Parcel Post Service Inaugurated By Postmaster General Who Sent Present to Rideau Hall

Toronto Women Teachers To Get Higher Salaries—Extension of Hydro System—C.P.R. Criticized at Ottawa—Redistribution Bill Today—Bisley Regulations

PARCEL POST IS BOX OF HAVANAS GIVEN START AT OTTAWA

Postmaster-General Pelletier Sent Ornate Leather Mail Bag to Rideau Hall to Mark Inauguration of System, But Other Ceremonials Were Omitted.

(Special to The Toronto World)
OTTAWA, Tuesday, Feb. 10.—First parcel sent by Canadian parcel post, Feb. 10, 1914.
Such was the inscription in raised letters upon three brass bars affixed to the face of the handsome leather mail bag which was despatched as the first parcel post to His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught by Hon. L. P. Pelletier, postmaster-general, at 12 o'clock last midnight.

Without any ceremony or formality the Canadian system of parcel post was inaugurated, and the first parcel forwarded to its destination. The mail bag will be used in future to convey his royal highness' mail to and from government house and the postoffice here. Below the inscription is the royal coat of arms and the initials of H. R. H.

When Clock Struck Twelve. Mr. Pelletier did not wait until midnight to post the first parcel. He called at the Ottawa postoffice early in the evening, purchased the necessary stamps, affixed them to the parcel and mailed it. At midnight the departmental automobile called at the postoffice, picked up a mail bag containing the parcel and carried it to Rideau Hall, where it was received by the secretary, who had been instructed to await its coming.

The officials and staff of the Ottawa postoffice mailed to Madame Pelletier a beautiful bouquet of flowers as a souvenir of the inauguration of the system.

Northwestern Ontario Municipalities Combine to Take Hydro-Electric Power

LISTOWEL, Ont., Feb. 9.—At an organization meeting here tonight, attended by representatives of a number of Northwestern Ontario municipalities, the Northwestern Ontario Hydro Association was formed, and a delegation appointed to call upon Hon. Adam Beck to urge the claims of the district, which at present is outside the hydro zone, to hydro power.

NEW PLANS TO PACIFY ULSTER

Sir Horace Plunkett Proposes Various Concessions Including Provision for a Plebiscite.

LONDON, Feb. 10.—Sir Horace Plunkett, noted for his advocacy of agricultural co-operation and technical education, whose opinion in Irish matters carries great weight with all parties, outlines in The Daily Mail a novel plan for settling the Ulster problem. He is firmly of the opinion that the passage of the home rule bill as it stands will lead to serious sectarian riots, perhaps to civil war in Ulster, and to avert such a disaster he proposes that the Ulster Unionists should accept the bill upon three conditions:

First, that a clause should be inserted enabling it to be decided by a plebiscite after a certain number of years, whether any section of Ulster desired to continue subject to the Irish parliament.

Second, that both sections of Irishmen should be invited to suggest to the government any amendments which could be incorporated in the bill by consent.

Third, that the Ulster volunteers should be given an opportunity to become organized as a territorial force, with the double object of adding a valuable body to the nation's defensive forces, and preserving intact for the Ulster Unionists an ultimate safeguard, on which, rightly or wrongly, they can rely for the preservation of their liberties.

Sir Horace contends that acceptance of this scheme would furnish a valuable experiment for the various sides in the home rule difficulty.

M'GIBBON WILL GIVE EVIDENCE AT INQUIRY

Laverne's Request That Montreal Financier Be Called to Quebec Approved by Chairman Taschereau—Lemieux With Carpenter.

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—(Special)—All proceedings in connection with further enquiries of the investigation committees of both houses appointed to look into the charges made by The Montreal Daily Mail against J. O. Mousseau, Achille Bergevin and L. P. Berard were postponed until tomorrow on decision of the legislative assembly this afternoon.

Important witnesses, when the enquiry is resumed, are likely to be D. Lorne McGibbon and Hon. Rodolphe Lemieux. Mr. Laverne, in the lower house this afternoon, requested Mr. Taschereau, chairman of the investigating committee, to summon D. Lorne McGibbon, and Mr. Taschereau promised that he would. The summoning of Hon. Mr. Rodolphe Lemieux is a direct result of the statement of C. P. K. Carpenter of Gaspé, to the effect that Mr. Lemieux had given him a letter introducing him to the promoters of the Montreal Fair Association bill. Mr. Lemieux has announced his willingness to be heard before the committee, and he will therefore be called.

On the understanding that the investigating committee of the lower house would proceed this afternoon, M. E. Nichols, president and managing director of The Daily Mail,

REDISTRIBUTION BEFORE HOUSE

Premier Will Introduce Measure This Afternoon—Boundaries of Ridings Not Indicated.

(Special to The Toronto World)
OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Mr. Borden tomorrow will introduce his bill for redistributing the seats in the house of commons, in accordance with the last census, and will make a brief statement as to the policy and position of the government. No discussion is anticipated until the second reading of the bill, which will probably be moved on Thursday, when a special committee will be named. As already announced, the schedules of the bill will be in blank so that no indication will be given as to the boundaries of the various ridings throughout the country.

NEW ZEALAND SCARED BY INFLUX OF HINDUS

Premier Massey Says Invasion Must Be Checked at All Costs.

CHRISTCHURCH, N.Z., Tuesday, Feb. 10.—The Dominion Government is becoming alarmed at the great influx of Hindus that is taking place into New Zealand. For the past seven months there has been a steady increase in their numbers. Premier Massey declared: "Something must be done at once to prevent this undue influx," and expresses his intention of dealing with the matter firmly.

REV. A. E. BURKE TO BE BISHOP?

Reports are current in the west that Rev. A. E. Burke of Toronto, president of the Catholic Church Extension Society, will be appointed bishop of the Roman Catholic Diocese of Regina, in Saskatchewan, to succeed the late Bishop Mathieu, who, it is expected, will shortly be translated to the Diocese of Quebec.

The World ascertained definitely last night that no action with respect to the elevation to the episcopate of a member of the Toronto priesthood had so far been taken, although the appointment of Bishop Mathieu as assistant Bishop of Quebec would probably be made.

On the Regina bishopric becoming vacant, a list of names will be furnished by the Roman Catholic authorities in Canada to Rome, and a name will probably be selected from the list for the office.

Three More for Hydro

DRUMBO, Feb. 9.—As a result of the voting on hydro-electric bylaws today, Drumbo, Glaserville and Princeton have joined the power union. Large majorities were polled in all three villages. The results were as follows: Princeton, for 59, against 23; Drumbo, for 58, against 3; Glaserville, for 89, against 2.

PETROLEUM NOT TO BE EXPORTED

Embargo Will Apply to Crude or Partly Manufactured Product in Western Canada.

OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—Hon. Dr. Reid, minister of customs, has given notice of an important resolution which will be followed by a bill to amend the Export Act to prohibit the exportation of crude or partly manufactured petroleum obtained in the Provinces of Manitoba, Saskatchewan, Alberta, British Columbia, the Northwest Territories, or the Yukon.

It is interesting to remember in connection with this proposed measure that the government has arranged with the British admiralty that the navy will have the first call on the product of the oil fields of Canada, should this be necessary for fuel for the ships of war of the British Empire.

STOP IMPORTATION OF POWER FROM CANADA

U. S. Congress Urged to Take Action to Preserve Niagara Falls.

WASHINGTON, Feb. 8.—Richard B. Watrous, representing the American Civic Association, today appealed to Secretary Garrison to oppose any of the pending legislation which would permit of the importation into the United States of a larger amount of power than is now admitted from Canada at Niagara Falls. He argued that there is no way probably to utilize on the Canadian side more power than is now produced and that to stop the exportation of surplus power to the United States would be the most effective way to preserve the scenic beauty of the falls from injury by further diversion of water for power purposes.

GOVERNMENT SHOULD REFUSE TO DEAL WITH ANY COMPANY IN TRANSPORTATION COMBINE

Prominent Army Officer South York Member Laid Down Principle in Debate Arising From Halifax-St. John Rivalry—Emmerson Charged That Intercolonial is Mere Pack-Mule for the C.P.R.

(Special to The Toronto World)
OTTAWA, Feb. 9.—That the Dominion Government should have no dealings with railway and steamship companies in the ocean pool and transportation combine until they explain their connection with the same and withdraw therefrom, was the doctrine enunciated in the house of commons this evening by W. F. Maclean, M.P. for South York, in a brief speech contributed to one of the most important debates of the session.

The motion before the house was the resolution offered by Mr. A. K. Maclean, the Liberal member for Halifax, in relation to the removal of the Canadian Northern steamers, the Royal Edward and Royal George, from Halifax to St. John, N.B. He claimed that under-pressure had been brought to bear upon the Canadian Northern by the government.

C.P.R. Milking I.C.R. The discussion widened, however, until there came under investigation not only the removal of the Royal steamers from Halifax to St. John, but also the removal of the Canadian Pacific steamers, the Empresses, from St. John to Halifax. The charge was openly made that Mr. Gutelius, the general manager of the Intercolonial, had made a most improvident contract with the Canadian Pacific respecting traffic between St. John and Halifax, and Hon. Mr. Emmerson said that the education of the Canadian Pacific railway for the Canadian Pacific mail.

Parliamentary Supremacy. Mr. W. F. Maclean, however, took the position that a far greater question was involved than the rival claims of Halifax and St. John, or even the alleged discrimination against the Intercolonial by the Canadian Pacific Railway Company. He declared, in view of the fact that the Canadian Pacific was notoriously a member, and a prominent member of the ocean pool, connected with the inland navigation merger, and also in a combine to control freight rates from Western Canada to British ports, by land and water, that the government should have had no business dealings with the C.P.R., and should have given that company no concessions over the Intercolonial. He further declared that we should not ask help from England or the United States in dealing with the ocean pool, but discipline our railways and transportation companies through the power of parliament.

The prime minister and Mr. Hazen spoke early in the debate in reply to Mr. Maclean of Halifax and Mr. Carvell, Hon. H. R. Emmerson, Mr. E. Macdonald, and Mr. Turgeon, Gloucester, N.B., also spoke, and the debate was finally adjourned by Hon. Robert Rogers.

WAR OFFICE IS MORE REPENTANT

Willing to Send Official to Confer With Hon. Sam Hughes on Bisley Regulations.

LONDON, Tuesday, Feb. 10.—The pointed speech of Col. Hughes in the Dominion House last week apropos of the new regulation issued by the army council excluding the use of the aperture sight at Bisley, has proved effective. They of course recognize that for Canadianians to compete with sights they never used would be an unfair handicap on them. On the other hand, they argue it would be equally unfair to permit them to use a kind of sight which was forbidden to others. Although debarred from using the aperture sight in territorial competitions Canadianians would probably derive a compensating advantage in "open to all comers" competitions. This and cognate questions will doubtless be fully threshed out at the forthcoming conference between the British and Dominion authorities.

CLASSES REORGANIZED WITHOUT ANY TROUBLE

District Inspectors of Schools Report Junior Classes Placed on New Basis.

A complete reorganization of the public school junior classes on the basis of a maximum of fifty was reported by the district inspectors at the meeting of the board of inspectors yesterday.

One of the members of the board said: "The reorganization has been effected without a hitch so far as I have heard. It was not as bad as expected. It was only intended to make a change this month up to the school book. The reorganization of the junior classes is not to take place until after the mid-summer vacation."

WOMEN TEACHERS WILL GET MORE

Board of Education is in Favor of Increased Salaries, But Not for Men.

Good news is to be handed out to the women teachers of the public schools when action is taken on their application for a maximum of $1200, instead of $1000, and of yearly increases of $100, instead of half that rate.

Prominent members of the board of education intimated to The World yesterday that the revised request of the women teachers was equitable, and should be dealt with favorably.

The attitude towards the application of the male principals was that in a few special cases of very long service the date for granting the maximum might be hastened.

The application of the assistant male teachers for a maximum of $1800, instead of $1500, was not endorsed by the trustees interviewed by The World.

TITANIC OWNERS ARE HELD LIABLE

Negligence Found by British Court of Appeal—No Technical Loophole.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The court of appeal today dismissed the appeal of the White Star Steamship Co. from a decision of the King's bench court on June 30, declaring illegal the condition printed on the steamship tickets exempting the company from liability for loss by a passenger even though the negligence of the company's servants. The question of legality of this exempting clause had been raised in a test case brought by an Irish farmer, claiming damages for the loss of his son in the Titanic disaster. Lord Justice Sir Roland Vaughan Williams, in delivering judgment, said he thought the danger to the Titanic was neither unforeseen nor unforeseeable, and that practice did not justify a vessel in maintaining her course and speed when the warnings of danger ahead were such as the Titanic received. A resolution in this sense was unanimously adopted by the court, exempting the company from liability for negligence was declared invalid.

SUPREME NAVY IS LONDON'S DEMAND

Representatives of Big Interests Passed Resolution Favoring Increased Armaments.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—"We must have a country to squabble in, and the only way to assure that is a full policy of insurance as represented by a supreme navy," a remark made by Sir Edward Coates, a Unionist member of parliament, was the keynote of a meeting today of representatives of the City of London, held at the Guild Hall under the presidency of the lord mayor. The requisition for the meeting had been signed by about 1000 of the leading bankers, merchants, shipowners, etc., of all political creeds, and it was held for the purpose of assuring the government that the citizens of London would cordially support it in any measures necessary to give effect to the recommendations of the admiralty to ensure the supremacy of the navy and the security of British commerce. A resolution in this sense was unanimously adopted by the meeting, which represented hundreds of millions of capital.

MURRAY AND MARCONI EDITOR REVIVES CHARGES

Appointment of Committee of Investigators Necessary to Clear Air.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A cable from London to The New York Times says: On the eve of the reassembling of parliament, L. J. Maxse, editor of The National Review, returns to Lord Murray's connection with the Marconi share dealings in a long letter to The Morning Post. Among other things, Mr. Maxse suggests that the House of Commons appoint a select committee to examine Lord Murray on both, and thus "square him the temptation of making a speech without any moral sanction." Referring to Lord Murray's dealings with the missing stock broker, Fenner, Mr. Maxse says that Lord Murray's trusteeship of the Liberal party's funds cost the party between $1,500,000 and $2,000,000 thru one broker alone, apart from any losses on American Marconi.

GERMAN SHIPBUILDERS MUST BE KEPT BUSY

Hence Naval Holiday Out of Question, It is Explained.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Admiral Von Tirpitz, the German naval minister, makes the interesting confession that his refusal to entertain Churchill's suggestion of a "naval holiday" is mainly due to "industrial reasons." Britain, he says, having so much work for abroad, could cease building for the British navy without demoralizing her labor conditions. German yards, on the other hand, would be compelled to shut down during the "naval holiday."

HOME RULE WILL BE GREAT ISSUE

Unionist Leaders Decided at Conference Yesterday to Fight to Finish.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—The full fighting forces of the various British political parties, in response to the urgent demands of their leaders, arrived in London today for the opening of parliament, of which the coming session starting tomorrow promises to be one of the most exciting for many years. The Unionist leaders who held another meeting today decided to make Ulster's opposition to home rule the paramount issue, and according to current reports will refuse to allow discussion of any other subjects in the hope of thus forcing the government to dissolve parliament and refer the Irish home rule question to the people. Both in the house of commons and in the house of lords amendments are to be moved to the address in reply to the king's speech. These will express regret that nothing has been done to satisfy the demands of Ulster. Should these amendments fail to move the government the house of lords will send an address to the king in support of an appeal to the country, which will withhold their consent to the army annual bill and the expiring laws continuance bill, thus generally playing heretofore with the normal processes of parliament and leaving the country without any authorized armed force and with many of its laws in suspense.

CIVIL WAR HANGS OVER PARLIAMENT

Session Which Opens Today Most Important in Many Decades.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A cable to The Tribune from London says: The King will open in state tomorrow the most momentous parliamentary session of many decades. One great issue will put every other question into the shade. Never before in living memory has parliament met with the shadow of civil war darkening it. The there are several very pressing problems, such as that of the navy, the South African deportations, the Welsh church bill and education, the thought that all will be ever present in the minds of all parties for months is whether the home rule bill will be passed and the people of Ulster driven to the extreme measures which they have so loudly proclaimed they will take by way of resisting it. In view of the gravity of the question, in the official Unionist view, the house of lords is taking the remarkable course of raising an amendment to the address, demanding a general election. This amendment, which will be moved by Lord Middleton, is in the following terms: "This house regrets that the gracious speech from the throne contains no mention of any intention on the part of his majesty's government, to obtain the sanction of the nation before carrying into law grave changes in the constitution."

FINANCIER TO BE QUEBEC WITNESS

McGibbon and Lemieux to Play Star Parts in Investigation.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—A cable to The Tribune from London says: The investigation had been postponed until tomorrow, B. A. Macmah, editor of The Daily Mail, will arrive in Quebec tomorrow morning. "Nearing the End." "From present indications," said Mr. Taschereau to a World man today, "I should say that the main evidence is completed. Although it is impossible to state definitely, I do not think that the investigation of the lower house committee will take more than a couple of days or so."

"And the presentation of the report to the house?" "As to that I cannot be definite," Mr. Taschereau replied, "but consideration of the report should only occupy a few days. It will, of course, be submitted before the end of the present session." Sir Lower Gouin makes light of current rumors that dissolution is likely to follow the close of the session. "There is no likelihood of dissolution," the prime minister remarked when questioned on the subject. "There is no change against the government nor any member of the government, nor has there been the slightest hint that the government is involved in any way whatever." Detectives Are Coy. There is considerable discussion about the alleged disappearance of Guy B. Biddinger and Samuel Maloney, the Burns detectives who had conducted the investigation against the three ex-members of the legislature. A wire was received from these two detectives stating they would not return unless they were guaranteed $75 per day and expenses. It is contended on behalf of The Mail that there is no further need for these two detectives to appear before the committee as far as proving the charges is concerned. Therefore, unless the committees of the upper and lower houses guarantee expenses, they will not appear again in Quebec. It is pointed out that it is not The Daily Mail that wants these detectives, but among others, Mr. Jean Prevost, who demanded the reappearance of Mr. Biddinger without giving definite reason for the summons of the detectives.

NEWS OF SPECIAL INTEREST TO WOMEN

FIRST NIGHTS AT TORONTO THEATRES

STRONGEST DRAMA OF WHOLE SEASON

"Fine Feathers" Given by All Star Cast at the Princess.

"LITTLE TOO TRAGICAL" Said a Woman Who Evidently Did Not Take Life Seriously.

"A little too tragical for me," said a woman with a society simper and a giggle, as the big audience filed out of the Princess at the conclusion of "Fine Feathers." For those who dislike to take life seriously the play may not be popular, but for those who admire drama of the highest type on modern lines, closely knit as to plot, keenly observant, even subtle at times, as to character; graphically faithful to the life of the times; and magnificently acted with a naturalness and easy realism which justifies the existence of the American stage, Eugene Walters' play offers an opportunity which very rarely occurs. It is a big, graft story, commonplace enough in the central incident, and perhaps a little weak in this respect, for the final analysis and tests on a cement contract of such dimensions that a slight variation in the specification would make a difference of $200,000, are not usually left to the decision of a man on $25 a week. But the possibility is not unreasonable, as business is sometimes done. Bob Reynolds (Robert Edeson) is the cement tester, and his wife (Florence Rockwell) wants fine clothes, less housework and more gadding about than $25 a week permits. John Brand (Wilton Lackaye) is the typical big millionaire grafter and clean skater, and the study of this character by the actor is one of the best of the season. With deft, sure touch, the iron mask of nerves that is not altogether unassailable, the resources of bluff, and the calm, unflinching greed of the man, with a multitude of details that perfect the picture of the accomplished modern pirate, Mr. Lackaye produces a type which may remain. Nothing more cynical or more materially reasonable could be imagined than the calculation for his own safety when the dam goes down, into which the inferior cement has been grafted. "An act of God," that's our position. Murder is demanded. And he understands Reynolds for his qualms of conscience. "You preach your life and liberty away just for the fun of hearing yourself gab." Mr. Edeson gives a strong picture of a man too weak in business ability to cope with the world, led away by love of his wife to indulge her in the accused. Speculation and brandy follow, and the end is suicide. The quiet repression of his wife's flight, the climax of the third act is a powerful if sombre picture, whose strength is reflected in the following act. Miss Rockwell gave a strong study of the shallow, selfish wife, misdirected at first by the worldly Mrs. Collins, a part taken with clever humor by Rose Coghlan. Her specious pleading, with all the femininity and treachery of the woman's determination to gain her point, the wily device of putting him in the wrong when she knew he was right, and her ready acceptance of the sophistries and fallacies of Brand were given a life-like embodiment. Max Pigman, as Meade, the reporter, a necessary chorus in the plot, was excellent, and the humorous picture of the Scandinavian servant, Frieda, by Lydon Dickson, was a peppy bloom in a foliage border. There will be no stronger drama around this season, and it should have large patronage.

HER OWN MONEY A PLAY OF HOME

Story of a Domestic Tempest Stirred Up in a Teapot.

JULIA DEAN THE WIFE

There is at the Alexandra this week in "Her Own Money" another of the domestic tempests stirred in a teapot. The cup is small and fragile at times and the elements beaten up into the action are not remarkable in any way for their strength. The effect occasionally seems to be far-fetched, but in general is true enough to family life as the world knows it. The energy and thought put into it by Julia Dean and one or two others contribute in no small degree to making it a play to "carry with the public." Dr. Chas. Goss in an excellent little book of his dealing with the relations of husband and wife strikes on the whole-souled concentration of the business man in his daily routine and his gradual ostracism from the family group and the finer feelings it should generate. It is the same thought brought out in "Her Own Money." The play, whether thru conscious effort or not, reveals for a moment the humilation which a woman feels in asking for a share in the household purse. There is no question of the serious proportions of the problem today, but without doubt it requires some strong imaginative strokes on a writer's part to develop it into such a separation as that pictured here. Until the last act Julia Dean carries thru the spirit of the modern wife in acceptable manner. She displayed a sense of reticence which undoubtedly exists in such cases and she speaks her mind firmly, which is also to be expected. The dramatic moments of the last act, however, are a little stiff in their reading. On Walter Wilson and Maud Durand develops the chief responsibility of making the comedy comic. The humor is homely, but well-turned, and works in with the general theme.

LIVING STATUES A PRETTY SIGHT

Illusion is So Cleverly Accomplished That It Seems to Be Real.

THE BILL AT SHEA'S

Illusions startling and sensational enough to seem reality are seen in the extraordinary mythological water pantomime in "Neptune's Garden of Living Statues," Leonie Shees' this week. The rise of the curtain on this act reveals a garden in which Grecian statues are grouped in the most artistic manner possible, in accordance with Greek art. Silence reigns over the scene until the entrance of Don Martinez and Beryl, who pass the time in dancing. The struggle the interloper falls into the pool in the centre of the garden, taking the charm with him. The human voice has power to waken the statues to life, and at the dying scream of Rodo, one of the apparently marble statues rises and follows into the pool. In the drama that follows, one of the most interesting features is the successive awakening of the statues and their reappearance from water, clothed in the colored costumes of the play. Miss Clara Sexton, as the Spirit of Amphitrite carrying her trident, is the beneficent being who presides over the destinies of those in the pool. At the sound of her beautiful voice the demoted dance of Martinez and his attendant, Rodo, appears from the water, and the statues on the pool in the form of bewitching Nereids of old. The only things that tend to lessen the illusion of being really in the land of the nymphs and naiads is the introduction of what appears to be a very up-to-date dance, and the fact that the last act, however, is a little stiff in their reading.

"THE WHITE SLAVE" IS STILL POPULAR

Famous Old Southern Play the Offering at the Grand.

A REAL MLODRAMA

A real melodrama—one of the old-fashioned kind, with the atmosphere of the southern plantation life during and after the civil war—"The White Slave," Bartley Campbell's great play, began a week's engagement at the Grand Opera House last night and scored a big hit. It won applause from an interested and appreciative audience that filled every part of the house. The play embraces a feature for every kind of theatregoer, and, if the reception accounts for anything, the Grand will see capacity houses while the engagement lasts. Among the people who take part in it there is a sweet, patient heroine, who shows her true grit and character when the occasion arises; the hero, a big manly fellow, who sows his wild oats and squanders a fortune that is not his, but who later atones for all his misdoings and wins the heroine whom he has loved since childhood; the peculiar old planter who dies with a secret on his lips; the villain; the plantation negroes and other characters who show every side of life. The singing and dancing of the negroes in the company were about as good as have been given on any stage for many years, and the performers were frequently encored. Among the scenic features was a realistic reproduction of an explosion and fire on the Mississippi steamer Belle Greole, and the spectacular burning of the wreck; the scene showing Red Devil Island and the capture of the castaways; the passing of steamers up and down the Mississippi River. The plot of the play turns on the pitiful tale of the girl patient heroine, who is a white woman—her trials, the insults and degradations inflicted upon her, after she is sold into slavery, her flight with her lover, the cruel master, who is the villain of the play, and the happy denouement when her identity is revealed by a lawyer, who furnishes a great part of the comedy of the play. Lillian Lee Anderson, in the character of Lisa, plays the part in a manner that arouses the sympathy of the audience and displays exceptional ability in the emotional scenes. The supporting cast is well cast and among the popular old melodrama is given a first-class production.

Claims for Higher Salaries Backed Up by Strong Deputation.

HIGH COST OF LIVING

Makes It Necessary to Pay More for Good Educators.

"Ladies Day" was celebrated at the board of education finance committee yesterday. Finance Chairman Trustee Brown smiled graciously at twenty-six fashionably gowned leaders in various spheres of the woman's realm who trooped into the committee room at 4.30 yesterday afternoon. Sixteen principals and assistant masters were also present.

Trustee Brown beamed on the ladies as he invited them to state their views. Miss Knowles, president of the Women Teachers' Association, said the aim of their deputation was that of the committee. It was the advancement of the educational interests of the city. Mrs. James George, representing the Imperial Order of the Daughters of the Empire, asked the committee to remember that a woman teacher followed a vocation which was not liberally remunerated when the relative value of the time and expenditures required to procure a second-class certificate was considered. The requests of the Women Teachers' Association for the maximum to be paid had been heartily endorsed by the Daughters of the Empire as both reasonable and just.

Mrs. Glasgow, representing the Woman's Council of Toronto, said that the three thousand members of the societies in that federation was a unit in endorsing the request of the lady teachers. They recognized that increases in salary had not kept pace with the percentage of increase of the cost of living. Miss MacGregor, speaking for the Women Teachers' Association, quoted the Young Women's Christian Association and the House of Economics Association as having endorsed their appeal for more commensurate remuneration. Speaking in a tone of optimism and confidence, Miss MacGregor dealt in a lighter vein with the taxpayers' problem. The trustees had of course, to face the fact that the Young Women's Christian Association and the House of Economics Association had endorsed their appeal for more commensurate remuneration. Speaking in a tone of optimism and confidence, Miss MacGregor dealt in a lighter vein with the taxpayers' problem. The trustees had of course, to face the fact that the Young Women's Christian Association and the House of Economics Association had endorsed their appeal for more commensurate remuneration.

The attendance at high-priced entertainments indicated that the citizens of Toronto were in a position to pay for what they wanted, and would support the trustees in adjusting the anomalous situation of women teachers under the present rules of the salary schedule. Miss MacGregor said that the talk of hard times would speedily pass away. The large attendance at high-priced entertainments and the hockey matches, and the fact that the trustees did not go to hockey matches, "Trustee Brown: 'Indeed we do' (Laughs).

ROLLER SKATING ACT IS GOOD AT THE STAR

Bedini's "Mischiefs Makers" Present Two Pleasing Burlettas—Three Good Voices.

orma Brown, Marie Gates and Helen Stanley, with Jean Bedini's "Mischiefs Makers," this week's attraction at the Star Theatre, sing a number of songs that take well with the audience. "My Lady's Fan," presented by Julian Dove, and posed by several members of the company, excited much interest and admiration, and is well worth seeing. The show, divided into two parts, the first burletta being "Cupid's Dart," in which Harry Bentley, Tommy Carter and Jimmie Cooper, the funny men, show their talent to good advantage. "Golf Crazy" is the second burletta. Helen Lorraine and H. De Silvio, in the roller skating specialty, were good.

FLY IN FILM MACHINE CAUSES THEATRE PANIC

Patrons of Moving Picture Show in Pittsburgh Experience Real Thriller.

PITTSBURGH, Pa., Feb. 9.—A common house fly, magnified several hundred times at the expense of the audience, was the cause of a panic among the patrons of a moving picture show in Pittsburgh last night. The machine operator had barely begun to run off the "thriller" of the night when there appeared on the screen a monster with legs like the limbs of a big tree, eyes as big as saucers, and a huge body covered with hair that looked like standing wheat. At the first appearance of the monster women and children screamed and a rush was made for the door. The attaches of the theatre quickly threw open the main entrance, but the audience pressed toward the doors some one yelled "It's only a fly in the machine," ending the panic.

THE GARDEN CONDUCTED BY RACHEL R. TODD M.D. Nurseries and The Study of Water Gardens

Saturday and Sunday are the only days when school children can get all the fresh air and sunshine they ought to have, so let every week-end be spent almost entirely in the open air. Let them play as much as possible to withstand the dangers of confinement during the week. Even delicate children should be kept out. The days of a hen to rove or a book to read in winter are happily a thing of the past. Little children are not hardy enough for long tramps or energetic sports; but they can play about in the sunshine so long as they feel like it. I asked the three-year-old child he was to come to just a few minutes ago. "Oh, no, I'd rather stay out all day." And it's as cold as any winter enthusiast could want it, too. A sleigh and a bicycle with a little hill in it; and if possible, a dog to run in the way, and there's happiness and health for you—if you're a three-to-six-year-old.

Week-end outdoor life will help keep the children in good condition—if fresh air is not excluded from the schools and homes during the week. Let them play as much as possible each day, sleep in rooms with windows wide open and understand the benefits of frequent bathing. Such children will keep well thru the winter months, and will be strong enough to withstand disease. It is important that the nose and throat be kept healthy by spraying the nostrils, gargling the throat and cleaning the teeth.

Do not begrudge a small sum of money to buy some suitable thick, black mould, to spread in the bottom of the tub, at least to the depth of some inches. If you are going to have a water garden, give yourself a chance to be successful. Good black soil is one of the "chances." Never forget to place a few chunks of charcoal in these starting beds, even letting the chunks sink into the mud because the soil will be mud just as soon as the water is poured into the tub, that is all the inside preparation necessary for the reception of your coming roots. As soon as the various roots arrive soak each one a few days in lukewarm water before immersing them in the tub in the cells. And it is a good idea also after the soaking to roll the roots lightly in some moss or fibres, thus giving some weight to the roots that have a tendency at first to remain on or near the surface of the water. Do not be afraid to push down into the mud every day any such roots as seem to wish to come up and take the air. Pushing them into the mud is a benefit to each, since you wish the more or less firm hold in the mud. Never use the slightest trace of manure in your preparations for water plants. Just remember that any outdoor ponds that are so contaminated are never suitable for the culture of aquatics. (To Be Continued.)

Good Shoes and Gloves Redeem Plainest Frock

By MADGE MARVEL

Like the long, tapering hand, has ever given the impression of aristocracy in the accepted meaning of the word. And, while we are becoming more and more joined in the community of the world interests and activities, we are trying to keep up to the highest type of being.

There are three styles of heels to divide favor, the Cuban, a modified edition of the well known Louis, and a new model called the "kidney heel," which has the curve in the centre somewhat like a spoon.

There has been a tendency lately toward the light fawn and palest gray gloves as a change from the white which have been in favor to the exclusion of all else.

There has been a lot of talk about the heel-less shoe. I have tried to find out if it is being worn to any great extent.

Habit of Calm May Be Cultivated

By LOUISE DRESSER

CULTIVATE the blessed spirit of Calm, which, being interpreted, means stop worrying. That is the first and most important beauty hint I can give to any woman who wants to improve her appearance.

I thoroughly believe in the right of every woman to strive with all her might to attain unto beauty and enjoy the pleasure and advantage it gives.

One thing is sure, the fabric glove, which is so beautifully comfortable and so easily kept in a state of constant cleanliness, will be more fashionable than ever.

There are so many women who make such a pitiful mistake in their outlook of life and the mistakes in their lives.

The pernicious habit leaves its imprint in her expression and transforms her features. It writes the lines about her eyes, and dulls the sparkle of the eyes themselves.

I wish I had the power and the eloquence to make every woman in whom the perfectly sane desire to be beautiful exists appreciate the vital necessity for overcoming the worry habit.

Secrets of Health and Happiness

Science Now Has Cure for "Red Nose" Victims

By Dr. LEONARD KEENE HIRSHBERG

A. B., M. A., M. D. (Johns Hopkins)

Copyright, 1914, by L. K. Hirschberg.

CICERO received his name by virtue of vice of his nose. The damask nose of Falstaff's boon companion has transferred his name to the vermilion protuberance as "Bardolphian."

Napoleon III was nicknamed "Nosey," and this same exclamation was common in the theatres where amiable but conspicuous bon vivants each carried his own little red living lamp.

Tycho Brahe, the Danish astronomer, who lost his nose in a duel, adopted a golden one, which was attached to his face by a red sealing wax cement.

Everybody remembers the red-nosed wife of Lieut. Nobeag of the Dragons in the time of George II. She was the inquisitive travelling companion of Waverly when he went by stage to London.

Still, noses are more necessary than merely to be counted. If the King of Orpheus and Eurydice is any judge, Children at least recall his verse: For a few radium applications, Three applications, at different intervals, each less than five minutes, has cured many.

Another professor is in favor of the X-ray and other methods of treatment, and still another often uses a mirror with a score of lancet blades in it. This is applied to the reddened surface to make a series of small punctures. When they heal a pale skin remains where the vermilion once was.

Causes of the Color. Since the language of the physiologists is widely read and understood, the words will large upon your face are easily comprehended even by little children, no lacrim or silence can change it.

Just as the face is the shorthand of the mind, the nose is the pencil which it employs to crowd a great deal in a little space.

Therefore, hesitate long before you conclude that behind every Venetian nose du Barry protuberance there lurks a heavy drinker.

One prominent surgeon is a blue-ribbon testator about noses, yet, due to exposure in Canadian gales and all sorts of icy weather, his nose became so scarlet that the suffragettes and other militant vice crusaders and temperance folk drew their own conclusions and would have none of him.

Another very fine gentleman, who abhors all liquors and vices, has been blackballed in several reformer's clubs, city clubs and similar societies because these modern Godfrey de Bouillons see vile motives where none exist.

Usually red noses are the outward symbols of a defective digestive canal, luxurious and gluttonous eating, the swallowing of highly seasoned sauces, condiments, peppers and greasy patulum generally.

Some Modern Cures. These rosate beaks, however, are also due to real cerise-making maladies. "Acne roseacea," for instance, is a dermal affection, which spreads its hues like a vermilion-winged butterfly over the face.

The X-ray, radium and multi-pointed steel beaks are among the measures in use to bleach permanently these fiery facial protuberances. These days there is hope for all red noses, even those truly due to the drink demon.

Ministers of the gospel, doctors, surgeons and suffragettes, as well as Hippolyte Hooligans, who are thus bedecked with guzzling red papillae, are quickly relieved of the embarrassing garnet cupola.

Specialists on skin disease each prefer different methods. One doctor is keen only for the sake of your vanity.

Keep yourself within check, and you will find after awhile you have formed another habit—a salutary one this time—that of casting worry and wrinkles to the wind. This idea is not of my invention. It was taught by the Yogis of India, who preached and practiced the doctrine of Calm.

In the attainment of this "Perfect Calm" these wise men rose to a spiritual height whence they were able to look down upon the passing of life and death time as spectators from without.

The nearer we come to the emulation of this theory, that is, to regarding the disturbing episodes of our life as part of the necessary panorama, the more we shall be able to cultivate beauty—beauty of the body as well as of the mind and the spirit, for as long as we live, body and spirit can never be separated from one another.

The Kind of Girl a Man Likes

By NORVELL ELLIOTT

It was the first big debutante ball of the season. The young hostess looked strikingly lovely as, standing by her mother, she received the several hundred guests in the long saloon of the palatial home.

As from time to time during the evening I caught glimpses of my bachelor friend smiling or bending his head interestingly over his vis-a-vis, I was conscious he had never looked better in his life.

I was also conscious that he was devoted by far the larger part of the evening to a pretty little pink and white creature, the debutante sister of a friend. Alice Pierce is a love of a girl, dainty, adorably feminine, but such a child and so mortally timid I wondered what her special charm was for a man.

It was a splendid address, doubt in the minds of the guests, as to who may vote at the elections. She stated necessary qualifications for the office, and revealed many mysterious things.

As I looked on, I saw him making his way to me, and, on glancing over my engagement card, realized this was Alice. The room was excessively warm, and instead of dancing we decided a rest in our hostess's famous conservatory would be much more to our liking.

"What is Alice's charm?" I asked, somewhat abruptly. I was keenly interested to know, for I had watched her grow up and failed to find any appeal sufficiently strong to warrant a man's devoting six dances out of twelve to her.

"Charm? Charm? Alice's charm?" repeated my conservatory companion, casually stooping and tying a vagrant shoe lace. "Unless timidity may be classed as a particularly appealing attribute," he added suddenly. "Come to think of it, lass, it is a virtue, TIMIDITY. And Alice certainly has THAT down to a fine point. Mind if I smoke?"

As I nodded he drew out a small, fragrant cigar, and, after a few puffs, continued: "Alice somehow reminds me of a butterfly just slipped from its cocoon and poised for flight at the first sound in the big world about it. To her life is a fairyland—the realization of a wonderful dream which is about to come true before her very eyes. Men see so much of men."

Peter's Adventures in Matrimony

By LEONA DALRYMPLE

Author of the new novel, "Diane of the Green Van," awarded a prize of $10,000 by Ida M. Tarbell and S. S. McClure as judges.

The truth, plain and unvarnished, about "the girl in the case" distinguishes this new series by Miss Dalrymple. Her character studies will not appear unfamiliar to the majority of readers, who will follow the fortunes of "Peter" with growing interest.

Evenings at Home XXIV. "I'm afraid I made too many air-castles before I married Mary. For one thing, I fancied I'd come home nights, let Mary all the interesting items of my business day and find her honestly interested and helpful."

"I don't understand very much about the currency bill or the tariff either," said Mary indifferently. "What does the salesman look like, Peter? Has he black hair or blond?"

"I looked blank. For an instant I honestly could not recall whether Griffin had black hair or brown."

"Brownish," I suggested lamely. "Good looking?" asked Mary. "Clean-cut," I admitted, "keen eyes and intelligent face. By the way, Mary, if you'd like me to tell you something about the tariff and the currency bill, I'd be mighty glad to. You know it has always been a theory of mine that a woman ought to keep up with these things just like a man. Don't you think so?"

"I think they're horridly uninteresting," said Mary with decision. "I don't care in the least about the currency bill or the tariff either."

"Now I can't for the life of me understand this attitude. I can't imagine living in a world with whose activities I don't keep in touch."

Complete Daily Menu Unnecessary

By M. Pierre Lafage

Chef of the Hotel Plaza, New York

REGARDING the high cost of living and the way to live economically, taking into consideration the price of almost all goods today, I would say that it is possible for the housewife to furnish her family good food without spending such a great amount of money.

But to do this she must have a good knowledge of cooking, and be practical. It is not necessary, to live well, to have a complete menu at each meal. One good, wholesome dish of meat, with one vegetable, sweets, or cheese, is enough for almost anybody, and in this manner Mrs. Housewife will be able to change her menu every day of the week.

This in itself is an inspiration to the husband to come home and enjoy his meals. Do not forget that the table is one of the great pleasures of life. I regret to say that this sort of housewife is not common, especially in big towns. There the young marriageable woman forgets that she should know few notions of cookery. To my mind many a young girl should spend her spare moments to conquer this art, pleasing her husband through the palate besides being able to run her home on economic plans.

These rosate beaks, however, are also due to real cerise-making maladies. "Acne roseacea," for instance, is a dermal affection, which spreads its hues like a vermilion-winged butterfly over the face.

THE MYSTERIES OF THE POLLING BOOTH

Addressed Equal Franchise—More Polling Booths Needed in Toronto.

At a meeting of the Equal Franchise League was largely attended at the first Eaton School, Toronto, on the 14th inst.

Mr. Hamilton had read a very interesting paper on the subject of "Anti-Suffrage," which was a splendid address, doubt in the minds of the guests, as to who may vote at the elections.

She stated necessary qualifications for the office, and revealed many mysterious things. As I looked on, I saw him making his way to me, and, on glancing over my engagement card, realized this was Alice.

Daddy's Good Night Story

By GEORGE HENRY SMITH

SEE they are going to have a new teacher down at Woodland school," said Brer Rabbit to his wife one night, as he sat by the evening light.

"Yes," replied Mrs. Rabbit, "her name is Miss Roberta Rabbit."

"Humph!" grunted Brer Rabbit. "Great name for a teacher. I'll bet those boys of mine will be calling her 'Berlie' before long. They are very smart children, Mrs. Rabbit, very smart children."

"Yes," answered Mrs. Rabbit, "in some ways they are like their dear father. By the way, would you go out and get me a cabbage leaf? I want to put it right on the stove."

"I am sorry, but I am too busy reading the paper. You go out yourself."

"All right," said Mrs. Rabbit. "I will not bother you even to tell you what Miss Roberta Rabbit said about you."

"What's that?" asked Brer Rabbit, sitting straight up in his chair. "Oh! never mind," said Mrs. Rabbit. "Go on reading your paper."

"But I must know what that teacher said about me!" exclaimed Brer Rabbit, and with that he darted out the door in the direction of the cabbage patch.

When he came back he said, "My dear wife, you need not tell me what the teacher said."

"Oh, course I'll tell you," said Mrs. Rabbit. "Miss Roberta said our boys looked like you."

"Well, I like that," said Brer Rabbit. "Mr. Possum said they looked like monkeys."

TUESDAY MORNING, FEB. 10.

A MAN OF NOTE.

Mr. William Butler Yeats, who is to visit the city on Friday, has shown more staying power as a poet than any of the young men of his period, except perhaps his friend, "A. E." Mr. George W. Russell. Mr. Yeats has appealed to a wider audience, however, than Mr. Russell, and is more representative than his friend, the those who know Mr. Russell's work rank it with the treasures of English literature.

In a bulletin recently issued by the same department, it is remarked that scientific research, interpreting the observations of practical life, indicates that a fourfold mistake in food economy is very commonly made. First, the costlier kinds of food are used, when the less expensive are just as nutritious and can be made nearly or quite as palatable.

Mr. Yeats' influence on English literature for a number of years has been very marked, and his association with the Celtic revival, for which, in fact, he was in a large measure responsible, renders him a figure of more than ordinary importance.

Among the men accounted experts in the financial world none holds higher place than Sir Felix Schuster, chairman of the Union of London and Smith's Bank.

While The World welcomes the initiation of this valuable public boon, in its present form it is only tentative. A brief experience will compel extensions just as it did in the United States.

That, The World is assured, will be the case in Canada. The public appetite will grow by what it feeds on, and while the Dominion postmaster-general may escape criticism for caution, he will incur animadversion when that ceases to be needed.

Hitherto the United Kingdom, due in part to its earlier industrial and commercial development and later to its position as admittedly the greatest, and almost the only, free market of the world, has played the dominant part in international exchanges.

That, The World is assured, will be the case in Canada. The public appetite will grow by what it feeds on, and while the Dominion postmaster-general may escape criticism for caution, he will incur animadversion when that ceases to be needed.

The decorations are being carried out by a Toronto firm and will be extremely attractive. The Boston Women's Orchestra, which proved so popular last year, are coming for the show.

a score of 4 to 2, leading 3 to 0 at the as Canadian records will be broken. The DEATH OF MICKY POWERS.

GUELPH, Feb. 9.—James Powers of Cargill, better known in sporting circles as Micky Powers, died this afternoon at St. Joseph's Hospital in this city after an illness of about two weeks. He underwent an operation for trouble in his leg in December last and recovered, going back to Cargill, where he ran a hotel.
Kidney trouble developed, however, and he came back here, but gradually grew worse until the end came today. Micky Powers was a member of the old champion Maple Leafs at the time when they won the championship of Canada, and his reputation as a catcher was widespread.
He was about 45 years of age, and leaves a widow to mourn his loss.

WRESTLING TOURNEY
AT CENTRAL Y.M.C.A.
The Central Y.M.C.A. Wrestling Club will run an open wrestling tournament on Saturday night, Feb. 14, in the Central
Y. gym, open to all amateur wrestlers.
Medals will be given to the winners.
The special attraction will be a half-hour bout between Gibson of Central Y. and Adams of West End. Both men are heavily matched and have a fall to his credit, although in the last tournament at Central the decision was given to Adams on a very close margin. Gibson did not enter the tournament at West End on Saturday on account of a bad arm, but will be in fine shape next Saturday. Lappanen, the Finn, is in shape again and will bring down several of his men, among them Stoll, who gave Haynes of Varsity such a go last year.
All entries must be in by Thursday,

Now Being Presented Almost FREE
—BY THE—
Toronto World
HEART SONGS is not a mere collection of music and words! It is a book compiled directly by more than 20,000 people, who, in sending their favorite songs, told why they sent them.

From the lone cabin on the trackless prairie—from the snowy wastes of Alaska—from the mining camp amidst the pines of the lofty Sierras—from the coral strand of an island in the far Pacific, so remote that the ships come only once a year (if they do not forget)—from the garrets of London and Paris, with only the stars above—from the sandy deserts of the Orient—came these outpourings of the human heart—from the men and women who loved them—and the singing of which oftentimes saved their sanity.

Every song in this wonderful book has had some sacred memory—some touching experience—some sweet and hallowed association—connected with it in the hearts of thousands. It is their song of joy—of sorrow—of thanksgiving—of love—of bereavement—of home-coming—of reunion—of all the tender sentiments that lift the human heart in worship to its Maker. It is for this—by inspiration—that this unique volume is entitled "HEART SONGS."

NEWS FROM THE CITY HALL

RADIAL CARS MAY ENTER TORONTO WHEN IN CHARGE OF CIVIC CREWS; NEW INSTRUCTIONS FOR COUNSEL

Long Debate at Council Meeting Last Night Resulted in Victory For the Mayor's Policy—McCarthy Motion Withdrawn in Favor of a New One by Alderman Wickett—Council Meets Again This Morning.

Ten men lined up in the city council last night in favor of giving the radial running rights into the city for 20 years.

Fourteen men lined up in favor of allowing radial cars into the city only when in charge of civic crews.

Therefore this year's council has amended the instructions of last year's council to Corporation Counsel Geary.

The new instructions to Corporation Counsel Geary and D. E. Thomson, special counsel, are to draft an agreement of purchase which will not only clean up the franchises, but will admit radial cars into the city only when operated by a civic crew.

LONDON STRONGER FOR SOME STOCKS

C. P. R., Barcelona and Brazils Respond to the Occasion.

SHREDDED WHEAT FIRM

Toronto Market Displays Less Dependence on the Action of Wall Street.

London came stronger for Brazilian and C. P. R. yesterday and the market on this side of the Atlantic moved in sympathy. At the close of last week the Toronto market demonstrated its ability to take care of any sporadic realising, and new buying yesterday had the immediate effect of strengthening prices in most of the list. Advocates of higher prices were relying on the assumed assured fact of a long period of cheap money and a natural decrease in proportion of dividend returns to investment. The return to securities from other forms of investment is becoming more evident and is expected to show further development. No assistance was rendered by the Wall Street market, and it was perhaps a tribute to the local buying power that prices stand up so well here.

LONDON MARKET CLOSED STEADY

American Issues the Highest With Slight Advances on Covering.

LONDON, Feb. 9.—Discount rates were today owing to the large supply of money available. Dealers on the stock exchange were principally engaged in covering carry-over. Transactions were moderate and the tone was generally steady, although a hardening tendency developed at noon was replaced later by an easier feeling. Consols sold at an early advance of a quarter of a point, and Brazilian shares finished weaker. Copper stocks were again featured, and the Americans were the highest of the various sections. Prices opened steady and advanced on covering for the settlement. The closing was steady.

FINANCING SKYSCRAPER

NEW YORK STOCKS WERE REACTIONARY

Weakness in Rock Island and N.Y. Central Had Depressing Effect.

EARLY GAINS LOST

Favorable Monthly Report Imparted Some Strength to Copper Stocks.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—Higher prices for American stocks in London stimulated the home market at the opening today. The effect of the rise abroad was heightened by free buying here, particularly of steel for foreign account. Traders swung over to the long side in the belief that an upturn was due after the slow reaction of last week. Shorts who attempted to cover found the supply of stocks scarce and were compelled to raise their bids. There was also a steady investment enquiry. But in spite of these favorable conditions, the upward movement made no progress after the opening. The market for the day was almost entirely uneventful, and gains were eliminated. Rock Island Lower.

MONTREAL STOCKS QUIET BUT STRONG

C. P. R., Brazilian and Power Group Figured in Fair Advance.

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—The stock market was quiet today, but a firm attitude was displayed in all directions. Higher prices from London for both C. P. R. and Brazilian contributed to a cheerful opening.

OIL STOCKS BOOM WAS PUNCTURED

Spectacular Drop on New York Curb Yesterday Followed Big Rise.

NEW YORK, Feb. 9.—The speculative boom in stocks of the oil group, which has made life exciting on the curb market for several weeks, was punctured today. Speculators, who on paper had profits of thousands of dollars, were left with little or nothing.

REGULAR DIVIDEND ON C.P.R.

MONTREAL, Feb. 9.—(Special).—At a meeting of the directors of the Canadian Pacific Railway, held today, the following dividends were declared:

INCREASED CAPITAL OF DOME LAKE CO.

To increase the capitalization from $750,000 to $1,000,000, a meeting of the shareholders of Dome Lake Co. was held yesterday afternoon. They will sell 250,000 shares at 30 cents, this money to be used for development, and the balance of 100,000 shares to be held in the treasury.
