HASZARD'S GAZETTE, OCTOBER 7.

"As they are of importance, my Lord," observed the Queen, "I would have attended to them earlier, but at nine o'clock."

"At nine, Her Majesty punctually gave audience to the Minister, who had never before, it is to be presumed, intended to catalog a lesson on the duties of the Sabbath."

MERCY.

The first sentence of death the young Sovereign was required to sign, was that of a soldier condemned to death for desertion. The Queen read it, and asked the Minister who brought it to her, "Have you nothing to say in behalf of this man?" "Nothing," was the reply, "he has deserted three times; but," said the brave veteran who relates the anecdote, seeing Her Majesty's anxiety, I added, "the he is a very bad soldier some witnesses spoke for his character, and for eight I know to the contrary, he may be a good man!" "Och! thank you for that a thousand times," exclaimed the Queen; and hastily writing "pardoned" on the paper, she put it across the table; with her fair hand trembling with emotion.—From "Queen Victoria, from her Birth to her Bridal."

THE MAINE LAW IN CANADA.

A veryzealous effort is now being made by the advocates of Temperance in both these Provinces for the enactment of a law to prohibit the sale of intoxicating drink. The time is certainly well chosen: petitions are in course of signature to the Governor General, the Legislative Council, and the Assembly, for the passage of the law. When the proposition was brought before Parliament on the last occasion, it was lost by a single vote, and since then the cause has gained many advocates, and a large number of candidates have pledged themselves, at least to this extent, that if a sufficient number of petitions are presented to show the unequivocal wish of the people for the enactment of a prohibitory law, a majority of members will vote for it.

Thus, then, the question is referred back to the people, and all much question should be, whether the people have only to pronounced their decision through the medium opened by the constitution of petition, nothing on the continent of Europe, which approaches this work in the grandeur and greatness of its design.

The success of the Engineer (Mr. Stevenson) in the building of the Britannia Bridge has fully justified him in deciding upon the adoption of the same plan for the Victoria Bridge, which will be constructed on twenty-four piers, with spans or spaces, for the navigation, exclusive of the two abutments from whence the tubes spring on either side. The centre space or span will be 330 feet wide, and each of the other twenty-four spans will be 220 feet wide. The width of the two piers nearest to each abutment will be fifteen feet; and as the piers approach the centre span, the width and strength of each will be increased, until they reach the two centre piers, when it will amount to eighteen feet.

The abutments from which the tubes spring will be each of them 240 feet long and 90 feet wide, and from the north shore of the St. Lawrence to the south abutment there will be a solid stone embankment of rough masonry, 1900 feet in length raised like an artificial rock to resist the current. The stone embankment leading from the south shore of the river to the south abutment will be half this length, or 600 feet. The length of the bridge itself, from abutment to abutment, and its total length from river bank to river bank, will be 10,265 feet, or about 50 yards less than 2,000 English miles.

We have seen the good effects of the law in some of the New England States, and strongly advocate its enactment. We have never taken any pledge, and have never practised total abstinence; and our testimony so far is not the testimony of the thick-and-thin partisans. We say, let any unprejudiced person contrast the condition of our cities, so happily in the country the vice has been checked by the labours of the priesthood, and we will see by comparison with cities where a prohibitory law exists, that poverty, crime, suffering and death are greatly increased by the use of intoxicating drinks. But we shall be told, we are free-traders, and yet desire to impose fetters on this branch of trade, or rather to suppress it altogether. But let it be remembered, that the victor and the tavern-keeper are already exposed to restrictions, and subject to a license which may be at any moment revoked. There are also many other trades to which the State applies, not restricted merely, but actual prohibition, on the principle laid down by the law-giver, that society is justified in putting down whatever is dangerous to the public health or morals. Sicut populis, sicut regnum. The State holds itself justified in suppressing any mode, or practice, the use of property, detrimental to the life, health, order, and welfare of the people. Thus, noise, virtual works are pulled down, unwholesome houses removed; lotteries, raffles, sweepstakes, gambling-houses are prohibited; gambling-houses are closed, because they are physical or moral nuisances. The liquor traffic is a nuisance physically, morally, and economically. It brings death or madness, or idiocy, on thousands. If you want evidence of this, seek it in the records of the burial-ground, the prison, penitentiary, the hospital, and the asylum. It reduces the resources of a country, by consuming large quantities of corn and wheat, which are annually distilled into drink; it causes pauperism, increases taxation, occasions prosecutions and prison expenses, and by diminishing the products of industry, lessens the amount of national productions. Statistics prove that it causes or accompanies two-thirds of the crime which is committed; that it lowers intelligence, and checks civilization, and leads men, who might not otherwise do it, to starve, ill-treat and injure those who are nearest and dearest to them.

Let any one who doubts these assertions, watch the influence of this powerful agent upon different men. One it induces questionable, contentious, savage, suicidal, or mischievous. Another, his melancholy, and sinks into the English, slavering simplest, who may be gullied, tricked, or fleeced of anything. No man admits, that this is its action upon himself, but every one can see, that it is in action in a greater or less degree upon others. The Spartan saw it ages ago, and made his slave drunk to disgust his children with the indulgence. Physiologists have ascertained, that alcohol in any form passes at once into the circulation, changing the condition of the blood and of the man. We ridicule the poor Arab of the desert, for taking the poisonous and stupefying hashish, and revile the feeble Asiatic for narcotics and exciting himself with opium; and at frequent periods of the day, ourselves have recourse to a stimulant and excitant, far more direct, if it be less deadly, than the juice of the poppy, or the Indian fixin'. Men may deny the influence of drink upon themselves, but do their neighbours, wives, children, or servants fail to see it? Who likes to be degraded before his own household gods? and yet, who that drinks does not become degraded? Our friends may cast the mantle of affection over us, and hide our nakedness from ourselves, as did the sons of the Antediluvian, but the heat that feels for us, feels as surely our shame. We are ourselves the slave, worse than the Spartan, for his was an enforced degradation, and we voluntarily degrade ourselves.

The Colossus of Rhodes, under which the pygmy shallop of former ages could, pass, was esteemed one of the wonders of the Old World. But an iron bridge, spanning a river two miles in width, giving safe passage to the hundreds of tons of weight between its iron sides, and permitting ships of the largest tonnage to pass beneath its elevated arches, is an achievement still more remarkable for the New World, and is worthy of the young Giant rising in the West. That the Coliseum, and the Pantheon, and the Piraeus, and Japan, with various other mighty indications, show that the coming generation is about to enter upon a wider and more intense sphere of activity than, in the philosophy of their fathers, they ever dreamt of.—St. Louis Democrat.

The Toronto Examiner, referring to a rumour that the late Canadian Premier is to be honoured with Knighthood as a reward for his services in negotiating the Reciprocity Treaty, says:

"To bestow the honors of Knighthood upon Francis Hincks, in view of his public career as a Minister of the Crown, would, in our opinion, tarnish the Throne of the Realm, and蒙羞 the States of the Union which give tons to the other States, by their superior education and intelligence, such qualities do not prevail. When the Governor General was entertained on his return by the Mayor and citizens of Portland, every delicacy to tempt the taste and appetite was provided, but no intoxicating drinks. A man of acute perception would see the difference of such an entertainment, to one in which the fire-water is made to circulate freely; and we believe, judging from the remarks of the Governor General, that he was well nigh won over to the approval of the Maine Law, by his observations at this one entertainment.—In France, which gives the tons to Continental Europe, a sitting of four or five hours at a dinner, Business stagnates. Railway enterprises are suspended. City Banks are straitened and Western Banks have suspended. Money is called in. Country Merchants are in difficulties. City Merchants are failing. Real Estate and Commodities are going down by the run; wages will follow. Extravagant expenditure is becoming disgraceful. Economy and industry are to be the order of the day, and a more solid and general prosperity than that which has recently turned so many heads will doubtless be the result.—Montreal Witness.

QUEBEC, Sept. 28.—In the House of Assembly last night, the bill to bring the laws of Canada into harmony with the principles of the Fishery and Reciprocity Treaty between Great Britain and the United States, was read a first time, and today it will be carried through the various stages to perfection.

The Legislative Council has appointed a committee to inquire into charges of undue speculations preferred against some members of the late ministry.

QUEBEC, Sept. 23.—The Reciprocity Bill passed both Houses last night, and will receive the royal assent to-day. The Governor General will then issue a proclamation declaring the Treaty to be in force, as far as Canada is concerned, whence the President of the United States will take the responsibility of doing the same.

SEPTEMBER 26.—Secretary Macey has replied by telegraph to the Canadian Government that the Reciprocity Treaty cannot take effect as regards Canada until legislation upon it takes place in England and all the colonies interested.

THE LIQUOR LAW IN CANADA.—The Montreal Pilot says that Mr. W. L. Mackenzie, the Member of the Provincial Parliament, will on Monday next move for leave to bring into Parliament a bill for a strong prohibitory law—it is thought that the feeling throughout the country at the present time is remarkably propitious for the passage of such a measure.

BRIDGE OVER THE ST. LAWRENCE.

The Victoria Bridge over the St. Lawrence will certainly be the most remarkable work of the kind in the Canadas, we might say in the whole world. It reminds us of some of the old Roman works, such as the ancient aqueducts which span valleys of Italy, in their grand and gigantic proportions, exceeding that of an ordinary bridge over river. We know of nothing on the continent of America, nothing on the continent of Europe, which approaches this work in the grandeur and greatness of its design.

The success of the Engineer (Mr. Stevenson) in the building of the Britannia Bridge has fully justified him in deciding upon the adoption of the same plan for the Victoria Bridge, which will be constructed on twenty-four piers, with spans or spaces, for the navigation, exclusive of the two abutments from whence the tubes spring on either side. ## The Great British Quarterly, and Blackwood's Magazine!

LEONARD SCOTT & CO. New York, continue to Re-publish the following British Periodicals, v.v.

1. The London Quarterly Review (Conservative.)

2. The Edinburgh Review (Whig.)

3. The North British Review (Free Church.)

4. The Westminster Review (Liberal.)

5. Blackwood's Edinburgh Magazine (Very.)

The present critical state of European affairs will render these publications unusually interesting during the year 1854. They will occupy a middle ground between the hastily written news items, crude speculations, and flying rumours of the daily Journal, and the more serious labours of the future historian, written after the living interest and excitement of the great political events of the time have passed away.

It is to these Periodicals that readers must look for such reliable history of current events, and as such, in addition to their well-established literary, scientific, and theological character, we urge upon the arrangement for the receipt of the reading public.

Arrangements are in progress for the receipt of early sheets from the British Publishers, by which we shall be able to place all our Re-prints in the hands of our subscribers, about as soon as they can be furnished with the former copies. Although this will involve a very large outlay on our part, we shall continue to furnish the Periodicals at the same low rates as heretofore, viz.:-

For any one of the four Reviews Per an.

For any two of the four Reviews, 50

For any three of the four Reviews, 70

For all four of the Reviews, 80

Per Blackwood's Magazine, 30

For British Monthly Review, 30

For Blackwood and the Four Reviews, 90

Payments to be made in all cases in advance.

They can be received by Mail at a very small additional postage.

R. R. R.

Highly Important to the Public.

The Sick cured on the R. R. R. Theory.

THREE GREAT REMEDIES.

The attention of the public is particularly directed to three quick and powerful remedies discovered by RADWAY & CO. Success has been obtained with a few cases, to prevent, as these remedies in stopping pain, checked disease, expelling from the human body all foul and corrupt humours, all diseased and poisonous deposits, and restoring the weak, feeble, and fragile frame, worn out by disease and long suffering, to sound health and long life, that whoever uses these remedies, becomes familiar with the R. R. R. Theory, will never need a physician, unless it is in some critical surgical case. The R. R. R. Remedies will never fail—they prove themselves in the worst cases in less than twenty-four hours.

They invigorate, they renovate, they regulate, they relieve the suffering, pain-stricken invalid from the most torturing pains in a few minutes.

They restore the sick and diseased body to health and longevity.

To the low spirited and nervous they impart joyfulness, vigor, and a happy flow of spirits.

To the aged and infirm, whose constitutions are weak by debilitated and limbs palsied and enfeebled, it imparts the elasticity and buoyancy of manhood in its prime.

To the young, who, between the period of youth and manhood, outgrow their natural strength, who are afflicted with languor, insatiate, loss of appetite, giddy feelings, &c., they impart to the recuperative organs a healthy regularity of action.

To the thoughtless ne'er-do-well and victim of animal passions, who has wasted away his strength in folly and madness, they restore the waste of manhood, and restore every organ to a sound and perfect condition.

To all who suffer pain, to all afflicted with disease, the R. R. R. REMEDIES will quickly and effectively free the sufferer from misery, and render the most wretched capable of enjoying sound health and long life.

R. R. R.

REMEDIES.

The R. R. R. Theory requires only three remedies for the care of the sick, and the protection of the human system against sudden attacks of violent Maladies.

No. 1.—RADWAY'S READY RELIEF.—For the instant Relief of Pain, and quick cure of Acute Maladies.

No. 2.—RADWAY'S REVOLVING RESOLVENT.

For the effectual cure of all Chronic and Scrofulous Disease that have been lingering in the System, corrupting the Human Body, for Five, Ten, Twenty, or Forty Years.

No. 3.—RADWAY'S REGULATORS.

For restoring and regulating to a healthy and harmonious action all the Organs in the System. A mild and effectual cathartic.

R. R. R.—No. 1—RADWAY'S READY RE-

LEASE.

The R. R. R. Theory requires only three remedies for the care of the sick, and the protection of the human system against sudden attacks of violent

Maladies.

These three remedies are entirely vegetable. They are pleasant to take, elegantly coated with a medicinal gum, are perfectly tasteless, and free from smell. No person will feel any disagreeable symptoms from taking a dose of REGULATORS.

NO CALOMEL.

or other poisonous drug enters their composition—they are entirely vegetable. They are pleasant to take, elegantly coated with a medicinal gum, are perfectly tasteless, and free from smell. No person will feel any disagreeable symptoms from taking a dose of REGULATORS.

One of the REGULATORS, taken on going to bed, will insure a regular and healthy discharge from the bowels in the morning. In cases where eight or ten of the common pills are used for free evacuations, two or three of the REGULATORS are sufficient.

BREATHING.—We know of no remedy, nor treatment that will so quickly and effectually cure Breathing or the RESOLVENT. It is in all Chronic cases where RADWAY'S REVOLVING RESOLVENT will be most appreciated.

The patient, who generally feels well enough when the stomach is empty, is afflicted with the most distressing symptoms—ranging from the daily rumination, written down to the most violent fits of vomiting.

THE LIGHT AT HOME.

The Light at Home! how bright it beams
When evening shades around us fall;
And from the lattice fair its glances;
To love, and rest and comfort calls.
What worth is there in the wife of day,
The wife for glory, gold, or fame,
Her worth to me is quiet way.
Here living lips will tell our name
Around the Light at Home!

When through the dark and stormy night,
The wayward wanderer homeward goes;
How cheering is that twinkling light!
Which through the forest gloom do spied!
It is the light at home he sees.
The loving hearts will greet him there,
And softly through his boughs steals
That joy and love that batchards feel,
Around the Light at Home.

The Light at Home, where'er at last,
It grieves the e'man through the storm;
He feels no more the chilling blast.
That beats upon his manly form.

Long years upon the sea have led
Since Mary gave her parting kiss,
But the sad tears which then she shed,
Will now be paid with rapturous bliss;

When the rough toils of day are o'er.

The blessings that the bosom imparts,
The cheerful hopes and joys that flow,

And lights up the basest heart,
Around the Light at Home.

THE COLONIAL CHURCH AND SCHOOL SOCIETY.—We have much pleasure in recommending to our readers a perusal of the annual report of the above Society for years 1853-1854, whose extended sphere of usefulness entitles it to rank among the most valuable of our religious institutions. A cursory survey of the pecuniary statement affords a gratifying proof of the estimation in which its pious labours are held. We find, although the Society's funds have progressively increased during the last four years, that the income of the present year exhibits an increase considerably beyond the proportion of previous years; and that upwards of twenty additional (giving a total of one hundred and fifty-three) agents are extending the priceless blessings of the Gospel and scriptural education to our brethren in distant climes. While we gather, from the interesting communications of the Society's agents, how sincerely their efforts are appreciated and encouraged, we at the same time perceive the crying necessity which exists for this spiritual provision: and the imperative duty incumbent upon us, not only to continue but to increase its efficacy by enabling the Society to employ additional agents, and thereby meet the daily augmenting demand upon its sympathy. We would at the same time direct our readers to the perusal of the eloquent appeal delivered by the Bishop of Sierra Leone, wherein he earnestly and forcibly details the lamentable spiritual distress which, in spite of the noble efforts of this and other Societies, still exists in our colonies and dependencies.—Church Witness.

LITERALITY OF THE TURKISH GOVERNMENT.—The Our Deutsch Post, of the 4th, says:—"The Turkish Government has just performed an act which proves, that it takes serious interest in its Christian subjects. According to the order of the Sultan, a list is now being made out of all the churches of Bosnia which have not churches, and where it may be necessary, to have them built. Not only will all the parishes be allowed to build churches, a privilege which could only formerly be obtained by large pecuniary sacrifices, but the Turkish treasury will even furnish money for the purpose, where the communions have not the means themselves."

READY TO ENTER IN.—It is a providential coincidence, that just as Japan is opening to the trade of other countries, efforts should be made for giving the Japanese the Scriptures in their own language. Dr. Bettelheim, a medical missionary connected with the Loochoo Missionary Society of London, is about visiting Hong Kong to take measures for printing his Japanese and Loochooan version of the Scriptures. In Japanese, the four Gospels and the Acts, and in the Loochooan, Luke, John, the Acts, and the epistles to the Romans, are ready for publication, the work of Dr. Bettelheim, who has long been secluded in Loochoo.

A POOR WOMAN'S GRATITUDE.—Mr. Gough, in one of his orations before a British audience, related the following incident. We doubt, whether from any of the beautiful and costly gifts, of which Mr. Gough has been made the recipient, from admirers of his genius and philanthropy, any one has more deeply touched his heart than this testimonial of the poor Edinburgh woman. Said he:

"While in Edinburgh, lately, a woman with two children called upon me, and though very poor, inquired, that I should accept a present of a white handkerchief, saying, 'while you wipe the sweat from your brow, when you are speaking in this cause, let it remind you that you have dried the tears of my house.'

All men have their frailties; whoever looks for a friend without imperfections will never find what he seeks; we are not equally content with ourselves—how should we be so with our friends? We love our selves nevertheless with all our faults, and we ought to love our friends in like manner.

Wine-and-Paint Houses.—A correspondent of the London Insider says, that houses should be painted in the autumn; houses painted in October, he says, look better at the end of four years, than, if painted in July, it would at the end of two.

FOR THE CURE OF LIVER Complaints, Jaundice Dyspepsia? Rheumatism, Indigestion, Gout, Dysentery, Diarrhoea, Diseases of the Kidneys and Bladder, Epilepsy, and all Diseases of the Skin Eruption, Typhoid and Inflammatory Fevers, Sick Headache, Convulsions, Pains in the Head, Breast, Side, Back and Limbs, Palpitation of the Heart, Female Complaints, and all Diseases arising from an impure state of the blood.

These invaluable Pills have been used with unerring success in private practice for more than thirty years, and are now offered to the public, with the fullest conviction that they will prove themselves a public benefit.

They possess the power of stimulating the reproductive organs throughout the body to a healthy action, thus assisting nature to subvert disease after her own manner. Prepared only by D. TAYLOR, Jr. & Co., No. 25, Hanover street, Boston.

THE MEXICAN MUSTANG LINIMENT,

Upon each occasion, is invaluable!—The wonderful effects of its soothing and healing properties have induced many, who have tried it, to always carry a bottle of it with them when they are travelling.

Frequent tests have proved it to be efficacious in curing Rheumatism, Figs, Scrofulous diseases, Cancers, Ulcers, Old Sores, Neuralgia, Toothache, Etc. &c. Also, Spavins, Ring-hams, Scratches, Cracked Heels, Chapped Galls, on Horses, and other animals. Many Physicians use it because they depend upon it—so do our patients.

Farmers and Livestock Keepers.

Say they will have it, and will not be satisfied without it, after giving it a fair trial. Therefore we say to travellers upon highways and by-ways that during the last 12 years they have paid to successful introduces them about the United States, Brazil, Portugal, and West Indies, that it is almost impossible to stop off the cars at any station without troubling the gay humor of the " Mustangs."

The prices are as follows—25 cents, 50 cents; and $1 per bottle; the 25 cent size, being three times as large as the 25 cent size, and the $1 size nearly three times as large as the 25 cent size; so that the large bottles are cheap.
