alarm, by reaping in the open field and by the countless tasks, incessant and toilsome of the farmer's life.

Next came a pleasure van, rolling by to the irregular trot of a country horse, with a woman at the bottom of the vehicle, which she grasped by the side to lighten the jolts and avoid the bumps of the road.

Maitre Hanchecorne of Breauté had just arrived at Goderville, and was making for the house where he had applied a little piece of string lying on the ground. Maitre Hanchecorne, economical in true Norman ways, thought that it was worth while to save anything useful, and he stooped with considerable effort, owing to his rheumatism, straightening himself, he noticed that Maitre Malandrin, the harness maker, was quarrelling with the subject of a halter, and remained enemies on this account, because both were looking at him.

He soon disappeared amid the crowd in its tumult of interminable buying and selling. He had not been long in the crowd, and he went, always in fear of getting the worst of it, searching the eye of the man, always ready to begin a quarrel with him. The women, having placed their large baskets on the ground, were tending their birds, which slid to the ground, tied by their feet, with starting eye and scartled comb.

Then, bit by bit, the market-place emptied itself. The Angelus sounded mid-day, and all people who were at a distance scattered to the various inns. At Jourdain's place the big room was full of people eating, just as they had done at the inn. Everyone was eating, and the tables were covered with a variety of dishes. The women, turned with their chickens, pigsons and legs of mutton, and a delectable and roasting merriment, the room whetting every appetite. All the aristocracy of the carry-alls came for dinner here, at Jourdain's, inn-keeper, a horse jockey, a well-to-do scamp.

Dishes and jug of cider were passed about the table. Everyone was eating. Every tongue was loosened and people told their bargains, purchases and sales. The crops were discussed, and the state of the weather thrashed out. All at once a drum beat in the courtyard, and the women, who were eating, started up, mouth still full, and napkin in hand, and rushed to the windows and doors.

After the beating was over, the cutting his phrases up in despite of meaning, after the fashion of crabs. "Notice is given to the people of Goderville, and to all sundry of the province now at the market, that there was lost this morning on the road to Benzeville, between 9 and 10 o'clock, a pocketbook of black leather, containing 500 francs and business papers. You are requested to bring it to the mayoralty or to the house of Maitre Fortune Houbrèque of Manneville. A reward of 20 francs is offered."

after resting were always particularly difficult, he started exclaiming: "Here I am, here I am, and followed the officer." The mayor was awaiting him, seated in an armchair. He was the lawyer of the place, a stout man, grave, pompous of phrase.

Maitre Hanchecorne, he said, someone saw you this morning on the Benzeville-road, picking up the pocket-book lost by Maitre Houbrèque of Manneville. The peasant, speechless, stared at the mayor, already frightened dumb by the suspicion hanging over him, he knew not why.

Me, me; I picked up that pocket-book, you sir! On my word, I never even knew anything about it. I was seen? Who saw me? M. Malandrin, the harness maker. Then the old fellow recalled the incident, understood, and flushing with anger— Oh, he did, did he? That logger-head, what he did see was me picking up that bit of string.

After having picked the object up, you searched for a long time in the dust to see if some coin had not slipped out? The poor man, choking with indignation, repeated: How people can tell such lies as that to misrepresent an honest man. If people can say that, why not say anything else? It was no use protesting. No one believed him.

He was confronted with M. Malandrin, who repeated and stuck by his statement. They insulted one another for a whole hour. Then they searched Maitre Hanchecorne. They found nothing on him. At last the mayor, entirely at sea, displayed him, informing him that he was going to call the bench and ask for instructions.

Meanwhile the news had spread abroad. At the entrance of the mayor-alty the old man was surrounded, questioned with serious or jeering curiosity, but without any indignation. He began to repeat the history of the piece of string. No one believed him. Everybody tittered and laughed at him. You old scamp, get along with you! He grew hot and angry, despairing of being believed, not knowing what to do, he constantly repeating his story.

Night came. It was necessary to go home. He started out with two neighbors to whom he showed the place where he had picked up the piece of cord, and all the way home he talked of his adventure. There he went to look for Maitre Malandrin in the village of Breauté in order to tell everybody. He only encountered enmity and derision. It worried him into sickness, and he was ill all the night.

Next day towards afternoon Maitre Hanchecorne was called to the bench. He was asked to read, he had taken it to the house and read it to his employer. The news spread thru the neighborhood. Maitre Hanchecorne was told of the proceedings. He came to the bench, and he was asked to read the story from beginning to end. He glared in it.

PHONE REPORT DELAYED.

The report of the arbitrators in the Bell Telephone dispute with the operators will not be made until the end of the month, says Judge Winchester, who is still to consider certain phases of the matter. In the meantime, the telephone girls are wondering what the end will be. The union has not been flourishing. At the last meeting in the Labor Temple, only about a dozen girls were present, and they seemed more interested in the piano and an occasional walk around the room than in the matter of "reports" of the union promoters.

The company is having some trouble, too, in retaining operators. During June less than fifty girls are said to have left the office. Advertisements in the rural papers for operators have brought some results in the way of securing substitutes.

Controller Hubbard Again Explains Why He Favors Plan of Bridges.

Practically the only member of the city council who has thus far publicly declared himself opposed to the viaduct solution of the Esplanade problem is Controller Hubbard, who considers that a bridge at the foot of Yonge-street is all that will be necessary for years to come. He argues that a viaduct would not abolish shipping on the level, and that, if it were built, the smoke from passing trains would create a great nuisance.

Forty-one men are under quarantine in the Salvation Army lodging house, at the corner of Wilton-avenue and Victoria-street, from which an inmate, suffering from smallpox, was removed to the Cottage Hospital. One of the inmates of the Strick Cottage was discharged yesterday.

One of the grandest trips that Ontario affords is through the islands of Georgian Bay. There are more than 30,000 islands in this immense arm of Lake Huron. ADULTERATED TEAS.

Japanese Exporters Do Not Like New Customs Regulations.

OTTAWA, July 29.—(Special.)—Canada's new customs regulations making more stringent provisions against the importation of adulterated teas are not regarded favorably in Japan. Reporting on the subject to the trade and customs department, Alex. M. Lean, commercial agent in Yokohama, says: "It happens that the bulk of the tea exported from this country to Canada are described as low grade, and it is mainly the low grade of such teas that are affected by the regulations in question."

"As they are regarded here, the regulations affect the exportation of tea to Canada to the delay involved in examination and testing, and possibly to chemical analysis, before the product can pass the customs and then to the delay is added the cost of return transportation in the case of ever failing, not anticipated, almost. It is represented that the trade cannot be carried on under these conditions."

"At the present time shipment is actively going on, and the putting into force now of regulations, however salutary, not anticipated when the season's trade was being negotiated, may prove very embarrassing to exporter and importer alike."

One ounce Fluid Extract Dandelion. One ounce Compound Sarsaparilla. Mix and take a teaspoonful after meals and at bedtime, drinking plenty of water. The above prescription has been found invaluable in the treatment of kidney, bladder and urinary troubles, and diseases arising therefrom, such as rheumatism, sciatica, lame back and lumbago, and we feel that the public are entitled to particularity concerning it. A prominent physician states that the excellent results that have been obtained from the use of the mixture are due to its direct action upon the kidneys, assisting them in their work of filtering all the poisonous waste matter and acids from the blood and expelling same in the urine, and at the same time restoring the kidneys to a healthy condition. He further states that anyone suffering from affections of this nature will find it to be very beneficial. It suggests that it be given a trial.

The Toronto World CHILDREN'S HUMANE LEAGUE

The winner of this week's competition is Miss Irene Corney of the Centre Chapter of the League. For a child of 8 years, the letter below is uncommonly creditable. The writing was neat, punctuation correct, and, except for the use of capital letters a couple of times where they weren't needed, the spelling was perfect.

For next week's competition, we give the subject, "In the Garden."

Preferably, we would like to hear of the doings of birds and insects, which have been observed. The children may, if they wish, however, draw on their imaginations for a sketch of an ideal garden, with birds and pets. The letters must not be longer than two hundred words and must be plainly signed with name and address of the writer. Only members of the League can compete. If you are not a member, fill out the blank beneath and send with your letter.

CANADIAN WILD FLOWERS.

I love to roam thru the woods in springtime, and hunt amongst the shady nooks for the sweet-scented violets. How pleased we are to bring home a bunch of these beautiful little flowers to mama! Later comes the Golden Rod, with its tall, stately blossom and rich color, attracting every lover of wild flowers. And I have noticed dozens of people coming home from their outing with large bunches of them. So I think they must be a great favorite with our people.

The Buttercup, I am told, is a great favorite with the cows. My grandma says, "It always makes the butter rich."

The Daffodil, bending its graceful head in the sun, is also a favorite.

The Honeysuckle, with its long, clinging vine and its curiously shaped flower, white, tipped with gold, makes a lovely wreath, with which we often play May Queen.

And last, but not least, come the Wild Roses; only we prick our fingers so often that sometimes we are almost tempted to leave them alone.

Irene Corney, 64 Kensington-avenue, Toronto.

I wish to become a member of The Toronto World Humane League.

NINE INNINGS AND NO SCORE HAIL AND DARKNESS END GAME

Rudolph and Hughes Pitch in Winning Form - Play Double Header To-day - Bisons Win and Lose.

MONTREAL, July 29.—(Special.)—Toronto and Montreal played a tie game here this afternoon, the score at the end of nine innings being 0-0. It was then 8:25 and so dark that Umpire Cusack called the game.

In the third innings, with Montreal at bat, a thunder and hail storm came up and stopped the play for 20 minutes, and when the game was resumed the field was very wet, but despite this handicap the fielding was errorless, hitting one bad throw by Mitchell to first.

The two teams will play a double-header to-morrow. Score: Montreal, 0; Toronto, 0.

First on base—Hughes 2, Struck off—By Hughes 3, by Rudolph 2. Sacrifice hits—Mitchell, Brockert. Stolen bases—Corcoran, Fitch. Left on bases—Toronto 8, Montreal 8. Will pitch—Rudolph, Umpire—Cusack.

Bisons Win and Lose. BUFFALO, July 29.—Buffalo had hard work to hang on to the last half of today's double-header with Rochester, winning it by an eyelid. The first game went to the Bronchos, 10, 1, Buffalo never having a chance against the pitching of the Moans. The Bisons played very poorly at the start, but gradually improved as the meal hour neared. Score:

Adole and Crusader Giving Judges Difficult Task—Will Sail Again To-day.

The Royal Canadian Yacht Club's challenger candidates, Adole and Crusader are just now engaged in a desperate struggle for the honor of going to Rochester to sail the defender Seneca for the Canada Cup.

The weather on Monday was usually Adele is said to like a breeze, while Crusader's popular wind seems light air. Both were encountered yesterday, with little to choose between the boats.

Before the last tuning up by Designer Fife, the chances seemed to favor the Payne creation, Adele, but the veteran's work at Oakville on Crusader seems to have been amply rewarded, and late last night, at the C. Y. C. quarters it was announced a tug up to the selection with the judges' task a most difficult if not unhappy one.

The five races on Monday and three on Saturday are all being taken into consideration, and the sailing merits in these eight are said to have been awarded early to each, that is, four wins apiece. Adele II, has been already adjudged an improbable challenger, she shies her daily sail with her faster rivals.

The three will start again on the lake course this morning at 11 o'clock, and as in yesterday's trials, the course and location will be determined by the judges just before the start in each. These officials will likely order further trials, until they are satisfied which is the faster yacht and the more likely to lift the cup at Rochester.

ADOLE, AILEEN II. CRUSADER

Royal Canadian Yacht Club's Candidates in Trial Races, to Select Canada Cup Challenger, Which Meets Defender, Seneca, at Rochester, First Race Aug. 10.

Yachts Even in Trial Races

Adole and Crusader Giving Judges Difficult Task—Will Sail Again To-day.

The Royal Canadian Yacht Club's challenger candidates, Adole and Crusader are just now engaged in a desperate struggle for the honor of going to Rochester to sail the defender Seneca for the Canada Cup.

The weather on Monday was usually Adele is said to like a breeze, while Crusader's popular wind seems light air. Both were encountered yesterday, with little to choose between the boats.

Before the last tuning up by Designer Fife, the chances seemed to favor the Payne creation, Adele, but the veteran's work at Oakville on Crusader seems to have been amply rewarded, and late last night, at the C. Y. C. quarters it was announced a tug up to the selection with the judges' task a most difficult if not unhappy one.

The five races on Monday and three on Saturday are all being taken into consideration, and the sailing merits in these eight are said to have been awarded early to each, that is, four wins apiece. Adele II, has been already adjudged an improbable challenger, she shies her daily sail with her faster rivals.

The three will start again on the lake course this morning at 11 o'clock, and as in yesterday's trials, the course and location will be determined by the judges just before the start in each. These officials will likely order further trials, until they are satisfied which is the faster yacht and the more likely to lift the cup at Rochester.

IN THE STREET—There Was an Immense Gathering of People in the Streets Surrounding the Church Where the Service Was Held.

PEOPLE ONE IN SORROW

The storm on Gallies' speak words of peace to each of these breaking hearts and reunite them at last to their loved ones in the harbor where no tempests rage, and where He shall wipe all tears away.

A pathetic figure was that of the mother of Walter Dundin, who, overcome with the heat of the church, and the mental strain she was undergoing, fainted, and at the cemetery afterwards fainted again.

The service opened with the singing of "Jesus, Lover of My Soul," followed by the Scripture lesson being read by Rev. Mr. Dewar.

The caskets were removed as follows: That of Leonard and Frank Daily, followed by the members of their family; next that of F. Kyle; next W. Dundin; next J. Irvine, and lastly, Reg. Miller.

In opening the service Rev. Hazelwood said, "We are met to-day in the shadow of a great sorrow, both civic officials and clergy thought that a union service would be entirely proper."

In concluding his remarks Dr. Hazelwood said: "This is a Christian funeral; it is not all life to live nor all death to die. There is a hereafter to which these young men just entering into manhood have gone without a moment's warning, and may we all meet in that everlasting city where funerals are no more."

Rev. Dr. Pidgeon, who was on his holidays when he heard of the tragedy, came direct from Montreal yesterday morning.

Rev. Dr. Pidgeon said: "My words are few, but in the midst of the sorrow that has beset us I hear of you here, and I am glad to see you here, and I am glad to see you here."

"The second voice comes from the nationless forms; they speak to us and say: 'Do not mourn for us. Look up, above and beyond the reach of human sight, the souls of your boys are in God's keeping.'"

"But the silent forms have not finished yet to the city people here today; to the ministers; to the council, and to the men and women of their town. They say: 'We have left many others like us behind; we have left many young men. What are you going to do for them? We had no place provided for us; now take the fellows who are left. Take them seriously. They are following us in hundreds of some, where they can learn something about the perfect man, Jesus Christ.'"

"The third voice comes from God. He says: 'Come unto Me all ye that are weary and are heavy laden, and I will give you rest.' There is not one verse or syllable in the Bible that God ever created a human soul to cast it away. There is not one word in the Bible that says that these boys were engaged in anything more than a perfectly innocent recreation, and God's Word is full of promises that the prayers that went up from that sinking boat were heard by the merciful father who when they cried, 'Ours are the blessed memories your boys have left behind, and hearken to them to-day when they bid you weep no more, but let the peace of God flow into your hearts.'"

The Pall-Bearers. Following were the pall-bearers: For W. J. Irvine, R. Kinsman, R. King, J. Johnson, G. Moore, W. Curtis and F. Bowerly.

PICKETS CAPTURE EIGHT OF TEN STRIKE BREAKERS

Boss Plumbers Resort to Strategy But Unionists Are Ever Watchful.

Yesterday morning ten men, engaged by the boss plumbers of Toronto to take the place of strikers, reached the city, but the union pickets were informed of their coming and succeeded in inducing eight of the arrivals to join them from Windsor.

The union men assert that before noon to-day they will have the remaining two out of the city. The employers resorted to strategy, hoping to escape the vigilance of the pickets and smuggle the Windsor men into the city unobserved.

As the No. 19 train from Windsor pulled up at Parkdale station the three men and a well-known employer were seen to get down. Other employers were there with automobiles to rush the new arrivals away.

Some of Those Present. Among those present at the funeral service were: Acting Mayor Howland and all the members of the council and the school board, ex-Mayors Smith, Clendenen, Pears and Laughlin, Dr. Hopkins, G. Agnew, A. Bennett and F. Bennett.

The funeral procession was one of the largest ever witnessed in Toronto and the members of the Odd-fellows, then the Amalgamated Society of Engineers, Independent Order of Macchinitis, and the Waverley Club, followed in hack. Acting Mayor Howell, members of the town council, and relatives of the young men were the mourners and accompanied the bodies to the cemetery.

The funeral service of Gordon LaRocque was held in St. Cecilia's Roman Catholic church, and from thence to the Holy Hope Cemetery, where the body was interred. The little church on Parkdale-avenue was crowded to capacity.

The remains of Joseph Irvine were escorted in the Orange Youth Britons of the Junction, whence the body was taken to King Dawson Nierhagen was accompanied to the C.P.R. station by the Brotherhood of Railway Trainmen and was taken on the 9.20 train to Palmerston for interment.

OTTAWA'S CARNIVAL. Old Boys Are Being Given a Great Old Time. OTTAWA, July 29.—A storm this evening spoiled some of the decorations, but the carnival is very gay to-night, practically the first gala night of the carnival and old boys' reunion.

There are a fairly good number of visitors and entertainments, bands and light plays. The government has added to the decorations and the street railway company has transformed Sparks-street into a fairyland with suspended lanterns. There have never been such displays in Ottawa. The parliament tower the powerful searchlight plays.

The formal opening of the Ottawa summer carnival and old boys' reunion, which marks also the 50th anniversary of the selection of Ottawa as the seat of government, was held here to-day. Among those who delivered addresses was Hon. R. W. Scott, secretary of the present mayor. Scott was himself mayor of Bytown, as the community was then known, in 1852, and was the author of the memorial to her late majesty Queen Victoria, on which the latter's selection of the Canadian capital was based.

Prison Labor Enquiry. The commission appointed by the Ontario government to secure information and inquiry into the question of the utilization of prison labor, will hold its organization meeting at the parliament buildings to-day at 11 o'clock. The committee is not likely to take up any active work in connection with the enquiry before the first of September.

WOMAN ALSO WAS DROWNED

Man Who Reported One Fatality Must Explain Another.

OTTAWA, July 29.—A body found at Rockland to-day has been identified as that of Mary Ann O'Brien, a woman with a local police court record.

Thursday night last two men from Hull, named Butthote and Girard, were out in a boat, when it capsized and Butthote was drowned. Girard said the boat was caused by Butthote attempting to change his seat. Girard to-night, however, told the police that there was also a woman companion in the boat and that she had been drowned.

She was a stranger to him, but from her description, which tallies with that of the body from Rockland, she is firmly believed to be the O'Brien woman. Girard will now have to explain his strange conduct in concealing the facts of the drowning.

BAIL FOR MOYER

But Pettibone Must Be Ready for Trial in October.

BOISE, Idaho, July 29.—Charles H. Moyer, president of the Western Federation of Miners and a confederate of William D. Haywood, acquitted yesterday of the murder of former Governor Steunberger, will be released on $25,000 bail by Judge Wood, who presided at the trial of Haywood. He will probably be released to-morrow and will leave within 24 hours for his home in Denver.

No application for bail was made to-day in the case of Geo. A. Pettibone, the third of the alleged conspirators, but a motion was made for a speedy trial and his case was set for Oct. 1. The defence admitted in the Haywood case that there were a number of things which Moyer and Pettibone were doing in connection with the case.

Haywood to-day continued to receive many congratulatory telegrams from all sections of the country. Aside from the personal congratulations of the senders, the messages have nearly all expressed the sentiment that "labor has triumphed over the oppressive measures of capital."

LONDON'S BARBER STRIKE.

LONDON, July 29.—(Special).—No agreement was arrived at the meeting to-night between the master barbers and their striking employees. The employers stated after the meeting that the places of the men will be filled at once, and they claim a number of men applying for work.

The death of Don Fraser of Windsor is reported from the west. He succeeded in having a good time in Toronto. On their arrival by the Turbulence yesterday afternoon the aggregation registered at the Rossin House, and paid a visit to Scarborough Beach. They were delighted with it and said Toronto should be proud of it. Last night they took the ferry to Hanlan's Point, where they filled the air with melody. On the ferry they sang, "My Old Kentucky Home," and several other old songs in German. The girls of the crowd said their only disappointment was that they could not have a dance at the island.

On Charges of Blackmail in Connection With Revolutionary Funds. NEW YORK, July 29.—Father Levont Martogossian, the Armenian priest whose name has been associated with the Hunakist Society, was arrested to-night on charges of extortion and blackmail.

His arrest follows the investigation of the police into the assassination of Hovannes Tavshanjian, a wealthy Armenian rug merchant, several days ago. Several parties of detectives were sent thru the Armenian quarter to-night with orders to search all Armenians for arms and to find out all possible about the Hunakist Society.

It is said that these detectives also have orders to arrest certain other Armenians who are suspected of knowing more than they have told regarding the plots to kill wealthy Armenians who have refused to contribute to the revolutionary committee.

STEAD'S BITTER COMMENT ON BRITISH DELEGATES

LONDON, July 29.—William T. Stead, editor of The Review of Reviews, who has been conducting a publication at The Hague devoted to peace conference matters, when interviewed on the progress of the peace conference, delivered a serious indictment against the British delegates. He said: "Until last Saturday, when under the pressure of angry protests, the British government instructed its delegates to make a belated declaration of adherence to the American plan of obligatory arbitration, the British delegation had done nothing for peace, nothing for arbitration, nothing, in short, for anything the British people believed they had been sent to The Hague to do."

"Their action, and still more, their inaction has been the amazement and despair of all the friends of peace. I do not exaggerate in the least when I say that, as far as every principle of the British government is supposed to have at heart is concerned, it would have been far better to have had no delegates at all than the men who have shown skepticism where they ought to have shown enthusiasm; who have repelled where they ought to have attracted; who have been a wet blanket upon every aspiration of the peace crusaders, and who have succeeded in utterly destroying England's reputation as the leader of the peace-loving nations of the world."

"As members of a conference striving for peace ideas, they are about the most incompetent set of beings that ever achieved an unmitigated failure. Great Britain having abandoned her traditional position, the leadership has fallen into the hands of Germany and the United States, and we taught the Americans that the Germans are warmer friends and stouter allies than the British."

Britain and Germany Agree. THE HAGUE, July 29.—Great Britain and Germany have practically agreed on a proposition regarding the establishment of an international prize court under the terms of which the tribunal is made permanent and is to have 15 judges. There are still differences between Great Britain and Germany regarding the laws under which the prize court will operate.

NEW SYSTEM OF ENGINES. LONDON, July 29.—The White Star Line announces that a new principle will be adopted in the new 14,000-ton steamship which is being built by Harland and Wolff for that company's Dominion service to Canada—a combination of turbines with reciprocating engines.

CAPITAL FOR COBALT TO FOLLOW ENGINEERS

Visit of the A.I.M.E. Will Surely Have Beneficial Effect in the North.

COBALT, July 29.—(Staff Correspondence.)—Scenery is at a discount with the silver-sleuths of Cobalt. The forest is burnt down or cut away to give access to the surface. The soil itself is trenched and torn in the search. The water is drained away from the lakes to uncover the hidden hoards. The hills are scored with rude roadways, corduroy, mud-tracks and rock-hewn wagon-wide trails paved with low-grade ore. Scenery must give way to service.

Over these constantly increasing lines of communication there has been dealt this year already 7000 tons of silver ore, 1000 tons a month, or 12,000 for the year. The average value for ore hitherto has been $200 a ton, which would figure out, the exact returns not being available yet, $4,900,000 for less than seven months, or say $5,000,000 for the year.

The American Institute of Mining Engineers wanted to know if there was any basis for such estimates. They did not believe they represented facts. They were familiar with statistics, some of them being concerned in their compilation. They did not want figures. They wanted facts. The figures published over the authority of government returns were unbelievable. One assaying 12,000 ounces a ton might occur in an exceptional pocket, but a vein of 11-mines of it is absurd.

Alexander wept for more worlds to conquer. Capital is always in tears over this problem. It is always on the lookout with searchlights. It employs the eyes of science in its intelligence department, and they never cease peering and prying about, examining, testing, comparing, determining, judging. The eyes of Capital. Cobalt, as everyone knows, has been making a noise like a new world for three years past. But capital, while fully as precocious as Alexander, is more cautious, and scouting, in more senses than one, has been the rule. In the visit of the Institute of Mining Engineers to Cobalt, however, capital has simply huge recognizing expedition, upon whose reports action will be taken, one way or another. If these eyes of capital perceive an opportunity in the financial regions will be fung into the fight. If they convey to the brains behind capital the suggestion that a hundred millions would be well invested in Cobalt the money will flow there like water to its level. If their report be unfavorable, Ontario must look out her mineral salvation alone. But the reports will not be unfavorable. When the minister of mines, the deputy minister, and the provincial geologist arranged for the visit of the institute they were confident of the result, and all that has transpired of the opinions of the engineers goes to establish the reputation of the camp. No sudden results need be looked for, but should the verdict warrant, as the

BOURASSA'S PROGRAM MAY BE A CANDIDATE

Does Not Believe That Dissolution of the Legislature Will Be Sanctioned.

MONTREAL, July 29.—(Special.)—Henri Bourassa, M.P. for Labelle, does not believe that a dissolution of the Quebec Legislature is at hand; for the reason that, in his opinion, Sir Louis Jetté will not be a party to such an unconstitutional act. It having been announced that the member for Labelle and several friends, amongst others N. K. Laflamme, who defended Mr. Asselin at Quebec, would hold a meeting in Sir Wilfrid Laurier's constituency of Quebec East, Mr. Bourassa was asked if he would care to say anything in advance as to his program in provincial politics.

"My program," he replied, "is not new. I have frequently in the past spoken of questions relating to provincial politics, especially in December, 1905, at Quebec, and some months later in Montreal. I also treated these questions in the colonization commission, presided over by Sir Louis Jetté, and on each occasion I am of the opinion that I expressed myself in the most positive manner on matters touching colonization and the exploitation of our timber lands. I even remember that Hon. Mr. Gouin, who was then minister in the Parent government, criticized this program rather bitterly. Later on, though, when he became premier, he hastened to adopt it, rather, to promise to put it into execution, but since that time I do not know that he has made a single attempt to carry it into practice."

"It is, therefore, pleasant to realize that the positive ideas came from me, and that the criticism, which is as easy as it is sterile, came from Mr. Gouin. Since, however, they desire to know more clearly and explicitly my ideas on provincial politics, I will readily communicate them to the public at the Quebec meeting on Aug. 15."

He then resigned his seat in the house of commons, Mr. Bourassa said: "I have nothing more to add to my position as a federal member. I do not take from me the right to discuss provincial questions, and as a citizen of the province I intend to take part in the campaign. In fact, the time has not come for me to consider it. I should be a candidate."

TRAINMEN'S BRAVE DEED. Run Cars Over Burning Bridge at Risk of Their Lives. FORT WILLIAM, July 29.—To the bravery of two C.P.R. trainmen on Saturday is due the averting of a very serious accident and heavy loss of life, when Engineer McAdam and Brakeman Wilson risked their lives to save the occupants of a Chinese special. On approaching the Ridout River at great speed, the engineer discovered that the bridge was in flames, and setting the emergency brakes, he and the freeman jumped. The train ran on, however, into the middle of the flames, and seeing this, McAdam climbed again onto the train and ran part of it across the bridge. To save the occupants of a Chinese special, the uncoupled section, Brakeman Wilson swam the river, climbed the bank and flagged it in time.

INSURANCE BOARD RE-FORMED. The Anglo-American Fire Insurance Co., having acquired a large amount of the stock, now has the controlling interest in the Montreal-Canada Insurance Co. The board of directors of the latter concern has been re-formed and is now composed of J. B. Laheur, president; Al. Champagne, vice-president, and S. McKinnon, J. P. Barker, R. Milliere, Emory Lariviere and N. Laclaire. The directors and Fred Page, secretary, are the only companies doing business in Montreal in 1907.

New Train a Record Breaker. The Canadian Pacific Railway's new flyer "Trans-Canada Limited," to the Pacific coast, lands passengers in Vancouver in less than four days after leaving Toronto, and every trip creates a record in trans-American transportation, not even the best railroads on the other side being able to equal the C. P. R. in time made. Only a coast-to-coast line, under one management, could accomplish such results. The "Trans-Canada Limited" is not only a train, but six. Bearing the name, three trains leave Montreal westbound every week, on Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays, and there are three trains eastbound, of course. Only palace sleeping cars and diners are carried, all luxuriously complete in every detail. Train leaves Toronto to connect at North Bay with the flyer, at 1.45 p.m. Tuesdays, Thursdays and Saturdays. Full information can be obtained and berths reserved at C. P. R. city ticket office, corner King and Yonge-street.

Accidental Death. "Accidental death" was the verdict of the coroner's jury that inquired into the demise of G. W. Porter of Bowling Green, who died of injuries sustained in jumping from a College-street car to regain his straw hat Saturday afternoon. The inquest was held at the General Hospital yesterday morning. The evidence showed that the man had stepped off the car the wrong way.

C. P. R. Inspection. Sir Thomas Shaughnessy and a party of officials, including General Manager Leonard Supt. Osborne and Divisional Supt. Everett, are making a tour of inspection over the company's lines in Ontario this week. They left by special train yesterday morning for Windsor. The next day will be to the Guelph and Goderich division, which they will inspect to the end of the line.

Hia Last Run. A horse owned by M. Sigal, 21 Hagerman-street, took fright at Church and Shuter-streets, and running away dashed his head against a trolley pole at Queen-street. His neck was broken.

Five Hundred Home Seekers. Over five hundred immigrants have arrived in Toronto since Saturday, and a hundred coming in on Sunday afternoon. A considerable number remained in the city, but the majority went to outside points.

CAN YOU TAKE HOLD?

THESE BOOKS REQUIRE A MAN WHO IS FAMILIAR WITH MODERN METHODS

That's the question the employer asks. Can you answer "Yes"? It's a mighty different proposition to hold down a job in an office to-day to what it was a few years ago. Business houses have installed special modernized accounting systems, designed individually for their own uses, and want men familiar with modern business methods, men who can step right in and take hold. Are you prepared for that kind of a job? Business Systems Commercial School will prepare you. Where the ordinary "business" college educates mere bookkeepers, Business Systems Commercial School educates specialists in modern methods—the kind of men who use their brains to cut down clerical work, and who draw the highest salaries. The courses in Business Systems Commercial School may be a little stiffer than in the ordinary business colleges; but they are more thorough. Students applying for admission, whose previous education does not come up to the required standard, are put through a special training course before being started at the real work, and no student is graduated who is not thoroughly capable. Business Systems Commercial School teaches retail as well as wholesale business methods, and for those now occupying positions and who desire to improve themselves, there are special night courses. By this it will be seen that Business Systems Commercial School in looking for its pupils does not want infants or the class of students whose parents send them to "business" college merely to "fill in" a year after they leave the public school. Business Systems Commercial School wants bright, aggressive young men and women, who are determined to succeed; such students as the directors of the school feel they can consistently recommend on graduation to the best positions. Do you belong to this class? If so, write for further particulars and booklet on the course. Fall term begins Tuesday, Sept. 3rd.

SPECIAL FARMING WEEKS STOCK EDITION

APPLES.

There seems to be some funny work being done by buyers of apples in certain sections of the country, in order to offset the inroads that the co-operative societies are making upon the affections of the country. That human nature has its weak points when our own pockets are affected seems well demonstrated in the case in point. It is an easy matter to insinuate that a company of co-operative people will soon fail, that they are paying their secretary too much, and that the apple seller had better take a bird in hand than two in the bush. All this is easy to convey by a toss of the head or a make-wise expression that carries its weight with certain farmers.

But while this may do for sharks, it is not the business methods to be employed by responsible men of to-day. An institution ought to stand on its merits. It should not be stumped into failure by the interested motives of a few competitive buyers. If the members of these co-operative concerns are being made the butt of attack by the independent buyers it is for the purpose of dislodging one member from the camp and using his desertion as a lever for wholesale purchases from us.

It is the gods of mammon, are not the ways of the schemer past finding out? Are they not innocents abroad and philanthropists of the first water. Their sole aim is to protect the farmer. They want to do the square thing. They encourage that, magnanimous spirit which lives and lets others live. Their power of estimating the world's demand is most persistent. Soon these large-hearted ones want to close a price on the orchard. They will advance a penny sum now, the glitter of which blinds the seller to the defects at first apparent. The deed is done. The buyer rides off with a wink in the other eye.

Yet why is it that the same men who think the association is so weak, will try to kill it? Did ever a big man use his energy to hunt down a wounded dove? Why is it the secretary could give for one year? There must be some fire in our co-operative societies, which causes such a smoking of the embers.

FARM TELEPHONES MOVING.

The Markham and Pickering Telephone Company in their annual meeting at Whitevale on Saturday made a move in the right direction. The company can now raise bonds and the cost of construction need not lag for want of working capital. They are looking ahead and the day is not very far distant when the wisdom of their move will bear much fruit.

They are going ahead with their building and the farmers generally will be pleased to hear of every improvement they make.

AUTOMOBILES.

Two years ago a strenuous fight was put up in the Ontario Legislature to protect the country highways from the recklessness of the auto drivers. Much good legislation was passed at that time, but by some mischance or other that law finds very little observance on the country highway. The maximum speed limit is a laughing stock, for anyone has but to visit any leading country road to see offences daily.

It is to be deplored that the roads upon which our farmers have spent so much money are almost closed to the farmers' traffic. The country women are staying home more than ever because they cannot drive out. It was one of the sad things of the Women's Institute reports to find so many country women prisoners at home because of the recklessness of a few auto drivers. Not all who ride in autos are guilty of this, but the misdeeds of a few render the whole unsafe for the horsewoman.

The farmers should demand strict punishment of all offenders. No rich man, big man or other should escape a penalty due him by reason of his position.

Moreover, some tax should be levied upon the drivers of autos. They use the road, but the councils keep them up. What justice is there in that? Let our legislators do something to solve this question and to make the ones who enjoy the pleasure pay for the riding.

THE GREEN BUG.

"From all parts of the state, complaints are coming in with respect to the condition of the oat crop. The last week has seen a notable change in the outlook. The young oats in a large part of the state have suddenly become as if stricken with blight, the outer leaves turning yellow and afterwards reddish, until after a little time the field appears as if badly rusted. A closer examination shows there are few if any rust spores.

Careful examination with the aid of a powerful lens shows the culprit to be a minute green insect, about a third of an inch long and very quick in its movements. Jumping like a flea when disturbed and disappearing completely. These little creatures have narrow wings with fringes of long hairs instead of the ordinary form of wings. They scrape the surface of the oat leaves, and cause them to become withered and to turn yellow and die."

THE FARMSTEAD

Barley harvest is on. Produce the best. Fork is on top yet. Keep the cows producing. Apples are going to be a good price. A good thing always is knocked. The steam plowing idea in Ontario is growing.

Prof. W. J. Kennedy of Iowa Agricultural College has purchased five gray Shires in England.

Who will get that special $50 prize offered by the Canadian Hackney Horse Society at Toronto Fair?

Nineteen Kansas counties, says The Breeders' Gazette, have threshed their wheat, which shows an average of over 13 bushels per acre. At this rate Kansas will have seventy-one million bushels this year.

Royal Rogers of Kinsale, a prosperous farmer, well-known in Whittby and Pickering Townships, was badly hurt by his horse running away near Pickering after being frightened by an automobile. Country life is losing much pleasure to the farmers by reason of this auto tyranny.

Mr. John Macdonald of Toronto has sold in the last few days ten head of horses from his Cumberland-street stable, a matched pair, two saddle horses and three single horses in all, a matched pair to a gentleman in Windsor, and a single horse to a resident of Brantford. The fact that the farmers should raise are still in active demand.

Mr. W. L. Wilson, one of Northern Ontario's leading and successful breeders, passed away at his residence, Elmville, last month. Mr. Wilson commenced breeding some thirty-two years ago, beginning with a couple of swarms which he secured from a hollower in the bush. He was a member of the Ontario Bee-keepers' Association, says The Bee Journal.

There is no possibility, however, of anything like a large honey crop, given the present conditions. Even if the bees in the country to gather it. Unfortunately, many of those that came thrivable are not in shape to do much more than build up for winter, or perhaps for a full flow where such is to be had.

The apple crop in the vicinity of Parkhill, says The Bee Journal, promises to be a good one. The fruit is dropping but little, and many trees are already bending with the crop. Such varieties as Roy, Russets, Baldwins and Ben Davis are heavy. Kings are fair, while Greens are light. The trees in the orchards, while the unpruned are affected by the usual fungus and insect enemies, more than last year, but not a heavy crop. Lombards, Bradshaws, Victorias, etc., heavy; Japanese varieties are a failure.

YORKSHIRE MEN.

Walter Denny on a Visit From Yorkshire, Praises His Fellows.

Because one farmer found a scalliwag "corner" in Toronto recently, there is an attack upon all old countrymen, which was warmly resented at the time. Mr. Walter Denny, a very respectable inhabitant of that good old shire, now on a visit to this country, makes a decided objection to the generalization of such remarks.

"Only six Yorkshire men came out in the boat with me, and two of these went to the west. Our Yorkshire boys are good ones in general, and my impression of Canada is very favorable. There may be a mean farmer here and there, but he is the exception in Canada, I feel sure."

Taber's Clydesdales.

The sensation of the Clydesdale display at Winnipeg was the string shown by R. H. Taber, of Conde, Sask., says The Advocate. Mr. Taber made his debut as a Winnipeg exhibitor last week and to few men indeed is given to make so remarkable a sweep of the boards. With only seven head, he won the male and female championship, the championship for Canadian-bred stallions, first for stallion and three of his get, first for aged stallion, first for three-year-old filly, second for two-year-old filly, second and third for yearling colt in the regular classes, besides several specials, and most satisfactory of all, not a prize went to the Conde stables but what the crowd approved of it. Mr. Taber is a young man, formerly of Ontario County, Ontario, as well as a new exhibitor, and selected his show string with a true horseman's instinct for their possibilities. The single imported horse in his string is his stallion Baron's Gem, which he bought together with three fillies, from A. & G. Mutch of Lunenburg, who shares with Mr. Taber in his honors, as they imported Baron's Gem and bred the champion female and second prize two-year-old.

Crops in Rainy River.

The department of agriculture received a report yesterday from the Rainy River Farmers' Institute, stating that the crops were good, but there had been a little too much rain, and consequently not much hay ready for cutting.

Gas Company Wins.

NEW YORK, July 29.—The application of Attorney-General Jackson for permission to bring an action to dissolve the Gas Company, which has consolidated Gas Company on the ground that the merger of the various gas companies with the present company has created a monopoly, was denied today by Supreme Court Justice McCaughy.

THOSE DURHAM APPLE TREES

Prof. Hutt's Report on the Cause of the Apple Tree Destruction.

Apple growers in Durham County have been alarmed of late at the mysterious dying of large apple trees in a number of orchards. In the orchard of Mr. Charles Axford of Darlington Township, which was made up of thirty trees, last Monday and Tuesday morning to bear heavily, the trouble first showing itself last year when two or three trees died and the remainder of the trees bore an exceptionally heavy crop, but this year two or three trees have died and nearly half of the trees are showing signs of falling. Many theories have been advanced regarding the cause of the trouble, but the cause is not yet assigned. Prof. Hutt was requested to investigate the matter. He went down to the orchard in question and after a careful examination declared that the trouble was the result of a combination of causes, the chief one being the injury made by the severe winter of 1903-4. Many of the more tender varieties of apples were that year killed by the winter, and the trees that were left were practically girdled by the winter frost. The trees that were left were practically girdled by the winter frost. The trees that were left were practically girdled by the winter frost.

From Other Points.

Mr. Thomas Waldren of Sundridge in Parry Sound writes that oats on the usually good farms in that section of the province are not doing well, and that the barley crop is coming on well and will be a big crop. Oats are a bad looking crop, but it is expected that the yield will be good. Corn will be medium. Melons promise to yield an average crop.

Kent County Prospects.

Wheat and barley in Kent will be a fair crop, writes a correspondent. The acreage is not as large as formerly, but it is expected that the yield will be good. Corn will be medium. Melons promise to yield an average crop.

AT THE ARTILLERY CAMP.

British Team Do Some More Excellent Work.

PETAWAWA CAMP, July 29.—(Special.)—The British Artillerymen completed the competition this morning in composite battery firing. Direct methods were used with the best results. The most effective work being done at 3200 and 3000 yards respectively. The heavy artillery competition takes place to-morrow.

The British team was commanded by Captain John Fitzpatrick, assisted by Lieut. Col. G. W. Flower and Lieut. Col. G. W. Flower.

The shooting three months ago was in defence of his wife, while the killing of Bud Wiley was in defence of his wife. He is also employed as a watchman at a large lumber mill. Two negroes were thrown into a store nearby. He captured one of the negroes and attempted to escape. Crouch then fired.

MINISTER SHOOTS SECOND NEGRO WITHIN 3 MONTHS

CHATTANOOGA, Tenn., July 29.—For the second time within a period of three months, Rev. S. L. Crouch, D.D., the best roller canary and the best negro. The shooting three months ago was in defence of his wife, while the killing of Bud Wiley was in defence of his wife. He is also employed as a watchman at a large lumber mill. Two negroes were thrown into a store nearby. He captured one of the negroes and attempted to escape. Crouch then fired.

BARLEY HARVEST BEGINS

OAT CROP ONE-THIRD OFF

Fruits and Vegetables Are Looking Well—Whole Fields of Oats Worthless.

Barley harvest has become quite general in the province while several fields are already being put into the barns in Southwestern Ontario. Rye and fall wheat are also in shock. The barley crop is reported from several points as exceptionally heavy. It is also well filled and as there is a large acreage, much good feed will soon be liberated for the hogs and cattle.

The oat crop in many sections. Other sections report big crops of this cereal. But the crop on the whole will be about one-third less than the average. The reason being wrought destruction by causing the leaves to blight and discolor. This very appreciably affects the yield of such fields. Many fields are not over 12 inches high and will not be worth harvesting. Especially is this true of oats that were sown on old sod and land poorly cultivated.

The apple crop does not promise such big things as the earlier blossom gave us reason to believe, yet Canada is going to have a big fruit yield. Other places in the world are reported short, and this with our better shipping facilities, will tend to keep prices up to a good paying level. Many orchards have been sold for 15 cents per acre by the buyers, while others have only been able to secure a 50c offer. The tactics of buyers and growers of orchards are certainly not modern. A business farmer will throw out such a proposition. The co-operative associations are doing good work in giving the farmer his own.

Ontario Vegetable Crops.

The vegetable crops in Ontario are late, but are looking well, report the correspondents of the Ontario Vegetable Growers' Association. Frost in the south has done some damage to the truck crop from Essex County exceeds the supply and many new greenhouses soon will be built for cucumbers and other crops. All kinds of truck are looking well in the vicinity of Hamilton and Toronto.

The potato crop of the province promises to be only fair. Table roots, including turnip, parsnip, carrots and beets are doing well, and will be plentiful. The celery prospects are bright; it is probable that there will be very plentiful. The onion crop will be quite late, but it is expected that the yield will be good. Corn will be medium. Melons promise to yield an average crop.

GASOLINE KILLS

Hundreds when it explodes in the right place. It makes the ignorant one pay dearly for his carelessness. Not so with the farming page ads. The wayfarer cannot err in putting his ad on these pages, for all he has to do is to let it talk. It kills nothing but bad business, which it drives out of every place that carries an ad here.

A man talks by word of mouth to his neighbor or his phone exchange. But an ad goes into your neighbor's house, hunts him up, and tells in a loud, fine and persuasive voice that you have a farm to sell or an animal to sell. Let your business talk for you while you sit among the growing corn hills and rejoice in your good health. Nuff said.

Mr. Court is making his second tour across the continent, visiting the principal industrial and agricultural centres, in the interests of his paper.

The popularity of Canada and things Canadian in the old land, he said, had increased by leaps and bounds. Evidence of this was afforded by the large number of eager readers who quickly bought up each issue of the paper.

As an incentive to their patrons to take an interest in Canadian affairs they are running a competition which requires a knowledge of the Dominion and its affairs to enable competitors to win the prizes offered, viz., a "free trip to Canada." A series of views depicting well-known industrial, agricultural and pleasure centres, or some striking scene or event in every day life of the people here, is published weekly. Those making the greatest number of correct answers are the winners. Up to the present time 45 persons had been fortunate enough to visit Canada as a result of these contests. Over 4000 letters were received in the London office of "Canada" during the past year, from small investors, and others with moderate capital, asking advice as to the best place to come to here to ensure success.

"Canadian securities are in great favor at the present time," said Mr. Court. "In consequence of the difficulty of getting remunerative investments at home."

If such provision had an agent-general in London and Glasgow and conducted an aggressive campaign for making known the advantages and inducements they had to offer, thousands of people and millions of capital would be attracted to the country.

Most reputable financial houses are well satisfied with the investments made here, and are only too willing to extend them, if they were sure of getting sound reliable information of the conditions of things here. Such information able men in charge of the bureaus might furnish, and so help along the development of each province.

Mr. Court is greatly impressed with Toronto, and the happy, contented, well-dressed people he meets with on every hand. He says it does his heart good, and he wishes the same happy state of affairs existed at home.

SLEEPING OVER SILVER MINE

Noble, Apprehended by Police, Denies He is a Prospector.

James Noble, 69 Frederick-street, was pounced from slumber by Detective Murray last night. The sleuth searched the bed and found, in addition to a quantity of silverware "samples," which Noble was charged with having stolen from Henry Burton, residing at the same address, a traveler for a Guelph firm.

James declared that he was unaware that he was slumbering over a silver mine, and denied the insinuation that he had engaged in prospecting; nevertheless he was incarcerated.
