

WILL STAND BY HAMILTON

And Hold the Hydro Commission to Its Promises.

Aldermen Will Vote to Take 1,000 h.-p. at Cost.

Talk of Beck and Lobb Coming to Meeting.

The power question will be settled to-night—perhaps. The Council, it is believed, will on a 12 to 8 division vote to take a thousand horse-power from the Hydro Commission, as a cost proposition, the contract to embody the amendments suggested by City Solicitor Waddell.

This is not what the Hydro clique, who want the Council to bolt the whole contract, have been clamoring for, and it looks as if there would be a lively time. The Hydro supporters were quite confident that after the Commission flopped and refused Hamilton concessions it had already expressed itself willing to grant, the aldermen, with an election approaching, would be stampeded into accepting the Commission's ultimatum.

There is reason to believe, however, that there are twelve aldermen in the Council who will see that Hamilton's interests are fully protected, and who will save the city from being plunged helplessly into a scheme that may rob it of its industrial greatness. Alderman Farmer will be absent. He is away on a hunting trip. It is believed that every other alderman will be in his seat.

All sorts of rumors were floating around this morning as to the policy the Hydro supporters will follow to-night. It is said that an effort will be made to get Hon. Adam Beck and Solicitor Lobb here and try and get a majority of the Council in favor of letting them address the aldermen.

The Council rules distinctly provide that no one shall address the Council. A motion to permit them would be out of order. The only thing the Council could do would be to adjourn. The Council could then be addressed informally.

There was also a rumor that the gallery was to be packed to-night and an effort made to take this means of stampeding the aldermen. Mayor McLaren, however, has maintained the dignity of the Council meetings with such a firm hand that it is not likely such a thing will be attempted. If it is the police will be called upon to clear the Council chamber.

The Mayor to-day declined to make any forecast of the outcome of to-night's session. "Personally," he said, "I will vote to take a thousand horse-power as a cost proposition. That is what the Commission proposed, and what we conferred. I don't know what the Council will do, but I believe that if it unanimously decided to stand by this the Commission would accept it. I refused to stand for any imposition from the Commission."

The efforts to coerce the Mayor by circulating stories that he will be opposed for a second term are not having the desired effect. "If they think they can bulldoze me by threats," he said, "they will find they have the wrong person to handle. Any dozen persons are free to oppose me if they desire at the end of the year. I am free to run again, too."

The city officials and most of the aldermen are thoroughly sick of the power question. It has dragged along for three years now and they admit that it has been a big knock to Hamilton. They want to see it out of the way and will do all they can to facilitate matters. At the same time they do not think that Hamilton, after its hard fight to maintain its advantage as an electrical city, should throw up its hands and surrender itself to the mercy of the commission, which has already by its actions indicated that the city cannot hope for much from it.

The position to-day seemed to be that a majority of the Council will stand by the city's rights, and put a thousand horse-power cost proposition up to the commission to accept or reject as it sees fit. No one doubts that a little display of backbone along this line would make the commission come off its high horse, and allow the knackers who have persistently used the city as a donkey engine for their own ends.

The meeting to-night will likely be a long one for there are several of the aldermen who love to play to the gallery on this power question, and the capital it affords as a vote catcher. There is really no reason though for long discussion. The matter has been threshed out from every corner for three years.

If a majority of the Council sticks by the decision to insist on the commission using Hamilton right, it is believed that the mysterious influences that have been at work for months past, will throw their weight behind an effort to have the Council submit another power-by-law to the people in January, hoping to make a clear cut issue of the power question in this manner. The aldermen who have opposed the high-handed action of the commission do not fear the result. They think that the recent secret session of the Hydro clique, the jockeying that has been going on outside the City Hall and other developments since last June, have convinced thoughtful ratepayers that Hamilton is in danger of stacking up against a mighty tough game.

RIGHT OF PURCHASERS

A City Grocer Bringing Action Against a Market Farmer

Who Sold Goods and Then Did Not Deliver It.

A Great Number of Complaints Have Recently Been Made.

A test case, the outcome of which will be watched with great interest by farmers and people who patronize Central Market, will be begun shortly by Albert Case, an east end grocer, who is preparing to sue a farmer for breach of contract for failing to give him possession of goods he ordered. This case should settle the question of whether farmers are under legal obligation to deliver stuff when no money is paid on it until it is handed over to the purchaser. Many housewives are incensed at the action of some of the market farmers, who, they say, seem to think nothing of promising to deliver goods, and then failing to do so. The inference is that when they get a chance to sell at a better price, or without having to deliver, they don't consider the original purchaser. Complaints of this nature have been pouring in thick and fast for several weeks. The market officials say that Magistrate Jelis has held that where no money is paid over the farmer is under no legal obligation. It is believed that a clause has been found, however, under which farmers who fail to deliver goods not valued at more than $40, after having promised to do so, can be proceeded against even though nothing is paid on the purchase at the time. Mr. Case proposes proceeding under this section. The case will be heard by the County Judge. Mr. Case says he purchased apples from a woman, who told him when he called for them at 7.30 in the morning that he was not around early enough, and she sold the apples.

A local paper, probably unaware that the annexation order has already been signed, spoke on Saturday of the possibility of those opposed to the scheme blocking it when the matter comes before the Railway and Municipal Board to-morrow. There is no chance of the annexation order being rescinded unless some arbitrary terms are imposed on Hamilton, in which case the city will take the stand that it acted on a petition from certain ratepayers, the terms of which it has agreed upon with them, and has at no time placed itself under obligation to meet other demands. The city will make no effort, however, to back up as long as the terms for those who are opposing annexation are reasonable.

The extension of the city by reason of the new annex, it is hoped, will solve the question of securing an expert meat inspector for the Central Market, a question that has aroused much interest as a result of the startling charges made by a Dominion inspector that diseased meat is sold almost daily. The health department is already short handed and will require more inspectors when the new district comes into the city. The scheme is to give James Connor, who is at present meat inspector, other duties and to secure an expert to look after the market. If the Board of Health does not begin an agitation for the ap-

ROSS SUIT.

City Claims It Is Not Responsible For Emerson's Actions.

In the action of Andrew Ross, grain buyer, against the city, the defendants are now claiming that they are not responsible. The action arose out of what the plaintiff claimed was rough handling by P. C. Thomas Emerson. The policeman arrested the plaintiff and took him to the old No. 4 Police Station, and, according to the plaintiff's statements, did not treat him with gloved hands, but rather yanked him around in a very improper way. The action is against Emerson and the city jointly. The city denies the allegations contained in the statement of claim.

They claim that the defendant Thomas Emerson was not engaged by the defendant corporation and was not its servant or officer, and did not act as such in the matters alleged in the statement of claim, and the corporation are not in any way responsible for his actions.

THINK PROVINCIAL MEN SHOULD INVESTIGATE IT.

Gebhardt Clue to Barton Murder Should be Carefully Followed—Acting-Detective Barrett Sees Resemblance.

Weak as Well as Strong Points in the Case—Suggestion That Some One be Sent to Islip.

So favorably do the Hamilton police view the theory that Fred Gebhardt, alias Otto Mueller, self-confessed murderer, arch bigamist and believed by the New York authorities to be a modern Bluebeard, who killed many women for their money, may be the Barton murderer they think the matter is well worth investigating. Impressed with the many points of similarity between the Islip crime to which Mueller has confessed and the Barton mystery, they go so far as to suggest that it would be well worth the Government's while to have the Attorney-General's department take the matter up and have Provincial Detective Greer, who had charge of the case, take one or two witnesses, who saw the Barton murderer, to New York to see if Mueller can be identified.

Detective John Bleakley, who had charge of the Barton case before the provincial authorities took it over, when asked for an opinion on the possibility of Mueller being the man wanted here, said, "It was evidently such a man as Mueller who committed the murder, and it might pay the Government to send a person who saw the suspected Barton murderer to Islip to see if the man can be identified."

WAS THIS THE MAN? One of the most interesting bits of information that has come to light since the theory that Mueller might be the Barton murderer was advanced, is furnished by Acting Detective James Barrett. It will be recalled that at the time of the crime Barrett informed his superiors of an experience he had on the mountain top with a man whom he was confident was the murderer. The police tried hard to locate this stranger after the woman's body was found, but failed.

On Oct. 6, 1905, three days before the murder, Barrett went up to the mountain to serve a summons on a farmer who had permitted his cattle to stray. Not knowing where the man was the officer went to the Mountain View Hotel to make enquiries, and was approached there by a stranger, who seemed very eager to get information about the different mountain roads. He did not know that Barrett was an officer, and told him he came from the States and was just here for a few days.

"You know I go off on little trips like this and don't let my wife know where I am," he confided to Barrett. The stranger walked along the mountain top with the officer and plied him with questions about the district and seemed particularly anxious to know where each road led to. When told that the road past the hotel led to Caledonia he said he would like to be around for a few days, and might want to take a walk out that way. The fellow appeared to be well supplied with money. In the course of the conversation he told Barrett he was a cabinet-maker.

It is rather a peculiar co-incident that Mueller is also a cabinet-maker. He was employed in a piano factory at Astoria when arrested. Barrett was shown newspaper pictures of Mueller and asked to try and identify them. "That certainly looks like the man I met," he said, "I could tell much easier if he had a hat on."

Shading the picture to give it the effect it might have if the man wore a hat the officer repeated, "That certainly looks like him. I would know him anywhere if I saw him again."

It is true that the Islip murderer, notwithstanding the fact that local witnesses have partly identified his pictures as resembling the man they saw, and notwithstanding the many similar features of the two crimes, may be innocent of the Barton tragedy. It would seem, however, as if the theory is well worth the Provincial authorities' investigating as suggested by the Hamilton police. It would not cost much and it suggests a chance of unravelling one of Ontario's most baffling unsolved mysteries. The people are getting tired of this unsolved murder business. There are nearly a dozen murderers roaming around for crimes committed in the Pro-

KING'S HEAD IS CLOSED.

Historic Hotel at the Beach a Thing of the Past.

There is one less licensed hotel on the Beach to-day than there was on Saturday. On Saturday evening, after a busy day, during which he received many callers, who made merry to celebrate the event, Proprietor Robert Lutz closed the oldest hotel in this part of the country—the old King's Head Inn, of late years known as Fitch's.

It will be remembered that the city recently bought the land for water-works purposes, the hotel being situated in a corner of the filtering basin property. Mercer Brothers, of this city, bought the brick hotel and cement barn; also the outbuildings, and will move such as are suitable to Station 6 and convert them into residences.

The license died with the vacating of the hotel. Mr. Lutz sold out all his stock and his family has taken a house on the Beach. He is an experienced railroad construction superintendent, and purposes going south to get into that work again. He made a host of friends while on the Beach.

THE CITIZENS.

Campaign Is Being Carried on With Much Vigor.

A meeting of the Executive of the Central Temperance League was held on Saturday evening. Mr. Geo. H. Lees, owing to the fact that he has been selected by the League as a candidate for the office of controller, resigned the first Vice-Presidency and Mr. J. M. Robinson was elected in his place.

It was decided to hold a number of large mass meetings as the campaign progresses. The first will be at an early date, and some of the best speakers available will be secured.

Ward mass meetings will also be held in the near future. A meeting of Ward 3 electors will be held on the evening of Friday next, November 5, to organize and get ready for the campaign.

Ward 5 will hold an organization meeting on Monday evening next.

Her Fatal Leap

Chicago, Nov. 1.—Believing the automobile in which she was riding to-day with her husband and baby boy was about to collide with a rapidly moving taxicab, Mrs. Mary Blakely jumped out and was run over and killed by the taxicab. Before she made the plunge Mrs. Blakely threw out the child, who was in her arms, but the little one escaped injury. Mr. Blakely avoided the collision by a quick turn.

THE REAL OLD SOD.

Sam Garrity, who has his ups and downs on the vertical limited in the City Hall every day, was a proud man this morning. His chest protruded like a pouter pigeon. When Sam was questioned about the why and wherefore of his display of joy he confided that he was the proud possessor of a real shamrock brought from old Ireland by Jas. Trainer, street railway foreman. Sam was also pleased with a piece of the "old sod" from the Emerald Isle. Sam intends putting these treasures in a glass case and having them planted on his grave when he dies—which, please Heaven, may not be soon.

The Man in Overalls

Most juries would be only too glad to hang Toronto if they got the chance.

The time will soon be here when we shall all be wishing that some genius would invent some kind of sticky fly paper to keep us from slipping on the sidewalks.

Now that the leaves have fallen some of the more sensitive among us may want to put pyjamas on the bare limbs of the trees.

You should have heard the language over in the other two offices when they saw our Barton murder scoop on Saturday. Watch them making faces at it to-night.

They are talking about placing the Toronto Telegram in the Home for the Feeble Minded. But it thinks it's entitled to an old age pension.

Count your blessings.

Well, Gebhardt seems to be the kind of man who would commit the Barton murder. It would have been right in his line.

Less than two months to Christmas, make out your list.

Was that West End Incline proposition a false alarm?

How much York Loan money will that you will get?

What do the higher critics think of the supposed choir innovation? Is it one of the essentials?

If the North End Park was moved up alongside the Market Square there would be lots of room for the farmers.

Those of you who have not subscribed to the Y. W. C. A. fund have one more chance to make good. Never was a better cause.

This thirty years power agreement is as good as a life sentence. Few of the aldermen will be around when the time is up.

Perhaps the School Board, if it must build new schools, will see that they are fire proof. Then there would be no need for fire drill.

This threat that Mr. Stewart will run for Mayor if such and such a thing is not done, looks to me like a blackhand scheme.

There is not much of the Christmas feeling noticeable around the city yet.

WAS DEAD FOUR MONTHS

Hamilton Men Thought Their Brother Alive and Well.

(Special Wire to the Times.) Kingston, Ont., Nov. 1.—For their brother to be dead for nearly four months, while they thought him to be alive and well, was the experience of G. S. Wakeford and W. F. Wakeford, of Hamilton.

Early in the summer they received a letter from their brother, W. H. Wakeford, who wrote them from Wilmington, Delaware, stating that while he had been ill, he had recovered sufficiently to be able to attend to business again. They heard nothing more from him, and recently they addressed a letter to him at Wilmington.

Imagine their sad surprise to receive word that their brother had died on July 7 and been buried at Wilmington, as the authorities were unable to locate his relatives. The remains were disinterred and buried at Battersse, The Messrs. Wakeford, Hamilton, are in the city to-day.

Wakeford's two brothers live at 326 Wellington street north. One is a commercial traveller and the other a millwright.

AGAINST CITY.

Rev. Matthew Wilson Is Claiming Unstated Damages.

W. A. H. Duff, acting for Rev. Matthew Wilson, this morning issued a writ against the city. The plaintiff's claim is for unstated damages for injury to his property, personal injuries and expenses incurred by him as a consequence of the defendants having unlawfully obstructed and erected or permitted to be placed a nuisance on a certain highway in the township of Barton, commonly called Moor street.

In July last the defendants had some of the material used in road construction taken up and put in a pile on the mountain top and covered it with yellow oilskin. Plaintiff was out for a drive about the middle of July and in passing the spot his horse became frightened, ran away, throwing him out and he was badly injured. He was in bed for some time and required the services of a doctor. His buggy was damaged and the harness broken. The horse was also injured.

HALLOWE'EN.

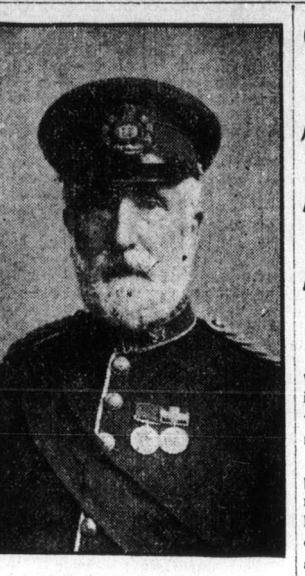

Children Had Good Time Saturday Night—Grimsey Joke.

Hallowe'en lost some of its glory by coming on the Sabbath, and the usual pranks of bombing houses, pulling down fences, firing shafts, and such stunts were not much in evidence last night. However, a large number of the children were out on Saturday night, and had a good time, while others have prepared to celebrate to-night, and no doubt the postponement will only add to their zeal.

In Grimsey some joker got a pair of whitewash and a small brush and spent a big part of the night painting false signs on the windows of the different merchants' stores. The lettering was neatly executed, and was apparently the work of an expert.

GEHARDT IN BELLEVILLE.

Belleville, Ont., Nov. 1.—People in this city who have seen the published picture of Frederick Gebhardt, the self-confessed Islip, L. L. murderer and bigamist, claim that it is the man who, in a United States city, married Miss Post, of this city, and deserted her, after getting her money. The pair were here after they were married.

DESPONDENT, SHE SUICIDED.

Sad Death of Mrs. Skovonski by Own Hand.

She Had Suffered Mentally For Many Years.

Leaves Four Daughters Who Are Quite Heartbroken.

Mrs. Skovonski, 107 Caroline street north, took away her own life on Saturday night by drinking about three ounces of carbolic. She was a German woman and lived under the name of Clark. Her husband is a Russian. To despondency, brought about by domestic unhappiness, is attributed her act of self-destruction.

About 1 o'clock on Saturday night, one of the deceased woman's daughters heard groans coming from her mother's bedroom. The girl went in and found her mother lying on the bed, with a six-ounce bottle of carbolic acid beside her, half of its contents gone.

Dr. Davey was at once summoned and found the woman in a critical condition. Her face and mouth were badly burned. He at once applied the stomach pump and she was removed to St. Joseph's Hospital, where she died shortly after being admitted.

Dr. McNicol was engaged by the police to investigate and to see if an inquest were necessary, but found it was not.

About four years ago Mrs. Skovonski was in the Asylum. Family troubles and loss of money were said to be the cause of her mind becoming unbalanced then. She lost a considerable amount some years ago in the Stinson Bank, that upset her a good deal. Besides a husband there are four little girls, just at the age when they need a mother most. They are Constance, 17; Jessie, 15; Bertha, 12; Gertrude, 8.

The poor little girls are terribly cut up over the sad affair. There is an excellent opportunity for Christian ladies to apply practical Christianity to those girls.

The funeral will take place to-morrow afternoon from her late residence to Holy Sepulchre Cemetery.

PRINCE ITO'S BODY.

Tokio, Nov. 1.—The warship Iwate, with the body of Prince Ito on board, arrived at Yokosuka shortly before 10 o'clock this morning. Among the officials who met the warship were Count Inouye, who was Prince Ito's closest friend; Marquis Katsuma, the Premier; the late Baron Minoru Saito and Baron Simeji Goto, Minister of Communications.

A NEW 33.

Mr. George Mo Honored by the Scottish Rite.

Mr. George Moore, one of the most zealous and popular Masons in Hamilton, is now entitled to wear "33" after his name. The Supreme Council of the Ancient and Accepted Scottish Rite at its convention in Toronto last week conferred the highest degree upon him. Mr. Moore is a member of all the branches of the Masonic fraternity. He is a Past Master of The Barton Lodge; a Past Principal, Past Superintendent of Works and the present Grand Principal of the North Arch; and Past T. P. G. M. of the Murton Lodge of Perfection, A. & A. S. E. He is receiving many congratulations upon the receipt of the new high honor.

ALL SAINTS.

Services Appropriate to the Day In Catholic Churches.

Special services marked the feast of All Saints, observed in Catholic churches throughout the world to-day. In all the Hamilton churches special masses were celebrated, the school children of the various parishes attending in a body. At St. Mary's Cathedral to-night the vesper for the dead will be chanted. This is the only day in the year this solemn service takes place.

To-morrow will be All Souls' Day, and mass will be celebrated at the mortuary chapel at 10 o'clock.

Turkish Baths. An ounce of prevention is worth a pound of cure, says an old adage. Why not cut short that cold or attack of rheumatism by a Turkish bath at the Hamilton Sanatorium, corner Park and Duke streets.

CAUGHT HIM IN THE ACT.

Joseph Kibble Captured In Horning's Grocery Store.

He Blames His Trouble to the Demon of Drink.

Barton Youth Given a Warning and Another Chance.

Joseph Kibble, 106 Jackson street east, was arraigned in police court this morning on a charge of shopbreaking. He was found guilty and will come up to-morrow for sentence.

P. C. Mackie deserves credit for the prompt arrest of Kibble. On Saturday night as the young officer was walking his beat on John street south about 11 o'clock he noticed that the grating over an area outside J. H. Horning's grocery store, 92 John street south, had been moved. That excited his curiosity, and he further investigated and found a man's hat near. He hastily ran into Mr. Gordon's butcher shop opposite and got the proprietor to telephone for the patrol, messengers were despatched for policemen on near by beats and soon P. C. Gibbs, Brennan and Fuller were on the scene. The store was surrounded and P. C. Mackie entered through the window in the rear. The hat that the officer had seen on his first investigation had gone, and the boards that had been in the window in the area were knocked down. Cautiously the constable searched the cellar, but no traces of a burglar could be found. Footsteps were heard overhead, so stealthily he went upstairs, and a voice said, "I'm here, boys; you've got me now." Kibble was promptly arrested. Defendant had evidently known he was trapped, for he had opened the windows and prepared to make his escape, but had seen the bluecoats all around the place. P. C. Mackie swore to the above facts this morning.

Mr. Horning said the grating over the area could not have been lifted by hand, and this morning he saw that the cement around it had been broken.

Cross-examined by M. J. O'Reilly, K. C. for the defence, P. C. Mackie said no bar or tool there, might be used to lift the grating was found and nothing in the store had been touched.

Kibble said he is a teamster for a local coal merchant. He had many drinks before 7 o'clock on Saturday night. "How many?" asked the Crown Attorney.

"Two Scotch whiskies, two brandies, one rum and some beer." He also admitted having two subsequent drinks from a bottle a friend had. He said he had been drinking since a week ago Saturday, and prior to that had not touched drink for four months.

His Worship said that was an "ancient excuse."

Defendant said he knew not how he got in the cellar, nor how long he was in there. He said he lost his head as he staggered along John street south about 10.30.

"When did you get it back?" queried Mr. Washington.

"Next morning."

"You must have a fine head," said the Crown attorney.

Kibble admitted he had been mixed up in a theft case long ago.

William Vancore, a resident of Barton about 18 years of age, stole one pair of leather gloves. He said he was guilty, Mrs. Slack, of the same suburb, complainant, requested that the charge be not pressed. His Worship took a lenient view of the case, and let Vancore go after giving him much good advice. Mrs. Slack keeps a store near the Jockey Club track. On Saturday several youths entered her emporium, and as they went out Vancore attached himself to a pair of gloves. County Constable Jess was notified, and in the short space of 10 minutes he had landed his man with the goods on him.

"What made you steal them?" asked the bench.

"Couldn't say, I'm sure."

Mrs. Slack further stated she had entered her store and asked the price of candles.

Truancy Officer Hunter spoke on the boy's behalf, and said it was the first time he had been in trouble. The family had come to the city two years ago from Guelph, and he was one of a large family.

Harry Thompson bobbed his wrinkled visage above the fence. He had held it in his ancient hands, he said it ached.

"Were you drunk on Saturday?"

"Yes, sir."

Harry thought because he came from west of Flamboro he would be excused. P. C. Ince found him oblivious to all around on a city street on Saturday. "Pay $2," was the decision.

LET THE READER JUDGE.

In its role of journalistic betrayer of the city in the power matter, the Hamilton Herald, on Saturday, said:

Let us say, then, that the Herald has never declared that it would be unwise for the city to accept the Hydro contract. It has never said anything even which could be construed to mean that it would be unwise for the city to accept the Hydro contract. If we knew how to make the contradiction any flatter, we would do so.

Liar should have long memories. Our readers can be trusted to understand the meaning of simple English words. This was the Herald's characterization of the Hydro contract before the "influence" that took it over to the side against the city's interests was exercised upon it.

The Herald regrets to say that, in its opinion, the form of contract is not what it ought to be.

Another weak feature of the Hydro contract is the clause which binds the municipal corporation to take power exclusively from the Commission during the continuance of the contract.

Objections on the part of the Commission to agreeing to such a provision arise from no other cause than LACK OF CONFIDENCE IN ITS OWN ESTIMATES OF THE PRICE OF POWER.

If it does not trust its own estimates, why should the Council take the ratepayers' money for 30 years to come in such a gamble? That is for the aldermen to consider. In private business such a proposition would not receive a moment's consideration.

If the Commission and the engineers and legal advisers had reasonable hope that in practice its estimates of prices, or better, would be realized, it would be not only willing, but eager, to induce Hamilton to enter the scheme by taking 1,000 h.p. with the option of increasing its orders in two or four years.

It objects to permitting us to sample the goods before contracting absolutely for a 30-years' supply ought to render any sane alderman or ratepayer wary of the enterprise.

In other respects Hamilton appears to be discriminated against—notably in the matter of line charge. Berlin, for instance, has power brought to its door. The estimate of annual line cost for Berlin is $2,000 a year less than for Hamilton, although each takes 1,000 h.p., and although Berlin is very much farther from the Falls than is this city.

The issue is not between the Liberals and the Conservatives, but between the two Houses of Parliament.

The issue is not between one sort of taxation and another, but as to the authority to declare what the taxes shall be.

Let us apply this principle to a possible case. The Canadian Senate at the present time is Liberal by a very large majority. If at the next general election the Conservatives should come into power, the political relation of the Canadian House of Parliament would be the same, with names reversed, as are the political relations of the two British Houses of Parliament.

From Washington comes an intimation that there will be no foolish tariff war. The United States Tariff Commission is expected to find a way to avert anything of the kind.

In Canada we depend largely upon the letter of a written constitution. In Great Britain no such document exists. The constitution there, like Topsy, has "just grown."

Those who put forward the contention that if Canada's navy is to be built in Canada there will be openings for graft and abuse of patronage have an exceedingly weak case.

Sir James Whitney has been telling the temperance people how his heart aches to help them to secure prohibition.

EDITORIAL NOTES.

The Greek naval mutiny was quickly subdued, but the conditions of which it was but an indication still remain.

The Customs receipts for the last seven months have increased by $6,438,614 over the same period of last year.

"Micky" Ions, of Toronto, who kicked a player during a game of lacrosse at Scarborough Beach, has been sentenced to 10 days in jail without the option of a fine.

The Street Railway Company has had a good quarter, nearly $8,000 better than the same quarter of last year, and the gain for the three quarters is slightly over $16,000.

Hon. Mackenzie King, replying to the Canadian Federation of Labor, expresses his willingness to recommend the application of the Lemieux Act to the settlement of labor disputes.

The Herald now endeavors to explain away its condemnation of the Hydro monopoly contract (before it entered the service of the city's enemies) by saying that it "expressed the opinion that the municipalities should be at liberty to obtain power elsewhere in cases of emergency."

Birmingham, England, has been testing calcium chloride for the laying of dust on the streets.

We are of opinion that the results of the tests of calcium chloride applied in granular form by the "dry" method have shown that it is a very effective dust layer, and, provided no ill effects are experienced in winter as a consequence of the treatment, we are of opinion it is a cheaper and preferable process to that of street watering.

Amusements

Fair sized audiences greeted Marguerite Clark on Saturday at the Grand, when the popular comedienne made her first appearance here as a star on the legitimate stage.

The comedy is founded on a short story by Dorothy Sayers, and although the plot is slight, Miss Clark made the most of it, and made a most winsome and captivating Sally Robert Dempster, as Giles, made a satisfactory lover, and the rest of the support was fair.

"HAVANA" AT THE GRAND. "Havana," the London Gaiety and New York Casino musical comedy which holds the record for the longest run in New York during the past season, will be seen here for the first time at the Grand to-morrow and Wednesday evenings.

"BEVERLY." Robert M. Baker's excellent dramatization of George Barr McCutcheon's "Beverly of Graustark" is to be seen at the Grand next Thursday night under the title of "Beverly."

PROVINCIAL MEN SHOULD INVESTIGATE

vince within the last ten years, and the public will welcome anything in the way of an attempt to bring any one of the perpetrators to justice.

The publication of the story in the Times on Saturday revived remarkable interest in a case that was long ago given up by the public as hopeless of solution, and which was almost forgotten. Not since the Kinrade mystery in the spring has a crime been so much discussed. The papers were eagerly purchased and the Times was obliged to run off two extra editions to meet the demand. The general consensus of opinion on the street and in circles where the murder was discussed was that the story is well worth investigating.

SHOULD BE INVESTIGATED.

The story told by Acting Detective Barrett is one of the strongest points in support of the possibility of the theory being correct. The local police have always held the opinion that the Barton murderer, who was undoubtedly a stranger to the district, could not have selected the spot where he murdered his victim, at random. Everything pointed to the man having chosen the scene of the crime before hand. This belief is supported by the fact that the man and woman went direct to the spot, and that the murderer, after the crime, knew how to reach the Caledonia road by way of the cross road, to avoid returning by the road he and the woman used to walk out.

The first clue as to the appearance of the Barton murderer and his victim being in the city, was unearthed by the Times. It showed that the pair were at the Commercial Hotel on Saturday evening, October 7th.

This story was confirmed when Maggie Ayers, a dining-room girl, positively identified the body of the murdered woman, as having been in the dining-room with the man. The man and woman, it will be recalled, were seen leaving on Sunday, and it was suggested that he chose the spot for the murder at that time.

Is it not more probable, however, that he was over the ground by himself before Saturday, October 7? Is it not reasonable that the man Barrett spoke to might be the murderer, who was deciding that day on the place where he would commit the crime, and that he went to the Falls on some place that night or Saturday morning to meet the woman? Is it not a peculiar coincidence that a stranger, answering the murderer's description should be seen on the mountain the day before the tragedy, carefully inquiring about the different roads and the layout of the district?

Perhaps the strongest point in the story now advanced is the fact that the only available clues afforded by the dead woman's wearing apparel show that she must have been in Philadelphia or New York. It will be recalled that William Wells, a private detective, who succeeded in locating the maker and wholesaler of the "Foot Queen" shoes, also followed up the matter and established the fact that they were manufactured in Newark, N. J., and sold in Gimbel Bros' store in Philadelphia and Milwaukee. The shoes were said to have been sold in a little store on New York's east side. The wholesaler of the shoes informed the Pinkerton detectives, employed by the Ontario Government, that the particular pair of shoes the woman wore were undoubtedly purchased in this little store.

Detective Wells had a theory that the girl might have worked in the Newark corset factory, where the corsets were made. Efforts were made to identify her there, but no one seemed to remember her. This was some time after the crime.

The local police had a theory that the Barton victim had been identified by her relatives, who refused to come forward because of the disgrace. They formed this opinion because of the publicity the crime was given. They were confident that some one must have identified her.

Is it not possible and even probable that the man who murdered her sent letters to her people telling them she was all right? Mueller, it will be recalled, after murdering Ann Luther, kept sending letters to her parents in Germany telling that she had gone to Florida for her health. He kept this correspondence up until long after the tragedy.

WEAK POINTS.

There are some weak points in the story, it is true. The Times had made no effort to obscure these in an effort to bolster up a story. Impressed with the fact that there were many features in the two crimes, strikingly similar, it set out to make an impartial investigation. The statements of people who say that the Barton murderer had different features from the newspaper pictures of Mueller have been published the same as the statements of people who say the picture bears a striking resemblance.

The fact that Mueller, who, the New York police say, served a term under another name for forgery and perjury, in Sing Sing prison, is not released until August 11, 1905, may be seized upon as one of the weak points of the story, in view of the fact that the Barton victim was executed. This, however, does not necessarily preclude the possibility of the theory being correct.

The chief drawback to sending anyone to New York to try and identify Mueller is the fact that he shaved his moustache off when he suspected that the police were on his trail for the Islip crime. It is hardly likely that any of the people who saw the Barton murderer could identify him without the moustache, although some of them declare that they could tell the man's carriage and walk.

AN INTERNATIONAL BAND.

Coroner Savage is working in conjunction with the New York police, and firmly believes he has in his custody one of the most remarkable criminals ever arrested. It is his opinion from what he has already learned in the course of his investigations that the prisoner is a member of an international band who make a practice of marrying women for a consideration, then robbing and deserting them. The band, according to the coroner, found most of its victims among the immigrant servant girls who save their wages only to finally lose them when they try to exchange them for a husband and a home.

Slathers of Jewels Has Mrs. Drexel; Lost $30,000 Worth

MRS. JOHN R. DREXEL OF PHILADELPHIA.

You'd never notice that Mrs. John R. Drexel had lost $20,000 worth of jewels only a few days ago.

She continues to dazzle society folk with the number and magnificence of her gems. One of her possessions is a bodice completely covered with diamonds. She has diamond necklaces, ropes of diamonds, diamond sunbursts, and she keeps her rings in a box like a boy keeps his marbles. At every reception, they say, Mrs. Drexel appears wearing jewels which even some of her intimate friends cannot recall having seen before. Her favorite jewels include a rope of pearls, with pearl and diamond pendants. With this she always wears a dog collar of pearls and diamonds. Mrs. Drexel's husband is a Philadelphia banker. They have homes at Philadelphia, New York and Newport. In London and Paris she is as well known as at home. She is one of the few Americans King Edward likes, and she is always welcomed in his set. She has entertained Emperor William on her husband's yacht at Cowes. Only the Wright brothers have distanced her in the esteem of royalty.

said very slowly: "I have killed seven women in my time, and if you ever speak a word of this I will kill you too."

THE BROOKFIELD CRIME.

The Brookfield, Mass., murder of which Mueller is suspected was committed on the night of Jan. 9, 1896, three months before he was sent to Sing Sing prison, refuting the theory that he was in prison at the time. The Brookfield police believe that the Islip prisoner committed these murders.

On the morning of Jan. 19, 1896, Francis O. Newton, a well-to-do farmer, his wife and their sixteen-year-old daughter Elsie were found murdered in their sleeping rooms. At that time a German who called himself Paul Mueller was in the employ of Newton. After the murders he was missing. He was traced to West Brookfield, where he had taken a train for New York. It was believed that the man killed the Newtons in their rooms while they were asleep.

The Brookfield police have looked up the description of the Mueller who is wanted there and it tallies closely with that of the man under arrest for the Islip murder.

GEHARDT'S DENIALS. The New York police believe that Fred Gehardt's entire record is unimpaired. He had at first made denials, and I think it is reasonable to assume that he might get him to change other statements as well. I see no avoidance of insanity, and if, as reported, he decides to put up that plea, I fear he will have difficulty in proving it to the satisfaction of a jury.

"There seems so far to be no evidence that in his career he was actuated by anything more than a lust for money. His game has been to pick up these women through matrimonial bureaus, get their money and then desert them."

"It is a noticeable fact that all the women he has tried this game on have been servants, and he has shown great intelligence in the way he has engineered the proceedings. He has stated in the hearings that the matrimonial bureaus have been responsible for all his troubles."

GEHARDT IS DEFIANT. Stolidly indifferent and without speaking a word during the entire procedure, Frederick Gehardt, alias Otto Mueller, self-confessed murderer of Anna Luther, was formally charged in the Town Hall at Islip with first degree murder. As the warrant was read to him his lip curled in a sneer and he placed his head on his hand and grinned. Not one did he look at his wife or two children, although they were seated within three yards of him.

In the crowd of Islip residents who viewed Gehardt there were more women than men. They strained their necks in an effort to get a clearer view of the prisoner. As he entered the court room many of the women stood on chairs. So unruly did the crowd become that Coroner Savage twice threatened to clear the room.

Gehardt was more defiant than ever as he entered the court room. He persistently refused even to look at Judge Wright. Beside the prisoner was seated Nathan O. Petty, who has been retained as counsel for Gehardt. Mr. Petty announced examination waived.

Gehardt then was arrested formally and taken to Riverhead jail, there to await indictment.

WILL IT ACT?

What action the Attorney-General's Department will take is being anxiously awaited.

"No report has yet reached the department," said Mr. J. R. Cartwright, police view the allegation. "If the local police view the allegation as worthy of consideration they will doubtless notify us."

Cadet Byrne Died Yesterday.

West Point, N. Y., Oct. 31.—Cadet Eugene A. Byrne, who was injured in the Harvard-Army game of football, died at 6:30 this morning. From the time he was taken from the field until his death the doctors kept the unfortunate cadet alive by artificial respiration. The injury has been diagnosed as a fracture of the second or third clavicle, and the respiratory nerves were completely paralyzed. The cadet regained consciousness in the early hours of the morning, and asked for a drink, but soon relapsed into the unconsciousness from which he never rallied.

Byrne's injury was received in a play that has been worked perhaps thousands of times this year. It consisted of a mass play aimed at Byrne's position at left tackle. Byrne, in trying to stop the play, was forced underneath, and his head was twisted into a position where the weight of the oncoming rush snapped the vertebrae.

Byrne was a veteran member of a football squad, and one evidence of his standing is the fact that he was acting captain to-day in place of Pullen, who has an injured knee. This was Byrne's fourth year at the academy and on the football team. It was only this fall that a similar accident happened at Annapolis to a naval player, Wilson, of the Navy team, who played quarterback, sustained a fractured vertebrae, and since has been hovering between life and death.

Marconigrams a Feature of the "Empress" Daily News.

The "Empress" Daily News is printed and published at sea on board the C. P. R. Atlantic liner, making a very attractive feature of the voyage. Since wireless came into use "Marconigrams" wafted on the wind from shore while the vessels are on the deep, make interesting reading for the readers of the little newspaper, when out of sight of land. The copy of the News of September 15th is at hand, containing quite a number of these wireless, sent direct to the Empress of Britain, from Clifden, Ireland. Among them may be mentioned "weather forecast," "Egyptian Congress," "attempted assassination of the Serbian Minister," "King Edward's Holiday," "North Pole Controversy," "The Budget," "The stock market," etc. This enterprise on the part of the company is in keeping with all the other provisions for the comfort, safety and enjoyment of the passengers.

MACDONALD-ROBERTSON.

A very quiet wedding was solemnized on Saturday night at the home of the bride's parents, Mr. and Mrs. William Robertson, 514 Bay street north, only the immediate relatives witnessing the ceremony. The contracting parties were Eitel May Robertson and Lorna Bertram Macdonald, of this city. The ceremony was performed by Rev. Dr. J. V. Smith, pastor of Centenary Church. A large number of handsome and useful presents testified to the esteem in which the happy young couple are held. They will reside on East avenue north and will carry with them the best wishes of a very large circle of friends.

SATURDAY'S GAMES IN THE JUNIOR SERIES.

Saturday's results: Alerts vs. Dundas 0-0. Senior Luther League. First Methodist 19, St. Patrick's 0. Junior Luther League. Erskine 4, North End Mission 1. A. M. C. A. 8, St. Andrew's 0.

The games on Saturday were not as interesting as usual. The one exciting game of the day took place at Victoria Park, when the Erskines defeated the Dundas, when the Dundas defeated the Alerts, and proved tireless. The easy way in which the Alerts beat Dundas indicates the championship is likely to come east this year. Large crowds were in attendance at the games.

About 100 fans attended the game at Britannia Park between the Alerts and Dundas, when the local boys snowed their class by winning by a score of 20-0.

From the beginning to the end of the game, the Alerts had things all their own way and were never in danger. They outclassed their opponents, both at tucking and kicking, and with the outside wings always following up fast.

Byrne was a veteran member of a football squad, and one evidence of his standing is the fact that he was acting captain to-day in place of Pullen, who has an injured knee. This was Byrne's fourth year at the academy and on the football team. It was only this fall that a similar accident happened at Annapolis to a naval player, Wilson, of the Navy team, who played quarterback, sustained a fractured vertebrae, and since has been hovering between life and death.

ATHLETICS

Oxford county, and most of the runners who competed in the Thanksgiving Day race will start. It is hoped to have Whitehead, of Woodstock, Nov. 1.—The Millionaire Athletic Club of this city will ask for a sanction for a ten-mile Marathon over the course of the Oxford Marathon, the race to be run on November 13. The event will be closed to the public.

Jack Johnson Is Celebrating.

The Champion Says He Is Happiest Man in Country.

New York, Nov. 1.—Jack Johnson was around town Saturday celebrating. He says it has been the ambition of his life to meet Jeffries, and that he is the happiest man in the country now. Johnson's colored cronies were very jubilant, and a number of the Galveston man's friends helped Jack to enjoy himself. Johnson held an informal reception during the afternoon at "Haron" Wilkins' place, on West 35th street, and plenty of wine flowed. Johnson leaves for Chicago tomorrow to fill a theatrical engagement there.

Jeffries has nothing in sight in the way of a stage date, and unless he changes his plans he will remain in town all next week. If he does sign for a vaudeville engagement, Berger says that the boilermaker will not go far from New York. Jeffries wants to play around New York until after the bids for the fight are opened.

This evening Stakeholder Murphy received the appended telegram from Centralia, Washington Territory, and signed Harvey C. Troth, secretary: "Centralia Athletic Club offers $75,000 for Jeffries-Johnson fight. Certified cheque herewith mailed."

Both Little and Berger when shown the message said they were not acquainted with Mr. Troth, but admitted that the offer was tempting.

Knocked Out In Gay Parade.

Paris, Oct. 30.—Joe Jeannette, the negro pugilist, of Hoboken, N. J., knocked out Al Kuntze, the Michigan giant, of Detroit, Mich., in the tenth round to-night of what was to have been a 20-round bout. The pair met recently in Philadelphia, when they went six rounds without a decision. Jeannette in the negro who met Jack Johnson five times with a win and lost and three draws or no decision.

BILLIARDS

In the English billiard match between Geo. Peters and Geo. Cowman at the H. B. & A. C. on Saturday night, Peters won by 300 points. He played Cowman 750 to 500, and finished his score with Cowman at the 400 mark. Peters played a brilliant and consistent game. No lone runs were made, although Peters got 39, 27, 39, 20 and Cowman 31, 26, 18 and 17. The winner is a very cool and steady player, and can be classed as about the best in these parts. At the 250 mark the players were about even, but Peters with a magnificent short break pulled away and won handily. The loser was repeated rounds of applause for his good work from the large gathering present.

A PLEASANT NIGHT.

Last Friday evening a number of young people met at the home of Mr. and Mrs. W. Simpson, 19 Pine street, and spent an evening they have since entered as one of the most pleasant times they have spent. There were songs, recitations, piano selections and all the 10 essentials that go to make such gatherings successful. Then followed a supper, made up of delicacies galore, and the opinion of the guests had of Mrs. Simpson's culinary abilities was evidenced by the few fragments that remained.

NEWS IN BRIEF

Russia is deporting Koreans from Siberia. W. J. McKee will be the Liberal candidate in North Essex. Sixteen of Montreal's smaller schools are declared unhealthy. Gen. Booth, of the Salvation Army, is writing his autobiography. Ontario opticians will ask the Legislature for a protective measure. North Essex Liberals have nominated Mr. W. J. McKee for the Commons. Over fifteen thousand immigrants arrived in Canada during September. Nine persons lost their lives in a fire in a business block at St. Johnsbury, Vt. The Department of Justice has received 120,000 petitions for reprieve for Mrs. Annie Robinson. Six ocean liners laden with wines and brandies reached New York on Saturday afternoon and Sunday. Winnipeg delegates to the Chamber of Commerce Congress at Sydney, Australia, declare it was a farce. Robert R. Harris died of injuries received in the explosion at the Parker's Dye Works plant, Toronto. Mr. N. K. Laflamme is the Opposition candidate in the St. James' division of Montreal for the Legislature. Cadet Eugene A. Byrne, of Buffalo, received injuries from which he died during a football game at West Point. Three prisoners sentenced in the Toronto Sessions for offences against women will each receive thirty lashes. Preparatory to its abandonment as a church, the altar of St. Margaret's Anglican Church, Toronto, was stripped. A collection of fifty-eight thousand dollars on Sunday cleared the Broadway Methodist Church, Winnipeg, of debt. Mrs. William Turner, Walter Blythe, and Miss Rooka were taken from Toronto to Kingston penitentiary on Saturday. Stanley McGarvey, a seven-year-old Strathroy boy, became entangled in a rope and fell into a barrel. He was strangled. The French Premier warned the people of France that the enemies of the republic are striving to undermine the national public schools. Miss Mary Mason, a patient in the Victoria Hospital at London, Ont., stabbed herself in the neck with a knife. Her condition is critical. Of $20,000 required for alterations in Trinity Methodist Church, Toronto, $16,000 was subscribed or promised, and the rest will soon be raised. The Supreme Court of the empire has ruled that cremation is illegal in Austria. The decision holds that it is opposed to the Christian idea of burial. The British Anti-Socialist Union has already received $50,000 in shillings in response to its call for a million shillings for "train workmen to combat Socialism." The G. T. R. has discontinued its special train from East Toronto to Mimico that was run for the convenience of employees. The company wants them to move to Belleville. Moving pictures of the smallest micro-organisms discernible through the most perfect of magnifying instruments have been made by Jean Comandon, a young French scientist. At Fort William the police now have ten prisoners in the cells in connection with the murder on the coal docks last week, all being held either as suspects or as material witnesses. Mr. S. B. Heward, of Montreal, Vice-Consul for the Netherlands, has received the order of Knighthood known as the order of Orange Nassau. Flying over the Brooklands motor track on Saturday, Louis Paulhan, the French aviator, broke the English record for altitude, reaching the height of 720 feet. He used a biplane. Premier Moret to-day telegraphed the Barcelona authorities here to suspend the execution of all court-martial sentences until the cases could be examined by the Spanish Government. A British company is being formed to organize an aeroplane service across the English Channel between Calais and Dover. There will be accommodation on each aeroplane for four passengers. On Sunday night a Galician farmer came into Gimil, with the report that a woman and two children had been killed in a fight at a farmhouse about six miles north of the town this afternoon. Five hours before they received by wire news of the death of their son, George Kepler, son of Third and Mount Vernon streets, Camden, N. J., and his wife said that each had dreamed that he was killed. Mr. Bernard Wilson, the G. T. R. conductor who was seriously injured on Saturday, died at the Lindsay Ross Memorial Hospital several hours later. He never rallied from the shock of amputation of the leg and arm. During a Halloween entertainment at Loreto Academy, a Catholic boarding school for girls at Kansas City, last night, Miss Virginia Owen and Miss Mamie Tiernan, student actors, were so severely burned that they died. The death of Stephen M. Bentley, a resident of Truro, resulted on Sunday morning from a gunshot wound accidentally sustained late yesterday afternoon while hunting in the woods in the rear of his dwelling. The Cunard Line Steamer Lucania, which has been in the transatlantic service for seventeen years, sailed on her last voyage from Liverpool, on Saturday. Her port was Swansea, where she will be broken up. At Camden, N. J., by means of a magnet attached to a city electric light wire carrying 20,000 volts of electricity, a silver of steel was extracted from the forehead of Richard Stephens, a toilet-maker, in the Cooper Hospital. Mrs. Louis Bartone waded into the St. Lawrence River near Ogdensburg, N. Y., and drowned herself in four feet of water. The woman had been dependent since her husband was sent to prison a year ago for attacking a policeman. Cumulative and convincing evidence has been forthcoming the past week of the modern English origin of the now famous "Vinci" bust purchased by Dr. Hode for $40,000 for the National Museum at Berlin, and which was copied from a picture. The British Post-office report shows that the picture postcard craze is rapidly declining. Fewer telegrams are sent

Queen Alexandra has returned to London considerably improved in health. She brought Queen Maud and Prince Olaf of Norway as guests. Last week the two Queens and Princess Victoria visited several theatres before leaving for a quiet stay at Sandringham. In Montreal in the Royal Victoria Hospital Mrs. T. R. Carnovsky, of Kingston, gave a quart of her life blood to her sister, Mrs. Eli Williamson, of Lindsay, in the hope of prolonging her life after an operation. She came through the operation, but died of shock. A report from the Department of Trade and Commerce shows that during the past twelve months the total number of Chinese entering Canada, subject to the poll tax of $500, was 467. This is only about half the number who entered during the preceding twelve months. Twelve men were killed in the Cambria Steel Co. coal mine, two miles from Johnstown, Pa., on Sunday night, as the result of what is supposed to have been a dynamite explosion. All the dead are foreigners. Three men escaped with their lives by a perilous climb on ladders. Andrew Bobai and Michael Gaster, both 18 years old, were instantly killed by being struck by a Lackawanna passenger train in Binghamton, N. Y., on Sunday. Their dog stood guard over the two bodies and would not let any one near them. It was necessary to shoot and kill the dog before the bodies could be removed. While patrolling his beat on Jarvis street, Toronto, shortly before midnight on Sunday, P. C. McKee found the body of a young man crouched in the shadow of the driveway beside the St. Lawrence Market. In the dead man's hand was a revolver, and the constable upon investigation found a bullet wound in the man's forehead. Another new northern town is to come into being on the National Transcontinental Railway at the Frederick House River. The new town will be situated eight miles west of Cochrane, the junction of the T. & N. O. Railway and the National Transcontinental Railway, and will probably be named after the river which flows through its centre. Two hundred members of the Gompers family held a reunion in New York on Saturday night, to do honor to Solomon Gompers, head of the family in America, and father of Samuel Gompers, the labor leader. The elder Gompers is nearly 80 years of age. Twelve great-granddaughters of Solomon Gompers, dressed in red, white and blue, were present. Checked in his fall through the air from a scaffolding off which a fellow-worker had just pitched to death on the stone abutment of the Williamsburg bridge, New York, 150 feet below, James Donahue, a painter, on Saturday, in the sight of thousands hung suspended from a grapple hook at the end of a long rope which had caught in his clothing as he fell. Bob Cook, the notorious Orangeville desperado, threw a jail breaker, the last time at Boise City, Idaho, where he also freed a number of prisoners, and who has successfully resisted arrest at the hands of the Orangeville police on several occasions, was last night engaged in another fight with the authorities, and as a result Constable James Halbert is seriously wounded. Cook, as usual, made his escape. LADIES BREAK IN And Get Asquith in Corner at Social Reception. London, Oct. 31.—Lady McLaren inaugurated the Government hospitalities of the winter season by a large reception to the Prime Minister on Friday. Lady McLaren, who, though an ardent suffragist, is strongly opposed to "suffragettes," was horrified during the course of the evening to see that two of the militant ones had gained admission to the drawing room and were forcing conversation upon the defenceless Asquith, who, being without his usual guard of detectives, was obliged to listen to their harangues. As Asquith did not reply both suffragettes turned their attention to Lewis Harcourt and Winston Churchill before they finally were asked to leave the house. SEES HIS APPENDIX. Young Physiological Student Gives Others Object Lesson. Williamsport, Pa., Oct. 30.—The physiology class in Professor Kies' room in the public schools had a unique object lesson to-day. The lesson was about the appendix. Earl Biddle, aged 16 years, a member of the class, who has just come out of the hospital after an operation for appendicitis, was present with his removed and diseased appendix in a bottle of alcohol, and explained from the pickled specimen. that he really had to go away from America, she up and married him and went off to lonely old Tangier with him. One day the native tribesmen defeated the French at Casa Blanca. They began to move toward Tangier and Europeans fled. But Lady Lowther wouldn't go. Even the pleadings of her husband, who, of course, could not depart, were in vain. Instead of going, she fixed up a hospital and gathered a corps of nurses. She got ready to do all the woman's part of war. The natives didn't get to Tangier, but that didn't detract from this American girl's bravery. When Sir Gerard went back to England on a visit he declared to his friends, in his English way: "By Jove! Don't you know, that little girl of mine is a perfect brick. 'Fon my word!"

Mr. McBride's Agreement With C. N. R. Published.

Victoria, B. C., Oct. 30.—The Government organ this morning published what Premier McBride states to be the contract with the Canadian Northern. It turns out not to be a contract at all, but a preliminary agreement. It does not meet the public expectation in the matter at all, and the opinion of all classes is that it is an attempt to hoodwink the public. The terms are a guaranteed bond for $35,000 a mile and exemption from taxation for ten years. Liberal criticism is that such a proposal should have been submitted to the Legislature before a dissolution was asked for, in the same manner as followed by the Federal Government in the matter of the construction of the Grand Trunk Pacific Railway.

SHOOTS INDIAN.

Was Arresting Three Redskins For Disorderly Conduct.

Brantford, Oct. 31.—While arresting three young Indians, who were disorderly at the pagan council house late on Saturday night, near Ohsweken, Dominion Constable David Garlow shot and injured Curtis Martin, an Indian, who, it is claimed, attacked him with a fence rail, endeavoring to prevent the arrest of his friends. Garlow had been called by Chief General to put a stop to the disturbance. The constable was arrested here to-day after he had delivered his prisoners at the local jail. He said he first shot into the ground, and when Martin approached closer shot at his legs. One bullet took effect in the right ankle and the other in the right knee. He related the story of the shooting to the local authorities. Garlow is a man of powerful physique, and his arrest is on the ground that the shooting was unnecessary.

Eyes Discomfort. A French oculist has given some special attention to the study of eye discomfort, which is experienced by some persons after watching a moving picture exhibition, and he has given the malady the name of cinematothalamia. He has found that some eyes are not affected in the least and that others recover quickly. In some cases the trouble is avoided by giving the eyes a rest for a few seconds immediately after the first shock, which taken place as soon as the display has commenced.

CENTENARY ANNIVERSARY.

Rev. Hugh Johnson Preached Splendid Sermons Yesterday.

Bishop DuMoulin and Canon Abbott at St. George's Church.

First of Series of Sermons on Young Men's Evenings.

The eloquent and scholarly sermons of Rev. Hugh Johnson, D. D., of Baltimore, one of the most gifted pulpit orators of the Methodist Church in the United States, provided an intellectual treat for the congregation of Centenary Church at the anniversary celebration yesterday.

The musical portion of the services was a pleasing feature. In the morning Mrs. George Allan sang a solo, and in the evening Miss Estelle Carey sang with the choir Mendelssohn's "Hear My Prayer."

The congregation responded generously to the appeal for a collection of $3,000. Dr. Johnson was pastor of Centenary Church thirty-five years ago, and at the morning service he expressed his pleasure at having an opportunity of preaching from his old pulpit again.

Twenty-five years ago he was pastor of Wesley Church. Dr. Smith, pastor of Centenary, who conducted the services, in introducing Dr. Johnson, told of the first time he had heard him preach in Queen Street Church, Toronto.

"I am not prepared," he said, "to say what impression it made on the mind of that young man, but he stands before you to-day, your present pastor."

The congregation listened with undivided attention to Dr. Johnson's powerful and inspiring discourse, based on the second verse of the third Psalm, "To see Thy power and glory, so as I have seen Thee in the sanctuary."

After emphasizing the Psalmist's longing after God, as expressed in the text, and defining the meaning of sanctuary, Dr. Johnson spoke of the church as the shadow of a visible city, the city of God.

The anniversary was a home call to look to the church of the living God, for the church is a symbol of God. It meant worship and the uplifting of men's thoughts to the unseen and eternal. It was the means of communication between earth and Heaven.

Those who gathered there to meditate must indeed say with patriotic fervor, "This is none other than the house of God."

The church was more than a symbol. It was a speech, the same as great poems and paintings, that spoke of the living God.

Dr. Johnson bespoke his affection for Centenary Church, describing reminiscences on the time when it was built and the first services. For almost half a century it stood there, a blessing and power to the community, dedicated to the living God.

"There must be a close connection between the ministry and the Bible," he said, "also we have a responsibility of Rome, which came largely from preaching without the word of God. Brethren, stand fast by your Bible, be admonished. Insist on your sermons being saturated with the Bible. It seems to me no sermon is worth listening to without the Gospel truth. The reason so much preaching is powerless and weak is because we ministers do not grasp that fact sufficiently. The minister fits the bow and pulls the string and the Holy Spirit wings the arrow with power divine."

Nothing, he declared, could replace the worship of the sanctuary.

"A great deal of watery sentiment," he said, "has been spilled on nature's first temple. People don't worship God in the woods and fields, who don't worship Him in the sanctuary."

Touching on the Darwinian theory of evolution, Dr. Johnson asked what difference it made, as long as at the end of the process we were started on a moral career. He took a rap at atheistic speculations, who were prepared to swallow the enormous theory that everything had its beginning in frog ponds.

"Don't be cheated out of your belief in a special Providence," advised Dr. Johnson, as he referred to the people who held that the power that runs the world was unknown that men were whirled along like broken stones, that the world plunged on like a chariot, without a driver, like an engine, without a hand at the throttle, like a crazy ship, with a crazy captain, running on the shoals, bumping on the rocks, and tossed on the ocean of life.

Dr. Johnson spoke of the efficacy of prayer, the redemption, and the presence of the indwelling spirit.

Worldly success, he emphasized, was not the goal. We must look higher. It was the sanctuary, with its lofty and eternal visions, that refreshed and lifted up weary hearts.

doubt, would be free from the temptations of this world. Those who had gone before would not lose their love and affection, but would be waiting for the reunion. Paradise was a place of purification. Two things that it was necessary to remember were, first, title; secondly, the atonement of Jesus Christ on the cross. Many people who had been parted from friends or relatives by death mourned them as dead forever, and put flowers on the grave, but there was very little comfort in that. They should realize that the glorious reunion was yet to come, when Christ would again come to gather in his sheep. In the evening Rev. Canon Abbott preached an able sermon.

YOUNG MEN'S EVENINGS.

Rev. E. B. Lancelley began a series of special sermons, in First Methodist Church, last evening, on "The Young Man and His Evenings." A large congregation was present, and if the series is to be judged by the first, those who attend are to receive something especially good. Selecting as his text Psalms 134, he devoted himself largely to the books which are read. Among other things he said: Man will naturally pursue the pleasures most to his taste when his business is over. Your evenings, young man, are your golden hours—how do you use them? It is yourself that is seen and known in the evening.

"Man goeth forth unto his work, and to his labor, until the evening," he devoted himself largely to the books which are read. "I am not prepared," he said, "to say what impression it made on the mind of that young man, but he stands before you to-day, your present pastor."

The congregation listened with undivided attention to Dr. Johnson's powerful and inspiring discourse, based on the second verse of the third Psalm, "To see Thy power and glory, so as I have seen Thee in the sanctuary."

After emphasizing the Psalmist's longing after God, as expressed in the text, and defining the meaning of sanctuary, Dr. Johnson spoke of the church as the shadow of a visible city, the city of God.

The anniversary was a home call to look to the church of the living God, for the church is a symbol of God. It meant worship and the uplifting of men's thoughts to the unseen and eternal. It was the means of communication between earth and Heaven.

Those who gathered there to meditate must indeed say with patriotic fervor, "This is none other than the house of God."

The church was more than a symbol. It was a speech, the same as great poems and paintings, that spoke of the living God.

Dr. Johnson bespoke his affection for Centenary Church, describing reminiscences on the time when it was built and the first services. For almost half a century it stood there, a blessing and power to the community, dedicated to the living God.

"There must be a close connection between the ministry and the Bible," he said, "also we have a responsibility of Rome, which came largely from preaching without the word of God. Brethren, stand fast by your Bible, be admonished. Insist on your sermons being saturated with the Bible. It seems to me no sermon is worth listening to without the Gospel truth. The reason so much preaching is powerless and weak is because we ministers do not grasp that fact sufficiently. The minister fits the bow and pulls the string and the Holy Spirit wings the arrow with power divine."

Nothing, he declared, could replace the worship of the sanctuary.

"A great deal of watery sentiment," he said, "has been spilled on nature's first temple. People don't worship God in the woods and fields, who don't worship Him in the sanctuary."

Touching on the Darwinian theory of evolution, Dr. Johnson asked what difference it made, as long as at the end of the process we were started on a moral career. He took a rap at atheistic speculations, who were prepared to swallow the enormous theory that everything had its beginning in frog ponds.

"Don't be cheated out of your belief in a special Providence," advised Dr. Johnson, as he referred to the people who held that the power that runs the world was unknown that men were whirled along like broken stones, that the world plunged on like a chariot, without a driver, like an engine, without a hand at the throttle, like a crazy ship, with a crazy captain, running on the shoals, bumping on the rocks, and tossed on the ocean of life.

Dr. Johnson spoke of the efficacy of prayer, the redemption, and the presence of the indwelling spirit.

Worldly success, he emphasized, was not the goal. We must look higher. It was the sanctuary, with its lofty and eternal visions, that refreshed and lifted up weary hearts.

OBLIGATION TO THE GIRLS. Noble Work of Y. W. C. A. Should be Supported. On Wednesday and Thursday of this week active work will be resumed on the Y. W. C. A. and Y. M. C. A. canvass. The Winner building is being retained as headquarters, with someone in charge constantly, and telephone number 15099. It is especially true of the Y. W. C. A. that the people to whom this organization means the most are chiefly those who are least able to support it. The parents of working girls, and the working girls themselves, are not able to contribute much to this work, although it should be stated that the boarding department will be self-sustaining when once it is fully equipped.

can provide their own daughters with the advantages and the protection desired, and they can also do for others' children that which they would wish to do for their own, if the conditions were reversed. One of the captains in the present campaign, a prominent attorney, reported calling upon a prominent business man of the city, who at first showed little interest in the Young Women's Christian Association. But when its work and requirements were fully explained, a substantial contribution was given and the donor said: "Please do not feel that any thanks are due for this. I am under obligation to you for the time and trouble you have taken in putting me in touch with this good work." Another of the captains, in a speech at one of the luncheons at headquarters, said: "I have four children of my own. And if by any chance the life or honor of one of them should be in danger, and the Y. W. C. A. could save but that one in a whole year, I should consider the price paid to be low." This brings the proposition home in a very striking way.

I. O. G. T. Juvenile Templars Elect a New Set of Officers. The regular weekly session of International Juvenile Temple, I. O. G. T., was held in the C. O. O. F. After general business the election of officers for the ensuing term took place, and resulted as follows: Past Chief Templar—Nellie Morison. Chief Templar—Mabel Austin. Vice-Templar—Irene Elford. Secretary—Ruby Patterson. Financial Secretary—Tomm R. W. Macnaughton. Chaplain—Mildred Brown. Marshal—Milford Brown. Deputy Marshal—Florence Stevens. Guard—Harold Stevens. Sentinel—Albert Stacey. Pianist—Jean Finch. The honorary members and executive of the temple will convene on Thursday evening next, at the home of Mrs. A. H. Next Saturday afternoon every member is requested to be present, as a proposition to alter date of weekly meeting will be dealt with. The installation of the new officers will also take place. ANOTHER EASY VICTORY

ROUGH RIDERS WON FROM ARGONAUTS.

JUNGLE TERRORS DEFEATED MONTREAL ON M. A. A. GROUNDS.

Score of 24 to 1 About Indicates the Play—Tigers Were the Best by a Large Margin and Had It on Montreal in Every Department of the Game.

"I think Tigers will win the championship."—Chaucer Elliott.

"The Winged Wheel team did not play as good a game on their own grounds as they put up in Hamilton Thanksgiving Day."—Captain Ben Simpson.

"Argos almost beat Ottawa, and on that drop the men from the Capital will not have much chance for the championship against the yellow and black."—Manager Hasty Lazier.

"The game was somewhat of a disappointment."—Wally Hagar.

"It was a clean game and easy to handle."—Referee George Ballard.

"We hardly expected to win the game, but we certainly did not expect a 24 to 1 score against us."—Capt. Tommy Stinson.

"During the third quarter Montreal backed up and the gave the Hamilton bunch a run, but it was Tigers all the way in the other parts of the game."—Referee Jimmy Craig.

"Nothing but the Grey Cup will do this year."—Doc Thompson.

Saturday's big game in Montreal at the M. A. A. grounds between the Tiger and Winged Wheel teams was a big disappointment to everybody—a most pleasing one to the natives of the jungle town, and an unpleasant one to the denizens of the eastern metropolis. After the good showing made here on Thanksgiving Day by the Montreal players it was naturally expected that they would give the Jungle Terrors the hardest kind of a battle. But it was a case of Hamilton all the way, and it was only in one stage, during the third quarter, that the homesters looked anything like dangerous. Two or three of Montreal's best players were off color on Saturday, and the whole team had suffered a slump since the game here. The Tigers played their usual hard, strong game, and both back division and wing line worked with snap and vigor throughout the game. On the other hand, the Montreal aggregation seemed to lack girth, and fumbled repeatedly behind the line. Tommy Stinson, the famous little full back, was away off color, and put up one of the weakest games of his football career. He was watched closely by the Tigers' outside men, and did not get a chance to get away for any of his famous runs.

About thirty enthusiasts accompanied the team, and although the little bunch of Hamiltonians, decorated with 'mums and yellow and black ribbons, was but a speck in the huge M. A. A. grand stand, they made more noise than the three thousand Montreal supporters that were there.

The weather was ideal for football, clear and cool, but although the game was finished shortly after 5 o'clock, the last quarter was played in the twilight. The M. A. A. provides a special car to convey the Tigers to and from the grounds.

RESULT NEVER IN DOUBT.

It was not an exciting game to watch, the play being in Montreal territory four-fifths of the time, with the Tigers always in the lead by a big margin. After the first ten minutes of play the result was never in doubt, and the remainder of the game was just a fight on Montreal's part, to keep down the score. The line plunging of the Tiger wings was the feature of the game. Time and again the yellow and black bucked for gains of from five to fifteen yards. Gerald Wigg never played better in his life than he did in the first half of the game on Saturday. Three times in succession he hit the Montreal line for gains averaging ten yards, and the Montreal wings seemed impotent to stop him. When it came to exchange of punts Tigers always gained. In fact they had it on Montreal in every department of the game by a large percentage.

CLEAN GAME.

The game was unusually free from rough work, and was one of the cleanest that has been played on a Canadian gridiron in years. Only in a couple of instances did anything of a reprehensible nature occur, and once in the last quarter, when Duckett straight-armed to Moore's nose, causing Arthur's protests to swell up to unusual proportions. Duckett's action was not thought deliberate, but just one of those accidents which are liable to occur in the heat of any game.

The work of the officials left nothing to be desired, and no complaints were heard against Ballard and Craig from either side. The players generally got their yards, and offense and interference was not tolerated. The game was an easy one to handle.

TIGERS ARE STRONG.

As the teams lined up on Saturday, the Tigers are over a hundred per cent. stronger than Montreal. Two weeks ago the Rough Riders could only defeat Montreal by a score of 8 to 3. Compare that with the score of 24 to 1 hung up on Saturday, and Tigers' chances for the championship of the "Big Four" look very bright. The Jungle Terrors have been coming on every game, and every man on the team acquitted himself with credit on Saturday. The absence of Frank Harvey from the back division was not felt, as "Dutch" Burton, who played left half, was one of the best men on the field, and put up as good a game as the intermediate captain is capable of. This matter of intermediate men refusing to answer the senior call is causing a lot of unpleasantness, and one of the members of the executive, who has been handling the second, will find himself in an unenviable position as a consequence of his refusing to permit Harvey to play with the seniors. Of course, Harvey was at liberty to do as he pleased in the matter, but as he was elected captain of the intermediates on turning out this year, he thinks he is in honor bound to play the season with them. However, since the seconds lost on Saturday to Dundas, and are now out of the running for the championship, it is likely they will be willing to give up their star centre half.

The officers and members of the Montreal Club were most courteous in their treatment of the Tigers. Besides providing a special car to take them from the hotel to the grounds, they tendered the visitors a banquet at the Windsor Hotel after the game. The relations between the clubs are as they should be—pleasant and sociable.

WAG WAS THERE.

"Look at that man hit the line!" was the exclamation heard on all sides as Gerald Wigg would rip through the Montreal line, upsetting and warding off a half a dozen tacklers before being brought down. Wag certainly played the game of his life on Saturday, and his plunges gave the Tigers their yards on more than one occasion. Especially in the first half he seemed "unforgettable," and the Montreal wings began to fear his rushes more even than the redoubtable "Iszy." Wag had it on his mark by an appreciable margin, and generally broke through in time to get down the field at the heels of the outstanding men. The big fellow has been putting up a remarkable game this year, and has developed into about the best line plunger in the country. He goes at an opposing line at a terrific rate, and it generally takes two or three men to pull him down. He is one of the best tacklers on the team, and the man that he goes after generally comes down with a thud that is sweet music to the yellow and black supporters. Another man who is playing a star game this year is Arthur Moore. Last year some of the fans thought he had gone back, but on his form in all of the games this year, the most exacting critic would find it a hard matter to find anything to complain of in his playing. The old zig-zag runs that made him famous in the old O. R. F. U., have been much in evidence this year, and opposing backs seldom place their punts in his territory if they can avoid it. Moore has only made one or two fumbles in the three best of two games, and has been one of the best ground gaining players on the yellow and black team. He has lost none of his ability to run through a broken field. The following from the Montreal Standard shows how Moore's work appealed to the scribe:

Montreal's rugby team in the making succumbed to the time-seasoned veterans from Hamilton to the tune of 24 to 1. The trick runs of Moore, the strong kicking of Simpson, and the strength of the Montreal youngsters, overwhelmed the locals, and though they played a sporty game and did their best to keep the ever-growing score against them down as much as possible, the match was a one-sided one. There was little unnecessary roughness, and little foul play, and when the final whistle blew the general opinion was that, while Tigers has won, easily, another year will see the Montreal youngsters in condition to make a serious bid for the inter-provincial championship.

THE BIG COP.

That "Huckle" Bramer is the pick of the wing line men brought out this year, none who saw his game on Saturday will deny. He is the greatest man on the team for gathering in loose balls, and is becoming an adept in the gentle art of stealing the ball from the enemy. On more than one occasion he secured the ball for the Jungle Terrors on Saturday, and his hands seem to have a sort of magnetic attraction for the pigskin. This is the first year that Bramer has ever played real football, and his showing entitles him to a membership in that aristocracy of wingmen known as the "big four." The big cop has got a world of speed for a big man, and is always in the best of condition. He can run a hundred yards in 11 seconds flat, which is going some when tips the scales at 195 pounds.

BURTON PLAYED WELL.

After being laid up for over a week and a half with an injured knee "Dutch" Burton jumped into the game on Saturday and gave a sterling exhibition. He caught everything that came his way and pulled off some sensational runs. "Dutch's" one weakness is his inability to punt, however, his dodging and catching abilities more than make up for this deficiency, especially when there is a Ben Simpson on the team.

SIMPSON'S PUNTS.

Captain Ben Simpson played his usual heady game, and when it came to long punts he had it on Stinson and Duckett by about ten yards. Some of the spectators thought the Montrealers were not taking advantage of their opportunities by not resorting to a punting game, but either at close or open football the Tigers were much the best. The school-master's booting leg was in fine trim, but he was not as sure as usual with his hands. He made a few fumbles on Saturday, and on a couple of occasions Montreal secured the ball before he could recover.

The scrimmage worked perfectly. Craig, Pfeiffer and Bramer certainly make a strong combination, and it takes a mighty strong trio to shove them around any. They have more than held their own against any scrim they have been up against this year.

George Smith is making a name for himself as a full back, and his playing on Saturday could hardly be improved upon. He is a sure catch, and passes the ball swiftly and true. He is also developing into a fine punter, and will be able to relieve Simpson when it comes to a kicking game.

The twins, Isbister and Barron, were, as usual, conspicuous on the yellow and black line. Iszy is a great man to break through fast and get down the field, and more than once on Saturday he was on the Montreal backs as fast as the outside eye.

"Liz" Marriott has lost none of his old time ability as a flying wing, and the Montreal backs were bothered not a little by his fast work.

Art. Turner is playing a star game now, and was one of the chief scorers for the Tigers on Saturday.

Tommy Stinson, the Montreal captain, formerly a member of the Tigers, was away off color and did not play to anything like his usual form. He fumbled a lot and never got away for any of his famous runs.

Duckett was also a little off color, but punted well. Cameron and Fraser, the outside wing men, put up the best exhibition for the Montreal team.

The teams lined up as follows:

Montreal. Position. Tigers.

Full back. Geo. Smith

Half back. Egan, Barron

Wings. Douglas, Isbister, Reiffenstein, Wigg, Fraser, Marriott

Quarter. Buz Baillie, Avrey

Scrimmage. Colls, Craik, McNamee, Pfeiffer, McAllen, Bramer

Referee—G. Ballard. Umpire—J. Craig.

FIRST QUARTER.

Isbister kicked off for the Tigers, Duckett returned, and after an exchange of punts Duckett was downed at his 25-yard line. Tigers got the ball on an off-side, and Simpson went around the end for a big gain. Wigg bucked for 5 yards, and on the next down Stinson was forced to rouge on Simpson's kick. Score: Tigers 1, Montreal 0.

Baillie carried the ball 30 yards out before being downed, and on the next Montreal scrimmage Bramer stole the ball.

Tigers scrimmaged, and Moore went around the end for a gain of 20 yards. Simpson returned Duckett's kick to Stinson, who was caught behind the line, but was not allowed yards, and the ball was brought out.

Stinson kicked into touch, and it was Tigers' ball 20 yards from the Montreal line. Pretty combination play by Burton, Simpson and Moore advanced the ball 5 yards, and Moore went around the end for another 5. Simpson then kicked across, Stinson fumbled, and Art Turner following up fast, fell on the ball for a try, which Moore failed to convert. Score: Tigers 6, Montreal 0.

On the kick-off Colls sent the ball well to the Tigers' 10-yard line, but Burton carried it back to within 10 yards of centre. Hamilton was called back for an off-side. When the teams lined up again near centre, Wigg tried to break through, but could not, and Turner failed just the same. Wigg got through the next time he tried it, however, and got the ball past centre again. There was an exchange of kicks between Stinson and Smith, with the ball always in Montreal territory. In the few remaining minutes of play during the quarter the Tigers pressed, but no score was made.

SECOND QUARTER.

When the second quarter started, Duckett sent in a couple of long punts, but Simpson always returned for gains, and the ball was worked down to the Montreal 20-yard line when Simpson booted behind the line to Stinson, who fumbled, but recovered in time to rouge. Score: Hamilton 7, Montreal 0.

Montreal brought the ball out for a short gain, and Tigers got possession 40 yards out. Simpson kicked to Stinson, who was downed at his own 15-yards. On the first down Duckett's pass went wild and Jack Grey dribbled behind the Montreal line. Pfeiffer was right on the ball and fell on it for a try, which Moore converted. Score: Tigers 13, Montreal 0.

An exchange of kicks between Duckett and Smith followed, and then a really good kick by Simpson brought the ball to the Montreal 10-yard line again. Stinson made a good run, and the ball went back to the 10-yard line on Montreal's side of centre. A kick by Simpson sent it back another ten yards, and a run by McNamee advanced it somewhat.

Simpson kicked again, but a good combination play by the Montreal halves stopped any gain.

Another kick by Simpson, and careless-work on the part of Montreal, gave Grey a chance to dribble the ball across, and, though three or four of the Montreal halves tried to stop it, they were finally compelled to make a safety touch, and the score stood:

Tigers 15, Montreal 0.

Montreal's constant weakness seemed to be their failure to kick when they had a chance.

A kick by Simpson secured another point for Tigers through a tough-line goal, the score being:

Tigers 16, Montreal 0.

Through an off-side on the part of Tigers, the ball came to centre field again, and there it was at half time.

THIRD QUARTER.

Montreal rushed things a bit at the beginning of the second half. Duckett returned a kick from centre, and got the ball well to Hamilton's ten yard line. A short kick by Duckett got the ball to Art Moore, who was promptly downed.

Montreal had the ball, and a chance, but again they failed to kick and when they lost it Simpson kicked. It was caught by Montreal, however, and Duckett kicked it well near Tiger goal line. When he got another chance he kicked it to the dead line, and Montreal gained their first point.

Hamilton, 16; Montreal, 1.

The ball came back to near centre from a scrimmage when it was Montreal's ball. Buz Baillie got it out, and Duckett kicked, and, though Simpson tried to make a long run, he was tackled almost immediately. The ball went back to centre from a scrimmage. There Geo. Avrey made a long run, in the course of which the Montreal wings vainly tried to stop him. He got it to the Montreal 10-yard line and then Simpson kicked it across and Montreal had to rouge again. This made the score:

Montreal, 1; Hamilton, 17.

Simpson, right after that, tried a drop kick, but, although it looked like a success from the grand stand, it was not allowed.

Moore pulled off a couple of spectacular runs, and on one of them kicked across to Stinson, who was forced to rouge. Score: Tigers 18, Montreal 1.

LAST QUARTER.

Montreal started out all right in the last quarter, aided by a kick from Duckett, but the rally did not last.

Montreal had another chance. Duckett kicked it well across, but Smith saved, and in another minute or so Tigers had the ball again on Montreal's thirty-yard line. There was a wait for a few minutes, a Montreal man being hurt, and then, another kick by Simpson got the ball close to the Montreal line again and Turner rushed it over.

Hamilton, 23; Montreal, 1.

Arthur Moore converted this time, and the score was:

Hamilton, 24; Montreal, 1.

The interest was going out of the game. The Montreal supporters stayed around as a matter of loyalty, but, with darkness falling, the play simply became a matter of how Montreal could prevent Tigers from putting in a bigger score. Final score:

Hamilton, 24; Montreal, 1.

Oarsmen Gave the Rough Riders a Great Argument and Should Have Won the Game—Norrross Had His Shoulder Dislocated.

Toronto, Nov. 1.—Luck played a prominent part in the game between the Ottawa Rough Riders and the Argos at Rosedale on Saturday. The game was in doubt until the last few minutes of play, and then Ottawa, by a lucky stroke, got a touchdown and won out. The score was 14 to 9.

A disappointingly small crowd turned out for the match, there being only about 500 present. The ground was rather soft, and a small breeze was blowing, but outside of that the playing conditions were excellent.

The game itself was not exactly brilliant, but it was the best that has been seen here this year. Ottawa had considerably the best of the play in the first ten minutes, getting two rouges, while the Argos were unable to get the ball nearer than twenty-five yards from the touchline. The Toronto team braced up in the next five minutes, however, and scored a touchdown, giving them the lead by 5 to 2.

In the second quarter the Argos got three more points, and in the last quarter one point, giving them a total of 9. Ottawa did not score in the second quarter, but in the third and fourth periods they added twelve points, giving them the game.

After the trimming the Rough Riders gave the Hamilton Tigers, the local fans expected to see something wonderful along the lines of scientific football. They were greatly surprised, however, as the Ottawa team was not a bit stronger than the Argonauts. In fact, with any kind of luck, the local team would have won. Neither team gained much ground on bucks. Early in the first half a few bucks were tried, but they did not result in any material advantage, and so were rejected in favor of a running and kicking game. The Argos backs, as usual, fumbled a little, but the all-round improvement of the team was so great that a few mistakes were excusable. The runs of both teams were mostly for gains of five or ten yards, but Johnston and Gerard each managed to get in a 30-yard dash.

"Banty" Russell was the hero of the Argonaut team, getting their only touchdown, and besides that, taking a heavy part in the tackling and following up. Norcross also played well, but unfortunately he had his shoulder dislocated and was forced to leave the field early in the last half. His tackling had anything on the Ottawa team beaten a mile for clean and effective work, and he had a close second in Corryell. The ex-Varsity star played a grand game. On the half line Green and Mert Kent were the stars, although Knight also played well. Leveck, at full-back, was three times as good as in his first game, and ought certainly to be kept there for the rest of the season.

The back line was Ottawa's strong point. Capt. Jack Williams took McCann's place when the latter was hurt, and his generalship practically won the game for the Easterners. His knees are still sore but in spite of the handicap his punting and end runs were as effective as ever. Christie and Gerard also punted well, and Johnston at full-back caught and ran in great shape. The Ottawa team was perhaps a little the stronger in catching the ball, but the Argos more than made up for their deficiency along that line by their strong tackling. If the Toronto team had not gone to pieces during the five minutes in which the Rough Riders made their last score the game would have been recorded as a win for them.

The game started at 2:55 with the Argos kicking east. The Argos got the ball on the 45-yard line. On the first down Green fumbled and Ottawa got the ball, Christie kicking to the deadline for the first point. Score—Ottawa 1, Argos 0.

On the kick off the ball went to the quarter line and Kent kicked. Norcross followed down fast and got the ball, but lost ground for failing to give the Ottawa man yards. Knight made a bad pass and Ottawa got the ball. Dave McCann was hurt. Mert Kent was forced to rouge on a kick from Christie. Score—Ottawa 2, Argos 0.

The ball went to centre field. On the first down Russell kicked through the scrimmage, the leather going to the Ottawa's quarter line. Green was hurt. Mert Kent kicked and Johnston fumbled. "Dee" Taylor followed down fast and got the ball about a yard from the Rough Riders' touchline. On the second down Russell kicked over the line for a try. Russell did not convert. Score—Ottawa 2, Argos 5.

Gerard went through a broken field for a gain of 30 yards. Brown was hurt. The ball went to the Argos' 3-yard line and on the third down Mert Kent kicked, the ball going out of touch. The first quarter ended with the ball on the Argos quarter line.

In the second quarter Norcross made a nice catch, and returned to Christie. The Rough Riders failed to make their yards and the Argos got the ball. Kent kicked and the ball went to the Ottawa 45-yard line. Kent fumbled and Green recovered, returning Norcross made a nice tackle. Ottawa got possession on their quarter line. Dave McCann's knee played out and Jack Williams took his place. Christie moved out to left half and Williams took his place at centre. Gerard was forced to a safety touch. Score—Ottawa 2, Argos 5.

Half time was called with the ball on the Rough Riders' 40-yard line.

On the kick off Ottawa got the ball at centre field and kicked on their first down. Norcross made a nice tackle, and the Argos got the ball on a blocked punt. Ottawa got the ball on Argo interference and kicked on the first down. Gerard captured the ball, making a nice 5-yard dash. The pigskin went to the Argos 5-yard line. Norcross was hurt. Mert Kent punted to Gerard, who was brought down after a short run by Knight. Norcross was laid out, and was forced to go off. Ottawa was dropping McGee to even up. Green was forced to rouge on a punt from Gerard. Score—Ottawa 3, Argos 8.

Ottawa got the ball and went over the touchline, but the ball was called back owing to an offside. Kent kicked to centre field, and on the return made his mark, Russell getting a free kick. Green made a bad fumble of Christie's return, but Kent recovered.

Three-quarter time found the ball on the Argos quarter line.

Near the beginning of the last quarter Corryell made a bad fumble, the ball going to the Argos' quarter line. Vaughan was hurt and Green got a free kick. Gerard returned to Kent, who fumbled, and Ottawa dribbled the ball over the line for a try. Williams failed to connect. Score—Ottawa 8, Argos 8.

The Argos got the ball at centre field and Kent kicked. Ottawa caught on their quarter line. Christie kicked and Kent returned. Leveck kicked to deadline. Score—Argos 9, Ottawa 8.

Both teams were playing at full speed and the crowd getting wildly excited. Green got the ball at centre field, and on the first down kicked. Williams was downed on the Ottawa quarter line. The ball journeyed back to centre field with the Argos in possession. Ottawa got the ball on the 25-yard line and Williams kicked past the goal posts, but Leveck relieved nicely. Williams again punted, and Christie, following up fast, secured a try which Williams converted. Score—Ottawa 14, Argos 8.

The teams were:

Referee—Hugh Hayes, Hamilton. Umpire—F. Robins, Hamilton.

Westinghouse Team Again Victorious.

Defeated Lancashires by 7-1 on Saturday—Scots and I.L.P. Draw.

The Westinghouse soccer football team on Saturday added another victory to their already large list when they defeated the Lancashires by a score of 7-1. The Westinghouse played strongly, and their combination was extremely good.

The Westinghouse started away good, and the play was on Lancashire ground for the most of the game, but the Lancashires managed to break away and could not be stopped before the ball had been kicked between the posts. When the ball was again in motion the play of the Westinghouse team was too close for them to repeat the trick. The Westinghouse, on the other hand, could not get within good reach of the Lancashire goal until Tully Thoms secured the ball on a long kick and booted it between the posts, making the score 1-1.

Both teams played steady ball for the rest of the half, but the Westinghouse were a little too good for their opponents, and time and again got away with the ball, but until within a few minutes of half time were unable to add to their score. Wally White made their second goal. In the few remaining minutes before half time the Westinghouse team managed to add two other goals, which made the half-time score 4-1 in their favor.

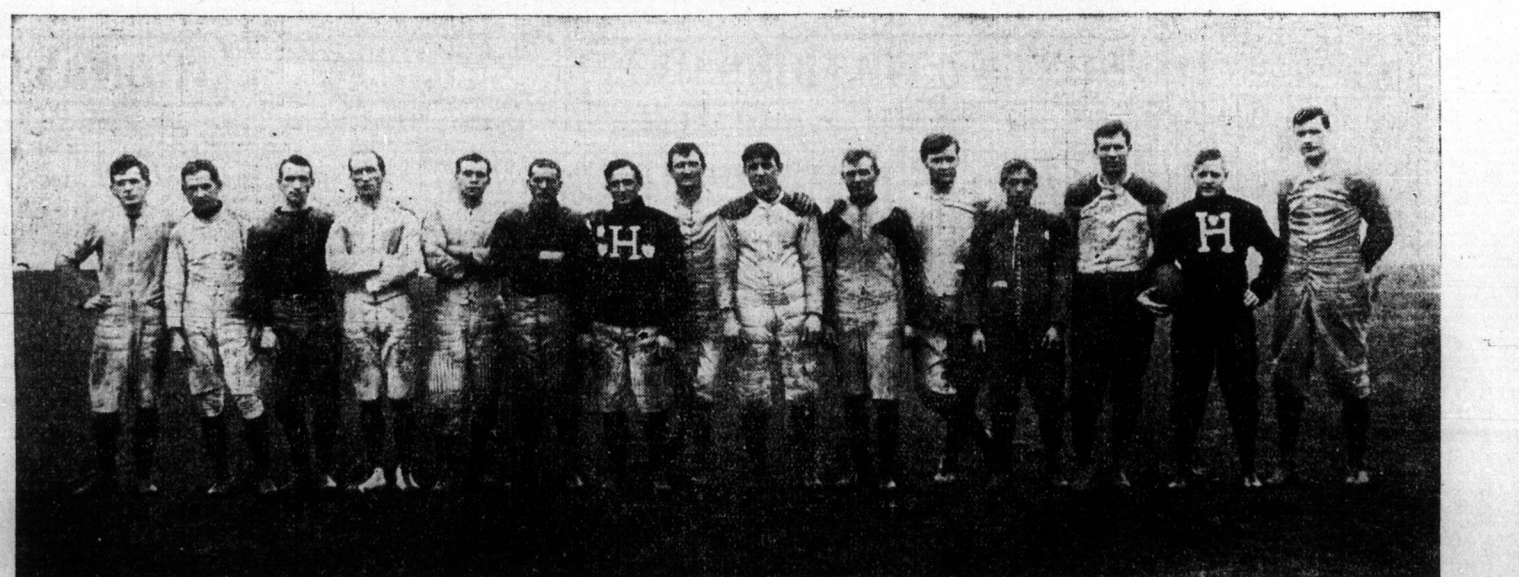

In the second half the Lancashires played strong, and at times it looked as though they would make up the score, but the Westinghouse aggregation managed to keep them from scoring, and added three goals themselves, making the final score 7-1 favor Westinghouse.

The game between the Scots and the Independent Labor Party resulted in a draw, the score at full time being 1-1. The Labor Party has been showing up strongly of late, and in Saturday's game the Scots were unable to take them into camp. The teams were about evenly matched, and from the start the play was very interesting. The first goal was scored by Colman for the I.L.P., but it was not long before the Scots secured one, tying the score. The score remained unchanged after that. Lawson scored the goal for the Scots.

INTERMEDIATES WERE EASY FOR DUNDAS.

Valleyites Ran Up a Score of 14 to 2, Outplaying the Local Boys in Every Department of Game—Big Crowd Saw the Game.

The hopes of the Intermediate Tigers for the championship of Canada was given a fatal jolt on Saturday afternoon at the Cricket Grounds, when Ralph Ripley's underdogs from Dundas, walloped the seconds, winning by a score of 14-2. The result of the game practically decides the championship, as both teams were counting upon winning on their own grounds with a deciding game on neutral grounds.

The game till three-quarter time was a brilliant exhibition, and in fact, was either team's game, but near the finish, the local bunch seemed to go all to pieces and a few costly mistakes let the visitors pile up a score. While the home team was defeated, they must be given credit for the good showing they made against Dundas. The Hamilton wings, who were only half the size of their opponents, seemed to be able to give the back division ample protection.

played to form, it would have been a closer game. The big difference on the teams was the back divisions. Dundas has got a quartette that would make any team in the country work hard for victory, while Hamilton was a one-man affair. Harvey being forced to do nearly all the work. They played with only three men in the second half, and with Addison fumbling throughout the game, it was easy for the Dundas halves to keep the ball away from Harvey. But taking everything into consideration Hamilton's back division was "punch," and was about the rarest joke seen on a local field for some time.

Harvey was the only player who did anything unusual, but he was not up to form. "Gubby" has played many better games, but the general opinion was that he was overworked. He did most of the kicking and received little assistance from his team mates. Jack Addison was all to the bad. He fumbled everything since his way, and never did any running. The best of them have their off-days, and Saturday was Jack's. McNeilly at full-back, has played better games. His work was very poor. Buckley was easily the star man on the Dundas team. His kicking was a decided feature, and he easily out-punted everybody on the field.

Harvey Did Not Have a Chance

R. L. Thomas Seriously Cut by Carroll Shilling.

Some of the spectators who saw Frank Harvey play in Saturday's game with Dundas came away with the opinion that the intermediate captain was a false alarm. However, this opinion does Harvey an injustice, as under the circumstances he showed unusual grit and pluck to finish out a game that was nothing but four chapters of kicks and punches to him. He was the only man on the back division that could kick and consequently he was called on to do all the work. The Tigers' line being unable to hold the heavy Dundas wings left the Hamilton backs without any protection, and nearly every time that Harvey got the ball the Dundas men were on top of him, and he was brought down, and brought down with a crash. The Dundas wings realizing that he was the one dangerous man on the Hamilton team did not spare him, and he was subject to all kinds of rough usage. At half time he was almost unconscious from the punishment he received and in the interval before play was resumed he was undressed, rubbed and other methods used to revive him. When he went on the field for the second half he was still in a dazed condition, and hardly knew what he was doing. Under these circumstances he certainly deserves credit for playing the game out, and could not be expected to put up a star game.

Stabbed by His Jockey.

R. L. Thomas Seriously Cut by Carroll Shilling.

New York, Oct. 31.—E. L. Thomas, a wealthy lumber merchant of Paris, Ky., an owner of race horses, was stabbed this afternoon by Carroll Shilling, a jockey in his employ, at the Sheepshead Bay race track. Mr. Thomas, with his wife, lives at the Hotel Imperial, in this city, and to-day visited the track to look at his horses and try to induce Shilling to sign a contract with him to ride another year. Shilling refused to do this, saying he wished to go to his home in Texas. The owner and jockey, according to reports, had quite a heated argument and Thomas is said to have struck Shilling. Shilling, when he was struck, backed away from the turfman and put his hand on his hip pocket. Thomas, fearing he was going to draw a gun, rushed in, but instead of a gun Shilling pulled a long, thin penknife, which he plunged into Thomas' left side near the heart. Dr. Lyle was summoned and found Thomas was very seriously hurt. The knife had punctured a lung and he feared the result might be serious. He tried to stop the flow of blood and ordered that Mrs. Thomas be notified. He also asked that a specialist be obtained and in the evening Dr. J. A. Blake, of New York, and a trained nurse went to the stable at the track. To-night Dr. Lyle said Mr. Thomas was in a very serious condition.

VANDERBILT CUP A DISAPPOINTMENT.

Harry Grant, in an Alco Car, Won the Race, Averaging 62.8 Miles an Hour—Two Lesser Contests Were Put On.

New York, Nov. 1.—The fifth Vanderbilt Cup race was won on Saturday by Harry F. Grant, driving a 60 horse power Alco, the only six cylinder machine in the race. His time for the 278.08 miles was four hours 25 minutes 42 seconds, an average speed of 62.8 miles an hour. Edward H. Parker, driving a 40 horse power Fiat, was second, five minutes and 15 seconds behind Grant. Wm. Knipper, driving a 40 horse power Chalmers-Detroit, was third. Two other cars, the Mercedes, driven by Wishart, an amateur, and the Atlas, driven by Knox, were the only remaining machines among the fifteen entrants for the Vanderbilt trophy, which were still on the course at the end of the race.

Poor management and lack of official judgment marred the race throughout. One of the worst instances of this occurred just before the finish, when it was suddenly discovered that the timers at the starting point had omitted to credit Grant's Alco with the 20th lap. When he came round on his 21st lap, it was at first recorded as the 20th, which he had previously made uncredited. As he came in sight for the 22nd and final round, the score board was hastily corrected and Grant's name was moved up from third to first place. It was not until after a stormy meeting at the Garden City Hotel between Mr. Vanderbilt and the officials that Grant was finally confirmed as the winner.

COMMENT AND GOSSIP

The Argonauts seem to be the hard luck team of the "Big Four." No matter how large the advantage they gain in the first half, they always manage to lose it by a fumble or some careless play in the last half. According to the story of the game the Oarsmen had the best of the play on Saturday, and should have won by a margin of five or six points.

The Argos have a good wing line, but a poor back division, and any advantage gained by the former is lost by the latter. Ergo, get a new back division.

If the Montreal players did not play very good football on Saturday, they certainly proved themselves good musicians. Ruz Baillet's orchestra and the J. S. quartet were much in evidence during the evening.

The team that played in Montreal is plenty good enough to win the championship of the Inter-Provincial without any changes or shifts. The Rough Riders are an apparently weakened team since Tigers played them in their own city, while the Tigers have been coming on in every game.

Varsity is making a clean sweep in the Inter-Collegiate and some of the more optimistic of the Toronto experts expect to see the students take the Jungle Terrors into camp. However, the general opinion is that the Tigers will beat them, not easily, but by a good margin.

Jeffries is quoted as saying that he is sore at Johnson for dragging him out of retirement. Now that is a fine line of ditty-folli to pass out to a passle of intelligent people. As if Johnson has not been the direct cause of Jeffries' closing in on some $150,000 worth of second picking. The big fellow would have rotted in his Los Angeles drum had not Johnson come along and rescued him. Why, if—but what's the use?

Jack Williams seems to be a tower of strength to the Ottawas. After he went on the field his team bucked up, and pulled off a victory where defeat looked almost certain.

The white race sincerely hope that James J. Jeffries will not be another victim of the Black Hand.

The signing of articles by and between Jim Jeffries and Jack Johnson is mollifying but not convincing. A multitude of complications can arise between now and the far off time limit that has been set. A $5,000 forfeit is a pretty light anchor to hold a thing as big as this. It would hardly pay interest at a reasonable rate on the money the principals design to rip off in the meantime.

Hamilton won the toss and kicked with the wind. The ball was no sooner kicked off than the Tigers had it near the Dundas line. The local boys made many attempts at kicking, but as their opponents' wing line was much heavier they generally lost ground. Harvey kicked to dead line, forcing the first score. Hamilton 1, Dundas 0.

During the remainder of the quarter Tigers kept the ball in Dundas territory, but the best they could do was to score one point. Harvey again kicked to dead line. Score: Hamilton 2, Dundas 0.

As the whistle blew, Dundas were just beginning to work play away from their goal. The ball was kicked off by Dundas to Addison, who returned to Binkley. Dundas on their first down got their yards, and gradually worked the play near Hamilton line. Binkley kicked to dead line. Score: Hamilton 2, Dundas 1.

Harvey was slow in kicking the ball off at quarter, and his kick was blocked, the ball rolling back to the fence for another point. Score: Hamilton 2, Dundas 2.

Harvey's kick was again blocked and Mallet kicked to Harvey, who passed to Glasgow, but he was tackled, forcing a rouge. Score: Hamilton 2, Dundas 3.

Hamilton could not get the ball off at quarter, and every time they lost ground. Their kick was blocked again, but fortunately a Dundas man was off-side on the first scrimmage. Harvey kicked to Mallet, who returned the ball to the dead line for another point. Score: Hamilton 2, Dundas 4.

Before half-time had ended Hamilton began to play better ball, but the quarter was decidedly in Dundas' favor.

When the ball was kicked off it was some time before a point was scored. It was a regular punting duel between Harvey and the Dundas back division, but they gradually worked the ball into Hamilton's territory. At this stage of the game the players appeared to be mixing things up lively, with the result that there were many penalties. At one time Dundas only had two men on their back division. When the quarter was nearly finished Mallet kicked to Harvey, who was forced to rouge. Score: Hamilton 2, Dundas 5.

No more points were scored during this quarter. The ball was only in play a short time when Dundas got it near Hamilton's line. Mallet went over for a try, which Binkley converted. Score: Hamilton 2, Dundas 10.

GAMES IN THE INTER-COLLEGIATE SERIES.

University of Toronto Defeated Ottawa by a Score of 46 to 4 at the Capital—McGill Fell a Victim to Queen's.

Ottawa, Oct. 31.—Forty-six to four in favor of Varsity was the final score to today's game between the Inter-Collegiate champions and Ottawa College at Varsity Oval. Few hoped for an Ottawa victory, but fewer expected to see the Toronto students wade through the Ottawa College team in such an easy manner. Father Stanton's pets were swept from their feet from first to last. Varsity excelled them by far in every department, the work of the Varsity team from Full Back Dixon to Centre Scrimmager Ritchie being the finest seen in Ottawa this year.

As the whistle blew, Dundas were just beginning to work play away from their goal. The ball was kicked off by Dundas to Addison, who returned to Binkley. Dundas on their first down got their yards, and gradually worked the play near Hamilton line. Binkley kicked to dead line. Score: Hamilton 2, Dundas 1.

M'GILL WAS DEFEATED. Kingston, Ont., Oct. 30.—It was quite chilly at the Athletic grounds to-day, where the Queens-McGill struggle took place. There was a good attendance, and much interest manifested. Queen's proved aggressive, and kept the Montrealers busy in defending their lines. Queen's forced the play throughout the first half, Williams coming into prominence by his vigorous punting. The second half of the game found McGill very determined, and there was fast running, brilliant punting and vigorous scrimmaging. Moran's drop kicks were good, while Williams' punting made McGill's back division keep hustling to handle the ball. McGill's scrimmagers and wings were responsible for her losses.

When the third quarter began McAvewen of McGill, found his chance, and rushed through Queen's lines and got far down the field before Leckie tackled him. It was, however, too late, for Ross kicked over Queen's line and Dickson roused. McGill scored one. The visitors followed this up with vigorous work until Dickson fumbled, and Black got over Queen's line for a touch, but failed to convert. This tied the score—six all. The next score came when Queen's Williams kicked a touch in goal, and added its tenth point. Shortly after pushed McGill over for a safety touch, the quarter ended.

The last quarter had nicely begun when Moran made a fine drop kick over the goal, giving Queen's 14 to McGill's 6. This was speedily followed by a safety touch, and then, during a scrimmage, Butter, in play, carried the ball over for a touch, and made the score Queen's 14, McGill 12. Before the game was over Williams kicked over McGill's line. Ross could not handle the ball, and Clark was upon it in a flash for a touch. The try was not converted. The game ended: Queen's 19, McGill 12.

The teams were: Queen's—Williams, full back; Dickson, Leckie, Moran, halves; Mossley, quarter; Clark, Owenend, Kingsley, scrum; Llord, Gallagher, McKay, Eukrine, Smith, Elliott, wings. HIS DOINGS IN THE WEST. Many Charges Against F. J. Vale, Under Arrest Here. It Is Said That He Worked the Religious Scheme. Officer on His Way Here to Take Him Back.

"Hold for me; have written about this man." Those were the words of a telegram received by Chief Smith on Saturday afternoon from the Chief of the Northwest Mounted Police in Saskatchewan.

The man referred to was F. J. Vale, now being held here on a charge of forgery. This morning the chief received the letter mentioned in telegram.

Under the cloak of religion, Vale, it is alleged, has played the credulous of farmers and obtained substantial sums. He is said to be a first-class pianist and knows all the Gospel hymns as well as he knows the alphabet.

Last Monday it was ascertained that he had bought a ticket for Hamilton. The chief of the N. W. M. P. left Regina on Saturday for this city and on his arrival here Vale will be at once taken back to face the charges preferred against him.

GOOD SCORE. A. Pain, Jun, Headed His Team In University Match.
