VOTERS TO POLLS IN SNOW STORM

New York Conditions Better, Though, Ere Long

THE EARLY OUTLOOK

Reports From States Where Contests are Being Held Today Show Indications of Generally Good Vote—Some Incidents of the Day

New York, Nov. 8.—First visitors to the polls in this city today went through a fall of snow that melted on sidewalks and pavements almost as fast as it fell.

Unsettled weather was predicted but the frequent comment by workers of both parties was that if the labor hours brought no worse conditions than the early, the influence of the weather upon the turnout of voters would be largely a negligible quantity.

Measures taken to guard the polls were on the usual comprehensive scale and the voters in this city today went on in force to detect illegal voting. Little trouble of any sort was reported in the first hours.

Hastings, Nov. 8.—The weather throughout the state was clear and cold for election. In some of the smaller towns the polls closed soon after noon and the counting of the result was eagerly awaited.

Concord, N. H., Nov. 8.—Throughout the polls early to cast their votes for governor, two representatives in congress and the members of the legislature.

Providence, R. I., Nov. 8.—Clear, snappy autumn weather brought out an unusually large early morning vote in Rhode Island.

Trenton, N. J., Nov. 8.—The great battle for governor for New Jersey opened at 8 a. m. today and will continue until 7 o'clock tonight.

Portland, Ore., Nov. 8.—With rain falling in several parts of Oregon the chances are that, in spite of the deep interest aroused in the election of governor and the fight brought on by the attempt of the prohibition element to have Oregon in the "dry" column, not more than seventy-five per cent of the registered vote will be polled.

RADIUM NOW FROM CORNISH ORE

Sir Wm. Ramsay Announces That Factory Will Accomplish Feat of Turning Out Gram in Month

London, Nov. 7.—Sir William Ramsay has announced to the public that, for the first time, radium has been produced in Great Britain from British ore.

The case is diagnosed as acute leucemia, and is so rare that there is no record of a previous case at the Bureau of Vital Statistics. The department has records of chronic leucemia, which results fatally after a year or two, but Dr. Guilfoyle said that no case of acute leucemia is shown.

"Turn back home," said Mrs. Abbott. He went straight to the home of his physician, Dr. E. M. Evans. When he reached there he was in a state of collapse.

"The case is diagnosed as acute leucemia, and is so rare that there is no record of a previous case at the Bureau of Vital Statistics. The department has records of chronic leucemia, which results fatally after a year or two, but Dr. Guilfoyle said that no case of acute leucemia is shown.

WAS BAND LEADER AT CORONATION OF QUEEN VICTORIA

Seattle, Wn., Nov. 8.—Thomas Cannell who led a band at the coronation of Queen Victoria, died here yesterday in his 96th year, leaving eight sons and seven grand-children. Mr. Cannell was born on the Isle of Man in 1814. He crossed the plains on foot and settled in Utah in 1868.

CHICAGO MAN, WITNESS IN MURDER TRIAL, SAYS REPORT OF BELLE ELMORE BEING ALIVE IS A CANARD

Chicago, Nov. 8.—Bruce Miller of East Chicago, friend of Belle Elmore the actress, whose husband Dr. Havelock H. Crippen, is under sentence of death in London for murdering her, takes no stock in the story that the woman is alive.

Miller appeared as a witness in the Crippen trial to disprove the accusation that she was unkindly to Mrs. Crippen. "It's a canard, pure and simple," said Miller last night. "Crippen had cast imputations that I might know the whereabouts of his wife, and I went to London to prove that I had not seen the woman for more than six years. She had two of my pictures in her room, but there was no attempt to conceal her friendship for both me and Mrs. Miller."

"While the evidence was only circumstantial it was conclusive, and no fair-minded individual who heard the testimony could have the slightest doubt about the identity of the slain woman. I am sure that we are the only people she knew in this vicinity, and it is certain she would not come here without visiting us."

"No, there is nothing in it. Some other woman must be impersonating the slain actress. If Attorney Tobin of Philadelphia, thinks he has her located, it would be an easy matter to have me identify her. But she is dead, you may rest assured of that."

"The story about her being here would have more weight if I had not gone on to explain my friendship with Mrs. Crippen. We met as theatrical people. Crippen in his defense declared that, instead of being dead, she was in America with me. I went over on the same ship with Theresa Hunt, her sister. With Inspector Dew, I went to the Crippen residence and identified my pictures. There was nothing to conceal. She is not alive. Crippen's guilt was fully established."

Washington, Nov. 8.—The action contemplated by the state department in regard to the reports that Belle Elmore Crippen is still alive and in this country. Even if the affidavits reported to have been forwarded to Washington are presented at the state department, it is declared that they would be returned to the British Embassy, or to the English consul at Philadelphia as the case is considered within the jurisdiction of the criminal courts of England.

THE JORDAN SUMMER HOME AS SANITARIUM

Tuberculosis Commission Members Inspect It—Offer Declared Magnificent One

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 8.—(Special)—It is true that Mrs. J. C. Jordan has offered her beautiful summer residence at the Glades to the provincial government for a tuberculosis sanitarium, said Hon. C. W. Robinson today. Mr. Robinson said: "The sanitarium is a magnificent one."

Moncton, N. B., Nov. 8.—(Special)—The tuberculosis commission, Dr. Bostford of Moncton, and Dr. McAvenny of St. John have visited the place and reported that a full Saturday Hon. Mr. Hazen visited the Glades, accompanied by F. W. Sumner of Moncton. It is also understood that a meeting of the members of the tuberculosis commission will be held at the Glades in the near future.

"The tuberculosis commission offer includes the greater part of her lands at River Glades, consisting of several hundred acres, a palatial residence and stables, together with all furniture, except a few personal effects, pictures, etc. Mrs. Jordan reserves for herself only the cottage as a home when she may visit the home land."

Mr. Robinson says the location is a good one. Mrs. Jordan expects to be in New Brunswick in December to look after the property.

COOK'S ESKIMOS FOUND

Now There's Promised a Report That Will Explain Arctic Mystery

Copenhagen, Nov. 8.—The ship Motor, which conveyed the Arctic explorer Knud Rasmussen to Cape Hook this summer, has returned here. The captain has brought a long secret report from Rasmussen to a friend concerning Dr. Cook's Eskimos, whom Rasmussen interviewed. The report, the captain says, will explain the whole affair of Dr. Cook and his polar journey.

Rasmussen's friend is away from home at present, but as soon as he returns the report will be published.

Chicago, Nov. 8.—A gathering advertised as a political rally last night turned out to be a prize fight.

ST. JOHN SCHOONER HATTIE MURIEL, LUMBER LADEN, ASHORE

Goes Aground Off Duck Island on Voyage to Boston While Trying to Make Portsmouth at Daylight Today—Hope to Float Her

Boston, Mass., Nov. 8.—(Special)—The St. John schooner Hattie Muriel, from St. John for Boston, with lumber, went ashore off Duck Island while attempting to make Portsmouth at daylight. The vessel is damaged, but the crew remain aboard hoping to float her.

thought the prospects of floating her were slight.

The lumber-laden schooner Geo. Collins for Boston, ran ashore while trying to enter Portsmouth Harbor. It was believed that she would be pulled into deep water at high tide.

More Leave Nome Than Enter

Seattle, Nov. 8.—Nearly 2,000 more people left Nome than entered the blushing city during the navigation season just closed. Seventy-six vessels entered the northern port taking 2154 passengers and bringing out 209.

Portsmouth, N. H., Nov. 8.—Two vessels went ashore near here during the night and one of them, an unknown schooner, is expected to be a total loss. The unknown craft struck on Duck Island and, because of high wind and heavy sea today, it was not possible to get it off.

Death of Educator

Boston, Nov. 8.—William A. Stone, a well known educator, died here at his home at Cliffdale, aged 83 years.

THE STRAIT SHORE ROAD

A lady called on the Times' new reporter this morning, and from her appearance he at once concluded she had come in to tell him about an accident. Though young and charming, she looked slightly awry, her cheeks were flushed, and she had a nervous air.

"Sit down and tell me all about it," said the new reporter. "How did it happen?" queried the lady, with evident surprise.

"The accident," said the new reporter, "were you much hurt? Did the horse run away?"

"Oh! There wasn't any accident. You're the new reporter, aren't you? You have been writing about the new street surface that is being moved around from one street to another. Would you mind coming out for a ride with me this morning in my carriage?"

"I would be charmed," said the new reporter, "granting with open admiration upon the fact being, 'but the editor—"

"Oh! I won't take him," interpreted the vision. "I want you. I want you to come for a ride along the Strait Shore, and then relate your experience."

"In such company," began the new reporter, "my experience could not but be a success."

"Now you are going to say just what my husband used to say before we were married and he joined the club," broke in the visitor. "You are a really nice boy, but you mustn't talk to me in that manner. If you can't come I'll tell you about it. I have just come over the Strait Shore road. Part of the time I was in the seat of the carriage and part of the time in the air. The horse was sometimes on hard ground, and sometimes in what seemed like a section of a Hazen highway in Horn-bus Settlement. You see that I am spattered with mud, and I am quite lame. I was dreadful. I thought that if I could get you to ride over the road and back again you might persuade the aldermen to have the new street surface taken there for a little while, until the road freezes."

The new reporter explained that the new street surface is now on Queen street, and has been promised to Brussels street next, and that since yesterday several other streets have asked for a turn. He thought the best thing she could do was to ask the gentleman who prayed for $6,000 and got it to pay that the Strait Shore road, and seal up the Strait Shore road.

ANNOUNCED AS POLITICAL MEETING; WAS PRIZE FIGHT

Chicago, Nov. 8.—A gathering advertised as a political rally last night turned out to be a prize fight.

The fight got well under way in a barn at the corner of West 30th street and South Paulina street before the police raided the place and arrested 300 men including the principals and a prominent politician. A ring had been roped in a stable. Men scheduled to fight to a finish had taken their corners and excited spectators were crowded about the roped-in ring. A dozen patrol wagons were soon at the doors and the men arrested were loaded in and taken to the police station.

KING GEORGE WILL NOT ADD ANY SPECIAL PROCEDURE

King George Will Not Add Any Special Procedure

London, Nov. 8.—At the coronation of King George on June 22, the Canadian Associated Press understands that as to procedure in the ceremony the king will adhere to precedent. There will be no disposition to exel any of the historic characteristics by adding courtly or military displays. The only possible alteration to the programme will arise from any specially expressed desire of the overseas dominions to be more comprehensively represented.

CANADIAN CANDIDATE

Labor Party Want R. Richardson of Winnipeg in South Panamas—Wm. O'Brien Criticizes T. P. O'Connor—Austin Chamberlain's Speech

Want Canadian as Candidate

R. Richardson, of the Winnipeg Tribune, by his eloquent oratory during his recent visit to the Panamas, spoke in St. Panamas district, so impressed the Labor and Radical Association of South Panamas that he has been offered the nomination at the next election.

The Canadian Associated Press understands that Mr. Richardson has not yet said whether or not he will accept the offer.

William O'Brien, in an interview says that P. O'Connor, having been on Canadian ground and being, above all things, a faithful English Liberal, but Mr. O'Connor did not greatly count and would be either repudiated or would repudiate himself.

Austin Chamberlain, speaking at Wigan yesterday, said: "The first duty is to develop and strengthen the particular states and commonwealths to which we owe allegiance but when that is done there will be ample room for trade which shall be mutually beneficial, which shall be an exchange between kinsmen and from which both will derive advantage, which shall be fruitful and profitable, a transaction which, both at the beginning and the end, will strengthen the British, and the dominions under the British crown, (cheers)."

Are you going to turn your backs on the finest offer ever a nation had? Are you going to refuse preferential access to the best markets that ever a manufacturing community has found in which to dispose of their goods?"

Mr. Chamberlain denied absolutely that a tax of two shillings on foreign corn would increase the price of the loaf. Concluding that in the policy he had tried to explain no sacrifice was involved. "No such demand was made upon any more than upon our colonial kingdom, and you may find, as they have found, your greatest prosperity, your richest development and most advancement of the whole British realm," (prolonged cheers).

Melbourne, Aust., Nov. 7.—Premier Murray of Victoria emphatically contradicts what he characterizes as "certain vilifying press reports," from Australia, published in some Canadian papers regarding the resignation of Thomas Tait, chairman of the Victorian railway commissioners. Premier Murray says Mr. Tait's resignation was entirely voluntary and greatly regretted by the government.

In the case of the C. P. R. v. landowners fronting on Empire avenue, McCellar or Hardisty streets, Fort William, leave was today granted to appeal.

FAMOUS GEMS OF PROSE AN AMULET IN RELIGION By Charles Phillips

From a speech at a meeting of the British and foreign school society at Freeman's hall, London, May 15, 1910. I AM the more indignant at the designs of these infidels because they are sought to be concealed in the disguise of liberty.

Hear not its sophistry; guard your child against it; draw around your homes the consecrated circle which it dare not enter. You will find an amulet in religion. It is the great mound raised by the Almighty for the protection of humanity; it stands between you and the lava of human passions; and O, believe me, if you wait tamely while it is basely undermined, the fiery deluge will roll on, before which all that you hold dear or venerable or sacred will wither into ashes.

No ark was spared; no age was respected; no suffering was pitied, and all this they did in the sacred name of liberty, thought the deluge of human blood they left not a mountain-top for the ark of liberty to rest on. But Providence was neither deaf nor sleeping. It mattered not that their impiety seemed to prosper; that victory panted after their ensanguined banners; that as their insatiate eagles soared against the sun he seemed but to replume his wing and to renew his vision; it was only for a moment. You see, at last, that in the very banquet of their triumph the Almighty's vengeance blazed upon the wall; and the diadem fell from the brow of the idolator.

I will not abjure the altar for the tinsel of a false and irreligious philosophy. In the godly "fellowship of the saints," in the "noble army of the martyrs," in the society of the great and good and wise of every nation, I will abide by the precepts, admire the beauty, and revere the mysteries of religion.

No Graft, No Deals, The Shamrock, That's Rooted in the Maple Leaf forever.

Another Committee. The city council yesterday discharged one investigating committee and appointed another. There is always an investigating committee. Also, it never investigates. Apparently the members of the council derive a certain amount of pleasure from the formality of discharging one committee and appointing another.

Intensive Farming. In every Canadian province the question of improved methods of farming is attracting more and more attention. There is a tendency to desert the farm has not been overcome. Conditions must be improved, better roads must be provided, and better methods of agriculture more widely taught.

Lighter Vein. Instead of saving money, prepare for a rainy day by getting an umbrella.

Wanted to See Them. "So this is a court room," whispered one of the fair women.

The Artful Sportsman. A gentleman who had the reputation of being a bad shot invited some of his friends to dine with him.

A Fine Line. Perry J. Steel had in his store 208 Union street. It may not be able for him to get open upon the 10th but the idea is that the footwear he sells will be the same high class goods as he handles in his north end store.

NO MORE DISTRESS FROM STOMACH OR ANY INDIGESTION

Heartburn, Gas, Headache and Other Misery is Ended By Taking a Little Daaepsin

If your meals don't fit comfortably or you feel bloated after eating, and you believe it is the food which fills you; if what little you eat lies like a lump of lead on your stomach; if there is difficulty in breathing after eating, eructations of sour, undigested food and acid, heartburn, brash or a belching of gas, you can make up your mind that you need something to stop food fermentation and cure indigestion.

To make every bite of food you eat aid in the nourishment and strength of your body, you must rid your stomach of poisons, excessive acid and stomach gas, which cause your entire system to interfere with digestion and cause so many sufferers of Dyspepsia, indigestion, flatulency, Constipation, Headache, Bloating, etc. Your case is no different—you have a stomach sufferer, though you may call it some other name. Daaepsin is the only medicine that will cure you, and it is so simple and so safe that you can take it at any time, and it will cure you in a few days.

A case of Daaepsin will cost fifty cents at any pharmacy here, and will convince you of its value. It is a simple and safe medicine, and it will cure you in a few days. It is a simple and safe medicine, and it will cure you in a few days.

The Wife Speaks. Not all those women who have loved and left, O, my Beloved, can stir my jealousy; Not the light loves which you forgot for me.

Have mended all the rents their arrows left, And from their old enchantments set you free. But one is my despair, and only she—The one who loved you, hopeless and bereft.

How can I give as much, who hold your heart, As she, unloved, who gave with scorn of gain? So do the angels, at her name I smart, And feel her scornful bargains who give me pain. For fair exchange, I cannot heal the pain, I am defeated by her while she lives. Helen Hay Whitney.

Insulting. "It's the insects," complained the suburban gardener, "they destroy all my radishes, and try as I may, I can't exterminate them."

"Best remedy I know," said the friend, "is to lay salt between the rows. Never been known to fail in killing them."

"With tears in his eyes, the gardener thanked him for his kind advice, and that same evening sprinkled his radishes about with salt, as directed."

"Well," said the friend when next they met, "and did you try the salt on those insects?"

"Yes," replied the gardener, tears once again in his eyes, "and the next morning when I went to look the little beggars were pulling up my radishes dipping them in the salt, and devouring them by the dozen."

The Use of Arms. These arms of mine aren't very strong, Not built for doing feats of strength Or lifting burdens all day long. But when I hold them out at length And into them with shouts of glee, A youngster comes with all her charms, And has a kiss or two for me. I've found the purpose of my arms.

They're strong enough to hug a child, To lift one of my shoulders, too, And at the thought, I've often smiled, That is enough for arms to do. So long as to be getting they Will lift a youngster now and then Who comes to me to romp in play, I envy not the strength of men.

I would not be a Saviour or a Hercules, I would not have the strength of Thor Or muscled be like one of these. So long as I can keep from harm Those babes of mine and nightly ride A youngster on each willing arm, I'm strong enough and satisfied.

Ed A. Guest.

The Artful Sportsman. (Life.) A gentleman who had the reputation of being a bad shot invited some of his friends to dine with him.

He said he had shot this at a distance of 300 yards.

"Well," said he, "I shot the bullet at the door at a distance of 300 yards, and then I painted the target around it."

A Fine Line. Perry J. Steel had in his store 208 Union street. It may not be able for him to get open upon the 10th but the idea is that the footwear he sells will be the same high class goods as he handles in his north end store.

The Evening Chit-Chat

By RUTH CAMERON

YOU may learn to consume your own smoke. The atmosphere is darkened by the murmurings and whimpers of men and women over non-essentials the trifles that are inevitably incident to the hurly-burly of the day's routine.

Have you ever seen one? How foolish! Of course you have. And don't you think it is fascinating to watch the big beetle with its wide open mouth slowly, despite Cuno's protest, slowly swing up again and deposit its mouthful of mud into the scow with a precision and care that makes the thing seem almost uncanny?

But on this occasion, as I started to tell you when I digressed, I observed some particularly interesting and suggestive about the mud scow.

And that was the fact that while the scow was going down into the river—a process presumably doesn't take very much power—the chimney belched forth a stream of heavy black smoke. But while the scow, filled with mud, was being slowly lifted to the surface, while every chain was straining and creaking with the weight it was lifting, there was practically no smoke coming out of that chimney.

Isn't that the way with people? Those who are really doing something, really lifting some big weight aren't usually belching forth any useless vapors.

And those who are always just getting ready to do things can be very easily distinguished by the amount of vapor they are sending forth.

Great power is almost always silent. It flows silently in a deep channel. It consumes its own smoke. It keeps its counsel while weakness chatters, and folds its arms and waits while weakness runs back and forth and to and fro in a passion of activity.

Think of someone whom you admire for strength of character and "bigness." Isn't he or she a quiet person tending to taciturnity rather than talkativeness, to repose and restraint rather than hurry?

Isn't he like the mud scow in action, not sending forth any smoke or vapor, because he is doing something that consumes it?

PILETS QUICKLY CURED AT HOME

Instant Relief—Permanent Cure—Trial Package Mailed Free to All in Plain Wrapper.

Many cases of Piles have been cured by a trial package of Pyramid Pile Ointment. When it proves its value to you, get more from your druggist at 50 cents a box, and be sure you get the genuine Pyramid Pile Ointment.

Remove bones and skin from sardines and mash to a paste. Add the yolks of 4 or 5 eggs (to 2 small boxes) rubbed through a sieve. Season with salt, pepper and lemon juice or vinegar. Moisten with olive oil or melted butter spread on bread.

SHAN VAN'S PUDDING. One tablespoon Indian meal, 1 tablespoon tapioca, soaked, 1 quart milk, butter size of egg, raisins, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup flour, stir while baking. Eat hot or cold with cream.

SPONGE CAKE. Three eggs, 1 cup sugar, 1/2 cup warm water, 1 heaping teaspoon baking powder, 1 cup flour, a pinch salt, grated rind of 1 lemon. Beat the yolks until thick, then add a little sugar and beat, then a little water and beat, then a little flour. Continue alternately until all are used, then fold in the whites beaten to a stiff froth. The flour and baking powder should be sifted 3 times before using. Use an egg beater until I add the whites, then fold in with spoon.

YANTY CAKE. Two beaten eggs, 3 tablespoons of water, 1 cup sugar, 1 cup flour, 1/2 teaspoon cream of tartar, 1/2 teaspoon soda.

THE PATIENT BRAIN. A tireless worker so long as supplied with Rich, Red Blood.

The brain is one of the most important and delicate organs of the body. It can be induced, by good treatment, to perform prodigious work.

But it is sensitive and will not brook abuse. It responds to the lash at first, but if the lash is laid on too hard it balks.

The brain insists on having plenty of good, red blood wherewith to renew its waste and from which to reorganize the whole nerve force.

Nervous trouble is generally brain trouble, and so the treatment must be compared to that of a sufferer with the accompanying dread, suspicion and melancholy.

One-fourth of the blood in the human body is consumed by the brain, so make the blood rich and pure by using Dr. Chase's Nerve Food and you will overcome some of the most distressing symptoms of nervous trouble.

There is no other Nerve Food that arouses the nerves, and restores the brain to a condition which is worse than the first.

Get the blood right as the nervous system will adjust itself. Headaches will improve, and nervousness and despondency will give place to new hope and courage, new vigor and energy.

Dr. Geo. W. Miller, Lakeland, Man., writes: "Dr. Chase's Nerve Food cured me of nervous prostration, indigestion, a great deal of pain, and I am now no longer troubled with twitches of the nerves in the arms and legs."

Dr. A. W. Chase's Nerve Food will enable you to avoid such extreme nervous trouble as prostration and paralysis, 30 cents a box, 6 boxes for $2.00, at all dealers, or Edmanston, Bates & Co., Toronto.

Editor of the Times-Star, Sir,—Seeing in Saturday's evening Times an account of the re-appearance of the Manawagonish Ghost, I was interested in noting the direction the person was traveling toward the city.

Now this alleged ghost is reported as having been seen quite a number of times and by people going toward town, and always appears as a woman. Now, I have lived in this vicinity for forty years or more, and I never saw a ghost. I was favored yet with a call from this shadowy lady. We simple minded country folks, living so near by, have taken no little trouble to see Her Ladyship, but never, once, so the only logical conclusion arrived at, is that city people on their long and dusty drive from town, refresh themselves too freely with the pure and undiluted waters of Spruce Lake.

Coming direct from fountain head and being so much stronger than the water carried or run through the pipe line, it creates, in the minds of our city friends, a somewhat strange and unaccountable action "a seeing things at night."

Now, by way of explanation of this ghost house has degenerated, and is now only a barn and there being men working in this barn about 8 or 9 o'clock that evening, with a lantern and the light shining through crack in the door and reflected through the dark and misty night, caused no doubt, many fantastic and weird shapes. Hence, the Ghost (female). THE GHOST.

MORE THAN 2,000 HEAR DR. TORREY

Evangelistic Campaign Is Early Marked By Conversions—Music a Feature of the Meeting

More than 2,000 men, women and children gathered in the Queen's rink last evening to listen to an earnest, cultured and appealing sermon delivered by Rev. Dr. Torrey, the great evangelistic leader who has done such a noble work in the interests of Christianity all over the world.

The text was, "God," and the speaker said that though it was one of the shortest texts that could be chosen, it was one on which an almost unlimited amount of time could be spent.

It was discussed that could not fail to arouse thoughtful consideration on the part of thinking people. The speaker pictured God as the great, loving Father, a Being far beyond the conception of man, and told what a belief in God had meant to him.

Dr. Torrey is a man of fine, noble appearance, with snow white hair and beard and a voice of wonderful strength and power. He is eloquent and forceful and gives one an impression of a man accustomed to be a leader. He dominates an audience from the time he steps upon the platform, and at the same time his manner suggests a kindness and gentleness that cannot fail to draw people to him.

Again last night, as on Sunday, the choir of four or five hundred trained voices delighted the audience with their tuneful rendering of the inspiring hymns in the special book being used in these services. Mr. McEwan, the musical conductor, seemed greatly pleased last evening with the manner in which the choir responded to the demands for whole-souled singing of the choruses.

The musical director is not the least attractive feature of the meetings by any means. In urging them to sing one song he said: "Open your mouth, north and south, and smile east and west. That's the way to sing this song." His question, after the choir had sung a new song for the first time—"Do you like it say yes?"—evoked such a feeble response on the first call that he repeated it, and got better results. On one occasion when he asked the audience to sing a chorus, with the help of the choir, the response consisted of one young lady singing a solo, "Sister, come out of that," he called, "don't stay down there with those people who are too mean to help you. Come up here in the choir." And the young lady obeyed, while the audience applauded.

Many complimentary remarks were heard again last night about the splendid sermon in which Miss Anderson presided at the piano. As an accompanist she could scarcely be excelled.

Although Dr. Torrey only arrived in the city yesterday at noon, he had no time in getting into the battle for souls. He addressed the audience at 8 o'clock, taking as his subject, Prayer. This was an introductory address to a series of sermons on Prayer, and was of a most illuminating and soul-stirring character. The sermon was followed by a meeting addressed by Dr. Jacoby, on Personal Work, and it was a very helpful and instructive talk.

Last evening there was a song service of about half an hour, led by Mr. McEwan, and it was an inspiring and impressive feature. After prayer by one of the city clergymen, Dr. Torrey read a passage of scripture and then made the following announcements for the week: There will be three meetings each day, at 7 p.m., one at 4 p.m., and one at 8 p.m. Dr. Torrey will address the afternoon and evening meetings. The subjects for the afternoon meetings will be:

NO TROUBLE AT ALL

"May I trouble you to pass the H. P.?" How many times in one day does this simple request round the tables of those happy people who have been acquainted with H. P. and know all its distinctive and good qualities.

It is no trouble at all to pass the H. P. provided that you know it will come round to you again—otherwise it's a self-sacrifice not to be demanded of a man with a discriminating taste for sauces.

H. P. is that delicious, delicious. Its flavors are of combined expressions of choicest Oriental fruits and spices and pure malted barley. It is known, borne out by the letters "H. P." and a picture of the British Houses of Parliament upon the bottle, as a Scotch remanufacturing every man and woman who desires to taste, for the first time, a perfectly delicious sauce.

Rev. R. A. Torrey, D.D. The text was, "God," and the speaker said that though it was one of the shortest texts that could be chosen, it was one on which an almost unlimited amount of time could be spent.

EXHIBITION SHOWS

FINE NET SURPLUS OF TWELVE THOUSAND

(Continued from page 1.) The exhibition dates were from September 3 to the 14th inclusive, and it is safe to say that the resulting exhibition was the best ever held in this city, both from the standpoint of exhibits and attendance. The industry, cattle and poultry departments were exceedingly good, as was also the Agricultural Hall, when the season of the year is taken into consideration.

Special Features Educational features of special moment were much in evidence, among which might be mentioned exhibits by the Province of natural resources, minerals, fish and game, etc., an exhibit made of woods under the direction of Mr. R. B. Miller, prof of forestry at the University of New Brunswick and "Made in St. John" exhibit conducted by the board of trade.

The art exhibit also was of greater proportion than in former years, and was the satisfaction given in the other departments, which prizes owing to the donation grant totalled a much larger amount than at our ordinary exhibitions. Your directors also wish to acknowledge their indebtedness for special prizes donated by the following institutions—Canadian Hackney Horse Society, Clydesdale Horse Association of Canada, American Leicester Breeders' Association, Parade Association, Toronto Open Air Horse, Bank of New Brunswick, Canadian Bank of Commerce, Petrie Manufacturing Company, Provincial Chemical Fertilizer Company, W. Allee Burpee & Company, Philadelphia, and the Bowick Fertilizer Company, Boston, and Mr. Geo. McAvity.

The thanks of the association are also due to the various transportation companies, both railway and steamboat, who furnished special rates during the exhibition, and gave customary freight privileges.

Financial Statement The year's accounts have been duly audited and found correct. They show:— Receipts from Exhibition proper, $35,038.70 Receipts from Grants, 25,000.00 Receipts from Sale of property, 2,750.00 Cash, balance brought forward, 1,053.42 Total expenditures, 807,484.12 Balance carried forward, $15,888.47 Outstanding liabilities are less than $1000.

Condition of Plant Owing to the extensive improvements and repairs made this year, the association's plant is in thorough repair with the possible exception of the northern horse stalls. Provision has been made for carrying pending another exhibition and $20,000 insurance is being carried on the various buildings with appropriate amounts on the various fittings, gear, engines, etc. The executive deem that the time is now opportune for the association to carry out the stated purposes of its incorporation, to hold annual exhibitions.

DARING STREET THEFT BY BOYS

Young Woman Robbed of Satchel in Garden Street Last Evening

A daring piece of thievery took place last night about 6.30 o'clock in Garden street, whereby a young woman stenographer in a large retail house in King street was robbed of a satchel containing nearly $10. The perpetrators of the affair were boys, but they seemed to have had the scheme cleverly pre-arranged, and they were successful in carrying out their programme.

The young woman was returning to her home in Charles street, when one of a group of four or five small boys, approaching her, asked the time of day. To bring her watch from where she kept it, she changed her satchel to a position beneath her arm, and no sooner had she done so, than one of the young fellows snatched it and ran off, the others following.

The police were notified and though they made diligent search they could find no trace of the satchel or the boys implicated in the stealing.

The steamer Aurora, Captain Ingersoll, of the St. John-Grand Manan route, is on the blocks at Liverpool, N.S., where she is being re-timbered and re-planked. As she will go from there to Yarmouth to have repairs made to her engines, it is not likely that she will be on her route again before spring. In the meantime the steamer La Tour is taking her place and she, in turn, will be relieved by the steamer Brunswick in December.
