

THE ACADIAN.

WOLFVILLE, N. S., OCT. 5, 1917

Editorial Brevities.

Although the flight of an Italian aviator from Turin to England has received only passing mention in the press, it is well to keep in mind the fact that such a journey has been made without stop. Also it is well to keep in mind the fact that Italian aviators on American aviation fields have demonstrated the carrying ability of their larger type machines with accommodation for a dozen and more passengers. These happenings have both a war and a peace significance. They demonstrate the growing possibilities of the flying machine, and force the conviction that not far distant is the time when it will be possible to use the aeroplane for big military operations, such as the transportation of an invading army. They also suggest the steady development of aerial navigation as an aid to peaceful pursuits of commerce.

An Appreciation.

It is with deep regret that we announce the passing of Lt. Corp. Graham from the personnel of the Granville Canadian Special Hospital Lt.-Corp. Graham has decided to try his fortune combating the Hun in the air and to this end proposes to qualify as an officer in the R. N. A. S.

In the departure of Lt.-Corp. Graham the Hospital News loses a valuable member of its staff. He was not only the Treasurer, but looked after Advertisers, Sales, Collections, News Items, etc. In addition to this he occasionally found time to write some excellent articles on his own account.

That he will make good in his new vocation there is not the slightest doubt. Full of energy, a fine physique and a fearless disposition are qualifications that will rank him with the bravest and best.

His many friends will heartily join in wishing him every success in his dangerous but glorious calling.—From the "Canadian Hospital News," Ramsgate, England.

The above refers to Stuart Graham, son of Edson Graham, of this town. He was wounded at the front in March, 1916, and has since been in a Canadian hospital at Ramsgate, where he has had ample opportunity to watch the devility of the Hun air-men.

Baby's Own Tablets Prized by Mothers.

Mrs. Henry Vanreder, Rodney, Ont., writes: "I have used Baby's Own Tablets for the past five years and prize them very much. They have proved of such value to me that I always keep them in the house." Once a mother has used Baby's Own Tablets she would use nothing else. They are thorough but mild in action and never fail to make the sickly baby well. They are sold by medicine dealers or by mail at 25 cents a box from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

The splendid skating rink at Kentville, one of the largest in the province, was totally destroyed by fire at an early hour Wednesday morning. The fire, which started in the centre of the building, on the lower floor and creeping to the roof, spread rapidly until the whole building was in flames. Mr. C. E. Walker, formerly of Digby, was operating it as a roller rink.

An Acadia Man

WRITES INTERESTINGLY OF LIFE AT THE FRONT.

France, Sept. 5th, 1917

Apropos of that, let me say that conscription in Canada meets no divided opinion here. It demands only what is fair to us, to those who will by its working be preserved for work in Canada, and to Canada, the Empire and our allies. The division on the Bill gives both satisfaction and apprehension, for it is a division on lines other than political, but reveals racial groupings that we Canadians can only deplore and fear. There is truly a critical task to be performed at home to attain the unity and harmony which are essential along with the liberty and justice for which the soldier is fighting and dying here.

As I suggested already, we appreciate every remembrance from our friends by letter, papers, magazine or 'box.' I have shared in the good things from Wolfville and enjoy learning of what's doing on the hill and in the town. We know that you have given freely of your boys and men and are not regretting it. We know, too, your sorrow in the death of one and another who could be named, and as to the welfare of those who have been wounded or are still here accepting their uncertain fortunes. For you and for us the change from Vimy Ridge to Gaspereau will be made with gladness, touched with sorrow, and it cannot follow too closely the end of the fight. However, the graves of our friends on the battered Ridge, and in the fields behind and beyond it, are the graves of men who played the game and for Canada and Canadians a reputation for courage and worth that must remain as one of its most precious traditions, and will give consolation to those who have suffered much at home.

Just a word again from the Acadia viewpoint. As one of the class of '12, I am pleased at what its men have done. Our popular 'Farmer' Pince, was loved and was gaining successive promotions in officer's rank when he was killed. Our Rhodes' Scholar, Hart Reid, was wounded in the Artillery where he held commission. Others with stars are Donaldson, Andrews, Baker and Kinney. They are somewhere at duty, at home, in England, or here. I learned of the second last when I ran upon him here when reporting to a Company office. A certain sergeant, from S. P. C. L. I. is not unknown nor unappreciated while he enjoys the privilege of the personal and natural attractions of Wolfville and vicinity during the preceding months of convalescence. Walter Bars, Collins and I increase the list. We may not complete it. We have seen Lt. W. A. Porter, of R'y Constr. Bn. Phil Beals, '09, was a delightful associate, but he has gone to get great scenes of loss. We cherish the spirit of Acadia men. We appreciate the President, whose services are limited by physical conditions. Any exceptions there may be do not deny the prevailing loyalty of the response of undergraduate and alumnus and Academy student. As for the delightful Co-ed, and alluring Sem. they could be counted on to rival the 'Life and Death' battalion of Russia, if such were necessary or permitted. At least they are to be credited for many an enlistment amongst the boys, and for no little comfort and diversion for their service.

One regrets that the Institutions

No more paper will be collected at present, as there is a very large amount on hand now and must be baled before any more is brought in. A special meeting of the Seniors will be held afterwards, to reorganize for the winter's work.

Get Behind the Wheel of a Ford and Drive

TRY it just once! Ask your friend to let you "pilot" his car on an open stretch. You'll like it, and will be surprised how easily the Ford is handled and driven.

If you have never felt the thrill of driving your own car, there is something good in store for you. It is vastly different from just riding—being a passenger. And especially so if you drive a Ford.

Young boys, girls, women and even grandfathers—thousands of them—are driving Ford cars and enjoying it. A Ford stops and starts in traffic with exceptional ease and smoothness; while on country roads and hills its strength and power show to advantage.

Buy a Ford and you will want to be behind "the wheel" constantly.

Red Cross.

The annual meeting of the Red Cross Society was held in the Opera House Saturday, Sept. 29th, at 3.30. The President, Mrs. Chase, presided. The minutes of the last annual meeting were read and adopted.

The President gave a most interesting account of the year's work and thanked all who had helped in any way to make the Society a success and asked for the hearty co-operation of everyone in the future, a time when our first and only thought should be for our brave men in the trenches and for their comfort.

Reference was made to the extra work done by the Society—Xmas stockings for the hospitals, Xmas packages for our own boys, money sent to Capt. McV Plummer for a Xmas gift to every man (465.65), clothing for the French courier, twelve pairs of hospital socks made of picked and carded wool—and here the ladies of Greenwich were especially thanked for their assistance in this and other branches of the work.

Attention was called to the Monday and Thursday afternoon sewing class which was expressed that more of our women and young girls of the town would avail themselves of this privilege.

Mrs. Chase spoke of the collection made by the Society for the different Patriotic funds. In June a Field Com forts fund was begun and general donations received. This has met with much support and sympathy. In July a collection was made for the French Red Cross, the sum of $332.45 being realized.

During the year there have been ten new life members, making twelve in all.

On behalf of the Society the President extended a vote of thanks to Mr. B. O. Davidson for his kindness in printing the many Red Cross notices, even when handed in at the eleventh hour; to Mr. J. C. Bishop for his ever ready assistance with the boxes and to Mr. Hutchinson for conveying the same to the station.

The honor roll occupied a prominent place and was decorated with flags. The President, in concluding, made a touching reference to our brave boys and especially to those who would never return, and urged that for their sakes we should redouble our efforts to help win the war.

The Treasurer, Mrs. Whidden, gave a minute report of the year's receipts and expenditures including Field Com forts. The receipts show a gain of $984.28 over last year, the expenditure $929.72 more than last year and the increase in receipts since the first of the war $12,634. On motion this report was adopted.

Mrs. Black read a full report of the Buying and Cutting Committee, showing there had been 1800 yds. of material cut during the year, also a list of the garments and articles made. This report was adopted.

Mrs. C. H. Borden reported on the packing, showing the Committee had packed and sent 19 boxes and packages in the year. This report was adopted.

Mrs. Chambers gave an account of the knitting, stating there were 187 lbs. of socks knitted, 7 p. wristlets and 3 scarves. Pounds of yarn bought, 791. On motion report was adopted. Mrs. Biderick presented a detailed account of the Red Cross book of cookery, total cost of publishing book $202.00. This amount was paid by sale of books and advertisements. Sum total clear of all expenses to date, $320.95. Of this the following sums have been paid to the Wolfville Red Cross Society to be given to the several funds here mentioned: Dalhousie Hospital Unit, $100; Wolfville Red Cross Society $25; Prisoners of War Fund, $5; British Red Cross, $20; Field Com forts, $55; bal. on deposit Bank of Montreal, $115.95. This report was adopted and a vote of thanks was extended to Mrs. Biderick for her untiring energy in this work.

Mrs. Crawley moved a vote of thanks to the President and ladies on the several committees.

Our returned soldiers, Capt. Crawley, Lieut. Borden and Corp. Black, gave very interesting addresses which were listened to with much pleasure. Capt. Crawley told us something of Vimy Ridge and the surrounding country and of the city of Lens and the many towns around it and of the evident pleasure of the German soldiers at being taken prisoners. He then spoke of the socks we send. They are worn only one day then sent to the wash and we seldom see the same pair again. Now this may dampen the ardor of some of our maidens who like to knit extra fine socks for special men but they can turn their attention to knitting gloves.

The meeting then adjourned as Capt. Crawley says they are very much needed in the trenches. Mrs. Borden described the life of the men in the trenches and said the first care of every officer was his men and when they get in billets to see they were comfortable, fed, etc., and honored. It was the president's care of for more importance in France than the officers. He advised us to send lots of socks, plenty of good things to eat and then more socks.

Corp. Black told us of the hospital ships and trains and the wonderful facilities for moving the wounded, the care taken to place them in the very best positions and of the kindness of the Red Cross women, meeting them at boats and trains with all the necessities. The gentlemen expressed their appreciation for the socks and comforts sent from the home Red Cross. They really believe they think the Wolfville Red Cross a little better than any other branch. A WOOL-SELLER KNOWS A WOOL-BUYER

You cannot pull the wool over the eyes of the modern housewife. She knows or soon finds out the quality of what she buys. In former times many fraudulent articles were advertised in the belief that people liked to be fooled. Nowadays, to make repeat sales and establish confidence. That means the article advertised must be worth the price asked.

The meeting then adjourned as Capt. Crawley says they are very much needed in the trenches. Mrs. Borden described the life of the men in the trenches and said the first care of every officer was his men and when they get in billets to see they were comfortable, fed, etc., and honored. It was the president's care of for more importance in France than the officers. He advised us to send lots of socks, plenty of good things to eat and then more socks.

Corp. Black told us of the hospital ships and trains and the wonderful facilities for moving the wounded, the care taken to place them in the very best positions and of the kindness of the Red Cross women, meeting them at boats and trains with all the necessities. The gentlemen expressed their appreciation for the socks and comforts sent from the home Red Cross. They really believe they think the Wolfville Red Cross a little better than any other branch. Rochester, N.Y., March 2nd, 1915.
"I have received the most wonderful benefit from taking 'Fruit-a-Lives'. I suffered for years from Rheumatism and change of life, and I took every remedy obtainable without result. I tried 'Fruit-a-Lives' and it was the only medicine that really did me good. Now I am entirely well—the Rheumatism has disappeared, and the terrible pains in my body are all gone. I hope that others, who suffer from such distressing diseases, will try 'Fruit-a-Lives'."

Sir Clifford Sitton, former Minister of Interior, has four or five sons in khaki. One day a friend consoled with Lady Sitton for the great sacrifice she has made.
"It is very kind of you to express so much sympathy with me," said Lady Sitton, "but I feel I should need it more if I had not shown a disposition to enlist in their country's cause. I am only one mother in many thousands, and what are my sons to me more than any mother's are to her?"

Looking Forward.

(By WALT MARION)
The world will be a better place when kaiserism meets its doom, for then the well-known bumper race will see true liberty in bloom. For years the Kaiser's peace has been a threat, even when he talked of peace the most; he made the whole world go to bed for ships and guns and armored host. If some one lives up to me, of whom I live in constant fear, I may be nominally free, but freedom of that sort is dear. I have to keep a bulldog psp, a loaded shotgun and a crease, a large stuffed club to beat him up, if he attempts to break the peace. I never know when he may come, on some excuse, all full of fight, to knock my plexus out of plumb, and so I cannot sleep at night. It's vain to tell me I am free, that laws protect me and police; while that man lives next door to me, all empty in your book of peace. Thus to the world has Kaiser Bill a menace been, a night-mare threat; while talking peace he yeasted to kill; and soak the globe in carnage wet. Because of him the nations bore a load that snuffed their strength away, and manufactured tools of gore, instead of tools for being gay. When kaiserism is suppressed, when it goes down with sickening thud, the world will have a lot to say about the end of all this talk of war and blood.

The motor of a man is the motive in him. You can draw a toy engine by a string; but there are no strings on the train that carries a mile a minute—this engine makes its own fire. Every inefficient man is being pulled along by some child's toy string, that has no connection with his mental machinery. But when a man starts to generate his own fire—then look out. An express train is coming.—E. K. Partridge.

War brings many curious changes. A few months ago the American Bible Society sent to Panama a fine power boat, the 'Goodwill' for the use of its new Bible House there in supplying Bibles to the vessels that pass through the canal. Now the boat, mounting a gun, is in the government patrol service.

Female Post Office clerk, looking up from telegram form: "What is this word, please?" Farmer: "This mind thy own business! They ken my writing at 'other end'!"

Once in a great while a man may be able to attribute his poverty to his honesty.

RHEUMATISM ARRESTED
Many people suffer the tortures of lame necks and stiffened joints because of impurities in the blood, and such annoying attack occurs more acute until rheumatism has invaded the whole system.
To arrest rheumatism it is quite as important to improve your general health as to purify your blood, and the best liver pill is Scott's Emulsion in nature's great blood-purifier, while its medicinal constituents strengthen the organs to expel the impurities and afford great strength.
Scott's Emulsion is helping thousands every day who could not see the other side. Beware the absolutely counterfeit.

Parcels for Soldiers.

The wastage of food and other articles sent by friends and relatives to the troops on the various fronts is brought to the notice of the public by the War Office. The military forwarding officers at one of the ports in England is stated to have reported that more than one-half of the parcels containing foodstuffs must arrive at their destination quite unfit for consumption. Packages, he says, are often returned from overseas marked "insufficiently addressed" or "unknown." These parcels are constantly found to contain articles such as eggs, butter, sausages and so on, the whole being in a varying state of putrefaction. In this connection, the general officer commanding-in-chief, Egyptian expeditionary force, reports that his attention has been recently drawn by the military forwarding officer at Salonika to the state of a large consignment of parcels on arrival at Salonika. He points out that owing to the inevitable delays that must arise in shipping to Salonika, articles such as parcels containing puddings, cakes, etc., must almost inevitably become unfit for consumption.

Nervous Trouble.

The nerve system is the governing system of the whole body, controlling the heart, lungs, digestion and brain; so it is not surprising that nervous disturbances should cause acute distress. The first stages of nervous debility are noted by irritability and restlessness, in which the victims seem to be oppressed by their nerves. The matter requires immediate attention, for nothing but suitable treatment will prevent a complete breakdown. The victim, however, need not despair for even severe nervous disorders may be cured by improving the condition of the blood. It is because Dr. Williams' Pink Pills actually make new, rich blood that this medicine has cured extreme nervous disorders after all other treatment had failed. The nerves thrive on the new blood made by these pills; the appetite improves, digestion is better, sleeplessness no longer troubles the former nerve shattered victim, and life generally takes on a cheerful aspect. Every sufferer from nerve troubles, no matter how slight, should lose no time in giving Dr. Williams' Pink Pills a fair trial, thus regaining their old-time health and comfort.
You can get Dr. Williams' Pink Pills through any dealer in medicine or by mail at 50 cents a box or six boxes for $2.50 from The Dr. Williams' Medicine Co., Brockville, Ont.

CAMPING IN WEST WITH AUTOMOBILES

How to Spend the Night in Woods of the Coast Province—Trailer Increases Accessibility

And now have come the days of the automobile camper, writes a Westerner. The fact that any well-built car can penetrate into all good fishing and camping country in British Columbia, with the exception of the big game localities, has led to the development of the automobile as a means of transportation to good hunting and fishing grounds. As many of the best of the latter are located where there is no inn, and so far away that a return home leaves but little time for sport, some sort of camping device to the automobile has been very desirable.

Tents vs. Trailers
It was soon realized that the car itself made an excellent framework to secure against one wall of the tent, and so special designs were made to fit an automobile frame, with a jointed pole carried in the car along with the other outfit, and this tent, called the automobile tent, was put on the market.
It became at once very popular with automobileists, and is still so. As the car cannot get far in from the road, and good level tent sites, near spring water and yet near an accessible lumber road, are hard to find, the automobile camping idea developed still further in the automobile trailer, in which the entire camp—tent, cot, kitchen and tea boxes—carried on a two-wheeled trailer so as to be immediately available as a comfortable forest home.

Take the Home Along
When on the coast of a trip if one strikes a bit of stream or a good hunting upland contiguous to the road, one is to pass it up and go farther, to possibly fare worse, and finally end up in some roadhouse emphatically of the kind where comforts are rural and the grub old stuff brought up from the city a year before. Here is where the trailer shines, for with it your home is right with you; camp is to raise you with a side to get up at un-heard-of hours to make a trip before dawn in the car to be on your grounds by daylight.

MOTURING AT PACIFIC

Where Tourists with Trailer or Tent May Be Happy
The splendid roads of British Columbia are a boon to the tourist, says a Vancouver writer. "Vancouver is a land is a tourist's paradise. Here are found modern roads beyond compare in a veritable wonderland of scenic beauties and primitive surroundings. The southern part of the island is a highly improved section, while the northern extremities are almost wholly unknown and contain numberless wild animals and a wealth of natural resources. Good roads penetrate far into the interior.
The highways throughout the Boundary country are famous, while the Cariboo road, with its wealth of historic lore and numerous connecting links, is the scenic highway par excellence. Then there are the many short trips to Vancouver, trips requiring but a half day for their enjoyment and which afford the excellent opportunity for getting out into the open.
As much of our best hunting and fishing is nowadays reached by car in places inaccessible from the railroad and only to be otherwise reached by back packing or taking a chance on getting a country rig to get you on the spot, and, since the car gives every hunter and fisherman a wide range of sport within car distance of his home, the trailer or tent solves the problem of how to get there and stay there to get your fill of the sport instead of having to drive back home through the night."

RAIN COULD KILL US

Atmosphere Saves Our Lives from Nature's Bombardment
A scientific man writes: "The fiercest bombardment conceivable would not be nearly so destructive to human life as an ordinary shower of rain were not for the protective covering of our atmosphere. We live, move, and have our being at the bottom of an air room forty miles or more deep. Therefore, we are safe, not only from falling raindrops, but from meteorites and other wandering bodies from outer space. But, supposing that it were possible for human beings to exist in an atmosphere that rose only a few feet above their heads, and that storm clouds could form in the region outside such a low-grade atmosphere, then every raindrop would prove as fatal to earthly creatures as if it were a steel bullet fired from a dynamite gun."

Catch-All Screen Inside Hot-Air Register
In order to recover small articles dropped through the floor-register grating of a hot-air heating system without the necessity of removing a section of the pipe, mesh gratings like that shown were fitted into place. Number six gauge wire mesh was used in place of the large enough to fit into the metal box below the register. Access to the grate may be had by removing the grate.—Popular Mechanics.

Military Service Act, 1917

Explanatory Announcement by the Minister of Justice

The MILITARY SERVICE ACT has received the assent of the Governor-General and is now part of the law of the land. It will be enforced accordingly, and the patriotism and good sense of the people can be relied upon to support it. Resistance to its enforcement, however by word or act must and will be repressed, as resistance to any other law in force must be.

Reinforcements under the Military Service Act immediately required

It is the intention of the Government immediately to exercise the power which the Act confers and to call out men for military service in order to provide reinforcements for the Canadian forces. This is necessary since the military authorities report that the reserves available for reinforcement will shortly be exhausted unless this step be taken.

First call limited to men between 20 and 34 who were unmarried or widowers without children on July 6, 1917

The present call will be limited to men not in the schedule of exemptions at least twenty years of age, and were born on or since January 1st, 1883. Of this class all those will be entitled to conditional exemption whose services in their present occupations, agricultural, industrial or other, are essential to the national interest, and whose business or domestic responsibilities are such that serious hardship would ensue if their services be required. Conditional exemption based upon a prohibition of conscription by the articles of faith of the religious denomination to which men belong will also be respected. The men first required to serve will consequently be those who can be called upon with the least disturbance of the economic and social life of the country.

Civil Tribunals to deal with exemptions

Questions of exemption will be determined, not by the military authorities or by the Government, but by civil tribunals composed of representative men who are familiar with local conditions in the communities in which they serve, and who will generally have personal knowledge of the economic and family reasons which those whose cases come before them have had for not volunteering their services and who will be able sympathetically to estimate the weight and importance of such reasons. Provincial Appellate Tribunals constituted from the existing judiciary of the respective provinces will be provided to correct mistakes made by the local tribunals, and a Central Appellate Tribunal for the whole of Canada, composed of the present Justices of the Supreme Court of Canada, will be constituted to deal with appeals from the provincial tribunals.

Proclamation will announce the day

A proclamation will issue calling out the bachelors and widowers referred to and fixing a day on or before which every man must report for service to the military authorities unless he has before that day made an application for exemption.

How to apply for exemption

Applications for exemption may be made by written notice on forms which will be available at every post office, and will be transmitted free of postage. They will not, however, be required to be made in this way, but may be presented by the applicants in person to the exemption tribunals. The cases of those who have given written notice in advance will take precedence, and appearance in person will therefore be likely to involve considerably more inconvenience and delay to the men concerned, so that it is recommended that advantage be generally taken of the facilities for written application.

Watch for the Proclamation

Notice of the day appointed for the making of a claim for exemption or for report for military service will be published as widely as possible, but as no personal notices can be given until the individuals called out have so reported themselves or claimed exemption, men possibly concerned are warned to inform themselves with regard to the day and, since neglect may involve the loss of them of important privileges and rights.
