To the Ratepayers of St. John's,

At the request of a large number of my friends, both East and West, I have decided to place myself in Nomination at the forthcoming Municipal Election. Owing to the limited time between now and Polling Day, and the possibility of not being able to call on every elector personally, I would kindly ask them to accept this card as a personal canvass. I promise, if elected, to use all my endeavours to see that the civic taxes are spent judiciously. H. J. BROWN RIGG. jun16,tf

Notice.

Complying with widely expressed public opinion as voiced by the Press and individual citizens, we, the undersigned members of the Municipal Board, deem it our duty to offer our services to the City for the next two years. While making this announcement as a body, we wish it to be clearly understood that we are standing as individuals and desire to express our readiness as individuals to work with any Mayor or with any other Councilors that the Citizens may see fit to elect. In respect to the Charter which has been submitted to the Legislature, we beg to state that while firmly of opinion that its adoption will enable the City to be more effectively governed than at present, we have always recognized that some of its provisions are debatable. We have supposed that the Legislature and the Citizens would carefully consider such sections and would arrive at some decision in respect to them which would be generally satisfactory. We can point with some satisfaction, if not with pride, to the improvements which have been made during our short term of office, and it is in the hope that we may be able to complete and perfect the work begun, and to institute further improvements, that we now signify our willingness to serve the City for another term of two years.

Rids Poisons From the Blood, Clears Up the Complexion

Sallow Skin, Pimples, Pains and Aches Are Soon Gone When Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills Are Used.

The doctor feels your pulse and looks at your tongue, but at the same time he is reading your condition in your face. The sallow complexion tells him that your liver is not doing its work, the pimples tell him that the kidneys are not properly purifying the blood, he realizes that the bowels are constipated and the system overloaded with poisons. You can apply this test in your own case and may be able to add other symptoms, such as headaches, pains and aches through back and limbs, spells of biliousness and indigestion. If you have not used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills you will be surprised to find how quickly they will rid your system of poisonous impurities and thereby remove the cause of pains, aches and skin troubles.

Mrs. F. N. Hall, 102 Queen street, St. John, N.B., writes: "I am glad to say I have used Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills with splendid results. I was greatly troubled with constipation and pimples on the face. I tried other remedies and used liquid arsenic three times a day for a year to get rid of the pimples but received no benefit. I began the use of Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills and it was not very long before I was completely cured. The pills acted on the bowels, kidneys and liver and cleansed them of all impure matter. I think they cannot be beaten as a means of ridding a person of that tired aching due to weak kidneys, and I would not be without them in the house for any money." Dr. Chase's Kidney-Liver Pills, one pill a dose, 25 cents a box, all dealers, or Edmanison, Bates & Co., Limited, Toronto.

"KYRA,"

OR, The Ward of the Earl of Vering.

CHAPTER XVII. A Dying Attonement.

At that moment, while he was wandering thus through the maze of death, there appeared in the open doorway the figure of a young Indian girl, beautiful as a vision, clad in the feathered tunic and moccasins of her tribe, and standing straight and graceful as a young elm. As she stood, her cloak of fur slipping from her shoulders to her feet, like a cloud opening and revealing a vision, her dark, mournful eyes went straight to the upraised figure of the old earl, and seemed riveted there. The earl uttered a hoarse, dying cry, and threw out his arms toward her. "My God!" he gasped, uttering some strange name, "you hear me! I—have—atoned!"

Stephen, at the sight of that terrible fear and the strange word or name, turned his head and saw what the dying man did.

Only for a moment—the next, as Stephen Gringe clutched the bed-clothes and hid his trembling, quivering face in them, the apparition had vanished. The old earl had fallen back dead into the arms of the new one. The dead man and the living man, crouching, breathing, and gasping beside him, had alone seen the Indian girl, and Stephen Gringe alone could explain the significance of the vision, and the effect it had produced.

Quite as much startled and alarmed as were the now dead earl and Stephen Gringe, Kyra—for it was she—turned and fled down the stairs as secretly as she had ascended them. The house was in confusion, the porter away from his post, and the hall door ajar.

She had but to wait a few minutes until the coast was clear, and then made good her escape.

Only the footsteps in the snow remained to tell the story of her first visit to Vering Wold, and in half an hour her track was effaced by another fall.

She regained the inn, paused with Indian courage to rebolt the door, and stole to bed, panting, terrified, mystified, but yet in some measure satisfied, for had she not found her god, her brave, her chief again, and was he not near her! So while the great bell over the turret of The Wold tolled forth the dirge for Wild Lord Jack, Kyra fell asleep.

Don't Cough Your Throat Sore "Nerviline" Will Cure You Quickly.

The Annoyance of a Bad Cough Soothed Away in One Day.

Nothing so bad for the throat as coughing, and nothing half so annoying as to have some one near by that is hacking, sneezing, or constantly clearing the throat.

Rub on Nerviline—it will save you all further pain and distress. Even one good rub with this soothing, penetrating remedy will bring the finest relief, will take out that rasping soreness, will stop that irritating tickle that makes you want to cough so much.

Nerviline isn't something new. It is a record of forty years of wonderful success behind it.

In rubbing on Nerviline you use something safe, reliable, and sure to cure. Its action is marvellous. The way it sinks in through the tissues—the way it penetrates to the seat of the congestion is really a wonder.

For chronic colds, coughs, or sore throat you can't beat this trusty old family remedy. Its name speaks cure for any sort of pain in the joints or muscles. Try it for rheumatism, rub it on for sciatica or lumbago, test it out for neuralgia or headache—in every case you'll find amazing virtue and curative power in Nerviline. Most families keep the large 50c. bottle always handy on the shelf; trial size 25c., at all dealers in medicine.

"The envelope is sealed with my seal, Mr. Gringe."

Lord Vering changed his position slightly, so as to face the rest of the faces in the room.

"There must be another and a later will in existence than the one you have there, or the earl—"

He paused. "Just so," my lord, said Mr. Butterwick, taking a pinch of snuff and filling up Lord Vering's pause significantly. "Or the earl was laboring under a hallucination. Mr. Gringe could settle that point very easily, perhaps?"

Stephen Gringe again looked up and fixed his eyes on the lawyer. "All in the Wold knew the state of my lord's mind," he said, in a low voice. "He wandered constantly, and talked of many things that happened long ago, and never happened at all."

"Was he wandering when I saw him in this room three years ago?" asked Lord Vering.

At this plain question Stephen Gringe drew a chair to the table and seated himself; there was no lack of respect in the action—he was an old man, and a chair had been placed for him; then he looked up and sighed.

"Most like, my lord, most like. He must have been very bad, for his words have borne no fruit. What corner of The Wold has been left unsearched? What has been found?" "Nothing," said the lawyer, "excepting this, the existence of which I was perfectly well aware of, and the discovery of which I expected."

Then he looked up at Lord Vering, and then round the room. "This is the late earl's last will and testament, and with your permission, my lord, I propose that it be read."

Lord Percy raised his head and gave a gesture of assent that was anything but emphatic.

Mr. Butterwick fixed his gold glasses on his nose, and solemnly opened the sealed packet; as solemnly straightened out the parchment, and commenced to read the contents.

It was a plain, straightforward document, and its purport was easily understood by the smallest intellect in the room.

There were such and such bequests and legacies to such and such servants, certain paid sums to any others that might be in the earl's service at his death, and were not mentioned in the will—excepting in both cases the chief and most faithful of them all—Stephen Gringe—his name was mentioned in one short, curt line:

"As for my devoted follower and steward, Stephen Gringe, I do hereby make it a request of my nephew and heir, Percy Chester, that he do take the said Stephen Gringe into his service, and substantially repay him for all that he hath rendered unto me."

That was all. Not one penny for the man who had spent his life in the service of his master. A murmur, just audible, rose round the room.

Percy turned his eyes upon the old steward with a grave regard. Stephen Gringe alone seemed unmoved and unsurprised. He sat bent down, with his hands folded on the table before him, and his small eyes fixed on the fire, and not a muscle of his face moved as the curt sentence was read out.

The lawyer paused and rustled the parchment, and then, in slow, solemn tones, read out the few remaining sentences, and they gave all the immense savings of Wild Lord Jack to his nephew, Percy Chester, next of kin and title. Gold shares, houses, bonds, lands, all, saving for the few bequests, went to the new earl. There was a dead sign of, broken at last by the little dry cough of the man of law, as he put down the parchment. Then Lord Percy turned and strode to the table, calm, composed, but fearfully earnest.

"I do not believe that this is my uncle's will!" he said.

The servants, who had risen respectfully, paused aghast; Charlie Merivale stood with his congratulatory hand held out and disregarded; the lawyer, with a respectful shake of the head—"if this is not the last and valid will, where is the other, or others?"

"That I cannot tell," replied Lord

EXTREME WEAKNESS AND SUFFERING

Read How Mrs. Goodling got Relief and Strength.

York, Pa.—"I have used Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound and found it to be all you say it is. I was so sick that I could not stand at my sink to wash dishes and I could not sit without a pillow under me. I had the doctor every few days but since I have taken the Compound I don't have to send for him. I have had three children and could not raise any of them, but since I have taken the Compound I have a bright baby boy. I advise every suffering woman to try it and get relief. It has done wonders for me."—Mrs. CATHARINE GOODLING, 188 E. King Street, York, Pa.

When a medicine has been successful in bringing health to so many, no woman has a right to say without trying it, "I do not believe it will help me." There must be more than a hundred thousand women in this country who, like Mrs. Goodling, have proven what wonders Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound can do for weak and ailing women. Try it and see for yourself. If there are any complications you don't understand, write Lydia E. Pinkham Medicine Co. (confidential), Lynn, Mass.

Percy; "but I am as certain that this is not my uncle's last will—that this is not in accordance with his desire—as that I am standing here."

Very quietly the words were spoken, but very firmly.

The lawyer rose, rustling the parchment as he did so, and looked pained and slightly troubled. Never, in all his experience, had he met with a man contesting the will in which he stood sole legatee.

"My lord," he repeated in a low voice, "are you acting wisely? Pardon me, have you sufficient grounds for such a—a really positive statement? I think you told me that you had only seen the late earl twice during the last ten years—once three years back, before your travels, and now at his death. Pardon me again, if I remind you that you have had few opportunities for learning his testamentary intentions."

"One opportunity only; but an opportunity which he made himself, and in which he spoke too plainly for me to forget or think lightly of it. Mr. Butterwick, my uncle told me then, in so many words, that I should inherit no single penny of his personal property. He made a plain, straightforward statement to that effect in the presence of Stephen Gringe there; he alluded to that statement and confirmed it in the hour of his death, and yet, by a will dated as long back as seven years, I am made, in direct contradiction to his expressed intention, the sole heir to all he possessed."

The lawyer bowed. "And the heir you will remain, my lord, until another and a later will be found."

Lord Percy was about to speak again, then remembered the presence of the servants, and motioned them permission to retire.

Stephen Gringe rose with them, Lord Percy stretched out his hand and quietly forced the old man back into the seat, and kept his hand on the trembling shoulder. There was a world of sympathy, of kindly feeling in the action, and the old man's head drooped, and his eyes filled.

Gin Pills FOR THE KIDNEYS How They Work

For several years I have been troubled with Kidney and Bladder Trouble caused by uric acid and the pains caused by the intermittent stoppage of urine was very severe. For this I was taking something or other continually with but little or no relief. At last I was handed me a sample package of your Gin Pills. The contents of this sample gave me relief that I had not experienced in a long time. Since then I have been taking Gin Pills occasionally and have had no return of my former trouble. Seal Cove—Sign of fish and caplin; herring scarce.

Belleoram—Good fishing all along the coast for trawls; prospects excellent.

Lamaline—Better sign of fish for traps; trawls doing well.

King's Cove—Traps 2 to 10 qts yesterday; liners 2 to 5 qts.; caplin bait; stormy to-day.

Lawn—Traps 10 to 20 qts.; trawls 3 to 4 qts. yesterday; all traps and skiffs loaded; plenty caplin.

Bonne Bay—Traps 1 to 10 qts.; caplin plentiful.

To Board of Trade.

From J. Butt (Blanc Sablon to Forteau)—No traps, boats or skiffs are out yet. There is just a sign of cod and plenty of caplin and lobsters. There is no ice about and prospects are good.

From M. Jenkins (Cow Head to Trout River)—The total catch is 1,100 qts. Thirty dories and skiffs and 35 traps are fishing. Prospects are fair but bait is scarce. The lobster catch is poor.

From R. W. Andrews (Great Jervis Head to Pass Island)—Twelve traps and 200 dories and skiffs are fishing. Prospects are improving and there is plenty caplin at Hermitage, Pass Island and Connair Bay. The traps are getting from 5 to 20 qts. a haul and one had over 80 qts. ashore at Pass Island. The total catch is 1,500 qts. with 400 for last week.

The following are the catches of most of the Burin bankers which have arrived home from the Grand Banks:—

Vanessa, 200; Ella C. Hollett, 750; Gordon M. Hollett, 1,100; Miriam May, 350; Norman O. 350; Armenia N. Y., 200; Susan E. Inkpen, 1,000; Mina Swim, 700; Moanman, 700; Marjorie N. Inkpen, 450; Jessie M., 420; Bohemia, 200; Nita M. Conrad, 750; Joseph P. Mesquita, 200; Donald G. Hollett, 1,100; Ada D. Bishop, 500; Commander, 450; Cavalier, 200; Ethel M. Bartlett, 800; and Little Jean, 150.

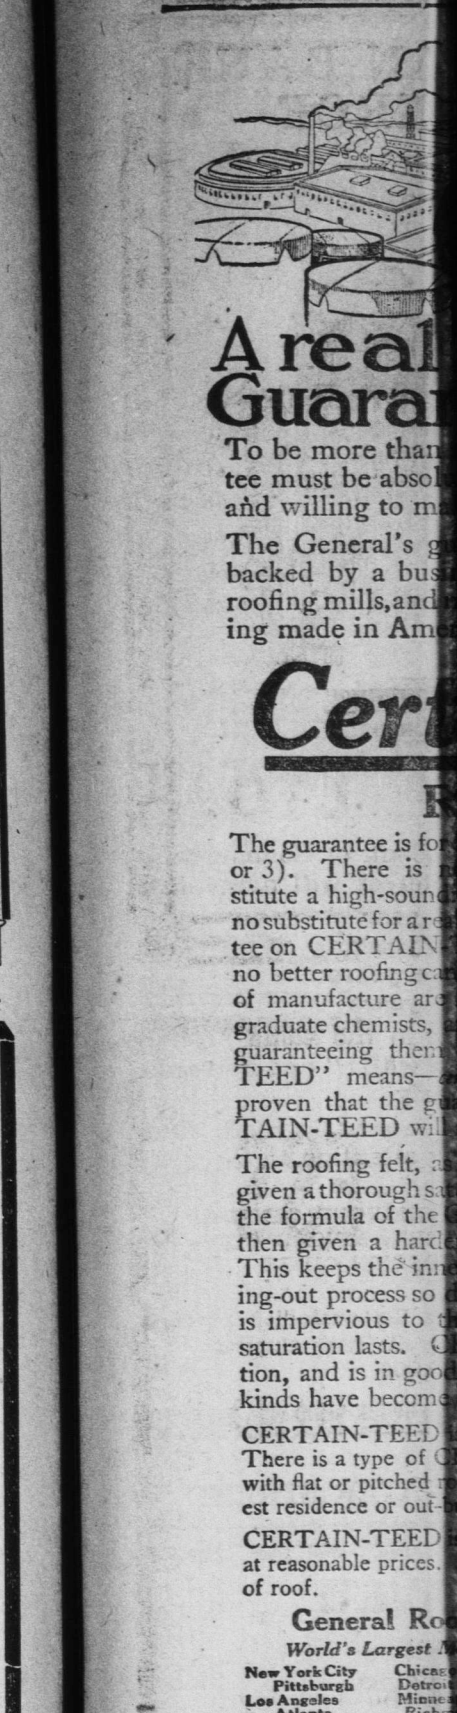

The fishery on our local grounds to date and along the shore to Cape St. Francis is excellent. This morning the waters around the harbour were teeming with caplin and traps as well as hook and liners did well.

Double Drowning Fatality.

Levi March and his son John were drowned while fishing at Bonavista on Saturday morning last, a message to that effect having been received in the city by the Minister of Justice from Magistrate Roper, of Bonavista. Mr. Roper states there is evidence that the two men were washed out of their boat by a heavy sea. The boat was found moored on the Northern Ledge, filled with water. No further particulars were received.

AMBULANCE CALL.—The ambulance was called out yesterday to Hamilton Street and conveyed to the General Hospital a man named John Griffin to be operated on for appendicitis.

A real Guarantee

To be more than a mere "scrap of paper," a guarantee must be absolute—and backed by a concern able and willing to make it good.

The General's guarantee is not only absolute; it is backed by a business operating the world's largest roofing mills, and making one-third of all the roll roofing made in America. That's the guarantee behind

Certain-teed Roofing

The guarantee is for 5, 10 or 15 years, according to ply (1, 2 or 3). There is no evasion about it—no attempt to substitute a high-sounding something "just as good." There is no substitute for a real guarantee. You get an absolute guarantee on CERTAIN-TEED because the General knows that no better roofing can be made. Its raw materials and method of manufacture are both certified by the General's board of graduate chemists, and he knows he's taking no chance in guaranteeing them to you. That's what "CERTAIN-TEED" means—certified and guaranteed. Experience has proven that the guarantee is conservative, and that CERTAIN-TEED will outlast the period of guarantee.

The roofing felt, as it comes bone dry from the rollers, is given a thorough saturation of a special blend of soft asphalt, the formula of the General's board of expert chemists. It is then given a harder coating of another blend of asphalt. This keeps the inner saturation soft, and prevents the drying-out process so destructive to ordinary roofing. Roofing is impervious to the elements only so long as the asphalt saturation lasts. CERTAIN-TEED retains its soft saturation, and is in good condition for years after the harder, drier kinds have become useless.

CERTAIN-TEED is made in rolls; also in slate-covered shingles. There is a type of CERTAIN-TEED for every kind of building, with flat or pitched roofs, from the largest skyscraper to the smallest residence or out-building.

CERTAIN-TEED is sold by responsible dealers all over the world, at reasonable prices. Investigate it before you decide on any type of roof.

BRITISH OFFICIAL.
 LONDON, June 18.
 A British official issued to-night reads: Considerable amount of activity last night at various parts on our front. The enemy bombarded our trenches vigorously at many points from the River Bouve to Wiltz. There were no infantry attacks. Further south we carried two successive raids, one near River Lys, and the second near Givenchy. To-day has been devoid of any particular incident except for continued mining activity in the vicinity of Loos.

ST. PIERRE BULLETIN.
 PARIS, June 17.
 On the left bank of the Meuse the bombardment continues on our first lines at Hill 304, and our second lines in Chattancourt region. On the right bank an attack by our troops on German positions north of Hill 321 enabled us to capture this and a few elements of trenches, also taking some prisoners. During the day there was violent artillery fighting in Vaux Fort sector. In Apremont forest, grenade fighting. Our artillery bombarded German organizations and camps of Mont Sec, east of St. Mihiel. One of our long-range cannons fired on Vigneulle.

railway station which was afterwards seen on fire.
 Aviation. Barleduc has again been shelled during the afternoon by Germans. Material damages were without importance. A few were wounded.
 Belgian Communiqué. Calm day and night apart from exchange of projectiles on divers points of our front. During the night one of our scout parties captured a German sub-officer's post, the occupants of which were made prisoners.

FRENCH OFFICIAL.
 PARIS, June 18.
 Official communication issued to-night reads: In order to arrest our advance the enemy made various counter attacks at many points against the troops of General Brusiloff. They took the offensive in the region of Cadmitche. Their attack was repulsed by our troops, taking 15 officers and more than 800 men. Our Siberians, commanded by General Kistlyise, captured, by a brilliant attack the village of Sydniek, taking four officers and 800 men as prisoners.

ers. In the region of Dvinsk our artillery continued to bombard the enemy positions with visible success.

RADZILOW OCCUPIED.
 PETROGRAD, June 18.
 Russian troops have occupied the town of Radzilow on the railroad 60 miles northeast of Lemberg, according to an official statement issued today by the Russian army headquarters.

THE EVACUATION OF CZERNOWITZ.
 VIENNA, June 18.
 The evacuation of Czernowitz by the Austrians after the Russians had forced the passage of the Pruth and penetrated the city, is announced by the War Office to-day. Yesterday, says the official, the garrison at the bridge head of Czernowitz withdrew before superior enemy fire. During the night the enemy at several points forced a passage over the Pruth and penetrated Czernowitz which was evacuated.

ALLIED TORPEDO BOATS ATTACK AUSTRIANS.
 BERLIN, June 18.
 The Austro-Hungarian Admiralty reports that three torpedo boats of the Entente Allies on the morning of June 17th, attacked the Austrians in the seaport of Parenso in Austria, 10 miles north of Roggno. The fire of the torpedo boats was without effect, the statement says. The vessels were driven off by Austrian coast batteries and aeroplanes.

First Football Match.
 The initial game of the season's fixtures will take place this evening between the Terra Nova's and B. I. S. The players will be:—
 Terra Nova's—Walsh, goal; L. Kavanagh, J. Kavanagh, backs; W. Duggan, T. Jackman, E. Kavanagh, halves; Evans, Simms, P. Gaul, R. Jackman, Duffy, forwards.
 B. I. S.—H. Phalen, goal; T. Duggan, Brown, backs; Brien, Morgan, F. Phalen, halves; McGrath, Constantine and three others, who will be chosen to-day, forwards.

Amusements.
JEWISH COMEDIAN AT THE NICKEL.
 The Nickel Theatre programme to-day is an exceptionally interesting one and no doubt will attract large audiences. The second episode of "The Strange Case of Mary Page" will be shown. The chapter is entitled "The Trial" and is most exciting. George Sidney, the celebrated Jewish comedian, will appear in his great stage success: "Bizzy Izzy" which is in two reels. "A Leap for Life" is a powerful two-part Western drama which is certain to please all. It shows a daring leap from a runaway stage coach to a speeding automobile. Bert Stanley, the ragtime King, will be heard in another of his popular comic songs. All patrons should make an effort to attend the Nickel to-day.

AT THE POPULAR CRESCENT.
 The Crescent Picture Palace presents to-day Ruth Stonehouse and John Lorenz in "Darling Dandy," a fine three reel feature produced by the Essanay Company. Claire McDowell and Isabel Rea are featured in "Her Renunciation," a strong Biograph drama. "Mrs. Jarr and the Society Circus" is a classy Vitagraph Comedy, one of the celebrated Jarr family series, written by Roy L. McCordell. Professor McCarthy has arranged a new and classy musical programme for this big week opening show. Take it in.

LETTER FROM OVERSEAS CLUB.
 Dear Mr. Steer:—
 I really don't know how to thank you, and all concerned, for your splendid Red Cross gift. Lady De Voeux, the Chairman of our Soldiers' and Sailors' Fund, personally handed your remittance to Sir Robert Hudson, Chairman of the Red Cross Society; you will see how grateful they are. If there is anything we can do for you at any time in London, we shall be only too pleased. We are in close touch with all the Patriotic funds and know which are the most deserving, so if you ever like to consult us as to the distribution of any funds you may have to give, we can, of course, tell you which are the most deserving.
 Yours very truly,

 Dear Sir:—
 We hardly know how to express our appreciation of the magnificent donation of two thousand pounds of the Patriotic Association of Newfoundland. As a rule, we forward members' subscriptions in a weekly batch to the British Red Cross, but on this very special occasion I went to their headquarters myself, and handed over your cheque to Sir Robert Hudson, Chairman of the Finance Committee. Sir Robert Hudson expressed himself in the warmest terms as to the continued generosity of our donors.
 Yours faithfully,

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

A SMART BUT SIMPLE DRESS.

1720—The "one piece" dress has lost none of its popularity, and is especially attractive in the lovely materials of this season. The style here portrayed has a chemise cut with low neck outline. The waist is finished with a new collar. The sleeve may be in wrist length, with a hand cuff, or in the cool and comfortable elbow length, finished with a turn-back cuff. The skirt has four gores and a smart pocket.
 The Pattern is good for serge, gabardine, gingham, linen, taffeta, faille and poplin. It is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. Size 36 will require 6 yards of 44-inch material for a 36-inch size. The skirt measures about 3 1/2 yards at the foot.
 A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

A UNIQUE AND PRACTICAL DESIGN.

1535—Ladies' Overall Apron.
 Striped percale in gray and white is here shown. Facings of dark gray on front, neck edge, collar and belt afford a neat trimming. This design has ample fullness, good design, and simple lines. The back may be cut with or without a seam. The fullness is held by a belt, which may be omitted. The model is good for all wash fabrics, lawn, gingham, percale, chambray, seersucker, drill, linen or alpaca. The Pattern is cut in 3 sizes: Small, Medium and Large. It requires 6 1/2 yards of 36-inch material for a medium size.
 A pattern of this illustration mailed to any address on receipt of 10 cents in silver or stamps.

Matters Municipal.
This morning the formal nomination of the candidates for the municipal elections took place, and we give elsewhere the full list of the men from whom our next Council must be chosen. The election is set down for Thursday, the 29th inst.

The ten days interval will be busily occupied with canvassing and the making of speeches. We exhort all citizens to devote some part of it to hard, earnest, logical thinking. The time is an important, perhaps a momentous, one for St. John's. It may be that we stand at the parting of the ways; if so, let us be sure we take the right one.

We see the chief, in fact the only, danger in the attitude of the public towards the position of the Municipal Council and the qualification of its members. Too often, in the past, personal predilection, and nothing else, has inspired votes. We agree with Theobald: "It is not because I consider a man to be a good fellow that I should vote for him. I want his ideas to be good." Incidentally, we agree with a great deal more that Theobald says on this subject, though not all; as far as his thoughtful and keen interest goes, we should like to see a city full of Theobalds.

It is most necessary that in casting their ballots voters be guided by one consideration only, the fitness of the candidates for the duties of the office they seek. It seems strange that this should need to be insisted upon, but we think it does. The men we elect must have experience, knowledge, education, independence of judgment, energy and (this is most important) knowledge of law and finance. Let everyone apply some such standard to the selection he has to make from among the candidates. Let him tackle the problem in a practical manner. Let him consider some of the questions, vitally affecting the city and his own welfare, which the elected Council will have to deal with—the composition and status of the Council itself and its relation to the Government; sanitation; housing of the poor; the imposition, incidence and distribution of taxation, taxation of the Banks and Insurance Companies; street making and repairing; the assessment of land values and property generally; and so forth. These are large questions and call for no small experience and knowledge. Who will be most competent to deal with them?

We put the subject in this light, because we are convinced that if the electorate will view it so and give their decision honestly according to their convictions, the best men will inevitably be chosen. It is vitally important that they should be chosen. In our opinion, the result, if this is done, will be the return of the Commissioners. The city owes them a large debt of gratitude, but it is not for that reason that it should ask them to add to it. The one and sufficient reason is that they have shown their fitness, their unusual fitness, to do the things the City requires to be done. Their positive achievements will speak most strongly for them with the general public, but they are not their best recommendation. They have been, more than anything else, a commission of inquiry. One needed reform in the system or in the law is worth a dozen acts of administration. Whatever fate be accorded to the different sections of their Charter, the final Act will undoubtedly effect an immense improvement in the system of the Council and in the health, appearance and financial condition of the city, as a city. If the work of improvement is to be continued, we caution not to imagine any persons better qualified to continue it than those to whom its inauguration is due.

Machine Gun on Overland Car.
The use of motor trucks and armoured automobiles has already been demonstrated in actual warfare, but it remained for the American troops now chasing Pancho Villa in Mexico or guarding the border, to demonstrate the feasibility of putting ordinary touring cars to military use. A few days ago an Overland touring car was driven north of Columbus, by United States artillerymen. A machine gun was mounted in the tonneau and targets were fired at, with the machine travelling and at a standstill. The test was reported to be very successful. It was found that a touring car was fully as logical and as feasible as a truck for the purpose. The demonstration proved that the vibration of a gun being fired does not swerve the aim, a particle. In fact, the car barely is shaken. The objection to cramped quarters was also conclusively dismissed when it was shown that four men could ride comfortably in the car with the gun.

Yesterday's Big Parade
The largest number of volunteers ever witnessed in the city at one time were on Church Parade yesterday morning.

Services were attended at the C. E. Cathedral, R. C. Cathedral, Wesley Church, St. Andrew's Church and the S. A. Chapel. The C.C.C. and S.A. bands took part in the parade and discoursed excellently patriotic airs along the line of march. After the different services were over the bands accompanied the volunteers back to barracks. Eight hundred soldiers were on parade altogether.

Newfoundlanders in Casualties.
The names of Private Louis Goddard, killed in action; and Privates George Grandy and Andrew O'Keefe, wounded, are mentioned in a recent Canadian Casualty List. Pie Goddard, who has laid down his life for Empire and Homeland, enlisted in August, 1914, with the 6th battalion, but to avoid delay in getting to the front he joined the fighting and heroic 25th. The deceased was born in St. John's. His parents, Mr. and Mrs. G. T. Goddard now reside in Halifax, N.S. He was a member of the Wesley Smith Memorial Church at Halifax, and a conscientious objector.

Private George Grandy, reported wounded, comes from Fortune Bay. Pie Andrew O'Keefe, belonged to the Mounted Rifles, is favourably known in St. John's, being a light-weight wrestler of repute. He is the son of Mr. and Mrs. Michael O'Keefe, Bannerman Street, who have four gallant and patriotic sons at present serving the Empire. Besides Andrew, of the Canadian M. R's, there are: Jack, of the 23rd C. E. P.; Patrick, of the First Newfoundland Regiment; and Cyril with the present company in training. Hats off to the O'Keefe family.

Serious Accident This Morning.
Stanley White, aged 29 years, a resident of Power Street, sustained a fractured skull and other injuries at the premises of Messrs. Smith Co. Ltd. this morning and now lies at the General Hospital in a precarious condition. He was engaged barrowing fish out of the store to be "spread." About 6.30, White, in company with another man, was carrying a barrowful over a temporary gallery leading from the store when he was seized with an attack of fits, which the poor fellow was subject to, released his hold of the handles of the barrow and fell under the railing of the gallery headforemost to the ground beneath a distance of twelve feet. He was picked up in an unconscious condition with blood oozing copiously from several cuts that were inflicted about his face and the back of his head, and borne into the store. He was examined by Dr. Cowperthwaite who pronounced that the workman was suffering from a fractured skull and ordered that he be removed to hospital whether he was taken in the ambulance.

DECLARATION
Dearly Beloved.—It is our right, as we learn from Scriptures, that houses of public worship of God be especially set apart and dedicated to His holy and glorious uses. For such uses we are now assembled, and therefore, to Almighty God, has signally blessed His holy undertaking His church, we dedicate this church, and for the purpose of the reading of the scriptures, the preaching of God, the administration of sacraments, and for all uses of religious worship, according to the usages of the Methodist Church, as the dedication of the church without the solemn dedication of the worshippers also, I, you all to dedicate yourselves to the service of God. To souls be dedicated that renewed after the image of His great name, glory of His great name, they may be fit temples for the dwelling of the Holy Spirit, let our labors and ministrations, that their fruit may be the glory of His great name, advancement of His Kingdom, that He may graciously accept of our solemn act, let us pray,

The congregation hereby shall offer the following prayer
O most glorious Lord, we dedicate this church to Thee, and unto Thee anything that we beseech Thee, goodness, graciously, dedication of this place, vice, and to prosper our hands; receive the intercession of all Thy shall call upon Thee, and give them grace to hearts to serve Thee, and godly fear; affect swiftness of apprehension, majesty, and a deep own unworthiness; the Thy sanctuary with devotion, and coming by pure hearts, and minds sanctified, they form a service acceptable through Jesus Christ, Amen.

Holy, holy, holy, Lord!
Regard, O Lord, that Thy servants, and ever shall be dedicated this house by baptism at last in the number of children. Amen.

Dedication of Cochrane Street Methodist Centennial Church.

REV. C. A. WHITTEMARSH, M.A.
Pastor Cochrane Street Church.

After months of patient waiting for the pews which were held up owing to the heavy freight congestion, the new Cochrane Street Methodist Centennial Church was duly dedicated to the worship of Almighty God yesterday under most auspicious circumstances. The weather was ideal, and the spacious and imposing edifice was crowded to its utmost capacity, fully twelve hundred worshippers being present at each service. At the morning service a number of the Sunday School chairs had to be brought into use. The closing of Gower Street Church for the Dedication Service, so as to allow the congregation the privilege of attending with their Cochrane Street friends, showed the good feeling which exists between the officials and members of the two churches. The pulpit and Communion Table were tastefully decorated with choice flowers and plants by the ladies of the congregation.

The Dedication Service took place at the morning service, the following ministers being present: Revs. C. Howse, President of Conference; J. R. Saint, Secretary of Conference; Dr. Cowperthwaite, Dr. Fenwick, Dr. Curtis, D. Hemmeon, C. A. Whittemarsh, H. Boyle and T. W. Atkinson. The prayers and scripture lessons were taken by the above mentioned clergymen. The Trustees of the church occupied several of the front seats and in the absence, through illness, of the Hon. H. J. B. Woods, the senior trustee, Mr. A. Lindsay presented the Church to the President of Conference, who made the solemn

DECLARATION:

Dearly Beloved,—It is meet and right, as we learn from the Holy Scriptures, that houses erected for the public worship of God should be especially set apart and dedicated to religious uses. For such a dedication we are now assembled. With gratitude, therefore, to Almighty God, who has signally blessed His servants in their holy undertaking to erect this church, we dedicate it to His service, for the reading of the Holy Scriptures, the preaching of the Word of God, the administration of the holy sacraments, and for all other exercises of religious worship and service, according to the Discipline and usages of the Methodist Church. And, as the dedication of the temple is vain without the solemn consecration of the worshippers also, I now call upon you all to dedicate yourselves anew to the service of God. To Him let our souls be dedicated, that they may be renewed after the image of Christ. To Him let our bodies be dedicated, that they may be fit temples for the indwelling of the Holy Ghost. To Him let our labors and business be dedicated, that their fruit may tend to the glory of His great name, and to the advancement of His kingdom. And that He may graciously accept this our solemn act, let us pray.

The congregation kneeling, the Minister shall offer the following prayer:
O most glorious Lord, we acknowledge that we are not worthy to offer unto Thee anything belonging to us; yet we beseech Thee, in Thy great goodness, graciously to accept the dedication of this place to Thy service, and to prosper this the work of our hands; receive the prayers and intercession of all Thy servants who shall call upon Thee in this house; and give them grace to prepare their hearts to serve Thee with reverence and godly fear; affect them with an aweful apprehension of Thy divine majesty, and a deep sense of their own unworthiness; that so approaching Thy sanctuary with lowliness and devotion, and coming before Thee with pure hearts, bodies undefiled, and minds sanctified, they may always perform a service acceptable to Thee; through Jesus Christ our Lord. Amen.

Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Hosts.

Grant, O Lord, that whosoever shall receive in this place the blessed sacrament of the body and blood of Christ, may come to that holy ordinance with true repentance, faith, and charity; and being filled with Thy grace and heavenly benediction, may obtain remission of their sins, and all other benefits of His death. Amen.

Holy, holy, holy, Lord God of Hosts.

Now, therefore, arise, O Lord, and come into this place of Thy rest, Thou, and the ark of Thy strength. Let thine eyes be open toward this house day and night; and let Thine ed through since the destruction of the former church a little over two years ago. The task was now before the members of his flock to do all they possibly could for the upkeep of the church and the uplift of their fellow man. All must respond nobly to the call of God and be willing to do the work assigned to spread the Gospel. Unique opportunities are in store for all, especially amongst the young people of the congregation, so that this church might do the work God intended it should do in this community. The singing was hearty and uplifting on the part of the congregation. The choir sustained its usual excellence in the anthems faultlessly rendered, and deserve the highest praise for their work, which must have entailed considerable time and practice. Congratulations to the organist and choir master, Mr. Arthur Mews. Solos in the anthems were nicely rendered by Miss Vincent and Mr. Alex. Mews. Miss Herder's voice was shown to splendid advantage in the rendition of the solo "O Divine Redeemer." Mrs. Alex. Mews presided at the piano. We heartily congratulate the Pastor, Board of Trustees and Building Committee on the successful completion of their new church home which won many encomiums from the visitors present at yesterday's services. We understand the offering was a very generous one and is to be devoted to the Building Fund.

The Teacher Question.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—The teacher at Herring Neck has written a lengthy epistle in the 'News' concerning the Profession and the Prospects of Teachers, and as he asked for the opinions of other pedagogues I feel tempted to offer him mine.

First, as regards salaries to teachers I do not think that these vary enough. In other words, whereas the beginner is often paid well, in some cases the experienced man is only half paid. No person should expect big pay when he begins a trade or profession, therefore the salaries our teachers get at the first are sufficient. But here is the contrast,—a teacher with Grade 1, gets the same stipend from the Board as a Grade 2 or 3.

Taking the High Schools out of it, a third or second grade is just as good as a first—the only difference is the bonus. This is an injustice.

These should be appointed to better schools as soon as they are ready for them.

Now, are the salaries paid to experienced graded teachers sufficient? I think not, and the man whose child is receiving a first class or college education in his own harbor should consider the sum of 25c. or 35c. fees a very low figure. Further, I predict the day not far away when teachers, especially males, will be scarce.

While favoring the teacher cause I must not neglect the State, and my suggestion is this: Pay the teachers by all means adequate salaries and then require them to undergo a written examination every five years to maintain their standard and keep abreast of the times. (The exam. to be free of course.)

My reason for making that suggestion is that some teachers never try to improve themselves. They think that because they have experience it does not matter; but it is not possible to be experienced in the wrong order.

Mr. King speaks of union for teachers; well, maybe it would be alright, but I cannot see why competition would not be as well. I do not know. (Union is self-satisfied. Competition is ever alert.)

As regards the Layreading, I fully endorse all he says. It seems that the layreader is doing the parson's work free, or conducting the services for the people free gratis. To my mind he is a much more self-sacrificing man than the parson who draws his eight hundred a year. In some few places little is paid the layreader but it only amounts to 15 or 20c. per service, just enough for collection. It is the general opinion that teachers do the church work for the love of the thing. Well, love is a poor thing to live on. What a pity we haven't more "lovers" of this kind.

Public life is getting harder in Newfoundland, I know that, and so is private life. One has as good a right to live as another. "Let justice be done though the heavens fall."

Perhaps it would not be unreasonable for every clergy to see that his layreader get not less than fifty dollars a year, to be collected somehow for his services. Of course it being understood that the layreader does not do the work for money; he gets the little pay to enable him to live, same as clergy, and besides, is it not worth something?

For myself I have done as much church work as anyone of my age. Have had as much as four and five a day on the Labrador, and I am glad to-day to be able to say so. One's conscience is comfortable after doing work like this, voluntary. I shall never give up layreading because I am not sufficiently paid, yet I know it is worth more than I get.

Compulsory Education.—Well, sir, I think we had better leave this to other and more competent hands than ours. Compulsory and Free Education no doubt would be all right, but I am inclined to think that if a child's work and play is made attractive and interesting at school it will be hard to keep him at home. Each child must be treated individually and the first and chief work of a teacher is to lead him through the best channel not the shortest. Here is work and interesting work. Not every one can teach, and the teacher that knows his work can smile at the grumbles of the outsider.

Keep on the sunny side of your pupils, Mr. King; never mind the parents. In conclusion, I hope there is nothing here detrimental to the fair-thinking person. I have said what I conscientiously think.

Many thanks for valuable space.
Yours,
T. MALCOLM SMITH.

RUTH CAMERON.

RUTH CAMERON.

Cleverness is often dangerous. The cleverness, for instance, that does things so easily that it never learns to do them thoroughly. A great art teacher once said to a young pupil whose work he was seeing for the first time. "How clever you are!" And then, "And how I can lift you out of your cleverness!"

But it is another sort of cleverness whose dangers I am thinking of just now, the cleverness of sharp repartee among housemates, and especially among married folks.

Half Jest, Half Serious Little Digs

You know what I mean; you must have sometimes been in a home where the housemates made a habit of giving each other half jesting, half serious little digs, and where all the rest were quick to laugh at the expense of the one defeated in this duel of pin pricks.

Perhaps you've even lived in such a home without thinking much about it. But come, now, think of it, and tell me—after all, is this sort of cleverness worth while? Isn't it, in fact, quite the reverse?

I once knew two people who started out in wedded life by loving each other very dearly. And I use that great word "love" advisedly, for their feeling for each other was not merely an infatuation, it was founded on the firm basis of congeniality, and made up of mutual respect and friendship and tenderness all welded together and fused into love by sex attraction. They had a wonderful chance of being very happy, and for a time they were. But by and by something crept between them. It wasn't another man and it wasn't another woman, it was just this infernal habit of saying sharp things to each other, of criticising each other's little faults in public, of sarcastic comments on his part and nagging on hers.

Too Many a True Word Spoken in Jest

Many of the things were said apparently in jest but the sting within the jest went home for all that.

No, there was no other man nor woman in the case; but for all that they weren't heart whole, far from it—for the heart of each was pierced with a hundred little pin pricks of taunt and complaint and sarcasm.

I shall never forget one miserable evening that I spent there at the last. The duel of pin pricks went on as usual until suddenly, after some time his wife had said, the husband turned on her in open rage. She was thunderstruck. "What have I said to deserve that?" she protested. And indeed her last speech had been nothing particularly outrageous. It was simply that each prick had gone a little deeper and left the surface of the heart more sensitive and the last prick had proved unendurable.

Can't Be Happy With or Without Each Other.

They are divorced now, poor, foolish folks, and as unhappy apart as they were together. And they might be so happy if they hadn't been so clever.

If you want to be clever, why not turn your cleverness into graceful, kindly repartee? Anyone can say sharp things that are amusing. It takes an infinite deal of cleverness to make a gracious, witty speech. And the flush of pleasure and gratitude is

THE GRAYBEARDS

We relics of a bygone time insist that old things were a sublime, that modern things are punk; but our old bats are full of bats, and all we say is bunk. The lovely dames come down the street, togged out in palmet silk and neat, and we look on and sigh; "The modern fashions," we declaim, "are nothing but a burlesque shame—they shock the purist's eye. They make the tired spectator ache; and how the womenfolk can make themselves a holy show, is something that we can't explain; oh, for the fashions safe and sane, of forty years ago!" We make such statements free and bold, but if you talk an album old, and view the women there, with gowns that look like circus tents, and shawls that look like twenty cents, and nets upon their hair, you'll say, "Those girls were surely shrieks! The world was overrun with freaks when those tintypes were made; if any woman should appear in such a spread of rage this year, the cops would make a raid!"

These are all military facts, and in our judgment they far outweigh the territorial gains on which the Germans set such excessive store. Facts for facts, the winning facts are on our side, and the Allies will hold on and hold together until all Germany breaks beneath them.—Daily Mail, May 27.

Peace Talk

AND MILITARY FACTS.

"Peace," says a German paper in commenting on Sir Edward Grey's speech of Wednesday, "can only be built up on a general acknowledgment of the military facts of the war."

We agree. Indeed, we hasten to adopt the formula as a welcome corrective to those who prattle of peace, whether here or in the United States or anywhere else, without constant reference to the military facts. It is a sounder formula than any that is likely to be evolved out of recriminations between the Allied Foreign Ministers and the German Chancellor.

What are the military facts? One of them undoubtedly is that Germany is in possession on both her fronts of Belgian, French, and Russian territory from which she has not yet dislodged. To the Germans that is the only fact worth nothing. In their view it governs the whole situation. They exhort the world to look at the map. They cannot understand why the Allies do not recognise the necessities of the case and sue for peace.

The reason is that there are other facts. It is, for instance, a military fact of the first moment that we hold the seas, can continue to hold them indefinitely, and that until we give permission not a single German merchant vessel dare show her nose in any of the seven seas. It is another military fact that Germany's Colonies are in the hands of her enemies and that she has not a ghost of a chance of regaining them.

It is a third military fact that on the top of a stupendous voluntary effort, which the king rightly described as "one which will be a lasting source of pride to future generations," Great Britain has now adopted compulsion.

It is a further military fact that the pressure of British sea power is making itself felt throughout the length and breadth of Germany and that we have only just begun to enforce the blockade with some vigour. Is there any German who believes that his country can stand it for another two years? Is there any Russian, Frenchman, or Briton who is not ready to fight on for twice as long, if need be, in order to drive home to every German subject the lesson that war against civilisation does not pay?

These are all military facts, and in our judgment they far outweigh the territorial gains on which the Germans set such excessive store. Facts for facts, the winning facts are on our side, and the Allies will hold on and hold together until all Germany breaks beneath them.—Daily Mail, May 27.

ther restrictions will be enforced upon the sale of petrol for pleasure purposes. The newly appointed Petrol Committee has the matter in hand, and an official announcement is expected shortly.

NON-ALCOHOLIC BEER.

Much has been heard lately of the virtues of the officially-recommended non-alcoholic beer and its growing popularity. These reports—and the hot weather—have sent many people in search of it to the licensed houses. After a pilgrimage to-day a tavern was discovered in the newspaper area where "government beer" was to be had. It resembled a dark lager that has been drawn for some time—a harmless, thirst-quenching drink. The popular notion that non-alcoholic beer is actually made under the supervision of the Central Liquor Control Board is a delusion. Various kinds of non-alcoholic beer are supplied, together with alcoholic beers, to the munition canteens, and they are said to be quite popular in spite of the inevitable absence of "body." These beers all come within the legal definition; that is, they do not contain more than 2 per cent. proof spirit and do not exceed 1,016 specific gravity. I hear that the Liquor Control Board is at present considering what can be done to popularize the drinking of the lighter beers generally. This is a favorable time for an experiment. The output from the breweries is restricted for well-known reasons, and I might be to the brewers' interests to produce a bigger volume of lighter beers instead of a smaller volume of heavier beers. The desire of the board, of course, is to reduce drunkenness, and this would be a good way to do it. As to the sale of non-alcoholic beer, the difficulty is that, to escape duty, the beer, whatever its specific gravity and so on, must not be manufactured in the same brewery as ordinary beers. Without some legislative change manufacture on a very large scale is hardly likely. If non-alcoholic beer became very popular, and it became worth the while of the public houses to supply it, there would be no need for the public houses to close at certain hours.

THE AFRICAN "RESERVOIR."

The use in Europe of African natives—one of the "reservoirs" described by Mr. Churchill in his striking speech—has been urged since early in the war by Englishmen with special knowledge of the natives. An authority on the subject sends the following suggestion:—Mr. Churchill contemplates the employment of coloured soldiers in the front line. A more practical proposal is that of using them to release the fringe line trained soldiers who are now absorbed in subsidiary occupations and who are wasted as effectives. For instance, Mr. Churchill mentioned the fact that about 250,000 men are employed as officers' servants and grooms. There would be little difficulty in replacing these men by natives. From the Basutos alone it would be easy to recruit a large number of "boys" who know everything about horses? There are plenty of "boys" all over the British colonies and are quite capable of acting as officers' servants. Besides, there is hardly any limit to the industrial occupations in the army which could be filled by coloured men. The point is that the natives could be obtained for such purposes quickly, while it would take a long time to train them for the trenches. There are any number of native dockers available. The native force could be organized without delay by a central committee in London, composed of men familiar with native problems, who would inform the governors of the colonies of the kind of labor wanted. Proclamations in the colonies would bring in plentiful offers of service. It ought to be possible to send the natives over at the rate of about 1,000 a week. The use of the coloured men in noncombatant capacities would avoid the obvious problems involved in training them to arms.

PRINCESS MARY AND MUNITIONS.

Princess Mary is most anxious to take up some definite war employment, and if she were permitted, she makes no secret, she would like to go in for munition working. The Queen at present sets her face against her only daughter undertaking such arduous employment at her age. But Princess Mary found an ardent supporter of her wishes in the Prince of Wales, who, during his brief stay with his family, not only emphasized what a fine example it would set the aristocracy but how it would endear the young Princess to democracy if she were allowed thus, during the war, to take her share in the patriotic toils of the people. Princess Henry of Battenberg and Princess Christian have both personally served soldiers at London (terminal) buffets. In the last few days. But the energetic young Princess Mary declares she wants even more practical work, and indignantly rejects any suggestion that her health would not be equal to the strain. It is probable that, if the hot weather were not imminent, the Queen would agree to let her try her hand at light work; but as it is the project of the Princess is not likely to be immediately gratified.

HORSE RACING TO CONTINUE.

Horse racing is to continue this year on the restricted lines arranged between the Board of Trade and the Jockey Club. On May 23rd Sir Arthur challenged the Government to take the sense of the House on the question of abolishing the sport during the war; but I hear that this challenge is not to be accepted. The agreement between the Board of Trade and the racing authorities cannot now, it is stated, be disturbed. As no railway facilities are provided for racegoers, the military objection to the meetings has been overcome. Nevertheless it is a fact that a considerable amount of petrol is used in motoring pleasure parties to these races which in time of war ought to be employed exclusively for national purposes. At a recent Windsor meeting, for instance, 600 motor cars were counted leaving the racecourse in the direction of London. It is probable, however, that in the near future fur-

Pittsburg.

By GEORGE FITCH

Author of "At Good Old St. John's"

Pittsburg is a coal-black metropolis, with flame trimmings, and inhabited by joy-riders on the steel tariff. Over 500,000 people live in Pittsburg and several hundred millionaires, scattered around the world, live on it. Pittsburg makes most of the steel for the universe and has steel mills instead of cabbage patches for suburbs. Ten shiploads of iron ore are mixed with ten trainloads of coal every day and the result is a ring of permanent volcanoes around the city. When these are in full blast they form a Great Red Way, of which Pittsburg is much prouder than New York is of her Gay White Way. As a matter of fact Pittsburg's Red Way is largely responsible for New York's White Way. A millionaire fully equipped is turned out of her steel mills every time the sun sets and a Pittsburg millionaire gets into trouble in New York every time the sun rises. Pittsburg is located in the western part of Pennsylvania, where the Alleghany and Monongahela Rivers join and boil their combined names down into the Ohio. Originally Pittsburg had an annex called Allegheny City, which was a desert of front doors, without a post-office, railroad station or theatre. But it followed the example of its steel trust and benevolently assimilated its rival, thus becoming the eighth city in size in the country. It climbs the steel hills from the river banks in all directions and has made their summits bristle with twenty-story buildings. It is well built but poorly ventilated, and on damp, cloudy days looks like the inside of a cistern with the lid on.

Pittsburg has more banks than any city in the world. A Pittsburg man who isn't a bank director is as lonely as a Boston man whose great-great-grandfather isn't buried in the old Granary Cemetery. The banks in Pittsburg have driven the drug stores and saloons from all the good corners in the town.

Andrew Carnegie and Hans, Wagner are Pittsburg's two greatest citizens, and are very kind to their home town. Carnegie is always building a technical school or a library or a music hall, and Wagner is continually publishing a home run just to show that he is still in the running.

The War Week by Week.

By OBSERVER.

The war has now entered upon a stage where events cease to be isolated facts and are seen to be parts of a concerted whole. It is like an end game of chess, where the moves of either player betray more clearly his designs than at the intricate and crowded beginning. Progress of extraordinary rapidity by the Russians, involving the capture of Czernowitz, continued deadlock before Verdun, with varying fortunes; a brilliant British recovery at Ypres; successful counter-offensives by the Italians south of Trent; and the demobilization of the Greek army;—these are the outstanding features of an eventful week. Together they give a good idea of the general military situation.

Easily the first in importance, as in spectacular effect, is the unchecked advance of the Russians in Austria. Czernowitz has definitely fallen, and Russia holds an important key to the Carpathians. Her armies are moving westward in a great arc, with one extremity here and the other just north of Sokal, a border-town about fifty miles from Lemberg. As the points converge and the middle of the arc presses forward, it will bear with full force upon Lemberg, the fall of which is already foreshadowed in that of Czernowitz. Once she is in possession of Lemberg, it is hard to see what can prevent the Russians from crossing the Carpathians once more.

But almost as noteworthy as the Austrian collapse is the inability of Germany to render effective assistance. She can neither send troops to stem the torrent nor create any diversion worth while elsewhere. Hindenburg, in the north, seems helpless. A sporadic attempt at Baranovici was put down and even anticipated by the Russians, and their operation to the south are unopposed. The truth seems to be that too many lives have been made upon Hindenburg for the Verdun army; the heralded German advance in north Russia fails to come off for sheer lack of material. This, combined with the German loss of control in the Baltic, has freed Russia of serious apprehensions in this region, where she will probably remain on the defensive for some time. In this connection, persistent rumours come from Russia that a squadron of British dreadnaughts and battle-cruisers succeeded, in the recent battle, in forcing their way into the Baltic, and now lie at anchor in a Russian port. If this is really so (we shall hear nothing official about it, of course), not only will the supremacy in the whole Baltic Sea pass from Germany to the Allies, but the Russian right flank will be enormously strengthened.

At Verdun, the Germans seem to have followed their capture of Vaux by the usual fierce bombardments of the next position, Souville, but up to the present, by no infantry attacks. Success is claimed for the French at Le Mort Homme, and so the story of this mightiest of battles goes on. But the truth is, the battle of Verdun was won long ago by the French; we believe it will soon come to an abrupt conclusion. Storms are brewing elsewhere, from which Germany will need her Verdun troops to afford her shelter.

At Ypres furious fighting has ended in, if anything, the favour of the British. The Canadians have won back the positions lost and are holding them firmly. Ypres is the key to Calais, and both sides are aware of it. Troops are densely massed there, and the recent German thrust was probably in desperate anticipation of a British advance. Indications now seem to show that this will not long be delayed.

Little definite has come from Trentino, but it is all in our favour. Even if the Russians had not provided so sudden and threatening a diversion, it is probable that Italy would by herself have withstood Austria and turned the district of Asiago and Posina into another Verdun. To storm the first mountain fastnesses which the Italians had one by one acquired must have cost Austria very dear, and Italy was willing to sell them at the price. Further south, she refused to budge, and we now hear that she has regained much of the ground conceded. The Austrians are fairly caught in a trap. Menaced behind by Russia, they must recall their divisions eastward, whereupon the Italians will at once surge forward, and probably not merely return to their original line but carry it much further.

In the Salonika region, besides the demobilisation of the Greek army, removing all danger from that quarter, it is reported that Bulgaria is withdrawing her troops to the Rumanian frontier. This, if it is a fact, can have only one meaning. Rumania must inevitably be impressed by the fall of Czernowitz and the presence of a huge and seemingly irresistible Russian army. Just as the German big guns

Killed in Action.

Mrs. Geo. Cooper, Charlton Street, received a message Saturday afternoon from Ottawa informing her that her brother, Corporal William Richards, had been killed in action on the 8th inst. Corpl. Richards was a member of the 25th Battalion C. E. F. and enlisted shortly after the outbreak of the war. Prior to joining the Canadians he resided at Sydney, and came on here to offer his services on board H. M. S. Calypso, but was not accepted, although for five years he had served as a Naval Reservist. However, he immediately returned to Canada where he cast in his lot with the fighting 25th, and for many months previous to receiving the fatal blow he fought through a number of engagements. He was a brother of Drummer F. Richards, who was wounded at Gallipoli. Mr. A. Richards, caretaker of the G. P. O., is also a brother, and at Sydney he leaves a widow. To the sorrowing relatives general sympathy is expressed, in which the Telegram joins.

overawed Bulgaria and drowned the voices of the Allied diplomats, so we may hope these propitius of Russia's power will soon win Rumania to our side. At any rate, there are rumours enough to that effect, and they are reflected in the despondent tone of the Austrian press. Should Rumania take the plunge, it seems inevitable that General Sarrail will at once move north from Salonika towards Sofia. Then indeed will come Serbia's revenge, to be equalled only by that, later on, of Belgium. The great events that have already happened in the last few weeks leaves us with a sense of the imminence of others still greater.

The Nation's Call.

Listen! The nation is calling. Who will answer to-day? Thousands and thousands are falling. Come, keep the foe at bay. What's that you say? One can't do much. To lick an innumerable host? Yes, but you know that it is such. Small ones that count the most. Standing in trenches, cold and wet. The British Tommies fight; With Belgians and French, but don't forget. The Russian bear can bite. And don't leave out the Italians, They too, are doing their share; And then consider the Serbians. Just think of how they fare.

Not only has the sanitary condition of the city been greatly improved, but it has been done at less cost. The cost of the Sanitary Department and expenditure for flushing drains was in: 1914 $42,650.59 1915 39,643.98

The saving last year would have been greater were it not for the increased cost of hay and oats. While the Board can claim that it has kept the town vastly cleaner, it is far from perfect as all know, but Rome was not built in a day, nor can reforms be made all at once.

Yours truly,
W. G. GOSLING.
June 19th, 1916.

What the Board Has Accomplished

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—It is unnecessary to dilate upon the filthy condition of the gratings, and side drains in those streets where the houses are without water and sewerage connections. People have to get rid of their slop water and kitchen refuse, and for want of a better means of disposal empty it into the cobblestone side drains. The stench from these drains is dreadful and the condition, especially when the snow melts, unspeakable. Nothing could be more dangerous to the health of the residents or objectionable to passers-by than the condition of these streets.

I write in the present tense because there are still unfortunately a few pieces still in that condition, but the great majority of them have been cleaned up.

I do not like to name the localities, but surely every observant citizen must have noticed them. Places which used to reek but are now clean—streets which no one passed who could avoid them, but which were wholesome as any street in the city—cess-pools by the dozen removed, which menaced the health of the neighborhood.

This has been accomplished by placing in all such localities catch basins connected with the sewer, into which people could pour their slops and empty their kitchen refuse.

The Board cannot claim to have discovered this means of curing the evil which existed, as a catch basin had been erected by the late Council in College Square, but the improvement effected by it was noticed, and a cheap and convenient catch basin was devised and carefully tested. When this utility was established beyond doubt, about 130 similar catch basins were placed wherever wanted, and the results have been remarkable.

I make bold to say that the greatest stride ever made toward the cleanliness of the city was then taken. Some women at first objected to the expense of the great amount of material, but believe any of them would like to return to the old condition of filth, and I take pleasure in saying that after the plan was understood the great majority of the residents cordially co-operated with the Board in bringing about such satisfactory results.

In any case this seems to be the only remedy, until every house in the city is connected with the sewers, and as there are hundreds of houses in which it would be impossible to install water and sewerage, the ultimate cleaning up of the city depends upon the housing program.

The reports of the Board have several times told how the number of night soil carts has been reduced from 17 to 5. The time of the sanitary staff, thus saved, is now devoted to the regular sweeping and cleaning of the town, and I think the results are evident.

One other great improvement in this connection was effected by the Board—the sale of night soil for fertilizing purposes, a practice so dangerous to health and so repugnant to one's ideas, was absolutely stopped.

Not only has the sanitary condition of the city been greatly improved, but it has been done at less cost. The cost of the Sanitary Department and expenditure for flushing drains was in:

Bowring Park.

Editor Evening Telegram.

Dear Sir,—It seems to me that it would be fitting to call the attention of the Powers that be to the condition of the Waterford Bridge Road. This road leads to the very popular Bowring Park, which Park is much enjoyed by thousands of people, especially on Sundays and holidays. Owing to the large amount of traffic, the dust which in places is inches thick, is so stirred up that it makes it practically impossible for pedestrians to pass, as not only is it dangerous from a health point of view, in breathing germs, but one's clothing is absolutely spoiled. It may be said the train is available; while this is true, hundreds prefer walking in and out, and hundreds prefer walking one way only. Parents who wheel their children along this road on a Sunday or a holiday court trouble, as a child's mouth is usually open, and the accumulated filth, and it is nothing else, which is constantly kept about by vehicles, has full access to the throat and lungs of children.

One hundred per cent of pleasure from this Park is not obtainable, as the Waterford Bridge Road, which is Sunday-bound, and of St. John's, is spoiled by the terrific condition at present existing.

I would suggest that the Council buy the portion of the road, and that the Government do likewise with their portion, and not leave it until July or August when the summer is over, and it is now, it might be well, in order to help out the expense, to put one or two collection boxes at the entrances of Bowring Park, drawing the public attention to the same, and to feel certain that besides the public in general, motorists who are the chief cause of the trouble, there are those who also are the residents along the road who would derive a benefit from the oiling, would be pleased to contribute. A petition from the Press would help matters a lot.

Thanking you for space.
Yours truly,
ANTHONY DUST.

Ordained to Priesthood

Francis Ignatius McGrath, son of Mr. and Mrs. Thomas McGrath, St. John's East, was ordained to the priesthood at Rome, on Saturday last. The esteemed young cleric, it is expected, will return to St. John's about the latter part of this summer. Although it is yet undecided, it is not unlikely, we learn, that he will be attached to St. John's parish.

In extending cordial congratulations to Rev. Fr. McGrath and his parents alike, we wish the talented young priest a prolonged ecclesiastical career and trust he will have health and strength to perform the important duties which his sacred office demands.

Fr. McGrath has a brother and a sister at present on active service—Whiteford with the First Newfoundland Regiment, and Mary, a Red Cross nurse, attached to the St. Francis's Xavier Unit.

ON THE BRITISH FRONT

LONDON, Saturday.

A British official issued the following reads: There was a considerable amount of activity last night on various parts of our front. The Germans bombarded our trenches very heavily from many points from the River Scheldt. About midnight this bombardment, accompanied by two heavy discharges, was made westward of Vimy ridge. There were no serious attacks. Further south we carried out two successful raids, one near River Lys, the second near Cambrai. In both cases our parties accomplished some useful bombing, and, in safety. Near Hilluch, north of Cambrai, we exploded mines with successful results. Day has been devoid of any serious incident, except for combined activity in the vicinity of Lezardrieu. Three further mines were sprung by the enemy and two by us. Latter, one caused serious damage to the enemy's underground works.

FURTHER RUSSIAN PROGRESS

PETROGRAD, Tuesday.

An official statement from the headquarters issued yesterday. The Emperor received this morning the following from the Emperor of Japan: "With great pleasure I received the agreeable news of your glorious victory gained by your army in Galicia. I hasten to press to your Imperial Majesty sincerest congratulations on the occasion of the high military triumph of your army." Signed, Yoshihiko.

The Emperor ordered our advance to the River to arrest our advance. The elements brought from other points against the troops of Brusiloff west of the town of the Styra. Last evening the enemy, under violent fire from the artillery, took the offensive in the direction of the village of Gadomice. The attack was repulsed, and our pressing on the enemy's head through his position on the bank of the Styra, taking 1500 men and more than 800 men prisoners. Northwest of Boki Rofitche the Stockhol River, in the course of engagement with the German troops, commanded by General captured by a brilliant attack of large of Svidnik, taking 4000 and 850 men prisoners. The Hungarians, White Russia, supported by the of the horse artillery, were charging through three extended of the enemy, also sabbat the trian companies. Our cavalry yesterday occupied Radzivilow, dislodging the enemy, when continued to drive them back upon northeast. The enemy were out of Stary Moyal and Potchkeff as well as from the old Cony Potchaleff. Both places were captured by our troops yesterday. A corps commander, who was witness of yesterday's fighting of the Stripa districts, says the enemy was in flight on the battlefield, thrown into the confusion by salvos from our German and Austrians intermingled in hundreds and brigades of batteries at full gallop occupying open positions, whence they point blank on the fugitives. The of our troops was irresistible.

GERMANS REPULSED

PARIS, Tuesday.

Several attacks by the German the new French positions west of Verdun were repulsed. The French are maintaining their gains. The War Office announced afternoon. The Germans suffered losses, as they did also in a attack on the French trenches in the Thiaumont sector to the east of Meuse.

MRS. ASTOR TO RE-WED

NEW YORK, Tuesday.

The Brooklyn Eagle announcing engagement of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, widow of Col. J. J. Astor, whose life in the Titanic, to William of Brooklyn. The wedding will place on June 19th. Dick is a reformer. Mrs. Astor was 37. She will be forced into marriage to surrender an income of five million dollars bequeathed by Col. Astor in his will long as during her natural life shall remain in his widow. He provided that in case of her death the fund should go to Col. Astor's Vincent Astor.

AT VERDUN.

PARIS, Tuesday.

An official issued by the War to-night reads: On the front of Verdun, artillery action is of a certain intensity in the rear Hill 304 and in the sector in Thiaumont fortifications. The no infantry attack. The day was on the rest of the front except Argonne where mine fighting limited activity in the regions of Vauquois and Laflémur. Belgian communication reads:

TO-DAY'S Messages.

10.20 A.M.

ON THE BRITISH FRONT.

LONDON, To-day. A British official issued last night reads: There was a considerable amount of activity last night on various parts of our front. The enemy bombarded our trenches vigorously at many points from the River Bouche to Wicourt. About midnight this bombardment, accompanied by two ineffective discharges, was made westward of the Vimy ridge. There were no infantry attacks. Further south we carried out two successful raids, one near the River Lys, the second near Givenchy. In both cases our parties accomplished some useful bombing, returning safely. Near Hulluch, north of Arras, we exploded mines with success. To-day has been devoid of any particular incident, except for combined mining activity in the vicinity of Loos, where three further mines were sprung, one by the enemy and two by us. Of the latter, one caused serious damage to the enemy's underground works.

FURTHER RUSSIAN PROGRESS.

PETROGRAD, To-day. An official statement from general headquarters issued yesterday reads: The Emperor received this morning the following from the Emperor of Japan: "With great pleasure I have received the agreeable news of the glorious victory gained by your valiant army in Galicia. I hasten to express to your Imperial Majesty my sincerest congratulations on the occasion of the high military feat of your army." Signed, Yoshihito. In order to arrest our advance on Lemberg the enemy, strengthened by elements brought from other fronts, made furious counter attacks at many points against the troops of General Brusiloff west of the town of Kolkli on the Styr. Last evening the enemy, under violent fire from our artillery, took the offensive in the region of the village of Gadomitche. His attack was repulsed, and our troops, pressing on the enemy's heels, broke through his position on the northern bank of the Styr, taking 15 officers and more than 800 men prisoners. Northwest of Rokl Rojtche on the Stockhod River, in the course of a hot engagement with the Germans, our troops, commanded by Gen. Kislyiz, captured by a brilliant attack the village of Svidniko, taking 4 officers and 850 men prisoners. The Hussars of White Russia, supported by the fire of the horse artillery, brilliantly charging through three extended lines of the enemy, also subdued two Austrian companies. Our cavalry at noon yesterday occupied Radziviloff after dislodging the enemy, when it continued to drive them back upon Brody, northeast. The enemy were driven out of Staryi Movyl and Potchaleff as well as from the old Convent of Potchaleff. Both places were occupied by our troops yesterday. An army corps commander, who was an eye witness of yesterday's fighting in one of the Stripa districts, says: "The enemy was in flight on the entire battlefield, thrown into the utmost confusion by salvos from our batteries. Germans and Austrians intermingled fell in hundreds and brigades. Our batteries at full gallop occupied the open positions, whence they fired point blank on the fugitives. The dash of our troops was irresistible."

GERMANS REPULSED.

PARIS, To-day. Several attacks by the Germans on the new French positions in the Verdun region were repulsed. The French are maintaining their recent gains, the War Office announced this afternoon. The Germans suffered heavy losses, as they did also in a futile attack on the French trenches in the Thiamont sector to the east of the Meuse.

MRS. ASTOR TO RE-WED.

NEW YORK, To-day. The Brooklyn Eagle announces the engagement of Mrs. John Jacob Astor, widow of Col. J. J. Astor, who lost his life in the Titanic, to William J. Dick, of Brooklyn. The wedding will take place on June 19th. Dick is a sugar refiner. Mrs. Astor was married to Talmage. She will be forced by her marriage to surrender an income trust of five million dollars bequeathed to her by Col. Astor in his will, for so long as during her natural life she shall remain his widow. The will provided that in case of her marriage the fund should go to Col. Astor's son, Vincent Astor.

AT VERDUN.

PARIS, To-day. An official issued by the War Office tonight reads: On the front north of Verdun, artillery action took on a certain intensity in the region of Hill 304 and in the sector north of Thiamont fortifications. There was no infantry attack. The day was calm on the rest of the front except in the Argonne where mine fighting continued actively in the regions of Bolzans, Vaugaine and Lalignon. The Belgian communication reads: During the morning the Belgian batteries and French artillery carried out a destructive fire on the German works north of Dixmude.

U. S. MILITIA CALLED OUT.

WASHINGTON, To-day. President Wilson has called out the militia for service on the Mexican border.

GENERAL MERCER KILLED.

LONDON, To-day. Brigadier General Mercer, Third Canadian Division in France, heretofore reported missing, is now unofficially reported killed.

SARDINIA SUNK.

LONDON, To-day. The British steamer Sardinia, 545 tons, has been sunk, Lloyds shipping agency to-day announced.

MEXICAN SITUATION SERIOUS.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Virtually the entire mobile strength of the national guard in all the States of the district of Columbia were ordered to be mustered into the Federal service to-night by President Wilson. About 100,000 men are expected to respond to the call. They will be mobilized immediately for such service on the Mexican border as may later be assigned to them. General Frederick Funston, Commanding the border forces, will designate the time and place for movements of the guardsmen on the international line as occasion shall require.

2 00 P. M.

RUSSIANS PRESSING ON KOVEL.

LONDON, To-day. Heavy fighting between Russians advancing toward Kovel and Germans under General Von Linsingen is reported by the Berlin Tageblatt correspondent at Austrian headquarters. According to an Amsterdam despatch the Russians are superior in numbers and the despatch asserts that the Tageblatt account of fighting is worded so as to prepare Berlin for news of another Teutonic retreat.

ECONOMIC CONFERENCE CONCLUDED.

PARIS, To-day. The Economic Conference of the Entente Allies before adjourning on Saturday adopted unanimously the resolutions which it was decided to make public next Wednesday in the Allied countries. Baron de Brouqueville, in closing his address, declared that the purpose of the Conference had been entirely realized. Immediate collaboration, for which a basis had been formulated, marked the opening of a new era, he said. It was a profound error, Baron de Brouqueville declared, to admit that the Conference had been working for a year while in truth it was a preservative and beneficial union against war. Liberty, honesty and justice would be the safeguard, he asserted, and the Conference ignored any other motive. The decision taken was a new gauge of continuity, said the Baron, which words were formally approved by all the delegates.

VERDUN BATTLE CONTINUES.

PARIS, To-day. A German infantry attack on the French position north of Hill 321 was repulsed by French batteries yesterday, according to an official statement. The Germans are continuing their bombardment at Deadman's Hill and in the Chattancourt region.

U. S. IN ARMS.

WASHINGTON, To-day. Not since the Spanish war has the United States seen such military activity as to-day. More than 100,000 National Guardsmen in 45 States were under orders to mobilize for Mexican service, and constitute virtually the entire military strength of the nation. President Wilson issued the orders yesterday, when it became apparent that the threatening conditions in Northern Mexico were not improving.

BRITISH CASUALTIES.

LONDON, To-day. The casualty list for the past week contains the names of 365 officers, of whom 83 were killed, and of 7,286 men, of whom 1,646 were killed.

Train Notes.

The outgoing express is due at Port aux Basques at midnight. The incoming express is due at 3 p.m. to-day. The local train from Carbonear arrived in the city at noon to-day. The Trepassay train reached town at 11.30 a.m. to-day.

Widowed Mother Meets With Accident.

At 11 o'clock this morning, Mrs. Martha Lush, a widowed mother, of five children, two of whom depend entirely on her for support, met with a nasty accident by falling over a gallery at the rear of her home, Water Street West, opposite Horwood Lumber Co. It appears that the poor woman was in the act of picking up some clothes-pins, when the feeble structure threatened to give way, and in an effort to get back to the house she lost her balance and fell about four feet to the ground. She was picked up by some men working in the Reid Co.'s freight sheds, and on examination it was found that the right arm was slightly bent and badly bruised, while a deep gash, about three inches long, was inflicted on the left forehead. After a vain search for a doctor, who could nowhere be found, the ambulance was sent for and conveyed Mrs. Lush, suffering woman to hospital. Mrs. Lush, since the death of her husband some years ago, has kept her little home together by hard work, which is no easy matter considering the high cost of living. She is 45 years of age.

Purloined a Rug.

A school boy was arrested under warrant on Saturday night, charged with the larceny of a carriage rug belonging to cabman M. Kelly. During last week the school boy had been playing the truant and stole the rug from Kelly's stable to cover himself at night time, he being found underneath a house wrapped in the rug by the police. The lad admitted the theft to-day to Judge Hutchings. He was liberated on a bond being signed by his mother for his future good behaviour.

Salmon Fishery on West Coast

Mr. J. W. N. Johnstone, General Passenger Agent of the Reid Nfld. Co., received a message from South Branch Saturday evening stating: The following salmon caught week ending June 17th: B. Cormier (resident), 2; weight 8 and 23 lbs. S. W. McInnes (resident), 1; weight 7 lbs. G. B. French (tourist, staying at Tompkin's bungalow), 3; weight from 10 to 14 lbs. S. W. McInnes, guide. Tompkins opened bungalow yesterday. (Sgd.) J. GILLMAN.

Doctor Grenfell's Montreal Lecture.

In a letter to his brother, Rev. Dr. Curtis of this city, the Rev. J. K. Curtis, B.A., of Montreal, makes the following reference to Dr. Grenfell's lecture, which has been the subject of so much local comment. The Rev. gentleman remarks:—

"I should very much like to say a word to contradict the erroneous reports that seem to be current, re the lecture given by Dr. Grenfell in the Ritz Carlton Hotel in this city. Perhaps it is sufficient to say that he in no way reflected on the good name of the people with whom he is working, and to whose well-being he has given so much of his life. On the contrary his address was most kindly in its references to the people, where such could be given, and repeated references were made to their efforts to help in the Empire's struggle, and most heartily applauded. These remarks apply to Newfoundland and Labrador. "I had the pleasure of moving a vote of thanks to the lecturer, and I am frank to say that had anything been said that had carried reflection on the morals, etc. of the people, I'd have been as anxious to have as publicly refuted it, as to endorse the remarks made. Dr. Grenfell did not know that I was in the audience until then."

Red Lions Vs. Wanderers.

The second baseball match will be played Wednesday afternoon between the Wanderers (last year's champions) and the Red Lions. The Wanderers will use practically the same team as last year, except that they will be strengthened by the addition of pitcher Brown, who was unable to play through illness last season. However, King and Ford will be the regular Battery for the blue and whites. The Red Lions also have a strong aggregation. Cooney and Hiltz have again decided to don the armour and will resume control of the battery.

The EASTERN TRUST COMPANY

WE GO ON FOREVER.

Just two reasons why the Eastern Trust Company can administer an Estate better than a personal executor or administrator.

1.—It has nearly twenty-four years' experience, and its existence is perpetual, neither does it cost any more to employ the Company than an individual. The Company affords the Estate absolute security. It has a paid-up capital of $1,000,000.00 and a reserve of $250,000.00. The Estates held in trust to December 31st, 1915, amount to $15,036,682.85.

2.—In the event of the death of a personal executor or administrator, your Estate must look around for a substitute. The new administrator is unfamiliar with the business and confusion is often the result. The death of any officer of this Company does not break the continuity of the policy of administration.

While the Company administers over Fifteen Million Dollars worth of Estates, it also does a very large business in executing Trusts of all kinds and acting as Financial Agents of all descriptions. We can give fullest satisfaction in the collection of rents, interests, mortgages, dividends, etc.

HEAD WAITER: Yessir, we are a bit old fashioned, as you say—but we find people like it so long as we make them comfortable. I haven't heard no complaints on that score.

GUEST: Good beds and good food, eh!

HEAD WAITER: Excellent beds and good wholesome food—comfortable Gas Fires and 'ot water in every room in the 'ouse.

GUEST:—Gas Fires, eh! That doesn't sound old fashioned.

HEAD WAITER: No, sir, it don't. But we 'ad to move with the times, sir, and it's our business to give people what they want. If you'll excuse me, sir, that 'ave been 'ere all my life. I find that our people mostly want 'ot baths, 'ot water, well cooked food, good fires, good beds and no fussing. We couldn't do that with coal—not satisfactory as I may say. So we puts in gas—everywhere. We cook by gas, we lights by gas, we 'eats the water by gas and we 'as Gas Fires. So you can 'ave a 'ot bath in ten minutes if you want it, sir, a fire in your bedroom and whatever you like to order for dinner, sir, punctual to the minute.

GUEST: That sounds top-hole—but where's the old-fashioned part come in?

HEAD WAITER: It don't come in, sir, so far as that's concerned. But there's the 'ouse, the furniture, the pictures and—if I may say so—the 'omeliness of the place.

GUEST: (a trifle bored) Well, well I'll have that hot bath right away—if you'll get the bathroom ready.

HEAD WAITER: The bathroom is ready, sir, always. There's plenty of 'ot water, you'll find clean 'ot towels in the 'ot cupboard in the bathroom and the Gas Fire lighted in your room.

GUEST: Right O!—and dinner at 8 sharp, please!

HEAD WAITER:—What'll you 'ave, sir,—a nice sole, leg of mutton and sweets?

GUEST: Well, if that isn't troubling the cook too much—I'm rather late, I'm afraid.

HEAD WAITER: No trouble at all, sir. You see, sir, our kind of comfort means comfort for us as well as our people. We don't 'ave no coals to carry, no fires to make up, no bathrooms to attend to—This 'ere gas, if I may say so, saves money and time, and—

GUEST: You may say so at dinner time, please. I'm off to have that bath . . . (ascends stairs slowly) . . . Decent old boy, though he does talk a lot; and a real nice place. Thank heaven, I've struck a decent billet at last! (The bathroom door bangs sharply.)
