BRIGHT DESPATCHES BY

Leave Canada in September Next.

Hon. Frank Cochrane is Much Improved in Health.

(By Special Wire to The Courier)
MONTREAL, March 16.—A London cable to The Daily Mail says Mr.
Ramsay MacDonald, the parliamentary labor leader, declares in the Daily Citizen this morning that the Labor Party will not accept Sir Edward Carson's demand for the unlimited exclusion of Ulster. The Morning Post (Conservative) in its editorial this morning which is headed "Drifting to Civil War" accuses the government of deliberately provoking a terrible catastrophe
rather than risk the loss of office.

CONNAUGHT WILL LEAVE.
MONTREAL, March 16.—The London correspondent of the Gazette says: An authoritative and emphatic contradiction is given by the Sunday Times to the report that the term of the Duke of Connaught as Governor-General of Canada will be extended. The Sunday Times says that the offer of an extension has never been made nor contemplated
by the government, while if the offer was made, it would be declined.

The Sunday Times further states that H.R.H. the Duchess will embark for England in September, while the Duke, after paying a visit to the Yukon, will join the Duchess here in December.

MR. COCHRANE IS BETTER.
MONTREAL, March 16.—A London cable to the Gazette says: From Frank Cochrane, Minister of Railways and Canals for Canada, whose health necessitated a trip abroad, says that he is feeling much better since his arrival here and that he only needs a thorough rest. He is taking things so quietly that his presence here has escaped the notice of the London press and also the attention of many Canadian officials. Mr. Cochrane is leaving to-day for Nice in the south of France where he will probably stay until the end of the month, returning to Canada early in April.

COMMISSIONER IS BETTER.
MONTREAL, March 16.—A London special cable to the Gazette says:
Commissioner Rees in command of the eastern division of the Salvation Army in Canada sailed by the Alsation on Saturday after a fortnight's visit in England. So benefited was he by the voyage over that his former physician, Dr. Richmond scarcely believed that his recent illness was as serious as was really the case. His recovery is regarded at the headquarters as nothing short of miraculous. He is proceeding direct to Toronto.

IS GENERAL OFFICER.
MONTREAL, March 16.—A London cable to the Gazette says: Capt.
Arthur Carr has been gazetted general staff officer of the second grade
at the Royal Military College, Kingston, Ontario. He entered the service in 1895, served in northern Nigeria and in the South African campaign, being mentioned in despatches and receiving the Queen's medal with six clasps.

FIRST TO GET DEGREE.
NEW YORK, March 16.—A cable
from London to the New York Times says: Cambridge University has justified the degree of arts on Armand MacKenzie, the first deaf and dumb man who ever won the Master's Hood in a British University. Mackenzie who was born deaf and dumb, paid the university fees out of his scanty earnings. He married a deaf

Five Are Said to

by Bandits.

Convent, Cathedral
and Church Loot-
ed and Burned.

(By Special Wire to The Courier)
NEW ORLEANS, La., March 16.—
Five priests have been slain by rebels
in the Mexican state of Tamaulipas since November 18 last; three are held for ransom, a convent has been burned and a cathedral and a smaller church looted, according to two Catholic priests, Father Jose Moreno Madina and Father Raymon Gonzalez, who arrived here yesterday from Brownsville, Texas. Both said they had been driven from Victoria, Mexico.

"Three weeks ago, soldiers
under General Cavallero demanded money," said Father Madina. "We gave them what we had, but it was not enough. Becoming angered they took away the gold and silver utensils and wrecked the inside of the building. The figure of the Saviour was smashed to bits and other statuary broken and trampled under foot."
The archbishop, Jose Guzman, and his aged aunt were thrown into the street by the marauders," continued Father Madina. "Father Guzman died two days later, and just before we left we heard the aunt was dying.
The rebels then went to the sister-convent, drove out the sisters and her charges and set the building on fire."

At Tula, a church was looted by the rebels in the same manner as at Victoria, said Father Madina, and the rector, Father Cela Delon and his two assistants, Basilio and Louise Romanes, were kidnapped. It is said they were taken into the hills where they are being held for a ransom of 500 pesos each, their parishioners having been notified that unless the ransoms are paid the priests will be put to death. Father Madina said five priests had been killed by rebels since they entered Tamaulipas last November.

Storage Battery Cars On Lake Erie and Northern
Will Be Inaugurated

The Courier has been informed that the Lake Erie & Northern Railway will inaugurate storage battery cars for the passenger traffic between Port Dover and Gait. The cars are used successfully in many places in the United States, and are said to be the last word in efficiency for short runs. The invention is claimed by Edison. No overhead wires or poles are necessary, and the system is rendered immune from complete tie-ups. The coaches are of handsome and comfortable design and capable of making all the speed necessary. The batteries are recharged at the terminus and are good for 70 or 80 miles.

STRONG RESOLUTIONS ARE PASSED AGAINST REDUCTION OF DUTY ON FARM IMPLEMENTS

Conservatives at Largely Attended Meeting Saturday Night Decide on Petitions to Premier Borden and Finance Minister White,

At a big meeting in the Borden Club rooms Saturday, resolutions regarding the proposed reduction of agricultural implement duties were unanimously passed and will be presented to the Government. There was a large representation of both members of the Conservative Association and Borden Club present. The resolutions are as follows:

The following resolution was passed: The Conservative Association of Brantford consider it dangerous to the welfare of this constituency and of Canada at large, that any reduction whatsoever be made of the tariff on agricultural implements, and that such reduction would be contrary to the emphatically expressed will of the people of this Dominion on the 21st day of September, 1911, our constituency, being composed largely of workmen chiefly employed in the manufacture of agricultural implements and allied trades.

Our past experience has shown us that when the reduction of the tariff has occurred, that Canada has been made a dumping ground for the surplus output of American manufacturers, thus throwing out of employment a large body of workmen in several instances, completely closing several important manufacturing industries.

The farmers and market gardeners,
owing to the increase and stability
of our manufactures and the increase of population of our workmen,
have obtained a staple and profitable
market for all they grow at satisfactory prices.
In view of the above facts, we strongly protest against any reduction of the tariff at this time.
That a copy of the above be sent to Premier Borden and Hon. Mr.
White.

Over Eight Tons of Coal
Was Stolen From Car
at Grand Trunk Friday

Coal thieving in brazenly unmitigated form is reported at the Grand Trunk depot siding Friday night last. From one car Mr. D. McDonald lost eight tons and 900 pounds, and it all disappeared through the night. The matter has been reported to the police, but the Grand Trunk will take the matter up, as well, and detectives will be brought here immediately to ferret the thing out. Mr. McDonald is indignant over the loss, as he claims that this form of piracy has been going on, practically unchecked by the police, all winter, and coal dealers have lost hundreds of dollars' worth of coal.
Foreigners are said to be the chief offenders, and suspicions are held against three houses for the theft Saturday night.

MARRIED SON, THEN FATHER,
BRANTFORD WOMAN SUES
FOR RESIDUE OF ESTATE

Queer Will Mix-Up Settled Out of Court in Hamilton—Mrs Alex. Whyte, Nee Florence Aird,
One of Participants in Suit.

An action of unusual interest to some Brantford people was on the docket at the High Court at Hamilton last week but was settled out of court, as shown in the following despatch:
"The action between the executors
of the will of Alex R Whyte and Mrs Alex. R Whyte and Alex Whyte, jun-step-son and former husband of the co-plaintiff, was settled out of court
The whole estate is valued at $7,500 and liabilities against it $5,000. By the terms of the settlement the wife and the son and daughter by the first wife were to divide the other proceeds after the debts were paid."
Mrs. A. R. Whyte the plaintiff in the case, was formerly Miss F. Aird, of this city. Some years ago she married Alex. Whyte, jun., but secured a divorce from him in Detroit and married his father, a twice widower, who was in the Customs Department and a man of considerable means. The couple lived in style in the old Whyte homestead, on one of the avenues, but their married life was unhappy and the neighbors were frequently shocked by visits of the police to the Whyte home to quell disturbances.
Twice Mr. Whyte advertised his debts and finally the husband was placed in the Home for the Incurables where he died last fall. After the father's death, a reconciliation was affected between Mrs. Whyte and her former husband, who by marriage, is also her step-son. The couple sought to upset the will, which left the residue of the once large estate to children by his first wife, but nothing to Alex.

Mayor Spence
Receives Word

That Big Gas Purifier Will be Established at Glenwood.

In three months time the Tilbury
gas will be purified of all sulphur.
This was the information received by Mayor Spence Saturday from the Doherty interests in New York, who control the Dominion Natural Gas Company which supplies Brantford. A mammoth purifier is to be built at Glenwood, Ont., which will take care of the entire supply, which comes east to Brantford and other municipalities.
It is just possible the city will sit back and watch developments before proceeding further against the company.

Bonar Law Objects
--Happenings in Commons To-day.

(By Special Wire to The Courier)
LONDON, March 16.—"I do not feel much encouraged over the reception of my proposals in regard to Ulster," said Premier Asquith to-day in the House of Commons. He was replying to a number of requests for further details of the scheme of local option under whose provisions the nine counties of Ulster will be permitted to vote separately on the question whether they shall be left out of the control of the new Irish Government at Dublin.

Premier Asquith said he fully adhered to his proposals in the hope that they would form a basis of settlement. He added:
"I am anxious in the interests of agreement and peace, that the main principles of our proposals should be considered on their merits without being encumbered with minute details liable to draw the discussion into back waters."

Andrew Bonar Law, leader of the Opposition, took exception to the Premier's attitude. He declared it was impossible to debate the proposals without details being given.
Premier Asquith then promised to give the House an opportunity to discuss his refusal of the details before knowing whether the Opposition would accept the main principles of the proposals.

GAVE MILITANT
RAP WITH FIST

Dr. Devon of Glasgow Was Not Going to be Horse-Whipped.

(By Special Wire to The Courier)
GLASGOW, Scotland, March 16.—
Dr. James Devon, prison commis-ioner for Scotland when attacked to-day
by an irate militant suffragette armed with a dog whip, took the law in his own hands and knocked the assailant down with a well aimed left hand blow.

The woman, whose identity was not discovered, met prison commis-ioner at the entrance to the Duke street prison belabored him over the head and shoulders with the whip.
Dr. Devon, who is an advocate of forcible feeding and is bitterly opposed to what he considers the farcical release of suffragettes because they are suffering from the effects of "hunger strikes," promptly knocked her down. The woman was picked up by a policeman and placed under arrest, but Dr. Devon refused to prosecute her and she was released.

President's Address Of -VOTES FOR WOMEN- Equal Franchise Club

The following address was delivered Friday evening by Mrs. S. W. Secord, President of the Equal Franchise Club at the annual meeting Friday night.

President's Address.

At the close of our year a short review of what we have been able to accomplish is, I suppose of interest to you all, but, as we have other matters to attend to this evening I think it as well to make my report somewhat briefer than last year's.

During the year just past although we have gained some new members, we have lost several, owing to their removal from our city, so we should make a special effort to gain new recruits in order that our membership may continue to increase. The public meetings which we held through the year certainly aided us in this; especially the interesting and convincing lecture given by Dr. James L. Hughes of Toronto.

Mr. Alfred Allen Watts of New York and Mr. A. L. Baird, while we had one open public meeting at which various members of the club took part in discussions on different topics. Mrs. S. G. Read has also spoken on a number of occasions and in different places on the cause so dear to all our hearts; while your president had an opportunity to speak on Woman Suffrage on November 4th, of last year at the Tutela Heights Women's Institute; choosing as her subject "Woman's Interest in Municipal Matters." This meeting afforded an excellent opportunity for distributing our literature, as did also a lecture, delivered by Miss Agnes Slack of England, World Secretary of the W. C. T. U. under the auspices of the local W. C. T. U. For this occasion we got out a new leaflet "Facts for Temperance Women," and we were also able to distribute about eighty copies of our "Platform." You will notice that for 1914 we have made one slight change in the platform. Besides the literature printed by our club during the year, the "Single Tax Association" sent us from Toronto 100 copies of "Henry George on Woman Suffrage" for distribution. The entire cost of printing a thousand copies of "Why Women need the Vote" was as most of us know, borne by one of the members of our club. It seems rather difficult to make the public generally realize that men are just as much concerned as women in the extension of the franchise to women. Men and women must stand and fall together and what vitally concerns the one vitally concerns the other.

It ought to be more generally known that we welcome men members to our Franchise Club; already about one fifth of our membership consists of men. Most of these men have already worked in different ways to help on our movement and we certainly feel grateful to them for their cordial co-operation. The production of our first play, last December, which we all hope to make an annual affair marked another milestone in our march of progress; the success of "Our nearest male relative" should be a matter of congratulation to the members of the entertainment committee and to all who helped in putting it on. In this connection our thanks are due to all those who are not yet members of our club, but who kindly lent their assistance for the occasion. I regret to say that Miss Stevenson who has been such a valued member of our club has left Brantford, having gone to live in Hamilton. I know we shall miss her very much.

Our thanks are also due to the press for their complete reports of our meetings and to many others for their kindly help in our work. And now, as to the deputation from the club which called on the Mayor and City Council last Monday evening to ask them to pass a resolution in favor of the extension of the franchise to married women on the same basis as widows and spinners, and also to ask them to instruct our representative to vote in favor of any legislation aiming to extend the franchise to married women. I shall merely remind you that ten or twelve of our members were ready and willing to metaphorically assault the sacred civic precincts, with what result, time will show. However, since Monday evening I have been assured that the matter will not be allowed to drop, and I confidently hope that Brantford may before long join the large number of municipalities in Ontario (about seventy in number) who have placed themselves on record as willing and even anxious to remove their wives and mothers from their political classification with the criminal and insane even, as in other parts of the world. The woman's cause has been going ahead by leaps and bounds so too in Canada it is rapidly making headway. The various women's clubs and organizations patriotic, philanthropic and political whether consciously or unconsciously are paving the way for the complete emancipation of women.

The vote, as such is only one aspect of a vital world-wide revolution the ballot, until the voter uses it, is powerless, but as suffragists, and consequently believers in the efficiency of the intelligently use of the franchise to effect moral and social reforms we are bound to lay stress upon the extension of the franchise to women on equal terms with men. I believe that the more we concentrate our efforts upon this important feature of the woman's movement the less we shall need to expand our energies in what I always think of as an endless mopping up of spilt milk.

To Build Purifier.

Mayor A. E. Buchanan of Galt has received a letter, signed by J. W. Macdowell, President of the Southern Ontario Gas Co., and F. M. The letter explains that the company has decided on the construction of a monster purification plant at Glenwood, Ont.

Tranquility Women's Inst.

The march meeting of the Moyle-Tranquility Women's Institute was held at the pretty home of Mr and Mrs. A. Crawford, River Road, on Wednesday, the 11th with a splendid attendance. The meeting opened in the usual way, with opening music, motto, roll call, responded to with quotations and home problems. The minutes of last meeting were read by the secretary-treasurer and adopted. The principal business on hand was a resolution brought before the meeting to contribute one hundred dollars towards building a pavilion for women at the Tuberculosis Sanitarium. The resolution was passed by a standing vote. The programme was as follows: A beautiful paper on "Spring" was given by Mrs. J. R. Moyle, showing its beauties as compared with our lives, also some pretty verses on the same topic. In a domestic talk recipes for marmalade were added.

Mrs. Barnie gave a splendid talk on how to pack away winter clothing, and also on planking fish and meat, and some very new receipts for carrot marmalade, and also recipes for grape fruit and orange marmalade, which gave the ladies many new ideas to carry away with them. Mrs. Harney gave a paper on our "Fair Dominion," portraying the many beauties of the Eastern parts, which we do not hear so much about, as we do about the wonderful west. The hostess Mrs. Crawford served dainty refreshments and the meeting closed with God-Save the King.

PICKS THE TORONTOS MONTREAL, March 16.—Russell Bowie, one of the officials in the game between Torontos and Victorias at Toronto on Saturday night for the Stanley Cup, emblematic of the hockey championship of Canada, gives it as his opinion that the champions of the N.H.A. will win the silverware. He says that the Torontos outclass the Westerners, and they will play as well under the British Columbia rules governing the next game as they do under N.H.A. regulations.

Vote in All War's. The question as to whether a property owner has a right to vote in each ward in which he owns property at next Monday's voting was asked at City Hall this morning. Returning Officer City Clerk Leonard replied that every voter whose name is on the voters' list is entitled to vote in every ward in which he owns property. No doubt at next Monday's voting there will be an unusually large vote polled, as the property owners are greatly interested in the question of the street railway purchase.

IMPLEMENT DUTIES QUESTION
 The Liberals are on record as wanting the duties removed from agricultural implements. In this connection an unconfirmed rumor is that certain Conservative members favor a reduction to 10 per cent.

With reference to the agitation, a few items will prove of interest in connection with the last recorded year of imports from the United States to Canada.

Of plows, we bought 43,356, representing a total value of $1,351,867.

Of seed drills we bought 7,049, to the value of $349,266.

Of harrows we bought 11,759 to the value of $143,597.

Of harvesters, self binding, we bought 2,531, to the value of $264,890.

Of all the parts of the above and other implements we bought to the value of $2,056,286.

On top of that list we bought 2,866 threshing machine separators to the value of $1,404,455.

Of portable engines with boilers and traction engines for farm purposes, we bought 3,831 to the value of $6,021,052, and so on.

These and other figures are significant. It might be argued and is argued, especially in the Canadian West, that with the barriers altogether down or reduced almost to the vanishing point, that Canadian farmers would purchase much more cheaply. That is not at all certain.

Free binder twine didn't have such a result. The huge U. S. combines simply took control of the situation and fixed the rates at their own sweet will. Why not the same regarding implements?

And then what about the Canadian home market? Thinking farmers of Brant County and away beyond realize the value to them of the thousands of men and their families who in this city earn a livelihood from employment in agricultural industries. The same kind of thing is also true with regard to other industrial centres. Surely it is better to have such monies spent here than for a large proportion of them to go across the border. The truth is that in this vast country there should be a reasonable recognition of the varied interests which go to make up this splendid fabric of Confederation.

Food should no more be on the free list, than implements, whose manufacture under protection in Canada ensures so many food consumers.

VOTE FOR THE BY-LAW

Just one week from to-day the property holders of Brantford will have a chance to vote upon the acquisition of the Brantford Street Railway as a municipal enterprise. It should also be remembered that the proposed deal likewise involves the acquisition of the Grand Valley system between here and Galt via Paris.

The sum asked—270,000—cannot under the circumstances, be regarded as excessive. That the concern, despite poor cars and a too heavy bond indebtedness, has latterly earned quite large sums, is generally well known. It is moreover certain that each year shows an improvement, and that the more recent extension in the Holmedale from the first justified itself. That other extensions would have a like result is quite probable, and moreover there would be that much better serving of the interests of the community. Anything which helps to make this city a more desirable and convenient place in which to dwell, makes for the general comfort and welfare.

Moreover the fact should not be lost sight of, that the present most undesirable franchise has still thirty-eight years yet to run.

Thirty-eight years! Who can doubt where Brantford, with its present population of about 30,000, including suburbs, will have arrived then, if the existing rate of progress is at all maintained. That it will be and constantly more so, nobody can very well doubt.

Berlin, Guelph and other smaller places have made such systems pay, and the people of Ottawa, with good reason, are kicking themselves because some time ago they failed to grasp the opportunity to secure their system. The latter has proved a veritable gold mine to the private investors, and when the franchise does expire, the people of the Capital City will have to spend many million dollars more for purposes of acquisition than at the time of their original chance. From every standpoint, it is desirable to carry the measure by an emphatic majority.

THE DOUKHOBORS ONCE MORE

The Government of British Columbia is having trouble with the Doukhobors. With a view to compelling these peculiar people to obey the law of the land in regard to sending their children to school, registering births, marriages and deaths, and observing the Provincial health regulations, the British Columbia Legislature passed an act at its recent session making the community property liable to seizure in order that the fines imposed on individual Doukhobors for violations of the school, registration and health laws might be enforced.

A letter addressed to Mr. Bowser the Attorney-General of British Columbia, and signed on behalf of the Doukhobor community by K. Reibin, T. Salikin, and S. Berichagin, not only protests strongly against the Doukhobors being compelled to obey the laws in question, but declares that they are determined not to obey them. The document is a noteworthy disclosure of the Doukhobor mind, or perhaps it should be said the mind of those who dominate and control and manage the Doukhobors.

When the Doukhobors, under the leadership of Peter Veregin, moved from the prairies a couple of years ago and located in British Columbia, they refused from the first to submit to the school, registration and health laws. A commission was appointed to investigate the conditions among them and to endeavor to arrive at some method of inducing them peaceably to obey the law. This was found impossible. Their communal system of living made it exceedingly difficult to enforce the law effectively. Individuals were imprisoned, but the only result was that they were honored as martyrs, and the leaders of the community, by representing the action of the Government in resorting to imprisonment as persecution for conscience sake, have been able to strengthen their domination.

By taking the course of making the communal property liable for the fines inflicted on individuals for failure to obey the law, the Government of British Columbia has brought the matter to a head, and it will be interesting to see what line of action Peter Veregin and those who with him control the Doukhobor community will now resort to. In the letter to the Attorney-General it is declared that sending of children to school, the registration of births, marriages and deaths, and the observance of the health regulations are contrary to the religion of the Doukhobors and it is threatened in the letter that if the government persists in enforcing obedience to the law of the land, the Doukhobors will march in a body, all naked, to Nelson and Grand Forks, carrying their clothes to make a present of them to the representatives of Nelson and Grand Forks in the British Columbia Legislature.

These people have been a nuisance to Canada right from the start and it would be a good thing to deport them, boots and breeches—that is, if they have any of the latter on at the time.

Birthdays of Note

MONDAY, MARCH SIXTEENTH

Lieut.-Col. Lennox Irving, who was born fifty-one years ago to-day in Pembroke, Ontario, was in his student days at Queen's University a noted athlete. He was captain of the championship football team of 1886 and a member of the first Queen's hockey team, said to be the first hockey septette in Ontario. To him belongs the honor, if such it may be considered, of having scored the first recorded goal in a hockey match in the province. To-day he has settled down into a country barrister, living in the town of his birth. Here he has taken an active interest in military affairs and was for several years commanding officer of the 42nd Regiment.

On Monday, after Sabbath rest, a man should go to work with vim, roll up his sleeves, pull down his vest, and show there are no flies on him. If happy fortune he deserves, he'll laugh to scorn "Blue Mondays," heels, and will say "Now watch my curves and mark the swath that I shall mow." Get started right on Monday morn, nor pause with grouches to condole go paint the fence or shell the corn, and work with music in your soul. Go forth among the busy men, and show them you can do your share, and when the Sabbath comes again, 'twill find you right side up with care. Ods bodikins! Beshrew the skates who start the week with idle waits and for our labor makes demands. Tradition says that Monday's blue, but that to us should seem a joke, if we have useful work to do, and strength to bear our padded yoke. The man who has an honest task should never to a roar give vent, nor hide his face behind a mask of grouchiness and discontent. No mortal has a right to kick unless he has no work to do, or, having work, is to blame sick his daily duties to pursue.

WELLINGTON ST.

Dr. Barber was the speaker at the Wellington St. Baptist church, and delivered a fine address. The class meeting led by Mr. Cooper and the Junior League, under the superintendency of Mr. Joseph Daniel, were well attended. Rev. R. D. The attendance of the boys and girls is still increasing. He choic sang the anthem "Like as the Harp Desireth" (Hewlett), Mr. W. G. Darwen taking the baritone solo. Mr. Ernest O'Neill of Woodstock, did not sing as announced, because of a cold. He will sing next Sunday morning. Mrs. A. T. Whitaker had just started the solo, "Where is Heaven" (Mart), when the electric power which blows the organ went off, and the soloist was obliged to cease singing. However, the power came on during the sermon, and Mrs. Whitaker sang the solo very acceptably. At Sunday school, Messrs. Ranton

"A Dear Fool" Very C

It would be hard to imagine a thing more delightfully dainty than the little comedy drama "A Dear Fool" presented at the Grand Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. H. Esmond and their capable English company.

Canadian theatre-goers always expect a thoroughly finished product from British artists and their support and they were not disappointed Saturday evening. It was a perfectly balanced performance taken part by cultured and talented performers.

"The Dear Fool" is the work of Mr. Esmond himself, and about sparkling dialogue with a touch of there of dramatic intensity provides an excellent foil to the lighter vein.

As Sir Egbert Inglefield, Mr. Esmond gave a most finished imitation of a character that in less able hands, could be made a very funny and wishy-washy one.

Voice, gesture, action, were all admirable. Mr. Esmond has all the tributes of an actor of the very best order and one would like to see him in a part where his undoubted histrionic abilities would have great opportunity and fuller sway.

As the impulsive, willful widow the meridian of forty, but still youthful looking and pretty, Mrs. Esmond was quite irresistible. As Miss Moore she has long been one of the best known actresses on the stage and has "played many" and always played them well.

Miss Estelle Despa, in the ungrateful role of Ethel, the devoted herself an actress of the first merit, whilst the Marquis of M. impersonated by Mr. Leslie (who by the by, is an Oxford who at one time, intended going to the church) was a capital bit of the "silly ass" order, quite in the G. P. Huntley well known.

Two bright boys, Bill and Jack, former a product of London and New York installed themselves favorably, although Jack did hard time now and again to keep up to the best standard of school boy English.

Of the three acts of the play the first and second were undoubtedly the best. The third inclined in spots but the final curtain effective and altogether "The Fool" is a credit to its actors. The play has not yet been put in England and it will be interesting to note its reception by the critics.

Mr. and Mrs. Esmond and many brought their brief excursion to a conclusion in Brantford by their special car morning at 1.26 for New York from there by the Maur to-morrow for home.

They expressed themselves delighted with their Canadian reception, although the tour from a business standpoint was very

"A Dear Fool" Was Very Cleverly Presented

It would be hard to imagine anything more delightfully dainty than the little comedy drama "A Dear Fool" presented at the Grand Saturday evening by Mr. and Mrs. H. V. Esmond and their capable English company.

Canadian theatre-goers always expect a thoroughly finished production from British artists and their support and they were not disappointed Saturday evening. It was a perfectly balanced performance taken part in by cultured and talented performers.

Miss Estelle Despa, in the rather ungrateful role of Ethel, the sister, proved herself an actress of sterling merit, whilst the Marquis of Murdon impersonated by Mr. Leslie Banks, who by the by, is an Oxford man, who at one time, intended going into the church) was a capital bit of work of "the silly ass" order, quite up to the G. P. Huntley well known brand.

Two bright boys, Bill and Jack, the former a product of London and the latter recruited by Mr. Esmond in New York, installed themselves great favorites, although Jack did have a hard time now and again to quite live up to the best standard of public school boy English.

Of the three acts of the play, the first and second were undoubtedly the best. The third inclines to drag in spots but the final curtain is quite effective and altogether "The Dear Fool" is a credit to its actor-author. The play has not yet been produced in England and it will be interesting to note its reception by the London critics.

Mr. and Mrs. Esmond and Company brought their brief Canadian tour to a conclusion in Brantford, leaving by their special car Sunday morning at 1.26 for New York, sailing from there by the Mauretania to-morrow for home.

They expressed themselves as delighted with their Canadian jaunt and reception, although the tour from a business standpoint was very badly managed. They especially enjoyed their visit to Montreal, London and Brantford. They will return to the Dominion in 1915, playing right through to the coast. That they will meet with an enthusiastic reception in the leading centres goes without saying. English cannot send us artists of the calibre of the Esmonds, too often. They are a delightful contrast to the mediocre run of companies and so-called stars, which come to us all too frequently, via the United States and which have been too long almost our only purveyors of dramatic pabulum.

RETIREES AFTER LONG SERVICE

Mr. McCusker Received a Presentation From the T.H.&B. Office.

The business men of the city will learn with regret of the retirement of Mr. John McCusker, who last Saturday, relinquished his position as freight foreman, to take a well deserved rest, after many years of faithful service.

The staff and employees turned out in full strength to pay him tribute, and incidentally to present him with an arm chair for his own use, and a cut glass jug and tumblers for Mrs. McCusker.

The agent, Mr. H. C. Thomas, made the presentation and spoke with regret that he and everyone felt at the passing of such a familiar and well beloved figure, and trusted that perhaps the chair might help somewhat to supply the rest that Mr. McCusker so well deserves.

Mr. McCusker, although very much moved, made a neat speech of thanks and concluded by hoping that he would be able to fill the chair, for many years to come, and extended a hearty invitation to welcome to his home all his friends.

GAS COMPANY ISSUES STATEMENT

Purifier Will be Completed in Short Time - Plans of the Company.

The local gas company have received information to the effect that the plans for general purification of the field had been completed, and it was just now a matter of installation. No expense or pains have been spared to ensure the commercial success of the system and the elapsed period over which definite information has been unavailable has been occupied in the building up and tearing down of various schemes for solving the problems involved. The difficulties encountered have been no small ones, and it is interesting to note that the theories and ideas of many prominent consulting chemists and engineers have entered into the final solution.

In the meantime the local company has exerted every effort to keep its purifiers in shape to deliver the maximum of pure gas; the cleaning of the boxes has been carried on night as well as day, and every possible scheme to increase capacity have been adopted. On the streets several gangs are at work repairing leaks and putting the distribution system into shape. The company state that it is their express desire to exact the citizens in touch with the exact situation as far as they know it themselves, and any information which can be had will be gladly given to anyone.

One of the features of the program was the showing of pictures of past camp scenes in connection with the various kinds, photographs of various boys and young men who have been in connection with the corps at various times. At the conclusion of this part of the program, the refreshment committee consisting of Corp. Earl Johnson, N. Kendrick, Percy Holt, W. Olmstead and Leslie Goodson ably took charge of the proceedings and brought on the good things and coffee. Needless to say justice was done to the eatables. The singing of the National Anthem brought to a fitting conclusion the keeping of the third anniversary of the boy knights. The seniors will celebrate theirs next Thursday evening.

speeches were made by Mr. J. Scott, Lieut. Cockshutt and Mr. Hunt. Lieut. H. Cockshutt has charge of the juniors just at present and is doing splendid work. His speech was a splendid effort for a young man. He outlined the work ahead of the juniors.

THEIR BUSINESS IS NOT DECREASED

Local Express Companies, it is stated are not suffering from Parcel Post.

Since the introduction of the parcel post system in the United States the express companies have noted a sharp decrease in their business, and it has been attributed to the low rates set by the postal officials.

The United States Express company whose bulk of business was transacted in New York city, went to the wall Saturday, and its failure was assigned to the fact that the parcel post can carry matter much cheaper than it could.

The local managers of the Canadian American and Dominion Express companies, when asked if the parcel post system had affected the volume of their business, replied in the negative and said so far they had not felt it.

There was always a large number of small parcels shipped by parcel post, but the major's of the matter we receive is over eleven pounds in weight, and "I think we'll survive," said one official of a local company.

TRAGIC NEWS FOR THE DRUNKS

Magistrate Livingston Considering Raising Fines for All Concerned.

A fair sized list was presented to the police court this morning when the principal offenders were drunks. In connection with these drunks, the magistrate remarked that he found that down in Hamilton and Toronto, drunks are often fined $3 and $10 a head, which is a great deal heavier than those inflicted in Brantford, where the offenders are often discharged upon the first offence and fined $3 on the second within a year. The chief will investigate the charges made at the various city courts, and Brantford rates may be altered accordingly.

Was Watched By His Friends

Mr. J. T. Rose Honored at Brant Avenue Methodist Church.

After the evening service at Brant Avenue Methodist church last night, the officials and members of the congregation were invited to repair to the lecture room where an address was read by Mr. E. Sweet to Mr. J. T. Rose, a prominent member of the church who is leaving shortly for Brant.

Mr. Rose was presented with a gold watch, a Bible and a hymn book, and though completely taken by surprise replied in a few fitting words thanking the members for their kindness and commenting on the place Brant Avenue Methodist church had won in his heart.

The pastor and a number of the members of the congregation spoke expressing their regret at the departure of Mr. and Mrs. Rose and wishing them every success in their new field.

Work On Railway Has Been Halted

Plans for Inner Retaining Wall along the Terrace Have Not Yet Arrived.

"Waiting for plans of the inner retaining wall," is the reason of the suspension of work on the L. E. & N. at Lorne bridge to-day. The pile driver has completed its work driving the piles for the wall, and now the men have to wait for the plans of the wall before the work can be begun.

The cement gang is at work on the crib at the head gates, which will likely be completed sometime this week.

The steel gang are past Paris laying the tracks, which will reach this city about the end of the month. For some time the gang was held up at Paris, but to-day work was resumed on this side and will be rushed.

POLICE WANT BETTER SYSTEM

Deputation at Toronto Today Asks That Fees Be Abolished.

(By Special Wire to The Courier) TORONTO, March 16.—Col. Sherwood, chief of the Dominion police, Ottawa; Deputy Chief Stark, of the Toronto police force, and Chief Williams of the London police force, had a conference with Attorney-General Fox today, with the object of having the police of the province placed on a better footing. One thing desired is the betterment in the class of high constables who should be paid a high salary in keeping with the importance of the position.

They advocate the abolition of the fee system in all prosecutions and go so far as to suggest that even crown attorneys should be paid and devote their time to crown business instead of making the matter a side issue. In some counties high constables get $50 a year and many of them reside outside the centres. The object is to compel residence in the county town so that they will be available at any time.

A complete reorganization of the present system may follow the suggestions which are supported by Superintendent Rogers of the Ontario Provincial Police.

M'CONKEY FAILS TO WIN APPEAL

Suspension of Restaurateur's License Still Holds Good.

(By Special Wire to The Courier) TORONTO, March 16.—Judge Denton this morning dismissed the appeal of Ernest M'Conkey from the decision of Police Magistrate Denison, suspending the liquor license on account of the disorderly conduct permitted in the restaurant last New Year's eve.

In giving his decision, his honor described the affair as "revelry by night." "It was a fair assumption that the reason women were carried out was because they were too drunk to walk out."

Not only could the proprietor be penalized, but the guests could have been fined for their participation in the affair. He discredited the theory that the magistrate, convinced on a policeman's evidence alone, while the guests were in many cases reputable citizens, they were not particularly anxious to give evidence showing that they were keeping disorderly company. There is no appeal from the judge's decision.

The license is valued at $50,000. While the license is suspended, it will have to come up for renewal on May 1st and it is probable there will be great difficulty securing a renewal from the commissioners.

It is Feared That Prof. Lavell Was Drowned When He Disappeared.

(By Special Wire to The Courier) HAMILTON, March 16.—Fearing that Cecil F. Lavell, the missing Columbus (Ohio) college professor, who disappeared here three months ago, may possibly have been drowned, although a search at the time failed to indicate this, Dr. C. H. Pierson of Toronto, a relative, asked that watch be kept for the body when the ice on the bay breaks up. He instructed a local undertaking firm to take charge of the remains if they are recovered.

I Will Trust Club. Miss McKenzie of Hamilton Y.W.C.A., who was formerly head of the Brantford Association, was the guest of the "I Will Trust Club," of Saturday, and she gave a very interesting talk. Miss Alda Schultz, Miss Wilma Jones and Miss Carolina Wright contributed in excellent manner to the harmony of the company and a very pleasant time was spent.

Small Fire. The fire department received a telephone call Saturday night from 182 Brant Avenue to the house owned by J. L. Strahl and occupied by W. Burton. The chimney had caught fire and a spark from it had dropped on the roof burning about four feet of the ridge. The fire department made a fast run and laid one line of hose. The damage done will amount to about $10.

Horseback Jumping Forbidden. According to military orders received from headquarters to-day by Major Gordon Smith, jumping on horseback has been forbidden in the military camps this year. The reason for this step is that the government does not give any compensation for injury to horses and this is one of the principal ways in which horses are injured while in camp. Young fellows go to camp with a rented horse and get careless, which generally results in injury to their mount. Although no official orders have been received here, it is understood that the Dragoons will go to camp at Niagara about June 1st.

Literary Club, Y.W.C.A. The works of Miss Bliss and Dr. Drummond were the subjects dealt with by Miss Murray before the Y. W. C. A. Literary Club at the last meeting. The speaker from her discourse evidently knew her subject well and the meritorious literary efforts of both Miss Bliss and Dr. Drummond were very well expounded. Mrs. S. G. Read gave a paper on Current Events and Miss Hilda Hurley gave a splendid vocal solo. The next meeting, which will be held on Mar. 28, will conclude this series and it will take the form of a Canadian luncheon.

Aston Villa's Big Score In Manchester United Game Was Sensation

Victory of Preston Was Another Feature—Result of Football Games in Britain, and Comment Thereon.

(By W.V.P.)
Big scores were piled up in several instances in the first and second league on Saturday. Altogether 36 goals were in the first league which averages 3 1/2 goals per match. This is big scoring. The sensation of the day was the accomplishment of Aston Villa who put Manchester United to rout by six clear goals without a response from their opponents. It was one of the old Aston flashes when they carry all before them regardless of the calibre of the opposition. These flashes are now becoming more rare than they once were, and the Birmingham followers of the team were in high spirits when the final was known. Seven goals were scored at Burnley where Liverpool managed to obtain a couple. The former team have just recently come into form and are too far back in the league table to put up a fight for the championship, they are, however, still in the cup, and great things are expected of them. Preston, like the pro-

TORONTOS DEFEAT VICTORIAS, 5 TO 2

First Stanley Cup Game of World's Series Is a Disappointment to Large Toronto Crowd, Being Ragged and Aggressiveness Lagged.

TORONTO, March 16—By a score of 5 to 2, the Torontos, the National Hockey Association hockey champions, defeated the Pacific Coast League champions, the Victorias, in Toronto Saturday night in the first of five games for the Stanley Cup. It was the first Stanley Cup game played in Toronto, and was witnessed by a large and disappointed crowd. The Victorias were below form and the Torontos' play lacked aggressiveness. A good deal of speed and some clever stick handling characterized the visitors' play, but too much individual work spoiled the effect. It was a ragged game from start to finish. The Victorias had as many shots as the Torontos forwards, but they were chiefly from outside of the defense. The line-up: Torontos—Goal, Holmes; point,

Tarzan of The Apes

By EDGAR RICE BURROUGHS

Copyright, 1912, by the Frank A. Munsey Company.

Scarcely had half a dozen entered the building ere they came rushing out in wild, jabbering confusion. The others hastened to gather about. There was much excited gesticulating, pointing and chattering. Several of the warriors approached and peered within. Finally an old fellow with many ornaments of metal about his arms and legs and a necklace of dried human hands depending upon his chest, entered the hut.

It was Mbonga, the king, father of Kulonga. For a few moments all were silent. Then Mbonga emerged, a look of mingled wrath and fear writ upon his hideous countenance. He spoke a few words to the assembled warriors, and in an instant the men were dying through the little village searching minutely every hut and corner within the palisade.

Scarcely had the search commenced than the overturned caldron was discovered and with it the theft of the poisoned arrows. Nothing more they found, and it was a thoroughly awed and frightened group of savages which huddled around their king a few moments later.

They stood in little groups, talking in low tones and casting frightened glances behind them from their great rolling eyes.

Tarzan of the apes watched them for awhile from his lofty perch in the great tree. The sun was high in the heavens. Tarzan had not broken fast this day, and it was many miles to where lay the toothsome remains of Horta, the bear. So he turned his back upon the village of Mbonga.

It was not yet dark when he reached his tribe, though he stopped to exult and devour the remains of the wild fine script; but, while the little bugs were all familiar to him, their arrangement and the combinations in which they occurred were strange and entirely incomprehensible.

Tarzan had long since learned the use of the dictionary; but, much to his sorrow and perplexity, it proved of no avail to him in this emergency. Not a word of all that was written in the little book could he find, and so he put it back in the little metal box, but with a determination to work out the mysteries of it later on.

It was the diary of John Clayton, Lord Greystoke, kept in French, as had always been his custom.

Tarzan replaced the box in the cupboard, but always thereafter he carried the features of the strong, smiling face of his father in his heart and in his head a fixed determination to solve the mystery of the strange words in it.

At present he had more important business in hand, for his supply of arrows was exhausted, and he must needs journey to the black men's village and renew it.

Early the following morning he set out, and, traveling rapidly, he came out midday to the little clearing. Once more he took up his position in the great tree, and, as before, he saw the women in the fields and the village street and the little caldron of bubbling poison directly beneath him.

For hours he waited, but no opportunity to drop down unobserved and gather up the arrows for which he had come. But it was not until night fell that Tarzan saw his chance. This time he took all of the arrows, for he had brought a number of long fibers to bind them into a bundle.

When the savages discovered that once more their arrows had been pilfered it seemed to them that they had offended some great god who ruled this part of the jungle. From then on an offering of food was daily placed beneath the great tree from whence the arrows had disappeared, in an effort to conciliate the mighty one.

But the seed of fear was deep sown, and had he but known it Tarzan of the apes had laid the foundation for much future misery for himself and his tribe.

That night he slept in the forest not far from the village, and early the next morning set out slowly on his homeward march, hunting as he traveled. Only a few berries and an occasional grubworm rewarded his search, and he was half famished when, looking up from a log he had been rooting beneath, he saw Sabor, the tiger, standing in the center of the trail not twenty paces from him.

The great yellow eyes were fixed upon him with a wicked and baleful gleam, and the red tongue licked the long lips as Sabor crouched, worming his stealthy way with belly flattened against the earth.

Tarzan did not attempt to escape. He welcomed the opportunity for which, in fact, he had been searching. Quickly he unslung his bow and fitted a well daubed arrow, and as Sabor sprang the tiny missile leaped to meet him in midair. At the same instant Tarzan of the apes jumped to one side, and as the tiger struck the ground beyond another death tipped arrow sank deep into his loin.

boar he had cached the preceding day and again to get Kulonga's bow and arrows from the tree top in which he had hidden them.

It was well laden Tarzan who dropped from the branches into the midst of the tribe of Kerchak.

With swelling chest he narrated the glories of his adventure and exhibited the spoils of conquest. Kerchak grunted and turned away, for he was jealous of this strange member of his band. In his little evil brain he sought for some excuse to wreak his hatred upon Tarzan.

The next day Tarzan was practicing with his bow and arrows at the first gleam of dawn. At first he lost nearly every bolt he shot, but finally he learned to guide the little shafts with fair accuracy, and ere a month had passed he was no mean shot, but his proficiency had cost him nearly his entire supply of arrows.

It was during this period that the young English lord found hidden in the back of one of the cupboards in the cabin a little metal box. The key was in the lock, and a few moments' investigation and experimentation were rewarded with the successful opening of the receptacle.

In it he found a faded photograph of a smooth faced young man, a golden locket studded with diamonds linked to a small gold chain, a few letters and a small book.

Tarzan examined these all minutely. The photograph he liked best of all, for the eyes were smiling, and the face was open and frank. It was his father.

The locket, too, took his fancy, and he placed the chain about his neck in imitation of the ornamentation he had seen to be so common among the black men he had visited. The brilliant stones gleamed strangely against his smooth, brown hide.

The letters he could scarcely decipher, for he had learned little or nothing of script, so he put them back in the box with the photograph and turned his attention to the little book. This was almost entirely filled with

DEHORNING OF CATTLE WILL PAY

Important Bulletin to Farmers —Buyers Will Discriminate.

By a resolution of the Toronto Live Stock Exchange, passed over a year ago, a regulation will come into effect on the first of April next, docking all cattle wearing horns $2.00 per head. This in a way sounds unreasonable, but when it is considered that the slaughterers of cattle have to stand annually, losses from a quarter to half a million dollars on account of concealed bruises, the regulation does not seem to be such a hardship, however, a movement has been on foot to possibly postpone the date. This regulation is to come into effect, and several prominent buyers interviewed on this subject, express themselves as not being desirous of working, what might be considered a hardship on the farmers and drovers, by this regulation. At the same time they point out the enormous losses which their houses have to stand, which is traceable directly to horned cattle. However there seems to be a fair opinion that if some other method can be employed to prevent these bruises that they would be agreeable to postpone this regulation. One idea suggested, and it seems good, is that the farmer and drover procure a fine tooth saw, a small meat or mitre saw is good, costs very little, and cut off the sharp tips on the horns before they leave the farm, and at least before they are mixed with strange cattle.

The tipping is absolutely painless, easily done, and prevents the beast from inflicting pain upon his fellows. Only about one inch or an inch and a half of the hard tip of the horn is sawed off, care being taken not to cut into the quick, does not set the cat's back.

It is clearly evident, that if the humane buyers would see some of the bruised carcasses and torn sides on the cattle they would in themselves enforce the regulation throughout our fair province to require handlers of live stock to at least fit the animals in such a way that they could not damage each other.

New Modes Accentuate Lines of Natural Figure

By MADGE MARVEL

MANY changes will doubtless mark the spring tailor-made models which are shown for the southern resorts may invariably be taken as straw indicators of the suits which will be seen on the streets here when the southland climate has moved north.

The first thing one notices about these newest suits is the short-waisted front effect, or perhaps it is more expressive to call it the high-waist effect. At any rate, the result is the same and seeks not only to follow the lines of the natural figure, but to accentuate them. Then coats are much shorter. Also they are much fuller. Many of them slope from mere boleros in front to short and full ruffle like postillions at the back.

The Eton will be with us again. In fact, it is already being worn. I saw a charming development of this ever welcome style worn by a tall blonde girl lurching in the Plaza. It was the coat of a suit of dull bronze green chiffon velvet. In front the little coat hung quite loose to the waist line, but in the back it became two ripply postillions, one reaching just below the waist and the other a little longer. The front of the coat was crossed just at the bust and held in place by a button and loop of twisted taffeta. There was the same twisted silk trimming used across the backs where the first postillon became evident. The skirt was composed of three deep flounces, each one curving upward in front and gaining in fullness toward the back. The deep girle was of the taffeta.

It will surely be a season of many ruffles and flounces. And there will be a decided increase of fullness about the hips. So far there does not seem to be any increase of width at the foot of the skirts, but it may be that the pleated skirts, which are being introduced in Paris and meeting with success, will add a little to the present width without appearing to do so. There is a general feeling that the pleated skirt will take. The pleats are either narrow and flat stitches to bands which preserve the straight and slim outline, or they are fine in the familiar accordion style. But even so they are not allowed to fly free and full.

The craze for taffeta is already here, as I told you it would be weeks ago. It will be the silk of the season. Charmeuse seems of lesser importance, but a well known maker of fashions tells me taffeta will not displace the lovely soft satiny fabric with discerning dressers. Some of the new taffeta frocks show the deep pointed godets in the tunic, which give the fullness and a quiet effect which taffeta seems to exact.

Molre has not lost favor. There is a good deal of it shown in the silk poplins which develop into delightful semi-tailored suits.

For the practical one-piece gown, which so many of us have to include as the standby of our wardrobe, there are the most delightful serges in attractive colorings and of a hitherto unknown suppleness.

Fabrics and plain materials are to be so generally used in combination in these gowns that there seems to be a plaid accompanying each shade of the plain serge. There is a wide range of shades in what is best described as a color between putty and mustard. It has the softness of mode and the liveliness of yellow with a hint of green. The plaid is small and has usually a thread of the dull, clear blue which accords with the plain color. The plaid is used for trimmings in various ways, one being side hip portions of it which narrow toward the knee, while the main portion of the skirt is in a modified pinstrip style is of plain goods.

Or in a suit which I noticed in this combination, the straight peasant-like coat and the skirt was of the plain serge and below the coat was a pleating of the plaid, while the plaid was also used for the sleeves. In the dressier suits of poplin or taffeta the seven-eighths sleeve with width at the lower edge is liked. It is usually set into the wide armeye which has been used in this past season.

THE SPRING SONG :: By Michelson

SING a little early, perhaps, so far as the calendar is concerned, but NOT before the proper occasion. Be assured of that. For the proper occasion is the special and particular harbinger of Spring—that HAT. The thermometer is tickle. The birds are conservatively wary about expressing confidence that there IS going to be a spring. But the HAT floats in proudly, arrogantly, with a regal assurance of welcome for its prophecy.

Al! that is a welcome! Happy the man who should be looked upon with the glowing adoration that is bestowed on this intricate wonder, this supreme triumph of art! Indeed, no ordinary man could safely be entrusted with such a look. It would spoil him.

Sweet the song that hails the spring—hat. Magical the art that can work so delicious a miracle. Lucky the girl who can find the question of being happy so conclusively answered.

A Place for Everything

By Tom Jackson

THERE is a place for everything, a right and proper spot. The place to eat is at a table with a little German band—it breaketh up the trombo man, like-wise the piccolo, and causes them to use strange words because they cannot blow. So if you have a lemon, of a German band beware—I knock out "Zanherhauser".

The proper place to kiss a maid—we know of that way—proper place to court a maid but if you can't, take second best, her hand. The proper place to get a drink is in the bar. The proper place to graft a smoke is when an old friend dear says, when he meets you on the street, "Come on we'll go in here."

Peter's Adventures In Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as Judges.

The truth, plain and unvarnished, about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

What Is Husband's Day?
XXXIV.

MARY, I believe, is a sane, sensible, sensible woman. I don't think I'm going to church this morning.

"Why?" asked Mary idly.

"Well," I suggested, "there are lots of little things to do about the house, and, really, Sunday is about the only time I have."

"What about Saturday afternoons?" inquired Mary optimistically.

"That," I reminded mildly, "is my golf time, and as long as the weather is good I'd rather not miss it. Besides, I need the exercise."

"I need exercise, too," said Mary, "but I don't get it."

Deadly conversation packed with bromides, wasn't it? But that is exactly the point at which Mary and I have arrived. There must be a definite pattern for certain marriage conversations, for they seem to recur persistently in the life of every married man. I, an sometimes predict two laps ahead just what Mary is going to say.

I wish some one would tell me why women feel called upon to object to the mildest forms of male diversion. My Saturday afternoon of golf has spurred Mary to the most eloquent and unreasonable heights of objection. She invites endless and ingenious tasks for me that must be done somehow Saturday afternoon; she makes uninteresting engagements in which I must perforce accompany her or suffer the ordeal of tears; she slanders my golf clubs and loses them, frowns resentfully at any column of golf news, and never loses an opportunity to rebuke me plaintively for leaving her alone Saturday afternoon in the golf season.

"I do believe," she frequently accuses, "that you care more for those horrid old golf clubs than you do for me." Which I usually refrain from answering, having heard it applied to nearly everything I like. When a mild dispute bids fair to end in pointless amiability, Mary invariably drags forth this special plaint from the conversational grab-bag and surrenders.

This Sunday, for some reason, Mary did not object to my staying home from church. She went cheerfully upstairs to dress and came down presently looking sweet and lovely, as she always does. I marvel at the facial control pushed and have I have seen Mary, some women have an indignant, turn at the entrance of another woman and fairly radiate a sweet optimism and content.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Your Capacity for Work Shows in Your Handshake

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG
A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins).
Copyright, 1914, by L. K. Hirschberg.

YOU are a housewife? Or perchance you are a merchant or a forelord? You must choose a good servant. Your workers must be efficient.

Better, perhaps, you are one of those happy individuals who wish to examine into their own shortcomings. You know that, although the Creator made you perfect, the accidents of life and inheritance have taken much away from this immutability.

Providence has left it in your human power to persevere to a better physical state. Your own felicity and efficiency is consigned to your own choosing and determination. Yet you are woefully wanting in criteria, measures and standards by which to uncover your own shortcomings.

Much more simple, you think, do the deficiencies of your helpers, your employees or your assistants come into the mercenary light. Actually, when a woman becomes wise enough or a man punished enough to search for his own defects, physical, economic, soulful and mental, it is discovered that they were accidentally living upon the fossilized principle that "was better cherries are not to had. We see better take the seeming best of bad."

Nothing Taken for Granted.

But this is not so. Experimental psychology, the new rigid science of mathematics applied to human and animal activities, takes nothing for granted, considers no living condition final and despises mere inside thoughts which lack outside manifestations open to every next thousand healthful persons, be these who they may.

Heretofore, merchants, factory foremen, buyers, housekeepers and "bosses" generally, who must pick their human aids, must cease confounding their own selections by instinct, intuition and the other guesstwork fol-de-rol so common for work. The grip, the texture, the shape and look of the fingers, as well as the hands and the quality of the nails, all point to the presence or absence of skill. A firm, unconscious handshake with a sound grip which fingers neither too long nor drops the other hand too quickly is a sign of health, vigor and sincerity.

A flabby shake spells hypocrisy, dishonesty and indifference. It is almost certain proof of inattentiveness and unreliability. Pale finger nails with little nicks and tears of the badly trimmed nail, as well as the presence of hangnails, means nervousness, poor health, idleness and the thrill of bad habits. Any one who bites his nails is an employer who is cautious about hiring nail-biters, as they are apt to get into a hopeless rut.

Skilful Questions Enlighten.

Long, overly-polished, manicured nails usually accompany an extravagant, while lazy, undisciplined disposition, while short, clean and smooth nails, which show no evidence of the manicure's work, mean soundness of body and mind and a high degree of intelligence.

Texture and quality of the flesh of the hands and face also shed side lights upon an individual's qualifications for duty. A furrowed brow with sunken flesh around the sockets of the eyes, hollow cheek bones and a flabby skin mean narrowness, bitterness and lack of power to put the full measure of work in an appointed task. If the skin is fine and filmy and of a smooth spun type, pale as inclined to be dark, this individual is too dreamy and too esthetic to keep his mind on his task.

Flesh that is taut and smooth, without the earmarks of coddling or the sal-

Answers to Health Questions

A. C. A.—Shampoo my hair once every two weeks, but it becomes oily soon after. Kindly publish a remedy for this.

Five grains of resorcin in an ounce of equal parts of alcohol, glycerine and carnation, or other scented water, is a good anti-dandruff lotion. Stop shampooing your hair and merely wash it twice a month with an alcohol-transparent soap.

MRS. S. O.—How can hollows in the neck be filled out? Is cocoa butter helpful? What will color my cheeks naturally? How can I gain weight?

1—Drink coconut oil, eat butter and margarine, meat, fats, goose oils and all fatty things. Massage the hollow areas every four hours for five minutes with goose grease.

2—Cocoa butter is only an expensive fat.

3—Rosy cheeks result from plenty of fresh air at night while you sleep under plenty of covers. Sunlight, a brisk two hours' outdoors daily exposure to dry air and plenty of meats, gravies and good victuals. Massage your cheeks every two hours for one or two minutes.

4—You will gain flesh by sleeping for nine or ten hours after midnight, eating oils, fats, sugars, rice, meats, spices, soups, pastries, starches, fruits and drinking lots of cream and the yolks of a dozen eggs daily.

5—Spend all the money you used to spend on medicines on eggs, creams, big steaks and good oils. Eat your supper late and another meal at midnight.

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

WHAT are you waiting for?" asked Mrs. Raccoon of Mrs. Squirrel one afternoon when she was getting ready for her afternoon tea.

"Mrs. Rabbit hasn't come yet," said Mrs. Squirrel. "All the children are up stairs. I invited Jack Rabbit and Billy Bunny to keep my little ones company. Tell us up stairs telling stories now. I do wish my good husband could tell stories like Brer Rabbit."

"My husband is very good at keeping our children quiet," said Mrs. Raccoon.

"I wonder why those children are so still?" asked Mrs. Squirrel.

The reason the children appear so quiet was they heard what Mrs. Raccoon said and they were soon knocking on Mister Raccoon's door. "Come in!" shouted a voice within.

Mister Raccoon was seated before the fire smoking a pipe.

"My goodness!" he exclaimed, as he bounded from the chair and took all the children in his arms.

"Tell us a story! Tell us a story!" they all shouted at once.

"Tell us a story!" said Mrs. Raccoon from the window sill and said to his Reggie Raccoon climbed to the children on sofa pillows by the window and began:

"Mister Raccoon put the children on the north pole, about two miles from the end of the world. She always gave her children a cake of ice with hot reindeer milk on it for breakfast and for dinner they had a hunk of ginger bread with frosting on top.

"The children ate the frosting off first, because it made them warmer than the ginger bread.

"At night Mrs. Grizzly Bear gave her children a snow ball each with star dust sprinkled over it for sugar. After supper she put them all to bed in a blanket of snow, their dear little heads on cakes of ice and—what's the matter, children?"

One by one the children had crept over by the fire and were warming themselves.

"That story almost froze me," said Sammy Squirrel, with a shiver.

"Right you like it?" asked Mister Raccoon.

"Yes," said Sammy Squirrel. "But next time put in something hot once in a while."

At this they all laughed.

Three Minute Journeys

San Marino—the Skyscraper Republic

By Jonathan MacFarland

Italy, and, in fact, most other countries, it has no public debt.

As far as area goes, it has the distinction of being the smallest republic in the world. Beside its 38 square miles, the 175 square miles of Andorra, its nearest competitor for diminutive size, seem like a large tract of land. Take the smallest state in the Union, Rhode Island; why, its land area alone is 28 times as great as that of San Marino. And I know of an office building in New York—a skyscraper, if you please—that has a daily population of 10,000 people, which is within 2000 of that of this tiny republic.

I found life picturesque in San Marino. The people, who were much as they are all over Italy—charming in their ways and their quaint apparel. The medieval buildings—the prison, the palace, the military quarters—all speak of a day that is past, but somehow or other I felt that I was living in yesterday. In San Marino the middle ages seem to have clung at hand.

Throughout their strenuous years the republic had its share of turmoil which even its strategic position could not avert. And among other things that are interesting in connection with its history it had the distinction of providing Napoleon, the conqueror, an opportunity of being magnanimous. Everything had fallen before him until San Marino was the only remaining independent state in Italy, and the people were without hope. But they put their best foot forward, interviewed the general, and succeeded in convincing him that he neither needed nor wanted San Marino.

So there it is today, intact and independent, and some day when the tourist business warrants it they are going to install express elevators to the top.

As They Are Not.
"A man never sees things as they are until he is past middle age," said the philosopher.
"Perhaps," said the experimentalist, "but a young man often sees things where they are not."

Cause of Forgetfulness.
"She says she is always happy when she sings."
"It also makes the hearers forget their other troubles."

Evidence of His Occupation.
"I wonder who that new boarder is?"
"Guess he is an editor," said the third floor rear.
"I heard him refer to the condensed milk as 'blue-penciled lactical fluid' this morning."
