Within a week, it is declared, Roumania will be at war. Her first act will be an attack upon the rear flank of the Austro-Germans in Galicia. According to reports, the Roumanians are already preparing. The wheat crop has been harvested.

In the Omulero sector the Russians took forty prisoners, but in the Orsky Valley they were forced to give way. One of the Russians' works was completely destroyed by the enemy's annihilating fire.

On the Vistula from south of the Pileca the enemy twice attempted to make headway west of Cooelie, but were repulsed with great losses. On the Dniester the Russians drove back beyond the river the remainder of the German units who crossed the previous day in the Kosany district. In the region of Martynofstany on the evening of the 25th they captured the remnants of the enemy who had crossed the Dniester, although fifteen officers and about 700 men, with their arms and equipment, were captured. The fighting continues.

THE POLITICAL SCANDALS

Congregational Union Passes Resolution of Timely Interest

The closing business session of the Congregational Union was held this morning and the convention will be brought to a close with the public service on Sunday. This morning the committee on resolutions recommended: "That the union pledge to record its appreciation of the encouraging reports of our churches and to emphasize the fact that the present offers an exceptional opportunity for deepening the spiritual life. That the union views with alarm the growing evidence of lawlessness, especially in the forms of intemperance and political dishonesty. In view of the recent astounding revelations of political graft and corruption, in our own beloved Canada, we would urge upon all our people the vital necessity of placing in positions of trust men of integrity and Christian character. The committee finds in the question of Sabbath observance one of the greatest problems which faces the Christian church and places on record our firm conviction that the Sunday and liquor laws should be fully enforced. Other resolutions pledged the denomination to the support of the empire in the great war; urged consideration of higher salaries for ministers, its approval of church union; sympathy with those bereaved during the year and thanks to the local pastors and people of St. John. The report was adopted and the resolutions passed.

More Big Guns For Germans; Advance On Warsaw Is Belief

London, June 26—Rotterdam reports that several trains loaded with heavy guns have left Essen for the German front on the Bura River in Poland, where it is believed they will be used in an advance against Warsaw.

Since the fall of Lemberg military experts in London have expressed the belief that the Austro-German allies would not be content with forcing the Russians beyond the borders of Galicia, but would attempt to continue their terrific drive and capture Warsaw, the capital of Poland. On previous occasions the Germans have hammered their way to a point almost within artillery range of Warsaw, but have been driven back.

As soon as the Clark concern get their machinery out of the way, and by tonight that will be accomplished, J. McVey & Son will commence in earnest at the approaches, which will be made ready for teams to cross the new bridge, thus cutting off the necessity for the old roadway to the Suspension. When this has been done the last stage of the job on the approaches can be taken up and will permanently cut off the roadway now in use and all traffic will be diverted into the new.

GERMAN DID FOR ROUMANIANS

Geneva, June 26—Telegrams from Bucharest report hundreds of German agents travelling all over the agricultural districts of Roumania making contracts to take the delivery of the coming harvest at high prices. They pay down a percentage in cash. Germany hopes thus to render the agricultural interests in Roumania, which is immensely powerful, hostile to intervention in the war. The government, however, could easily nip this in the bud by issuing a prohibition of the export of grain which the critical political situation more than justifies. Much more serious is the difficulty of reconciling Roumania's demands of territorial expansion with the views of Russian statesmen, who have undertaken engagements in writing vis a vis Serbia which are incompatible with Roumanian aspirations. Reports from Paris state, however, that these are in process of settlement and that Roumanian intervention at an early date is assured.

ADRIFT IN OCEAN; BROUGHT TO CHATHAM

Fishermen From Have Rescued and Carried All Across Atlantic - No War News Since March

Chatham, N. B., June 26—The Danish barkentine Atlantic, which arrived in port yesterday has on board two French fishermen whom they picked up on June 19 about 800 miles northeast of Newfoundland. The men are George Meuil and Hoderne Eugene and hail from the little French fishing village of Peupat at the mouth of the Seine, near Havre. They left home on March 29 in the fishing schooner St. Lion. They were out in a dory attending to their nets when a dense fog came up and they were unable to find the schooner. When the fog lifted their vessel was not in sight and they were in the most dangerous plight being without food or water. They spent five days and nights in the dory and when picked up by the Atlantic were unconscious. Today they are none the worse for their experience and their first news since March. They are both anxious to get home and join their colors.

THREE LETTERS OF APPRECIATION

Mrs. E. A. Smith Receives Correspondence in Reference to Donations Forwarded—Some Valuable Advice

Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, regent of the Royal Standard Chapter, daughter of the Empire, has received this week, three letters in connection with the splendid donation of socks, forwarded by her chapter to the Canadian War Contingent Association, for the Canadian soldiers at the firing line.

One letter was from Captain Pinkham of the "Rosa Point", assuring Mrs. Smith of the safe arrival of his ship and the immediate forwarding, by him, of the boxes of socks to the London address given.

The second letter was from J. G. Colmer, honorable secretary of the Canadian War Contingent Association, in which he expressed the thanks and appreciation of the association for the splendid donation of socks and assuring Mrs. Smith that particular attention was given to the individual packages and parcels and that they were forwarded to their respective addresses by parcel post immediately. Mr. Colmer also says: "We are sending regular supplies of socks, and from time to time we are forwarding tobacco, pipes, cigarettes, soap, confectionery, matches, handkerchiefs, soups, candles, writing paper and envelopes, books, and magazines, bachelor buttons, business cards, and a number of other useful articles. Most of these things, of course, it is much better for us to purchase here, and we are receiving contributions from different parts of Canada for the purpose. Supplies of socks are being fairly well maintained, and any other comforts will be welcomed, or money to purchase them, if it can be obtained. May I say that the proper way to pack that greatest need for the comfort of our fighting men is—socks.

Westminster Palace Hotel, Victoria Street, London, June 7, 1915.

Mrs. E. Atherton Smith, Royal Standard Chapter, I.O.E.E., St. John, N. B.

Dear Mrs. Smith—I am directed by the Ladies' Committee of the Canadian War Contingent Association to thank you and your chapter most sincerely for the splendid boxes of socks received and packed by us the end of last week. The socks were of an excellent quality and will be much appreciated. May I say that quite alright to put in any one packet of cigarettes or some such small article in the toe of one of the socks, but if both socks are filled up with the bulky parcels, the things have to be removed as the socks cannot fit in the hallow.

Also we would be very grateful to all senders of socks to see that the pair of socks are fastened together, either at the toe or at the top. It is surprising how the sock wiggles away from its mate, and it is often necessary to spend half an hour in trying to match up perhaps fifty or sixty socks that get loose by the time they reach us. I need not tell you how grateful the association is for the splendid donation which has been forwarded by your chapter.

The ladies had the boxes unpacked and the contents counted and your gift certainly made a magnificent addition to the sock shelves.

With the very grateful thanks of the ladies' committee for all your help, I remain, sincerely yours, ELEANOR MCCLAREN BROWN, Hon. Sec. Ladies' Committee, C. W. C. A.

THE BEST QUALITY AT A REASONABLE PRICE

Officer Farrady Is No "Sissy"

You'd call him a giant if you saw Mike Farrady. He's over 6 feet, and 200 pounds—all muscle. He's a crossing "cop" at State and Madison streets, Chicago—"the busiest corner in the world"—and he wears a Wrist Watch.

"There's dozens of pretty women ask me what time it is in a day," Mike says, "An' when a peach asks me the time she's going to get it—and get it right. But I ain't got time to be digging in me pants pocket for a watch with this cool waitin' on me to let 'em drive on. Stickin' a tump in a belt on your wrist is a great idea for a crossin' cop."

Yes, a Wrist Watch is a great idea for policemen, motormen, teamsters, soldiers, autoists, golfers, hunters and all other men who do hard work or play out of doors.

Come into Sharpe's and examine Wrist Watches. You'll like one if you try one, and you'll find here the one that suits you best.

GUARD BABY'S HEALTH IN THE SUMMER

The summer months are the most dangerous to children. The complaints of that season, which are cholera infantum, colic, diarrhoea and dysentery, come on so quickly that often a little one is beyond aid before the mother realizes he is ill. The mother must be on her guard to prevent these troubles, or if they do come on suddenly to cure them. No other medicine is of such aid to mothers during hot weather as is Baby's Own Tablets. They regulate the stomach and bowels and are absolutely safe. Sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 26 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

FIVE DROWNED WHEN SMACK OVERTURNS

A small fishing smack owned by Jean Hachey, of Isle Lemeque, N. B., was overturned in a heavy sea on Wednesday of this week, and the owner with his small son and three other men were drowned. The bodies of all were found in the cabin when, after the storm, the small craft was found tossed up on the beach at Tabusintac. The little ship had been sighted from shore the previous day, but rescue was impossible, owing to the raging fury of the storm. The other bodies are as yet unidentified.

Drowned at Sea. Fred McLaughlin was swept from the schooner Jost, New York to Yarmouth, and drowned on June 21. He was twenty-two years old and belonged to Yarmouth.

THE WAR NEWS.

The last week has witnessed the fall of Lemberg and though the Russian armies have retired in good order their striking power has been weakened for some time to come, although they are still holding their own along portions of the long battle front, and claim to have inflicted very heavy losses upon the enemy.

welfare of the soldiers was not protected in the matter of the boot contracts. That there were some good boots was never denied, but the whole scandalous transaction is on the record and cannot be hidden.

A GREAT COMMUNITY CENTRE

Stanford Park, Chicago, is a notable illustration of what may be done by proper organization for welfare work. The West Chicago park commissioners formally opened what was first known as West Park No. 2, on Feb. 22, 1910.

PRATISE FOR CANADA.

The Times recently reviewed the exhaustive summary of conditions in Canada prepared by the Canadian Northern Railway Company from data supplied by 2,000 reliable correspondents in all parts of the country, east and west.

"Canada has been the phenomenon of the western hemisphere in the past ten or fifteen years. This was, not long ago, when the average American had a very poor opinion of that part of the world. Its climate was cold, its population was mixed, it had no independent existence as a nation, and by comparison with the opportunities in the United States its existence was negligible.

THE RECORD IS THERE.

Concerning the boot scandal the Standard says:—"The campaign against the boots supplied by the Canadian soldiers was fathomed by Grit members of parliament and newspapers supporting the Grit party. For partisan purposes the whole Canadian shoe manufacturing industry was made the target of abuse and misrepresentation, and men engaged in it held up to scorn as grafters and looters of public funds.

On the contrary the Grit newspapers have but to point to the report of the committee appointed by the minister of militia to enquire, and to the evidence brought out before the public accounts committee when parliament was in session. Inferior boots were ordered, many were accepted without inspection, middlemen in some cases got a take-off from forty cents to sixty cents per pair, cheap leather was used in some cases, and the

LIGHTER VEIN.

A Word in Season. A certain milkman was in the habit of watering his milk to the required consistency before starting on his rounds in the morning. One day recently, by some unlucky chance, the man omitted to do so, but to his joy, he discovered at the first house he called at a huge cask, strongly banded with iron, and filled to the brim with water, the head having apparently just been taken off.

Such a chance of repairing his neglect was too good to be lost, and the milkman had just succeeded in watering the milk most satisfactorily, when the figure of the master of the house appeared in the doorway, and a voice asked sweetly: "Are you sure you've put in enough milk?"

Poor John was petrified. "If I were you," continued the voice, "I should have chosen some other cask. My doctor has ordered me a course of sea-water baths, you know, and you have just mixed your milk with salt water. But perhaps your customers like it that way."

Not to Blame. Mrs. Bluehood—John, who was that man who just howled to us? Bluehood—Er—that is my tailor. Mrs. B.—Such impudence. You should make him keep his distance. B.—I've done my best, my dear. I've stood him off now for two years.

Seemed Classical to Her. "Why do you call that song she's singing 'classical'?" As a matter of fact it's just a little popular ballad. "Is that so?" I thought it must be classical. I can't understand a word she's singing.

Described. "Pa, what is an interesting conversation?" "One who knows all about what's in the books that you've been too lazy or too indifferent to read for yourself, my boy."

No Trouble at All. Mrs. X.—Do you have any trouble in getting a cook? Mrs. Y.—Oh, no; I've got as many as ten in one month.

"Yes, I often think that women are as well qualified for war as men. My husband is opposed to it, but I often feel that if I'd like to leave home and get in to the thick of the fight."

"But why leave home?"

These most popular bits are strong features of our jewelry showing.

The prices cover a wide range, running from the modest low priced pendant for ordinary wear to the expensive platinum, diamond ornament.

As much of our stock is exclusive in design, we are satisfied that you will find a visit of inspection to prove pleasing and, in case of purchase, most satisfactory.

Why does she weep, the mother of the bride—
Why does she mourn?
Is not her daughter going forth beside
The noblest born?
Is not the honor that he does her pet
Enough to dry
Her tears—she gains a son, I lose one,

I do not cry—
She gains an arm to lean on and a kiss
To stop her tears—

Mother and Son

Poem by Mrs David S. Bispham, Wife of Noted Singer, Which Will Appeal Just Now to Canadian Readers

The following beautiful metrical story was written by Caroline Russell Bispham, wife of David S. Bispham, a noted American singer, well known in St. John. It was written in March of last year, and one of the first type-written copies was given to a St. John lady who is a close personal friend of the author. The singular pathos of the story will appeal at this time to all Canadian readers.

Mother and Son

THE NEW-BORN BABE
Oh, shell-pink baby, baby from the sea,
Aurora's self did find thee at the dawn,
Weeping softly upon a wave foreforn
And with her rosy fingers rescued thee.

Since which sweet time the world belongs to thee
Oh, baby, cast upon the shores of life,
God guide thy footsteps through the rocks of strife
Up to the meadows of tranquillity.

THE BABY'S HAND.

I kiss the fingers and the tiny thumb
And then the little rosy, rose-leaf palm;
Oh, tender, helpless hand
Yet strong as the gold band
Your father gave me 'ere God bade you come
And be to life's rough blows a soothing balm.

Some day when I am weak and you are strong
You'll kiss my thin old hands instead,
And sigh
To think how soon they'll rest
In peace on my dead breast;
Yet though we'll part it will not be for long
God gives the mothers back their sons on high.

THE SCHOOL BOY.

I.
The moment came for parting,
The last good-bye was said,
One last fond kiss—
One last long clasp
And the turn of his sunny head.

II.
The sound of horses' hoof-beats
Drops on my heart like lead,
The empty road,
The quiet house,
And the feel as of some one dead.

THE BRIDE-GROOM

Why does she weep, the mother of the bride—
Why does she mourn?
Is not her daughter going forth beside
The noblest born?
Is not the honor that he does her pet
Enough to dry
Her tears—she gains a son, I lose one,
yet
I do not cry—
She gains an arm to lean on and a kiss
To stop her tears—
I, worse than widowed, bravely give her this
From my lean years.

THE SOLDIER.

The drums beat with my heart thro'p
The files strike out my pain
As he marches with the soldiers—
God!—will he come back again?
What's one old woman's sorrow
(Hear the cheering long and loud)
I'm but one among the thousand
Weeping mothers in the crowd.

THE GRAND-CHILD

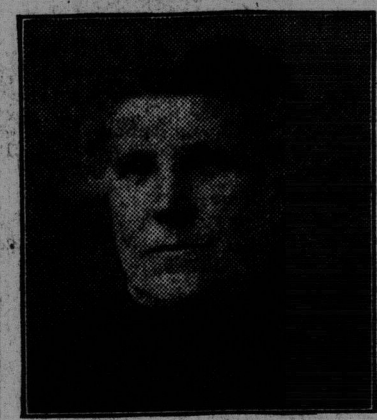

Sweet as you are, my little one,
You're not my very own—
Not very flesh of my own flesh,
Nor bone of my own bone;
For you I bore no shattering pain,
For you no piercing joy,
Yet I do love you well—for ah!
Your father was my boy.

THE DEAD.

Here lies the body of my boy
Brought home to me
They will not let me see my son—
"Through mine is he—"
Shut in his coffin,—neath his flag
As he should be.
Strange that it was some other one
Across the sea
In a far land to do for him
Instead of me.
What I, in happier days have done
When as a wee
Sweet babe he lay upon my breast
So fair to see—
Close down his eyes against the sun;
Ah, woe is me!
Now they are closed forever, and

THE JOY OF BEING ALIVE AND WELL

Restored To Health By "Fruit-a-lives" The Famous Fruit Medicine

Mrs. ROCHON.

Rochon, P. Q., March 2nd, 1915.
"I have received the most wonderful benefit from taking 'Fruit-a-lives'. I suffered for years from Rheumatism and changes of life, and I took every remedy obtainable, without any good results. I heard of 'Fruit-a-lives' and gave it a trial and it was the only medicine that really did me good. Now I am entirely well, the Rheumatism has disappeared and the terrible pains in my body are all gone. I am exceedingly grateful to 'Fruit-a-lives' for such relief, and I hope that others who suffer from such distressing diseases will try 'Fruit-a-lives' and get well."

MADAME ISABE ROCHON.

The marvelous work that 'Fruit-a-lives' is doing, in overcoming disease and healing the sick, is winning the admiration of thousands and thousands. 50c. a box, 6 for $2.50, trial size, 25c. At all dealers or sent postpaid by Fruit-a-lives Limited, Ottawa.

He waits for me
In Heaven, his race superbly run
And I and he
Will, (joined together) God's throne—
Bowed head, bent knee)
Receive the crown his life has won
For him and me—

THE END.

I came before and lingered after him
First to prepare and then to wander in
The path he wore so smooth with love, and made
So fair with flowers of victory over sin,
The empty road,
The quiet house,
And left me, old but brave, to close the
Upon our happy path, that none might
With sacrilegious feet, where mine of late
Have loltered all alone,—because he
The call of country, and his grand-este's blood
That beat within his heart, as quickly stirred
As when my father marched against the my son
Of the invading army—by they passed
These soldiers brave, my father and one—
I've but to shut the gate—I am the last
And yet I wait.... There was another
one—
And if I'm patient just a little more
When I arise to follow God's command
Perhaps I'll find upon life's darkening shores
My husband standing with repentant hand
Held out to help my lonely footsteps over
It will not be too late
Then I will close the gate,
Hearty have their trinites as well as Heaven.

THE ONLY CANADIAN IN THE HOSPITAL; IS OVERWHELMED

A Letter of Interest Comes From Woodstock Woman's Wounded Boy

An interesting letter from Sands Gillespie to his mother, Mrs. H. P. Gillespie, of Woodstock, says:—
June 2—I am in hospital in the north of England, wounded but not seriously. I was passing out the other night to the trenches and for a ways we had to pass through a regular hall of shrapnel, and after getting a little over half way up there I got a piece of shrapnel put through my forearm, about half way between elbow and wrist and it broke the bone and fractured it, so I found cover in a battered trench and one of our party cut on the first dressing and then I started for the dressing station, and believe me I went back faster than I came.
And then I commenced to realize the quick action of the Red Cross system. I arrived at the dressing station and some old major dressed my arm. He droll here today as I am not acquainted wondered how I had lived so long in France without my cod fish, when I told him I was from New Brunswick. I suppose I was at this place for ten or fifteen minutes and then went to field hospital where they perform operations which are immediately necessary, and they looked at me and loaded me into a motor ambulance and I went to a tent hospital where I rested till morning and then to a clearing hospital at Lilliers and took the train and passed through Calais to Boulogne, arriving at 6.30 p. m. and then another ambulance motor ride to the Australian Hospital in the suburbs of Boulogne called Wimereux and rested here till next day at 3 p. m. and then went aboard hospital ship Brighton and in an hour and twenty-five minutes was in Dover, and then took train at 6.30 last night at Dover, and this morning at about same time arrived here and expect to be here for some time.
After I am some better I am going to London for a week's leave, but do not know how long it will be. Things are not what they were today as I am not acquainted and am the only Canadian of 500 patients, so I would naturally be long-told him I was from New Brunswick. Not Her Own

"Do you think," asked the widower, "you could learn to love my own?" "Oh, yes," replied the anxious maiden. "I think I should care more for them, really, than if they were my own, because I shouldn't have to worry so much about them if they got hurt or were sick."

THE SAD CASE OF THE TORY POLITICIANS IN SAINT JOHN

Racy Letter in Fredericton Mail Tells of The Troubles of Hazen, Baxter, et al. and The Merry War Over Offices That Threatens to Rend the Ranks of the Reforming Patriots

A series of racy letters from St. John on the political situation in St. John has been appearing lately in the Fredericton Mail and has caused no little perturbation in the provincial government ranks. The last one appeared in Tuesday's Mail and relates to the sad case of affairs in St. John. It is as follows:

St. John, June 21.—The minister of marine, J. Douglas, is home and wishes he had remained in the White Mountains some place where the party grabbers and office seekers were not so pressing. It is hard on a man to talk to such a hungry crowd as follow Mr. Hazen from corner to corner, from house to house, from office to office. I don't blame him for thinking of that sort of thing upon the Supreme Court bench at Ottawa, where men look down on those who made them and forget that there was even such a thing as patronage.

Trouble From the Start Almost the day he landed in St. John his troubles began, for the local government had dilly dally with the appointment of a probate court judge and the Protestants and Catholics each had a strong man in the field and we all know what that means. It is the one thing all politicians stress and it is a wonder they don't make appointments just as soon as they are vacated and avoid the trouble making.

The Savings Bank Job And the same week this was hatched the assistant receiver general, Dr. Wetmore, died suddenly and Hon. John E. Wilson proposes to desert the local government, vacate his seat for the City of St. John and retire from politics to a soft life billet as head of the Savings Bank in St. John. A nice job worth $2,700 a year, with short hours and nothing to do. The job won't suit the active president of the council from a physical point of view. He has been used to treading on air, pulling on roofs of tall buildings and boasts that he worked as a journeyman metal worker putting on the roof of the legislative building, where he now presides over the government which rules the province. He doesn't know what it means to take it easy. He has been so used to talking ward, city or provincial politics for the past twenty-five years that there isn't an office musale that will fit him—not even at a cost of $2,700 a year. There are many others who want the billet and they say "Johnnie" doesn't need it; that he has too much money to deprive some good deserving Tory worker of such a fat job; that he can't leave

THE WRECK AT EMPRESS A Three Reel Vitaphone Picture With a Funch

Through jealousy a manly young chap loses his life by the hands of an enraged husband, who does not stop to make sure whether his suspicions are justified. Resulting from this act the husband's home is wrecked and he almost loses his mind in his sorrow. For he finds out, too late, that the boy was innocent. A just retribution takes place when he loses his son in a terrible railroad wreck which shatters all the cars of a great express train into splinters and kills hundreds of passengers.

The head-on collision in which this takes place is something overawing to behold; it is like the mighty smashing of two great speed demons in mortal combat.

Probably one of the most thrilling photo dramas ever put on a screen "The Wreck" just holds you spellbound, the plot is powerful and gripping, the scenery costly and sensational, the cast includes Anita Stewart, Harry T. Morey, E. K. Lincoln and Gladden James. It is a program.

A White Rug made Black—with Mosquitos The following is an extract from a letter recently received from the wife of an army officer in India: "Our home was simply swarming with millions of mosquitoes last hot weather, and after burning a handful, or tin, of the powder on an open stove and shutting up the entire room, thousands literally fell down on the floors and tables. In the drawing room alone we had a white felt rug which became black in a few hours, the insects by hundreds laying dead on it."

The powder above referred to is Keating's Powder, and the experience, although somewhat remarkable, is not unique, for it is a fact neither flies or mosquitoes can exist when exposed to the fumes of Keating's Powder. Where open stoves are not available it is quite easy to clear a room by simply using a candle and an ordinary shade holder; placing on the round part of the shade a piece of flat tin, pouring the powder on top of it, and leaving it to smoulder. Nervous Prostration and Heart Troubles. Nervous Prostration, or Neurasthenia, is one of the worst forms of nerve trouble and brings about a general weakness of the whole nervous system. The symptoms presenting themselves are headache, a feeling of depression, disturbed and restless, unrefreshing sleep, often troubled with dreams, fright when in crowded places, dread of being alone, horror of society, fright at travelling, muscular weakness, sense of fatigue upon effort, etc.

When the nerves become affected in this way the heart generally becomes affected too. All are curable if taken in time. Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills are just what you require at this time. They strengthen the nerves and build up the whole system.

Mrs. John Hewson, Caledonia, Ont., writes: "I feel it my duty to let you know the great benefit your Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills did for me. I suffered for four years with heart trouble and nervous prostration. I was so bad I could not go to school, and I could not sleep nor could I lie on my left side, for it would seem as if my heart would stop. I thought my time had come. I was doctoring with the doctor, but didn't get any benefit. I took eight boxes of Milburn's Heart and Nerve Pills and am enjoying good health."

HERSCHEL IS IN

Construction Corps Reach Devonport Safely After Voyage From St. John

While naturally not so much interest attached to the arrival of the Canadian Railway Construction Corps in England, about St. John, as was associated with the 80th battalion and Divisional Ammunition Column, still there are very many who have been waiting with eagerness for the cabbed announcement of their landing. The steamer Herschel reached Devonport with them yesterday after a pleasant voyage. The vessel left here on Monday, June 14, about 3 p.m. From the first arrival of the Construction Corps recruits in St. John, they made friends. It was not a hasty mobilization, as it was necessary to select only 500 men from more than 8,000.

The corps was probably the most representative to leave Canada thus far. It included men schooled in all branches of railway life; men who had given up good positions to answer the bugle's call; men who had trained in colleges, office or shop to fill positions of trust and honor in railway work, but, quick to comprehend that their country needed their services, for the time being abandoned other ambitions and placed their names on the roll.

For several months they were in training here. Their quarters at West St. John were a model of neatness and propriety. They made friends wherever they went, and the comment was freely expressed: "They are a credit to themselves and to Canada." They were as fine a body of men as could be assembled throughout the dominion. While in St. John they have themselves made a box through the requirements of the soldier. Social functions were conducted, and they proved themselves capable hosts.

When the hour of parting came—when Herschel lay waiting at her pier in Carleton to take them on their mission—there was assembled a vast throng to bid a fond farewell. Before the steamer's lines were loosened and she glided into deeper water, Mayor Prink, with the other commissioners and various officials, paid a visit and extended the greetings of St. John, with best wishes for the safety of the corps. His Worship hoped for the guidance of Providence on their journey, and assured them of a hearty welcome one and all, should the fortunes of war allow them to return to St. John.

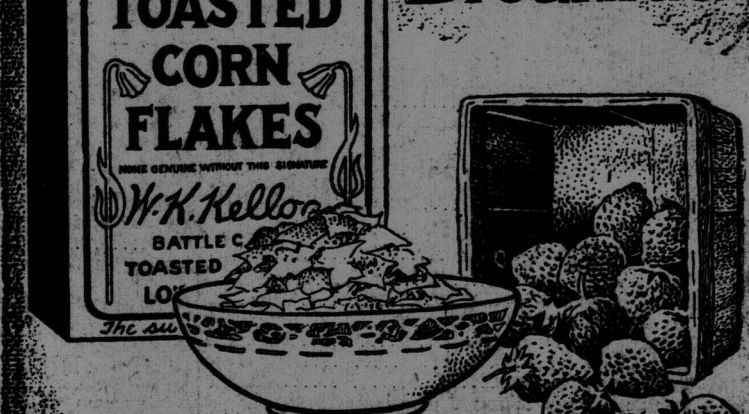

All too quickly passed the moments ere the steamer sailed away. Her friends gathered of every eager sought out friend or relative on her decks to wave a last goodbye, or shout a cheer in answer back. And now and then they sang a snatch of song—"Tipperary," "Blücher," "Good-bye, Little John, Good-bye," and "We'll Never Let the Old Flag Fall" seemed to be the favorites. Meanwhile the Carleton Cornet Band played several stirring pieces and continued their music as long as it was thought its strains would reach those on board.

As the big ship began her backward motion out into the harbor, with her brilliant human cargo wildly waving hands and kerchiefs to those lined along the neighboring piers and buildings, her appearance in the stream was greeted with salutations from other boats, from factories and mills, their whistles vying with each other in sending forth a voluminous farewell. Slowly she steamed along, but much too fast for those whose tear-stained eyes were fastened upon her, whose heart's affections were centred upon one or other of those men in khaki.

To that devoted mother whose son was aboard the Herschel, to that loving wife whose husband left a contented home to serve his king, to others, fathers, sisters, or other kin, the news contained in the cable telling of the arrival of the ship in England will indeed be welcome. It will relieve the strain of anxiety and cause a prayer of gratitude to God, that brought her safety in with her gallant company.

Thirty days is a short time on a job, but it's long enough on a jail sentence.

To Have Perfect Skin Throughout the Summer

These days the face needs special care and attention. Flying dust and dirt, the beating sun, are severe on any skin. Their despoiling effects are best overcome by the application of pure mercurochrome wax. This keeps skin and pores in a clean, healthy condition, the complexion beautifully white and smooth. Discoloring, freckles, and roughened cuticle are actually absorbed by it. One ounce of mercurochrome wax, obtained at any drugstore, is sufficient to completely renovate a soiled complexion. It is used like cold cream, allowed to remain on over night, and washed off in the morning.

FRECKLES

Now is the Time to Get Rid of These Ugly Spots. There's no longer the slightest need of feeling ashamed of your freckles, as the prescription ointment—double strength—is guaranteed to remove these homely spots. Simply get an ounce of ointment—double strength—from any drugstore and apply a little each night and morning, and you should soon see that even the worst freckles have begun to disappear, while the lighter ones have vanished entirely. It is seldom that more than an ounce is needed to completely clear the skin and gain a beautiful clear complexion. Be sure to ask for the double strength ointment as this is sold under guarantee of money back if it fails to remove freckles.

Calais included a large number of Germans among its civilian population and their arrogance and bravado dampened the spirits of the French.

DENIAL THAT CANADIAN PRISONERS IN GERMAN HANDS ARE STARVING.

London, June 25—Much indignation is expressed regarding the appeal made by the Evening News on behalf of Canadian prisoners in Germany who are alleged to be starving. Colonel Hodgetta has written to the News pointing out that Canada is not negligent in this respect.

ESTABLISHED 1789

RELUCTANTLY PUTS IT UP TO GARLAND

Important Admissions by Drug Clerk in Ottawa Inquiry—McBride on the Stand. Ottawa, June 25—Sir Charles Davidson's war contracts investigation today put the finishing touches on the prima facie case made out before the Public Accounts Committee last session in reference to the connection of W. F. Garland, the country's war needs, and publicly announces that he "will control the patronage."

It will be remembered that last session Mr. Garland, from his seat in parliament, protested his innocence of any attempt to personally profit from the exigencies of the country's war needs, and that he is now seeking re-nomination as the party standard bearer in Carleton, and publicly announces that he "will control the patronage."

This afternoon his $18-per-week drug clerk, who handled the $40,000 worth of business done with the militia department, after much hesitation and much urging from the commissioner and the examining counsel, "coughed up" the whole story.

Garland got from Powell practically all the profits, and the latter was, in effect, merely the stool pigeon in whose name the orders were put through. Then when the Public Accounts Committee got on the trail last March and the exorbitant middleman's profits made in Powell's name were disclosed, Garland gave the money back to Powell, who returned it to the treasury, via the chairman of the Public Accounts Committee.

Ottawa, June 25—Sir Richard McBride took occasion this afternoon to protest his innocence and patriotism before the royal commission on war contracts, presided over by Sir Charles Davidson.

Sir Richard declared that there was no graft in the purchase through him of the two submarines last August from the Chilean government and he strongly advised the party organization to set afloat by certain evil-minded politicians in regard to the payment of several hundred thousand dollars over and above the original contract price. It didn't tend to sharpen a man's patriotism, said Sir Richard.

Auditor-General Fraser, who also took a small hand in the proceedings, said that his investigations had been prompted because of the many suspicious things brought to his attention, and he thought that the whole matter might now be cleared up by getting the evidence of J. B. Patterson of Seattle, to whom the money was paid.

Summer need not be a Hard Time for Baby. It is not the heat of summer that is hard on babies. It is their food that is responsible for most summer troubles. Milk is difficult to modify at home and, in the summer particularly, it is liable to contamination, infection and becoming sour. It is this that is mostly responsible for the epidemic diarrhoea and other complaints usually blamed on the summer weather. The value of an absolutely dependable food is clearly proven at this season. The "Allenburys" Milk Foods, Nos. 1 and 2 present advantages that are impossible with milk delivered to your door. They are prepared from the pure rich milk of carefully tended cows bred on splendid pastures—modified to resemble most closely healthy mother's milk. Packed in hermetically sealed tins, the foods are ready for immediate use with the addition of boiling water only. Mothers who adopt this scientific method of feeding infants, which effectually replaces human milk and ensures steady, vigorous growth and health, are relieved of the many troubles and anxieties that attend the feeding of baby during summer. CANADIAN ACTOR JOINS THE COLORS

Malcolm Owen, Native of Montreal, Leaves The Stage

SKETCH OF TOM WISE

W. S. Harkins Abandons Stock in Montreal - Boer War Veteran as Comedian - "Peg o' My Heart's" Anniversary

Another actor of rare ability, Malcolm Owen, who has just closed a sixty weeks' engagement with the Hyperton Players, New Haven, Conn., is to go to the front with the British army. Mr. Owen is a Canadian by birth, and has appeared before the public in the states for the past seven years. He is twenty-five years old, and has had a wide experience in both musical and dramatic productions. He appeared for two seasons with Mont H. Singer, of Chicago, and Harry Bulger in musical comedy. Later with Margaret Anglin in "Green Stockings," and Lydia Gilmore playing the juvenile leads, a season as the son in "Madame X," and twenty weeks with William A. Brady's "Over Night" in 1913-1914. He played thirty-three weeks in "Madame X," and has the record of appearing for more consecutive performances as the son in that piece than any other performer. His stock experience began with Lee Baker in Minneapolis; later he appeared in stock in "Yonkers, Philadelphia, Keitt's Greenpoint, Brooklyn; with Come Payton in his short-lived stock engagement at the Park Theatre, New York, two seasons ago, and finally with the Pell forces. S. Z. Poll says an engagement was always open to Mr. Owen at the Poll office. Mr. Owen is at his former home in Montreal, at present with his mother, and will leave for England soon.

W. S. Harkins has given up a stock engagement at His Majesty's, Montreal, and returned to New York. Business was very poor. The first production of the season to be made by Klaw and Erlanger, in association with George C. Tyler, will be a dramatization of Eleanor H. Porter's novel, "Follyanna." The stage version has been made by Catherine Childholm Cushing. The first performance will take place at the Blackstone Theatre in Chicago early in August. Wilmut Young, who played a lengthy engagement here last spring, is now at his summer home in Mesquite, N. Y. He plans to begin his season in the early fall, and has secured several new plays, including "Get-Rich-Quick Wallingford," "The Lion and the Mouse," "Such a Little Queen," "The Naked Truth," "All the Mercy of Thibault," "All-of-a-Sudden Peggy," and others. A new farce-comedy in three acts, entitled "Good Intentions, But," the joint work of Eden Greville and Kate Woolsey, is to be produced in New York during the coming season. The scenes of the play are laid in Washington, D. C. Empire Musical Comedians.

A Boer war veteran, Dick Stead, is the leading comedian in "The Stead Musical Comedy Co." booked for an indefinite engagement at the Opera House. He is an Australian by birth, but after serving in the Boer war, where he was wounded, he went into the English "alls and created quite a popular impression for several years. He has been playing through the States with this company for some time—in fact they have had a steady series of engagements for three years. Mr. Stead writes his own songs, and sings them well, besides being an all-around actor in that he directs his own mechanical effects, and scenic and electrical settings. Beatrice Miller is going down with the company. Ollie Perkins, coubrette and danseuse, and there is also a funny vocal quartette. The engagement should prove popular. Laurette Taylor celebrated her one thousandth performance as Peg in "Peg o' My Heart" recently at the Globe Theatre, London. With the possible exception of "Fotash and Prentner," the play has scored the biggest success of the London season. It is thought she will soon close, according to a letter from her last week. "The latest news is that in the near future the theatres in London will all be closed. I learned this on applying at the Carlton for permission to give a dance. They told me that a license could be obtained for dancing only up to 8 a. m., that the authorities wished everyone to be home these nights and that presently, owing to the likelihood of Zeppelin raids, it is the intention to close all places of amusement." The engagement of the Orpheum Players at the Opera House this week in three different plays, found favor with quite a number of people, who appreciate the merits of this talented company and the pleasing standard of plays presented. They gave a thoroughly finished presentation of "The Mills of the Gods" a drama of heavy scenes, and then jumped quickly into the lighter realm of comedy with "Mrs. Temple's Telegram" and "The Lottery of Love," tonight, demonstrating versatile ability in both. The action of Manager McKay of the Opera House and Manager Howson of the company in sharing the proceeds from last night's performance with the Soldiers' Tobacco Fund, was keenly appreciated. The company closes its season here.

Encouraged by their recent success at the Bandbox Theatre, the Irish Theatre of America is planning a repertoire season of twenty weeks next year at a Broadway theatre. Whitford Kane and John P. Campbell are the producing directors of the organization. Annette Kellermann has withdrawn from the cast of the "Ziegfeld Follies of 1915," in which she was to play a principal role, owing to the inauspicious setting which Joseph Urban had designed for her swimming and diving act. Thomas A. Wise An interesting sketch of one who was once a prime favorite in St. John, Tom Wise, who had since been seen on the American stage with much pleasure by local people on visits there, appeared in a recent issue of "Paste-Easy" from the Selwyn Co. The sketch follows: Thomas A. Wise, who played the role of "Judge Priest" in the dramatization of Irvin Cobb's "Black Horse" stories by Bayard Veiller and Mr. Cobb, at the Spring try-out in Atlantic City has played such a number and variety of parts that it is scarcely possible for you to have been to the theatre as often as once in a blue moon, without having seen some one of his parts he played.

His versatility in the theatre is almost without peer. He has, for example, the distinction of having prepared and put on the largest and most ambitious Lamb's Gambol that has ever been presented at the Century Theatre. This spring, The Gambol made an unprecedented amount of money, and was pronounced in all quarters the finest, completest and most lavish that had ever been attempted. Thomas A. Wise did it. He was co-author of the first play he ever starred in "The Gentleman from Mississippi," and also of "An Old New Yorker," in which he starred two years later at Daly's Theatre. To get round to the parts he has played "The first was a little one in "Lost in New York," one that carried him very near to fitting him, he says, as he hadn't been here from his native England for very long. Then came a whole series which hadn't any great significance beyond showing him nearer to the point at which he emerged as a Grade A comedian in the leading role of "The Wrong Mr. Right." That was followed by "Amos Bloodgood" in "Are You a Mason?"—a role in which he stayed for two years. After a few years in musical comedy, ending with a flourish as "Mr. Hook" in "Miss Hook of Holland," he became the co-star of "The Gentleman from Mississippi." "An Old New Yorker" came next, but didn't tarry, and "Mr. Wise made" Broadway again in "The Lights of London" when it was revived at the Lyric Theatre with an all-star cast. He had a play called "Eddie Sam" in which he starred in 1911, and another called "Captain Whittaker's Place," and neither of them was so potent to keep him out of vanderhille the latter part of that same year, when "A Chip of the Old Block" and a record-breaking salary, were offered to him. Two years ago in St. Louis he starred in "The Silver Wedding" and this past

DAVID BISPHAM IN SCREEN PLAY

OTHER STARS IN FILM

Cyril Scott, Nat Goodwin, Josie Collins and Others—"The Spoilers" a Great Picture - Gossip of Studios

David Bispham, who is well known to music lovers in St. John, has been engaged by the Vitagraph Company to appear as Beethoven in the screen version of the opera, "Adelaide." It is the intention of this company to take the theme of the works of the world's master musician and present them on the screen; in other words, visualizing the thought that the music is meant to convey. In this way, it is hoped, a clearer message of the music will be conveyed to the well-known composers, such as Wagner, Beethoven, Schubert, Rossini, Mendelssohn, Grieg, Liszt, and other celebrated masters meant to convey to the world. Mr. Stuart Blackton is giving his personal attention to this plan, and some unusually artistic pictures are promised. Josie Collins on Screen. Josie Collins, a well-known singer and actress, will make her first screen appearance in "The Spoilers," taken from the play of the same name by Douglas Murray, which is to be released soon by the World Film Corporation. Alec. B.

Francis and Dorothy Fairchild will also have prominent parts. As the initial motion picture vehicle for the well-known theatrical star, Cyril Maude, the Oliver Morosco Photoplay Company has selected "As the Years Go By," conceded to be the biggest production ever attempted at the Morosco-Bosworth studios. The drama embraces the world wanderings of a post-souled adventurer and will accordingly present scenes typical of every clime and people. One of the innumerable details taxing the resource of the directors is the special train, which will take a small army of principals and extras to the Imperial Valley for the desert scenes alone. Mr. Telegien, who has never before appeared on the screen, decided after a most careful survey of the situation that the Lasky Company was the one organization with which he could consent to ally himself. The terms of the contract between Mr. Telegien and the Lasky Company are of such a nature that the distinguished artist will be seen hereafter exclusively in Lasky productions. It is, nevertheless, understood that Mr. Telegien's legitimate engagements are not to be interfered with unduly by the time devoted to photo-dramatic posting. "The Spoilers." St. John "movie" followers enjoyed "The Spoilers" at the Imperial this week. A certain glen in Scotland had the reputation of having a great echo. An English gentleman visited the place, and asked his guide about the echo. "Just about 'Two bottles of whisky,'" said the guide. The gentleman did as requested, and after waiting for several minutes, he turned to the Scot, and said—"But I do not hear any echo." "Maybe no," chuckled the Scot, "but here's the lassie comin' w' the whisky." Money talks and it doesn't have to use a megaphone, either.

How Studebaker cars are built - chassis

The Rear Springs In some cars the springs are used for driving and are, therefore, subjected to DOUBLE strain. Studebaker uses the springs solely to make the car easier-riding and drive through radius rods. The Radius Rods in a Studebaker car free the springs of the driving thrust, making the car much EASIER in its riding qualities. They connect the rear axle housing with the side member of the frame as shown here. The Torque Arm is used in the Studebaker Chassis. Made of pressed steel—designed to absorb all the twisting strain of driving. Helps keep the driving mechanism in perfect alignment.

The SIMPLEST chassis you ever saw And it takes just a glance to show you that it is, too. I... when you study the illustration of this Studebaker Chassis—or better yet, when you come in and see the Chassis itself—the first thing that will impress you is its freedom from "clutter." Observe the line of the drive, for instance. STRAIGHT as a shot from the motor back to the rear axle. This means power, too. And everything in just the place it belongs. And then, when you get down to the finer details of design, you find that the motor, for example, is as simple as any you ever laid eyes on—and extremely accessible. The irreversible steering-gear is a simple, EASILY adjusted worm and worm-wheel and every part of the steering gear is adjustable to wear. The exhaust line is straight and free from sudden angles. The transmission, set back on the rear axle for better balance and straighter drive, is simple, CLEANLY designed and easily gotten at. And every last detail, as a glance will show you, is designed and placed with the idea of furnishing the EASIEST and STRAIGHTEST channel possible for the power to flow from the motor to the rear wheels—and to make it as "trouble-proof" as a man expects this car to be. But why not come in and go over the Chassis itself in detail? In addition to its simplicity, we'd like you to know how accessible every detail is and how well-balanced the entire chassis is to give EASIER riding and EASIER-driving qualities. And if you will, we'd like to have you drive the car yourself and KNOW from your own experience the riding comfort and the free-flowing power and the many conveniences that a Studebaker offers. Can you come in today. If not, write for the Studebaker Chassis Book. The Man In The Street

What do the probs. say for tomorrow?
 Probably no chap's got a bigger grouch against the weather man this week than the fellow who's been taking his holidays.
 Just four more days remain to write about the June bride.
 The fighting in Europe still continues although Mr. Bryan abolished the war some days ago.
 Wonder if he would have been willing to send a note to Germany asking them to give up beer for the rest of the time and drink grape juice instead?
 Ever Think So?
 A chap just married about a month said this week that if he attended to all the little jobs about the house that needed to be done, he would have no time to work.
 Joseph Martin "hiked" 1,000 miles from Fort McLeod to Calgary to enlist. Joseph won't need to practise for a route march.
 The Hurdy-gurdy man is back in town, but up to the present the advance agent of the German Bands has not arrived.
 Were Badly Needed.
 Work has been started on new sidewalks for the lower end of Main street. Street construction is always an interesting feature for tourists in sight-seeing about St. John.
 Seemingly City Hall has always thought it better to have the principal streets dug up in the midst of the tourist season than to have the work begun weeks previously.
 Seems to bring the war nearer home, hear Commissioner Potts declaring war on the Poles.
 About time something was done with just a few more poles the streets would look like Robinson Crusoe's stockades.
 A few less poles and a few more window boxes would help the appearance of the city.
 And the peddlers are at it again. Did you ever buy any of those real imported cigars which the mysterious visitor said he could sell so cheaply only because they were smuggled? And do you remember how they tasted, after you used up the first layer?

Boston Paper's Reference to Late Judge Lane, Who Was Born in St. John
 Of the death of Judge Walter I. Lane, nephew of Robert Clarke of St. John, the Boston Globe of Thursday says:—
 Judge Walter I. Lane, a special justice of the Brockton Court, died this morning at the Cory Hill Hospital in Brookline after an illness of two weeks. He had undergone an operation and was thought to be recovering rapidly when he suffered a relapse. He was thirty-eight years old.
 Judge Lane was born in St. John, N. B., on May 6, 1877, and came to Brockton at the age of five. He graduated from the High School there in 1896 and entered the law office of Judge James Warren A. Reed. The following year he attended Boston University. He was admitted to the bar in 1902. He was also treasurer of the Boston University Athletic Association and associated editor of the Boston School Magazine. He graduated from Boston University in 1909 with high honors and was admitted to the bar at the age of twenty-one.
 He was associated with Judge Reed in Brockton for a few years and then opened an office for himself. He was always very active in Republican politics and for a number of years stumped the state for the republican state committee. The only office he ever sought was that of city solicitor, a position which he held for three years. He was a specialist in liquor cases and established a record for himself in the handling of such cases.
 He was appointed special justice of the Brockton Police Court on April 28, 1908, by Ex-Gov. Draper. He received his commission on his 32nd birthday. As a judge of the police court he made a special study of juvenile cases.
 He is survived by his mother, Mrs. Walter Lane, a brother, Arthur Lane, and two sisters, Mrs. John M. Baker of Brockton and Mrs. H. Loring Jenkins of Bridgewater.
 He was a member of the Commercial Club, Paul Revere Lodge of Masons, The Brockton Bar Association, The Plymouth Bar Association and was affiliated with many charitable and social organizations.

A. M. S. MEN UNDER STRENUOUS TRAINING ROUTINE IN ENGLAND

Kenneth S. Allaby Writes Home of Life at Sandling Camp—Other St. John Boys
 A letter received today from Kenneth S. Allaby, of No. 3 Co., A. S. C., from Sandling Camp, England, tells of the members of that body, almost all St. John lads, enjoying themselves in training there. "We have seen many things that were new and interesting," he writes. "I cannot fittingly describe it all. We have seen one thing since coming here that few of us have seen for some time and that is watching old Sol making his daily appearance. As Leader says: 'It's great to get up early in the morning. I am in a tent with several other St. John fellows, Corp. Allingham, W. J. Marks, J. L. Linton, A. L. Fraser and T. L. Northrup. We have had some days here as warm as any at home in August. I have seen several soldiers who have been to the front and are now recovering after their wounds. They say it is still a long way to Berlin.' Some of the boys have hopes of eating their Christmas dinner at home, but I fear they will be disappointed. We have been strenuously training for the work in France, and expect soon to be doing our little bit in driving the enemy back. Give my best regards to old friends."

GIVES UP STRIPES AND GOOD POST AND GOES BACK TO RANKS

Paymaster Sergeant Jones of 'Indiastown With the A. M. S. Wants to Get to Front
 Because he would have to stay in England, and not get a chance to see action at the front, Sergt. Walter L. Jones, formerly of Indiastown, gave up his stripes and reverted to the ranks. He had been promoted to the rank of paymaster-sergeant with the Divisional Train, under command of Lieut-Col. Massie, but on learning that the promotion meant separation from his pals in the company and a protracted stay in London, he asked to be relieved of the non-commissioned rank and to revert to his former standing as a private. "If No. 3 Co. goes to France," he said, "I'm going with it."
 This news was contained in a letter received today from Sergt. J. C. Bond, of the supply section of No. 30. C. A. S. C. in which Jones is serving. Sergt. Bond says the members of the company are taking up the work of heavier drill with skill and ease, and will soon be ready to take their place with the units of Britain in France.

SUCCESSFUL PIC SOCIAL

A most enjoyable pic social was held on Thursday evening in the new hall in Springfield, Kings county, for the purpose of raising funds to secure seats for the edifice. John A. Urquhart acted as auctioneer, and, in addition, there was also a sale of ice cream, etc., and an entertaining programme was given. The net proceeds were about $37.

MARRIAGES AND BIRTHS

Twenty-nine births, nineteen boys and ten girls, and nineteen marriages were reported to Registrar John B. Jones during the week.

ANOTHER ROCK IN THE WAY OF SHIP OF STATE

More Trouble For Local Government, This Time Over Successor to Wilson in Cabinet

It is believed that the provincial government may have as much trouble over filling the vacancy in the cabinet which will occur when Hon. J. E. Wilson resigns to accept the appointment of deputy receiver-general, as has been caused by other appointments recently. As Mr. Wilson is the only representative from the city of St. John in the cabinet, many of the St. John supporters of the government feel that another St. John man should get the appointment, and friends of Messrs. Tilley, Lockhart and Greenman are all reported working for their candidates. Of the three, it is asserted by his friends that Mr. Greenman is most entitled to the appointment, and that they will insist upon his getting it. As Mr. Tilley is said to be a big fox independent for the "machine," and Mr. Lockhart is kept pretty busy with his own business interests, they feel that their candidate should have a good show.
 There are other parts of the province which would like to be represented in the government, however, and they are being heard from. One of the candidates from the upper section of the province "mentioned" is Titus J. Carter, M.P.P. from Victoria county. It is believed his chances will not go beyond "mention." A. R. Slipp, M.P.P., from Queens is another stalwart supporter of the government who has so far sought in vain for preferment, and whose demands are said to be getting stronger. The fact that he does not belong in the inner clique which runs the affairs of the party may lessen his chances. The northwestern part of the province beyond Hon. Mr. Morrissey's constituency, are also said to be looking over their stock of available timber with the idea of finding something suitable for the occasion.

GRANDFATHER WON HONORS AT WATERLOO

The centenary of the battle of Waterloo has brought to light some local history connected with that great event. After the Napoleonic wars were over, some of the British soldiers came to Canada to settle, and among them was Sergt. McMahon, a native of Ireland, who had won honors at Waterloo. He settled at Golden Grove and raised a large family, finally dying as the result of injuries received when a tree fell on him. Mrs. Hilarid Campbell, 114 Sydney street, is a grand-daughter of the sergeant.

KING STREET EAST WORK

The old sidewalk on the southern side of King street east, between Pitt and Crown, has been torn up ready for the new walk which is to be laid there. Instead of the broad sweep of asphalt, there will be a seven foot strip with grass plot four feet wide between it and the houses and another seven feet wide between the sidewalk and the gutter. The sidewalk will be of asphalt, but will be laid in wooden forms like concrete, and will be rounded off at the edges to prevent crumbling. The work will be more or less in the nature of an experiment.

BEING WELCOMED

A visitor to the city during the last few days is a former well known resident of West St. John, Daniel Noonan, who is a guest of Mr. and Mrs. W. O'Connor, Cedar street. He has been living in Seattle, where he has done well. Mr. Noonan left St. John about fifteen years ago. He is being warmly welcomed by old friends. His wife is visiting at her old home on the North Shore, and he will join her there before going back to Seattle.
