Frank K. Alfred, of Pere Marquette, Pleased to Learn That He Had Erroneous Impression, as His Desire Is to Lease L. and P. S. Line.

LOSS OF ST. THOMAS CONNECTION HEAVY EXPENDITURE TO HIS ROAD

Construction of Bridge To Cost $100,000 Would Be Necessary if the Railway Was Shut Out From the City's Line.

- THE FACTS IN A NUTSHELL. 1. The Pere Marquette sealed tender was submitted on the assumption of the Pere Marquette that the people of London were already committed to the municipal operation of the Port Stanley railroad.
- 2. The Pere Marquette would insist on a minimum length of lease of running rights before assuming responsibility for the rebuilding or maintenance of the road in whole or part.
- 3. The Pere Marquette would not agree to contribute towards the re-building of the road to be done by the city or some other party, if the cost exceeded what the Pere Marquette itself could rebuild the road for.
- 4. The offer was made on behalf of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway, at present leased by the Pere Marquette Railway, which latter corpora tion is now in the hands of a receiver in the United States court.
- 5. The offer was for freight running rights only, with the use of London and St. Thomas terminals only. The Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway has a lake port at Rondeau, where bulk coal is now unloaded, and where ferry connection would enable the Pere Marquette to compete with a municipally operated railway in Ohio, Pennsylvania and lake trade.
- 6. The Pere Marquette operates east of St. Thomas over the M. C. R. lines, and has at present no means of interswitching unto the M. C. Is eastern lines except over the Port Stanley Railway tracks in St. Thomas.
- 7. Without running rights over the Port Stanley Railroad the Pere Marquette could not continue its Buffalo and eastern traffic without bridging the St. Thomas ravine and purchasing a new right-of-way, at a probable cost of
- 8. If the Port Stanley Railroad were electrified, the Pere Marquette would not operate over it, unless the electrical equipment permitted the operation of steam trains, with complete safety to steam traffic and the lives of Pere Marquette trainmen and construction crews.
 - 9. The city would be required to maintain the right-of-way.
- 10. The Pere Marquette, on the authority of General Manager Alfred, would prefer to lease the road and operate it as a steam road, as at present.

An offer based on the assumption that the people of London were already committed to the municipal operation of the London and Port Stanley Railway was made Monday at a closed session of the Port Stanley Railway Board on behalf of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway by Jeremiah Collins Issues a Writ Frank K. Alfred, general manager of the Pere Marquette, for running rights over the Port Stanley road. It is understood that the offer was made with a tentative agreement between the Pere Marquette and the M. C. R., to the effect that the latter railway should also have running rights over the city' Wife Also Asks $300for Serrailway, because the present lease of the Michigan Central for running rights from the Pere Marquette does not expire until the end of 1913, necessarily linking the two railways together till the end of the present year. Operate By Steam. All Pere Marquette and Michigan Central trains will under any arrangements which may be effected be operated by steam. Mr. Alfred did not make any pretense of authoritatively representing the M. C. R., but intimated merely that an understanding existed between his railroad and the M.

In view of the fact that the offer made by the Pere Marquette was only a tentative one, made on a mistaken assumption, and hence the offer would be subject to considerable modification, the Pere Marquette Company asked that the exact terms of their offer should not be made public.

Mr. Alfred, personally, was pleas to discover that contrary to the im pression he had gathered, the city of London had not yet definitely decided upon the municipal operation of an electric road between London and Port

Short Lease Not Wanted.

The length of the lease for which the offer was made was not fixed, but Mr. Alfred pointed out that it would not pay his company or any other company to assume the cost, or a portion of the cost of rebuilding and maintaining the road, for a lease for running rights of a comparatively short duration. In this respect, a 30-year lease for running rights would probably be satisfactory to his company. The annual cash rental offered in the tender would be supplemented by the percentage of the cost of rebuilding the many thousands of dollars expended road, which the Pere Marquette was willing to undertake.

Several of Party Must Spend Another Year Amongst Ice Barrens Near South Pole.

[Canadian Press.]

Sydney, N. Z., Feb. 25 .- Two mema ers of the Mawson Antarctic expedia tion, Lieutenant Ninnis, an Englishman, and Dr. Merz, Swiss, have died. Dr. Mawson and six of his companions have been left for the winter on Adelie land, a barren tract in the Antarctic, because they were unable to reach the expedition's ship Aurora before she was compelled to leave. This news is received here by wireless from,

Professor David, who was a member of Sir Ernest Shackleton's expedition which reached within 111 miles of the South Pole in 1909, received the wireless from Adelie Land:

The last previous message received ere from the Aurora arrived on Feb, 19, and sailed with all the members f the expedition on board the vessel on the way to pick up the party under Dr. Wilde, who was formerly a mem-ber of the Scott and Shackleton expelitions, and had been left with some companions early in 1912 at the bast of Termination Glacier.

It would appear, therefore, that Douglas Mawson, with some of his companions, must have landed and one on an expedition from which they vere unable to get back in time to reoin the Aurora before she was compelled to leave on account of ice. offence arose. It was a difficult matter to decide when the price had been unduly enhanced. The prosecution of the Grocers' Guild was a case in point. No answer could be given that would apply to all. Every case had to stand upon its merits. In the Grocers' Guild ase the Government thought it had sufficient evidence to warrant a con-viction, but Chief Justice Falconbridge acquitted the defendants, stating that although there was an agreement, it did not come within the provisions of the criminal code. The Labor Member.

Mr. Allan Studholme (East Hamilton) looked at the matter in the light of its effect on the cost of living. Whatever else might be said, it was clear that the cost of living had been ennanced by agreements such as the one referred to in the discussion. It was not the first time that the matter had been called to the attention of the Government. Mr. W. D. McPherson (West Toronto) had pointed out the weaknesses of the anti-combine bill. Because the prosecution against the Grocers' Guild failed, it did not follow that the others would also. Toronto reently had a case where a young lawer won a decision against the opinion of learned counsel. The eyes of the ivilized world were turned against the combines. If the judges of the land had difficulty in understanding the words that were put into the law, then the Government should appeal to its friends at Ottawa and have the law so worded that there would not be room for any misunderstanding. Nothing Done. Guild did not take place until 1910, and the prosecution against the Stamped Ware Association was abandoned before the grocers' case came up. money is and therefore could not get [Special to The Advertiser.] In discussing the question of the proposed temporary transportation of Aylmer, Feb. 25.-At the annual meeting of the board of trade last evening, the question of getting Aylmer located on any new radial railways to London was discussed at length, and done to the contents of the stores on it was decided to watch the situation. It was decided to try and interest the members of county organizations in the work of the board of trade, so that all bodies may co-operate in matters that will be of mutual advantage to the district. The need of making an effort to atract new industries was also discussed, and it was decided to take the matter up further at an early date. The auditors' report showed that after meeting all expenses more than $50 remains in the treasury.

Officers were elected as follows: W. S. Caron, president; James M. Wrong, vice-president; George M. Standing, secretary, and D. H. Price, treasurer. The executive will include Major Wal-

SNOW HALTS LALKAN WAR

London, Tuesday, Feb. 25.-Practically the whole war area in Thrace is covered with snow and movements of troops are impossible. No fighting is reported from any point.

The menace of the row between Bulgaria and Roumania over Silistria is regarded as having been finally removed by the acceptance of the mediation of the powers, which was announced All the alarms, but one, over the differences between Austria and Russia over Albania have quite disappeared. The one point that remains to insure lasting harmony is the decision of the point as to whether Servia or Albania shall have the squalid little town of Djakova, of 6,000 inhabitants. The rival claims of the two countries are supported respectively by Russia and The Vienna commentator of the Daily Telegraph, while again predicting a peaceful settlement of all those troubles, treats the divergence on this point in somewhat serious fashion.

"Could there be much better news than the new German declarations on naval armaments and Anglo-German relationships?" writes the dean of British journalism, H. W. Massingham. "I do not think so. Considering that laid down in the past. More could exeighteen months ago there was danger pound their respective polities and inof war that the division of Europe into two heavily-armed camps seemed still more firmly on the nations' backs, Symonds represents the modern spirit and tendency, and there is reason to it is nothing short of wonderful that the clouds should have lifted so suddenly, and have revealed so bright a

The immediate occasion of Mr. Massingham's rejoicing is the acceptance by the German naval secretary, Admiral von Tirpitz, of Mr. Churchill's formula-16 British to 10 German Dreadnoughts. The Tirpitz statement in Mr. Massingham's opinion, brings a definite halt in the race of armaments.

"Germany cannot now be charged with aiming at the destruction of our command of the seas. She cannot be suspected of planning invasion. The most formidable edifice of ill-will and suspicion has fallen; and what is left should, with a little commonsense and good-will, be easily remov

But the Borden naval policy is disturbing factor. It will, if carried out, upset the 16 to 10 standard. On this point Mr. Massingham says:

"There is, of course, a danger that it may be disturbed by the addition of the new Canadian ships to the strength on which the Churchill calculations were made, for then the great additional force secured to our navy may look like an effort to attain an over-weening predominance in place of the reasonable superiority which Germany now fully, formally, and properly allows to an island maritime power. The future has still reasonably expect on the Tirpitz declarations is that there are to be no more German extensions of the fleet law, and that something like the quota now suggested will govern the see me to the door. future ship-building of both coun-

Canada can help to cement the Anglo-German understanding, not by going on with the Borden policy, but by dropping it. That policy was based on the pretext of an emergency which does not exist, and the very phantom of which has vanished. The new phase of Anglo-German relations will strengthen Canadian Liberals in their determination to spare both Canada and the mother country the infliction of the Borden program.

GREAT ORATORS; WILLIAM PITT THE YOUNGER

[By Special Arrangement With the Winnipeg Telegram.]

William Pitt, the younger, and Charles James Fox might well be called the twin Dioscuri of the dawn of English oratory. They were the boy wonders of their age. Fox began his parliamentary career at the age of 19; Pitt became a mature statesman at the age of 22. His rivals mockingly called him "this boy," but he was riper in wisdom than even his great father, the Earl of Chatham. Pitt the younger was really a chip of the old block, as intense a lover of his country, as pure n conduct, and as able in scholarship as his noble father. From his earlies years he enjoyed the benefit of the elder statesman's advice and training. The great Chatham was not too busy with affairs of state to devote some time each day to his promising son. According to Lord Rosebery: "Pitt's father would make the boy of an evening read freely into English the pas-(They've mobbed the ministers sages which he had construed with his tutor in the morning. It was to these lessons that he always attributed his ready copiousness of language." Lord Chatham also read the Bible daily to When pain and anguish wring the his children and encouraged his son to talk with him without reserve on every subject. The classics, especially Aristotle's Logic, were his delight, but he gave almost as much time to English masters of style. Shakespeare and Milton were his favorites, and he used to recite long passages from both authors. Under his father's direction he declaimed from these poets and from ancient orators; as a youth no (Now Asquith's speech with hoots gave a great deal of time to the task of perfecting his voice, so that when ne came upon the parliamentary stage nis clear enunciation and sonorous tones were the delight of all hearers.

THE SITUATION IN MEXICO

My dope on conditions is zero Regarding that Mexican row; My sympathies leaned to Madero, He's been up against it, somehow; In fact he has always struck me as A chap who'd do well if he could, But, badgered by plotters like Diaz, He hadn't a chance to make good.

Could his plans ever reach execution When every new day he must face A large or a small revolution Which threatened his power and place? It's hard to do much for the nation, To work and to plan and be calm, When some folks' entire occupation Is trying to slip you a bomb!

My dope on conditions is zero; And yet, I am free to declare I'm sorry for Mr. Madero-I think that he tried to be square. I'd like to see Mexico free as A nation should be, you can bet; But—if what they want is a Diaz They'll surely deserve what they get!

It is a good width, is much cheaper than linen, and launders beautifully. For the girl who delights to put "hand-work" upon her blouses, this material adapts itself most pleasingly. It may be embroidered in eyelet, solid, or shadow, to excellent advantage. I saw a simple but pretty waist the other day which commended itself to me exceedingly. The front opening was scalloped and buttonholed in blue, at the pocket on the left side was also worked in blue across the top, the sleeves were made elbow-length with jaunty turn-back cuffs, also scalloped and edged in blue, and the soft turn-down collar was finished in the same way. It was quite simple and inexpensive, but carried with it an air that would suggest an outlay three times as great as the actual cost.

Many new fabrics are coming to the fore with the opening of the spring goods. Among these are the two-toned edfords, extremely dainty in their pink and white, and blue and white ombinations, and whipcord ratine, weave which much resembles cotton crepe. Foulards are also holding their own, in spite of the appearance of newer materials, but in the specimen hown the patterns are much smalle less aggressive, and blend more charmingly into the background, than was the case last season.

S. S. ASSOCIATION ELECTS R. J. WATSON ITS 1913 PRESIDENT

Rev. E. W. Halpenny Gives Instructions How to Make Teaching Effective.

Appeal Made by Rev. W. A. Brown on Behalf of Missionary Work.

School Association for the year 1913 were elected prior to the opening of the evening session of the conference last night.

R. I. Watson was selected as president, and Mr. J. K. H. Pope as vicepresident. The other officers are: Cerresponding secretary and treasurer, Mr. E. E. Reid; recording secretary, Mr. G. M. Millar; superintendent of the Adult Bible classes, Mr. I. Taylor; superintendent of secondary grades, A. J. Omond; superintendent of elementary work, Miss H. Little; superintendent of teacher training, Miss M. Trebilcock; superintendent of temperance, Mr. J. B. Campbell; superintendent of missionary depart-ment, Rev. G. A. McKenzie, and su-perintendent of home department, J. H. W. McRoberts.

At 6:30 o'clock a superintendents' tea was given in Wesley Hall and was attended by 35 of the officials. Mr. R. I. Wilson presided. Evening Session.

The evening session of the Sunday school conference was even better attended than in the afternoon, and equally interesting and instructive for the Sunday school workers. Rev. E. W. Halpenny in his address entitled "Getting the Most Out of a Session," stated that worship, study and business were the three essential elements of every Sunday school session. He placed emphasis on the study period and considered on it. He passed out many practical hints which would make teaching Warehouse more effective. Some were as follows: 1. The superintendent should see that prior to the commencement proper conditions for study should prevail in the class room. Permission to have tardiness in introducing the lessons was very detrimental, 3. Variety of matter and form of presentation was essential. Mechanical routine made sessions monotenous and tiresome. 4. Have short and earnest prayers. Long devotions tired young children, 5. Superintend-ents should drop their sermonettes and instill some important truth in the minds of the students.

Should Have Committee. Rev. W. A. Brown considered that every Sunday school should have a missionary committee, which would have for its duties four things, viz.: . Promote missionary instructions in the Sunday schools. The children should learn the value of missions, and be taught the lives of great mis-sionaries. He knew of people today who quoted St. Paul and St. John, but who were really friends of Judas when it came to giving to missions . Missionary prayers should be taught in the school. 3. Every child should e taught systematic missionary giv-The officers of the London Sunday ing, and a weekly offering should 4. The committee contributed.

Plea for Foreigners.

Mr. Brown asked for a more lenient view to be taken of the foreigner in Canada. He wanted them to be termed "Future Canadians," and not foreigners.

Mr. E. Reid, the representative to the Ontario Association, reported that the methods of some of the London Sunday schools were very unbussinesslike. To-morrow night the regularly scheduled games will be played, and on Friday night will be played. snoring in the offing. Once somebody laughed when St. Thomas scored a goal, but the laugh was not repeated, the mirthful party evidently realizing that such frivolity might be construed into an attempt to start something.

Many Pucks Lost.

It will be seen that the score was not as big as that of Friday night, when London played in St. Thomas, reason for this may be due to the fact that Referee Rankin could not supply enough pucks to score the goals with.

About a dozen of the little rubber discs were lost during the game, the rink management apparently forgetting to freeze up the cracks in the boa the sides. The game was delayed time after time, while Referee Rankin crawled into the subterranean depths of the rink and fished out the elusive puck. Of course, all this added to the enjoyment of the evening.

The game was a decidedly rheumatic exhibition of hockey. The Saints played with a great deal more confidence than they did on Friday-confidence of getting beaten. And London played as if such paltry opponents as the Railway City aggregation were far beneath the notice of a team so super-for in every way. Sort of beneath their dignity. However, at times, the Lon den aggregation forgot this poise, and dug in with a burst of stick work and combination play that made them recognizable to the local fans.

combination play that made them recognizable to the local fans.

Saints Back-Chcked.

The St. Thomas team showed some ability at back-checking. Several times the visitors surprised themselves by actually taking the puck from a London player. Once or twice they made a brilliant dash once or twice they made a brilliant dash in the direction of the London goal, but after getting down past centre ice they after getting down to the past of the broad past and the locals led at half-time by 3 to 2. Whitby wins the round by twelve goals. The visitors took a lot of bumps, Rice and Wilson being the chief victims. In the second balf Watson and Bearss came together and the crowd jumped on the ice. Reid Scored One.

In the second half Reid scored for London two minutes after the puck-off, and McAvoy, on a pass from Gillies, notched the seventh a minute later than that. Some more combination on the part of London—result, another goal. This time Grannary scored on a pass from Gillies; score, 8 to 2. Gillies scored the next one, and two minutes later Reid made if 10.

st. Thomas had many open shots on the London goal at this stage, but the Saints did not seem able to shoot. The visitors also indulged in too much hogging the puck and individual work, and any chances they had to work in combination they threw away. McLean, the best shot on the St. Thomas team, scored the third for the visitors, and a minute later McDonald shot from the wing, the puck going straight into the nets withpuck going straight into the nets with-out being seen by Wardrope, who was looking for it from another direction. This made the score 10 to 4. With about three minutes to play, Walden and Gran-nary notched London's last two goals. The Pick of the Visitors.

Baker, Stoner and McLean played the best game for the visitors on the offensive, while Johns put up a great game in the nets. The veteran is still one of the best in the business, and his work undoubtedly prevented a far larger score for London.

for London.

For the locals, Reid and Grannary seemed to exert themselves the most, with Borland a close third. Wardrope had little to do in goal. Gillies also played a nice game and worked hard. Laurie is following up more than he has done previously, and appears to be in better condition.

McAvoy and Walden did not exer themselves. They did not need to. At times both jumped into the game, and showed what they were capable of, but it wasn't really necessary.

Referee Sid Rankin handled the game in good style, and handed out eleven penalties, eight to London and three to

Louis Bierbauer is a London holdout. Louis sent his contract back to President Stevely this morning and refused to sign it until he was given a substantial increase. He did not like the terms submitted to him by the local management this year. Last spring, Bierbauer was also a London holdout. He held out for more money at that time, and an increase was given him when he reported here in April. This year, the same terms were offered him, but he is of the opinon that he is worth an increase, and has refused to sign a contract until offered more money.

Just whether Louis will get the increase or not is a matter that the local management are keeping secret at present. Bierbauer's work last year was not up to the standard he set the year before, and he did not impress the London club half so much as the first season. However, he was the only player on the team to bat over .300, and this in itself is an accomplishment. Louis played a good game in the field, but on the bases he was accused of being a trifle boneheaded. However, the majority of ball players are accused of being boneheads more understand this. 'Gene had been lured into the apartments of a woman who was a stranger to him. She had confessed that it was all a cold-blooded conspiracy to rob the lumberman, but nevertheless, 'Gene in the first place had followed her. That was the shameful, brutal heart of the matter. On his way home to Julie, 'Gene had followed another! In the end he had fought hard to escape, and it had taken three of them and a knife to kill him, but what of the beginning?

For one moment Nat saw red, and the next he felt like slinking out of sight. If 'Gene had died in this way a year ago, it would have been no more than he expected; if six months ago it had happened, he would not have been greatly surprised. But coming after 'Gene had the love of Julie to strengthen him, coming after this love really had strengthened him and made a man of him, why, it seemed like some hideous accident for which the boy was not responsible.

So he stood for a moment trying to force into the noisonne tragedy some decent explanation, always with the eyes of Julie before him, pleading. Then he saw quite clearly that explanations didn't matter. They mustn't matter. He must go farther back than this end. The 'Gene long ago that he came home had de must restore to Julie was the 'Gene in the sumbled on.

'Gene had been murdered while defending his money, and had fought well.

That was all Julie must know. He would get 'Gene back ahead of the gossip, ahead the papers.

He made his way out of the station, forgetting the toys and little dresses he had left in the waiting-room, and stood on the curb staring blankly at the street. He didn't know how to go about what he had to do, but even out here Julie seemed to wait expectantly. A cabby came up.

Thought It Would Turn Into Consumption.

Miss Jane Dousette, Point a la Garde. Que., writes:-"Just a few lines of praise I must write on account of your famous remedy, Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I had been suffering from a dreadful cough, for over six months, and tried everything but in vain. I thought it was going to turn into consumption. A friend happened to come to my house. and was so frightened when he saw me he nearly dropped. He asked me what I was taking, so I showed him some medicines I had, but he said for me to try Dr. Wood's Norway Pine Syrup. I bought a bottle and before it was finished was well, and did not cough a bit.

I will recommend your medicine to every suffering friend, for I know it will do good to them just the same as it did

They ere married at Port Hope in 1863, and came to this city in 1897 from Wingam, where for eighteen years Mr. Brockenshire was in business as a photo grapher. He is 75 years of age, and his wife is 72, and both are still enjoying good health. They have one daughter, Mrs. Tom Marks, who is at present with her husband in Mount Clemens. Her daughter is their only grand-child. Mr. and Mrs. Brockenshire are receiving many telegrams and letters o ongratulation from their friends today, but are not holding any celebration, referring to observe the anniversary quietly They have been readers of The London Advertiser for more than twenty steam road which the Perc Marquette the one read on Monday, but with the would operate over the same tracks. of a rental Third Rail Discussed.

Side-arm wires, overhead wires, and an improved form of the third-rail system, alleged to be very much safer than the old style third rail, were discussed tween the three, for the overhead wire. Why the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway assumed the responsibility of the tender may be conjectured various-. The Pere Marquette Railway, being in the hands of a receiver, the city would naturally look for a guarantee of he rental. But this, although a perectly valid reason, is hardly likely to be the only reason. Undoubtedly, the prosperity of the Lake Erie and Detroit River Railway is increased by connection with London, and it is to their inerests that their lessees, the Pere Marquette Company, should continue their present connection with this city.

For Freight Only. The Pere Marquette offer is for running rights for freight only. They do ning rights for freight only. They do not propose to operate passenger rains Many Londoners Have Gone into London. This intention was probably also influenced by their false assumption that London was already committed to the operation of the road case it is the freight traffic that the Pere Marquette does not wish to lose. vania coal and American and lake mer. freight into London in competition with any municipal road which the city of London might operate.

Nothing About Terminals.

The Pere Marquette tender did not ask for the use of terminals in Port wished to make a few weeks' cruise in Stanley, but instead apparently ignored that portion of the city railway beuse of terminals in London and St. berths for two weeks later, and a wire Thomas only was expressly stipulated. The use of the St. Thomas terminal s a matter of greater importance to the Pere Marquette Railway than connection with London. The latter railway operates between St. Thomas and Buffalo over Michigan Central tracks, but their present means of interswitching at St. Thomas onto the M. . R. eastern lines is over the London and Port Stanley railway tracks. If the Pere Marquette relinquished running rights over the city railroad in order to run their trains on to Buffalo, tracking and interswitching would have to be laid, including a new bridge of their own over the St Thomas ravine, which would cost alone probably in excess of $100,000. Involves Large Sum. To purchase a right of way from the city of St. Thomas would with the additional trackage and equipages ecessary, bring the cost of the Pere Marquette's alternative up to $200,000, view of which it would cost less purchase running rights over the Port Stanley tracks for a period of ten to twelve years at an annual rental £ $15,000 or $18,000. No reference was made to the London and Southeastern Railway, now eased by the Michigan Central. This a matter to be decided between the ity and the Michigan Central alone, and in which the Pere Marquette is meeting, stated to The Advertiser that An estimate of the cost of rebuild-

Thought City Had Decided. At the conference Mr. Alfred was accompanied by Superintendent Tasker and Engineer Minard. To The Advertiser afterwards, Mr. Alfred stated that the Pere Marquette offer read on Monday had been made only because i had been assumed that the city had decided on the operation of an electric road. In answer to a question in regard to an interview published in a local paper in which he was made to say that he would just as soon oper ate steem trains over an electrified road, he replied that he had not read that interview, but it certainly did not express his sentiment. Bobby Frith Runs Under Rig, But Is Not Seriously Injured.

"Bob" Frith, the 3-year-old son of Mr. and Mrs. Joseph C. Frith, 375 Glebe street, was an "almost" candidate for fatal injuries this morning, when the wheels of a delivery rig of T, Dexter's Mills, driven by J. D. Volker, dragged the little fellow at the corner of Dundas and Elizabeth streets.

"Bob" had strayed away from home and was proceeding westward on Dundas street. When he reached the Elizabeth street corner he dashed across the street, and was knocked down by the herse of the Dexter wagon, which happened to be passing at the time. The wheels of the ris dragged the boy for a few feet before the horse could be stopped by Mr. Volker.

The lad was taken to his home and Dr. Becher was summoned. A few scars and a bad fright were the only results of the accident. His hand was injured the most, and is severely

CEMENT PAVEMENTS MEETING WITH FAVOR

Mr. E. Linwood and Miss Stella Reid. Fort Garry Contracts For Many Large Jobs Like Those Planned Here. The council of Fort Garry, Man., has decided to construct many miles of cement pavement, similar to what is proposed to be constructed in this city this summer, and the first contract for four miles was let several days ago. If the pavements prove a success, one or more of the roads leading between Fort Garry and Winnipeg will be paved with cement. "The cement pavement is coming into general use in many cities in the United States and Canada," said Engineer Brazier, "and I think that after London has once tried them many will be constructed, if they are found to be a success, on account of their

HERO OF AŁL TIME SAYS REV. BROWN

Sunday School Workers in Convention Hear the Chicago Preacher Explain Views on Best Methods of Sunday School Work.

"We have never yet taught the life New St. James' Preshyterian Church of Christ in the right way," declared will hold its regular meeting tomorrow Rev. W. A. Brown, of Chicago, while addressing the convention of Sunday addressed by Capt. T. J. Murphy on the school superintendents, teachers and subject, "How the Roman Catholic workers assembled in Wesley Hall of Church Conducts Its Social Work." the First Methodist Church on Monday above communion and active in church afternoon, "We always preach the sufwork, the address will be instructive ferings and death of the Saviour, but we never emphasize the heroic qualities he possessed. He was the greatest hero that ever lived, and we do not as yet recognize the fact."

Very Few Realize.

"I have asked scores of people who was the greatest hero who ever lived," said Mr. Brown. "I have invariably got the answer that you yourself have given me, that such characters as Moses, Daniel and David were, and that these would appeal most to young boys. Only one out of every five hundred tell me that Jesus Christ is the greatest hero. This character should be taught to the boys and girls in the heroic sense, which is one that will appeal to them.'

The speaker contended that the heroic qualities in any man were of fundamental interest to the youth of 12 or 13 years, and that is the character Friday, and together with Ald. Spittal he would strive to emulate. In lieu of and Industrial Commissioner Hender- this, the heroic sense of the student should be appealed to and nurtured.
