Wreck-strewn Shores

The South of Ireland Swept by a Furious Storm.

Heavy Gales and Rain Prevail in France and Spain.

A Number of Vessels Go to the Bottom and Many Lives Lost.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—The steamers Britannic and City of New York sailed from Liverpool for New York in the teeth of the gale. An immense wave boarded the Britannic and carried overboard Quartermaster Mackenzie.

VAIN ATTEMPTS TO SAVE LIVE.

The steamer Hawarden Castle, engaged in the coasting trade, was wrecked at the mouth of the Mersey last night. She was exposed to the full force of the gale, and the seas sweeping over her made it impossible to live on her deck. The crew took refuge in the rigging. A number of attempts were made to rescue them from their perilous position, but none of them were successful. This morning four bodies were washed ashore. They are those of seamen from the steamer.

ON THE IRISH COAST.

The gale is raging in the south of Ireland with great fury. Many houses at Skibbereen and some at Oldicourt have been greatly damaged. A fishing smack sailing from Ramsgate reached home yesterday morning. She was caught in the full fury of the storm. Four of her crew were swept overboard. There was great excitement in Southport, on the Irish Sea, over the fate of a crew of lifeboat men who went out to attempt to save the crew of a vessel which was in distress off that place. They managed to reach shore all right, but no trace of the distressed vessel they had gone to succor could be found.

Several vessels were wrecked at Fecamp on the English Channel. The rescue of the crew was attended with exciting scenes. Only one man was drowned. The fishermen along the coast suffered heavy losses in boats and gear. Two smacks of Cherbourg with their crews, numbering ten men, are missing. A hospital at Lorient took fire during the gale, and the flames spread with such rapidity that the ordinary means of exit were cut off and the patients had to be rescued from the windows. Many of the patients were injured. The force of the hurricane extended as far as Marseilles, on the Mediterranean Sea.

A TORPEDO BOAT SUNK.

A French torpedo boat was capsized in Brest roads doing the hurricane. The crew was saved.

BOULOGNE, Nov. 13.—Nothing but a rough estimate can be made of the damage done by the terrible storm which set in here Tuesday night, and which, without abatement, lasted until Wednesday night. A large number of houses in the town were unroofed and outbuildings were blown down. Up and down the coast the loss of life and property must have been very heavy. In the vicinity of Boulogne many fishing boats were caught in the gale far from port, and they have not returned.

THE STORM IN PORTUGAL.

LISBON, Nov. 13.—A great storm prevailed yesterday on the coast of Portugal. The wind blew with hurricane-like fury.

IN SPAIN.

MADRID, Nov. 13.—Heavy gales and rains prevail throughout Spain. Telegraphic communication is everywhere interrupted. The storm is especially severe on the northern and western coasts. A steam launch belonging to a Spanish man-of-war lying off Villa Sarcia was capsized; five of her crew were drowned.

The sloop Julio was wrecked at Bilbao yesterday. Eight of her crew were drowned.

STRANDED OFF KINSALE.

An unknown bark stranded off Kinsale, Ireland, yesterday. The sea makes a clean breach over her. So far it has been impossible to assist either by sending out the local lifeboat or by firing a life line to her by means of rockets. It is feared that the whole of the crew will be drowned.

EFFECTS OF THE GALE IN FRANCE.

PARIS, Nov. 13.—Wednesday's gale caused an immense amount of damage in all parts of France. Many temporary buildings devoted to panoramas, circuses and the like were destroyed. Two persons were killed at Pavilly by falling debris. A youth had his neck broken at Havre by being struck by the covering of a van which had been blown off by the gale.

Cyclone in Pennsylvania.

PITTSBURG, Pa., Nov. 11.—The new town of Kensington, twenty miles north of this place, was visited by a cyclone and heavy rain storm last night. A number of buildings in course of erection were completely wrecked and cellars were badly flooded.

Natural Gas at Dunnville, Ont.

DUNNVILLE, Ont., Nov. 11.—To-day the Natural Gas Company completed their second well. Gas was found in the Medina rock at a depth of 780 feet. The flow of gas enables the company to furnish all that the town requires for heating and manufacturing purposes.

Germany's Budget.

BERLIN, Nov. 11.—The Imperial budget for 1892 was made public to-day. The estimate of expenditures for the coming fiscal year exceeds the estimate for 1891 by 110,000,000 marks, of which 65,500,000 marks is classed as non-recurring expenditures. The estimate of receipts show an increase over the estimates of 1891 of 25,000,000 marks. A bill is proposed authorizing a loan of 156,000,000 marks on account of military naval railway debts by a supplementary loan for the purpose of fortifying Heligoland.

A Sneak With a Spy-Glass.

GRAND RAPIDS, Mich., Nov. 11.—Charles A. Rodgers is a festive young man of Crystal Lake who contracted a habit of amusing himself daily last summer, at the expense of resorters, by spying around among them with a telescope from a convenient perch. Occasionally his glass revealed some sentimental meetings and Rodgers at once followed them up by blackmail. He was finally arrested for using the mails for fraudulent purposes and this afternoon he paid a $200 fine in the United States Court.

A WAR SCARE!

Somebody Says Hostilities Cannot be Postponed Beyond Spring.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The Times says: "A letter has been received in this city within the last few days from an officer on the general staff of the German Emperor, which declares that war in Europe cannot be postponed beyond next spring. The importance of this letter is all the greater in view of the fact that it has been received by an official of the United States Government. The communication is understood to have been dictated by the Emperor himself. It declares there is no doubt about the massing of the troops of the Czar on the frontiers of Austria, Germany and Roumania. It is known at the Berlin War Office, it is said, that the Russian force put on the frontiers represents 90 per cent. of the effective strength of the Russian army.

BERLIN, Nov. 13.—The North German Gazette, commenting on the recent speeches of Lord Salisbury and the Marquis di Rudini, concludes that Great Britain and Italy are equally resolved to throw into the scale a weighty word to maintain an equilibrium in Europe if peace should be threatened. The Gazette warmly commends Lord Salisbury's decision not to loosen the English hold in Egypt.

ST. PETERSBURG, Nov. 13.—The authorities of the Russian War Office have resolved to construct a line of forts along the Chinese frontier and increase the number of officers in Central Asia.

GOSSIP OF TO-DAY.

The "bang" is called "fringe" in England.

Mr. Gladstone gets fifty cents a word for his magazine articles.

The football season has been formally opened, and arnica and court plaster are quoted firm and in demand.

Hundreds of fish are still alive in the royal aquarium in St. Petersburg that were placed there more than 150 years ago.

The sea post office system recently established on ocean steamers to Europe saves fully five hours in the time of delivery of mail.

Mrs. Jenness Miller is the happy mother of a big bouncing baby daughter, and it is diamonds to doughnuts that she wont have any feminine dress reformers around telling her how to rig it out.

French watches take the form and colors of a flower. A beautifully enameled pansy with a diamond edge has a timepiece beneath its petals. It is fastened with a diamond headed pin on the left side of the bodice.

The Polish Count Graborki is a fireman on a Pan Handle locomotive. He is a manly and well educated young fellow, with an excellent record of service in the German army, but he is thoroughly content with his situation.

A correspondent sends the following touching example of conjugal effrontery: "Mr. and Mrs. —— have returned to town and will celebrate their silver wedding on the 15th inst. N. B.—Intending givers of presents can be supplied with a list of suitable gifts on application to Mrs. ——." Who shall say on reading this that civilization is a failure?

A Lynn man is responsible for the following: "As I went to the train one morning I saw a brown dog coming full speed with a letter in his mouth. He went straight to a letter-box. The postman had just cleared the box and was about 20 or 30 yards off when the dog arrived. Seeing him the sagacious animal went after him and had the latter transferred to the bag. He then walked home quietly."

CRICKET.

C. W. Alcock, the genial secretary of the Surrey County Cricket Club, has a plan on hand to bring together several chosen cricket teams in a grand international contest at Chicago during the World's Fair in '93. Mr. Alcock has written Mr. Spaulding relative to the scheme, but late in October had not received an answer. Mr. Alcock has little doubt that entries from three countries at least would be certain. Teams from England, Australia and the United States would gladly go in for such a contest. Then Ireland, Scotland and Cape Colony could easily select teams from their many celebrated willow-wielders.

SPEAKER BALLANTYNE AT LISTOWEL.

Hon. Mr. Ballantyne spoke on Judge Finkle's decision re the responsibility for supplying good milk to the cheese factories, in other words, the Mathieson case decision. Mr. Ballantyne said it was an unfortunate decision, and intimated that it would necessitate action on the part of the Dairymen's Association. He declared that the intention of those who framed the law was to make the man who was paid for pure milk responsible for delivering it to the factory, and that the fact of deterioration should be taken as evidence of guilt when there was no evidence of a direct nature. Professor Robertson holds the same view, and like the inspectors, both hold good, the usefulness of the milk inspectors and of the law against deterioration will be greatly weakened. Mr. Ballantyne also declared that the practice of returning whey in the milk cans to the patrons was a dangerous one; that in the past the flavor of whey was distinctly perceptible in the product of many factories, and that the practice should cease throughout the whole country. This view was held by other speakers and had the warm approval of all the makers and buyers and of most of the patrons present.

Looks Like a Birchall Case.

SAN FRANCISCO, Nov. 14.—What looks like a Birchall case has just come to light here. Three months ago Thomas Hendry, a former manager of the Hudson Bay Company at Victoria, left his wife here and went to Los Angeles seeking investment for $5,000 which he carried with him. He wrote several times detailing places he had visited, and then the letters suddenly stopped. From that time his wife has been unable to secure a single clue to his fate. Being a proud Englishwoman, with wealthy connections in Winnipeg, she carefully concealed the fact of her husband's disappearance. She believes he has been foully dealt with or has wandered away while temporarily insane. The Los Angeles police believe he has been decoyed to some lonely canyon and murdered for his money. He has wealthy relatives in Canada.

During 1890 there were built in the United States 8,500 churches.

FAITH CURED HIM!

Rev. Henry Wilson Devotes His Life to Helping Faith Cure Others.

Action by His Bishop Expected—A Strange Case.

NEW YORK, Nov. 13.—The action of Rev. Henry Wilson, D.D., in resigning his position as senior assistant minister of St. George's Episcopal Church and joining the faith curists under the Rev. A. B. Simpson, is causing no small excitement in Episcopal circles. Although Dr. Wilson's withdrawal from St. George's is a matter of history, it having occurred last June, his entrance upon the work of the Rev. Mr. Simpson's Christian Alliance was more recent, and is a surprise which greatly puzzles the clergymen with whom he formerly associated. The situation is an interesting one for the Episcopal Church, because some action will probably be taken soon looking to the disciplining of Dr. Wilson. He claims to be, and still is, a minister in the church, but is devoting all of his time to the faith cure, or doctrine of divine healing, which is contrary to his vows when he took holy orders.

Dr. Wilson was assigned to the mission on Avenue A, connected with St. George's, and the vestrymen of the church objected to his Salvation Army methods. They learned that Dr. Wilson was formerly rector of St. George's Cathedral at Kingston, Canada, and was at that time an ardent supporter of the Salvation Army. He was suspended from office by the dean, and, when he still refused to sever his connection with the Salvationists, he was dismissed from the ministry in November.

Coming to New York soon after, he was made assistant under the Rev. Dr. Rainsford at St. George's Church, and held the position for nearly six years. When the vestrymen of this church hinted that his resignation would be acceptable he wrote a somewhat startling letter withdrawing from the church, and hinting that he wished to consecrate his life to God, and took exception to a minister with sporting proclivities.

His daughter, Miss Madile Wilson, also withdrew from the church, and has devoted herself to the work of the Salvation Army since that time.

Soon after their severance from St. George's Dr. Wilson and his daughter went to London, Eng., where Miss Madile is still identified with the Salvationists. Dr. Wilson returned about four weeks ago, and immediately joined the Rev. Mr. Simpson's Gospel Tabernacle. Dr. Wilson was elected vice-president of the Christian Alliance and took an important part in the work of "Divine Healing." He is at present a teacher in the training college of the Gospel Tabernacle, where he lectures every afternoon, and also administers the holy communion to the few Episcopal members of the Alliance at their Berachah Home, No. 250 West Forty-fourth street.

The Christian Alliance or Faith Cure Society is claimed to be undenominational. The sect is growing rapidly, and has thousands of adherents all over the United States. Rev. A. B. Simpson, the founder of the sect, is the president. He was formerly in Hamilton, Ont.

When a reporter called at the boarding house, No. 253 West Forty-second street, where Dr. Wilson is a guest at present, the reverend Episcopal faith curist was not inclined to talk about his change of heart. He would only say that he stood by his resignation at St. George's Church and his statement of "testimony" as furnished to the Christian Alliance. Dr. Wilson's experience statement is partly as follows:

"Words are always feeble to express truth, and especially spiritual verities. At the age of 25 I left college, very much broken down through overwork, and entered the ministry in a parish where for 17½ years I labored with a weak body, twice seriously injured by accidents almost fatal; for years a prey to dyspepsia of the worst kind; to liver disease and all its attendant miseries, with nervous depression and fainting fits after the slightest unusual exertion; a burden to myself, a source of constant anxiety to my family and friends, a nuisance to the doctors and a kind of walking apothecary shop, I dragged through my work with what sickly weariness and painfulness they only know who have suffered like things. I came to New York in the fall of 1883 in great weakness of body and physically unfit for much ministerial work.

"A dear friend invited me to attend one of Mr. Simpson's meetings in the Tabernacle of Divine Healing. God's mercy gave me the spirit of a little child and the willingness to be counted a fool for Christ's sake, and I prayed him to take away from my mind all prejudice, so that if this doctrine of Divine Healing were indeed his truth I might receive it.

"Having once seen Jesus as never before and accepting him as my life for soul and body, the rest was easy. I was anointed for healing, consecration and fuller service. From that hour of blessing, never to be forgotten, peace has reigned in my soul and health in my body, both working for him with a vigor and freshness never before known.

"I am a younger man in every faculty of my being than I was twenty years ago. More than twice the work ever attempted by me is now done with ease and pleasure, never mine before.

"The body that hardly for years knew what one day's freedom from pain was, now rejoices in robust health. I have neither tasted nor touched medicine for three years. To God be all the glory."

An Episcopal clergyman, who is very close to Bishop Potter, said yesterday: "Yes, I have learned that the Rev. Henry Wilson has been cured of his dyspepsia by Mr. Simpson, and I understand that he has joined the Faith Curists.

"The question of Dr. Wilson's status in the Episcopal Church is a grave one, and will be fully considered before charges are preferred against him. His license to preach could probably be revoked upon the same grounds that resulted in his dismissal from the ministry in Canada."

The Gospel Tabernacle was crowded with pale-faced girls and sickly men yesterday, who hurried to the inner sanctum, where they were rubbed with holy oil by Dr. Wilson, and the power and prayer invoked for the removal of their bodily ailments.

Thousands of sick people are alleged to have been cured, and the work of divine healing is becoming of enormous extent.

TRAIN ROBBERS AT WORK.

But They Fail to Secure Any Booty—Two Gangs of Operators Foiled.

CHICAGO, Nov. 13.—A train from Chicago on the Milwaukee and St. Paul road was held up by robbers yesterday near Western Union Junction. They caused the engineer to stop the train by pointing a revolver at his head. They then demanded of the express messenger that he open the door of the car, which he refused to do. The conductor was taken prisoner. The robbers then broke in a window of the car and threw in some kind of an explosive, which forced out the end of the car. They went inside and covered the express messenger with a revolver, and tried to make him open the safe. This he refused to do, and the safes were thrown out of the car. In the meantime the rear brakeman rushed back to the junction for help and an engine. The engine and posse went to the scene and the robbers fled. The train went on to Milwaukee, and the fast mail train, which leaves Chicago at 3 a.m., picked up the safes and carried them to Milwaukee.

CINCINNATI, O., Nov. 13.—A Birmingham, Ala., dispatch tells of an unsuccessful attempt to capture a passenger train from Cincinnati on the Queen and Crescent line at Collinsville, Ala. Fifteen well-dressed men captured the station and laid in wait for the train due at 10 o'clock. An officer, however, appeared and drove the gang away. Three or four returned as the train came in and attempted to board it. Trainmen and citizens fired on them and they fled. One who was wounded was captured.

ESSEX.

Mumps are prevalent in Windsor.

Inspector Alanson Elliott, of South Essex, has notified the hotel-keepers of the places where the local option was in force that as Chief Justice Galt has quashed the bylaws they are at liberty to go ahead and sell, as their licenses will be given them Friday.

A daughter of R. McGregor, of Gesto, swallowed a pin a few days ago, and it stuck in her throat. Efforts to dislodge it proved unavailing, and the child was on Tuesday taken to a Detroit hospital.

William Arthur McCord, aged 21, and Mrs. Thomas Pinkey, 26 years old, were arrested at Detroit on Tuesday morning upon the arrival of the train from Fenton by Detective Lally. The detective had been watching the trains for two days for these people, and as McCord was assisting his companion from the train the detective snapped a pair of handcuffs upon the visitor and informed him that he was wanted at police headquarters. The woman attempted to run away, but was easily caught. The pair eloped from Toronto two weeks ago, and have been spending their quasi-honeymoon in Michigan. They have been stopping at Rice's Hotel, and was registered as man and wife. Last Saturday they went to Fenton to visit McCord's relatives, and were returning from that town when they came to grief as stated. Mr. Pinkey is assistant manager and accountant of the Farmers' Saving and Loan Association, of Toronto, and McCord is a law student in the office of Ross, Cameron & McAndrew, of that city. He was assisted by Mr. Pinkey in his studies, and in return ran away with his wife.

HURON.

Ridgetown is the center of the bean growing district, and the shipment to the United States amounts to about 200,000 bushels annually. There are several commission merchants who deal largely in that product, and who employ quite a number of hands picking beans, preparatory to shipment. Cochrane & Wilson employ about 20 hands, mostly girls, and export about 40,000 bushels annually; Thomas Steele, about 20 hands, and exports 35,000 bushels; Cochrane & Rushton, about 20 hands, and export 35,000 bushels; J. Elliott, from 12 to 15 hands, and exports 25,000 bushels; Patterson & O'Keefe, about 25 hands, and export 40,000 bushels; Tye & Stringer, about 10 hands, and export about 15,000 bushels. These firms at the present time are shipping mostly to the New England States, as the Western markets are being supplied by the Michigan growers. About ten carloads are shipped weekly.

OXFORD.

Police Magistrate Chadwick, of Ingersoll, had a narrow escape the other evening from being seriously injured while going upstairs to his office, which is situated in the second story of Richardson's block. When he arrived on the landing at the top of the stairs he took two or three steps forward, and as the hallway was dark he plunged head first down a back stairway leading out into the rear of the stores. Fortunately he got off with a few bruises and a severe shaking up.

The congregation of St. John's Church, Tilsonburg, will soon be provided with a commodious parish room, which, when completed, will greatly add to the appearance of the church. It will include a main building, with clergymen's vestry, in which there will be full accommodation for the surpliced choir and Sunday school. It will also be used for parish meetings and social gatherings in connection with the church. The cost of the improvements, when completed, will be in the neighborhood of $400. This also includes a neat spire or belfrey.

Hon. John Dryden, Minister of Agriculture, will deliver an address at the Woodstock College on Tuesday evening, Nov. 17. Everybody is invited.

An export entry was made at the customs house, Woodstock, on Tuesday, for 7,750 barrels of apples going to England.

The municipal machinery in Woodstock has been clogged by an over-draft recognized by the ward councilors. In the meantime payment of all accounts has been suspended. The mayor and reeves strenuously opposed the over-draft, and the finance committee cautioned delay in passing the accounts until they were properly certified to. The ward councilors refused to do this, as their action might incur personal liability. If the accounts were ordered to be paid by the council then they were willing to certify to their correctness. This was not done, with the result that the whole report of the finance committee on a tie vote was thrown out on Monday. Unless some of the members change their opinion it is difficult to see how this question is to be settled.

James L. Grant & Co., of Ingersoll, have now capacity to kill 1,000 hogs per day.

PERTH.

Work is being pushed rapidly along in Listowel on the new factory. Several car loads of machinery have already arrived from Goldie & McCulloch. The boilers are being put in position and work is confidently expected to begin by the middle of December.

The physicians in attendance upon Miss Platt at the hospital, Stratford, report her condition to be very critical. A day or two will now decide her fight for life. Her father, a well-known school inspector from the east, mother and sister have arrived and are at her bedside. The case is one which has excited much interest in the city, and the sympathy of many to whom the sufferer is personally unknown goes out to her in her affliction. J. H. Corwyn, Toronto, has been engaged meanwhile to teach the modern languages classes.

J. B. McEwan, assistant dairy commissioner of the agricultural department, is on his way east from his Manitoba tour. He reports a great deal of interest developing among the farmers of Manitoba and the Northwest in the dairying industry. He is the guest of Thos. Ballantyne, jun., in Stratford.

Dr. Geofrey, son of the Rev. R. Geofrey, of Stratford, who has been pursuing his studies in Edinburgh, Scotland, has passed all the examinations of the Royal College of Physicians and Surgeons, Edinburgh, Scotland, and also that of the Faculty of Physicians and Surgeons, Glasgow. The examinations are most critical and severe.

WATERLOO.

A Chinese laundry is being started in Berlin.

The residence of the parish priest, of Waterloo, was entered through the window the other night during the priest's temporary absence. The reverend gentleman had taken in several hundred dollars that day for the sale of pews, and it is believed that a knowledge of this fact was the motive of the theft.

Two more claims have been laid against W. J. Cohn, the New York banker, who is now confined in the Berlin jail. They were filled before Judge Muir by E. D. Cahill, acting for the following firms: Hardt & Lindgens, of New York, $2,281, and Wernwag & Dawson, of Philadelphia, $1,641.

WELLINGTON.

John Binns, Guelph, has sold his farm in Peel, 100 acres, to Robert Archibald, of that township, for $3,000.

Johnny Hovell, Guelph, aged about 9 years, who had his arm broken about two months ago by a boy knocking him against a post, met with another serious accident on Monday. A boy tripped him on the sidewalk, causing him to fall and break his right collar bone. The break is a bad one and the lad will likely have to undergo an operation before the bone can be set.

A BRUTAL DOCTOR

Tears Open a Man's Wound Because He Got No Fee.

CUMBERLAND, Md., Nov. 13.—Tuesday morning Frank Laffin was walking along the railroad tracks when he fell into a cattle guard, cutting a fearful gash in his leg. Friends carried him to the office of Dr. Craigen, the county physician. The doctor examined the wound, and, after dressing it, put several stitches in it, and then asked for his pay, which was $2. The men were surprised, as they thought, he being the county physician, there would be no charge. The doctor said if they did not pay him he would undo his work. They insisted they were penniless, and the doctor then cut the stitches, thus undoing his work. The mayor will call the attention of the State's attorney to the matter. Dr. Craigen is the physician in charge of the jail, almshouse and insane asylum, and is also a member of the United States Pension Board of Examining Physicians for this district.

A Dinner Pill.—Many persons suffer excruciating agony after partaking of a hearty dinner. The food partaken of is like a ball of lead upon the stomach, and instead of being a healthy nutriment it becomes a poison to the sytem. Dr. Parmelee's Vegetable Pills are wonderful correctives of such troubles. They correct acidity, open the secretions and conver the food partaken of into healthy nutriment. They are just the medicine to take if troubled with Indigestion or Dyspepsia.

CHRIST'S PRAYER FOR HIS DISCIPLES.*

BY LYMAN ABBOTT.

This prayer has been said to be composed in part of petitions found in previous Jewish literature. This is quite possible. As the law, Thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, was Christ's selection from the ancient law, so what is commonly called the Lord's Prayer may be a selection of the previously expressed desires of humanity. At all events, it expresses, not the Lord's desires for his own, but humanity's desires for itself. It might be uttered by a pagan as well as by a Christian. It is, indeed, theistical rather than Christian. It asks nothing for Christ's sake nor in Christ's name. It presupposes faith in God, but not faith in Christ. Its one distinctively Christian characteristic is the petition, Forgive us our debts as we forgive our debtors. This, so far as I know, has no parallel in either the pagan or the Jewish literature of devotion; and yet this is rather a modification of a universal desire than an inspiration to an entirely new one. The desire for forgiveness is common to the race.

The second Lord's Prayer is recorded in John, xvii. It is Christ's prayer for his own. It is uttered in the presence of his disciples at the end of his ministry and on the eve of his passion and death. It is absolutely unique in its spiritual quality. No one has ever suggested that it is composed of petitions to be found in any previous literature.

There are two aspects in which this prayer may well be studied: as a revelation of Christ's prayer for us; as an indication of what we should pray for, for ourselves and our loved ones. In this chapter we draw near to the gate of that garden where he is ever praying for his Church, and listen to his voice, and know what is the dearest and most sacred wish of his heart for us. But we, too, are sons of God. This prayer is a model for our praying, as his life is a model for our living.

No request here: Give us this this day our daily bread. No petition here for deliverance from pain and sorrow, from suffering, sickness and death; no request even to be delivered from temptation; no prayer even for forgiveness. For this is a prayer of a Redeemer for his redeemed. He who has received the answer to the prayer of humanity, the first Lord's Prayer, enters in this chapter into the Holy of Holies to be taught to seek something beyond, far beyond, anything which uninspired humanity has ever sought or even desired for itself.

Cease to do evil is not the end, but the beginning, of a Christian life. The Christian is to be in the world; he is to be a part of the world; he is to be a light in that world; he is to manifest the glory of his heavenly Father to that world; he is to pray, not that he may be taken out of the world, but that, remaining in it and a part of if, he may be kept from allegiance to or compromise with its self-appointed Prince, the Pretender. Is this all? No! This is the bare beginning of Christian living; rather, the condition without which Christian living cannot begin.

My disciples, says Christ, have been chosen out of the world; deliver them from the Prince of the world, and from all submission to him and compromise with him. He is a liar, and the father of lies. Deliver them from captivity to him and his service of lying; set them apart to a service of truth. Absolute truth! Alas! how little there is of it in this world! But this stands first in the order of Christ's wishes for us; for it is the foundation of all character. For the minister in the church, the gentleman in society, the merchant on 'Change, and the statesmen in the halls of legislation, who has professed allegiance to Christ, his Christ is ever praying: "Concecrate him to thy truth."

"That they all may be one in us;" "that they may be made perfect in unity." Ah! Lord, how long and how patiently hast thou prayed this prayer, and how far distant still seems the answer! "That the world may know that thou hast sent me." Is it any wonder, when the world sees Christendom rent with such divisions and imbittered with such strifes, that it does not know that its Master is the representative on earth of that God all whose works are one? Unity characterizes all the other works of God; disunion and discord, the Church. Is it any wonder that the world does not believe that it is the Church of God?

But this prayer of Christ's if for something more than a human unity, a fraternity, a fellowship of men with men. It is a prayer for unity with him and with his Father. John understood his Lord, and grew into an experience which interpreted this prayer and enabled him, years after, to write those words which few of us understand, and the meaning of which still fewer of us really receive: "Truly our fellowship is with the Father and with his Son Jesus Christ." "That they may be with me;" this is a longing, not for mere physical commingling; it concerns not merely locality. Christ's thought runs forward into the future, and he who goes to prepare a place for his own desires his own to be with him, because he desires them to be one with him.

And so we come to Christ's last and highest prayer for his followers: "That they may behold my glory, which thou has given me." If this appears to any of us as the expression of a desire for display, as a wish of approbativeness, not of love, or of love tinged with approbativeness, not in its highest or purest estate, it is because our own thoughts shadow the words of Christ with our own inherent vulgarity; because we do not know what glory is. We may, indeed, well imagine that Christ should wish his disciples to behold his joy and glory with the father. They had seen him in humiliation and suffering. They were to see him howled at, spit upon, crowned in mockery; they were to look on with broken hearts, unable to lift a finger in his defense, while he suffered the lingering pains of crucifixion and listened to the revilings of a triumphing priesthood. In the infinite compassion of his heart he might well wish that they should see him victor over death and the grave, and radiant with that joy which should so fill his soul that it should be satisfied. "Satisfied!" What amplitude of result must be required to satisfy the love of a heart so catholic as that of Christ! But in this prayer is something more and deeper and higher even than this. True glory is goodness; there is no other. And only the good can truly see goodness. To perceive Christ is to be like Christ. We shall see him as he is, only when we are like him.

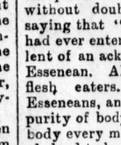

We see his glory which the Father gave him, when we are thus with him in his work, because we are one with him in his purpose and his spirit. This is to be with him; this is to see his glory. Seeing and being are one; and when we truly behold his image we are changed into the same image, from glory to glory.

Something like this seems to me Christ's wish and prayer for his own: That they may be delivered from all complicity with the Evil One; that they may be wholly given to the truth; that they may thus come into a spiritual friendship with one another, because a fellowship with the Father through his Son; and that they may thus come to know the Father and his Son by being made like Christ, and may be made like Christ by coming into a true knowledge of the Father and his Son.

ANCIENT ORDER OF FORESTERS.

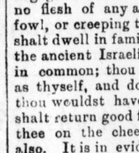

From an address delivered by W. Williams, of Toronto, permanent secretary of the Ancient Order of Foresters, at Court Forest City supper a few evenings ago, the following statistics are taken: Number of adult courts, 4,748; number of members, 715,000; accumulated capital, over $23,000,000; increase during year, 18,000 members and $800,000 funds; increase in membership in juvenile branch during the year, 1,945; total membership in juvenile branch, 796,176, with funds of $529,000, an increase during the year of $16,000; sick members visited, 250,000. The Supreme High Court of Canada has 10,700 members, with $200,000 funds; 15,000 juveniles, with $3,500 funds; over $60,000 has been paid for sick benefits since the formation of the Supreme High Court in 1881, an average of about $5 an hour. The Companions of the Forest have 1,500 members, and they are in good circumstances as far as funds are concerned.

MASONIC.

"The Ancient Order of Freemasons arose in India, and to-day there are orders in India that are Masons in principle and practice if not in name. The only difference in the Masonic fraternity of the occident and the orient is that the latter are strictly vegetarian, like the ancient orders named. The former have apostasized in so far as they eat flesh. The statement is based on the fact that the passwords and forms used by the master Masons in their lodge will pass a person into the sanctum sanctorum of an Indian temple. A master Mason of Europe actually passed himself into the sacred part of an adeptum of one of them.

I may shock the nerves of some who bitterly oppose secret societies in my statement that Jesus was a Freemason—not in name but in principle. Nominally he was an Essenean, which brotherhood in principle and practice were Masonic. With the exception of Paul all the apostles were without doubt born Esseneans. Peter's saying that "Nothing common or unclean had ever entered his mouth," is the equivalent of an acknowledgement that he was an Essenean. All the apostate Jews were flesh eaters. History says that the Esseneans, ancient Masons, lived in great purity of body and soul, bathed the whole body every morning at sunrise and were pledged to have no earth rulers save their rabbi.

The following were a few of their many exalted doctrines: Thou shalt keep the ten commandments of Moses; thou shalt not engage in war or abet war; thou shalt eat no flesh of any animal or fish or bird or fowl, or creeping thing created alive; thou shalt dwell in families after the manner of the ancient Israelites, who held all things in common; thou shalt love thy neighbor as thyself, and do unto thy fellow man as thou wouldst have him do unto thee; thou shalt return good for evil, if a man strike thee on the cheek, turn to him the other also. It is in evidence that Jesus scrupulously lived up to the letter and spirit of the Essenean doctrines."—[Dr. Tanner in Kansas City Times.

Kingsville Masons held a successful concert in the town hall last evening.

ODDFELLOWSHIP.

Twenty-one lodges and six encampments have taken action regarding the establishment of an Oddfellows' home in Rhode Island. Most of them are opposed to the project.

The American branch of Oddfellowship numbers fully 680,000; the Manchester Unity branch, 675,000—making a total of 1,355,000. Add to these figures the other smaller branches, and it will give about 1,750,000 devoted to dissemination of the principles of friendship love and truth.

Alex. McBride, formerly of London, but now residing in Calgary, has been appointed district deputy grand sire for Alberta. There are now five lodges in that district.

Renewed interest, it is said, is being manifestested in the order in Ontario. For the last two years the growth has been very satisfactory, but the coming winter promises a still greater increase. Several new lodges have been initiated in the eastern part of the Province, and extensive additions are being made to the membership.

Chicago Oddfellows talk of getting up higher than other people in that city by erecting a 34-story building. This will be fourteen stories higher than the highest in that city. If they are going to emulate the builder of the Tower of Babel it is to be hoped the result will be more satisfactory.

The Oddfellows in the United States and Canada are now said to constitute the largest fraternal organization in these two countries, exceeding the next largest, the Masons, by some thousands.

BRENER BROS.' NEW LEADER
The National Melodrama Brand, PATROL, Is Sure to Be a Winner.
Messrs. Brener Bros., the successful manufacturers of Nos. 182-190 Horton street, London, are in the field with a new leader, wh ch has been happily named "THE PATROL." They intend to make this cigar popular wherever the Union Jack and Stars and Stripes float. It is a Cuban hand-made cigar, of which the filler is all Havana, mild and fragrant. The label, which is the design of the Patrol Co., is strikingly original. The words in which the names of the manufacturers occur at appropriate intervals. Nothing in the way of a label that is so simple, and at the same time so rich and attractive, has been originated, and it would be impossible to present to the trade a more elegant package. "The Patrol," cigar is certain to win instant recognition, and to increase largely the annual output of its manufacturers.

WIVES AND DAUGHTERS
LONDON, CANADA.
WIVES AND DAUGHTERS is the only ladies' journal published in the West. It is read by about every man, woman and child in the City of London and its suburbs.
It reaches, besides, over 2,950 towns in Ontario and the adjoining Provinces, and a large number in the United States. Many of these towns regularly receive bundles containing between 75 and 100 copies.
WIVES AND DAUGHTERS was first published in October, 1890—only one year ago—and its circulation everywhere is steadily on the increase.
No ladies' journal is more widely or favorably known in Canada than WIVES AND DAUGHTERS. It is published in sixteen-page form on or about the 15th of each month.
A remarkable feature of WIVES AND DAUGHTERS is that it gives more for the money than any other ladies' journal in the world. The price is only 50c. for 1892, with balance of present year thrown in to new subscribers.
For subscribers to the Daily Advertiser or the Western Advertiser the rate will be only 25c. per annum.
As it is one of the best advertising mediums in the country, it will pay advertisers to use its columns. Advertising rates—which are moderate—will be made known on application.
A sample copy will be mailed to any address on receipt of 5c in coin or postage stamps.

"The Advertiser" is an organ of news and of thoroughly independent opinion. The ADVERTISER alone is responsible for opinions expressed in these columns.

"The Advertiser" advocates Continental Free Trade, and as early as possible after, free trade with the whole world.

"The Advertiser" looks forward with hope to Canada's future as that of an Independent Canadian Nationality, in equally friendly alliance with the United States and with Great Britain, believing that such a status would be best for Canada, best for Great Britain, and promotive of the best attainable relations with the United States. As to Imperial Federation, sometimes spoken of, the ADVERTISER as yet has seen nothing proposed that bears any stamp of practicability, and in any case infinitely prefers the grander and more really hopeful scheme of a federation of the English-speaking peoples of the world.

"The Advertiser" advocates prohibition of the manufacture and sale of intoxicating liquor; and all expedient general legislation and persuasion in the meantime.

"The Advertiser" is an advocate of equal rights for women, whether as regards the franchise, or equal wages for equal work.

"The Advertiser" is a believer in Christian Union, and considers the time has come when the various Christian denominations should come closer together. Those bodies which are now nearest should unite first. Under the present system there is an unjustifiable waste of men, means and effort. The ADVERTISER will endeavor to promote the movement for Christian union not alone by direct appeal and argument, but by seeking to present the best rather than the worst side of each denomination.

"The Advertiser" advocates Obligatory Voting as both necessary and practicable. Nothing would so much purify electoral contests. Nothing would so much enforce the idea that the franchise is a duty, not a chattel.

God's in His heaven,
All's right with the world.

GOLDWIN SMITH OPPOSED TO ANNEXATION.

Goldwin Smith is one of the few public men in Canada not afraid to take his fellow-Canadians into his confidence by speaking out his full mind.

That is not a reason for misrepresenting him, but the contrary.

That opinion in Canada is in a state of transition no one denies.

As to whither that stream or tendency directs, there is room for honest difference of opinion and for freedom of speech.

What is to be gained by misrepresenting one of the too few courageous men in our public life?

Goldwin Smith is not in favor of Annexation to the United States.

No man in Canada would be readier to spend his last dollar in resistance were any outside power to attempt the annexation of this country.

What Goldwin Smith DOES advocate is the fair and equal confederation of the various States of the present American Union with the various Provinces of the present Dominion of Canada.

That is not annexation. That is partnership.

Fair play is a jewel.

Misrepresentation is not fair play.

Goldwin Smith holds that a free and honorable and equal confederation of all North America would, while affording every guarantee for local self-government, local laws and local idiosyncrasies, be of incalculable advantage, by removing all causes of friction, to Great Britain, to the United States, to Canada, to mankind.

Let those who must, revile an able, disinterested, upright and courageous scholar and historian.

But let them not add to their attacks on free speech, and to their hypocritical conventionalities, by the outrageously false statement that Goldwin Smith is in favor of the annexation of Canada to the United States.

It is Political Union, not Annexation, of which Goldwin Smith is the strong and fearless advocate.

FOR RECIPROCITY.

Senator Morgan, a distinguished Alabama statesman, has just written a strong letter in favor of complete freedom of trade between Canada and the States. He states the case as follows:

"The commercial relations of our States to each other prove that the prosperity of the people is best secured by free trade. This is indisputable to countries having coterminous boundaries and a population belonging to the same race and speaking the same language. I believe that like relations would be beneficial between the United States and Mexico."

Undoubtedly. Who ever heard of a man being injured because he was able to buy and sell with his neighbors with perfect freedom?

TRIUMPH FOR PEACE.

The Bering Sea troubles between Great Britain and the United States, in the settlement of which Canada is vitally interested, are to be disposed of by arbitration.

This is another triumph for peaceful methods. Not so long ago a great deal of bloodshed would have taken place before a settlement was reached. The English-speaking race have gained sense by experience. War is always disastrous, win or lose.

The time has surely gone by when the two great branches of the English-speaking race would go to war on this or any other question that can fairly be settled by mutual forbearance and a due establishment of rights.

THE PLURAL MARRIAGE SYSTEM IN THE STATES DOOMED.

Is polygamy in Utah dead? This question is answered in the affirmative by Chief Justice Zane, of the Supreme Court of Utah, in the November Forum. When Joseph Smith became leader in the Mormon Church he declared that the Almighty had revealed to him that polygamy was right, and he adopted it as a doctrine. Smith promulgated the view entertained by polygamists, both ancient and modern, that certain traditions in the Old Testament warranted the taking of more than one wife. The article of faith soon became firmly entrenched among the sect, which, settling in a district far removed from the thickly-peopled portion of the country, multiplied with amazing rapidity, both through natural growth and accessions by immigration. Europe and even Canada was scoured for converts. The majority of the recruits were obtained from across the Atlantic. Canada was never a fertile field for the promotion of the doctrine of polygamy, though at various times disciples of Smith have threatened to practice it, and defy popular sentiment, on the ground that it is part of their religion, and that they are as much entitled to adopt the doctrine as are the Mahommedan subjects of Queen Victoria. There is a Mormon colony in the Northwest Territories, the managers of which, while outwardly obeying the law, continually threaten to practice polygamy. Popular feeling is strong against any infringement of the marriage law, and it is not likely that the authorities will be permitted to do more than grant the new settlers leave to live in a monogamous state.

It has been said, in parody of a well-known adage, that "railway communications corrupt good Mormons," and history is verifying the extemporized proverb. It was not till the modern distance annihilator reached Utah and the Gentiles began to flock into that country that the popular feeling in the States was strong enough to demand the repression of the system. As a result of the law of 1862, which defined plural marriage as a crime, an attempt was made to combat the system; but it was not until after the passage of the more stringent and comprehensive national enactment of 1882 that the fight fairly began. That law also defined and punished unlawful cohabitation as a crime, and under it the polygamists were hunted and ostracised. Still another law, designed to be more effective than its predecessors, was passed in 1887.

Judge Zane shows how opinion progressed both inside and outside the Mormon Church since these laws began to have a modifying effect. It was not till after more than 1,300 men had been sent to prison for violation of these laws that the President of the Mormon Church published a manifesto containing this language:

"We are not teaching polygamy or plural marriage, nor permitting any person to enter upon its practice. * * * Inasmuch as laws have been enacted by Congress forbidding plural marriages, which laws have been pronounced constitutional by the court of last resort, I hereby declare my intention to submit to those laws and to use my influence with the members of the church over which I preside to have them do likewise. * * * And I now publicly declare that my advice to the Latter Day Saints is to refrain from contracting any marriage forbidden by the law of the land."

This was the president's declaration. The church backed it up with this significant indorsement:

"I move that, recognizing Wilford Woodruff as president of the Church of Jesus Christ of Latter Day Saints, and the only man on earth at the present time who holds the keys of the sealing ordinances, we consider him fully authorized, by virtue of his position, to issue the manifesto which has been read in our hearing and which is dated Sept. 24, 1891; and that as a church in general conference assembled, we accept his declaration concerning plural marriage as authorative and binding."

Judge Zane found a very different demeanor in people awaiting sentence for violation of plural marriage laws. It was the judge's habit to be lenient, and even to liberate men who promised to obey the law in future. After the manifesto a bishop who had before refused to make a promise agreed thereafter to obey the law implicitly. The bishop said he changed his mind when the church changed its doctrine. It thus became apparent, in the judge's eyes, that polygamy was dying. To-day it is the belief of this experienced observer that the institution of polygamy, so far as Utah is concerned, is dead. It has been repudiated by the church and the people who founded and defended it. Judge Zane says in his glance at the future:

"The Mormon is with us. The same nature is common to us all. A Power higher than ourselves has so ordered. So far as he and we obey the law we are all equal before it. The forces of nature are changing the most durable objects in the finite world. Our natures and our beliefs are changed by the influences around us. So of that organization of which we are units—society. A better feeling is growing; prejudice and hate are losing their grip—slowly, it must be conceded. But I have no doubt that confidence, good-will and harmony will be restored sooner or later and that ere long these valleys and mountains will be the home of a patriotic, harmonious, progressive and great people."

This is a decidedly optimistic view, but it seems to be warranted. The irreconcilables have already acquired a large tract of territory in Mexico, where it is believed they will be permitted to practice their religion as they choose, and in all probability the upshot of the whole affair will be that the Church in Utah, making perhaps a virtue of necessity, will adhere to its determination to observe the national law, and thus hasten the time when their territory may become a State of the Union, an event which would have taken place long ago but for the desire of our neighbors to first put down polygamy. There is reason for believing that the pleasing prospect presented by Judge Zane will be realized in a non-polygamous community, for the Mormon people have always been a most industrious and prudent people. The plural marriage system has been their only shortcoming.

TOPICS OF THE DAY.

'WOULD to heaven," says the Simcoe Reformer, "the franchise law and the man who devised it were in the same place." So says everybody we meet.

MANY alleged cures for drunkenness are published these days, but none equal that proposed by our New York namesake. It is, in brief, "Stop drinking."

IF YOU wish to see the Inquisition, minus the the thumbscrews and kindred accessories, step up to the City Hall to-morrow and witness the "revision" of the Dominion voters' list. Every fair-minded citizen must condemn the men who persist in keeping that infamous measure on the statute book.

MISS FRANCES WILLARD suggests that a subscription should be started to found a John B. Gough professorship of total abstinence in the new American university that is to be established in Washington. This is a very proper proposition. John B. Gough did much for total abstinence, and his memory may fitly be perpetuated in such a manner as shall conduce to the spread of temperance sentiment in the land he loved so well.

A CONSERVATIVE newspaper, having reported that W. R. Meredith would enter the Dominion Cabinet, and that he would succeed Sir John Macdonald and run for Kingston, the Whig replies that the constituency has been "kept open for a long time, but not for Mr. Meredith's benefit." There is friction in the local ranks. Our contemporary more than hints that a Kingston candidate must be a local man. It is reasonable that a city should wish to be represented by one of its own citizens, and not by a resident of Toronto. That has always been the view in London, and we are not surprised to find the same idea prevail in Kingston.

THE Toronto Mail's London correspondent is very unjust in his report of the city voters' list revision. He tells less than half of the truth when he says:

"A large number of Liberal names were then struck off during the afternoon by the Conservative counsel."

The fact is that while a number of names of persons who had died, moved away, or otherwise lost their qualification were dropped—some by mutual consent—many names were put on at the instance of the Liberal agents. Of this the correspondent, for reasons best known to himself, takes no notice, but it looks a trifle one-sided. The Liberal objections to the list, by the way, will not be heard till Nov. 27. There are 600 or 700 of them.

THEY tell a good story at the expense of Sol. White, M.P.P., Western Conservative manager, who has come out as a full-blown annexationist. Sol. was one of the speakers at a meeting in favor of annexation in South Woodslee. He was received with vociferous cheering. He pegged away until a small boy pulled down a large curtain on the rear wall disclosing a cartoon of the "Hon. Sol" astride of a donkey, labeled "Annexation," making for the United States, being headed off by Premier Abbott, who drew up the original annexation manifesto. After this cycloramic performance there was nothing but fun. Poor Sol. will never hear the last of that donkey and his leader.

THERE are schools of weather prophets as well as of theology. Here in the far North, the doings of the ground hog and the chipmunk are the particular agents from which the data of the climatic prognosticator is taken. In the Torrid Zone, the prophets have to work from quite different premises. Near Quito, the capital of Ecuador, a city about twenty miles from the equator, yet having in sight eleven snow-capped mountain summits and possessing a climate like a raw New England spring, earthquakes are the weather sharps' strong hold. Quito is mainly noted for its luxuriant crop of earthquakes. There was a very severe shock of earthquake there three or four weeks ago, followed by a still stronger shock two days later. The last shock was followed by a heavy hail storm, which, a local paper says, is a sure sign that the winter will be as severe and as long as the summer we have had this year.

Among the Freaks.

"I'm very fond of travel," said the fat lady to the wild man of Borneo. "Ever been abroad?"

"No. To tell the truth, I ain't never been out o' New York," replied the wild man.

What is Melissa?

Burns, the clothiers, say that Melissa proofed coats or other garments are just what the inventor and manufacturers claim them to be, neither more nor less. They are both rain-proof, porous and odorless, therefor perfectly healthful and comfortable. They are common sense garments, and should be treated in a common sense manner. Although rain-proof, they are not water-proof in the sense that a water-cushion or bottle made of rubber is water-proof. Being porous, water can be forced through them, either by heavy pressure or by squeezing with the fingers. If they were absolutely water-proof, they would be absolutely air-tight, and therefore no better than rubber. Herein lies the peculiar value of the invention. Sensible people do not buy rain-proof garments for the purpose of forcing water through them, or of carrying water in them, neither do they take shelter under a water-spout, nor sit in a pool for pleasure. They buy rainproof garments to wear for the purpose of protecting themselves from the weather, and a Melissa coat or mantle will effectually protect the wearer for many hours in a heavy rain or snow storm. Melissa has a peculiar water-repellant property which prevents water, when falling in the form of rain or snow on a garment, from penetrating the cloth, and the true way to test the utility of a Melissa garment, is not by pouring a stream of water on it from a watering can, but by wearing it in a heavy rain storm. The result will be found eminently satisfactory. Continued exposure to the weather will not impair in the slightest degree the rain-proof quality of Melissa. It is fixed and permanent. These garments, thoroughly well made from fine materials are now on our counters in a variety of patterns and in all sizes.

An Aristocratic Athletic Club Losing Many Members.

Boxer Turned Wrestler—Sporting News in General.

ATHLETICS.

It is stated that the Pastime Athletic Club, of St. Louis, is losing members right and left on account of the aristocratic notions of those in charge. Baptiste, the champion wrestler, went to the club the other day wearing a black silk shirt and was told by a fellow member that it was far from proper; he should have worn the regulation "biled" shirt. Baptiste got mad, sold his stock and withdrew.

The Occidental Athletic Club, of San Francisco, has matched Bob Fitzsimmons, the champion middle-weight fighter, and Joe Acton to wrestle for a purse of $100 on Nov. 30. Fitzsimmons, having frightened the ambition out of all the pugilists by his easy defeat of Jack Dempsey, has had to turn to wrestling.

THE TURF.

The case involving the expulsion of the stallion Temple Bar, winner of the big Detroit stake, will be tried on application for reinstatement by the Board of Review of the National Trotting Association Dec. 1. Other parties than Spear and Sale are said to be implicated by recent developments, and the investigation may lead to further penalties being imposed.

BASEBALL.

The New York Press makes the sweeping statement that there was not a club in the country that did not lose money last season. The players have had the long end of it for three years now, and unless they even up matters there will be trouble.

WASHINGTON, Nov. 11.—The Board of Directors of the National Baseball League disposed of Chicago's protests against the award of the championship to Boston. The Chicago charges were found not to have been proven. N. E. Young was re-elected president and secretary and the pennant formally awarded to Boston.

FOOTBALL

Wurtemberg, of the N. Y. A. C. football team, who was so severely injured in the game Saturday, was resting quietly in the hospital yesterday. The attending physician says the injured man was suffering more from shock than anything else, and would come around all right in a day or two. Yesterday afternoon a young man with blackened eyes, swoolen nose, a lame leg and other indications of having been in a railroad accident, limped into the New York Athletic Club house and inquired in husky tones what had been heard regarding Wurtemberg's condition. Upon learning that the winged-foot kicker was all right the Inquirer said, "that's good," and limped out. The battered-up man was Donnelly, the enthusiastic player of the Manhattan A. C. team.—[New York Sun.

Teachers Who Are Dismissed Are Replaced.

First Fruits of the Qualification Report—A Batch of Applications—Letters to the "Advertiser"—A New English Master for the Institute—Important Business.

Some of the effects of Inspector Carson's recent report on the qualifications of London's public school teachers and resultant action were made evident last night by a batch of 39 applications for appointments to positions made vacant in consequence of that report, and which were handled by No. 1 Committee of the Educational Board. Twenty-one of these applications were from males and eighteen from females. From the former the names of George Kirk and S. P. Reynolds were selected as the most preferable. Mr. Kirk was recommended to the principalship of the Hamilton road school and Mr. Reynolds to that of the King street school. The former is at present head of the Chatham Model School, and the latter has been teaching at Allan Craig and Strathroy.

The eighteen ladies applied for eight positions, which are open in the Hamilton road, Lorne avenue and Rectory street schools. The inspector drafted a list of those whom he considered the most highly qualified, as follows: Misses Howie, Baxter, Giddens, Knott, Crowley, Morris, Field and Niall. Some of these have been substitutes and all are residents of the city.

The members talked a good deal about the recent letters in the ADVERTISER regarding the inspector's late report and other school matters. Trustees McElheran and Dewar made the charge that the letters over the signatures of Mr. Jarmain and Mr. Heaman were not written by those gentlemen at all. Mr. Yates thought one of the letters were hard on him. It was not right to characterize the Board's action in not giving the report to the public as "star-chamber" business; it was considered privately to save the reputation of the teachers affected. If the latter desired publicity, however, it was their own funeral.

Some discussion arose as to whether the report ought to be published in the printed minutes, and the affirmative maintained, although it was not deemed necessary to scatter them broadcast.

G. R. Faskin was appointed English master of the Collegiate Institute at a salary of $1,000 a year. He holds a similar position in Owen Sound, and is an honor man of Toronto University.

Dr. Ferguson's motion to have a quarterly sanitary inspection of schools and scholars was sent to the medical health officer to enforce it.

The applications of Messrs. Somerville and Hotson, of the insiltute, for salary increases were laid over pending the Government inspector's report.

Mr. D. A. McDermid was heard on the night school question, and $150 will be recommended towards its maintenance this year, Messrs. Baker and Althouse to be the masters. The request of the W. C. T. U. to introduce temperance literature and furnish sundry supplies was granted.

Applications from Misses C. Cassey, Clara Graham, Maggie Noble, Kate E. Cameron and Miranda Kirk, for appointment as kindergarten teachers, were placed on record.

Trustees Yates (chairman) Stephenson, Dewar, Allaster, McElheran and Jeffers, Secretary Abbott, Inspector Carson and Principal Merchant were present.

A CHANGE OF RESIDENCE.

Court Forest Queen, A. O. F., Celebrates Its Removal to a New Hall.

Court Forest Queen, A. O. F., has taken its quarters in that fine and commodious hall in the Duffield block. A grand concert and a supper last night were made primary factors in the celebration of this change of residence. Many were the guests and happy the occasion. Between the first and second parts of the programme was sandwiched a bounteous spread in the rear hall—a very acceptable variation.

Bro. A. O. Jeffery, High Court senior woodward, was the chairman of the evening, and with a few appropriate remarks introduced the following programme, well rendered and heartily received:

Timothy Talks.

LONDON, Nov. 11.—Timothy Harrington charges William O'Brien with concealing the most important part of the Parnell correspondence in the negotiations held by the Irish leaders in Boulogne at the beginning of the present year.

His Right Hand Grasped a Revolver.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—George Lawrence a Pittsburg mechanic was found dead in his bed in the Everett House this morning. A bullet wound was in his head and his right hand grasped a revolver. He left a note stating his intention to kill himself.

East Wellington Election.

FERGUS, Ont., Nov. 11.—The result of the election to fill the vacancy in the Ontario Legislature caused by the resignation of Col. Clarke (Reform), shows that James Kirkwood, reeve of Erin, has a majority of 96 over John Craig, of Fergus. Kirkwood's majority may yet be increased to 125. Craig was the nominee of the convention, but both candidates were Reformers.

HONEYMOON BAGGAGE.

A Cruel Joke Played by Friends on a Newly Wedded Couple.

PHILADELPHIA, Nov. 11.—Lieut. P. R. Brown, U. S. A., and bride, who were married on Monday at Phillipsburg, were the victims yesterday of a ludicrous practical joke at the hands of their friends. They boarded the Pittsburg day express, which reaches here about 6:30, and like most honymooners, tried to look and act like old married people.

Meanwhile their baggage was holding an impromptu reception in the baggage car. There were three brand-new trunks, and upon one of them a huge card, carefully painted, was tacked with large brass tacks, with the inscription:

Honeymoon Baggage
"Bride's Trousseau."

This was further ornamented with a large bow of white satin. On the second trunk was a placard like this:

Handle With Care.
"Just Married."

and another huge white satin bow. The groom's trunk was spared a label, but the satin bow was a trifle larger and more conspicuous than the others.

The baggage agent thought the thing too good to keep to himself, so he invited everybody in to enjoy the joke.

Of course everybody went through the car to find the young married couple, and equally of course the young married couple were easily found, and they wondered, as the people smiled broadly when they passed them, whether they were more conspicuously married than all the other young brides and grooms that had lived and moved and had their beings, or whether they were only suffering what thousands had done before them.

They never found out, and it is presumed that the trunks thus belabeled rolled up to some prominent Philadelphia hotel and gave the baggage smashers a treat.

TWO ERIE RAILWAY WRECKS.

An Employe Burned to Death—An Engineer Killed.

PORT JERVIS, N. Y., Nov. 11.—In a wreck on the Erie near Middletown last night several cars and the caboose of one of the trains were smashed. John Scott, the "greaser" was burned to death in his bunk.

NEW YORK, Nov. 11.—Train 8, a fast express, jumped the Erie track at Adrian between Hornellsville and Elmira at 12:50 o'clock this afternoon. Engineer Jas. Stockney was killed and three or four passengers were slightly injured. The combined car was turned over and burned. Engine and the day coach badly damaged, contents of the postal car saved, and the dining car and sleeper are all right.

MAN'S UNSELFISHNESS.

We have noticed that the man who has a scheme for getting rich is always looking for some one to sell it to.

EDWIN ARNOLD AND THE PRESS.

"I admire the American Press immensely," was the opinion Sir Edwin Arnold gave of American newspapers in a late interview with the reporter of the New York Herald. "Here you could not stand our slow, solid ways. There is no nobler profession than that of journalism. I have been through all grades from the penny a liner. Twenty years ago people looked down upon the journalist, but now he is looked up to and stands in the front rank."

HAVE YOU REPENTED SOL?

[Windsor Record.]

If the feeling for annexation grows in this country it will be in consequence of the restrictive trade policy inaugurated by Mr. Sol White's political friends and which had his support up to as late as March last. We have yet to hear that he has repented of his folly on that occasion. Although death bed repentances are not looked upon with much favor, it would be some satisfaction to hear from Mr. White on this question of trade restriction with the United States.

GREASING VS. BATHING.

[Philadelphia Record.]

A noted medical practitioner once told the writer that there was no need of bathing. "You might as well grease yourself all over," said he. "Look at the noble Comanche. Where will you find a more lithe and lusty specimen of agile, muscular manhood? He never bathes. He hates the water with as keen an antipathy as does a mad dog. Take my advice, young man. Imitate the Comanche. What he knows he knows by experience, just as a bear knows that his place is on dry land, and as a beaver knows he can live in the wet."

A PLEA FOR BRICK PAVEMENTS.

[Ottawa Free Press.]

Western physicians have come to the conclusion that cedar block pavements are prejudicial to public health in those cities where they are in use, as they harbor the germs of typhoid and other diseases. There is talk of tearing up the cedar pavements which have been put down at great expense in Toronto. All over the country the cedar block pavement is being condemned, and the general concensus of opinion is that in those cities which cannot afford granite or solid asphalt good brick is about the best material for paving streets. Brick pavements last well, are easily repaired, and no objection can be urged to them on sanitary grounds.

Germany has 10,000 locomotives.

The Canadian Pacific Railway Company return of traffic earning from Nov. 1 to Nov. 7, 1891, shows: Earnings, $466,000; 1890 earnings, $429,000. Increase for 1891, $37,000.

According to a United States census bulletin the amount paid by the railroads of the Middle States, in interest, rentals and dividends aggregates $812,387,016, which averaged equals $4,802 per mile for each year. Allowing this to be five per cent., the roads as an investment, are worth $96,052 60 per mile. Estimated in the same way New England railroads are worth $53,522 per mile.

"German Syrup"

Asthma. Gentle, Refreshing Sleep.

"I have been a great sufferer from Asthma and severe Colds every Winter, and last Fall my friends as well as myself thought because of my feeble condition, and great distress from constant coughing, and inability to raise any of the accumulated matter from my lungs, that my time was close at hand. When nearly worn out for want of sleep and rest, a friend recommended me to try thy valuable medicine, Boschee's German Syrup. I am confident it saved my life. Almost the first dose gave me great relief and a gentle refreshing sleep, such as I had not had for weeks. My cough began immediately to loosen and pass away, and I found myself rapidly gaining in health and weight. I am pleased to inform thee—unsolicited—that I am in excellent health and do certainly attribute it to thy Boschee's German Syrup. C. B. STICKNEY, Picton, Ontario."

The Oil Market.

PETROLEA, Nov. 11.—Oil opened and closed to-day at $1 50.

Live Stock Markets.

EAST BUFFALO.

EAST BUFFALO, N. Y., Nov. 12.—Cattle—Offerings, six or eight cars of mostly trashy stock, of which a load or two peddled out.
Sheep and Lambs—The market was almost at a standstill to-day. Seven cars held over from yesterday, about equally divided between Canada and native stock, and fifteen cars of fresh Canada lambs came in in the afternoon, and four cars of fresh western lambs. Trade was bad, and values were off 10c to 15c. Canada lambs were reported bad in New York, and Jersey markets and eastern buyers here kept aloof, picking up an occasional load; best Canadas, $4 40 to $4 50; choice, $4 25 to $4 35; prospects discouraging.
Hogs—Forty cars on sale; market dull and lower fully 15c to 20c per cwt.; a Canadian buyer took a load or two, but New York and eastern buyers took nothing, and the bulk held over unsold.

CHICAGO.

CHICAGO, Nov. 12.—Hogs—Receipts, 42,000; quality a little better; left over, 11,000; market rather active, and prices steady at the decline late yesterday, packers and shippers buying freely. Sales ranged at $2 30 to $3 50 for pigs, $3 40 to $3 80 for light, $3 50 to $3 65 for rough packing, $3 50 to $3 90 for mixed, and $3 70 to $4 for heavy packing and shipping lots.
Cattle—Receipts 14,000; quality fair; market active on local and shipping account and prices well supported. Quotations ranged at $5 90 to $6 30 for prime to shipping steers, $4 20 to $4 80 for good to fancy do, $3 to $4 for common to medium do, $3 60 to $4 25 for butchers' steers, $1 80 to $2 60 for stockers, $2 to $3 50 for Texans, $2 50 to $4 40 for rangers, $2 50 to $3 40 for feeders, $1 50 to $3 50 for cows, $1 25 to $2 75 for bulls, and $2 25 to $5 25 for veal calves.
Sheep—Receipts, 7,000; quality rather good; market active and prices 5c to 10c higher. Quotations ranged at $3 50 to $4 70 for westerns, $3 75 to $5 15 for natives, $3 50 to $5 25 for lambs.

Barley Market.

BUFFALO, Nov. 12.—No barley in during the past 24 hours and none out by canal. The market was steady, with some sales of No. 3 extra Canada on track at Black Rock at prices said to be 83c to 84c. A round lot of No. 2 western sold on private terms, said to be 69½c, and there is fair inquiry for this grade. Fancy western remains unchanged at 70c, and Iowa feeding barley at 58c to 60c. No. 2 Canada is offered at 88c, but there is no demand. At Oswego, no receipts of Canada and 56,000 bushels western. No. 2 extra held at 88c at Albany. Market quiet, within range of 87c to 97c for No. 4 extra to top grades. The western markets are quiet and without quotable change.
OSWEGO, Nov. 12—11 a.m.—Canadian barley market quiet; No. 2 offerings at 83c, and extra No. 2 at 89c. Receipts, 56,000 bushels western barley; shipments, 180,000 bushels.

TORONTO MATTERS.

The Mayoralty Canvass—A Boy Crushed to Death.

TORONTO, Nov. 13.—The committee having the matter in hand called on Mr. E. B. Osler yesterday and presented him with a list of 2,000 signatures to a petition that he should be a candidate for the mayoralty. Mr. Osler has decided to enter the field.
At a meeting of the Ratepayers' Association Executive last night a resolution was passed condemning the candidature for the mayoralty of any man who is a director of a railway company, the resolution being aimed at Mr. E. B. Osler.
A young boy named John Sinclair, residing with his parents at 94 Ulster street, met his death yesterday in Yonge street market. He was found by a caretaker jammed between the elevator and the wall in the basement of the building, and when released his neck was found to be broken. It is not known how the boy came to be there. Attention was drawn to him first by a whining of a dog that belonged to the lad.
At the Jarvis Street Baptist Church yesterday morning Rev. W. H. Cline denounced in strong terms the corruption recently brought to light in Canadian politics.
Thanksgiving day passed off very quietly in Toronto. The sham battle between the two city regiments, that has marked Thanksgiving day for some years past, gave place yesterday to a special drill and review of the volunteers at Norway.
Emily Hickson was received into the haven on Tuesday evening and given a bed on the third flat. During the night she jumped out of the window, smashing another on the second flat in her fall. She was removed to the hospital perfectly conscious and was found to have escaped without serious injury.
Andrew McDonald, a carpenter residing at 34 Oxford street, broke both bones of one leg while playing football at Scarboro' yesterday.

PERISHED IN THE FLAMES.

Another Disastrous Fire in China—13,000 Families Homeless—Many Lives Lost.

LONDON, Nov. 13.—Advices from Hankow, China, state that after the great fire of Oct. 3, when 1,300 houses were destroyed and 13,000 people were rendered homeless, another fire broke out on Oct. 5, which swept away 200 more houses. A number of women and children were burned to death.

MUSICAL AND DRAMATIC.

Lydia Thompson's season will open Nov. 23. She will go out under her own management.
Lewis Morrison is to play a piece now being written for him by Joaquin Miller. It is to be called "The Red Shield."
"The Showman's Daughter" is the title of a comedy in three acts by Frances Hodgson Burnett that has just been acted at the Theater Royal, Worcester, England.
A new play by Jerome K. Jerome called "The Counselor's Wife" has been accepted by Charles Frohman, who will produce it before the end of the season.
Maggie Cline, the Hibernian vocalist of Tony Pastor's show in New York, says she is a living instance of the power of women in politics. "I didn't vote," says she, "but my song, 'McCormick's Irish Flats,' swelled Governor Flower's plurality 1,007 votes. I know it because I have received that many letters from people who claimed to have voted for him through hearing me sing it, and they all want my influence for places ranging all the way from a job on the big pipes to head clerks of departments." Here is a hint for campaign managers in Canada.

Rats Root Up Everything.

PANAMA, Nov. 13.—The southern provinces of Ayacucho, Parinachohas and Lucanas departments, and as far north as the Province of Andahuaplas, Peru, a terrible plague of rats, called icuchas, has made its appearance, and the inhabitants are in a perfect state of consternation. The little brutes root up everything in the farms, and destroy whole plantations of grain, not leaving even a blade of grass to be seen in the pastures and fields. Wherever they pass they leave on the earth a new layer of very fine dust. The natives, to save what little they have in their granaries, keep watch all night and light fires around the houses, thus keeping off the rats.

Fire.

Those exposed to imminent danger and sudden casualties, like Mr. Aitchison, Hamilton, Ont., Fire Department, know the full value of the great remedy. He says he met with a serious accident, injuring his back and shoulders in a terrible manner, but by the use of St. Jacobs Oil he was completely restored. It is the best.

"By their fruits shall ye know them." This is an indisputable truism; its applicability has a wide range. The 10 cent Norma cigar is the product of the H. McKay & Co.'s cigar factory, and they speak volumes for that establishment in its particular line of business. In these delicious cigars nothing but the finest of material is used, and to a connoisseur are indispensable.

Can thank you most heartily for asking me to try "Diamond Tea," for in three weeks after taking it boils were not only all gone, but even the marks were undiscernible, and I had also gained 12 pounds in weight. The Muqaddam of Spins.

"A mote dancing in a sunbeam—the sun has set—the mote is gone — whither? — into a brother's eye, perchance. Well, if he be a true brother, it is safer there than in the sun."—Dark Sayings, by an Utterer.

"It must be Panorama Point to-day," cried Kate. She was mounted on Hyder, a Cabul pony, and was waiting the escort of Colonel Ferrers for an afternoon ride. "Old Silver is game for the dizzy steep, isn't he?"

The colonel assented, not quite certain that old Silver's master was equally "game." Marmaduke was feeling the effects of the climate.

"We shall have to go in Indian file most of the way, which is a position I shall find distinctly tantalizing, with Miss Oakley for my companion," said he.

"Well, you must be content to follow the leader to-day;" and Kate set off at a smart pace on her sturdy cob, followed by the white charger.

Pipette, in riding gear, had caught from her veranda, which overlooked the Hermitage, the words "Panorama Point." Her heart was hot within her as she saw (herself unseen) the riders wind up the avenue, Colonel Farrers' handsome face bent down over the saddle-bow towards the bright face of Kate Oakley. "I, too, will ride to Panorama Point," thought Pipette. "Kate shall learn from me how cold-blooded and cruel Marmaduke can be." Revenge is sweet even to a sweet-natured woman. Untrue; but said as a concession to Diogenes and other tubbers. And so Pipette rode forward on her little gray Arab, which was as dear to her as a daughter.

The path to Panorama Point turns off abruptly from the main road at a corner where a clump of trees, overarching, form a kind of bower known as the Chota Tope. The riders had passed this, just as Pipette came up, and saw to her dismay that Kate was heading the line of march, the colonel following. She had hoped to get directly behind the girl, and on some pretext or other to cause her to lag behind, thereby securing time and occasion to pour "the leprous distillment" into her ear. But her plan was balked. To follow and change an opportunity for mischief, was all that remained to her, and so a third figure on horseback was seen rounding the corner that led on to the perilous path. Panorama Point is only to be reached after an hour's riding at a very slow pace along what at first sight looks like the bare face of a precipice, but which nearer inspection shows to be a very narrow path. On one side there is a descent more or less abrupt of twelve hundred or fifteen hundred feet into the gorge below; on the other a sloping acclivity dotted with Karinda bushes and a few trees, a road requiring a quiet hill pony, strong nerves, and a steady head. Panorama Point is regarded in the light of an adventure.

Kate, with her ghorawallah or groom at Hyder's head, was making her way at a rapid pace along the mountain-side, old Silver picking his steps gingerly behind, distrustful in some measure of the straight and narrow way; and a good many yards behind the colonel Pipette, her heart beating fast, and her little Arab stepping along in proud emulation of the charger's stride. On rode the three, and no word broke the stillness. Colonel Ferrers never turned his head, and Pipette did not know if he heard the sound of her horse's feet, for the wind was blowing in her face. Kate was now far ahead, and had disappeared from sight round a curve. Pipette looked across the long valley. Range after range of weird, flat-topped masses of hill stretched away to a golden sea. A huge, square mass of purple mountain, with a fantastic rock pepper-pot jutting out from its side, dominated the foreground. There was beauty, the beauty of "a land that is very far off," and it touched Pipette with a feeling of awe for "the incomparable pomp of eve." Turning her dazzled eyes once more ahead, she saw the charger stop. With a stifled groan his rider slid from the saddle and fell heavily on the side nearest the upland slope. In an instant Pipette was on the ground beside him, her arm passed through the bridle of her horse. Silver had moved on a few paces. Pipette knelt down and raised Marmaduke's head, moistening his brow with eau-de-Cologne. He was in a dead faint. Presently he came to himself, and staggered to his feet.

"I never had a good head—shouldn't have risked playing the fool, but—er, I beg your pardon. I—ah, see I—ah, owe my recovery to a—a stranger." Here giddiness again overcame him, and he would have fallen had not Pipette caught him, and let him down gently on to the bank. He was pale and trembling all over. "This is pretty humiliating," he muttered.

"Shut your eyes," said Pipette, who was a woman of action. "I will lead you home."

He leant back, half unconscious, while Pipette stood by full of anxious fears, with a tide of awakened early love flooding her heart. Her reverie was broken in upon by the sounds of hoofs, and round the curve came Kate on her Cabulee. Pipette went to meet her.

"Miss Trenchard!—you here! What is the matter? Has Colonel Ferrers been thrown?" and the girl looked from one to the other with strained expression and parted lips.

"Colonel Ferrers turned giddy and faint. Will you ride home and send the tonga to us at the Chota Tope? Your man can take Silver and my horse. I will guide Colonel Ferrers to the main road when he is able to move."

"As you please," answered Kate, with a shrug. She hated to see a man at a disadvantage. The animal instinct which induces flocks and herds to close round and trample upon a sick member of their kind was strongly latent within her. (Concessions to Diogenes, sops to Cerberus, always on hand, you see.) She had no sympathy with the sick or sorry, and she relegated Colonel Ferrers then and there to the limbo of the aged and incurable—to "the portion of weeds and out-worn faces." She was not sorry for him—only angry with him; and underlying the hot rebellion of her spirit there was a subtle sense of a past shared by these two—an intuition of a claim on Pipette's part to succor, which gave her a distinct yet indefinable shock.

A little later Marmaduke, leaning on Pipette's arm, was slowly moving homewards. At one point, where the road widened for a few paces, she bade him rest on a moss-clad rock, while she stood gazing at the view. As she half turned again, the glory of the sunset fell full on her face and shining hair.

"Pipette! is it you? We meet at last," he cried.

* * * * * * *

The tonga waited for two mortal hours at the Chota Tope.

"Sahib must be plenty sick," said the coachman. But the sahib was smiling all over his face when he helped the lady into the tonga and next day all Tundarat and Kilijigaum knew that Colonel Ferrers and Pipette Trenchard were to be married after the rains.

Pipette and Marmaduke were very happy in these first days—our "revival meetings," as Pipette called the courtship. The torch of love had never gone out in all the long years, and the "ashen gray delight" burst into clear flame once more. Marmaduke is not a name that lends itself readily to endearing abbreviations. "Marmee" is suggestive of an old woman, "Duke" too cold. Of course he had been "Marmalade" at Eton and in the regiment; but no romantic woman could call her adorer "Marmalade"—at least not in that early Victorian era to which Pipette belonged, when furniture and fashions were hideous, and women were pretty and sentimental. I don't know what Pipette did with his name, I only know she was a moving embodiment of bliss tempered by experience. And now the fairy godmother put on the wings of Azrael and came down to visit poor little Pipette for the last time.

"You should never have brought your sister back to Kalijigaum when the cholera was raging, Mr. Trenchard," said Dr. M'Anodyne. "I don't think she'll pull through." And she did not pull through! "Showed pluck to the very end, man; we'll never see the like of Pipette on this side of time," said the doctor, creeping away in the early dawn.

Safe at last from "the slings and arrows of outrageous fortune," safe among the rank grass of the English burying ground at Kalijigaum, sleeps Pipette. And she had her wish. On a white tombstone, in black letters, are the words—

PIPETTE,
MUQADDAM OF SPINS.
BORN 18—. DIED 18—.

THE WEEK, one of the ablest papers on the continent.—[Descriptive America.

$3 per Year. Published Every Friday. $2 for 8 Mos.
THE WEEK
A Canadian Journal of Politics, Literature, Science and Arts.

THE WEEK has been greatly enlarged and improved, rendering it still more worthy the cordial support of every one interested in the maintenance of a first-class literary journal. Recognizing with gratitude the generous support it has received since the publication of the first number, it hopes to win the approval of a wider constituency and reach a much larger circle of readers.

The independence in politics and criticism which has characterized THE WEEK ever since its first issue, more than eight years ago, will be rigidly maintained; and unceasing efforts will be made to improve its literary character and increase its value and attractiveness as a journal for the cultured home. Many new and able writers are now, or have promised to become, contributors to its columns, and the constant aim of the Publisher will be to make THE WEEK fully equal to the best literary journals in Britain and the United States.

As heretofore, London, Paris, Washington and Montreal Letters from accomplished correspondents will appear at regular intervals.

THE WEEK enlarged is the same size as "Harper's Weekly," and the largest paper of its class on the continent.

I regard THE WEEK as one of the most interesting and satisfying literary publications in America; and certainly there has been no period in its history when its excellence was so marked as at present.—[T. W. Longley, Attorney-General of Nova Scotia, Halifax.

Taxation on Income.

"No. 6 Ward" writes: "I reside in No. 6 Ward and am employed in No. 1 Ward as a clerk. I am assessed for my house in No. 6 and for my income in No. 1, and have the benefit of the exemption in No. 6 Ward—on my income. Is this according to law?"

Chancery Court Sittings.

Brereton vs. Armstrong and Robinson was an action brought to set aside an agreement by which the plaintiff, Kate Brereton, a member of the Salvation Army, residing in Newbury, agreed to release the defendant, Matthew Armstrong, farmer, who was alleged to be the father of her illegitimate child, from all claims which she or any other person might have, on account of the seduction, in support of the child on payment of $200. The grounds of complaint were infancy, improvidence and fraud. The defendant, Armstrong, denied fraud, and claimed indemnity from the defendant, Robinson, who had joined in the agreement apparently for the purpose of indemnifying Armstrong from further claims, but Robinson alleged that he did not know the nature of the document and thought he was signing only as a witness to the settlement. His lordship reserved judgment. E. Meredith, Q.C., and E. R. Cameron for plaintiff, Magee, Q.C., and Stewart (Glencoe) for defendant Armstrong, Toothe for defendant Robinson.

Humane Society Work.

Some reports were made at the last meeting of the London Humane Society, which, if true, disclose a couple of cases that should be looked into. In one instance it was alleged that in East London three small children were forced through destitution and parental brutality to live and sleep in an outhouse, with scarcely enough clothing to cover them. A committee composed of ladies was appointed to investigate. Another startling case just outside the city limits was reported. The family in question make firelights for a living, and it is said the father compels his wife and several small children to live in a barn-like structure and devote their whole attention to this work, while he loafs around the city. The resinous composition of the firelights is alleged to have adhered to the flesh of the children, rendering their condition and appearance filthy. Several members of the society will drive out and inspect the place and people. A city gravel contractor's horses have been sent back to the stables seven times because of improper condition and the owner will be summonsed if he works them before they are fit. A case of dehorning cattle will be attended to and minor cruelties within the scope of the society's objects will be investigated.

Benwell—Boultbee.

St. James' Church was crowded yesterday morning with a number of the leading citizens of Vancouver, who assembled there to witness the marriage of Mr. J. O. Benwell, second son of Mr. Charles Benwell, of Blackheath, Kent, Eng., to Miss Helen E. Boultbee, youngest daughter of the late Mr. Washington Boultbee, of Thornvale, Ancaster, Ont. The ceremony was performed by the Rev. H. G. F. Clinton. The bride was attired in an electric blue dress with beaver trimmers, and hat to match, and looked very pretty in this becoming costume. Her brother, Mr. John Boultbee, gave her away, while Miss Alexander, who was dressed in grey tweed, attended her as bridesmaid. The bridegroom was supported by Mr. L. Doucet. After the ceremony a reception was given at the residence of Mr. John Boultbee, on Howe street, which was attended by a great many of their friends. The newly married couple were in receipt of a large number of presents from their many friends and acquaintances. They left on the Islander yesterday for Victoria, from where they will proceed to San Francisco, which is to be their future home.—[Vancouver News-Advertiser. Miss Boultbee has many friends in London, she having been a frequent visitor here while her brother practiced his profession in this city.

Among the Embryo Medicos.

At a recent meeting held in the Western University it was decided to hold the annual dinner as usual in connection with the university. The students met yesterday to elect the officers therewith, Samuel Gibson in the chair and J. D. McLeay acting as secretary. The meeting proved an exciting one. Alf. Hughes and R. Gubbins were nominated for president, and after a great deal of discussion Mr. Hughes obtained the honor. The other officers were: First vice-president, Scott McDonald; second vice-president, C. W. Peart; third vice-president, J. James; secretary, F. Hughes. J. McGinnis and T. Flaherty were appointed to respond to the undergraduates' toast. The Management Committee consists of Pete Wood, W. Snaw, J. D. McLean, H. Ferguson and R. Gubbins; and the Reception Committee of Jas. Parker, H. Noyes, Sam J. Weisbrod, H. Patrick and Frank Deveney. The musical programme will be looked after by Bert Leys, Pete Wood and J. Parker. J. Nixon and W. McGuffin were appointed delegates to Trinity and Toronto Universities respectively. The boys expect to have a splendid dinner this year, and everything is being done to make it enjoyable.

The Inquisition at the City Hall.

"A Visitor to the City Hall" writes: A person breathing the fetid atmosphere of the City Hall during the past two days and listening to the revision of the voters' lists before the revising barrister might well ask: 'Am I living in free Canada? Is this the boasted liberty of the nineteenth century?' Young men whose faces bore unmistakable evidence that they are honest, sober and industrious—that they were endeavoring to earn an honest living — were cruelly dragged from their work and compelled to give evidence respecting their right to vote, or by threats were forced to give testimony against their fellow employes and their personal friends. What a temptation is placed before a young man to do wrong. Take for instance a young man who is the full age of 21 years. He is learning a trade, qualifying himself to be one of Canada's artisans, he earns but $250 a year. He in the midst of a crowd, is compelled to tell the world that he earns insufficient to vote. He is therefore deprived of his rightful franchise. The temptation to do wrong is great, particularly when he observes that the sons of wealthy men, many of whom do not work, are permitted to vote.

What an injustice, what a disgrace, to this Dominion! Why should a man have to proclaim to the world how much he earns? This is a question we are all sensitive about, and yet in this very city we have witnessed the melancholy spectacle of proud, spirited young men compelled to tell, under oath, upon what they defend for support. It is creditable to the morality of the community that in spite of the difficulty of obtaining a vote, scores of young men, and for that matter old men, too, at great personal sacrifice, subserved laudable pride and left their work and submitted to the impudence and impertinence of lawyers to obtain their rights so that when the opportunity occurs they will have the chance to vote against the men who put this expensive iniquitous, and disgraceful Franchise Act upon the statute book. The day of retribution is coming. Thousands will soon resent the insults they have received in their endeavors to obtain their lawful right by the exercise of that right in ousting the present Government, which is responsible for this flagrant outrage on the community. Under the Ontario Act every self-sustaining man has a vote, and has not to go on the gridiron of legal inquisitiveness before he gets it. It is his by virtue of his citizenship. That is the truly fair franchise; but it would not suit the monopoly men.

FUEL, WATER AND GAS.

Some $217 85 Worth of Unauthorized Repairs Ordered—A Coal Contract—Street Watering.

"Well, this looks rather high handed," remarked one of the members of No. 3 Committee of the Council at a meeting last night.

The reason of the utterance lay in the fact that $217 85 worth of repairs to city watering carts had been ordered by Street Watering Inspector Isaacs and the accounts certified to by the city engineer, not an inkling of which transaction had previously come to the committee's notice. An explanation will be asked for.

A. D. Cameron & Son's bill for coal brought to his feet Maurice Baldwin. Some of the accounts were dated in October and Maurice claimed the money should be his as he had the coal contract until Nov. 1, 1891. Maurice became very noisy and hinted that he had been purposely deprived of his alleged rights, whereupon the chairman warned him that he might be put out of the room if he didn't hold his tongue. The engineer will be asked how the coal was ordered, and in the meantime the amount delivered last month will be deducted from Cameron's bill.

Street Watering Inspector Isaacs submitted a detailed annual report in which he stated that 117 blocks were included in the contracts this year and 27 miles of streets were watered daily. Maurice Baldwin had given him more trouble than the other contractors and Victoria Park had been somewhat neglected. The new sprinkler was a great improvement over the old pattern.

Up rose Maurice again: "This man has been on my back all summer," said he. "I suppose he was placed in his position for that purpose. My work has been done well."

The report was filed. Chief Roe and the engineer will report on the condition of the tanks and carts.

The Council had referred all the applications for electric lights to No. 3. Ald. Skinner wanted the business taken up at once.

Ald. Thomas—If you think that will do you good, you are mistaken; it will kill you for re-election and create a great deal of trouble. If you are going to open up the question, we want 25 lights in South London.

Chairman Fitzgerald said more lights were needed in his ward also.

The question will be handled at a special meeting to be held Nov. 28.

Tenants in the market house get their gas at present through the city meter and the amounts of their respective gas rate cause much troublous calculation. The committee issued instructions to have separate meters put in awhile ago and the matter will be pressed.

The engineer will look into a request of Market Clerk Wilson's for several repairs, and he will be furnished with fuel and stovepipes.

Mr. Mulvaney was licensed to sell medicine in the market. He will be repaid his license fee, and in future such occupation disallowed on the premises.

Aldermen F. J. Fitzgerald (chairman), Skinner, J. Fitzgerald, Thomas, W. W. Fitzgerald, Secretary Bell, Market Clerk Wilson, Chief Roe and Inspector Bell were present.

The Great Benefit
which people in run-down state of health derive from Hood's Sarsaparillia conclusively proves that this medicine "makes the weak strong." It does not act like a stimulant, imparting fictitious strength, but Hood's Sarsaparillia builds up in a perfectly natural way all the weakened parts, purifies the blood and assists to healthy action those important organs, the kidneys and liver. c

IT SAVED HER LIFE.
A Letter to the Ladies.

TORONTO, Oct. 21, 1891.
I take great pleasure in informing you that a year ago Histogenetic Medicines cured me of a serious attack of paralysis. Three years ago I had a sudden stroke while sitting on a sofa; a second one fourteen months ago while lying in bed. All I did for it failed to do much good. My voice and all one side were badly affected. At last I tried Dr. J. Eugene Jordan's Histogenetic Remedies. In three months my voice became strong. My limbs, which were almost useless, regained full power. I no longer needed to be assisted to the table or from any one place to another. My muscles developed wonderfully, considering that I am 74 years of age. I can walk to church and back regularly. The effect has been permanent now for about twelve months. Last April I had a severe attack of pneumonia and Histogenetic Remedies cured me in a few days, and on the 8th of this month I took congestion of the liver and right lung. I was so bad I could not have lived long. In a few hours the Histogenetic Remedies once more gave immediate relief. It is only two weeks, and I am sitting up every day and nearly well. To say that my faith in Histogenetic Medicines is strong but faintly expresses it. Try it, ladies, for these or any other complaints and be convinced. Dr. Rear, of Toronto, is allowed to give my name and address to any inquirers similarly affected.
Respectfully,
MRS. ——, Toronto.

492 Spadina avenue, Toronto, Oct. 13, 1891.
Gentlemen,—I had that dreadful disease, la grippe, last March, which left my system in a weak condition and my head distracted. If I moved my head or stooped it produced pain and an indescribable feeling. Great debility followed, palpitation and approaching heart failure, nervous prostration and general loss of strength and a feeling of internal pressure. I consulted Dr. Rear, who prescribed the Histogenetic Medicines of Dr. J. Eugene Jordan for me. In two weeks I was some better. I gained in strength. The medicines very soon commenced to build me up. I continued to gain, and after taking only one complete course all my symptoms were better. That is three months ago and not a trace of grippe is left. I feel well. The effect is abiding. The medicines are good to take and leave no ill effect. I hope all needing treatment may try this beautiful system. It is far better than taking poisonous drugs. Yours gratefully,
SARAH TOOLE.
N. B.—Mrs. Toole is a lady of about 65 years of age, of delicate frame, and of such a very few only out of every hundred have entirely recoved from that fatal disease.
