Panic - Stricken Inmates Plunge From Windows to Death Below.

Kansas City, Oct. 25. - More than a score of lives are believed to have been lost in a fire that destroyed the fourstory Chamber of Commerce building, in the River View district of Kansas City, Kansas, early today. When the fire broke out 200 persons were asleep in the building, the three upper floors of which were occupied by families and lodgers. The walls of the building were of brick and stone, but the floors and partitions were of wood. No register was kept of the occupants, and it is not known exactly how many persons were in the building. Several hours must searched. Estimates of the number of dead are based largely on the number reported missing. The dead so far as positively known are:

Robert Burton, stone mason.

The building, used as a tenement-house, and containing 100 rooms, held as near as can be learned between 200 and 300 persons at the time the fire broke out at 12:30.

Most of these composed families, many others were transients, whose names are unknown. # Headquarters For Skinner's Famous High-Grade Satins

Several years ago the Wm. Skinner Manufacturing Co. conferred upon this store the privelege of an exclusive agency for London for their Satin.

We still hold the exclusive right to sell Skinner's Satin in this city—and consider the privelege a very valuable one.

Today Skinner's Satin is famous all over America. The most high-class dressmakers and tailors who cater to a most exclusive and critical clientelle demand it to line the elegant garments designed by them.

Skinner's Satin is chosen by the most particular fur makers to line their expensive lines of fur coats, muffs, stoles and other fur articles. And a lining must be of superb quality, wear long, and retain its original color-brilliancy to be used for such a Skinner's Satin has a firmer, more beautiful surface than common satins.

The SILK THREADS that form its face are of superb quality. Compare them with the silk threads used in common satins and you'll find them thicker and stronger.

And there are more of these strong, firm, PURE SILK threads to the inch in the face of Skinner's Satin than thin, flimsy threads in common satins-because Skinner's Satin is tightly woven-and common satin loosely

Being tightly woven the face does not become puffed or the threads pull loose as is the case with common satins.

Only pure vegetable dyes are used in the manufacture of Skinner's Satin. That's why the color tones are of such remarkable beauty. brilliancy and permanency.

And these pure dyes add to the wearing quality of Skinner's Satin. Do not destroy the life-wear-resisting qualities-of the silk threads, like cheap, strong, chemically adulterated dyes do-and common satins are loaded with these cheap, wear-destroying dyes.

So sure are the manufacturers that Skinner's Satin will give the utmost satisfaction that they cause the name

Of course this high grade satin costs a little more than common satins-but the difference in cost is entirely offset in the additional length of time it will wear, the satisfaction it will return, and the degree of elegance it gives to a garment.

WORK OF A FAMOUS SPECIALIST THAT HAS ATTRACTED GREAT ATTENTION.

Mix half an ounce of the Pure Virgin Oil of Pine with two ounces of glycerine and half a pint of good whisky; shake well and use in teaspoonful doses. A famous throat and lung specialist, who established a camp for consumptives in the pine woods of Maine, and whose remarkable cures there have attracted great attention from the medical world, declares that the above formula will heal the lungs and cure any cough that is curable. It will break up a cold in 24 hours. The ingredients can be secured from any good prescription druggist at small cost. Inquiry at the prescription department of a leading pharmacy clicited the information that the Pure Virgin Oil of Pine is put up only in half-ounce vials for dispensing; each vial is securely sealed in a round wooden case with engraved wrapper, showing the name-Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure)-plainly printed thereon. There are many rank imitations of Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure), which are put out under various names, such as Concentrated Oil of Pine, Pine Balsam, etc. Never accept these as a substitute for the Pure Virgin Oil of Pine as they will invariably produce nausea and never effect the desired result.

Virgin Oil of Pine (Pure) is also said to be a perfect neutralizing agent for uric acid.

Michael Belsky, a chairmaker, with his wife and baby, was just sitting down to dinner Saturday night in their two-room home on the fourth floor of the house, when they heard a knock at the door. There stood Sam Lieberman, who keeps a saloon next door, with Polski, a friend of Belsky's, and a strange young woman, hatless and sobbing as if in great grief. Polski, Belsky's friend, said he had found the woman on a river pier, and, fearing she contemplated suicide, spoke to her. He was surprised to find she was Polish, like himself. He said he thought if Belsky and his wife would take her in for the night he might find her home in the morning. Belsky and his wife consented and welcomed the stranger.

She said between sobs she came from to a house where she had been compelled to submit to all kinds of indigthat her old father and mother were can always get ahead of them by her might tell something derogatory of Oh, no! we never mention him, his name starving and begged that she send for them. If you discover anything that will benefit humanity, make it known. It was this spirit that prompted Mr. Alf. J. Clark, of Cavendish street, London, in an interview with a local reporter, to tell how greatly he had benefited from using Zam-Buk, the great herbal balm.

burned with lime. The burns were so deep that as I plied my shovel the blood actually ran down the handle. The agony I suffered you may well imagine. I tried several different kinds of salves, but the burns were too severe for these preparations to heal them. What this meant to Japan will be inderstood when it is recalled that the authorities at Tokio had entertained designs upon the Hawaiian Islands as early as 1893.

"Had not the United States flag beraised over the Hawaiian Governmen building and American protection thus assured," reported Minister John L. Novelist Prevost Uses Louise of Saxony as Heroine of Tale.

Paris, Oct. 25.-The elopement of Crown Princess Louise of Saxony with Andre Giron, her children's tutor, and the whole scandal which then pervaded Europe, is revived in Marcel Prevost's latest novel, "Monsieur Moloch." Prevost gives a on the hair. faithful picture of humdrum life at the court of the "Principality of Rothberg." He paints the idle existence of the reigning princess, who, stretched on a sumptuous divan, inhaling the smoke of rare Oriental tobacco and the heavy fragrance his regenerating influence she discards flashy literature for Verlaine's plaintive poems and the mystic Maeterlinck. Also poems and the mystic Maeterlinck. Also she begins to study attentively the Paris

This seam may possibly, when worked, run into a thick seam, as the shale bands often are traceable into first dirty coal and then clean coal, and the reverse. On the north side of the river the measures underlie at no great depth all the interval between the Bighorn range and the main Rockies. In this the Bighorn for cuts through and exposes a great number of seams, but most of these were crushed and very dirty. The best exposures, however, were found farther north, on streams breaking through the Bighorn range in the vicinity of the Brazeau River. There the seams observed on the Saskatchewan were also found, but it was with a good deal of satisfaction. Brazeau River. There the seams observed on the Saskatchewan were also found, but it was with a good deal of satisfaction that a sixteen-foot seam was unearthed. The coals have not been analyzed as yet, but the trials in an open fire show that they are not a true anthracite, as they burn with a luminous flame, with some smoke and coke.
