CARSCALLEN HOLDS LENNOX

Cross-Appeal of Madole, the Liberal, Abandoned When It Came up.

Deposits not Made to Cover S. Waterloo and S. Wellington Protests.

Toronto, Ont., July 8.—The cross appeal of Mr. Madole in Lennox was dismissed this morning by Mr. Justice Maclellan without argument. Mr. Watson, for Mr. Madole, said the Conservative majority, as given by the judge on the main appeal, was three. The best he could hope to do by going into the cross appeal was to get two votes, and as he could not expect to turn the seat back for Madole he would go on. The appeal was then dismissed.
S. Blake, counsel for the Conservatives, asked for costs, and judgment on this was reserved.
A conference of lawyers of both sides is to be held to consider whether the cross appeal of North Grey shall be gone on with.

PROTEST DROPPED.
No deposit has been made with the South Waterloo petition, and Mr. Kibbe, Conservative, is safe. This is the last day for putting up the deposit in the South Wellington case, and when the hall closed at 12.30 no deposit had been made.
Mr. Downey, Conservative, is therefore likely to hold his seat unopposed.

SURROUNDED

But Outlaw Tracey Again Succeeded in Giving the Officers the Slip.

Seattle, Wash., July 8.—Harry Tracey was this afternoon at a farm house 1-2 miles east of Renton, a suburb. The news was sent to the city at 2 o'clock by Charles Jerry, who lives at Renton. Tracey and the man Anderson, who has been with him since Sunday night, came to Jerry's house shortly after noon to-day and gave him two of the watches which they had previously taken from others, and told them to go out and dispose of them. Instead of doing this, Jerry came at once to Renton and telephoned the news to the sheriff's office. Posses were at once organized in the vicinity, and it is thought that Tracey is again fairly surrounded. Some time between Sunday night and Monday night Tracey reached the city of Seattle. A boat identified as the Johnson boat, and which he left at Port Madison, accompanied by the man Anderson, on Saturday night, was found to-day with a chain attached to it thrown over a boom of logs at the wharf at Newall's mill, south of Seattle. Half a hundred deputies had Tracey surrounded in the Gerald house at Renton, but he gave them the slip, and was gone ten minutes before the deputies knew it. The sheriff then closed in, and found Anderson, the man he kidnapped, tied to a tree back of the house. Bloodhounds are now on his trail.

HONORED TEACHER

One of the social events of the season took place at the home of W. W. Everett, No. 1, Harwich, last Monday evening, the occasion being a farewell party given in honor of Miss Ryeveart, No. 1, retiring school teacher.

The earlier part of the evening was spent in playing ping-pong and various other amusements. This was followed by refreshments, after which Mr. McGarggart, of Andover, Washington, was unanimously elected chairman of the evening.

Miss Ryeveart made a brief and pleasing reply, thanking the donors for the handsome present received, for the many kindnesses extended to her, and concluded by stating that the extremely pleasant, profitable and enjoyable time spent during her brief sojourn in No. 1 would always remain one of her brightest remembrances.

After several speeches and songs, contributed by those present, the guests departed, all voting Mr. and Mrs. Everett ideal entertainers.

Among those present from a distance were ex-Mayor Ed. McGarggart and daughter; Jas. Ross, Seattle; Miss M. Lee, Highgate, and Miss Myrtle Carswell, Bay City, Mich.

GUESTS OF THE QUEEN

London, July 8.—Queen Alexandra's visit to ten thousand guests yesterday. The local mayors and officials presided at the various gatherings, and many prominent ladies gave their assistance. Each of the Queen's guests received gifts from Her Majesty, consisting of a box of chocolate and a silver gilt brooch. The proceedings were very enthusiastic.

WASH-OUT

A L. E. & D. R. R. Train Derailed and Passengers Badly Shaken up.

Windsor, Ont., July 8.—The heavy rains yesterday afternoon caused a washout on the Lake Erie & Detroit River Railway near Leamington, and the passenger train that left Leamington for Windsor this morning ran into it, and was derailed. The passengers received a severe shaking up, but no one was seriously injured. The train was going at a slow rate of speed.

TO WELCOME KITCHENER

Reception Similar to That Given Lord Roberts Awaits Him in London.

He Will Be Entertained by Prince of Wales, Acting for the King.

London, July 8.—The program for the reception of Lord Kitchener upon his arrival from South Africa is similar to the one carried out upon the occasion of the homecoming of Lord Roberts, the commander-in-chief of the forces.

After his elaborate welcome at Southampton, Lord Kitchener is expected to reach London at noon, July 12. He will be escorted to St. James' Palace, where he will be entertained at luncheon by the Prince of Wales. The Prince will act for the King, and it is said that his Majesty, were it not for his illness, would have honored Lord Kitchener by entertaining him at luncheon, as he did Lord Roberts when the latter returned.

The resolution adopted by the London County Council to tender Lord Kitchener the congratulations of London upon the successful termination of the South African war was opposed by labor members of the council and by Lord Russell, Liberal, who remarked that he could not forget or forgive the judicial murder of Commandant Scheepers. The resolution was passed with only a dozen dissenting votes.

IMPERIAL DEFENCE

Duke of Devonshire Says The Question is Paramount—Laurier's Views.

London, July 8.—Presiding at the annual meeting here yesterday of the British Empire League, the Duke of Devonshire (Lord President of the Council and leader of the Liberal Unionists), discussing the conference of the colonial premiers, and the question of imperial defense was paramount. The question of imperial commercial relations would solve itself at no distant day in accordance with economic laws which will inevitably assert themselves, and which he did not think would present any obstacle to the consummation of that which they all now desire, namely, free trade within every portion of the empire. Imperial defense, however, could not wait. If they waited for it to solve itself they might wait until there was no British empire to defend.

Referring to the conference at the meeting of the British Empire League last night, the Duke of Devonshire said it was almost impossible that definite results should be obtained until further opportunity is afforded to representatives to consult with the respective colonies. He thought the commercial relations would be solved in accordance with these economic laws which he now regarded, but which will inevitably adhere themselves. Regarding imperial defense, that was a question which could not amaze the conference. Consideration must be given to the state of the colonies, whether they are, as now organized, of the greatest value to the Empire, or whether the present Empire is to remain inviolate or the colonies become independent, providing for their own security.

Sir Wilfrid Laurier, and those of his ministers who were in London, were entertained at a complimentary banquet at the Constitutional Club last night. They were given a grand reception, and the applause which followed Sir Wilfrid's utterances was most pronounced. He said nothing about imperial conference. He observed that while some thought the British Empire must be preserved by measures of war he believed it could be well defended by arts and peace. Britain, Sir Wilfrid declared, is the one Empire of Europe which will never be carried away by the spirit of militarism.

ALL THAT CAN BE DESIRED

Is The Progress Being Made by King Edward—His Majesty Insists

That Coronation Be as Soon as Possible and May Remain in London Until Then.

London, July 8.—The bulletin regarding the condition of King Edward posted at Buckingham Palace at 10 o'clock this morning says: "The King's progress is all that can be desired. (Signed) Treves, Laking, Barlow."

THE CORONATION

The news that the coronation of King Edward was to be held before the middle of August was published in the United States and Canada before it was known here. But the London Times and other papers this morning confirm the announcement. From the same source it is learned to-day that the pressing forward of the coronation was due to the personal insistence of the King. His doctors were at first opposed to such an early date, but the King declined to agree to any other plans until he is crowned, and the doctors finally realizing that more danger was likely to arise in opposing his Majesty on this point, agreed to it. They now see the King was right, and that it is far better for him to get through the turmoil of the coronation as soon as possible than to have it hanging over him for months. King Edward has determined not to break up the court at Buckingham Palace until after the coronation. He may go on board his yacht for a few days' cruise, but he is more likely to remain in London till the affair is over and then take a prolonged holiday.

THE PRINCE AND THE NURSES.
The Prince and Princess of Wales opened the Henriette Raphael Nurses' Home at Guy's Hospital yesterday. The Prince took the opportunity to explain how much the King, Queen and members of the royal family had been supported in their time of trial by the deep sympathy which had been displayed in all parts of the marked that he could not forget or forgive the judicial murder of Commandant Scheepers. The resolution was passed with only a dozen dissenting votes.

FINE STREET

Ex-Mayor Smith Favors Permanent Improvement of Victoria Ave.

"Why don't you property owners get to work to improve Victoria avenue?" ex-Mayor T. A. Smith was asked this morning.

"Yes, why not?" was the characteristic response. "As far as I am concerned I am perfectly willing to petition the Council for a vitrified brick pavement."

"My scheme would be to bring the boulevard out six feet on each side, leaving 20 feet of vitrified brick pavement on concrete foundation. Then from the pavement to the boulevard have small cobblestones, such as would pass through a five inch ring."

"This, I believe would prove a cheap and lasting pavement and enhance the value of the property on the street, while the widening of the boulevard would save much wear and tear on the street."

Quantities of gravel are being put on the 5th concession, Harwich, and a good road is being made of it.

SANDFORD WORSE

Well-Digger May Yet Die as a Result of His Terrible Experience

Paris, Ont., July 7.—This morning a consultation of medical men was held at the Skelly homestead, Sandford having taken a turn for the worse. A large abscess on the head and a smaller one on the arm, with an alarming rise in his temperature, have caused uneasiness as to the outlook for recovery, although the physicians express every confidence.

At a public meeting held to-night, D. Brown, R. Thompson, J. H. Fisher, T. Scott Davidson, and Franklin Smoke were appointed a committee to investigate the claims of the Sandford rescuers for Royal Humane Society medals, and also to receive subscriptions for Sandford and his rescuers. Mr. Franklin Smoke is the secretary-treasurer of the committee. Resolutions of sympathy with Sandford in the grip he displayed and of admiration for the heroic band of workers were passed. It was decided to have the Humane medals presented at an open air meeting.

SCARCITY OF BINDER TWINE.

A threatened famine of binder twine, reported just as harvest is approaching, will cause uneasiness among farmers who have not already arranged for their season's supply. The time is opportune for giving out such an impression if it were merely done by manufacturers and dealers with the object of disposing of their stocks at exorbitant prices. It is clear, however, that there is no such purpose in view, and that there is at present a great probability of a serious shortage of an article which has now come to be so important an essential in the expeditions handling of the grain crops.

The situation is that a majority of the principal agents for binder twine concerns have within the last few days received notices from their head offices telling them to accept no more orders until further notice. The Toronto Star says: "If the crops all over Canada and the States, especially the North-west, turn out to be as bountiful as they promise to-day, there is little doubt but there will be a twine famine. If, on the other hand, something happens to make the crop of straw lighter, and if the season continues backward so that the harvest will be late, then the supply may hang out; but it will be a tight pinch at best. A late harvest is the most likely relief to the situation, because it will give the factories more time to turn out a supply, and it is going to be a hand to mouth process from this on." It may be said that throughout Western Ontario it looks now as if the harvest would be ten days or two weeks later than last year.

With the present promise of a splendid harvest in practically all sections of Canada, and a largely increased area in the North-west under crop, the outlook is for a greater demand than ever this year for binder twine. Along with this increased demand there is a largely diminished output of the product due to prevailing high prices for shal and manila, the raw materials of which twine is made. The scarcity is accounted for by the protracted war in the Philippines, where the manila, which is used in all the high grade product, is grown.

Half a cent per lb. has been added to the prices of all high grade twine during the past week, and two other similar advances have been made in the past six or seven weeks. The present sale of wholesale prices is as follows, manila quotations being practically nominal:

Sisal.....12 1-2c.
Standard.....12 1-2c.
Manila (500 foot).....13 3-4c.
Manila (600 foot).....15c.
Pure Manila.....16 1-2c.

The farmer pays retail prices, which are from 1 1-2c to 2c above the foregoing.

"These prices," said a Toronto dealer to the Star, "are just about double the normal price." Recently the supply of manila has been practically nil. Its place has been gradually usurped, as the war dragged on, by sisal, a fibre produced in Yucatan, Central America. This fibre is not up to the mark, but the sisal growers have been making money hand over fist. Before the war, raw sisal could be bought for 3 or 4 cents per lb., now buyers think themselves lucky to get it at 9 or 10 cents. In the meantime twine manufacturers have been hoping earnestly for the end of the war and the return of the Philippines to the work of their fields, for just as soon as the manila crops are grown again down will go the prices. Accordingly, the manufacturers, especially the smaller ones, this year have been playing a waiting game, manufacturing as little as possible out of the high-priced fibre, in the hope that the cheap fibre would be in before the end of the season. This hope cannot now be realized, but the manufacturers are still going cannily, because every pound of twine they manufacture now and carry over to the next year will mean a loss, as it is reasonably certain that there will be cheap fibre and cheap twine next year.

Hood's Sarsaparilla
Which radically and permanently drives them out and builds up the whole system.

Only a third to a half of the binder twine used in Canada is made in the Dominion. The rest is made in the United States, and prices are controlled there. These are practically the same in both countries, as binder twine is one of the articles placed on the free list by the Laurier government. The three principal American manufacturers doing business here are the McCormacks and Deering, of Chicago, and the Plymouth Company of Massachusetts. The most important Canadian concern is the Consumers' Company, of Montreal.

Twine is made at the Kingston Penitentiary and the Central Prison, and there are factories at Chatham, Brantford, Walkerton and Peterboro, but these are chiefly co-operative concerns, supplying only a local demand, and are consequently no factor in general price-making. The United States companies at least are out of the market altogether for the present, and one of their agents in Toronto, who was asked what the Canadian companies could do to meet the deficiency, said that some time ago he was informed the Chatham company had 40 tons, Kingston about 70, and Walkerton 80. A rough estimate places the amount used in Canada at 10,000 tons. Of course a great many farmers have already arranged for a sufficient supply.

WHY ROSS SHOULD RESIGN.

Liberal journals affect to ridicule the contention that Ross should resign, points out the Guelph Herald. The same journals admit that the verdict of the people recorded at the general elections has placed the Government in such a position that it cannot carry on the affairs of the Province. Their only hope lies in their ability to concentrate the machine on individual constituencies in the bye-elections and repeat the outrages perpetrated in West Elgin, North Waterloo and North Grey.

The Government has made its appeal and received its answer. By 7,000 of a majority the people have said: "We have no confidence in you." Four ballots spoiled by its agents enable the Government to count one of a majority for the time being, although it is actually in a minority.

Defeated and discredited by the people, holding its majority of one by fraud, the Government's only proper and constitutional course would be to resign. That it is not disposed to resign does not indicate that it fails to appreciate the fact that it has lost the confidence of the people. It only reveals a determination to hang on by hook or by crook.

Great alarm has been caused in the province of Foggia, one of the most important wine producing centers in Italy, by the appearance of an insect—the otiorhynchus—which destroys the leaves and shoots of the vines. Over 200 acres of valuable vineyards have already been destroyed by this pest. Fortunately another insect, the collemus, which feeds on the former, has providentially appeared on the scene in vast numbers, writes our Rome correspondent. Curiously enough the Prefect of Foggia is called Bacchus.

CANADIANS WENT DOWN BEFORE CAMBRIDGE CRACKS

Argonauts Put Up a Gallant Struggle at Henley this Morning Close and Exciting Race.

Special to The Planet.
Henley, England, July 9.—In spite of a dull threatening morning exceptionally large crowds assembled here to-day to witness the second day's racing of the Henley regatta. Interest in the meeting was vastly enhanced by the danger of the Diamond Sculls and the Grand Challenge cup crossing the Atlantic.

The wind was sufficiently strong in the forenoon to churn the water. It blew directly off the Bucks shore, giving the boats on that station great advantage. Some experts estimated that the station on the Bucks side was worth a full length.

The first contest was the fourth heat for the Grand Challenge cup. Although the London Rowing club had the advantage of the Bucks station and rowed in excellent form, Leander led all the way, London's spurt towards the finish proving fruitless. The half-mile time was 2:31. The mile was done in 5:30.

This opened the way for what was generally regarded as the most important event of the regatta, the Canadians' contest with Third Trinity, the crack Cambridge crew, accepted by all as the British champions in the heats for the Grand Challenge Cup.

The race was close and exciting to Fawley court. The Argonauts led by that point (half the distance) when Third Trinity caught up, took command and finished in the splendid time of 7:11.

The Canadians, even when they were passed, hung on in the most spirited fashion and spurred time after time. But they were handicapped by the fact that they held the Berks side. The time for the half mile was 2:27. Fawley Court was passed in 3:21.

The third heat for the Thames challenge cup was a great struggle. The Irishmen would have won out but for their disadvantage of station. The Dublin crew got off first, and still led at Fawley court, after which Cambridge gradually drew level. A neck-and-neck race ensued, and the Englishmen won by a narrow margin.

In the fourth heat for the Grand Challenge cup, Leander Rowing club beat London Rowing club by a length. Time, 7:28.

In the fifth heat for the Grand Challenge cup, Third Trinity, Cambridge, beat the Argonaut Rowing club, of Toronto, by a length and a quarter. Time, 7:11.

In the third heat for the Thames Challenge cup, Trinity Hall, Cambridge, beat Trinity, Dublin, by a quarter of a length. Time, 7:28.

In the fourth heat for the Thames Challenge cup the Royal school of mines boat club, beat the Thames rowing club by three-quarters of a length. Time, 7:42.

HE ENTERS THE RANKS.

Rev. J. J. Ross and wife and Hugh Macaulay and wife were the guests of Mrs. E. A. Mounteer at the Eau last evening. Rev. J. J. did some fishing in the afternoon. He asserts that he caught two fish on one line and succeeded in landing only one. The one lost was by far the larger—this is usually the case, but it must be accepted as gospel truth this time.

LOSSES EXPLAINED.

"Have they found those children yet?" asked William Wilson of The Planet this morning.

"What children?" enquired the reporter.

"Why," resumed Mr. Wilson, "they told me that there was a search party out looking for a couple of children who were lost in the burrs and weeds on the library lot. They tell me that Campbell has lost his dog. Probably it, too, has strayed away and got lost in some of the weeds on Park street."

PAY INTO COURT.

Wilson & Co., acting for the Canadian Bank of Commerce, have served a notice of motion upon the members of the old board and the members of the new board, and W. J. Clements, and W. H. Kerr.

The motion is for an order to allow and direct the Canadian Bank of Commerce to pay into court the moneys on deposit in the bank to the credit of the Chas. Binder Twine Co., or for an interpleader order, or for both. The motion comes up before Judge Bell on Saturday, the 12th day of July.

AN EXPLANATION

In an interview with The Planet J. B. Rankin, K. C., gave the following information with regard to the Binder Twine situation:

After the meeting of the shareholders of the Chatham Binder Twine Co., held on the 21st of June, the former president, M. J. Wilson, came to see J. B. Rankin with reference to the litigation that was then pending, and said that the Old Board of Directors had been misled, and he, as president, was then satisfied that the New Board was properly and legally elected and that he could control the litigation that was then pending, and would have it stopped on Monday, 22nd day of June last. On Monday, 22nd, he came to J. B. Rankin and reported that he had done all in his power to stop the litigation but he could not persuade the other members of the Old Board to assist him in preventing further costs being incurred in the two actions then pending. Although he was most anxious to save the company any further expense, he could not abandon the other members of the Old Board who were opposed to stopping the litigation and as a result he admitted that the other members of the Old Board were determined to continue the actions and he could not, with any honor, abandon them. He then stated that the motion in the McGarvin case would have to proceed, as he could not control these proceedings. This is the only reason for the litigation being continued.

SEPARATE SCHOOL

The regular monthly meeting of the Separate School Board was held last Monday evening. Those present were—Chairman King, and Trustees Gordon Gerber, Blonde, Welsh, Reardon, Stephens, Robert and Flynn.

Teachers' and janitors' salaries for the months of June and July were ordered paid as also were the first years' debentures.

Accounts, $22 Waterworks Co., W. J. Kenny, $2.80 and King, Cunningham & Drew, $2.30, were also passed.

The Education committee was instructed to have contract drawn up and signed by the teachers and the Board for the coming year. Arrangements were made for leveling and beautifying the grounds about the school, which will be carried out ## under direction of the supply committee.

Rev. Fr. James, reported that the Provincial Inspector had visited the school recently and expressed himself as highly pleased with the fine new building and also with the progress being made in class work.

A vote of thanks was rendered Fr. James for giving his services gratis in arranging for the new furniture supplied the school.

The meeting then adjourned.

POPULAR FALLACY

Generally Believed in but Never Existed

STRANGE HOLD OF AN UNTRUTH.

One of the most widely current and inexplicable fallacies that are generally believed is called to mind by the coming of the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Enormous Shows United.

It is the silly twaddle about big shows dividing and showing in small cities and towns in different sections of the country on the same day and then coming together again in the large cities and showing as one exhibition. It is, as a matter of fact, one of the most absurd ideas in the world, and persons ordinarily sane upon every other subject will persist in believing that such things are done, notwithstanding the fact that it is also utterly so much without foundation in fact that such a thing has never even been attempted much less being done as a regular custom. It would be just as easy to cut a horse in two and send him up two roads at one time and then when a main road is reached put him together again. It is simply a physical impossibility for such shows to be first divided and then united, and keep the public ignorance of it. Any man who could invent a system that would make such a thing possible would have a fortune. It never has been done, it is not done nor will it, in all human probability, ever be done by these shows or any others. So when the Adam Forepaugh and Sells Brothers Shows come here they will be exactly the same as they were in New York, Brooklyn, Philadelphia and all the cities they have visited this season, and if anyone wants to gamble on it there is no possible chance of losing any money wagered on that proposition, no matter what anyone says or believes. They will be here in all their entirety on Saturday, July 19.

Dr. Sivewright will remove from 115 next door west, to 117 King St., on or before the 1st of August—the rooms of the late Dr. Backus, adjoining the Bank of Montreal.

Was Sick Eight Years with Female Trouble and Finally Cured by Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound.

"DEAR MRS. PINKHAM:—I have never in my life given a testimonial before, but you have done so much for me that I feel called upon to give you this unsolicited acknowledgement of MRS. JENNIE E. O'DONNELL, President of Oakland Women's Riding Club, the wonderful curative value of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound. For eight years I had female trouble, falling of the womb and other complications. During that time I was more or less of an invalid and not much good for anything, until one day I found a book in my mail telling of the cures you could perform. I became interested; I bought a bottle of Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and, as I used it, I continued to use it and in seven months was cured, and since that time I have had perfect health. Thanks, dear Mrs. Pinkham, for the health I now enjoy."

IN THE HOTEL ... CORRIDOR

By MARY WOOD

Copyright, 1902, by the S. S. McClure Company

She sank into the depths of the velvet chair with a sigh of satisfaction. The long hotel corridor was alive with light and color. Women passed with soft swish of silk and breath of perfume. Masses of lilies and gleaming palms merged with rich, dark hangings to form a fitting background.

This was the life for which she was intended—richness and beauty to delight her artist's eye, luxury to satisfy her love of ease! She had striven hard to attain it, giving the hours of daylight to her easel and the longer hours of the night to feverish planning. And yet she was where she had started. With scornful smile, she glanced down at her modest dress. The only mark which linked her to these surroundings was the great bunch of violets rising and falling on her breast. Her face did not soften as they met her eye. They were none of her procuring. He had sent them, and their wearing only seemed one more link in the chain by which he sought to bind her to him.

He was late, or she was early—which? Never mind. It would give her time to think and to decide.

The soft strains of a distant stringed orchestra calmed her as her mind reviewed her five years of city life. The first year, when labor was sweetened by girlish enthusiasm; the next, when hope was wandering and grim necessity spurred her on; the next—why live over their pain? It was enough to say that she had failed. And yet she had worked. How she had worked!

The last four months had told a different tale—she had tried to drown her ambitions in the excitement of life in artistic Bohemia. That, too, failed her.

"I AM GOING HOME WITH AUNT MILLIE," SHE SAID.

Yet it had brought him to her, to her feet. The thought gave her not even a throb of gratified vanity. She told herself she was past even that. Since love and hope were dead, why not let this man buy their ashes? He could at least give her the creature comforts that she craved. Yes, she would marry him.

She started and looked around fearfully, as if that "yes" had been spoken for the ears of grudging listeners. But the stream of hotel life rolled calmly on. As she looked down the corridor her heart gave a throb. Was that figure a part of her dreams of the past? It was an old lady in all the glory of new black silk and shiny gloves, yet strangely old fashioned and out of place among the throng. The girl started to her feet. It was Aunt Milly.

She went forward breathlessly, her eyes fixed on the dear face, her hands outstretched almost appealingly.

The old lady saw her now, gazed wide eyed and in another moment was kissing her on both cheeks as she murmured brokenly, "Oh, Janie, Janie!" And then in a minute, "What a happy day this will be for John!"

Tears had come to the girl's eyes at sound of that childish name. Now she dashed and paled as she said almost in a whisper "John. Does he remember me?"

The old lady had hold of her hand as if fearful of losing it, and Janet led her gently to the big chair and nestled down beside her.

"Remember you? Haven't we spoken of you almost every day since you went away? You stopped writing after awhile, and that was hard." There was reproach in her gentle voice.

The girl interrupted brokenly. "Yes, I know. But there was so little of good to tell."

"Then you changed your boarding place, and our letters were returned unopened by the postoffice. We did not know where to find you."

The lowered lashes could not hide the tears as Janie answered: "When I left the home you had given me so kindly, so generously, I had high hopes I was going to become famous and repay everything. I promised you this, and I could not bear to write until I could redeem the promise. It was all my pride. But I loved you still. You believe that?" She looked up entreatingly.

The old lady parted her hand in a comforting way. "Just as we kept on loving you," she said soothingly, "and we kept trying to find you. John came up to the city several times on purpose. I didn't have to ask the poor boy how he fared when he came back each time. I could tell by his face. He's grown a lot older since you went away."

The girl looked down the corridor with eyes all dull to its late coveted beauty. John still remembered her! After all her unkindness and neglect he had hunted for her!

Her companion was looking at her with fondly critical eyes. "You are a bit thinner, but you look much better than I expected. Why, your cheeks are just as pink as they used to be."

The girl's cheeks burned under her rouge. She caught her breath sharply. Then she said faintly, "Oh, I am very well!" To herself she was saying fiercely: "I had to! I had to! I was growing so white and weary looking. He would not have liked me any more. Perhaps John won't like me any more when he sees me." Yet she longed to brush the color from her cheeks.

The old lady was going on happily: "John said I must come with him this time. I had not been in the city for so many years. And I guess he remembered what a master hand I am at finding things. And now I have found you," she added joyously. "I am not going to let you go. Just to see his face when he meets you! You are going right home with us and see how fine my Easter lilies are and pick the first spring violets on the sunny bank by the sitting room window. They will be sweeter than those you have on."

Janie's hands crushed the flowers on her dress as she asked eagerly, "You will let me come?"

"Let you come? We ought never to have let you go. John has said that many a time. Come! John must be in our room by this time. Oh, just to see his face!"

The girl passed her handkerchief roughly over her cheeks. The telltale color was gone. Thank God! That was the worst! She stood up proudly. She could go back—to the quiet haven and the love of a good man.

The old lady clasped her hand as they started down the corridor. Suddenly the girl was conscious that a man had reached her path—a man who stared in speechless astonishment. She had forgotten her appointment.

He hardly recognized this radiant creature. He had never been able to bring this look to her face.

She started when she saw him, but her voice never faltered as she said gently: "I am sorry, but I cannot see you today. I am going home with Aunt Milly." Then, as his cold, worldly face broke first to anger, then to appeal, she added joyously, "I am going home with her—and John."

He could not doubt the evidence of face and voice, and no words came to his lips as he watched them go slowly down the corridor.

A Lesson in Public.

A neat little lesson was administered in a Broadway car the other day at the hands of a tall, good looking young girl.

The seat was crowded, but her neighbor, fat, cross and middle aged, was evidently bound to have as much room as he considered he had paid for, so he wedged himself firmly back, then jammed her with his elbow that he might spread his paper to its utmost width. She stood the crowding and the flapping of the leaves in her face for a few moments, then rose to her feet and took hold of the strap.

"Do take it all," she said tranquilly. The car had stopped, and her clear, courteous voice easily traveled its entire length. "There was my sympathetic smile on every face. The monopolist scowled, rattled his paper and stood it for a few moments; then, ugly and resentful, he left the car."

He had learned nothing, but every other man present read his paper in sections no wider than his shirt front all the rest of the way.—New York News.

A Deadly Revenge.

"So you sent Bill Smiggins to congress," "We did," answered the keeper of the postoffice and general store. "I guess I did as much as any one to get him elected."

"Bill is a powerful talker, but I didn't know that you were any particular friend of his."

"No. We had a difference long years ago, and I always said I was going to get even. Bill prided himself on his speechmaking, and nothing makes him so unhappy as to have something done and him not in it. I've been reliably informed that when a man makes his debut in congress the people that have been there for some time previous look down on him kind of supercilious and make him sit quiet and listen, and that will just about kill Bill!"—Washington Star.

A Curious Structure.

On the road from Clifton down to Avonmouth the traveler will pass, in the Avon gorge, a curious structure to which a singular tradition is attached, relates the London Tatler. The story is that a person named Cook about a century ago was told by a gypsy in the Leigh woods that his only son would be killed by a serpent before he reached the age of twenty-one. To avert this he built a high tower and shut his son in the topmost room with the intention of securing him there until the fatal age was passed. However, by accident a viper was taken up in a fagot to the room to light the fire, and it crept from the fagot and bit the boy so that he died. Therefore the tower was called Cook's folly, and that is its name to this day, whatever is the true explanation.

Catarrh is a Germ Disease

Science, armed with the microscope, has established it a fact, and this conclusion renders obsolete the practice of treating Catarrh, Catarrh and Bronchitis by stomach drugging, of sprays, snuffs, etc. Such treatments are an utter failure because they cannot penetrate the delicate air cells of the lungs, or permeate the air passages of the nose and bronchial tubes where the germs of Catarrh have their stronghold. Catarrh is the only certain remedy. It is inhaled by the mouth and after spreading through all the respiratory organs is exhaled through the nostrils. Catarrh kills the germs, heals the inflamed tissues, clears the head and throat in two minutes, and cures in a few hours. Nothing is so effective, pleasant and simple as Catarrh. ### THE TURF

New York, July 8.—In a hurricane finish C. F. Dwyer's Ethics won the Jamaica selling stakes by a nose to-day at Brighton. The race was at a mile and a sixteenth and Tommy Burns rode the best finish he has had this year. Kilogram was favorite and Wonderly, his rider, let him go to the front and he led his field by one and a half lengths. Bounding in the home stretch Ethics challenged and it was a desperate drive between the two with the result in doubt until the numbers were posted. Ethics won, with Kilogram second and the 3-year-old, The Rival, third.

DAN PATCH WON TWO STRAIGHTS

Windsor, Ont., July 8.—Fully five thousand people attended the second day's races at the Windsor Driving Park Association to-day. The weather was perfect and the track in good condition despite the heavy rain of yesterday afternoon.

In the match race between Dan Patch and Harold H., the horses got away evenly after the third score, with Harold H. leading at the quarter. There Dan Patch overtook and led by an open length all the way round, winning the first heat in a pull. The second heat was Dan's race from start to finish. Summary:

THE RING

THE BIG FIGHT.

With the fight for the heavyweight championship of the world less than a month off, news from the training camps of Jeffries and Fitzsimmons shows the men to be already in the most promising condition. At Harbin Springs, Cal., Jeffries has, up to the present time, devoted most of his time to getting his lungs into good working shape and hardening his leg muscles by plenty of hill climbing. He has also done some light work in the gymnasium, but this has only been incidental. The champion, once he commences training, is a very willing man, and much of Billy Delaney's watchful care is directed to seeing that he does not do too much rather than to keep him going.

Staleness is the thing most to be dreaded, and the champion's preparation up to this time has been conducted with this in view. Commencing next week the work will gradually be made harder. Big Joe Kennedy, a very willing and fairly clever boxer, will assist Brother Jack in stopping the champion's legs and arms. Besides a finely equipped gymnasium, Jeffries has a handball court and bowling alley in which to vary the monotony of training. The big boiler-maker has become quite proficient in both pastimes, and seems to find relaxation in friendly competition with the guests at the resort. All who have seen Jeffries since he began training are unanimous in their praise of his condition. The only unfavorable report from Harbin has been one to the effect that Jeffries is forced to nurse his left arm because he injured some time ago, and which it is said, is yet a little tender. Both the big fighter and his trainers deny that there is anything the matter with the arm to cause worry.

Fitz has been just as busy as the champion. The Cornishman has not only done plenty of road-chasing, but has made things very lively for his trainers. Fitz has surrounded himself with a husky set of glove-wielders and the afternoon bouts have come to be looked forward to by the residents about Skaggs, Cal. The old champion's principal adviser is George Dawson, the former middleweight champion of Australia, who is assisted by Soldier Williams, a big willing fighter, and Hank Griffin, the Los Angeles negro of some reputation. Even at this early day Fitz boxes all three men in succession nearly every afternoon, which shows how anxious the Cornishman is to get himself into shape for the bruising fight everybody expects the championship battle will be.

Even before he went into active training at the springs, Fitz was in good condition, as was shown in an exhibition he gave at the Olympic club, San Francisco. That his outdoor life at the springs and the conditioning process he has gone through have greatly improved his form is vouched for by everybody who has seen him.

There has been no betting on the event as yet, but all signs indicate that Jeffries will be 2 to 1 favorite at least, and many expect the odds to be even greater. Eddie Graney, who will referee the contest, intends to put in two weeks of training to be in proper shape for the event.

DAY'S DESPATCHES

RUSSIA IN MANCHURIA.

St. Petersburg, July 8.—In contradiction of the recent report that Russia had already practically evacuated Manchuria, an official despatch, just received here from Kharbin, says the evacuation has not even begun.

TO GARRISON SOUTH AFRICA.

London, July 9.—The Daily Mail this morning says the permanent garrison in South Africa is to be 50,000 men, under the command of Lieut.-General Lyttelton. Besides this force the system of having a large number of reservists scattered throughout the country, either on farms or in official positions, will be extensively followed. The reservists could be called upon for service in case of an emergency.

STRATHOONA FORECASTS.

London, July 8.—Lord Strathoona, the British High Commissioner, presided yesterday at the meeting of the Hudson Bay Company. In an address he said that the progress of the Dominion of Canada has been such that the North-west Territories were now able to supply Great Britain with half the amount of breadstuffs required. In another ten years he confidently hoped the Dominion would be able to supply all the requirements of the United Kingdom. The company declared a dividend and bonus of 2s. 6d. on the shares.

A FAMILY MURDERED.

Enid, O. T., July 8.—Near Prudence, 30 miles southwest of here, the bodies of a man, a woman, and two children, apparently members of one family, mutilated, were found unrecognizable shapes, were found today. The bodies had been stripped of all clothing, leaving no means of identification. It is supposed that the family were travelling overland, and that they were robbed and murdered by men who then made off with their team and belongings.

A TELL-TALE LETTER.

Boston, July 7.—A letter alleged to have been written by Andrew J. Emery of South Framingham, to Nina Danforth, the deformed girl of Newton, who shot and killed Emery at his home last May, has been found. Miss Danforth and Emery had been close friends. The letter said:—"Of course I am very sorry for you but I have a wife, and I cannot keep up the life I have been leading with you any longer. I do not want to see you again, and I do not want you to come where I am. It is all over between us." With this letter in her hand Miss Danforth confronted Emery, and the shooting terminated the interview. Miss Danforth who is in jail at East Cambridge, pending trial on a murder indictment, is under supervision by experts to determine her mental condition.

CORONATION CONTINGENT.

Ottawa, July 8.—Militia orders were issued to-day as follows:—

The Canadian coronation contingent having embarked at Liverpool on the S.S. The accounts of the department of militia and defence, and an official of the quartermaster-general's office will board the Tunisian at Rimouski. The troops will be finally settled with en route to Quebec and Montreal, and provided with transportation, and an allowance in lieu of subsistence from place of disembarkation to their home. As soon after disembarkation as the officers in command considers desirable, officers and men will be dismissed in order that they may proceed to their respective homes by first train for which transport has been provided. Such arms, accoutrements and equipment as were issued to the contingent out of militia stores will be handed over to the D. O. C. at Montreal, to be returned into store. The officer commanding the contingent will, before dismissing his command, impress upon all ranks that they are on duty until such time as they reach their homes. The senior officer, or in the event of their being no officer, the senior non-commissioned officer will take charge of parties of men travelling with them.
