MARKET REPORTS
indicate that there is no surplus of Anthracite Coal in the U.S. The shortage caused by the strike of Anthracite Miners last year has not been made up, and American hard coal will, in all probability, be hard to get and high priced. Coke is an excellent substitute for hard coal, and we have on hand a stock of same that will soon be disposed of, because a shortage of hard coal invariably creates an increased demand for our product.
We advise our customers to book their requirements as soon as possible.

Notice to Motor Drivers.
In the interest of "Safety First" the following has been suggested as an additional Driving Rule to be adopted by members of the Newfoundland Motor Association, and others. Members are requested to give this suggested rule a trial and be prepared to advise as to its adoption, or otherwise, at the next General Meeting of the Association.
After dark, cars RETURNING to the city shall have the right of way over cars proceeding FROM the city; in other words, cars PROCEEDING FROM the city and meeting cars RETURNING to the city shall stop (within a distance of from seventy five to one hundred yards of the approaching car) and dim lights till the car returning to the city (which need not dim) has passed.

The attention of members is called to the following By-Law of the Association:—"Any motorist, member of the Association desiring to overtake or pass a car must blow his horn two blasts, and the driver of the car ahead shall signal that he has heard the horn by answering two blasts. If the car ahead cannot keep ahead of the overtaking car, the driver should allow the overtaking car to pass and the overtaking car must immediately get far enough ahead to prevent the occupant of the car passed from getting the dust."

An Indispensable Favorite OR Wealth and Beauty at Stake!

CHAPTER XIX.

A very pretty girl is lying back wearily and restfully in a satin-cushioned rocking-chair, drinking tea, and smiling down languidly at the outstretched figure of a handsome young man lying on the rug at her feet—Captain Dallas Glynn, in his old, favorite position, and pretty Miss Joyce Murray, with tumbled golden hair and bright, flushed cheeks, and drowsily shadowed eyes, from the healthful fatigue of their six hours' long mountain excursion together.

"We're in a disgraceful state of mud and damp, Dallas, both of us," Joyce is saying, as she lazily bends down for his cup, which he has lastly handed up to her, and then takes up the little silver teapot of the tete-a-tete service on the table beside her. "It was delicious; but I'm awfully tired; aren't you? I wish dinner was an hour off—"

And then they become simultaneously aware of Yolande's presence. She pauses but for a few seconds, in sheer surprise and bewilderment; but it is long enough. Neither Dallas Glynn nor Joyce Murray will ever forget the incident or forget her as she looked just then, graceful, elegant, disdainful, making them both for a few moments feel a little afraid of her, a little ashamed of themselves.

Joyce was the first to recover herself, with a gay laugh to us! You are dressed already for dinner, and Captain Glynn and I are not fit to be seen! I was just saying how disgracefully wet and muddy we were!"

"You both seem rather oblivious of the flight of time, certainly," Yol-ande retorts, coolly; "it is a quarter to seven now."

She experiences no feeling of anger, or excitement, or indeed emotion of any kind, beyond a strange, stupefied feeling of dull contempt and despair—contempt for herself as well as for them, despair for her own future.

"Your mountain walk was rather a long one, wasn't it?" she says, with a faint, icy smile, looking from one to the other, composedly. "I was rather anxious as to what had become of you both; but I need not have been, I see. You took care of each other. And your mother kindly assured me this morning that she had placed my husband under your guardianship for the day, Miss Murray."

All this is said easily, smilingly, with a cold, woman-of-the-world indifference which is too careless for scorn, and which stings Dallas Glynn worse than tears or upbraiding would have done.

"She despises me," he tells himself, "and I deserve it. It was very bad form to me to go off for the whole day with Joyce and leave her at home! By Joyce! Yolande looks this evening as if she could pay me back in my own coin! What a strange girl she is! I'm not by any means sure I quite understand her."

And Joyce says inwardly: "How very very stupid of mamma to say anything of the kind! She knows that Dallas Glynn's wife must hate me and be awfully jealous of me!"

Then she picks up her sealskin cape and black serge toque.

"I really must disappear now, Dallas," she says, laughing. "I should advise you to do the same. I shall be in deeper disgrace than you are in now if we don't hurry."

"Captain Glynn," Yolande says, distinctly, with a stress on the formal appellation, "I want to tell you, lest you blame your man, that it was I who was the cause of the accident in your room just now."

He pauses, amazed, on his way to the door, and Joyce pauses a moment also, forgetting herself.

"What accident?" he asks, turning back.

"I went into your room to speak to you, thinking you were there," Yolande answers, steadily, in cold, even tones, "and, having foolishly stopped to look at your dressing-case and a bottle of macassar oil, I spilled it over some things—spoiled them. I fear, I am very sorry!"

But there is utter indifference in her tone, and he is nettled.

"What did you spoil?" he asks, sharply.

"I don't know," Yolande replies, without looking at him. "Some ties and handkerchiefs and other things."

She stinks down gracefully into a low easy-chair, and puts up her pretty, black-satin, amber-shaded shoes on the fender-bar of the tiled hearth.

"Did you do it on purpose?" he asks, more sharply.

He thinks this will affectionally rouse her from this cold, provoking inattention that is as new as it is unpleasant to him. But Yolande only smiles disdainfully, as she glances at him.

"No. Why should I do such a very foolish thing?" she replies, carelessly.

And Captain Glynn dashes off to dress, muttering savagely.

Lady Maria, greatly to Mrs. Murray's displeasure, will not permit dinner to be delayed one minute; so, when Captain Glynn and Miss Murray at length make their appearance, the fish has followed the soup, and Lady Maria, looking like a martyr in a horribly unbecoming gown of stone-colored velvet, glances up sternly from her plate of boiled chicken.

"A thousand pardons!" Joyce says, airily, smiling at her. "Dinner is half over, I am afraid."

"Dinner was begun a quarter of an hour ago, Joyce," Lady Maria responds, gusterly. "And, ever if I could consent to keep the rest of the family waiting for dinner, I could not calmly consent to ruin my own health for days simply because you and Captain Glynn choose to take such long walks together!"

Captain Glynn reddens angrily, and glances covertly at his wife from beneath his half-lowered eyelids. But Yolande is not looking at him.

She is talking to Viscount Glynn about the last St. Bernard dog show, and, though she bears her husband speak, she looks across the table at him without any special interest, and goes on toying with the bangles on her slender pink-white arms and adjusting the half-loop of cat's eyes and diamonds—her engagement ring—above the thick circlet of plain gold on her finger.

"We lost our way, Lady Maria," Captain Glynn says, curtly. "I explained how it happened to Glynn. We got down into Llanfair Valley instead of keeping across the mountain—Moolwyn, I think it's called—"

But Joyce interrupts him, with a gay laugh:

"You never will learn Welsh topography, I'm afraid, Dallas. That long, low mountain beyond Llanfair is Mool Galch. Moolwyn is miles off. We really got dreadfully far out of the right road," she adds, smiling merrily. "I'm so awfully sorry!"

"Are you? You don't seem so," retorts Lady Maria disagreeably. She detests eating at the family dinner table, being obliged to dispense with some of the weighing and measuring of her food that goes in her own apartments, and always tempers the delight afforded by her presence by being very cross.

Yolande looks up at this moment, and Joyce meets her gaze. It is amused and coldly contemptuous.

"Well," Joyce says, deliberately eating her fish and looking from Lady Maria to Yolande, "I cannot truly say I regret the walk, long as it was. It was simply delightful!"

"It must have been," Yolande agrees, in clear, cold tones, and smiling as brightly and coldly as Joyce herself. "I suppose you would like just such another walk to-morrow, Miss Murray?"

"I should!" Miss Murray answers, and she loses her temper so far as to say it rather defiantly.

The viscount peers at her with a sly smile, and elongates his thin, compressed lips.

Pottery 4,000 Years Old

UNEARDED IN SWEDEN. STOCKHOLM, Aug. 14—(A.P.)—Swedish archeologists have lately discovered an unusual number of relics that date back twenty to thirty centuries B.C., the latest find being a tomb and shrine of heathen worship of the Stone Age, estimated to be about 4,000 years old.

This tomb is estimated in Lackalunga, Skane, the most southerly province of Sweden, and until a short time ago it lay buried beneath ten different strata of earth. Built of large stone slabs, it has a central chamber about ten feet by five. Around it is a circular pavement of slabs, from which radiate a number of curious walks marked by stones. A considerable quantity of human and animal bones were found, together with flint daggers and spear heads.

But the most interesting discovery was that of about 7,000 fragments of ornamented vessels, which had been thickly strewn outside the tomb. The shattering of these vessels probably took place, according to the archeologists, in connection with heathen religious ceremonies. The shaping of the weapons and the ornamentation of the vessels indicate an advanced civilization.

The Lackalunga tomb is estimated to be about 4,000 years old, but the Swedes have evidence that their country was inhabited at least 3,000 years before this tomb was built. A skeleton of that period, now on exhibition in Gothenburg, was found in an ancient oyster bed, many miles inland from the present seacoast, at a point from which the sea began receding during the Stone Age.

Household Hints.

Bamboo furniture is best cleaned with salt water. Don't use soap. After wiping dry, polish with a soft cloth dipped in linseed oil.

To clean head blinds, soak them in hot borax water. Rinse in clean warm water, dry in a coarse towel, and whilst they are drying, stretch the cords to keep the strings of beads even.

Sponge grass stains on white material with a mixture of ammonia and water, then rinse. When washing dark garments, tack with thread round very dirty patches, so that these may get an extra rub.

For your fruit salad, use only fresh fruit. The tin varieties served in syrup don't make a genuine salad.

Take particular care that the fruit is ripe and sound. In hot weather, do not leave milk that is delivered in bottles corked. Air must be let in, or the milk will turn. It is best to empty it into another vessel, covered with a netted doyley weighted with beads.

Telegram Fashion Plates.

The Home Dressmaker should keep a Catalogue Scrap Book of our Pattern Cuts. These will be found very useful to refer to from time to time.

A STYLISH MODEL.
4266. This design is suitable for slender and for mature figures. The pleat lines, the side closing and becoming sleeves are very attractive, and new. Figured crepe is here portrayed finished with a stitching in flaps. The style is also good for satin, broad cloth and serge.

The Pattern is cut in 6 Sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, and 44 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 5 1/2 yards of 40 inch material. The width at the foot is 2 1/2 yards.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A ONE PIECE FROCK WITH DRAPED PANELS.
4264. Figured silk combined with crepe is here portrayed. This is a good style for velvet and satin, or net and chiffon.

The Pattern is cut in 3 Sizes: 16, 18, and 20 years. An 18 year size requires 7 yards of one material 40 inches wide. To make as illustrated will require 4 yards of 40 inch material for the dress of plain material, and 3 1/2 yards for the panels of figured material.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A GOOD STYLE FOR MATURE FIGURES.
4430. Figured and plain foulard are here combined. One could use satin, and embroidery or brocaded silk with satin. Crepe and embroidered georgette are also a good combination.

The Pattern is cut in 3 Sizes: 36, 38,

A POPULAR "OVER" BLOUSE MODEL.
4041. Silk or tissue gingham with organza for collar and cuffs would be nice for this style. The pagnum may be omitted. The blouse is in "slip on" style, and may be finished with the sleeves in wrist or elbow length.

The pattern is cut in 6 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42 and 44 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 2 1/2 yards of 32 inch material. Collar and cuffs of contrasting material require 1/2 yard of 40 inches wide.

3962. Up-to-date with its uneven hem lines, and pleasing in its long soft lines, is the model here shown. Crepe weaves, pongee or linen could be used to develop it.

The Pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 37, 39, 41, 43, 45, 47 and 49 inches waist measure. The width of the skirt at the foot is about 2 yards. This style is finished in "slightly raised" waist-line. A 31 inch waist size will require 2 1/2 yards of 38 inch material for the skirt and 3 1/2 yards for the tunic.

Pattern mailed to any address on receipt of 10c. in silver or stamps.

A POPULAR STYLE.
4433. This is a splendid sports model. It lends itself well to jersey weaves, and to silk, or linen.

The pattern is cut in 7 sizes: 34, 36, 38, 40, 42, 44 and 46 inches bust measure. A 38 inch size requires 2 1/2 yards of 32 inch material.

German Chancellor and Poincare May Meet.

Captain of Marvale Was Over Confident--Republicans Consider That DeValera's Arrest Has Improved Their Chances--Sir Richard Squires Preserves a Discreet Silence.

CHANCELLOR SEEKING INTERVIEW WITH POINCARÉ.

BERLIN, Aug. 15. Dr. Gustav Stresemann, the new German Chancellor, is actually seeking to get on terms with French Premier Poincaré. He will very likely find an encouraging atmosphere for informal parleys awaiting him in the capital of political leaders here. Stresemann is already made tolerably possible for Dr. Stresemann, the French groups of French and German personalities who never the less are not wholly without authority. It is taken for granted that Stresemann's circles that the German Chancellor from discouraging a new enterprise, would not make use of their influence in French industrialists and financial leaders with the purpose of effecting furthering any German attempt to seek dignified way out of the Ruhr impasse. For Germany there has been a marked change for the better in the character of news sent in from Paris by Berlin newspapers, during the past forty-eight hours, and instantaneous psychological effect of this on the population has been to stimulate the belief in an early rift in the black clouds. That the new Government is eminently better situated to effect a solution of the Ruhr imbroglio which would not carry humilia- tion and political defeat with it, than the Chancellor Cuno's Ministry, is Escape of the Goeben.

ADMIRAL MILNE ON 'KEY TO SITUATION--THE SECRET TREATY BETWEEN GERMANY AND TURKEY.

Further pages of history in relation to the escape of the "Goeben" in the early days of the war are given to the public by Admiral Sir A. Berkeley Milne in the August number of the National Review. The article is by way of reply to Mr. Churchill's version of the affair as given in his book, "The World Crisis. The Admiral's own account of the matters in question were published in his "The Flight of the Goeben and Breslau," as to which he says: "I was scrupulous to respect the secrecy incumbent on naval officers with regard to their instructions." As, however, Mr. Churchill "has thought proper to publish the war orders and other instructions issued by the Admiralty to the admirals at sea," he claims the like liberty. Sir Berkeley Milne remarks that the object of Mr. Churchill appears to be to demonstrate that "in cases of mischance the Admiralty, except in a few instances, were right." The Admirals at sea were wrong, and, in this matter of the Goeben and Breslau, he implies that for the escape of these vessels into the Bosphorus that the Commander-in-Chief of the Mediterranean was to blame. The key to the situation, says the Admiral, was that the German Admiral knew of the conclusion of a secret treaty of alliance between his country and Turkey, of which Mr. Churchill admits "we knew nothing." Sir Berkeley Milne now states:

SITUATION IN BERLIN GROWING BETTER.

BERLIN, Aug. 15. Labor and food situation in Greater Berlin to-day showed improvement over previous days. This was due to the calling of the general strike by Communists. Attempts of Reds to paralyze the city proved to be a fiasco owing to opposition of regular labor unions. The currency shortage continues.

REPARATIONS ARE A PRIOR CLAIM ON GERMANY'S RESOURCES.

PARIS, Aug. 15. The Inter-Allied Reparations Commission formally notified Germany to-day that reparations constitute a prior claim on the resources which Germany has expected to utilize to guarantee her new gold loan. The Commission decided upon this action Tuesday, the British delegate abstaining from voting.

DEVALERA WILL LIKELY BE INTERVIEWED.

DUBLIN, Aug. 15. It is pointed out here that the Free State Government can interview DeValera, captured yesterday at Ennis, for six months, or try him before a civil tribunal, but indications at present are that former alternative will be adopted, and that he will be interned with Austin Stack and his associates. One of the first effects of the arrest has been a large increase in the number of Republican candidates to be nominated Saturday for Dail Eireann. The Sinn Féin director of elections announced to-day that fifty candidates selected may be increased to one hundred or more, as messages from constituencies were urging such a course. The Republicans think their chances immensely improved by the dramatic arrest of their leader. Independents and neutral groups also hope to gain, believing the ordinary voter wants peace, and will look for members who have not been associated with either side in the activities of the past year.

Blood Pressure.

Comments by physicians in practice in relation to their patients' need along with medical examination for life insurance has made the public familiar with the fact that there is such a thing as high blood pressure and low blood pressure. Investigation by the Life Extension Institute of New York in many thousands of cases has shown that the outstanding factors in high blood pressure are overweight and overeating. Excess in alcohol, tea and coffee are also more prominent in this group than in the group of normal blood pressures. Mouth infection is likewise a notable feature in these cases. In all cases of high blood pressure a functional test of the kidneys is advised, also a complete test of the blood, an X-ray examination of the heart, and a very careful consideration of the dietetic habits, the activities, and the degree of business and emotional strain that the patient is undergoing. X-ray of the teeth is an exceedingly important matter, as is careful study of the tonsils. Mouth infection should be eliminated, and any source of over-stimulation, such as tea, coffee and alcohol corrected.

It has not been found in the Institute investigations that tobacco is a factor in the average case of high blood pressure, although it does appear to be a factor in causing arterial changes and over-action of the heart, and may be a factor in individual cases. A liberal meat diet has not been found to be an outstanding feature in these cases; and recent clinical research work has failed to show any particular influence from a low protein or low meat diet in reducing the blood pressure. This does not mean that moderation in meat eating and a moderate protein diet is not a healthful and desirable dietary, but it does mean that we must not rely upon this routine measure for correcting high blood pressure, but rather search for and correct other causes that seem to be more important.

Neither does constipation appear to be a prominent factor; but notwithstanding the apparent absence of any important influence from constipation on these cases as a group, the bowels should always receive careful attention. The point is not to rely too much upon cutting down the meat consumption, or on bowel regulation in controlling these cases, but to search for and correct every possible cause.

One thing may be said with surety: The correction of overweight in high blood pressure cases will usually cause a reduction in blood pressure.

Low blood pressure still presents many baffling problems. Apparently some people are adjusted to a fairly low blood pressure and do not suffer in their health by such condition. Low blood pressure cases as a class, however, show a condition of light weight and often of nervous inefficiency. People who have had tuberculosis frequently continue to have a low blood pressure after recovery and a low pressure during the continuance of the disease is a common symptom. Low pressures have also been found in certain types of mouth infection, tonsil infection, and also in general malnutrition, simple anemia, and under-nourishment. As in high blood pressure, there should always be a search for the underlying causes and treatment of these causes rather than of the blood pressure. To treat the blood pressure alone with drugs is not a scientific procedure and may do harm.

British Encouraged by Oil Drilling Successes.

LONDON--The success of recent oil-drilling operations in the northern counties of England and in Scotland have led to new drilling operations on a larger scale. The oil found, while not abundant, is claimed to be of the finest heavy grade and has led many geologists to believe that asphalt deposits lie in this section.

Oil has been found in Derbyshire, Staffordshire and Midlothian. At Hardstoft, Derbyshire, a well drilled about a year ago has produced a thousand tons of heavy oil and the well is still flowing. Five other wells in this section have shown traces of oil but have not yet been pumped.

Indications of oil have been found in the Staffordshire coal mines, but the prospects are not believed encouraging for the operator.

Most of the test wells have been drilled by the government in order to prove the theory that oil exists in many of the sections of the British Isles. English operators believe that while the result of the drilling so far is not what was looked for, it is possible to produce oil in commercial quantities.

Churchill that 24 hours were lost by the "inadvertent release" of the "code telegram ordering hostilities to be commenced against Austria." Whose fault was that? asks Sir Berkeley Milne.

I need hardly say that I could not possibly surmise that the telegram was sent by mistake. Two hours after its arrival it was negated by a second message, which, being expressed in an unusual manner, could not be accepted without confirmation. By the time confirmation was received the Goeben has fled safely away. For the delay Mr. Churchill blames not the Admiralty, but "the Fates," referring to the Admiralty Clerk who sent the telegram as "blameless and punctilious," while Mr. Churchill's readers are left to conclude that the fault was mine. It is understood that the Admiralty clerk was removed to another Department and that at the end of the war he received the O.B.E.

Greenland.

The Danish Government has just published the official census of Greenland, taken in 1921, showing a native population of 14,081, of whom 6,729 are men and 7,352 women. The 274 Europeans there are chiefly Danes. The inhabitants live at favorable points on the coast and adjoining islands not covered by glaciers. Of the total area of Greenland--2,170,000 square kilometers--only 88,000 square kilometers are free of glaciers and fit for cultivation or travel. The Danish Government holds a monopoly of the commerce and is gradually developing the natural resources under its control. Greenland trade affairs are administered by a bureau in the Ministry of Home Affairs. Exports for 1921 are valued at 1,517,000 crowns; they include fish, furs, whale oil, graphite and cryolite ore. Imports from Denmark for the same year reached 2,608,000 crowns, consisting of rye, flour, ship's biscuit, sugar, groceries, woollens, cotton, linen, timber and coal.

EX-MINISTER OF MINES ASKS FOR DELAY UNTIL AFTER VACATION
—IS ONLY THE GOAT—ST.
JOHN'S RUMORS SUGGEST
SQUIRES IS DEERER IN TROU-BLE.

SYDNEY, N.S., Aug. 9.—(Star Special)—When the political storm which wrecked the government of Sir Richard Squires broke some days ago, a hue and cry went up throughout Newfoundland asking for an explanation from Dr. Campbell, then Minister of Mines and Agriculture, in whose department, it was stated, there had occurred irregularities which led to the overthrow. The Government party press announced that Dr. Campbell had gone out of the country on vacation, to which the Opposition replied that the present was an opportune time for him to seek rest from the cares of office.

Later Governor Allardys forwarded a message to Dr. Campbell requesting his return, so that the charges against his department might be investigated.

Rumours were spread in the Ancient Colony, accusing Squires and his Ministers of "graft and extravagance."

Dr. Campbell is now in Souris, from where he has sent the following message to Premier Warren:

"I would ask you to do me the kindness to hold a full inquiry into relief expenditure during the past two and a half years on my return from my holidays. You would recall that all relief expenditure in the different districts was conducted by me, working in conjunction with the various members from the various districts. This includes both Government and Opposition members. It was only on the member's advice that various relief works were undertaken in the different districts, and in many cases the allocations were in their hands and return sheets were not furnished the Department of Agriculture and Mines and the Public Works Department under which Department relief was conducted.

"Associated with this investigation I would ask you to investigate the various efforts at organized disturbances attempted in the Colony for political purposes during the past three years. The checkmating of these efforts was under my control, and some expenditure was incurred in my endeavor to control such disturbances.

"You would do me a favor if you would arrange for such a complete investigation covering the full period of relief work and extending to the final expenditure of allocations made to the various districts."

Facts Leak Out.

Travellers arriving here state that opinion is gaining force in St. John's and throughout the country that Dr. Campbell is being made the "goat" in the political mix-up.

It is whispered in the capital that the deposed Premier is much further embroiled in the scandal morass than his ex-Minister, and that the promised investigation will reveal a condition of affairs not heretofore rivalled in the history of responsible Government on this side of the Atlantic.

Apparently both Government and Opposition members are sealed to silence regarding the inner facts, but enough has leaked out to warrant prediction that there has been serious mishandling of the country's funds and that the forthcoming investigation will be productive of evidence that will startle hardened political grafters wherever the story is read.

Squires is living in the strictest retirement since his downfall. He refuses to see any but his intimate friends and no word has come from him as to the part he will play in the coming inquiry. He is resourceful and pertinacious, and no doubt is framing a brief that will tax the ingenuity of his enemies of the Opposition to refute.—Montreal Star.

Record Production of Paper.

The production of Canadian newsprint mills reached a new high point in the history of the industry at the beginning of this year. Telling just below the 100,000 ton mark, Canadian mills may now be said to have reached a production level of 1,500,000 tons a year, as compared with an actual production during the year 1922 of 1,085,551 tons. It is reported from Vancouver that the Powell River Pulp and Paper Company is proposing to spend four million dollars on facilities for increasing the present production of newsprint, which is about 65,000 per annum. The output of the International Paper Company's Mill at Three Rivers is now about 265 tons a day, an addition of nearly 80,000 tons to the Canadian total since the middle of last year.

And covered with mud, he bounced in!

"There wasn't a button on his shirt," said the proud Mrs. B. And I noticed his trousers were most off. His face was smeary, his hair was a mess. And what had happened to the child? But there he stood like a statue. And grinned at the woman, merely smiling. No shame about him, as he brushed. Those two proud women he passed. And he answered me, when I said, "Well! Well!" "We were playing a game and he ped and fell!"

"What will they think, and what can I hear them telling the next day! By now their gossiping has been done! They may not live in a straitjacket. But that's no excuse for a dirt on the least she could do, if it was good taste.

France's Silent Premier Spends Days in Writing

PARIS.—Premier Poincare was more pens in a week than did his predecessor, Briand, in a year, a heavy server of the French foreign office said recently. The reason Poincare speaks little, but he writes a great deal. Briand always had a pen in his hand; Poincare always has one.

The present premier receives few callers, and except for Perretti de la Rocca, director of the ministry, and his chief of cabinet, Hermitte, Poincare sees hardly one. He remains at his desk throughout the long days—from 11 to 12 hours—writing. There is not a document coming out of the ministry of foreign affairs, whether it be grave and solemn instructions to ambassadors or minor matters of time business, that the premier does not see personally, and often corrects or amplifies in his own hand.

His famous speech delivered on July 15, written entirely by him, is a masterpiece of writing. It is so crisp, sharp handwriting which is sent to the premier of France to the government printers with a single correction or erasure.

THE EVENING TELEGRAM

THE EVENING TELEGRAM, LIMITED, PROPRIETORS. All communications should be addressed to The Evening Telegram, Ltd., and not to individuals.

St. John's, Newfoundland, Friday, August 17, 1923.

The Government Awakens to the Necessity of a Policy of Retrenchment.

The strenuous resistance of the Opposition to the West India Service Bill has resulted in impressing upon the Government the wisdom of proceeding further with that measure.

Such an extravagant experiment would have been foolhardy in the extreme. We have been living far beyond our earning capacity, as has been shown to a certain extent by the Budget presented by the Minister of Finance and Customs, and proved beyond cavil by the further information given by Sir Michael Cashin during recent discussion in the House.

Other indications that the Prime Minister is determined upon a policy of retrenchment may be cited. The Model Farm has been abolished, one Agricultural Commissioner only is to be retained, the Police Force which was to cope with the rush of gold seekers to the mythical Klondyke on the Labrador is on its way home, presumably to be demobilized, and the Militia Department will be closed up almost immediately.

The importunities of the Opposition members of the House have been received by the Prime Minister in a spirit that will commend itself to the public generally, and his determination to check the squandering of funds will go far towards restoring confidence in our public men, a confidence that has been severely shaken by recent exposures.

We have many problems to face, the most serious of which is without question the operation of the Railway. No time can be lost in finding a solution of this difficulty. We are assured that it is not the intention of the Government to attempt to operate it themselves, and it remains to be seen what method of disposing of it they mean to adopt.

The Railway Commission.

It was announced in the House last night by the Prime Minister that a Commission consisting of the Colonial Secretary, the Auditor General and the Government Engineer had been appointed to look after the operation of the Railway for a period of twelve months, or until other arrangements had been made.

The personnel of the Commission has aroused considerable criticism, not because the country doubts the qualifications of the men appointed, but because they are at present engaged in offices which demand the whole of their time and ability, and further because a committee of management consisting entirely of Government officials would not be favourably received by the general public.

We have referred previously to the serious problem that confronts the country in this connection. Is it not possible that here is the opportunity for a public spirit to show itself? Are there not in this community three men who will voluntarily undertake, irrespective of political leanings, to shoulder this responsibility, and relieve the country to some extent of its financial burden?

Relief Work.

The Session of the House is drawing to a close, and although much has been said of the necessity to provide employment for many who will be unable during the coming winter to make ends meet, nothing definite regarding the Government's intentions has been announced.

This is a matter of importance, and in view of the disclosures of waste and extravagance on the part of the late administration, and the expenditure to which the country was committed without Legislative sanction, the Government would be well advised to make a definite pronouncement.

We have had a satisfactory expenditure under Orders-in-Council, and it is hoped that the Government have no intention of continuing that much-abused practice to a greater extent than is absolutely necessary.

Sable Island Passengers Arrive.

SHIP BEACHED 45 MINUTES AFTER ACCIDENT.

A special train from Argentinia bringing the passengers of the stranded Sable I. arrived in the city at 11 o'clock last night. According to the passengers, it was about 9.20 p. m. on Monday last or two hours after leaving St. Pierre that the Sable I. struck what is supposed to be a submerged wreck. The Chief Officer was on the bridge at the time, and Capt. Murley was in the engineer's room having a chat. Immediately the accident occurred he took charge, and as the steamer began to leak badly in the forward compartments, Capt. Murley ordered all boats lowered. The discipline was excellent, and there was no panic of any kind, all the crew and passengers taking up their respective stations and in quick time the boats were ready in case those on board would be forced to abandon ship. The pumps were set going but failed to stop the flow of water which kept gaining, and as the steamer was going down by the head, Captain Murley decided that the only thing to be done was to beach the ship. Lamaline being the nearest port the captain accordingly headed his ship for a suitable place and a few minutes after 10 o'clock the Sable I. was ashore, having successfully passed in over a reef. The passengers remained on board until Tuesday afternoon as there was no danger of the ship breaking up. Tuesday morning the cattle were landed in slings and placed on Lamaline Island where they are being cared for. The passengers on the Sable I. included Mr. and Mrs. E. S. Baldwin, of Chicago, Mr. W. E. Baldwin and son Richard, aged 14 years, of Montreal, the former Manager for Canada of the Fidelity-Phoenix Assurance Co., of New York, of which Mr. Geo. R. Williams is the local agent, Harry S. McCarty, of the firm of Oliver and McCarty, Attorneys, Chicago, who is here on a fishing trip, Edwin Burton, Sergeant Major Arch Goobie who is accompanied by a nurse, Miss C. M. McDonald, a tourist, V. T. Bateman, Miss Mildred Ball, Mrs. A. J. Dove and Miss J. E. Dove. They all speak in glowing terms of Capt. Murley and his crew.

Look out for the Independent. July 1923

In Passing.

Premier Warren is to be complimented on his decision to shelve the West India Steamship Resolutions, which called for an expenditure of $100,000 a year which sum would have to be paid from the Treasury to pay a subsidy for a service that we are to-day receiving free.

The railway commission as announced in the Assembly yesterday justifies the stand taken by Messrs. Higgins and Sullivan and other members of the Opposition.

That the Opposition will oppose the plan is a safe assurance that the rights of the people will be protected. A commission headed by the Colonial Secretary and comprising two paid officials of the Government will not command public confidence, and it is earnestly hoped the Government will see the wisdom of the Opposition's desire to reconsider the decision.

The system under the last Commission was to all intents and purposes a political and partisan one as proved by the answers given to questions asked in the Assembly a few days ago, when it was learned that special trains were employed by supporters and financial backers of the Government and Ministers of the Crown from time to time during the election campaign.

We are of the opinion that a Commission is necessary in so far as that the railway and its subsidiary enterprises should be controlled by certain management answerable to the Government, but a Commission of the nature and for the purpose as we know the present one to be appointed is from every aspect objectionable, and under the circumstances should not be tolerated.

The Dedication of Kilbride Church.

The opening and solemn dedication of the new church of Corpus Christi at Waterford Bridge, Kilbride Parish, will take place on Sunday next, Aug. 19th, at 11 a.m.

The new church has now been completed. During the past week the new Altar, two of which, the main Altar, and the Sacred Heart, kindly presented by P. J. and Mrs. Hanley, while the third Altar, the Blessed Virgin's, generously donated by R. J. and Mrs. Murphy—were placed in position.

The church will be dedicated by His Grace the Archbishop, who will be assisted by Rt. Rev. Mgr. MacDermott, Rev. J. J. Rawlins, the Pastor, and the city Clergy of St. Patrick's and Cathedral Parishes. The ceremony will consist of the laying of the Corner Stone, the blessing of the Bell—the gift of Hon. F. McNamara—and the blessing and dedication of the church. It was in the year 1864 that the Corner Stone of the old church was laid by Dr. Mullock. That church was destroyed by fire in the year of the Great Fire of 1892. During all the years the people of the parish, assisted by their kind friends outside, have been energetically working to gather funds whereby they would be able to erect another home to the Living God.

The ambition of years has now been fulfilled. To this dedication ceremony on Sunday they extend a very hearty invitation to one and all of the friends and supporters of the parish. At the conclusion of the Solemn High Mass the sermon for the occasion will be preached by Rt. Rev. Mgr. MacDermott. The Cathedral Choir under the leadership of Mr. Hutton will be present, while the C.C.C. Band will also be in attendance.

MINARD'S LIME PUT FOR FAILING OUT OF HAIL.

One of the Old Stock.

On Wednesday the 15th of August, Mrs. Thomas O'Neil, of Water Street East, mother of our well known theatrical man, Mr. T. H. O'Neil, celebrated in the midst of her family and in the height of good health and spirits, her 54th birthday. Mrs. O'Neil was born at Gorey, Bridge County Kilkenny, 1828 and came to this country in 52, two years after the passing of that zealous and energetic prelate the Right Rev. Bishop Fleming. Mrs. O'Neil had her passage to this country arranged for 6 years previous to this date, but the news reached her native village that "Newfoundland was destroyed by fire"—(the fire of '49). At that time the transmission of news was slow and very uncertain, so that when the good brig Nancy sailed into the harbor on a bright spring morning of '62, St. John's was vigorously rising from its ashes; from that day she has seen it through many vicissitudes, epidemic, fire, and riot. The famine years of her native land and plague stricken country side are the earliest recollections of this venerable old lady, who delights to tell of the heroic fortitude of a people whose faith never failed them and whose fervent prayers went up to Heaven from a hundred thousand homes, from altars hidden in the hedges and the hills! She also has a vivid recollection of those unhappy days when strife and discord were rampant in our midst and her clear reminiscent narrative of those times makes us shudder at even remote possibility of their recurrence. Mrs. O'Neil was for 15 years housekeeper for the illustrious Bishop Mullock and in that capacity saw the comings and goings of some of the foremost men of that time whose residences was ever the palace. Such as the great Fenian, Smith O'Brien, and the many leaders of science and thought who were here in connection with the laying of the Atlantic Cable, notably the renowned Cyrus Field, and here it may be news to some to know, that the work on St. Patrick's Church was closed down then for the want of funds and that Syrus Field came generously to the assistance of the bishop.

Mrs. O'Neil, (nee Elizabeth Murphy) was married in February, 56 years ago to Thomas O'Neil, master mason who was then superintending the erection of St. Patrick's Church, the wedding ceremony was performed by his lordship Bishop Mullock, and they were the last to be united in the holy bonds by that superman of the R.C. Church of Newfoundland.

In spite of her years, she seems young enough yet to round out her century; her lively interest in present events, her enthusiasm in the victorious peace of Ireland, her native land, a congregation that she had always prayed that she might live to see, a freshness of spirit, a wholesome robust heartiness in her conversation that sends its glow to all those about her till they say, as they look with love and admiration on her—"How strong, how truly admirable were the grand 'Old Stock'!"

Cyclone Coming to Newfoundland.

Travelling at a terrific rate and sweeping as it goes along, an attraction as powerful as a cyclone will reach St. John's by Monday. "Theodora," the gigantic motion picture which has been booked by the Nickel Theatre, will be presented to the amusement-loving public of the city. Words cannot describe the wonderfulness of this masterpiece. Public opinion is in the very best advertiser for an entertainment such as this, so we quote herewith some genuine criticisms:

"As a spectacle, this picture is truly magnificent. Most of the Hollywood products seem like small-town stuff besides this tremendous production from Italy."

N. Y. Times. "The scenes open with an earthquake, rush madly on through a chaos of battle, murder and sudden death, and culminate in the most realistic arena scene that ever let very real and obviously starved lions loose on thousands of terrified Italian extras."

The Auditor General.

Dear Sir.—The statement has been publicly made that the present Auditor General is desirous of being re-elected. If a new Auditor General is to be appointed there is, in my opinion, only one man whose name should be considered by the Government. I refer to Dr. J. Alexander Robinson, ex-Colonial Secretary and ex-Postmaster General. Dr. Robinson has a reputation as an administrator which is second to none. For years he has in his newspaper, been a terror to evil-doers. As Auditor General he will be a "Treasury Watchdog" and that is what the Colony wants at this juncture. I know of no person whose appointment would meet with such confidence and approbation on the part of the public. If the statement regarding the present Auditor General is correct, and if the Government should decide to accede to his desire, I trust, Mr. Editor, that you may see your way to give this nomination of Dr. Robinson your powerful support.

Will Refloat Sable I.

STELLA MARIS AT SCENE OF WRECK.

S.S. Yankton, which arrived at Lamaline yesterday and landed several wrecking pumps, left there again at 4 p.m., having on board the perishable cargo of the Sable I. S.S. Stella Maris with three pumps is now at the scene and salvage operations are progressing favorably. It has been found that two pumps are able to keep the water in the forward hold under control. According to a message received by Messrs. Harvey & Co. to-day it is hoped to get the stranded ship off tomorrow. Temporary repairs will be effected and the ship towed to Halifax.

Making Plans for Sports Day.

A meeting of the M.G.C.A. Sports Committee will be held to-night in the Club Rooms at 9 o'clock for the purpose of finalizing arrangements in connection with the annual Sports Day, which event takes place at the Ayre Athletic Grounds, on Wednesday next. It has been suggested by a prominent sport to run a 10 mile bicycle race in connection with this meet. The suggestion is no doubt a popular one, and will be given every consideration at the meeting to-night.

AT THE HOUSE.

Colonial Secretary Auditor General and Government Engineer Appointed Railway Commissioners—West Indies Bill Turned Down by Government—Three and a Half Million Dollar Loan Arranged.

Mr. Higgins presented a petition on behalf of the residents of Freshwater, Bell Island, which was referred to the Minister of Marine and Fisheries.

Mr. Fox supported the petition which, if granted, will be greatly appreciated by the people living in that section of the Ince Isle.

Mr. Vincombe endorsed the views of his colleagues and asked that the sum required be allocated.

Questions were tabled by Mr. Higgins, Mr. Sullivan, Mr. Fox and Sir M. P. Cashin, after which the House went into Committee on Supply.

MODEL FARM DONE AWAY WITH
Acting upon the suggestion of Mr. Higgins and other members of the Opposition, Premier Warren said the Government decided to do away with the Model Farm and that only one Commissioner of Agriculture would be continued in office.

Mr. Samson, present Commissioner, will be retained for one year only. A heated discussion was caused by the announcement of the Premier to the effect that he was not in a position to cancel the vote for the salary of Dr. Mosdell as a Commissioner of the Military Pensions Board.

Major Cashin and his colleague P. F. Moore objected to the vote and in doing so asked consideration for Major March or any other returned service man whom they thought should be given the appointment. Major Cashin asked the assistance of Mr. Small, one of the first five hundred, to see that the returned soldiers were going to be treated fairly.

Mr. Small said he had no objection to the appointment of Dr. Mosdell because a civilian in the person of the late Mr. Cliff had been there before him.

Mr. Cashin in reply said the circumstances were greatly different. The late Mr. Cliff's two sons paid the supreme sacrifice whilst Dr. Mosdell used the position to publish the private records of returned soldiers and was enjoying the salaries of thousands of dollars yearly in other Government appointments.

Mr. Higgins endorsed the views of his colleagues and asked the Government to reconsider the matter.

Mr. P. Cashin again expressed the hope that the Government would refrain from forcing the appointment and closed his remarks by stating "If the returned soldiers had the same pluck in them as they had in 1914-15, they would never allow Dr. Mosdell to sit on the Board."

Upon the Chairman reading the motion the Opposition replied in the negative.

The Prime Minister explained that the vote for special police at Stag Bay would not be more than half expended as the police are now on their way home as it is quite evident the gold rush did not materialize.

Mr. Higgins in dealing with these additional estimates said it was a scandal the way payments were made to employees of the Audit Department. If they are not getting salaries sufficient to enable them to live in decency then give them larger salaries legitimately. Why should the Auditor General be paid extra for auditing the Savings Bank account? The extra amounts for the police force was a disgrace, $18,500 for Labrador police. The Inspector General read something in the papers that there was something doing on Labrador so he sent down a force of police. Now they are coming back. Nothing doing down there. Ten new constables for the country. There are far too many policemen in this country. The Inspector General is a high class man. He was not born to manage a police force for Newfoundland. He should be managing the New York police force. The present condition of affairs should be availed of to put the deputy heads of departments in their places. They should be the sheet anchors of the country. Instead what are they? Take Mr. Harris. Why should he be given a thousand dollars? That money should be going to the people who were hungry. Devoting again to the police force he reckoned that $30,000 were being fired away this year on a fad. This country cannot afford that $30,000. Where was it going to end? People thought that when the Prohibition Act was passed the police force would be reduced. It is by far greater than ever before.

Mr. Moore brought up the matter of Hon. Mr. Davey's appointment, which called for a salary of $300.00 per month. Why was Mr. Wm. Churchill superseded by Mr. Davey? The $300 per month he was getting paid now was an absolute waste. In this connection he wanted to raise the question as to whether Mr. Davey and Dr. Mosdell could legally hold their seats in the Upper House and continue to be Government servants.

Mr. Davey was a Government Inspector at $360.00 per year and Dr. Mosdell was a member of the Pension Board and a number of other Boards for which he drew large salaries.

Mr. Higgins thought the point taken by Mr. Moore a good one in so far as that some years ago instructions were sent out from the Home Office to the effect that any member of the Legislative Council receiving voted emoluments forfeited their seats in that chamber.

Mr. Woodford promised the House that unless some definite answer were given to his plea on behalf of those men now seeking employment, he was prepared to remain there indefinitely. He was not prepared to accept the statement that the Government could not afford to give the necessary employment on the roads, etc. so long as he was confronted with scandals such as the Davey matter. He was not prepared to vote a salary to Mr. Davey of $300.00 a month while men were walking the streets hungry.

He would suggest the putting of the railroad in good running order and by this means give employment. Here he wished to direct the Prime Minister's attention to a promise given during the Opposition a few days ago. That promise was in effect that elected members of a district whether on the Government side or Opposition side, should have a voice in the spending of moneys allocated to that district. That promise is not being carried out in Harbor Main, for Mr. Hives and Mr. Hibbs had all to do with employing men in that District and they were using their position to discriminate against men who were known or suspected of being opponents of the Government. This is most unfair and should be put an end to. He then called attention to the fact that seventeen men who were employed in widening the road near Mr. Hibbs' property in Hr. Main, in June, have not been paid yet. He asked that they be paid at once.

Sir M. P. Cashin in a very lengthy address to the Assembly called attention to certain facts which are omitted or do not appear in the estimates as provided. The R.N. Co. loan is left out. No provision for this appears either in the general or in the additional estimates. The Government intends to raise a loan of three million dollars and no provision for the interest appears in the Estimates. If this loan be raised at five per cent. it means we must provide $150,000 and if at five and one-half per cent we must provide $165,000 interest. It is quite plain you have got to amend the Estimates. Last year the country was astounded to hear that Estimates had been falsely adopted of which thirty-five in the House were ignorant. The Clerk's office was prosecuted and the votes passed by this House tampered with. The vote for mounted police is again put in, in violation of a pledge given at the last session of this House.

We are also asked to vote $18,500 for the Stag Bay force conditions in this country do not warrant such extravagance. In supplemental supply we are asked to vote another million dollars over and above that of last year. Yet no detail as to how this extra expenditure is to be met is given. Not one cent of the new loan will be left after you pay the bills now owed of the Armstrong-Whitworth Company loan $650,000 is still due the colony. He then in dealing with the retiring allowances entailed a great deal of mystery as no department seemed to be responsible for his work or salary.

Hon. Mr. Warren said the appointment was not a permanent one and would not be voted in the Estimates.

Mr. Sullivan spoke on the Penney appointment and the unworkable system. He said a labor agent's duty was to get men when men were scarce, but in this instance we had men, thousands of them, falling over one another looking for work and a labor agent was unnecessary. In dealing with the Audit Act he said that some section of that part of the Government machinery had collapsed in so far as the results have shown. We must be serious in our idea of retrenchment if we expect to reduce the cost of living. The Audit Act should be amended. If not the Auditor General should be held responsible for the acts of the Government for the current year. The Labrador Police is a farce pure and simple and should be abolished. The Normal School, in his opinion, would be a splendid site for a hospital for women as hundreds of them are now seeking medical advice and treatment, but cannot get it owing to the fact that there is no room or space in the General Hospital. If the Normal School was converted into a Woman's Hospital greater room would be given the men at the General Hospital as a larger number were waiting admission to that institution. He asked that no provision be made for furnishing the Normal School pending a decision of the Legislature at the next session. There was a crying need for more hospital accommodation as the out-port people could not be admitted. The retiring allowances he could not countenance as they were unnecessary. He also spoke on Pensions and again related the story of the man Blandford who after 3 years received a pension of $70.00, whilst an official who has been 34 years connected with the Postal Service was seeking an old age Pension. He asked the Committee to rise pending replies to several questions.

Mr. P. Cashin asked the attention of the Committee to the fact that a German was employed as gardener at Government House. As a returned soldier he protested.

The Prime Minister said he would see that representations would be made to those who appointed the man in question as to the views of the House in this connection.

Mr. Cashin thanked the Prime Minister and continued the debate along the same lines as the previous speaker and endorsed what Messrs. Higgins and Sullivan had said.

At the House.

 The Hon. the Minister of Finance, Mr. T. A. C. Campbell, discussed the condition of the Controller's Department, and stated that in the first year of operation the Government made a profit of half a million dollars. Last year, he was informed, the Government lost $28,000. Was it wrong? There was fifty public houses in Newfoundland when prohibition came in force, and the previous year the importation was valued at $350,000. Now the Government is in the liquor business and imports half a million dollars and loses $25,000. There was a business in that. Mr. Vincent, continuing, severely castigated the Hon. the Minister of Finance for having taken the money from No. 2 Relief Account. He had 54 saloons before prohibition, and altogether they never had $400,000 worth of liquor. He now has prohibition. He had figures showing that a bottle of the Government only 15 cents was sold for $1.50. The Supply Committee rose after the House then went into Committee Ways and Means. The Insurance Tax was made one and a half per cent instead of one per cent to liquidate the loan for the purchase of the trucks, etc.

The Prime Minister introduced resolutions which calls for a loan of $2,500,000. The items of expenditure are made up as follows:
 Dues Bank of Montreal for Temporary Loan, Bank of Montreal . . . $ 855,428.71
 Deficit June 30, 1923 . . . 560,000.00
 Loss on Pitt Props, Relief, Seed Potatoes, etc . . . 1,000,000.00
 Estimated Loss on Railway Operations . . . 400,000.00
 Expenses of Militia Department . . . 114,573.23
 Expenses in connection with Soldiers' Graves . . . 40,000.00
 Roads and Public Improvements . . . 240,000.00
 . . . . . $3,500,000.00
 The Prime Minister stated the Government had appointed the Railway Commission to look after the operation for one year or until other arrangements were made as follows:
 The Colonial Secretary, The Auditor General and the Government Engineer.
 Mr. Higgins objected to the personnel of the Commission, as it looked as though the Government intended to play politics with the railway. There were men in the departments of the railway who thought that no other person except a Squire supporter had any right to breathe. He was sorry that the Government was lending itself to that kind of thing.
 Mr. Sullivan likewise objected and moved the Committee rise on the grounds that the suggestions offered by the Opposition members under such a commission he was sure politics would prevail in the operation of the railway. The leader of the House had been given a fair show, and he in return wanted a fair show for the Opposition. The vote in the loan bill for the Militia Department, he strongly objected to and asked for details. He moved the Committee rise.
 Mr. Higgins supported the motion. The Prime Minister said he had given orders that the Militia Department be closed up in a month or six weeks.
 The Committee rose.
 On a motion to go into Committee on the West India Service Bill, the Prime Minister moved that the bill be referred to a select committee to sit out of session and report when the House next meets. The Bill was referred and the Committee consists of Sir W. F. Coaker, Mr. Cave, Capt. Randall, Mr. Higgins and Mr. P. J. Cashin, which practically means that this Bill is shelved for all time.
 The House adjourned at 11 p.m. to meet again this afternoon.

"GETTING A LIVING" ISN'T ENOUGH.
 (By JOHN BLAKE)
 The world may owe every man a living. But it is a debt that is not worth worrying about, although there is less trouble collecting it than might be supposed.
 But the world pays in its own fashion.
 It pays the exact amount—and no more.
 To the hopelessly idle, it will accord room and board in a workhouse. Then, the debt being off its mind, it goes its own way.
 Getting a living by one's own efforts is easier than getting it from the world.
 But "getting a living," only, is a very small thing to do.
 You will find the lowest forms of humanity doing that—in the jungles of middle Africa, and in the snow-covered countries near the poles.
 Everywhere about you, people with no education, with little health, with few friends and no opportunities are doing it.
 Getting a living requires little effort, and still less thought. Turn a cat out of doors and she will manage it.
 The mud turtle, which has no room in its head for more than a thimble-size brain, does it. So does the despised worm.
 What a man ought to get out of this world is happiness, and interest, and accomplishment.
 That is what he is here for.
 That is the purpose of creation.
 With his brain, far greater and more powerful than that of any other creature, he can not only get a living for himself and a family, but he can help to teach others what life is for, and how much to be enjoyed in this revolving miracle we call the world.
 He can, after his bare living has been earned, turn his intelligence to the pursuit of knowledge, he can learn to appreciate art, if not to practise it, he can examine "A wonders of science, and perhaps multiply them by his own effort.
 If all men had been content to collect the living the world owed them, or even to earn it for themselves, and no more, this world would be about as it was left after the last glacier and planed its surface into its final form.
 For a real man, a living is only a means of existing while he does real work.
 accomplished by the simple grafting of skin from the body of the person treated. Usually with women the skin has to be taken from the forehead, but the scar can easily be covered with the hair. In the case of a man all the skin required to remove any facial deformities can be taken from his arms. Dr. Gillies described how he transformed the noses of boxers after they had been battered almost flat. All this wonderful face surgery, he mentioned, had sprung up from experiments carried out during the war.

SCOTTISH FIRM BOUGHT BY DEWAR'S

Stocks of whiskey in the United Kingdom are gradually passing into the control of a few leading firms in the trade. An important development in this connection is the acquisition of all the ordinary shares of Messrs. Mackie & Co. of Glasgow and London, by Buchanan-Dewar, Ltd., whose issued capital amounts to £8,840,880. The capital of Messrs. Mackie & Co. is one million sterling. It owns four distilleries—Lagavulin and Malt Mill in the Island of Islay, Craigellachie in Glenlivet, and Hazelburn in Kintyre. Messrs. Mackie & Co. will continue its "White Horse" business as hitherto. Since 1912 the annual profits of Buchanan-Dewar, Ltd., have ranged from £458,612 to £958,740. There are now three big amalgamations in the distilling trade, their style and capital being as follows:—
 John Walker & Sons Ltd. £2,760,000
 Distillers . . . . . 6,000,000
 Buchanan-Dewar . . . . . 8,840,880
 The first named company has £2,000,000 of Debenture capital. These companies are the Big Three of the whiskey world.

Ugly Faces Remodelled by Clever Skin-Grafting.

How the latest achievements of British surgery made it possible for the ugliest face to be made beautiful was explained at the British Medical Association conference at Portsmouth by Dr. H. D. Gillies, F.R.C.S. Lantern illustrations were given of unrecognizable women who were shown in different stages of treatment growing prettier and prettier until finally their pictures would have ranked high in any collection of portraits of English beauties. The transformation, it was explained, is

Betting Bill Makes Laughing Stock of Ontario.

WHILE RANEY IS POLITICALLY DEAD, HE HAS LEFT A LEGACY WHICH TELLS THE WORLD THAT ONTARIO IS A GOOD PLACE TO BE BURNED IN.

BUILT CHINESE WALL ROUND PROVINCE.

"The evil that men do lives after them," Raney is politically dead but he has left as a legacy one of the most jackass laws ever placed on the statute books of Ontario. It is now a crime ($500 or six months) to display any newspaper published outside the boundaries of this holy province. They might contain betting odds and thus corrupt our morals.

Soon we will have nothing left but morals. Certainly there is no common sense in building a Chinese wall around Ontario, but that is just what the Raney Law does in shutting us off from direct newspaper communication with the rest of the Continent.

Just how tom-foolish the Raney law is can be seen from this instance of its working out. Suppose any transient or permanent newcomer to Ontario has a newspaper mailed to him from his former home. Naturally his wife would also want to read it, or perhaps one of his pals. If that paper contains the odds on a single horse race, the penalty for "displaying" it runs up to $500 or six months for the first offence.

There are hundreds of Americans who have taken up their residence in Toronto alone. Many of them subscribe to their home-town paper. But they must not show it to anybody else. Otherwise they are liable to be jerked into the prisoner's dock and get from some Raney Magistrate a stiffer sentence than is imposed upon a Chinaman for indecent assault upon a white girl.

Do people entirely realize that a man can be arrested upon the street of Toronto for showing a fellow citizen a Quebec or Manitoba or U.S.A. newspaper which happened to tell the public how much money was left for the backers of a successful horse on an Ontario track after the Ontario Government had taken its rake-off?

Do people entirely realize that in Ontario it would be a criminal offence to lend a friend in Quebec, Manitoba, American, Brazilian, French or Italian paper containing the odds against the winner of the English Derby?

Ontario needs more immigrants. Why should they come here? Other Provinces have lowered their taxes through Government control of the liquor business. In Ontario that business has been turned over by the O.T.A. to the criminal classes while taxes go up to enforce a law which can never be enforced. Not much in that situation to attract immigrants to Ontario is there?

Then on top of all that, Raney rushed through his so-called "Bill Respecting Racing Information." That makes it a serious offense for any new-comer (except from the British Isles) to show a copy of his home paper to anyone else. Just as if it were some filthy thing to be furtively read and then burned in the furnace.

In the United States attempts have been made to get similar laws. These attempts have been organized by the newspapers trying to hit their rivals in conjunction with professional uplifters always on the hunt for something or other to hit. But the liberty of the press is guaranteed by the American constitution. Under that guarantee, nobody has yet been able to enforce a law that is a crime "publicly" which means to "display" any newspaper which contains any straight statement of fact, no matter whether it is about a horse race or merely a homicide.

Canada puts more trust in its legislators and allows them to pass any sort of law. If the laws are crazy, that is the fault of the legislators and the people who elected them. Fortunately the legislators can be changed and that is what Ontario emphatically did, not that of Raney, but recent events show that there is a lot of Raneyism left to be tossed into the garbage-can after its originator.

Of all the asinine things Raney ever did was to bar the entry into Ontario of Canadian or American newspapers which contain racing odds. Raney himself knew what he was doing when in answer to a question in the legislature, he stated that those papers could still be circulated if the obnoxious odds were eliminated either with a paint brush or a pair of scissors.

They do that in Russia. Immigrants are not pouring into Russia and they aren't pour into Ontario so long as it endures the Russian methods of Raneyism.

The Raney law which isolates Ontario from the press of the outside world is on the statute-books. It will stay there until it is repealed. In the meantime, Ontario is made ridiculous. When Ontario recovers its senses it will have more people and fewer taxes.

Is there any hope that that will happen before we are all dead? Because, if not, the only attraction that Ontario can hold out to prospective immigrants is that Mr. Raney has made this place a splendid place to be buried in. Something should be done to let the outside world know that the people of Ontario rejected the Raney plan to turn the Province into cemetery plots. That cannot be done by breaking contract with the outside world as is done by the Raney Betting Bill.—Jack Canuck, Aug. 4.

Co-operative Store Plan Wins Favor in Sweden.

Stockholm, Aug. 14.—One-third of all the people in Sweden, chiefly from among the working class, are now buying goods from and are members of the Co-operative Association, which has made great gains in every direction, according to the annual report published.

The Co-operative Association of Sweden, which is the central organization of co-operative stores, and operates several factories, in its campaign to annihilate the middlemen where it seems economically desirable to do so, now has built up a membership of more than 900 consumers' leagues, and through these leagues serves about 2,000,000 persons in all parts of the country. During last year the total turnover in these leagues amounted to more than $53,000,000.

The Co-operative Association itself operates a margarine factory, a flour mill, a number of stores, and a savings bank. This activity resulted in a surplus last year of about $243,000. There was a considerable increase in the number of depositors in the savings accounts, so that, although the average per person fell, the total increase in the funds deposited during the year amounted to about $717,000. The stores reported that the volume of goods sold during the year represented thirteen turnovers of stock.

In its educational work the Association maintains two summer schools, besides 137 lecture courses, and a system of study courses by correspondence. It issued two periodicals, and last year published its almanac in an edition of nearly 200,000 copies.

How To SLEEP ON A BARE FLOOR

It is more a matter of SLEEP, than of bed or board.

Some people can sleep sitting up, standing up, even while walking. Many people can't sleep in the softest of downy beds; and all of us suffer occasionally from nervousness, weariness, tiring wakefulness at night.

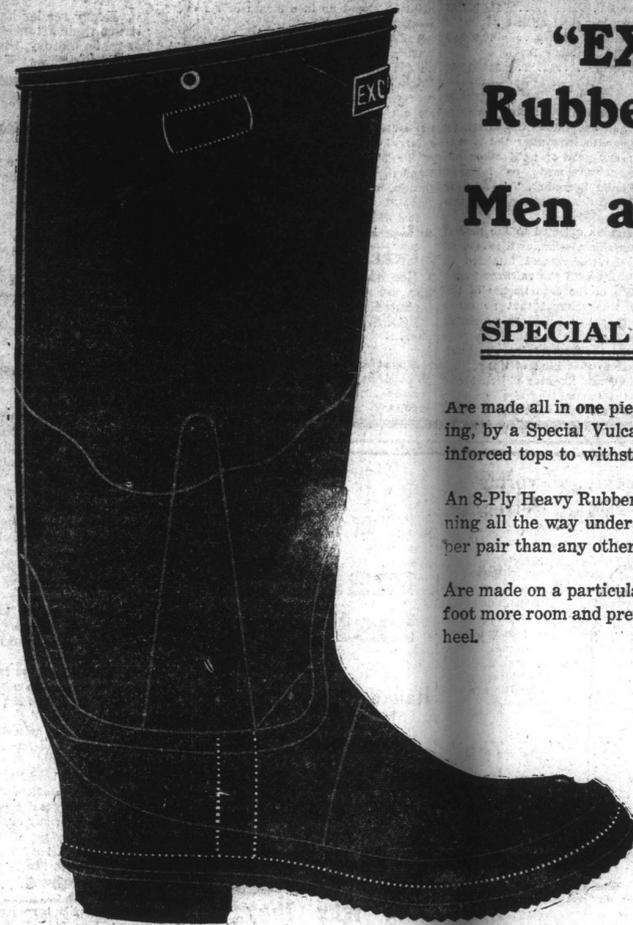

There is always a reason for sleeplessness. Usually, it is a "sour" stomach, a liver that has "lain down" on the job, congested bowels, or biliousness.

Then, just before retiring, take Beecham's Pills. They soothe an uneasy stomach, encourage the organs of digestion and elimination to natural activity, and ensure restful sleep no matter what!

Little But Plucky.

I once heard Mr. Robert Smilla, Morpeth's new M.P., contribute a good story to a discussion that was going on concerning the relative pluck and endurance of big men and those of lesser stature.

It concerned a man who applied at a wharf for work as a stevedore. He was a good bit under five feet in height, and the boss was doubtful about his capabilities.

"We're loading 300-pound anvils into that boat," said he, "and a little chap like yourself couldn't handle 'em."

"Try me!" said the man. The boss put him to work. The new man hustled the anvils aboard all right. The cargo was nearly all stowed away in the hold, when the boss heard a spinnal. He ran to the rail and saw the new-comer struggling in the water.

"Throw me a rope!" he yelled as he went under.

He reappeared, soon, and again yelled loudly for a rope. Then he disappeared again. Once more he rose to the surface.

"If you don't throw me a rope," he spluttered, "I'm going to drop this anvil!"

"What's Wanted."

A CHEAP HOUSE-WARMER, SIMPLER CLOTHING, AND A NEW GAME.

Mankind is always searching after new ideals that will lighten labour, increase production, or in other ways benefit the world. As a guide for inventors in the direction of present needs, Sir William Ball recently presented to the Institute of Patentees a book with the title, "What's Wanted."

He opened the volume himself with a list of 14 "wants," and now Professor Low, the well-known scientist and inventor, has made the following additional entries:—

A method of utilizing atomic energy.

A process for instantaneous colour photography.

A selective method of radio communication with really sharp tuning.

A light, efficient, slow speed internal combustion turbine.

Greatly simplified clothing, not strange in appearance.

An efficient method of varying radio oscillation frequencies over an almost unlimited range.

A loud speaker that is controllable without distortion.

Improved method of electrical storage and power transmission.

A cheap house warmer that can be fitted by anyone.

A new game of skill.

A method of conveying speech direct and readably to paper.

Caterpillar Tractors Solve Plowing Problem.

Minneapolis, Aug. 13.—Cultivation of peat lands in Minnesota through the medium of caterpillar tractors, an innovation in reclaiming these areas which for years were believed unfit for agriculture of any kind, has proved decidedly feasible, according to Prof. W. E. Peterson, of the Department of Agriculture, University of Minnesota, who has led a group of experimenters in this work.

The development of peat lands, also, promises to be no small matter, he said, as it has been definitely shown that properly drained, cultivated and fertilized peat lands will yield most abundant crops of tubers, roots and virtually all forage crops.

In explaining the features which make possible the use of the caterpillar tractor in cultivating this sort of land, Prof. Peterson pointed out that because of the looseness of the peat soil, it is almost impossible to use horses or tractors with ordinary wheels. In the caterpillar tractor the broader surface wheels enables the farmer to plow in a furrow which leaves good furrows, great power of the caterpillar tractor does a good job of making furrow slice about 20 inches in width and ten inches in depth, so that a low horsepower or light tractor could not do.

Home Remedies of Ancestors.

Almost every man and woman in America can remember the botanical cures of our mothers and grandmothers for the treatment of diseases which were wonderfully dependable. Every fall there were stored away in the attic thoroughwort, pennyroyal, catnip, sage, wormwood, rue, etc., treating ills of the family during winter months that followed. Lydia E. Pinkham's Vegetable Compound was first prepared from these botanical recipes, and the demand for it has increased so much that hundreds of tons of root and herbs are now used annually in its preparation. It has recently been tested that 98 out of every 100 women who try it have been benefited by its medicine to hold.

Beliefs With Queer Origins.
(John O'London's Weekly.)
There is an interesting explanation of the origins of some popular superstitions in the foreword to the Rev. MacGregor's "Highland Superstitions." For instance: "It is not the lack attending those who are beneath the ladders has also a queer origin. On the day of the battle of the Devil, in mortal gales, the ladders were taken down, and the soldiers took down the bodies of the dead beneath the ladders. While the ladders were being taken down, it is unlucky to walk beneath them since 'Touch wood!' was referred to in the sacred text of the Cross."
The Highlander still believes that some ancestors believed in the efficacy of the ancient Britons for going to paradise the soul of some dead Druid. So well did they do their absurd ideas on the day of the ignorant that, even at the present day, the appearance of a meteor, or of what are called falling stars, creates, among more credulous Highlanders, a more illustrious spirit has its flight into eternity. The last trial for witchcraft in Scotland took place as recently as a hundred and fifty years ago.

Russian Endeavoring to Restore Petrograd.

REVAL.—(A.P.)—Soviet Russia's attempt to restore Petrograd to its former importance at the gateway to North Russia is having a detrimental effect on the ports of Helsinki, Riga and Reval. The Moscow Government is diverting all possible business to Petrograd, and is making improvements in the harbor to enable large ships to enter with safety as they did in the days before Bolshevism worked ruin to the port which had lain idle for so long.
The Moscow Government holds no kindly feeling for Latvia and Estonia, and naturally does not care to have the ports of Reval and Riga continue to be gateways to Russia, as they were in the days of the Czar. Ice troubles are far less in Reval and Riga than in Petrograd. Bolshevism's efforts to keep Petrograd open through extremely cold weather have not been very successful, and the Russian Government was very unhappy over the necessity for shipping a large amount of American Relief Administration supplies through the ports of the new Baltic States rather than through Petrograd.
A recent census in Petrograd showed the city now has over half a million inhabitants. This was something

Rome, Aug. 15. (A.P.)—The small airplane is claiming the interested attention of aviators in Italy, who are experimenting in this field as are their colleagues in England, France and the United States.
Italian airmen have produced the "swallow," said to be the smallest plane in the world, with an engine of three horse power. So pleased are they that 100 machines are in course of construction.

Still Leads.

That Britain still maintains her supremacy as the leading operator of ships is shown by the current reports of the world's shipping business. The annual Register Book compiled by Lloyd's shows that the merchant navies of the whole world now include 33,697 vessels with an aggregate tonnage of 45,456,633. It also appears that while the latter figure has increased by nearly 33 per cent. since June, 1914, when it was in Great Britain and Ireland alone has increased only from 19,256,766 tons to 19,281,649 tons.
If we consider only sea-going steamers and motor vessels of steel or iron construction as being the class of shipping of most economic importance, says Engineering, in its review of the report, we find that the world's total tonnage has increased in the same period, and in round figures, from 42,514,000 tons to 57,939,000 tons, the difference of 15,425,000 tons representing an increase of 36 per cent. Of this class of shipping, 19,077,000 tons are now owned in Great Britain and Ireland, as compared with 18,877,000 tons in June, 1914, the difference of 200,000 tons being an increase of but little over one per cent. Canada, the Empire's Woodyard.

Of the total area of forests in the British Empire, Canada holds over 50 per cent. India has 14 per cent, and Australia and New Zealand about 8 per cent.
Seventy-five per cent. of the forest area of the Empire belongs to the people and only 25 per cent. to corporate bodies and private individuals. In Canada alone more than 85 per cent. of the forest is public owned.
The Canadian people gain from their forest possessions the enormous revenue of $500,000,000 a year, representing the production of all branches of our forest industries.
More than 100,000 men are engaged in Canada's converting forest products into wealth in some form or other. Nearly 400,000 other people depend on this "forest army" for their food and shelter.
In the pulp and paper mills are 33,000 men, drawing $40,000,000 a year in wages. The lumber industry pays $5,000,000 men $60,000,000 in wages annually. There are but two industries out of a score that are directly dependent on a forest supply.
The Canadian people cause 4,000 forest fires a year through recklessness. The burned material represents many times what is utilized by all industries from coast to coast.

To Editor, The Standard, Montreal.
Dear Sir,—In an idle hour I read letters apparently directed to the improvement of our conditions, but I am ignorant of their limitations. However I submit a few thoughts (tabloid) aroused in the perusal.
Our country is fruitful in rich promise, and although abounding in the varied seeds of successful industry, prudent and skilful cultivation is necessary to ensure a bounteous harvest.
The chief factor is fruitifying these gifts of nature is wise and capable Government, segregated from the influence of personal gain and corrupt power. Is this attainable? It is useful to bear in mind that this faculty is a science, and demands the highest in-

To-day our administration is extravagant; too many departments, too many offices, too great executive attendance. Government should be one and individual relying on its own syllabus and amenable for its failure; neither seeking nor depending on the voice of the mob, and with an unlistening ear to violent demands or alien dictation.
Is our ministry so aligned? In part—Yes, and notably strong save for a quietness of radicalism at the head, but with the major portion leaning towards political efficiency predominates. Excessive taxation is our Moloch—the freezing zone of all incentive to industrial effort. Like a sagacious merchant let us write our omerous and growing debts, make the best bargain of operations which be long not to Government but its constituents, make the soil attractive to settlers and turn your faces from the abomination of new taxes.

Bell Island's Annual Garden Party.

GREAT SUCCESS—ENTHUSIASTIC SPORTS PROGRAMME.

The annual Bell Island Garden Party was held on Saturday afternoon, August 11th on the Star, Field Bell Island and proved to be the big event of the season on the Iron Isle. The weather was ideal and thousands found their way from the different residential sections to the sports field. It is estimated that close on three thousand people attended, truly a record for a sporting event on Bell Island. The Sports Programme was attractive and were punctuated run off. Numerous tables for refreshments and side shows were in evidence, while a special pavilion was erected at the North end of the field where suppers were served by the ladies of the parish. The splendid Brass Band of Mt. Cashel were present accompanied by Prof. Bulley and Rev. Bro. Ennis. The following sports programme was run off under the Sports Committee, R. Coetigan being Chairman: J. M. Greene, Herald and Clerk of the course; John St. John, Timekeeper; Messrs. Thos. Blackwood and Joseph Morley, Judges, and John Emerson, starter.

During the afternoon a series of Pony Races were run off by the Horse Race Committee consisting of Andrew Murphy, Chairman, Dr. Vivannetti, Dr. J. B. Lynch, J. J. Farrell, James P. Flynn, James Metcalfe, R. Dwyer, J. Kelly. In the finals, which were very interesting, Peter Murphy's pony with Jockey Vincent Dwyer came first; Bob Bowdring's pony with Jockey Arthur Kehoe came second, and M. Sweeney's pony with Jockey Wm. Dwyer came third.

The prizes were presented by Rev. Fr. McGrath at the close of the evening after he had thanked the large gathering for their attendance. Cheers for Frs. McGrath and Rawlins were loudly given while a vote of thanks to Rev. Fr. McGrath proposed by J. M. Greene and supported by Thomas Wilcox was enthusiastically carried. The Garden Party was a wonderful success and was carried on by a strong committee of which Rev. Fr. Rawlins was Chairman; J. J. Carey, Secretary, and Messrs. R. D. Walsh and F. J. Burke, Treasurers. Particular mention should be made of the energy shown by Rev. Fr. Rawlins in this affair which terminated in such a successful manner.

SIDE TALK.

By Ruth Cameron.

THAT SOLICITOUS HOSTESS!

I know she thinks she is the perfect hostess. I know they all do—those women who are so pre-occupied with their desire to see that you have what you want to eat, and plenty of it, that they never allow the attention of the table to wander for more than a minute at a time from the important business of eating.

Their idea of an absolute tragedy would be to have a guest leave their table without having eaten as much as he possibly could. They change the medical dictum that everyone should rise from the table a little hungry, into "everyone should rise from the table absolutely stuffed."

If you do not like to stuff, they assume or pretend to assume something wrong with the food and keep you busy reassuring them.

Conversation at such a table goes something like this:

"Do Have Some More Peas."
Your Host: "How do you like your new car? I hear you made a pretty good trade with your old sedan. How did you put it over?"
You (beaming at the opportunity to tell a tale that redounds much to your shrewdness): "Well, you see I knew the agent."
Your Hostess: "Now Mr. Barclay, do have some more roast. You had the finest helping the first time. You won't have any more Well (archly), either you don't like beef or you must be dieting. I don't believe you need to diet. If I don't diet I guess you don't need to."

You (not being in a position to suggest she ought to diet) explain that you think the first helping was large.
"Or Some More Peas."
"Well, some more peas then."
You point out that you still have peas and potatoes.
"These peas came right out of our garden," insists the hostess, "you simply must have some more," and recalls your half full dish in spite of you. Beneath the weight of peas and potatoes and beef the car is buried completely. The garden motif has been

Ships and Shipments Abroad.

Two loading records were recently set up in the port of Montreal. The Montreal and St. Lawrence Ports Stevedores Company, Limited, through their London agents, Messrs. Hickie, Borman & Woods, Ltd., announce that the S.S. Stelfreda commenced loading on the morning of Monday, July 23, and completed the same night, having taken on board 264,000 bushels of wheat during the day. The S.S. Jelling commenced loading at 10 a.m. on July 21, and by 6 p.m. that day had received into her holds 120,000 bushels of wheat.

Another instance of the rapid discharge of wheat at Liverpool has come to hand. The S.S. Fatis, from Santa Fe, commenced to discharge her grain cargo outside into barges in the Alexandra Branch Dock, No. 2, at 8 a.m. on July 23. She worked that day and until 5 p.m. the next with two floating pneumatic suction elevators and on the following day completed her discharge by 1.30 p.m. with one suction elevator, the total discharge being 5,600 tons in a period of 20 working hours.

Some indication of the state of the concrete shipbuilding industry in Germany may be gained from the fact that at the recent annual general meeting of the Eisenbeton Schiffbau Aktiengesellschaft (Ferro-Concrete Shipbuilding Company), Hamburg, it was decided that the Company should go into liquidation, as, not only has the whole of the share capital been lost, but there is a further deficit of 402,000 mks.

The Clyde's output of new tonnage during July consisted of only five vessels and of these one was a dredger, built at Paisley. There has been only one month within the memory of the river's oldest statistical authorities when a lower tonnage was launched than that of April of last year when only one vessel of 25 tons was put into the water in the district. The seven months' total is almost equally poor. It consisted of 63 vessels of 148,411 tons, which was less by that of the first seven months of last year by 16 vessels of 54,943 tons and by 1913—the best on record—83 vessels of 230,563 tons. There has not been such a poor seven months since 1888—35 years ago—when 150,000 tons was a fairly normal figure.

Up till the end of June this year Scottish coal shipments aggregated 5,957,483 tons, as compared with 5,115,440 tons in the first six months of 1913 and 3,474,861 tons in 1922. So there was increases of 842,043 tons and 2,482,622 tons respectively. The process of recovery seems to be fairly rapid in net Scottish coal trade.

Wild Beast Market Reports High Prices.

Hamburg, Aug. 13. (A.P.)—Wild animals cost a good deal of money at the present time. A giraffe brings about $5,000; hippopotamuses from $3,500 to $5,000, and good lions are worth $1,250 each. The principal reason is scarcity. Post-war conditions have interfered with the pursuit of the industry of providing wild beasts, the European center of which is at Hamburg.

John Hagenback has applied to the British authorities for permission to send a party of German animal catchers to India, and hopes to head the expedition personally. In India he will revisit his old friend the Maharaja of Gwalior, from whose preserves Mr. Hagenback, in previous years, has obtained many tigers. It was the Indian dignitary's chief grief that he had no lions. Mr. Hagenback sent him eight of the kings of the animal world. The lions increased so rapidly in the thick forests that they became the terror of the entire country and caused the Maharaja much litigation and annoyance.

Price of Monkeys Advancing.

An interesting fact in connection with the monkey-gland treatment, for rejuvenating the appearance and restoring the vigour of youth to those of mature years, is its effect on the price of monkeys. Since Dr. Veronoff's discoveries, and the recent utterances which have been made foreshadowing the application of this treatment to women as well as to men, there has been a boom in the sale of monkeys. A vendor who formerly charged two or three guineas now realises, as much as eighty pounds apiece for these essential animals.

War Tactics Employed by Fleet in Recent Practice.

Washington, Aug. 13. (A.P.)—How the United States fleet, comprising three score naval craft, has been manoeuvred in the face of the searchlight, under, over and upon the water, is told in an official Navy document, a critique of the Panama Canal, which reveals the possibility of the United States being drawn into a war, both the Army and Navy staffs are proceeding on the assumption that hostilities would begin on a declaration of war and the first signalled by a terrific attack on the American soil.

The document reveals the possibility of the United States being drawn into a war, both the Army and Navy staffs are proceeding on the assumption that hostilities would begin on a declaration of war and the first signalled by a terrific attack on the American soil.

Wallace Silverware.

Is your Table Silver as good to-day as when you bought it?

Have you noticed that at the parts most exposed to wear, the plate has become worn?

Do you think this condition of your Silver is in keeping with your idea of a well appointed table?

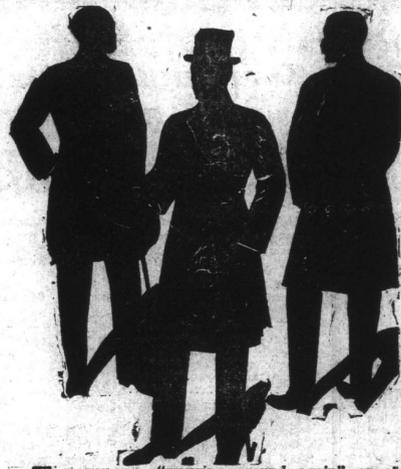

Then why not, when you decide on replacing your old ware, give place to it with the "Wallace" Brand, the Silver that refuses to wear and is guaranteed without limit.

Start with the Tea Spoons and gradually complete your Set with the one pattern—there are several for you to choose from and the price is very moderate.

Tea Spoons cost $8.00 for a Dozen.
