BRITISH AND FRENCH FIGHTING HARD TO RELIEVE SERBS' NORTHERN ARMY IN UNEQUAL STRUGGLE

Austro-German and Bulgarian Invaders Drawing Cords Around Brave Serbians—Germans Attacking in East and West Fail to Make Ground and Are Driven Back.

London, Nov. 5.—While Greece hesitates, the Serbian northern army is being slowly but surely ground down before the combined pressure of the Austro-German and Bulgarian forces. The fate of Nish hangs by a hair, and it is only at the southern end of the battle front that the Bulgarians are meeting with any reverses. There, according to reports the British are co-operating with the French, but, as heretofore, these reports are unofficial, and fragmentary, and it cannot be said authoritatively whether the British are in touch with their new enemy.

If the Bulgar-Teuton tide is turned, the best opinion here is that it will be some weeks hence, involving a period of uncertainty such as preceded the stand before Paris and on the Yser. But giving the Entente Powers a month's time, it is argued that they can throw three hundred thousand, and perhaps five hundred thousand, men into Serbia, not including Russians, and with such a force not only can they dispute the advance of the Central Powers, but can contest Bulgaria's occupation of Serbia Macedonia.

The Germans are on the defensive in the east and west. Neither theatre has developed any large battles, as modern battles are reckoned. The Turks continue sporadically activity in the Dardanelles region, as recorded in tonight's British official communication from Gallipoli peninsula.

This says the Turks launched attacks against the British right in the Anzac region, but that they did not defeat the British line.

Fighting in Champagne Continues Violent.

Paris, Nov. 5.—The war office communication, made public tonight, says: "Artillery actions have continued during the day in Artois, especially in the Lens sector."

"In Champagne fighting is going on with the same violence in the region to the north of Massiges. During the recent attacks, delivered with the same methods and with heavy effect, the enemy was able to push a few elements into our first line trench at Hill 199. Everywhere else the enemy was stopped, or completely repulsed by our counter-attacks."

"In the Vosges, one of our mines has been destroyed, at Le Chapelle (east of Badonvillers), a German blockhouse."

"Army of the Orient: Notwithstanding the violent preparation by their artillery, the Bulgarians failed to break through the line of our divisions at Krivolak."

"The same day to the east of Raborvo, we carried the villages of Memeti and Kajali, and attacked the hill crests on the frontier. The Bulgarians have shown great activity with their artillery. They have violently bombarded Valadovo. The action engaged in by our troops to the north of Raborvo is going on."

The Belgian war office statement says:

"The enemy's artillery has been very active, and violently cannonaded our positions to the northeast of Oostkerke and to the south of Saint Jacques Capelle."

"Wulpen, Pervyse, Avecapelle, Oostkerke, Rousdamme and Saint Jacques Capelle have been bombarded. Our batteries have replied vigorously and have executed acts of retaliation against Leke and Saint Pierre Capelle."

Bulgarians Claim Important Victory at Saloniki.

Berlin, Nov. 5, by wireless to Sayville.—It is officially reported that the Bulgarians have completely defeated at a point northeast of Philip, the French forces which were landed at Saloniki. Part of the French contingent was routed and the others were made prisoners. The first of the French prisoners have arrived at Kustendil.

Enos Bombarded.

Constantinople, Nov. 5, via London, Nov. 6.—The official statement issued today at the Turkish war office was as follows:

"There was minor fighting near Anafarta. Our artillery forced enemy war vessels to retreat from stations off Kerkirliet Luan. An armored cruiser was hit three times and a transport vessel on fire. Fire was observed aboard the latter."

"An enemy monitor torpedo boat bombarded Enos for two days, destroying some houses."

GOV'T PUTS BAN ON EXPORT OF CANADIAN FURS

Except to France, Russia, Italy, Spain and Portugal—Shipping of Cotton Products Forbidden.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—The government has prohibited the exportation of all manufactures and products of cotton and also cotton lace and dressed or undressed furs to foreign destinations in Europe other than France, Russia (except through Baltic ports), Italy, Spain and Portugal. Cotton waste remains prohibited to all foreign destinations.

Hon. T. Chase Casgrain, postmaster-general, received a cablegram today from Sir George Fery, Canadian High Commissioner in London, stating that he is with the Canadian hospital which went to Alexandria, is recovering rapidly from his serious illness and will be back on duty in a short time.

The economic commission started work today. It was decided to make a start by inviting statements from farmers' organizations, including live stock breeders, grain growers, fruit growers, and stock dealers associations, as well as from many leading authorities on practical farming. Other organizations concerned directly with shipping and transportation interests will be called on immediately also to assist in the investigations. Later leading authorities on the various subjects connected with Canada's development will be called upon to give evidence.

KING CONSTANTINE AGAIN DEFIES WILL OF THE PEOPLE

Calls on Defeated Premier to Form a New Cabinet.

ZAIMIS TURNS DOWN THE KING'S OFFER.

Decision for or Against Participation in War Expected to be Outcome of Conference of Leaders Called by King.

London, Nov. 5.—King Constantine of Greece has again offered the premiership to M. Zaimis, who had resigned on the defeat of his ministry in the Chamber of Deputies, according to a Reuters despatch from Athens. M. Zaimis refused to accept the offer, and a council of ministers was called, the despatch adds.

M. Zaimis' refusal to retain the post, the correspondent states, was on the ground that although he had provisionally accepted the premiership to ease the situation, he was determined, as he had previously declared, to abstain from taking an active part in international politics.

Athens, Nov. 5.—In reply to a question in the parliament today Premier Venizelos said, "Under the constitutional regime the King can have no responsibility."

Only Delaying War, Which is Inevitable

Ex-Premier Venizelos said, however, that he did not mean to throw upon the King responsibility for the present situation in Greece. He blamed those who had failed to advise His Majesty as they ought and said the crown could not refuse to recognize the vote of confidence accorded by the chamber of deputies to the preceding cabinet.

M. Gounaris, minister of the interior, interrupting, said he thought the policy of M. Venizelos would lead the country to ruin and to take a position against the Central Powers which would be disastrous for Greece and Serbia.

When Gounaris had concluded M. Theodis, minister of communication, addressed the house. He examined the foreign policy of M. Venizelos and asserted that the latter last February would have led the Greek fleet and army to complete ruin.

The developments which had followed justified the opinion, the minister contended, that armed neutrality had saved Greece from catastrophe and that if the country had not maintained neutrality it would have been lost without saving Serbia.

Resuming his speech M. Venizelos apologized for his policy of last February and discussed the benefits which Greece might have realized if her neutrality had not been maintained. Continuing he said:

"Your policy has rendered our national ideals impossible and in serving involuntarily a German political group we are exposed to the danger of aiding Bulgarian aspirations and the growth of Turkish power. Why not take part today in a war which tomorrow will be inevitable?"

M. Venizelos terminated his address by urging the government not to let pass an occasion which is presented to the people only once in a thousand years. His speech was frequently applauded.

Coalition Cabinet Favorable to Neutrality?

Rome, Nov. 5, via Paris, Nov. 6.—Advices received here through official channels are to the effect that former Premier Venizelos is not likely to be entrusted with the formation of a new cabinet, but that King Constantine is seeking to form a coalition cabinet, favorable to a continuance of armed neutrality.

Much Hinges on Conference Called by the King

London, Nov. 5.—Another twenty-four hours have complicated, rather than clarified the situation in Greece, the attitude of the King of which country is causing the Entente Powers much concern. Apparently, determined that M. Zaimis shall remain in the office of premier, King Constantine today urged him to retain the premiership. Ac-

GAIN OF FOUR MILLIONS IN THE REVENUE

Expenditure for October Considerably Below that of Corresponding Month Last Year

Ottawa, Ont., Nov. 5.—The Dominion revenue during October was $14,440,333 which is nearly four million more than October, 1914. For the seven months of the present fiscal year it was $87,483,848, compared with $80,972,466 during the same period last year.

While the increase in revenue although satisfactory is not very large the expenditure is much less. During seven months last year it was $65,211,793. This year it is $56,247,663, so that the surplus last year was only half the thirty million betterment this year.

Customs excise, post office and public works, which include railways all show increases in revenue.

There is an increase in the national debt of over seven and a half millions during the month of October.

The total net debt now stands at $49,528,492 compared with $35,675,399 a year ago. Temporary loans which include war loans amount to $190,140,350.

UNVEIL STATUE IN LONDON TO CAPT. SCOTT, ANT-ARTIC EXPLORER

London, Nov. 5.—A statue of the late Captain Robert F. Scott, the Antarctic explorer, was unveiled this afternoon in Waterloo Place by A. J. Balfour, first lord of the admiralty. The statue was executed by Lady Scott, widow of the explorer, who previously had designed a bronze memorial to Dr. Edward Wilson, of the Scott party, who died with Captain Scott on the return journey from the south pole.

According to Athens despatches, however, M. Zaimis declined to acquiesce in the King's desire, whereupon the King called a council of ministers, the deliberations of which may or may not determine whether Greece is to ally herself against Bulgaria, or persist in her attitude of "benevolent neutrality," which means that though the allied troops may cross her soil, her armies shall not aid them in driving the Bulgarians from Serbia.

RUSSIANS PUSH FORWARD ADVANCE AROUND RIGA

Progress Near Lake Akkel. While Warships Bombard German Positions Near Baltic Seaport—Thousand Enemy Dead Strew Field After Futile Attempt to Storm Russian Position Near Dvinsk by Early Morning Attack

Petrograd, via London, Nov. 5.—The Russian official statement follows: "Near Riga yesterday our troops progressed slightly towards the west of Lake Akkel. Artillery and rifle fire continues all along the front in this region."

"In the region of Jacobstadt, and on the Dvina there is no change in the situation. Near Dvinsk, south of Lake Swenton, the enemy, at five o'clock this morning, delivered an attack against the village of Platonovka, which was repulsed with heavy losses. So far, over a thousand bodies have been counted on the field."

"Further south calm prevails as far as the Priepet."

"To the west of Rafalovka (on the Stry river) the enemy on the evening of the third, delivered an attack on the village of Kostukhnovka. After fierce fighting, during the night, our troops drove off the Austrians, capturing two guns, three machine guns, 250 prisoners and a large quantity of arms and ammunition."

"In the region of the village of Volitz, north of Novo Alexenev we attacked enemy forces which had approached our entanglements. The enemy was driven back after a bayonet fight. We captured three officers and 150 men."

"Fierce fighting continues on the right of Stripa (East Galicia) in the region of Semikovitz, the artillery duel on both sides being very violent."

"Our ships opened fire against the German positions near Shlok, west of Riga."

"The situation in the Caucasus is unchanged."

Italy Not to Send Troops to Balkans

Rome, Nov. 5, via Paris.—The reports that Italy will take a hand in the conflict in the Balkans by landing an expedition in Albania receive no confirmation in official quarters here. The negative attitude of officials leads to the strong conclusion that no Albanian expedition is intended.

Four Attacks on British in Dardanelles Repulsed.

London, Nov. 5.—The Turkish forces in the Dardanelles took the offensive on November 4, and made four attacks on the positions of the Entente Allies. All these attacks were repulsed. It is announced in an official statement issued here today.

The official statement announcing the repulse of the Turks' attacks says: "Between 8.30 p. m. and 9.30 p. m., on the night of the fourth instant, the Turks attacked four times against our extreme right at Anzac. The enemy advanced with filled sand bags, and built small barricades. On each occasion, however, they were repulsed with bomb and rifle fire, and by 11 p. m., all was quiet."

"Although during the attack there was considerable firing and demonstrations by the enemy against different portions of our line, no other attack was attempted. Our casualties were very light."

GRIT LIBEL IS PROMPTLY GIVE THE LIE

Allegation that Member of Parliament's Influence Secured War Order for Real Estate Man Who Sub-let Contract at Big Profit is Proved Unfounded.

Special to The Standard.

Ottawa, Nov. 5.—In view of the continued repetition in the Liberal press of the allegation that the government, as the result of the influence of a certain member of parliament, had given a large contract for uniforms to a real estate man who sub-let the contract at a profit of $20,000, and that there were many other such cases, Hon. E. A. Kemp, chairman of the War purchasing commission, tonight issued an absolute denial of the whole story. He adds that an officer of the government promptly visited the trade journal that first published the story to find on what grounds the article was based and in the interest of the public asked for a definite statement as to who the parties were who had received the alleged contract. The information was refused. The proprietor demanded an expensive tribunal for investigation. He also said he was afraid of a libel suit. Mr. Kemp states that no such contract was ever given and no member of parliament has been a medium in connection with war contracts.

No contracts are awarded except on the tender system. Any journal which wishes to make such a charge and will be made open to the light of day and subjected to the closest possible scrutiny."

SNOW DENIED THAT WAR SECRETARY HAS RESIGNED

Official denial given to rumors that Kitchener has given up post.

London, Nov. 5.—Official denial was made today of a report that Earl Kitchener, secretary for war, has resigned. The announcement follows: "During Lord Kitchener's temporary absence on public duty the Prime Minister is carrying on work at the War Office. There is no truth in the statement that Lord Kitchener has resigned."

Earl Kitchener was in London last week at the time of Gen. Joffre's visit to England. Since then no report has been received concerning his absence from the War Office.

There has been no intimation that he is to resign. In fact, the War Secretary, according to the general understanding in London, is to be made a member of the small cabinet committee which is to be charged with direction of the war.

The prompt official denial of the report that Earl Kitchener had resigned was welcomed by the public, which has planned his faith to the man who succeeded within a year in turning a purely industrial community into a great war camp.

The official announcement of the Field Marshal's temporary absence from the war office is in accordance with public expectation. Premier Asquith who takes charge of the departmental work during Earl Kitchener's absence, had experience in the war office shortly before the outbreak of the war.

The Court Circular said this morning that Earl Kitchener last night had an audience of the King, who is still confined, as the result of his accident in France.

Premier Asquith was seen entering the war office this morning and remained a considerable time. Afterwards the permanent secretary of the war office, Sir Reginald H. Brade, with one of Earl Kitchener's secretaries, visited the premier at his official residence in Downing street.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"

Spend 25 Cents! Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.
 Try this! Hair Gets Beautiful, Wavy and Thick in Few Moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life; has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.

Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff; you cannot have rich, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scurf robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out.

If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.

We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. It eventually—why not now?

SNOW AVALANCHES STOP ALPINE BATTLES

DENIED THAT WAR SECRETARY HAS RESIGNED

Official denial given to rumors that Kitchener has given up post.

London, Nov. 5.—Official denial was made today of a report that Earl Kitchener, secretary for war, has resigned. The announcement follows: "During Lord Kitchener's temporary absence on public duty the Prime Minister is carrying on work at the War Office. There is no truth in the statement that Lord Kitchener has resigned."

Earl Kitchener was in London last week, at the time of Gen. Joffre's visit to England. Since then no report has been received concerning his absence from the War Office.

There has been no intimation that he might resign. In fact, the War Secretary, according to the general understanding in London, is to be made a member of the small cabinet committee which is to be charged with direction of the war.

The prompt official denial of the report that Earl Kitchener had resigned was welcomed by the public, which has planned its faith to the man who succeeded within a year in turning a purely industrial community into a great war camp.

The official announcement of the Field Marshal's temporary absence from the war office is in accordance with public expectation. Premier Asquith who takes charge of the departmental work during Earl Kitchener's absence, had experience in the war office shortly before the outbreak of the war.

The Court Circular said this morning that Earl Kitchener last night had an audience of the King, who is still confined, as the result of his accident in France.

Premier Asquith was seen entering the war office this morning and remained a considerable time. Afterwards the permanent secretary of the war office, Sir Reginald H. Brade, with one of Earl Kitchener's secretaries, visited the premier at his official residence in Downing street.

SAVE YOUR HAIR AND BEAUTIFY IT WITH "DANDERINE"
Spend 25 Cents! Dandruff Disappears and Hair Stops Coming Out.
Try this! Hair Gets Beautiful, Wavy and Thick in Few Moments.

If you care for heavy hair, that glistens with beauty and is radiant with life, has an incomparable softness and is fluffy and lustrous, try Danderine.
Just one application doubles the beauty of your hair, besides it immediately dissolves every particle of dandruff, you cannot have nice, heavy, healthy hair if you have dandruff. This destructive scour robs the hair of its lustre, its strength and its very life, and if not overcome it produces a feverishness and itching of the scalp; the hair roots famish, loosen and die; then the hair falls out fast.
If your hair has been neglected and is thin, faded, dry, scraggy or too oily, get a 25-cent bottle of Knowlton's Danderine at any drug store or toilet counter; apply a little as directed and ten minutes after you will say this was the best investment you ever made.
We sincerely believe, regardless of everything else advertised, that if you desire soft, lustrous, beautiful hair and lots of it—no dandruff—no itching scalp and no more falling hair—you must use Knowlton's Danderine. If eventually—why not now?

PRES. WILSON'S AUTO KNOCKS BOY DOWN
New York, Nov. 5.—President Wilson's automobile struck and injured a small boy here late today, while the President was motoring to the Pennsylvania station to catch his train for Washington. The boy was apparently more frightened than hurt. After stopping his car and ascertaining that the accident was trivial, the President continued to the station and boarded the 3.30 train for Washington.

NEARLY 300 INDIAN TROOPS WENT DOWN IN TRANSPORT SUNK IN THE AEGEAN SEA

London, Nov. 5.—Official announcement by the War Office tonight of the sinking of the British transport Ramazan by a hostile submarine in the Aegean Sea in the latter part of September, previously reported, shows that more than 300 were lost when the transport went down.
The official statement says: "The war office announces that the British transport Ramazan was sunk by an enemy submarine by shell fire at six a.m. on September 19, off the island of Antikythra, in the Aegean Sea. There were about 300 Indian troops on board, of which seventy-five were saved. Twenty-eight of the crew were also saved. A number of boats were smashed by shell fire. "The survivors reached Antikythra in their own boats the same night and were kindly and hospitably treated by the inhabitants."
Previous announcement of the loss of the Ramazan came in a despatch from Athens on Sept. 25 which told of the presence of survivors of the transport on Greek territory, whence they had been sent by the Greek government to Malta. No details regarding the transports loss were given at the time.

NINETEEN STICKS OF EXPLOSIVE, WITH FUSE ATTACHED, FOUND NEAR PLANT WHERE AUTOS ARE BEING MADE FOR WAR PURPOSES.
Cleveland, Ohio, Nov. 5.—A sensation was created today, when a teamster for the Forest City Foundry Company found near the plant of that company nineteen sticks of dynamite, with a fuse attached which had been lighted and gone out. The dynamite was only a short distance from several buildings of the plant of the Theodore Kuntz Company which has been manufacturing bodies for automobiles for war orders, and where a strike is in progress.

BOTH SIDES SUFFER FROM SNOW AND COLD IN THE FIGHTING IN CARNIC ALPS

Geneva, Nov. 5.—Owing to heavy snow avalanches military operations in the Carnic Alps, except for encounters between patrols, are at a standstill for the present. Both the Austrian and Italian soldiers in this region are suffering greatly as a result of the cold and snow in the trenches.
More Peace Talk
New York, Nov. 5.—A despatch from Rome, published here today, says: "A report from Mr. Marchetti, papal envoy in Switzerland, concerning negotiations of some sort with Prince Von Buelow, former chancellor of Germany, arrived at the Vatican today by special courier. Despite emphatic denials, the belief here that Marchetti and Von Buelow are discussing peace was strengthened immediately."

LAUNCH ATTACK ON WEST MONTENEGRIN BORDER TO CUT OFF SERBS' RETREAT

Berlin, Nov. 5, via wireless to Tuckerton.—A new movement to cut off the retreat of the Serbian army is reported by the Overseas News Agency. The Austrians are said to have begun an attack along the western border of Montenegro, in which country the Serbian forces are expected to seek refuge. These attacks are being made, News Agency says, to the east of Trebinje, in Herzegovina, about 40 miles south of Cattaro.

Thus the Montenegrins are being threatened from the west, near the coast, as well as from the north, where fighting has been going on for some time.
The News Agency points out that the Serbian retreat into Montenegro is made still more difficult by the junction which has been effected between the forces of Gen. Von Koveess and the Austrian troops which have invaded Serbia from Bosnia, north of Vishegrad.

Mr. Hayes, formerly a resident of this city, was the son of the late James and Honora Hayes, and was for some time prior to removing to the State's wholesale butcher in the city market. He had been located for a number of years in Detroit, where, until his recent illness, he had been engaged in the wholesale butcher business. The news of his death came as a great shock to his relatives here. Mr. Hayes visited his home here about two years ago. ITALY AGREED NOT TO FIGHT AGAINST GERMANS?

Existing relations between Rome and Berlin seem to point that way—No War Declaration by either.

Rome, via Paris, Nov. 5.—Existing relations between Italy and Germany again are the object of interest among Italian political observers, owing to the lack of a declaration of war upon either side, and because both countries seemingly are avoiding anything which might embitter their intercourse. Reports from Berlin say that several thousand Italian workmen still are living in Germany unmolested, indeed, enjoying the thorough protection of the authorities there, while many Germans continue to reside in Italy without suffering any injury.
What is more remarkable, in the opinion of prominent Italians, is that negotiations are actually taking place with a view to an exchange between the two countries of certain products which do not bear directly on the war. In some well informed quarters it is thought that when Italy denounced the Triple Alliance and joined the Entente Allies she made a declaration to the Entente that her participation in the war was limited to fighting Austria-Hungary, with the object of conquering the Italian provinces still subject to Austrian rule, at the same time stating that she did not wish to extend the hostilities to Germany. This situation, it is pointed out, might enable the two countries to help each other in given circumstances.

Was Troubled With BOILS ALL OVER HIS BODY.

When the blood becomes impure the first symptoms manifesting themselves are breaking out on some part of the body of various sorts of bad blood troubles, such as boils, pimples, abscesses, ulcers, etc.
How many times have you met a friend with a handkerchief tied around his neck, and have asked him: "What is the matter with you?" "Oh! I have a boil on the back of my neck; I guess I will have to take something for my blood."
The best blood cleansing remedy on the market to-day is Burdock Blood Bitters, and the speediest and most thorough method of expelling all the acids and corrupt matter from the blood is to use this old and well tried remedy that has been on the market for the past forty years.
Mr. W. E. Cockerill, Golden, B.C., writes: "I was troubled with boils all over my body, and my blood was very bad. I tried all kinds of medicines and salves, but got no relief. I had to quit work, as I could not stoop to do anything. My boss told me to use Burdock Blood Bitters, after I had told him I had tried nearly everything else. I got one bottle of B.B.B., and before I had finished it the boils were all gone. It is the best blood cleanser I have ever taken. I have told several others who were suffering with boils, and they all say it is a great medicine. I am forty-seven years of age, but I feel like sixteen since I got rid of the boils."

HOW A "BEARDED LADY" KILLED ALL HER SUPERFLUOUS HAIR BY DISSOLVING OUT ROOTS AND ALL.

For the Benefit of St. John Standard Readers. Lady Explains How She Accidentally Discovered a New Absorption Process Which Permanently Removed Her Hairy Mask After Electricity Tweezers, Caustic Pastes, Lotions, Powders, and all Other Depilatories All Advertised Remedies Had Absolutely Failed to Do Anything But Harm.

By following simple directions given below, every woman now has the means of easily preparing and using in her own home this wonderful process which has hitherto been a carefully guarded secret known only to a few high-priced specialists. Full directions are now made public for the first time.

All who are afflicted with superfluous hair will be interested to learn of the amazing discovery made by Miss Alma Randall, who until recently was deeply humiliated by these repulsive growths upon her face, neck and arms. As the hair constantly became more thick and hideous, she tried every process and remedy advertised or recommended, but found her sorrow that if any of these removed hair at all, the effects were only temporary, and new growths soon appeared stronger than ever. Even hours of torture under the cruel electric needle simply meant great pain, a sore and bleached skin, and the inevitable disappointment. After spending huge sums in efforts to be rid of her terrible and beauty-destroying affliction, Miss Randall was about to give up in despair, when by chance she learned of a means by which the beauties of Ancient Pometia are said to have permanently banished superfluous hair. With only a very slight clue as to the nature of this remarkable process used in bygone ages, Miss Randall tells how she set to work experimenting in her tireless effort to wrest the lost secret from the past. From the accounts of Miss Randall's discovery, which have recently aroused so much interest among women with superfluous hair, there seems to be no doubt that at last there has been found a way, most radically different from anything hitherto known, by which any woman can now rid herself permanently, harmlessly, and painlessly of all superfluous hair growths by dissolving them out of existence, root and all. One part of the process consists of a solution easily obtained and prepared by anyone, which possesses the remarkable quality of being readily absorbed by the hair so that it creeps down to the root, dissolving as it goes, just as oil creeps up a lamp wick. It is perhaps needless to caution any who may use this process, which has so deadly an effect upon the hair, that it must never by any chance be permitted to touch hair which is not to be destroyed. In explaining the process, Miss Randall mentions that it is perfect neutral and ineffective to the skin as anyone can quickly prove by experiment; but she disclaims all responsibility for permanent loss of desirable hair such as eyebrows, hair of the head, etc., to which the process is applied. Even though the accidental application be insufficient to dissolve the hair at once, it will eventually die and fall out, and there exists no known means of restoring life to hair roots thus affected.

After bearing for ten years the affliction of a humiliating and repulsive hairy mask, with beard and moustache like a man's, Miss Randall permanently removed it in a single night by means of the marvellous new absorption process explained in this article.
For the benefit of any women who may be interested and who wish to be rid of their superfluous hair by this remarkable process, Miss Randall has generously agreed to send complete particulars regarding its preparation and use to all who write her within the next month, enclosing a 2-cent stamp for return postage. There is of course no interruption in the regular mail service between this country and England. Miss Randall makes no charge whatever, and it may be added that she has nothing to sell. Simply Address: Miss Alma Randall (Suite 317 A), 197, Regent Street, London, W., England (postage to England, two cents), and you will receive all particulars by return mail under plain, sealed cover.

"We are fighting for a worthy purpose, and we shall not lay down our arms until that purpose has been fully achieved"—H. M. The King.
TO THE PEOPLE OF THE EMPIRE—Every fighting unit we can send to the front means one step nearer peace.

THE RUMOR AND THE REALITY.

Coincident with the rumor that Germany is prepared to make overtures looking to early peace, comes the report of additional advances in the price of foodstuffs in German centres. While the stories of peace overtures are officially denied, there is much in the economic situation in Germany and Austro-Hungary to lead to the belief that if peace proposals are not being prepared for Germany is, at least, in a very serious way for even the necessities of life, and that economy must be even more rigorously practiced in the future than it has been in the past.

The greatest menace Germany can face at this time is that of hunger. Inability to feed her civil population will breed strife and dissension despite the stern insistence on obedience to Prussian military law. German armies, well organized and splendidly equipped, have already more than met their match on the battlefields and that they have managed to hold out so long is in no small degree due to the fact that the civil population has been subordinated to the soldier on every occasion. In a food shortage it is the civilian who suffers, the soldier is always fed. That very fact is now liable to add to the difficulties Germany is likely to experience.

A people ground under the heel of militarism as the Germans have been, forced to subordinate every impulse, every desire to the demands of the man in uniform, cannot be expected to contentedly endure hardship for the sake of that man especially when there is no prospect of success attending his efforts. Patriotism is engendered by love, never by fear. Love of country springs from liberty, never from oppression. So it may be that the civil population of Germany, with all their loyalty and love for the Fatherland, is rapidly tiring of this struggle from which they can see no result save disaster.

Germany's military greatness has been attained as the result of the expenditure of time and money. The time has been taken out of the lives of the German people. Under compulsory service they have been forced to devote to military training years, which, if left to their own devices, they might have turned to the furtherance and upbuilding of their commercial and industrial life. The money necessary for the vast and comprehensive military equipment, provided on a scale so lavish as to astound the world, has been wrung from the pockets of banker, merchant, manufacturer and peasant. Year in and year out the process continued until the Prussian authorities succeeded in building a wonderful military organization but at terrible cost.

And now, when that organization has received its first great testing, the people who paid for it all are confronted with the probability of years of grinding debt and poverty. Small wonder that every German newspaper, pretending to lead public opinion, is warning the people to prepare for hardships ahead. Small wonder that leaders of thought in the Kaiser's kingdom, who have not been carried away by the lust for blood and aggression, are solemnly reflecting on the future and what it may bring.

It would be folly to imagine that Germany is already beaten, or near to it. Under ordinary circumstances many months must elapse before that wonderful organization is conquered. But it is equally absurd to ignore the plain signs of the times, and one of the most persistent of these points to a great upheaval in the industrial and commercial heart of the German Empire which may do more toward peace on any terms than the successes of the Allied armies.

A CHANCE FOR CANADA

In the practical closing of the North Sea to fishermen as the result of the war there seems to be a fine opportunity for the Canadian herring fishermen to supply the demand of foreign markets. Hon. J. D. Hazen, Minister of Marine and Fisheries, is already looking into the matter and will take the necessary steps to advise the Canadian fishermen of the new market awaiting them under particularly favorable conditions.

The Canadian herring fishery is a vast source of wealth, herring abound in the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, while the Great Lakes contain the fresh water herring which could also be turned to account in the new markets. Statistics from the Marine and Fisheries Department show that the herring ranks fourth in value of Canadian fish, being surpassed only by the salmon, lobster and cod. In the year 1913-14 the catch of herrings in Canadian waters totalled 2,484,219 cwt. and their market value was almost $3,290,000. With a market so extensive as that formerly served by the North Sea fishers unable to get its normal supply there is every reason to expect a greater demand for the Canadian article.

FRANCE'S NEW PREMIER.

A change of government is not an uncommon thing for France, and it is not to be supposed that the ministry led by Premier Briand will depart in any notable degree from the policies ably carried out under the rule of Premier Viviani. Reviewers familiar with the situation express the opinion that Briand's elevation to power is little more than a temporary preference for him on the part of the French people. An interesting phase of the situation is that the selection of Briand has been received with much satisfaction outside of France where the general verdict is that he is what is popularly known as "a big man."

Briand is not an untried man. He has already served his country well, and his acceptance of a position second only to the Presidency is another testimony to the power the right sort of man can achieve under a system of popular government such as France enjoys. Born of poor parents Briand became a Socialist member of the Chamber of Deputies. Of his later career a reviewer says:

"Briand accepted the portfolio of Public Instruction from Sarrien, and from Clemenceau the portfolio of Minister of Justice. As Minister of Public Instruction he drafted the most important legislation in France for a generation, namely, the bill that banished religious instruction from the schools; but instead of trying to destroy the Church, he sought to effect a reconciliation between Church and State. Therefore he won the enmity of the extreme Socialist, who regarded him as a leader. His greatest work, however, was his handling of the strike of the railway employees of France.

"When it seemed that their strike would paralyze the railways of the country Briand suddenly called them to the colors. They became not railway employes, but soldiers, and as soldiers they were ordered to perform the duties of train bands. They could not refuse. They obeyed, and the strike was won. Then Briand introduced a series of bills embodying the principle of compulsory arbitration, but before he could carry out this programme, an ill-assorted alliance of extreme radicals and extreme Conservatives drove him from office. He cheerfully resigned, and did not hesitate to co-operate with Premiers who followed him. Denounced by Socialists as a traitor, and by Clericals as a Socialist, he steered the middle course of statesmanship. His partisanship had been lost in patriotism, or as it might be said, responsibility had sobered him. In any event, he had proved his ability to handle domestic problems of the first magnitude. He is no experiment. France turns to Briand because it knows him well."

CELEBRATING FETE DAY OF BELGIAN KING

A statement from the Lord Mayor of London to officials everywhere.

Premier Clarke gave out the following communication last night in reference to the celebration of the fete day of the King of the Belgians:

"Lord Mayor of London, who is chairman of British national committee for relief of Belgians, has sent the following appeal to all high commissioners and agents-general of overseas dominions, and in due course it has been transmitted to me by Right Honorable Sir Robert L. Borden, Prime Minister of Canada.

"Fete day of the heroic King of the Belgians falls on Monday, the 10th November, and as chairman of the national committee for the relief of Belgium, I appeal to the people of the British Empire to celebrate the event in a manner that will afford King Albert the greatest satisfaction possible by subscribing money enough to feed the whole of three million destitute Belgians in Belgium on fete day of their beloved monarch. Six pence will keep one Belgian alive for one day, therefore I appeal for three million six pence to enable us to keep alive on the King's fete day every one of his subjects who is without food. Canada has responded nobly to the cry of these starving Belgians, and I feel certain this special appeal for six pence per day will meet with ready response.

"In forwarding the telegram the Prime Minister says: 'The appeal is for a most worthy object, and it is commended to your best consideration and to such action as you may think desirable. The message having been transmitted to me as Premier of Canada, I feel it my duty to commend it to you as Premier of your province.

"In submitting the telegram and the comments of the Prime Minister to the people of the province, I would suggest that each city, town and municipality decide for itself the form in which the contribution may be made, recognizing that New Brunswick has heretofore responded most generously to every request for relief and assistance during the progress of the war. I am satisfied that in response to the appeal now sent out for the possible the most worthy and commendable object which is sent forth in the message of the Lord Mayor, their hands will not be withheld. Individual contributions and collections may be forwarded to the office of the provincial secretary-treasurer at Fredericton acknowledgment will be duly made and the sum raised duly forwarded.

"Geo. J. Clarke, Premier, November 5, 1915."

The Call-Still Comes

"The call still comes from the battlefields of France, Flanders and wherever the allied forces are fighting, for more men. What is the answer going to be? A few days ago we celebrated the anniversary of the victory of Trafalgar. It was in that battle the world famous signal of Nelson became immortal: 'England expects every man will do his duty.' England still expects every man to do his duty, today, next month, next year and as long as there is a need for it. 'I know three young men from my own town, Sussex, who heard the call and went forth to do their duty. They have made the supreme sacrifice for the cause of liberty and freedom. The attitude of their families should be an inspiration to you. One father told me that he was glad to have a son who realized that his honor called him to the defence of his home and country. The other said, 'I know two have gone and there is a lot of work to do, but I feel that I must go.' I told him that the department needed him sorely, but his country needed him more, so I said God bless you go, and I told him his position would be here for him when he came back. That applies to all the boys who have left my department, their positions are all here for them when they return.

A fourth lad who had been rejected by the military authorities on account of his eyesight, came to me and asked for a month's leave of absence that he might get treatment for his eyes. He said God bless you go, and I told him his position would be here for him when he came back. That applies to all the boys who have left my department, their positions are all here for them when they return.

HON. JAMES A. MURRAY

"We as fathers and mothers and wives must make up our minds to make the sacrifice, and let those we love go to the defence of our homes and dear ones.

"An excuse that is frequently offered for not enlisting is that Canada is not attacked. It is a fallacy, we are attacked. It is not for those faithful watchdogs of the seven seas that splendid British navy our enemies would have been here long ago. We are attacked. Let us get that fact into our minds and when the opportunity comes, enlist and help do the fighting over there on the battlefront where our brave comrades are defending us.

"We must rise up and fight on the fields of France, else we will have to fight it out here.

"Do we realize what loyalty means? It is not singing God Save the King and Rule Britannia. It is the determination to stand shoulder to shoulder when the enemy is in front of us. Now is the time to show that loyalty. Now is the time to keep that flag flying and I believe you will.

"The tragedy of Belgium is horrible to mention, but if Germany prevails in this struggle the tragedy of Canada will be a repetition of Belgium. If we would not have the horrible story repeated, then indeed, we have something to fight for.

"Let us say we will never let the German heel of oppression rest on the soil of this fair province. I think the boys of New Brunswick have too much patriotism, nativity and loyalty to ever allow the German yoke to be placed about their necks, and I feel sure you will do your part to help keep the old flag flying. If you do, Britain will be triumphant, Canada triumphant, and the aspiration of German world conquest dispelled forever."

Mayor Frink spoke very briefly. He had not been prepared to make any prolonged address, but was ready to allow the German yoke to be placed about their necks, and I feel sure you will do your part to help keep the old flag flying. If you do, Britain will be triumphant, Canada triumphant, and the aspiration of German world conquest dispelled forever."

AN APPEAL FOR APPLES FOR WOUNDED MEN

A gift which will be appreciated by all soldiers in hospital.

13 Norham Gardens, Oxford, Oct. 19th.

Dear Mr. Sherman,

I am writing on behalf of our 1,500 wounded soldiers in Oxford. Many Canadians come in among the Convoys from time to time. They all long for fruit and particularly like apples. I am sure my appeal will be particularly appreciated by you, who know how little fruit we get in Oxford market, and how dear it is. This year the apple crop is a failure and we badly need apples from Canada. I thought a fund might be raised and barrels of apples forwarded directly to me, marked for Red Cross Hospitals. The steamship people transport them free, and I will pay freight from Liverpool. Last year I was known as the "Canadian Apple Lady" in the wards, and I hope to keep my reputation. Please help me. Halifax and Montreal friends have agreed to do the same. I shall be more than grateful.

Yours etc.,

GRACE R. OSLER.

141 Princess Street, St. John, Nov. 5th.

To the Editor of The Standard.

Dear Sir,-Of the making of appeals these days there seems to be no end; nevertheless I would esteem it a favor if you could find room for the above in your issue of tomorrow.

It comes from Lady Osler, wife of Sir William Osler, Bart., Regius Professor of Medicine in the University of Oxford.

Oxford, by reason of its profusion of large buildings, is one of the large rural districts could find room in their issues for this appeal, they would be helping very materially what I am convinced is a worthy cause.

I am sure there will be no difficulty in securing free storage in St. John for any barrels of apples that may be sent in, until shipment can be made by the first boat that leaves this port for Liverpool later in the month.

Anyone who cares might communicate with me.

Thanking you, Sir, I have the honor to be,

Faithfully yours,

L. RALPH SHERMAN.

A Real Flesh Builder

For Thin People

Thin men and women-that big hearty, filling dinner you ate last night. What became of all the fat-producing nourishment it contained? You haven't gained in weight one ounce. That food passed from your body like unburned coal through an open grate. The material was there, but your food didn't work and stick, and the plain truth is you hardly get enough nourishment from your meals to pay for the cost of cooking. This is true of thin folks the world over. Your nutritive organs, your functions of assimilation, are probably sadly out of gear and need reconstruction.

Cut out the foolish foods and funny savoiest diets. Cut out everything but the meals you are eating and eat with every one of those single Sargol tablets. In two weeks note the difference. Let the scales be the judge. Five to eight food solid pounds of healthy, "stay there" fat may be the net result. Sargol aims to charge weak, stagnant blood with millions of fresh new red blood corpuscles-to give the blood the carrying power to deliver every ounce of fat-making material in your food to every part of your body. Sargol, too, mixes with your food, to prepare it for the blood in an easily assimilated form. Thin people tell how they have gained all the way from 10 to 25 pounds a month while taking Sargol and say that the new flesh stays put. Sargol tablets are a careful combination of six of the best assimilative elements known to chemistry. They come 40 tablets to a package, are pleasant, harmless and inexpensive, and all good druggists in this vicinity sell them subject to an absolute guarantee of weight increase or money-back as found in every large package.

The Speakers.

E. Allan Schofield presided. The other speakers were Mayor Frink, Sergeant Norman Knight. Among those present on the platform were Hon. John E. Wilson, C. M. Bostwick, R. B. Emerson, E. L. Rising, G. Fred Fisher, Commissioner Russell, Alexander W. Rowland, George Kimball, F. W. Danley, E. R. Machum, Judge R. J. Ritchie, Colonel E. T. Sturdee and others.

The chairman spoke very briefly in introducing the speakers. He pointed out that the object of the meeting was to secure recruits for the 104th Battalion. He mentioned the fact that the ranks of this unit were filling fast and that those wishing to join must hurry.

Hon. Mr. Murray.

Hon. James A. Murray was given three cheers by the audience as he advanced to the front of the platform. He gave an acknowledgment of the hearty welcome accorded him and proceeded at once to the business in hand. He said in part: "I wonder what there is left for a speaker to say, that has not been said, to stimulate recruiting. This is the first opportunity I have had to address a St. John audience on this subject and I am glad of the opportunity."

"It will not insult the intelligence of the audience by a lengthy discussion of the causes of this war. You are as familiar with them as I am. "At the outbreak of the war the opinion prevailed in Germany that it was a favorable time to attack Great Britain. The Germans looked for trouble in India, dissection in Ireland and little if any support from the overseas dominions. You all know how those German hopes were disappointed.

"When Germany threw down the gauntlet to an amazed world there was martial music in England. Drum beat after drum beat followed each other around the world, and wherever that grand old flag we love so well was found there was every section of the answering beat and every section of this vast Empire expressed approval of the action of the motherland.

"In Canada we have done what has amazed the world, we, a non-military people, in a few short weeks after the call to arms sounded raised, equipped and sent overseas a small army. Over thirty thousand there were in that first contingent and another and still another force has been sent till today we have at the front or in training an army of one hundred thousand men. The call is still instant. It is essential that other men offer. Two hundred and fifty thousand men are now asked for from the Dominion. Can-

RITCHIE IS WILLING TO MEET PACKEY

Willie Ritchie says he is ready to claim and defend the welterweight title provided Packey McFarland will consent to dispute the matter with him at 142 pounds in any other opponent in that division as he does not think there is another welter who could draw enough to make it worth while. "I am perfectly willing to meet McFarland, whom I am sure every one will agree is as much entitled to be called the champion as any other," Ritchie said. "I know he can make the weight if he cares to train. However, Packey has so much money that he may not care to fight again. If he decides not to re-enter the ring I am perfectly willing to meet any man the public will recognize as the champion. But I am not ready to admit that I can't make the lightweight limit and be strong enough to do good work. The day before the Dundee bout I weighed 137, and as I was not tied down by any indefinite weight agreement, it was not necessary for me to reduce any lower than I weighed when I entered the ring. At 9 o'clock on the night of the bout I weighed 138½. I was asked to weigh again at 10 o'clock after I had taken two cups of broth and of course weighed one pound more. By the time I had the bandages on my hands adjusted and my heavy shoes and stockings I was weighed by Commissioner Wenck to step on the scales again. "They said I weighed 141½ pounds. The scales we used were hardly the kind that boxers use as they were not accurate. "Now I lost the championship to Welsh in England at 135 at 2 o'clock and I stand ready to make that weight again for Welsh any time that I am fortunate enough to be matched with Mr. Welsh in that kind of a contest. For the ten round no decision bouts that I will take parth throughout the east this winter I will not make 135 pounds, for I cannot see where two or three pounds makes any difference in such a short contest. In twenty rounds it is different. A few pounds then makes a world of difference. "Ritchie appears to have very little hope that Welsh will ever consent to meet him in a real battle for the title. The latter insists upon being paid $25,000 for his end, and as he is a poor card no promoter is willing to offer anything like that amount. As Welsh is perfectly well aware that what he asks is beyond the bounds of reason under the present condition of affairs in the fight switch division the reason why he makes the demand is not hard to seek.

SCHOOLBOY FOOTBALL LEAGUE

Two football games between teams of the Schoolboys' League were scheduled for yesterday afternoon. The first was between Albert and Centennial, but as the Centennial team did not show up, the Albert team took the game. The second game was between Winter street and St. Malachi's teams, in which Winter street won with the score of 15-0. There were to have been two games this morning, but as St. Malachi's boys have to go to school today, on account of a holy day through the week, there will only be the game between Winter street and King Edward schools. The game between St. Malachi's and Albert will be played on Monday afternoon after school.

PLAYGROUNDS EXECUTIVE MEETING

Will endeavor to have U. S. Immigration laws more generally understood.

The playgrounds executive met last evening in the Y. M. C. A. building. W. B. Tezzant was chairman. Reports of the Girls' Club and the Travelers' Aid for the month of October were read, showing that excellent work is being done by both, especially by the Girls' Club. A long list of contributions to the Girls' Club was read, being mostly furnishings for the club rooms. These were all acknowledged. Superintendent Howard read a report on the successful work of the various playgrounds in the city during the summer. It was decided to open the Boys' Club for the winter on Thursday evening next. It is interesting to note that this club is now a member of the Federation of Boys' Clubs in London.

A matter in connection with the Travelers' Aid which aroused much discussion was brought up. Several girls and old women are held up at Vanceboro by the United States immigration officials on account of not having money or otherwise seeming likely to become public charges, and are sent back to St. John. In most cases they are finally allowed to go into the states, but a great deal of trouble and expense is caused to the Aid. It was decided to see what could be done to getting the immigration authorities to print extracts from the immigration laws and have these extracts posted in stations and ticket offices where such people as would be affected by them can see them before starting out to go to the states.

TWO YEARS OVER CENTURY MARK

William Watson passed away at Westfield — His children.

At the age of 102 years William Watson, a life-long resident of the Parish of Westfield, Kings county, died on Thursday night after a brief illness. Mr. Watson, who had been in perfect health practically all his life, suffered from a heart failure attack in August last, but apparently had recovered from it. However, on Saturday of last week he again complained of weakness and took to his bed although his illness did not appear at all serious. He passed away peacefully without suffering about about eight o'clock Thursday evening. William Watson was born on the St. John river, just above Matt Bell's point on September 30th, 1813, and lived for more than 102 years within five miles of his birthplace. Some time ago reference was made by St. John newspapers to the Lone Water Farm which has been in operation for almost a hundred years. It is worthy of note that Mr. Watson, who has just now died was when a boy present with his father at the raising of the Lone Water Homestead, almost a hundred years ago, and that in Captain Coffin's home he first met the young nurse girl who afterwards became his wife.

Mrs. Watson died on November 28, 1908, and of the large family born to this couple there now survive four daughters and one son. These are Mrs. Annie L. Johnson of Boston, now in her eighty-first year; Mrs. Emily Wood of Roxbury, Mass.; Mrs. Alice Williams of Spar Cove Road, St. John; A. W. Watson of Providence, R. I. and Mrs. Eliza E. Jacklin, who has for some time been living at home and caring for her father. The funeral will be held on Monday, service at the house at two o'clock and burial will be on the homestead.

It has been announced at Lexington. According to the agreement games will be played in New York, Chicago and Lexington.

BATTLE LINE.
 Battle line Sellasia, Captain Abbott, sailed from New York, Nov. 3, for Civita Vecchia, Italy.

SCHOONER PURCHASED.
 The fore and aft schooner Douglas Adams, which recently arrived at Halifax from Lunenburg, P. E. I., has been purchased by Captain Pettipas of Newfoundland.

PORTLAND SHIPPING.
 In addition to the steamer Millpool, which will reach here Thursday from New York, two other boats under grain charter are nearly due, both coming from the British Islands of St. Lucia in the West Indies, the Quarrydene having sailed on October 27, while the Brunswick left two days later. The British steamer Ingleyby, 2315 tons, last reported at Genoa on October 18, is the latest tramp boat chartered to come here for grain, she being due for late November loading. Notwithstanding a full score of steamers are due to load grain here during the present month, no congestion is likely to occur at the docks as the two Grand Trunk elevators will be able to handle them without the slightest difficulty. The bins at both houses are comfortably filled at the present time in spite of the heavy drafts which have been made on them the past week, and many car loads are arriving daily from the Canadian lake ports.—Portland Argus.

RAILWAYS UNDER PRESSURE

WAR SPECIALTIES ERRATIC

Bethlehem Closes at 485—Activity Confined to Opening and Closing Hours of the Session—Sterling Exchange Lower.

New York, Nov. 5.—Shares were the chief sustaining influence of today's market, other parts of the stock list showing an irregular or heavy trend.

Specialties, more particularly those in the so-called war class, were again erratic, presumably as a result of recent financial statements which indicated that some of the spectacular advances of the mid-summer were not warranted by actual business conditions.

Railway shares were under greatest pressure, their gains of the early week

Around the City

Two Months.

The young woman who was arrested on Thursday evening for being drunk on the Rockland Road was sent to the Home of the Good Shepherd yesterday afternoon for a term of two months.

Do You Own a Dog?

There promises to be a busy session in the police court next Friday morning when all owners of dogs who failed to take out a license in July last have been summoned to appear, give a reasonable excuse or be fined. Summonses have been issued for no less than 349 dog owners, and the price for a license is two dollars for a male dog, and four dollars for a female.

Back From England.

Private Robert Crilly, of the 26th Battalion, arrived in the city yesterday morning, returning to his home. Private Crilly received an honorable discharge from the Battalion in England, owing to his slight Joseph Lavigne, another member of the 26th, who was unable to go to the front for medical reasons, is expected home on Saturday. Both men exceedingly regret being unable to accompany the battalion into action.

Rally at Havelock.

There will be a big recruiting meeting at Havelock this evening. It is expected that Col. George W. Fowler will be present and will be the chief speaker. Several men from Havelock have already enlisted during the past few days and a large representation from that district is expected in the near future. Other meetings will be arranged for the eastern end of Kings county to take place at an early date.

A Cap and a Chicken.

Yesterday morning Patrolman O'Neill while going his rounds found a soldier's cap and a chicken in an alley off Paradise Row. In this case the policeman's find was one of the bariety variety and all ready for the oven. As no person called at police headquarters to claim the broiler the chick was eliminated. The soldier's name was found in his cap and by calling at headquarters he can procure the headgear.

Remarkable Sale of Lauder Tickets.

The sale of seats at Landry's yesterday for the Harry Lauder engagement in Imperial Theatre on St. Andrew's Day (Nov. 30th) was a remarkable tribute to the eminent Scotch comedian. The plans were quite well marked up by the day's run, but of course in so large an auditorium there are still plenty of good seats. Every seat in the house, whether it be a fifty-cent one or a box chair will be reserved. There will be no rush seats. If a thing should occur as the whole matinee and evening being sold out entirely that would mean that the engagement was closed as far as selling tickets was concerned. At the rate the plans were marked off yesterday this does not seem an improbability.

A Fox Case in Court.

An interesting case was before Chief Justice Landry at Moncton on Wednesday. The case arose out of a judgment of the directors of the Covendale Fox Farms, Ltd. secured against the company for $12,900. The directors are Dr. C. A. Murray, P. H. Fryers, A. C. Chapman, Deputy Mayor F. C. Robinson, A. J. Tinsley, Frank Steeves and F. L. Thompson. A summons was returnable to set aside judgment secured by the directors against the company. The application was made by Claude Brown of Leggettville on behalf of the stockholders, as they consider there is a good defense in the action, the service of the writ being bad. On application of Hon. C. W. Robinson, K. C., who appeared for the directors, adjournment was taken until next Thursday.

Recruiting Committee, Attention.

A special and urgent session of the General Recruiting Committee will be held this afternoon at three o'clock in the usual meeting place, the Board of Trade rooms, to discuss matters pertaining to the arrival of the 52nd Battalion from Port Arthur, Ont. A full attendance is requested.

JUNK DEALER CHARGED WITH THEFT OF HIDES

Prisoner committed for trial by Police Magistrate

The evidence.

Myer Weitzman, a junk dealer, was charged in the police court yesterday afternoon with having stolen fifteen hides from the St. John Hide Company on Dorchester street extending to the value of $150. The prisoner was represented by L. P. D. Tilley and pleaded not guilty.

Harry Hooper, assistant manager of the St. John Hide Company gave evidence that on the morning of August 10th last, the foreman discovered that some person had broken into the warehouse and had stolen fifteen hides valued at ten dollars each. The hides had been removed through a window. Witness was taken to the warehouse of the Colonial Hide Company on Marsh street by Detective Barrett and there he identified the fifteen hides that had been stolen.

Fred H. Deering, the manager of the Colonial Hide Company testified that on August 10th he purchased fifteen hides from the defendant along with some wool and other hides. The defendant is a customer of the Hide company and sells a quantity of goods to the firm.

Detective Barrett told the court of working on the case and tracing the salt that fell from the hides from the window of the St. John Hide Company across the I. C. R. tracks to Pond street. The detective said that he visited the defendant's place of business and the clerk there told him that the hides that were purchased that day came from Liverpool, N. S. Witness then visited the Colonial Hide Company and the manager informed him that the fifteen hides had been purchased from the defendant. The witness interviewed the defendant and the latter stated that he had purchased the hides from a man to whom he promised to pay $130. Witness waited for the man who sold the goods but he did not put in appearance.

The following day the defendant had a good description of the man and witness thought the person was Archie Green and accordingly gave instructions to an officer on the northern division to arrest Green on sight. The officer had placed Green under arrest, but the prisoner managed to get away. Weitzman made a statement in his own defence saying that on the morning of August 10th a man whom said that he was a butcher from Norton sold him the hides. There were 800 pounds which were purchased for 16 cents a pound. A teamster was sent for the hides and got them from a yard in the rear of 66 Dorchester street. At the time of the sale there was another man in company with the person believed to be Archie Green who sold the goods, and this person is believed to be a young man named Foster. It was from the premises where Foster's sister resides that the hides were procured by the teamster. Weitzman stated that when he heard that the hides had been stolen from the St. John Hide Company he telephoned Detective Barrett and explained all the circumstances in connection with the case. The man who sold him the hides said that his name was John Smith.

Noon Recruiting Meeting.

At the recruiting meeting at Market Square yesterday morning, Sergeant Knight made his usual forceful appeal to a crowd of men who gathered about the speakers platform. L. P. D. Tilley, M. L. A., made a brief address outlining the rates of pay and pensions paid to the men. The Carleton Cornet Band, now the 104th band, provided music.

MASS MEETINGS SUNDAY IN THE OPERA HOUSE

Where you can hear of the country's need for men.

Tonight in the recruiting headquarters, corner of Mill and Union streets, the usually large week-end gathering will be addressed by the men of the general recruiting committee, who have been rather modest during the campaign in taking the platform. These men have been working three and four hours per day for a long period in the work of organization. They have some good strong arguments which are worth hearing.

The Sunday mass meeting at four o'clock in the Opera House will be addressed by the Hon. R. J. Ritchie and the Venerable Archdeacon Raymond. This is a time when the men are all at liberty to hear the phases of the war discussed and past experience has proven that the simple announcement of a meeting has drawn large and attentive crowds. There will be several musical features.

THREE MEMBERS FOR OVERSEAS

Members of Keewatin Club honor men who have enlisted.

The members so honored are Joseph B. Patchell, who goes with the 104th Battalion, George R. Crosby and G. P. Murray, who have enlisted with the sterg battery. The rooms were tastefully decorated for the occasion and at midnight a dinner was served to the party in an excellent manner with Wanamakers as the caterers.

FAREWELL GIVEN FELLOW EMPLOYEES

Arthur Hedgely and Milton McDonah away to fight for Empire.

About twenty-five employees of Robinson's bakery gathered in the office last evening to bid farewell to two of the members of the staff, John L. Quinn and Arthur Hedgely, who will go to Sussex on Monday to join the 104th Battalion. Milton McDonah, on behalf of the whole staff in a neat speech, presented Quinn with a handsome wrist watch, and Hedgely with a silver ring bearing his monogram. The two men were taken completely by surprise, and made suitable replies. They have both been in the bread department for about nine years and are known as honest, reliable workmen, and will carry with them the best wishes for success and a safe return of all who know them. The proprietor of the bakery also remembered the boys with substantial checks.

SAILOR VICTIM OF AN ASSAULT

Hans Johnsen now in police cells with several bad wounds.

Hans Johnsen, a Russian sailor from the steamer Glennmount, spent last night in a cell at police headquarters on the charge of drunkenness and he also suffering severely from three bad wounds on the head inflicted by another sailor. The steamer arrived in port yesterday afternoon with a cargo of coal and is discharging at the Dominion coal pocks. Last evening Johnsen with two other sailors, came ashore to see the sights. They procured some liquor and about ten o'clock were on the corner of Water street and Market Square, all pretty well under the influence. Johnsen, in talking to one of the sailors, said, "You have been travelling about the country as a Scandinavian when you are a German from Hamburg." After these remarks had been made Johnsen said that the man whom he called a German struck him on the head with a whiskey bottle and knocked him down on the sidewalk and followed up the attack by kicking him. The supposed German and the third sailor then escaped. Policeman Bridgeon heard of the fight and when he arrived on the scene he found Johnsen lying on the sidewalk with his head and face covered with blood which was streaming from three bad wounds on the head. Johnsen was taken to police headquarters in the patrol wagon and owing to the severe injuries was then conveyed to the General Public Hospital where it was found necessary to use a few stitches to close the wounds. Johnsen was again taken to the police station and locked up. An effort was being made at an early hour this morning by the police to round up the man whom Johnsen states assaulted him.

CANADIAN NORTHERN RAILWAY FROM THE ATLANTIC TO PACIFIC IS NOW IN COMPLETE OPERATION

SENATORS, MEMBERS OF PARLIAMENT AND PRESS REPRESENTATIVES ON TRIP

Under Conduct of Sir William MacKenzie and Staff, Excursionists from Coast to Coast Were Afforded Opportunity of Seeing the Country and Inspecting Canada's Newest Railway System—Sixteen Days Out from Quebec.

Canada's third coast to coast railroad, The Canadian Northern Transcontinental line, was formally opened on October 12th—18th, when a special train of fifteen coaches traversed the country from Quebec to Vancouver carrying a party of approximately one hundred and sixty members of the Senate of Canada and the House of Commons, and representatives of the leading newspapers of Halifax, St. John, Quebec, Montreal, Ottawa, Toronto, Winnipeg, New York and Chicago, together with Sir William MacKenzie, Vice-President D. B. Hanna, Secretary W. W. Moore and other officials of the Canadian Northern system. This Transcontinental line was thrown open to commercial business on Monday of this week, November 1st, and trains are now running regularly from coast to coast.

A Commercial Railroad.

The Canadian Pacific is a national institution which, while one of the greatest money makers in the world, enjoys at the same time the sentiment usually attaching to the pioneer in any great work. The Grand Trunk National combination, is the result of political desperation on the part of Sir Wilfrid Laurier and a few others for whose mistakes the country is now paying. The Canadian Northern is a hard shelled commercial proposition built to make money through freight and passenger traffic, and without regard to sentiment or anything else. It the country it was known that MacKenzie and Mann were building a bit of a road here and another scrap there, but few realized the magnitude of these operations. No longer is the Canadian Northern system a group of isolated lines scattered through the western provinces. It is a perfect network of railroads through Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta connected by high grade trunk lines with the Atlantic and Pacific coasts and including in its eastern division a very considerable amount of mileage in the more thickly settled portions of Ontario and Quebec. Because this progress was not generally known, what Sir William MacKenzie was able to show his guests on the recent trip came in the way of a surprise. That there has been built in Canada ten thousand miles of railroad of the highest standard with grades superior to anything in America, without the wholesale advertising usually attending such work, was an eye opener, and to say that the members of Parliament and of the Press who were privileged to inspect this railroad system were very deeply impressed is putting it mildly.

The First Train.

The Parliamentary Press special started from Quebec at 1.30 p.m. on Tuesday, Oct. 12, in charge of W. W. Sloane of the Canadian Northern system. It carried guests from the Maritime Provinces and Quebec. At Jol-country by a single engine, but usually the heaviest train through America from coast to coast. The weight of this train was twelve hundred tons. On the journey west, stops were made at various divisional points for purposes of inspection, and every opportunity was afforded throughout the entire trip for the guests to secure in-

Canadian Club and the Rotary Club. With the exception of one rainy day in Vancouver the weather was delightful throughout, and because of the complete arrangements made by the C.N.R. officials for the comfort of their guests on the train the entire journey was made without the least fatigue, every minute of the trip being thoroughly enjoyable.

A Wonderful Crop

Although the harvest season was practically over these excursionists were able to witness the threshing operations in the western provinces and to learn by conversation as well as by observation the true meaning of the wonderful crop with which Canada has this year been favored. The sentiment throughout the west is that this country has literally received a bonus of one additional harvest, that whereas two hundred million bushels of wheat were looked for, three hundred and thirty-six million have been reaped. In place of the average of twenty-four bushels per acre with occasional fields of thirty-five bushels, the west in this year enjoying an average of thirty-five bushels of wheat covering the entire three provinces, while in the Calgary-Edmonton district a man who has less than fifty bushels per acre of wheat considers his crop a failure, and as high as sixty-two bushels is not uncommon. With such wonderful results it is but reasonable to expect renewed activity commercially.

Very Dull in the Towns.

They were able too, to see for themselves the condition of business in the west, for that country which during the past eight or ten years has given itself over very largely to the activities of real estate boosters, and other hot air artists is now paying in full the price of its exploitation. Winnipeg looks busy, but the people say it is dull. Regina knows it is alive, but that is about all. Saskatchewan is as flat as a pancake. Edmonton in the centre of the very finest of the wheat lands shows more activity than any other of these western cities. Calgary reports increasing activity. Vancouver has lost fifty thousand of its population in the last two years, and Victoria which never had anything very much to lose excepting a climate, goes on in the same old way. Still as it is impossible to dump three hundred million dollars into a country such as that without some very marked and almost immediate result, there is a very well founded hope that better times are in store, although the general impression in the west seems to be that the days of the boom are over and that hereafter a rapid, but more legitimate development may be anticipated.

There are political agitations too, in the west, most strongly defined in Manitoba and Saskatchewan, while Alberta appears to be worrying least of of William MacKenzie and Donald Mann, there might have been found the germ of an idea that at some future time a line across the country would be completed. But they started by building here and there little bits of railroad which in the passing of years were hitched on to each other and eventually became a somewhat important system in the prairie provinces with an outlet at Port Arthur.

As years passed by, and as this concern became of increasing importance in railway circles, it was found possible to accelerate construction and to add to the work by the purchase of independent lines then existing. In this manner Manitoba, Saskatchewan and Alberta were criss-crossed with short hauls through the very finest wheat and cattle country. But the Canadian Northern did not in these early years become a competitor of the transcontinental line then in operation in so far as through traffic was concerned. During the past two or three years, however, work has been carried on at both ends so that a short time ago the line from Port Arthur to Ottawa, a direct route, was put in operation, and as previously stated this week, the extension from Edmonton to the Pacific terminus was opened for traffic.

There is now completed and engaged in commercial traffic ten thousand miles of railroad, while a number of branches notably the Peace River extension are under construction. There is also a demand all through the middle west for additional mileage in-

C.N.R. and S.P.R. come together running side by side through the North Thompson and Fraser valleys to New Westminster. Practically every town of importance from Port Arthur west is reached by the Canadian Northern railway, and the system as a whole forms a perfect network of roads through the middle west provinces.

The Matter of Grades.

There are two talking points in connection with the Canadian Northern. The first and most important of these is grade, and the second the country traversed. In the Canadian Northern classification of engines, one per cent means one thousand pounds of pull. The engine which hauled the Parliamentary-Press special was thirty-five per cent, equal to a pull of thirty-five thousand pounds. The train itself of fifteen cars, was one thousand two hundred and thirty-five feet long, and weighed one thousand two hundred tons inclusive of the engine, which weighed one hundred and sixty-five tons loaded. From Edmonton westbound a thirty-five per cent engine would haul thirty-two loaded freight cars of an average weight, cars and contents, of fifty tons each, over the five-tenths of one per cent maximum grade between Edmonton and the Pacific coast, the train running towards the coast. That same engine would be able to pick up thirty-three other loaded cars of similar weight at the Alberta Summit and carry the total load of sixty-five cars to the coast (426 miles.) A fifty per cent engine has every road in America beaten to a standstill in the matter of grades, and although "Bill" and "Dan" are not inclined to talk of the expenditures they have made, it may be regarded as pretty nearly true that this road has been built for less money than any other railroad in North America, considering the standard maintained.

It Was a Surprise

For the past ten or fifteen years the activities of MacKenzie and Mann in railroad construction have attracted more or less attention in all parts of Canada. The weird financing which has been done, the introduction of the guaranteed bond idea, and the almost alarming facility with which these captains of industry have succeeded in securing the financial cooperation of provinces and municipalities has opened up a new era in railroad construction. In every part of lette Junction this party was joined by the Ottawa, Montreal and New York group. At Capreol in Western Ontario a third section was picked up carrying the Toronto and Chicago party. At Winnipeg additional guests joined the train, in Edmonton a few more added their names to the lists, and at Lucerne, the entrance to the Rockies, a carload of politicians and other public men from British Columbia cities welcomed the first through train over the new Transcontinental line.

Heaviest Train Ever Drawn Across Canada.

This special excursion train consisted of one thirty-five per cent engine drawing one baggage car, eight sleeping cars, two diners, three private cars, and one recreation car, not only the heaviest load ever handled across formation concerning the railroad. At Port Arthur, Winnipeg, Regina, Saskatoon, North Battleford, Edmonton, Vancouver and Victoria on the western trip, and at Edmonton, Dauphin, Winnipeg, Port Arthur, Toronto, Ottawa and Quebec on the eastward trip, arrangements were made in advance for the entertainment of the party. At all of these places the train was met by groups of public men with automobiles and the party shown all the principal features of interest within reach of these centres. In many of the cities luncheons had been arranged which proved very agreeable breaks in the journey. In British Columbia, Premier McBride and others of his government along with the mayors of the principal coast towns tendered a formal reception to the party at Victoria, and in Vancouver a most elaborate luncheon was arranged by joint committees of the Board of Trade, all over public affairs. The Manitoba sensation is dying out although public sentiment is still fairly strong. In Saskatchewan it is admitted by both sides that the days of the Scott Government are numbered, and that the next election will see a complete turnover, due very largely to the ineptness of liquor legislation, and secondly to the socialistic tendencies of certain members of the government.

Exceeded its Ambition.

When the Canadian Pacific Railway was first projected it was with the definite intention of running a line from the Atlantic to the Pacific. When the Grand Trunk-National was proposed it was also with the idea of becoming in a very short time a transcontinental road. The Canadian Northern on the contrary had no such ambition during the first few years of its existence. Possibly in the minds to territory not now readily served by railway transport, and it is at present only financial obstacles which prevent the construction of numerous feeders to the trunk lines.

The main line of the Canadian Northern runs from Quebec to Joliette Junction, which is the connecting point for Montreal, to Ottawa, thence across Northern Ontario to Capreol slightly north of Sudbury, thence following a course from thirty to sixty miles north of the C.P.R. to Port Arthur, thence direct to Fort Frances in the Rainy River district, to Winnipeg, from there north-westerly to Dauphin and Gilbert Plains, and due west from Saskatoon and Battleford to Edmonton, continuing west to Tullerton, a divisional point approaching the mountains, and south to the Yellowhead Pass paralleling the Grand Trunk Pacific until the valley of the North Thompson is reached where the

of this same classification would haul forty-eight loaded cars from Edmonton to the Alberta Summit, and ninety to the coast.

Grades Eastbound.

A thirty-five per cent engine starting from the Pacific coast towards Edmonton can handle thirty-five loaded cars or a total of one thousand seven hundred and fifty tons as far as Blue River which is three hundred and eighty-three miles from New Westminster. Between Blue River and Lucerne a distance of one hundred and ten miles, the maximum gradient in the Rocky Mountains where seven-tenths of one per cent occurs, that locomotive would handle twenty-four loaded cars or twelve hundred tons. From Lucerne to Edmonton the same locomotive would pull thirty-six loaded cars or eighteen hundred tons. (Continued on page 16.)

A SUFFERER FROM KIDNEY TROUBLE FOR TWO YEARS.

When the kidneys get ill the back gives out. But the back is not to blame. The ache comes from the kidneys, which lie under the small of the back. Therefore, dull pain in the back, or sharp, quick twinges, are warnings of sick kidneys—warnings of kidney trouble. Plasters and liniments will not cure the back ache, for they cannot reach the kidneys which cause it.

Doan's Kidney Pills reach the kidneys themselves. They are a special kidney and bladder medicine. They heal the diseased surface of the kidneys and bladder, and help them to act freely and naturally.

Miss Mary A. Northrop, Cole's Island, N.B., writes: "I have been a sufferer from kidney trouble for two years. I tried quite a number of remedies, but they did me no good. My mother got me a box of Doan's Kidney Pills, and they did me so much good that I got the second one, and when I had taken that I was completely cured."

Doan's Kidney Pills, are the original kidney pills. See that our trade mark, "The Maple Leaf," is on every box. Price, 50c per box, 3 boxes for $1.25; at all dealers, or mailed direct on receipt of price by The T. Milburn Co., Limited, Toronto, Ont.

When ordering direct specify "Doan's."

THE WINNIPEG PROBE

Winnipeg, Nov. 5.—Documents produced by the crown this morning in the law courts enquiry showed that in November last year S. V. V. Wood, provincial architect, recommended the payment to C. H. Simpson, contractor of $25,000 made up of fifteen per cent. back held on the first ten progress estimates.

E. M. Wood, deputy municipal commissioner, to whom the recommendation was submitted, declined to pass it, and the progress estimate upon which the recommendation was based was charged to read "general trades" and $45,750 was paid on it.

In June the same year, according to documents, Simpson had been paid fifty thousand dollars on drawback, and Commissioner Mathers stated that Horwood might not have known of this payment in recommending another.

It was stated the crown may put in the account on the books of the National Construction Company. The figures presented showed the National Construction Company still owed on the law courts sub-contract $134,638 and the progress estimate upon which the government is undertaking the adjustment of these accounts. Adjustment was then made until Monday.

Expression from Sir James Grant

Opinion of Sir James Grant, M. D., K. C., M. G., expressed at the meeting of the Medical Council held in Toronto on July 5th, 1912.

In connection with the campaign against liquors, Sir James made a plea for the working classes. While it was, he said, an established fact that the use of strong intoxicating, alcoholic beverages, such as whisky and brandy, had done much to promote tuberculosis by lowering the vitality of the persons who took them, Lager and mild ale were forms of liquid beefsteak, which undoubtedly imparted power and strength to the system. He could not see why the laboring man should be deprived of this useful stimulant, and argued that care ought to be shown in legislating against liquors, thus to protect the working classes.

Bedtime Stories For the Children.

UNCLE WIGGLY AND HIS CRUTCH

By HOWARD R. GARIS (Copyright, 1915, by the McClure Newspaper Syndicate).

"Nurse Jane! Nurse Jane! Puzzy Wuzzy!" called Uncle Wiggly Longears, the nice old gentleman rabbit, one morning as he sat on the porch of his seashore cottage reading a book.

"Gracious goodness me makes alive and some marshmallow lollypops!" cried the muskrat lady. "Is the bad sea lion after you again?"

"No, it isn't that," Uncle Wiggly said, "but the pages of the book an reading are all stuck together. I can't turn them. What is the matter?"

"I'll do it," said the mean sawfish. With a saw, which stuck out from the end of his nose, the sawfish sawed the gentleman rabbit's crutch half way through, so that the least little push on it would make it break.

"Ha! Ho! Hum!" the rabbit said, stretching his ears and his whiskers. "I guess none of the animal children are coming bathing today, and the sawfish waited for Mr. Longears to awaken. Soon Uncle Wiggly did.

"What is the matter?" asked Uncle Wiggly, kindly. "Oh, dear!" said the baby jellyfish. "I swam too far up on the sand when the tide was high. Now the water has come down so low and left me so far from it that I can't get back where I belong."

ply to William Oatow, Robbie, as I notice you made the same mistake as he did. I am therefore sorry that you are debarred from the chance of winning a prize this time.

Gardie Boone—You have made a very good sketch, and well deserve the place given in the prize winner's list. Did you do the drawing entirely without assistance?

Jean Brown—I was pleased to have your interesting and kind letter, and shall be very glad to have the doll you speak of, also the assistance mentioned. Shall I send you a collecting card? Please let me know.

Leslie A. Taylor—I am pleased to see your entry in the names contest, as I do not appear to have had previously. I am glad you are so successful this time you must go on trying, until you are.

Myrtle Cox—I am glad you received the book at last, after so much delay in transit. Thanks for the good wishes, and also your attempt in the drawing contest. I hope you read my letter to the kiddies last week, as I gave some advice as to sketching which you would perhaps find helpful.

Alice McGee—I have been missing your letters and thought perhaps you had forgotten about the Corner, but was glad to have your attempt in this week's Contest, together with the letter.

Marian Phillips—I must welcome you to our large Corner, Marian, and trust that what your papa is away serving so faithfully, you will find a great deal to interest you in the Corner. In case you may not otherwise receive work, don't forget to attend to the entertainment which will be given to soldiers' children on December 21st. Write me nearer the time and I shall give you more particulars then.

UNCLE DICK'S TOY FUND FOR SOLDIERS' CHILDREN

This week I am pleased to be able to acknowledge further receipts towards the above fund. This of course does not by any means represent the full amount collected, but shows the amount actually received. I trust you will all do your very best to make this amount increase each week, but naturally you must have the collecting cards to enable you to gather the money for the fund, so, will those who have not as yet written, send at once. I have much pleasure in acknowledging the following:

Table with 2 columns: Name, Amount. Includes entries like Geraldine Corey ($25.30), L. Moore ($4.05), F. Caswell ($0.80), etc.

Will those of my kiddies who wish to have a collecting card please send me their names and addresses. If you are not able to help in this way, perhaps you will dress dolls, make little toys, knit children's warm stockings, and in other ways assist.

UNCLE DICK, The Standard, St. John, N. B.

and be marked in the top left hand corner "Children's Fund." All articles and subscriptions received will be acknowledged through this Corner. No prizes are of course offered in this work, as the object, that of helping to make other poor kiddies happier this coming Xmas, ought to be the reason for working very hard. Now my kiddies let me see how well you can all work to make this fund and heap of toys a very large one.

FOUR CLEVER ARTISTS. The above cuts show the sketches sent in by Louise Cumming, Willie Fisher, Geraldine Corey, and Willie Harris, in the last Drawing Contest, and I am sure my kiddies will agree that they are all clever little artists.

To the Boy Scouts

I have been very pleased to notice recently that the behavior of the scouts in the district has caused members of the public to express their appreciation of the movement. Not only have they been most interested in finding out how much the Boy Scouts seem to know, but the discipline maintained was the cause of many comments in praise of the greatest movement among boys, that the world has ever known.

Unfortunately however, this is not always the case, as only a few days ago I heard many reports of the reverse character, about a troop which is one of the largest in the district. It is not necessary to state the nature of the complaints, or the name of the troop to which they referred, but I would say to all you scouts, don't forget the teaching, which is embodied in the scout law. Be boys of purpose and character whether you are at play or work, don't act in an unruly manner, such as other boys do who have had no training, or are devoid of that manly spirit, which is or ought to be, characteristics of the true boy scout.

How to Run a Troop. ELEVENTH WEEK'S WORK. 1.—Signalling. (a) Learn the numbers 1-10. The positions for these are the same as for the letters A-J.

Remember, boys, the public are always watching you, and base their opinion of the movement, upon what they see in the individual scout. You are members not only of the greatest boys' movement, but also of the British Empire, therefore act as such, having a courteous manner, a character to be trusted, and a clean wholesome mind, free from the filth and dirt, which is so often noticed among boys who, by their actions, would almost make one believe that their home was in Germany.

Scout News. Germaln Street Troop. Last night at their head quarters, the Germaln street troop held the inspection of rooms, which gave great satisfaction. This troop is progressing most energetically, under the instruction of Scout Commissioner Ingleton.

THE LAW OF THE SCOUT. Hurray for the life of the scout, boys, for he has a beautiful thing. A Scout, on his honor, is true to his trust.

Deny yourself something you like, boys. The weak and the helpless defend, then hunt up the lad, who is lonely and sad.

Be kind without thought of reward, boys. To save some poor creature from pain. A Scout must be courteous from kindness within.

Obedience (by practice made perfect) is dear to the heart of a scout; He finds satisfaction in playing the game.

Then don't waste your money on trinkets, boys. You'll want it for something, no doubt. And, boys, above all, keep your heart Pure and clean, this is the law of the Scout.

Winter evenings. I would therefore like you to write same out, and send it to me, as I intend publishing the best of those received, so that others may be able to play them. I shall award a small prize for what I consider is the best received each week.

Every Scout has to put 6d. in the bank in order to become a Second Class Scout. The reason for this is to encourage the virtue of Thrift.

Get an outsider to come to the troop and give an address on this subject. If you are so unfortunate that you cannot get anyone to do this, then one or two Patrol leaders can read papers on the subject.

Uncle Dick's Chat With the Children. My Dear Kiddies:— As the days are now shortening rapidly, and the dark evenings are setting in, I am sure a great number of you will be only too pleased to have something to interest and amuse you. I am therefore letting you have another sewing contest this week, in aid of the Red Cross. Last time you made the face cloths we were able to hand a huge number over for use among the wounded soldiers, but this time I want you to try hard, and if possible do even better. Now kiddies set to work and let me see how many cloths we will be able to send to the hospitals where there is greater need than ever.

JUMBLE IN FASHIONS THIS SEASON.

Long Sleeves Now Prevail; Military Effects Not Liked.

Owing to the jumble in fashions this season, the safest plan for any woman is to pick out the silhouette she likes and then go ahead.

Blouse Effects Passe. The average woman cannot indulge in any caprices. She must wear what she buys, although she knows that it puts her at her worst each time she does it.

If there is a main fashion it is in the excessive width between the hips and the ankles, and the narrowness of the figure above the waistline. This is a distinctly Oriental silhouette. It may have been adopted in 1880, but all through the decades of its resurgence it owes its origin to Persia, to Arabia, to Turkey and to India.

Such woman can decide on how wide or how narrow she wishes the skirt and the bodice to be, but the one thing she must avoid is that sagging, careless, "sloppy" appearance above the belt that fashions has insisted upon for several years. This has gone in a twinkling.

The new fashions do not insist upon the darts which give the bust prominence and outline a strong curve toward the small waist, because there is too much ornamentation in clothes yet to allow of a small waist, but the shoulders are fitted, and the chest is smoothly covered.

The shoulders are often made more narrow in appearance by a drooping, less black brimless black velvet shapes are not suitable for everyone to wear, but nevertheless they are extremely chic when worn by the smart follower of fashion, who understands just what style is adaptable to her.

Long Sleeves. Another accepted fashion of recent years that must be avoided is the three-quarter sleeves. No matter for what hour the garment is intended during the day, the sleeve must be long. There's no uncertainty there. It may be full or tight, leg-of-mutton or prelate, cuffed with muffs of fur, or finished with a silk cord; its style depends upon the type of sleeve but its length depends upon the present law.

There is no tendency to allow the least evidence of fullness at the wrist, while, on the other hand, the elbow—and it is usually considered—the wrist part fastens in as snugly as a glove. Happily this is so, for it is one of the best lines a woman can adopt if she wants her hand to look well.

Luxurious Winter Gown. Importers and manufacturers have not offered for many seasons past such a bounteous supply of beautiful afternoon and evening coats as are displayed this fall. Never were the delights so lovely in texture and in colors.

Models in dark hued velvet are practical in that their elegance fits them for evening wear, yet they may be used for afternoon wear as well. It is this sort of velvet and fur coat that will be most generally purchased, the thoughtless making up to some degree for the initial cost.

There are cheap velvet and fur models, some of them very effective in color and line; but unless one can have fairly good quality in a garment of this type it is wise to select less pretentious material.

Novel Fur Set. Dyed raccoon, dyed wolf, fox, lynx, beaver, chinchilla, squirrel, ermine in some of its clever imitations, mink and fisher seal are the furs most generally used by the coat designers, but where expense need not be considered, the more costly furs are called into play and the price soars accordingly.

Military Effects Not Liked. Military effects are abolished, except on an occasional gown, and they are not liked. The placement of gold epaulets on blue velvet coats has not met with approval. Women seem to be united in

Among others introduced as new pastors to the Ontario and Quebec Baptist Convention at its recent annual gatherings in London, Ont., were notified the names of two in New Brunswick, viz. well known Mr. D. D. Boston, and Rev. Miles McCutcheon of Brussels street, St. John, and now of the First Baptist church, Montreal, and Rev. A. S. Evans, late of Upper Gaspe town, N. B., Rev. J. S. Brown, D. D. general secretary of the Foreign Mission Board, was elected president for 1915-16 at the recent convention of Ontario and Quebec Baptists.

The Acadia Alumni Association of New England will hold its annual meeting at the Hotel Bellevue on Beacon street, Boston, on November 8 at six o'clock. President Cullen of Acadia College, Rev. H. Van Allen, D. D. of Boston, and others will speak. All who have ever attended the Acadia institutions are cordially invited to this meeting. Dr. A. F. Rogers, 529 Beacon street, Boston, is president, and Rev. B. Hardy of Gloucester, Massachusetts, is the secretary.

At the recent convention of Ontario and Quebec Baptists held in London, Ont., President Mullins delivered an address on "Leadership in the Ministry." The test of the ministry is largely utilitarian. The purpose of homiletics is not to teach a man how to build a sermon so much as it is to teach a man how to use a sermon to build up a congregation. The Kingdom of God comes through personal force reinforced by intelligence or character. The ministry of today has no real rivalry. What are the qualities necessary to leadership in the ministry? The first is patience. Some ministers fall because of impatience regarding results. A man can accomplish almost anything with a church if he will take time to do it. Another qualification for leadership is independence. A minister must live his own life that is answerable to God alone. Sympathy is necessary. A minister must not always preach with "minor note." Faith is essential. In the ministry a man must have courage. A man must not be afraid of his congregation. "The congregation is waiting for the man who speaks with the voice of authority." Effectiveness in the ministry is based on the appeal to the conscience. A preacher must grow. He must set a goal, and then rise to it. Another quality is the presence of "the spiritual imperative" in life. Success in the ministry is the spiritual response of the congregation. Preachers live in moods—some in a creative—wishing things were better—others in the subjective—"if"; others in the indicative, but a preacher's true mood is the imperative. "God has given to the minister to change this old world. Mastery of self makes a saint; mastery of books makes a scholar; mastery of environment makes a triumphant preacher."

Those who had the pleasure of hearing Rev. J. T. Taylor of Moncton, Ind., address the recent meeting of the Maritime Synod in St. John will be interested to know that an itinerary is being arranged whereby a limited number of congregations throughout the province of New Brunswick will have the privilege of a visit from him. He has been for the past few weeks in Nova Scotia, and will be ready to fill appointments in New Brunswick on Nov. 15, on which evening he will give an illustrated address upon his experience in India before the Young People's Society of St. John Presbyterian Church. The tour as planned for him will give him appointment in Fredericton, Nov. 16, Woodstock, 17, St. Stephen, 18, St. Andrews, 19, St. John, 21, Parville, 22, Lorneville, 23, St. David's Church, St. John, 24, Sussex, 25, Newcastle, 26, Chatham, 28, Bathurst, 29, Dalhousie, 30, Campbellton, Dec. 1, and Moncton, Dec. 2. RALPH CONNOR IN LONDON.

On Sunday, Oct. 17, Rev. Capt. C. W. Connor, D. D., chaplain of one of the Canadian Highland Regiments overseas, and pastor of St. Stephen's Church, Winnipeg, preached both morning and evening in the City Temple, London, England. Connor speaks in appreciative terms of his sermons on this occasion. He said in part: "Why is it that 50,000 Canadians have gone to the front, that over 40,000 are waiting to be sent to the front, while 25,000 men in khaki are on the other side of the Atlantic waiting for the word? Why have so many of us come across the seas? Canadians are not soldiers. To me soldiering is a piece of art, a profession, a trade. I used to regard the soldier as a joke, with his red coat and his gold braid. The gay uniform, and the sound of the brass band were good to lighten up the streets, but that was all. We were business men, students, workers, farmers, preachers, everything but soldiers. Why is Canada at war today? . . . When the drum of war beat in London we heard it. It summoned men from shops and law offices, professors' chairs and pulpits. It called them because the Motherland had need for their services. We have great pride in the old country and its mighty past. All that is noblest in us springs from the Motherland. The preacher added that the second motive which has brought the brave Canadians into the war is a passion for those eternal things for which the British Empire stands among the nations. These things are liberty, national honor, justice and truth-keeping. "We are going to win. We are winning. Our navy and our army are growing in power, but our victory depends on those mighty unseen things that lie behind the ships and soldiers—the eternal and quenchless passion in the heart of our people. This year or next year or the year after—if it does not matter; but as long as men love liberty, they will fight until they get it."

"God has given to the minister to change this old world. Mastery of self makes a saint; mastery of books makes a scholar; mastery of environment makes a triumphant preacher."

Leadership in the Ministry

Those who had the pleasure of hearing Rev. J. T. Taylor of Moncton, Ind., address the recent meeting of the Maritime Synod in St. John will be interested to know that an itinerary is being arranged whereby a limited number of congregations throughout the province of New Brunswick will have the privilege of a visit from him. He has been for the past few weeks in Nova Scotia, and will be ready to fill appointments in New Brunswick on Nov. 15, on which evening he will give an illustrated address upon his experience in India before the Young People's Society of St. John Presbyterian Church. The tour as planned for him will give him appointment in Fredericton, Nov. 16, Woodstock, 17, St. Stephen, 18, St. Andrews, 19, St. John, 21, Parville, 22, Lorneville, 23, St. David's Church, St. John, 24, Sussex, 25, Newcastle, 26, Chatham, 28, Bathurst, 29, Dalhousie, 30, Campbellton, Dec. 1, and Moncton, Dec. 2. Mr. Taylor has been a missionary in India since 1899, is a most pleasing speaker and has an interesting message to give to the churches of eastern Canada.

RALPH CONNOR IN LONDON.

On Sunday, Oct. 17, Rev. Capt. C. W. Connor, D. D., chaplain of one of the Canadian Highland Regiments overseas, and pastor of St. Stephen's Church, Winnipeg, preached both morning and evening in the City Temple, London, England. Connor speaks in appreciative terms of his sermons on this occasion. He said in part: "Why is it that 50,000 Canadians have gone to the front, that over 40,000 are waiting to be sent to the front, while 25,000 men in khaki are on the other side of the Atlantic waiting for the word? Why have so many of us come across the seas? Canadians are not soldiers. To me soldiering is a piece of art, a profession, a trade. I used to regard the soldier as a joke, with his red coat and his gold braid. The gay uniform, and the sound of the brass band were good to lighten up the streets, but that was all. We were business men, students, workers, farmers, preachers, everything but soldiers. Why is Canada at war today? . . . When the drum of war beat in London we heard it. It summoned men from shops and law offices, professors' chairs and pulpits. It called them because the Motherland had need for their services. We have great pride in the old country and its mighty past. All that is noblest in us springs from the Motherland. The preacher added that the second motive which has brought the brave Canadians into the war is a passion for those eternal things for which the British Empire stands among the nations. These things are liberty, national honor, justice and truth-keeping. "We are going to win. We are winning. Our navy and our army are growing in power, but our victory depends on those mighty unseen things that lie behind the ships and soldiers—the eternal and quenchless passion in the heart of our people. This year or next year or the year after—if it does not matter; but as long as men love liberty, they will fight until they get it."

Rev. E. H. Penwarden, Congregationalist minister, formerly of Milltown, N. B., has been appointed as supply of the First Baptist Church in St. George, Penfield and Cocoboc for one year, during the leave of absence of Rev. Capt. Harrison of the 64th Battalion.

The handsome memorial window unveiled in St. David's Church, St. John, on Sabbath, Oct. 24, with appropriate service, perpetuates the memory of two worthy members of the congregation in their lifetime, viz. and Mrs. John F. C. Burpee. The window was presented to the church by the members of their family. Rev. J. A. MacKeigan, the pastor, preached a sermon on the occasion upon the subject of "The Good Samaritan," a picture of which is set forth in the pattern of the window.

It is interesting to note that at the induction service of Rev. A. D. McIntosh, in Cayley, Alberta, recently, the ministers taking part in the service were nearly all Maritime Province men. Mr. McIntosh is himself a former member of the province, having held charges in Eggleston, Core and Kennecook, and Little Harbor, N.S., and in Souris, P.E.I. Rev. H. W. BEWARE OF BISMARCK WARNING OF NOTED FRENCH PROPHETESS

The Life Story of Mde Adam who Warned France Against Germany Decades Ago

PRESENT DAY EVENTS JUSTIFY HER WORDS

The only woman who ever defied Bismarck - Her views on the end of the War.

(By Winifred Stephens, in London Chronicle.)

In her country home, among the wooded hills of Seine at Oise, within the walls of the ancient Abbey of Gif I found her, one of the most interesting women in Europe, the veteran writer and publicist, Mme. Juliette Adam. It was a stormy autumn day. Clouds barred the sky. Raindrops glittered on the crimson leaves of the strawberry plants and clustered like jewels on the rosy fruit of the apple trees bordering the road, up which I was driven in the only carriage that the regulations of the government had left my hostess; it was the smartest of little carts, drawn by the most elegant of jet-black African donkeys, who, with difficulty was coaxed into something more than a saunter by the nearest of juvenile groom.

With the grace and simplicity of a true "grande dame," Mme. Adam received me in the gateway of her abbey. The Abbess of Gif, as her friends call her, is the worthy successor of those high-born women who ruled here in the seventeenth century. A Real Patriot. Mme. Adam's ninety and seventy years sit lightly upon her. In the clear eyes, the winning smile and the musical voice there are few signs of old age. It is only perhaps a slight stoop that would indicate the burden of a long life and the suffering recently inflicted on her sensitive soul by the horrors of this terrible war, in which she has lost many dear ones, and among them a favorite grandson. Last of the great salon ladies, a distinguished writer, the founder and for twenty years the editor of "La Nouvelle Revue," the friend of Leon Gambetta, "hero of national defence," Mme. Adam has many titles to fame, but prophetess of la Revanche (Revanche) is that of which today she is most proud.

"I told you so," must be words continually on her lips, but those words are never uttered, for of such patriotism there is not a trace in the lofty patriotism of this remarkable woman. Patriotism has always been her dominating passion. Since Edmond Adam's death her country has been her husband. When the defeat of 1870 entered like an iron into her soul, the ardor which in many women flames into the passion of love fired her with hatred of the conqueror, and especially of him in whom she saw the spirit of that conquest, Prussia Bismarck.

The Voice in the Wilderness.

"Beware of Bismarck, of his duplicity, of his 'reptile' press, of the legions of agents who serve him in every European court," she wrote month after month in the pages of "La Nouvelle Revue." But hers was a voice crying in the wilderness. Her day and generation heeded her not. French ministers continued to walk into the snares laid for them by the wily fox at Varsin. Only today does the world realize what Mme. Adam saw years ago, how completely those ministers were Bismarck's dupes.

Never before in French history, save when Mme. de Stael defied Napoleon, had a woman claimed to write with authority on foreign affairs, for in France, as in England, they were considered totally beyond a woman's comprehension. Nevertheless, in her "Lettres sur la Politique Etrangere," in "La Nouvelle Revue," and later in "La Parole Francaise a l'Etranger," Mme. Adam fearlessly entered the maze of European politics, ever surmounting the monster who dominates them, following amidst all the tangles of diplomacy the thread of his malevolent machinations. She boldly charged the Iron Chancellor with being "a colossal obstructionist," "the tyrant of Europe," "imposing on it militarism, protectionism, and anarchical socialism. She saw Bismarck moving at pleasure, like pawns on the chessboard of Europe all the Chancellors of the continent. She showed him digging the grave of Austria, hoodwinking Russia, embroiling the Balkans, fattering England, isolating in order further to annihilate France.

Now those pungent, acute letters on foreign affairs have been collected and published in a volume entitled "The Avengeing Hour of Bismarck's Crimes" (L'Heure Vengeresse des Crimes Bismarckiens, Paris, Nouvelle Librairie Nationale, 1910). They might, as their author says in the preface, have well been called "The Lion and the Ant." The book is enjoying an immense success; and a companion volume, dealing with Bismarck's great pupil, Kaiser Wilhelm II., is in preparation.

HER DREAMS CAME TRUE

Life Unbearable from Indigestion Health Restored by "Fruit-a-tives"

MELLE C. GAUDREAU

Rochon P. Q., Jan. 14th, 1915. "I suffered for many years with terrible indigestion and constipation. I became thin and miserable. I had frequent dizzy spells and became so run down that I never thought I would get well again. A neighbor advised me to try 'Fruit-a-tives'. I did so and to the surprise of my doctor, I began to improve and he advised me to go on with 'Fruit-a-tives'. I continued this medicine and all my indigestion and constipation was relieved. I consider that I owe my life to 'Fruit-a-tives' and I want to say to those who suffer from indigestion, constipation or headaches, try 'Fruit-a-tives'. Give this lovely fruit medicine a fair chance and you will get well the same as I did."

large measure of self-government. This autonomy she would like to see extended to the rest of France by the revival of the old provinces and the provincial assemblies. It is only by some such process of decentralization, she believes, that the evils of the French bureaucracy can be combated. Into her already numerous family the Abbess of Gif has welcomed the motherless nephew of Gambetta, a younger Leon, whom she has watched over from the cradle. She has always promised him that one day he shall march as a conqueror into Strasburg. Since the beginning of the war he has been in Morocco. But that very morning, so she told me triumphantly, she had heard that he had received permission to go to the front.

Russia's Great Heart

The Abbess of Gif loves young nations as well as young people. Russia, which she has frequently visited, she regards as a nation in her youth. "We must love Russia," she says, "for despite all her mistakes she has a great heart." Alexander III, was her personal friend, so she told me triumphantly, she had heard that he had received permission to go to the front. Russia's Great Heart. SUNDAY SCHOOL CONVENTION CLOSED SESSIONS YESTERDAY

William M. Kingston, of St. John, elected president—
Many interesting papers and reports at meeting of Sabbath School workers.

The Sunday School Convention which has been in session here during the last three days concluded its deliberations last evening. The convention was considered one of the most successful yet held and the delegates received great benefit from the discussions and reports.

William Kingston, the newly-elected president, occupied the chair last night and Dr. Bond gave his fifth address on prayer to which he linked patience. In the absence of the convenor (L. C. B. Appel) of the executive committee one of the other members read the report.

The following is the report of this committee:
Total number of delegates enrolled 31. Distributed according to denominations: Baptist 106, Methodist 70, Presbyterian 31, Reformed Baptist 7, Adventist 6, Congregational 5, Union 3, Anglican 3, Christian 1.

Localities sending most delegates: St. John 68, Moncton 19, Woodstock 14, Fredericton 12, Campbellton 8, Sackville 6, Hoyt Station 6.

The resolution report was then read by Rev. F. L. Orchard and on motion of Mr. Hayes it was adopted. We recommend that the hearty thanks of this convention be extended to the official board of Centenary church, the people of St. John, the press of the city and province, the choirs of St. David's, Centenary and German street churches, the Boy Scout messengers, J. E. Arthurs and entertainment committee, the speakers at this convention, particularly Dr. Brown, Dr. Barker and Dr. Bond and to St. Andrew's church, Chatham, for the invitation to hold the next convention there.

"That the secretary of this convention forward a loyal address to His Majesty the KING, expressing our sympathy in the struggle of our Empire and our confidence in our leadership."

The treasurer's report was read and adopted.
Prof. J. M. Trueman of the Agriculture College, Truro, N. S., gave a splendid address on the "Rural Communities and the Sunday School." His facts were well expressed and many points were brought out that pertained to the welfare of the people of the rural districts. He advised that it was up to the rural people to keep and hold what they had.

The concluding address was given by Rev. W. A. Brown, D. D. He talked on the subject of bringing the little children into the church before the danger should arise to give them the desire to remain out forever.

The German street Baptist church choir assisted in the singing of the hymns.
Dr. Percival sang a solo. The session concluded with the singing of the national anthem.

A men's luncheon was held in Bond's restaurant at six o'clock last evening in connection with the convention at which Dr. W. A. Brown, D. D. gave a splendid address on "Men and the Work of the Church in the Modern World."

The financial statement showing receipts and expenditures was presented to the convention.
Afternoon Session.
The afternoon session was opened with the president in the chair. Dr. Bond gave an excellent address on "Prayer and Practice."

Mr. McLardy, who was a delegate to the convention, received this morning a telegram containing the sad news of the death of his mother. The minutes of the morning were then read and confirmed. The report of the nominating committee was then presented by Harry Havens.

The officers for the year are as follows:
President—Wm. M. Kingston, St. John.
1st Vice-president—Rev. Ralph Houghton, St. John.
2nd Vice-president—H. W. Havens, Jacksontown.
Recording Secretary—R. S. Stephenson, St. John.
Assistant Secretary—Miss Florence Alexander, Fredericton Junction.
Department Superintendents—Elementary, Mrs. H. Coy, Fredericton; secondary, Rev. G. A. Lawson, Moncton; adult, Rev. F. L. Orchard, Woodstock; home, Mrs. D. J. Bruce, Campbellton; teacher training, E. R. Marchum, St. John; I. B. R. A., Mrs. R. J. Mawhinney, Mace's Bay; temperance, Rev. R. H. Stavert, Moncton; missionary, Miss Bessie Fairweather, Moncton; treasurer, A. H. Chipman, St. John.

Additional members from St. John—R. T. Hayes, Rev. W. Camp, J. Willard Smith, Robt. Reid, L. W. Simmons, J. W. Flewelling, Miss Maud Stillwell, J. E. Arthurs, Mrs. A. B. Melrose, John Mace, R. H. Parsons, Rev. J. H. Anderson, J. C. B. Appel, Rev. Hammond Johnson, Rev. D. J. McPherson, Rev. Geo. Steele, Rev. W. H. Barracough, Rev. F. S. Porter and Mrs. W. C. Mathews.

Morning Session.
Yesterday morning's session of the Sunday School Convention was largely attended. Rev. Wellington Camp presided. The first fifteen minutes were spent in devotion, led by Rev. F. S. Porter. The minutes of the preceding session were read by R. S. Stephenson.

Three reports were received, viz.,

Education, Home and Missionary. The report on education was read by Rev. W. A. Ross in the absence of the secretary of that department, Rev. C. W. Squires.

The Anglican denomination of Campbellton has a class that meets at the same time and place as the community training school.

Bristol, N. B., reports a union training class of twelve members.

The report of the Home Department was presented by Miss Florence Alexander, who stated that the Home Department is the natural ally of the regular school, the ally which will help to rout these long standing problems of teachers and superintendents.

Miss Alexander spoke of the enjoyment she had experienced in handling the work of the department, having received much help from the county secretaries. Several superintendents have during the past year opened Home Departments. Reports have been received of the work of the county secretaries from eleven out of the fourteen.

The final report of the morning was on the International Bible Reading Association and was presented by Mrs. R. T. Mawhinney.

Following the reports the delegates were treated to a helpful and pleasing address by Dr. Brown on "The Why and How of Teaching and Training." The lecturer made a strong appeal for the adoption of new ideas in teaching. He believed that teachers should at their meetings discuss methods and plans of teaching and aiding the schools rather than spend their time in just preparing the lesson. This address, which was well received, was followed by a training conference under the leadership of the lecturer. The morning session was concluded with an interesting address by Rev. Gordon Dickie.

COURT MARTIAL ACQUITS COMMANDER OF AUXILIARY CRUISER

Toulon, Nov. 5.—The naval court martial honorably acquitted today Captain Forget, who was commander of the auxiliary cruiser L'Indien, torpedoed by a submarine near the Island of Rhodes on September 8.

L'Indien originally was the French mail steamer Avergne, she was sold to the Greco-Turco-American Company, which changed her name and placed her under the American flag, according to the French marine authorities, for the purpose of carrying contraband. On this account she was seized by a French warship and taken into Alexandria, where she was converted into an auxiliary cruiser.

No previous report of the torpedoing of L'Indien has been received. It has been learned that a month ago, however, that a French auxiliary cruiser whose name was not ascertained had been torpedoed and sunk in September while anchored off the Island of Rhodes by a submarine of the Teutonic powers. This information was received in the form of private advices from Athens, and undoubtedly referred to L'Indien.

PAIN IN THE BACK Usually Comes from Muscular Rheumatism.

Do not worry about a pain in the back. The worry will do you more harm than the pain. The cause of most backaches is muscular rheumatism, which is painful enough, but not fatal. Lumbago is a form of muscular rheumatism, so is a stiff neck. Sufferers from any form of rheumatism should keep their general health up to the highest standard by the use of a blood building tonic like Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, while taking good nourishing food, without too much meat. Proper nutrition and pure blood are the best means of fighting rheumatism. Rheumatism comes from an acid in the blood, build it up, strengthen the system, and drive out the poisonous acid that causes rheumatism. In this way sufferers have found complete recovery as is shown by the following case: Mrs. Samuel Childerhouse, Orilla, Ont., says:—"About three years ago I was greatly afflicted with a severe pain in the back, which I thought at first was due to kidney trouble. I tried a number of remedies but they did not help me any, in fact the pain was growing worse, and got so bad that I was quite unable to do my housework. I could not even sweep a floor. I was advised to try Dr. Williams' Pink Pills, and I am glad I acted upon the advice, for before I had been taking the Pills long the pain began to subside, and under the continued use disappeared entirely, and I have not since been bothered with it in any way. My husband was also cured of a severe attack of indigestion by this same medicine so that we both have much reason to be grateful for it."

You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills from any medicine dealer or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

Canadian Northern Railway

Speed of Passenger Trains.

Taking as a basis a transcontinental train of eight passenger cars, a thirty-five per cent C.N.R. engine might run through to the coast west-bound between Edmonton and Vancouver at a minimum speed of forty miles an hour, and the speed would drop to that rate only on the section of line affected by the five-tenths of one per cent, or maximum, grade.

Eastbound on the division where the seven-tenths of one per cent grade occurs, or on twenty-eight miles of the one hundred and ten miles between Blue River and Lucerne, this locomotive would haul the eight car train at a speed of thirty miles an hour. Apart from that one run of twenty-eight miles a speed may be obtained as great as desired up to fifty miles an hour between Vancouver and Edmonton.

Power and Gradients.
Broadly speaking the difference of one-tenth of one per cent in the grade of a railway means that the efficiency of the locomotive is reduced two pounds for each gross ton of its load. The frictional resistance of equipment moving over a level track is approximately five pounds per gross ton. As the line rises, two pounds for each one-tenth of one per cent of grade for each ton of load are added to the five pounds. This means that on a grade of four-tenths of one per cent there is a total resistance of thirteen pounds for a six-tenths seventeen pounds, and for a seven-tenths nineteen pounds, and for a one per cent grade which is the ruling grade of the Grand Trunk Pacific twenty-five pounds per gross ton.

To ascertain the tonnage possible for a locomotive to haul on any grade, deduct ten per cent from the nominal power of the locomotive for loss of steam pressure, etc., and divide the balance by the frictional resistance of the engine, one hundred and sixty-five tons, and the working load will be one thousand six hundred and eighty-six tons equal to thirty-one cars of fifty tons each.

The ruling grades of the various mountain roads of North America are said to be, Canadian Northern seven-tenths of one per cent, Canadian Pacific two tenths per cent at Stephen in the Rockies, Grand Trunk Pacific one per cent at Yellowhead Pass, Great Northern two per cent in the Cascade tunnel, Northern Pacific one point six per cent at Butte, Union Pacific one point eight per cent at La Grande, Chicago Milwaukee and Puget Sound Railway two point five per cent at Laconia, and Santa Fe two point six per cent east of Los Angeles.

Unlimited Opportunity.
As settlement extends northward it is found that within reasonable limit the climate continues as satisfactory for successful production of wheat, and that better wheat can be grown north of Edmonton than south of Calgary. The Canadian Northern management believe that they are developing a great deal of country heretofore untouched by railroad service, and that this policy will bring its own reward in volume of business. This year's crop amounts to three hundred and thirty-six million. Last year the Canadian Northern handled from thirty-five to forty per cent of the total. This year they do equally as well on a much larger total. They are moving half a million bushels a day to Port Arthur and expect to continue at this same rate until the end of the year. They anticipate too, that with the growth of the country there will be sufficient business in the middle west to overcome the unprofitable sections of their system in the east and west. They feel that with the existing gradients of their road they can do business more profitably than can any other line of this nature in America, and it is their intention to make a bid for all that can be had.
