TRIALS WHICH ADAM ESCALED.

No doubt it was a severe affliction to old Grandfather Adam to be turned out of Farndies, though there are two wite to every question, and perhaps he can be wholly wrethed over it. We are not going to argue that point at present.

not going to argue that point at precent.

What we want to get at is the fact that, though Adam lived so long ago, when the world was young, he esseped a great many troubles an it trials which beset the modern man.

It would not fit, and which felt, in spite of the smiling identist's assurance "that they looked perfectly natural, sir,"

CURIOUS MARRIAGES.

Of the many interesting matters that come under the notice of the Registrar General, there is nothing more aurprising than the frequency with which youth and age try the path of matricing than the frequency with which youth and age try the path of matricing than the frequency with which youth and age try the path of matricing that the young lassie "that takes the "and man." Of 3088 brides over 50 years of age who were married hast year one secured a youth of 20, three were more secured a youth of 20, three were not necessary of age who were married that year one secured a youth of 20, three were nothers kept their choice of striplings below 25. In one of the last named cases, the good lady was forty years older than her partner. Turning to the veterans among the husbands, there is fewer than 3 artisty. There were no loter than her partner. Turning to the veterans among the husbands, there is fewer than 3 artisty. There were no years of age, and of these one took a girl of 17, another one of 19, and four others kept under 21. Between 60 and 70 years of age 25% mean married, three of them took girls under 18, and twenty-who had not reached with partners who had not reached with partners who had not reached the war in their teens. AFTER A BIG THING.

About aix weeks ago a man who claimed to be in hard luck entered a Detroit stove store and asked for money. The proprietor gave him a dime and a blowing up at the same time, and asked him why he did not brace up and ty to do something.

"Say! I'll do it!" was the reply, "I'm already working at a big thing. It is a coal stove and refrigerator combined to be about the coal your provisions in summer with the coal your provisions in winner, other to heat your bodies in winner."

He was encouraged to go on, and in about two weeks he returned to inquire !

He was encounaged to go on, and in about two weeks he returned to inquire:

"Do you think it will make any difference which side is the stove and we have a substitute of the store of the store to run a washing-machine!"

"Wouldn't it be a good thing to arrange to save the heat of the stove to run a washing-machine!"

a jointed fishing rod, and supp_sing the case, or a length of the rod, is just three feet, set it in the ground vertically, and if the sun shines, it will cast a shadow; now with a pocket-rule. You measure the length of the shadow, and find it, say two feet. Here then we three feet. Now measure from the base of the tree to the end of its shadow, and we will suppose it to be twenty feet. The problem, therefore, is simply this; if a came three feet high casts a shadow of two-length of the shadow of two beautiful to be shadow of two beautiful to beautiful to be shadow of two beautiful to be shadow of two beau

There is another method which has the advantage of being still more simple and convenient, by which the height of a tree may easily be determined by its shadow. Any person may easily measure the exact height of a tree may easily measure the exact height of a bright moon light, by making two lines on the ground, three feet apart, and then placing in the ground, on the line nearest the sun, a stick that shall stand exactly three feet out of the soil. When the end of the shadow of the shadow of the sealth when the end of the shadow of line, then also the shadow of the tree will be exactly in length the same measurement as its height. Of course, in such a case, the sun will be at an exact angle of 45° or just milway below the senith and the horizon.

When the end of the shadow of the tree, will be exactly in length the same posen the sun doesn't shine what then? Why, then set up the came as before, any eighteen feet from the base of the tree. Now place your head on the ground, with the cane between you and the tree, moving nearer to or farther for the tree over the top of the cane, then place a pebble or mark on the ground, with the cane being three feet high, the distance from the pebble to it will be two feet, and from the pebble to it will be two feet, and from the pebble to it will be two feet, and from the pebble to the sun and the tree of the tree over the top of the cane, then place a pebble or mark on the ground, with a little practice, will enable any person to measure the neights of trees or other yound the tree of the tree to be twenty feet, as explained above.

The following method, with a little practice, will enable any person to measure the neights of trees or other models and the second of the same and the practice, will enable any person to measure the neights of the same rule, we find the height is measured. It may sometime the end of the tree of the upper end of the same and another breadth, and thus proceed until the whole height is measured. It may sometime be convenient for the resonance of th
